London Kept In Continuous Alarm State

British Drive Off Invaders, Bomb German Factories

(By The Associated Press) British RAF bombers have turned a "made in England" blitzkrieg on Germany, the London air ministry disclosed today, driving the war home to Germans in a counter-offensive that struck overnight at Berlin and 16 other cities and towns.

"Great fires . . . terrific explosions . . . The debris of bomb-hit buildings, hurled sky-high," were reported from the German capital to Nazi-held Le Havre on the channel coast.

RAF fliers returning from the assault said the red glare of fires set by bombs in the great industrial valley of the Ruhr could be seen for 60 miles.

"From very shortly after dark until well after midnight, the bomber forces kept up their harassing attacks against potential invasion bases on the Dutch and French coasts," the air ministry said, adding that German coastal guns "received special attention."

Along with this tipping on the air-fighting scales, the axis powers now have definitely abandoned the idea of drawing Spain into the war, for the moment, at least.

Spaniards as a whole cheered reports from Rome that Spain is to continue as a non-belligerent.

While Londoners hailed reports of RAF bomb reprisals against Germany British defenders coped with four swift-striking waves of Nazi warplanes attempting to storm London by daylight.

The air ministry said RAF Spitfires chased one German formation many miles down the Thames river and intercepted and scattered the other three waves.

With clear flying weather, Berlin said the aerial assault would be greatly intensified during the day. The air ministry listed eight Nazi planes shot down from midnight to noon without the loss of a single RAF defense fighter.

As the war passed its 13th month—with the danger of a Nazi invasion of England apparently becoming more and more remote—London military circles said there was "no reason to doubt" that Hitler's high command has taken over direction of Italian operations in north Africa, aimed at breaking Great Britain's hold on the Mediterranean.

These circles said also that in all probability German troops have moved into Italy to be used as reinforcements for the Italian north African army.

Egypt appeared to be the next major land battlefield, they said, with Nazi-Pasclit legions joining in an attempt to crush British resistance by spring and then turning to the "final assault" on Britain's island kingdom itself.

RAF pilots who took part in the attack on Berlin said they saw many fires and explosions, and one pilot reported "four terrific explosions" after he tripped his bomb-rack over an electrical equipment factory in the German capital.

Coincident with the RAF's new aerial assault, Britain's minister of economic warfare, Hugh Dalton, reported that the British blockade is

Motorist Pays $10 Fine For Speeding Thru School Zone

A Pampa motorist paid a fine of $10 in city police court this morning on a charge of reckless driving and speeding through a school zone.

"We're going to put a stop to speeding and reckless driving," City Recorder C. E. McGrew said after assessing the fine. "This practice of driving like wild people on our streets, especially in school zones, must end. The fines are going up and up until motorists are going to think about others when they get behind the wheel of an automobile."

Judge McGrew set a minimum of $250 for speeding fines two weeks ago. Now he has lifted the minimum to $5 and it's going to keep climbing unless speeding violations take a sharp drop, he declared.

Germany Glows Like Torch After Widespread Raids

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Oct. 2.—Squadron after squadron of Nazi warplanes flew to the attack on London today but British fighters gave them a battle and were officially credited with turning back each succeeding wave.

The British air ministry announced early tonight that all attacks "have been intercepted and broken up by our fighters."

A communique acknowledged, however, that a few of the German planes managed to penetrate London's defenses and drop bombs which inflicted some fatalities.

Six massed attacks were attempted on the empire's capital and a toll of nine Nazi planes was taken as they tried to slip through a patchy sky to strike at the city. London was kept in an almost continuous state of alarm.

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Oct. 2.—Five air raid warnings from dawn to dusk kept London in an almost continuous state of alarm today.

At times the roar of invading planes could be heard, but always to the accompaniment of heavy anti-aircraft fire. Central London escaped, thanks either to the fierce ground defense or to the fact that it was not an objective today.

There were three alarms in the morning, one shortly after noon and still another later in the day, followed by an evening announcement by the air ministry that "reports so far received show that nine of the enemy have been shot down" and "one of our fighters is missing."

A British airman, gliding high over the region, dropped a stick of high explosives on the targets.

Dancers Wanted For Kiwanis Musical Comedy

WANTED: Dancers. All kinds of dancers including tap, jitterbug and ballroom. Must be at least 16 years old. Apply auditorium, city hall, 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

And that's the signal to begin rounding up the cast for the Kiwanis club musical comedy (not an opera) to be staged in the high school auditorium here the latter part of this month.

Ken Bennett, who is writing the music and producing the show, and Miss Vivian Earsom, dance teacher, will be at the City Hall auditorium at 8 o'clock tomorrow night to audition the dancers.

So if you think you can "step" sufficiently well to win a place in the all-star production, get in touch with Mr. Bennett and Miss Earsom at the city hall Thursday night. It's on the third floor of the city building.

When Kiwanians return from the Texas-Oklahoma district Kiwanis convention next week, rehearsals will begin and Mr. Bennett plans to whip the show together as a rapid-fire musical melange along the lines of New York's "Hellzapoppin'," one of the funniest, dizziest, dazziest shows of the last decade. Tentatively, the Pampa production will be known as the "Top O' Texas Revue."

Prizes Given In Cake Contest At Cooking School

The Pampa News cooking school, with its profitable and entertaining sessions, is over. Climaxing the seventh annual school was the presentation of grand prizes and the announcement of winners in Mrs. Tucker's "Smile" cake contest.

Mrs. B. M. Denson won first place with a white cake, Mrs. D. B. Jameson, second, with a white cake; Mrs. J. E. Bryan, third, with a spice cake; and Mrs. Rudolph Taylor, fourth with a chocolate cake.

A five-piece set of Evered chrome steel cooking ware was given for first prize; a three-piece set of the same cooking utensils as the second prize; three one-pound cans of Admiralton roffee for third prize; and a 25-ounce can of KC baking powder as fourth prize.

KC baking powder and Mrs. Tucker's shortening were used in making the 26 cakes entered in the contest. Mrs. Frank Hall judged the cakes by the score cards used at the Tri-State fair. Texture and flavor were the top ranking points considered.

Mrs. Arreva D. French, who conducted the school, endeared herself to hundreds of Pampa women during the lectures and demonstrations from the kitchen of the La-Nora theater as she presented this modern, effective means to achieve a greater success in home making.

