HEAVY PLANE EASILY SENT FROM BEACH

Moyle and Allen Shake Jinx and Make Good Start to Seattle for Large Newspaper Prize.

HAZARDOUS TRIP

Aviators Retrace Route on Which Col. Lindbergh and Wife Had Lengthy Series of Mishaps.

TOKYO, Sept. 8. (AP)—Trying to fly non-stop 4465 miles across the Pacific from Japan to Seattle in a plane which had failed other aviators twice in similar attempts, Don Moyle, motorcycle salesman, and C. A. Allen, former purveyor of washing machines, presumably were well on their way today.

May Avoid Fog

However, aviation authorities said Moyle and Allen probably would keep well to seaward of the island chain to avoid fog again, possible complications which might arise if they passed over any of the fortified areas there.

Moyle calculated the flight would take 39 to 44 hours, depending on the weather. This would take them into Seattle between 8:30 and 9:30 a. m. Wednesday (11 p. m. Tuesday and 4:30 a. m. Wednesday CST).

He asked that airport officials in Seattle keep the field lighted Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, against their coming.

Speed to Increase

The fleet of 1,020 gallons of gasoline in the tanks of their plane would keep them in the air 47 hours. In addition, they crowded 50 gallons of gasoline into the cockpit to give them fuel for two hours additional flying.

They started from a remote beach whose hard-packed sandy surface presents the only available runway of sufficient length for such a heavily loaded plane.

Fashion Revue to Be Fair Feature

What Gray county women and children will see this season will be held at the Mitchell building the latter part of the fair under the direction of Mrs. J. B. Massa.

Awards of $1 for first place and 50 cents for second place will be made for all entries except the school girls' dress shoes and hose, for which $2 for first place, $1 for second place, and 75 cents for third place, tailored coat, for which $1.50, 75 cents and 50 cents are offered.

THE WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Generally fair tonight and Wednesday, except some what unsettled in the Panhandle; continued warm.

PONCA CITY, Okla.—Pebblestone hasn't much speed but he is a derby winner. It took him one minute, 15 seconds, to go 75 feet but that was fast enough to win a terrapin race and $3,500 for his owner.

Girl Shoots Self to Avoid Going to School

CINCINNATI, Sept. 8. (AP)—Eunice Ely, 17, shot herself in the abdomen today so she would not have to go to school.

Before the girl, who would have entered Woodward high school as a freshman, layed into unconsciousness, she whispered to her brother, Clifford, 15, that she preferred death to school and that she had wanted her parents what she would do if they insisted on her attending classes.

Leslie Ely, the girl's father, an inmate of a Dayton veterans' hospital taking treatment for gas poisoning suffered during the world war.

RAILWAY FUND NEEDED NOW

H. H. Durston to Arrive on Route Mission; Will Buy Near City.

H. H. Durston, general executive agent of the Fort Worth & Denver City Railway company, is due to arrive in Pampa today on his route mission to inspect right-of-way options which have been obtained on property in a four-mile strip from Pampa southeast to Durston.

The right-of-way committee this week will begin spending money for property on which the railroad will be built. Prompt payment of proceeds is urged. The committee has only a limited amount to spend, and construction work will be delayed unless money is collected as it is needed.

Farm Machinery Will Be Shown at Coming Fair

Machinery dealers of this county will have exhibits and demonstrations in the 100 block of North Ward street in connection with the Gray County Free fair.

Travis Lively, chairman of this division of the fair, expects a large throng of farmers during the three days. The very latest models of farm implements will be shown and their operation explained.

In addition, a replica of the first reaper, invented by Cyrus McCormick in 1831, will be brought here for showing during the fair.

Coyote Trapper Is Found Dead

AMARILLO, Sept. 8. (AP)—Arthur M. Yancey, 52, coyote trapper on the famous LX ranch, 20 miles north of Amarillo for 11 years, was found dead in his dugout on the Canadian river yesterday.

Yancey, self-styled "hill billy" had done magazine writing, according to correspondence found in his dugout. His own biography was found in the introduction to an "insider manuscript" dealing with trapping snakes, found among his belongings.

A typewriter, camera, gun and a few traps and cooking utensils comprised the furnishings of the rude dugout.

WOMAN FATALLY HURT

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 8. (AP)—Mrs. W. B. Ackerman of San Antonio was fatally injured and three other persons were hurt here yesterday when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by another car.

District Schools Started

Two Thousand Pupils Are Enrolled up to Noon—Ladies First, Is Rule.

About two thousand children of Pampa independent school district had been enrolled at the various schools by noon today. "With such a large enrollment," said Superintendent R. B. Fisher, "indications are that we will have practically the same number in school this year as last year."

Girls freshmen whose last names begin with A through M were enrolled at first school. Enrollment was completed for about 75 of the girls.

Most of them were girls, and Principal L. L. Sorensen. When it comes to enrolling at school the girls politely observe the rule "ladies first." All other freshmen are to be enrolled this afternoon.

There were 432 minor high school pupils enrolled this morning. Principal P. A. Sully expressed the desire that all pupils planning to attend this school enroll as soon as possible.

There was a 300 error at the Baker school by noon, but the principal, J. A. Meek estimated that the complete enrollment for the year would be about 450. Sixty pupils entered the law first grade at this school.

Principal A. L. Patrick expected the enrollment at Sam Houston school, which was 310 at noon, to reach 360 for the year.

Three hundred nine pupils were enrolled at Home Main school according to Miss Josephine Thomas, principal.

Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal of Woodrow Wilson school, reported an enrollment of 390 at her school.

Regular classes will begin at all schools tomorrow morning. Economy and efficiency will be the slogan throughout the school year. No work week will be required, and pencils and paper will be practically the only expense of the pupils for school supplies.

San Angelo Man Drowns in Creek

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 8. (AP)—L. W. Walker, 37, former city commissioner, was drowned in Dove creek at his home near Knickerbocker this morning. He was pinned beneath his car when it went over a bluff into a deep hole of water.

Mr. Walker had gone to turn a switch on an irrigation pump and his car was started moving and continuing to roll down the embankment until it hit its progress, and was carried over the bank with it.

Mr. Walker took a prominent part in civic affairs here and formerly operated the Coca Cola Bottling company. His widow survives. Personal arrangements have not been made.

Picknicking Party Ends in Tragedy

MIDLAND, Sept. 8. (AP)—The overturning of a truck loaded with Sunday school picknickers, killed one woman and seriously injured a man and a boy here last night.

Mrs. Marion E. Peters, 30, wife of the manager of the West Texas Gas company, office at Midland, was pinned under the truck and fatally injured.

Ray Coleman, 23, received head injuries. Physicians feared his skull was fractured.

Rudie Lee Lowe, 14, was believed to have received a fracture of the pelvic bone.

Fifteen other boys and girls were spilled into the ditch beside the highway, but escaped injury.

The accident was believed to have been caused by the load shifting on the truck, which was traveling slowly.

Community Aid in Making Fair Success Asked

Football Type of Enthusiasm Needed to Get Out Big Crowds Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

PEOPLE CAN "TALK IT UP" IN BIG WAY

FARMERS ACTIVE

Gathering and Arranging of Exhibits Will Provide Work for Scores During Rest of Week.

The entire citizenship of Pampa was called upon this morning by George W. Briggs, secretary of the B. C. D., and C. H. Walker, superintendent of the fair, to give 100 per cent support to the Gray County Free fair to be held in Pampa, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

It is now up to the people of Pampa to make this fair as successful as it should be. Mr. Briggs said.

It needs the support of every loyal Pampa citizen. By support we mean that citizens should talk it up, visit the booths and exhibitions, work up an interest in the fair in brief, be as enthusiastic about it as they would a football game.

The fair will mean just as much to the community as a football game.

Carpenters today were constructing exhibition booths for the women's department, across the street from the city hall in the Mitchell building. Mr. Walker praised women of the city who are devoting practically all of their time to making preparations for receiving the many entries.

Attitude of city citizens has changed to bustling energy. A dozen women were busy this morning in the women's building.

Until Thursday, County Agent Ralph R. Thomas will visit farmers, assisting them in arranging collecting and transporting entries to the fair.

Mr. Thomas believes that the only way to get entries is to encourage people to bring them in, and he is doing just that. Miss Myrtle Miller, county home demonstration agent, is also working among the rural people.

