OPPOSITION IN SENATE WILL BE DECISIVE

Sterling Says Action Futile If Solons Would Not Pass Law; Talks of Hanging to Highest Limb

LONG IMPATIENT Georgia Governor Is Ready to Convene Legislature If Texas Acts; Time Now Short for Relief.

AUSTIN, Sept. 3. (AP)—Gov. R. S. Sterling said today a tabulation of replies from Texas senators showed a majority of them opposed any plan to control cotton acreage by law and he believed it would be futile to call a special session to consider cotton acreage control.

These figures later were changed and Governor Sterling said it appeared to him it would be futile to summon a special session when a majority of members in one house opposed acreage reduction legislation.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 3. (AP)—The south today looked to Texas, producer of a third of the nation's cotton crop, to lead the way toward solution of the cotton surplus problem and resultant economic complications.

Two definite proposals have been made for state control of cotton production and both of these depend upon concurrence to become operative.

Louisiana has adopted a law prohibiting growth of cotton in 1932 and Governor Murray of Oklahoma has said he would initiate a proposed law to provide a board for control of cotton production.

The Louisiana plan, sponsored by Governor Huey P. Long, who broadcast a vigorous appeal for its support last night by radio, becomes operative on concurrence by states producing three-fourths of the cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 3. (AP)—After scanning dispatches indicating that Governor Ross Sterling of Texas would not call a special legislative session for cotton crop curtailment, Gov. Huey P. Long, leader in the 1932 cotton prohibition proposal, said here today that "we will put the fires under Governor Sterling again" in an effort to have the Texas lawmakers assemble.

In a statement in which he said that "the governor of Texas is being misled," Long declared: "He is a bad interpreter of the real wishes of his people. If I feel confident of this."

New Town of Denworth on Route of Fort Worth & Denver Will Be Opened Soon in East Gray County

Denworth, a new townsite on the route of the Fort Worth & Denver railroad, will be opened in the near future, it was announced today. The location is 16 miles east of LeFors and 12 miles north of McLean on the Laketon-McLean highway. It is 19 miles west of Magic City and 18 miles south of Laketon. The site is at Morse oil pool on the North Fork.

Modern conveniences, including water, lights, gas and telephones will be ready to hook up on opening day. D. E. Davis and C. E. House, LeFors business men, will develop the townsite. Mr. House said today that he and Mr. Davis had had previous townsite experience, and that they intended to have a clean, modern town in an area which has long needed a railroad.

There are already about 300 families in the territory tributary to Denworth, and 200 oil and gas wells within a radius of 5 miles, he said. Cotton and wheat are raised on the adjacent farming land.

Francis Ouimet and McCarthy Golf Favorites

Associated Press Sports Editor BEVERLY COUNTRY CLUB, CHICAGO, Sept. 3. (AP)—Maurice J. McCarthy Jr., of New York, black haired son of a professional, and Francis Ouimet of Boston, 38-year-old veteran of many a golfing war, assumed the roles of favorites today in the United States amateur championship by assuming overwhelming leads in the quarter-final matches.

At the 18th hole, or half way stage of the all day battle among the "last eight," McCarthy furnished the biggest sensation by shooting Beverly's layout in 71, even par, to gain a lead of seven up on Fay Coleman of Los Angeles, last title hope of the far west.

Ouimet, not so spectacular, but equally as steady, shook off his 21-year-old rival, diminutive Paul Jackson, of Kansas City, and led by six up. The veteran Bostonian, in one of his greatest comeback bids, negotiated the round in 74 and lost only one hole.

The other two matches were both closely fought and the tide turned in each on the inward nine holes. Lester Bolstad of St. Paul, former public links champion, after being two down, to Billy Howell of Richmond at the turn, took advantage of the young Virginian's wildness and was two up himself at the end of the round. Howell's 44 on the last nine, his worst golf of the tournament, was costly as Bolstad found his 80 for the round good enough to secure a lead.

Chicago's district champion, Jack Westland, overhauled his big rival, Arthur (Ducky) Yates, of Rochester, N. Y., and was one up after 18 holes of ding dong golf. Yates lost it for the second time, at the home hole, after pulling all square at the 17th. Westland's 77 and his rival's 79 for the round represented erratic play.

Court Receives Paving Estimates

Concrete paving for 2,424 miles on the Miami road, extending from the pavement north, and for 2,088 miles on the Pampa-LeFors road, extending from the pavement southeast, will cost approximately $18,800 per mile, according to estimates submitted to county commissioners yesterday by County Engineer A. H. Doucette. Mr. Doucette was instructed to prepare specifications for concrete paving on the two projects at a meeting of the commissioners yesterday.

RELATIONS IN STRAIN WHEN RACE MOVED

Oriental Groceriesmen and Farm Operators Told to Get Out of Two States by Next Saturday. CHINA AROUSED Fear for Lives and Property Is Felt Despite Some Assurance of Protection by Mexican Government.

NANKING, China, Sept. 3. (AP)—C. T. Wang, foreign minister of the nationalist government, said today relations between China and Mexico had been strained "to the breaking point" since negotiations with Mexico City regarding the anti-Chinese movement in Sonora and Sinaloa had proved abortive.

"Desirous of obtaining a satisfactory settlement," said Wang, "China requested the American government, which accepted to arbitrate the present dispute in accordance with the international convention at the second conference at the Hague.

The American government further consented to grant temporary residence in United States territory to Chinese nationals compelled to evacuate Sonora and Sinaloa in order to avoid outward incidents.

Wang outlined the growth of the anti-Chinese movement in Mexico since June, saying it was especially acute in Sonora and Sinaloa, where 80 to 90 per cent of the grocery stores were Chinese owned. He said the situation was further aggravated by the return of those states of thousands of Mexicans who had lost their jobs in the United States owing to the depression.

MEXICO CITY, September 3. (AP)—The Chinese consul at Hermosillo, capital of Sonora, informed Chinese Minister Sam Young here by telephone last night that he was optimistic in regard to a settlement of the question of guarantees for Chinese nationals in Sonora.

Young also received a report from Cananea, Sonora, saying Chinese there had been ordered to leave by tomorrow. Experts say there is little difference in the nutritive value of a bushel of wheat and a bushel of corn.

For the past few months, they calculated, that wheat has been much cheaper than corn for feeding purposes. Statistics recently were obtained through wheat feeding in most of the instances that have come to the department's attention. Horses thrive on it provided there is a proper mixture of other feedstuffs.

Three or four among a group of 36 Illinois farmers who reported the results of wheat feeding were disappointed, seven said results were better than those obtained from corn and 23 believed they were as good. The Minnesota experiment station recently estimated that the cost of adding 100 pounds of weight to cattle was $4.75 where corn cost 55 cents a bushel was fed. Using wheat bought at 38 cents, the cost of adding the 100 pounds was lowered to $3.03.