Bua Pampa women made a still greater impression on Mrs. French. As she concluded the Pampa News cooking school sessions, she turned to us and said, "I've never had more attentive and intelligent audiences in my experience of holding these home making events. 'It is no wonder that you have so many beautiful and well functioning homes here. The women go so full heartedly into making this possible."

Mrs. French asked us to bid every woman a cordial goodbye and thank you. And, incidentally, she added, "I'm hoping my next Happy Kitchen Cooking School will receive the same response as your Pampa women accorded me."

Postponed Meeting Of School Board To Be Held Tonight

Grandview Carnival Will Be Tomorrow

Pampans have tomorrow marked on their calendars with a red pencil to remind them that it's the date of the annual Grandview carnival where everyone has a big time.

The local group will leave from the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the city hall at 7:30 o'clock with C. A. "Lefty" Huff in command. He urges everyone who can possibly get away to be at Grandview.

This year's program will be bigger and better than ever. There will be several new games. The "rats" division can't be improved upon because the women of the Grandview community are famous for their cakes, pies and lunch boxes.

TRAGEDY FALLS ON WILLKIE ADMIRER

DETROIT, Oct. 2. (AP)—Betty Wilson, 19, who was struck on the head by a five-pound metal wastepaper basket Monday night as she stood outside a downtown hotel waiting to see Wendell Willkie, did not suffer a fractured skull and is expected to be discharged from Receiving hospital today.

Representatives from nearly 50 Texas cities attended the meeting which was the last held before the advisory board makes its recommendations to the governor for locations and allocations for proposed airports in the state. The governor will send the recommendations to Washington. Pampa's proposed allocation is $164,000.

There is absolutely no money appropriated and no definite program started, the delegates were told yesterday. They were informed that the government has set aside a sum of money for airport improvements over the nation and that more might be appropriated. But none has been allocated.

The government will consider where airports are most needed and that is where the money will be spent, City Manager Matthews said. Pampa's airport is rated number two.

Good Fellows To Mark Sidewalks On Friday Night

Painted lines for the "Mile of Pennies" to be held here Saturday will be put down on downtown sidewalks at 11 o'clock Friday night, in preparation for the third annual Goodfellows fund to purchase shoes for children and do other charitable children's work.

At the meeting of the local V. F. W. post last night, members volunteered as individuals to help work the campaign.

The Goodfellows committee is composed of Dan Kennedy, chairman, Joe Roche, Dan Williams, and Ray F. Barnes. Paul D. Hill is secretary of the club.

"This winter is liable to be more severe than usual and the number of calls for aid is likely to be numerous. We have supplied a few emergency cases, and we need these funds badly now," Secretary Hill said.

Registration Judges Picked By Gray Court

Explanation of the set up of registration chiefs for the October 16 enrollment of prospective draftees was made today by County Judge Sherman White, in answer to a query as to why presiding judges, instead of precinct chairmen, should be in charge at registration places.

Texas regulations provide that the men in charge of registration shall be the presiding judges. These judges are the ones selected each two years, usually in February, as presiding judges of the November general election.

Selection of the presiding judges is made by the county commissioners court.

Precinct chairmen are in charge of Democratic primary elections and are named by the county executive committee, but the commissioners name the judges for the general election.

There is no pay for the presiding judges work in the enrollment of October 16.

To date, only two precincts have been definitely lined up for registration, precinct 9, Pampa, handroom at Woodrow Wilson school, Pampa, L. R. Taylor, chief registrar; precinct 16, Tex Evans Busck company, Pampa, J. R. Posey.

Willkie Criticizes FDR Defense Plans

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN ENROUTE CLEVELAND, Oct. 2 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie, declaring that this country now has little influence in international affairs, said today that Germany, Japan and Italy, "are thinking about the United States in terms of war."

"Nobody in this country wants war," said the Republican presidential nominee to a train crowd at Adrian, Mich.

"Under such circumstances there is just one hope for these United States—just one hope for the continuation of this peaceful democratic life—and that is for the United States to become strong."

"This administration now in power has spent sixty billion dollars of our money.

"Yet it has still failed to build us an adequate national defense. In 1939 when there was no Hitler, 21 per cent of the national economy was devoted to national defense, yet in 1938 only 9 per cent were spent for that purpose.

"We have only 75,000 men equipped for service able to fight. Yet this administration says you can't change horses in the middle of the stream. I say to you that the administration which got us into the middle of that stream is not an administration which can get us out of that stream."

Willkie told the cheering crowd that he wanted to do two things: Re-habilitate domestic economy and "build a defense that will be so strong that neither Germany nor Italy nor Japan, nor all of them combined, will seek to strike this peaceful land."

"Our only danger of war," he added, "is if we remain weak."

Berlin Claims Arms Plant In London Wrecked

BERLIN, Oct. 2 (AP)—A great fire and explosion was caused by German warplane attacks on Manchester and heavy bombs were dropped on an armament plant north of London and a nearby airport used largely for night fighting, the German high command announced today.

The daily communique emphasized that fighting planes were being used widely for bombing raids, crediting surprise attacks by single planes with success north of London.

One unit, it said, carried out an audacious dive attack on an airport at Carew, a suburb of Pembroke, in Wales, scoring hits with large bombs on hangars and damaging a number of planes.

Liverpool's port facilities also were reported attacked.

Following up the offensive of yesterday and last night, German planes roared back to the attack on England early today, taking advantage of fine October weather, informed sources in Berlin said.

Britain's air losses through yesterday were put at 17 planes, while two German machines were reported missing.

Germany has developed special tactics for combating air raiders at night, the high command declared.

These were said to be a new technique by "night chasers" and a new type of artillery defense.

Details were not announced, but the high command reported the tactics were so successful that "nearly everywhere the foe was hindered from carrying out his raiding plans."

Last night British bombers caused damage by fire to "numerous" apartment houses in western German cities. One group was turned back from Berlin by anti-aircraft fire, said the high command, adding that the only damage in the capital was caused by incendiary and explosive bombs dropped on a brick yard in a suburban area.

German aviation experts challenged the veracity of communique of the British air ministry reporting successes of the royal air force in bombing French channel ports.