Members of her club will exhibit hundreds of samples of their canning, sewing and handcraft.

Mr. Briggs again urged merchants to decorate their display windows with agricultural products as soon as possible. He emphasized that every window should be decorated by tomorrow night.

Also, merchants are asked to put out their flags to give the city a holiday atmosphere.

BLUEBONNET IS TO ENTER MANY THINGS IN FAIR

Seven dozen jars of fruit, vegetables, pickles, preserves, etc., and many more have been labeled by the Bluebonnet Home Demonstration club members to enter in the Gray County fair.

The club also plans to enter braided rugs, made of burlap, hook rugs, and cotton dresses.

MANY ANTIQUES WILL BE SEEN AT GRAY FAIR

A splendid response to F. P. Reid's call for antiques indicates that this division of the fair, Sept. 10, 11, and 12 will be very popular.

Mr. Reid asks anyone wishing to enter antiques to notify him at number 296W, and to leave the labeled articles at the Board of City Development, where they will be carefully kept.

The exhibitors must be at least 50 years old. Articles desired are counterpanes, handwoven blankets, old lace, old jewelry, postage stamps, mounted collection with no age limit, oldest war relics, and best collection of antiques.

They give reasons for the delay. Numerous landowners complained, even before the martial law shut down, that they were being ignored by the companies.

"I think the failure of operators not paid royalties to the landowners, has created a serious condition," General Wolters said.

"Wells in the field brought in during February, March, and April have produced large quantities of oil but landowners in some instances have received no returns, and in others, but small checks. That brought about a deplorable state of mind on the part of landowners."

CUTTING CROP BY HALF TO BE PROPOSED

Sterling Says Emergency Is Only Reason Justifying New Session; Tells How Farmers Suffering.

SOIL IS WEARING

Conservation of Land Only Basis Likely to Be Held Constitutional in Court Tests.

AUSTIN, Sept. 8. (AP)—Gov. Ross S. Sterling said today in his formal message to the special session of the Texas legislature that the hopes and prayers of Texas were that the cotton overproduction situation could be remedied by legislation.

The message was made public at the same time the legislature convened, which was about noon.

"Whether the situation can be remedied by legislation remains to be determined," Governor Sterling stated.

"The hopes and prayers of Texas are that the cotton overproduction situation could be remedied by legislation."

"The governor asserted that nothing less than an acute emergency in the public affairs of Texas would have occasioned the session."

"It was called to aid an industry in distress, the basic industry of the state, necessitating a change in the entire population, directly or indirectly. This emergency challenges the highest principles of democratic statesmanship, and I counsel you most earnestly to let those principles guide your deliberations here, as I feel confident they will."

Governor Sterling said that "judging from the appeals which thousands have made to the chief executive in telegrams, letters, petitions, and resolutions, as well as personal and telephone calls, the majority favor a one-half reduction of cotton acreage next year, as a means of decreasing the vast overabundance which has prostrated the cotton market and threatens an even more complete collapse."

Some New Aspects. The fact that cutting acreage reduction legislation was defeated in the special session about a month ago was pointed out by the governor. He added he felt "later developments have placed a new aspect upon the situation."

The governor referred indirectly to the question of whether an acreage reduction law would be constitutional. He said:

"Acreage reduction, of course, would accomplish conservation of the soil affected, as far as giving it a rest and allowing it to recuperate is concerned. And, some attorneys of high repute have expressed the opinion that legal restriction of cotton acreage would stand the test of the courts, under the constitutional provision for conservation of natural resources of the state."

The governor pointed to the plight of the cotton farmer, asserting that under present prices the tiller of the soil did not receive his cost of production, "yet, unless something is done to reduce the supply or increase the demand very substantially, a further demoralization of the market seems inevitable."

Farmers Are Patient. "The farmers are long suffering and patient and seldom ask for special action," Governor Sterling stated. "Now, however, they have risen in their distress and lifted their voices in the most widespread and concerted demand that has moved them during modern years."

"They are not to be denied, and no one who has the interest of the state at heart can ignore their plea for them, for upon the well-being of agriculture depends ultimately the well-being of us all."

Besides overproduction, the governor pointed to another menace, soil deterioration, due to erosion and constant wearing out of the land by planting cotton "year in and year out," without restoration.

Many Texas farmers will bear witness that their soil already has begun to deteriorate and is much less productive than it was formerly, Governor Sterling stated.

Rebel Sailors to Know Fate Soon

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 8. (AP)—The fate of the rebel sailors and soldiers who controlled Chile's fighting fleet and naval bases for a week hanging in the balance today as the government initiated an intensive investigation into their guilt.

More than 2,700 men and petty officers, assigned to the flagship La Torre, the cruiser O'Higgins, seven destroyers and five submarines, were involved in the mutiny at Coquimbo. Other hundreds of troops figured in the seizure of the base at Talcahuano and Valparaiso.

A considerable number of communists were alleged to have provided the torch of inspiration.

"The eyes of the nation are upon us, watching and hoping for us to raise a torch that will light the way for the southland out of the darkness that now engulfs us. I trust that out of your labors will evolve a law or laws that will safeguard the future of agriculture in Texas."

COTTON CLAIMS ARE TOO STRONG

How well advised is the hope that legislation against cotton production next year will raise this year's price to 20 cents per pound?

Gov. Huey Long is our authority for the statement that there is enough cotton in existence to last the world for more than two years. Then not even the law of supply and demand is likely to drive the price to 20 cents because of the possibility, or even likelihood that there will be no crop next year. It must be remembered that the entire cotton production of the world does not rest with the south, and that other countries will be spurred to even greater production by the south's decision. Liverpool will retain much of its powers to dictate the world price of cotton.

Without export demand, over-supply in the United States will remain a disturbing factor. And, as the Texas WEEKLY points out, European countries cannot afford to buy our cotton even at present prices. Great Britain, which once bought 10,000 bales a day, has been taking less than that amount per month. The point is that the export market has collapsed even at the absurdly low figure of 7 cents per pound.

Common sense should dictate that the south drastically cut her cotton growing. But there is in sight no step which will completely solve the problem, simply because many determining factors are beyond the south's control. Governor Long's enthusiasm has led him to arouse an optimism which will rebound when the price does not change as precipitately as many expect.

GUILTY LIPS

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of "MAD MARRIAGE"

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Pretty Norma Kent, 20-year-old secretary in a law office, sees Mark Travers for the first time when together they rescue a puppy from downtown traffic in Marlboro, middle-western metropolis. Norma declines to tell Travers her name or where he can see her again.

Bob Farrell, young lawyer, asks Norma to marry him and she refuses, though she is fond of him as a friend. Norma takes the puppy to the habby apartment she shares with Christine Saunders. She fears Chris is falling in love with her married employer, Bradley Hart, proprietor of an advertising agency.

Next day Norma inserts an advertisement about the puppy in the lost and found column of the Marlboro Press. The first person to answer this advertisement is Mark Travers. He tries to make a date but Norma declines his invitations. Travers departs and later goes with Natalie Price, wealthy debutante, on a gay round of the night clubs.

Next evening a small boy comes to see Norma, claims the puppy and takes it home. Chris goes to aid Minnie Baker, an impoverished friend whose 2-year-old son has been badly burned. Norma receives telephone calls from Travers and ignores them. She goes for a drive with Bob Farrell and he tells her he is going to leave Marlboro. Two days later she meets Travers on the street and goes to lunch with him.

This is the beginning of a week of whirlwind courtship. Norma finds herself head-over-heels in love but thinks she must send Travers away when he asks her to marry him because of some secret of the past. Chris knows this secret and declares that if Norma loves Travers all else is unimportant. Mark is invited to dinner at the apartment.

CHAPTER X
The vegetable trays looked fresh and inviting with crisp, curling lettuce, crimson radishes, and ivory white heads of cabbage. Peas and spinach added gradations of green to the picture and a mound of oranges on the shelf above proved that the grocer's boy who arranged these wares each morning had an eye for color.

Norma Kent lifted a head of lettuce to see if it was solid. She made her selections briskly and the white-coated clerk rapped the packages. Norma was engaged in mental arithmetic at the same time trying to list the tasks before her and the order in which to attack them.

She paid her bill and left the store with arms bulging with bags and bundles. There was no time to wait for the grocer's unreliable delivery system to function.

