

Pampans Will Ask Permission To Organize Home Defense Infantry Units

Permission will be requested of Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel to organize one or more companies of Texas Defense Guard infantry in Pampa.

At a meeting of representatives of city, county, civic and veterans groups in the Legion Hotel last night it was voted unanimously to make the request.

Next step was the appointment today by Commander Ray Barnes, of the American Legion, who presided at last night's meeting, of a committee made up of Lee Franks, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; W. A. Bratton, and Parris Oden, to recommend a commissioned officer personnel—a captain, first and second lieutenants.

When these recommendations are made an application will be sent to Governor O'Daniel, signed by five leading citizens, asking that Pampa be permitted to organize one or more companies.

Each company will be made up of 74 men. Enrollment will be for three years, and members of the Texas Defense guard must be able-bodied male citizens of the state and of the United States, and of good character, between the ages of 18 and 64 years.

Must Furnish Own Guns.

Until further provision is made, when organized each man will have to furnish his own arms for drill purposes and training in the manual of arms, for the reason that there are now no rifles available for issue to the Defense Guard.

The units to be organized throughout the country will do so under an authorization of congress. A bill to authorize the organization was passed by the house yesterday and now is before the senate.

No member of the Defense Guard will be paid for services unless called out by the governor, and the schedule of pay will be furnished if and when such occasion arises.

The Defense Guard's chief purpose is to take the place of the National Guard when the latter goes into federal service. Aim of the Defense Guard also is to bring into existence an organization which could take care of any internal disturbances or subversive activities.

To Drill Weekly

If authorized and organized, the Pampa company will drill at least one and a half hours each week. All members of the company must take the oath of allegiance. While they will not be subject to regular army service, enlistment in the Defense Guard will not exempt any member from military service under federal law. In other words, men of draft age may enlist in the Guard and serve until called for regular army service.

However, it was pointed out today that no enlistments can be taken in the Guard until final permission has been received from the governor to organize the infantry company in Pampa.

Adjutant General Present

Two dozen representative citizens attended last night's meeting which was called at the request of J. Watt Page, Texas adjutant general, to determine if it was the opinion of the citizens that a company should be formed here.

After discussions of the proposal from each of the men a motion was made by William Heskew, chief de gare of the Forty and Eight, and accorded by E. J. Dunigan, that application be made to ask for permission to organize a company in Pampa. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Present at the meeting were Mayor Fred Thompson, Sheriff Cal Rose, a half dozen Pampa reserve officers, representatives of all civic clubs, commander of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, ex-service men and several interested citizens.

Duncan Protests Against Power Franchise

BRITAIN ANNOUNCES NEW DEFENSE SYSTEM

Claims City Should Make 'Better Deal'

Suggests People Should Vote On Franchise Grant

A protest against the franchise which the Pampa city commission recently granted to the Southwestern Public Service company was filed by Ivy Duncan, Pampa attorney, this forenoon with the city clerk and was to be presented to the city commission at its postponed weekly meeting in City Hall tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Duncan, formerly a member of the fact-finding committee which was formed during the last city election when municipal ownership was an issue, suggested in his protest that "perhaps the commission should pass an order rescinding this franchise and negotiate for a better deal."

"It is not," he wrote in his letter to the commission, "that the people should vote on whether the franchise should be granted as drawn."

Among other things, Mr. Duncan charges that the purchase clause in the new franchise is ambiguous, that the city cannot enforce the option to purchase, that the three per cent gross receipt against the company is not high enough, and that the company is not paying enough for the franchise rights.

Mr. Duncan's letter in full follows:

"City Commission of Pampa
Pampa, Texas
Gentlemen:

"May I discuss the terms of the franchise given by the City to the Southwestern Public Service Co., and express my views as to what the City should receive for granting the franchise?

"The purchase clause in the contract is ambiguous because it does not make certain just what the City will have to pay the company for the light plant and distributing system. Neither does it make any disposition of the franchise. Couldn't the company continue to operate under the franchise after the City

Almazan's Friend Slain In Monterrey

MONTERREY, Mexico, Oct. 1. (AP)—Police and soldiers today shot to death Brigadier General Andres Zarzosa, old friend of Juan Andreu Almazan, losing candidate for president, to smash what they declared was a revolutionary plot to seize the garrison, governor's palace and other state and local offices here.

Authorities said they now had restored order and that all was quiet in Monterrey.

Several persons were reported under arrest.

The newspaper Tiempo said military authorities descended on Zarzosa and his adherents after one of the latter, alarmed by the proportions of the reported plot, had tipped off police.

Zarzosa was reported to have entered Monterrey secretly, timing his coup for early this morning.

Zarzosa was commander of the 31st infantry battalion, but had been given leave to help Almazan in his campaign for presidency against General Manuel Avila Camacho, the administration nominee.

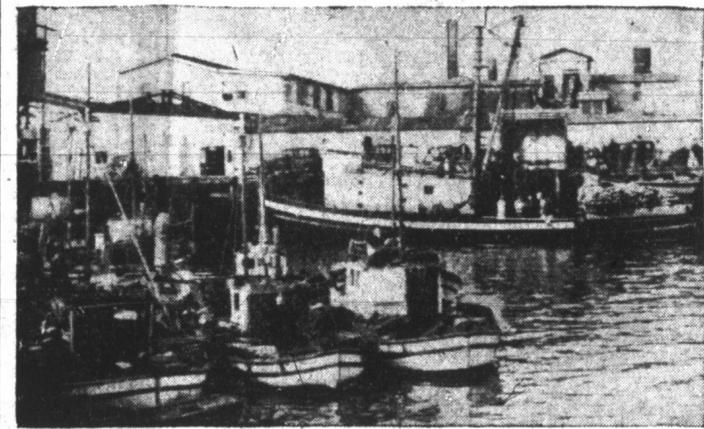

Another man with Zarzosa also was killed in the gunfight, and a soldier was wounded.

If A Dog Bites You You Can Sue Owner, Says Police Chief

Dogs in Pampa are becoming a menace to pedestrians and cyclists but there is little that can be done about the situation unless persons making the complaints go to the police station and sign complaints against the owners of the dogs. Police Chief J. B. Wilkinson revealed today. Officers have received at least a dozen complaints during the past week that dogs had nipped people.

"We can pick up untagged dogs," Chief Wilkinson said, "but we are powerless to go on a person's property and take a tagged dog."

Officers can pick up a wanted dog found on the street whether tagged or not.

Chief Wilkinson asks owners of vicious dogs to keep them in pens or tied up. He has a dog catcher on duty who is busy picking up untagged dogs but so far most of the complaints have been on dogs wearing tags.

City Attorney Bob Gordon said that owners of dogs are responsible for them at all times and that the owners can be brought to court and also sued in cases where their dogs bite anyone.

"It's a lot easier to keep dogs tied up, in pens or have them destroyed when they become vicious," the city attorney advised today.

Hogan emerged "unhurt but uncomfortable."

Spain Hopes To Avoid British Blockade

(By The Associated Press)

Authoritative Fascist quarters in Rome, predicting that England would probably "spontaneously" and say that "Spain resisted Axis pressure" acknowledged today that immediate Spanish entry into the war was not an issue at conferences started between Premier Mussolini and Spanish Minister Ramon Serrano Smer.

These quarters asserted that no such pressure had been brought to bear on Spain—despite an apparently synchronized barrage of dispatches from Berlin and Rome recently stating that Spain was expected to join the axis as a full-fledged partner.

Well-informed sources in Berlin said meanwhile that German diplomacy is lending a "helping hand" to bring together the axis new partner, Japan, and her old foe, Russia, in a non-aggression pact.

While Fascists cast doubt on the possibility of a formal Rome-Berlin-Madrid alliance at present, the Italian press seemed to take it for granted that Spain could be used anyway as an axis base for attack on Gibraltar.

By this means, the Nazi-Fascist strategists apparently hoped to relieve Spain of a forthright declaration of war against England—with the inevitable consequence of a British blockade being clamped on Spain—and yet to utilize Spain for an assault on Britain's great rock fortress which guards the west gate of the Mediterranean.

Italian circles in Rome indicated that Spanish Generalissimo Franco

House Votes Profits Tax

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1. (AP)—Legislation levying on corporations an excess profits tax of 25 to 50 percent was voted finally today by the house. The action put congress one notch nearer an election recess which leaders hoped to start this weekend.

The measure, put into present compromise form by a joint committee after house and senate had passed differing versions, now goes to the senate where approval, expected tomorrow, would send it to the White House. In addition to its tax sections it carries provisions designed to speed up armament production and furnish a system of insurance for the nation's fighting men.

Including a 31 percent boost in the normal corporation income tax, the bill will produce, tax authorities said, $500,000,000 in revenue the first year and about $1,000,000,000 thereafter. Chairman Doughton (D-N. C.) of the ways and means committee told the house that enactment of the bill was necessary to meet a "dire need" of the government for more income in these days of heavy defense spending.

When the tax bill clears the senate, congress will have only one major item on its calendar—a $1-

Willkie Boed, Car Egged At Pontiac

By THEODORE F. KOOP

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN ENROUTE THROUGH MICHIGAN, Oct. 1. (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie charged the Roosevelt administration today with trying to solve its problems by one of two methods—"appropriating more money or grabbing more power."

As a result, the Republican presidential nominee said at Pontiac, Mich., the administration has more power than any of its predecessors.

Boos were mingled with applause from the crowd surrounding the court house, where Willkie spoke from a specially erected platform.

While he was driving back to the railroad station, an egg was thrown into his car. It broke against the back of the front seat, and splashed over Mrs. Willkie.

Willkie scowled, his car stopped for a moment, and one of his bodyguards pointed to the direction from which the egg was thrown. A minute later another egg hit a truck carrying photographers ahead of Willkie's car.

The nominee told his audience that any one who seeks to answer arguments against administration activities with "catcalls" and who is able to lead others to follow him, "is going down the road to slavery that now exists in Germany."

