Navy Bombers Attack Fleet At Taranto

Britain To Begin World-Wide Hunt For Raider

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Nov. 12.—British naval bombers in a smashing attack on Italy's main naval base at Taranto, have seriously crippled two battleships and damaged another with the result that only half of the Italian navy's six capital ships remain effective, the British admiralty announced today.

In addition, two cruisers and two fleet auxiliaries were damaged, an admiralty spokesman said.

"The royal navy has struck a crippling blow at the Italian fleet," the communiqué said. "The navy's main base at Taranto, the main units of the Italian force 'smuggling behind their shore defenses in their main base at Taranto,' in the midst of the Italian boot.

One battleship of the brand new Littorio class, of 35,000 tons, was left 'badly down under water' with her forecastle under water and a heavy list as a result of bomb hits, the admiralty said.

Another battleship, of the 23,622-ton Conte di Cavour class, was beached, with her stern up an hour turreted under water, the communiqué said, while "it appears probable" a second battleship of that class was "severely damaged."

"In the inner harbor two cruisers are listed to starboard and are surrounded by oil fuel. Two fleet auxiliaries are lying with their sterns under water."

"The total strength of the Italian fleet was six battleships, two of the Littorio class which have just been put into service, and four of the recently reconstructed 'Cavour' class," the communiqué said.

"As the result of this determined and highly successful attack, probably only three Italian battleships now remain effective."

The attack, which was carried out the night of Nov. 11-12, was admitted by the Italians yesterday to have resulted in the serious damage of one warship.

The raid was one of a series which have been directed at Italy's southern naval bases and embarkation points for the rushing of reinforcements to the battlefield in Greece.

The bombing attack will release powerful units of the British Mediterranean armada to join in a world-wide hunt for the surface raider which attacked a convoy in mid-Atlantic Nov. 11, neutral scores of British men of war are reported already scouring the seas.

Camacho Recognized As President-Elect

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13. (AP)—Formal recognition of Mexico's new president-elect, and reports of intensified efforts for hemisphere defense collaboration gave evidence today of continuing administration preoccupation with matters pertaining to Pan-American solidarity.

The recognition of General Avila Camacho as the Mexican president-elect had an unusual aspect, for it was accompanied last night by the announcement that Henry A. Wallace, vice president elect of the United States, would represent this country at the Camacho inauguration in Mexico City, Dec. 1.

The announcement of Camacho's recognition was the first government expression here on the controversy. In Mexico, the action of the United States was received as welcome news, with special gratification manifested at the appointment of Wallace.

Mexico, however, apparently was only one of the Latin American nations to figure in state department consultations yesterday. Secretary Hull, Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of Navy Knox conferred for almost an hour and it was believed in well-informed quarters that hemisphere defense provided the major topic.

The progress of defense negotiations with other American republics was reviewed, these sources believed, and consideration given to the necessary subsequent steps for advancing the program with all possible speed.

The progress of conversations with Mexico on this subject was indicated by the recent prediction of responsible Mexican sources that "in all probability" a mutual defense agreement would be negotiated with the United States about Jan. 1 along the lines of the present U. S.-Canadian understanding.

Indications of diplomatic and economic collaboration also appeared in yesterday's developments. The state department disclosed that Mr. Roosevelt had invited

Latest totals were: Burke 421,492; Ratner 418,973; Burke's margin 2,519.

Night Courses Offered For Oil, Shop And Carbon Black Workers

Industrial workers of this section of the Panhandle will be given an opportunity to register for night classes in petroleum practices, carbon black work, shop work, etc., on Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium. G. M. Davis, director of diversified occupations in this section of the Panhandle, will explain the various courses and method of organizing night classes and selecting instructors.

The trade extension classes in dozens of subjects will be held twice weekly in the high school building at a cost of $2 for a 48-hour course.

"Trade extension classes enable workers to adjust themselves to changing employment conditions," Mr. Davis said today. "They enable workers to better themselves at their jobs by becoming more familiar with their work and with other departments in the industry in which they are employed."

Vocational courses to be offered include: For All Petroleum Workers—Elementary Oil Field Mathematics—presenting the fundamentals of arithmetic by means of exercises placing emphasis on problems found in the petroleum industry.

Advanced Oil Field Mathematics—presenting instruction and exercises on areas of irregular figures, volumes, trigonometric functions, algebraic calculations, geometric constructions and pipe layout as applied to the petroleum industry.

The Care and Operation of Internal Combustion Engines—presenting all the necessary theory, and complete instruction for maintenance.

Violent Snow Storm Takes Lives Of 88

(By The Associated Press) Searching parties scanned the cold waters of Lake Michigan and frozen marshlands in the Great Lakes region today for additional victims of the violent storm that brought death and destruction to the middle west and frigid weather to the nation.

Eighty-eight persons, including two score sailors and duck hunters, were known to have perished. Many others were missing and scant hope remained that they would be found alive.

Two freighters were believed to have foundered in Lake Michigan with all hands aboard during the gale that struck on Armistice Day and continued into Tuesday. Five vessels were reported aground.

The bodies of 16 sailors were washed ashore near Ludington, Mich. They were identified as those of crew members aboard the William B. Davock, a 7,200-ton freighter, and the Anna C. Minch, a 4,200-ton vessel.

It was feared that the death toll from shipwrecks would exceed 65. In addition to the bodies recovered, 51 other crew members were missing from the William B. Davock and the Anna C. Minch. Eight fishermen aboard the tugs Indian and Richard H. were reported lost and the fate of 23 sailors aboard the missing tanker Crude Oil was unknown.

Twenty-six duck hunters drowned or died in the marshlands during the fierce storm. The death list included 11 in Minnesota, six in Wisconsin, four in Iowa, three in Illinois and two in Ontario.

Excluding drownings in Lake Michigan, the storm death toll was: Minnesota 26, Illinois 10, Wisconsin 9, Iowa 8, Indiana 5, Michigan 4, Colorado 2, South Dakota 2, Ontario 2 and Oklahoma, Wyoming, New York, and Kansas, one each.

Abnormally cold weather prevailed generally throughout the central and Rocky Mountain states.

Many Minnesota towns remained isolated by snow.

Livestock dealers reported heavy losses in the middle west. Thousands of turkeys and sheep were frozen to death in Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska. Ranchers in the big Cimarron valley of western Colorado feared heavy losses to 10,000 head of cattle and sheep isolated by snow. They described the storm as the worst in 20 years.

Property damage in Racine, Wis., was estimated at $100,000. An estimated 500 trees were felled and

Appointment Of West Texan May Be Recommended

Representative-Elect Ennis Favors of Pampa, and possibly other Pampa good roads enthusiasts, will go to Plainview tomorrow night to attend a meeting of state representatives and state senators, and others.

The purpose of the meeting will be to recommend one or more men to Governor W. Lee O'Daniel for appointment on the highway commission. The term of Harry Hines expires early next year. Senator-Elect Grady Hazlewood who was in Pampa last night said that a proposal to "get behind" one West Texan man and urge his appointment would probably be discussed.