Letting herself into the apartment building required almost a vaudeville balancing act. She shuffled the packages so as to free her right hand and foraged in her purse for the key. Another shift when the door was opened and Norma started up the stairs. The two flights had never seemed longer. At last, breathless, the girl reached the third floor front. She turned the key and the door swung open.

Thank goodness, Helga had done the cleaning. Norma put down her packages, threw off her hat and coat and tucked them out of sight in the clothes closet. She thrust an enveloping apron over her head and set to work.

There was so much to do and so little time in which to do it. Barely an hour earlier Chris had telephoned that she was delayed at the office. She would hurry along as soon as possible but in the meantime Norma must prepare the vegetables and put them on to cook. The girl salad, set the table and have everything ready so that at the last minute the chops could be broiled.

Cooking an entire dinner on a two-burner gas stove was a matter for expert timing. Norma was not sure of herself in such matters as Chris was. She could manage each task by itself but jumbling them together confused her.

She began with the least consequential—flowers for the table. All the way from a cut-rate florist downtown she had carried a 25-cent bunch of blue asters. Mark, seeing a basket of such blossoms in a shop a few nights before, had declared that no flowers on earth could equal the glorious azure of Norma's eyes. The asters, he said, only showed how foolish it was for them to try. Thereby in the secret treasure place of Norma's heart blue asters had become enshrined.

The flowers went into cold water in a squat pottery vase. Norma flipped the cover from the gate-leg table and opened it out to its full size. She discovered that Helga's setting had, as usual, been done in slap-dash fashion. There was no time to go over the whole room but the more glaring omissions must be remedied.

Another bother! There wasn't a dust cloth to be found in the bag where such things were supposed to be kept. Why did everything always go wrong when anyone was in a hurry? Each minute that flew by increased the girl's nervousness.

Norma was so anxious tonight's dinner should be a success. She had cleared the apartment to look its best, the food to be delicious, the whole affair to be the gayest, happiest little party she and Chris had ever given.

What could be keeping Chris so long? Perhaps she had started now, would be there any minute. Oh, of course she must have started.

Norma looked at her watch. Five minutes past six. Luckily Mark had been invited for seven o'clock. Norma told herself that if she would only be calm, take things quietly, there would be time enough. She'd do the vegetables, then set the table and try to steal a few minutes to freshen up after the long day in the office. At least dash cold water on her face and then some powder. The old blue chignon which had seen two summers' wear was all right by lamplight. The dress was made with short sleeves and seemed "par-tified."

Firmly Norma held a potato in her left hand, bringing the sharp paring knife forward in a vindictive slash. The knife slipped and with a little cry Norma saw a wavering line of crimson stain her fingers. It wasn't a deep cut—just another five minutes of delay hunting for gauze and adhesive tape.

"Well," thought the girls philosophically, "the food's here. I don't know when it will be ready or whether we'll be able to eat it at all unless Chris shows up pretty soon, but at least it's here!"

She bounded up the cut finger, returned to the greened-off "kitchen" and took up the paring knife again. The bandage made her hands clumsy but she finished peeling the potatoes and covered them with water. She was washing lettuce when the downstairs bell buzzed sharply.

Who in the world could that be? Not Mark! No—it was a good three-quarters of an hour before he was due. Chris wouldn't ring. Norma puzzled blankly. Before she had time to answer the bell rang a second time.

The girl ran across the room, into the hall, and peered downstairs over the banister.

"Someone to see you, Miss Kent!" The voice of Mrs. Hawthorne, the custodian, rose shrilly from the entrance hall.

"I'll—be down," the girl agreed. It seemed the quickest way to be rid of the interruption.

She reached the first floor. Mrs. Hawthorne had disappeared but through the half open door of the vestibule, Norma glimpsed a shadowy figure.

The girl went forward. "You wanted to see me?" she asked. "There was a light in the hallway time to answer the bell rang a second time."

"I'll—be down," the girl agreed. It seemed the quickest way to be rid of the interruption.

Norma had been staring at the card in her hand. Now she stared at the stranger. "But I don't understand," she began.

"I will explain," he said. "I—said I have come on a subject I am sure will interest you. I think you would prefer to hear what I have to say in private."

The words had the precise effect he had expected. "We can go upstairs," Norma said.

The dinner party, the suspended preparations were forgotten. What was this terror clutching at Norma's heart? Her hands were icy, yet she could feel her temples burning. Travers, he had said his name was Travers!

"You mean—Mark? Are you his father? Oh, is there anything wrong? Has anything happened to him?" Her voice rose with anxiety.

Travers disregarded the questions. A hard gleam came into his dark eyes.

"You and I can understand each other very quickly," the visitor was saying. "I don't waste words, Miss Kent, and I've come here to tell you this thing must stop."

Norma saw that he was handsome. Older than she had guessed before, the gray hair was almost white at either side of his face. His keen eyes surveyed the room. They were dark eyes. Brown. They reminded Norma of someone she knew. She caught her breath sharply. They were like Mark's eyes! That was it! Then his stranger must be—

"Won't you—sit down, Mr. Travers?" the girl asked diffidently.

"No thanks. I can say what I've come to say standing. Miss Kent, I understand that you know my son. Been seeing a great deal of him lately, haven't you?"

Daily WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (NEA).—Even if Walter S. Gifford and the new unemployment relief committee do a very good job they can hardly be guaranteed against criticism and attack. These Hoover commissions nearly always encounter trouble, great or small, sooner or later.

They are damned in proportion to their importance. Among the really hefty commissions engaged in trying to solve momentous problems you can't find one which, if it hasn't been attacked from without, hasn't gone and picked fights of its own.

Of course, no one ever bothers such Hoover commissions as those on the Battle of Monongahela, the Yellowstone Park boundary and the Alaska Highway and they don't go bothering anyone else, either.

But when you think of the Federal Farm Board and the National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement and of all the brickbats hurled at them since they first tackled the large questions of agricultural distress and prohibition respectively, you get to worrying about the unpleasant experience that may be in store for Gifford and his associates this fall and winter as they go up against the pressing matter of relief.

The Farm Board holds the record, of course. Perhaps because it has had the nerve to do so many astonishing things. Any federal body which was willing to enter the wheat and cotton markets in such a big way, fight the grain trade, subsidize wine concentrates and tell the cotton planters to destroy a third of their crop might well expect to create immense furor.

Everybody took a kick at the Wickersham commission after its prohibition report, but since then, in report after report, the commission has been taking kicks at everybody else. And of course nearly everyone criticized by this commission tosses some mean comment right back at it.

There is a White House conference on Child Health and Protection and, like the other important commissions, has done a great deal of constructive work. But even this was good for one warm row and that came about at its meeting here when the U. S. Public Health service appeared to be trying to gobble up the U. S. children's bureau. Many members of the conference were just as sore as could be by the time the sessions were over.

The emergency committee on employment struggled along for months despite an almost complete lack of authority to do anything at all and then its chairman Col. Arthur Woods, walked out along with several other members. The general understanding is that President Hoover and Colonel Woods couldn't agree concerning measures that might be taken for relief.

The federal power commission is usually referred to as a "Hoover" commission because it has been reorganized and Hoover has appointed its members. That one got off to a flying start by firing its solicitor and chief accountant, who had many admirers in the senate. The senate undertook to reconsider its confirmation of the chairman and two other members, got itself roundly bawled out by Mr. Hoover and then threw the question of the legality of the commissioners' tenure right into the courts.

The Hooyer tariff commission has been getting along by keeping quiet and not upsetting any appiccarts, but Henry P. Fletcher is quitting the chairmanship because, one hears, he is rather bored.

ARTICLES MADE IN LEISURE TIME ARE TO BE DISPLAYED

PAINTINGS ARE TO HAVE LARGE PLACE IN FAIR

That the leisure time of Gray county women is used to advantage will be shown through the exhibits at the Mitchell building on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week in connection with the Gray County Free fair.

The exhibit of paintings will attract county-wide interest, and, even though they are not eligible to receive prizes, some of the Miami women expect to enter pictures. Mrs. V. E. Fatheree is in charge of this exhibit.