If democracy is to be preserved, the nominee said, people should not "substitute catcalls for thinking."

Steve Buckley, one of the nominee's guards, said he saw a third egg splatter over a woman spectator on the sidewalk with crowd police pointed to the direction from which the egg was thrown. A minute later another egg hit a truck carrying photographers ahead of Willkie's car.

More calls are already being received for aid from the Pampa Goodfellows than the organization can handle, Paul D. Hill, member of the club said today.

British Shipping Takes Its Worst Beating

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 1.—With no end in sight to the bombs which have fallen on London day and night for 25 days, Britain's capital is preparing for the severest winter of war in its history.

Its plan is three-fold—to combat the German raiders with the strongest possible defense weapons, to speed an exodus of women and children to more sparsely settled and thus less bombed areas; to give those who must stay the utmost shelter.

After another night-long series of attacks broken off just before dawn, London's anti-aircraft forces roared into action again this morning against scattered German raiders.

Early this afternoon several bombs fell in a thickly settled southwest London district and there were believed to have been casualties. A raider who penetrated to the central London area disappeared toward the southeast amid a burst of anti-aircraft shells and followed by a patrol of British fighters.

One German plane, believed to have been out of formation in Dorsetshire when British fighters attacked a flight of about 15 which crossed the southwest coast late in the morning.

After a tour of bombed areas Harry Wilson, special commissioner for releasing the homeless, told adults that "all those who can leave should."

Extension of the mother-and-child removal scheme to include 14 London boroughs was announced by Health Minister Malcolm MacDonald. Lord Woolton, minister of food, announced that 58 emergency feeding centers have been opened for the homeless in London.

More than 22,000 school children have been evacuated from London in the last two weeks," MacDonald said. "Many more ought to go."

Intensification of London's preparedness comes at a time when the Nazi air siege seems to be letting up slightly and when promise is held for stronger defenses.

Miss Mae Hastings, president, reported that Miss Lela Lee Williams, a national founder; Miss Berneta Minkwitz, national treasurer; Miss Eula Lee Carter, state executive secretary; Miss Edna Graham, former first vice-president of the state organization; and her successor, Dr. Clara Parker; and Mrs. Lee Nowlin, state corresponding secretary; had already accepted invitations to be present at the meeting, and that invitations have been extended to members of the seven chapters in the Panhandle area. These include Alpha Sigma, Lubbock; Gamma Theta, Borger; Gamma Iota, Plainview; Gamma Kappa, Childress; Gamma Xi, Dalhart; Gamma Eta, Spur; and Pi, Amarillo.

Mrs. John I. Bradley was appointed general chairman of the regional committee. Special features of the meeting will be initiation of members from several chapters, a formal banquet Saturday evening, Oct. 26, and a breakfast honoring the chapter, state, executive, and national officers on Sunday morning at the Schneider hotel.

Arrangements were also made at this meeting for the officers of Beta Delta chapter to attend a reception to be given by the Gamma Theta chapter at Borger on Thursday evening, Oct. 3.

At the luncheon following the business meeting, Mrs. J. B. Austin was in charge of the program. Mrs. C. J. Meek, speaking from the point of view of the married woman teacher, discussed "Living on a Teacher's Salary," and Miss Ethleen Murrell cleverly pointed out the difficulties experienced by the unmarried woman in trying to supply "orchids on a budget."

Appropriate table decorations, which were furnished by Miss Katherine Simmons, were small purses from which spilled "play money" bills and coins.

Members present were Miss Jewell Cousins, McLain; Miss Juliana Campbell and Mrs. Preston Hutton, Canadian; Mrs. B. T. Foster, Groom; Mrs. Lewis Goodrich and Mrs. W. O. Morrow, Shamrock; Miss J. Meek and Miss Pauline Irons, W. Elder; Misses Ila Mae Hastings and Ariel Williams, and Mrs. W. I. Gilbert, LeFors; Misses Gladys Holley, Odessa Howell, and Claudia Everly, White Deer; Mesdames Sam Irwin, Owen Moore, John I. Bradley, C. T. Hunkapillar; Lou Roberts, J. B. Austin, J. L. Lester, Ewing Leech, Elva Phelps, L. L. Stone, and Raymond Hartzell; and Misses Ethleen Murrell, Florence Jones, Katherine Simmons, Louise Willis, Ida Mae Harris, and Bernice Larsh, Pampa.

Admiration Coffee Famous As 'Cup Of Southern Hospitality'

In the laboratory of the Duncan Coffee company at Houston, a pleasant-looking middle-aged man sits at a round table and sips coffee. The laboratory is a practical miniature of a coffee roasting plant, and from its small, fragrant ovens, grinders, and makers come cups brewed in samples from every coffee-producing region on the globe.

The man is Herschel M. Duncan, president and founder of the company, who is recognized by the trade as being one of the world's foremost coffee experts. From the dictates of his palate have come the formulae that have placed Admiration coffee and tea among the leading brands in the Southwest.

Millions of pounds of these coffees are blended and roasted annually in the Corpus Christi and the Houston factories of the company, and the Duncan enterprises support labor roster of approximately 400 employees with an annual payroll of $650,000. While the bulk of production is consumed by Texas coffee drinkers, an appreciable amount is also marketed in the remainder of the Southwest and in the South. A tribute to the quality of Admiration coffee is the fact that it is served exclusively in the House of Representatives in the Senate at the national capital.

The first coffee roasted by the Duncan Coffee company was the now famous Admiration blend, "The Cup of Southern Hospitality." So pleasing and successful was this original blend of expensive coffee that after 22 years this same blend is hailed as one of the world's finest coffees.

Always a step ahead in pioneering coffee roasting and packing improvements, the Duncan Coffee company was the first in offering coffee lovers of the Southwest such refinements as tailor-made grinds. In order to insure the goodness of Admiration Coffee in all types of coffee-makers the Duncan Coffee company spent thousands and thousands of dollars in research and experimentation, seeking to determine the grind best suited for each coffee-making method. In 1932, the Duncan Coffee company started the coffee industry in announcing the creation of the patented drip-kut. This distinctive grind met with such an immediate response all over the Southwest that soon other companies attempted to market a similar grind. Then, just seven years later in 1939, the Duncan Coffee company again matched the progress made by manufacturers of coffee-making equipment when it announced the perfection of glass-drip—the precision-cut coffee for aluminum and glass coffee-makers. This grind today stands alone as the only perfect grind for glass coffee-makers available in the Southwest.

Dedicated to the purpose of offering the public the finest coffees and teas obtainable and determined to maintain its independence as one of the Southwest's own industries, the Duncan Coffee company proudly looks forward to the future.

Man With False Teeth Thinks Army No Place For Him

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 1 (AP)—The story of a man who thinks his false teeth ought to keep him out of the army was told today by Paul G. Armstrong, state director of selective service.

Armstrong received from the prospective draftee a lengthy letter setting out reasons why the writer thought he should be excused from military service.

"And another thing," the letter concluded, "I've just got a new set of uppers and they're causing me trouble."

Followed a postscript: "None of my friends know I'm wearing false teeth, so don't mention this."

NEW TWO-WAY APRON DESIGN

PATTERN 8794

Plenty of practical and thoroughly protective aprons are essential to your equipment for a busy fall and winter season, with many parties and much holiday entertaining ahead. This useful design (No. 8794) is one of those thoroughly satisfactory aprons! It goes on easily, fits just right, can be made in a jiffy, and covers all vulnerable parts of your dress. Besides, it can be made in two ways, with high-necked yoke effect and back-straps, or cut lower, with a piece encircling the neck.

This is a grand idea for club and church sales, because practical aprons that are also pretty to look at always sell like the proverbial hot cakes. Percale, gingham, seersucker, or chambray are good apron cottons.

Pattern 8794 is designed for sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 34 requires 1 7/8 yards of 35-inch material without nap; 6 yards of fabric.

George Cree Local Chairman For Fort Worth Oil Meeting

Appointment of G. B. Cree as local chairman for the 1940 convention of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association to be held October 31-November 2 in Fort Worth, was announced here today.

The convention is the annual business conference of the Texas petroleum industry. Its program will include addresses by several nationally-known speakers, as well as a business session devoted to the discussion of current oil problems.

Mr. Cree will have charge not only of arrangements for attendance of a local delegation at the Fort Worth meeting but also of selection of a golf team from here to compete in the Texas Mid-Continent's annual handicap tournament. Besides the award at the convention of the W. B. Hamilton trophy for the lowest net score, a number of other valuable prizes will be given both to individual winners and the winning team.

More than thirty Texas oil cities including Pampa entered teams last year, when 200 oilmen golfers competed. This year an even larger number is expected, and the Fort Worth golf committee is preparing to use several courses in order to expedite the play.

Plans for attendance of most of the oil and gas operators in this section are being made by the local committee. Committeemen named today are: M. B. Davis, E. J. Dunigan, Jr., Lynn Boyd, R. G. Allen, Ray Hagan and B. O. Lilly.

Army Plane Crashes, Kills Man, Woman

WALTERBORO, S. C., Oct. 1 (AP)—An airplane crashed in a pine forest near here last night, killing a woman and a man, the latter identified from papers as an army air captain. Letters found in the demolished plane were addressed to Captain Charles A. Ross, "office chief of air corps," Washington, D. C. An identification card gave his age as 37 and an Arlington, Va., address.

Two magazines bore the names of Mrs. Charles A. Ross, Arlington, Va. A log book indicated the flier had visited several cities recently, and fueled at Monroe, La., earlier in the day.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—Army friends of Captain Charles A. Ross who, with his wife, was killed last night in an airplane crash near Walterboro, S. C., said today the couple was on a pleasure trip at the time.

Captain Ross had been on leave of absence for several days. He and his wife were flying in their private plane.

