United States Eyes Japan Attentively

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The United States watched the far east attentively today, and at the same time kept an alert eye on the progress of the furious air war over Europe as a critical factor in the present world struggle for power.

The state department, it was understood, was reckoning with the possibility that an emergency affecting this country might occur in the Orient. Not wholly in the background, however, some officials said, was the question of additional aid to embattled Britain.

The reactions of Japan to events of the last 24 hours were variously interpreted, particularly since the events included Britain's announcement that the Burma road to China would be reopened for supplies, the ban on the further flow of subsidized American wheat to far eastern ports, and the precautionary steps to get American nationals out of potential trouble zones in the Orient.

Some officials here interpreted the tenor of Japanese reactions to indicate the possibility that any major far eastern thrust under the aegis of the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo alliance might be held in abeyance, at least for the time being.

They based their interpretations on the fact that Japanese newspapers minimized the importance of the Burma road reopening, intimating that it could be bombed from recently-obtained Japanese airdromes in French Indo-China. They also noted the statement of a foreign office spokesman that Japan did not intend to call her nationals from the United States.

These interpretations, however, were advanced with reservations inasmuch as authoritative Tokyo quarters viewed the decision to reopen the Burma road as a new instance of Anglo-American cooperation in applying pressure to Japan.

Draft Boards For Counties In This Section Announced

More than 1,000 Texas civilians today were ready for the big job of selective service by which the nation will pick men from all walks of life for compulsory military training.

They were renominated by Governor W. L. O'Daniel for the numbers of more than 300 draft boards.

An estimated 900,000 men of the 21-35 years age bracket, inclusive, will file their names and addresses at regular polling places on October 16, after which the boards will classify the registrants.

Members of the boards in counties near Gray are: Wheeler—Thurman Adams, Shamrock; Oliver Elliott, Mobeetie; O. T. Nicholson, Shamrock.

Hutchinson—George Finger and O. W. Lipps, both of Borger; Jim Claybrook, Sisseton.

Donley—W. T. Link, George Ryan and C. T. McMurtry, all of Clarendon.

marathon. Quantities of garlic fed her slowed the sneezes from twelve a minute to one an hour. The remedy was suggested by a Milwaukee physician.

Sturgeon, Owens And Ewing On Draft Board

County Clerk Charlie Thut will go to Amarillo Friday to attend a conference called for the purpose of instructing local draft boards in the area surrounding the meeting place.

The meeting is for draft board members, but county clerks, whose offices are setting up the machinery for registration on October 16, were also invited to attend the meeting.

On Friday, conferences will be held at Ft. Worth, San Antonio, Austin, Lufkin, and Waco, besides Amarillo, Saturday, at San Angelo, Dallas, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Longview, and Houston.

35 'Willkie Democrats' Form Club

Vigorously flaying the New Deal, a group of 35 Gray county residents met last night in the city hall auditorium and formed the Gray County Democrats for Willkie club, with L. R. (Buck) Miller as chairman, Jim Saunders and Dr. H. L. Wilder co-chairmen, and Cleve Huff as secretary.

The chairman and the two co-chairmen form the club's executive committee. Plans are to be made to obtain a speaker to address the club. It had been hoped that (if) voters would be made to secure the services of Irvin S. Cobb.

J. C. Sherrill of Amarillo and Corpus Christi who met with the local anti-FDR forces twice last week, was again in Pampa last night with the club's members.

He said that Cobb had been forced to cancel any more speaking engagements due to his health.

Named as a committee to secure speakers for the Willkie cause here were Thomas Wade, Dan E. Williams, and E. C. Sidwell.

Harold E. Schwartz, who was temporary chairman at the meeting last week, presided at the organization meeting Tuesday night.

Sherrill outlined tactics to secure Willkie votes, saying members should direct their appeals to women voters, "borderline" Democrats, and those voters under the age of 30.

Admiral Hints War With Japan Near

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—At a press conference filled with questions about the tense far eastern situation, Secretary Knox said today that the United States fleet, now on duty in the Pacific, would be brought up to full strength immediately by the addition of about 4,200 men.

The additions, the navy department chief reported, will raise crews of the warships from 85 per cent to 100 per cent over their theoretical strength.

Announcing the step as one of several measures to reinforce naval strength without delay, Knox said also that the navy was "pressing" for the acquisition of 31 additional auxiliary ships for the fleet's train.

He was asked whether he concurred in a prediction that the administration feared war with Japan in 15 days and promptly replied "no."

"I don't think anybody knows," he added.

(By The Associated Press) Great Britain prepared today to follow the example of the United States by advising British subjects to leave the Far East, despite Japanese efforts to discount the possibility of an explosive crisis in the Orient.

Authoritative quarters in London said the warning would apply to all Britons who had no "urgent reasons" for remaining.

Uniform Plan On Rules For Draft Sought

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Selective service officials directed efforts today toward establishment of a uniform nation-wide policy in application of the broad, general rules governing deferment of men from compulsory military service for occupational reasons.

The rules, issued yesterday, conform generally to advance reports that local draft boards would be instructed to be liberal in deferring both men with dependents and those with "necessary" jobs in occupations important to the national health, safety and interest.

Men married soon before or after draft registration day, October 16, will not be penalized, but will have the dependency of their wives judged on the same basis as other men.

Those who claim to be conscientious objectors need be examined on their claims only if they have not been deferred from service for other reasons.

A relief worker who has real dependents will not be taken from his job to serve in the army. While local draft boards necessarily will bear the burden of deciding whether a man actually is "necessary" to his job, officials are working to bring about national uniformity in deferment policy.

Major Guston Morgan, city manager of Austin, Tex., is cooperating with governmental, trade and educational groups who are distributing information on draft procedures. His efforts are to obtain uniform procedure by all groups interested in deferments.

Any registrant, his employer or his labor union may argue in behalf of his deferment for occupational reasons. The registrant may apply personally before the local board, a practice not permitted in 1917.

12 Bombers Over London At One Time

102 Sections Of England Bombed During Night

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Flying in loose formation to out-smart the city's growing anti-aircraft defense, as many as a dozen Nazi planes were counted over London at one time this afternoon in the continuing siege of the city.

The planes looked like miniature white crosses against the blue sky, with the puffs of anti-aircraft fire dotting their trail. No sound of bombs could be heard above the firing of the ground guns.

After a particularly heavy burst of the "Archie" one plane, flying lower than the others, turned off and made toward the coast—possibly damaged.

This afternoon sun had cleared away the clouds that hid raiders in their first daylight follow-up to overnight assaults in which heavy bombs smashed an air raid shelter and three wings of a hospital housing 108 patients.

None in the hospital were believed to have escaped death or injury. Eight persons were killed in the shelter and an undetermined number injured.

The bombed hospital was described as possibly the hardest-hit building in London where the raiding up to midnight was reported to be the most severe the city has undergone.

Oil Executives Fear Prices May Be Established

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 9 (AP)—Some oil executives declared today they feared an attempt might soon be made to establish wholesale prices for crude oil or its by-products.

Such a plan was proposed during the old NRA days, but it was tabled.

The industry continued to show concern over the anti-trust suits.

"Coming strangely at a time when minds of so many were broken up with concern about the results of the national election November 5, the suits against 22 major firms and 300 subsidiaries and the American Petroleum Institute have almost stopped initiative in the mid-continent and adjacent areas," asserted Paul S. Hedrick, oil editor of The Tulsa World.

"Discouraged at the psychological effects the suits have had, and compelling the industry to again defend itself under trying circumstances before courts and juries not familiar with the wide ramifications of petroleum, it leaves the oil man in a disgusted frame of mind."

Some oil men also say they have heard that wage-hour rules for the industry may be more rigid in the near future. They point out that the industry so far has encountered less labor trouble than most of the other large businesses in the nation.

Mid-Continent executives privately admit to being somewhat gloomy over the present situation. New developments appears to be slackening somewhat, some of it waiting on clarification of legal details.

Oklahoma and Kansas production has been benefiting by the drop in Illinois production but Illinois producers hope that the Trenton line may bring about another drilling play to test it.

In the crude price picture, the Corpus Christi area of Texas has received two downward revisions, while in North Texas new buyers have obtained special allowances to obtain more oil.

The September report of the water and sewer department shows: Customers, 2,503; gallonage, 32,254,800; total accounts receivable, $15,496,667; September 30 ledger balance, $15,233,977; September 30 delinquents $2,245,118; trash and garbage collections, $1,495,36.

Due to the Board of City Development as of September 4 is $2,967,91; to the library, of same date, $613,47.

The September report of the water and sewer department shows: Customers, 2,503; gallonage, 32,254,800; total accounts receivable, $15,496,667; September 30 ledger balance, $15,233,977; September 30 delinquents $2,245,118; trash and garbage collections, $1,495,36.

The march, the date for which had not been set, will be mobilized in northeastern cities of San Antonio, Chihuahua, Saltillo and Nuevo Laredo. Plans for the mobilization were disclosed by Joaquin Rodriguez at Chihuahua City where the Gold Shirts ended a convention. Rodriguez said his followers, regarded as partisans of General Juan Andres Almazan, opposition candidate during the recent presidential campaign, desired to "cooperate faithfully with the government and fight any agitation that puts the public peace in danger."

"We are against Communism and intend to battle it," Rodriguez added.

Contributions To Mile Of Pennies Still Being Made

Although the Pampa Goodfellow "Mile of Pennies" ended Saturday with $325 collected for the club's charitable work for children, contributions are still being received.

Ivy Duncan, out of town at the time of the "mile," today donated $5 to the club.

Other persons who wish to donate are asked to notify The Pampa News, telephone 698.

White House Cafe, Home Burglarized

City police officers today were investigating two burglaries reported by the White House cafe, corner of Cuyler street and Kingsmill avenue, and of the A. E. Dixon home, 3100 Alcock street.

The officers received word that someone entered the Dixon home and stole $2 in cash. The White House cafe was entered and $4 or $5 in cash taken. Entry was gained by smashing the glass in a rear door.

Refrigerator Motor At Ideal Smokes

Firemen were called to the Ideal Super Market at the corner of North Cuyler street and East Francis avenue at 1:40 o'clock this morning. After breaking in a rear door they found the building filled with smoke but no fire.

Investigation revealed that the refrigeration system motor was smoking. Little damage resulted, Chief White said.

The smoke was discovered by city officers.

Senate To Act On Home Guards Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The senate, making ready to quit work until Nov. 18, was asked today for quick action on legislation authorizing establishment of "home guards" to replace national guard units mobilized for a year's active service.

Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.) called for a prompt vote on the measure yesterday because of the volley of critical questions fired by some senators. The bill heads the agenda which the senate hopes to dispose of by tomorrow, when plans for the start of a series of 3-day recesses to last until after election.

What the house would do on the recess question remained uncertain.

Divorcee, 84, Gives Advice To Lovelorn

BIXBY, Okla., Oct. 9 (AP)—W. L. "Uncle Billy" Childers, 84-year-old farmer, gave a bit of advice to the lovelorn today after he was sued for divorce.

