MILITARY TRAINING BILL GOES TO SENATE

U. S. 60 To Be Finished, Phillips Says

Local highway enthusiasts were greatly encouraged over a newspaper clipping received from Charley Calloway of Canadian, ardent U. S. Highway 60 booster, indicating that the 1941 federal aid program will include 16 miles of hard surface from the Oklahoma-Texas line east through Arma, and an 8 mile section west of Fairview, Okla., will be contracted immediately.

The most encouraging part of the news story, clipped from the Ellis County Capital, is a quotation credited to Governor Leon Phillips who was reported to have given assurance to citizens along U. S. 60 across Oklahoma stating that "Highway 60 will be completed before I leave office."

The clipping calls attention to the fact that plans have been worked out by the state highway commission to rebuild bridges on U. S. 60 on the new route in Eastern Oklahoma caused by the inundated sections of U. S. 60 by the Grand River Dam project.

With this question settled, the gap in Western Oklahoma, west of Fairview in which Pampa citizens are naturally more interested than the other sections, is apparently being given some consideration by the highway department according to the clipping.

The clipping states that the question of the route west of Fairview has been settled after years of bickering between the state and federal government and the Fairview community. The route from Fairview will remain on the present routing with the assurance that a contract for 8 miles of bituminous surface west from Fairview will be let at once.

With the completion of this work the gap between the Texas line and Edinburg will include approximately 73 miles of unpaved highway, about one-half of which has been placed to standard grade and drainage and about one-third of which has a gravel all-weather topping.

The very definite assurance from Governor Phillips that the entire gap and the gap in Eastern Oklahoma will be finished before he leaves office is encouraging news.

Members of the Highway committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce feel that Pampa will secure more through traffic from U. S. 60 than any other highway touching this city when the gap in Western Oklahoma is completely paved.

Dr. Cook, Arctic Explorer, Dies

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Aug. 5. (AP)—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, 77-year-old explorer, whose claims to discovery of the north pole precipitated an early twentieth-century world-wide controversy, died today after a long illness.

Stricken three months ago by a cerebral hemorrhage, the aged adventurer of the arctic never fully recovered, and was taken again to the hospital 10 days ago.

Dr. Cook sprang into international prominence in September, 1909, when he announced he had discovered the north pole. Five days later, Admiral Robert E. Peary claimed he had reached the top of the world first.

Cook's claim that he discovered the pole on April 21, 1908, a year before Peary reached the world's top, eventually was held to be disproved and Peary, who insisted he could find no evidence of anyone preceding him when he was there in April, 1909, was accepted as the discoverer.

Cook sank into comparative obscurity after his losing fight with Peary until 1922 when he was convicted of mail fraud and sentenced to 14 years in prison.

Broken in health, he was paroled in 1930. Then, as he lay apparently on his death bed last May, President Roosevelt granted him a full pardon and as Cook emerged from a coma which had claimed him for days, he uttered only a feeble "Thanks—happy."

Bulgaria Due For Slice Of Rumania

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Aug. 5 (AP)—Quarters close to the Bulgarian government said today they expected an agreement to be signed Saturday between Bulgaria and Rumania returning southern Dobruja to this country after 27 years of Rumanian rule.

Preliminary negotiations in line with Adolf Hitler's order to both countries to settle their long standing quarrel were completed today, these sources said.

Victor Kadar, Rumanian minorities expert, returned to Bucharest.

PARACHUTE TROOPS FOR UNCLE SAM?

Taking a 'tip' from the Nazi primer on invasion, the U. S. army is experimenting with its first unit of parachutists. At Highstown, N. J., a volunteer platoon of 48 men and 2 officers from the U. S. Infantry school at Fort Benning, Ga., is learning chuting technique on two jumping towers—one for guided 'chutes, one for free 'chutes. This striking photo shows a soldier in free parachute, beginning his descent from top of 125-foot tower. If successful, works out, all U. S. infantrymen may take similar courses.

Weather Conditions Favor Nazi Blitzkrieg

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Aug. 5.—Increasing Nazi activity at French channel ports, reported by British bombers returning from raids deep into Germany, kept England on the alert today as skies and weather combined to offer Adolf Hitler more favorable conditions for his long-promised blitzkrieg.

Authoritative sources indicated the royal air force, attempting to smash any invasion before it could be launched, was hurrying more and more planes into nightly attacks on German industrial centers, troop concentrations and channel bases.