Today local highway boosters mentioned several names in connection with the appointment. Senator-elect Mayor W. L. Boyles of Panhandle, national democratic committeeman, is being urged by some, and Deskins Wells, Wellington editor, and unsuccessful candidate for congress, is being mentioned for the post. It is understood that the south plains will advocate the appointment of a man in that territory. It was also said that several men who have said they would seek the office would withdraw and unite on one candidate.

It is the impression of most observers in the Panhandle and West Texas that Gov. O'Daniel will appoint the next commissioner from the West Texas region. East Texas now has a member on the commission, also South Texas.

"The chamber of commerce was undecided today whether it would have a representative at the meeting as an observer.

Seamen Save Convoy But Lose Own Ship

(By The Associated Press) AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, Nov. 13.—Sixty-five seamen, most of them wounded, were Canada's heroes today—scarred, exhausted survivors of the armed merchant cruiser Jervis Bay which saved at least 29 ships of a convoy of 38 before sinking, guns still roaring, in a mid-Atlantic battle with a powerful German raider.

They were brought into port late yesterday by a Swedish freighter, one of the convoy, whose captain, Sven Olander, went back after dark the night of Nov. 5 because "they did so well for us that I did not like to leave."

The identity of the freighter and the number of missing crew members of the 18-year-old, 14,164-ton Australian liner converted into a lightly-armed convoy guardship were kept a military secret. Some of the survivors thought possibly the raider was a 10,000-ton pocket battleship, the Admiral Scheer or the Luetzow.

Survivors of the fight—of which the world had its first inkling last week when distress calls crackled over the Atlantic—told how the Jervis Bay headed without hesitation into the "hopeless" fight, laid a smoke screen under which the convoy scattered, and plowed through a storm of shells straight for the raider until she was sunk by the latter's power.

Captain E. S. F. Fegen remained in command "with one arm almost shot away," even though the fore part of the bridge was blown from under him. He went down with the blazing ship.

A British admiralty communiqué credited the saving of three-fourths of the convoy, which the Germans reported completely destroyed, largely to the seamen.

"We must and would defend the Catholics in his right to be a Catholic," Rev. Mr. Williams said. "It is utterly inexcusable on our part, however, if, because of indifference or unwillingness to speak our convictions, we permit the Catholic people to impose upon us and the hundred million other non-Catholics of this country, views which are not, in our opinion, in accordance with the teaching of the word of God, and not, therefore, for the best interests of the individual and the nation."

He added that among the Catholic views is their belief that the Pope has the right to dominate the world in both spiritual and material.

13 DIE IN SABOTAGE BLASTS OVER COUNTRY

Here's some of the wreckage caused by a terrific blast which laid in ruins some sections of a large munitions plant at Woodbridge, N. J. At least eight persons were killed and 38 men and women were known to have been injured. Two other powder plant explosions, a $1,000,000 armory fire and the mysterious collapse of a giant crane in a ship yard forced acknowledgement from officials that sabotage is showing up in national defense work.

874 Names On Petition For City Ballot

Residents To Pass On City's New Power Franchise

Qualified voters of Pampa will have their chance on December 4 to approve or to reject the ordinance granting a 20-year franchise to the Southwestern Public Service company. The franchise already has been approved by the city commission.

The election is in line with a statement issued by the city commission on August 28 when the ordinance granting the franchise first was introduced, in which the commission called Pampans' attention to their voting option on the matter.

"The statement said: 'In accordance with the provisions of our city charter, the new franchise ordinance will be published once each week for three weeks. Following the date of the last publication, there will be an additional period of 30 days during which citizens may petition the commission for a public election on the granting of this franchise.'

In response to a petition filed by Ivy E. Duncan on November 2 with the city secretary, asking that an election be called, the city commission at its regular weekly meeting yesterday authorized an election to be held from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. in the city commission room at the city hall on Wednesday, December 4.

To vote in the election, a person does not have to be a property owner, but must reside within the corporate limits of Pampa, have lived in the city six months, in the city six months, the state one year, and possess a poll tax receipt or exemption certificate.

Bratton Election Manager W. A. Bratton was named by the commissioners as manager of the election, with C. O. Drew and Frank Perry as judges, and Mrs. Howard Neath and Dan Williams as judges.

Ballots will state the question affirmatively and negatively, the affirmative being "FOR granting to the Southwestern Public Service company the franchise as set forth in ordinance 207."

The ordinance, passed on September 17, granted a 20-year electric franchise to the utility company, and provided for a 3 per cent gross receipts tax to the city, estimated at $7,000 a year, a reduction in rates, and a purchase clause.

New benefits and savings to the people in the 20-year period under the new franchise would amount to $445,000 additional over the existing franchise and it would be retroactive to September 1, 1940, although the present franchise ordinance does not expire until 1942.

Opposition to the new ordinance was based on the petitioners' allegations that "we do not oppose this

Use Of Practical Education Theme Of P-TA Address

At the monthly meeting of B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher association Tuesday afternoon at school, Ernest W. Cabel, supervisor of instruction in the Pampa schools, spoke on "Practical Education."

Mr. Cabel stated that about 20 years ago the American Legion, the United States office of education, the Parent-Teacher association, and the public schools of the United States joined hands and set one week, American Education week, to commemorate public education.

He pointed out that democracy is the way of living and looking at things, the appreciation of value of others, the working of a group, the acceptance of the rule of majority, and trying to help build each other up instead of the individual.

Within the walls of each school, there is a miniature democracy which provides the child with experiences that he does not have at home.

"The Pampa system believes in training for democratic citizenship, group activities, leadership, individual guidance, remedial work, and vocational guidance," Mr. Cabel continued and insisted that the parents encourage children to read good books, develop hobbies, and complete all tasks begun.

The regular meeting was called to order by Mrs. H. E. Symonds, who presided in the absence of Mrs. Jess Beard, Miss Bernice Larsh, program chairman, introduced Ken Bennett, who led the group in singing "America" and "God Bless America." Principal J. A. Moss gave the objectives of the Parent-Teacher association, and Mrs. R. E. Morrison's room presented a play, "Romance of the Dictionary."

During the business session, Mrs. Ed Stokes read the minutes. Mrs. Deering gave the treasurer's report, and Mrs. Stokes gave the executive board report which was accepted by the association. In this session the group nominated Mrs. Ed Stokes as principal J. A. Moss gave the resignation of Mrs. Lockhart. Plans were made for the P-T-A. A. to help sponsor a banquet for the football team.

Mrs. A. J. Johnson gave the City Council report after which Mr. Moss reported on the program night sponsored by the unit; also he gave a short talk on the state convention.

Miss Melbie Bird Ritchie, new sixth grade teacher, was introduced. Mrs. Davis gave a report on the study group. Mr. Bennett urged all to see the window displays of the schools and Mr. Cabel asked the group to listen to the radio programs over station KPON, Baker's program will be given Friday afternoon between 6 and 6:15 o'clock.

Mrs. Daniel's rooms won the room count with 19 present.

Dr. Hill Speaks On Objectives In Education Today

A band concert played by the Blue and White band of Junior High school opened the meeting of the Parent-Teacher association Tuesday night in the school auditorium.