An award of $3.50 will be given for the best original picture in the entire exhibition in any medium, considering form, unity, coloring, and composition. In addition, cash prizes for first and second places and ribbons for third place will be given for each of the following: Best original black and white sketch by child of 16 years of age or under, best original cartoon, any age, best original Texas landscape in oil, and best original Texas landscape in pastel.

China Paintings
Attractive awards also are being offered for china painting, this exhibit being under the direction of Mrs. H. C. Wilson.

Three dollars will be given for the most beautiful piece in the whole china exhibit, and $2 will be given for the finest exhibition of not under six or over 12 pieces of hand-painted china. One dollar for first place, 50 cents for second place, and a ribbon for third place will be given for the best specimen of etching on china, and for the best specimen of painting on china.

It has been planned to have a loan exhibit consisting of pictures by famous artists, copies of masterpieces, rare china, potteries, rugs, and other items loaned to the art department of the fair by the owners to encourage appreciation.

Applied Arts Included
Applied arts, handicraft, and novelties, shown under the direction of Mrs. Clifford Braly, will make a unique exhibit, as will the antique division under the direction of F. P. Reid, assisted by T. D. Hobart, and J. S. Wynne.

Use of leisure time also will be

LIBRARY WILL BE BENEFITED AT FAIR HERE

The Pampa library will be benefited by the booth which the library association is to sponsor at the Mitchell building in connection with the fair this week. The booth already has been erected and soon will be decorated.

Cold drinks, candy, and sandwiches will be sold.

John I. Bradley is in general charge of the booth.

W. O. Adams left this morning on a business trip to Clovis.

Leo Miller spent the week-end visiting in Elk City, Okla.

shown through the exhibit of flowers and pot plants under the direction of Mrs. Nels Walberg, assisted by Mrs. C. O. Duenkel, as well as through fancy sewing and fancy cooking.

FEMININE FANCIES

Accomplishments of Gray county women—and hints of their dreams for the future—will be shown in the exhibit this week at the Mitchell building in connection with the Gray County Free fair.

The fair will show the ambitions and progress of both men and women through its agricultural and dairy exhibits, its specimens of cooking, canning and sewing. It will show the cultural advances through paintings, handicraft, novelties, antiques, pot plants, and bouquets.

Spare time is the real test of education and culture, and the fruits of the most worthwhile diversions, painting, flower-growing etc., will have no small place among the fair exhibits.

Still Time
There is still time to can prize-winning jars of fruit, to finish that specimen of embroidery which has been laid aside, to cook a delicious cake.

Every woman takes pride in some ability, and everyone wants to know what the other fellow is doing. Thus it behooves every woman to take a specimen of her work to the fair. The entry will be a credit not only to the woman herself, but it will bring credit to her community and it may be a suggestion to some other woman who is not so well versed in that particular ability.

"Don't wear a Eugenie hat without gloves."

The suggestion comes from a man, but it is a good one.

One must be extremely careful in wearing this new hat. Otherwise, what might have been the height of chic will be the height of absurdity.

The hat must be becoming. A person with a very slender face or with a long nose cannot wear the hat with severe lines or one that sits low much on top of the head. Modifications of this style having softer lines, however, will be found becoming.

The entire costume demands added care when a Eugenie hat is worn.

"Sleeve details," says an A. P. writer, "can be most charming." There are bishop sleeves, leg o' mutton sleeves and cape sleeves. There are sleeves with puffs below the elbow and tight fur cuffs. There are sleeves with a shirred fullness at the elbow and an epaulet effect; and there are sleeves, half fur and half cloth.

As for gloves, the A. P. writer says: "New gloves, for dress wear have kid-covered bracelets topping them just at the wrist. The bracelet effect is usually made ornate with criss-cross stitching of silver or gold thread. One new glove had white galyak fringe cuffs. It was shown with a black cloth suit trimmed with galyak collar and shoulder incrustations and a turban banded with galyak."

This added suggestion is given: "Pink and white coral is smart this season, but red coral is dashing with white. It is being worn chiefly with white satin evening gowns or with black velvet. Coral necklaces, bracelets, earrings... coral gages for dress adornment... coral buckles for the slippers... coral cigarette cases and hair ornaments, are shown."

PAINTINGS TO BE ENTERED BY MRS. ANDREWS

Mrs. John V. Andrews, recently elected member of the Texas Fine Arts association, and several of her pupils will have paintings on exhibition in the art department of the Gray county fair this week at the Mitchell building. Mrs. Andrews is one of Pampa's foremost artists. She is to have a personal exhibit during July of next year at the Ney museum in Austin.

Pictures which Mrs. Andrews will enter include an original oil painting, "Texas Bluebonnets," painted at a spot near Fort Worth; and a landscape in pastel, "The Grove," made at a spot between Wichita Falls and Bowie; an oil painting, "Storm at Sea," a pastel painting, "Camp Fire," a pastel scene, "The Cottage."

Pupils of Mrs. Andrews who are to enter pictures are Lucille Cole, Ann Clayton, Ruth Reynolds, and Mrs. Robert Robinson.

CHILD STUDY CLUB MEETING IS ANNOUNCED

A called meeting for all members in the Child Study club will be held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. A. H. Doucette.

The meeting is the first of the season, and plans for the coming year's work will be made.

Mrs. Workman Is To Teach School

Mrs. W. O. Workman, 600 North Russell street, is to open a private school tomorrow morning. Children of pre-school age and their parents are invited to call between 9 and 12 o'clock. The school will continue during these hours each day except Saturday and Sunday. Both first grade and kindergarten work will be taught.

Mrs. Workman has had several years teaching experience and was a substitute teacher in the public schools last year.

COUNCIL BOARD PLANS CANNING

Plans for assisting the needy of Pampa through the canning of peas were made by members of the executive board of the First Christian missionary council when the group met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Ivy Duncan.

Members of divisions 1, 4, and 5 are to meet at the church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and spend most of the day canning. Each woman is asked to bring a covered dish and to remain for lunch.

Divisions 2, 3, and 6 are to can on Thursday. It was announced that any woman who wished, to do so, whether or not she belonged to the council, was welcome to attend and to assist.

At the meeting Monday evening it was decided to change the regular meeting day from Wednesday to Monday, the next division meetings to be held on Monday of next week. It was also voted to discontinue the practice of serving refreshments.

Mrs. O. H. Ingram was chosen leader of division 5 to succeed Mrs. D. C. Houk, and Mrs. Clyde Oswalt was chosen leader of division 3 to succeed Mrs. W. E. Noblitt.

Those attending were Mesdames F. W. O'Malley, Lee Ledrick, B. C. Fahy, C. E. Hutchins, Clyde Oswalt, B. Stevens, Mel Davis, C. W. Stowell, Joe Berry, and Ivy Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Balthrop and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rose made Labor Day and occasion for an outing on the Canadian river.

CATS HOLD LEAD AS THEY FIGHT FOR THIRD PLACE

Dallas Also Sweeps Double Header Labor Day to Hold the Pace.

By The Associated Press
The battle between Dallas and Fort Worth for third place in the Texas league on a straight season race, saw the Cats retain their lead yesterday by sweeping a double-header from Shreveport. Dallas won a double-header from Wichita Falls, but remained three games behind Fort Worth.

Leon Chagnon won the first game for Fort Worth 4 to 1. He out-pitched Miller, whom the Cats solved for 13 hits. Chagnon held his opponents to five hits. Jinx Harris and Paul Gribble had their troubles in the second game, but Grady Adkins, pitching one of his managed to out-pitch Tuero, Lee and Moulton for a 6 to 5 decision. Best games this season, beat Wichita Falls 5 to 4 in the first game at Dallas. Loopp's home run with two on in the eighth, erased Wichita Falls' 4 to 2 lead. Vincent started for the Spudlers, but turned the job over to Presnell in the eighth. In the second game, Lefty Minogue allowed eight hits but managed to turn back the Spudlers, 8 to 3. Lester White, Wichita Falls starting pitcher, was hammered hard. He finally turned the mound over to Presnell.

President J. Alvin Gardner gave "Dizzy" Dean a hundred dollar check last night for being voted by sports writers the most valuable man in the league. All this failed to impress the Beaumont Exporters who handed Dean a 2 to 1 defeat in the first game. Feeling rather good over beating Dean, the Exporters breezed back to win the second game, beating George Payne, 6 to 1. Although he lost, Dean struck out ten to raise his strikeout record for the season to 299. Dean allowed but six hits while Marrow, Beaumont hurler, was touched for seven. Four double plays helped Marrow.