The air ministry reported, meanwhile, three Messerschmitt fighters were shot down this morning as Spitfire pilots continued to carry the war into the Nazi camp.

Two of the Messerschmitts were shot down on the far side of the English Channel, within range of German anti-aircraft guns, by a squadron of nine Spitfires, the air ministry said.

"Almost at the same time, another Spitfire squadron shot down a third Messerschmitt 109 fighter on the English side of the channel," an

Abetz Named Ambassador To France By Hitler

BERLIN, Aug. 5. (AP)—Adolf Hitler has appointed Otto Abetz, formerly of the Berlin foreign office, ambassador to Nazi-occupied France.

Abetz, expelled from France in 1939 as an unwelcome Nazi agent, and whose wife is French, was given his walking papers by the government of former Premier Daladier June 30, that year, following discovery of a widespread German espionage network.

Harris And Pierce To Be In Run-Off

T. B. Harris, candidate for reelection as Carson county sheriff, tax assessor and collector, will oppose Everett Pierce in the run-off primary August 24. In the July 29 issue of The Pampa News it was incorrectly stated that Harris had been elected.

Harris led the field with 1,025 votes, Pierce was next with 648, according to The Panhandle Herald.

Chilean Ship Sinks, 76 Drown

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 5 (AP)—The ministry of interior announced today that 76 persons perished when the 76-ton steamer Moraleda, owned by the Chilean state railway, sank north of Fairway Island in the Straits of Magellan.

Seven Killed In Amarillo Car Crashes

AMARILLO, Aug. 5 (AP)—Weekend deaths in highway crashes set a new high in the Panhandle when seven persons were killed within a 24 mile radius of Amarillo within the past 48 hours.

Five lives were snuffed out early Sunday morning when a sedan in which Mark Taylor, manager of the Amarillo division of the Phillips Petroleum company, was driving and a coupe in which four young persons were riding, crashed head-on on six miles west of Canyon.

The coupe burst into flames and the bodies were burned beyond recognition. Passing motorists who came upon the wreckage and tried vainly to remove the bodies before the flames drove them back said they believed all four were killed by the impact. Both cars were demolished.

Identification was established through bits of unburned clothing the four were wearing. The victims were Mary June Decker, 17, Hereford; Violet Bippus, 27, Hereford; Arvid Pancher, 21, Welsh; and Roland Faulkberry, 23, Weatherford.

Funeral rites for Miss Bippus and Miss Decker will be in Hereford. The body of Pancher was taken to McCauley for burial and rites for Faulkberry are still pending.

Services for Mr. Taylor, an active civic worker here, will be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon from the First Baptist church here. Honorary pallbearers will include Frank Phillips, K. F. Adams, A. M. Hughes and other high Phillips Petroleum company officials of Bartlesville, Okla.

Mr. Taylor was in charge of sales for the Phillips company in Texas, N. M., and part of Oklahoma. He is survived by his wife and two children.

Bernard L. Dorsey, 21, Amarillo was killed early Saturday morning when his motorcycle was hit by a truck and Mrs. Rex Sullivan of Amarillo was killed when her car overturned west of this city on highway 66 a few hours later.

LUBBOCK, Aug. 5. (AP)—Four persons met violent death in Lubbock county over the weekend. They were: J. W. Hartson, Jr., and C. D. Parker, both 20, of New Home in

Half Of World Radio In U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5 (AP)—Neville Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters, told the 18th annual convention today that the past year had been the greatest, with sales of over 9,000,000 radio sets bringing the national total to 45,000,000.

"With less than 7 per cent of the world's population, our country has nearly half of all broadcasting stations and receiving sets," Miller said in his annual report.

Ed Kirby, NAB public relations director, described what he said was "a growingly mature and better understanding between press and radio" that has arisen since the Munich crisis.

"It can be successfully demonstrated, we believe," he said, "that the greater amount of coverage of important spot news by radio, the greater number of newspapers sold; and conversely, as more newspapers are sold as a result of spot news developments, the more radio news listening results."

"We believe that NAB has eliminated an erroneous concept in some sections of the newspaper world which felt that radio wished to live at the expense of the press. 'Neither press nor radio can be sold at the expense of the other for long. Each has its field of service.'"

The sun-back suit is covered with a loose-hanging coat, a belted white yoke, upper sleeves and front panel form the "T," which makes the green linen frock worn by Lillian Cornell, right, new and interesting.