Pennsylvania 'Dream Highway' Opened

CARLISLE, Pa., Oct. 1 (AP)—Motorists willing to pay tolls to avoid tortuous routes over the Allegheny Mountains rolled today over Pennsylvania's 1940 "dream highway," hailed by its builders as the forerunner of a nationwide network of super-highways for national defense.

Twenty-three months after ground was broken for the easily graded, four-lane route between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh, ticket-sellers gave the go signal at 12:01 a. m.

There was no fanfare or ceremony commensurate with the $70,000,000 cost of the express highway and the toll of drilling through the tunnels Andrew Carnegie left partly-finished when he abandoned his projected South Penn railroad more than 50 years ago. President Roosevelt is expected to dedicate the highway but the date has not been set.

Mary Martin 'Ideal Companion For Modern Bachelor'

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1 (AP)—Mary Martin, a recent bride, doesn't know it yet but she has been chosen the "ideal companion for the modern bachelor."

Portrait-painter McClelland Barclay said the winsome, twice-married Miss Martin had been given the title by the "American Association of Bachelors," which has headquarters in New York and Hollywood. The association's Pacific coast executives are Barclay, writer John McLean and cartoonist Peter Arno.

"We've been crazy about Mary," said Barclay, "ever since she first sang 'My Heart Belongs to Daddy' in New York." The actress is yachting in the Pacific with her husband, Story Editor Richard Halliday.

Students Occupied By Loafing, Bull Sessions, Drinking

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1 (AP)—Joe College and Betty Coed spend more time playing than anything else except sleeping, the national recreation congress heard today.

Porter Butts, director of the division of social education at the University of Wisconsin, said a survey of mid-western students showed "the average student spends 41 1/2 hours a week in leisure pursuits."

"The greatest amount of this time is occupied by relatively aimless loafing, bull sessions, radio listening, drinking and driving."

"Organized student activities are scarcely a threat to academic interest, involving only 36 per cent of the student body and only 3.5 per cent of the total leisure time."

Texas Scientist Seeks Paint To Remove Barnacles

AUSTIN, Oct. 1 (AP)—A University of Texas scientist is assisting the U. S. Navy to maintain the top possible speed of its battleships—and he is a zoologist.

Dr. Austin Phelps, assistant professor of biology, is studying ways and means of removing barnacles from ship bottoms, a matter involving poisonous poisons.

Pooling of bottoms by barnacles diminishes ships' speed and it costs $75,000 a ship for dry-docking and scraping.

Readers Have To Be Smart: Geography has taken an awful licking in the past few years. There was a time when boundaries could be depended upon to remain reasonably static at least long enough for the seventh grade to memorize them.

There was a time when boundaries could be depended upon to remain reasonably static at least long enough for the seventh grade to memorize them. Maps could be drawn in the confident belief that they would be just as authentic five years hence as they were when the map-maker tacked on the last island.

Yet the average newspaper reader today is expected to know more geography than ever before. He must be reasonably well informed if the stories he reads daily on the front page are to make sense.

He is expected to know where to find the places talked about in cable dispatches and what they were called when he first studied about them.

Once upon a time, places like Dakar, Bogbug and Dong Dang were just exotic or barbaric places you were likely to read about in travel magazines or novels once in a while.

What's happening there these days is very real. All the weird places of legend and travelog are jumping out at us. The battle at Dakar between the Free French-English and the French colonialists was nothing out of a fairy tale.

The jockeying between the French and Japanese in Indo-China for Far Eastern power is playing an important part in Oriental imperialism.

No one can understand the significance of the skirmishes between Italian and British in eastern and northern Africa unless one has a pretty good idea where Egypt and Somaliland are—where Port Said and the Suez Canal are.

These are no longer places you see in technicolor film and promptly forget about. They're places where the world's destiny is crudely being shaped.

Yes, the man with the newspaper in his hands is expected to be a pretty smart egg. He must have practically the whole world at his fingertips.

The gratifying thing is that he has. Most readers do know where places are—do understand why certain things are happening there. Most of them have been taking the trouble to find out.

If they didn't, much of today's news would be pointless—the whole picture of world upheaval as it unfolds day after day in the daily press would be hopelessly confused and meaningless.

Behind The News: By BRUCE CATTON. The Pampa News Washington Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—Contrary to what you may have heard, nobody in particular is trying to get the U. S. government to give Great Britain the 50-odd "flying fortresses" now in the service of the army air corps.

What is being attempted—especially by the William Allen White committee—is to make available to Britain the flying fortresses which are now under construction for the U. S. army.

The understanding is that about a dozen of these giant bombers are now ready for delivery, with approximately 70 more due to be finished by Jan. 1.

The White committee hopes that the administration can be persuaded to release the manufacturers so that these planes may be sent to Britain; it isn't agitating for delivery of planes now in service, nor is it asking that the famous bomb sight be turned over.

Importance of these huge bombers to Britain is that they would make intensive bombing of Berlin and other German cities much easier, because of their long range and great carrying capacity.

Memo: Look for a concerted drive this winter to modify the neutrality law and repeal the Johnson act banning loans to foreign governments which haven't paid their World War debts.

Understanding is that before so terribly long the British will run out of ready cash. A big push to make credit available will then be in order.

YOU'RE FIRED! HERE'S WHY—Files of the Social Security Board have some odd bits of evidence on the reasons why men get fired from their jobs.

Under the law, a discharged worker is entitled to unemployment compensation unless he is fired for his own misconduct. Files of the board are full of hearings before the various state appeal boards, in which divers ex-workers have sought to show that they were fired through no fault of their own.

Prize case, perhaps, is that of a hotel elevator operator who got let out for giving a fellow employe the "hot pot." He was held not guilty of misconduct; his ex-boss, incidentally, backed his plea.

Less lucky was a warehouse employe who called his boss a lot of bad names over the phone while talking to a fellow employe; boss was listening in. The Texas appeal board held this was misconduct.

FIGURE THIS OUT—Because somebody made a mistake in arithmetic, the U. S. Housing Authority has $100,000,000 which it doesn't know whether it can use.

Under the original act, USHA could lend $800,000,000 on housing, making loans up to 90 per cent of the cost of any project; it could also grant an outright subsidy not exceeding 3 1/2 per cent of the total cost of a project.

In setting up the subsidy appropriation, however, somebody figured it as 3 1/2 per cent of the total loans instead of 3 1/2 per cent of the total costs. Thus, subsidy money was provided to accompany only 90 per cent of the total project costs.

Political Economy In One Lesson

What Is Seen and What Is Not Seen BY FREDERIC BASTIAT

VII—Restriction (Protection)

M. Prohibitor (This name is not my invention, but that of M. Charles Dupin, who then—but who since—employed his time and his capital in converting into iron the mineral of his estates. As nature had been more liberal towards the Belgians, they supplied iron to the French cheaper than M. Prohibitor; that is to say, that France, or all the French, could obtain a given quantity of iron with less labour, by purchasing it from the honest Flemings. Thus, guided by their interest, they did not complain of this; but every day witnessed a multitude of nailers, smiths, cartwrights, machinists, farriers, and workmen, on their way, personally, or represented by middlemen, to provide themselves in Belgium. This very much displeased M. Prohibitor.

At first he thought of stopping this abuse by his own strength. This was, indeed, the best that could be done, as he alone suffered. I will take my musket, he said to himself, I will stick four pistols in my belt, I will fill my cartridge box, I will gird on my trusty sword, and thus equipped, I will make for the frontier; and there, the first smith, nailer, farrier, machinist, or locksmith that may present himself, on his own business, and not mine, I will kill him to teach him how to live.

At the moment of setting out, M. Prohibitor made some reflections which tempered a little his warlike ardour. He said to himself:—In the first place, it is not absolutely impossible, that the buyers of iron, my fellow-countrymen and enemies, may take my doings amiss, and instead of allowing me to kill them, may kill me. In the second place, even if I were to take with me all my servants, we could not guard all the passages. Finally, the proceeding would cost me very dear, dearer than the result is worth.

M. Prohibitor was sorrowfully about to resign himself to being simply free like everyone else, when a bright thought flashed across his brain.

He remembered, that at Paris there is a great manufactory of laws. What is a law? he said to himself. It is a measure to which, when once decreed, he it good or bad, all are obliged to conform. For the execution of a law, a public force is organized, and to constitute the said public force, men and money are taken from the nation.

If, then, I obtained from the great Parisian law-factory a little law to this effect:—"Belgian iron is prohibited"—I should obtain the following results:—The government would, instead of the few servants whom I wished to send to the frontier, send twenty thousand sons of my refractory blacksmiths, locksmiths, nailers, farriers, artisans, machinists and labourers. Next, in order to keep in good condition of health and spirits, these 20,000 custom-house guards, government would distribute among them 25 millions of francs, taken from those same blacksmiths, nailers, artisans and labourers. The guard would be all the more effective; it would cost me nothing; I should not be exposed to the brutality of haggards about price; I should sell my iron on my own terms; and I should enjoy the sweet satisfaction of seeing our great nation ingloriously mystified. That would teach it to proclaim itself incessantly the precursor and promoter of all progress in Europe. The game will be exciting, and is well worth the attempt.

M. Prohibitor repaired accordingly to the manufactory of laws. I may, some other time, tell the story of his secret negotiations; but at present I will speak only of his ostensible proceedings. He addressed to the honourable lawmakers the following considerations:—"Belgian iron is sold in France at ten francs, and this obliges me to sell mine at the same price. I should greatly prefer to sell mine at fifteen, and I cannot on account of this Belgian iron, which may heaven confound. Construct a law which shall say, 'Belgian iron shall no longer enter France.' Immediately I raise my price five francs, and see the consequences."

