Ewing Resigns From Draft Board; Dr. Harkins Named Medical Examiner

WAVES OF PLANES RESUME DAYLIGHT RAIDS

Arthur Teed, Mrs. Dunn On County Office

Next Procedure For Registrants Outlined

District Judge W. R. Ewing has resigned from the local selective service board, John Sturgeon, chairman of the board, said today. His successor has not been named.

The other members of the board are Sturgeon and Dr. Adrian Owens, with Mrs. K. I. Dunn as secretary.

Arthur M. Teed has been named as appeals agent for Gray county and Dr. G. W. Harkins of LeFors as medical examiner.

Office of the Gray county selective board has been established at 301 court house, where cards will be shuffled, numbered and left in that sequence until receipt of order numbers.

For the benefit of registrants who are wondering what happens next: When the draft board mails you your questionnaire you have five days to fill it out and return it.

Serial numbers will be sent to Washington where a lottery will be held, probably between October 26 and November 2.

What happens if your number is drawn?—You must fill out a questionnaire. The answers will determine your classification for selective compulsory military service.

There will be 12 classifications and 4 sub-classifications ranging from class 1-A (available and fit for general military service) to class IV-F (physically, mentally or morally unfit).

Who will be called to service?—In peacetime, those in class I-A.

How?—In the order in which a man's number was drawn in the lottery.

What are your chances of being called within a year if you are in class I-A?—About one in four.

How many will be called?—Not more than 900,000 men for the next five years. The first group of about 400,000 will be drafted before March 1, 1941, and a second group of about 400,000 next spring.

How long will a conscript serve actively?—Twelve consecutive months. That period may be extended by the President whenever congress has declared that the national interest is imperiled.

Where can conscripts be used?—Anywhere in the western hemisphere and U. S. territories and possessions, including the Philippine Islands.

What will be the base pay of conscripts?—$21 a month for the first four months; $30 a month for the remaining eight months.

The tenth and concluding article in a series on R-day is published below.

Induction and Mobilization

1. Q.—How many men will be called for training under the selective service program?

A.—The law provides that not more than 900,000 men shall be in active training at any one time. This would indicate that 900,000 men will be called for training each year.

2. Q.—When will the first men be called for training?

A.—The first group of men—probably 400,000—are scheduled to report for training between November 15 and December 1, 1940.

3. Q.—How will the number to be called from each state be determined?

A.—A quota system will be established to make sure that each state, and each section of a state, furnishes its fair share of the men called for training.

4. Q.—How will this quota system work?

A.—After all registrants are classified, each state will report the number of men in class 1, (available for immediate training). For example, Texas may have 5 per cent of the total number of men in this class. If so, Texas will be expected to furnish 5 per cent of the men for each call. The same system will be used within each state.

YOUTH WINS PICKING CONTEST

'Dutch' Hubert, Colorful Oil Figure, Passes

One of the most colorful figures in southwest oil history died yesterday afternoon in a local hospital when Anthony Mark "Dutch" Hubert, 45, was the victim of a heart ailment. He had been taken to the hospital Sunday with a temperature of 105 degrees and physicians said he had pneumonia and that little hope could be held for his recovery.

But the man who made every oilfield in the southwest and battled his way from a farm boy to owner of one of the biggest casing crews in the southwest only to lose everything in late years, battled off the pneumonia and announced that he was ready to leave the hospital yesterday afternoon.

He got up from his bed and was seated in a chair in his room when he was stricken with a heart attack and death followed in a few minutes.

"Dutch," as he was known to every man in the oil world, came to Pampa six years ago and had since made this city his home. He was one of the most happy-go-lucky men who walked the streets and he probably had more friends than anyone. He had a smile for everyone and he would give a friend his last penny even if he had to go hungry.

Although very small in stature, he would stand up for his rights against the biggest man that ever walked—and he would usually win.

He started in the oil game as a barefoot youth and he made nearly every boom in the southwest. He was a member of the Holy Souls Catholic church where funeral services will be conducted upon arrival of relatives. The body now lies at rest at Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home.

Survivors are the widow, two sons, Denver and Alonzo, both of Pampa, and eight brothers and four sisters. It is significant that Dutch broke into the oil field business barefooted. It happened one spring day in 1909. Dutch was frog-hunting near the farm of his father's near Carille, Ill. He was barefooted and he had a 22 rifle under his arm. He was thirsty and he walked up to an oil right for a drink of water. One of the crew had just become ill. Someone said that if Dutch had any shoes to wear he could work the well.

We Can Arm In Two Years, Says Johnson

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—The United States can do in two years the job of arming that Germany did in seven, says Louis Johnson, former assistant secretary of war, and this can be done "because it was planned for and developed."

In a nationwide broadcast last night in reply to an earlier radio address by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Johnson charged the famous aviator with "ignorance of the United States, of its state of preparedness, and most of all, of its iron will."

Johnson called Lindbergh's address a plea to "sacrifice the principles on which the United States was built, 'to appease Germany and Britain' and 'to stop helping Japan.'"

Two Killed In Collision At Skellytown

Two men were killed, one instantly, as the result of injuries suffered in a car-truck crash three miles northwest of Skellytown at 12:30 o'clock today.

B. W. Campbell was killed instantly in the crash. His companion, J. H. Windle, died 40 minutes in Borger.

Families of both men have been notified and are en route to Borger. Both of the men are from Granite, Okla. Windle was about 60 years old. Campbell was about 45, but no information was obtainable as to his exact age.

Information from Borger said that the crash was apparently head-on. Ed Mask was the driver of the other vehicle, a truck of the C. Ashbrook company, 1248 Jones street, Ft. Worth. Mask suffered a scar and other minor injuries.

County 'Army' Totals 3,326

County Clerk Charlie Thut today wired Governor W. Lee O'Daniel that registration of all men in Gray county between the ages of 21 and 36 totaled 3,326. The estimated total was 3,200.

Registration was held at the county's 17 precincts yesterday. The registry staffs had to answer many questions in some precincts and were confronted with many odd situations.

One man who registered was accompanied by his wife and child. Several asked for questionnaires, which come from the local board, and with which the registrants had nothing to do.

At one precinct, a man who gave his address as Berlin, Germany, was registered. Canada was another country represented.

W. J. Ball, chief registrar at precinct 4, Alarred said he had little difficulty and registration of the 72 at that place proceeded smoothly.

At the court house, F. L. Stallings, assistant county auditor, had the most accurate set of cards, spelling out two cards out of the 44 he filled in.

In the lobby of the county case worker's office a registrar said most of the registrants had a clear idea of what it was all about and few questions were asked.

The correspondent in the house of commons lobby for Reuters, authoritative British news agency, wrote tonight that "there is no question of the government leaving London."

The correspondent gave no reason for reiteration of what has been understood to be established government policy since the start of the war.

Captain Arrested

MANILA, Oct. 17. (AP)—The arrest of Captain Rifo Romero of the Philippine scouts on suspicion that he was preparing to give several confidential documents to unauthorized persons was announced today by the U. S. army intelligence service.

Romero, a graduate of West Point, was held for court martial. He was attached to the Fourteenth Engineers, U. S. A., Fort William McKinley. Two Filipino civilians also were arrested in connection with the case.

Street Clearing Urged

LONDON, Oct. 17. (AP)—The News Chronicle led a campaign today for speeding up the work of clearing away bomb wreckage from London's streets as the result of complaints from business men that clogged streets are interfering with trade.

Salvation Army Cites Help Given To Needy Family

L. L. Sone, above, superintendent of the Pampa Independent School district, is one of the members of the Salvation Army advisory board.

Few Pampans realize the varied and multiple benefits the Army provides. Yesterday was told the case of a family that was furnished food and school supplies by the Salvation Army.

Today is told the story of a Pampa man, a tuberculosis patient, whom the Army helped. He was dismissed from a sanitarium in January, 1939.

Returning home he found a job on the W.P.A. where he worked until his lungs again became infected. Then he was returned to the state sanitarium where he passed away the first part of September.

This case was called to the attention of the Army. Upon investigation the above facts were learned and needed assistance supplied.

The mother and five children were found to be living in a one-room shack without windows. Only one bed was in the house and a few quilts for the children to sleep on. A broken-down stove supplied only a small amount of heat and the cupboard was bare.

In the opinion of the Salvation Army officer, the place was not fit for habitation and accordingly they were moved to a new home, the rent paid up, a generous order of groceries issued, and clothing given to the children.

This is only one of the hundreds of cases in which the Salvation Army has come forward and given vital assistance to Pampans in desperate circumstances.

It is to continue to provide this assistance that Pampans are asked to contribute now to the Salvation Army drive for $5,000 to carry on the work during the coming year.

