

Body of Benjamin Collings, Wealthy Yachtman, Is Found

TWO FLIERS ARE SAFE

WASHES UP ON OYSTER BAY SHORE TODAY

Development Supports Story of Wife That "Pirates" Murdered Him and Then Mistreated Her.

LIMBS ARE TIED

"Revengeful Knots" Pointed Out by Prosecutor; Head Gashed, Throat Slashed, and Arms Much Bruised.

By SEYMOUR BERKSON
HUNTINGTON STATION, N. Y., Sept. 16. (AP)—The body of Benjamin F. Collings, Stamford, Conn., yachtman, was found in the surf at Oyster Bay today. The discovery apparently definitely settled the fact that he had been murdered as her tale of "pirates" which by some official had been looked upon as almost too fantastic to be true.

Found hand and foot, with a hole in the forehead and a slash across the throat, the body was washed in by the surf in the gray dawn and was found face downward in the sand by a solitary policeman.

Still tied with the expert knots of an experienced boatman the body was brought to a morgue here for examination and autopsy. Meanwhile officials of two counties gathered in town hall to await arrival of the young widow whose story of midnight piracy, murder and abduction had remained unchanged under grueling examination.

Blue Takes Charge

Finding of the body on the beach of the Marshall Field estate seemed to give definite jurisdiction of the case to Suffolk county and command was immediately assumed by District Attorney Alexander Blue. Blue has told Mrs. Collings that he does not believe her story of two men boarding the Collings' cruiser "Penguin" throwing her husband into the sound after tying him up, and abducting her.

District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards of Nassau county, who took charge of the case prior to discovery of the body, announced every assistance would be given by his office in clearing up the case.

Only yesterday Blue had revealed that Mrs. Collings still believed her husband to be alive, although she could give no reason for her belief. Today's development ended that hope and though it did much to clear the mystery which has hung about the case it also added some new confusion.

For N. L. Noteman, the yachtman who found the Penguin drifting through the night with only 5-year-old Barbara Collings aboard, local authorities heard a swimmer near the Penguin. It had been supposed this was Collings, and that presumably he had become exhausted and drowned. But officials said today Collings would have done no swimming with his feet bound and his hands tied behind him, as his body was found, even had he not been unconscious from his injuries, which seemed unlikely.

Severely Bruised

Collings had evidently been roughly handled before he was thrown in the water, for besides the deep hole in his head and the cut across his throat his arms were severely bruised and there was a deep cut in one elbow.

When District Attorney Blue arrived he spoke briefly with newspaper men before entering the town hall.

"I had two theories on this case," he said. "One was that Collings had been kidnaped and the other that Mrs. Collings was implicated. Now

Man Is Charged in Dress Theft

Bert Ross has been charged in county court with theft in connection with the theft of 11 dresses valued at $21.45 from Levine's Store Saturday night. Ross was arrested by City Officer Charlie Pipes a few minutes after the dresses were missed. He was in a South Pampa store, Officer Pipes said.

Ross was turned over to county officers Monday. Charges were filed by County Attorney Sherman White. Ross has not asked for a preliminary hearing. He claims that he does not remember taking the dresses.

Mr. Chadwick, who died a few months ago in Spearman, left considerable in bonds, lands in Gray county, ranches near Spearman, and miscellaneous property. A will found in his effects after his death made Mrs. Taylor the sole heir.

It is expected, however, that the will is to be contested by other potential heirs, numbering about 30.

CRAMER CLUE, PLANE FLOAT, IS IDENTIFIED

British Trawler Finds Fragment in North Atlantic and Reports to Associated Press at London.

TWO MEN LOST

Veteran Pilot, but Luckless One, Was Charting New Route and Was Accompanied by Radioman.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. (AP)—K. D. Vosler, factory manager for the Edo Aircraft corporation, today definitely identified wreckage found in the North Atlantic by the British trawler Lord Trent as that of the plane of Parker Cramer, American flier lost on a flight from Detroit to Copenhagen.

"If these are the numbers it is Cramer's plane," he said after checking company records.

The identifying marks given in a wireless message from the Lord Trent to the Associated Press, at London, were "model 3830, dot 3-19-30," manufacturing number 07066, patent 1276439, Edo Aircraft corporation, College Point, N. Y."

Vosler said the only thing that did not check absolutely was the manufacturing number which should have been 07066, instead of 07060. He said he was sure the first zero was a mistake perhaps made in transmission.

Numbers on Floats

The marks, Vosler declared, were on floats manufactured by his company for the Cramer plane.

Cramer and his radio operator, Oliver Paquette, disappeared into a heavy storm Aug. 9 after leaving the Shetland islands for Copenhagen. Cramer, who had hoped to blaze an arctic route over the Arctic, was a veteran pilot.

(CLEVELAND O., Sept. 16. (AP)—Parker D. (Shoaty) Cramer, whose wrecked seaplane was believed found in the North Atlantic today, took off from Detroit July 26 to survey a proposed arctic route between Detroit and Copenhagen, Denmark.

