

O'Daniel Names Draft Medical Examiner Who Left County Five Years Ago

Who will be medical examiner for Gray county?
Yesterday Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, in a list of medical examiners for the state, in connection with the registration Wednesday of potential soldiers, named Dr. G. W. Harkins of LeFors.

There nine years. His last known address is Dimmitt.
Also lacking in the set-up for Gray county is another member of the board to succeed District Judge W. R. Ewing who resigned on account of the week interfering with his holding court in four counties.

Cards are being numbered serially, commencing with the number 1 and continuing consecutively.
Copies of form 3, list of registrants, are to be prepared, after numbering is completed. One copy will be sent to the governor, one posted in a conspicuous place, and another released to newspapers.

resigned yesterday as a member of the local board, wanted to serve but could not do so on account of the enormous amount of work and time required.
The judge, John F. Sturgeon, chairman of the board, said, learned that if he served as a board member and did his share of the work, it would mean practically closing his courts, not only in Gray, but in Wheeler, Roberts, and Lipscomb.

No successor to the judge's place on the board has been announced, Sturgeon and Dr. Adrian Owens are the other members.
Estimated 10 Largest Registrations in Gray county totaled 3,326, according to the official list signed by Sturgeon. However, this was cut down to 3,113, due to out of county and out of state residents who signed up at Gray county registration booths.

In the list by precincts, precinct 10, the court house at Pampa, had the largest number registered, 810; precinct 7, Farrington, the smallest, 16.
Registration in the other precincts.

Parties Ready To Open Drive For Ballots

With the election only 18 days away signs multiplied today that both Democratic and Republican parties were ready to open an intensive vote drive that would carry through to the close of the historic 1940 campaign.

President Roosevelt will make only four political speeches, it was announced yesterday, the first to be made next Wednesday. They will be in Philadelphia, New York, Cleveland and either Baltimore or Washington.

Meanwhile, his Republican opponent, Wendell L. Willkie, pursued the strenuous campaign which has taken him from coast to coast, showing every intention of maintaining its unflagging pace until the eve of election.

As the campaign neared the week-end which will send it into its home stretch, Willkie and his running mate, Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, both made pleas for Missouri's 15 electoral votes while Henry A. Wallace, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, spoke in Ohio.

In a speech prepared for Jefferson City, Willkie contended that "under the New Deal private capital has been scared out of productive enterprise."

"The record shows that the volume of new productive capital issued for the construction or purchase of new plants and equipment flooded by all American corporations from 1933 to 1939 inclusive was less than for the single year 1930," he asserted.

McNary charged that "zealous third term partisans had attempted to shake down" township committees of the agricultural adjustment administration. In a speech prepared for Sedalia, he described as "frightening" the prospect of "rural Tammany-type organizations."

Wallace started a tour of western Ohio after telling a Pampa, Minn., audience last night that the country could not afford the risk of allowing "the financial manipulators, the holding company men, and the stock speculators to give us another ride ending in national collapse."

He asserted that "agents of the dictators" were working for the defeat of Mr. Roosevelt by spreading confusion "to weaken our will to prepare and to resist."

Mayor LaGuardia of New York voiced a similar theme in an address at Pittsburgh last night. "I believe with all the sincerity of my soul," he said, "that our one hope to preserve our rights from being taken away is to elect Roosevelt."

Relatives Frown Upon Sanity Hearing

AUSTIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—Howard Merit Pierson, 26-year-old parrot, rested behind barred doors today while District Attorney Edwin C. Moorhead, who asserted he would ask the death penalty should Pierson be brought to trial, pressed for a sanity hearing.

Walter C. Pierson, guardian and cousin of the youth who shot his parents to death in 1935, stated yesterday a second sanity hearing did not have the backing of the Pierson family.

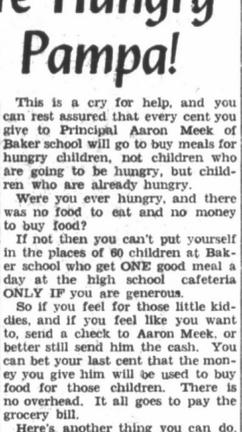

Pierson was returned yesterday from Minneapolis, where he was captured after two and a half years of freedom, having escaped from the state hospital here in April, 1938.

'MISS ALL-AMERICA' BY MEASUREMENT

Dancer Mary Parker, pictured above, is the real "Miss America," declared Max Factor, Jr., Hollywood beauty expert, who compiled measurements from hundreds of photos taken over a ten-year period. According to Factor, Miss Parker's complexion, facial structure and measurements most closely represent the beauty average of the American girl, whether she be shopgirl, co-ed or debutante.

Siren And Bells Will Be Signal To Go To Church

Residents of Pampa who forget that Sunday will be "Go to Church Day" will be reminded of the fact at 9 a. m. Sunday, when the large siren on top of the fire station will be blown and the bell at the Holy Souls Catholic church rung.

Laymen of Pampa sponsor the special occasion once a year when they urge every man, woman and child to attend church and Sunday school.

Pastors of the city churches will present special services Sunday and the committee of laymen, headed by Paul D. Hill, hope that every church will be filled to capacity for both services.

All church organizations have been conducting special attendance services during the week. First Methodist church families are being asked to attend in a group.

FDR Proclaims Armistice Day

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—President Roosevelt in proclaiming November 11 as Armistice Day declared today that the anniversary would "direct our minds" to the need "not only for peace but also for peace with understanding, not only for a cessation of hostilities but also for mutual respect in the intercourse between nations."

The proclamation directed that the flag be displayed on all government buildings and called on the people to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies in schools and churches and other suitable places.

LONDON, Oct. 18. (AP)—Demolition workers found today that a bomb dropped during the night had done their work for them on two condemned structures.

"This is the first time Jerry has done us any good," one of the laborers said.

'Terrible Business'

LONDON, Oct. 18. (AP)—"What a terrible business it is," said Queen Elizabeth, gazing at a scene of bomb destruction in London today.

King George, watching a busy demolition squad, philosophized, "at any rate, I am glad the work of clearing up is going on so well."

Britain May Hurl Secret Planes Against Germans

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Invisible in the clouds over London, a number of raiding planes were heard this afternoon after signs signaled the first alarm of the day.

The weather, clouds here and a blackout fog on the English channel, had curtailed both British and German air operations.

Britain made two significant changes in the royal navy command today and talked of "hurrying" new secret planes into action against the Nazis to increase the punch of her air arm—both on defense and offense.

Vice-Admiral John C. (Jack) Tovey, a destroyer expert and a hero of Jutland, took command of the home fleet, a step generally interpreted as a forerunner of intensified sea warfare.

Admiral Sir Henry H. Harwood, hero of the battle of the River Plate, was promoted to the post of lord commissioner of the admiralty and assistant chief of naval staff.

The London press regarded both appointments as highly important.

German raiders, adopting a new technique of attacking in dozens of small groups of fighter-bombers, meanwhile subjected the London area to its longest night attack since the start of the aerial blitzkrieg.

While bombs were scattered over wide areas on London's outskirts, few fell in the capital.

Besides the London area, points hardest hit included the important shipping center of Liverpool and an unnamed town in the Midlands.

The government said generally casualties and damage were small.

The raiders came earlier in the night than previously and stayed overhead throughout.

Germany's use of fast fighter-bombers, the press association said.

Buildings Housing Italian Newspapers Wrecked In Blasts

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18. (AP)—Two explosions, which Detective William Martucci said apparently were caused by "incendiary bombs," early today wrecked a two-story brick building where several Italian language newspapers are printed.

Flames swept through the structure into an adjoining plant being brought under control.

The blasts shattered windows of homes near the publishing building, in the heart of a populous Italian district.

The building is owned by the Metropolitan Printing company. Amoneo Forte, owner of the plant, said he could give no immediate explanation of the blasts.

After questioning Forte and making an investigation, Detective Martucci said:

"He had no labor trouble and got no threats. We are inclined to believe from what we have seen that this was started by incendiary bombs."

Anti-Aircraft Guns Guard Burma Road

HONGKONG, Oct. 18. (AP)—The headquarters of the Japanese south China fleet announced that Japanese naval aircraft today attacked Kunning, southwestern China terminus of the newly reopened Burma Road. It was the first Japanese action connected with the road reopening.

Bombs were dropped on Chinese munitions factories in the suburbs and military establishments within the city, the headquarters communique said. Japanese planes dived at the city, capital of Yunnan province, through gaps in heavy clouds and were unopposed by any Chinese planes.

CHUNGKING, Oct. 18.—With anti-aircraft guns reported poking skyward at many a vantage point on the road from British Burma and Mandalay, traffic was resumed today on that Chinese lifeline.

Under the imminent threat of bombardment from close-at-hand Japanese air bases in French Indo-China, supplies for Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's war machine started rolling in the early darkness today after a three-month closure in a British appeasement gesture toward Japan.

Observers believed the immediate result of the reopening would be release of large stocks of arms and ammunition, now stored in western China, which had to be kept there for three months as a reserve against the possibility that the road would remain closed.

Now, with fresh stocks rolling in across the Chinese-Burmese border, depots in the border region may be emptied of the old stocks and rushed to central China for widespread Chinese counter-attacks on advanced Japanese positions.

Thus China was held likely to oppose a possible, new overland drive from Indo-China by the Japanese against Chungking and southwestern China, seat of Chiang's government and center of his war-making strength.

The Chinese press and government officials agreed, however, that the political significance of the British reopening overshadowed immediate material benefits.

For the Burma road, aside from its actual function as the central section of a 2,000-mile trade route between the Burmese seaport of Rangoon and southwest China, reaches in a figurative sense to London's Downing street and Tokyo foreign office.

Japan used the three-month closing not to seek a settlement of the Chinese war as was the British expressed hope, but to gain air and troops bases in French Indo-China adjoining Generalissimo Chiang's southwest domain.

Japan threatened to close the road.

Witness Describes Fatal Skelly Crash

Impact in a car-truck crash which killed two men yesterday afternoon near Skellytown was so great that the front wheels of the truck were driven under the rear section of the truck "Doc" Pursley of Pampa, a witness, told Sheriff T. B. Harris of White Deer, who later investigated the accident.

Killed were B. W. Campbell and J. H. Widle, elderly residents of Granite, Okla., occupants of a 1940 Chevrolet car which was in collision with a cattle truck driven by Ed Mask of Fort Worth which suffered cuts and bruises.

The Pampa man told Sheriff Harris that he was driving close behind the truck when the accident happened. He said the car came over a hill on the wrong side of the road and that the driver of the truck tried to pull across the highway as the car struck the soft shoulder but that car and truck met right front fender to right front fender. Pursley said Mask was thrown from the truck and that he had to drive into the borrow pit to keep from running over Mask.

Pursley said he believed both men were asleep. He called an ambulance and later took Mask to Border for treatment.

Truck and car were both badly damaged.

Nazis Employ New Tactics In Bombings

English Shell Unseen Parts Of Invasion Coast

(By The Associated Press)

A British high command said German destroyers, circling Land's End to strike at Britain's west coast on the Atlantic, boldly attacked "superior" British naval forces, a cruiser unit protected by destroyers.

A British admiralty version of the encounter, however, said a flotilla of four German destroyers fled "precipitately" when a British naval squadron tried to bring the Germans to battle 100 miles southwest of Land's End.

Although the Germans said a British warship was torpedoed, the British said they suffered no damage.

Another Story Of Aid Told By Salvation Army

There are two adults and three children in the family of which we tell today. The father had been ill for quite a while, unable to work.

The mother and her 13-year-old son had been doing odd jobs to support the family.

Illness and medical supplies were very expensive. They were just barely able to keep alive. The father was taken to the hospital for a very serious operation.

The mother lost her job and the only support was the son who delivered papers and worked in a local grocery store on Saturday.

Utility bills were all paid due; rent for arrears; clothes worn out when the Salvation Army appeared on the scene.