Hundreds Of Students Selling Tickets For Cello Concert Oct. 22

The hundreds of students which make up the music department of Pampa public schools are not only determined to play good music but they are determined to hear it. And so they are bringing the best cellist in this part of the country to Pampa Oct. 22 to play a concert.

Today hundreds of children in the ward schools, high school and junior high were selling tickets to the concert. The concert will be played by Edouard Marquis Blits of Lubbock, and Mr. Blits is no tyro, or apprentice at the art of playing a cello—the instrument that is about half as big as a bass fiddle.

Once you hear a cello played capably you want to learn how to play—so the instrument manufacturers say. That there are no more cellists than there are is due to the fact that there are so few cello concerts according to observers.

Anyway, the kids in the schools are already sold on Mr. Blits and are carrying around tickets for you to buy.

RAF Drives Back Bombers Near London

Capital Practically Without Raiders During Night

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Oct. 17.—Formations of hundreds of warplanes attacked England today as the Germans switched back to the mass daylight style of raid against London and other areas.

Most of the German fighter-bombers were forced back by anti-aircraft fire and British planes, but some managed to penetrate the London defense and dropped bombs in the capital area.

The raids started early in the morning when 50 planes crossed the coast near the Thames estuary and tried to force their way toward London.

They were quickly repulsed. But a few minutes later a group of more than 100 appeared and some of these bombed the London area.

Then an even larger formation crossed the Kent coast, flying high above the clouds. It split into waves, some of which took the favored western route inland and circled toward the capital.

Only a short time later the sirens in the London area shrieked out for the fourth time since dawn, as Germans tried to beat off the Hurricane and Spitfire squadrons patrolling the coast. Some of them slipped past the British guard and approached close enough to put the London area in a state of alert.

Before this reversal to mass tactics the Nazis had been using planes singly or in very small formations.

A few minutes after the fourth alarm wailed, air-raid wardens patrolling the streets and rooftops whistled a shrill secondary warning which means "raid over."

In earlier attacks, Nazi planes worked their way through outer defenses dropped tons of bombs on the so-called "home counties," surrounding London and on the outskirts of the capital. There were no reports, however, of bombs falling in London proper.

Next to London, the raiders seemed to be making their most determined stab at the west England coast. One coastal town reported German planes overhead for a second time shortly after lunch.

Dozens of bombs were unloaded on the shopping district of a southeast town by 12 Nazi planes after a dogfight high above the clouds. Several buildings were demolished and 10 persons were injured.

A cold October rain seriously hampered the operations of Nazi raiders during the night, striving to give the rubble-stricken metropolis some hours of relative peace.

Only a few raiders succeeded in piercing the curtain of rain and shrapnel which protected the city, and the others, turning away, poured bombs on the surrounding countryside, which suffered considerably.

Two hospitals were hit in the southeast, with a nurse killed and several persons injured.

The government said "reports indicate, however, that the general extent of the damage is slight and there have been only a small number of casualties."

The all clear ending the night alarm sounded comparatively early in London, but Liverpool got a stiff dose of bombs. One smashed a surface shelter, killing and wounding an undetermined number of persons. Bombs also were dropped on Merseyside, the shipbuilding and dock area of Liverpool. Other raiders ranged over Wales, Scotland and scattered sections of England.

Three German bombers were reported shot down.

The air ministry denied a Nazi claim that a British troop train was bombed yesterday with at least 200 casualties, asserting that "the only incident to which the German account can possibly refer" was an unsuccessful attempt to hit a freight train near the Welsh border.

A shower of incendiary bombs fell in some sections of London last night, but most fires were controlled quickly.

A fireman sent to a fire caused by an explosion found one of the See AIR RAIDS, Page 7

Grandview Pupils Make Pampa Tour

In connection with their study of "City Helpers," 32 pupils of the Grandview school visited a half-dozen places in Pampa yesterday.

From one to six Mrs. A. L. Jones and Miss Alma Osborn, Grandview teachers, accompanied the pupils, who were transported in the school bus.

Places visited were the post-office, fire department, library, city police department and jail, North-east dairy and Puritan bakery.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—Stock traders entered their interest on the steady steel group today, normalizing most of the market to follow an irregular course.

Operations were mainly of a tentative nature, held to a minimum by the uncertainties of war developments. About 400,000 shares were exchanged.

The closest approach to a trading barometer—and it was not widely accepted—was a tentative lifting movement among the steels, followed, to some extent, by aircraft.

The comparative firmness in these groups was attributed by commentators to the high operating rates of the companies represented by the shares concerned, but undecided questions of excess profits taxation were regarded as a deterrent to prospective buyers.

Leaders which demonstrated the greatest strength included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown, Douglas, United Aircraft, Chrysler, American Telephone, American Smelting, Air Reduction, Allied Chemical, New York Central and Lehigh Valley.

Support was feeble for such as Sears Roebuck, Washington, Caterpillar and Texaco Corp.

Hurja Predicts Willkie Election

CHICAGO, Oct. 17. (AP)—Emil Hurja, who as a Democratic analyst forecast the 1932, 1934 and 1936 elections accurately, predicted yesterday the election of Wendell L. Willkie by a plurality of from 1,500,000 to 3,000,000 votes.

He said President Roosevelt began to slip as early as 1936 and a close study of that election showed that despite his 11,000,000 plurality, he lost strength in 58 per cent of the counties of the United States and 70 per cent of the middle western counties.

Hurja, executive director of the Democratic national committee from 1932 to 1936, now is publisher of Pathfinder magazine. His prediction before a Republican meeting, he said, was based on an "idealized cross section poll" taken over the nation within the last few days.

He said President Roosevelt began to slip as early as 1936 and a close study of that election showed that despite his 11,000,000 plurality, he lost strength in 58 per cent of the counties of the United States and 70 per cent of the middle western counties.

Dallas' Nerves On Edge On Town's 138th Deathless Day

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS

DALLAS, Oct. 17 (AP)—Sometimes Police Captain B. B. Smith wonders why his head does not ache all the time. The captain's job is to keep Dallas the champion deathless day city of the nation in the 250,000-500,000 population class. His troubles are manifold and on this, the town's 138th day without a traffic death, the captain is a bit weary. The wear and tear on peoples' nerves is beginning to tell. Most everybody is deathless day conscious. Policemen wear arm bands proclaiming the number of days Dallas has escaped an auto death. Things have reached the state where the first person who kills somebody with a car is apt to be mobbed. Just yesterday a rumor reached Captain Smith that Anna Eliza, both Sewell, 7, a Negro girl hit by a pie truck, had died and was buried secretly. The captain investigated, found Anna beaming and alive. The strain on motorists is mounting. A car stalled in an underpass. Another motorist obligingly pushed the stalled machine. His bumper dented the rear fender of the other car and the owner pulled out a piece of lead pipe and whacked the good samaritan on the noggin. "A bad case of nerves," said the cops. A Negro was injured in a wreck. Hospital doctors said he would die. The traffic squad, undaunted, aroused a noted brain surgeon at 3 a. m. and the doctor saved the Negro's life. That's just one of the town's narrow escapes. A woman was killed 50 feet from the city limits. A man died in a wreck a block from town. Night before last a car hit three pedestrians, killing one. Everybody thought sure that accident happened in town. But the traffic squad measured off the spot and found it was just outside. So the champion deathless day city in the 250,000-500,000 class goes on, happy that its per capita traffic deaths technically have bested the per capita deathless days in Providence, R. I., which set a record of 137. Providence is smaller than and fresh damage at Hamburg, Bremen and Cuxhaven. The fierceness of attack and defense in last night's RAF operations was hinted in a concise air ministry communique acknowledging loss of five planes. Prowling for action in the English channel and the North Sea, British warships were reported last night to have destroyed an entire convoy of five German vessels and to have attacked a sixth ship "successfully." Apparently this was a submarine action—a follow-up to the recent reported naval bombardment of Dunkerque and Cherbourg, on the German-occupied French coast. In the Mediterranean phases the admiral admitted the 9,100-ton cruiser Liverpool had been damaged in an Italian torpedo attack. The Liverpool, one of eight ships of the Southampton class, reached her base with an undisclosed number of casualties. Unfavorable weather hampered last night's RAF operations, the air ministry said, but nevertheless the operations were described as "successful." Numerous heavy bombs, the ministry's communique said, were dropped in target areas at Kiel, causing extensive fires. "Good results" were said to have been attained at the two other ports. The synthetic oil production plant at Leuna was the objective of an other bomber group, the ministry said, while munitions factories and a power station in Saxony were hit.

Fires Blaze At Kiel, Hamburg After Bombings

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The RAF's incessant bombardment of German war bases and war industries, now tied in with a growing naval offensive was reported today to have caused new "extensive fires" at Kiel, Dallas, so experts figured Dallas bested Providence when the Texas town passed 138 deathless days.

