Canadian Cruiser Snares Nazi Ship

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 (AP)—The Canadian armed merchant cruiser Prince Robert has captured the German express cargo ship Weser off Manzanillo, Mexico, Navy Minister Angus MacDonald announced today.

The Weser, a 9,179-ton ship which piled as a passenger liner on the north German Lloyd's Bremen-Pacific service, took refuge in Punta Arenas, Costa Rica, shortly after the war began. She moved thence to Manzanillo, arriving late in July.

I Saw . . .

Ralph Randel of Panhandle losing his own shirt yesterday before a large crowd on the main street of Panhandle. It happened this way: Randel had won the right to cut the shirt tail off Frank Ford's back when Ford as "Iron-Man" of a ranch in Boy Scout drive failed to report collection by 5 o'clock. Randel managed for a pair of yard long scissors and set to work, cutting the shirt tail off around Ford's neck. When the shearing was finished Ford began laughing and he laughed so loud and so violently he rolled into the gutter. Then he explained that he had gone up to Randel's house. "Well don't you recognize your own shirt?" asked Ford. Then Randel did. . . . The Scout drive was kicked off with a breakfast, at which the Rev. Robert Bushman of Pampa was principal speaker. Although no quota was set a goal was adopted and passed by several hundred dollars.

England Waits For Spain To Enter War

Events shaped rapidly today toward the entry of Spain into the war on the side of the Rome-Berlin axis—apparently to permit an attack on Britain's great rock citadel at Gibraltar by German troops passing through Spain.

'Cow Candy' Cured Locoed Cattle

Dr. Overton Quoted In Reader's Digest

Molasses to stave off the effects of loco weed, a plant that causes insanity and death among cattle, is used by Dr. M. C. Overton Jr., of Pampa on his 4,000-acre ranch near Eagle Nest, New Mexico. The Pampa physician has been the first to carry on such experiments. Many cattle had been lost yearly through loco on his ranch. Since he began his experiment, not one case of death has occurred when molasses was promptly given poisoned animals; and not one case of poisoning has been observed where they had it all along.

Baptist Women Entertained With Fifth Annual Department Social

Trip Around The World Theme Of Social Affair

One of the most colorful parties of the season was the fifth annual department social given for women of the First Baptist church Wednesday afternoon in the church with a trip around the world as the theme.

The guests were received by the Rev. and Mrs. C. Gordon Bayless, T. D. Alford, Sunday School superintendent, and Mrs. Alford while Mrs. R. W. Tucker, department superintendent, and Mrs. E. L. Anderson, department secretary presided at the registry. Mrs. W. R. Hallmark, assistant superintendent of the department, was in charge of the arrangements for the event.

The program opened with music played by Mrs. Flaude Gallman, department pianist, and Mrs. W. F. Fletcher, violinist, after which the group joined in singing "Onward Christian Soldiers." Mrs. F. E. Leach gave the devotional and Rev. Bayless led in prayer.

"America the Beautiful" was then sung and Mrs. Hallmark explained the tour. As she blew a whistle, the guests started on the journey and at the door they were given all-day suckers. The department officers wore navy blue dresses with white sailor collars and white sailor caps. Decorations were huge dahlias and the American and Christian flags.

Hawaii visited

At the door of the beginners room, the group was ushered into Hawaii, where decorations were vari-colored flowers and palms. Pineapple salad was served from an attractively decorated table by Mmes. T. B. Solomon, A. J. Young, H. C. Wilkie, D. W. Slaton, and C. L. Henderson, who wore leis. Hawaiian music was played as the guests were served.

When the whistle blew again, the group started into the low junior department, representing Mexico. Here they were greeted by seniors and senoras as Mexican music was played. Exhibits of articles from Mexico, bear grass, and Mexican flowers were used in decorating the room. Chili hot tamales and crackers were served by Mmes. R. E. Gatlin, E. H. Eaton, W. J. Morris, G. B. Stone, Emmett Forrester, Homer Doggett, and G. H. Anderson, dressed in appropriate costumes. Mrs. Gallman and Mrs. Fletcher also played musical selections here and Bobby Hatfield played accordion numbers. Led by Mrs. R. E. Gatlin, the group joined in singing "South of the Border." After leaving Mexico, the group went to New York with its setting in the high junior department where Mmes. J. P. Wehrung and P. K. Sterns were in charge. A miniature Statue of Liberty could be seen and "America" was sung as the group entered. Mmes. Tom Duvall and Troy Maness presented each guest with a card on which "God Bless America" was written.

States Toured

States visited included Indiana, where the corn husker, played by Mrs. L. E. Olson dressed in native costume, was shucking corn; Kansas was decorated with sunflowers and little Nancy Jameson, dressed as a sunflower, pointing to a map of Kansas; Georgia which was arranged as a cotton field where Mrs. R. E. Thomas, dressed as a colored woman, was a cotton picker who had stopped to eat watermelon.

Then came Texas, decorated with prickly pears, rocks, trees, and grass with Mrs. R. Q. Kirby, dressed as a cowgirl, riding a horse. California was portrayed with a beach scene of palms, sand, and flowers. Mrs. L. W. Marsh, dressed in a play suit was seated on the beach. Oklahoma was the next stop. Here the Indians in native costume. Mrs. W. A. Erening, Roy Holt, and C. V. Forsman, were gathered around a teepee. Other decorations were blankets and curios.

As these states were visited, the state song was led by Mrs. Bayless with Mrs. Fred Rusk at the piano, assisted by Mmes. Otis Branscum, Haskell Dill, Alva Bell, and Tom Duvall.

Teed drinks were served from decorated booths by Mrs. J. P. Wehrung, L. P. Ward, L. H. Simpson, and L. L. Allen.

For the closing number, "God Bless America" was sung by the entire group.

Registering

Registering were the Rev. and Mrs. C. Gordon Bayless, Mmes. Mary E. Price, Park Brown, T. D. Alford, R. K. Douglass, C. S. Boyd, Floyd Yeager, F. B. Edwards, J. C. Vollmer, H. B. Beard, J. C. Barnard, P. C. Abbott, Ida Watson, Rupert Orr, Haskell Dill, L. L. Allen.