Threatening World Conditions Bring Women Recognition As Equals In National Affairs

By RUTH MILLETT
Equality is coming to American women today, not because of feminist pressure groups, but because world conditions are pushing women into the front ranks with men.

Women can't be regarded as unimportant to industry when, with war a constant threat, it is imperative that women be ready at a moment's notice to take over the work of the country so that men may be freed for fighting.

WOMEN ARE RECOGNIZED AS EQUALS
We have stopped thinking of woman as a weak creature to be protected and sheltered. For in today's world there is no way to protect woman. She stands on her own feet and takes her chances.

And because this is so—because the world has made it so, women are

NOW—INTO—AUTUMN FASHION

Here's a charming dress to satisfy your craving for something decidedly new, those first cool days in town, and it will be your pride right straight on through the fall and winter!

Side belts, fastened in the back, draw the waistline in to look small and tiny, beneath the slight blouse of the bodice. Soft materials like challs, flat crepe, silk print or sheer velvet are well-adapted to this style, with a bright note of contrast introduced by braid or bias fold. Step-by-step sew chart included.

Pattern No. 8757 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 14 requires 4 1/4 yards of 39-inch material—3 3/4 yards trimming.

Monthly Old Age Payments Made By SSB

Monthly payments are now being made under the federal old-age and survivors insurance system to 152 individuals in the area served by the Amarillo office of the Social Security board. It was announced today by Dewey Reed, manager.

These monthly payments are authorized by the 1939 amendments to the Social Security act. Monthly payments began on January 1, 1940. They are covered examples of the social security program at work for the protection of the American people.

Through July 31, monthly payments totaling $1,518.17 had been approved for 75 wage earners over the age of 65. Similarly, 12 aged wives of these wage earners had qualified for monthly payments totaling $121.64; six children of these wage earners will be paid monthly a total of $44.18 until they reach the age of 16, or 18, if they are regularly attending school.

Protection of the family is one of the principal objectives of the amended Social Security act. Accordingly, monthly payments to survivors of deceased wage earners are also currently being made in the Amarillo area. 18 such payments, totaling $357.66 had been approved for widows; 41, totaling $527.29 for children.

In addition 27 single lump sum payments, totaling $4,000.80, had been authorized to persons entitled to receive them in cases in which the deceased wage earner left no survivors eligible to claim monthly payments.

Differs From Assistance
"Old-age and survivors insurance," Reed said, "should not be confused with old-age assistance. The former is paid by the federal government to any qualified worker at age 65 or over, to his wife at the same age, to his young children; or, at his death, to his aged widow, or his widow, regardless of her age if they had young children, or his dependent parents over 65. Old-age assistance payments are made by the state government only to men and women 65 years old or older who are found to be in needy circumstances."

"Under the old-age and survivors insurance system, the size of each benefit payment depends upon the workers' average pay covered by the law, with added credit for the number of years he has worked in covered employment. His benefit and his family's benefits are calculated from the record of his wages kept by the Social Security board."

"Claims for benefits may be filed at the Social Security board field office, 324 new postoffice building, Amarillo. They are sent to the board's office at Washington for examination. When the claim is approved as being in accordance with the law, the benefits are paid by the United States treasury out of a special fund made up of the workers' and employers' taxes—the federal old-age and survivors insurance trust fund."

Youngsters Perform Yeoman Service for Home Defense

Threatening Letters Received By Mexican Petroleum Workers

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 5 (AP)—Jesus Silba Herzog, and Cortes Herrera, distribution and production managers respectively in the American Petroleum industry, have received copies of anonymous letters which were addressed to the workers in the industry.

A sentence from one of the letters read: "If against all reason they take the bread that you carry to your homes, kill."

The threat is believed to be directed at both Herzog and Herrera because of their alleged aid in formulating the new plan for reorganization of the oil industry which calls for a two per cent cut in the personnel, and other money-saving measures.

3 Italian Planes Shot Down In Egypt

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 5 (AP)—Three Italian planes were shot down in a big air battle in eastern Libya yesterday in extensive operations in which only one British plane is missing, a royal air force communiqué reported today.

The British declared their reconnaissance aircraft, accompanied by four fighters, met 50 Italian fighters in eastern Libya and shot down two of them in flames, while a third Italian plane was the victim of anti-aircraft fire of its own ground forces.