Wife Was Fat No Longer Attractive LOST HUSBAND'S LOVE. The above headlines appeared in a New York newspaper in connection with a divorce trial that had attracted wide attention. "She was a beautiful woman" one witness testified, "but she got fat and is not attractive any more." Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do. They are fat, how would you like to be fat and at the same time gain in physical beauty?—more elegant—more energetic—greater activity? Why not do what thousands of women have done to get rid of pounds of unwanted fat? Take 1/2 teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and keep it up for thirty days. Cut out pastries and fatty meats and eat light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar. Then wash yourself and see how many pounds you have lost. A bottle of Kruschen Salts will last you for 4 weeks and costs but little. Ask any druggist for a bottle of Kruschen, plain or new "effervescent" formula—newest—don't start today to lose fat. Satisfaction guaranteed or money back.

NOT AT THE COFFEE TABLE... BUT BACK AT THE SINK!

Earn... and Hold—Their Admiration. AVOID Coffee Gossip—Serve Admiration Coffee!

"At the sink—that's where Helen ended. For days she had looked forward to her club dinner—had pictured herself skillfully preparing coffee for the gay party. But instead, she was washing cups at the sink! And that, the committee decided, was right where she belonged! Everyone knew her as a poor coffee maker." And if Helen had only known before, what she now knows... she would have spared herself this cruel humiliation—it only she had served Admiration Coffee. Coffee Gossip—or Coffee Compliments... depends on you! So don't you risk it—not once. Don't be known as a poor coffee maker... don't expect just any coffee to satisfy any more than you would expect just any size shoe to fit. Avoid embarrassment—avoid coffee gossip—serve Admiration Coffee! It's fool-proof. Remember... more Southwestern housewives use Admiration than any other coffee. Admiration is so dependable!

THIRTY—The use of the world's most costly and full-bodied coffees in Admiration makes it economical to use. Many housewives report that they get more cups per pound with Admiration than with just ordinary coffees. Remember that... be a wise shopper. DEPENDABLE—Exact blending and scientific thermo-roasting insures uniform flavor at every serving. No fear of embarrassment because of poor coffee. Remember that... be a smart hostess. SATISFYING—Admiration's tempting, robust flavor is a bit with men. And women, too, enjoy its full richness and coaxing goodness. Remember that... be a good housewife. THERE'S HAPPINESS AHEAD... WITH ADMIRATION front wagon which pulls the casing. But, they said, Dutch couldn't work barefooted; they said he'd get his feet full of hard-wood splinters.

"Shoot!" said Dutch. "Lemme worry about my own feet!" And so he ran his first string of casing barefooted. Thus began Dutch's life in the oil fields, and that reckless, daring beginning was prophetic of many hectic experiences.

In 1909-1910, Dutch began a flinty career that never ended, and he fought numerous eight and ten-round bouts, some of them being main events in Wichita and Seminole.

In 1912, Dutch moved to Tulsa, Okla., and worked in the east Drumwright field, and also the Laton sand. In 1915, he was making Easttown, a tent city where many bums lived, an interesting town. In 1914 Dutch put in his first casing crew in the Bartlesville sand where they had to go to 25,000 feet for oil. He worked five crews day and night. During this time a big Swede came up and asked for a job. Dutch asked him if he had ever worked the front wagon. He replied that he had worked in lumber camps in the north. Dutch put him to work, and told him to put a 20-foot pipe that weighed 90 pounds to the foot on the wagon. The Swede was heaving and pulling, and finally gave up. He said, "this thing is holler, but it weighs a darn sight more than them logs."

In 1914, in Oklawaha, Okla., he was hi-jacked two times.

In Shamrock, Okla., he was dressing tools for the Ash brothers. The crew won enough money to buy a Model T Ford with a brass radiator and all. They started out to the lease and hung it in a tree on the way out. The next morning one of the brothers came down and found them all out on the Lacy Banks creek still 200 yards from the well. This was the only job Dutch was ever fired off. On top of that it cost six dollars to get the car towed back to town.

In 1916 in Augusta, Kas., the town was on a boom. Here Dutch rented some rooms over a bakery, and started organizing a casing crew. In Peabody, Kas., in 1919, his first son was born, known to Pampa fight fans as Denver Hubert. Here he worked on wildcats.

Dutch arrived in Bristow the day the town was started off. April 12, 1920. It was here that a shooting took place over the argument as to who would pay for the drinks. All six boys wanted to pay for them. As soon as the shooting began Dutch took off. Three of the boys were killed and the other two wounded.

Whitzburg, Okla., found Dutch operating a dance hall on Plato Hill in 1921. It was so-called because all the boys that came brought their guns. They were required to check them in the lockers though. One night, Kelsey Morrison brought a Thompson special that would go in the locker. So Dutch had to put in the bunk house. This was all right with Morrison as long as Dutch did not unload it.

Big Money for Lease
In 1922-23-24, Dutch worked on the Hartley lease, where the Gypsy Oil company gave $1,000,000 for a quarter-section of land. This was the first time Dutch was ever hurt in the oil fields. He was ruptured and had to go to the hospital.

One of Dutch's lesser but highly interesting experiences took place in the Osage in 1922. He was running a string of pipe when the crew saw a cyclone funnel sweeping toward them. All of the crew except Dutch and Tom Pratt ran to the boiler house, and those two crawled into each end of a 15 1/2-inch pipe. The cyclone blew the pipe a quarter of a mile with Dutch and Tom in it. The pipe stopped on a cliff against two rocks. When they crawled out of the pipe they saw about eight rigs blown down.

Shoots Corn Off
At Eunice, N. M., Dutch lost two front teeth when a hi-jacker hit him in the face with a pistol. In the fight that followed, Dutch took the pistol away from him and the robber fled. Then Dutch in handling the gun accidentally shot himself in the leg. The bullet crashed on his hip and stopped in a corn on his foot. "I've been trying to get rid of that corn for 20 years and finally decided to shoot it out," Dutch told the nurse.

Slick City, Okla., 1925, later known as Papoose was Dutch's next stop.

He made the overnight boom in Henrietta, Okla., in 1926. It was this year he came to Berger where he was drilling gas wells. He had to go to the Dixon Creek hospital many times on account of poison gas. It was then that Mrs. Moley Hunter, sister of George and Oss Cree, nursed him in the hospital. The poison gas was so bad that one of his gold teeth turned black as well as the money in his pockets.

He came to Pampa on Decoration day, 1934, and has worked here ever since. Dutch always said this is as good a field as any, but there is nothing tough here, but the dust storms.

Dutch had 16 fat and sleek bird dogs. He was very proud of them and had always been his hobby. He also liked prize fights, horse racing, and baseball.

Dutch was born in Colorado and was one of 10 brothers and sisters.

BURMA ROAD

several hundred trucks waiting near the Yunnan border for the order to move the moment the Burma road is re-opened to traffic.

Chinese sources said, however, that it was unlikely the trucks would move in big concentrations because of the danger of bombing by Japanese warplanes operating from newly acquired bases in neighboring French Indo-China.

(Japanese military authorities in Indo-China announced yesterday that their bombers would make "the utmost effort" to keep the Burma road closed to the expected flow of war supplies from America and other sources.)

Dispatches from Chungking, provisional Chinese capital, said a number of trucks from the northwest provinces were being sent to the Burma road and a fleet of 1,000 trucks also was being maintained to transport war materiel from Soviet Russia.

CONCERT

ing review, quoted from the Amarillo Daily News of December 17, 1934:

"The boy was complete master of his instrument. He negotiated difficult and rapid passages calmly, and although it was the first time he had performed with orchestra accompaniment, the 70 musicians surrounding him on the platform didn't phase him in the least. It is not difficult to lose one's way in playing through a difficult concerto with elaborate accompaniment, but Edouard knew where he was every minute. His touch was firm, his fingering accurate and his bowing well-nigh perfect." He was re-engaged by this organization to make a second appearance a month later.

wrecked house was his own. He feared that his wife was in the house at the time and was killed.

In another section, it was believed an entire family of a father, mother and three children was wiped out as the result of a direct hit on a shelter.

Five others were killed and a number injured when a bomb hit a public shelter.

Alamozon Movement Dead, Says Rodriguez

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17. (AP)—The political movements of General Juan Andreu Almazan, presidential claimant, is "dead and Almazan is the one who killed it" in the opinion of former President Alvarado Rodriguez.

Therefore, Rodriguez declared in an interview last night, no armed uprisings or other grave disorders will "obscure the brilliant horizon of economic development and prosperity which is opening up for Mexico."

Strike Ordered
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17. (AP)—Union leaders today ordered a strike of electrical workers in Monterrey which they said would paralyze that city's factories, pumping stations and public facilities.