"For every quintal of iron that I shall sell to the public, instead of receiving ten francs, I shall receive fifteen; I shall become rich all the sooner; I will enlarge my works, I will employ more workmen. My workmen and I will expand more, to the great advantage of all who supply us for many leagues round. These, too, having a greater demand for their products, will give greater employment to industry, and by degrees activity will be diffused through the whole country. This blessed five franc piece which you will drop into my strong box, will, like a stone thrown into a lake, spread to a distance an infinite number of concentric circles."

Charmed by this discourse, enchanted to learn that it was so easy by legislation to increase the wealth of a nation, the fabricators of laws voted a restriction. Why speak of labour and economy? they said. What avail those toilsome means of augmenting the national riches when a decree suffices?"

"For reasons which it would require long explanation to render intelligible, the translator has thought it right to depart considerably from the original in the rest of this chapter. While he regards the change he has ventured to make as due at once to the subject, and to the author himself (whose other works are the best comment upon this), it seems due to the reader that this intimation should be made."

JOKERS IN DEFENSE BILLS (Chicago Tribune)

When the navy speed up bill came out of conference it had a snook amendment attached. The conference report was adopted. The act was signed and became a law. Later the congressmen discovered that they had authorized the secretary of the navy at the direction of the President to take over plants if the management would not come to terms, just any terms. Congressmen said they didn't know about this provision. They didn't know it was in the bill. Two admirals or a couple other fellows had approached the conference committee, or some one, with a type written slip. It stuck to the report.

The house of representatives, to establish its innocence of intent, passed a repealer. The senate has not done so. Maybe there was not so much innocence in the senate. The act is still a law. The incident suggests that the congressmen watch the newspaper bill while it comes out of conference. If they are fooled twice by something they did not know was loaded their innocence will not be believed. Another joker will not be understood.

legal for use on defense housing. On that sort of project, USHA can lend 100 per cent of cost; thus the entire sum could be used pronto with no additional subsidy.

THEY'RE JUST-KILLING

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1—I hope Bob Hope is still boffing around when you read this, because I want to write a little tribute to the saddle-nosed, lean, amiable, Iron Man of the Movies.

Last time I saw him was at the end of the aerial excursion for "The Westerner" premiere in Texas. As about 30 of us left our planes to go home and do a Rip Van Winkle for a week, Mr. Hope breezed away amid gay quips to keep a good date and then to work on a new script. Of course, he may have fallen to the ground as soon as he got around the first corner.

Unquestionably, Bob Hope is the busiest master-of-ceremonies, personal-appearance maker, screen actor, radio performer and benefit player who ever lived. His immediate schedule includes a week at the San Francisco Auto Show and five days with the Warner Brothers' expedition to South Bend, Ind., for "Knute Rockne" premiere. Those chores will brighten him up for his role, with Bing Crosby, in "The Road to Zanzibar."

The comedian does all such things effortlessly, and loves to do 'em. If nobody would pay him thousands of dollars a week, he'd do them for free. He now has to turn down lots of big offers, but he'll still play his charity benefit at the drop of a hat.

NO BRUSH-OFF FOR FANS—On this "Westerner" trip to Fort Worth and Dallas, Hope landed after a sleepless night and for two days and nights mastered every ceremony in an event-filled marathon. He played four theaters preceding showings of the picture, officiated at five broadcasts, took over the microphone at two luncheons, one dinner, five assorted parties and balls, and a big charity show.

He autographed every hat, program, menu and scrap of paper he could reach, and even a few that were handed into his bathroom at one of the hotels. Cornered by a crowd in a lobby or on a street, he'd trade wise-cracks with admirers until rescued by police; he never tried to brush off the fans.

If he had anything to eat, it was on the second morning, with breakfast in his room. I have never heard Bob Hope utter one complaining or ill-humored word, even to those of us he doesn't need to impress.

Of course, he's a merciless ribber and a ruthless stealer of scenes. After some joking introduction by Charles Ruggles, Hope said, "Well, now that the tryouts are over, I'd like to tell you . . ."

At one of the theaters, he deliberately ignored—until the last minute—an anxious Edward Arnold who could be seen yawning from the wings. In retaliation, Arnold persuaded Sam Goldwyn and Bruce Cabot to walk with him across the stage behind Hope, chatting together and never glancing at the audience. Hope didn't even look around to see who was trying to break up his act. He merely gestured and told his audience: "That's a new trick breaking in for the show next week."

During the last show, in Dallas, the comedian actually had Goldwyn rolling around on the floor of the stage. The beaming producer had been standing at Hope's side awaiting an introduction. Hope kept on chatting, so the flustered Goldwyn gestured for the microphone. Hope leaned farther away, and Goldwyn reached for it. Hope lay down on the stage and said, "All right, if you are so anxious, come one down and get it!" So the big movie-maker lay flat on his dignity and scuffed for the mike.

The famous producer finally made his speech. But Hope had the last word: "Mr. Goldwyn has been wonderful on this trip. And, as you can see, the trip has been wonderful on Mr. Goldwyn."

In spite of his activities, Bob and Dolores Hope maintain a sort of home life. They have a one-year-old adopted daughter named Linda, and during a personal appearance tour about three months ago they stopped at the Cradle in Chicago and saw a baby boy they liked. They'll stop again and get him after the big movie doings at South Bend in October.

People You Know

"A few days ago I witnessed the impressive exercise which marked the end of a definite period of training for your son, Douglas Keyser, in his military training," J. H. August Boreles, chaplain of the U. S. army, 21st infantry brigade wrote in a letter to Mrs. H. E. Keyser of Pampa the other day. Doug is stationed at Schofield Barracks, Territory of Hawaii. The chaplain's letter continued: "The period of training he has just completed is that of a recruit. He is now a full-fledged member of this company and from now on will do full duty with men who have had years of experience. Service in Hawaii is exceptionally pleasant. The ideal climate offers opportunities which few places in the States can give. The training program allows plenty of time for recreation through the year. Not only are opportunities presented to your son for physical development and mental development but for his spiritual life as well. There are five Protestant and two Catholic chaplains assigned to Schofield Barrack. Religious services are conducted by these chaplains each Sunday in the post chapel. There is always a Soldiers' Bible class that meets every Sunday morning. As chaplain of the organization to which your son is assigned I consider it a pleasure to sit and talk with me, and he said once, "This is America. I believe in this way of life, in what America does for people, and in our democracy. We have built a sort of society in which all can make the most of themselves in the way they want and are able to. Our democracy to me is our most precious possession. It and not national wealth or foreign trade is America. It can be taken from us in two ways—by a discipline imposed on us by some man or group, the Nazi and Fascist way, or by our failing to use self-discipline. I do not believe that democracy and what I call the American Dream must fail. We can preserve them if we want to, but in order to do so we must discipline ourselves, or somebody will discipline us and take our way of life from us. We need leaders, but they will be of no avail if we have not got decency, morality, and self-reliance ourselves. Democracy cannot win out in this world of today, nor can we maintain our freedom if we are not free in our own souls and lives, and we are not free in our souls if we are looking for easy money, easy jobs, dirty political deals, feeding at the public trough at someone else's expense if we can work ourselves, and all the rest of what has been replacing what the Frenchman I started with found here. DIARY-OF-A-MAN-AROUND-TOWN (Monday) Day starts off with good intentions going to get when alarm clock aimed at 6:20, so we can attend Girl Scout breakfast at 7, rings at 6:20 all right, but we go back to sleep not to gain consciousness again until 7:15 a. m. which is much too late. . . . We do not expect abili to register with those who did get up on time for breakfast. . . . In a swish about the party, we are nearly out of breath as we start offward. . . . On the way down we notice the mail train from the west is coming in plenty late this morning.

Reaching the office at 7:50 a. m., the mail doesn't amount to much because it is not all here, the train being late. . . . Breakfast on hot cakes and coffee with breakfasters wondering where they are. . . . The fire siren shook them loose from their sleep at 6:30 o'clock, they reported. . . . Some thought it was an air raid warning. . . . Max Wade, the linotypist, said the screaming fit perfectly into a nightmare he was having at the time, and he figures now he is two or three years older. . . . Across the way at breakfast are Buster and Malcolm, the Furmen. . . . Malcolm came up two pennies short, and Buster does the rescue act.

BACK to the office, then to the postoffice. . . . Down the LaNora theater where the cooking school is about to open. . . . It isn't time to begin yet, but the auditorium is two-thirds full and the women still are filling in. . . . Backstage Mrs. Arvea French and her assistants are putting on the final touches. . . . A porterhouse steak three inches thick is sizzling already for the opening curtain. . . . In the wings is his honor, Mayor Fred Thompson, ready to give the welcome and to introduce Mrs. French. . . . But, just a minute—the show can't possibly open, says Wayne Phelps, until we get some canned cherries. . . . Phelps and Eddie Pohl, of the News and the men. . . . Malcolm came up two pennies short, and Buster does the rescue act.

THE noon hour comes and just as we are in the middle of eating at the cafe we remember we had a luncheon date at the cooking school but it's too late, now. . . . The brain isn't clicking. . . . And, the brain isn't clicking. . . . We'll try the cooking school again tomorrow noon. . . . At lunch we sat beside Fred Brown, the ex-standard food man, and he can tell you where Will was up to his eyes in. . . . Another fellow says he has some inside information, that they've finally got the DOPE in Washington. . . . "And," he adds, "they want to elect him for a third term." . . . Some like treason to us. . . . It would be in Germany.

Here's a postcard from Bill Bratton, Jr. who was a congenial traveling companion on a trip we took in May in mid-August. He is in Monterey Park, Calif., now, in the engineering department of the American Aircraft company. . . . He says that he is actually every corner by home-state Texas, and he's afraid it's already has a touch of. . . . The Republicans and Democrats, the reports are about even out there, and C. Aldate Willie got a tremendous amount of support. . . . Those getting to help Bill to write from getting homesick can keep to him at 126 E. Newmark, Monterey Park, Calif. . . . You're welcome, girls.