The Galveston Buccaneers opened their double-headers against San Antonio by winning the first, 8 to 4. In the second game, San Antonio won, 2 to 1.

Funeral Services Scheduled Today

Funeral services for Roland Clinton Rouse, 53, who died yesterday morning from a heart attack, will be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Stephenson mortuary. The Rev. James Todd Jr. will officiate.

Mr. Rouse was sitting on a table in the Triple Oil Filling station on the Borger highway when the heart attack struck him. His fall was heard by L. A. Turner, an attendant at the station, which is owned by I. A. Featherstone, Mr. Rouse's brother-in-law.

Mr. Rouse had been a resident of Pampa since last December. He is survived by his wife, two brothers and one sister.

Berkeley Bell Defeats Allison

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 8. (AP) Once again Berkeley Bell has lived up to his reputation as the "giant killer" of American tennis players.

The 130-pound dynamo from Dallas, Texas, sprang the first big upset of the national singles championship yesterday when he eliminated Wilmer Allison, a fellow Texan from Austin, No. 3 in the national ranking. The scores were 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-4.

A year ago Bell astonished the experts by removing Jean Borotra from the championship in the first round.

So great was the din made by the crowd that after the third set Allison asked that the match be finished on an outside court. Tournament officials agreed but Bell put up a lively argument before he consented. Bell played at top speed all the way to gain his first victory over Allison since 1928.

REPORT DEPRESSING
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (AP)—A government production estimate of 15,685,000 bales, the highest September cotton forecast since 1915, today gave little comfort to the grower.

BRUSHING UP ON SPORTS

PUNCHES—PAST AND PRESENT

Football Squad Is Being Driven Hard

Coach Odus Mitchell was as good as his word and yesterday afternoon put the Harvesters football squad through the toughest workout of the season. The coach announced after a scrimmage with the ex-Harvesters Friday afternoon that he was not satisfied and that it was going to be tough on the boys until the team was made.

Tackling, blocking, charging, passing and scrimmaging were part of yesterday's workout and after about three hours without a let-up, the coach called it a day and told the boys to be on hand this afternoon at 3 o'clock for another stiff grind.

With the opening game of the season only three days off, the coach is going to work his charges at top speed until the whistle blows. The Clarendon Bronchos, classed as one of the snappiest aggregations in this section, will invade Pampa for the big game, which will start at 4 o'clock.

The coach has not named his starting lineup and says he will not until before the game. He has at least three good men trying out for every position and when the time comes to pick the team the coach is going to have no easy job.

Joe Kahl, Ed Burch and Don Tate are still on the injured list, but are expected to be ready for Friday's tussle. Splints were taken from Kahl's finger Saturday and he was in uniform yesterday but did not scrimmage. Burch and Tate have sore shoulders.

Durwood "Pest" Martindale will probably run the team Friday. His running mates will probably be Ray Chastain, captain, and Kahl or Bost, and Paul Hill. Six lettermen are available for the line but several new boys to the first string are liable to get the call.

Young Girl Needs Home in Pampa

A girl 18 years old is in need of a home. She is from a good family who have felt the depression and have taken positions on a ranch. So that their daughter can finish school they desire to place her in a good home here. She will do work about the house and her parents are willing to pay part of her expenses.

Anyone wishing to make a home for the girl may get in touch with Mrs. W. H. Davis, manager of the Pampa Welfare board, at her office in the basement of the city hall.

Pampa Rifle Club To Meet Tonight

Members of the Pampa Rifle Club will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the board room of the Schneider hotel. Alden Spees, new president of the club, will preside.

Plans for the making and erection of new targets for big caliber range will be shown and the club asked to adopt them. Other improvements to the range east of the city will be discussed. George Glotter, new range officer, will also have some interesting reports to make. The club held an exciting shoot Sunday afternoon.

ALEXANDER IS ILL
C. C. Alexander, local oil operator and prominent civic leader, is seriously ill of pneumonia at Pampa hospital. Mr. Alexander was removed to the hospital yesterday. He had been feeling badly for several days.

BRAVES AND CUBS AROUSE FAN INTEREST

Collapse of Clubs Is One of Season's Features—Double Beatings.

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer.
Virtually certain that the world's series again will put the Philadelphia Athletics against the St. Louis Cardinals, baseball's major league fans perhaps can revive flagging interest by cogitating upon the collapse of two National league clubs the Chicago Cubs and the Boston Braves.

The Cubs, picked to give the Cardinals a battle for the pennant today had lost nine straight games and fallen into fourth place in the standings. The Braves, sensations of the circuit during the early months and a fighting ball club until the last few weeks, have lost 16 of their last 18 games and now are in sixth place only a half game ahead of the Phillies.

Beat Cubs Twice
Cardinals handed the Cubs a double beating in the holiday program, 1-0 and 2-3. Paul Derringer hung up his 16th victory of the season in the opener, scattering eight hits and fanning eight. Burleigh Grimes was master of the Cub batsmen in the nightcap although he was touched for 11 hits.

The Braves accepted two beatings from the Brooklyn Robins, 5-4 in 10 innings and 2-0 and the Robins moved into third place. Presco Thompson's single drove in Babe Herman with the run that enabled Bill Clark to gain the decision over Ed Brandt in the opener. Van Mungo, recruit from the Eastern league, gave the Braves only three hits and struck out seven in the second game.

Carl Hubbell and Roy Parmelee pitched the New York Giants to victories over the Phillies, 6-0 and 2-1. Hubbell fanned nine and gave only three hits in the first game and Parmelee was reached for only four safeties in the second battle, decided by Allen's single with the bases filled in the sixth.

Effective pitching by Larry French and Ervin Bramm enabled the Pirates to chalk up their fifth and sixth straight wins at the expense of the Cardinals.

National Club Will Get Opener of World Series

CHICAGO, Sept. 8. (AP)—The 1931 world series will open in the park of the National league champion October 1.

This was decided at a meeting in the office of Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis yesterday. Should St. Louis win the title, two games will be played there, with the next two days set aside for traveling to the stronghold of the American league champion, where three games will be played, if that many are necessary. Should the series go more than five games, the two remaining contests would be played in St. Louis.

If the New York Giants should overhaul the Cardinals, the series will open at New York, with the third game scheduled for October 3, in the American league title winner's park.

EVENT WILL DRAW LARGE CROWDS HERE

Displays to Reveal How Versatile A Are County Farming Groups.

Gray county's attempt to stage a free fair come-back in Pampa, Sept. 10-12, is going to outstrip any of its kind held here before 1924, date of the last one. That's the sum and substance of reports received from directors living in 15 communities of the county and from superintendents of eight departments. C. H. Walker, general superintendent, is optimistic, but he declared today much work remains to be done this week. Members of the fair committee will devote all their time this week to completing plans for the success of the fair.

Excellent row crops now growing, one of the best wheat crops in years already harvested, and enthusiasm of rural folk for the fair, have led officials to believe there will be farmers in every part of the county to try for the prizes.

Three Locations

The fair will be held in three places in Pampa. Agricultural exhibits, community booths, and the wheat show will be shown in the basement of the city hall. Across the street in the Mitchell building formerly occupied by Masters' cafe will be the women's and children's exhibits, or the home demonstration department. In the warehouse of the Pampa Hardware and Implement company will be the dairy, machine, and hog shows. The canning and food departments are expected to be complete, and prizes have been offered for 55 canned food varieties.

The entertainment program will include the first football game of the season. This will be played Friday afternoon at Harvester park between the Harvesters and the Clarendon Bronchos. Fans are anxious to see whether or not the 1931 Harvesters are going to "mow 'em down."

Many Exhibits

The home demonstration department will include the following exhibits: Girl's club, women's and children's pictures, china paintings, applied arts, handicraft and novelties, antiques, pot plants and bouquets, culinary, fashion show, and old ladies' work.

The individual agricultural exhibits will include 24 crops, six fruits, 27 vegetables; the boys' club department, three grain sorghums, corn, cotton, wheat, boys' pig club, manual training. A total of $50 in prizes will be given for the best gallons of wheat. Judge in this event will be John F. Ross of Amarillo, federal wheat inspector.