The strike was called after union representatives and officials of the Canadian-owned Monterrey power company had failed to reach agreement on the terms of a new contract. The union is demanding a wage increase.

Police Wearing New Blue Uniforms

Pampa police officers are wearing new blue uniforms purchased last week on a 50-50 basis—half by the officers themselves and half by the city.

Each officer purchased two uniforms at a total cost of $175. The city felt that the officers should not have to stand the full cost of the uniforms because they are not making large salaries.

The uniforms consist of military type shirt and dress trousers, with regulation blue cap.

Harvesters, Gorillas Clash In Vicious Tilt

Team Looks Good Enough To Win Again

There have been rough and tough scrimmages at Harvesters park during its 10 years but seldom has there ever been one like the one staged yesterday afternoon between Coach Oscar Hinrich's Gorillas and the Pampa Harvesters who on Friday night will meet the El Paso High Tigers here at 8 o'clock.

The little Gorillas stood up on their hind legs and fought the Harvesters every minute, and at times they whipped them down, too. On offense the Gorillas charged and blocked like demons while on defense they made jarring tackles that rattled the teeth of the ball carriers.

Because they were given tough opposition, the Harvesters had to fight back with everything they had and their work was heartening to coaches and railbirds alike. Blocking, which has been a forgotten art in recent games, looked better and the ball carriers picked their holes and charged harder. Defensively the Harvesters also looked better but they still had trouble stopping the Gorilla plays around ends.

Railbirds announced after the scrimmage that if the Harvesters go Friday night against the Tigers as they did against the Gorillas it's going to be a second win for the Harvesters. And if they keep up their determination to give everything every minute they're on the field it's going to be too bad for some of the conference favorites.

Friday night's game is being dedicated by the Harvesters to their "Dads" who will sit on the sidelines. Each father will sit in a chair bearing the number worn by his son. Each father will be introduced and they'll be honored by the band at the half.

Basey Due To Be Out For Rest Of Year

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
DALLAS, Oct. 16 (AP)—Squad V. D. Basey, University of Texas guard weathering a pneumonia crisis precipitated by a stab wound in his right lung, is probably out for the season. . . . Physician's bulletins from the Dallas hospital said Basey, rated by many the best guard on the unbeaten Texas team, was improving in his fight against pneumonia and would soon be out of danger, barring complications.

Down at College Station Saturday when the unbeaten Texas Aggies face Texas Christian, Coach Frank Kimbrough of Hardin-Simmons will be seeing his brother, John, playing football for the first time. . . . Older brother Frank, who sent John and Jack to the Aggies and glory, once told them not to come to his Hardin-Simmons to play football and attend school "because I don't want to be embarrassed by your ability."

Tennessee, Minnesota Picked To Win Games

Marked men in major college football games of Oct. 19 are, from left to right: Hal Newman, captain and end, who leads Alabama against Tennessee; Frank Reagan, Pennsylvania runner and masher who threates Princeton; Bob Sweizer, Minnesota fullback who tests Ohio State's line; Bob Olson, halfback who will do Oregon State's kicking against Washington; and Derace Moser, who will lug the leather for Texas A. & M. in its engagement with Texas Christian.

Another Dickland Donnybrook heads the football program for Oct. 19, with Alabama and Tennessee, two of the South's few undefeated teams, renewing one of the most intense rivalries anyone ever cooked up, in Birmingham.

The party of the first part can be rated no more than a "good" Alabama team, but you can bet your last bit of cotton that the Crimson Tide will rise to flood proportions in an effort to stop the Vols.

This business of stopping Maj. Bob Neyland, Johnny Butler, Ed McInnes, Bobby Fox and the rest of that crack brigade, is something that should be entrusted to the marines, so the Knoxville array should enjoy a comfortable margin if a one-touchdown edge can be called comfortable.

In the day's second most important clash, Minnesota, also eyeing a national championship, travels to Columbus to meet Ohio State in a battle of revenge.

The Gophers remember that wild 23-20 setback they received from the Buckeyes in 1939, and with the Scarlet seeking to bounce back after its defeat by Northwestern, this year's engagement should be just as wild. You can give the Gophers the slightest of margins.

Michigan is determined to avenge its upset by Illinois a year ago. Sectional warfare finds Cornell's

Big Red favored to roll still farther with Syracuse as its next victim. No one can recall when an eastern club has had as much all-around class as the Ithacans.

Colgate is picked to fall before Duke in an inter-sectional battle, but Boston college should balance things by swamping Idaho.

Harvard gets the edge over Army, Pennsylvania should down Princeton, and Fordham rates a small margin over Pittsburgh.

Yale figures to lose three in a row, this time to Dartmouth, Holy Cross should beat N. Y. U., and Penn State has too much for Lehigh.

Georgia Tech is a slight favorite over Vanderbilt in another Southern feature. Tulane is long overdue and should beat Rice. North Carolina is favored over North Carolina State and Mississippi gets the nod over Duquesne.

NORTHWESTERN CONTINUES MARCH AGAINST WISCONSIN
Northwestern's rampant Wildcats should make it three in a row with Wisconsin as their victims in a Midwest thriller. Iowa and Indiana are a toss-up.

Notre Dame should have little trouble with Carnegie Tech. Missouri is favored over Iowa State; Nebraska should rout Kansas; Oklahoma and Kansas State are too close to call.

Colorado has too many guns for Colorado State in the Rocky Mountain feature. Utah should whip Utah State and Denver should defeat Wyoming.

It's Texas A. and M. all the way in the Farmers' battle with Texas Christian. Southern Methodist will have trouble with Auburn. Texas has too much for Arkansas and Baylor is picked to turn back Villanova in an inter-sectional clash.

Stanford takes on a roused Washington State team in the coast showdown and gets a small edge.

Washington and Oregon State are a toss-up, with Washington deserving whatever margin there is. U. C. L. A. is favored to beat California and Southern California should roll over Oregon.

White Deer And Canadian Play Conference Game

Special To The NEWS
WHITE DEER, Oct. 17—The Canadian Wildcates invade the home field of the White Deer Bucks Friday night at 8 o'clock seeking to revenge a defeat received last year by the eleven coached by E. E. McCollum.

Canadian has made an excellent record so far this year and they have a good opportunity of topping the Bucks from the undefeated class. Last week Canadian rolled over Perryton 20-7, showing a powerful running and passing attack, while the Bucks barely squeezed a victory from the Victoria Whitefaces 7-6.

Coach McCollum has been working the Bucks this week on blocking and tackling, hoping to stop the power of the Canadian Wildcates. Special work has also been given to timing, so that the running attack will function more perfectly than it did against Herford.

One of the Canadian Wildcates' conditions for the game, Orvel Bodey, who has been on the injured list so far this year, will be ready to start at left end. Other starting assignments will be: Charles Noel, right end; Melvin Gores and Sam Moot, guard; Wayne Tomlin, center; Jimmie Russell, J. W. Weaver, A. C. Hourigan and Willis Aulbert, backs.

Phillips Tackles Spearman
Special To The NEWS
PHILLIPS, Oct. 17—The Phillips Blackhaws have been scrimmaging and learning Spearman plays this week in preparation for their first conference game Friday night on their own field against the Spearman Lynx. Although the Hawks have won their last three games by large margins, the boys realize that their toughest assignments are still to be played. Injuries have been nil and with the full force of the team to be measured there should be no alibis for anything that might happen.

Coach "Chesty" Walker has been drilling the boys on fundamentals, stressing blocking and tackling. With Manny Jackson and R. L. Cooper operating as passers and Slim Braden catching the passes, the aerial attack is the most vital point of offense for the Phillips boys.

Beginning with Friday night's game, the Blackhaws face five straight conference foes. Any one of the conference opponents could and might beat the boys, but defeat has never entered into their discussions. Without being overconfident, the Hawks feel capable of taking care of their end of the battles. They are gunning for a conference championship. And the town's behind them!

Pirates to Memphis
LEFORS, Oct. 17—Coaches Francis Smith and John Rankin will take their Lefors Pirates to Memphis Friday night for an important conference game with the Memphis Cyclones.

While Lefors was swamping Wheeler 23 to 13 last Friday, Memphis held the tough McLean Tigers to a 13 to 7 score which means that Memphis will be the favorite. Cecil Straeener and "Windy" Fite

Shamrock Irish Elite
Special To The NEWS
SHAMROCK, Oct. 17—The Shamrock Irish football team, after winning a close game from the mighty Clarendon Broncs with a last-minute pass interception and a touchdown run, will rest this week-end and prepare for their next conference foe, the Lefors Pirates, on Oct. 26.