Familiar With Arctic

With his Canadian wireless operator, Oliver Paquette, he disappeared from the world's notice Aug. 9 when he took off from Lerwick in the Shetland islands for Bergen and Copenhagen.

A veteran pilot and familiar with flying under Arctic conditions, he was selected by Trans-American down with Bert Hassell, his companion proposed Trans-Atlantic mail route over the Greenland ice cap and the North Atlantic ocean.

Taking off almost unannounced and certainly unheralded, Cramer reached Cape Race, Newfoundland, and 395 miles from Halifax.

Aviators expressed hope that the three fliers, Will Rody and Christian Johannsen, Germans, and Fernando Costa Viegas, Portuguese sportsman, might have come down in some remote spot in Canada, when they ran out of fuel.

The Esa had enough gasoline to keep aloft 48 hours. That time expired at 3:30 a. m., CST, yesterday. They took very little food and a jug of water apiece.

FOUR DIE WHEN MAIL PLANE CRASHES

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 16. (AP)—A passenger-mail plane of the Pacific Air line caught fire and plunged into San Francisco bay this morning, carrying its pilot and three passengers to death.

Shortly after taking off for Portland the plane evidently caught fire and its pilot, Ray Boudreaux, of Medford, Ore., turned back toward the airport. He was battling desperately to effect a safe landing when flames enveloped the ship and it dived several hundred feet, struck the water and sank.

The passengers were Kirk Herr, of the Seattle Star; W. H. Bissel, of San Francisco; E. I. Sheahan, of San Francisco.

Witnesses said the craft was a blazing mass just before it hit the water. It carried a big consignment of mail, the value of which was unknown to airport officials.

The cause of the fire was a mystery to aviation authorities. The plane, a tri-motored ship, nosed over and settled on its back in about 30 feet of water. A diver who inspected the wreckage said the bodies of the pilot and passengers were huddled in the cabin and apparently had been badly mangled, either by an explosion or by the impact when the plane struck the water.

Dodson Heads Advisory Board

Organization of the Central Welfare Advisory council, composed of representatives of various Pampa organizations, was perfected at a meeting in the city hall yesterday afternoon.

J. M. Dodson was elected chairman. A committee to write by-laws, composed of M. K. Brown, Mrs. C. B. Zahn, Mrs. E. C. Will, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, and C. M. Carlock.

The advisory council, besides electing the Welfare Board each year, will be the contact organization for the various interested groups. The next meeting will be held at 10 o'clock, Sept. 23.

The by-laws committee will meet at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. It is likely that advisory group sessions will be held every two months after the system is placed in operation; however, this will depend upon the by-laws adopted.

Jarrett Explains Extension Course

Dr. P. J. Jarrett, dean of the West Texas State Teachers college, was here yesterday to explain details of an extension course to be made available to Pampa teachers and citizens.

The course will meet one period each week, with a professor coming here to lecture. Twenty-five students are desired for the course, each paying $10 for tuition and textbooks. Regular college credit will be given for those who are qualified to secure it. However, non-credit study may be taken if desired.

A meeting of those interested will be held in room 205 of Central High school next Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock to select the course to be studied.

TRAIN KILLS MAN

AMARILLO, Sept. 16. (AP)—Bob Rider, 25, of Allison, Texas, was fatally injured late last night when he fell under the wheels of a moving Fort Worth and Denver City freight train he sought to board in the Amarillo yards. Both of Rider's legs were severed.

Of 3,438 women students attending University of California at Los Angeles, 1,338 are employed at some remunerative work.

There was not an arrest last night. On Monday night county officers made eight arrests, and city officers arrested two. Fines were paid for drunkenness, vagrancy, and larceny.

Two holdups and two burglaries were reported Saturday night and Sunday night. No arrests have been made in these cases, but officers are working on clues supplied by the persons reporting to the officers.

Plants Become 'Insane' in Same Way That People Do, and Likewise Show Signs of Unconsciousness

By E. R. COLTON
(Associated Press Science Writer)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—Discovery of evidence that plants undergo states akin to insanity and unconsciousness produced by the same chemical processes believed to cause these conditions in humans is reported to the National Academy of Sciences.

These processes are thickening or thinning of the proteins in the cells of the plant, says Prof. Wilder D. Bancroft of Cornell university. Results of this work in which he was assisted by John E. Rutzler Jr., have been made public by the academy.

Bancroft in collaboration with Dr. G. H. Richter, already has discovered evidence that certain types of insanity in humans may be caused by this thickening or thinning of proteins in the brain. The white of an unincubated egg is an example of proteins in their normal state.

If the brain proteins are thickened, insanity first results, then unconsciousness.

Alcohol or ether may have this effect on a human being. First he is stimulated and delirious, then lapses into unconsciousness.