Bills were paid up, groceries issued, and clothing supplied until the father was again able to work.

I Saw....

Several Pampa adults, who accompanied the Harvesters to El Paso last week talking about the compliments the team received on their good manners. The boys in one instance pulled off their spiked shoes outside the hotel entrance where they walked across the carpeted floors. This greatly impressed the hotel management who said that the teams usually tried to skate across the carpet.

However, the Harvesters are not planning to be too well-mannered on the field tonight.

Mrs. Kelley Gives Demonstration At Kingsmill HD Club

Kingsmill Home Demonstration club met in the home of Mrs. J. R. Combs this week for a demonstration on killing, dressing, and canning chickens for home or market use given by Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, Gray county home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Kelley stated that in killing a chicken the most important thing is to have the fowl well bled. This may be accomplished by bending a coat hanger so that it will hold the chicken's feet together and then hanging the chicken on the clothes line. In killing it, the jugular vein under the left ear should be cut and after it has bled sufficiently, the bird should be scalded in water which has reached the boiling point. For a fat chicken, one cup of cold water should be added. It should be dipped at least three times so that the feathers will loosen, Mrs. Kelley added.

"After the feathers have been removed and the chicken has been singed and scrubbed with soda and water, cut the flesh on the back of the neck and remove the crop. Remove the vent and make an opening 2 inches above it to draw the chicken. Then the legs are placed through this slit.

"In canning chicken, separate the legs and back from the upper part and cook in pressure cooker until the meat comes off the bone easily, or about 25 minutes at 12 pounds pressure. Remove meat from the bone and place in a pan filled with broth from the chicken. This is returned to the pressure cooker, after the pot-cook has remained open for seven minutes while the steam escapes. The can should be removed from the cooker and sealed after the cooker has cooled.

"Again it should be placed in the cooker for 60 minutes with 12 pounds of pressure. Let the exhaust out and the cooker cool before removing the lid," she concluded.

From the scraps of chicken, Mrs. Kelley made a souffle which was served with fruit salad, cake, and coffee to Meses. D. L. Lunsford, C. T. Nicholson, S. E. Elkins, C. P. Bastion, Nat Lunsford, C. W. Mott, O. C. Smith, Julia Kelley, and R. Combs, members; and two new members, Meses. L. L. McGee and Jessie Boyer.

The next club meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Mott on November 1.

Pampans To Meet Mrs. Miniver At Review Monday

Next Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the city club rooms Mrs. F. E. Leech will introduce to Pampans Mrs. Miniver, the charming, unassuming British lady who has delighted Londoners through the pages of The Times for the past three years.

The occasion will be a review of Jan Struther's book, "Mrs. Miniver," which is now in its eighth big printing and selling over 1,000 copies daily. The review will be the first in a series of arts programs sponsored by the American Association of University Women and open to the public for a small admission charge.

Mrs. Miniver made her first appearance on the court page of the staid London Times some three years ago when the editors decided the page needed "a bit of ginning up." Her creator, Jan Struther, writer for Punch and The Spectator, is the only woman ever to become a member of the editorial board of The Times. The best of her sketches about Mrs. Miniver and her family and close friends have been gathered in book form and published in this country under the title "Mrs. Miniver." The book was a Book-of-the-Month club selection for August.

One reviewer has called Mrs. Miniver "the most beloved character since Mr. Chips." Another has said: "She is humorous, wise, she is human and lovable. In a world of trouble she is good to know, for she is the universal, heart-warming symbol of the endurable and pleasant sides of existence. Her adventures are with the little things of life, so recognizable that she has become to thousands, not a character in a book, but a real person."

Says the Philadelphia Inquirer: "It is our guess that Americans from Bangor to San Pedro will be quoting Mrs. Miniver, and her acquaintances for months to come."

Houston Now Famous For Its Gardens

By WILLIAM T. RIVES
Associated Press Staff
Texans with money never do anything half-heartedly.

About 10 years ago many of Houston's wealthy nature lovers, tired of growing only summertime roots, began hunting for plants of beauty which would thrive in mid-winter. The fact that Houston had no flora which satisfied their discriminating tastes did not deter them. They took direct action and spent fortunes in transplanting and raising gorgeous trees, shrubs and flowers.

So well has the work been done, Houston has almost as much claim to attention through its gardens as through its heavyweight leap on the scales of business and industry. The answer to the search for rare and exquisite plants was found in the Old South's azaleas and camellias—shrubs which bear flowers in hues brilliant as the rainbow, generally running from whites to pinks and reds.

From Louisiana and Alabama, Houston's wealthy imported thousands of bushes; high-cost landscape architects and big staffs of gardening experts were hired; vast sums were spent to acidize the soil.

One oil man reportedly expended more than $100,000 merely to lay the foundation for his garden.

Soon gardens rivaling any in America were developing.

The River Oaks Garden club, one of the leaders in the huge-scale operation, annually holds an Azalea Trail, a trip through the outstanding gardens.

Flower-lovers from over the nation come to take a peep. Twelve thousand persons tramped through a single garden during one of the Azalea Trails.

Word of the club's work has spread so widely that requests for its pamphlets on the culture of azaleas and camellias, annually holds an Azalea Trail, a trip through the outstanding gardens.

The club also gives a Camellia show at the River Oaks Country club, reportedly the only free show of its kind in the nation.

Some of the more prominent gardens are those of Miss Irma Hogg, daughter of the late governor, Jim Hogg, and Mrs. E. Green, Jr., chief counsel for an oil company; Harry Hansen and H. R. Cullen, oil men, and the late Robert Neal, banker and coffee manufacturer.

Miss Irma's pride, "Bayou Bend," is an 11-acre tract of natural woodland, with redwood and dogwood trees in profusion.

The garden Diana, constructed as a setting for an exquisite statue of the goddess of the chase. A reflection pool, banked by hedges and pantries, runs from the terrace of the Hogg home to the statue.

At Mike Hogg's garden, trails banked with azaleas, dogwood and wisteria wind toward rock-ledged pools and waterfalls.

The Green garden is four acres of the finest collection of azaleas and camellias and berry-bearing bushes.

The Neal garden with azaleas, camellias, lawlorn "rees" and other plants, was ranked by a national magazine among the 14 most beautiful in the United States.

One of Cullen's prize camellias runs to the second story of his home.

Hansen's garden contains a salmon pink azalea more than 70 years old, 9 feet high with a spread of 15 feet. Hansen's favorite spot is his "peppercorn" hedges, "garden," where he has tulips and jinquills growing by the side of onions, cabbages, asparagus and blooming fruit trees.

Hansens make a great to-do over their statue of the little girl standing in the midst of a multitude of flowers. They have a pet name for her, "talk" to her frequently, and when a northern blow whips they carefully drape a goat over her.

The Esther McCrory made an important gift to the museum when the first unit was being constructed, and has now hastened construction of the second unit. A basement addition was constructed through an appropriation of the centennial commission.

Panhandle citizens and school children already have given 175,000 "common brick" and several thousand dollars toward the new project. The brick campaign was originated by John McCarty, Amarillo newspaperman, a director of the society.

The museum is often praised as one of the South's finest in its field. It has perpetuated evidence of Panhandle history from earliest geologic ages down to the present.

2,000 Members Of Baptist Student Union Convene

It will be the twentieth annual session of the Texas Baptist Student union, J. W. (Bill) Marshall of Dallas is state secretary.

Seventy-five students will join 16 adult church leaders in the program, continuing through Sunday morning.

Charles Wells, newspaper feature writer and cartoonist who has spent 15 years in Europe and Asia, and Marshall, who has just returned from China, will be featured in giving the convention a world-wide emphasis. Wells will deliver a series of crayon illustrated talks on "Christ and World Needs."

North America is inhabited by approximately 80,000 different kinds of insects, 10,000 of which are injurious pests.

States Contain Areas Not In United States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Dusty files in the general land office disclose the strange fact that five states contain whole areas which, as far as the country's title goes, are not a part of the United States.

Only one of the states, Colorado, has taken the trouble to do anything about the situation, hoisting a flag several years ago and claiming the area in the name of the federal government.

As far as the land office knows, the others—Minnesota, North Dakota, Louisiana and South Dakota—have neither claimed nor "conquered" their no man's lands.

When Napoleon peddled that large sub-division known as the Louisiana purchase to America he could have used a better surveyor, to say the least.

Broadly, the territory included the western drainage basin of the Mississippi river. The negotiators made mistakes, though.

They believed certain sections drained into the Great Lakes. So, under terms of the treaty, parts of what became Minnesota, North and South Dakota are not properly parts of the purchase.

The same thing happened in Louisiana.

A portion of this state—thought to drain into the Mississippi—turned out to drain into the Sabine river.

A part of Colorado was a little more involved.

A small part near Estes park was discovered not to drain into the Mississippi, and hence was not a part of the Louisiana purchase. On the other hand, it was east of the continental divide and not a part of Mexico ceded to the United States in 1848.

All these areas may not be parts of the United States according to strict official interpretation, but as an expert at the land office said: "It'd like to see someone outside of these states try to claim them."

Security Payments Total $3,174.93

At the end of September, monthly payments totaling $3,174.93 were being received by 185 persons in the area served by the Amarillo office of the Social Security board according to the statement of Dewey Reed, manager. "Of the 185," Reed said, "84 are fully-insured wage earners aged 65 or over who have retired from covered employment. In addition, 36 wives and widows are receiving payments each month, as well as 65 children of wage earners. Besides the monthly payments, $5,840.16 has been paid in lump-sum benefits since January 1, 1940, in cases in which no monthly benefits were payable.

The Amarillo field office, Reed said, will lend every assistance without cost to those desiring to file a claim. Furthermore, Reed pointed out that regular itinerant service is maintained at Borger, Canadian, Childress, Dalhart, Hereford, Memphis, Pampa, Perryton, Shamrock, Tulsa, and Wellington, for the purpose of assisting claimants to completely prepare their claims. Arrangements can be made by mail for an appointment at one of these towns if it is not convenient for the claimant to visit the field office the manager said.

800,000 To Be In Army By Next June 15

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The war department plans to have the first 800,000 selective service trainees in the army by June 15.

The program, announced by Secretary of War Stimson, means, in effect, that one man in every 20 of the 16,654,000 who registered Wednesday probably will be called to the colors within the next eight months.

Stimson also disclosed yesterday that the remaining units of the national guard, numbering some 130,000 men, would be ordered up for duty by early February. Approximately 96,000 guardsmen already have been mobilized.

The conscription schedule contained one definite surprise—word that 18,000 of the men called up would be assigned to the elite corps of modern mechanized armies—the armored divisions.

Secretary Stimson said adequate housing facilities would be available for all men inducted into service. Outlining plans for the first 800,000 conscription trainees, Stimson said the initial contingent of 30,000 would be called on or about November 18. The schedule thereafter: December 2, 60,000; January 3, 60,000; February 10, 160,000; March 5, 200,000; and June 15, 200,000.

Enlightened over the comparative smoothness of a nation-wide registration which exceeded advance estimates by over 200,000, national draft headquarters give assurances its far-flung organization could keep pace with army needs in classifying and selecting men for the call to service.

Headquarters predicted 400,000 class 1 volunteers and conscripts, fit and ready for service, would be classified by January 1, about 50,000 ahead of the army's schedule. Volunteers will not be accepted until classified and found to be qualified, but then they may offer themselves if they wish to discharge immediately their obligation for a year's service.

Noting the quick response to registration, headquarters forecast that all or most of the first 30,000 men sent to camp would be one-year volunteers between 18 and 36. Some officials expected 200,000 to volunteer eventually, giving a reprieve to an equal number not anxious to go.

Ann Sheridan On Suspension List

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18 (AP)—Ann Sheridan, who studied to be a school-teacher and became an "omph girl" instead, went on Warner Bros. studio's suspension list today because she wants her salary boosted from $600 to $2,000 a week.