Nazi Planes Sink British Freighter

BERLIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—The German air force carried out a number of raids on British anti-aircraft positions, oil tanks and shipyards yesterday, the high command announced today, claiming British bombs dropped in western Germany last night caused little damage.

Britain On Alert Against Threat Of Nazi Blitzkrieg

Europe's war of aerial blow and counter-blow sharpened today as high ideas and reports of German troop concentrations kept Britain on the alert against the threat of a Nazi blitzkrieg.

Conflicting versions of the effectiveness of air raids in both sectors—Europe and Africa—concealed the results. Both axis powers scored telling blows and to have suffered only slightly themselves.

Fourteen British planes were shot down in Africa yesterday, the Italian high command reported, while Italian fliers staged an "effective" raid on Mersa Matruh, Egypt.

Apparently answering an Italian report of 10 British planes shot down in one big air battle, a Royal Air Force communiqué said four British planes, engaging 50 enemy craft over Libya, bagged two and lost only one. A third Italian plane, it said, was brought down by the Italians' own anti-aircraft fire.

Countering other Italian claims, the British air force command at Cairo said also that the RAF beat off Italian air raiders attempting to reach Mersa Matruh. On the other hand, it said British bombs hit an Italian naval vessel, had fallen among a squadron of Italian submarines at Massaua, Eritrea, and had hit a fuel dump there.

Similarly, the German high command claimed that British anti-aircraft positions, oil reserves and merchant ships were sunk in St. George's channel in air raids last night and early today.

It acknowledged only that British planes raiding western Germany had killed one civilian and caused "slight damage to houses."

But the British, describing far-flung RAF attacks on Germany and the Nazi-held coast of the English channel, declared that three German fighters had been shot down in the attacks and admitted only that one British plane was missing. Damage from the Nazi raids on isolated midlands and eastern England districts was negligible, a British communiqué said, and casualties few.

Highest tides of the month began today and will continue through Friday, accompanied by forecasts of a calm sea and fogs on the English channel—all favorable factors for a would-be invader.

Wells-For-Congress Club To Be Formed At Meeting Tonight

To promote the candidacy of Deakins Wells of Wellington for representative of the 18th district in congress, a meeting has been called for 8 o'clock tonight in the city commission room, when a "Wells-For-Congress" club will be formed.

R. B. Burnett of Pampa will be in charge of the meeting. A delegation from Wellington will meet with the Pampans. Wells, by virtue of polling more than 15,000 votes over the district, will be in the first run-off with Gene Worley of Shamrock in the run-off primary August 24.

In Gray county, Worley had 2,053 votes, Wells 970, and E. T. Miller of Amarillo, 471, in the first Democratic primary election held on July 27.

Hello, Everyone!
Last week I promised to bring you a little message about life and life insurance in this space. Recently I heard a young lady pass a marvelous tribute to her father and to life insurance.

Her father was killed several years ago in an automobile accident, and his life insurance, arranged in a stipulated monthly income, has taken care of this girl and her mother through the years.

She said: "Every day, every month, and every year of my life I thank God for my father and for his love for me as shown in a tangible way by his life insurance."

Wouldn't you like to be sure that your daughter, or son, felt that way about you if the unexpected should happen? And it could.

FDR Urges Unity Between Officers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt called today for unity between federal and state governments in strengthening national defense and uncovering subversive activities.

"The common defense should be through the normal channels of local, state and national law enforcement," he said in a message to the federal-state conference on law enforcement problems arising from the preparedness program.

"The untrained policeman is as ineffective as the untrained soldier. The amateur detective soon becomes a fussy and malicious busy-body."

"We must be vigilant, always on guard, and swift to act. But we must also be wise and cool-headed, and must not express our activities in the cruel stupidities of the vigilantes. There is where the fifth column form the line."

Attorney General Jackson read the president's letter to governors, attorneys general and other state officials here for the conference. The meeting is designed to promote closer cooperation in guarding against spies, saboteurs and fifth column activities.

A report made public in advance by J. Edgar Hoover said that the FBI investigated 16,885 defense cases during the year ended June 30, against 1,651 in the previous year and 250 in 1938.

Hoover reported "a negligible amount of sabotage (in the United States) in the second world war in contrast to the similar period in the first world war." He gave no details.

CHARACTER, INTEGRITY AND PROSPERITY
I have just been reading an article by Major L. L. E. Angus on "The Coming American Invasion."

The Saturday Evening Post of July 27 contained a feature article in regard to Major Angus, contending that he was the highest paid investment counselor in the United States.