LIONS HEAR OF WELFARE NEED

An address by the Rev. James Todd Jr., vocal solos by Miss Audrey Noel, and a discussion of the unemployment and hospitalization problems were included in the Lions club program today. Mr. Garner outlined the need for jobs of any kind or extent, and cited state laws governing hospitalization. He said that the extent of welfare work was much greater than at this time last year.

Ralph Thomas, program chairman, announced that 51 local yards were being judged by Jack Hudson, Claude, in the Lions club contest, and that he found the quality of entries very good. Visitors today included George Hobart, Mrs. Irvin Cole, Dick Hughes, Grant Wiser, the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, Claude Williams of McLean, and Harry Kelley of Dallas.

CHEROKEE JOE RELEASED TO JACKSBORO OFFICERS

Wichita Falls Youth Had Been Held in Amarillo on Robbery Charges.

AMARILLO, Sept. 3. (AP)—Joe Taylor, Wichita Falls youth, who was charged with being an accomplice of the Davis boys, Colquitt and D. L., in two Amarillo robberies, has been released to Jacksboro, Texas.

Taylor, who had been in the Potter county jail since the latter part of June, first proved that he is a juvenile, and the charges against him were transferred to County Judge Sam B. Motlow. Taylor then proved an alibi, numerous witnesses coming from Wichita Falls to testify they saw the youth near that city on Dec. 11, the day the Davis boys robbed two Amarillo grocery stores. Store employes and customers said an Indian youth aided the Davises, and some of them identified Taylor as the third hold-up man.

Jail Warden John W. Graves said that Wichita, Kans., had claimed Taylor after some disposition is made of his case at Jacksboro. An Indian youth was in the gun fight with Wichita officers Dec. 12, when D. I. Davis was fatally wounded.

Wheat Will Go To Market—But Not as Grain

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3. (AP)—An increasing portion of the wheat surplus this year will reach the market in the form of livestock and poultry.

Some of the grain was fed last year but many farmers were slow to put it in the feed bins because it was a new thing in their experience. Reports to the agriculture department this year, however, indicate that the continued price decline has broken down inhibitions.

The department and the farm board approve. Experts say there is little difference in the nutritive value of a bushel of wheat and a bushel of corn. For the past few months, they calculated, that wheat has been much cheaper than corn for feeding purposes.

Statistics recently were obtained through wheat feeding in most of the instances that have come to the department's attention. AMARILLO MAN HELD FOR BURGLARY

AMARILLO, Sept. 3. (AP)—Horace Wells was in the Potter county jail today charged in connection with the recent burglary of a box car and the theft of $1,000 worth of cigars. Wells' bond was set at $5,000. His bondsmen also asked to be released on an $8,000 appeal bond in a liquor case. He is under bond of $1,000 at Roswell, New Mex., in connection with an attempted filling station burglary.

Hallie Gantz is leaving today for Phillips university, Enid, where he will take a masters degree in the spring. An address by the Rev. James Todd Jr., vocal solos by Miss Audrey Noel, and a discussion of the unemployment and hospitalization problems were included in the Lions club program today.

Josh Lee Cannot Speak in Pampa

Josh Lee, noted Oklahoma humorist, will be unable to speak in Pampa Saturday as scheduled.

Professor Lee called Dr. R. A. Webb this morning to notify him that urgent business in Woodward, Oklahoma would prevent the lecture here.

The humorist owns a ranch near Woodward. He is at the teachers institute in Canyon today. FLOYDADA, Sept. 3. (AP)—Outstanding development this morning in the search for E. B. Mayhew of Floydada was the discovery that Mayhew passed Wednesday night at a farm house about 20 miles north of here and at sunrise this morning left in the direction of Quitaque.

Sheriff J. M. Dight and several other men left for Quitaque in an attempt to find fresher trace of the missing man, who evidently had planned to commit suicide and then changed his mind. Mayhew is about 45 years old and father of two grown sons and a daughter, but recently has not been employed.

Stopping at the farm home, Mayhew said his name was Brooks and he was looking for work. Occupants of the house recognized him and the sheriff's office here learned of it about 8:30 this morning. Searchers led by the sheriff returned Wednesday night without finding a trace of Mayhew after his wife had received a note designating the place at which the missing man's body would be found.

The condition of Mrs. Mayhew, suffering from shock, was reported improved late this morning. She first was taken to a hospital Wednesday but subsequently to the home of a relative. Amarillo Man Held for Burglary

HOUSTON DOUBLE SLAYING LINKED TO CHERRIS CASE

Police Character is Believed to Have Been "Taken for Ride" Saturday. HOUSTON, Sept. 3. (AP)—Links between the "botting out" of John Cherris and the double slaying of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jones were being sought in Houston today as police worked on the theory that Cherris was "taken for a ride" out of this city Saturday night, some 36 hours before Mr. and Mrs. Jones were murdered—and that the same gangsters were responsible for all three deaths.

It became virtually certain today that the body of a man found floating in the Brazos river at East Col-

Business Men Behind Fair Show Windows To Display Fair Exhibits; Many Offer to Help. Pampa business men are enthusiastic about the Gray county free fair, to be held Sept. 10, 11, and 12, according to John I. Bradley, who worked this morning with the committee headed by Roy McMillen in canvassing business men.

At noon today, 20 Pampa business men had agreed to use their display windows for the exhibit of Gray county grown agricultural products. The list includes: L. T. Hill and company, City Shoe shop, Earl Talley, Kees & Thomas, Pampa Brown-Brown shoe store, Serves Stores company, J. C. Penney company, United Drygoods store, Doak's, Southwestern Public Service company, Central States Power and Light company, Montgomery Ward and company, Malone Furniture company, La Nora theater, Pampa Hardware and Implement company, Pampa Office Supply company, Helpy Selly, Diamond "C" Drygoods company, City bakery, and the Diamond shop.

Propped in colonial attire, a young woman will serve refreshments on the mezzanine floor of La Nora theater during show hours on Friday and Saturday. The refreshments are a courtesy of the Maxwell House Coffee company and Brown Cracker company. Recipe books and souvenirs will be given.

Miss Josephine Thomas, principal of Horace Mann school, returned to Pampa Tuesday night after spending the summer with her sister in Durham, Okla. "If the commission adheres to this decision, it would mean a larger quantity of East Texas oil than can be readily absorbed. The order apparently perpetuates the inequities now existing due to some areas being drilled more densely than other areas."

"The order apparently limits future development to one well to 10 acres. This, in my opinion, should have been one well to 20 acres. The order apparently puts a premium on unnecessary development and benefits those concerns or individuals that can finance their development on a long term basis, rather than quick turnover. There apparently is no limit to the number of wells or the amount of oil the field might produce under the order."

STERLING TO GRANT TRIAL TO NEW PLAN

Governor "Hopeful" When He Completes Conference With Commission, and Announcement Expected. LASTS 60 DAYS Well Basis of Curtailment Is Contained in Order Signed Yesterday; Some Opposition to It.