Conferences between studio executives and her agent preceded the suspension, a spokesman said. First hint that anything was amiss between the Texas red-head and her employers came last week when she failed to report for wardrobe fittings for a new picture.

The film, "Strawberry Blonde," was written for her from the stage play "One Sunday Afternoon." She has been in Pasadena, Lower Calif., on vacation for nine weeks. Under her present contract, she still has four weeks of rest coming.

The spokesman said reports that efforts were under way to obtain Rita Hayworth for the part were "premature." Suspensions are not uncommon on the Warner lot, where such stars as Bette Davis, James Cagney, Olivia de Havilland and Priscilla LaSalle have been blacklisted on occasion.

Sentence Suspended
WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 18 (AP)—D. L. Hickey, pump station engineer, was under a five-year suspended sentence in the slaying of S. B. Bell January 22 in an oil field pump station near Electra. A jury returned the verdict yesterday in district court.

Fruits Of State Socialism

There is but one way to judge any system of government—and that is by what it produces for the great masses of those who live under it.

Today there is a struggle going on in the world between two diametrically opposed kinds of government. One kind is state socialism, which has spread over much of once-democratic Europe. The other is the system of private enterprise, which is found, with one or two minor exceptions, only in the English speaking world.

It's up to the American people to make their choice. And that choice must be based on a thorough knowledge of the facts—of what the two kinds of government have been able to achieve. For that kind of comparison, Soviet Russia is the perfect example.

A short time ago the New York Times closed its Moscow Bureau, which it had maintained for 18 years, because censorship made it impossible for any correspondents, save Germans, to obtain accurate news.

A horde of purchasers descended on Mr. Geyde, seeking to buy household effects when he left Moscow. The wife of an important ambassador begged for old kitchen pots and pans. Another ambassador sent a special messenger on the chance that Mr. Geyde might have some dog biscuits to sell or give away.

"Hopes of a second-hand pair of boots," Mr. Geyde wrote, "the rumor that some store has a few oranges, a foreigner who might be induced to sell an old shirt or raincoat—these are the questions that agitate the average Soviet citizen." Even the government, he added, finally had to admit "serious deficiencies in almost every direction."

That is life under state socialism—and the statistics back up every word of it and more. One survey showed that a good woolen suit cost $213, U. S. money, in Moscow—the equivalent of 115 days' work for the average worker. A suit of wool underwear cost $28, or 15 days' work.

America in depression is infinitely more prosperous than Russia in a boom. The same is true of other nations where state socialism—with all its destruction of liberties and private opportunity on top of its destruction of the workers' standard of living—has been forced on the people. The undeniable evidence from abroad should be sufficient to make the maintenance of our system of free, private enterprise, the first thought of every citizen, regardless of his political affiliations.

Behind The News

By BRUCE CATTON The Pampa News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Most people may overlook its importance, but as striking a "Freedom of the Press" case as the Supreme Court has had to deal with in a long time now awaits hearing. The case deals with an appeal by the Los Angeles Times from a contempt of court conviction in a California court.

The Times was had up originally because of three editorials it wrote in the fall of 1937 and the spring of 1938. These editorials commented on (1) A jury's conviction of 22 sit-down strikers, (2) the ins and outs of "boss rule" in Los Angeles, following conviction of two persons accused of having solicited bribes, and (3) the application for probation of two men who had been convicted of assaulting non-union truck drivers.

The Los Angeles Bar Association, reading these three editorials, petitioned the local court to hold the newspaper in contempt. In due time the Times was cited and convicted, and the conviction later was upheld in the state Supreme Court.

TRIALS OVER BEFORE PUBLICATION

Importance of the case rests in the fact that its outcome may affect civil liberties of the average man for years to come.

Point at issue is whether a paper may be held in contempt if its editorial remarks may have a "reasonable tendency" to influence justice, or whether there must be a "clear and present danger" that they will have that effect.

The Times makes the points that the trials on which it commented were all over before the editorials complained of were published, and that none of the judges sitting in the cases in question had read the editorials anyhow. Thereupon it raises the question: when is it proper for a newspaper to discuss cases which are before the courts?

In a brief filed with the Supreme Court, the Times' counsel makes this assertion:

"If these rulings are permitted to stand, no public comment may be made on problems of social, economic or moral consequence involved in court proceedings, even though the proceedings have passed the stage of finally following the entry of verdict of a jury or the judgment of a court. The voices of the soap-box orator and radio commentator are stifled, the news-

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

Since there is such confusion as to what God is and since the concept we have of God governs our philosophy of life and our social relation and progress and happiness, a few quotations are in order from a recent conference in New York of a body of thinkers there for the momentous task, as they expressed it, of unifying the thought of the democracy.

At this meeting Albert Einstein expounded his own ideas of God which before had been little known publicly and never before so emphatically stated. I quote:

"The main cause of the present-day conflicts between the spheres of religion and of science lies in this concept of a personal God.

"The more a man is imbued with the ordered regularity of all events, the firmer becomes his conviction that there is no room left by the side of this ordered regularity for causes of a different nature. For him, neither the rule of human nor the rule of Divine Will exists as an independent cause of natural events.

"To be sure, the doctrine of a personal God interfering with natural events could never be refuted in the real sense by science, for this doctrine can always take refuge in those domains in which scientific knowledge has not yet been able to set foot. But I am persuaded that such behavior on the part of the representatives of religion would not only be unworthy but also fatal.

"For a doctrine which is able to maintain itself, not in clear light, but only in the dark, will of necessity, lose its effect on mankind with incalculable harm to human progress.

"In their struggle for the ethical good, teachers of religion must have the stature to give up the doctrine of a personal God—that is, give up that source of fear and hope which in the past placed such vast power in the hands of priests. In their labors they will have to avail themselves of those forces which are capable of cultivating the Good, the True and the Beautiful in Humanity itself. That is, to be sure, a more difficult but an incomparably more worthy task.

"Whoever has undergone the intense experience of successful advances in the domain of scientific thought is moved by profound reverence for the rationality made manifest in existence. By way of the understanding, he achieves a far-reaching emancipation from the shackles of personal hope and desires and thereby attains that humble fitness of being toward the grandeur of reason incarnate in existence, which, in its profoundest depths is inaccessible to man. This attitude, however, appears to me to be religion in the highest sense of the word.

"And so it seems to me that science not only purifies the religious impulse of the dross of its anthropomorphism (God in man's image), but also contributes to a religious spiritualization of our understanding of life.

"The further the spiritual evolution of mankind advances, the more certain it seems to me that the path to genuine religiosity does not lie through the fear of life and the fear of death and blind faith, but through striving after rational knowledge. In this sense, I believe that the priest must become a teacher if he wishes to do justice to his lofty educational mission."

"Concept of God" Discussed

In contrast to his reverence for reason, Professor Einstein characterized the "concept of God" as follows:

"During the youthful period of mankind's spiritual evolution, human fantasy created gods in man's own image, who by operations of their will were supposed to determine or at any rate to influence the phenomenal world. Man sought to alter the disposition of these gods in his own favor by means of magic and prayer.

"The idea of God in the religions taught at present is a sublimation of that old conception of the gods. Its anthropomorphic character is shown, for instance, by the fact that men appeal to the Divine Being in prayers and plead for the fulfillment of their wishes.

"Nobody certainly will deny that the idea of the existence of an omnipotent, just and omnibenevolent personal God is able to accord man solace, help and guidance; also, by virtue of its simplicity, the concept is accessible to the most undeveloped mind.

"But, on the other hand, there are decisive weaknesses attached to this idea in itself, which have been painfully felt since the beginning of history. That is, if this Being is omnipotent, then every occurrence, including every human action, every human thought and every human feeling and aspiration is also his work. How, then, is it possible to think of holding men responsible for their deeds and thoughts before such an Almighty Being? In giving our punishment and rewards He would to a certain extent be passing judgment on Himself. How can this be combined with the goodness and righteousness ascribed to Him?"

This concept of religion or of God as expressed by Einstein is the concept I have been attempting to present in a former article.

OPENS DOOR TO MORE ATTACKS

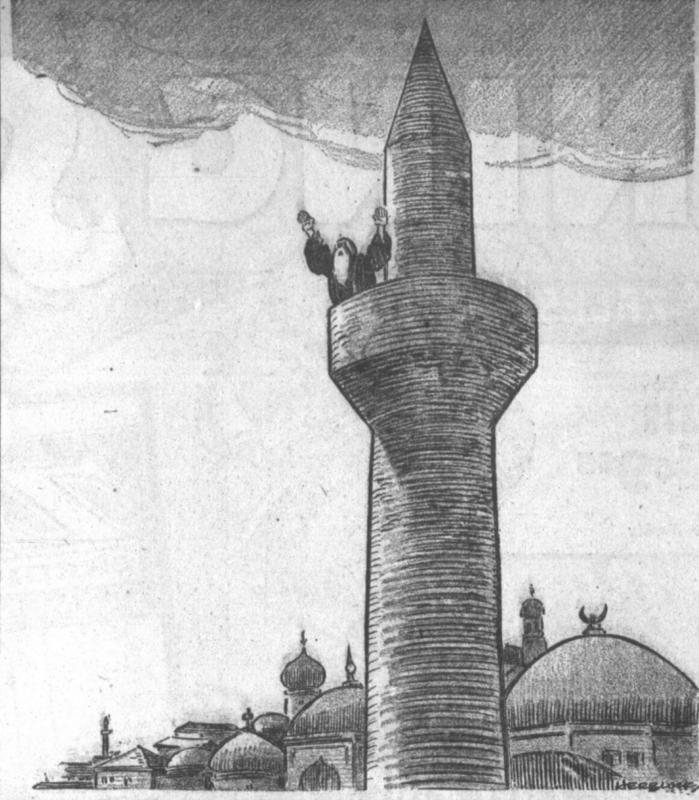

In an amicus curiae brief filed by Elisha Hanson, attorney for the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, the manner in which the contempt cases were instigated is caustically reviewed.

The Los Angeles Bar Association petitioned for the contempt proceedings, says Hanson's brief, because of long-standing dissatisfaction with the Times' editorial policy, and following an extended search of the paper's editorial columns "in the hope that something would turn up to support a charge of contempt." The brief adds:

"In effect, the bar association had set itself up as a self-appointed public censor of the press. Such a 'perverse threat' would impose an intolerable restraint upon the press."

Should a bar association committee be recognized as a proper means of starting a contempt proceeding in such circumstances, the brief asserts, "then the door will be opened to other agencies with alleged grievances against the press and the constitutional guarantee will be whittled away by subsequent encroachments."

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18.—The busiest strip of film in the whole film capital is a Metro screen test of Comedian Richard Skelton. It won him a job weeks ago, and he already has finished his role as a fellow aviator with Bob Taylor in "Flight Command." But that initial test keeps reeling along.

Executives invite friends to see it. Other studios are borrowing it for laughs. M-G-M is considering issuing it as a short. The tall young redhead was allowed to anything he chose, so he put on a one-man vaudeville program highlighted by satirical impressions of various movie heroes dying.

Watching the well-timed pantomime and neckfalls, I felt pretty sure Red Skelton must have had some training in burlesque. And so he had, but he got it in lots of other places, too—in every form of show business, actually, except grand opera and carnivals. Vaudeville, of course, and burlesque, dramatic stock companies, radio and movies.

Those would be plenty for an actor of 27, but Skelton has worked with a medicine show, trouped with vent shows, sailed with the show-boat Cotton Blossom on the big river, toured with a circus as a clown. He has appeared in television. And as a master of ceremonies he has pretty much hit the low and high spots of his career. His announcing once brightened those dreary festivals of fatigue, the walkathons.

And in the last two years he has m-e-d the President's Birthday Ball in Washington, doing 24 shows and three broadcasts in a day and night.

"Flight Command" isn't his movie debut. He made a few comedy shorts in 1937 and in 1937 was snatched from a New York stage and sent here to play the recreational director in "Having Wonderful Time"—a role for which he was especially well fitted by experience on the borsch circuit of summer hotels.