Merchants have agreed to place agricultural products in their display windows. Street lamps will be decorated with wheat bundles. Prizes will be given for the best agriculturally decorated windows. First, second, and third prizes will be given for winners in seven classes of Guernsey, Jersey, and Holstein. Eleven communities of the county will have booths. These are Laketon, Grandview, Back, Farrington, Wayside, Shaffer, Bell, Hoover, Kingsmill, Hopkins, and Eldridge.

To Show Pictures

Entries in the first year club work will include two canned products, and six sewing exhibits; in the second year, three canned products and four sewing exhibits. The art division will contain original pictures, copies, studio group, sketches, posters, cartoon, Texas landscapes.

china painting, etchings on china.

All exhibits must be in place by 10 o'clock, Thursday morning and remain in place until 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Judges of the booths and all agricultural exhibits will be in charge of M. B. Cates of Fort Worth, agricultural agent for the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway company, and two county agents whose names have not yet been announced.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8. (AP)—

Jack Hartigan, 24, a truck driver, was sought by police today for questioning in the death of Miss Catherine Cronin, 20, an insurance office clerk, who was found strangled to death in the Greenwich Village apartment occupied by Hartigan, his mother and brother.

Decorations to Be Typical of Wheat Capital

Pampa will be agriculturally minded during the Gray County Free fair Sept. 10, 11, and 12 if Roy McMillen and his committee have their way. Mr. McMillen is in charge of agricultural decorations.

Downtown store windows will be used for many individual farm exhibits. Merchants have been very generous in agreeing to use their windows for this purpose. In addition, they are cooperating in arrangements to place products effectively. They merchants will have an opportunity to know the farmers better, and visits to the farms whence come the products are expected to develop many friendships.

To add interest to the window competition, the fair board is offering prizes of $5, $3, and a ribbon for the best displays. Mr. McMillen also is planning to attach bundles of wheat to downtown light posts to add to the gala effect. Flag decorations will be added by the merchants. Visitors will be able to see at a glance that Pampa is the wheat city of the plains.

Names of the farmers furnishing the exhibited products will be indicated in the windows.

H. Otto Studer visited his parents at Canadian yesterday.

Wheat Cereal to Be Displayed

Women of Gray county have learned to do with at least a small portion of the wheat surplus. They are making a breakfast cereal of it, and some declare it is the best cereal they have ever tasted. Several samples of the wheat as used for breakfast food will be shown in the Gray County Free fair.

Most of the women boil the grain until it has swollen and then put it into cans, placing it under pressure for 30 or 40 minutes before cooking. Mrs. E. A. Shackleton, however, has a different method which she prefers. She grinds the wheat fine, sifts the flour from it, washes it, and then cooks it in boiling water as she would rice. She cooks enough at one time to last two days and serves it with sugar and cream.

Raisins, dates, or peanut butter make welcome additions to the breakfast food, Mrs. Shackleton says. The cereal also is quite edible when fried.

Mrs. Shackleton plans to show some of this ground wheat in the fair.

Dallas Woman Finds Quick Relief from Neuritis

Mrs. IDA PULLEN

Dallas, Texas—Mrs. Ida Pullen, 3208 McKinney Avenue, has now fully recovered from an exceptionally serious case of neuritis. She gives entire credit for her remarkable recovery to Herb Extract medicine.

"I suffered from neuritis, stomach trouble, gas on stomach, headaches in mornings, and also nervousness," reports Mrs.

Suffered and could not sleep. NOW enjoys life fully. Regains 12 pounds in 3 weeks.

"I could not sleep nights, I got all down and out so I could not even go out in our car. I lost about 12 pounds in four weeks time."

"Then someone recommended Herb Extract to me and, as I had seen it advertised and it seemed to fit my need, I bought a bottle."

"That first bottle made me feel much better and stronger, my nerves improved so fast, I got my sleep soundly every night. Everything I eat agrees with me. I gained back in three weeks' time all I had lost. I am telling all my friends what a wonderful medicine Herb Extract is."

Mrs. Pullen and her husband and daughter (who are also enthusiastic Herb Extract users) are typical of the thousands of families who praise this medicine for the remarkable benefits it has brought to them. "I, too, should be enjoying the relief Herb Extract will bring. Don't delay, get your bottle today at your drug store."

C. H. Walker Heads Activity as Agricultural Event Here Is Launched.

Plans for the Gray County Free fair have been developed by the agricultural committee of the Pampa Board of City Development and interested citizens of the county. The fair will be held Sept. 10, 11, and 12.

C. H. Walker is chairman of the B. C. D. committee, with T. C. Livey, Irvin Cole, C. L. Thomas, Ralph Thomas, and J. L. Lester as his assistants.

Mr. Walker also is general superintendent of the fair. Other officers are: Secretary, George Briggs; superintendent of agriculture, Irvin Cole; superintendent of boys' work, J. A. Meek, assisted by J. L. Lester; superintendent of wheat show, C. L. Thomas; superintendent of decorations, Roy McMillen; superintendent of dairy show, Ralph Thomas; superintendent of community exhibits, John B. Fessley; assistant superintendent of community exhibits, A. L. Patrick; superintendent of entertainment, Mrs. W. A. Bratton.

Directors of the fair are A. A. Tappie, McLean, R. M. Gibson, Alanreed, E. Bacchus, LeFors, Wheeler Paris, Laketon; S. C. Jones, Grandview; C. M. Carpenter, Back; Herman Jones; F. W. Hinton; Homer Taylor, Wayside; P. B. Farley, southwest part of county; Joe Fox, Belle; J. M. Daugherty, Hoover; Roger McConnell, Kingsmill; Frank Wilson, Hopkins; L. L. Palmer, Eldridge.

In the home demonstration department, Miss Myrtle Miller is superintendent, Mrs. H. H. Isbell of Pampa is chairman, Mrs. Chas. Talley is assistant chairman, Mrs. Tom Clayton heads the quilt show with Mrs. Herman Jones assisting.

Mrs. A. E. Word of Alanreed is chairman of girls' club work. Her assistant is Mrs. S. C. Jones of Pampa.

Mrs. A. B. Goldston of Pampa is chairman of the women's and children's exhibits, assisted by Mrs. O. H. Booth.

Mrs. V. E. Fatheree is chairman of the picture exhibit and Mrs. H. C. Wilson of china paintings. Mrs. Clifford Bray is chairman of applied arts, handicraft, and novelties.

F. P. Reid is chairman of the antiques exhibit, which is expected to be very interesting. Mrs. Neils Walberg is in charge of potted plants and bouquets. In the culinary department is Mrs. C. S. Boston as chairman. Mrs. J. B. Massa heads the fashion show. Irvin Cole is superintendent of the individual agricultural exhibits.

Newspapers Will Give Award for Balanced Menus

The Pampa NEWS-POST is offering an award of $3 for the best balanced menus for one week planned by a Gray county woman and entered in the Gray County Free fair. The menus are to be for an average family of five, with an average income of $1,500, this being the government estimate of the average family. Twenty per cent of the income is to be figured for food.

An award of 50 cents will be made for first place, and ribbons will be given for second and third places in each of the following entries: Loaf of bread, loaf of whole wheat bread, one dozen light rolls, one dozen cinnamon rolls, one dozen doughnuts, loaf of nut bread, angel food cake, and devil's food cake.

Flower Show to Be Fair Feature

In a triangular inclosure centering the main room of the Mitchell building, where the women's division of the fair will be held, will be an arrangement of Gray county's representative flowers. Cut flowers should be submitted on the first day of the fair, but potted plants may be submitted on the previous day, said Mrs. Neils Walberg, who with Mrs. C. O. Duenkel, will direct this exhibit.

Any kind of flower may be entered in the fair, and a prize will be given for the most beautiful one shown. In addition, $1 and 50 cents will be given for the two best hanging baskets, $2 will be awarded for the best bouquet of not less than eight roses, and 50 cents each will be given for the best specimen of lern, geranium, coleus, and begonia, as well as for the best bouquet of each of the following: dahlias, zinnias, double epimios, single cosmos, asters, white snapdragons, colored snapdragons, shasta daisies, nasturtiums, and cockscomb.

Chicago burglars stole three gold inlaid shotguns valued at $1500 from Joseph Leiter, millionaire sportsman. Hollywood has decided definitely not to green the novel, "Queer People," which is a satire on the film colony.