"Don't marry a woman younger'n you," he said.

His 74-year-old wife, whom he married 60 years ago, petitioned for divorce on the ground that he had too many women friends and she was not young enough.

She asked half of $50,000 in cash and land she said he had accumulated.

"When I married her," said Childers, "I figured it wouldn't work out, 'me older'n her and her younger'n me."

Girl Eats Razor Blades Just To Show Her Chums

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 9 (AP)—Doctors looked at X-ray pictures of seven-year-old Joan Isom's stomach today and found there's nothing out in her diet.

They found 24 broken bits of razor blades. She swallowed them at school yesterday, she said, to prove to her school chums that she could duplicate the feat of the lady razor-blade eater at the fair.

Joan is stuffed with mashed potatoes, cotton, bread and spinach, and her doctors think an operation might be unnecessary. Her mouth had no cuts.

Food Ads Will Appear Thursdays

Starting tomorrow, food store advertising in The Pampa News will be published in Thursday's issues instead of on Fridays, as has been the practice in the past.

Prices listed in the advertisements are to be effective Friday and Saturday, instead of on Saturday and Monday.

Under this plan, shoppers can avoid week-end left overs.

Readers are advised to watch the grocery ads tomorrow of Mitchell's, Harris, Furr, Ideal, McCarty, B & G, and George's Poultry and Fish Market.

Revue Rehearsal To Be Held Tonight

First rehearsal of the complete cast of the "Top O' Texas Revue," musical sponsored by the Pampa Kiwanis club, will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the city hall auditorium.

The show, which will be given for the purpose of raising money for the Kiwanians work for less fortunate children, is to be presented at the high school auditorium on November 6-7.

Ken Bennett is director and producer of the show.

NLR Decisions To Be Toned Down For Defense

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Although no formal pronouncement was forthcoming, members of a house investigating committee said privately today the results of a one-day inquiry had satisfied them that decisions of the National Labor Relations Board would not be permitted to work to the detriment of the defense program.

This comment was backed up by the fact that the committee scheduled no further hearings.

Tax Transfer And Water Reports Made

Report of the water and sewer department for September and a report on transfer of taxes collected due to the BCD and the library were submitted to the city commission at its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Due to the Board of City Development as of September 4 is $2,967,91; to the library, of same date, $613,47.

The September report of the water and sewer department shows: Customers, 2,503; gallonage, 32,254,800; total accounts receivable, $15,496,667; September 30 ledger balance, $15,233,977; September 30 delinquents $2,245,118; trash and garbage collections, $1,495,36.

Gold Shirts Plan Mexico City March

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 9 (AP)—Mexico's Gold Shirts, semi-military, semi-Fascist organization, said today they were organizing a "peaceful march" on Mexico City.

The march, the date for which had not been set, will be mobilized in northeastern cities of San Antonio, Chihuahua, Saltillo and Nuevo Laredo. Plans for the mobilization were disclosed by Joaquin Rodriguez at Chihuahua City where the Gold Shirts ended a convention. Rodriguez said his followers, regarded as partisans of General Juan Andres Almazan, opposition candidate during the recent presidential campaign, desired to "cooperate faithfully with the government and fight any agitation that puts the public peace in danger."

"We are against Communism and intend to battle it," Rodriguez added.

Mrs. Newcomb To Illustrate Talk With Paintings

Of interest to both men and women of Pampa is the lecture to be given by Mrs. Franc Johnson Newcomb on "Occultism as Practiced by the Navajo Medicine Men" at the city club rooms Friday evening at 8 o'clock under the sponsorship of Alpha Mu chapter of Phi Kappa Phi.

Mrs. Newcomb will illustrate her talk with at least 15 sand paintings as well as articles used by the medicine men, rugs of interesting design, and a few pieces of fine old Navajo silver.

The following data has been sent by Mrs. Donald A. Powell, a former Pampan, in regard to Mrs. Newcomb's work:

"Franc Johnson Newcomb, wife of a Navajo trader, has had unparalleled opportunity to witness the laying of sand painting. Beginning with an interest and training in art, she realized long ago the importance and interest the ceremonials have for the artist, scientist, and philosopher. Since it is part of Navajo belief that the molasses should be laid and the molasses between sunrise and sunset and that no permanent record of them should be made, she worked out a technique of her own for recording.

P-TA SPEAKER

Ernest Cabe, supervisor of instruction in the local schools, will speak on "Why Stress Americanism in Parent Education Groups" at the meeting of Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher association discussion group Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the assembly hall.

The chapters allow her to watch them strew the sand through their skillful fingers, even to help with it since she has learned how to do it. On each occasion, after memorizing the picture as well as she could, she left the ceremonial house for a place of solitude where she considers her memory picture as completely as possible, noting carefully its gaps and points at which she is doubtful. She then returns to the hogan and paints in the details missing in her mind's eye.

"As soon as possible after the ceremony she made a sketch of the painting and called in the medicine man to criticize it, for as long as the sketch was not made in the presence" of the painting, there was no objection and criticism is given honestly and conscientiously.

"Artistically the sandpaintings rank high. They are made of soft natural colors, pigments gathered from Navajo territory, red, yellow, white, blue, ground and mixed with sand until the proper consistency for strewing, black made from charcoal; pink, blue, and brown from the mixtures of the original colors.

Mrs. Thurmond Named Honoree At Recent Shower

Mrs. Kenneth Chambliss was hostess at a shower given recently to honor Mrs. Paul Thurmond.

A pink and blue basinet of gifts was presented to the honoree in a fishing game, after which refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Those present were Mesdames E. H. Guinn, Vernon Watkins, W. H. Hall, Clint Keston, Carl Devitt, Fred Taylor, W. G. Corley, Leslie E. Hale, A. C. Thurmond, C. H. Gustin, Jimmie Thurmond, L. A. Pinkham, H. W. Pierce, Fred Price, and J. C. Lewis.

Sending gifts were Mesdames John Hahn, Troyman Black, and Albert Barz.

20th Century Culture Begins Study For Year

Twentieth Century Culture club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. M. Johnson.

Mrs. L. L. McColm, president, presided over the business session in which Mrs. Ewing Leech and Mrs. Otis Pumphrey were elected to represent the club at the State Federation to be held in Austin on November 12 to 15.

The years course of study, "Our American Heritage," was opened with Mrs. Frank Dial as leader. She discussed "Primitive America" in which she gave a description of the American continent before the white man came, and then told of the dramatic meeting of the Indian and the white man. Some of the unusual customs of the Indian were listed, which we could show sympathy for and also admire.

"My People, the Sioux," written by Chief Standing Bear, was reviewed by Mrs. Foster Fletcher. The book was biographical, including important incidents of the Sioux tribe during the author's life and giving amusing happenings during his education in the Indian school at Carlisle.

Mrs. William Pinkbeiner entertained with piano selections, "By The Sky Blue Waters," "Indian Love Call," and "Red Wing." She told of having known Jim Thorpe, greatest Indian athlete and a graduate of Carlisle.

Two new members were welcomed, Mrs. John Keller and Mrs. V. L. Hobbs. Others present were Mesdames Ewing Leech, L. L. McColm, Fred Roberts, J. P. Wehrman, D. E. Robinson, L. H. McCullough, R. M. Johnson, L. H. Hahn, Otis Pumphrey, T. A. Perkins, C. W. Briscoe, Frank Dial, Joe Key, Foster Fletcher, and Mrs. William Pinkbeiner, guest.

New President Of Susannah Wesley Class Presides

Mrs. J. E. Ward, newly-elected president of Susannah Wesley class of First Methodist church, presided at the last business meeting and social of the group which was held in the home of Mrs. Etta Brittain.

After Mrs. Ward presented the devotion, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, a guest, instructed the class in parliamentary procedure and duties of new officers.

The group voted to contribute four dollars a month to the school cafeteria and to continue sponsoring the primary department.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Annie Moore, retiring president; Mrs. H. O. Simmons, retiring vice-president; and Mrs. H. B. Carson, teacher.

Others present were Mesdames M. Andrews, W. Mullinax, Charles Ward, E. H. Johnson, Nellie Ford, D. C. Atkinson, Z. H. Mundy, McBride, T. J. McIntire, W. R. Keller, and Al Lawson, members; Mrs. Hatfield Hicks, Mrs. Mahalia Fullington and Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, guests.

Kingsmill HD Club Elects Officers At Recent Meeting

At the meeting of Kingsmill Home Demonstration club in the home of Mrs. M. G. Davis, 511 South Ballard street, recently, officers for the new year were elected.

They are Mrs. O. G. Smith, president; Mrs. G. G. Frasher, vice-president; Mrs. C. E. Bastion, reporter; Mrs. J. R. Coombs, treasurer; Mrs. W. B. Davis, secretary; Mrs. Nat Lunsford, council representative; and Mrs. S. E. Elkins, alternate representative.

The club voted to co-operate with the council choral club.

The program included a book review, "April Was When It Began," (Barrie Benefield), given by Mrs. H. H. Hahn.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Chester Williams, S. E. Elkins, Harold Snyder, Nat Lunsford, G. G. Frasher, Chester Nicholson, C. T. Nicholson, W. B. Davis, O. G. Smith, C. F. Bastion, the hostesses, and one guest, Mrs. H. H. Hahn.

Jury Service For Women Discussed By B-PW Chairman

District one Business and Professional Women's chairman of jury service for women, Audrey M. Fowler, of Pampa, has written the following article in connection with the committee's part in observance of National Business Women's Week, October 6-12.

"The United States is, we are all proud to believe, a free country. Here in our native land each citizen shares equal rights before the law. It is therefore, something in the nature of a shock to be told that many deserving citizens are unable to avail themselves of their rights because of restrictions placed upon them by state constitutions and statutes.

"The laws of Texas prohibit women from enjoying equal rights with men. To say that a woman before the bar is entitled to judgment by her peers, and then exclude her from the jury room is to misinterpret the spirit which underlies our institution. Justice to women, and even to the state as a whole, demands that women, if possessed of the statutory qualifications, should be eligible to sit as jurors.

"If women's qualifications are equal to those of men, surely they should serve. If they have a different viewpoint, that viewpoint is entitled to representation in our courts. Jury service for women is another step towards the attainment of that universal justice for which the American nation stands; they can hold any public office in city, state, or nation, but they do not have a voice in determining matters before the court. In this day and age we have many young girls and women brought into our courts, and it seems only fair to them that they have women jurors, too. Surely the average woman's understanding of a young girl, is better than a man's. The experience of serving on a jury would give women a greater respect for the law and would be educational.

"Women should realize the importance of jury service. When they do, they will do their part by service and influence. Innovations always receive a great deal of condemnation. Jury service is no exception.

"In January, 1941, an amendment to the constitution of Texas will be proposed in our legislature giving women the right to serve on juries."