AUSTIN, Sept. 3. (AP)—Martial law in the East Texas oil field will be lifted Saturday morning to permit the new order of the Texas railroad commission to go into effect at 7 a. m. on that day. A report to that effect, heard from two different sources, was confirmed by one in close touch with the situation and led no doubt as to the intentions of the governor.

The governor was reported to have told the commission the order would be given a trial. It was learned the governor had offered the commission the use of troops in the field to aid in enforcing the order if needed. Governor Sterling indicated "that he might have a definite announcement to make late today on the situation."

It was learned the commission had issued orders to their 24 deputy supervisors ordering them to report for work in the field starting Saturday. Twenty-six men will be included in the commission's enforcement agency. AUSTIN, Sept. 3. (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling said today following a conference with the Texas railroad commission he was hopeful a "satisfactory arrangement" could be reached whereby the East Texas oil field would be opened to production.

The governor said he anticipated some definite results by the end of today. None of the members of the commission would comment on their conference with the governor relative to the order and maintained a strict silence concerning both the discussion and the order.

Order Is Ready The order for the East Texas oil field, regarded as the sore spot in the national petroleum industry, was issued yesterday and signed by all members of the commission. It was issued to go into effect Saturday at 7 a. m. and continue in effect for 60 days. It provided for production on well basis, each well to be allowed to produce 225 barrels per day.

The governor previously had expressed dissatisfaction with the well basis of the order. Governor Sterling said he and the commission were working together on the problem and that he felt sure an amicable working adjustment would be reached.

HOUSTON, Sept. 3. (AP)—W. S. Parish, president of the Humble Oil and Refining company, said today his impression of the state railroad commission's new oil proration order for East Texas was that it provided for production of too much oil and "puts a premium on unnecessary development."

"We are approaching the winter season, when consumption of American oil will fall off 300,000 to 400,000 barrels a day as compared to the summer season," said Parish. "The findings of the commission apparently are due to the effect that per well production between 200 and 300 barrels a day does not mean waste."

Perpetuates Trouble "If the commission adheres to this decision, it would mean a larger quantity of East Texas oil than can be readily absorbed. The order apparently perpetuates the inequities now existing due to some areas being drilled more densely than other areas."

Criminals' System Is Better

Wasteful duplication of activities on one hand and serious lack of cooperation on the other partially explain the lax work of officers in Texas. Many times have writers and jurists pointed out that city police, constables, sheriffs, and state rangers are not closely enough affiliated in their chasing of criminals. Moreover, there is too great a gap between similar officers in various counties.

A criminal gang has ramifications in many cities, but most officers are limited to narrow limits.

Speaking in terms used by baseball sports writers, the editor of the Houston POST-DISPATCH recently summed up the standing in the local "crime league." Houston police and Harris county sheriffs were credited with no runs, no hits and four errors; while the criminals were credited with four hits, four runs, and no errors.

In the South Texas metropolis much editorial fun has been at the expense of the sheriff's department which "captured" a man indicted for murder only after he traveled leisurely from California to Houston, telephoned the sheriff to come and get him at a certain corner in the city, and then went to considerable trouble to convince the sheriff he was the wanted man. The press of the city of Houston has inaugurated a campaign urging murderers to "leave their cards" at the scene of the crime, so that the sheriffs and police will know where to call when the murderer is ready to be arrested.

Back of the horseplay, however, is the serious fact that too few criminals are being arrested in Houston, that the chances for evading arrest—much more a conviction—are all in favor of the fugitive. Nor is the situation much different elsewhere. This editorial from the Dallas JOURNAL (containing, by the way, some rather sound advice for young couples who want to avoid unnecessary danger) would indicate that North Texas, too, has its unsolved crimes and unapprehended criminals:

The soundness of the advice of Sheriff Hood that young people do their courting in safer places than lonely spots off or on the highway remote from the heart of the city will be conceded by older Dallas folk who drive about after nightfall and inescapably encounter the parked cars of spooning couples. There are temptations for the ubiquitous hijacker in all of these out-of-the-way parkings, and because of that there is constant danger for the parkers.

Yet others than the two murdered young people have been victims of the hijackers in the last few nights. And because of that, The Journal does not agree with Sheriff Hood that there is no cause for alarm. A record was set in the last week that holds menace for Dallas citizens and presents a challenge to the peace officers of county and city. Since it is quite impossible for these officers to be everywhere, it would be unreasonable to expect them to function with total effectiveness in veritable epidemics of crime, especially in baffling cases that involve desperate and possibly insane operators.

But the challenge must be answered, if Dallas is to be made safe for its citizens and its desirable guests. The situation calls not only for increased vigilance and co-ordinated effort, but for resourcefulness, and perhaps some test of sound experimental methods.

Industry to Help In Relief Program

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP). The unemployment problem was tackled today by representatives of American industry through a committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The committee, headed by Henry I. Harriman, of Boston, met at the chamber headquarters here to draft a report on the basis of many months of investigation.

Meanwhile, the chamber's first president, Harry A. Wheeler, Chicago banker, was organizing a committee under President Hoover's unemployment relief organization, to find means of increasing employment.

Spees President of Rifle Club

Alden E. Spees, vice-president, was elevated to the office of president of the Pampa Rifle club at a meeting in the board room of the Schneider hotel last night. He will replace Joe Vincent whose resignation was accepted by the club.

Spencer Pipes, former range officer, was elected vice-president of the club, replacing Mr. Spees. George Glover, former captain of the Texas A. & M. rifle team and an officer in the R. O. T. C., was chosen executive officer. Other members of the executive committee will be named by the president and announced within a week.

More targets will be erected for long range shooting. At the present time there is only one target for large caliber guns. At least four targets will be erected, it was decided at the meeting.

By-laws of the National Rifle association were adopted.

County Commissioners yesterday ordered that a stock law election be held in precinct No. 1. This action was taken after a petition, signed by E. W. Vance and 44 others, asking that the election be called, was submitted to the court. George That was named presiding officer. Date of the election will be set later.

Je E. Brown Was In Ringling Circus Then in Baseball

Joe E. Brown, coming in "Broad Minded" to the La Nora theater Friday, was only 9 years old when he became the youngest of the Five Marvellous Ashtons, a troupe of aerial acrobats with Ringling Bros. circus.

The Maxwell House coffee people will give souvenirs in the lobby of the theater as an added feature.

Joe played with them during the summers, going back to his home in Toledo to attend school in the winters. Although the manager got a fair sum from the shows he kept most of it for himself, paying the boys barely enough to keep soul and body together. One of the man's ways of making the boys promise to come back was to beat them, a fact which Joe never revealed to his mother.

The Brown family had come from Holgate, Ohio, where Joe Evan was born in 1892, "one of seven." Toledo was thought a more likely place for Mr. Brown to get contracting work, as seven months were quite a number to properly fill. The "Evan" in Joe's name is indicative of the Welsh blood of his mother, the Brown had been originally spelled Braun.