A ruby weighing 17 carats and valued at $135,000 was found recently at Mokog, Burma.

The Chilean ambassador to the United States will serve without pay because of the lack of diplomatic funds.

Mrs. Shackleton also plans to enter jars of sweet pickled pears, and some of her 100 quarts of beans.

All totaled, Mrs. Shackleton has canned 450 quarts of food. Her canning for this year is complete except for meats.

Kitchen Found to Have Wealth of Stored Food

Mrs. E. A. Shackleton's kitchen has proved a real laboratory from which several unique contributions to the Gray County Free fair will come.

"If there are hungry people in Pampa next spring," said Mrs. Shackleton, "they will find a leafy vegetable in abundance that is free to all and is just as good as spinach."

The vegetable under discussion is sour dock. Mrs. Shackleton gathered it in abundance last spring and now has 12 quarts of it. It is cooked in the same way as spinach and taste like that better-known vegetable.

There is plenty of sour dock growing by the side of roads near Pampa in the spring for anyone who might want it, Mrs. Shackleton said.

Mrs. Shackleton also plans to enter jars of sweet pickled pears, and some of her 100 quarts of beans.

WILL REVEAL PLOT

PERRY, Ia., Sept. 8. (AP)—County Attorney George Sackett said today that John M. Smith, insecticide manufacturer, has promised to tell a grand jury all the details of an alleged insurance plot in which he disappeared last winter, leaving an embalmed body of the unidentified man in his burned automobile.

MEETING POSTPONED

The meeting of the executive board of the Pampa Library association which was to have been held last evening has been postponed until next Monday evening at 3 o'clock at the city hall. Postponement was due to Labor day.

Welfare Board Gets Rid of Ambling Family, Whose Hobby Is Begging

The Welfare Board got rid of the Ambling family yesterday in a manner that conforms perfectly to the ethics of Welfare societies; that is, the board did not simply "pass on" Mr. and Mrs. Ambling and their numerous children. The Amblings did not belong to Pampa in the first place but they tried to lawfully hard.

They came to Pampa a month ago and applied for aid at the Welfare Board. Because it is the law of Welfare societies not to accept transients as charges but to send them back to where they came from, Mrs. W. H. Davis, manager, made plans to obey that law. She wrote to Wichita, where Mrs. Ambling said they owned a home and had furniture stored.

Meanwhile, the Ambling parents and their children made plans to support themselves, by the simple method of going up one street and down the next one, accepting whatever residents gave them.

Mrs. Davis heard from Wichita and Wichita wouldn't claim them. "If Mr. Ambling can give work references or a series of addresses by which we can verify his legal residence here, we shall be glad . . ."

That did not alter the fact that the Amblings did not belong to Pampa. The Amblings were told that again and again. Besides, Mrs. Davis learned from Wichita they have relatives who can support them.

The family left yesterday. A history of their case sent from Wichita shows that the Amblings are typical two-room shack, Mr. Ambling bought a Packard touring car. Ever since their marriage they have been dependent on relatives. The family has made three or four trips to California and the relatives are always called upon to send money for their return. We are unable to give sufficient information to establish the Amblings legal address. They have moved so often and traveled about so much . . .

Mr. Ambling's brother and mother are concerned about the children, who they say are ambitious and well-behaved. The mother believes they should be "put in a home" as she does not think the parents are capable of rearing them.

"On June 1, 1931, our office received an inquiry of this same family from San Bernardino, Calif., where the family had been camping since April, 1931. The children were supporting the family by working and begging. At that time the Amblings said they had lived in Wichita for five years."

The moral of the Ambling story is to be applied locally, Mrs. Davis said. It is this: "If the citizens of Pampa will consistently refuse to give aid to house-to-house 'cassers' by sending them to the board, such itinerant families as the Amblings will not be able to stay here long. Pampa already has enough charity cases."

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Downs of Erick, Okla., are visiting Mr. Downs' parents, Chief of Police and Mrs. J. I. Downs.

AMARILLO, Sept. 8. (AP)—Elliott Hatch, Amarillo amateur, yesterday turned in a medal score of 285, nine below par for the course, to win the first annual Amarillo open championship. Paul Gore, Hatch's nearest contender, had a score of 295.

SCORES ARE GIVING TIME TO BIG EVENT

Club Girls Directed by Miss Miller Are to Be Prominent.

Activities of Gray county's women will be displayed in tangible form the last three days of this week in the Mitchell building, formerly occupied by the Masters cafe. This exhibit is to be the best collection of articles representing the life of Gray county people ever exhibited.

General plans for the women's and children's department have been made by Mrs. A. B. Goldston, chairman, and Mrs. O. H. Booth, assistant chairman.

Booths have been erected throughout the building and will be colorfully decorated by those in charge of the various exhibits.

Triangle for Flowers
In the center of the main room is a triangle. In this inclosure will be arranged a variety of beautiful and unusual flowers. The flowers are to be well cared for by Mrs. Nels Walberg and Mrs. C. O. Duenkel, who are in charge of this exhibit.

Racks have been erected on one side of the room for the paintings, and on the other side are racks for the quilt exhibit. Most of the booths will be in the main room.

The lunch room has been designated for the antiques, and the banquet hall back of the smaller room will be used for exhibits of the county home demonstration clubs and the girls' 4-H clubs.

Of Much Interest
Exhibits of the county clubs, directed by Miss Myrtle Miller, county home demonstration agent, promise to be unusually good this year.

"Gray county women are going to 'live at home' this winter," said Miss Miller, and through their exhibits they will show how this can be done.

"For instance there will be shown a modern 4-H pantry, containing enough food to last a family of five persons for three months.

Women of the county have canned very extensively this year. Some of them have put up several hundred cans of fruits, vegetables, jelly, and pickles. In this increased work, they have discovered new foods that can be successfully canned and new ways of canning it. All this will be shown at the fair.

Made at Leisure
In spite of many home duties, women of Gray county have found some leisure time and have used it wisely. So the articles made during spare time will have important places in the fair. Included in this class will be pictures, china paintings, applied arts, handcraft, and novelties, pot plants and bouquets, fancy sewing, and fancy cooking.

Due on Wednesday
All articles to be submitted in the women's division of the fair should be taken to the Mitchell building Wednesday between 9 o'clock in the morning and 4 o'clock in the afternoon, according to Mrs. Goldston. The following persons will receive the articles: Mrs. V. E. Fatheree, pictures; Mrs. H. C. Wilson, china painting, textiles, and old ladies' work; Mrs. Clifford Braly, applied arts, handcraft, and novelties; F. P. Reid, antiques; Mrs. Nels Walberg and Mrs. C. O. Duenkel, pot plants and bouquets; Mrs. C. S. Boston, culinary art; Mrs. J. B. Missa, all garments to be entered in the style show.

Crop Exhibits at Fair to Reveal Possibilities of Fertile Plains

It is hoped by Irvin Cole, superintendent of crop exhibits for the Gray County Free fair, that his division will be one of the most interesting at the event.

Prizes of 50 cents for first place, 25 cents for second, and ribbon for third have been offered in a large list of products. The entries will include head maize, hepari, feterita, and kaffir, bundles of sweet sorghums, ears of white corn, yellow corn, strawberry corn, June corn, bundled wheat, gallons of oats, barley, bundled oats and barley, gallon of rye, 20 open bolls of cotton, gallon corn peas, gallon Spanish peanuts, bundle of alfalfa, bundle sweet clover and cow peas, and vine of peanuts.

Fruits on plates of five or more specimens will include apples, pears, plums, grapes, peaches, and strawberries.

Vegetables to be displayed include Irish potatoes, okra, sweet potatoes, rhubarb, onions, tomatoes, beets, green beans, dry beans, egg plant, green corn, cabbage, radishes, celery, carrots, squashes, kershaws, pumpkins and watermelon, lima beans, green hot peppers, lettuce, turnips, and cantaloupes.

Mrs. Braly Has Charge of Unique Fair Features

Among the most unique features of the fair will be the applied arts, handcraft and novelties, all of which are to be shown under the direction of Mrs. Clifford Braly.