Church School Groups Have Informal Tea

Teachers and parents of pre-school department of First Christian church entertained the primary and junior church school teachers and parents with an informal tea in the recreation department of the church recently, when a miscellaneous shower of nursery furniture was given for the department for those attending.

Mrs. Walter Nelson played a group of violin selections as the guests arrived. Mrs. Vernon Lawrence and Mrs. Ed Johnson presided at the registry while Mrs. Tom Bunting and Mrs. Robert Gilchrist received gifts at a table decorated in baby blue and pink. Two large baby shoes centered the table.

Children of the beginners department gave a short program of musical numbers followed by the devotional, given in the form of a parable leading a little child to God, by Mrs. B. A. Norris. Mrs. Charles Stowell discussed "Guiding the Nursery Child," after which Mrs. Leslie Keyes spoke on "The Methods and Objectives of the Primary Department." Mrs. L. S. Martin talked on "Some Objectives of a Junior Department Teacher," and the Rev. B. A. Norris encouraged fellowship meetings quarterly between parents and teachers.

After the program tea was served for a table laid with lace over pink with a centerpiece of pink and blue flowers. Mrs. Fred Lamb and Mrs. Leonard Bowen presided.

Following the tea open house was held in four rooms of the newly-decorated pre-school age department. Mrs. Paul Hawthorne, superintendent of the department, was chairman of all arrangements with Mesdames Robert Louvier, Emma Favors, Roy Williams, L. E. Wilson, G. W. Atkinson, Elmer Whipple, Earl Clout, Tom Bunting, Ralph Puckett, and Ramon Wilson assisting her.

Registering were Mesdames Hugh Isbell, Glen Sheehan, E. B. Howard, J. E. Johnson, J. E. Seitz, W. A. Nelson, O. E. Austin, B. A. Norris, Emory O'Neil, W. O. Prewitt, Alva Duemel, W. L. Donnell, T. M. Garden Club Gives Suggestions On Care Of Chrysanthemums

Pampa Garden club members suggest that chrysanthemum growers water their plants freely during the budding and blooming period. This is especially necessary this year due to the dry weather. The club also suggests checking the plants for grasshoppers which are plentiful now.

A Garden club member and chrysanthemum grower, Mrs. Luther Wilson, visited the chrysanthemum show at Oklahoma City last year, which had state-wide entries, and in her opinion the blossoms exhibited at the Pampa show last year were superior to those at Oklahoma City.

The committee in charge of the show to be held here this month, Mrs. H. O. Roberts, Mrs. Katherine Sadler, and Mrs. Alex Schneider, who promise a more beautiful show this year than last.

The date of the show, to be held in the city club rooms this month, will be announced later when the blossoms are at their peak.

Mrs. Roberts To Be Guest Speaker At Horace Mann

Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association will meet at the school Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for a program to be opened with group singing under the direction of Mrs. Bob Carter.

The invocation will be followed with a business session conducted by Mrs. H. M. Stokes. A play, "Fire Prevention and Founders' Day," which has been written and directed by Miss Frances McCue, will precede a five-minute talk on fire prevention by Ben Love.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Fred Roberts, who will discuss "Well Founded Attitudes of the Home." Carl Adams, director of the Horace Mann school band and who is in charge of all string music in the schools, will play a piano solo and talk on "Audience Music Appreciation."

Mr. Adams, who graduated from the Juilliard School of Music in New York City, is teaching in Pampa for the first year.

Fifth grade members will have charge of the social hour to follow.

Projects For Year Planned By Clara Hill Class Board

Clara Hill class executive board of First Methodist church met in the home of Mrs. Glenn Radcliff Tuesday afternoon.

Plans for the year's projects, assisting an orphan at Waco, sponsoring the intermediate department, and giving baskets at Thanksgiving and Christmas, were made.

The group voted to cooperate with the church in the re-decorating of the dining room and in purchasing of dishes.

At the close of the discussion, refreshments of cake and ice tea were served to Mesdames E. P. Hollingshead, R. O. Pearce, F. H. Morrow, Glenn Radcliff, H. P. Snyder, C. F. Walton, Harry Hoyler, C. L. Brownlee, F. T. Goodnight, and A. E. Marlow.

Fire Prevention To Be Theme Of Holy Souls P-TA

A monthly meeting of Holy Souls Parent-Teacher association will be held Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the school auditorium.

"Fire Prevention" is to be the theme of the program which will include a play by the students directed by the Rev. Vincent Winn and a three-minute program commemorating the birthday of the state of Texas.

All patrons are urged to attend and those who have not joined, will have an opportunity to pay dues and become members.

B-PW Members Attend Homecoming Dinner In Amarillo After Meeting

Draft registrars were discussed at the monthly business and program meeting of Business and Professional Women's club Tuesday night in the city commissioners room.

In the business session, the club voted to donate the registration fee of a Girl Scout leader at the Scout training school to be held in Stillwater. Two new members were voted on and accepted.

Next Tuesday evening the first recreation night under the sponsorship of the health committee will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the city club rooms.

Attending the meeting were Ruth Walstad, Mildred Lafferty, Dalton Hall, Letha Northrup, Jess Brummas, Geneva Briscoe, Frances Craver, Margaret Wallace, Mary Fleming, Madeline Murray, Betty Dunbar, Mildred Overall, Audrey Fowler, Lillian McWright, Pearl Mitchell, Gladys Robinson, Ida Adams, Mable Gee, Opal Wright, Haysa Councilor, Lillian Jordan, Vada Lee Olson, Grace Pool, Madge Rusk, Gypsy Maloy, Maurine Jones, Myrtle Simmons, Oree Kromer, Vera Lard, Lillian McNut, Effie Atkins, and Oreggs.

El Progreso Has Meeting In Home Of Mrs. Neely

At the meeting of El Progreso club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. L. C. Neely, Mrs. George Walstad, Sr., was elected delegate to the Texas Federation convention to be held next month in Austin.

Opening the program on "The Negro," each member answered roll call by naming a negro institution of learning. Mrs. Walstad, who was program leader, discussed "Peculiar Problems of the American Negro." After Mrs. T. D. Hobart spoke on "Progress of the American Negro," Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar gave a five-minute sketch on Lowell Thomas.

Present were Mesdames John V. Andrews, Robert Boshen, C. F. Buckler, W. R. Ewing, T. D. Hobart, C. T. Hunkapillar, P. C. Ledrick, L. E. Neely, Dave Pope, S. G. Surratt, Charles Thut, James Tadd, George Walstad, and J. B. White.

"Build-Up" Relief Explained to Women

A simple method has saved many women a lot of suffering! It is based on the fact that headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain are often symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition. Help for this condition so often follows the use of CARDUI, because it usually increases the appetite and the flow of gastric juice; thus aids digestion and helps build physical resistance. Usual result is less periodic distress.

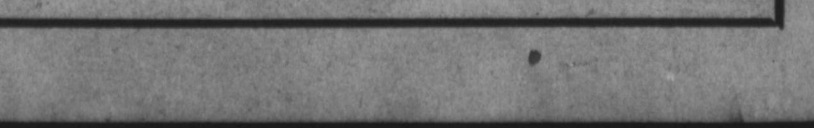

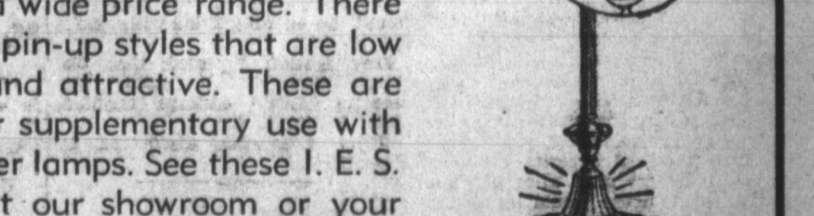

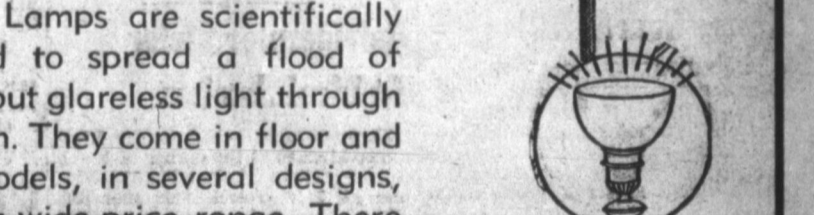

Many who take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time" have found this also helps ease periodic discomfort. Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

LIGHT CONDITION YOUR HOME MODERN LIGHTING IS ESSENTIAL TO MODERN HOME STYLING AND MODERN HEALTH LIVING!

These long evenings of "half light" can be very bad for the eyes. Don't make the mistake of using old or dim lamps. Have I. E. S. lamps, and be sure they are lighted early enough in the evening.

I. E. S. Lamps are scientifically designed to spread a flood of strong, but glareless light through the room. They come in floor and table models, in several designs, and at a wide price range. There are also pin-up styles that are low priced and attractive. These are ideal for supplementary use with the larger lamps. See these I. E. S. lamps at our showroom or your dealer's.

Willkie Asks FDR Tell Of 'Understandings'

(By The Associated Press)

Wendell L. Willkie took his campaign for the presidency into New England today after a speaking tour of New York City in which he demanded that President Roosevelt tell the nation whether there were "any international understandings to put America into this war."

Willkie's demand followed a radio broadcast in which he said that "under no circumstances would I appease the dictators."

Addressing a crowd in Manhattan, Willkie said:

"If you elect me; this country won't go to war until the people say they want war."

As Willkie attacked the third term candidacy of the President, Oscar R. Ewing, assistant chairman of the Democratic National committee, said in New York that a change in administration now "would mean that months would be wasted while the new president familiarized himself with the intricacies of the nation's foreign affairs."

Domestic issues were stressed, meanwhile, in other campaign developments.

At Cape Girardeau, Mo., Senator Taft (R-Ohio) rapped the administration's fiscal policies last night.

"The spending policy is not only vain," Taft said, "it is utterly dangerous and destructive. We are stimulating, artificially a number of war industries and building up employment which sooner or later must come to an end."

Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) in a statement issued at Washington through the National Committee of Independent Voters for Roosevelt and Wallace called for farmers to support the Democratic ticket.

Mainly About People

C. E. Beasley and J. A. Bryant of Wheeler transacted business in Pampa Tuesday.

Mrs. Edy Fyland and daughter, Sylvia, of Fort Worth, arrived Monday to join Mr. Fyland who is the embalmer for Huffman-Nelson Funeral home. They are at home at 708 North Frost street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Spornemore and son, Robert, have returned from northwest Missouri where they visited relatives. While there Robert Stephens enrolled in Chilton College.

Bills totaling $1,511.97 for September were approved for payment when the city commission held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon. Of the total, $231.99 was to the Pampa Electric agency on property damage, public liability insurance; Clowe & Cowan, $167.76; meters; W. T. Fraser company, $88.20, insurance.