Joe was in San Francisco in 1907 at the time of the disturbance which is referred to as "the fire." He was fifteen and enjoyed it all as if it had been a show staged for his special benefit. He left the Ashtons the next season and fared even worse. He stayed two years, up to the time when he was told that if he didn't do a trick fall or tonight, he'd get a flapping bed remember. Joe fell and broke a leg.

Then he thought he'd follow baseball. He had always been a fan and finally tried out with a St. Paul team when he was seventeen. He was later with the New York Yankees, now as a clown than a clown. Veudeville and burlesque followed.

Mr. Brown is five feet eight inches tall, weighs one hundred and forty-eight pounds and has brown hair and blue eyes. He is married to a non-professional. The Browns have two boys, ages fifteen and thirteen, and a daughter less than a year old.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Norma Kent, pretty 20-year-old secretary in a law office, meets Mark Travers, attractive and wealthy, when together they rescue a frightened puppy from the midst of downtown traffic. Norma refuses to tell the young man her name or where he can see her again. Later she joins Bob Farrell, young lawyer, asks her to marry him and Norma says "no."

The scene of the story is Marlboro, middle-western metropolis. Norma takes the puppy to her share-by apartment she shares with Christine Saunders, generally called "Chris." She finds her roommate in Norma's room. Norma is falling in love with her married employer, Bradley Hart, proprietor of an advertising agency. The older girl refuses to tell what is troubling her. Next day Norma inserts an advertisement about the puppy in the best and fourth column of the Marlboro Press. The first person to call in response to this advertisement is Mark Travers, who explains he has made every effort to learn Norma's identity. He tries to make a date but she declines his invitation. Travers departs. Later he telephones Natalie Price, a popular debutante, and goes with her to a gay party concluding with a round of the night clubs.

The following evening Norma arrives at the apartment and finds Chris gone. There is a note on the table.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VI

Norma dropped into the nearest chair and read the note again slowly. Chris had written in great haste. The words were scrawled. There was no salutation. The note read: "Minnie Baker's baby's been hurt in an accident. I've gone to see what I can do. Minnie's nearly crazy. I'll telephone later. Chris."

Poor Minnie Baker! She was the bookkeeper at the Hart Advertising Agency and of course in time of trouble she would turn to Norma. Why, oh, why did grief and sorrow so often descend on those who had already had their fill? Norma had never seen Minnie Baker but had heard Chris speak often of her. She knew Minnie's husband was in a sanitarium fighting against tuberculosis. Chris said she had helped them borrow the money to send him there. Chris had saved Minnie's job for her, too, though the bookkeeper did not know this. Minnie—poor, struggling Minnie—was the sort who never in the world should have been in a business office. She would probably spend the rest of her life there, a painstaking bookkeeper but a slow one.

"If anything happens to that baby," Norma told herself, "I don't know how she can stand it!"

Two-year-old Junior had been everything of joy and happiness in the pinched, deprived life of the bookkeeper. Well, it was lucky Minnie had such a friend as Chris to stand by!

Norma sighed, arose and put away her hat and coat. She prepared a frugal meal for herself. The news had depressed her and she was not hungry.

While she was drying the dishes a little later the bell rang, summoning her to the first floor. Norma threw down the dish towel and ran down the stairs. She supposed it would be word from Chris, but it was not Chris nor was it a telephone message which awaited her. Instead a small boy in not particularly clean sweater and knickers stood framed in the doorway.

Norma looked at him inquisitively. "Where's the dog?" the young visitor demanded.

"You mean—" Norma began, hesitating.

The boy flourished a folded newspaper. "Here it is," he said, "in The Press. It says you've got the puppy here just like my Spot. I've come for him. Spot got away last week when dad and me were down town in the car. We parked and when we came back Spot was gone. I'm a carrier for The Press. I read your add last night but I couldn't get over here on account of getting somebody to carry my route. But I'm sure it's Spot you've got. He's just like the ad says, 'gray and brown with a black spot over the right eye and a black tail.' That's why I named 'im Spot.' Where is he?"

The long speech had come tumbling forth in excited jerks. The boy had his cap in his hand. His sandy hair slanted across his forehead in disordered wisps. He had blue, very serious eyes and a determined manner.

"Where is he?" the boy repeated. "I'll show you," Norma said. She had not been silent because there had not been opportunity to speak than for any other reason. "We'll go down into the basement."

She led the way along the hall and the boy followed. As she was about to open the door leading to the basement stairs he stopped her. "Wait a minute," the youngster said, eyeing Norma shrewdly. "I suppose you'll want to know if it's really my Spot you'll hear here. I suppose you think maybe I made up some of what I told you. We don't have to go downstairs to find out. Listen to this—"

He got down on his two knees before the open door, leaned down into the darkness below and uttered a shrill whistle. An instant's pause and then the whistle was repeated with three sharp blasts.

For a moment the pair eyed each other. Compassion swelled in the girl's heart as she saw the boy was sure to face disappointment. It was such a sturdy little urchin, so confident.

The boy did not whistle again. He was leaning forward, hand cupped to his ear, straining to hear.

Then a smile like sunlight crossed his face. "He's coming!" he cried triumphantly. "I hear him!"

Sure enough! Norma heard the faintly perceptible tap-tap of puppy feet on the basement floor. A shout from the boy. Another instant and the barking, wiggling little animal and his youthful master were a rolling, squealing mass of ecstasy. They tumbled backward against the wall. They tumbled forward. With quick, bounding leaps the puppy was now in the youngster's arms, now climbing over his back.

"Spot!" the boy cried. "Oh, Spot, you of funny-faced, crazy of Spotty dog! Stop that, will you?" The pup was in the boy's arms. Spot's flashing little tongue licked his master's cheek. Another moment of delirious reunion and then the youngster scrambled to his feet.

Still holding the puppy, breathless from the scuffle, the youngster said proudly, "Well, Miss, I guess I proved he's my dog all right, didn't I? That's how I always call him—by whistling."

Norma thought she had never seen a happier child. "Of course I can see he's your dog," she said. "And I'm glad you read the ad and came for him. Spot's a lovely puppy. You'll have some grand times together."

"Oh, sure!" the boy said, for some reason at this late moment succumbing to bashfulness. "Sure, we'll have good times together all right. We always do." For the first time he caught sight of the collar about the pup's neck and inspected it with interest.

"I got the collar," Norma explained, "so I could get him home safely the night I found him. There's a leash, too, upstairs. I'll get it—"

"Never mind," the boy interrupted. "I've got a leash for him and a collar, too, at home only he didn't have 'em on the day in the car. Believe me, Spot's going to wear that leash from now on whether he wants to or not!" He gave the dog a squeeze. Then backing away and looking up at the girl with a glance that was a perfect imitation of a dignified adult, he said, "Well, Ma'am, what do I owe you?"