And in the last two years he has m-e-d the President's Birthday Ball in Washington, doing 24 shows and three broadcasts in a day and night.

ALREADY THE SECOND-BEST COMIC

After a few seasons divided between repertory-under-canvas, circus clowning, showboating, and very small-time vaudeville, Skelton found himself, at 18, billed as the youngest star comedian in burlesque. In Kansas City he got a chance to fill in for a canceled act at one of the big picture palaces and there he met an usherette. It was the luckiest thing that ever happened to him.

Red and Edna Skelton have been married nine years now. She works with him on the stage and helps write his material. A tall, pretty blond, she laughs at the memories of lean years, of 65-a-week tenement rooms of trying to write and act funny on empty stomachs, of trouping with such shabby little companies she had to stay in the box office to make sure such managers didn't abscond with the receipts.

Dutch Hubert was already at peace with man, and he made his peace with God before he died. He seemed to sense Sunday afternoon that the end was not far off, and he called for a priest who administered extreme unction, the last rites of the Catholic church. After that Dutch appeared to be a different man. "Things will be different when I get out of here," he promised and you felt that he meant it. But Dutch until his last breath was irrepressibly exuberant, and nurses and attendants couldn't keep him in bed. They were afraid that his heart complication would prove his undoing, but he would talk too much and he wanted to get up and walk around.

Do you recall the Bible story of the two thieves on the cross? One was on either side of Jesus at Golgotha. One scorned and mocked the Holy Nazarene. The other repented of his sins, and to him Jesus said, "This day thou shalt be with me in Paradise."

We are glad that Dutch made his peace with God. Dutch was a fighter all his life, and he had no hate in him for his adversaries. He fought for the fun of it. My favorite story about him was told by friends of his who knew him in 1918. Dutch was called to war the day after the armistice was signed, and the old field workers around Eureka, Kans., where Dutch was working said, "The Kaiser must have quit when he heard that Dutch and his casing crew were coming."

Speaking of death Roy Bourland has driven behind two death cars in the last week. Yesterday he was only four or five minutes behind the truck and the car that crashed near Skellytown. The truck driver opened a door and was thrown out on the ground, and Doc Pursley who was driving right behind the truck nearly ran over the driver.

The truck motor was showed to the spot where he had been sitting. The front seat of the car was covered with brains, and teeth and bits of skull. Roy said that it did not seem possible that two new vehicles could be so completely wrecked. "It's been my aim for years to observe all the rules of safety in driving," said Roy, "and after witnessing such an accident, I resolve to try to drive with greater care."

Patriotic Shook

MUNCIE, Ind., Oct. 18 (AP)—John Short's patriotic impulse short-circuited.

The 56-year-old gasoline station owner went to the roof of his place to put up a flag pole. The pole fell onto a 2,300-volt wire. Short was knocked unconscious. It took police and firemen 45 minutes to revive him.

to-coast sponsored radio program which they built to a high popularity rating. Everything looks swell these days, but the Skeltons are as ambitious as ever; they want Red to be a great comedian. "Of course," he says with mock smugness, "I'm already the second-best comic. . . . Who's first? Well, the last time I counted up, there were 29 guys claiming that position."

YOUR NERVES

DRIVE DEPRESSION FROM THE MIND TO ESCAPE FATIGUE

This is one of a series of special articles revealing typical cases of nervous and mental disorders and their treatment through thought control as carried out by the author and his associates at the Boston Dispensary, famous charitable health clinic.

By WINFRED RHODES

There are three kinds of fatigue. There is the legitimate fatigue which is felt at the end of a day of wholesome work. There is fatigue that is felt when the body is putting up a tremendous fight to overcome some diseased condition. And there is a fatigue which is the physical manifestation of a depressed state of mind.

The latter was the kind of fatigue from which Mrs. C. was suffering.

"I felt as if I couldn't go on," she says when asked about it. "I was done with life. Ten more years to bring up my youngsters, and then I wanted it to end."

"This 10 more years seemed interminable" and almost impossible. Yet today Mrs. C.'s alert manner, erect bearing, springing step, and quick, bright speech make you wonder if she had ever seen a tired day in her life.

Ask her what she did to pull herself up out of that condition and she will tell you: "I stopped playing myself, and I relaxed." She did those things, and something more. She began to practice positive thinking instead of negative. Instead of dwelling on her miseries, she taught herself to think how she could develop courage, and how she could make more out of herself.

In less than three years of time her husband and a brother had been killed and another brother drowned, her father had died, and her oldest son had begun to drink. Under this heaping up of calamities Mrs. C. had let her spirit sag.

She had nourished the thought that life was unfair and against her. She had permitted self-pity, which is one of the most withering of the emotions to take hold upon her.

It was when she taught herself to think hopefully instead of despairingly, to think "I can" instead of "I can't," that life became a new experience. "I used to wonder why people I met were so happy and I so sad," she reported to the leader of the Class in Thought Control two or three days ago; "but now I'm happy too—with God's help and yours."

Fatigue is one of the commonest manifestations of lack of adjustment to life. The situation with which you have to deal may be an unhappy home life, an irritating boss at the place where you work, a baffling complexity for which you can see no solution, a proposal of marriage, the lack of a proposal, a sudden grief, inability to get a job, financial insecurity, dissatisfaction with your-

IF IT came within our jurisdiction, we would put a ban on that song, "I Hate You," and bar it from the radio for at least two years.

It has been played and sung to death, falling into the category of songs that met a similar fate in recent years, such as "The Music Goes Round and Round," "The Merry-Go-Round Broke Down," "Yes, We Have No Bananas," "Three Little Fishes," "The Little Fox," etc., etc. . . . A new number which rolls over on the floor is Rudy Vallee's "The Three Birds" with vocal by Cyril Smith. . . . It is not released for radio. . . . In fact, it is not adaptable for anything but stag parties.

Pampa's nationally-known Johnny Campbell, the 12-year-old Junior high pupil who flew to New York to appear on "We, The People" with Gene Autry and the other eight, to tell the nation how his gang of kids helped to elect Gene Worley to congress, will arrive back in Pampa Saturday night. He decided to make the trip home by train instead of by plane.

When he returns he will have a bagful of experiences to relate to fellow members of the "Mr. Worley Goes Washington" club. . . . Among these was photographed with Jack Dempsey in Jack's New York restaurant, with Al Smith atop the Empire State building, and with Gene Autry at the World's Fair.

WED'd like to say a word here about Dr. N. L. Nicholl, assistant city health officer, who is getting ready to lay down a barrage against any connected with the food business in Pampa who have been getting lax about observing all the rules of the law governing the handling of foods sold for public consumption. . . . First thing Dr. Nicholl has in mind is to beat down on operators with employes in their establishments who have not obtained health certificates or made renewals on certificates which have run their six months and have expired.

For the community's health, the public owes it to Dr. Nicholl and the city health department to back him to the limit in this campaign to enforce the law to the letter. . . . Nothing is more harmful to the health of any community than a laxity on regulations governing the dispensing of foods. . . . Dr. Nicholl believes that most of the people in Pampa are not wilful, but due to negligence more than anything else. . . . However, the time has come, he says, when everybody is going to have to toe the mark. . . . The warnings have been given, he says. . . . Now, those who have neglected these must suffer the consequences.

RECENT meditation has brought us to the conclusion that what we need more than anything else right now is a lot of bellylaughs. . . . That goes for the people as a whole. Laughter isn't new. It's the oldest and most potent "white magic." . . . If we will only use it—we have something powerful, built on the deep, rollicking, robust plea of an adventurous people. The tools against tragedy are few, it is admitted, but we have one weapon that nobody can beat. . . . We have laughter. . . . And, now is a swell time to laugh. . . . Especially, we are making great use of it and it's a grand tonic. . . . So, it is hereby recommended to our friends in Pampa as individuals, to families, to communities, nations and to the world at large.

Of course, these are grim times and we must prepare—but this preparedness should not be limited solely to stupid steel and dynamite. . . . What we need is a revival of that old-time humor, that cocky, high-heartedness which once was young America's biggest asset. . . . Let's bring back the grin that dumpled the tea in Boston harbor and wise-cracked through Valley Forge. . . . Let's go back to faith and fun, individuality and nationality. . . . The next time something looms up in front of you so big that it looks like it was going to throw you in reverse—make it a point to get yourself a bellylaugh. . . . It will surprise you how quickly the light will turn green. . . . And it's a sure cure for what ails you.

HITLER seems to be still using astrology to guide him in his war plans. It is claimed by astrologists that in the Russo-Japanese war of 1904-05 the Japanese used astrology as Hitler does at present. . . . self, the feeling that life is too hard altogether. Whatever it is, you must take this attitude: "There is a way out, and I will take this unhappiness as a challenge to find it." Are you feeling always tired? Do you dread every morning to get up and tackle the day that is before you? Look into your mind and ask yourself what is really it that you are tired of. Then make the best kind of adjustment that is possible.

As one eminent psychologist has expressed it, you can't think with what you are not thinking of, and therefore you must keep the difficulty from becoming an obsession. You must make a constructive adjustment mentally and emotionally, whether the situation changes or remains as it is.

You must get conflict out of your mind. To yield is sometimes as important as to thrive, to accept is important as to resist.

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

News Item: ISTANBUL, Turkey, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Turkish radio (government controlled) warns the Axis powers that if they attempt a drive across the Dardanelles to Egypt and the Suez canal they will find Turkey a tougher nut to crack than the Netherlands, Belgium or France.

The threatened Axis thrust down the Balkans to the Near East, naturally creates another danger to the life of the British empire, but on the basis that it's a nasty wind that doesn't cool the fevered brow at all, I can see some benefit for England—much benefit if Hitler and Mussolini start their push and are stopped at the Dardanelles.

England is depending on her control of the seas to pull her through the war. She's banking on her naval blockade to strangle the enemy. This being so, the destruction or dissipation of enemy supplies, while the blockade prevents replacements, is all to the good for Britain.

When the Nazi and Fascist armies are on the move, they're burning up precious military supplies. That's only part of the picture. When Hitler occupies a country (as he has Rumania, for example) it's true that he may profit at the outset by fresh supplies. However, the occupied country soon is exhausted by this extra burden and becomes a liability to Nazidom.

This has happened in every one of the countries Hitler has overrun in western Europe. That's why he's still more of it. Every one of these countries when free was working like a beaver to create supplies for the omnivorous German market. In rendering them impotent the Nazis have killed the geese which were laying the golden eggs.

Complete stoppage of supplies, due to the holocaust which bids fair to sweep the Balkans, would put Herr Hitler on a tough spot—providing that Turkey, with the naval aid of Britain, holds the Axis forces at the Dardanelles. But supposing the dictators do break through into the Near East?

That will increase Britain's danger and add to the resources of the Axis powers. Still, it doesn't necessarily mean they can reach the Suez canal, a vital link in Britain's lifeline of empire and naturally one of the principal Axis goals.

There seems to be a widespread impression that if the German and Italian forces can get into Syria and Palestine, there's nothing to prevent them from sweeping on to the canal. However, there's plenty to discourage an army to the east of the Suez.

That is the Sinai desert—a waterless, smoking hell if there ever was one. It's a fine natural defense from attack from the east.

Thus on the whole I should say that the British aren't dismayed because of the war spreading to the Balkans.

Magnolia Dealers Offer Program On Preparedness

The semi-annual campaign of Magnolia dealers, in five Southwestern states, to remind motorists that their cars need Winterproof Service for safer driving is under way.

"If we always had as severe weather as we did last year," said George Miller, vice-president in charge of marketing for the Magnolia Petroleum company, "our task of reminding motorists of the importance of preparing their cars for winter driving would be comparatively simple."

"However, the fact that Southwestern winter weather can never be predicted is all the more reason that motorists in this section should have their cars prepared for the unexpected cold spells that can cause car trouble and unnecessary repair bills."

