R. R. Commission Race Also In State Spotlight

Our Two Jobs In One

The United States has before it two jobs. You can ost feel the tightening of the collective belt of the merican people as they gird for the effort. On the way those jobs are done depends the future of Amerca-and not only the America of our children, but the America in which those of us now living will complete our lives.

The jobs:

1. To build as quickly as possible such defenses as will not only make direct attack on the United States unattractive, but such as will compel respect for America in those who respect nothing else.

2. To dedicate ourselves anew, every man, woman and child of us, to freedom-to the way of life that insists that man's institutions exist for man, and not man for the institutions he has created.

Two tasks-and yet they are one task. The Citizenship Educational Service shows this clearly in its call for revitalizing the ideals of democracy: "The paramount need in national defense is the strengthening and invigorating of democracy."

This co-ordinating committee of national organizations with a membership of 30,000,000 is seeking billions of signers of a pledge:

"To join wholeheartedly and with personal sacrifice in strengthening the work of our organizations and of other civic and social activities in our community, our state, and our nation.

"To be vigilant and courageous in maintaining human sympathy and respect for the rights of others. "To be aware of the enemies of democracy, whatever their passwords or places of birth, and wherever they may be found. "To stand united with all lovers of freedom, whatever their tongue or origin. "To keep our nation strong in valor, and confident in freedom, so that government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish

Through the Boy Scouts of America and a score of other great organizations affiliated with this committee, these pledges are being distributed.

It is good to sign and display pledges like this, but it is even better to think them through, to burn them into our hearts, and to act upon them. No effort should be spared to train and equip the best defensive forces we can muster. But it is not alone by tanks and planes that democracy is defended, but by the heat of the fire of freedom that burns in the heart of every citizen of a free land.

Behind The News

By MILTON BRONNER NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The boys on congression al hill are doing a lot of talking about conscription versus voluntary enlistments to build up an army. A study of enlistment figures for the first six months of 1940 presents some interesting points.

You might wonder, for instance, which states-on the basis of enlistments-are most military-minded-Figures show they are Kentucky and Texas. Their enlistments, running 10 per cent of eligibles, were in the van for the country.

Still going on percentages, southerners are more belligerent than their northern kinsmen. The states which contributed 9 per cent were North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Oklahoma and Colorado

NEVADA WARLIKE?-NO

The least warlike states, on the basis of these enlistments, are surprising. Ohio showed only 2 per that because he was placed in a position which com cent. Nevada, considered the pink of the shootinest, scrappiest Wild West, also showed only 2 per cent. Out of its estimated 101,000 people, only 45 want to be soldiers in Uncle Sam's army. The states with the biggest populations and with four of the five largest cities in the country present the following percentages: New York, 4; Pennsylvania, 7; Illinois, 3, and California, 4.

There are several explanations why strictly rural states, as a rule, show better enlistments than the more metropolitan states. One of the surmised causes is that young men in cities get better wages than those on farms.

Also, travel and excitement promised by the army have a stronger lure for the farm youth.

Taking actual figures of enlistments for the first six months of the year. Pennsylvania leads all the states with 7411; Texas comes second with 6648; and New York third with 5471.

Men used to toting shootin' irons all their lives are the men from the west. But statistics show very few of them have been lured into the army by posters. They have stuck to their farms and their ranches. U. S. WOOL VIELD JUMPS

The U. S. Department of Agriculture does not send agents around saying "Baa, baa, black sheep, have you any wool?", but it has managed to get figures showing that for the present year the quantity of wool shorn from American sheep will be about 389, 000,000 pounds.

That will be 11,000,000 pounds more than last year yield and the biggest domestic supply on record.

All of which is to the good, because Uncle Sam going to want a lot of wool blankets and clothes for his expanded army and navy. Also, civilian consume demand is expected to increase because of incr es, and the war will probably cut down the Common Ground By R. C.

ROOSEVELT'S HITLER-LIKE ADVICE

It seems rather odd to have the President of the United States telling the people the precarious position they are in and then advise people not to enlist in the Army or Navy.

News reports quote the President as writing to Secretary McNutt and saying "young people should be advised that it is their patriotic duty to continue the normal course of their education unless and until they are called so that they will be well prepared for greater usefulness to their country.

"They will be promptly notified if they are needed for other patriotic service."

Of course, we will have to have a conscription bill if the head of the government does everything in his power to keep the army and navy from having a full quota of enlisted men.

Acts of this kind on the part of the head of the government are coming closer and closer to the way Hitler runs things. Remember one of the President's mouthpieces, Senator Pepper, proposed making Roosevelt dictator.

The only conclusion that seems logical to draw from acts of this kind is that the President wants to completely regiment and control the lives of every individual in the country. He does not want them to even use their own judgment as to whether they can be of more service to their fellowman by enlisting than by staying in school.