"Why for what?"

"As a reward for findin' Spot."

Norma laughed. "You don't owe me a thing in the world," she said. "Not a thing. Take your puppy home and see to it that he doesn't get out again without that leash."

By the way—you haven't told me your name?"

"William Schwartz."

"Minnie's Norma Kent," the girl told him. "Well, William, I'm glad to have met you and glad to turn Spot over to you."

"I ought to reward you," the boy said uncertainly. "Spot's a fine dog and he's worth a lot to me—"

She persuaded him such a course was unnecessary. A minute or two more and William Schwartz paused in the door again, this time bearing the puppy in his arms. "Miss Kent?" he asked formally. "If there's ever anything I can do for you, I hope you will call on me. Remember the name—William Schwartz. I live over on East Seventy-sixth. The number's 804."

"Thank you very much, William. I'll remember."

Norma went up to her room with a pleasant sense of satisfaction. It was fine to see anyone as happy as that youngster. He had made her forget that the world is filled with disappointment, sorrows and heart-ache.

Half an hour later when Chris telephoned the soberer view of life came back. Little Junior Baker's fate was still in doubt. The child had been bandaged and treated by a physician. He was quiet now. Chris was doing what she could do to comfort Minnie, who was hysterical, utterly useless in caring for the infant.

Chris' voice betrayed the emotional strain under which she had been working. It required questioning from Norma to bring out what had actually happened to the child and even then the tale was incoherent. The baby had, as usual, spent the day with the woman who lived a flight below Minnie and who was paid to look after Junior each day while the mother was at work. The woman's name was Mrs. Sorenson. Shortly after 5 o'clock—only 20 minutes before Minnie reached home—Mrs. Sorenson had gone to the door to answer a knock and the baby toddled into the kitchen. There was a steaming pan of water on the stove. In some way the child had overturned the pan, been drenched in the boiling liquid. Junior's screams had brought the household. By the time Minnie arrived a doctor had taken charge. One of the baby's arms was entirely stripped of skin. His back was badly burned. The doctor's most hopeful announcement was that there was a bare chance the child might live. Everything that could be done to save it had been attended to. Now Chris was trying to soothe the tortured mother. She told Norma that she would remain through the night. There was a neighbor sitting with the child but Chris felt she, too, was needed.

She was talking from a telephone belonging to one of the other tenants in the building. Norma wrote down the number so that she might be able to reach her in case of possible emergency. Chris cut the conversation short as soon as she had given the facts.

"I'll call you at the office in the morning," Norma promised. "Oh, I do hope the baby's going to be all right!"

How ineffectual the words seemed compared with the fine, valiant spirit with which Chris—always turned to help a friend!

For the third time that evening Norma turned to climb the two flights of stairs when the door of the first floor rear apartment opened, letting out a slanting wedge of light. Bessie Hawthorne's face appeared in the opening.

"Oh, Miss Kent!" the girl called. "Yes, Bessie?"

The custodian's daughter came forward. "Did he take him, Miss Kent? I mean the puppy. Did the boy take him?"

Norma nodded. "Yes," she said. "There wasn't any doubt about that boy and dog belonged together. You should have seen them."

Bessie smiled. "That's good," she said. "I was going to tell you Ma's coming home tomorrow so you couldn't keep the pup downstairs much longer. Oh!"—she paused dramatically—"did you get your message at the office?"

"What message?"

"Didn't you get it? Goodness me—the man said it was important!"

Advances Lead To Fatal Shooting

DALLAS, Sept. 3. (AP)—Vernon Tompkins, 24, former high school football player, was dead today and Gene Yelverton, 28, husband of the slain's man's cousin, was charged with murder.

Yelverton said he killed his kinsman because the latter made advances to Mrs. Yelverton while staying at her home to protect her during her husband's absence. Officers learned that Yelverton killed Tompkins with a shotgun borrowed from his father-in-law, Cubit Tompkins, an uncle of the slain youth.

Young Tompkins was killed yesterday on the farm of Charley Culbertson, by whom he was employed. Yelverton was employed on an adjoining farm. Culbertson witnessed the shooting. He and a neighbor brought Yelverton to Dallas, where the latter surrendered to officers.

MIDSHIPMEN FORCED TO RESIGN THEIR POSTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3. (AP)—Four first class midshipmen at the Annapolis Naval academy have been forced to resign because of escapades in foreign ports during the recent annual summer cruise.

Secretary Adams and the navy said the resignations were demanded because of "unfortunate behavior" of the midshipmen, who reported to have engaged Copenhagen's police in street fighting.

The ousted men were John R. Parks, Columbia, Missouri; George R. Fink, Haddon, New Jersey; Earl S. Schweitzer, McKeesport, Pa., and Colwell E. Beer, Keyville, Mo.

A fifth student may be asked to resign. Several other midshipmen, less involved in the affair, were punished at the academy. Secretary Adams did not divulge their names.

ALCOHOL IS FATAL

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3. (AP)—With three dead and one dangerously ill as the result of drinking what police said was poison alcohol, authorities sought today to learn the source of the liquor.

The dead were William W. Weller, a cook; Charles Clark, mechanic, and Ray Peters, also a mechanic. Alfred W. Malby was in a hospital, where doctors said he had but a small chance to recover.

Troop 80 of Pampa will not have its regular meeting tomorrow night, it was announced today by J. D. Sackett, scoutmaster. The Scouts will meet the following week as usual. The postponement was on account of the Methodist revival.

GREAT PITCHING AND HITTING GIVES FLAG TO HOUSTON

SECOND HALF RACE ENDED LAST NIGHT

Steers Help Leaders When They Bow Humbly to Beaumont, 7 to 3.

By BILL PARKER.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Manager Joe Schultz and his Houston pitching beauties such as Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, George Washington Payne, Tex Carlton, Pistol Pete Fowler and Elmer Hanson are champions of the 1931 Texas league. The Buffaloes won the second half championship last night by beating the Shreveport Sports 8 to 5, while the Dallas Steers lost to Beaumont 7 to 3. Today, the Buffaloes have a thirteen and a half game lead over the second place Steers. Both clubs have only twelve games to play.

The Steers, up to last night, were the only ones with a mathematical chance to win the second half. The Buffaloes won the first half pennant by defeating Beaumont 3 out of 5 games in a play-off after both teams had finished in a tie. Dean won 26 victories, Carlton with 20, George Payne with 20, Hanson with 14 and Fowler with 12, carried the Buffaloes to the league pennant, and into the coming Dixie series with Birmingham, the Southern association champions.

Lead Too Small
The Buffaloes spotted Shreveport a 4 to 0 lead. It was not enough for the Sports. They weakened and the Buffaloes charged with a five-run stampede in the eighth to finish in front. Fowler, Hanson and Payne pitched for Houston. Payne received credit for the game.