He stresses that the capitalistic system, or the credit system, is based on a high standard of probity and ethics.

His digest is very disheartening because he predicates his advice on the premise that Germany will defeat England. He concludes his 32-page digest by quoting a letter written by a young English airman to his mother before he was shot down and killed in the present campaign.

Dearest Mother:
Though I feel no premonition at all, events are moving rapidly and I have instructed that this letter be forwarded to you should I fail to return from any one of the raids which I shall shortly be called upon to undertake.

GRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

Challeidon and Kayak II hooking up in the Hollywood Gold Cup stressed the difference in training methods. Schaefer has twice taken Challeidon out of winter quarters. Tom Smith, who handles Kayak II, kept Seabiscuit in steady training over a three-year stretch. There was an animal built for work. Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons raced him 22 times in 2 1/2-year-old races.

Silent Tom Smith believes in fast works. His method, more strenuous, usually finds the runner ready for the first rattle. Jim Fitzsimmons is a slower great hand at getting a horse's "belly on the ground."

Louie Schaefer prescribes slow moves. Outside of a speed blowout, he requires his horses to bear down only in actual contests.

APPEALS FOR DEFENSE MADE BY SPEAKERS

(By The Associated Press)

Arguments over conscription and aid to Great Britain underlay a wide variety of appeals for American defense which were heard across the continent Sunday.

Gen. John J. Pershing, speaking from Washington, proposed to a radio audience that the United States make available at least 50 World War destroyers to help England.

"If the destroyers help save the British fleet," he said, "they may save us from the danger and hardship of another war."

In Chicago, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh spoke at a peace rally, where he called for American cooperation with Europe, advocating at the same time non-interference in Europe's internal affairs.

"Whether England or Germany wins this war," he said, "western civilization will still depend upon two great centers, one in each hemisphere. With all the aids of modern science, neither of these centers is in a position to attack the other successfully so long as the defenses of both are reasonably strong."

Secretary Knox of the navy headed a radio symposium for conscription arranged by the military training camps association. He said:

"In the past we have resorted to compulsory service whenever the nation was threatened. Today we cannot wait until war is upon us. It will be too late."

Assistant Secretary Patterson of the war department called for an army of 1,300,000 men, declaring that conscription was the only certain way of getting them. A third speaker in the program, Col. Julius Ochs Adler of New York, civilian aide to the war secretary, counseled:

"Train without fighting now, or fight without training later."

At the Chicago peace rally, on the other hand, Senator McCarran (D-Nev) termed conscription proposals "undemocratic and unnecessary."

Speaking in a radio forum from Washington, Rep. Fish (R-NY) said conscription would create a huge military machine "that would destroy our free institutions and destroy our constitutional and republican form of government."

Myers' North Team Favored Over Norton's South Group

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (AP)—Coach Leo Meyer's Texas Christian Horned Frogs were trotted up by almost everybody in the past Southwest Conference football campaign.

The day the Frogs playing Homer Norton's mighty Texas Aggies there were few who accorded T. C. U. a chance.

But the night of August 10 Meyer will fall heir to a team that's going to be a long favorite over Norton's squad, only this time they'll be working with high school boys and it won't count in the conference standing.

It will be the annual all-star game of the Texas High School Coaches Association coaching school, matching the North against the South.

Meyer will tutor the North which will have seven members of last fall's all-State team, whereas Norton will have two of the youngsters who made the mythical selection.

For backfield positions Meyer will have Howard (Red) Meyer of Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) and one of the greatest passers and punters in schoolboy history; Francis Pultie of Waco, a tremendous offensive and running star, and Joe Tysen of Lubbock, voted the outstanding player of the year.

In the line he will have Jack Harris of Breckenridge, an end; Pat Farris of Lubbock, a tackle; Jim Wright of Sulphur Springs and Audrey Gill of Sweetwater, guards.

Norton's all-stars are Travis Raven of Austin, the season's greatest running back, and Harold Stockbridge of Austin (Houston), a pass catching end.

Even in second material from the all-state squad, Meyer gets the break with Orville Post of Waco, an end; J. W. Green of Gainsville, a pass catching end.

SERIAL STORY

SUMMER THEATER

BY MILDRED WILLIAMS

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Jean lets Molly see the picture. Molly asks Jean to get the play, asks Johnny to get a facemask, angrily accuses Jean of running out on a job, then turns on Johnny, when she asks if she's afraid she won't get to wear the costume.