Games were played and songs were sung while refreshments were being prepared for serving. Candy and cookies were served by Nadine Kelly, Mary F. Jones, and Bobbie Louise McClendon.

The meeting was closed by the singing of two Girl Scout songs, "The Golden Sun" and "Taps."

All girls interested in Scout work are urged to join.

LONDON, Oct. 2 (Canadian Press)—The British Broadcasting corporation said today that a German pilot became so wrought up in a fight with British Hurricanes that he shot down the leader of his squadron and immediately was shot down himself by the commander of the German flight.

The BBC attributed the report to a royal air force captain.

Writer Sees No Indications Of Big Italian 'Push' In Egypt

By EDWARD KENNEDY
 WITH THE BRITISH TROOPS IN EGYPT, Oct. 2 (AP)—On a 100-mile trip along the British front in Egypt, I have seen no indications that a big Italian "push" is imminent—but the threat of the white man's war already is driving the children of the desert from their homes.

With their flocks and wives, the proud Bedouin tribesmen have begun an exodus to safer regions, just as the people of Belgium and northern France fled before the onrush of Adolf Hitler's armored legions.

Long camel caravans plod eastward with the possessions of the desert dwellers and the squallid mud hut villages fringing scattered oases are rapidly being deserted.

Impetus to the exodus was given by the Egyptian government which sent troops to warn the desert people of their danger, but they left their homes reluctantly.

One chief, whose four veiled wives and 17 children were crowded into a truck, complained loudly of the inconvenience—"especially to a man with a household like mine."

The Italians appear to be consolidating their positions on the strip of wasteland they occupied two weeks ago before any attempt to drive deeper into Egypt.

The British declare they are ready to repulse any such attempt, when it comes, and say they will fight the battle on lines of their own choosing.

Principal Italian outposts in Egypt are Sidi Barrani, on the Mediterranean coast, and Bir Sofafi, an inland oasis near the Libyan frontier.

Separating the Italian outposts and the British line is a barren no-man's-land, scores of miles wide at some points.

Insurmountable problems confront the Italians. Their chief difficulty is in transporting troops and supplies in a region almost devoid of adequate transportation arteries.

The British have an advantage in this respect. They have good roads and a railway from Alexandria to the region of their lines.

Most People Possess Ability To Read Minds

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
 Associated Press Science Editor
 NEW YORK, Oct. 2—A scientific experiment which indicates that probably most humans possess a little mind-reading ability is announced in the Journal of Parapsychology.

Two hundred and fifty persons made sketches of 2,200 pictures hanging on a wall, pictures which they never saw and of whose nature they had no hint, other than it was "not elaborate."

Among these "blind" copies 1,209 were sufficiently like the originals to be interesting. Under the rules of chance this made the odds 30,000 to 1 in favor of some mysterious mental trait accounting for the likeness.

The experiment was conducted by W. Whately Carrington, English psychologist, in England. He gave each person a photograph of a study room, where at 7 o'clock on each night of experiment a picture would be pinned to the top shelf of a bookcase.

This drawing remained in place until 9 the next morning, and the person trying to copy it "blind" had the privilege of sketching his hunch anytime in that period.

The pictures were simple, like spinning top, horse, leaves, arm-chair. One was a heraldic shield, and was imitated successfully. Once a calendar was left hanging by mistake close under the night's drawing, and that evening one person drew a calendar.

Carrington said it was not the picture but the idea, or word it represented, which was most often imitated. Thus a hand resulted in drawings of left and right hands, open and closed, Saturn's rings appeared as jeweler's rings, and "ruler" as both governor and a scale.

He suggests that the idea of the picture passed from the mind of the maker to other minds. What this ability is he said he does not know, but that "it is likely to prove an attribute of all humanity with nothing alarmingly magical about it."

In some cases, the cornea tissue from the eyes of dead persons is transplanted by surgery to restore sight to living persons.

Answering Your Questions About CONSCRIPTION

One of a series of daily articles by Milton Bronner interpreting new rulings on the selective service law and answering questions of The Pampa News readers.

By MILTON BRONNER
 Manager, NEA-Pampa News Selective Service Information Bureau
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—Just as 23 years ago in the wartime draft period special provision was made so that aliens and recently naturalized citizens might understand fully the meaning of the draft, so today, under the peacetime selective service law, preparations are being made so the foreign-born may be clear as to their duties.

Twenty-three years ago advertisements and posters concerning the Liberty Bonds, as well as matters connected with the draft, were printed in German, Italian, Russian, Polish, Czech, Yiddish, Hebrew and even Chinese.

Milton Bronner will answer questions of The Pampa News readers regarding conscription rulings and interpretations. Address questions to Milton Bronner, manager, NEA-Pampa News Selective Service Information Bureau, 1413 Thirteenth St., N.W., Washington, D. C. BE SURE TO ENCLOSE postage prepaid postcard or stamped envelope, self-addressed.

pecially of its large cities. It will be his duty to have cards and questionnaires and literature printed to meet these needs.

INTERPRETERS TO HELP
 Contracts for this printing will be let by the state itself, but the cost will be borne by the federal government.

The public relations officers will be stationed in the capitals of the various states. Mayors of towns and members of local selective service boards, when they have been named by the President on recommendation of the governors, are expected to help by providing estimates of their foreign-born population.

In addition, local boards in localities with a large foreign-born population will have the services of interpreters to aid prospective conscripts.

Cobb Afraid To Tangle With Texas

JOHNSON CITY, Oct. 2. (AP)—The boys around Casparis' barber shop slapped their thighs and bragged on Tom Martin today.

Tom is a champion yarn spinner and folks around the sage brush country kind of like the way he gets back at these smart alecks from the cities.

Well, sir, the boys thought it would be right nice if they could get that feller, Irvin S. Cobb, to debate politics with Tom. This Cobb has been going around these parts beating the bushes for Wendell L. Willkie, lately. Kicked up a mite of dust, too.

So when Myron Blalock, who is range boss of Texas Democrats, declined to debate Mister Cobb, they said right off:

"Why, Tom Martin is the Democrat for that job."

And before Christmas, which is Tom's bound dog, could yawn once they had the whole shebang arranged right here in Casparis' barber shop.