In this division will include items made largely by women in their spare time. "They are the interests of the people are brought to light. Awards ranging from 50 cents to $1.50 will be offered for each of the following items: Hand decorated tray, any kind of bead work, linoleum block, tessie flowers, clay modeling, ship model, foot stool, door stop, raffia, rattan or grass weaving, smoking stand, larger pieces of hand made, hand finished furniture, hand made trays, doll's furniture for one room, bird house, bread board, candle holders, chess board and knife.

PRYOR JURY SELECTED
Newton P. Willis and John F. Studer are attending court at Wheeler where the Pryor murder case is in progress. A jury was selected to try Pryor yesterday. The defendant is charged with the murder of Dr. Guyton at Shamrock. The Pampa lawyers are assisting District Attorney Raymond Alfred. Testimony is due to be introduced by the state this morning.

LIGHTNING KILLS MAN SHINER, Sept. 8. (P)—Lightning yesterday killed one man almost instantly, probably fatally, injured another, and shocked a third. A man identified only as "Mueller," thought to be of Edna, Texas, was killed.

Club Girls Are to Display Many Kinds of Work

Club girls of Gray county will have varied competition at the Gray County Free fair. Mrs. A. B. Word of Alanreed is chairman of this division, with Mrs. S. C. Jones of near Pampa as assistant chairman.

All girls contesting must be between the ages of 12 and 20 years, and members of a regularly organized club conducted under the supervision of a home demonstration agent. Each must do her own work, except plowing, which she may hire done. She must can her own products and do her own sewing for exhibition. All canned goods must be in the uniform size specified by A. and M. college. Cans must be properly labeled in the 4-H manner.

Premiums will be on the basis of first and second year work. Canned products will be tomatoes and fruits in the first year class, and tomatoes, vegetables, and preserves in the advanced class. First year sewing will be uniform apron, uniform cap, pillow case, and history of first year class, and undergarment, gown, pillow case, and history of work in the second year class.

There also will be a similar division for women of the home demonstration clubs. There will be entries both as individuals and as clubs. All kinds of canned goods will be in the competition, and in another division of the group will be cheese, homemade rugs, pillow cases, dresser skirts, boys' cotton suits, women's wash dresses, women's summer cotton dresses, hooked rugs, and secretaries' record books.

Miss Betty Louise Glover plans to leave about Sept. 20 to attend Texas State College for Women, Denton.

Communities To Compete

Fair Officials Speak at Many Places Urging Group Displays.

Community exhibits are expected to be among the most interesting features at the Gray County Free fair here Sept. 10, 11, and 12. Plans for arranging these exhibits have been made at community gatherings at which fair officials spoke. John B. Hessey is superintendent of this division, with A. L. Patrick as his assistant.

The community exhibits are calculated to cause rivalry in each section of the county and between communities. Moreover, communities bordering on Gray county are eligible to compete.

Premiums to be paid are $20 for first place, $15 for second place; $10 for third, and $5 for fourth. The score card will be as follows:

Exhibitors will be required to major on two of the most important crops of the community. Not fewer than three exhibits of each major crop shall be shown. In addition to the two major crops, not less than 15 nor more than 20 exhibits may be shown. The two major crops shall be scored on a basis of 300 points; neatness and attractiveness of exhibit on a basis of 100 points. The other crops shall be scored on a basis of 500 points, making a total of 1,000 points.

All products required by the score card must be placed on the platform of the booth. No part of the exhibit to be judged shall be placed upon the wall or background. No crop exhibited in any classification shall be exhibited in any other class. Signs bearing the name of the community will be placed at the top of each booth by the fair management. All decorations on the background shall be agricultural. All exhibits shall come from the community making the exhibit. The exhibit shall be in place by 10 o'clock on the morning of the first day of the fair and remain in place until 5 o'clock Saturday following. The size of the booth platform will be 8 by 8 feet, and the background 6 by 8.

FIRST FACULTY MEETING HELD

The first general meeting of Pampa teachers was attended yesterday morning by all local instructors except two. Miss Fannie May, who is ill in an Amarillo hospital, is expected to return here for several days, and Miss Anne Fry, who underwent an operation for appendicitis recently, is expected next Monday.

C. T. Hunkapillar, president of the school board; C. P. Buckler, secretary of the board; J. M. Daugherty, trustee, and Joe Smith, business manager of the school district, made talks on various problems pertaining to school life.

The Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the First Baptist church, spoke on the necessity of fitting into one's community. Each teacher, he said, should find his or her place in one of the local churches.

After visitors left, the teachers and principals discussed general school policies with Supt. R. B. Fisher. It was pointed out that the slogan for the year would be "Economy Plus Efficiency." No work books will be bought by the children this year. Pencils and paper will be practically the only expenses in connection with their school work.

Club Boys to Compete in Fair in Many Things

Regularly enrolled members of Gray county 4-H clubs and members of vocational agriculture classes of the schools will have a department in the Gray County Free fair.

Prizes will be offered for best samples of milo maize, hegart, and kaffir, ten ears of any variety of corn, 20 bolls of cotton, and gallons of wheat.

In the pig exhibit will be fat barrows or gilts of any breed or grade, farrowed since March 1, 1931. Prizes will be $2.50, $1.50, and $1.

There also will be a manual training section, with prizes for the best model airplanes, leather whips, leather bridles, waste paper baskets, and coat and hat racks.

J. A. MEEK and J. L. LESTER of Pampa are in charge of the boys' department.

Oil Declines As East Texas Opens

TULSA, Sept. 8. —While reopening of the Big East Texas oil field was expected to send production figures skyward, the figures for the week ended Sept. 5 showed a continuous decline in production figures for the United States, the Oil and Gas Journal reported a daily average flow of 1,738,007 barrels as compared with 1,740,953 barrels the preceding week.

The reduction of 4,946 barrels daily was due largely to a decline in Oklahoma production, which was 266,225 barrels as compared with 265,415 barrels. Kansas wells flowed 98,515 barrels, a decline of 800 barrels. Arkansas showed an in-

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

The lesson-sermon subject was "Man" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, Sept. 6.

"Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright," was the golden text, taken from Ecclesiastes 7:29.

The service included the following passages from the Bible: "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness; and let them have dominion. So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them." —Genesis 1:26,27.

These citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, were also read (pp. 475, 515, 288).

"The scriptures inform us that man is made in the image and likeness of God. . . . Man is the family name for all ideas.—the sons and daughters of God. . . . Science reveals the glorious possibilities of immortal man, forever unlimited by the mortal senses."

Gene but not forgotten are Pampa and Gray county fairs of the past, and Thursday at the opening of the Gray County Free Fair here old timers will gather to talk over exhibits when Pampa was a town of less than 1,000 persons.

Pampa's first fair was held in 1919 on a vacant lot where now the Pampa Style shop is located. F. P. Reid, then secretary of the chamber of commerce, started the ball rolling and farmers and citizens became interested. J. S. Wynne was elected president and Mr. Reid secretary-treasurer. Farmers from all sections of the county entered exhibits and the fair was declared a success.

Enthusiasm over the exhibit, the Pampans took it to Dallas, where it received honorable mention and caused no little talk where people thought the Panhandle was a place where cattle roamed and nothing could be raised.

The following year, the Pampa Fair association was organized with E. C. Rippey as president, J. E. Murfee, vice-president, and Joe M. Smith secretary-treasurer. The exhibits were larger and of a greater variety. People from Roberts, Wheeler, Carson, and other Panhandle counties attended the fair. An added feature was the horse races. Cow ponies vied for honors over a quarter-mile track. Entries were received from all communities.

The fair was not only a success

"They speak my language!"

... and it's no "namby-pamby" talk, —either!

Words can mean lots of things—but you can always trust your taste. If a cigarette tastes right, if it satisfies you right down to the ground, then it is right.

There are all kinds of tobaccos—some good, some not so good. And there's the Chesterfield kind—the best Turkish and the best Domestic that grows. Full-ripe, sun-cured, aged in Nature's thoroughgoing way—and as mild and smooth and sweet as sun-ripened fruit. Chesterfields taste right —because they are right. And something you can't taste—that's important too! The finest cigarette paper—so pure it burns without taste or odor!

And behind this unchanging good taste, all the resources of a great organization—men, money, science, experience. It takes them all to make a great cigarette, and they're all behind Chesterfield.

Your taste is dead right. Chesterfields do satisfy.

GOOD . . . they've got to be good!