This same thickening or thinning of the proteins, coagulation or precipitation, scientists call it also, is what happens when plants are treated with anesthetics, Bancroft concludes.

Before reaching the stage of "insanity," the plants pass thru a stage akin to sleep in humans. The same thing that happens to a human patient receiving ether on an operating table.

An extremely sensitive plant, Mimosa pudica, was used in the tests by Bancroft. This plant is so sensitive that at the slightest touch its leaves droop and fold up.

This is because its proteins are thicker or more coagulated, than normal. It is always in the state of excitation that precedes unconsciousness in the condition in which humans are said to be insane.

Bancroft decreased the sensitivity of the Mimosa plant "cured" its "insanity" by treating it with substances that would dilute its proteins.

This treated it leaves no longer drooped or folded up, even under fairly powerful blows. Today, he is treating another Mimosa plant with chemicals that thicken it, proteins, sodium citrate and amygdal, had the opposite effect.

Texhoma Bandits Are Hunted Today

BORGER, Sept. 16. (AP)—A position-wide search for two men who robbed the First National bank of Texhoma, Okla., of $5,000 yesterday was being conducted by Pampa police and Western Oklahoma officers today.

Arthur Lattel, vice-president of the bank, was kidnapped by the robbers but was released in the eastern outskirts of Texhoma. The light coupe in which the men rode was found abandoned 18 miles east of Texhoma.

WILL MAKE TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Warrill will leave Pampa tomorrow on an extended vacation trip south and east of here. As Mr. Warrill, a city health officer, puts it, they intend to "see the country."

The plant this girl is holding droops 'unconscious' at the slightest touch. Science has found evidence that this behavior is due to chemical conditions that cause unconsciousness and insanity in humans.

Fair Exhibit Is Being Completed

Gray county's exhibit to be exhibited at the 17th state fair at Amarillo Sept. 21 to 26 is fast taking form.

Besides the agricultural exhibits saved from the Gray County Free fair held last week, Ralph R. Thomas, county agent, and George W. Bragg, manager of the Board of City Development, are gathering more articles to be included.

Some of the best cotton seen here in many years was gathered yesterday in the McLellan creek district by Mr. Thomas. The bolls are well filled and the length and strength of the fiber are good.

The garden and row crop entries are particularly pleasing to those preparing the exhibit. Mr. Thomas and Mr. Bragg plan to be in Amarillo Saturday and Sunday working on the display.

Hughes Is Elected by Little Theater

R. C. Hughes was elected president of the Little Theater for this year when the group held its initial meeting of the year, Tuesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Hicks.

Other officers will be elected and plans for the year's work will be made at a regular business meeting next Monday evening.

The meeting Tuesday was primarily for the purpose of getting acquainted and for arranging the program which the theater will have to work with this year.

World Trippers to Arrive Tomorrow

Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Brown will arrive in Pampa tomorrow or today according to word received this morning by Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Buckler. Miss Margaret Buckley will not return with Mr. and Mrs. Brown, but will go to Springfield, Mass., where she will visit friends for some time.

The party arrived in New York last week after spending the summer in England and on the continent. Mr. Brown attended the International Rotary convention in Vienna.

SENATE ADOPTS AMENDMENT TO COTTON BILL, FAVORING FOURTH CURTAILMENT

No Definite Action Is Taken But Differences Between Houses Is Apparent.

AUSTIN, Sept. 16. (AP)—By a vote of 15 to 12, the Texas senate today decided that a limitation of cotton planting next year to one-fourth of the land cultivated this year would be preferable to a restriction to one-third. No final action had been taken on any cotton relief bill.

The senate's action forecloses a division between the two branches of the legislature since the house had defeated a move to change the one-third ratio to one-fourth.

This year approximately 52 per cent of the Texas area in cultivation was in cotton. Supporters of the one-fourth bill said they were for it because it would assure a 50 per cent reduction next year. There had been considerable argument concerning whether the one-third ratio would reduce cotton acreage in half.

The one-fourth proposal in the senate was an amendment to the one-third bill. The amendment was offered by Senator Archie Parr of Benavides. The questions of whether the one-fourth ratio should be substituted for the Long bill of cotton prohibition and whether any legislation should be passed were still pending.

Final action did not seem near in either house. The house was busy with other matters most of the morning and 17 members already had announced their intention of speaking before a vote was taken.

Charges that certain members of the house were trying to delay a vote between the cotton holiday and the reduction bills were made by Representative Jack Keller of Dallas.

"Do you intend to let this thing drag out forever?" Keller asked the speaker. He had made several efforts to cut off the debate by moving the previous question.

Seventeen speeches for and against the Long plan had been lined up. Each member is allowed ten minutes and his time may be extended an additional ten minutes. Figuring on this basis, the speech-making would last almost six hours and leaders of the cotton acreage control movement were fearful a vote would not be reached before tomorrow unless the flow of oratory was shut off.