Plan of an alley proposed west of Sunset Drive was submitted to the city commission at its meeting yesterday.

Drive Subject Of Rotary Address

Pampa Rotarians at their regular weekly luncheon at noon today were addressed by Major Reginald Cleveland, Dallas, state public relations director of the Salvation Army.

The Dallas man's speech was in connection with the forthcoming Salvation Army drive here. The advance gifts campaign is already under way; the campaign proper will start Monday, end Saturday, October 19.

A six-man committee to work with the Army in its campaign was named at the luncheon of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce at noon Tuesday. The committee consists of Joe Key, L. H. Johnson, Jimmie Dodge, Charles Lamka, J. L. Myers, and Frank Smith.

"Building for Tomorrow" was the subject of a talk delivered to the Jaycees by Major John Morrison, Dallas, divisional secretary.

Members of the advisory board and of the advanced gifts committee are to breakfast at 7:15 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Schneider hotel, where plans will be made to advance the drive and reports on the advance gift campaign submitted.

DRAFT BOARD

October 16, as national registration day. Registration booths will be open from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m.

2. Q.—Where will the registration booths be located?

A.—Each registrant will report to his usual voting box where he will be registered. Customary polling places are being used for registration because the public is familiar with their location.

3. Q.—Who will be in charge of the registration?

A.—The governor of each state will be the directing head of the registration, but the key men will be the county clerks.

4. Q.—How will the registrars at each polling place be selected?

A.—The presiding judge and judges for each voting precinct, as provided by the county commissioners' court, are the registrars. The county clerk will appoint enough additional helpers to complete the registration in one day.

5. Q.—Will these registrars be paid?

A.—No. They will not be paid. It is the consensus of opinion that the election personnel should be willing to contribute one day's service to the national defense program.

6. Q.—Where will the registrars get their instructions and their materials for registration day?

A.—The governor will forward to each county clerk sufficient supplies and instructions for the registration. The clerk will then hold an instruction school for the chief registrars from each precinct, and these chief registrars will in turn instruct the assisting registrars.

7. Q.—How many registrars can one registrar handle between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. on registration day?

A.—Experience has proven that it will take an average of 20 minutes per registrant, therefore the average number of registrants one person can handle will be about 30 during the day. Presiding judges will make sure they have sufficient helpers to take care of the registration for each voting precinct.

8. Q.—Will the result of the registration be reported?

A.—Yes. Local registrars will report results to the county clerk who will relay them to the governor. When all returns are in, the governor will make his report to the national director of selective service in Washington, D. C.

Pampan's Daughter Dies In Kansas

Funeral services for Miss Mabel Ruth Baird, 21, talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baird of Pampa, were conducted at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning in Dodge City, Kas., Christian church by the Rev. David F. Tyndall, pastor, assisted by the Rev. Charles Bretz of Dighton. The body was placed in a mausoleum at Enid, Okla.

Mr. Baird, manager of the Motor Supply company here for the past year and a half, returned this morning. Mrs. Baird, who had been by the side of her daughter during a 10-day illness of pneumonia, will not return until next week. Miss Baird died in a Larned, Kas. hospital Monday morning.

Miss Baird was an accomplished musician and religious leader. Since moving to Dodge City 12 years ago after graduating from Oklahoma College for Women with a degree in fine arts, Miss Baird had been pianist at the Dodge City Christian church and Sunday School. She was publicity director for church organizations and for the Business and Professional Women's club of which she was an untiring worker. She was secretary of the Ford County Public Welfare board and was employed at the Ford County Building and Loan association.

Survivors include her parents, a sister, Mrs. Billy Kimbrel, St. John, and three brothers, Mas Baird, Morris Baird and Charles Baird.

Germans Claim Transport Sunk

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Oct. 9.—Dive bombing hits on a convoy of troop transports, apparently carrying thousands of men from somewhere in the British empire to the defense of Britain, were reported today by the German high command along with a fresh disclosure of surface raiding "in overseas waters."

The daily communique said a fighting plane attacked "a strongly armed convoy with five large, fully occupied troop transports, in a daringly deep dive and made several hits on a ship of about 20,000 tons." The position of the convoy was given as northwest of Ireland and about 125 miles from the Scottish coast.

(This would be on a route traveled by Canadian troops.)

The bomb hits were said to have caused the transport to stop and "lay motionless."

The high command added another paragraph to the little known story of German surface raiders with the statement that "an auxiliary cruiser reports sinking of $2,000 tons of enemy merchant shipping in overseas waters as a result of its merchant war activities up to the present time."

Another German plane, on reconnaissance, attacked a British merchant ship off the Scottish coast. It was said, blasted her into flames with "several bombs" and left her motionless and "in a sinking condition."

The high command's announcement on the unrelenting air siege of Britain said "full hits" had destroyed seven RAF airports while dive-bombers and other machine-gunning planes wrecked "numerous" British planes around.

Guest Day To Be Observed By P-TA At Woodrow Wilson

Woodrow Wilson discussion group will meet at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the school assembly hall with Ernest Cabe, supervisor of instructions, as guest speaker.

Mr. Cabe will discuss "Why Stress Americanism in Parent Education Groups" after which Mrs. Tom Duval will have charge of the questionnaire to follow.

This method of procedure has proven popular as well as enlightening and those who attend consider it one of the most interesting phases in P-T. A. education.

A nursery will be available with Girl Scouts in charge during the regular P-T. A. meeting which will be held between 2:30 until 4 o'clock. As this is guest day, each one is expected to take someone who is not already a member.

AIR RAIDS

In the first hours of the attack, a child was killed and several other persons were injured when a single bomb wrecked a row of homes. A group of workers' apartment houses in another borough was hit.

Shop fronts were damaged by a bomb which fell in a London street and a number of customers in a bar were injured.

Casualties were reported in Essex and towns elsewhere in southeastern England where homes were smashed. The streets of one town were said to have been raked by machine-gun bullets.

In a west county town a public shelter was hit.

The headmaster's house at a famous public school near London was demolished by a bomb. None of the students was injured.

British fighter planes were seen in the sky over London just before the day's first alarm sounded. One group of them pounced on a Dornier bomber which appeared out of a cloud bank over the suburbs.

Watchers from rooftops could hear the thud of bombs, the crash of anti-aircraft fire and the rattle of machine-guns. Most of the fighting, however, occurred so high the machines themselves could not be seen.

Later in the afternoon a few bombs were heard in London while over one section of the capital a German raider, caught in the full blast of anti-aircraft fire, was crossed to pieces.

A large formation of attackers crossed the southeast coast, seemingly enroute to London, but they were intercepted a short way inland by British fighters.

In raids that seemed aimed directly at the coast, two of three raiders striking at one southern town, were shot down, while three German fighting planes dived on Dover harbor, in the southeast, and shot down a barrage balloon.

Italy Tells What U. S. 'Must Do'

ROME, Oct. 9. (AP)—Premier Mussolini's newspaper Il Popolo D'Italia said today that "few heavy blows" against Britain with the intervention of fresh forces were imminent and offered British territory in the western hemisphere to the United States if she remained out of the war.

The newspaper's military commentator, Mario Appellus, said the United States must choose among three decisions:

1. "To remain neutral until the destruction of the British empire has been effected and to take its place among its natural heirs" with Canada, Newfoundland, the Bahamas, Bermuda and Jamaica as its "expectations."

2. To continue to aid England without intervening in the war and find herself in an "inferior diplomatic condition" when the British empire is split up at a peace conference, as well as in future trade agreements.

3. To enter the war "knowing she is not militarily ready and meet all the consequences of defeat."

The final course, Appellus said, would be "suicide."

If the United States remains neutral, the commentator went on, she might also get Australia and New Zealand, while British Honduras would go to Guatemala, British Guiana to Brazil and the Falkland Island to Argentina.

FDR Signs Excess Profits Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Broad tax legislation using an excess profits levy as a barrier against profiteering on military contracts and intended at the same time to encourage defense enterprises has been signed into law by President Roosevelt.

The new law, signed at 11 p. m. Eastern Standard time last night, carries an excess profits tax from 25 to 50 per cent and raises the corporation income tax from 20 1/2 to 24 per cent, the new rate being applicable on 1940 income and thereafter.

The white house announced the signing today.

As a means of activating the defense program, the law permits manufacturers and others to amortize, or to deduct from their taxable income, their entire cost of facilities completed for defense purposes after June 10, 1940. The deductions would be made at the rate of 20 per cent of a year for five years.

It also suspends, during such period as the excess profits tax is levied, present 8 and 7 per cent limits on profits from warships and military aircraft.

The excess profits tax, designed to retard the creation of "war millionaires," is the first of its type enacted since the years immediately following 1917-18.

was said, serious developments might be expected at the British crown colony of Hongkong.

Uncertainty was reflected by the Shanghai stock market, where most shares dropped three to five points.

Steamship and travel agencies in Shanghai were crowded this morning with Americans seeking passage home. Many others have begun to liquidate their holdings.

With most passenger liners booked in advance, American officials were reported trying to get approval for the liners President Coolidge and President Pierce to carry only American citizens on early November trips to the United States. Many Europeans and Jewish refugees now hold reservations on the two liners, which could accommodate about 3,000 passengers by using public salons for dormitories.

In Hongkong, the Chinese press predicted the Burma road episode would lead to serious Japanese repercussions, but said reopening of the road would prove a boon not only to China but to the whole "non-aggression front."

Batista To Become Cuban President In Ceremony Tomorrow

HAVANA, Oct. 9. (AP)—Fulgencio Batista, former chief of the Cuban army, becomes President of Cuba tomorrow, inaugurating not only a new administration but also a new constitution.

The former sergeant who seized control of a new revolutionary movement in September, 1933, and who remained the "power behind the throne" as chief of the army, was elected president in the general election June 14.

Justice Takes A Holiday

Hitler discovered early in his regime that the courts could be turned into an effective instrument of totalitarianism. World opinion cast an aura of sanctity around the courtroom. There was a general feeling that justice was an absolute and that anything that happened in a court of law necessarily had the blessing of the blind goddess with the scales in her hand.

Hitler took advantage of this popular feeling. A dictator could, if he wished, plunder, persecute and murder without any higher authority than his own decree. But even dictators must acknowledge the weight of world opinion.

In enlisting the formality of courtroom procedure, the Nazi leader started something. The Reichstag fire trial was probably the first instance in which Der Fuehrer used his new weapon.

All the trappings were there—the judges, the lawyers, the uniformed attendants, the routine procedure. Only the public was locked out. The public and the goddess of justice. Yet, when it was all over and the victims had been executed or put safely out of the way, it didn't look quite so much like outright persecution and murder.

When France's share of the war was over, the Vichy government decided something had to be done to cleanse the soul of France. So the former leaders of what was once a great republic were brought to trial and charged with "war guilt."

Next in the chain of trials may be that of Mme. Magda Lupescu, the unpopular friend of former King Carol of Rumania. There is some talk among the Nazi Iron Guardists of asking Spain and Portugal to extradite Mme. Lupescu and Ernest Urdareanu, former Rumanian minister without portfolio.