JEFF Bearden comes in for our second meeting of the day. . . . Jeff inquires about the war news. . . . He gets an earful and dismisses the whole business with "Well, guess I might as well sign up and get it over with!" . . . A great many American young men are beginning to feel that way about it, too. . . . It is early afternoon, and so much is going on in suppression of business, going to forbid setting it all down here. . . . You can just consider this column for today as a three-quarter report on the "diary-of-a-man-around-town." . . . Tonight we're going to the meeting of those soldiers who have been asked to figure out whether Pampa should organize an infantry company. . . . Attend-unmmmm-nnn!

The following is a quotation from John S. Mills' essay of "Representative Government" published in 1890. It applies well to Russia, Germany and Italy and if we keep the same man in office longer than a tradition allows, we may not enjoy our liberty too long. It is evident already in suppression of business and men of large means. A people may prefer a free government, but if from indolence, or carelessness, or cowardice, or want of public spirit they are unequal to the exertions necessary for preserving it; if they will not fight for it if it is directly attacked; if they can be deluded by the artifices used to cheat them out of it; if by momentary discouragement, or temporary panic, or a fit of enthusiasm for an individual they can be induced to lay their liberties at the feet even of a great man, or trust him with powers which enable him to subvert their institutions—in all these cases they are more or less unfit for liberty; and though it may be for their good to have had it even for a short time, they are unlikely long to enjoy it.

Some fine thought here which applies to us NOW. I just wanted you to be reminded of this great essay by a great man. H. L. W.

Draftees' Initiative And Morale Will Be Fostered By Army

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—The War department incorporated in its conscription program today three more measures to facilitate training of men drafted for service, to encourage their initiative and to foster their morale.

Top item was creation of an entirely new peacetime system of army tactical corps commanders whose "principal function" will be to train regular army, national guard and drafted troops.

The army simultaneously made known yesterday its intentions of giving trainees an opportunity to qualify for officers' commissions, and also announced the allotment of $2,594,152 for athletic equipment, books, service clubs and motion picture theaters to provide additional entertainment at training centers.

Disclosing for the first time that draftees would be given an opportunity to raise above a sergeant's grade, General George C. Marshall said plans were being made for "candidates' schools" which picked enlisted men might attend for the last three or four months of their year's training to work for lieutenants' commissions.

The chief of staff also announced that nine tactical corps would be created to control the training of the regular army and national guard units into which draft trainees will be absorbed.

By that method, training will be separated from the supply and "housekeeping" functions now performed by the commanders of nine army corps area, which are geographical units. The tactical corps will consist of army divisions, not geographical regions.

German Alien Will Spend Rest Of His Life Behind Bars

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., Oct. 1 (AP)—The German alien who thought he could get rich quick by kidnaping a wealthy American boy reconciled himself today to spending the rest of his life in prison.

In the mind of Wilhelm Jakob Muhlenbroch, the kidnaper, there remained no glimmering of false hope that he could dispute the evidence against him, so he decided to plead guilty at his arraignment this morning and ask immediate sentence for abducting three-year-old Marc de Tristan, Jr.

Muhlenbroch seized young Marc from his nurse Sept. 20 and left a note demanding $100,000 from the Count and Countess De Tristan.

The 40-year-old kidnaper fled by automobile into the mountain country but became lost and asked directions of Cecil Wetzel, lumber mill operator, and Ella Wood, an employee. The two recognized the child and captured Muhlenbroch.

Unrestricted Aid To Britain Urged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—The State department's reaction was sought today on a broad proposal sanctioning unrestricted financial aid to Great Britain.

The proposal, offered by Senator King (D-Utah), would exempt Britain from the limitations of present neutrality and other laws which prohibit loans to belligerent or debt-defeating nations.

Chairman Pittman (D-Nev) said the senate foreign relations committee, to which King's resolution was referred after introduction yesterday, would await State department views before considering the measure.

Besides permitting financial assistance, the measure would empower the President, in furtherance of the national defense program, to enter into negotiations for acquisition of strategic British island possessions in the Pacific. Thus the way might be opened for a deal for air and naval bases in the Pacific similar to those recently acquired by the United States in the Atlantic in a trade for 50 destroyers.

FDR 'Pushing Us Ever Closer To War' Says Willkie

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN EN ROUTE THROUGH MICHIGAN, Oct. 1 (AP)—A Republican campaign tour of Michigan industrial centers, where the labor vote is heavy, today followed Wendell L. Willkie's assertion that the Roosevelt administration is pushing "us ever closer and closer toward war."

Facing a cheering audience which filled the bulk of the 20,000 seats in Detroit's Olympia stadium, the Republican presidential nominee said last night:

"The closer Mr. Roosevelt gets us to war, the more people say that we ought not to change horses in the middle of the stream."

"Well, for one thing, what are we doing in the middle of the stream? How did we get there? The man who got us in is not the right one to get us out."

Declaring that there is danger of young people becoming cynical, he continued:

"Thousands of our youth, who have lost faith in other people, have formed Communist groups, and have received encouragement from very high places."

Willkie said he wanted to "clear out the cynics" and reduce the bureaucracy in the federal government.

Women To Take Over Town Government

HILLSBORO, Ala., Oct. 1 (AP)—Seven women, boasting election without platform promise or opposition, arranged to take over governmental affairs today in this little Tennessee valley town of 250 residents.

Miss David Woodall, 29-year-old school teacher, is mayor.

On the council are Mrs. Paul Horton and Miss Joyce Woodall, teachers, and Mrs. L. S. Terry and Mrs. Edgar Landers, housewives. Mary Sue Hardin, 21, is the youngest council member.

The city clerk is a woman but the marshal and town watchman are men.

The women are expected to deal first with dusty streets. They will be in good position, for the retiring mayor and council—all men—left the town free of debt.

Hillsboro has two principal interests, the price of cotton and sports. There is a cotton gin, several stores and two churches.

Professor Einstein Becomes Citizen

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 1 (AP)—Federal Judge Phillip Forman welcomed Professor Albert Einstein to American citizenship today with an observation that the scientist's presence here becomes America's gain.

Judge Forman, pointing out that he himself was the son of immigrant Jewish parents, said "I am deeply cognizant that only in America would it be possible for me to occupy the position which I do as the representative of my country."

"In our concept he was created equal with all men," said Forman of the German-born scientist. In remarks prepared for induction of 100-odd new citizens including the refugee who is now living in nearby Princeton.

"You will observe," Judge Forman said, that Einstein "is admitted to citizenship here in the same Democratic method as are all others, but the simplicity of these ceremonies is characteristic only of that which is America."

It does not detract from our privilege of providing a homeland for this man who thinks in terms of all the universe. Because of his race his writings were burned and he was forced to flee from his native land.

"How well is the lesson of America here exemplified! I know how he and all of you today realize the impact of that lesson."

Wallace Campaigns On Pacific Coast

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 1 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace, Democratic vice-presidential candidate, swung into the agricultural Pacific northwest today after telling Californians that "powerful financial interests" in the Republican party promised much but would deliver little to the nation's farmers.

President Roosevelt's running mate stuck mainly to benefits which he said had been brought to California and the nation by new deal farm measures in his northern California talks before entraining for Portland, Ore., where he speaks tonight.

But earlier in the day, Wallace made his San Francisco platform a sounding board for matters of international concern.

A Roosevelt defent, he asserted, would cause "great rejoicing among the totalitarian powers, and gloom among the democracies." It would "impair our friendly relations with Latin America" at a time when "the name of Roosevelt has become a symbol of democracy and of the good neighbor policy."

Series To Open At Cincinnati Tomorrow

Teams Likely To Go Limit Of 7 Games

By GAYLE TALBOT
CINCINNATI, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds of the National League and the Detroit Tigers of the American, a couple of worthy champions, will pile into each other before a jam-packed crowd of 33,000 at Crosley Field here tomorrow in the opening game of the 1940 season.

They will battle for two days here, shift to Detroit for three more shots at each other, and then roll back here next Monday to settle the argument.

The title is settled by four out of seven, and most of those who follow baseball think the Reds and the Tigers are likely to go the limit.

They appear to be evenly matched—Cincinnati's tight pitching against Detroit's distance hitting. Though it is far from conclusive, the most popular opinion is that the Reds are due to give the National League its first championship since 1924.

Two National league umpires reflect the feeling about Manager Bill McKechnie's outfit:

"You're crazy if you bet against those boys," said one, while his companion nodded agreement. "They're tough and I've umpired long enough to know. Maybe they look crippled right now, with Lombardi and Frey limping around. Maybe some bookmaker is offering odds against them. But don't let that fool you. These Reds are very hard to beat as long as they have a couple of fellows like Paul Derringer and Bucky Walters serving up that apple."

It is seldom one umpire—much less two—will let himself grow this enthusiastic about a ball team. So this might constitute a hunch.

The Detroiters pulled into town last evening. Both clubs were scheduled to work out at Crosley Field this afternoon.

Neither pilot last night would name his starting pitcher. Manager McKechnie said Derringer and Walters would divide the first two games. The best guess is that Derringer will be wheeling them across for Hank Greenberg and Rudy York and the other Tigers to hit at when the main shooting starts at 12:30 (CST) tomorrow. Pilot Del Baker of the Tigers said it would be either Schoolboy Rowe or Buck Newson on the hill, and the general opinion was that it would be Newson.

James Wilson may be hero of series

By JOHN FREY
CINCINNATI, Oct. 7 (AP)—Just an offhand tip, but a gentleman of 40 may pin his whiskers out of the way and be the hero of the World Series starting tomorrow.

The bouncy gaffer is James Wilson, one-time manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, latterly coach of the Cincinnati Reds, and currently their excellent reserve backstop.

Three seasons ago he said the years were catching up and gave the kids a chance to make their marks.

The situation, briefly: It's none too certain that Ernie Lombardi will be able to catch all the series games for the Reds, and any unexpected strain on that game foot may bench him.