Mrs. E. R. Nunney president, was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. E. A. Eaton presented Herman Jones who gave the devotional on "The appreciation of this world in which our children live," and read seven verses of scripture from Psalm 19. Flaudie Gallman led in prayer reading two vocal numbers, "The Star" and "Indian Love Call," by Miss LaNelle Schethagen.

Principal Frank Monroe introduced Dr. J. A. Hill, president of West Texas State college at Canyon, who spoke on "Changing Objectives in Education."

"If democratic government is to succeed, the people must be enlightened; also character must be established," Dr. Hill stated. "The public school has become one of the greatest businesses of today. Seventy-five million dollars are spent in Texas on education annually. What is your objective in educating your child?"

Contrasting objectives of long ago and today were given after Dr. Hill pointed out that changing objectives brought about a changing curriculum.

"Naturally a boy or girl goes to college to make a life, but the colleges and high schools are falling in that they have to make a living."

He suggested that we develop personality through guidance programs, also that we develop the American way of life.

Teachers, educators, and parents are failing to recognize each child as a personality. Teachers are apt to make education a mechanical thing. They must study the child and better equip him to live. The more successful a school is carrying out this program, the happier their pupils will be," he concluded.

After the program, the parents visited the rooms and inspected the work. Carroll Killebrew's room won the attendance award with 17 present.

One hundred and fifty-five were present at the meeting.

A program of fellowship and entertainment has been arranged. During the evening the pastor, B. A. Norris, will give a short message to the new members and present them with membership certificates.

Temperature Hits 8 At Borger Today

(By The Associated Press)

Bone-chilling cold shattered records for November minimum temperatures in North Texas today, snow flurries fell at Fort Worth, and a continuing light snow powdered the Panhandle in the vicinity of Borger.

An all-time record low of 25 was recorded by the Dallas weather bureau, clipping one degree from the previous autumnal mark set Oct. 20, 1917. Fort Worth's 24 was the lowest for Nov. 13 since the mercury hit bottom at 21 in 1907. Wichita Falls had its coldest November day in 16 years with a frigid 18.

Borger reported an eight-degree minimum at 5 a. m. Other points with January-like lows included Paris, 21; San Angelo, 26; Longview, 29; Corsicana, 27; Denton, 21; Austin, 30.

Big Spring's 22 was the lowest for November in 20 years, old timers said, but Amarillo's six above zero at the airport weather station was not a record. Downtown temperature at Amarillo was 11, and the lowest previous November mark at the downtown station was six degrees. Sherman's 21 was the coldest for November since 1938. Plainview had 16, two degrees above the lowest all-time November mark.

The outlook was for warmer weather in the western part of the state. The regional forecast by the Dallas weather bureau predicted moderating temperature in the Panhandle tonight and in the north portion Thursday.

The New Orleans weather bureau meanwhile issued a warning of storms along the gulf coast from Florida to Brownsville, Tex. It said fresh to strong northerly winds today and tonight were to blow along the coast.

The outlook was chillier for East Texas, with temperatures near 30 far south as the upper coast, 32-34 on the middle coast, and 36-38 in the lower Rio Grande valley. Fair and colder was the prediction for the extreme east, with sub-freezing in north and central portions.

Brumley Leaves For Post At Austin

He has been a resident of Pampa since 1929 and with the company for six years. Brumley was a member of the Pampa Lions club and the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce and was active in church work.

4,500 Employees Of Steel Plant Strike

MIDLAND, Pa., Nov. 13. (AP)—Nearly all the 4,500 employees of the Crucible Steel company's local mills, which had been working 24 hours a day on armament orders for the United States and Great Britain—were idle today because of a strike for wage increases.

Walkouts that started Sunday night forced a virtual cessation of work last night. A. L. Somhalter, general manager of the plant, said the steel workers organizing committee, which has a contract with the company, demanded a pay increase of 12 1/2 cents an hour.

Dictatorship Not Probable, Judge Opines

"As long as there are divisions of government there will never be dictatorship in the United States," Judge E. C. Nelson, Jr. of the 47th district court of Amarillo, told chambers of commerce and Kiwanis club members at a joint luncheon yesterday in the basement of the First Methodist church.

"In order for there to be dictatorship in the United States the senate, congress, state governing bodies, county governing bodies and even city governing bodies would have to assign their powers over to the president," Judge Nelson told his listeners. "Now, do you think that can ever happen in the United States of America?"

Judge Nelson declared that "public affairs command our attention as never before"; that "we are hungry for sidelights about world events"; that "our way of life, and government, are subjects of attack by foreign powers."

The United States is the first large country in which democracy has been successful over a long period of years, Judge Nelson declared, and one of the principal reasons is the Bill of Rights which was left out of the constitution when it was adopted but which was the first amendment.

"Ours is not purely a government of majority," Judge Nelson declared. "Why one man with the law on his side is a majority in the courts of our land. Where else would you find that situation?"

He urged everyone to take an interest not just a passing interest, but a deep interest, in the workings of the government. "The government cannot run itself," Judge Nelson declared in closing.

Kiwanians met with the chambers of commerce members yesterday because the church will not be available for their Friday meeting.

Frank Culbertson presided in the absence of President John V. Osborne. He had charge of the Kiwanis part of the program.

Charlie Lamka, general chairman of Santa Day, invited everyone to help make Santa Day, December 7, a success.

Five Killed In Truck Collision

EDINBURG, Nov. 13 (AP)—Five persons were killed in early today when two trucks collided on the highway twenty-eight miles north of here.

Bonnie Bert Kellum, 27, Corpus Christi truck driver, is the only victim so far identified. Four others died at the County City hospital here. Three others, who have not yet been identified, were seriously hurt.

According to Assistant District Attorney Jack Ross, one truck collided with a smaller truck. A few minutes later another truck, believed to be headed south from Colorado, piled into the wreckage, and shortly after a fourth truck, loaded with citrus, crashed into one of the wrecked trucks.

Kellum was found near the cab of his demolished truck.

New Oil And Gas Commission Urged

ALBANY, Nov. 13 (AP)—The executive committee of the West-Central Texas Oil and Gas association has approved a resolution proposing creation of a new commission to take over the gas and oil regulatory functions of the state railroad commission.

Announcement of the resolution was made today by Joe A. Clarke of Albany, president of the regional organization of independent oil operators. The resolution urged legislative action seeking "cure of present production and production laws in Texas." It asked that the proposed regulatory body be separate from the commission and be headed by appointive officers.

Clarke, recalling that former Governor James Stephen Hogg, founder of the railroad commission, warned at the time the commission was established "of the harmful effects to the public interest of having members of the body elected," said a bill providing for the new commission will be introduced early in the next session of the legislature.

1,500 Seek Arrest

It was not disclosed whether Mohandas K. Gandhi, leader of the party, would invite arrest himself, but his participation was not expected.

Molotoff Has Another Talk With Hitler

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—Soviet Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotoff held his second press conference with Adolf Hitler following a luncheon today in discussions which informed sources said were aimed at developing a long-range program of collaboration.