To the dwindling democratic world where justice still means something more than a dress rehearsal for murder, governmental trials in continental Europe no longer mean anything. Americans have long since ceased to be deluded.

Sales Tax—English Version

Great Britain's latest tax measure proves again a fact which no longer needs proving—that was cost money.

Scheduled to go into effect Oct. 21 is a "purchase tax," similar to the sales tax now used in many parts of the United States. The rate on such common items as books, newspapers, shoes, kitchen utensils and clothing will be 12 per cent. On "luxury" goods, as silk stockings, furs and jewelry, the rate will be 24 per cent. Compare those rates with American sales taxes which range between 1 and 3 per cent generally.

Yet that is the way it must be. Somehow this war must be paid for if Britain has any hope of rebuilding economically after the dark days pass.

Behind The News

The Pampa News Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Some extremely interesting maneuvering for position took place back-stage in connection with the defense commission's announcement that army and navy contracts will not hereafter be negotiated with firms not living up to federal labor laws.

Although there was no direct connection between this action and the Bethlehem Steel Corporation's labor troubles, the indirect connection is so thick you couldn't cut it with a knife.

It goes back to the fact that Defense Commissioner Sidney Hillman has been slightly on the spot with some of his fellow C. I. O.ers of late. Some of them have begun to murmur that while Hillman has been asking labor to make a number of concessions in the defense program he hasn't "done anything for labor."

Two or three months ago a quiet campaign to bring the Bethlehem situation to a boil got under way. "WHAT ABOUT BETHEHEM?"

It began on the labor advisory committee which meets periodically with Hillman to discuss defense labor problems. On it are such stout C. I. O. chieftains as Van Bittner of the mine workers, Clinton Golden of the steel workers, Emil Rieve of the textile workers and R. J. Thomas of the auto workers.

Political Economy In One Lesson

What Is Seen and What Is Not Seen BY FREDERIC BASTIAT

To this problem of machines there has been given another solution, founded upon facts. It has been said, the machine reduces the cost of production, and causes the price of the product to fall. The fall of price stimulates an increase of consumption, which necessitates an increase of production, and, in the long run, the employment of as many workmen as were required, or even more than were required, before the invention.

In support of this reasoning are cited, weaving, spinning, the printing press, &c. This demonstration is not scientific. From it it must be concluded that, if the consumption of the special product in question remained stationary, or nearly so, the machine would be injurious to labour. The fact is not so.

Let us suppose that in a certain country all men wear hats. If, by a machine, the price were reduced one-half, it does not necessarily follow that the consumption would be doubled.

Will it be said, in this case, that a portion of national labour has been reduced to inaction? Yes, according to the common demonstration. No, according to mine: for, even though, in that country, there were not bought a single hat the more, the whole wages-fund would remain not the less entire; what was withdrawn from the employment of hat-making, would still exist in the saving effected by the consumers, and would, through that, go to pay all the labour which the machine had dispensed with, and to stimulate a new development of another branch of industry.

And it is thus that things really pass. I have seen the journals at 80 francs (per annum); they are now at 48 francs. This is a saving of 32 francs to the subscribers. It is not certain—it is not, at least, necessary—that these 32 francs continue to take the direction of the journalist's employment. But it is certain, it is necessary, that, if they do not take that direction, they take some other. One person employs them in the purchase of more journals, another in better food, a third in better clothes, a fourth in better furniture.

Thus all industries are indissolubly allied. They form a vast whole, of which all the parts communicate by secret channels. An economy effected on one is profitable to all. The grand result is, let it be well understood, that never, never, is this economy effected at the cost of labour and of wages.

IX.—Credit At all times, but especially of late years, the notion has prevailed of rendering riches universal by making credit universal.

I do not think that I exaggerate when I say, that since the revolution of February (1848) the Parisian press has sent forth more than ten thousand pamphlets proclaiming this solution of the social problem.

This solution, alas! is based on a mere optical illusion, if, indeed, an illusion can be called a base. At the outset, specie, coined money, is confounded with products, then paper money is confounded with specie, and out of this twofold confusion a reality is pretended to be evolved.

It is absolutely necessary, in this question, to forget money, gold, silver, or paper, bank bills, and all the other instruments by means of which products pass from hand to hand, in order to see only the products themselves, which are the veritable subject matter of all loans.

For, when a labourer borrows 500 francs to buy a plough, it is not in reality 500 francs that are lent to him; it is the plough.

And when a merchant borrows 20,000 francs to buy a house, it is not 20,000 francs that he owes, it is the house.

The money in these cases serves only to facilitate arrangement among several parties. Peter may not be disposed to lend his plough, and James may be disposed to lend his money. What, then, does William do? He borrows the money from James, and with this money he buys Peter's plough.

But, in truth, no one borrows money for money's sake. Money is borrowed with a view to obtain products.

Now, in no country can more products be transmitted from hand to hand than that country possesses.

Whatever be the amount of specie and of paper money in circulation, the whole number of borrowers cannot receive more ploughs, houses, utensils, provisions, raw materials, than the whole number of lenders can supply.

TEN MILLION ACRES (Tulsa Tribune)

When farms raise more of any given crop than can be sold in the United States or abroad, and do it year after year, there would seem to be two primary solutions: (1) Try to arrange greater consumption at home and sales abroad, and (2), raise something else. For a short time, there was a third: "Plow under"; "kill little pigs." We draw the curtain on Mr. Wallace.

For 20 years a series of attempts have been made to accomplish No. 1. But many people do not realize how much progress has been made along the lines of No. 2.

Twenty years ago soy beans were almost a novelty. This year more than 10,000,000 acres are being devoted to raising them. Some are made into hay, some are turned under as fertilizer, most are marketed for new uses which have been developed as a source of plastics, oil, meal, and food. Ten million acres, then, have been withdrawn from producing crops for which there is no present market and turned to producing a crop for which there is a market. The whole country gains by this simple application of common sense.

in the plants of one of the most important fabricators of defense materials in the nation.

The ruling about army and navy contracts dovetails into all this perfectly. It enables Hillman to meet any criticism from labor by pointing to the biggest victory labor has yet gained in the whole defense program. It probably means a settlement of the difficulties at Bethlehem. And it could be an important factor in internal C. I. O. politics.

C. I. O.'s annual convention is due Nov. 18. The smoldering rivalry between the divergent wings headed by Hillman and John L. Lewis is extremely likely to come to a showdown. Hillman gained a strategic advantage when, FDR made him a defense commissioner. He lost some of it when complaints about his role began to percolate in labor circles. He regained all of that and more by producing this latest announcement—for which, incidentally, he had to fight a very long and often heated battle inside the defense commission.

U. S. Joins the Sky Parade

Uncle Sam joins the parachute parade. America first conceived the idea of parachute troops. The Nazi invasion of the Low Countries proved their worth. So now U. S. Army is making use of the original idea with the recent creation of a new branch of Army service, the 501st Parachute Battalion, 500 men strong, with headquarters at Fort Benning, Ga. Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON NEA Service Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 9.—All over the lot: Eileen Drew is right back where she started. Dealing 'em off the arm, I mean. Only now, instead of serving double-peanut strawberry dreams and hot chocolate with lady wingers in a genteel Hollywood sweets shop, she's tossing hamburgers with and Java over a lunch-wagon counter to factory hands.

There's another important difference, too—Miss Drew now is paid about 50 times her pre-discovery wage. She's billed with Joel McCrea in a picture called "Reaching for the Sun."

Incidentally, this is an adaptation of the novel "F. O. B. Detroit," which was an indictment of super-efficiency in modern industry. In the movie, though, the heavy will be a relentlessly driving foreman and not the system itself.

Anyway, Miss Drew is working in a lunch wagon near the entrance to the Grand Motor Co. plant. The hired hands keep her hopping with their orders, and hopping mad with their remarks. As a waitress, though, her job is the easiest any girl ever had. The instant a scene is ended, prop men grab and wash the dishes and silver and restore everything to place. Meanwhile a hairdresser and make-up artist restore the actress.

SALUTES FOR DONLEVY At Randolph and March Fields, where Paramount has filmed most of its air-training picture, "I Wanted Wings," Brian Donlevy occasionally was being embarrassed by the antics of army men.

After awhile, Captain Donlevy tried returning salutes, but that led to a few uncomfortable situations. So finally he tried wearing a neat little sign, saying "Actor." That stopped the military saluting, but it started a chorus of Bronx salutes when pictures of Donlevy and his sign reached Hollywood. Ribbers are reminding him the public will decide whether he's an actor, and it won't be going to be influenced—unless perhaps unfavorably—by signs.

SNOW—FOUR KINDS OF IT It's still snowing on the set of Orson Welles' "Citizen Kane," and only a statistical press agent could estimate how many tons of uncooked cornflakes have swirled down from the catwalks between the hidden wind machines. It's a remarkable winter scene, even for Hollywood, because they're actually using four kinds of snow.

The cornflakes are for falling flakes, being the only thing that doesn't have realistically and isn't dangerously sticky. Powdered gypsum, which has just the right sparkle for fresh-fallen snow, covers the large yard by the ton. But gypsum is no good for tracks, so in the area where a child plays, and along the path isn't going to be a thick, soft mixture of dry soda and plaster has been placed. This makes fine footprints.

But the boy, Buddy Swann, must throw snowballs, and none of the synthetics is any good for that. So real ice has been ground and crushed into snow, and are kept ready on the sidelines.

THE HORSE WAS SCARED, TOO There's a scene in "South of Suzer" where Lee Patrick is supposed to register frightened surprise at the sudden appearance of George Tobias while she's standing on a porch with George Brent. The latter had ridden to the house, and his horse is standing in camera range.

Lew Sells, the director, wanted Miss Patrick to be genuinely startled, so he secretly arranged for a prop man to fire a revolver at the instant the actress was supposed to see Tobias. (There wasn't any dialog, so the scene could be filmed without sound.)

It worked fine, Miss Patrick was scared all right, and the director

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim We are going to miss Robert Burns' toothy grin as we pass the Huffman-Nelson Funeral home where he has worked since he came to Pampa. He always sat out in front, during the twilight and grinned at people he knew who came by, and, if they spoke to him and he didn't know them he grinned back at them anyway. Robert is going back to the army. That means he was in it once before. He can go back now and get his rating and besides he can pick his camp, which will be Fort Sill and close to home. In her long search for health she had disposed of all her property, one thing after another, until finally she had only 96 cents to her name.

When she came to the hospital she was told that her physical symptoms were not due to foods she ate but

She gained the power of eating without had physical reactions by teaching herself to think of foods as needed, as desirable, and as tasting good.

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Does another great war lie at the end of the Burma road which winds its way up through China's primeval mountains?

Or is it likely (as some seem to think) that threats will not be backed by deeds?