MOYLE AND ALLEN FOUND UPON ISLAND

Aviators Forced Down on Lonely Island; Found by Russian Vessel—Message Sent Don's Fiancee.

LOST FOR WEEK

Left Tokyo on Non-Stop Trip to Seattle—Girl Rejoices at News—Had Given Up Hope.

SEATTLE, Sept. 16. (AP)—A week after they had been given up as lost on their non-stop flight attempt from Japan to America, Cecil A. Allen and Don Moyle, California aviators, were reported today by three Soviet vessels to be safe in Otokorski gulf, Northern Kamchatka.

SEATTLE, Sept. 16. (AP)—The coast-guard received a report today that Cecil A. Allen and Don Moyle, California aviators, missing more than a week after a trans-Pacific flight attempt from Japan to Seattle are safe in the Aleutian Islands.

Wires to Fiancee

The coast guard station here received a message from the naval radio on St. Paul island in Bering sea addressed to Miss Frances Bresson, fiancee of Moyle at Riverside, Cal.

The message said the fliers had been found safe on an uninhabited island. No details were given in early reports. Several vessels of the coast guard have been combing the Aleutians westward of their base at Dutch harbor.

Allen and Moyle left Samushiro beach, Northern Japan, on Monday of last week on an attempted non-stop flight to Seattle. They were sighted about one hour after they left Tokyo but were unseen after that. They were due in Seattle a week ago today.

Capt. H. D. Hunkley, commandant of the northern division of the coast guard, said the message was sent from the steamer Buriat through the St. Paul station which relayed it to Cordova, Alaska, and thence here.

Going to Seattle

The message was signed "Don" he said and told Miss Bresson the fliers were safe on the island and would be in Seattle Sept. 22. This was believed to indicate that the fliers were on the Buriat.

Captain Hunkley said he had advised the commander of the Bering coast guard patrol of the message and had asked him to investigate and report back immediately.

The complete message read: "Landed on uninhabited island. Everything all right. Have Frank publicity man on job. Will be in Seattle Sept. 22."

Frank was not identified.

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Sept. 16. (AP)—Mrs. Frances Bresson, fiancee of Don Moyle, making trans-Pacific aviator who with Cecil A. Allen was reported found safe in the Aleutian Islands, received the news of Moyle's rescue with utter silence for 15 minutes, after which she broke into tears and jumbled words of joy.

A F. Is First

Miss Bresson, a stenographer at the municipal light and water plant here, received the first news of the rescue from the Associated Press. She had not been received the message reported to have been sent her by Moyle from the steamer Buriat through the St. Paul station which relayed it to Cordova, Alaska.

"I am so happy at their rescue that I can hardly talk," Miss Bresson said as the water plant office staff crowded about her with congratulations.

"I gave up hope last night," she continued. "It was hard to believe Don and Cecil had lost in their effort to span the Pacific and up until last night I had some hope they would be rescued."

The message to Miss Bresson said: "Landed uninhabited island. Everything all right. Will be in Seattle Sept. 22. Love, Don."

CONNIE MACK THINKING ABOUT PITCHERS NOT TO START

THIRD FLAG ISSE WE DUP BY ATHLETICS

Cardinals Also in Virtual Cinch—Could Do No Worse Than Tie.

BY GAYLE TALBOT Associated Press Sports Writer Connie Mack, the 68-year-old sage of Shibe park, can spend the next two weeks floundering about what pitcher the St. Louis Cardinals will not expect him to start against them in the first game of the world series.

Any other worthy Philadelphia pitcher might have harbored was removed when his Athletics sewed up their third straight American league flag by overhauling the Cleveland Indians, 5 to 4.

If they wished, the world champions could lose their remaining 12 games and, providing Washington won its last 13, still finish with a full game lead over the Senators.

That, however, is highly improbable. As Lefty Grove would like to win another game or two when informed his A's had won for him, his ninth American league flag, Connie Mack admitted he was pleased, but failed to enthuse. It had been a easy. Ever since May 5, when they launched a 17 game winning streak that carried them to the top, it has been evident that nothing short of an injunction could deprive them of the pennant.

By coincidence, the Cardinals chose the same day to take a struggle hold on the National league bunting. Defeating Philadelphia 5 to 0, while their closest rivals, the New York Giants, were held idle by rain.

Gaby Street's warriors assured themselves at least a tie for the top. If they lose their remaining games and the Giants capture all theirs, each will finish with 95 victories and 59 defeats.

The veteran Ed Rinnell, rather than one of Mack's high-powered pitchers, had the honor of clinching the argument. He was fairly liberal, granting nine hits, but that was nothing to what his mates did to two Indian hurlers. They piled up 18 hits, every member of the team hitting at least one and driving in 11 runs.

What seemed leading 4 to 1, thru the sixth inning, was observed to be a 10 to 2 lead by the end of the game. The Cardinals' pitcher, who had been running around the bases, was then seen to be running around the bases. What he was doing, however, was not clear.