If Lombardi isn't ready, Jimmy is, and maybe the Detroit Tigers will never know the difference.

After Willard Hershberger's death, Jimmy took the sack. He played in 16 games, caught both ends of one doubleheader, and skinned most of the runners who thought they could steal a base.

Offensively he turned in nine hits in 37 tries for a .243 batting average. Two of these were doubles, one of which knocked in the winning run of a valuable game. Nothing sensational—just some hits where they were worth about $1,000 apiece to the club.

If you think his 40-year-old legs need firecrackers, witness that he beat out a bunt and stole a base—the latter in the final game of the season.

So keep an eye on James if he gets in.

Undefeated Olney Cubs To Be Here Friday Night

Crain Will Be Ready To Go Against Indiana

(By The Associated Press)
Injuries were at a minimum today as Southwest conference football squads prepared for one championship game and several important inter-sectional titles.

Jack Crain, University of Texas star who went out of the game with Colorado last week, was found to have only a slight hip injury. He will be ready to go against Indiana at Bloomington, Ind. Saturday.

The Baylor university squad reported no injuries as the Bears prepared to leave tomorrow night for Denver and their clash with Denver university Friday night.

Arkansas had Delbert Wolf, a halfback, at practice again after being out three weeks because of a broken hand. The Razorbacks play Texas Christian university at Fort Worth Saturday in the conference opener.

Texas A. and M. had only the customary bumps and bruises as the Aggies prepared for their game with Tulsa university at San Antonio Saturday.

Only Roland Goss, an end, was ailing as Southern Methodist worked the kinks out from the long trip from California where the Mustangs beat U. C. L. A. The ponies play North Texas Teachers at Dallas Saturday.

The Rice Owls open the season this week in a game against Centenary at Houston.

Gents Travel Far From Centenary

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 7 (AP)—The Centenary Gentlemen can claim a record of some sort, at least for their section, as football travelers. They played Texas Christian at Fort Worth last Saturday, go to Houston to meet Rice this week, then after a home game against St. Louis university, they travel to Tucson to face Arizona. Other "road" games this season include Washington university at St. Louis, Southwestern at Memphis and Texas Tech at Lubbock.

Today's Guest Star

When Tom Stidham ordered secret practices for his Oklahoma U. gridder, Sports Editor Head quipped in the Bartlesville (Okla.) Enterprise: Sweethearts, sisters, cousins—Stidham bans 'em by the dozens.

Coach Jack Meagher of Auburn got the scare of his life the other day when Bob Flournoy, classy halfback, went up in a plane and had to make a forced landing near his gas ran out. . . . The main idea out here right now is try to get a hotel room.

Help, Help!

Johnny Law, the old Notre Dame star, now in recreation director at Walkill prison, Walkill, N. Y. . . . He's asking his old friends among coaches to send him one complete uniform with two or three games left in it. . . . Also, any other old paraphernalia, such as balls, etc. Now is the time for Johnny's pals to get busy.

Thirteen members of the Wisconsin grid squad will play musical instruments and if Coach Harry Suhdrather can find himself a drummer, he can start a swing band in case the going gets too tough. . . . Disgusted Dept. Marvin Cress of the Spencer (N. C.) high, made too touchdown runs of 98 and 85 yards vs. Winston-Salem the other day, but both times he was called back by "that man."

Percentage .333

As Charles Turner of Columbia, Mo., puts it, if only Taft and the Indians had come through along with the Reds, wouldn't Ohio have had one hell of a year.

BITS ABOUT BOWLING

Only one series was rolled in Class B last night, Coca Cola taking three straight from Texas company. High game of the night was 201 pins with high series of 550 pins, both going to Schlemeyer.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ
CINCINNATI, Oct. 7 (AP)—This fine old city is baseball crazier than it was when we shovled in a year ago. . . . Maybe it's because the Reds haven't already lost a pair to the Yanks. . . . At any rate, if the fever is any worse when we move on to Detroit, we're going to head for the nearest storm shelter and stay there for the duration. . . . Even the sober-faced Deacon Bill McKechnie is going around with crackling (the Deacon wasn't feeling so pert when he brought the boys home after those first two games in New York last year.)

Stanley Scherr, commission chairman, said the move was directed against the "New York boxing monopoly" in general.

The action came, Scherr declared, after he was advised by Eddie Mead, Armstrong's manager, that the titleholder could not fight anywhere without the consent of Promoter Mike Jacobs of New York.

Efforts had been made to match Armstrong with the winner of the Oct. 14 bout here between Louis (Kid) Coccoa of New Haven, Conn., and Izzy Janazzo of New York.

Scherr said Mead told him Jacobs would not permit the champion to meet Coccoa.

"If Armstrong intends to limit his fights to second and third raters, there is no reason why Maryland should recognize him," Scherr said.

"Maryland will recognize the Coccoa-Janazzo bout, scheduled for the 15-round title distance, as a championship event."

Beating Of U. S. Oil Man In Rumania Protested By U. S.

BUCHAREST, Oct. 7 (AP)—The United States legation filed a strong protest with the Rumanian government today over the arrest and mistreatment of H. L. Freeman, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., oil man.

The note spoke of the "illegality" of his arrest and reported beating by iron guards and demanded full satisfaction.

Freeman was arrested last week in the investigation into an alleged plot to sabotage oil wells. He denied implication.

Newark Clashes With Louisville In Little World Series

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 7 (AP)—Louisville's Colonels, playoff champions of the American association, clash here tomorrow night with Newark of the International league in the little World Series.

The Colonels, who finished fourth in seasonal play 19 games behind the leading Kansas City Blues, sank the Blues here last night 3 to 0 to win the playoff 4 to 2.

Newark defeated Baltimore 3 to 2 last night to take the international playoff.

Ward Schools Battle Today And Tomorrow

Harvester football stars of four or five years from now will take over Harvester's field this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon to continue the ward school series.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon, the Woodrow Wilson and Horace Mann teams will battle while tomorrow afternoon at the same hour Sam Houston and Baker meet.

Horace Mann took Baker and Sam Houston did the same to Woodrow Wilson in opening games last week.

The ward school elevens will play every Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons until the season ends on October 30.

Classes At Miami Name Grid Queens

MIAMI, Oct. 7 (AP)—Each of the classes in high school met this week and elected class candidates for the annual election of football queen. She will be crowned October 25, when the Warriors meet Follett on the home field.

Maryland Declares Henry Armstrong's Championship Vacant

BALTIMORE, Oct. 7 (AP)—Asserting it was "time to stop the tying up of boxers and smash monopolies" the Maryland State Boxing commission declared Henry Armstrong's welterweight championship vacant today.

Stanley Scherr, commission chairman, said the move was directed against the "New York boxing monopoly" in general.

The action came, Scherr declared, after he was advised by Eddie Mead, Armstrong's manager, that the titleholder could not fight anywhere without the consent of Promoter Mike Jacobs of New York.

Efforts had been made to match Armstrong with the winner of the Oct. 14 bout here between Louis (Kid) Coccoa of New Haven, Conn., and Izzy Janazzo of New York.

Scherr said Mead told him Jacobs would not permit the champion to meet Coccoa.

"If Armstrong intends to limit his fights to second and third raters, there is no reason why Maryland should recognize him," Scherr said.

"Maryland will recognize the Coccoa-Janazzo bout, scheduled for the 15-round title distance, as a championship event."

Smart Spitz Dog

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 7 (AP)—Lady, a little spitz dog, suffered a broken leg when hit by an auto.

She limped straight to a hospital, made her way down the long halls to the emergency room and whined in pain until she attracted an interne.

Lady's leg was set in a plaster cast.

Peewees Hunting Games For Next Three Weeks

College football teams that boast of having men on their team from several states have nothing on the Pampa Junior high Peewees, Coach Jack Davis reports.

Only four out of the squad of 40 were born in Pampa. Kenneth Bessley, Virgil Fish, John Lindsey and Charles Hatcher made their first appearance in this world during the prosperous year of 1928 in Pampa.

The birthplaces were scattered all the way from Chicago, Ill., to Rockfield, Calif. More of the boys were born in Oklahoma than in Texas.

The Sooner state led with 19, while the Lone Star state ran a close second with 17. In addition to the four states mentioned above, New Mexico and Kentucky were listed.

The Peewees went through a lengthy workout Monday. Although the team won over Stinnet Friday, 12-7, many weak spots showed up and the boys are determined to iron these spots out before their next game.

The guards practiced staying low and charging fast on defense while the tackles worked on blocking and tackling. The backs worked for 30 minutes on running interference, side-stepping, stiff-arming, and bucking the line.

Captain Johnny Campbell, who led his team to victory by taking to the air lanes in the fourth quarter last week, was still tossing the pigskin in workout. Joe Cree and Randall Clay continued to look good at end as each caught a touchdown pass in a scrimmage with the B team.

Where do we go from here? This is the question the Peewees are asking, as they have no games scheduled for the next three weeks. Letters have been sent to most all schools in this section but so far no games have been secured.

The team average is 96 pounds. The heaviest boy on the starting line-up weighs 168 pounds, and the lightest 90 pounds.

Nashville Wins Dixie Series

HOUSTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Nashville Volunteers, contemplating the joys of revenge, rolled home today with a present for the home folks—the Dixie series championship.

Last year the Vols submitted meekly to a pummeling by the fourth-place Fort Worth Cats, but this season they retaliated by trouncing the honest-to-goodness champions of the Texas league—the Houston Buffs.

To make the cake sweeter, the Southern association club turned the stunt in simple fashion, taking four games to Houston's one.

The Buffs did their bit toward Nashville's cause, throwing away silver-plated opportunities in the clinching game last night through poor fielding and failure to hit in the clutch.

The Volunteers won the game, 5-3, with two unearned runs in the tenth.

Jeffcoat, strikeout king of the Southern association, fanned eight Buffs.