A good deal of bluff has been tossed about (and has been got away with) by one or another in the Far East since they opened in 1931, set their war-machine rolling in conquest across the rich plains of Manchuria.

That was a speculative venture—a feeler—evolved from the grandiose designs of western powers from eastern Asia and establishing Japanese hegemony over that vast and rich area. Japan swung what was in part a bluff and made it stick—thereby breaking trail for Mussolini's advance in Italy.

Since that time we have seen much of bluff in one form or another. It's likely, too, that there's a certain amount of it involved in the present Anglo-Japanese crisis, which revolves about Britain's decision to challenge Japan's demands and reopen the Burma road for the passage of war-supplies to China.

There is a vast difference, however, between the position today and that of 1931, or for that matter of many later dates. A bluff which might have been called successfully not so long ago, now is supported by a grim determination to back it up if necessary.

Japan and Britain, hard pressed in life and death wars, have reached the point where neither is willing to retreat. The stakes are too great.

Britain appears finally to have called for a showdown over the Japanese policy which would deprive England of the vast politico-economic influence it has exercised in eastern Asia. And Nippon, having thrown every resource it has into its expansionist program, and mortgaged its future for generations, is equally set on carrying it through.

That is why the present situation is grave. War could grow out of it very easily.

It's one thing to see the logical aspects of the position—and another to figure out what will happen. The trouble is that we no longer can depend on logic being followed, for minds are being moved by passion and desperation.

However, while Japan may be ready to battle the British, it is equally logical to expect Tokyo to try to steer clear of such a war if it fears America will go to John Bull's aid.

There are many reasons why Japan should avoid war with America. A very potent one lies in our naval might and unlimited resources. Behind her, she has a long and hard road to travel.

When Mrs. G. recovered from the determination that she had lost, or rather developed a grip that she had never really had before, she made herself able to face the physical difficulties and its unceasing challenge, and to do so with a new health physically. She lost her food phobias and gained the mastery over her other symptoms when she developed a new habit of mind. She had to acquire the will to be well and the will to struggle.

"SOCIAL GAINS" AND NATIONAL DEFENSE By HARLEY L. LUTZ Professor of Public Finance, Princeton University

A strong appeal is to be made to the people of this country to preserve the "social gains" which have been legislated in recent years. They are being told that a change of national administration will mean the sacrifice of these gains.

They are also being told that there must be no loss of the.e gains as a result of a change in the defense program.

The first of these arguments is really a plea to perpetuate the present administration, to establish a dynasty, for this will never be a time when the party or group in power cannot insist that their reelection is necessary to prevent the other crowd from changing what they have done. This argument implies that the people are not now, and never will be, capable of looking after their own public affairs. It is the paternalism of kings, to whom their subjects and children, to be looked after and told what to do.

This argument is a slur on democratic government. It means that those who use it are convinced that the people will always need looking after, being quite incapable of self-government, and it leads to the conclusion so earnestly advanced now, that those in power regard themselves as indispensable for the job of looking after the people.

National defense and social gains is another way of saying "guns and butter." It is one thing to make promises to carry on social reforms as usual while pouring out national product into defense equipment, and a very different thing to deliver the goods on these promises. The people who may be inclined to accept such promises at face value would do well to ask for some advance signs that delivery can be made.

Defense production and social gains, or both guns and butter, will require a vast increase in total production. If this increase does not happen, then it will follow here, as it did in Germany, that there shall be guns instead of butter. The social gains will have to be given up to whatever extent may be required for the defense needs of everybody known to this very well. Wherever shortages develop, there will be priority control which will divert to defense uses all that is needed, leaving to civilians only the remainder. The way to prevent shortages is to provide for enough production to supply both defense and civilian needs.

The signs that would show an ability, or even a genuine intention to live up to these promises, are that are being made are simple and easy to see. They consist of changes made to clear away all policies and restrictions which prevent the economic system from expanding to full use of resources and manpower. Larger production will require vastly larger investment. It will require a restoration of the driving force of private enterprise. It will mean better profit returns. To release these forces here must be extensive change of restrictive and penalizing legislation which today hold the American industrial giant in chains. Even in Nazi Germany the proportion of profits to national income has risen much more than the proportion of the other shares of that income. It is Hitler's intention to let profits increase relative to other forms of income in order to get guns instead of butter, how can we expect to produce for both guns and to preserve social gains by pursuing a contrary course.

The people should be "from Missouri" on this point. Instead of listening to specious promises, they should be looking for evidence that the changes are being made in law and in fact, which will make possible delivery on these promises. At this moment such evidence will be very hard to find. They should not be deceived, in this, by the temporary or false prosperity produced by defense spending, which is just another case of pump priming on a very large scale. If the productive expansion does not go beyond the defense operations, and it will not go much farther unless the shackles are taken off, the result will be the same kind of lifeless, hand-to-mouth growth that was produced by the earlier efforts to spend ourselves rich. No "glorious future" of economic development will come that way.

Razzle-Dazzle Will Feature Six-Man Game

Mound Boys Famous For Air Attack

Every dazzling play in the colorful six-man football battle to be played on the grass at Harvester park Friday night will be easy to see and easy to watch, because there will be no piling up, and only half as many men to watch as there are in an 11-man game.

Coches Paul Holland of Medicine Mound is going to bring a comparatively light but swift team to Pampa. The Medicine Mound boys are noted for their laterals and forwards. They pass from behind the goal line, they pass when they are on it; they pass any time and any place. Friday night they are expected to fill the air with laterals and forwards. They have a half dozen plays in which the ball changes hands six times in each play.

Pampa will remember Medicine Mound as the place which sent a great basketball team to this regional tournament at Canyon. It is a consolidated school in Hardean county.

Coches Holland's starters will be as follows:

Name
Harland Brooks	165	le
James Atkinson	150	c
Edgar Prescott	145	re
Tommy Joe Maddox	150	cap qb
Ray Ferguson	150	hb
Junior Nash	145	fb
J. E. Scribner	145	hb

Substitutes

C. L. Mathews	135	back
Dan Harper	155	end
Bobby Bailey	180	end
Rudolph Trammel	150	end
Jimmy Wall	120	back
Terrell Nash	120	center

Groom's starting lineup will outweigh the lanky, fast Medicine Mound boys, and they will probably be able to out-rush them and out-block them, but whether they will be able to out-pass them and out-secure them remains to be seen. Big boys on a six-man team must be fast. Naturally, each team spends the greater portion of its time in perfecting a pass defense.

Tickets for the game went on sale today at City drug, Harvester drug, Father's drug, Modern pharmacy, Gretney's, Perkins, Paul Hill's Hole in the Wall, Duckingham's service station, the News, and tickets are being sold by the following: Walter Bieri, Joe Roche, Dan Williams. Tickets are priced at 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Officials will be Coy Palmer of Stinnett, referee, and Roger Swann, head linesman.

The two teams agreed to come to Pampa after hundreds of local fans

Harvesters Will Leave Tomorrow For El Paso

TWELFTH MAN—TEXAS STYLE

Coches Odus Mitchell, J. C. Prejean, and 28 Pampa Harvesters will leave in a chartered bus at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning for El Paso where on Friday night, at 9 o'clock Pampa time, they meet the Bowie Bears.

Not since 1935 has a Harvester team played the Bowie Bears and that year the Harvesters won 27 to 0 on Harvester field. The previous year, in El Paso, the Harvesters won 21 to 6.

Bowie is considered one of the strongest El Paso teams this year. They dropped an opening game to the Plainview Bulldogs, 19 to 0, but came back to swamp Clovis and defeat Yelita.

Both teams will take the field with no knowledge of the other's offense or defense. Neither has played a team that the other has played and neither team has been scouted, so far as is known.

The entire Harvester squad will make the trip, including Andy Smith, who is in uniform again following an operation. Smith is fast, regaining his strength and pretty soon he should be able to give Ed Terrell a rest. Smith is a powerhouse on direct smashes.

The Harvesters will be shooting for their first victory of the season in El Paso. They have dropped three close ones before home audiences but on each occasion they showed remarkable improvement over previous performances.

Blocking, blocking, blocking has been the chant of coaches this week. Pass defense was the second order of business. They were the two weakest spots which showed up last week.

Many fans will leave Friday morning, including a chartered bus if as many as 25 persons register by tonight at 6 o'clock.

Sam Houston Beats Horace Mann 13-12

Sam Houston's gridiron mites opened up in the last half of their game with the undefeated Horace Mann team yesterday afternoon at Harvester park and eked out a 13 to 12 victory which put them in first place.

Horace Mann jumped into an early lead when Washington, sensational big fullback, took the kick-off and raced 40 yards for a touchdown. The try for extra point failed. Near the half Washington broke loose to score again but once more the try for extra point was stopped.

Jerry Dublin, husky Sam Houston fullback, put his team in the lead with a nice charge through the line but the try for extra point missed and the score was tied at the half.

The teams saw-sawed up and down the field until near the end of the final quarter when Shields Mitchell turned on the heat. He slipped away from tacklers, stiff-armed others and generally ran wild as he carried the ball 25 yards on five tries, after recovering a fumble, the last for a touchdown. Then he carried the ball across for the extra point that won the game.

Sam Houston had the ball on the Horace Mann one-foot line at the final gun.

Mitchell, Dublin and Haynes divided ball totting for Sam Houston with Washington doing most of the work for Horace Mann. Both lines played bang-up games with Sam Houston using a five-man line to stop Washington's wide end runs.

This afternoon a 4 o'clock Woodrow Wilson and Baker meet on Harvester turf.

Amarillo Peewees Will Be In Pampa Tomorrow

The Peewees are really working hard this week in preparation for their game Thursday with the Amarillo Peewees, at 4 o'clock on the practice field at Harvester park. No admission will be charged.

If one were to spend an hour with the Peewees during their daily workout period, 4:30 to 5:30, they would see the following things:

As soon as one or two of the boys get suited out, they start passing and catching footballs. After several get out, they divide into groups of three and play "two on one." Some who are not so familiar with football might think this game unfair, but it is not, because the one can use his hands and the two cannot. This is a good drill for offense as it teaches the boys how to block together. As it teaches boys how to charge low and use their hands it is also a good defensive drill.

After all the boys are suited out the coach blows his whistle and the squad starts running in a circle. After a few rounds of hollering and running, Captain Johnny "Lifer" Campbell gives the boys some "limbering up" exercises.

About 25 minutes is spent each day on a blocking and tackling drill in which the boys really "rock-em and sock-em."

The boys work on plays for about 10 minutes and the last part of the workout consists of a scrimmage.

Lately the teams have learned some "razzle-dazzle" plays in which they try to outwit each other and catch them off guard. If these plays are run correctly, they are very effective. Running this type of play enables the Peewees to have what they call a "razz-me-tazz" offense.

Every member of the Peewee football team is hoping their popular captain gets to go to New York and appear with Congressman-elect Gene Worley on We The People program, but at the same time they are realizing that he will be missed at his regular quarterback position.