Marketing Today Will Be Cooking School Topic

The old adage that "all women are born cooks" is a fallacy today... for to be a cook is not enough; home-makers must have a knowledge of food, its relation to health and the proper way to prepare it, and the proper way to plan menus that give a well-balanced meal three times daily. To have this knowledge takes years of specialized study and training, which has probably never been acquired by the majority of women. There the Pampa News knows they are offering a real service to the women of Pampa in presenting Mrs. Arvea D. French, southern dietitian, economist, who will conduct the cooking school.

There is an art in marketing today. There is much that perhaps you have not had time to learn about. This is one of the subjects that Mrs. French will discuss. Perhaps you would like to know how to plan a meal from left-overs, or perhaps you are one of those home-makers who can't stay within your budget, and would like to learn some short cuts that will help you do so. There is not one item that will be overlooked in the cooking school to be held Sept. 30, Oct. 1-2 in the LaNora theater. Complete menus will be given which tell exactly the type of food that makes for balanced menus during certain seasons of the year. You will get new recipes that are an instant success, which will put new color into your meals. It is a home meal or a party, will be discussed. The knowledge that you will acquire each day of the school is amazing... and one of the most interesting features is the "question box."

All women like to ask questions... so the purpose of the question box is to give you an opportunity to ask the question which interests you. The questions will be answered on the spot. This is only one of the many features which makes the cooking school an occasion of extraordinary interest to all women.

The admission is free to all. The Pampa News invites you to attend each day.

Pampa Academy Of Fine Arts To Begin Classes Next Week

Pampa Academy of Fine Arts, 109 1/2 South Cuyler street, will open Monday and will continue until next week.

Prospective students are requested to register as soon as possible so that the required materials may be on hand at the opening. All academy courses are to be given, including drawing, painting, lettering, children's Saturday morning classes, and also classes in design and home crafts.

The academy faculty includes the manager teacher, P. Hutton Schill, Mrs. Howard Boyd, teacher and also instructor in painting, the Saturday morning children's class; and Thomas W. Flake, instructor of commercial lettering.

A new course has been added to the curriculum of the art academy which should be of much interest to the home-maker of Pampa. This is the pottery and modeling class, under the supervision of Mrs. Boyd, assistant.

This course has been planned to meet the needs of those people who do not feel that they are ready for interpretative painting and design. The students will study all elements and principles of designing while acquiring a practical working knowledge of the use of mechanical instruments.

There will be, during the course of the year, problems pertaining to the various home-making work, wood carving, pottery and modeling, batik block printing and interior decoration.

Artists skilled in each of these fields will be invited to visit the class to demonstrate and discuss the individual methods of arriving at their problems.

The instruction will be personal, each student receiving individual attention of the instructor and any problems may be brought before the class for discussion and solving.

Mrs. Boyd, before entering the academy class last spring, had previous training at Texas Tech, Texas State College for Women, and Palo Duro Art Academy.

In the Saturday morning class, children will be taught the rudiments of drawing and color. The object of the instruction is to keep the enthusiasm and individuality of the child and at the same time to teach the elements of fine and applied art with good drawing, color, and composition. All children between five and 14 years of age are eligible for this class, which will also be under the direction of Mrs. Boyd.

Annual Promotion Banquet Of Baptist Juniors To Be Held

Junior department training union of First Baptist church will have its annual promotion banquet Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the church dining room.

All juniors who are being promoted into the intermediate department will receive a diploma.

The theme of the program is to be "Taking Off for Higher Grounds."

All members of the junior BYPU have received a special invitation to attend the event.

NEW SLIP FOR LARGE SIZES

PATTERN 8785

New needle-slim dresses demand slips beneath them that are faultless in fit. Make your own, with design 8785, and you'll achieve the perfect smoothness and slimmness that you really can't get any other way. The secret of its figure-molding perfection is the use of darts—horizontal under the arms and vertical at the waistline—which makes all the difference in the world! They assure just that little added fullness over the bust that you need, and snug in your waistline to exactly the right degree.

And of course you'll save money, even when you choose superior satins and lingerie crepes, by making your own slip at home. It's so easy—just take a look at the diagram, and you'll realize that. You can make it with ribbon straps, as well as with the built-up shoulders.

Pattern No. 8785 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, and 52. Size 38 requires 3 yards of 30-inch material with built-up shoulders; 2 1/2 yards, strap style.

Miss Dudley To Speak At Meeting Of Shamrock BPW

Special To The NEWS SHAMROCK, Sept. 26—Miss Helen Dudley of Pampa, who received so much publicity for her talks in behalf of Eugene Worley for congress, will speak in Shamrock on the night of October 8 as a part of the program on "Americanism," sponsored by the Shamrock Business and Professional Women's club.

The program is planned as a school for voters. Miss Nell Adams, chairman of arrangements for the program, said that this would not be a discussion of platforms but an instructive meeting at which the mechanics of voting and the rights, privileges and duties of the voter will be discussed.

1941 FORD FEATURES OUTSIDE BEAUTY

1941 Ford Super DeLuxe Fordor sedan. Like the rest of the new Ford line, it is larger, easier riding, and more beautiful outside and in.

Fords For 1941 Larger And More Sightly Outside

DEARBORN, Mich., Sept. 26.—The new Ford line is released for public inspection today. There has been a lot of advance discussion of changes. And changes there are, starting off with a considerable increase in size for the Ford V-8s, DeLuxe and Super DeLuxe.

Designers have taken full advantage of increased wheelbase and overall lengths to give added spaciousness, and Ford engineers have worked right up from bigger tires through to luxury seat cushions and new softer springs for the solid enhancement of riding comfort.

A new four-cylinder truck and commercial car engine is part of the economy features included in the Ford working line. The wheelbase of these big new DeLuxe and Super DeLuxe Ford V-8's is longer and the overall length greater.

mission gear ratios thus hiking up the "get-away".

In addition to beauty both inside and outside the Ford engineers emphasize the greatly improved ride in all 1941 models. This extra riding comfort starts with two inches longer wheelbase and a new electrically welded "X" type frame. This new frame structure is 100 per cent more rigid, making the body now mounted on big rubber cushions still quieter in service.