Only trouble was, something must have happened to Mister Cobb, who is something of a yarn spinner himself. Because Cobb wired:

"I'm scared of a barber shop philosopher in a small town. He has sharpened his wits against the greatest minds in his town and I'm not taking a chance."

Tom, he didn't have much to say, except:

"Mister Cobb writes highbrow cocktail recipes for Republicans, and us folks out here in Blanco county had druther have white mule likker out of a fruit jar."

But you could tell the way Christmas sort of grinned, like a hound dog does sometimes, that everybody was mighty proud of Tom bluffing that big feller the way he did.

WTSC Exes Of Gray Will Choose Queen

Special To The NEWS
 CANYON, Oct. 2—West Texas State college ex-students of Gray county will be requested to name their candidate in the contest for queen of homecoming, the gala annual event which this year comes on October 10.

Names of queen candidates—unmarried "exes"—are to be certified immediately to Mrs. Tommie Montfort, homecoming chairman, at Canyon. These young women will be guests at a luncheon, a football game, and the mammoth fiesta in the evening. Coronation of the homecoming queen is set for 7:30 p. m. in the main auditorium.

This year's homecoming program includes registration beginning at 9 a. m., a morning assembly at 10:30 a. m., luncheon for queen candidates, music of visiting high school bands, a football game at 2:30 p. m. between the Buffaloes and the Lumberjacks of Arizona State of Flagstaff, coronation of the homecoming queen, and the fiesta.

The homecoming fiesta will carry out a Spanish-American theme in and near Cousins hall. It will feature a Mexican inn, with Mexican food, orchestra and dancing; "Columbia," a beflagged, bunting-draped ballroom, the "Pot of Gold," with soft lighting, dancing and floor show; "The Corral," an outside tent with T-Anchor "bar," string band, and oldtime dancing; Juarez, another tent with lively midway, puppet show, bingo, stage show, and hamburger stand.

A hobby show will be sponsored by the history department at the Panhandle-Plains museum during the day. Student organizations are working out club reunions and other activities.

Stone Thrown Thru Window Of Willkie Train, Hits Writer

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN EN ROUTE TO CLEVELAND, Oct. 2. (AP)—Turning today to foreign policy questions, Wendell L. Willkie described as "false, malicious and subversive" a speech by Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York that President's defeat would bring satisfaction to Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin and Japan.

While completing an address on international relations for delivery at Cleveland tonight, Willkie issued a statement saying:

"I stand for our democratic way of life. And so intensely do I feel about this that I have gone out of my way in this campaign to give unity to certain aspects of our foreign policy.

"I have sought to avoid any risk of any suspicion in foreign minds of a disagreement in this country on our fundamental attitudes toward aggression and toward aid to Britain. Mr. Lehman ought to know that, too."

About the time the statement was being made public, a two-inch stone was thrown through the double window of a dining car on Willkie's train. It hit William C. Murphy, Washington correspondent for the Philadelphia Inquirer, but caused only slight abrasions on his hand.

The pieces of leather for the sides of the fingers and the thumb are known as "fourchettes" in the manufacture of gloves.

Rockne Will Be Honored At Football Game

Collings Of Olney To Be Marked Man

Members of the Pampa Harvesters football squad yesterday voted to set aside their game with the Olney Cubs here Friday night in recognition of football's greatest teacher and inspirational leader, the late Knute Rockne of Notre Dame.

Mayor Fred Thompson followed in the footsteps of the Harvesters by issuing a proclamation today designating the week of October 4 to 11, Knute Rockne week in Pampa.

The picture, "Knute Rockne—All American," will open at the LaNora theater here with a midnight preview Saturday night, and shows on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Manager Carl Benefiel of the LaNora, who has been given to using adjectives, saw a preview of the picture at a meeting of Griffith Amusement company managers yesterday in Wellington and he telegraphed Knute Rockne picture one of the greatest I have ever seen. It is a powerful tribute to a great man.

Football fans will be able to hear part of the premiere before going to the Pampa-Olney game when a nation-wide broadcast will be made from South Bend, Ind., where the first showing will be presented. Bob Hope will be master of ceremonies and he will introduce Pat O'Brien, who lives Rockne in the picture, Gale Page, who plays the part of Mrs. Knute Rockne, and others who star in the picture. Kate Smith and her entire program, giving their time for the broadcast, will be in South Bend for the premiere. Six hundred stations will carry the program beginning at 7 p. m., central standard time.

And the Pampa Harvesters will try to live up to Knute Rockne's famous saying, "Give your best, every minute you're on the field." The Harvesters have been working at top speed all this week preparing for the Cubs who are led by a 146-pound midget by the name of Jack Collings. He calls signals, carries the ball and does all the passing. He is the boy who gave the Cubs a 7 to 6 win over the Harvesters in Olney last year.