First String of Harvesters Has Been Announced

Competition for places on the Harvester eleven will be hard fought this year. When Coach Odus Mitchell yesterday singled out his first string, he packed two or three men for every position. A complete substitute backfield will be available.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVII Mark Travers threw down his coat and loosened his tie impatiently. "I'm all in," he said, yawning. "It's too late to talk about anything now. Got to be up early to meet those fellows at the club house."

"But, Mark, this is—its important!" He had disposed of the necktie, was fumbling with shirt buttons. Mark did not even glance toward Norma.

"Nothing's so important tonight it can't wait. I tell you I'm dazed!" The girl had not moved from where she stood. She seemed about to speak, then her lips tightened. Automatically she folded and unfolded an end of ribbon on her dress.

"Suddenly, impulsively she rushed to Mark and put a hand on each of his arms. "Oh, Mark!" she cried. "Do you really love me? I mean more than anyone else? Do you love me so much nothing will ever make any difference? If anything should happen—do you love me so much you're sure nothing could ever make you change? Do you?"

"Why, sweetheart!" Travers laughed and patted her cheek. "So that's what's been worrying you—that's what's so terribly important, is it? Of course I love you. Now, will you climb into your pajamas and get ready for bed? Honestly, I'm awfully sleepy!"

A long drawn-out yawn clinched the argument. Obsequiously Norma turned away and began undressing. She was not awake when he left next morning. Accustomed to sleeping late since their arrival in Blue Springs, it was after 10 o'clock before Norma sat up in bed and rubbed her eyes. Rummled pillows beside her told their story. Mark had gone to keep his appointment at the golf course.

"The girl arose and dressed slowly. She did not even bother to go downstairs to breakfast. Just before noon there was a telephone call. Mark's voice came over the wire saying he would meet her for lunch at one. Yes, they'd been around the course but it was going to take a while to clean up and get back to the Inn.

Norma was looking very attractive and very sweet when she met him in the lobby. She wore her gray traveling suit with gray pumps and the saucy, tip-tilting hat that had come from Panchon's.

CALIFORNIA IS SHOWING SNAP AT PRACTICES

Bill Ingram Is Trying to Teach Fundamentals to More Than Hundred.

BY RUSSELL NEWLAND Associated Press Sports Writer BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 16. (AP) Down in the depths of Memorial stadium, a University of California eleven is being whipped into shape this season, with an established system come to new surroundings and different faces in the coaching positions.

With W. A. Ingram, the former "Navy Bill" of naval academy playing and coaching renown, and his lieutenants, "Stub" Allison and Frank Wichorst, late of mid-western universities, rest the hopes of California supporters. This trio is expected to lead the blue and gold gridiron army out of the wilderness to heights it once occupied, years ago.

Where, if any place, the 1931 Bear touchdown will lead will be determined as the season progresses. But a peek behind stadium walls reveals a snap and dash in practice that forebodes trouble for the other side.

More than a hundred aspirant and perspiring candidates roared up and down the field. Footballs flying and tackling dummies creaking. This is the main play in the bowl. At one end, three or four first string men are having a session with Coach Ingram, 200 pounds of muscle and fighting spirit. The coach shouts "You Bob! Not at me like you meant business. You're not out taking a walk."

Stickler on fundamentals and crank on proper blocking, Ingram is young and powerful enough to treat his boys to personal instruction. The man who bowls him over is the man he wants. None is expected to do what Ingram cannot do.

Eighteen lettermen and nearly as many players with some experience will form the nucleus of the California squad that winds up its season with an inter-sectional game with Georgia Tech, at Atlanta, Dec. 26. Coach Ingram's squad will make its coast conference bow Oct. 17, against Washington State.

Schedule: Sept. 26—Santa Clara at Berkeley; Oct. 3—St. Mary's at Berkeley; Oct. 10—Olympic club at Berkeley; Oct. 17—Washington State at Portland; Oct. 24—Southern California at Berkeley; Oct. 31—Nevada at Berkeley; Nov. 7—Washington at Berkeley; Nov. 14—Idaho at Berkeley; Nov. 21—Stanford at Palo Alto.

Mark seemed almost a stranger. He was discussing school pranks, sports events, places and people who meant nothing to Norma. They were all familiar enough to Clint Halloran. Both men laughed frequently. Oh, they were having a great time.

Their table was the one Mark and Norma favored regularly—at the side of the dining room near the right wall. Sunlight and air reached them from south as well as east windows. Mark's chair stood so that his back was toward the center of the room.

A shadow hovered over the table for an instant. Norma raised her eyes, nodded. "Who was that who just passed?" Mark wanted to know.

DEAN FAVORED TO BEAT BARON OUTFIT TODAY

Two Hundred Fans Arrive in Birmingham for Dixie Series Opening.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 16. (AP)—Dixie Dean, a rising young baseball star, and Ray Caldwell, a veteran twice Dean's age, opposed each other as the pitchers' mound today as Birmingham met Houston in the first game of the Dixie series to determine the baseball championship of the south.