Running boards have practically disappeared from sight, due to the width of the new bodies. But they are there to step off when the doors are opened. The 85 horsepower V-8 engine is still unique as it is in the only eight cylinder car in the low price field.

of the Americas" and Mrs. R. M. Barkley discussed "South America's George Washington, Simon Bolivar."

The table was laid in patriotic designs and small flags of the different American republics were used as plate favors. Attending were Mrs. Esca Forgy, guest, and Mrs. Henry Benson, R. M. Barkley, Sol Blonstein, Ralph Coburn, Rufus Dodgen, J. G. Hamer, Clayton Heare, Lyle Holmes, Ansel McDowell of Wheeler, Albert Ryan, B. F. Risinger, S. Q. Scott, Jimmy Smith, Lance Webb, and Martin Whitehurst, members.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.

Announcing the big NEW FORD 1941 FORD

In some years, some cars take a big jump ahead. The Ford does that for 1941. It has jumped ahead in size. It's the biggest Ford we've ever built, inside and out. It's wider. It has a longer wheelbase. Its seating room is wider by as much as 7 inches. It has new wide doors and semi-concealed running boards. You'll notice also a new beauty, achieved by a skillful blending of mass with longer flowing lines. Larger windshield and windows give better vision all around. One of its biggest advantages is the new soft ride.

40-Hour Week Becomes Law Of Land In Month

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—A 40-hour work-week with a time-and-a-half for overtime becomes the law of the land four weeks from today, supplanting the present 42-hour standard for all employers and employees covered by the wage-hour law. The law applies only to those engaged in interstate commerce.

The change in employment standards on Oct. 24, labor economists said, probably will have little effect on job conditions for most of the nation's workers.

Statistics indicate most workers are on a 40-hour week or less, the U. S. Bureau of Labor reporting that in July the average work week in manufacturing industries was 37.3 hours.

A year ago when the wage-hour work week standard dropped from 44 to 42 hours a week, wage-hour officials reported that 2,380,000 workers would have their work week shortened by two hours.

Labor economists estimate reduction of the work week to 40 hours will be felt especially by employers in enterprises running close to the margin between profit and loss.

They have expressed concern over the possibility that in some cases the 40-hour week will mean reductions in pay, especially for hourly paid workers who will lose two hours under the new standard unless they continue on the 42-hour plan and are paid time and a half for the extra two hours.

Fatal Plane Crash Still Unexplained

MARFA, Sept. 26 (AP)—An investigation today failed to reveal the cause of a plane crash that took the lives of Corvill Spence, 24, and William H. Smith, 27.

The crash occurred near the Marfa airport late today.

Spence, who had 105 flying hours at Randolph field, San Antonio, owned the plane. Smith was an enlisted man in the quartermaster corps of Fort D. A. Russell.

Spence's step-father, Major G. D. Barnes, is quartermaster at Fort D. A. Russell.

Smith, a native of Lewisville, Texas, was the son of Mrs. Bessie Smith of Denton.

French Bombs Kill Four At 'The Rock'

MADRID, Sept. 26 (AP)—Tuesday's French air raid on Gibraltar caused "surprisingly little" damage Mrs. Jean Dixon, American wife of the British air attaché in Madrid, said today.

Mrs. Dixon said about 200 bombs were dropped; that four persons were killed and a dozen injured.

A bomb, said Mrs. Dixon, fell close to the British battle cruiser Renown, which immediately stood out to sea. (The Vichy admiral said a bomb hit had been scored on the Renown.)

Mrs. Martin Presides At First Meeting Of Carson County P-TA

Special To The NEWS

PANHANDLE, Sept. 26—Presenting the five "L" slogans of the eighth district of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, Mrs. Bruce Martin of White Deer, presided at the first meeting of the Carson County Council of Parents and Teachers, meeting in the Panhandle high school auditorium Monday night.

"If we live, we laugh; if we laugh, we love; if we love, we labor; if we labor, we learn," stated Mrs. Martin in challenging members of the five local units in Carson county to greater study of child welfare.

The program opened with a song session directed by Mrs. O. A. Owens with Miss Mary Ewing as accompanist. The invocation was given by the Rev. James Todd. The Mother Singers of Panhandle, directed by Mrs. Coe Cleek, gave two numbers.

In the business session it was decided to meet in Conway in November, in White Deer in February, and in Skellytown in April. Reports were given by representatives of each member attending: Conway, three; White Deer, seven; Skellytown, seven; and Panhandle, 41.

In the school of instruction, George Heath of White Deer spoke on "Parent Education and Study Groups"; Mrs. Ray Callahan of Conway spoke on "Membership"; Chester Strickland of Skellytown spoke on "Publicity and Procedure

Hereford Visitor Dies Unexpectedly

Mrs. J. A. Buckner, 70, of Hereford, died unexpectedly in a local hospital last night a few hours after being admitted. She had been visiting for a few days in the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Cox.

The body was taken overland to Hereford this morning by Duemkel-Carmichael Funeral home.

Surviving Mrs. Buckner are the husband, her daughter, Mrs. Cox, a son, Jess J. Buckner, Hereford, a sister, Mrs. Myrtle Robinson, Reno, Nev., and a brother, Courtney Foos, Waverly, Mo.

Mrs. Buckner had lived in Hereford for 39 years. She was a member and worker in the Hereford Baptist church.

New Mercury, Bigger, Easier, More Beautiful

DEARBORN, Mich., Sept. 26—A longer, bigger, easier-riding, faster-accelerating Mercury with new sweeping lines, rolls into public view tomorrow.

The car which made tenth place in its first year and strengthened it last year, looks as though it should go even further in 1941.

The smart new exteriors with their bright metal fender speedlines, new chrome radiator grilles, doors that practically enclose the running boards, hidden gasoline filler cap, new chrome fender-top parking lights, and heavier bumpers, with center mounted front license plate, are a few of the exterior points which will be immediately observed as new on the 1941 Mercury-8.

The Mercury now has a two-inch longer wheelbase with spring base increased in proportion to 129 inches. The sedan body is roomier than ever before, the front seat measuring 57½ inches in width from door to door and the rear 51 inches.

The easier riding of these bodies is not all due to the increased roominess, but is enhanced by the new full luxury type individual cushion springs used. Over these is a heavy pad of man rubber which contributes to the unusual softness found in the cushions this year.