Grady Adkins got away to a bad start when Beaumont solved his pitching for four runs in the first inning to win from Dallas. Hollerston, elongated right hander, pitched commendable ball for Beaumont by holding Dallas to seven hits. Schupp's brilliant fielding at third featured the game. He came up twice with sensational catches of line drive.

Spudders to Cellar
The Wichita Falls Spudders dropped into the league cellar by losing a doubleheader to San Antonio. The Indians won the first 4 to 1 and the second 3 to 2. Roland Flinn pitched the Indians to victory in the first game, limiting the Spudders to five hits. He rescued Kowalik in the sixth inning of the second game, and his fine relief hurling saved the game.

The Galveston Buccaneers enjoyed a hitting spree against Fort Worth. The game terminated 11 to 9 in favor of Galveston after the Buccaneers had blasted Whitworth and Jim Harris for 19 hits. Seydler pitched ten-hit baseball and a shut out.

Yank Net Men Have No Luck

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3. (AP)—The English players in the international tennis series at the Germantown cricket club, with four straight victories to their credit, enter the home stretch of the competition without trepidation.

The foremost payers the United States can muster stand in their path to a clean sweep of the classic but after yesterday's matches the Britons feel they have little to fear. John Hope Doeg, United States singles champion, was vanquished yesterday by 17-year-old Marcel Bernard of France, 6-2, 6-4, and the doubles team of Doeg and Lott fell before Christian Boususs and Jacques Burgnon of France, 9-7, 6-3.

George Patrick Hughes of England, meets Doeg in the singles today and teams with Fred Perry against the Lott-Doeg doubles combination. In another match Ellisworth Vines of California, meets Boususs. Andre Merlin of France plays Keither Glenhill, United States in an exhibition.

Perry, partner of Bunny Austin on the British Davis Cup team, won easily from Merlin yesterday, 6-1, 7-5. As a result of its perfect record England clinched the trophy offered to the team totaling the most points.

Jugoslavia Again Under Own Rule

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, Sept. 3. (AP)—Jugoslavia, kingdom of the Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes, returned to constitutional government today after more than two years of dictatorship under the iron fist of King Alexander.

The king issued decrees at an extraordinary session of the cabinet last night proclaiming a new constitution to supersede the suspended bill of rights of 1921 and appointing a new ministry representative of the traditional political parties.

His proclamation as posted on the streets said that he was convinced that the experience obtained during the dictatorship now permitted a definite organization of state institutions and that he intended carrying out a national policy on a broad basis of direct collaboration with the people.

The new constitution assures civil liberties and political rights similar to those in Western Europe countries, as well as liberty of the press. Re-constitution of the ancient province of Slavonia, long a sore spot in the territorial changes growing out of the World war, also is provided for.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom E. Rose and family spent last night in Chilllicothe.

SHELL-SHOCKED PROPHETS SILENT ON GOLF TODAY

Youngsters Escort Seeded Men to Sidelines; McCarthy, Ouimet Hold Fort.

By PAUL MICKELSON.
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO, Sept. 3. (AP)—The forecasters hid behind the trees and bunkers of Beverly today, half expecting anything to happen as the skirmish for the national amateur golf championship bounded down the quarter-final stretch.

They were hopelessly up in the rarified atmosphere. Almost all their hand-picked favorites were far out of the picture and the tussle for Bobby Jones' vacated crown resembled a wild scramble at a Saturday morning bargain counter.

Gone were all eight seeded players except Francis Ouimet of Boston, and Maurice McCarthy of New York and keeping step with them were six others, who never before seriously threatened to win the title.

Two, 19-year-old Billy Howell of Richmond, Va., and 21-year-old Paul Jackson of Kansas City, were out and out strangers in the big show. Jack Westland of Chicago and Lester Bolstad of St. Paul were over the first two rounds for the first time in their experience. The others were Arthur "Ducky" Yates, who managed to get into the second round by upsetting George Von Elm at Brae Burn in 1928, and Fay Coleman of Los Angeles, whose chief previous claim to fame was that he lost to Bobby Jones, 6 and 5, in the quarter-finals at Merion last year.

Ouimet Is Favorite
Ouimet alone was the hope of the "old guard," which stolidly surveyed the fortunes of war from the sidelines today, but the "boy wonder" of 17 years ago was in there heads up in battle. Back on the sound game that made his name famous, Ouimet probably stood out as the one big favorite in the fight. He romped to a pair of easy conquests yesterday with dependable golf, defeating Johnny Shields of Seattle 4 and 3, in the morning and Frank Connolly, youngster from Mt. Clemens, Mich., 5 to 4, in the afternoon. He faced Jackson over the safer 36-hole quarter-final route today and while he was in for a struggle with the conqueror of Johnny Lehman of Chicago and Fred Wright of Boston, he was expected to win. However, the spectators were so shell-shocked with Jackson's game that they considered it a toss-up.

Irishman Is Great
McCarthy, who stirred the show by staging the greatest of the tournament to win his first round match from Russell Martin of Chicago, 1 up, also carried wholesome respect. Four down and five to go in his battle with Martin, the former Georgetown star came back with a burst of par-breaking golf to win. He had an easy breeze in the afternoon, however, topping W. E. Spicer of Memphis, 5 and 3, with perfect golf. Of the entire field yesterday, it was the black-haired New York Irishman who shot the best golf.

It was Howell, however, who carried the hopes and admiration of the galleryites and the awed "duffers" who like to see a "dark horse" come in. The young Virginian, a senior at Washington and Lee, turned in the first of the series of upsets yesterday by escorting Johnny Goodman of Omaha out of the tournament, 3 and 2. One down at the turn Howell shot pars and birdies at his more famous rival and beat him soundly. On his second round, he disposed of Owen Covey of Salt Lake City, 4 and 2, without much ado. Howell has won three out of four tournaments in which he has competed this year, winning the old dominion championship at Hot Springs by beating T. Philip Perkins, the famous Briton, after 21 holes, the Middle Atlantic, and the Virginia State.

The quarter-final pairings:
Upper bracket: Howell and Bolstad; Jackson and Ouimet.
Lower bracket: Yates and Westland; McCarthy and Coleman.

BRAVES ARE NOW SLIDING TO BOTTOM

Good Hurling Is Failing to Hold Them; Looked Great at Start.

By GAYLE TALBOT.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Despite the best efforts of Judge Emil Fuch's pocketbook and the recognized managerial ability of Bill McKeechie, the Boston Braves at last appear to have hit the skids for fair. Seldom has a club made a more promising start than they did this spring, and seldom has one fallen apart more completely once they hit the down grade.

Losing another double header to the New York Giants yesterday, 9 to 2 and 3 to 1, the Braves for the first time this year fell into sixth place in the National league standing. The Pirates, who passed them by half a game. It's easy to remember when they were up in the first division giving them all a run for their money.