Planked on his right by Molotoff and on his left by the Soviet mining commissar Newossjan, the Fuehrer presided at a large oval dining table in his private apartment with 25 German and Russian guests present.

German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, with the Soviet ambassador, Alexander Schkharzetzoff, and Soviet vice-commissar of foreign affairs, V. G. Dezanosoff, at his side, faced Hitler and Molotoff across the table.

General Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German forces, Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering, Robert Ley, leader of the labor front, and Baron Friedrich Werner von der Schulenburg, ambassador to Moscow, were among the German dignitaries present.

Army and bodyguard sentries accorded the arriving guests military honors in the courtyard of the old chancellery. Hitler greeted them in the flower-bedecked reception hall and posed amid photographers' flash lights.

Molotoff spent the morning in conferences with Goering and Deputy Nazi Party Leader Rudolf Hess.

Tonight the Russian statesman and his staff will be hosts to the Nazi leaders at a banquet, returning the honors accorded to them last night by the Nazis at a state dinner.

The avenue leading from the Bellevue palace, where Molotoff is staying, to the chancellery was guarded closely by police as the Russian statesman was escorted to his second day of conferences with Nazi officials.

An unusual sight to Berliners was the number of plainclothesmen.

Storehouses Bombed
BERLIN, Nov. 13. (AP)—Approximately 150 tons of bombs were dropped on England by German warplanes yesterday during attacks in which damage was done to storehouses, railway repair shops and other "war essential" objectives in the London area, informed sources reported today.

Because of poor visibility, no air fights developed, and there were no air craft losses on either side, these sources said.

GOAL TO GO

BY W. H. PEARS

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY! Helen suggests they call the "people" to get Buck a hearing. Bill will ask the sports editor to help. Bill sends before mailing the letter. If Helen stays in his chair, remains fairly quiet, the operation may succeed. If he drives a car, calls to someone, selling cameras, chances are against him. Bill doesn't mail the letter.

CHAPTER IX

BILL MENTOR climbed the stairs to the editorial rooms of the Clarion. He asked for Pat Hurly and was shown a wisp of a man with flaming red hair.

"My name's Mentor, Mr. Hurly."

"Mentor?" He frowned. "Oh, yes, I've got it now. Buck Mentor. You're his son?"

"Yes, sir."

"Good man, Buck. Used to worship him when I was a kid. Well, what is it you want of me?"

Bill said earnestly, "I heard you mention Buck one night in the stadium. You said West would have won if Buck'd been coaching."

"Or anyone else but that idiot, Landis," Hurly growled. "Skelton and Peskin must have picked him up at a bargain counter. I was just urging those gentlemen in my column to go out this time and hire some real brains."

"Buck's got real brains," Bill said.

Hurly straightened in his chair. "So that's why you're here? Want me to push your dad for the job?"

"He scraped his red bristles. 'You're right about Buck Mentor's brains, but a coach should also have legs.'"

Bill talked then as he'd never talked before. He told Hurly about the movies, about Buck's operation, how easy it would be to finish the season, how the team would work for Buck.

"For answer," Hurly ripped the copy from his typewriter. "Get a load of tonight's Clarion, Mentor. Now scam out of here and let me get to work!"

BILL was waiting on the porch when the Clarion arrived. He unfolded it with shaking fingers and turned to Hurly's column.

It began, "WHY NOT TRY MENTOR?" And then: "This column doesn't presume to dictate to the board. It does, however, feel that Buck Mentor, a local man, should be among those considered. West-iders, why not call the president of the board and tell him what YOU think of Mentor?"

Bill dashed into the house. "Hey, Buck, get a load of this!"

Buck Mentor read slowly. When he had finished he said, "How much did you have to do with this, Bill?"

The People Speak; Buck Tells Board Members His Plans

"I talked to Hurly this morning," Bill admitted.

"Why, Bill? You know what was in that letter you mailed?"

Bill gulped. "Buck, I—I didn't mail your letter."

"You'd better tell me why, Bill. You've done a rather serious thing."

Bill said stubbornly, "Buck, I couldn't let you do it, not when there's even a small chance of your landing the job at West. Helen and I worked out a plan last night and..."

Buck listened, shaking his head. "You kids sort of took things into your own hands. May I ask how you squared yourself with Helen?"

Blushing, Bill explained about Dot.

Buck said gently, "Bill, you've been all kinds of a fool. You've hurt Helen and you've hurt me. Right now we're in a serious jam because you didn't mail that letter. But, Bill, I'd rather have things as they are, than the way I thought they were. We'll work things out some way. Right, Bill?"

HELEN WELCH came to the door after supper. Someone was trying to reach Buck on the telephone. Bill went over to take the message. When he returned his voice shook with excitement.

"That was J. Conrad Skelton, Buck. He's been swamped with calls ever since the Clarion hit the street. He wonders—Bill imitated Skelton's pompous tones—"if you'd care to talk to the board tonight?"

Buck grinned. "Pay Mr. Skelton my compliments, Bill, and tell him I shall be delighted."

Bill, with projector and films under his arm, was at the school a half hour before meeting time. He had everything set up when the first member appeared. He was good-natured Jim Bansen and he said smilingly, "Bank night, Bill?"

Julius Peskin arrived and scowled at Bill. "What do you mean, Mentor, sending your friend Peters to work for you? I—I've a good notion to..."

"You already have, Mr. Peskin," Peskin sat down, fuming, and was joined by two members Bill didn't know. Presently Skelton arrived.

Using canes, Buck entered the board room. His eyes were grave as he nodded to each member. "I'm not much of a speaker," he began with a smile. "I'm going to let the pictures talk for me. You will see the various problems that confront our team. With your permission, I'll show you how I propose to meet these problems."

Bill turned off the lights, started the projector, Buck spoke in the darkness:

"This play was in the Clayton game. The break-through occurred on the left side of our line. Notice the position of the tackle and guard. You can see how simple it was for the offensive back to slip through."

"By George, he's right!" Jim Bansen exclaimed.

BILL kept changing the films. Buck talked on steadily with quiet confidence and a complete knowledge of his subject. Bill felt a thrill of pride run through him. Buck was sure, telling them!

Bill ran the last film, turned up the lights. Jim Bansen and the two men Bill didn't know nodded approval. Skelton blinked impassively. Julius Peskin still scowled.

Skelton was the first to speak: "Your demonstration, Mentor, was impressive, if slightly theatrical. But the question which inevitably must occur to each of us is: How can you, in your present condition, coach a football squad?"

Buck said quietly, "Bill can be my legs for the rest of the season. He's familiar with the way I teach blocking and tackling. He can show the boys exactly how I want things done."

"Every man on the team loves to play football. The fault has been, not with their efforts—blocking and tackling—but with timing, use of the right play at the right time. Frankly, gentlemen, West's football team needs guidance more than anything else. I can give them that."

"If you hire me," Buck said, "I'll have my own legs by next fall." He told them about the doctor in the east.

"Suppose the operation fails?" Peskin objected. "They most always do."

"Then I'll gladly release you from your contract," Buck said. "But it won't fail."