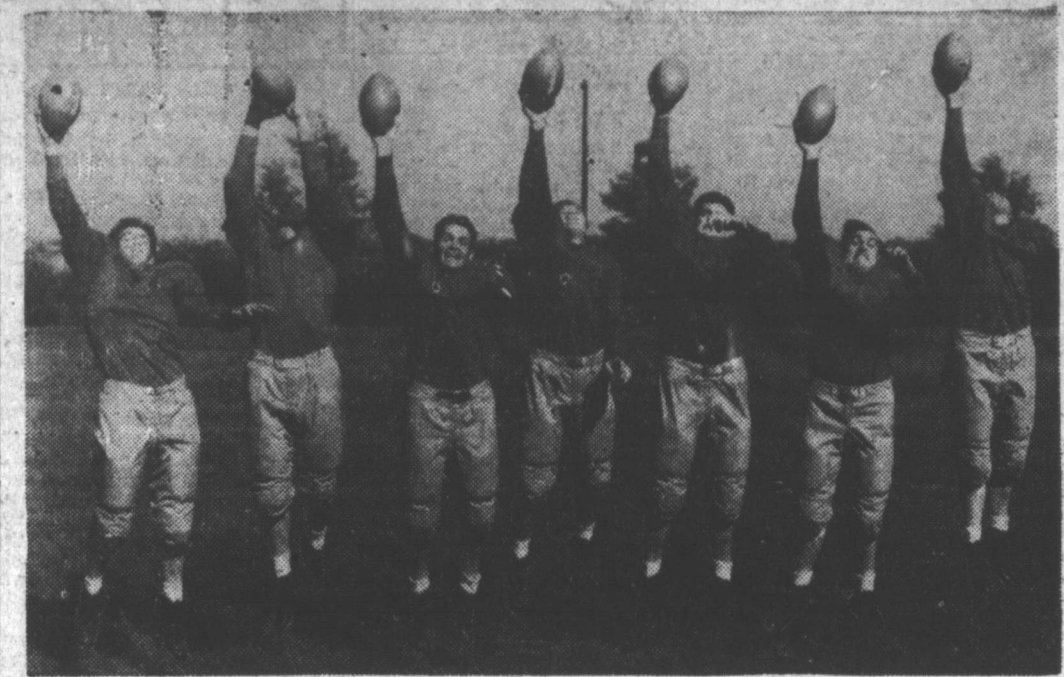

Work for the Harvesters this week has been primarily on pass defense and blocking. If the Harvesters are to score any touchdowns they are going to have to get their ball carriers in the open. So far Heiskell, quarterback scouter, has been unable to get loose because his interference hasn't been able to get him in the open.

Last week against Vernon the Harvesters showed great improvement over the previous week. If they show as much improvement this Friday night they should give the favored Cubs fits.

Olney opened the season with a surprise tie with Gainesville and last week they shocked the state by shelacking Paschal of Fort Worth 27 to 0.

'SOONERS' REACH HIGH FOR LAURELS

Demonstrating why the Oklahoma "Sooners" expect to be looked up to on the gridiron this season are these high-reaching candidates for end positions. Left to right, they are: Ancel Young, Lyle Smith, Bill Jennings, Dub Lamb, "Tree Top" Sharpe, Ray Mullen and Jerry Jarratt.

Peewees To Play Midgets In Amarillo Tomorrow

"Beat Amarillo" was the constant cry heard in the Peewee football camp yesterday. On every block, tackle and down the boys chanted, "Beat Amarillo."

This slogan was started yesterday when the boys were told that they had a game with the Horace Mann Peewees of Amarillo Thursday in Amarillo. On the following Thursday the Amarillo Peewees will return the game.

Monday the Peewees were informed that the chances of getting a game this week were slim, so when they came out for workout Tuesday they were "kinda down in the dumps." Things changed and changed quickly when the announced game with Amarillo was made. The negroes of the United States might have been as happy when President Lincoln issued the Emancipation Proclamation freeing them from slavery, but they couldn't have shouted as loud as did the Peewees when they learned they were to play an Amarillo football team.

These boys are not worried about European wars, the world series, conscription, or the presidential campaign. To the Peewees these are minor problems and can be brushed aside by a flip of the hand. The major problem is "How to Beat Amarillo?" and each boy is determined to have a solution for this problem by Thursday.

From all reports Horace Mann has a strong eleven and are doped to beat the local lads, but if the Peewees exhibit the same type of hustle and determination they had in workout yesterday, Amarillo will think a blistering has hit the town. If it can be arranged, the entire

Mayor Thompson Proclaims Knute Rockne Week Here

Mayor Fred Thompson today issued a proclamation designating the week of Oct. 4 to 11 as Knute Rockne week in Pampa. The great picture, Knute Rockne—All American, will be presented at the LaNora theater in a Saturday night preview and on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The world premier will be in South Bend, Ind., Friday night.

PROCLAMATION
The life of Knute Rockne should be an inspiration to every American boy. Born in Voss, Norway, son of Louis Rockne, he was brought to this country when five years of age. While his courageous exploits made Knute Rockne famous to the general public, he won the respect and admiration of his friends because of his knowledge of youth and his extraordinary ability to reach straight through to the imagination and hearts and souls of young people, to shape the clay of their youth while still soft to the touch.

Knute Rockne made character contagious—more widely contagious probably than any man of our day. This was due to his profound understanding of boys, the elements of whom he saw as clearly as the chemist sees into his retorts in the laboratory.

Rockne taught by example as well as by word that sincere leadership is difficult because an honest leader must forget himself and his personal ambitions for the good of the greatest number.

Knute Rockne fought against relegate idealism to the side lines as being too old fashioned in this age which has stamped itself as the era of the go-getter. He considered the expression a horrible one for what is all too often a ruthless thing. He preferred his boys to be go-givers instead.

Knute Rockne is gone but his wonderful memories will live on to encourage American youth.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Fred Thompson, Mayor of the City of Pampa, Texas by virtue of the power and authority vested in me by the laws of this City, do hereby proclaim the week of October 4 to October 11 as to be celebrated by a football game at Harvester Park, Olney vs. Pampa and the showing of the motion picture "KNUTE ROCKNE—ALL AMERICAN" IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and seal of the City of Pampa this 2nd day of September, in the year of our Lord, 1940.

FRED THOMPSON,
Mayor.

ATTEST:
W. M. Craven,
City Secretary.

Hubbell And Seeds Play In Amarillo

There's going to be one more baseball game played in the Panhandle this season. It will be staged in Amarillo Sunday afternoon when Carl Hubbell and Bob Seeds of the New York Giants and possibly Sam West of the Washington Senators and one or two other major league stars join players from the West Texas-New Mexico league in an All Star game. Game time will be 2:30 o'clock.

Skeet Gibson, well known baseball star of former days, and Jerry Malin, Amarillo News sports editor, will divide the squad and do battle. The two are in the midst of a big argument as to who will have Hubbell and Seeds. Each has named the pair as starters and the battle is on.

The veteran Gibson was in Pampa yesterday signing Grover Seitz, Dutch Fraher, Rex Dilbeck, Lloyd Summers and Gus Hightower to play in the game. He also signed Harry E. Hoare, Pampa News sports editor, to help him manage the team and also to get his side of the player controversy to Panhandle fans.

"That Malin will print only his side of the story and won't give me a chance," Gibson said. "But I've already gotten Collier Parris of the Lubbock Avalanche and Hoare on the line to back me up, so it's going to be too bad for Malin."

Hubbell, whose home is in Meeker, Okla., and Seeds, who owns the Amarillo franchise, will arrive in Amarillo Wednesday night. Sam West, who owns drug stores in Plainview and Lubbock, is expected home on Saturday.