Dean was the choice of the Texas champions while Caldwell took the hill for the Southern association winners. The Houston team, accompanied by approximately 200 supporters, arrived here early today. Prior to leaving for Birmingham the Buffs engaged in a long batting practice with the Carr ball, to be used in the first two games here today and tomorrow. The Spaulding ball will be used in the games in Texas.

Odds today were five to four that Houston would win the opener with Dean in the box. The Texas champions also were favored for the series.

A crowd of around 15,000 was forecast for the opener game. The third, fourth, and fifth games will be played in Houston Saturday night, Sunday, and Monday night.

Letter Figures in Drowning of Wife

HAMPTON, Va., Sept. 16. (AP)—Dr. George K. Vandervliet, coroner of Elizabeth county, last night termed the investigation here of the drowning of Mrs. Janet Graham Kane as a "confusing tangle" which "looks more like homicide as we get deeper into it."

The coroner said there were confusions in the statement of Prof. Elisha Kent Kane, of the University of Tennessee, who is held on a warrant charging murder of his wife, as to his whereabouts the day before the drowning in Chesapeake bay and as to his position at the time Mrs. Kane was drowned.

The official, who has declined to comment on a purported letter to or from Kane, tonight said the alleged letter involved a woman in New York City whose name he would "rather not divulge" until the officers could make certain by obtaining possession of the letter.

Nicaraguan Canal Plans Postponed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—The plan for prosecuting legislation at the next congress for beginning construction on an interoceanic canal across Nicaragua was said today by high war department officials to have been postponed because of economic problems confronting the administration.

A report of a survey of the proposed route by army engineers authorized by congress in 1929 will be ready for the December session as scheduled. Although the report will declare the project feasible from an engineering standpoint, the war department is expected to recommend it be deferred.

In view of the economic situation, unemployment, and the treasury deficit it is felt the expenditure of large sums for a Nicaraguan canal at this time would be unwise. Army engineers said all plans and estimates were based on employment of Central American natives as laborers and this would not help American labor. Only the highly executives and engineers would be from the United States.

As estimated by Col. Dan I. Sultan, of the army engineers, the canal would cost approximately $700,000,000 and would require 8 years to build. On this basis an appropriation of $87,500,000 would be needed for the first year's work.

CARS ARE DESTROYED

DALLAS, Sept. 16. (AP)—A Texas and Pacific railway car barn and 21 box cars were destroyed and three firemen were overcome by heat and smoke yesterday when fire broke out in the company yards here.

Loss was estimated at $40,000. Of 11,687 wholesale institutions in Illinois, 6,238 are located in Chicago. Twenty-one states, Canada and the Philippine islands were represented by the 1931 graduates of Marquette university.

Back to School Movement Starts

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—President Hoover's unemployment relief organization announced today a nation-wide response to its "back to school" movement.

The relief group has been conducting a campaign to keep young people in school to prevent them from competing for jobs with heads of families and losing educational advantages.

The movement has been endorsed, the organization announced today, by school authorities, educators, chambers of commerce, service associations, charter-building societies and women's organizations. The relief group made public communications from all sections of the country commending the movement, pledging cooperation, and telling the local plans for promoting school attendance.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Hollyce Sellers Hinkle

London has been having an epidemic of green shirts for men. They are usually worn with a dark red tie.

But there's nothing of the sort in America. Men's styles this season are conservative in both cut and color, say local merchants who are making final plans for the fashion revue which is to be held tonight and tomorrow night at La Nora theatre.

To find out what women were wearing during Eugene's reign, one has only to look around him, but to learn what the men wore during that time, we suggest the history book.

Men's styles have changed but little since last year, except that to be conservative is more important than ever. Improvement has been noted in materials used (cellulose used for lining is said to be stronger than silk, wool, or cotton), but the lines remain about the same.

There has been more change in top coats and California weight coats than in suits, the merchants say. Most of the new coats are half belted. Some have regular sleeves and others Regland sleeves. Both notch and peak lapels are noted. The peak-lapel, double-breasted coats are popular this year, one merchant said.

Is it better to be distinctively ugly or plainly pretty?

Be yourself, distinctively, above all else, urges Mme. Helena Rubinstein, beauty specialist.

Says Madame Rubinstein: "Only recently, I was going thru some of the addresses on beauty that I delivered three years ago, and among them I found these words:

"Modern women have become as standardized as auto ads. With their bobbed, their colored cheeks and lips, and their knee-length skirts, they all look alike. The sameness of their rouge-pot prettiness has become a weariness and a dreadfulness to the eye."

"I am glad that those unpleasant charges against American women are no longer true. The American woman has learned that her own beauty problem may be far different from that of her neighbor, or even her own sister. One woman may require high coloring, another pastel shades. The remedy that means beauty for one might mean prosaeness for another."