"All car manufacturers agree that their cars need a semi-annual servicing, such as Winterproof Service, for best, most economical operation. The seven points of Winterproof Service include draining and refilling the crankcase with correct, winter-weight oil; removing, cleaning and repacking wheel bearings; draining, flushing of radiator, and addition of anti-freeze; complete lubrication of chassis; draining, flushing and refilling of transmission and differential with correct, winter-weight gear oils; hydrometer testing of battery, plus cleaning and tightening of terminals.

"Any motorist can convince himself of the need for this semi-annual servicing by attempting to pour summer-weight oil in cold weather. He will find the task as difficult as pouring cold molasses.

"Inside your motor this can be serious because oil must flow quickly to moving parts to protect them."

Stone Statue Of Christ Dedicated

EL PASO, Oct. 13 (AP)—Dedicating a 40-foot stone statue of Christ, Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen of Catholic university said the religious could not withdraw from the world but must lead and direct the social revolution, not follow it.

He spoke here yesterday on Mount Chisno Rey where hundreds of Catholic followers had gathered for the ceremony.

Monsignor Sheen called for more penitential and sacrificial Catholics rather than merely devotional Catholics.

WTSC Ready To Welcome Exes At Homecoming

Special To The News
CANYON, Oct. 18.—Plans were being given final approval, circuit tents were going up, more candidates for queen were being certified, and the sound of hammer and saw echoed over the campus this afternoon as Saturday's homecoming celebration drew the attention of several hundred persons in this community.

Launched on its present plan three years ago, homecoming has grown to become the Southwest's largest and most colorful collegiate celebration. Canyon citizens turn out en masse and the program this year will bring ex-students from half a dozen states.

Clarence Thompson, local hardware merchant who virtually sets aside a week each year to manage the mammoth night club, has obtained tents from the Amarillo Tent & Awning company and the Western Tent & Awning company, and these were going up late today.

One will house the 205-foot midway and the other "Old Tascosa," where oldtime dancing, string music, and a "bar" will be located. Three ballrooms will be provided inside Cousins hall nearby, each with an orchestra. Decorations will be elaborate and costumes numerous Saturday night.

A hobby exhibit at the Panhandle Plains museum and guessing on the subject of an abstract painting by a prominent Panhandle artist will first draw the interest of homecoming former students and their friends. A prize will be given the person who best identifies and describes the mystery picture at the museum.

Program Starts At 9 a. m.
Registration will begin at 9 a. m. in the administration building main hall. At 10:30 a. m. the homecoming assembly will include a program, introduction of candidates for queen of the celebration, presentation of new ex-student officers and special awards for ex-student parents of present students.

More than a score of homecoming queen candidates will be guests of faculty men at a luncheon in the home economics dining room. Major event of the afternoon will be the football game at 2:30 o'clock. Visiting high school bands will perform and the gridiron queen will be crowned. Dr. J. A. Hill will make several awards to ex-students based on distance traveled, size of families present, popularity vote, and vote on the handsomest ex-student.

Queen candidates will rehearse at 6:30 p. m. for their coronation ceremony in the main auditorium at 7:30 p. m. The coronation will be enhanced in appeal by a fine arts program given by Amarillo artists. These artists will include Miss combined with McCullough Memorial there at 11:00 a. m. Epworth league. 6:30 p. m. Evening worship at 7:30 p. m. with Rev. Oscar Bruce of Adrian preaching.

Evangelistic Series Will Begin At Church Of Brethren Sunday

"Go-To-Church Sunday" will have a double significance at the Church of the Brethren, 600 North Frost street, falling as it does upon the opening day of a two-week's evangelistic campaign. The Rev. Russell G. West, above, pastor, who will preach twice on Sundays and each evening at 7:30 o'clock during the week, has chosen for the opening Sunday the following subjects: At 11 a. m., "The Great Physician—and Surgeon"; at 7:30 p. m., "The Tragic Biography of Judas." If you have no regular church home in this community you are invited to attend these services.

Duck Hunting Important

YAKIMA, Wash., Oct. 18 (AP)—They take their duck hunting seriously in Yakima.

This program and the night club starting at 8:30 p. m. are free to everyone. Friends of the institution and ex-students of other colleges are being invited to attend.

Themes at night club divisions will include the carnival midway, Old Tascosa, El Coronado Inn with its Mexican cabaret, Palm Plaza with modern dancing, and Liberty Terrace, where the Rhythm Clowns of Amarillo will play. Mural paintings will be used in decorations. It will be "open house" throughout the college—and no classes Saturday.

McCullough And Harrah Churches In Building Program

To meet the needs of increasing attendance in all departments of the church and church schools, extensions to the present buildings are being made at McCullough Memorial and Harrah Chapel Methodist churches. The new additions, which are well on their way to completion include four new classrooms in the upper structure with 24 by 34 foot basements.

The need of this expansion program has been evidenced by the overflow crowds of the past two Sundays. Well over 250 have attended church school with all records being broken. McCullough with 150 present.

The Rev. Hubert Bratcher is pastor of these growing young churches with J. R. Combs superintendent of the church school at Harrah chapel and J. R. Nelson, superintendent at McCullough Memorial.

With the added impetus of the Go-To-Church Day movement a goal of 300 has been set for Sunday.

Farmer, Son Held In Coal Pit Slaying

CLEMORE, Okla., Oct. 18 (AP)—County Attorney D. M. Battenfield said today a farmer and his son were held for questioning in the fatal slaying of Blair L. Barnes, Long Beach, Calif., whose body was found in an abandoned coal pit six miles east of Chelsea.

The county attorney said an Erie, Pa. man was sought after his name was found on papers in a blood-stained car owned by Barnes which was picked up on a Tulsa street, Oct. 8.

Barnes, the son of Fred L. Barnes, partner director of the Cory, Battenfield said the farmer and his son were arrested after a cedar chest, containing a woman and a child's clothes, was found at their farmhouse.

Barnes had left Pennsylvania with a similar cedar chest in his car, Battenfield said. The farmer and his son declared they found the chest along the roadside about three weeks ago.

Battenfield said Pennsylvania relatives reported it was possible Barnes may have picked up some passengers in Erie, Pa., for the trip westward.

In Tulsa, Detective R. L. Delaney said several articles of women's clothing were found in the abandoned car. A map of Long Beach, Calif., with code markings on it was discovered in a pocket of the car and it was turned over to the federal bureau of investigation.

Delaney said he was investigating the possibility that other persons may have been passengers in the machine and may have also met and their bodies hidden in the coal pits, some of which were partially filled with water, in the Chelsea area.

Johnny's Story Dramatized Over State Network

Pampa received more publicity over the air waves again yesterday.

The Texas School of the Air which broadcasts a program regularly each Thursday afternoon over the Texas State Network, devoted its entire program yesterday to a dramatization of Johnny Campbell's story in Life. Among the stations on the Texas State network are WFAA, Dallas, WOAI, San Antonio, KRPC, Houston and many others in Texas.

It was estimated that the program was heard over the entire southwest and middlewest.

Pampans were unaware that the program would be broadcast until they heard it.

The story of Pampa's Mr. Worley goes to Washington club as Johnny wrote it in Life magazine was told. A band, singers, speakers, pep squad took part in the rousing program which lasted 15 minutes.

Johnny will arrive back from his We The People broadcast in New York Saturday night. He spent Wednesday in Washington and is returning by way of Tennessee, Alabama.

His fan mail being received from all over the country continues to increase. As for Mr. Worley he announced that as soon as he answers several thousand letters he plans to resume his tour of the 28-county district and would spend the next two months contacting constituents and learning their wants and needs so that he might better serve them in congress when he takes his seat in January.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—The stock market bumped into considerable profit today but managed to post a net loss in its balance after a furious start.

Losses of fractions to 1/16 point were posted for stocks and other reasons. Industrial favorites were cut or replaced with small gains at the close.

The pace quickened on the recovery attempt. Transfers were around 600,000 shares.

The morning sell-back was attributed by brokers mainly to the customary cashing in on the eve of a week-end following three successive rising sessions. Business news was still helpful.

General Motors and Chrysler were about even the greater part of the day, although 20,000 shares of General Motors were sold by Ward at 114.67 1/2, a new top for the year.

Among supported stocks were American Telephone, Douglas Aircraft, Sears Roebuck, Paramount, Sunco, Pennsylvania, Chesapeake & Ohio, J. I. Case and International Harvester.

Backward most of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Crucible Steel, Du Pont, Dow Chemical, American Smelting, Standard Oil of N., Consolidated Edison, Edison.

ELECTION

ing trampled on and to keep out of war is to keep President Roosevelt in the white house.

At the same time, however, Thomas E. Dewey spoke in Pittsburgh, attacking "tragic blunders" of the New Deal in national defense matters.

Terrified by the results of its own policies but never admitting it, the New York district attorney said, "it is now borrowing 740 million dollars to build plants for national defense—those plants which could have been built and operating during all of those destructive New Deal years."

Secretary Stimson said at Washington yesterday that Willie had been "misled" into making inaccurate statements about delays in getting housing ready for conscripted soldiers. Housing units will be completed well ahead of the schedule under which the men will be called into service, he said.

President Roosevelt gave a hint of the nature of his forthcoming speeches in a message to a Pittsburgh Democratic rally last night.

"There has been so much deliberate misrepresentation in this campaign," he said, "I am determined to correct these misrepresentations and give the true facts to the people."

The speeches, all at night, will be broadcast nationwide, the time being paid for by the Democratic national committee. They were to be delivered at the Pittsburgh convention hall, October 23; New York Madison Square Garden, October 28; Constitution hall, Washington, October 30, and the public auditorium in Cleveland, November 2, the Saturday night before election.

A fifth radio address on election eve will be the usual appeal to the voters to go to the polls.

Last night Willie spoke to an audience which filled the 20,000 seats of the St. Louis arena, adding to his prepared address to say that if President Roosevelt is re-elected, he believed American boys would be sent to Europe. In event of his own election, Willie declared, no military force would be sent to the old world.

Wilkie Charges Roosevelt With 'Stealing Votes'

By THEODORE F. KOOP
ABOARD WILKIE TRAIN IN MISSOURI, Oct. 18 (AP)—Weyl L. Wilkie, standing before a weather-worn statue of Thomas Jefferson today called himself a political "amateur" at taking relief money and forcing men to vote because the government fulfills a social obligation in keeping them from starving.

"I do not know how to sit down in a dark room with Frank Hague and the Kelly-Nashes of Chicago," he said. "I do not know anything about making lofty speeches over the radio."

Wilkie said he could never engage in duplicity in poses in the creation of imaginary emergencies.

"I know nothing about how to seek to control men's votes as representatives or senators in congress," he said, "by throwing the full force of the patronage and power of the executive branch of the government to the aid of the party which does not become mine instead of men."

The Republican nominee made no reference to a previously prepared text.

Saying he was a believer in the constitutional system, the candidate added that he would "never by stealth, by indirection, seek to destroy the power" of the legislative and judicial branches of government.

Wilkie paid tribute to Jefferson, saying the country now should follow two of his "eternal principles"—a limitation on the power and continuation in office of the chief executive.

"He had another belief," Wilkie said, "that every man in America, no matter from where his ancestors came, perhaps even if they were among those sturdy Germans who came fleeing from oppression, that every man here is entitled to the right of citizenry."

France Establishes Anti-Jew Measures

VICHY, France, Oct. 18 (AP)—France followed the lead of most of Europe today, establishing strict anti-Jewish measures for the first time in her history.

Persons with three Jewish grandparents or with two Jewish grandparents and married to a Jew were excluded from all public administrations, from the press, the motion picture industry and radio, from holding an officer's rank in any branch of the armed forces, from working in the law courts in any other capacity than as a lawyer and from the colonial administration.

Unofficial estimates placed the number of Jewish citizens of France and the colonies at slightly more than 400,000. Estimates of the number of foreign Jews in France were slightly higher.