Coaches Forrest Kline and Scott McCall, while well pleased with the showing their charges made in the Bronc game, will resume drills Tuesday afternoon, ironing out some of the imperfections in running plays and adding new plays for the game with the Pirates, who although they have lost a conference game, will be fighting to "displace the Irish leads from their undefeated conference position."

Spirit of the Irish was heightened with the announcement today that X-ray showed E. F. Kersh, star guard, did not have a broken leg but had only sustained bruises. It was thought he had received a fracture in his right leg in the Clarendon game but physicians said he would be able to play in the Lefors game.

Big Six Will Act On Bowl Attitude
By HAROLD CLAASSEN
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 17 (AP)—It was to be a surprise, but Big Six faculty representatives will gather in Kansas City Oct. 24 and 25 to decide, once and for all, the conference attitude on football bowl games.

The action follows the recent approval of the University of Kansas for the proposed annual Jan. 1 clash of the Big Six and Southwest conference football champions and the taking over of the Cotton Bowl by the Southwest schools.

Big Six faculty representatives met to define the conference attitude last December and carried the discussion over until the spring meeting in Lincoln, Neb., without reaching a decision either time.

At the Nebraska gathering they heard emissaries from both the Cotton Bowl and the Southwest Conference, who suggested a game along the lines of the proposed Big Ten-Pacific Coast hook-up for the Rose Bowl.

One of the representatives tied the Kansas approval was that the Cotton Bowl, capable of seating 52,000 be controlled by the two conferences. This was met in part last week when the Southwest schools acquired the game site and rights.

will be unable to play this week because of injuries but Johnny Turner and Charles Nipper have been looking good and will get the starting call.

Many Lefors fans plan to attend the game.

Purdue Questions Ohio State's Win

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 17 (AP)—Whether Ohio State's football team legally defeated Purdue a week ago last Saturday became the question of the hour today on the Purdue campus.

Gordon Graham, sports editor of the LaFayette Journal & Courier, precipitated the turmoil when he reported in his column that motion pictures of Ohio State's 17-10 triumph over Purdue showed that Charley Maag, who came in to kick the game-winning field goal in the last 19 seconds of the game, was an ineligible player when he re-entered the contest.

The story, as related by Graham, was that Maag was taken out of the game soon after the second quarter started and then was sent back in just before the end of that period.

The rules provide that a player may not return to the game in the same quarter in which he is withdrawn; if he does so, he shall be suspended from the game and his team penalized 15 yards.

Election . . . Then What?

There have been few elections that have meant so much to the American people as that of Nov. 5, 1940, will mean. The election of 1860 comes close, perhaps. That was the year the nation elected a Republican, Lincoln, to lead them in a civil war that was to preserve the nation.

Perhaps it is the egotism of each incumbent generation that regards the events of every current epoch as the most important the world has ever known—each dilemma as the most critical civilization has ever faced. If such presumptions are false in a cosmic sense, they are very true in a practical way. When any powerful nation faces a choice in shaping its destiny, the welfare of posterity may depend on that selection.

There is a feeling among many persons that the present pre-election period is a truce in American foreign policy, precariously maintained by both sides. That after the ballots are counted and the winner certified, America's real course of action in the world scene will begin.

There is a suspicion that ultimately America will become involved in the war, no matter which side may triumph at the polls. Not because either party will deliberately seek such involvement but rather because the forces of events are driving this country more deeply into a position which may become untenable without resort to arms.

Whether or not we enter that war depends not so much on the citizens of the United States or their government as it does on the conduct of the other nations already involved. If the causes are beyond our control, we can have no hand in shaping the effect.

War for America need not yet be considered a fait accompli. As long as we maintain a position of formal neutrality there is still hope of peace for America. We're in a ticklish situation. We must play our cards the right way. There can be no mistakes, no fumbling.

That is the issue on election day. It would be a simple matter to plunge this nation into war after Nov. 5. It will require the most delicate diplomacy, the greatest skill, the keenest desire for nonintervention to keep us out of it with no loss of prestige and no surrender of rights.

The voters will have the right to choose which of the two candidates they feel will be more likely to save American democracy—and American peace.

Behind The News

By BRUCE CATTON
The Pampa News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The build-up to get Congress to make American loans available to Great Britain has already begun, with tacit administration approval. Meanwhile, the government's own figures show that right now, at least, Britain still has ample resources to finance war purchases in the United States.

When the war began, British investments in the United States (according to U. S. Department of Commerce figures) stood at slightly more than $2,800,000,000. In addition, British-owned dollar balances in the United States totaled $657,000,000.

During the first year of the war, the empire sent a little over a billion in gold to this country. About $200,000,000 of the dollar balances were used up, plus the proceeds of the liquidation of some $150,000,000 in securities.

British security holdings, in other words, still stand at approximately $2,650,000,000, while dollar balances of about $400,000,000 are available.

ENLISTMENT CONFUSION

The War Department seems to be proceeding on the theory that the right hand needn't know what the left hand is doing, at least in the matter of volunteers. It began by announcing that no one-year enlistments would be accepted. Then, since so many young men seem anxious to sign up for a year and get it over with, it was announced one-year enlistments were okay. But somebody failed to notify the various recruiting stations—and 10 days after this announcement, men who tried to enlist for one year were being turned down.

And when the thing finally got straightened out, it developed one-year enlistments have been legal since around 1930. The army has never especially liked them, but it has been taking them all along; has averaged around 200 or 250 a year for the last decade.

Confidential advisers in the capital say that Hitler is having more trouble with the Dutch than any other conquered people. In fact the Dutch situation is one of the big reasons why the let's-beat-Hitler crowd wants to see the U. S. get in the war. For this reason: According to the inside dope, all the Dutch need is a little hope. If somehow, like a U. S. declaration of war, should convince them that in the end the Nazis could be shoved out, there'd be more sabotage passive and active resistance and general tossing of monkey wrenches into the machinery than Hitler could easily handle. If things drag along and it looks like an eventual Hitler victory, on the other hand, the Hollanders aren't going to stick their necks out.

Common Ground

By E. C. HOILES
This column, whenever there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the stars of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

IMPORTANCE OF PROPER CONCEPT OF GOD

There is nothing more needed these days than that we, as a people, come to have a clearer concept of what is meant when the word God is used. To use the word without the ability to transmit the concept from one person to another, is haphazard. The reason we are having so much trouble is that we, as a people, have the wrong concept of God. We have nearly as many concepts of God as there are individuals.

Too many people have come to believe in a vacillating, changeable, arbitrary, unlimited and omnipotent, personal God, without any limitations. A God in short that is not governed by any principles, or everlasting truths or laws. One that has power without responsibility or obligations. One that can give man freedom to choose and at the same time retain that power for himself. One that can be and not be at the same time. One that changes with the times.

It is this concept of God that always leads to confusion, tyranny and anarchy. It is this concept of God which leads to a dictator of one man or of the majority.

It is this concept of God that fails to render unto the State what belongs to the State and unto God or the individual what belongs to the individual and to God.

Self Evident Truths Is God
I have been reading a great book called "Christianity Is As Old As the Creation" by Matthew Tindall. The Encyclopedia Britannica says this book is the Bible of Deism.

This book explains that God is the self evident truth or axioms that we know are always true but cannot prove.

We know they are true because they always work. And as Wm. James says, "Things are right that work." They work when they promote equal freedom and equal rights for each and every man to use his natural faculties.

When Jesus said, "The hairs of each man's head are numbered," he meant that each and every man had certain inalienable and everlasting rights that no government or man had a right to deprive him of. "This is one of the axioms or self-evident truths."

When Jesus was asked which was the greatest Commandment and said "Love thy God" he meant he devoted to these everlasting truths, these everlasting principles of life, these eternal laws.

When he said, "I am the Way," he meant the principles I am explaining are those which are necessary to follow in order to make each man happy and have the kingdom of Heaven within. He did not think that he was creating new rules, new laws, new truths, new principles, new covenants. He simply understood the everlasting and eternal laws of life, of nature or of God, or whatever man cares to call these eternal truths.

He must have understood this because he said, "I did not come to save the righteous but the sinners." He knew there were already those who were living in harmony with the everlasting principles, truths, laws he was explaining.

All we need to do to have a healthy, happy, normal social organism, so that each man has the right to the use of his own faculties or natural talents is to have the proper concept of God. To recognize that God is not a changeable, vacillating, arbitrary power but God is never changing and everlasting immutable laws, axioms, truths.

THE THIRD TERM AND THE SUPREME COURT
One of the most important results of the custom of limiting the time of any one president to two terms is that it does not give one man an opportunity to appoint so many members of the Supreme Court with the ideas and beliefs of the president making the appointments.

It is true the Roosevelt obsessions now predominate in the Supreme Court. If, however, he is continued for another four years, his belief, will be stamped on the Supreme Court for a much longer time than if Willkie were elected.