Women are interested in the style revue tonight and tomorrow night not only to see what are the latest styles, but to see how these styles can be adapted to enhance the beauty of individual types of women, to observe the facial make-up, and the manner of the models.

Models of all types are being used—blondes, brunets, tall women, short women, stout, and lean will appear in the revue, and all will wear clothes and use make-up which best becomes their type.

family. Oh, they're all right as families go, I suppose! What is there to tell you about 'em?"

"Tell me about your mother."

Three fine creases appeared between Mark's eyes. "I thought I'd have a letter from her by this time," he admitted. "Can't you understand it. Mother's always been a good scout about coming through with the old cash roll when it would do the most good. Fact is, I've been expecting a check ever since I telephoned we were here. Maybe, it'll come in the late mail today."

There was a pause.

"Do you suppose it's because of me you haven't heard from her?"

Norma asked slowly. "I mean getting married in such a hurry."

"Well, what of that? Had the right to get married if we wanted to, didn't we? Oh, I suppose Dad blew up and said a lot to give Mother the wrong impression but she ought to get over that. He will, all right."

It was almost the first time they had discussed Mark's father's opposition to their marriage. Always before the youth had scoffed at Norma's concern.

"You haven't told me what your mother looks like," she reminded him. "You're like your father, aren't you?"

The young man grimaced. "In looks! Alicia's like Mother." (She knew Alicia was his sister.) "Not tall but taller than you are. Mother has gray eyes and her hair used to be almost black. It's gray now. She fusses a lot because she's lost her girlish figure. Tries to diet but she never does. She's terribly proud that she used to be a Randolph and raves about the way the young set carried on. Just the same she's a good scout. You'll be crazy about Mother."

"Oh, of course." But what is she going to think of me? the girl was wondering.

Mark told her how excited his mother had been over Alicia's mar-

ALL TEACHERS IN COUNTY WILL HAVE PICNIC

PLANS WILL BE MADE BY GROUP THIS EVENING

For the Afternoon

A steak fry to which every teacher in Gray county will be invited is to be planned by superintendents and principals of the county when they hold their first meeting of the year this evening in the home economics rooms at the LeFors high school. At the teachers institute in Canyon, the dates of the picnic was tentatively set for Oct. 9 at LeFors. The outing will be attended by about 225 persons, according to estimate of County Supt. John B. Hessey.

K. B. Fisher, superintendent of the public schools of Pampa, will preside as president for the first time this evening. He was elected by the educators last spring. The organization will be served dinner at 8:15 o'clock by the home economics students of the LeFors high school. Miss Josephine Sparks will direct the serving. A program for the occasion has been arranged by E. G. Sanders, superintendent of schools at LeFors.

Last year the superintendents and principals met once each month for dinner. Problems relating to school administration were discussed and entertainment was furnished.

riage two years before. Alicia lived abroad and her husband boasted a title. He was Count Jules de Lauriere, a Frenchman. The count and countess lived in a historic chateau where the plumbing and heating equipment were almost as antique and uncomfortable as the much admired furnishings. Alicia was two years older than Mark.

"That's another thing that burns me up!" he grumbled. "When Alicia and Jules were married Dad turned over $250,000 in cold cash for what they call a dowry. $250,000! Say—what wouldn't we do with that?"

"It's because dowries are the custom in Europe," Norma told him. "And your parents must have liked the count. You know what your father thought about me! It's because of me they feel the way they do."

"That's no reason at all! They don't love you!"

"But they know I worked for my living. And I haven't any family. They know that much."

"Well, we won't argue about it. Let's go back and see if the mail has come yet."

She turned back. The clerk at the Inn reported there was nothing for Mr. or Mrs. Travers.

For the next three days Mark spent a good share of his time on the golf links. Occasionally when he was with Norma he was brooding and moody. Something seemed to worry him. Could it be about money? Mark had had more than $1400 when they came to Blue Springs two weeks ago. Everything was expensive here, but $1400—! It couldn't possibly be gone!

She tried to question him about this, found him impatient, even cross.

Thursday night they did not join the dancers after dinner. Mark had been on the links with Halloran all afternoon. He said something about a "little game" with the boys.

"You don't mind, darling?" he inquired, as an afterthought. "Not in the least."

How she did mind later when, alone, she looked out on the moon-drenched lawn and heard the melancholy, sighing wind! She was in their rooms. Too proud to let others know she was spending the evening alone she had gone upstairs immediately after dinner.

The "little game" could not last forever. Norma looked at the clock. It was 10:30.

She tried to read. An hour later she bathed, got into gown and negligee and curled up on the davenport. By one o'clock she extinguished all but a single lamp, turned down the covers and got into bed.

She had not been asleep when nearly two hours later the scratch of a key in the latch aroused her. Mark! at last!