The only exceptions made to the rulings of the Petain government were for Jews who were decorated either in the wars of 1914 or 1939 or for Jews who "rendered distinguished services" in literary, artistic or scientific work.

The government also promulgated a decree giving local prefects the right to confine any foreign Jew to concentration camps to be set up in each department or to fix the place of residence, similar to the central European ghettos.

More severe measures already have been taken in Paris by German authorities. The activities of Jews there have been strictly limited, even in commerce, and they are not permitted to pass from the unoccupied to the occupied zone.

Federal Oil Control Seen By C. C. Small

DALLAS, Oct. 18 (AP)—If states cannot get together and equally regulate every oil pool, giving every producer fair treatment, and slash production so there will be no excess storage, the federal government will be forced to step in with regulatory measures, Clint C. Small, former state senator from Amarillo, warned today.

Small, addressing the eleventh annual Independent Petroleum Association of America convention, added he believed the industry can solve its own problems, without federal assistance, but he emphasized that the states must take the necessary steps.

The oil producer, he said, is no longer absolute owner of his property and he can no longer use it as he might dictate. He added there was an implied covenant that forced him to run it so it favors society.

Small reviewed the history of oil conservation and of proration, which, he said, will continue to exist as a state institution so long as it is enforced fairly, and to the vital welfare of this society called the government of the United States.

Small, scored the "unfairness" of the oil producer, he said, is no longer absolute owner of his property and he can no longer use it as he might dictate. He added there was an implied covenant that forced him to run it so it favors society.

with bombs if she couldn't keep it closed with diplomacy.

This the Burma road stands as the symbol of a contest of two empires, the fullgrown British and the growing Japanese.

Chinese rejoicing over the reopening was tempered by Hongkong dispatches saying that British crown colony on the south China coast would remain closed indefinitely to arms and munitions and petroleum and railway supply shipments to China.

"Now that their fast fighter-bombers are escaping the wounds our Spitfires and Hurricanes have inflicted on other types," it added, "the air ministry will have to consider whether the moment is opportune to introduce our new and tremendously fast fighters."

Peewees Lose Their First Game Of Year

The Peewees lost their first game of the season yesterday when the Canadian Midgets took them into camp 19-17. The Canadian team had a heavier backfield but the team average was about the same. The Peewees will try to get revenge Thursday night when the same two teams meet at Harvester park. A later returning the opening kickoff to their own 30-yard line, the Peewees fumbled and Canadian recovered. On the first play the Midgets circled end for 30 yards and a touchdown. Peewee made the touchdown, failed to convert. Pampa took the ball on the kick-off and with Gethin and Bezeley doing most of the running, made it first and ten on the fifty. Randall Clay made 30 yards on an end run and on the next play caught Griffin's pass and was downed on the two yard line. On a well executed "stinker" play, Griffin carried the ball over for a touchdown. Bezeley was tackled one foot from the goal line on the try for extra point.

In the last part of the second quarter, Bezeley fumbled and Ayers, Canadian's hard charging guard, recovered. On the next play Hopkins, a fast-stepping halfback, ran 50 yards for a touchdown. As McCormore failed to convert, the half ended 12-6, Canadian.

The Peewees came back fighting in the second half and held the Midgets scoreless the third quarter. Another case of "fumbleitis" overtook the Peewees in the fourth quarter and the Canadian boys converted the mistake into another touchdown. This time Gethin fumbled and White recovered. Fullback Lolkler made the final run from the two-yard line. Failing to make the extra point, the final score stood 19-6.

For the Peewees: Clay and Winborn ends; Hatcher and Dunham, tackles; Myers, center; Jones and Lane, guards; Gethin and Neef, halfbacks; Bezeley, fullback; Griffin quarterback. Substitutes - Beard, Hughes, Moon, Bird, Sidor and Gray.

All-America Plays With Tulane Scrubs

ATLANTA, Oct. 18 (AP)—He's billed as the nation's only All-America football team, he was head-and-shoulders over nearly every other tackle in the country, winding up with a place on the Associated Press All-America eleven.

The name is Harley Ray McCollum. Last year, playing on Tulane's undefeated Sugar Bowl-bound football team, he was head-and-shoulders over nearly every other tackle in the country, winding up with a place on the Associated Press All-America eleven.

"I was hated to lose him this year," says Dawson, equally, "but it has been extremely gratifying to see the spirit of cooperation and good-will he exhibits in these workouts with the scrubs."

McCollum, grimly silent, isn't calling any shots. But he's keeping that 200-pound frame in shape for another try at the top shelf.

Meanwhile, the deep South's other All-America lineman, Guard Edward (Doc) Molokai of Tennessee, is at the same old stand. But he has a red-hot battle on his hands to keep from being surpassed by his team-mate, Bob Sifford, back after a year with an injured leg.

Paul Vincent, Severin, North Carolina's All-America end, may have plenty of competition elsewhere in the nation, but he's still tops around the Tarheel state. Far from slowing down in his senior year, he is Coach Ray Wolf's leading pass-receiver, snaring five for a total of 84 yards.

Will Amarillo, Lubbock Play In State Finals?

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF DALLAS, Oct. 18 (AP)—A number of followers of Texas schoolboy football in the Panhandle are convinced that when Amarillo meets Lubbock on November 21, Thanksgiving day, it will in reality be the state championship game.

Amarillo thinks it has the stuff to go on to the title if it gets outside the district, and it looks upon Lubbock as being a team of the same caliber.

However, the Golden Sandies are getting most of the headlines over the state—with reason. Amarillo boasts a powerful team, averaging 171 pounds, with potentialities of the championship units of the middle twenties. The line is big and rugged and the backfield fast and versatile.

Sparking the offense is Myrl Greathouse, 171-pound back who blocks and tackles like Harrison Stafford did when he made history at the University of Texas.

Included in the backfield is M. T. Johnson, whose father, M. T. Johnson, Sr., and his uncle, Eddie, were greats of the University of Oklahoma. It is said that the boy wouldn't drink milk out of a bottle when he was a year old unless it was shaped like a football.

There are ten lettermen from last year.

Lubbock does not boast such material, but has a team built around Lesie Jackson, one of the state's finest backs, and it has enough members returning from last fall's championship squad to indicate that the title will not be determined until all the returns from the South Plains are in.

Conference play does not begin in this district until next week, Amarillo meeting Norman, Okla., in an inter-sectional game, and Lubbock meeting this week-end in the South Plains area.

Elsewhere over the state, however, there is action aplenty with more than 30 conference titles heading the schedule of half a hundred games.

The feature will match Brackenridge (San Antonio) with Kerrville in district 15. It not only is a battle between two of the top teams of the district but will be the headline tilt of the state as both are undefeated and untied.

None of the other 21 teams with perfect records clash.

The week-end schedule:

Conference games - District 2, Quanah at Electra, Childress at Granger, Wichita Falls at Vernon, Burkumet at Olney; district 3, Big Spring at Lamesa, Abilene at Odessa; district 4, Austin (El Paso) vs. Bowie (El Paso); district 5, Bonham at Sherman, Gainesville at Paris; district 6, Greenville at Deaton, Arlington at Sulphur Springs; district 7, Masonic Home (Fort Worth) vs. Riverside (Fort Worth), Poly (Fort Worth) vs. Fort Worth Tech; district 8, Dallas Tech vs. Sun. (Dallas); district 9, Dallas vs. North Dallas; district 9, Brownwood at Ranger; district 10, Waco at Hillsboro; district 11, Texarkana at Longview, Marshall at Kilgore, Tyler at Gladewater; district 12, Mexia at Henderson, Lufkin at Palestine; district 13, Lamar (Houston) vs. San Jacinto (Houston), Milby (Houston) vs. Jeff Davis (Houston); district 14, Beaumont at Conroe, Port Arthur at Goose Creek, Galveston at Orange; district 15, San Antonio Tech vs. Harlandale (San Antonio) at Kerrville; district 16, Kingsville at Corpus Christi, Edinburg at Harlingen.

Inter-district games - Yeleta at Plainview, El Paso High at Pampa, Cisco at San Angelo, Breckenridge at Midland.

Inter-sectional games - Norman, Okla., at Amarillo, Borger at Hobbs, N. M., Strawn at Mineral Wells, St. Joseph's (Dallas) at Waxahachie, Ennis at Cleburne, Livingstone at Nacogdoches, San Anthony's (Beaumont) at South Park (Beaumont), Lanier (San Antonio) at Laredo, Beeville at Victoria, Corpus Christi College-Academy at Robstown, Mercedes at Brownsville, San Benito at Weslaco.

Rice, Aggies, Texas, SMU Picked To Win Saturday

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT DALLAS, Oct. 18 (AP)—Castiron Texas A. and M. the football robot that has allowed only 61 yards on rushing plays in three games, starts chipping at a mountain tomorrow down at College Station.

The Sugar Bowl champions and defending Southwest conference titlist, winners of 14 straight games and currently ranked the nation's second team, bow into conference play at Rice University.

So starts the assignment few believe the Aggies can carry out—become the first team in history to win the conference pennant two years hand running the same Texas Christian, strictly on form, doesn't rate to beat them. Experience, weight and skill favor the Aggies. But the Christians have a quaint way of balancing the books, and that is before the game.

If Kyle Gillespie, the Christians' "bad knee" boy, can get in there at the proper time and shell the cadets with his great passing every advantage could be dissolved.

It's the Aggies to continue their streak, but not by a runaway.

Three more unbeatens conference clubs face the danger of their first shelling.

Breath-taking Rice, on top of the world after thrashing Louisiana State, 23-0, meets a maddened Tulane team at New Orleans, one that started out to bag another undefeated season and has lost three straight.

Being picked will be rough, but Rice is going to win.

Unbeaten Texas, showing offensive punch, should take Arkansas at Little Rock. Cowboy Jack Crain is riding hard and has able companions in the backfield dept. in R. L. Harkins, Spec Sanders, et al. Arkansas was good in beating Baylor last week, but they're not fast enough to hold Texas in check.

Southern Methodist has been spluttering on the gridiron. The old motor should kick off this week, and it's the Methodists, despite some key injuries, to turn back unbeaten Auburn at Dallas.

Strictly on the strength of reports that Baylor has resolved to gather the sagging ends of what started out to be a dangerous football team and start all over—Sans Jack Wilson, grand fullback—the lunch is that the Golden Bruins will face into Villanova at San Antonio Saturday night.

Texas U. must be the goods, at that. They say when he gets through there next year they're going to have his face lifted and enroll him as a freshman all over again.

Tomorrow's Odds

Here's how the Broadway books hawk the tough 'uns: Tennessee 3-1 over Alabama, Georgia-Columbia and Yale-Dartmouth, even money, Texas Aggies 3-1 over Texas Christian!! U. C. L. A. 7-5 over California, Cornell 4-1 over Syracuse, Mississippi U. 3-1 over Duquesne, Fordham 2-5 over Pitt, Michigan 3-1 over Illinois, Stanford 6-5 over Washington State, Tulane 7-5 over Rice!! Southern Methodist 7-5 over Auburn, Southern California 4-1 over Oregon, Georgia Tech 5-2 over Vanderbilt, Harvard 7-5 over Army, Holy Cross 3-1 over New York U. Iowa 6-5 over Indiana, Northwestern 5-2 over Wisconsin.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRETT

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—Jack Doyle, the Broadway odds manufacturer, is quoting even money on Ohio State-Minnesota tomorrow, your old pal, Lefty Gomez of the Yankees, is trying to peddle a radio serial called "Lefty Gomez' Hot Stove League" and it looks like he may grab off a sponsor. . . . The price tag on Kirby Hoge of the Phils is exactly $150,000 of which at least $100,000 must be cash on the line.

Today's Guest Star

C. E. McBride, Kansas City Star: "I can't pick long shots for myself, so why should I be doing it for you. . . . But I give you Alabama as the team most likely to upset the dope. . . . Tennessee is a 1-4 favorite out here."