And while Willkie seems to have many of the same ideas as Roosevelt, he does not seem to have as much hate, envy and covetousness in his heart as Roosevelt has shown he has.

Consequently, if Willkie were elected there would be a greater chance that men would be appointed to the Supreme Court with less malice and hate and more inclined to make impartial court decisions in harmony with everlasting laws and principles, than would be if Roosevelt were re-elected.

The Nation's Press

THE THUMB IS SORER THAN EVER (Daily Oklahoma, Oklahoma City)

In April, 1940, the state of the national budget was a matter of grave concern to every one who takes the trouble to figure simple arithmetic and knows what is going on. The legal limit had been reached, and the national debt of about 45 billion dollars was threatening to swamp the ship of state.

Then came the big war scare of May, and President Roosevelt, knowing that practically no one would object to appropriations for national defense, asked for one, five, and then 10 billions or more—it's hard to keep count.

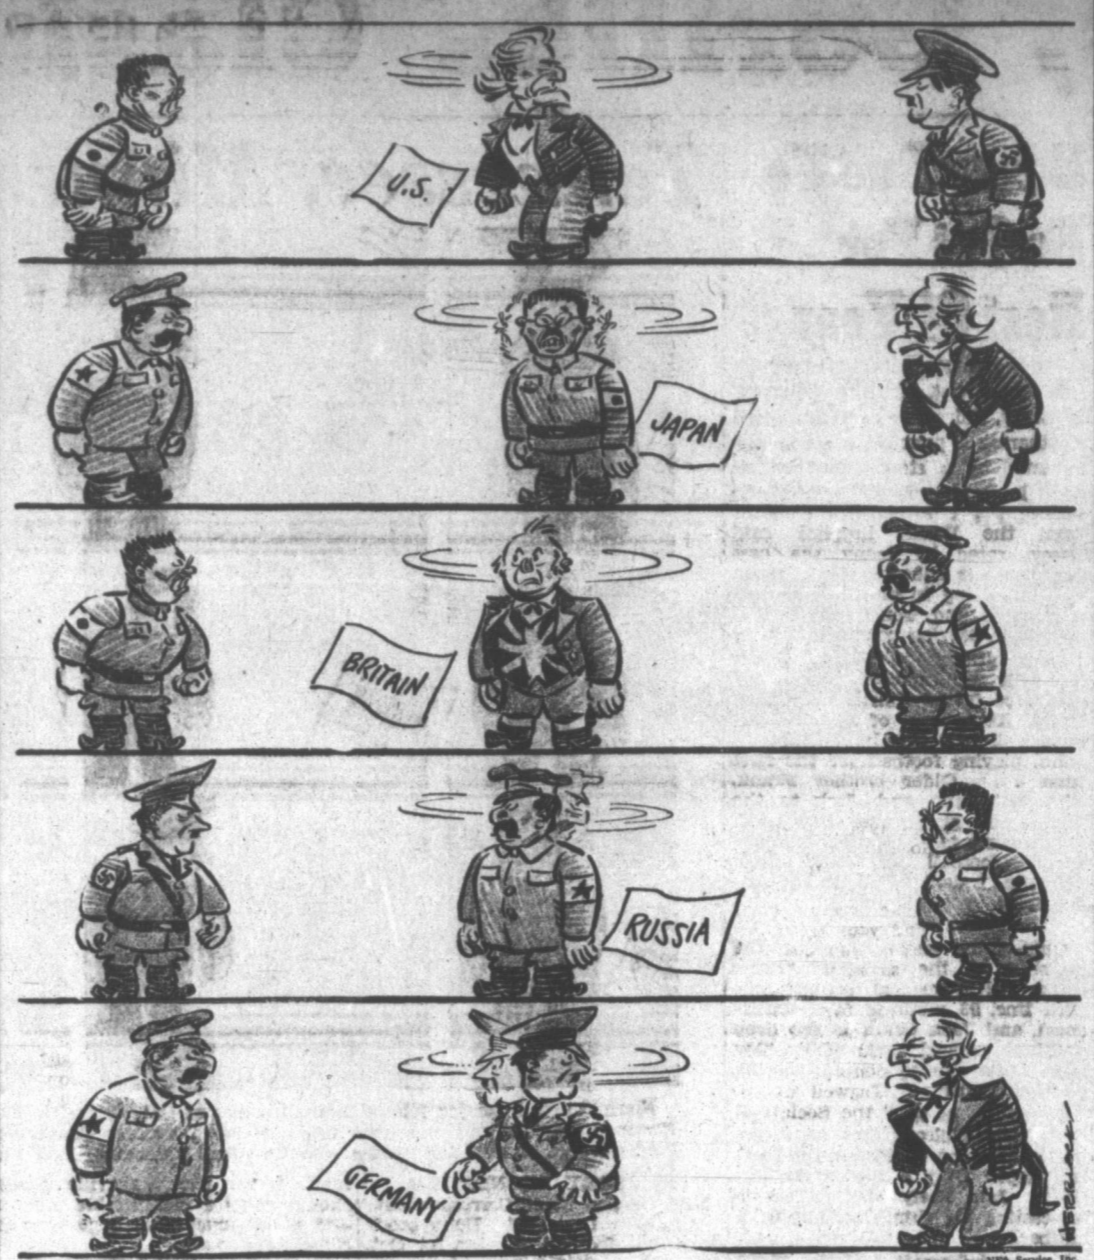

The remarkable thing about all this is that the unprecedented appropriations for defense purposes have caused us to forget our concern over the vicious waste in nondefense expenditures.

A man hits his thumb with a hammer. A doctor takes the same hammer and hits him over the head with it, stunning him, thereby causing him to forget his injured thumb. That sort of therapy has had amazing success in the New Deal scheme, for now we don't even question the nondefense spendings, which are as great and wasteful as ever, despite the dire need of sacrifice and economy required by defense spending. And now Henry Wallace is traveling over the country, telling people that when the war is over the government will have to spend additional vast sums to counteract the wartime dislocation.

You'll have to hand it to the New Deal psychologists. They know how to cover up their unprecedented extravagance.

Nelson Rockefeller's direction, and a big program is planned. There'll be a moving picture division, a newspaper division, another dealing with magazines, another dealing with trade relations, and so on. This government has around $3,500,000 to put into the job and there's more that came from: idea is to doise the continent in good-will stuff both by word and deed, and make the general idea of hemisphere solidarity as popular there as it is here.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 17.—The machine Marx Brothers have finished a picture called "Go West," but as a western it ranks somewhere between the Coney Island Fun House and a night club rodeo. Which, of course, is as it should be.

Harpo is dillmoped on a horse in one scene, but you can't say that any of the brothers really does any riding. All westerns have to have a big chase sequence, but the one in this picture takes place on a train, with the fugitive comics uncoupling cars and making the locomotive scurry around through the sagebrush like an army tank. The Marxes don't do any fancy six-gun work, either, although Harpo does blow open a safe with a cannon. He does it to get the deed to a ranch which is the key to a dastardly land-grabbing scheme. That gives GROUCHO PLUCKS A GUTTUR

Harpo and Chico included their respective harp and piano specialties in every film except "Duck Soup" and "Room Service." The omissions brought a flood of complaints from fans, so "Go West" has been given an extra quota of music. Romantic hero John Carroll has two songs, one with harmonica accompaniment by Harpo, the other with guitar plunking by Groucho.

It's an odd fact that the eldest Marx, actually a guitarist of concert skill, never has played in a picture or a show. He wasn't scheduled to play in this picture, but they finally let him when he began to grow grouchy about it. As a guttural-sounding accompaniment, he has at least one attribute of a horse-opera star.

They always have a tough time introducing Harpo's solos, and the director usually is even sillier than usual. It seems that the screwball trio, with Carroll and Heroine Diana Lewis, are spending an evening at an Indian reservation. There are a lot of pretty squaws about, so Harpo makes news by chasing a few brunets. One of these romantic pursuits leads him to a loom where a cutie is working overtime on a rug.

The scene on the loom look like harp strings. He plucks at them (and, surprise!) finds them taut and resonant and tuned. So he plays "By the Waters of the Minnetonka" on the loom—a feat, made doubly astonishing by the fact that the period of the picture predates the writing of the song by about 40 years.

Musical anachronism is nothing in the life of Chico, either. Seated at an 1870 honky-tonk piano, he clatters through "The Woodpecker Song," a hit of 1940.

THE COST OF CHORDS
Funny thing about Chico is that privately he seems to care nothing about playing. Never plays informally, never practices until shortly before a number must be recorded, except for his vaudeville tricks, he really isn't much of a pianist. He always wants to lead a band, and now he's going to do it. He has a 16-piece orchestra and a contract for an eight-week stage tour.