CHAPTER VII

"HAS Andre Masters seen Jean?" Molly asked again, with a curious, panic-stricken glance.

"What in the world has Andre Masters got to do with this?" Johnny wanted to know. He took in her blank, blue stare, the nervousness of her slim fingers. "Jean did say he was being nice to you. . . Is that it?"

"Good heavens, after that scene I just interrupted—you kissing Jean—that's a fine note to hand me!" She spoke mechanically as if something were still bothering her. Or was she merely evading?

"I told you, Jean was only saying 'goodby.' We always kiss, somehow. . ."

"Oh, yes, usually!" she sniffed.

"Listen, Molly, don't get off the point. Is Andre Masters taking up the few spare minutes you used to give me?" He was surprised at the rage which rose within him.

"I told you I haven't any time for romance," she snapped. "I like you and I like him. If we've got to strain that remark—I like you most. Oh, why can't you quit harping?"

"You like me. Sounds as if I were a recreation center. What am I to you, anyway? Summer-time diversion?"

"Oh, stop being so intense!"

SHE changed the subject abruptly. "You never did tell me whether Jean had seen Andre. He wants the cameo, and I don't want him to know yet that it belongs to her."

It was Johnny's turn to wheel on her suddenly. "What are you talking about? I'm in charge of that cameo. Jean said she lent it to you for the play. When the play is over, I'm to get it back and send it to her."

"How perfectly wonderful," said Molly, plans working behind her eyes.

"What do you mean, 'wonderful'?" I'm about that brooch the way the Louvre is about the Mona Lisa. Anyway, it's bad luck for you."

"Bad luck? How fascinating. Tell me about it." "Just an old story. It was fashioned especially for Jean's great-grandmother. Her fiancé was bringing it to her from Italy. He wagered the thing in a card game and lost. He handed it over to the winner, and the man's mistress killed him that night. Reynolds got the pin back. Bad luck number one.

"But it's not unlucky for the Reynolds. It fosters love, understanding and all the rest of that muck. But on all the occasions when it's ever got out of their hands, something terrible has happened to the one who has worn it."

Andre will love that," she said. Johnny frowned. "What have you got on your mind, apprentice? Tell me or I won't let you wear the cameo even in the play."

Molly laughed. "It's nothing to get upset about. Remember what I told you about a wedge to get in on Broadway? Well, Andre is my wedge. He's interested in me now because he likes the cameo. By the time I give the cameo back, he'll be interested in me because I'm potentially a great actress. And it's all wonderful, because there's no hurry about getting it back, now that you're responsible."

Johnny shook his head. "You're wrong there, so you might as well come clean with Andre. When the play ends that cameo goes with me. Miss Jean Reynolds with my compliments."

Molly came over to him, held up her pretty mouth. He kissed her.

"Could we have another picnic tonight before rehearsal? I've been a recreation center. What am I to you, anyway? Summer-time diversion?"

"Oh, stop being so intense!"

Johnny shook his head. "You're wrong there, so you might as well come clean with Andre. When the play ends that cameo goes with me. Miss Jean Reynolds with my compliments."

again after Saturday. The play opened on Monday and the Cape Cod papers raved about Molly's performance as Mrs. Lyons. Talented scouts appeared like mushrooms and asked thousands of questions. Johnny knew with the sadness of realization expected but un hoped for, that this summer would be a success, and that Molly would go far in the theater.

Molly told him of her dreams, confided in him each clue that indicated any Broadway job for October. There were more picnics, but she kept the affair as light as the spray which stung their faces. She would kiss him, but when he mentioned her future, she would say:

"Let's enjoy the present, Johnny. Isn't it enough that I'm loving you—like this?"

They climbed upon their bicycles and started for home, just as they had a dozen other times. Johnny wondered sadly what would come of the summer. "Johnny," said Molly when they reached her porch, having pedaled home in almost silence, "I've been thinking."

"You're too beautiful to think," Johnny smiled. "What's on your mind?"

"Make Jean sell me the cameo. I don't even want Andre to have it. I'm a fool about luck, and it does seem lucky for me, even if I'm not a Reynolds. Often in my dressing room I take the brooch from Mrs. Lyons' costume and just look at it, wishing it were mine forever instead of just a week."