'Big Brothers' Club Organized By LeFors Men

LEFORS, Oct. 1.—The "Big Brothers' club" of LeFors met last week with 44 members present. This organization is being sponsored by the responsible men of the community for the purpose of backing the athletes of LeFors school.

The organization is causing a lot of interest among the fans as well as the athletes. One hundred members will be enrolled before the drive is complete. Already 96 members have been signed now and the 100 mark will be reached this week.

A meeting is being called by Toby Waggoner for Thursday night and a president of the club will be selected. An urgent call goes out to the Big Brothers of LeFors to have 100 members present Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock at high school gym.

13 Mexicans Jailed Sunday To Be Freed

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 7 (AP)—Thirteen persons, arrested Sunday for creating minor disturbances during the ceremony officially proclaiming Avila Camacho president-elect of Mexico, will be released today on orders of Federal District Police Chief Jose Manuel Nunez.

The police chief said the disorders were a "matter of slight importance" and promised to drop charges. Among those detained was Lieutenant Colonel Alfonso Rubio, a member of the political party of presidential claimant Juan Almazan.

Japanese Freighter Kept At Galveston

GALVESTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—A variety of causes kept the freighter Panamanian, loaded with gasoline for Japan, in port here today.

The freighter, carrying about 65,000 drums of gasoline, is having difficulty getting necessary government authorization, the Galveston News says.

Also, the paper declared, the ship which received minor damage in a collision with another ship Sunday night, is being picked up by the U. S. National Maritime union of unlicensed seamen, protesting her taking a gasoline cargo to Japan.

Fifteen or 20 members of the crew have quit ship.

The Panamanian loaded lead cargo for Japan at Brownsville, before going to Texas city about 10 days ago to take her gasoline in drums. The ship has taken bunker fuel in Bolivar Roads here preparatory to leaving.

Berlin Stays In Shelters Five Hours

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Oct. 1.—"Highly successful" air raids on Britain, particularly London, were reported by the high command today while Germans minimized the effectiveness of British raiders who gave Berlin its longest alarm of the war last night.

"Our air force attacked war essential objectives in England by day and night in closed formations and with numerous individual planes," said the high command's report of the preceding 24 hours. "The severest attacks were centered on London as well as the sea region of the British Isles."

It acknowledged "a strong defense" of London, but said the raids, especially during the day, were "extremely successful" and declared that, in all, Britain lost 68 war planes against German losses of 31 yesterday. (The British said 47 German and 22 British planes were downed.)

Listed among the Luftwaffe's hits were: an airport in southern England, an airport, a southern harbor, a 10,000-ton merchantman sunk off Ireland, and a convoy off Scotland, dispersing eight British merchant ships totalling 49,760 tons.

Nazi long-range guns also shelled ships in Dover harbor "with visible success," the high command said, and submarines were credited with sinking eight British merchant ships totalling 49,760 tons.

Of Britain's air losses, four were chalked up to Nazi night fighter planes and six to anti-aircraft fire, presumably during the raids over western Germany and Berlin last night in which, Nazi sources said, British pilots were "noises" sent over more for training than for heavy bombing.

The raids were said to have been directed against populous industrial western Germany and the Berlin suburbs, where several persons were reported injured by a heavy bomb which exploded near three apartment buildings.

The alarm kept Berlin's residents in shelters five hours and eight minutes.

It was the third consecutive night of alarms for Berlin's 4,000,000.

A missile was heard landing a few blocks from the Associated Press office, but authorized sources said they had no report of a bomb falling in that vicinity and suggested it might have been an anti-aircraft shell.

Enlisted Men Begin Drawing Highest Pay Since 1918

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 (AP)—Army and marine corps enlisted men today began drawing the highest pay since the World War, thanks to the decision of congress to raise a new citizenry soldierly.

With the increased rates effective October 1, it may be possible for selective service trainees to earn as high as $66 a month as privates, even more if they become sergeants.

However, all rookies will start at $21 a month. The pay rises to $30 after four months, except for men who are adjudged to be inefficient or otherwise unfit.

That rate equals the World War wage of $30 for service in the United States. Overseas pay was $33 plus $15 a month given to the family of any man who made an equal $15 allotment to his dependents.

Voted by congress in the selective service act, the new pay increase was intended to equalize difference between military and navy rates and to make army life more desirable for conscripts.

Col. Harrington, WPA Head, Dies

NEW LONDON, Conn., Oct. 1 (AP)—Colonel P. C. Harrington, 83, who capped a brilliant army career by becoming head of vast Works Projects administration, died here last night at the Lawrence and Memorial Associated hospitals.

Suffering from what his physician described as an intestinal obstruction, Harrington underwent an operation September 23 and apparently was on the road to recovery, able to converse by telephone with his aides in Washington as recently as last Friday. Complications developed, however, and his condition became critical Sunday.

His two children, William, a student at Yale, and Miss Eleanor, were at his bedside. They are his only immediate survivors. His wife died in February, 1938.

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The important situation of the day centers in the meeting between Signor Mussolini and Spanish Envoy Sener in Rome to discuss Spain's part in Axis plans to reduce the Great British stronghold of Gibraltar as an essential phase of the effort to smash England's domination of the Mediterranean.

I have discussed this situation so thoroughly already, that I suggest we await further developments and turn our attention today to England's general position in face of this and other serious threats. This thought is inspired by a letter I have received from a New York resident who has a German name and obvious Nazi sympathies, recently taking me to task because I have ventured the view that England isn't yet beaten.

He (or she) declares the British are licked and don't know it. My correspondent says I'm letting my imagination run away with me, and further depose:

"Nineteen days (now 24) of the bombardment of London and England is a rather long time for the German Luftwaffe, I admit, but if you knew anything about German thoroughness, endurance and power or were willing to admit it, you would have begun to worry about your British friends ever since they lost their good sense and declared this war on Germany. This even if the Germans do not perform the expected daily miracle of doing the impossible.

"Britain is licked, only in accordance with British custom and precedent it takes them a little longer to realize it than it does anyone else."

I receive much comment on this column—some favorable, some accusing me of being anti-Nazi and pro-British, and some charging that I am pro-Nazi and anti-British. It isn't wholly pleasant to be damned but I get consolation from the fact that the damning is so equally distributed as to give me hope that after all I'm keeping an even keel.

I still believe that Herr Hitler isn't in position to impose peace terms on England, great as have been his achievements.

England isn't out of the woods yet. It's safe to say she would be if she had not underestimated the undoubted "German thoroughness, endurance and power." At this moment she is bracing herself for two threatened crises—the projected assault on Gibraltar, and a possible Nazi attempt to invade England.

Then there is the danger that rests in the terrible punishment which England, and London in particular, is receiving from bombing.

There arrives a point at which human endurance can stand no more. There has been no indication thus far that London can't take it. On the contrary, the people have stood it amazingly well. Still the danger is there. Having assessed all these hazards against England, we are entitled in order to maintain balance, to remember that (1) the British blockade still is tight and strong, that (2) the entire continent of Europe already is being squeezed so hard that there are signs of approaching hunger in many places, that (3) by the same token vital war supplies are getting low, that (4) Britain has been gaining strength, and that (5) because of all this the axis needs a quick victory before the blockade garrotes it.

Rome Admits Spain Won't Enter War

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, Oct. 1.—Authoritative sources declared today that immediate Spanish entry into the European war was not an issue at conferences started this morning between Premier Mussolini and Generalissimo Francisco Franco's minister of government Ramon Serrano Suner.

Italo-German friendship for Spain, it was said, will not permit any pressure upon Spain to step into an active part in the war.

The Rome talks were said to have "a very important aim—already reached—of reinforcing, clarifying and making precise the identity of views between the nationalist Spain of Generalissimo Franco and the two victorious Axis powers."

The source added that England probably would "shoot victory" and say that "Spain rejected this pressure," but that no such pressure had been brought to bear.

The Spanish envoy's first talk with Mussolini was finished at 12:35 p. m. Serrano Suner then went to lunch with Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano.

Foreign observers said they believed Serrano Suner and Mussolini would put the final touches to an understanding defining Spain's part in the Italian-German plans to conquer Gibraltar.

In general the Fascist press reflected a belief that Spain could be used in the Axis scheme as a base for attack on Gibraltar without entering into an outright military alliance.

Il Popolo di Roma declared: "Spain's position as it will remain for the present is that of being vigilant and watching over all that happens in the European world, ready at the opportune moment to use

Mexico May Sell Scrap Iron To Japs

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 1 (AP)—Mexico is expected in business circles to find an increased market for scrap iron in Japan, now faced with an embargo on scrap iron shipments from the United States.

Mexico recently asked for bids on 100,000 to 150,000 tons of scrap iron. Bids were received from Japan, the United States and Canada.

Part of the iron is held by the government-owned national railways and the remainder by the government-owned industry.

$10,000,000 In Souvenirs Swiped From U. S. Hotels

SEATTLE, Oct. 1 (AP)—Souvenir snatchers cost the nation's hotels an estimated $10,000,000 last year—and the towels, blankets, silver and knickknacks are still disappearing.

It's really a staggering total when the hotel managers add up the missing items at a year's end, commented Mrs. Grace H. Woolley, manager of the national membership division of the American Hotel association, who estimated the figure while here for the American Hotel association convention, opening Wednesday.

SERIAL STORY

THIS COULD BE YOUR STORY

BY MARGUERITE GAHAGAN

COPYRIGHT 1940 NEA SERVICE, INC.

All characters, organizations and incidents of this serial are entirely fictitious.

YESTERDAY: At the gambling place, Sue Mary overheard Clark and Vera discussing young Clark. He is in debt. Vera has suggested he sell his own property for the airport site. If he does, it will defeat the governor, an old friend of Ross Clark, Sr. Joe tells Sue Mary he saw Nick in a picture house.