Contrary to Manager McKeechie's pre-season belief, his club has not proved "just as strong as its pitching staff." The Chunks have done amazingly well, but the team's hitters have fallen down woefully.

Cubs Are Liked
Given steady pitching by St. Johnson and Larry Benton the lowly Cincinnati Reds came near knocking out the Chicago Cubs out of third place with a double victory, 7 to 4 and 8 to 4. It was the third killing credited to the Reds in as many weeks. Johnson fanned eight Cubs in the opener. His mates, led by Harvey Hendrick, knocked Root from the box in the sixth.

The Washington Senators supplied the day's highlight in the American with their third straight win over the Athletics, 5 to 2. As a result, the A's had a bare 13 1-2 game lead today. General Alvin Crowder, pitching his second victory over the champions within four days, gave up only six hits and had a shutout until the ninth inning.

Yanks Raby to Win
Noble relief pitching by Ivy Andrews, recently brought in from Jersey City, enabled the Yankees to overcome a five-run lead and nose out Boston Red Sox, 7 to 6. Andrews allowed only two hits after the Sox chased Gordon Rhodes in the third. Babe Ruth spanked his 38th homerun with none on in the first.

The Detroit Tigers made it two out of three for their series with the St. Louis Browns by dividing their doubleheader, winning the first, 5 to 4, and dropping the second, 7 to 3. Vic Sorrell allowed the Browns 10 hits in the opener, but was tight in the pinches. Three doubles by "Red" Kress, St. Louis cleanup man, helped beat Eloh Hogsett in the second.

Urban Faber's pitching and batting enabled the Chicago White Sox to finish the day one up on Cleveland's Indians. The veteran bested

Mel Harder, 3 to 2, in the first, starting his team's scoring with his fourth hit of the season. Darkness halted the second fray with the score tied, 4 to 4, at the end of the sixth inning.

CENTRAL BAPTIST WOMEN WILL AID NEEDY CHILDREN

TO SEW WHEN GATHERING IS HELD FRIDAY

Members of the Central Baptist woman's missionary society in a regular meeting Wednesday afternoon voted to cooperate with the Pampa Welfare Board in relieving needy families this year. Immediate action was taken in that direction when the group voted to meet Friday afternoon at the church to sew for children of school age.

It was also decided to have a party Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. S. L. Anderson to raise money for the treasury of the organization. Mrs. O. L. Beatty will be in charge of the entertainment.

The opening devotional Wednesday was led by Mrs. G. C. Stark, who spoke on the place of faith in a Christian's life. Her text was the 11th chapter of Hebrews. Mrs. Ray R. Hingate led the opening prayer.

Reports of all standing committees were given, and the executive committee recommended the following:

Officers for the new year: Mrs. W. O. Cooley, mission study chairman; Mrs. W. B. Barton, personal service chairman; Mrs. R. M. Mitchell, stewardship chairman; Mrs. S. L. Anderson, chairman of periodicals committee; Mrs. D. M. Sealef, benevolence chairman; Mrs. O. L. Beatty, social chairman; Mrs. W. C. chairman of the flowers committee.

Mrs. W. B. Barton, Mrs. G. C. Stark, and Mrs. G. L. Beatty were selected to represent the W. M. S. at the meeting of the Canadian Baptist association to be held in Canadian Sept. 28 and 29.

The Anna Bagby circle served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

The following were present: Mesdames S. L. Anderson, B. F. Walker, O. L. Beatty, O. J. McAlister, M. A. Rutherford, Kelly Langard, Ben Siebold, R. M. Mitchell, Ray R. Hingate, G. D. Holmes, G. N. Moore, W. C. Brown, W. B. Barton, and G. C. Stark.

REPORTS MADE BY CHURCHES AT GATHERING

Seventeen churches made yearly reports at the Palo Duro Baptist associational meeting which was closed yesterday in Goodnight. A number of local persons attended.

Property value of the 17 churches totaled $958,000, and the money raised during the year amounted to $20,743.30. A sum of $4,976 went for missions and benevolence. There were 1,449 additions to the churches, 656 being by baptism.

There were at least three hundred persons at the meeting, according to the Rev. C. E. Lancaster. Several meals were served the group by the W.M.S. of Goodnight.

Among the outstanding speakers were the Rev. D. J. Sullister, pastor of the San Jacinto Baptist church of Amarillo; the Rev. E. T. Miller of Memphis, who represented the executive board of the Southern Baptist convention; J. C. Hardy of Baylor college, Belton; J. J. Kellum of the Buckner Orphan home, Dallas; Dr. G. L. Yates, pastor of the First Baptist church of Amarillo.

County Clubs to Bring Articles To Court House

Entries in the home demonstration club department of the county fair must be submitted not later than next Tuesday, according to announcement of Miss Myrtle Miller. They should be taken to Miss Miller's office at the court house, and on Tuesday they will be taken to the Mitchell building, where the women's booths of the fair will be placed.

Rev. Cooley Is in Charge of Service

The Rev. W. O. Cooley conducted the mid-week prayer service Wednesday at the Central Baptist church. He plans to remain thru Sunday and to conduct the services on that day.

Rev. Cooley, new pastor of the church, will move to Pampa from Estelline as soon as Mrs. Cooley, who is ill there, is able to come.

PERSHING BACK HOME

NEW YORK, Sept. 3. (AP)—Gen. John J. Pershing, who today returned from Europe on the Leviathan, said work of the battle monuments commission of which he is chairman is progressing rapidly.

The former chief of the American expeditionary forces in the World War, who is writing his autobiography, said he looked forward to receiving Marshall Peckin, French war hero soon coming here.

NO TAXES FOR YEAR
SIDNEY, Ind., Sept. 3. (AP)—Some good news came out of this town today.

FEMININE FANCIES

Pampa's women are responding heartily to the call for welfare assistance. Especially are they determined that the 50 or 60 children who do not have enough clothing to attend school will receive such necessities and be given an equal start with the more fortunate boys and girls.

Parent-Teacher association representatives are at the Welfare Board's office this afternoon repairing children's garments which have been brought there by various citizens. They plan to have all the clothing in good condition by the first day of school.

Not Enough
Although generosity has been shown in contributing garments, there are still not enough to meet the tremendous need that will arise with the opening of school.

Every woman in Pampa should look through her scrap bag and her old trunks for old clothing that can be transformed into school children's garments. These will be repaired by P. T. A. members and given to those children who need them most.

Example Is Set
Women of the Central Baptist church have set a worthwhile example. They have voted to meet Friday afternoon for the purpose of making clothing for needy children.

This writer is predicting that practically every other organization in Pampa will aid by sewing, by canning, or by contributions of money. Every little bit helps.

All Can Serve
A plan is now under way in which all can assist.

Every woman interested (and it is especially urged that every woman's organization be represented) is invited to meet at 2 o'clock at the chamber of commerce rooms to discuss with Miss Myrtle Miller, county home demonstration agent, a canning campaign for the poor of the city.