The interiors of the cars are more beautiful than before. The instrument panel is redesigned, placing all the gauges and speedometer under a single glass directly in front of the driver, where they may be clearly seen through the "clear vision" two-spoke steering wheel.

The ignition control is placed on the side of the steering column where it locks as well as under the ignition. One of the features of the new controls is the ignition switch light this year. It makes it easy to find the keyhole in the dark. A horn ring is standard on all models.

An interesting mechanical change this year is that of the spring suspension, which continues the use of the well known transverse springs but with changes that give the Mercury one of the smoothest boulevard rides found in any car.

Louisiana Presses Probe Of Election

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 26 (AP)—Governor Sam Jones' "reform" administration moved swiftly today toward a far reaching investigation of alleged primary irregularities a few hours after five of its own election commissioners were named in cases charging vote fraud.

The commissioners were indicted in federal indictments which alleged they changed tally sheets in the recent congressional election to switch votes to T. Hale Boggs, who had the support of Governor Jones. Boggs was nominated.

Shortly afterward Attorney General Eugene Stanley and District Attorney J. Barnard Cooke of New Orleans petitioned criminal district court here for an open hearing to probe any irregularities in the gubernatorial and congressional primaries held this year. It was set for October 14.

Rebels Chased In 4 Mexican States

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 26 (AP)—Federal troops are pursuing small bands of rebels in four states, the Mexican ministry of national defense reported today.

In Durango state, troops clashed with a group near San Simón. Three rebels were killed, and one taken prisoner. Others escaped into the mountainous countryside.

Members of various bands were said to have surrendered in Chihuahua, Tamaulipas, and Michoacan states.

President Lazaro Cardenas, touring northern Mexico, has offered jobs and pardons to all those surrendering. He was en route today from Saltillo to Torreon, Coahuila state, to inspect a communal farm project, after which he planned to visit Chihuahua state to get a first-hand view of the situation there.

British Shell Italian Bases

By LARRY ALLEN

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Sept. 26 (AP)—British naval forces again have shelled Italian supply bases and troop concentrations in the Sidi Barrani area, inflicting heavy damage and leaving behind a train of huge fires. British naval authorities announced today.

The warships were said to have moved into the waters a short distance off Sidi Barrani and fired at point-blank range, scoring direct hits on Italian military objectives.

(In Rome the Italian high command acknowledged the British naval bombardment of Sidi Barrani and added that the Italian port of Tobruk on the Libyan coast had been bombed by British planes.)

A British naval communiqué said the new attack on Sidi Barrani—the third in 10 days—was made about dawn yesterday. Many shells were said to have fallen in the heart of bases established by Marshal Rodolfo Graziani for his invasion of Egypt.

The opinion was expressed by British authorities that their systematic attacks on concentrations along the coast, coupled with destructive bombings, had ruined Italian hopes of a renewed drive immediately after their 60-mile advance from Libya.

Ex-Newspaperman From Dumas Dies

AUSTIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—W. W. Halcomb, 33, former assistant secretary of state, former newspaper publisher and public relations man, died here today after a brief illness.

He is survived by his widow and a young daughter, Phila Jane. Funeral services and burial will be in Austin tomorrow.

For the last two years Halcomb has been public relations representative for Bowen Motor Coaches and had been stationed here.

Previously he had published a newspaper at Dumas and also had lived at Turkey and Longview.

When Attorney General Gerald C. Mann was secretary of state and James V. Alfred was governor, Halcomb had charge of convict parole matters; and was active in setting up local parole boards.

He was manager of Jerry Sadler's successful campaign for the railroad commission in 1937. In 1934 he was a speaker in Alfred's campaign for governor.

A native of Arkansas, Halcomb attended Baylor, and before going into newspaper and public relations work taught school in several places. His parents reside at Little Rock.

Announcing the New

MERCURY 8 FOR 1941

BEHIND the broad, masterful lines of the new Mercury 8 is written the most amazing success story in modern car history.

Introduced just two years ago, in a field crowded with well-established cars, the Mercury dared to challenge the recognized standards of value and performance with new ideas! And to date, it has won over 150,000 owner-friends!

The story of the Mercury's meteoric rise is its owners' story, written in the warmth of their enthusiasm. When they found the Mercury a big car in all the good things the word implies—and an economical car, they spread its praise far and wide. And so contagious was their enthusiasm that they made the new Mercury one of the most popular cars in its field!

The 1941 Mercury adds to the new ideas that have made this car a name for comfort, for easy handling that is a revelation. It is a new and livelier car, a thrillingly big car—inside and out. Body and doors sweep out over the running boards. Windshield and windows are wider and deeper. A new long wheelbase adds still more room.

You'll find the 1941 Mercury on display tomorrow. Give it the judgment of your experience—at any Mercury, Lincoln or Ford dealer's.

On Display Tomorrow YOU'LL LIKE THESE ADVANTAGES!

New Exterior Beauty. A long, low car. Wide body, superb streamlining. New bright colors.

Big Powerful Engine. Only V-8 in its field. Brilliant performance. Amazing economy!

Luxurious Interiors. Beautifully decorated in harmonizing colors. Wide seats. Resilient cushion pads of foam rubber.

Ease of Control. Finger-Tip Gearshift. Velvet-action clutch and hydraulic brakes. Newly-designed, perfected stabilizer.

New Riding Comfort. Long, easy-action springs. Improved shock absorbers. Center-poise balance. It rides like a dream.

Christian Church Official Board Approves Plans

A special meeting of the official board was held last night at the First Christian church to approve the program of the church for the coming year.

Reports were given by the divisions of worship, education, young people's work, publicity, missions, membership, and finance. All divisions of the church have been busily planning an ambitious program for the new year and the outlook for the coming year is better than it has been for the past several years, officials stated.

The church school is to use a church-teacher covenant for the coming year which will be signed by the teacher, chairman of the education committee, chairman of the official board, and the pastor. This covenant is designed to make a more binding and sacred tie between church school and church teacher. The school will also use the brotherhood plan known as "Into the Highways" for promoting church school enrollment throughout the year.

The division of missions has projected a school of missions to be held in February and March, which will be concluded on six consecutive Wednesday nights, and is designed to include all ages throughout the church. They are also planning to have at least two or three missionary speakers for the church throughout the winter months.