Folks are wondering about this: When Fritz Crisler coached at Princeton, Kiski was considered a Princeton prep school. This year there are three Kiski grads on the Michigan varsity and four more on the yearling squad. Personality, plus eh? . . . This Jack Crain down at

SERIAL STORY

NEW YORK JUNGLE

BY WRAY WADE SEVERN

Copyright, 1940, NEA Service, Inc.

YESTERDAY, Sidney meets Pat... Captain Plowman and Sergeant O'Connell... the Jungle... Adam is also one of the men...

A LETTER FROM AFRICA

CHAPTER X

AFTER establishing his headquarters in the 19th century drawing room, Captain Plowman questioned each member of the house party... Braitwood, as their lawyer, was present throughout.

"Don't be upset, Miss Langdon," the big policeman reassured her. "This is all routine. I need your help to get at the facts."

"I understand," she murmured. Her account of what she had observed differed from that of Sidney's except that she had arrived the day before he came and had observed a great change in Adam Langdon.

"I have never seen my uncle so depressed and nervous as he was when he reached home, she told the two men. 'He brightened a little while we were having coffee in the Jungle, and appeared more his usual self.'"

"What cheered him, now?" Plowman asked. "Being with his old friends again, I imagine. They had christened the lioness he had shot 'Maatha' and we laughed about her being a foil for the big old lion we named 'Lesencoff.'"

"Lesencoff? I have heard that name somewhere." "Mr. Lesencoff directed Miss Hempfield's last play," Nella explained. "He left her in the middle of the season."

"I recall reading about that. Wasn't there a quarrel?" "No," Nella hesitated. "He and my uncle were never intimate. 'Did you happen to be standing near the closed door when Togi was putting in lights?' Plowman went on.

"I had been showing Mr. Gundrum the collection of weapons in the gunrack, near the door. Later, when I heard steps, I had crossed to the coffee table. I hear unusually well."

"Mr. Gundrum was your guest, then?" Plowman's manner had become paternal.

The girl flushed in embarrassment. "He and Mrs. Langdon were old friends. I hardly knew him," she said hastily.

"Old sweethearts, maybe?" "I object," Sidney interrupted again. "Miss Langdon said 'friends.'"

Plowman did not press the point, but sent at once for Patricia Langdon.

A PICTURE of modernity and sophistication, Pat entered quietly and answered Plowman's questions without emotion. It was impossible to believe that she, a bride, had been tragically widowed within the evening.

"When Hugh Langdon called to your husband to remain in the Jungle and take care of the ladies, did Mr. Langdon cross to the table where you all sat and attempt to reassure you?" Plowman asked.

"He did not," Pat replied. "Nor did I hear Hugh call to my husband, though later Mr. Braitwood told me that he had."

"You didn't suspect he had been shot?" "I did not," Pat's dark eyes blazed indignantly.

"Would it have been possible for a shot to have escaped your notice?" "Yes, during the loudest crashes of thunder," Pat was cool, collected.

"Can you remember where each of the ladies sat?" "I remained behind the coffee table. Miss Langdon sat next me, Miss Hempfield at the end of the table."

"Then no one moved?" "I didn't say that, Captain Plowman. Miss Hempfield became nervous when the men did not return. We all did. Finally she insisted she couldn't endure the suspense any longer. She imagined someone had been hurt, and she had to know who it might have been."

Plowman nodded encouragement and Pat continued. "We tried to dissuade her, but she insisted upon going upstairs. I heard, rather than saw, her push back her chair. There was a flash of lightning then and I recall seeing her empty chair. Then came more terrific thunder, followed by a sharp scream."

"I was too terrified to move at first. I sat where I was until the men returned with candles and then I saw her lying at my husband's feet. I didn't realize he was dead."

"Do you know any motive for the crime, Mrs. Langdon?" Plowman pressed.

"AGAIN Pat hesitated. 'At the time my husband was on his hunting trip, there was some gossip about his having a secret purpose in going into the African jungle. One of his bearers said that he often slipped off alone. That is dangerous. I never believed the rumors. Adam has always hunted.'"

"Isn't it true that Mr. Gundrum was jealous of your husband?" "It is not true," Pat replied through pale lips.

"Do you realize that Mr. Gundrum could have returned to the Jungle while the other men were upstairs? The valet was in the furnace room. Who was there to see what Gundrum was up to?"

The color drained from Pat's face, leaving it ghastly under two bright patches of red. "In the darkness either might have just that. I do not believe they did," she said steadily.

"The valet had no motive," Plowman's blue eyes bored into Pat's.

"If you are construing my former engagement to Mr. Gundrum as a motive for a horrible crime, you are ridiculous. Our engagement was broken by mutual consent." Her eyes flashed anger.

"Frankness is best in these cases, Mrs. Langdon," Sidney cautioned. He did not want her to do any more building for Gundrum's story. There had been no agreement and Maria was sure to disprove anything but the truth.

"YOU are right," Pat seemed to have made a decision. "Frankness is fairness to both Miss Hempfield and Mr. Gundrum."

"While my husband was away Miss Hempfield decided that marriage would broaden her art. Her choice settled upon him, and she wrote him to that effect. Unfortunately for her plans, he was no longer free."

"How could you possibly know such a thing, Mrs. Langdon?" Sidney burst out.

"I not only know it, I have written proof of what I say," Pat's scarlet mouth pursed cruelly. "It's extraordinary how much Miss Hempfield's handwriting resembles my cousin's. The letter she wrote Adam was forwarded from Nairobi, and since there was a blot on the address, I thought it was from my cousin and opened it."

"I'll take the letter," Plowman said.

30 Millions Spent In 'Hate Roosevelt' Move, Solon Claims

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Representative McCormack of Massachusetts, house Democratic leader, asked the senate campaign expenditures committee today to investigate what he called a $3,000,000 "hate Roosevelt movement."

In a letter to Chairman Gillette (D-Iowa) McCormack forwarded an advertisement placed in the Chicago Tribune on October 10 by the First National Bank of Englewood, Ill.

The advertisement contained a statement of the bank's condition and ended, McCormack said, with: "In a last stand for democracy, every director and officer of this bank will cast his vote for Wendell Willkie."

"It is generally known," said McCormack, "that the Republican and various Willkie groups, and certain financial groups, who are trying to obtain control of the federal government for their own special interest, has spent tremendous sums of money to date, and before the campaign is over it is conservatively estimated will spend directly and indirectly thirty million dollars in a 'hate Roosevelt movement' in an effort to defeat President Roosevelt."

"This tremendous expenditure will be artfully concealed in many ways, one of which is through the means of advertisements as employed by this particular bank."

McCormack urged that the senate committee recommend to congress, "legislation which will meet this abuse" if the Hatch acts do not already prohibit it.

Hungary Resumes Attack On Jews

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 18 (AP)—The anti-Jewish campaign in southeastern Europe, intensified by German military penetrations of Rumania, was advanced today by a front-page attack on the position of Jews in Hungarian industry and commerce, published by the government newspaper Etsi Ujsag.

Supporting the third anti-Jewish law now before parliament, the newspaper says that 61 per cent of 1,456 large industries in Budapest still are in Jewish hands and estimates that Hungary has 800,000 Jews.

Rumanian restrictions on Jews increase daily in keeping with the policy of the new anti-Semitic, iron guard government. The latest rule forbids Jews to live in the vicinity of oil fields.

Sections of the press in both Yugoslavia and Bulgaria are attempting, as they express it, to "expose" Jewish commercial interests. Yugoslavia this month restricted Jewish school enrollment and Bulgaria undertook to disperse asserted Jewish dominance in certain lines of trade.

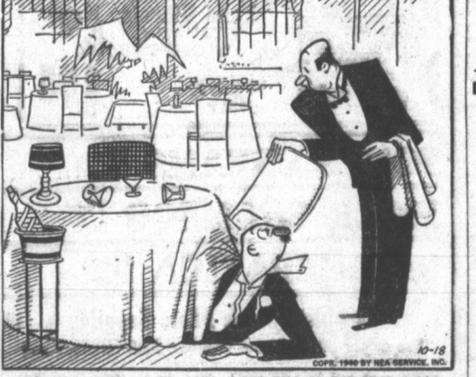

Remedy

Our ancestors argued that a gargle made from pine needles boiled in vinegar was good for the teeth and gums, because the scales on pine cones resemble teeth.

Poisonous Sea Snake

A poison bite, often fatal to huge man beings, is that of a species of sea snake common to the Indian ocean. This snake can live on land or in water.

Four Boards Set Up To Serve Gray Selectees

Setting up machinery for Uncle Sam's potential army has required an extensive amount of preparation. Following on the heels of chief registrars and their staffs comes the work of the local selective service board.

Besides the local board, there are three other boards in the registration setup to serve Gray county. These are the advisory board for registrants, appeal boards, and medical advisory board.

The advisory board is composed of lawyers of Gray county organized to advise registrants and give assistance in preparing questionnaires and to have certain associate members to visit the sick or other registrants who are unable to come to the designated headquarters.

In a list of the lawyers designated by District Judge W. R. Ewing as board members, recently published, through error the name of Henry L. Jordan of Pampa was omitted.

Advisory boards are set up by state judicial districts. Gray county is one of four served in the 31st district, the others being Roberts, Wheeler, and Lipscomb.

No compensation is provided for advisory board members.

12 Appeal Districts

The state is divided into 12 board of appeal districts of 600,000 inhabitants each.

These boards will be composed of five members, one of which must be a reputable representative of the medical profession. The others will be representatives of agriculture, industry, labor, and the legal profession.

They must be prominent men from the district they represent just as the higher courts are composed of the most prominent jurists, and they should be executives who are used to making decisions on the facts presented. They must be over 31 years of age and male citizens of the United States.

Appointment of members of these boards is by the governor, who recommends a temporary list for confirmation by the President.

Gray In District 9

Members of boards of appeal will receive compensation as provided in section 170a, selective service regulations. (Finance) Each board is authorized to employ clerical assistance, but voluntary clerical assistance should be sought and accepted.

Gray county is in the ninth board of appeals districts with headquarters at Lubbock. Other counties in the district are Shackelford, Jones, Fisher, Seury, Borden, Martin, Andrews, Grimes, Dawson, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Stonewall, Kent, Haskell, Kenton, Hale, King, Dickens, Crosby, Lubbock, Hockley, Cochran, Bailey, Lamb, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Childress, Hall, Briscoe, Swisher, Castro, Parmer, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Wheeler, Carson, Potter, Oldham, Moore, Hartley, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Hansford, Sherman, Dallam.

30 Medical Boards

The state is divided into 30 medical advisory board districts. These boards must be composed of specialists. Normally, they will consist of from seven to 10 members and should, if possible, include at least one each of the following specialists: internist, psychiatrist, chiroprapist, and radiographer.

Board members are appointed by the governor. It is the duty of the governor, in collaboration with the state medical association and the state board of health to recommend such appointments to the governor. Members of these boards must be citizens of the United States and not members of the armed forces.

Medical advisory boards are organized to give expert professional opinions on doubtful cases referred to them by local boards. They are not required to make a complete examination of a registrant but only to examine him and render an opinion on the part of the examination for which the registrant is sent to them.

They exercise no original or appellate jurisdiction. Members of these boards receive no compensation. Clerical assistance may be employed.

Gray county comes under medical advisory board 25, Amarillo, which is to serve this county, and Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, and Briscoe.

Phillips School Half-Completed

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

PHILLIPS, Oct. 18—Phillips' new brick school is well over half finished. Windows and sashes are being put into place this week, and inside work will start within the month.

The building is ultra-modern. Yellow brick exterior is combined with pressed glass to give the school a streamlined effect. The structure is two stories high, will have 20 class rooms, a library, teachers' room, offices and a special feature of combination play room and cafeteria. The cafeteria will be lined with yellow tile, which combines sanitation with the maximum light.

The J. L. Has company, of Wichita Falls, has charge of construction. The contract stipulates a deadline for completion of the building. The second semester of the current school year will begin in the new school.