Again Peskin bent close to Skelton, who said, "We should like to know, Mentor, how you expect to handle a large group of boys when your own son is constantly in trouble?"

Buck's fists knotted. "Bill, like anyone else his age, is liable to do foolish things. But I can assure you that he's not constantly in trouble."

Skelton said, "Thank you, Mentor. I believe that answers all our questions. Naturally, we must discuss this further. We shall inform you as soon as we have reached a decision."

Baptists Speak Mind On Defense, Drink And War

HOUSTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—The most dangerous warfare confronting mankind is not "in Europe, Asia, or Africa," J. M. Cook of Abilene, told the Baptist pastors' and laymen's conference today, "but the warfare in the soul."

Cook asserted "it is in the individual hearts where wars really begin."

The conference was held as a preliminary meeting to the Baptist general convention of Texas, which opens tonight.

Family disruption as evidenced in divorce courts and battles over wills, business greed and the warfare "for profit by producers of beverage alcohol, cigarettes and other narcotics legally or illegally manufactured and distributed" were condemned by him as "very destructive."

He declared "Yes, I favor a strong army, the biggest navy in the world, the best and largest number of war planes and tanks; but my biggest concern is that we shall have clean, sober men to use these armaments; x x x without this character of men and homes to defend, our multiplied billions spent for the greatest navy, biggest air fleet, most powerful tanks and guns in the hands of the biggest and best trained army on earth will not save us."

He said the "greed bill" of the United States—the cost of beverage alcohol, gambling, crime, and tobacco—amounted to $20,000,000 per year, compared with the cost of all education and money spent for religious work, which amounted to $3,160,000,000.

Dean John W. Cobb, dean of Wayland college at Plainview, in an address prepared for delivery at 3:05 p. m., said the one essential for proper direction of youth has been "thrown overboard by most of the educational institutions. This one essential is the proper respect for God."

"This is a black day for our youth," he said. "Seventy-five per cent of the youth of the world are engaged in war or preparing to do so."

The pastors' and laymen's conference voted last night to change its name to the Brotherhood Convention of Texas.

School Dodging Trick Waged; 'Twas Holiday

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 13 (AP)—A youngster "phoned" a radio station, introduced himself as the superintendent of schools and asked that it be announced "that because of the cold weather there will be no school today."

The announcement was made, followed by a flood of inquiries and finally a denial from school authorities.

But he had little to gain. It was

Worley, Leech Lead General Election Ticket

Tabulation of the canvass made by the county commissioners on the general election of November 5 in Gray county was completed Tuesday.

While some of the totals were changed, the results of the various races were as previously announced in The Pampa News.

Gene Worley, Democratic nominee for congressman from the 18th district, polled 5,139 votes to the Republican candidate's (Beveridge's) 353. An early count, unofficial, gave Worley 5,184. Worley polled more votes than any other candidate who had an opponent.

Democratic electors polled 4,315 votes to the Republicans' 1,217. There was one Communist ticket voted, seven prohibition.

He received one vote for judge of the supreme court, and one for U. S. senator.

In the county races, there were seven write-ins for sheriff, with G. H. Kyle, defeated in the run-off by Cal Rose, taking 28 for the biggest of the scattered votes were: R. E. Gatlin, one vote for district clerk; J. V. New, four for county clerk;

Persons Developing Diabetes Usually Develop Waistlines

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 13 (AP)—Dr. Robert F. Leob of Columbia university said today, in effect, that doctors should keep an eagle eye on the waistlines of folks in their communities as one approach to the control of diabetes.

Calling for general practitioners to campaign "against obesity," Leob told the annual postgraduate assembly sponsored by New England medical societies at Harvard.

"We know that the majority of human beings developing diabetes are obese, and we know that when over-nutrition is abolished in a community the incidence of diabetes is decreased."

C. W. Bowers, 14 votes for commissioner of precinct 1; G. W. Schaffer, 52, for commissioner of precinct 3.

E. A. Vance, two votes for justice of the peace, LeFors. In the race for constable at LeFors there were five write-ins, one a woman, Mrs. Ralph Ogden, who received four votes. H. J. Shofft was high in the list with 75. W. W. Cumberlandidge won with 343.

For Pampa constable, Earl Lewis, defeated in the run-off by Jess Hatcher, received one vote, and Slim Durham 11.

F. E. Leech, Gray county tax assessor collector, and unopposed Democratic nominee for re-election, polled more votes than the presidential and vice-presidential electors, or any other candidate on the ticket, with 5,198.

ly to the "very gallant action" of the Jervis Bay.

It said that despite "greatly inferior armament" the Jervis Bay "continued to engage the enemy after she had been severely hit and was burning furiously, and exploded after a two-hour fight."

Twenty-four ships in the convoy were reported to have reached port. Five others were reported safe and the admiralty added, "It is possible that some of the ships still missing may be safe."

"It was a sunny evening when we picked up the (German) ship on the port side at 4:50 o'clock," said one of the Jervis Bay officer survivors.

"She was a long way off, I don't know which of us saw the other first. She opened fire first, though."

"She closed to get into range, and we closed, too, leaving the convoy. We got between the enemy ship and the convoy and dropped smoke floats to screen the merchant ships from the raider."

Captain Olander of the rescue freighter said the fight that followed was "glorious," and added in halting English: "I'll never forget it."

The survivors brought back tales of heroism which ranged from their captain's persistence at his post though severely wounded to an account of a seaman who, when the Jervis Bay's flag was shot away, climbed the rigging and shellbursts to fasten a new ensign which still waved through smoke clouds as the ship took her last plunge.

"I think everybody aboard was proud as our ship tried to use the enemy," the officer related. "Our captain knew just what we were going to get, but it didn't matter."

Survivors said that while they rowed their lifeboats away the raider took after units of the scattered convoy.

"She fired on the other ships until well into the night," the officer said, "throwing star shells for illumination."

for the raider, which may be the pocket battleship Admiral Scheer or its sister, the Luetow.

Nine ships from the convoy are reported missing.

Only three ships to the huge British navy are judged by experts to be equal to the task of single-handedly catching and then destroying one of these 10,000-ton pocket battleships.

They are the 42,100-ton battle cruiser Hood and the 32,000-ton battle cruisers Renown and Repulse.

However, three small cruisers managed to concentrate last December on the Admiral Graf Spee, third of the pocket battleship class, and drive her into Montevideo harbor, where she later was scuttled by her own crew.

The British denied Italian claims that six raiding planes were shot down in the Armistice night attack on Taranto's navy yard, all but two of the bombers had returned.

The admiralty also said the British fleet was continuing to harass Italian communications in Africa, and had successfully bombarded Sidra Barran, advanced Italian base in Egypt, on the night of Nov. 9-10 and exchanged fire with Italian shore batteries. The fleet received no damage or casualties, it was said.

Another sign was the arrival of Raul Prebisch, president of the Central bank of Argentina, to open conversations with banking authorities here on the question of a solution of Argentina's exchange problem.

Vice President-elect Wallace will attend the Camacho inauguration as special representative of President Roosevelt with the rank of ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary.