The division of worship recommended the project of new hymnals for the sanctuary and this was approved by the board. They are to be purchased in time to be used for "Go-to-Church" Sunday and for the evangelistic meeting beginning October 27. Also a new guest register is to be placed in the vestibule of the church.

The division of young people's work presented the formation of the Christian Youth Fellowship council for the purpose of unifying and strengthening the youth program of the church. This council is to meet monthly and plan for the entire youth group. The young people are planning for a youth revival leading up to Easter Sunday.

The division of membership plans a church-wide visitation campaign between Go-to-Church Sunday, October 20, and the beginning date of the evangelistic meeting, October 27. Within this division plans for the fall evangelistic campaign have been made and the church will engage in a meeting October 27 to November 10. Spencer Austin of Duncan, Oklahoma, and John E. Hutchinson of Fort Worth, together with the local pastor, will lead the meeting.

Plans for the publication of a church yearbook were presented by the division of publicity and approved by the board. It will contain a directory of members of the church and an outline of the work of the church for the past year.

Willkie Back In Midwest For Speech

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN ENROUTE TO OMAHA, Sept. 26. (AP)—Back in the Midwest for a speech at Omaha tonight outlining his views on raising farm income, Wendell L. Willkie formulated today a heavy October campaign schedule calling for 20 major addresses in key states.

As the Republican presidential nominee swung down through South Dakota after a two weeks tour of the west, he arranged to devote the remainder of his drive for votes to the populous eastern half of the country.

He will speak on foreign policy in Cleveland October 2. Later in the month he is expected to discuss "political bosses" in a Missouri speech assailing the Pennington Democratic organization. Philadelphia will be among the cities where he will talk, and Republican leaders are assuming he will close his campaign in Madison Square Garden, New York, on Nov. 2. Willkie worked on his Omaha farm speech yesterday between rear platform appearances in Eastern Montana and North Dakota. He told an audience at Dickinson, N. D.: "I want to give to the farmer something more than just a dole. I want to give to the farmer markets. I want to give to the farmer an expanding economy instead of a declining economy."

MONTGOMERY WARD

Both Sides Of The Third Term Issue

The Republican View

By EDWARD R. BURKE
Democrat, United States Senator
From Nebraska

WASHINGTON—All other issues give way before a determined effort to break down the traditional limitation on the presidential tenure of office.

Today the reasons for preserving that limitation are far more compelling than ever before. Americans must rise in November and justify the faith of Thomas Jefferson, who declared:

"Should a president consent to be a candidate for a third election, I trust he would be rejected on this demonstration of ambitious views."

If this be a matter so important, it may be asked why it was not written into the constitution, or added by amendment. There were those who saw that it should be done. The majority felt that the danger could be averted by a wise distribution of powers and an indirect method of election.

Thereafter, the example set by Washington, followed by Jefferson, Madison and Monroe, who thought to have forever determined that no president should be more than once re-elected. In the year of Jackson's first inauguration it was declared on the floor of the house by a member who later was elected president that an explicit amendment was unnecessary because:

"This principle is now as sacred as if it were written in the constitution."

Although many attempts at amendments have since been made, they have failed because public sentiment considered the unwritten law sufficiently binding. It remains for the electorate this year to so thoroughly repudiate a candidate who claims himself the only one fitted to fill that high office that never again will any individual yield to such delusions of grandeur.

Those who think clearly have long recognized that the greater the power attached to any office, the greater the danger of continuing it long in the same hands. Jefferson so believed. That truth was asserted over and over by Andrew Jackson.

Another great Democrat, Grover Cleveland, said:

"When we consider the patronage of this great office, the allurements of power, the temptation to retain public office once again, and more than all the availability a party

The Democratic View

By HAROLD L. ICKES
Secretary of the Interior

WASHINGTON—It was a French moralist—the Duc de la Rochefoucauld, I believe—who once remarked cynically that when a man says he hates women he means a PARTICULAR WOMAN.

I recall this saying in connection with the current third term hulla-balloo. When you hear a 101 per cent patriot, piously declaim against a third term "on principle," you may be sure that he is against a PARTICULAR. Many vocal super-patriots thought it a fine thing for Calvin Coolidge to have a third term, but profess to be horrified "on principle," of course—at the thought of Franklin D. Roosevelt serving another term in the white house.

In May, 1927, a nation-wide poll of 200 leading Republican newspapers, taken by the Los Angeles Examiner, showed most of them favoring a third term for Calvin Coolidge. At the same time the Washington Star polled the members of the Republican National committee on the same question. Two-thirds of them expressed themselves "overwhelmingly in favor of the renomination and re-election of President Coolidge."

In those days Republicans were, indeed, ardent "third termers"—for Calvin Coolidge. Some Republicans, to be sure, were not satisfied with a third term for Calvin Coolidge. They wanted much more. For example, in Sudbury, Mass., the Republican town committee voted 6 to 1 in favor of a life-long presidency for Coolidge, at a double salary.

One could cite numerous Republican individuals as having been enthusiastic third termers. The late Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, William Howard Taft, for instance, said that "it would be very satisfactory" if Coolidge were to run for a third term. Mark Sullivan, who has paroxysms of super-patriotic indignation every time he thinks of Franklin D. Roosevelt staying in the white house 60 seconds longer than two terms, used to be an eager third termer. He was all for a third term for Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 and for Calvin Coolidge later.

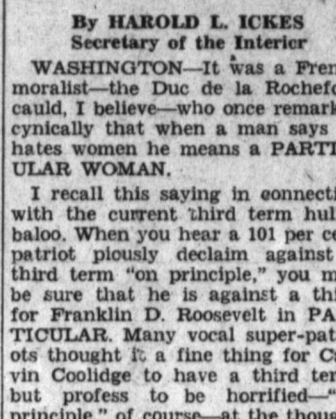

In 1925 Mark Sullivan dismissed the "third term bogey" as unimportant. Finally, no less a patriotic citizen than ex-President Herbert Hoover must be set down as a third termer. In 1927 he favored a third term for Calvin Coolidge. Still believe as I stated in Chicago two weeks ago, "Mr. Hoover said on August 3, 1927, 'that President Coolidge should be re-nominated and re-elected.'"