Dee Griffin, who has been playing blocking back, took over Johnny's position at calling signals if he leaves before the game.

The following lineup will probably start the game against Amarillo Thursday: Ends, John Hughes and Randall Clay; tackles, Jack Dunham and Charles Hatcher; guards, Bobby Siler and Henry Lane; center, Bobby Myers; halfbacks, Dee Griffin and Billy Gettlin; quarterback, Johnny Campbell; and fullback, Kenneth Beesley.

No Pushover In Western Conference

By EARL HILLIGAN

CHICAGO, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Western conference appears headed for its greatest competitive football season in a decade, one which could become the greatest gridiron campaign in Big Ten history.

With Chicago out of the picture, there doesn't seem to be a pushover in the field—one which even this early in the year presents such stand-out eleven as Ohio State, Michigan, Minnesota and Northwestern.

For all-around strength, the conference apparently has bobbed up with a natural this season. Ohio State routed Pittsburgh and was expected to have little trouble last Saturday with Purdue, but the conference champions squeezed through 17 to 14 on a last minute field goal as the Bolshermakers showed surprising power.

Michigan, a pre-season favorite with Ohio State, overwhelmed California 41 to 0, then came back to trip a tough Michigan State team, 21 to 14. Minnesota, conceded to have only a fair team before the season opened, whipped Washington 19 to 14 and then defeated Nebraska last Saturday, 13 to 7. Northwestern, reportedly weak in its forward wall and of unknown offensive quantity, rolled over Syracuse, 40 to 0.

The other four conference teams, even though they faced weaker opposition, did surprisingly well Saturday. Wisconsin showed power in its 33 to 19 conquest of Marquette, while Iowa routed South Dakota, 46 to 0. Illinois whipped Bradley, 31 to 0. Indiana lost to Texas, 13 to 6, but the Hoosiers showed an aerial game that probably will give plenty of trouble to every opponent from now on.

Embellishing the picture are numerous backfield stars whose performances give the season a lusty sparkle. Tom Harmon, with seven touchdowns, heads the field, but he has stellar company in such standouts as Minnesota's George Franck, Ohio State's Don Scott and Jim Langhurst, Mike Byelene of Purdue, George Paskvan of Wisconsin and Northwestern's Bill De Correvont and Don Chawson.

Reapers To Play Amarillo Team Here Thursday

The Pampa Junior High Reapers will be gunning for their first conference victory of the season Thursday afternoon when they meet Horace Mann of Amarillo at 4 o'clock on the practice field. At the same time the Junior High Peewees will be battling the Horace Mann Midgets on the practice field. No admission will be charged.

So far this season the Reapers have played two of the games with Amarillo's other two junior aggregations, while Horace Mann lost a 12 to 0 game to Sam Houston.

Coach C. P. McWright will start his regular 11 against Horace Mann with orders to shoot the works from the opening whistle. In the past the Reaper offense has bogged in scoring territory. The Reapers scrimmaged the Harvesters yesterday afternoon and showed up exceptionally well.

Gorillas To Play Second String At Canadian Tonight

Coach Oscar Hinger will take his Pampa Gorillas to Canadian tonight for a scrimmage with the Canadian Wildcat second string. The scrimmage will begin at 8 o'clock.

Coach Hinger has been working top speed the past couple of weeks and they have responded. They look much smoother during workouts than a any time this season and they have a spirit that just can't be beaten.

Starting lineup for the scrimmage was not announced by Coach Hinger after a long workout. "There are so many boys that are just about even that I'm never certain who will start," Coach Hinger remarked.

The Miami Warriors swamped the Gorillas early in the season but since then the Gorillas have taken Stinnett, LeFors seconds and Miami under.

Canadian's Wildcats have lost only one game this season, to Panhandle.

Shelley Leaves Orange Eleven To Millionaire

ORANGE, Oct. 9 (AP)—H. J. Litcher Stark, whose philanthropies have brought this city many things, including an athletic stadium and colorful pep squad, minimized today the controversy that arose following his disagreement with Dexter Shelley, coach of the high school football team.

The team had threatened to strike and a group of students had paraded with placards saying "No Shelley, no team. No team, no school."

"The kids are all back at practice, except possibly one," the millionaire business man and sportsman asserted.

Shelley left last night after announcing that he was through with coaching. He declared things had quieted down, adding that he had gone to the football field twice to talk to the team into practicing.

"I'm going to leave town for the rest of the week so the boys won't have me to run to," he said. "I figure if I'm not here, the boys won't have much to get excited about."

Shelley said he would like to stay here but that he was going to quit coaching if he could get something else.

Shelley formerly was captain of the University of Texas football team. Stark is a regent of the university where he took the lead in bringing D. X. Bible from Nebraska to coach the Longhorns at a salary of $15,000 a year.

"There's a lot more interest outside the town in this thing than there is here," Stark said of the local controversy. "The boys just had a good time and everything is quiet now."

12 More Passengers Needed For Game Bus

If 12 more persons call the Pampa News by 6 o'clock tonight a special bus will be run to El Paso Friday where on Friday night, at 9 o'clock Pampa time, the Pampa Harvesters play the Bowie Bears. Round trip ticket would be $7.00.

Twenty-five passengers are necessary to operate the bus which would leave here about 6 a. m. and arrive in El Paso between 4 and 5 p. m. El Paso time, which is one hour later than Pampa time.

If the required number register by 6 o'clock tonight, everyone who telephones for reservations will be notified Thursday morning by telephone where to secure tickets and time and place of departure.

Cincinnati Has Most Delirious Night Since Armistice Was Signed

By GAYLE TALBOT CINCINNATI, Oct. 9.—Head-achy but happy after a night of spectacular celebration, Cincinnati's baseball fans came to slowly today, punched themselves a few times, and finally awakened to the realization it was true—the Reds had won that old championship.

Those who witnessed both said it was the most delirious night Cincinnati had experienced since the Armistice was signed in 1918. Today the proud celebrants had only one big problem on their minds—to name the hero of the series. And it was a real problem, for Derringer? The big pitcher who produced one of his greatest masterpieces; didn't permit an earned run or slugger in the clinching struggle?

NEW YORK JUNGLE

BY WRAY WADE SEVERN

Copyright, 1940, NEA Service, Inc.

YESTERDAY—Sidney Braitwood, attorney, and Maria Hemmings, actress, left to Adam Langdon's country home for the week-end. In the week-end, Maria is puzzled by his failure to see her upon his return from an African game hunt. Sidney, too, is disturbed by the quarrel between Adam and Maria. At the house, they find Adam out for a drive. When the car starts, Maria goes to the one of his occupied cars. It is already occupied, by Adam's wife.

LOCKED IN THE JUNGLE

CHAPTER II

ADAM LANGDON MARRIED!

And not to Maria! Too disturbed for the consolation of a cigarette, Sidney paced his room, waiting for the dinner gong. He had advised Maria to leave at once, using the pretext of an imaginary telephone call. Maria had refused.

"I came for the week-end and I shall remain," she had said, pride flaming. And nothing he could say could change her decision.

Sidney understood her. If she remained, the other guests, all old friends, might assume that she and Adam had had an amiable break before he left for Africa. On that assumption, her presence would appear less bizarre, her pride undamaged; nor would Adam himself realize how deep the barb had cut.

Well, since she had courage to play the part, Sidney would do all in his power to make it a success. As for Adam Langdon—his method of letting Maria discover his marriage was so out of character, Braitwood could scarcely credit his own senses.

At last the dinner gong! Still in the grip of incredulity, Sidney descended to the library where the guests always gathered. A room of dark oak, old portraits and wide fireplace, it teemed with pleasant memories of Maria's charm and Langdon's ready wit. Broken lives had no place in it.

Yet, as he entered, the room seemed to have taken on a new character. A sense of uneasiness marked the manner of the five persons present.

Maria had not yet come down, but Adam Langdon—that neat, smiling, easy-going man—had appeared to Sidney's shocked perception, the shell of his old friend—stood by the fireplace, talking to a smart young woman in an informal orange satin evening gown. A waxen pallor had replaced Langdon's usual ruddiness, his handsome, oval head moved restlessly, even jerkily, and his eyes had a fixedness oddly at variance with their blinking lids.

With visible effort Langdon seemed to collect himself as he greeted Braitwood. He presented the girl in orange.

"My wife."

"AM I a surprise?" Patricia Langdon smiled in lazy insolence.

"Rather. How and when did it happen?" Sidney wanted to know.

"I happened to be visiting English cousins who own a ranch at the jumping off place for Adam's jungle. Adam became ill and remained there ever since."

Maria entered then. It was an excellent entrance. Sidney could find no trace of the emotion he knew must be agitating her, but he was sure from the quick surprise in Patricia Langdon's face that she had not expected another guest.

When Langdon introduced them, Maria was all sympathy with the romance of the situation. A great actress, Sidney thought. Her control is superb.

The other guests—Nella Langdon, the orphaned daughter of Adam's only brother; Hugh, his cousin; and Craig Gundrum, a young professor of psychology—

Illustrated by Ed Gunder

Adam's voice held a tender note. "I've christened this new lioness 'Marta.'" The actress, standing beneath the great ape, met Pat's angry glance without emotion.

fell back a little and covered their curiosity with talk.

"Ghastly," Nella's pale lips formed rather than spoke the word. "Did you ever know such a cockeyed party, Sidney? Pat was as good as engaged to Craig Gundrum before she left to visit those South African cousins. And to think that Marta should be here too!"

FOLLOWING an old custom, they had coffee in Adam's trophy room, which had been christened the "Jungle." Here Langdon kept his collection of modern and antique weapons and mounted specimens of prizes gathered in his hunting expeditions. Except for a short hall and a furnace and store room, the "Jungle" occupied the entire basement of the house.

Usually a flood of light streamed from the ceiling but tonight many of the globes had burned out. In the shadows and half light, the animals looked larger than they actually were. The elephant might have been a mastodon, the orang-utang, lifting hairy arms near the ceiling, a prehistoric man.

Immediately Adam became the showman.

"What do you think of my new lioness?" He placed an affectionate hand on the beast's tawny neck. "Because of her sheathed grace, I've christened her 'Marta.'"

Pat Langdon's eyes narrowed as she glanced toward him. He was speaking directly to Maria in the shadows. His voice held the old tender note. Marta, standing beneath the great ape, met Pat's gaze without show of emotion. Nella covered the situation quickly by calling Pat's attention to an old Turkish sword, a gem in the collection.

"Careful, Pat," Gundrum warned. "That curved point is like a razor." He took the scimitar from her and, rather than ask her to move to let him replace it on the wall, he crossed to the new lioness and slipped the cord with which the sword had been suspended over the beast's neck so that the curved point protruded beyond the tawny head.

"Careful," he warned. "The lioness is armed."

A joke in poor taste, Sidney thought. Why had Gundrum come? As Nella had said, this was a cockeyed party.