Among the well known veterans of the W-T-N-M league scheduled to participate in the big game, besides the Oilers, will be Willy Moore, Gordon Nell, Cagle Keeton, Bubber Jordan, Neal Reab, Howard Taylor, Bus Dorman, Sammy Hale, Sam Scalling and several others.

Gillespie May Play Few Minutes Next Saturday

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
DALLAS, Oct. 2 (AP)—Injured Kyle Gillespie, vowing his folding knee injury is sturdy again, will be inserted in the Texas Christian lineup for a few moments if needed against Arkansas come Saturday.

Coach Dutch Meyer almost had to tie Gillespie to keep him out of the Centenary runaway last week-end. "Apparently the knee is stout again," said Meyer, "but we're taking no chances with the boy. Perhaps he can play a few minutes against Arkansas—and he probably will. But we're taking it easy and expect to use him later on."

The great passer, runner and kicker took part in a scrimmage against the freshmen yesterday with no ill effects. His knee was heavily braced.

Coach Meyer compares Gillespie to Ki Aldrich in love of the game. Both certainly are in the "I-came-to-play" department.

Dawn of Oct. 7 will find little St. Mary's university of San Antonio piling their very rugged football players into the gay red, white and blue bus (equipped with electric razor) for a jaunt to Grand Forks, N. D. There, on Oct. 12, the Rattlers engage North Dakota university.

The lads swing into their wheeled home and head out for Manchester, N. H., immediately after the Dakota date to play St. Anselm's, a very tough eleven, on Oct. 18.

The bus wheels will churn again in the direction of Brooklyn, N. Y., for an Oct. 27 engagement with Long Island university before the boys seat for home, back in Texas, and the Oklahoma City U. game.

Just a 5,500-mile jaunt in a bus. Reams have been written about the old Southwest conference jinx—that champions never repeat. Well, it's all a big fib. The very same Texas Aggies who are attempting to do it right now did it once before—in sort of a left-

Gorillas Will Scrimmage LeFors Reserves Today

Coach Oscar Hinger has been unable to schedule a game for his Gorillas this week so he is taking them to LeFors this afternoon for a scrimmage with the LeFors reserves.

The scrimmage was originally set for Thursday afternoon but when a game was scheduled yesterday for the Pirates Friday night the scrimmage was set up a day.

The Gorillas showed great improvement last week in defeating Stunnett 6 to 0.

Coach C. P. McWright will take his Junior High Reapers to Amarillo Friday afternoon for a game with the Amarillo Central Junior High Cardinals, considered the toughest team in the conference.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds saved $17,500 and may have got the prize plum in the annual baseball draft last night.

They chose Mike Christoff, outfielder for Oakland in the Pacific coast league, for whom they once offered $25,000 and two players. The bid was turned down when Mike was leading his loop in home runs early in the season.

Santa Fe Victory Bell On Display At High School

The Santa Fe "Victory Bell," which will become the possession of the champion of District 1 each year, arrived in Pampa yesterday and is now on display in the hall at the high school. On Friday night when the Pampa Harvesters and Olney Cubs play here the bell will be on display at Harvester field.

The elaborate and attractive 500-lb. bell was donated to the District 1 football conference by the Santa Fe Railway company last week. It was formally accepted by Supt. W. A. McIntosh of Berger, district chairman. The bell will go from Pampa to Berger and then to other cities in the conference.

Names of the championship school each year will be engraved on the bell which will remain in the championship city throughout the year.

Cubs Win Opener In City Series

CHICAGO, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox returned to Wrigley Field today for a look at the south-paw slants of Rookie Vern Olsen, who earned 13 victories for the Cubs in the National league campaign. Manager Gabby Hartnett looked to Olsen to even the city series with the American leaguers who took the opener yesterday, 5 to 3, behind Ted Lyons' pitching and hitting. The Sox pitching choice was Thornton Lee.

Groom 6-Man Grid Team Plays Tonight

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
GROOM, Oct. 2—The Groom Tigers' six-man team entertains the Happy Jacks on Fireman's field, Groom, tonight at 7:45 o'clock. This is the second conference game for each team in the Panhandle six-man league. Groom played Price and Happy played Vega.

Coach Butch Clark's Tigers have yet to lose a six-man game since beginning the sport in 1938. Having won from the strong teams of Price and Dodson, they are favorites in tonight's game. The probable starting lineup is Crowell and Whitley, ends; Angel, center; Black, half; Townsend, quarter; and Kuehler, fullback.

The game was originally scheduled for Thursday night. The change was made because of conflicts in the community.

Bad days ahead. But here's how Winter OIL-PLATING maintains needed lubricant in advance—for Safe Quick Starts...

Your engine is up around 2 feet tall. But where is its highest oil-level? Barely 3 or 4 inches off the bottom during parking. So if you depend on crankcase oil alone, when starting up cold, you'll wait till it climbs a good ways—and goes warming around.

But now!...no more hard risky waiting for that first badly needed lubricant...not with your engine OIL-PLATED for Winter by changing today to your correct Winter grade of Conoco Germ Processed oil.

SERIAL STORY

THIS COULD BE YOUR STORY

BY MARGUERITE GAHAGAN

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

All characters, organizations and incidents of this serial are entirely fictitious.

YESTERDAY: Sue Mary goes to Ross Clark's home to help him with some important work. The old man is worried about his son, and Sue Mary knows he doesn't realize what his son may do under Vera's persuasion.

JOE IS HURT

THE cleaning women had left only one dim light burning in the office and the rows of desks and filing cabinets stretched out endlessly in the shadowy darkness. Sue Mary stopped to feel the unfamiliar stillness.

She was terribly tired and she hoped she could concentrate enough on the work to get it out quickly. She went down the hall into a side office where she could get the full sweep of the breeze and turned on the dim desk lamp.

She was deep in concentration when she heard the voices from old Ross Clark's private office, down the hall. She listened, and then quietly went over to the small file room that opened between the rooms. The voices could be heard distinctly in the stillness.

"We've had some wonderful evenings, darling," Vera's voice came to her, and Sue Mary detected a note of tenderness. "Is your head aching? Here, let me put a cold cloth on it."

"Just want to be quiet. Kiss me and stop talking," Young Ross Clark's voice was thick.