The enemies of President Roosevelt are doing their best to confuse and bewilder the people with talk of "dictatorship." They are trying to create the impression that, if he should have another four years in the white house, he suddenly, overnight as it were, would become a Hitler. This is plain and vicious nonsense, as those who are using the argument well know. A president of the United States, no matter how frequently elected, is limited in his powers by well-defined laws, checked by the courts and by an independent (and frequently unsympathetic) congress—his every move and gesture watched over and reported by a free (and often hostile) press.

But is not a third term a violation of tradition? My answer is that while traditions are important in peaceful and easy times, they can become a millstone around democracy's neck in a period of crisis. Every honest American, from George Washington down, has recognized this. Democracy must be flexible, not muscle-bound, if it is to survive. Thomas Jefferson, by the way, was willing to serve a third term, if there was danger of a monarchist (the Fascist of his day) being elected.

In conclusion, I should like to put myself on record as agreeing with Mr. Wendell Wilkie when he said, a short time ago: "Nor do I hold that a country can afford to cling to a tradition for purely sentimental reasons."

boundaries an unfair competitive advantage in the marketing of citrus fruit.

The current area of production definition exempts citrus operations in the open country or towns of less than 2,500 population which draw their raw materials within a radius of 10 miles. This definition will be supplanted October 1 by a new rule which discards the mileage and population limitation and grants the exemption to plants which have 10 or less employees.

Citrus Packers And Cannerymen Agree On Wage-Hour Policy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—The wage-hour administration today announced citrus fruit packers and cannerymen from Florida, Texas, and California had reached an agreement with the agency on a co-operative program to obtain compliance by the industry with wage-hour law standards.

The two sides which have had prolonged disputes over the law and regulations issued under it will now work together, the announcement said, on the joint enforcement program.

Details of the agreement and enforcement measures to be taken by each side were not disclosed.

Since the early days of the wage-hour law, the citrus industry has attacked agency regulations which defined and redefined the area of production within which citrus packing and processing were exempt from the law.

Growers and packers outside the exempted area frequently charged that the narrow scope of the exempted area gave those within its

Army's Newspaper Advertising Helped Hike Enlistments

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—War department officials predicted today the record influx of recruits would give the army its immediate objective of 375,000 regulars by mid-November, well ahead of schedule.

The flow of enlistments indicated 40,000 or more for September, compared with 31,900 in July and 38,611 in August.

As of September 21, with 324,000 enlisted men in the service, the regular army was the largest in American peacetime history.

Newspaper advertising, employed for the first time on a large scale, and specially built mobile recruiting stations have contributed materially to the enlistment drive, officials said.

The imminence of conscription was not given the major credit for enlistments.

Peanut Vendor To FDR Becomes Citizen Of U. S.

By EDDY GILMORE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Steve Vasilakos, peanut vendor who's closer to the white house than any other business man in America, admitted today he is the happiest man in the nation.

"Right soon next Tuesday," said the man who has peddled peanuts to presidents for more than 20 years, "I am an American 100 per cent—papers and all."

Steve got the good news in a government envelope and celebrated by stuffing the white house squirrels and birds with free handouts of his best merchandise.

"This exam," he said "was one tough business, but I say to myself he's right because look what a man gets—he gets this beautiful, wonderful country!"

Vasilakos came to the United States from Greece in 1910, took a flyer at the dishwashing division of the restaurant business, and then settled down to peanuts and pop corn.

He took up his stand on a corner that's actually on the white house property. Six years ago the police sought to move him, point-

Political Economy In One Lesson

What Is Seen and What Is Not Seen

By Frederic Bastiat... In favour of the system of subsidies, it may be said that the arts enlarge, elevate, and refine the mind of a nation; that they withdraw it from material considerations, give it the sentiment of the beautiful, and thus react advantageously on its manners, its customs, its morals, and even its industry.

CRAYSON'S SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Staff Editor
A nautical tradition had its day when Sidney A. Allen won the historic Gold Cup in Hotsy Totsy III.

It was the first time Sid Allen ever competed for the ancient urn.

It is 32... runs a small boat yard operates a motion picture theater and roller skating rink and dabbles in real estate at Hampton Bays, L. I.

In a boat which had been considered a flop for which he paid only $1,200, Allen snatched the coveted trophy by outlasting craft capable of 70 miles an hour and which cost $35,000.

Allen's time was the slowest in 16 years. He averaged less than 49 miles an hour in piling up 800 points in capturing the first two heats.

Hotsy Totsy III, a little two-step, mahogany-hulled, 22-foot affair, is to its owner the least expensive packet ever to bag the cup, and Allen did not receive the bill of sale from the widow of Victor Kleserath until shortly before the race.

Kleserath had Hotsy Totsy III constructed at a cost of $15,000 in 1937, and considered her a failure after her cup bow that year.

My Sid was put out of the first heat at Northport Harbor, L. I., and Zalmom Simmons was forced to abandon all hope of defending the cup he won last September when in the second rain clogged the magnetics of the fastest time entered.

Herbert Mendelson's Notre Dame couldn't get a tow for 30 minutes after being forced out of the first heat, and so much time was lost rescuing the Detroit creation that she could not be repaired in time for the second.

Notre Dame, with Denny Arena at the helm, won the third heat by miles... averaging 69.77.

Lou Fagepu put water in the hull of So Long for the trip from Los Angeles. The idea was to keep the Californian from drying out, but the ignition, wiring and starter went, blole.

Two of the three motors in George Cannon's new Gray Goose III chucked it all. Gar Wood, Jr.'s, Tinker Joy folded.

Only the despised Hotsy Totsy III and the 15-year-old Miss Sylvania, which isn't even a hydroplane, escaped being crippled.

Not one of the half dozen starters went the entire 90 miles represented by three 30-mile heats, but Hotsy Totsy kept chugging right along until flagged off the course in the final heat because she couldn't finish within nine minutes of the first boat, Notre Dame.

When Notre Dame finally did get going, she was 10 miles ahead, but it was too late.

As Herb Mendelson remarked, it was enough to make a fellow remain on land forever.