There seems to be no limit to the breadth and volume of the undertakings of the President. He can tell each individual better where he can serve the country than the individual can himself. And when the conscription bill is passed, if it is, his appointees will have power to select the men they want and the individual will have no choice but to obey. As it has been wisely remarked, the New Deal has a God, and this God is compulsion. Anything to give the head of the government more power over the inalienable rights of citizens. * * *

CRUSHING EUROPEAN MINORITIES

Everyone of course is horrified, and justly so as to the treatment Hitler is handing out to little nations that do not pay tribute to him. Instead of worrying so much about the treatment minorities are getting in Europe, we much better devote our energies to reducing the oppression of minorities in this country.

We make laws that the slow and inefficient people dare not trade their services on the same basis per unit of value as the efficient worker dare trade his. This is a most tyrannical treatment of classes of people. Nothing in Europe is more reprehensible or unconscionable.

We, in this country, make laws confiscating large fractions of what some people produce and confiscate nothing directly from what others produce. This is oppression and tyranny that will result in eventually losing not only our material and civil rights but our God-given rights of worship and freedom of expression and the right to use our faculties.

It seems we are wasting a lot of sympathy on oppression that is going on in Europe while the growth of oppression in this country is something that should receive all our energies.

We can have more influence on Europe by example of having a country with the greatest possible freedom and the least possible amount of compulsion or coercion. People learn better from example and by imitation than they do from being coerced.

Our sympathy is like charity-it should begin at home for the minority classes of people that began, Director John Auer found ere being oppressed here by the majority

The Nation's Press

(From the Army and Navy Journal). Lindbergh—The thunders of the administration have been directed this week upon Col. Charles A Lindbergh, Air Reserve, because of his radio address last Sunday night in which he assailed the President's foreign policy and insisted that without a strong policy of defense we will not even know what types of planes to build. Administration senators and a section of the press attacked him as a spokesman for Hitler, an intermeddler in foreign affairs, an ignoramus whose only knowledge aviation, or anything else, came from a spectacular light across the ocean, and a tool of designing political interests which wrote the speech for hin because he was unable to write it himself.

In military and naval circles it is said that no one need hold a brief for Lindbergh; he is able to protect himself. But it is ridiculous to intimate pelled him to accept a decoration at a time when ve were at peace with Germany he has ceased to be a patriotic American. It is equally ridiculous to charge him with intermeddling in foreign affairs when he told inquirers in England of the great German air superiority.

As to his ignorance, his stay in England enabled nim to gain a thorough understanding of conditions in that continent, and of the rivalries between the different powers. That stay was beneficial to United States, because as a reserve officer he fur ished his government with information, particularly on German developments, that proved to be of inestimable value to the air services, and caused important changes in plane designs. As his address was partly political, the colonel must have expected it to draw fire, but as an American citizen he had the right to express his views, and whether one agrees with them of not one cannot properly question his sincerity, or his anxiety, as he said, to have this country safeguarded as our forefathers did in the past; to this end he urged a greater air force, a greater army, and a greater navy. In order that the air force may be adequate for our national safety he proposed the determination of a definite policy of defense, and pointed out that until such a policy shall be laid down we will not even know what types of planes to build. There is no doubt of the reasonableness of this judgment, and in expressing it his fellow aviators say he has rendered a service which ought to be helpful in the development of a wiser building program.

Frigate Birds Warned Sailors of Hurricanes

ONG before weather bureaus and radios existed, sailors got their storm warnings by watching the frigate bird. If the bird flew low, seamen got ready for a blow; if the bird appeared over land, other than at breeding time, a hurricane was in the offing. Britain's Gilbert and Ellice islands pictured the frigate bird on the 1937 Coronation issue, above.

range all around the world within the tropics. A smaller species is confined to eastern seas.

A large wing span and small body enable the bird to float in the air with a minimum of effort. No movement of wings is perceptible as the bird glides against the

In fishing, or in robbing other sea birds of their catch, the frigate bird shows its speed and maneuverability. The birds usually are seen singly or in pairs; only on their nesting grounds are they found in large numbers.

Stalin-Hitler Men, Says Rivera

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21 (A)-Diego Rivera, famed muralist and one-time intimate of Leon Trotsky, said tonight he believed the attempt to kill the exiled Russian revolutionary in Mexico City was an as-sassination scheme perpetrated by "tools of the Stalin-Hitler front."

"The attempt on Trotsky's life was made by the same gangsters who tried to kill him not long ago." the same gunmen who killed Robert Sheldon Harte, Trotsky's secretary, last May," Rivera said.
"The long hand of the Ogpu (Russian secret police) is holding by the throat the apparatus of the Mexican state. The Communists are the left wing of the fifth column; the Nazis the right wing.' Trotsky, Rivera believes, was Rus sia's last hope. Without him, "with-out the revolution he might have fostered, Russia will be betrayed into Hitler's hands.

"Both the Nazi and Stalinist spies and assassins show themselves clearly to be a real threat against the public security, freedom and self-determination of the nations on this continent," Rivera went on. "I hope the American people will understand more clearly now the danger of the Stalinist-Nazi fifth column so deeply rooted in Mexico.

After a careful study of testimony Representative Martin Dies said there was no evidence to indicate that the actors, James Cagney, Frederic March and Humphrey Bo-gart, or the writer, Phil Dunne, had ever been connected with Communist activities.