This newest addition to Phillips represents an outlay of approximately $120,000. Bonds were issued and sold, thereby making the school possible. The Hart Construction company is utilizing as much local labor as they see fit, with the skilled labor supplied by their own men.

Phillips will have their schools located centrally and together. The elementary and high schools are on the same lot in the heart of the town. With the completion of the elementary school, the Phillips Independent School district will have a plant which includes a swimming pool, football stadium and baseball diamonds, comparable to any school of its size in the Panhandle.

CHAPTER 4

UNCLE SAM - BANKER

By SAMUEL B. PETTINGILL

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation act passed January 22, 1932. It was one of 55 house members who voted against it and was scoundrily cussed out for doing so. I said at the time that this experiment in government banking would have incalculable consequences in the spread of state socialism.

That this prophecy has been justified by events I believe few will deny. Nevertheless, I am not wise enough to say where the long balance of good or harm may lie. It was one of those "hard cases which make bad law." It was promoted in good faith to check the avalanche of deflation. It was intended to stop the run on banks, although it failed to do so. And it was intended to serve as an emergency condition and then to be discontinued. It had a two-year time limitation. Then it was to stop!

Then the process I thought I foresaw developed. "You have taken care of the bankers. Are you going to let the fellow go to the wall?" the R. F. C. with a two-year life in 1932 has been broadened by amendment not less than thirty times and continued in existence by the very pressures it begot.

As of its February, 1940, statement, R. F. C. has authorized loans totaling $12,414,850,851.91 since it was organized. Of this amount actual disbursements now total $10,483,819,997.22, with repayments of $2,720,235,177.07 which R. F. C. had disbursed to Mr. Harry Hopkins and other government agencies.

But this does not tell the whole story of Uncle Sam, Banker. Unlimited. The following are some of his branch banks and lending agencies in addition to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation:

- Central Bank for Co-operatives
- Commodity Credit Corporation
- Disaster Loan Corporation
- District Bank for Co-operatives
- Electric Home and Farm Authority
- Emergency Crop and Feed Loan office.
- Export-Import Bank of Washington
- Farm Credit administration
- Farm Security administration
- Federal Credit unions
- Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation
- Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works
- Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation
- Federal Home Loan banks
- Federal Intermediate Credit banks
- Federal Land banks
- Federal Reserve banks
- Federal Savings and Loan Associations
- Home Owners' Loan Corporation
- Housing Division, Public Works Administration
- Indiana Rehabilitation Loan office
- Inland Waterways Corporation
- Land Bank commissioner
- National Farm Loan associations
- National Mortgage associations
- Production Credit associations
- Production Credit Corporation
- Puerto Rican Reconstruction Administration
- Reconstruction Finance Mortgage company
- Regional Agricultural Credit Corporation
- Resettlement Administration
- Rural Electrification Administration
- Tennessee Valley Authority
- United States Housing Authority
- United States Maritime Commission
- United States Postal Savings system.

Glamour Boys Of Movies Register

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18.—The glamour boys of the movies marched to their precinct polling places today, right along with the rest of the nation's young men, to register for selective service.

Three famous bandleaders now working in pictures planned to lead the members of their orchestras to group registration near their studios. Kay Kyser said he and his "boys" would assemble, along with their musical instruments, at a voting place late today upon completion of film work and just before a radio broadcast.

Bob Crosby and Orrin Tucker had similar plans. Tucker posed the question of whether a bandleader could list his orchestra as "dependents."

A number of actors on location or vacationing made arrangements to register out of town. They included John Garfield and Gene Autry in New York and Tyrone Power "somewhere in the Southwest."

Some, like 30-year-old Don Ameche with his four sons, will have families to mention when the question of dependents arises later on. Most, however, are unmarried, or married and childless.

Draft-age actors who arranged to register today included Ray Milland, a Welchman but now an American citizen, Mischa Auer, who won't be 36 until next month, Robert Stack, former national skeet champion, and the following:

Also John Carradine, Henry Fonda, John Payne, Cesar Romero, Alan Curtis, Laird Regier, Lew Ayres, Leo Bowman, John Carroll, Tony Martin, James Stewart, John Shelton, Robert Taylor, Robert Young, Bruce Bennett (Herm Brix), Glenn Ford, William Holden, John Wayne and cowboy stars Roy Rogers, Don (Boss) Ryder, Barry, and Bob Livingston.

Chosen to Head Bankers Group

P. D. Houston, Chairman of the American National Bank, of Nashville, Tenn., is pictured in Atlantic City, N. J., where he was elected President of the American Bankers Association at their recent convention. He will work for "improved banking service through effective cooperation."

Worley's Pleasantness, Modesty Favorably Impress Congressmen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Eight years ago a University of Texas student hitch-hiked to Washington during the summer recess to see for the first time the nation's capital.

The same young man, Eugene Worley of Shamrock, has been back to look over the house chamber below the great capitol dome where he will come in January as representative of the eighteenth congressional district of Texas.

He borrowed $250 last spring as soon as it became known that the man he will succeed—victory over any Republican candidate in the November election is unquestioned—Representative Marvin Jones of Amarillo would not seek reelection because the President had appointed him to a federal judgeship. That $250 went to buy a 1936 model coupe and equip it with a home-built loud speaker device.

Then Worley set out over those vast plains and gulches of the Panhandle. Home folks call him Gene. He stopped, as he says, "wherever I could get a crowd of two or more persons together to talk about a platform in the back of the car and began to tell why he thought they should send him to congress. Sometimes the speaker system would go haywire, so he would shout a little louder.

It wasn't talk alone that put him ahead in the race. He had a lot of sales points, including the fact he had served five and a half years in the state legislature. Folks from Donley, Gray, Collingsworth and Wheeler counties sent him there while he was working his way through college, and kept him there after he had finished and established himself at Shamrock.

The worst campaign obstacle he had to face, Worley tells you, was that he missed being born in Texas by about 70 miles. His birthplace was Lone Wolf, Okla., Oct. 10, 1908.

"You don't have much to do about where you are born or what your name is," he explained, blue eyed and smiling. "But I could tell those who criticized me on this score that as soon as I was big enough to wear knee pants I prevailed upon my parents to move to Texas.

"It was able to point out that several Texas members of congress, including Speaker Rayburn of Bonham, were not native Texans."

After finishing public school at Shamrock, Worley went to Texas A. & M. college. He had in the back of his mind he would like some day to be either a criminal lawyer or a newspaper man. He also thought he would like to have some military training, so he enrolled at A. & M. Six feet and two inches, weighing about 175, Gene played football when he wasn't cutting grass or working in the mess hall to earn part of his expenses. That was in 1927 and 1928. He registered out of town. They included the Shamrock Texan as a reporter and advertising salesman, saving money to continue his education. He also assisted his stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver, run a motion picture house.

Groom Boy Tells Of Trip To Fair

GROOM, Oct. 18.—This is the ninth consecutive year that G. C. Groom, has taken some livestock to the Dallas show and has never yet failed to place in a division in which he has entered.

Last year he won the junior championship in the Aberdeenshire division. He has, also, attended many of the Amarillo livestock shows and one year won the grand champion of baby heaves. He has not attended the Amarillo show since, as the ruling is that winning one disqualifies one from showing again.

Following is his own story of his experience of showing a number of calves and swine at the state fair. "My first assignment was to get our calves and swine in the best of shape, which consists of their being fat, clean and ready to show. Then we got our feed and feed baskets ready and our boxes in which we carry our halters, brushes, and combs, hair dressings, soap, and show sticks.

"Our trucks were checked and put in the best condition for the trip. Saturday morning we loaded our calves and swine and left for Dallas. Because of little tire trouble, we arrived in Dallas about 10 o'clock that night; then we unloaded the calves and swine in the truck.

"Sunday we washed our swine. Monday we showed the swine; winning four prizes. We also washed all of our calves on Monday. Tuesday we showed our calves; winning about 10 prizes. Wednesday, Troy (G. C.'s cousin and a good livestock show winner in his own right) and my father came back to Groom; leaving my Uncle John (Troy's father) to do the rest of the showing. Thursday we sold and delivered our swine to Swift & Co.

"Friday, we washed our calves again. Saturday morning the three calves sold in the auction ring for a fairly good price. Saturday afternoon, we loaded the remainder of the calves in the truck with our boxes and left Dallas at 3:30 and arrived home at 1:30 Sunday morning. In all our prices, we won about $250. During our stay at the fair, we saw a football game in the Cotton Bowl; saw the midway; most of the fair exhibits and the main attraction, "Americana."

Petroleum Production

In 1939, the world produced an all-time high of 2,150,000,000 barrels of petroleum and related fuels. Military purposes consumed 150,000,000 barrels of this total, with the balance going into civilian consumption.

A mixture of sawdust and glue can be used to fill nail holes in the woodwork.

Sport Stars Register And 'Feel A Draft'

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Uncle Sam signed the greatest "team" of athletes contracts Wednesday in the history of sports—but he doesn't know yet who'll make the starting lineup.

All the way from unsung blocking backs in freshwater colleges to the highest paid stars of the professional firmament, the world of sports answered the selective service draft with enough athletes to make glade the heart of the most pessimistic coach.

New York, of course, gave more athletes to the team that may have to fight the biggest battle of them all than any other city. Probably some 10,000 players stood on the sidewalks of New York in front of little red schoolhouses making sour puns about "I feel a draft, don't you?"

Bobby Feller and "Oom Paul" Derringer, baseball's prize pitchers, headed the baseball parade to the polls but the names of Harry Danning of the Giants, Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox, and Hank Greenberg, reputedly the big leagues best-salaried player, also were put on the white cards.

Mel Hein of the New York pro grid Giants took his whole team to the place of registration and the pros and collegians who on Saturdays and Sundays are big shots—but who were just guys in a line yesterday—followed suit. Whizzer White, Tuffy Leemans, Tommy Harmon, Coach George Munger of Penn and a host of others answered the call.

Golf top-flighters, national Champion Lawson Little and P. G. A. Kingpin Byron Nelson registered, as did the prize ring's Champion, Joe Louis, Madcap Maxie Baer and lightweight King Billy Conn, who quipped, "I'd just as soon fight for Uncle Sam as Uncle Mike (Jacobs)."

Hockey's famed "Kitchener Line" of Milt Schmidt, Bob Bauer, and Woody Dumart, were among the ice sports earliest enrollees.

The jockeys at Jamaica, including Don Meade, Jimmy Gilbert and others signed up right at the track, where a special booth was erected.

Although most of the athletes were considered highly eligible to be "invited" by Uncle Sam to spend a year as his guest, the professional baseball men seemed less concerned than any others, for most of the major league stars are married, and therefore would probably not be among the first called for duty.

Terrest's statement on the whole situation came from non-garrulous Joe Louis, something of an amateur horseman. Asked if he'd like to join the cavalry he sounded the clarion note for the whole world of sports when he replied: "I ain't croosy."

Phillips Club To Hold Ball Friday

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

PHILLIPS, Oct. 18—The first formal social event of the current school year will be marked by the Semper Fidelis Sub Deb club, of Berger, when they hold their golden jubilee presentation ball Friday night, October 18. The ball will be held in the American Legion hall and is scheduled to begin promptly at 10 p. m.

Franco Appoints Axis Sympathizer Foreign Minister

(By The Associated Press)

MADRID, Oct. 18—In a cabinet shakeup widely regarded as evidence of Spain's firm ties with the Rome-Berlin axis, Generalissimo Francisco Franco today made Ramon Serrano Suner, recent special emissary to Germany and Italy, his foreign minister.

Political observers regarded the shift as sure to be welcomed by the German and Italian governments, for Serrano Suner is considered one of the staunchest friends those powers have in Spain.

Left in charge of the ministry of interior—which controls the police—was Under-Secretary Jose Sorente Saenz. Franco became titular head of the department.

Serrano Suner replaced Col. Juan Beigbeder y Aizena.