IMPATIENT at the dimness, Langdon rang for Togi and ordered fresh bulbs. No one paid any attention as the valet mounted a ladder to his task. Nella, Gundrum, Hugh and Sidney had gathered about the coffee table, cups in hand, Marta and Adam remained chatting near the ape, when suddenly Nella said:

"There is someone in the hall." "You imagine it," Pat glanced at the closed door. "I sent the chauffeur into the village for groceries half an hour ago. There is no one else in the house."

"I certainly heard footsteps in the hall," Nella persisted. With characteristic Langdon stubbornness, she crossed to the door to prove herself right.

It was a heavy oaken door studded with nails. For 80 years it had hung where it was. At best, it moved ponderously. Now, when Nella turned the knob, it did not move at all.

"It must be stuck," Hugh Langdon said. "Those hinges need oiling."

He joined the others and gave the door a mighty heave. There was no yielding. Then he knelt, lighted a match and peered through the keyhole.

"There is no key on the other side," he announced in a startled voice, "but it looks as though we are locked in."

Safety Congress, the committee said pedestrian deaths had decreased 28 per cent in cities during the past 10 years, while in rural areas they have increased 41 per cent and are continuing to rise. In the past decade all rural traffic deaths have shown a rise of 17 per cent.

"While the committee emphasized the mounting rural death toll," said a summary of the report, "it by no means gave the city pedestrian a clean bill of health. Sixty-one per cent of all city traffic deaths last year were pedestrian. Wherever human beings walk it seems, they present one of traffic safety's knottiest problems."

Wheeler Council Hears Amarilloan

Special To The NEWS
SHAMROCK, Oct. 9.—The Wheeler County Coordinating council had its guest speaker Monday night, Miss Dorothy Staley of Amarillo, WPA supervisor.

Mrs. Paul Stauffer, president, presided and after a few routine business matters had been disposed of introduced Miss Staley, who outlined the benefits of a county library and discussed ways and means of providing county libraries under the W. P. A. administration.

She explained that a W. P. A. library is less expensive and at the same time is able, through help from the federal government, to provide more and a greater variety of books.

This project has been sought by the Wheeler county council for some time and after this meeting the consensus of opinion was that such a unit would be secured in Wheeler county in the near future.

State And Madison In Chicago Safer Than Pumpkin Center

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Crossing State and Madison street in Chicago, the nation's experts believe, apparently is safer for the pedestrian than trying to get across the rural highway at Pumpkin Center. The National Safety Council's special committee on pedestrian control and protection, in a report today cited figures to indicate that, insofar as pedestrians were concerned, death has left the tall buildings and honked for the tall corn.

Blalock Sees GOP Win Blow To Texas

DALLAS, Oct. 9 (AP)—Myron Blalock, director of the Democratic national campaign in Texas, today opened a drive for campaign funds with the statement that Texans who are supporting Wendell Willkie are "consciously or unconsciously" lending aid to the effort of "reactionary" Republicans to destroy the influence and leadership of the Texas delegation at Washington.

Blalock said that money contributed would be used to support Democratic candidates for congress, as well as the national ticket.

"The Republican party is making an even stronger effort to elect congressmen than it is to elect Willkie," Blalock said.

"If the Republicans are successful in this effort, it will mean the end of the influence and leadership which Texas has exerted in our national life for the past eight years. It will mean that Jesse Jones will have to give up his post in the cabinet. Sam Rayburn will no longer be speaker of the national house of representatives. Hiram Sumners will be removed as chairman of the house judiciary committee, Congressman Mansfield as chairman of the rivers and harbors committee, and all the other Texans who have been serving with such success in important government posts will be retired."

"I appeal to all patriotic Texas Democrats who wish to see these men continue the important service they have been giving to the nation to send in a contribution to the national Democratic campaign fund."

Death Penalty May Become Mexican Law

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 9 (AP)—The death penalty for convicted murderers, eliminated from Mexico's criminal statutes about 20 years ago, may become law again.

Senator Antonio Mayes Navarro of Michoacan state said he would shortly introduce a bill to re-establish capital punishment for "certain offenses."

A steady increase in crimes of violence throughout the republic was cited by the senator.

Impudent Milk Thief

Mrs. Cleo Newsom complained to police about a milk thief "so impudent he plans his menus."

Not content with stealing milk from the doorstep, she said, he takes orders for the milkman to leave whipping cream, and swipes that, too.

British Pilot Whips Dozen Nazi Planes

LONDON, Oct. 9 (AP)—A British pilot's version of an air battle over Calais against a dozen German warplanes was related by him today after he set his plane down safely at home with the radio blaring "Body and Soul."

After scoring direct hits on Calais harbor, he said, he steered for home heading for a nearby cloud bank, with the German anti-aircraft "throwing up every sort of projectile they could lay hands on."

But three Messerschmitts appeared off the starboard.

"They got to us before we got to the cloud," the pilot said, "firing for all they were worth. They passed astern of us which gave my rear gunner the chance he was looking for. Meanwhile nine others had come rushing in at us in threes, also attacking from the rear."

"I was really too much occupied with the original three which had now circled for the second attack to bother with the rest."

"On they came still in formation. The leader was flying very steadily, firing all the time. As he closed in I returned the fire and he burst into flames."

"There was a final attack from three of the others, one sweeping just overhead. I gave him a half-jump in the belly at point blank range and after a few passing shots... we reached our cloud bank and saw no more of them."

Bottles Evidence In Wreck Trial

GAINESVILLE, Tex., Oct. 9 (AP)—Two bottles allegedly taken from the automobile of J. K. Hooper, former district supervisor of the state liquor control board who is charged with murder as the result of an automobile collision, were introduced in evidence yesterday by the state in Hooper's trial here.

The state contended the bottles contained a small quantity of liquor and were taken from Hooper's car at the scene of the wreck in which three persons lost their lives here.

Nazis Ban Return Of Jews To France

PARIS, Oct. 9 (Delayed)—(AP) via Berlin)—All Jews who fled from German-occupied French territory were forbidden to return today in the first definite regulations of Jews and Jewish business ordered by German military authorities of the occupied zone.

All business houses with Jewish proprietors or directors were instructed to post notices in both French and German before Oct. 31 saying, "Jewish firm."

All Jews were ordered to report for a special census before Oct. 20. The decree defined as Jews all persons who professed or formerly professed the Jewish religion, or had more than two Jewish grandparents.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—The market slipped a bit today but, after fractional declines, held fast around a rallying point of steel and motors.

Unrest over the mounting tension with Japan contributed to treasury caution. Only about 450,000 shares changed hands.

The session opened with a nervous downturn which thinned and finally closed with such leaders as U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber and New York Central failed to follow the general trend.

Some analysts suggested that prices had encountered lower resistance levels established in the two previous days of declining quotations.

Issues which were backward through most of the session included Caterpillar, Douglas, Eastman, Allied Chemical, Gulf, General Electric, American Smelt, and Texas Corp.

Pointing up Wall Street's trans Pacific worry was a sharp break in Japanese money corporate lens followed the path of stocks.

CHICAGO GRAIN
 CHICAGO, Oct. 9 (AP)—The wheat market was quiet today, with trading restricted by cautious dealings in view of uncertainty of international affairs. Commercial and professional transactions were covered almost entirely by the domestic supply situation.

Illustrative of the effect of the government loan program in reducing commercial supplies, a car of No. 4 red winter wheat sold for 86 cents a bushel here. This price was about 4 cents over the December futures delivery and 5 cents over the government loan rate for No. 2 red or hard wheat here. Traders estimated more than a fourth of the domestic supply eventually will be tied up either under loans or by the insurance program.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1/2 higher compared with yesterday's finish, December 32 1/2, May 31 1/2, corn 1/4 off to 1/4 up, December 58 1/2, May 59 1/2, oats 1/4 1/2 lower.

Americans In Far East Advised To Return To U. S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The government today advised American citizens in the Far East, especially women and children, to consider the advisability of returning to the United States because of disturbed conditions in that area.

State department officials said that American consuls in Japan, China and other parts of the Orient had been notified to suggest to American citizens the advisability of utilizing transportation facilities now available.

This was described as a continuation of the precautionary policy of the government regarding safety of American citizens in various parts of the world.

The advice was directed especially to women and children and men not detained by essential or urgent considerations.

American consuls were instructed to notify the state department of the number of Americans who are coming out or are considering coming out.

Secretary of the Navy Knox and Robert P. Patterson, assistant secretary of war, so testified before the house committee investigating the labor board.

They and other officials had been summoned by the committee to discuss the significance of a recent opinion by Attorney General Jackson which some house members had interpreted to mean that firms found by the labor board to be guilty of Wagner act violations would be denied defense contracts.

In opening the hearing, Chairman Smith (D-Va) said Jackson's opinion, had aroused fears that the defense program might be delayed if contracts had to be withheld from some firms.

Labor Attitude Not Factor In Contracts

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—War and navy department spokesmen declared today that labor policies of defense contractors were not considered to be determining factors in the awarding of defense contracts.

Secretary of the Navy Knox and Robert P. Patterson, assistant secretary of war, so testified before the house committee investigating the labor board.

They and other officials had been summoned by the committee to discuss the significance of a recent opinion by Attorney General Jackson which some house members had interpreted to mean that firms found by the labor board to be guilty of Wagner act violations would be denied defense contracts.

In opening the hearing, Chairman Smith (D-Va) said Jackson's opinion, had aroused fears that the defense program might be delayed if contracts had to be withheld from some firms.

Squadron Of U. S. Fliers Will Soon Join Front Line

LONDON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The first British fighter squadron composed entirely of American pilots will shortly take its place in the front line of Britain's defenders. Air Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair announced today.

The unit, which will be known as the Eagle Squadron, will be commanded in action by Squadron Leader William Gibson Taylor of Fort Leavenworth, Kas.

Colonel Charles Sweeney, who ranked as a group captain in the Royal Air Force volunteer reserve, will be honorary commanding officer.

City Club Rooms To Be Repaired

Walls, woodwork, and plaster in the city club rooms will be repaired as another improvement following the repair of the ceiling, it was voted by the city commission at its meeting yesterday.

Estimated cost of the work. City Manager Steve Matthews said, would be $50.

Repair of the ceiling of the rooms, located in the city hall building, was recently completed at a cost of $154.25, of which $77.13 was paid by the city, and $77.12 by the Council of Women's clubs, who had made the request for the ceiling repair.

Difficulty of hearing was the reason for fixing up the ceiling. Club women have pointed out that a spic-and-span club room was a mark of civic pride and visitors to the city would be favorably

Schoolboy Hangs Self

CANTON, Ill., Oct. 9 (AP)—Pupils leaving the Hull school at the close of the afternoon session yesterday were into the cloakroom where their classmate Loyal Widger, 8, had been sent as a reprimand for misbehavior.

The boy's body was found hanging from a handkerchief noose affixed to a coat hook. The teacher, Miss Genevieve Shepley, collapsed when told of the tragedy.