The choice gave rise to some speculation whether Wallace might be destined for the role of this country's traveling "good neighbor" emissary in dealings with Latin-American nations. He speaks Spanish.

Actual recognition came in President Roosevelt's designation of Henry Wallace, the vice president-elect, as ambassador extraordinary of the United States at the general inauguration December 1.

A high government official decried Wallace's selection as "happily" since the United States "will be represented not only by a very prominent personage but by a proven friend of Latin America."

Secretary Hull called the news to Foreign Minister Eduardo Ruy and relayed it to retiring President Lazaro Cardenas. Formal diplomatic approval of Wallace was expected as a foregone conclusion.

Although General Almazan, now in the United States, said recently he would "take the oath as President of Mexico" Dec. 1, some Mexicans speculated that if he did so it would be in some place other than Mexico City.

Mexicans say they are "sick of revolutions." This and the fact that there has been no battle cry yet raised to inflame the Mexican populace to a fighting fever, informed quarters said, would place tremendous odds against any revolutionary attempt Almazan might instigate.

There was rejoicing in business circles which generally profit by the great influx of United States tourists into Mexico. In recent months the tourist trade has dwindled to practically nothing because of talk that Almazan would revolt. The tourist centers hoped recognition of Avila Camacho as meaning tourists would begin coming to Mexico immediately without waiting to see if anything happens Dec. 1.

Government quarters have emphasized repeatedly that Mexico was as peace, and that tourists were safe and welcome in Mexico.

Firemen Make First Runs Of The Month

Firemen made their first run of the month last night and their second this morning.

Last night's call, at 9 o'clock, was to 1206 East Francis avenue where a false fire alarm had caught fire, Chief Ben White said. Little damage resulted.

This morning at 8:30 o'clock the department was called to the R. W. Pollard Boiler and Welding Works, 815 West Foster avenue, where the interior of the building was a mass of flames. The fire started, Chief White said, when flames from a welding machine ignited gasoline. The fire was soon extinguished. Extent of damage has not yet been determined.

One Wisconsin hunter was found frozen in the ice of Big Muskego Lake. grant except for one reason: the city is getting so little for so great a money-making privilege.

Mr. Duncan filed the petition the first week of this month. The document contained 874 signatures, and was filed just two days short of the deadline. Had the petition not been filed by November 4 the ordinance granting the franchise would have automatically gone into effect.

After the petition was filed the commission had from 30 to 90 days to call the election as October 4 was the date of the third and final legal notice of the ordinance.

The city commission desired to hold the election before Christmas and therefore chose the 21-day limit, making the election date December 4, a little over a month from the day the petition was filed. The election, under the 30 to 90 day rule, could have been set up as late as February, 1941.

Date of the election, December 4, is 21 days distant from the first legal notice of such election, under the law that provides for 21 days notice.

Gorillas Will Play Yannigans Saturday

Harvesters Take Day Off Due To Cold

The 1940 football season for the Pampa High school Gorillas will end Saturday morning when they meet the strong Amarillo Yannigans on Butler field. Game time will be 11 o'clock.

After the game Coach Oscar Hinger will take his Gorillas to Canyon where they will witness the West Texas State-Oklahoma City U. game Saturday afternoon.

The Gorillas worked out yesterday afternoon in the gymnasium. Principal study was on assignments, both offensively and defensively, and dummy scrimmage on ground plays.

Because of the cold the Harvesters were given a day off to recover from their strenuous battle in Borger. Next game for the Harvesters will be November 21 against the Northeast High school of Oklahoma City, here. The game will be the Turkey Day clash on November 28 in Amarillo which will close the season.

Negro Football Favorites Named

ATLANTA, Nov. 13 (AP)—Wilberforce university and Morgan college, each unbeaten and untied, rank as favorites today for invitations to the Peace Blossom and Orange Blossom post-season classics of negro football.

The Peace Blossom game, in its second year, is expected to match the Ohio team with powerful but once-beaten Morris Brown in Atlanta Dec. 6. The seventh renewal of the Orange Blossom game at Orlando, Fla., likely will bring together Morgan and highly-rated Florida Agricultural and mechanical college of Tallahassee on the same date.

Florida A. and M., traditional host team for the Orange Blossom game, won over Wiley university of Marshall, Tex., last year, 22-0, while Morris Brown took the Peace Blossom inaugural from Virginia State, 13-7.

25 Boys Report For Basketball Practice

Twenty-five boys reported to Coach C. F. McWright yesterday afternoon when he issued his first call for junior high basketball prospects. That number is expected to increase five or 10 before the end of the week.

The squad will be divided within the next few days and the "A" squad will practice at 3 p. m., and the "B" squad at 4 p. m., each week day, until the Harvesters come out for practice, then the hours will be changed.

Two lettermen reported for practice yesterday. They were Charles Boyles and Clayton Dunham. Only reserve letterman from last year's squad reporting was Jimmie Berry. All other boys are new to the squad.

The Harvesters will compete in the Panhandle Junior High basketball league again this season.

Two Shoes For Two

DALLAS, Nov. 13 (AP)—T. E. (Tommy) Tompkins and R. H. Pitts each lost a leg in the World War—Tompkins his right, Pitts his left.

A long time ago they discovered they wore the same size shoe.

Yesterday Tompkins purchased a new pair and dropped by to give one for the left foot to Pitts.

Stanford Quarter Standout Among All-American Backfield Candidates

By HERB BARKER

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Putting the finger on last week's outstanding backfield performers, bidding for All-America football recognition:

The lad who makes that dazzling Stanford offense click is Quarterback Frankie Albert, a junior. In the crucial game with Washington, Albert was standout all the way and rated the orchids he got for the way he loosened up the Huskies' defense, found the weak spots and called the plays that meant the ball-game.

All-America John Kimbrough of Texas A. and M., whose fullback position was endangered by Norman Standee's brilliant play for Stanford, poured it on against the Mustangs. Jarring John was his old unstopper self against the Mustangs. Another All-American, Tommy Harmon of Michigan, was pretty well stopped on the ground by Minnesota's great defense and the slippery going, but he passed and kicked like a champion. He completed nine of 14 passes, including one for a touchdown, and booted a 43.6-yard clip. Minnesota's leading ground gainer turned up in Bruce Smith, whose 80-yard touchdown run helped him average 7.5 yards in 15 tries.

Jimmy Nelson, Alabama junior, belongs in the forefront of backfield contenders. After last week's game, Tulane players said Jimmy was the best back they had faced all year, and the Green Wave has faced some good ones, including Charlie O'Rourke of Boston College, Dick McGowan and Lloyd Cheatham of Auburn, Len Eshmont and Steve Philipowicz of Fordham, Jim Lallane of North Carolina and Ed Maness of Clemson.

Any discussion about passers ought to include Paul Christman of Missouri and John Supulista of Manhattan. Christman completed 10 of 20 against Colorado, two of them for touchdowns, and scored Missouri's other touchdown himself.