"Kiss me and then I'm going to sleep. Got a big business meeting tomorrow. Airport stuff. The old man is hipped on my being there. Family prestige—"

She stood there listening to her own breathing in the silence. It seemed ages before Vera left the room and went to a phone in the outer office. Sue Mary felt she must be discovered as she edged her way into the outer hall to stand behind a door and strain to hear every word.

"Well, he's handled it more cleverly than I thought he would."

Vera said softly into the phone. "But these are loopholes big enough for us to blow the story wide open. I mean his gambling debts and the fact that he's using this guy Blair as a cover-up on the real estate deal."

"I know that there are papers here we should have. No, I haven't got them. Tomorrow would be the time to break the news."

"Yes, I know—but Nick—listen. This isn't the time to try and find them. He'll have the signed papers, deeds, figures—all that stuff here tomorrow. We can get it then. Or get a camera and take copies. That wouldn't be stealing."

"No—I'm not afraid. Well, listen, Nick. Tomorrow is the time. No, I can't talk any longer. I'll explain in detail when I see you. I want to get out of here. 'Bye, darling.'"

TIME passed. Long after Vera's heels had beat a tattoo out of the office and she had heard the elevator door clang shut, Sue Mary went back to her work. Somehow she finished it, somehow she had courage enough to look in on Ross Clark, Jr., sleeping on his father's black, leather-covered couch. And then she left.

The air was cool and the streets silent and deserted. A paper truck went by and someone threw a bundle of morning editions to a sleepy-eyed boy on the corner. Sue Mary bought one and read it on the late bus going to the apartment.

She skimmed the unpleasant bulletins from Europe and then looked at a picture on the front page. More trouble at Smithson. The picket line continued to parade although strike notice hadn't been posted by the union.

There would be a showdown, though, within the next two days, the story read. The thing was getting out of hand, for late that afternoon when the day shift had quit, fights had started—again no one knew how—and three factory workers had been injured.

In the hospital was Joe Stefanski, 24, employed in the research department. Stefanski, according to fellow workers and plant officials, had had no part in the recent difficulties, but had been struck by a flying missile. It was not known if he suffered a skull fracture but X-rays had been taken.

SUE MARY went by her stop and walked back the two blocks in a state of terror. She stopped under another street light for the rancher, using signed, blank checks, cashed a check for himself at the Eldorado bank Monday for $350 ostensibly to buy cattle.

to reread the story. The words "Joe Stefanski, 24," stared at her from the white paper.

Her eyes finally focused on the picture. And from the blurred debris and the fact that he was standing behind the picket line she recognized one: Nick!

There could be no mistaking his hair, with that one unruly lock falling across the forehead; the line of his lips as he talked to another man, and the frozen gesture there on the page, that he always used when involved in excited conversation.

The night was endless. She had wanted to go to Joe, but a frantic call she made to the hospital made it pointless. Mr. Stefanski was unconscious. He was doing as well as could be expected. He could see no one; would recognize no one in his present condition.

So she went to the apartment climbing the steps wearily and trying to get to bed without awakening Natalie.

So much had happened in the past few hours that Sue Mary's mind refused to function normally.

Vera and Nick were slowly tightening the net around weak, stupid Ross Clark, Jr., so that their political strategy would work to the benefit of the party. Nick and the YP gang were stirring up trouble at the Smithson factory so that production at Gull Plane would be halted—all in the name of their type of Americanism.

All to keep the United States safe from war mongers, capitalists, munition makers. That was their cry.

And Joe in the hospital. Joe, who was typical of young America. She thought of him working his way through college; working side by side with common laborers in the factory, retaining his safe, sane philosophy, winning a place in the research department and anticipating his future usefulness.

Now Joe was an innocent victim of those who cried that they were fighting to help the underprivileged worker, and tried to undermine the government.

Tomorrow night—no, tonight, for the sky was already turning a faint gray—Vera and Nick would try to get evidence enough on young Ross Clark to forge a weapon that would insure old Governor Russell Miller's defeat.

And soon, Sue Mary repeated over and over against her pillow, the X-rays would tell Joe's fate.

THE STORY OF YOUR NEWSPAPER

I AM THE ARTIST . . .

This is one of a series of articles telling the story of your newspaper. The Pampa News is presenting these articles in connection with National Newspaper Week, Oct. 1-8.

I'm your newspaper artist. I draw the cartoons, the sketches from life, the comic strips, the daily chuckles, the maps and the decorative designs that brighten up your newspaper.

I'm not Michelangelo. Under my hand the white Bristol-board gradually takes form as the India ink scratches out my pen. Is it art? Well, if art has anything to do with life, then maybe it is.

The people in my comic strip are real. Maybe they're more real to you than the people across the street. They are your daily companions, as they are mine. If they don't ring true, they die—and that's more than can be said for the people across the street.

So part of my job, the light part of it, is being court jester to His Majesty, the American People. There is another, more serious part to my job. I am also the "X" that marks for you the specific spot in a world picture obscured by confusing details. I must bring out the highlights from the unimportant mass in the picture.

Sometimes I do this literally, carefully guiding my airbrush over a photograph—bringing out a thin, important line here; toning down, unimportant, confusing backgrounds there.

More often I do this symbolically through sketches and cartoons. But in all cases—be it touching up a blurred picture, portraying a scene forbidden to cameras, or cartooning the follies of the great and near-great—it has but one purpose: Through it all I hope to stop for you, momentarily, your fast-spinning world; to pull into focus for you some scene, some event, some idea you might have missed as it whirled past on the earth's kaleidoscope.

In your hands is the power to remedy injustice, to right wrong, to halt undemocratic ideas before they are turned into actions. But often injustice and wrong are hidden in the endless, jumbled ranks of words and actions that march quietly, inconspicuously past. You might miss them, if I did not spotlight them indelibly in India ink.

My unique art makes me powerful, because what I express you understand in the split second of sight, while others must ask time for the telling. Through cartoons which have helped you focus on injustice, I have helped you remove grafters from power; keep crooks out of office; break greedy money machines, grown fat in corruption.

I am also free. In America, as in no other country in the world, I can criticize in caricature and penpoint burlesque the titans and tycoons, in government and in business, in power and out.