Johnny shook his head. "No, we couldn't ask Jean to sell him the cameo; even for Molly he couldn't do that. He remembered too well what she had said when they discussed their own wedding plans. 'The cameo, a prayer-book and you, Johnny. That's all I want on my wedding day. No orchids, no champagne, no cake with a funny little bride and groom.'"

"I think she'd sell it to me, but I can't ask her. She'd like your feeling the way you do about the cameo; she loves it herself. That was why I was so surprised she lent it to you."

Molly reached over and touched his cheek. Her eyes looked into his, deeply and compellingly.

"You'd want your bride to have it for a gift from her groom, wouldn't you, sweetheart?"

Johnny's breath left his body. What was she saying?

"I'm serious, Johnny," Molly said. "I'm going to take you up on that marriage bid."

Johnny shook his head. "You're wrong there, so you might as well come clean with Andre. When the play ends that cameo goes with me. Miss Jean Reynolds with my compliments."

Molly came over to him, held up her pretty mouth. He kissed her.

"Could we have another picnic tonight before rehearsal? I've been a recreation center. What am I to you, anyway? Summer-time diversion?"

"Oh, stop being so intense!"

Exiled Leader Of Mexican Gold Shirts Reported Near Death

EL PASO, Aug. 5 (AP)—General Nicolas Rodriguez, exiled leader of the Mexican Gold Shirts, was reported near death here today, his relatives having been unsuccessful thus far in efforts to take him back to his homeland.

An ambulance in which relatives sought to move him to their home in Juarez was turned back last night by Mexican immigration authorities at the international bridge.

Relatives of the exile quoted immigration officials as saying they would communicate with President Cardenas to ascertain if he wanted to permit Rodriguez's return.

Rodriguez's physician told newspapermen the general had been ill for some time and could not live much longer.

Rodriguez was banished by President Cardenas in 1936. He had spent most of the last four years in and near El Paso.

The Gold Shirts professed to be an anti-Communist organization.

Nominees To Have Short Campaigns

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Three months before the November election, Democrats and Republicans are just commencing their organizational work for one of the shortest presidential campaigns in recent American history.

Both parties are planning to crowd into 10 or 11 weeks the oratory and doorbell ringing to which they previously devoted upwards of four months. Early indications, however, are that the contest will not be lacking in intensity.

Even as the Republicans finish the framework of their campaign set-up this week-end, their general counsel, Henry P. Fletcher, and Attorney General Jackson clash over an interpretation of Hatch act limits to political contributions.

Fletcher made public an opinion contending that the act's $5,000 maximum on personal campaign gifts covered only contributions to a party's national committee or its senatorial or congressional committees.

"Any amount over $5,000 that a donor desires to give should be given to state or local committees," Fletcher said, adding that these party organizations "should be entirely divorced from the Republican National committee and should operate by authorization of the respective state committees."

The attorney general last night challenged Fletcher's statement declaring: "The department of justice will not render advisory interpretations of the Hatch act or of other laws for political parties or others. But silence in the face of the wide published opinion of Mr. Fletcher might mislead well-intentioned persons to believe it to be an accepted interpretation of the Hatch act."

"Hence it is fair to state now that no plans of this nature avoiding the limitations of the Hatch act are accepted or approved by the department of justice."

The Hatch act prohibits a national political organization from spending more than $300,000. Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican presidential nominee, said: "The Republican organization, the Willkie clubs and the independent Democrats who are supporting me will spend about $2,500,000."

Willkie was in Des Moines today for a conference with midwest farm leaders but he is holding back formal campaigning until after his acceptance address Aug. 17 at Elwood, Ind.

President Roosevelt, seeking an unprecedented third term, has indicated that defense and the problems would keep him close to Washington much of the time. Inspection trips to various defense projects, however, may give him opportunity for speechmaking and political conferences on the side.

12,000,000 Men To Register If Bill Approved

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Salient features of the Burke-Wadsworth conscription bill approved today by the senate military committee: About 12,000,000 young men who have reached their 21st birthday anniversary and have not passed their tests would be required to register for compulsory military service.

From this group, including aliens who have declared their intention of becoming citizens, local boards under the direction of the President would select sufficient men to fill state quotas of trainees first by a director of selective service to be appointed by the chief executive.

Army officials have said they hoped to obtain 400,000 such trainees by October. The President would be authorized to select the number of men to be inducted into either the land or naval forces by conscription.

Local boards would be empowered to defer training of men whose employment in industry or agriculture was essential for the maintenance of national health, safety or interest.