Whether the campaign will be conducted through individuals or through groups will be decided at this meeting, which was called by George Briggs.

Fruit Is Cheap
If women plan to help the poor of the city, now is the time to begin. Fruits and vegetables are cheap. They can be canned at a small expense and they will be worth a great deal when cold weather comes.

The most valuable way to spend Saturday afternoon we know of is at the meeting in the chamber of commerce rooms.

PENTECOST IS SUBJECT FOR REVIVAL MEET

Yesterday's services were well attended at the First Methodist revival. At the morning service Rev. Ray M. Johnson spoke on "Pentecost, The Need of the Church." Taking the second chapter of Acts, Mr. Johnson showed the promise of Pentecost, the Phenomena of Pentecost, the result of Pentecost, and the condition of Pentecost. At the evening service another large crowd greeted the workers. Just before the message Rev. Lance Webb sang "What Then." Mr. Johnson then preached on "The Only Message That Ever Came Back From the Other World."

To night the subject will be "How a Flapper Danced the Head off of the Greatest Preachers That Ever Lived."

Services will continue throughout the week and conclude this weekend. Saturday night has been designated as another evangelistic rally service. On Sunday, the closing day, there will be three services. There will be an afternoon meeting for everyone at 3 o'clock.

Divorced Man Is Shot to Death

TROUP, Sept. 3. (AP)—Jack McGregor, 45, was shot to death yesterday on a Troup street. Five pistol bullets took effect in his body.

Jim Gourley of Jacksonville, a blacksmith, surrendered to officers after the shooting and was detained in the Tyler jail.

Investigation revealed that McGregor visited his divorced wife who lives at Troup, a few hours before the shooting. The woman is Gourley's sister.

McGregor, a former resident of Troup, returned this week from Arkansas.

Amarillo Child Dies in Cesspool

AMARILLO, Sept. 3. (AP)—Services were to be held today for 4-year-old Don Rucker Bradford of this city who plunged to his death in a cesspool 5 miles north of Amarillo late yesterday.

The family was visiting friends when the boy disappeared. His faint cries were heard by his father, who was only a brief moment in finding the newly-made opening through which the boy had fallen into the cesspool. The father plunged in and recovered the body but a pullmotor failed to restore breathing.

Mrs. J. W. Garman, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. E. E. Smith of Amarillo at the piano, entertained with two vocal selections, "A Garland of Old-Fashioned Roses," and "An Old-Fashioned Garden."

Guests read verses telling where gifts might be found, and the last one directed the honoree to a large basket of presents.

Philadelphia's food conservation movement, as an aid to charity, had its origin in the Girls' Trade school. Here are Jane Moore and Dorothy Griffin, members of a Girl Scout troop, making apple-butter which is part of the food to be distributed to the hungry next winter.

"Well, I think it would be good for you to step out and have some fun," Norma urged.

The tentative program of study for Pampa high school this year will be the same as last year, according to plans made at a meeting of department heads yesterday morning at the school.

Those attending were J. L. Lester, Mrs. J. B. Massa, Miss Bernice Whiteley, W. O. Workman, Miss Alma Ruth Schulky, and Miss Zenobia McFarlin.

CLOTHING FOR CHILDREN IS BEING REPAIRED BY P.-T. A.

A number of Parent-Teacher association members are at the office of the welfare association this afternoon mending children's garments and preparing them for distribution as soon as school opens. The articles will be given to the most needy children by principals and Parent-Teacher association presidents, and the names of children receiving the aid will be given to Mrs. W. H. Stuttering Woman Robber Is Hunter

HOUSTON, Sept. 3. (AP)—Police today were looking for three men and a "stuttering" woman, whom Harry Keller, 51, a Dallas man, reported forced him to go out on a lonely road with them last night where they robbed him of $308 in cash and a watch.

He had eight $100 bills hidden in a secret pocket in the back of the neck of his vest, which his abductors found when they forced him to strip most of his clothes in their search for money.

"When we got about eight miles out on some road two of the men pulled me out of the car, made me take off my clothes and took my money," Keller said.

"Where have you been all my life?"

When the right one comes along...

You wonder why you wasted time on the others! This been-waiting-all-my-life feeling has hit millions of smokers, men and women both... when they broke open their first Chesterfield package and caught its more pleasing aroma... when they lighted their first Chesterfield and knew, that minute, that it was milder—not sharp or biting.

And after a few puffs, they knew that the taste was better. Here were the cigarettes they had always hoped for, and looked for.

Here were the cigarettes that satisfy! Satisfy—that's the word that "fits."

The right tobaccos—the CHESTERFIELD kind of tobaccos, Domestic and Turkish—cured and aged, blended and cross-blended in the right way. SLAYINGS

Cherris. Bills made a sworn statement to Justice G. C. Hardeman at Freeport in which he positively identified the "ride" victim as being Cherris.

It was learned that police have information that Cherris was seen in Houston Saturday with three men and that they believe Jones and his wife were murdered by the same group.

Cherris was killed by a bullet through his head. The shot was believed to have been fired somewhere on the lonely stretches between Houston and East Columbia and his body thrown over the bridge into the river. Blood spots found on the bridge were believed to have been made by a freshly made wound.

It was believed that members of the same gang then returned to Houston and consummated their mission by putting Mr. and Mrs. Jones "on the spot" in their fashionable apartments where their pajama-clad bodies were found Monday morning after 10 shots had been fired into both.

DALLAS, Sept. 3. (AP)—The first arrest in connection with the slayings of John Cherris, and of Chester A. "Kaggy" Jones at Houston, was effected in Dallas today by Police Chief T. F. Heard of Houston, who came here with an attachment writ for a well known Texas oil man.

The man was arrested at a Dallas hotel and immediately returned to Houston to appear before the Harris county grand jury. The writ was issued at Houston last night when it was reported that the man "could tell all about the Jones and Cherris slayings."

Mrs. E. W. Coleman and sons, Nell and E. W. Jr., have returned to Sacramento, Cal., after spending two months with Mrs. Coleman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hutchins. They were accompanied to Sacramento by Mrs. Lula West and daughter, Patricia, who will spend the winter there.

PUBLIC FORUM GARNER

TO CITIZENS OF GRAY COUNTY and especially to organized labor such as our home organizations for the protection of our home people and their families—

We believe that it has just dawned on the minds of many of our people, both in and out of our labor organizations, that we as citizens and home owners and taxpayers are not getting a square deal, or haven't in the past. But we let the past be in the past. In the future we as members of Gray county home labor organizations expect to ask and also to receive all that we are entitled to.

We acknowledge our procrastination of 5 years getting this organization in operation, but believe we have plenty of time to make it effective by asking for friendship of all good people who realize what home protection of labor means to so many of us now in these times of depression.

TEX T. BUSTER, President, Gray County Home Labor association.