The door opened. Pale and disheveled, her young husband stood on the threshold. The girl gave him one startled look, sat up and cried:

Here's a fall ensemble smart for afternoon wear. It is of black plaid crepe and black and gold metallic cloth touched with red. The jacket has wide fox cuffs.

MAKING TRUCKS BE GOOD

Spokesmen at the recent meeting of truck and bus drivers pointed out that the critical attitude of the public toward them was not based primarily upon economic grounds, such as making railroads unprofitable, but upon incidents in which drivers were discourteous.

It is a fact that the public can see no good, and may see a menace, in a big vehicle which hogs the road. The human mind works consistently along the route of likes and dislikes. Bus and truck drivers can win support by making it a point always to be courteous.

The public is not as much worried as some spokesmen would like to represent in the wear and tear on the highways. It is the wear on the nerves of drivers trying to pass buses and trucks on the roads that counts.

The people and the government gave land grants to the railroads because railroads means development. Giving the buses and trucks free roadbeds is not a parallel case today. Highway transportation is in direct competition with an established service, hence there is nothing vital in civic and territorial development.

Despite the fact that Andy Mellon is wearing out pencils balancing the budget, we'd like to see the Hoover public buildings plan take the form of immediate work on the Pampa federal structure.

SPEAKING OF THESE DEPRESSIONS

Money, held out of circulation, will be very plentiful when public confidence returns. Someone with a flair for historical data dug this up: There was a business depression starting in 1873 lasting thirty months.

The important thing about these past depressions, is the newspapers say, that each of them was followed by flushed times, and the longer the depression lasted, the longer and more active the "boom."

George Outlines College Work on Visit to Pampa

There are several reasons for the prominence of West Texas State Teachers college in this territory, according to L. N. George, field secretary of the ex-student organization at that institution, who was in Pampa yesterday.

Mr. George pointed out that though the scholastic standing of West Texas State Teachers college is very high, the cost to the student is very low. In view of the present depression, the administration has made every effort to lower student expenses.

Mr. George said that a larger enrollment than ever is expected this fall in spite of and due to the much-discussed depression. He expressed the belief that persons who are without employment will go to school rather than waste a whole year if they can possibly get the money.

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 16. (AP)—Mrs. Amanda Burks, 92, "queen of the old trail drivers," who in 1871 rode the cattle trail to Abilene, Kan., in a buggy, died at her La Most ranch home, 25 miles east of Cotulla, yesterday.

Her journey to Abilene, Kan., with cattle in 1871 consumed three months. She was accompanied by a negro servant who rode horseback. When she tired of the buggy she exchanged places with the negro. She swam her horse across swollen streams, experienced a prairie fire and went through numerous storms and stampedes.

Markets

WHEAT STRONGER CHICAGO, Sept. 16. (AP)—Material upturn in grain prices took place today, helped by Liverpool reports that Russian offerings of spring wheat had been mostly withdrawn. Enlarged estimates of wheat requirements for China's flooded regions were also current.

COTTON OPENS FIRM NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 16. (AP)—Cotton had rather a firm opening today as Liverpool cables were decidedly better than due.

While October dropped to 6.70 down only five points, December eased off to 6.75, down 12 points from the opening.

Near the end of the first hour the market was quiet and barely steady anticipating a very favorable weather map and also a favorable weekly weather report.

Raised Bills Are Seized—Couple Held

LUBBOCK, Sept. 16. (AP)—Johnnie G. Vines and his wife, Dovey Vines, of Plainview, were held here today under $1,500 bonds on charges of possessing and passing counterfeit $10 Federal Reserve bank notes.

Commissioner Victor H. Lindsey said the couple probably would be taken to Amarillo for confinement in the event they fail to make bond.

Bills seized by a federal officer were linked specifically with notes passed in Central Texas recently.

Vines and his wife were charged specifically with passing the spurious bills near Olton on Sept. 8. They were arrested yesterday at Plainview.

The federal agent said his department had positive proof the spurious bills seized here and in Central Texas were manufactured in Juarez by a group of counterfeiters.

Clyde Garner was in McLean today on business.

Belize Uncertain About Rebuilding

BELIZE, British Honduras, Sept. 16. (AP)—Plans for rehabilitation of Belize remained at a standstill today while residents sought recovery from the shock of the hurricane that brought death and disaster to the city Thursday.

The death toll was officially estimated by navy doctors at 1,500-2,000. Nearly 1,000 bodies have been burned on five huge funeral pyres.

Whether the city will be rebuilt depends upon the problematic success in cleaning up the wreckage of the frame buildings that housed Belize's 13,600 residents.

United States navy doctors, rushed by plane and boat to the scene of the tragedy, continued today their efforts to avoid a wave of typhoid fever because of a lack of suitable drinking water.

Residents continued efforts to build shelter from the remains of their frame dwellings. Food was handed out by the Salvation Army from a central soup kitchen across the street from the city hall and the emergency aid station, set up in the First Presbyterian church, where more than 1,000 injured persons have been treated since the storm.