Among other backfield aces who attracted attention last week were: Landsberg, Cornell; Jones, Pitt; Martin, Oklahoma; Poliom, Kansas; Francis, Nebraska; Quick, Kansas State; Green, Iowa; Hirsch, Indiana; Stasica, Colorado; Brumley and Zander, Rice; Layden, Texas; Conster, Texas A. and M.; Johnston and Mallouf, Southern Methodist.

It'll Be Grapefruit Against Beans When These Teams Play

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 13 (AP)—It'll be beans against grapefruit when football teams of New Mexico and Arizona universities meet at Tucson, Ariz., on November 23.

Albuquerque Lions club members anted $1 each today to pay for a ton of New Mexico's "trifolios" which will be matched at game time with a load of Arizona grapefruit, waded by the Tucson Lions.

The loser donates either a ton of beans or a truckload of grapefruit to charity in the winner's city.

Baptist Detained By Japs, He Says

HONGKONG, Nov. 13 (AP)—Rex Ray, 55, of the American Southern Baptist Mission, said today upon his arrival here about the U. S. gunboat Mindanao that he had been detained six days by Japanese gendarmes at Kongmoon while enroute from Wuchow.

Ray, former resident of Amarillo, Texas, said news of his detention had been carried to Canton, 45 miles north of Kingmoon, by one of his runners, and the American consulate there had protested formally to Japanese authorities.

He said he had called on the Japanese consul general for an explanation after arriving in Canton and was told: "We are sorry."

Ray came here to arrange transportation to the United States for his wife and four children, who are living in Hongkong.

During his detention in Kongmoon, he said, he was given a room in the best hotel at the expense of the Japanese, but was forbidden to talk with any other foreigner and was told that if he attempted to leave, he would be pursued.

The Japanese eventually put him aboard a motorboat bound for Canton, Ray said.

Nondescript And Blue-Blood Reach Horse Show Finals

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—The folks running the current 65th national horse show must have hired a script writer for the finals of their coveted hunter championship today.

Eugene O'Neil and Noel Coward, working together, couldn't have put more punch and plot into it than the set-up which finds the blue-blooded ex-champion, Chatter, Chat, and the nondescript-breed $250 Irish chestnut, Shamrock, fighting it out on the show's closing day for what horsemen regard as the week's most important title.

Chatter Chat now has 14 points and Shamrock 12 in the title race. Late today, the $1,000 hunter stake will settle the thing on Madison Square Garden's tankard.

As for the military jumpers, Major Eduardo Yanez's amazing streak, which carried through two straight nights, finally was stopped last night, but it took an injury and a "red hot" U. S. army horse and rider to do it.

The Chilean's mount, Toqui, slid into the sixth jump on the second jump-off, refusing the barrier, and the heavy cross bar struck Major Yanez across both arms. Captain Franking Wing from Fort Riley, Kas., won by going through the second jump-off with only one miss, to take the international individual military championship challenge trophy.

Crude Production Increases In Texas

By EDWARD CURTIS

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 13 (AP)—Cold weather caught up with the oil industry today but some market observers were hopeful that present gasoline stocks would not be increased appreciably during winter months.

The nation's gasoline stocks now are around 80,000,000 barrels and consumption until the start of the cold had been above that of a year ago.

But the industry was said to be entering the winter season in a much better position than last year because of higher distillate and fuel oil stocks.

One marketer said refiners had shown a tendency to add only to their gasoline stocks when absolutely necessary and that many were making adjustments of sums to stills.

Crude production increased 104,250 barrels daily last week, the American Petroleum Institute reported. The increase was mainly in Texas. Demand for crude continued good in most sections, with a 15-cent increase posted for Pennsylvania crude.

In the field the Oil and Gas Journal reported 590 completions for the week, compared with 597 a week ago, and a 527 a year ago.

Oklahoma got a Wilcox sand pool opener in Seminole county and the Dill pool of Okfuskee county was extended northeast. . . . ## Maid Hung Up Three Times On Roosevelt

CHICAGO, Nov. 13 (AP)—Out in suburban Glenoee they're telling about the house maid who hung up, not once, but three times on telephone calls from President Roosevelt.

Following the death recently of Governor Henry Horner, a group of his friends, including Senator Scott W. Lucas (D-Ill.) gathered at the Glenoee home of a Horner relative where the senator placed a call to Washington to inform the President of the governor's death.

While the group was at dinner the maid answered the phone, heard the operator say: "President Roosevelt calling."

"Listen, I can't be bothered with jokes now," snapped the maid, slamming the receiver. In fact, she hung it up three times before the call got through.

Murderess Escapes Jail Second Time

ODESSA, Nov. 13 (AP)—Black-haired Isabelle Messner, convicted murderess of New Jersey, last night escaped the Ector county jail for the second time in eight months.

The young woman, who has constantly said she would die before she goes to prison, slipped from her cell on the third floor and made a dangerous descent of the courthouse wall.

Her cell door was found standing open today.

Convicted last year of slaying Buford Armstrong, a baseball player, the woman fled the jail on April 7 but was caught in St. Louis later. She is under a three-year sentence, awaiting a transfer agent to take her to state prison.

The Canadian province of Alberta has a population of half a million persons living on 101,000 farms.

Arkansas Boy Named Champion Farmer Of U. S. At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 13 (AP)—A mild-mannered, 17-year-old youth from the cotton country of Arkansas won today the highest honor the Future Farmers of America and its 230,000 members could bestow upon him—the title of 1940 star farmer of America.

Gerald Reyenga of Emmet, Ark., was awarded the title at the Future Farmers annual convention, held in conjunction with the American Royal Livestock and Horse Show, with the honor went $500 awarded by the Weekly Kansas City Star.

For Gerald, it climaxed four years of sharp interest in vocational agricultural work at his home town high school and the days he had spent on the $20-acre home place where he was reared.

Gerald, a farmer at heart, began herding cotton and milking cows when he was 6 years old. Since the death of his father last year, the responsibility for managing his mother's farm has been his.

National Open To Be At Fort Worth

CHICAGO, Nov. 13 (AP)—Big time golf, cradled in the East, appears headed for a lively explorative excursion into the great open spaces of the Southwest, producer of some of the game's brightest stars.

The 1941 National Open championship is set for June 5-7 at Fort Worth, Texas, and the annual convention of the Professional Golfers' association in session here brought the announcement that the Western Open will be played Jan. 31-Feb. 2 at Phoenix, Ariz.

Never before, several veteran professionals pointed out today, has the National Open been played in the Southwest. To a man they believe that this section, training place of such stars as Byron Nelson, Ralph Guldahl, Jimmy Demaret, Ben Hogan and Dick Metz, will rally behind the 1941 Open for a record-smashing attendance figure.

Veteran pros believe that should the Southwest fans come out in droves to see favorite sons perform in their home balliwick, other big tournaments will move their locales westward.

While the Colonial club of Fort Worth will be a real championship test, the average course in the Southwest is conceded to be shorter and easier than those in the East.

M'Cormick Named National's Most Valuable Player

By JUDSON BAILEY

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Frank McCormick, sturdy first baseman for the world champion Cincinnati Reds, was the National league's most valuable player in 1940, a committee for the Baseball Writers' Association of America decided today.