Ministers of the gospel, men with dependents and those physically, mentally or morally deficient also would be placed in the deferred class.

Federal and state officials, judges, and members of congress would be exempt from training, while members of the nation's armed forces and reserves as well as diplomatic representatives of foreign countries would not be required to register for conscription.

Conscription opponents would be given a hearing by the justice department and if their claims were sustained would be ordered either into non-combatant service or would be employed in jobs of national interest under civilian direction.

Enrollees selected for service would undergo a year's active training, during which they would receive the army's basic pay of $21 a month and allowances, with opportunities for promotion. This service period could be extended only by congressional action.

It was provided specifically that the national guard, rather than trainees, should be the first to be inducted into active duty in case of emergency.

Congress would limit the number in training to those for whom funds had been appropriated. After they had served their year's training, conscripts would be transferred to the reserves for a period of 10 years, or until they had reached 45. As an alternative, they could serve two additional years in the national guard or regular army.

One-year voluntary enlistment in the army of men between 18 and 34, inclusive, instead of the regular three-year enlistment, also was provided. Men who took this course would be excused from conscription.

No bonuses would be paid conscripts, nor could they hire "substitutes" or buy their way out of service.

WEATHER

The British reported the loss of one plane.

"It was four miles north of Calais that the first squadron of Spitfires met the enemy," the account said.

"The squadron leader began the attack. He fired a burst into one of the Messerschmitts as it dived to escape. He saw it hit the sea.

"Then he fired two long bursts at another Messerschmitt which was trying to get its own fire back on one of the Spitfires.

"Smoke poured from the Messerschmitt, but in the middle of the action it was impossible to follow it down, so it is not claimed as a certain casualty.

"A sergeant pilot caught yet another Messerschmitt as it was doing a stall turn. This, too, crashed into the sea.

"Meaning another British pilot was hard on the tail of an enemy fighter which at an early stage had made a dash for the French coast. Fragments were seen breaking off its port wing and the enemy fell away toward France. It must have had difficulty in making a safe landing."

NEW BRITISH BASES RAIDED BY ITALIANS

ROME, Aug. 5 (AP)—Some of Britain's most important strategic centers in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, Kenya and Aden zones, including newly-built airfields, were wrecked over the week-end by Italian air bombardment, Stefani, official Italian news agency, reported today.

New British air bases, the agency said, were discovered by Italian scouting planes and attacked by strong bombing squadrons.

Not only was a large hangar set afire at Hadya, important Anglo-Egyptian Sudan railway center, Stefani declared, but planes on the ground were so badly damaged they were put out of action.

Besides these blows along the Red Sea front in East Africa, the Italian high command reported 10 British planes shot down in a fierce air battle yesterday when the British attempted to bomb Libyan troops near Africa.

In all, it said, Britain lost 14 planes in Africa yesterday.

The new British air bases were discovered partially in the upper Sudan, Stefani said.

Italians considered the attack on the Hadya railroad junction, where the tracks were reported ripped up, as of first importance since rail lines linking the Sudan territory with Port Sudan on the Red Sea meet there.

Two ships and a tugboat in the harbor of Zella, British Somaliland, and docks, warehouses and port stocks suffered heavy bomb damage, Stefani said.

Summit, another strategic center in Sudan, was said to have been hard hit by air attack. Stefani asserted Italian bombers, piercing British defenses, exploded gasoline tanks there and bombed troop concentrations.

BUDGET

The revenue ledger of the government also is showing gains, although a huge deficit is taken for granted.

Taxes already enacted, including the new defense levies, are expected to bring in this fiscal year (ending June 30, 1941) about $6,367,600,000.

To this may be added a substantial sum from the proposed excise tax, now being framed by the house ways and means committee.

Yield of this levy has been estimated at from $500,000,000 to $750,000,000 a year.

Not even the budget bureau is able to guess what the deficit will be for this fiscal year. The apparent deficit is more than $13,000,000,000, but the actual one may be only about a fourth as much.

Defense projects have accounted for more than half of the money so far involved in "completed or pending" measures. The army and navy together are booked for $6,775,804,340 of appropriations, plus $3,445,280,297 of contract authorizations.

Other large appropriation items include relief, $1,157,713,257; interest on the public debt and other treasury expenses, $1,911,229,303; agriculture department and farm programs, $1,025,158,993; federal security agency (mostly social security), $866,693,400; executive and independent offices, $1,121,679,403.