SERIAL STORY

THIS COULD BE YOUR STORY

BY MARGUERITE GAHAGAN

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

All characters, organizations and incidents of this serial are entirely fictitious.

YESTERDAY'S gossip has it that young Clark is trying to sell some of his own property for an airport site. Nick's party could make capital of that to elect their own candidate. Nick probably would trouble at the Smithson factory, where Joe works. And if there is a strike, he'll see the "factory" you'll see how smart operators work.

JOE MAKES PLANS

SUE MARY couldn't sleep. The hot August night wind merely moved the bedroom curtains and she tossed and wondered, puzzled, and could find no answer.

A strike, picket lines, fights, and police squads. She thought of the women she had met when she went to parties with Joe, wives of the plant workers. What would they do when the departments closed down and the pay checks ceased to come? How would they manage to run their homes, feed their families when their too-meager savings ran out?

And what would happen when the material needed by the plane factory ceased to be produced? What would happen, then, to that part of the national defense plan? She wanted to ask all these questions and more, too, when she saw Joe later in the week. They had gone to a movie and then, coming from the air-cooled theater into the city heat, had turned the car out toward the lake for a few last moments of air.

"What would happen if your factory went on strike?" she asked finally.

Joe slowed down and looked at her, astonished.

"What would happen? Well, plenty, I suppose. We're really speeding up production now, with all these plane orders. But why should we go on strike?"

"Oh, I don't know. I guess I read something about a new union contract being negotiated at the factory," she explained lamely.

"Sure, but that doesn't mean we're going to strike. A new contract comes up every year, and we don't strike about it. Our representatives and the management set together and work it out."

She breathed deeply and settled back against the car seat. "I'm glad. I just wondered if there could be a strike. With picket lines and trouble—like there used to be."

"Well, it's possible, I suppose," Joe agreed.

"But certainly not probable. That part of unionism is about over. I mean the battles and sit-downs.

"Of course, there's always a certain element in every plant that would cause trouble. You get some of these smart guys and let them talk wild and a few fellows who can't think for themselves might follow along. But most of the men realize they are necessary in the work. Soldiers, sort of."

"And I hope the management won't take advantage of it. The work in the plants in this town ties together pretty much; making different parts for planes and cars and both of those are necessary if we're going to keep our country safe."

Joe drew up along the beach and stopped the car. A hot, yellow moon bathed the waves in gold, and off in the distance a radio played softly. He took her in his arms and kissed her.

"You never used to worry about such things. I wish you wouldn't now. What you should be thinking about is us, about getting married. I haven't mentioned it lately because you—well, you didn't seem to want me to. I guess you were so interested in that crowd you work and play with that you saw me as a pretty dull fellow." His voice was low, filled with emotion.

"Sue Mary, I love you now, and I always will, and I do have a future. My boss told me yesterday that I'm to be in the research department from now on. I'll get a raise and there'll be more money in the future. And that's the work I want; the work I prepared for in college. And if you were only mine, well—I guess I could know real happiness."

"You do love me," he said, finally looking down at her. "I can tell it when you kiss me. That's all that matters. So let's set the date. We'll find an apartment, start buying furniture and get married before you find something else to worry about."

She rubbed her cheek against his and tried not to let him sense her worry. She wished she could set the date. She wished she could settle things that simply, but first she meant to discover what Vera and Nick and Natalie were working for, why they had used her.

If she were to tell Joe he would be furious. He would probably start out now and with swinging fists settle Nick to his own satisfaction.

It's not that I'm being melodramatic, she argued to herself. It's just that I feel responsible. I did get taken in. I did get Vera that job at the office, and I was a fool. But now I'm awake, and maybe they are dangerous. If their loyalty to their cause can make them go to such lengths, certainly I can do my duty.

A year ago politics was just a word to me. "Un-American activities" was a scare-phrase. Fifth Columnists hadn't even appeared in print. Maybe I'm hysterical; maybe there isn't anything to fear, but I have to satisfy my curiosity.

JOE'S voice brought her back to the present. "Well, darling, say something. Shouldn't we get married?"

"Yes," she said. "I want to. Joe, we will, but we can't do it in such a short time."

"If you really love me there is something you can do right away," he told her. "You can break away from the Youth Progress crowd. You won't be lonely from now on. We'll see each other every night if you want, and you can keep busy shopping for our home. Girls always have plenty to buy at a time like this."

"Give up that crowd and move some place else. Make a clean break. They aren't our kind of people."

"I will, Joe," Sue Mary promised. "Give me time. They are my friends. I—I can't just drop them. When I was lonely they helped me. They've taught me to think and to see a whole new world. I can't just walk out on them simply because you don't like them."

She wanted time. If only a miracle could happen within a week and she could convince herself there was no danger, that they weren't a menace. But back in her mind hovered that horrible doubt.

"You're dodging the issue, Sue Mary," Joe took his arms away and turned to look at her. "One moment you say you love me and then the next you seemingly try to block our hopes and plans for marriage. That crowd of crackpots means nothing to you. I do. Now stop stalling and make the break."

"Joe, we mustn't quarrel. Not now." She had to make him understand. "You know I love you and I want to marry you. Let me take a little time to settle my own affairs."

"All right, Sue Mary. I'm not trying to be unfair. Take a week. It's not so unusual for a girl to want to get married. Tell them that and then move, and you won't have to see them any more."

"I'll try, darling."

A week. She wondered just what she could do in a week.

Japan, Germany And Italy Plan Control Of Entire World

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, Sept. 26.—Sign that the totalitarian bloc of Germany, Italy, Spain and Japan is being solidified for earth-grinding collaboration in a more active sense appeared today. A newspaper, likely not to be well informed, Il Popolo di Roma, indicated that Spain already had decided on active aid to the Rome-Berlin axis in the war against Britain.

Other indications, implicit in diplomatic maneuvering, included:

1. Disclosure that the Japanese ambassador to Rome, Eiji Amari, and Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano, discussed the international situation at length yesterday, with particular emphasis on the Japanese advance into French Indo-China.

2. A report in Berlin that Ciano would travel to Berlin tomorrow for follow-up to last week's Rome consultation between German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and Premier Mussolini.

3. The continued presence in Berlin of Ramon Serrano Suner, Spanish minister of government and No. 1 aide and brother-in-law of Generalissimo Franco.