The brothers' secretary, Rachel Linden, gave me another musical note on Harpo. Said that for years she made out checks for him to a piano teacher. "At first I thought he was just versatile," she recalled. "Finally I found out he still couldn't read music or play the piano either. He'd be paying a piano teacher to play chords so he could work out the same combinations on the harp, by ear."

The picture finished. Groucho is packing his golf clubs and guitar for a cross-continent motor jaunt. Harpo thinks he'll try the stage.

The plane was changed for another one there.

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Leader swam the Hullopoint (we call it the Dardanelles now-a-days) and maybe Herr Hitler could too—but the Nazi fuhrer can't swim an army across the strategic water barrier between the Mediterranean and the East to help Mussolini crush Britain in the Mediterranean theater.

"That's fanciful, say you. Granted, but it's essential to emphasize that the Dardanelles strait presents one of the most serious obstacles the Axis partners will encounter if they try to crash into the Near East by a thrust down the Balkan peninsula.

Herr Hitler must feel sorry for himself to find that, having been stymied from the British Isles by the English channel, he now is up against another water barrier which has broken the hearts of many good men and brave in days gone by. It's one of the world's toughest roads to conquest.

I have small doubt that once the Germans had forced this strait and conquered Turkey they could steamroller most of the rest of the Near East rather readily. However, if and when they get the strait, they will make this effort they're going to precipitate one of the great battles of history.

The strategic importance of the Dardanelles always has been very great because it does form a barrier between the Balkans and the Near East, and because it is the gateway from the otherwise landlocked Black Sea to the Mediterranean. Free passage of the Dardanelles is vital to Russia, since if the strait were in enemy hands she not only would be cut off from the Mediterranean but a hostile fleet could attack her in the Black Sea.

The Dardanelles strait is 47 miles long, and from one to four miles wide. It then broadens into a mile or so of the Bosphorus which in turn opens into the Black Sea through the Bosphorus at Istanbul (Constantinople).

I've sailed through this narrow waterway rarely have seen a position so easily capable of defense.

This whole water-way is in Turkey's territory so that she can fortify both sides and the passage is under her assistance of an international convention signed in 1936, the Dardanelles, the Sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus were demilitarized and opened to all nations, but Turkey was granted permission if at war or threatened by war, to close the strait to other nationalities.

If the present isn't a threatening situation I don't know what it is. It's a safe bet that the Turks have made this water thoroughfare as nearly impregnable as they can to prepare for eventualities.

There is small doubt that Hitler and Mussolini are getting set for a drive to the Dardanelles if the operation seems feasible. Disassembled German submarines and sea-planes are reported to be en route to the Black Sea naval base. Troops continue to mass, and this applies equally to the Russians.

Turkey is ready to fight, and with the naval assistance of Britain should cause plenty of trouble for any Axis attack. Should Russia decide to support the Turks, it would make a battle of the ages. The Muscovites still remain silent as to their plans.

Young Men Of America Gay In Registering

(By The Associated Press)

With one quick job done, the machinery of selective service was geared promptly to the more exacting, five-year task of sifting nearly 5,000,000 citizen-soldiers out of the 18,000,000 or more men who registered for military service.

As the counting and sorting of yesterday's registration cards began, preliminary reports from across the country said with frequency: "Registration exceeded advance estimates."

Good-humored and even gay for the most part, the young men of America from 21 through 35 literally rushed to the 125,000 registration places. Jostling each other and the army in which they may serve, they fell into long lines, patiently waiting their turn for the nation's new adventure in peacetime conscription.

Disturbances were few, although one man was killed in a gun-fight at a Nebraska registration place, another dropped dead in Raleigh, N. C. one was arrested and several conscientious objectors caused furies of excitement.

Compliance with the law appeared to be general, but subpoenas were served on eight theological students who refused to register in New York City and one man was jailed in El Paso, Texas, for refusing. Some objecting registrants wore black armbands.

As soon as registration ended at 9 p. m. last night, registration cards began to move from the registration places to county clerks, for re-distribution to 6,500 local draft boards which began functioning officially today. Most boards should have the cards of the men in their areas before tonight.

Serial Numbers Next

The boards first will shuffle the cards and give them their serial numbers which will be drawn in a national lottery in Washington to determine the order in which men will be subject to call for service. Within a few days, the boards will begin publishing the serial numbers and, when they have finished, the lottery will be held, sometime between October 26 and November 2.

"The need for accuracy and care in these first steps cannot be over-emphasized," the local boards were told by Lieut. Col. Lewis B. Hershey, acting national director of selective service, who directed the "whole-hearted response to the nation's call."

Hershey, expected to be named deputy director, will turn over his temporary duties today to Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin, who arrives from Chicago to take office as director by appointment of the President.

Meanwhile, clerks of local boards will register those unavoidably detained yesterday, start action against delinquents and receive voluntary army enlistment offers for one year from men between 18 and 36.

Regular army three-year enlistments continued throughout the draft registration, and the number of volunteers for one and three-year tours of duty is expected to fill a large part of the first draft quota.

CHAPTER 3
KARL MARX - IMMIGRANT
By SAMUEL B. PETTINGILL

Karl Marx had ten "points" in his platform. Point one was: "Centralization of credit in the hands of the state by means of a national bank with state capital and an exclusive monopoly."

Has this program come to America? Twenty years ago the Socialist party of the United States, in its Declaration of Principles said that its purpose when in power is "to transfer the ownership of industries to the people, beginning with those of a public character, such as banking, insurance, mining, transportation and communication."

We came to 1932. Rexford Guy Tugwell said—"Business will logically be required to disappear. This is not an overstatement for the sake of emphasis: it is literally meant."

National planning implies guidance of the economy. The national allocation would depend on knowledge from some planning agency, of how much for a measured future period ought to be put to one use rather than to another. The first step in control would be to limit self-allocation.

Four years later, in 1936, the effort to limit self-allocation of capital funds found expression in the undistributed profits tax. The thought, gentle reader, was that politicians could spend your money much more wisely than you could who had earned and saved it. This experiment in National Socialism was a chief contributing factor to the crash of 1937 and was finally laid away by a saddened congress without benefit of presidents.

The year Professor Tugwell described this "first step" the Socialist adopted a platform calling for the "socialization of banking," all natural resources, basic industries and utilities, curbing the United States supreme court, employment, health, and accident insurance, $5 billions for immediate federal relief, and another $5 billions for public works.

We come to 1939. We note that although Rexford Guy Tugwell had chief of staff, had informed him that the war department would call up a smaller number of selective service men than it originally had expected to summon November 18 because of increased enlistments in the army and national guard.

The number of selective service trainees who may be inducted in the army is limited to 900,000 a year under the draft act, which expires May 15, 1945. Some men who signed up yesterday may not even be classified or called for two or more years.

Too eager to wait, some youngsters volunteered immediately. Instances of patriotism, humor, enthusiasm, democracy and even belligerency abounded.

A pretty woman in Louisville, Ky., insisted on registering. Led by 77-year-old former Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, World War secretary of the treasury, many gray-heads attempted unsuccessfully to register, setting an example for youngsters.

Actor John Emery, husband of Tallulah Bankhead, went with his valet and a chauffeur to register. Henry Ford II stood elbow-to-elbow with a Filipino domestic. Screen stars Henry Fonda and James Stewart were first at their registration place. Football teams and dance bands enrolled en masse. Men on hospital operating tables paused to sign their names.

Complying with the law's requirement that all resident aliens should register, 30 German seamen who took refuge from a British warship at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and a member of the British purchasing mission joined the registrants.

"Funny, if I were drafted, what?" said the Britisher.

Huge Amounts Of Wheat And Fiber Stored

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—Farmers are storing millions of bushels of wheat and thousands of bales of 1940 cotton under loan programs which are expected to give the federal government control over food and fiber supplies by mid-winter.

Similar loans will be made available on corn and possibly several other crops within a few weeks.

Agriculture department officials said the loan programs, designed originally to bolster producer prices, were being fitted into the national defense program to assure the country of reserve supplies in the event of war and to protect consumers against sharp price advances such as occurred in the last war.

Crops being placed under government loans are mainly those which normally would move into foreign markets now closed by the war.

Officials explained that in the event the United States became involved in war and prices began to increase sharply, supplies stored under government loans could be released from storage and probably would counteract price-advancing tendencies.

Loans totaling about $150,000,000 already have been made on about 210,000,000 bushels of surplus wheat. Loans amounting to about $30,000,000 have been advanced on about 530,000 bales of cotton. With little cotton moving into export markets, officials expect upwards of 2,000,000 bales of the 1940 crop to be stored under the government program.