I am your newspaper artist. I know that as long as my pen helps you focus on the truth, both you and I will remain free.

NEXT: The newspaper printer.

Gasoline Stocks Eyed Critically In Oil Industry

AUSTIN, Oct. 2. (AP)—The heavy consumption period for gasoline at an end, the oil industry today watched production increases in Texas with a critical eye.

Gasoline stocks over the nation were reported at 80,000,000 barrels, some 15,000,000 in excess of what economists believed necessary, especially in the face of curtailed foreign markets. Some thought, however, the accumulation was not too great in view of possible emergency defense needs.

With apparently no scaling down of allowable production in sight, the Texas railroad commission continued to grant increases to field operators who furnished proof of firm and in many instances selective markets.

Commission engineers reported actual statewide production currently at approximately 1,342,400 barrels daily, more than 37,000 in excess of the U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate of October market demand from Texas.

The state still was operating under a 90-day order expiring Nov. 30 which started with production at about 1,266,100 barrels daily and reflected an increase of more than 76,000 to date.

State Senator Clint Small of Amarillo, attorney for the Independent Equity Producers association who was unsuccessful in obtaining a statewide proration hearing to re-examine field allowances, recently warned that unless the commission considered equality of production among fields as well as wells, federal control of the industry would be given impetus.

Some quarters claimed the climbing permissive production threatened stability of the industry but members of the commission gave no recognition to such belief.

50,000 May Escape Draft And Then Be Called To Colors Soon

(Editor's Note: Physical development and protection from disease are two of the most important phases of national defense. The following article, the second of the series of five on "Health for the New Army," tells how draftees with slight defects will be segregated in special camps until they are in shape.)

By STEPHEN J. MCDONOUGH Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Fifty thousand men who might escape the draft because of physical disability may be called to the colors during the next six months for special training.

They will form the rehabilitation corps—an army not entirely fit for military duty but with remediable defects which, after a few months of treatment, will put them in shape for full military duty.

Men with only slight physical defects, such as foot troubles, minor eye troubles, diseases due to poor nourishment, tonsillitis, skin infections, hookworm, and infections of the digestive tract which can be easily treated will be put into this corps, under present plans for acclimatization and repair before going into regular training camps. No men with tuberculosis, venereal disease, or similar ailments will be included in the group.

In such camps, similar to those organized during the last World War, men will be given a well-balanced diet, setting-up exercises, thorough medical treatment, class room training on military subjects, and part-time drill in a toughening program.

Officials of the army and navy medical departments said it is not planned at present to adopt the program proposed by the late Dr. Hans Zinsser of New York, of bringing men gradually from small camps into successively larger ones. For efficiency and the new recruits must be assembled immediately into organized units and be trained in company, battalion and regimental duties.

However, they added, extreme care will be taken to prevent repetition of another epidemic such as the influenza siege of 1918 in which 473,279 men contracted the disease and 15,749 died from it.

By choosing the most physically fit in the first draft and putting others in the rehabilitation camps, military authorities believe it will be possible to greatly reduce the chances of epidemics since the relatively unfit will go through the quarantine period under more strict medical supervision than those in regular camps. Men who are in a general run-down condition but otherwise physically sound might, without preliminary training, readily succumb to infections.

Government and private laboratories have already started in on a vast program of preparedness serums and vaccines for the protection of soldiers and medical men will have many weapons for their war against disease which were unknown in the last war.

Drug manufacturing companies are concentrating on the production of tonsil drugs—sulfapyridine, sulfanilamide and related compounds which are all but miraculous in their cure of pneumonia, some forms of meningitis, the group of diseases commonly called blood poisoning, gonorrhea, scarlet fever, erysipelas, tonsillitis, gas gangrene, undulant fever and malaria.

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Signs multiply that all the belligerents are preparing actively to carry the war through a winter which promises to be hell for Europe.

Should the conflict be prolonged it will represent considerable success for Britain. It is a mighty achievement to have stood off the defeat which bore down on her with such terrific speed and power as France collapsed and left England to stand alone before the greatest war machine ever constructed.

It seems to me the outcome of the war likely will pivot on the fact that Britain has survived this crisis. This is so because neither Germany nor Italy has the resources for a long war, and there is at this moment no source of supplies to which they can turn.

England still has to get by the Indian summer of this month before being sure the Nazi invasion can't be undertaken this year. The likelihood of this hazardous operation being undertaken is lessening daily. Once that is off the books the conflict may be expected to settle down to two major engagements. One will be a continuation of the warfare in the air between Britain and Germany. The other will be the battle of the Mediterranean.

It is important to remember that the primary object of Messrs. Hitler and Mussolini in these operations is to break through that solid British naval blockade which is squeezing all Europe. Essential war supplies and foodstuffs lie outside that steel ring.

In the battle of Britain the weather will slow things up, but it won't halt the bombing which is taking such terrible toll in both countries. England and Germany will continue to blast at each other with the purpose of destroying industries, communications and war equipment. And with the idea of causing a collapse of morale.

The Germans have an added point of strategy under this way. That is the sinking of British shipping by submarines and bombing so as to establish a counter-blockade to starve England. The British admiralty yesterday recorded an increase in Nazi submarine activity with a heavy rise in tonnage lost.

So far as the battle of the Mediterranean is concerned, it seems to be in the doldrums. Edward Kennedy, Associated Press war correspondent with the British troops in Egypt, reports: "On a 100 mile trip along the British front in Egypt I have seen no indications that a big Italian push is imminent."

At the same time the conference in Rome between Signor Mussolini and Spanish Envoy Sener has ended with the intimation that Spain is to remain neutral until such time as appears propitious for the Axis to assault Gibraltar from Spanish bases nearby. It would appear that the much heralded attack on Gibraltar, "key to the Mediterranean," has been postponed.

The capture of Gibraltar was to have given Mussolini a leg-up in his attack on Egypt. He needs assistance, if for no other reason than that his forces in Africa are virtually cut off from the mother country by the British blockade.

However, I don't think the battle of the Mediterranean is permanently bogged down. This is going to be a historic winter. As I see it, if England can hold her own in the battles of Britain and the Mediterranean, and continue that terrific blockade, she will increase in strength greatly by spring and perhaps be in position to carry out the major offensive she