Meanwhile Virginia Gayda, Fascist editor, warned Britain that immediate counter attacks from axis forces if she attempted to spread the war to West Africa.

McCormack Will Be House Leader, His Friends Predict

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Encouraged by signs that congress would continue in session for the remainder of the year, backers of Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts predicted he would be chosen house Democratic leader today on the first ballot in a party caucus.

The caucus was called for late afternoon (3 p. m. C. S. T.), and the immediate question to be decided was whether a leader should be chosen now to succeed Rep. Rayburn of Texas, elevated from leader to speaker at the election.

McCormack and his followers have been urging an immediate election but several rival candidates have spoken for postponement. These include Reps. Woodrum of Virginia, Cooper of Tennessee, and Rankin of Mississippi.

One of the arguments for delaying the election has been that, congress would quit soon, making a leader unnecessary until January.

Passenger Pigeons In 1813, J. J. Audubon saw one flock of passenger pigeons near Louisville, Ky., estimated at more than 1,000,000,000 birds. Audubon figured such a flock would consume 8,712,000 bushels of food daily.

Japs Due To Line Up With Rome, Berlin

(Glenn Babb, day cable editor of the Associated Press in New York who has wide contacts in the Orient due to many years spent there, especially as chief of the Associated Press bureau in Tokyo, received word today of impending far-reaching politico-military developments which would vitally affect United States interests in the far Pacific. What they are, and what they mean, he describes in the following story.)

By GLENN BABB
NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—Japan is on the verge of announcing whether she will enter into an alliance with Germany and Italy, trustworthy advices received by the Associated Press said today.

A special mission sent by Adolf Hitler has received a warm welcome in Tokyo, these advices said, and formal announcement of a new pact that may change drastically the map of the Orient is expected shortly.

Whether such a pact would plunge Japan immediately into war with Britain is not clear, but it is believed she is moving to make sure she will have a full share in the redistribution of territory and power which Hitler and Mussolini have disclosed will come if and when they defeat Britain.

In Rome last week the axis powers drafted their new map for Africa and Europe and Berlin dispatches indicate they will seal this part of the bargain ceremoniously this week in Berlin, with Spain a participant.

The projected Japanese alliance undoubtedly would provide for a similar redrafting of the map of Asia, the largest of the continents, and the rich islands fringing it. Japan wants France's Indo-China and Holland's East Indies and seems in a fair way to fastening her control on them. If Britain fails, she wants much of what Britain loses in the Orient, perhaps even in India and Australia.

Such a new map of Asia would pose ominous decisions before the United States.

Rigid Japanese censorship has prevented correspondents from telegraphing accounts of recent diplomatic developments there, but this is the situation as pictured in the Associated Press' advices. A special German envoy, Max Sthamer, recently arrived in the Japanese capital. In Berlin this man is described as a member of Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop's

"Draft Jar" to See Service Again?

Under a glass casing in Philadelphia's Independence Hall rests the historic glass jar used in the last World War to select doughboys for the draft. Its bottom is lined with the capsules, each containing a number, which in blindfolded draw, determined the men called to active service. The uniformed guide, above, could tell tourists that this historic jar may see service in present conscription.

personal staff and an expert on Oriental affairs.

In Tokyo he reinforced the efforts German Ambassador Major General Eugen Ott has been making for two years to bring the mightiest Asiatic power into closer cooperation with the Reich.

Already Japanese troops are driving into French Indo-China. In Berlin today official German sources professed ignorance of an impending Japanese-German-Italian alliance.

But in informed circles it was learned that Japan, the Far Eastern partner in the anti-comintern pact of 1936-37, was being prevailed upon to form a counterweight to any possible closer cooperation between Britain and the United States.

If Japan goes to war with Britain this will raise grave problems for the United States. Japan's navy, the world's third strongest and powerfully based in the western Pacific, and her army, veterans of three years of war in China, probably would move at once against Hongkong, Singapore and the Straits settlements, and perhaps even Australia, Burma and India.

Many Americans have insisted that the interests of the United States and Britain in the Pacific are parallel and that the fall of Britain's Far Eastern empire would gravely endanger the United States.

Indeed there have been indications that increasing British-American cooperation has spurred the Japan-axis negotiations and strengthened those Japanese who are anxious to strike before any such arrangements as common use of the Singapore base is achieved.

An alliance with the axis would mean that, like Italy, Japan has switched sides since the World War. In 1914 she was an ally of Britain and joined in sweeping Germany from the Pacific and the China coast.

But Japan, like Italy, has been dissatisfied with her spoils in the last war and more and more has found her interests with the powers which emerged from that conflict as "have nots."

Wallace Attacks Willkie Farm Plea

CHRONIUM, Ia., Sept. 26 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace today attacked Wendell L. Willkie's pledge to the farmer as one he could not carry out if elected president.

The Democratic vice presidential nominee, in a prepared speech, recalled that the Republican presidential nominee said in Des Moines last August "if elected President, I will not take away any benefits gained by agriculture during the past few years," then Wallace added:

"The truth is that the dominant elements in the Republican party have been against the farmer for the last 20 years and are against him today. There is no reason to believe they will change after November 5."

WTSC Enrollment Increased By 150

CANYON, Sept. 26 — All - time records for enrollment are being set at West Texas State college this term.

The registrar's office has issued cards to 1,090 students, an increase of about 150 over this same stage last year. Indications are that total registration for the long term will reach 1,200. These figures do not include the enrollment in the demonstration school, extension classes, and correspondence courses.

Missouri National Guards Leaving For Texas Training Camp

JOPLIN, MO., Sept. 26 (AP)—Tears, cheers and martial music sped southwest Missouri's national guardsmen on their way to Camp Joplin, Tex., today for a year's training.

A special train carrying members of Joplin's Battery B left Union station shortly after 9 o'clock this morning.

From Joplin, the train proceeded to Neodesha, where members of Battery C got aboard, and to Anderson, where Battery E awaited.

A special train left Carthage at 8:30 o'clock this morning with members of the Nevada, Webb City and Carthage batteries.

Springfield guardsmen will leave there at 12:30 o'clock tonight on a third train which will pick up Monett, Pierce City and Sarcoxie guardsmen en route.