SUE MARY IS WATCHED

CHAPTER XX

SUE MARY felt they were watching her. She felt that Vera watched her at the office, and that Natalie watched her every moment at the apartment. While she was waiting on a cleaning cream before the mirror she looked up to see Natalie reflected there, her eyes staring at Sue Mary's face. Somehow she managed to smile.

"I can't seem to keep powder on," she said pointlessly. "This heat's terrible." But she felt rather than saw the watchfulness in Natalie's answering smile.

And Joe, too, was watching her. Tomorrow her week of grace would be up and still she had not moved from the apartment, still she had not broken with the Y.P. group.

She knew that he would wait for her to call him and say she had broken her word. Joe's word was good. If he promised her to do something he would do it, and he expected Sue Mary to do likewise.

She tried not to think of what he would believe. All her promises of love, all her plans for their future—what would he think, what would he think, when he knew she had broken her word? She had made no move to change the situation of which he so thoroughly disapproved.

So she didn't call him. It was their night to have a date, but she didn't try to find him. She didn't know what she could say, what explanation she could offer that wouldn't involve him, too, in this nightmare through which she felt she was moving. And she didn't hear from him.

Another week went by. The papers carried stories of the airport site committee meeting and promising to have a site selected in a few days.

Campaign ballyhoo was mounting. Governor Miller's forces emphasized the need of keeping in office a man of integrity, a man who had safeguarded the interests of the people in the past; a man who saw the need of national defense, and a man with a sane view of the future.

to tear him down; continued to stress the necessity of putting Fritz King in office; a man who would help the workers; who would not permit the state money to be spent on needless defense expenditures, while the relief budget would be pared, and the capitalists would benefit.

OUT at the Smithson factory the picket line continued to grow. One department had shut down and Gull Plane announced it would have to go behind schedule unless it got parts immediately.

Vera continued to go out with Young Ross Clark. Kitty's eyes were continually stormy and her mouth tightened into a red bow as she filed and typed and watched Vera.

It was late afternoon when Miss Grant called Sue Mary.

"I'm sorry to do this to you at such an hour," she apologized. "But Mr. Clark is home. Sick again. Too much worry and work. Anyway, he wants to dictate some notes and he needs some papers and you're the only one I can send."

"You'll have to work late, but you can take time off tomorrow. Come back here tonight and finish the work he gives you and then sleep in tomorrow. Will you do it?"

Sue Mary was glad to have to work. It might take her mind off her own problems. "Yes," she said. "Of course I'll do it, and I really don't mind."

THE big Clark house was quiet. She had a glimpse of the dining room as the butler ushered her to the library where she and Mr. Clark would work. Candle light flickered on the big table throwing shadows on the crystal and china and linen, and a maid in black with a white starched apron and tiny cap, such as one saw in the movies, was fixing flowers. And in the library, old Ross Clark munched a sandwich and sipped a glass of milk.

"Indigestion," he said, gruffly, and Sue Mary wondered just how much enjoyment he got from his fortune, when worry and responsibility could make him turn into such a haggard, gray-old man.

They worked steadily, accomplishing much, until finally he pushed the papers away and sank back in his chair.

"We've done a good day's work," he said. "You're no quitter." She didn't know how to answer. As long as he was impersonal, as her boss, she could meet him, but when he became just a weary, sick, old man, grateful to her for her help, she couldn't find words. "You know my son?" he demanded.

"Not often," he said. "Not often. He doesn't like work. Not our kind anyway. The new generation. We've slipped up somehow with them. They lack what it takes. They want life the easy way."

He lighted a cigar and seemed to forget her presence. Then he said, "What about that Vera Oliver—the dark-haired one? He sees her, doesn't he?"

Sue Mary caught her breath. She felt a hidden strength, an abrupt awareness in the old man. "I believe so."

"You know so. Everyone does. He's a fool. I thought when the governor appointed him to that airport committee he might settle down. He likes aviation. He can fly a plane. I thought when Russell named him to that board he'd be serious. But I don't know. I don't know."

It was then that Mrs. Clark came in the room. She was a slight woman, her hair turning gray.

"You've worked too hard and much too long, Ross," she said, smoothing his hair. "You're tired, and this young woman must be tired as well. If you won't spare yourself you should at least think of others." Her voice was low and kind. Clark looked at her and smiled.

"Maybe so, my dear. I guess I have kept this young lady here too long. We'll send her down in the car. I'm afraid some of this work must be done tonight, too."

Sue Mary smiled at them both. "It's all right. I knew it had to be done. I'll rest in the morning."

"Well, I hope someone can rest," he said, and his wife laughed and took Sue Mary's arm. "The car will be right here, my dear." She stopped at the table in the big hall and touched a vase of roses. "Would you like these? They're from my garden."

Out in the car, speeding back to town, Sue Mary buried her tired face in the fragrance of the flowers. Old Ross Clark, for all his illness and age, knew his son, and she believed, feared what he might do.

But, she told herself, he has no idea just how far he'll go, or how easily he can be led—with Vera to do the leading and Nick the suggesting.

scription program and a greatly expanded standing army. The tax bill was expected to clear the house today. Because of the anti-adjourning sentiment in a deluge of letters to congressmen, it was explained, all hopes of winding up the present session have been discarded. Instead, the objective has become a recess until after the Nov. 5 election.

Conscription Group Will Be Healthiest In Nation's History

(Editor's note: This is the first of a series of articles, "Health for New Army," outlining precautions that will be taken to safeguard trainees under the national defense program.)

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH
Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. — The army of 400,000 men who will take the oath of allegiance shortly after registration day, October 16, will be the healthiest conscription group in the nation's history.

Never has there been a more rugged group answering the call to the colors.

Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general of the United States public health service, says the whole American people are in better physical condition than at any previous time, and the army will choose its men in the most thorough physical and mental examinations medical science has devised.

Physical requirements will not be as strict as those used in selecting men for the regular army in peacetime, but the men chosen will be near-perfect physical specimens. In addition to checking every detail from ingrowing toenails to dandruff, inspecting boards will make rudimentary mental tests indicating the prospective soldier's ability to stand up under the strain of unusual camp conditions, training marches, and the pounding of rifle and cannon fire on maneuvers.

Local draft boards and the physicians in local communities will do the preliminary sifting of those called up for examination and as many as thirty per cent may be eliminated immediately because of poor teeth, flat feet, hernias, hemorrhoids, tonsillitis, vision, venereal disease and other ailments. None will be excused from possible duty but will be put on a deferred status under which they are subject to call.

Examining boards and physicians in communities who know the prospective draftees may eliminate some war department officials said.

THE STORY OF YOUR NEWSPAPER

I AM YOUR REPORTER

This is one of a series telling the story of your newspaper. The Pampa News is presenting the articles in connection with National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1-8.

I'm your newspaper reporter. You know me well, because I am your second self. While your jobs and responsibilities keep you busy, I serve as your eyes and ears. I see and hear for you the many things you have neither the time nor means to see and hear for yourself.

Your bank is robbed at midnight. You are asleep, but I am there for you.

Your council meets at noon. You are at work, but I am there for you.

For you, I am all things to all men. The fat politician, the noisy reformer, the hunted criminal, the executive, the housewife, the guy with the pick on a WPA job—I talk to them all, and they talk to me.

For you I walk through the broken doors of tenements and the marble entrances of palaces. I walk the hard, hot asphalt of the streets, and the cool, soft rugs of tycoons' offices. I listen when controversies rage. I hear when self-appointed saviors speak.

I see and hear—and impart to you information upon which you may form your own judgment. Thus I help you to vote wisely, to choose well, to order the way of your democracy.

Because I live in a democracy, I am free to write as I see and hear. No Gestapo agent jogs by elbow when my soft, black pencil writes what I have heard for you. No OGPU spy silences my battered typewriter's keys as they clatter out the story I have witnessed for you. Few men and women own this precious freedom today. I must guard it well. I write—fearlessly, dispassionately, without prejudice—what I see and hear. It isn't quite history, and it isn't quite literature, but it has living blood. I sift the grain of importance from the chaff of unimportant detail in what one man says or another man does—hoping that I will impart to you a true picture of what goes on in this peculiar world of ours.

That's why, at high noon or at bleak midnight, I am ready at the jangle of a telephone bell, at the staccato chatter of the city editor.

That's why I'm always at the scene—when fire engines roll; when men can't wait for the law, but turn to knife or gun or bludgeon; when orators debate; when men with power meet to shape destiny.

That's why I may seem hard-boiled, callous, tough when I snoop around and ask impertinent questions.

It is because you want to see and hear the truth. And I am your reporter.

NEXT: Your newspaper artist.

California Has 5,000 Boats In 'Mosquito Fleet'

By FRANKLIN ARTHUR
SAN PEDRO, Calif., Oct. 1. (AP)—The marines have landed. . . .

The colonel smiled as he gave the old and famous report.

Standing on the shore at Johnson's Bay on Santa Catalina Island, Col. D. G. Oglesby had just watched a company of 80 barefoot marine reserves jump from the decks of a fleet of yachts, splash through knee-deep rollers to shore and with rifles ready "capture" a land-head as an invasion base.

"It is a highly successful operation," the commandant of Los Angeles area reserves announced.

It marked the unveiling of Southern California's "Mosquito Fleet," a squadron of small boats which probably would be quickly pressed into service for shore patrol if the United States went to war. There are some 5,000 such craft in local waters, ranging up to palatial 120-foot yachts.

The immediate operation, the colonel explained, was offensive.

"Suppose," he said, "some power has seized one of the Hawaiian Islands. Our job would be to get it back. Hundreds of these boats could be shipped across by transport and used to land forces for an attack. Because of their low draft and easy handling, they can approach to a few feet of shore."

But the fleet's major purpose, he indicated, is defensive.

"Almost all of them can mount machine guns effectively," he went on. "A majority can carry one-pound cannon, some larger. And torpedo tubes can be attached to the sides of all but the smallest."

Los Angeles' unit of the U. S. power squadrons is the fleet's nucleus.