The government owns large quantities of farm crops which it acquires from storage of loans on old crops. Included are about 6,500,000 bales of cotton, 88,000,000 bushels of corn, 190,000,000 pounds of tobacco, 1,500,000 bushels of wheat, 28,620,000 pounds of peas and vetch and 58,296 pounds of rubber. The rubber was obtained in a deal with Great Britain under which that country obtained surplus American cotton.

Other crops of which supplies are stored under government loans include 1938 and 1939 corn, raisins, barley, hops, rye, dates and pecans.

Commodities placed under loans are stored in warehouses, cribs and elevators and cannot be sold as long as the loans are outstanding.

Answering Your Questions About CONSCRIPTION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Figure it any way you wish, the governors of the various states are going to be put on the spot by the selective service act and the regulations the President has signed in connection with it.

In many ways the whole purpose of the regulations has been to decentralize the draft machinery as much as possible and restore autonomy to the states. Thus the regulations require that the President shall name the state headquarters.

The governor in picking the men for the various local boards will have the eyes of the voters upon him. If he picks bad men or plays politics with the appointments, or anything that smacks of machine building, he will be storing up for himself a lot of trouble the next time he bobs up for elective office.

But an even bigger mess of trouble is being worked up for the governors if certain proposed plans are approved.

Agriculture is recognized as one of the prime industries of the United States. In the matter of national defense, it is vital that the people be fed and that there be wool and cotton for clothing. Now two of the most important times in the year of the farmer are his harvest time and his spring plowing.

It has been proposed that farmers of draft age be deferred, for the time being, when the various harvest seasons set in. Thus, in most of the Southern states, there is the period when cotton is picked. In Kentucky, Virginia and North Carolina there is the time when the tobacco leaf is cut. In Illinois and Iowa and some of the adjoining states, there is the period when the corn crop is gathered. In the Northwestern states there is wheat. In California there is the grape harvest.

Now if calling men to be deferred for these reasons, the governors will have two jobs:

- 1—To allocate to the cities a part of the quota of drafted men, while the harvesters are busy in the country.
- 2—To allocate to the agricultural

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with a burning and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Million Register In New York City

By GARDNER L. BRIDGE

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—In grimy overalls, tailored business suits and immaculate evening clothes, New York's youth rose to the top of this great new world melting pot today and flowed off to be counted and recorded for the defense of the nation.

From squalid tenements and gilded apartments they came, all races, creeds and colors.

Some were heavy-muscled and clear-eyed; others were anemic and pasty of face. But they came, many of them long before dawn, and lined up in front of 712 registration places throughout the five boroughs.

Within 14 hours, Uncle Sam will have the names of more than 1,107,000 New York men who will be available for the defense of the country.

They were a motley sight as they assembled in the chill dawn.

A singing waiter, clad in full dress clothes, quit work in a Lower East Side night club at 4:30 a. m. and went to a first avenue school, to become first in line.

Over near Madison Square Garden, where a rodeo is performing, there were cowboys in ten-gallon hats and high-heeled boots.

Down in the Bowery, where the elevated stays the dawn, there were chattering Chinese, shifty-eyed drifters, and square-jawed hucksters.

Dong Joey Tong, 21, a Chinese restaurant worker, was first in line at one place. With a wide grin he said, "I'm glad to fight for this country."

Assemblyman Robert F. Wagner, Jr., son of the U. S. senator from New York, registered and said "There is nothing like preparedness in days like these."

COURT RULES LUBBOCK JUDGE CAN TRY SUIT

AUSTIN, Oct. 16. (AP)—The supreme court ruled in effect today that District Judge D. A. Blair of Lubbock may try a libel suit brought by Hester L. Little and others against Street and Smith, Inc., New York publishers.

The court refused the company permission to file a mandamus petition prohibiting the judge from trying the suit.

A board which knows all the conditions will take precautions against this. This conforms with President Roosevelt's announced desire that the draft shall

Cooperative Stores Used By 2,000,000

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 (AP)—Some 2,000,000 American people are trying to dodge the "middle man" and his profit.

Instead of buying their groceries, for instance, at the private neighborhood or chain store, they pool a few dollars apiece, set up their own grocery store and hire a man to run it for them.

Sometimes the store's prices are the same as other stores. Sometimes they are lower. But in any case, at the end of the year the profits, if any, go, not to the manager, but back to the customers.

The same principle can be applied, and is being applied, in the supply of everything from soap to auto tires and binder twine to gasoline.

It even is being applied to insurance, medical care and money-lending, in which field, instead of paying legal interest rates that may amount to 50 per cent a year, the customer-proprietors pay only 9 per cent.

These 2,000,000 people are the members of consumers' cooperatives, which exist in nearly every state in the union. Last year they did a total business of $600,000,000.

The system has been developing since 1921 when farmers in Ohio, Michigan and Indiana formed a co-operative to "break" high retail fertilizer prices, which presently dropped 35 per cent.

The system is no utopian panacea for the nation's economic troubles. A consumers' cooperative has the same problems of management of an enterprise as a private operator. When cooperative stores give special services like deliveries and charge accounts, the customers have to pay extra for them like the customers of any store. Some co-operatives have over-expanded and given too much credit, and gone broke. Some say lack of profit motive often fails to attract sufficiently astute managers.

But in general, cooperative members, by doing the work of organization and administration themselves, boast of garnering the marginal pennies that ordinarily would go to a private operator.

Cooperative business still constitutes only a very small part of the nation's commerce, but the movement is growing.

When the cooperative movement's central organization, the cooperative league of the U. S. A., opens its 12th biennial convention here today, it will represent about 25 per cent more members than at its last convocation, in 1938.

The big achievement that will be marked at the coming convention is the pushing of the consumer cooperative principle beyond the field of distribution into the realm of production.

An early cooperative enterprise was

15-Year-Old Boy Wins First Cotton Picking Championship

BLYTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 17 (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Harold Mason, who pulled 129 pounds of cotton in two hours from bolls made stubborn by an overnight rain, today carried back to his Dunklin county, Mo., farm home the south's cotton picking championship.

Youngest competitor among 138, Mason received the $1,000 first prize offered by the national cotton picking contest association of Blytheville.

The champion said he planned to save the money to pay his expenses while studying agriculture at the University of Missouri.

James Bradshaw, Reyno, Ark. farmer, won second prize of $250 with 117 pounds. Jose Hernandez, Harlingen, Tex., took third and $100 with 112 pounds. Twenty-two other contestants shared in $550 in prizes.

Johnnie Stovall of San Angelo, Tex., who traveled more than 900 miles to compete in the event—first of its kind—picked 105 pounds for seventh place.

Japan Warns U. S. On War Materials Going To Chinese

By C. YATES McDANIEL.
HANOI, French Indo-China, Oct. 17. (AP)—Major General Raishiro Sumita, chief of the Japanese military mission in Indo-China, declared today that Japan "is resolutely determined to prevent war materials supplied by the United States or any third power from reaching Chiang Kai-Shek's armies."

Sumita spoke on the eve of the reopening of the Burma Road, lifeline for supplies from abroad for the Chinese armies.

The Japanese leader, in an interview, declared the Japanese army force would "make the utmost effort to strike a fatal blow" to China's supply lines from air bases newly acquired in northern Indo-China, but added, "don't believe any of our blows will fall until the war supplies for China have passed through British Burma and actually entered Chinese territory."

The veteran artillery officer echoed the puzzled reaction of Japanese elsewhere to the United States government advice to Americans to leave Japanese-dominated areas of the far east.

"If both the United States and Japan spent the same huge sums they now are devoting to preparations for a possible conflict on promoting trade between the two countries there would be no conceivable question of war," said Sumita. "If only the United States would understand Japan's position."

He declared that "every question between our countries could and must be settled upon understanding and acceptance of the principle that Japan is the stabilizing force in the far east."

Extra Bacon Issues Stopped In Britain

LONDON, Oct. 17 (AP)—The ministry of food announced that supplementary issues of bacon to retailers would be suspended "for a few weeks." The announcement added that "Consumers will find that supplies of cooked ham will not be available to the same extent as previously both at retail shops and catering establishments."

There was no change in the weekly ration of 8 ounces of ham and bacon. (But presumably shops would be running short of these supplies.)

The agriculture ministry announced that householders who grow food in their gardens would be given a sign, "This is a Victory Garden," to be fixed to the garden gate.

gasoline distribution. The consumers bought wholesale from refiners and set up their own filling stations. When they found that in this way they saved as much as 9 cents a gallon, so they reasoned, why not carry the idea further and run their own refinery, to save the producers' profit.

That worked, too, and they have not only established refineries in Phillipsburg, Kas., Mt. Vernon, Ind., and Regina, Saskatchewan, but also now have an oil well of their own in Rooks county, Kas., and are drilling three more.