The tall, good-looking youngster from New York, who joined the Reds three years ago and has played in each of their games since, didn't have his best season, but it was a good one, and vital to the Reds.

He hit 309 and drove in 127 runs, as compared with a 1939 batting average of .322 and 128 runs batted in.

Last year, he was rated fourth in the annual balloting by 24 veteran baseball writers, three from each National league city. This year he was first, getting 16 of the 24 votes for first place and 274 points, 69 more than Johnny Mize, slugging first sacker of the St. Louis Cardinals, who also was second in 1939.

The reason for the rise of McCormick in contradiction of the figures in the record books is easily apparent. Last year, the Reds captured the pennant on marvelous pitching, but this year their hurling was less effective, and they depended on tight defensive play and the ability to punch across runs at the right time.

This was where McCormick figured—the best defensive first baseman in the league, second only to Mize in runs batted in, the leader in doubles and tied for the lead in total hits. He gave the Reds their pennant punch.

This is the order in which some of the "also-rans" finished: Fitzsimmons, 84 points; Dixie Walker, Brooklyn, 71; Harry Danning, New York, 64; Stanley Hack, Chicago, 61; Ernie Lombard, Cincinnati, 58; Bill Werber, Cincinnati, 56; John Cooney, Boston, 51; Dolph Camilli, Brooklyn, 30.

Propaganda, Pressure And Persuasive

Are you on a committee? If you aren't, you're an unusual American these days. For there are so many committees operating in the United States at the moment that it seems as though every person in the country must be a member of one or more. Committees, that is, trying to persuade American people to do this or that in regard to the country's policies toward other nations.

Most of them are putting out propaganda. Don't recoil. We got so gun shy of that word during the World War that it still has a disreputable odor to us. Propaganda, the source and purpose of which is known and open, is not propaganda in the disreputable sense the word has acquired. The arguments by both the National Democratic and Republican Committees during the presidential campaign were propaganda in the literal sense of the word. But their source and purpose was known to everyone, and their regularly-issued material was not propaganda in the evil sense.

So with the deluge of material that is being issued on foreign policy. Much of it comes frankly from known groups who frankly advocate a certain course. It is propaganda in the sense that it aims at conviction leading to action, but it is not propaganda in the sinister sense.

Here is a committee to "Defend America by Defending the Allies." With 700 local branches and scores of thousands of members this group begins to exercise real power in molding public opinion.

Here is a committee "For Non-Participation in Japanese Aggression."

Here is an "America First Committee," directly opposed to the first group named.

Here are committees to aid the Chinese, the Japanese, the French, the Poles, Scandinavian, and the people of almost every nationality of stricken Europe. Nearly all these committees are organized and run by native American citizens. They constitute a problem quite different from that which was attacked in forcing agents of foreign governments to register.

Yet they exercise their influence (and some are now becoming large enough to be real pressure groups) on our relations with other countries.

Democratic policies ought to be determined after hearing all the arguments. These groups are advancing the arguments on the basis of which we will decide. But it is likely that never before has so great a galaxy of pressure groups, committees and groups clamored for the American ear.

That ear wants to be more delicately tuned than ever before.

Behind The News

By BRUCE CATTON

The Pampa News Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Nobody is trying quite as hard to figure out just what the election meant as are officials of the Department of Agriculture.

On the face of the returns, New Deal farm policy took a wallop in the eye. Henry Wallace's own state of Iowa went decisively Republican. Throughout the midwest the farm belt followed suit. States like Illinois and Ohio were saved for Roosevelt by the city vote.

Judged by any ordinary standards, then, a sharp revision of the farm policy, specifically the AAA policy of indirect control of crop reduction, would seem to be in order.

Oddly enough, there is developing a good deal of sentiment in the Agriculture Department in favor of making the AAA program stiffer instead of milder.

Various explanations for the loss of the farm vote are offered.

One group in the department is engaged in painstaking, precinct-by-precinct analysis of the farm belt vote. The argument of this group is that it was the small-town voter rather than the farmer himself who swung the rural areas to Willkie. The farmer, by this argument, is still for the Wallace program.

Another group in the department ignores this argument and admits the midwestern farmer has come unscathed on AAA. It argues that the midwestern farmers are relatively the most prosperous in the country, and that they just can't be persuaded to like measures made necessary by farm poverty in other sections.

Both groups say the election proved the farm program popular with some farmers—those in New England, for instance. The closeness of the vote in Maine is laid to the farmer's liking for AAA. It is pointed out that P. D. E.'s majority in several New England states swelled rather than diminished when belated rural returns were counted.

CONSIDER RETURN TO DIRECT CONTROLS Quitting across all lines of argument, there is a growing belief in Washington that more stringent crop controls are in order.

A return to the direct controls of the first, Supreme-Court-invalidated triple-A program is seriously considered. This is that the nation still has tremendous carry-overs in crops like wheat, corn and cotton and that the export market continues to shrink. Hence, it is argued, only a return to sure-fire means of making direct payments to the farmer in return for a reduction of production can meet the situation.

Whether such a program will actually get proposed to Congress this winter is open to a good deal of question. For one thing, it would be certain to raise a storm of opposition—severe enough, possibly, to upset the good relations which the White House ardently wishes to have with Capitol Hill. For another, it would go directly against those numerous New Dealers who feel that the mid-western vote was a plebiscite against the general New Deal farm program and that some modification is imperative.

Common Ground

By E. C. BOILES

This column is intended to be an satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the Golden Rule: right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

BEING BRIBED WITHOUT KNOWING IT

People are often bribed without even knowing they are being bribed. Probably a great number of the beneficiaries of the government who receive checks for not producing, or old age pensions, or jobs where they are paid more than they produce, do not really realize that they are being bribed. Elections, where millions of people receive wealth without an equal amount in return, are not true democratic elections. It is always this method that destroys majority rule democracy.

The great mass of people do not understand the necessity of capital. Therefore, they vote for more and more subsidies and more and more taking from one and giving to another.

They do not reduce it to simple, natural law—that men will not sow unless they expect to reap; neither will men invest and take risks unless they expect to be rewarded for their success. But when the people say, through their agents, that if they are successful they will have a large part of their rewards taken from them, they simply do not sow.

Even in private life, people are often bribed without knowing it. I remember an elderly railroad engineer who had saved all his life and invested in a loan company at Columbus, Ohio that advertised they paid 8 percent on their preferred and never missed a dividend. They put this gentleman, who was highly respected in his community in a distant part of the State, as one of the counsellors and paid him $10 a meeting. He really thought he was being paid for his wisdom and understanding. But he was really being paid for his influence in the community and did not know it. Every time they had a prospect in the territory, they always referred him to this gentleman. He did not even understand enough about business to know that the executive officers were drawing down exorbitant salaries, like $25,000 a year. And when the company went broke, as it was bound to do with the exorbitant salaries, the old gentleman was heartbroken. He never even thought of investigating this part of the usual route of robbing stockholders.

It is important that people know when they are being bribed, either in private or in public life.

CONFESSING A SIN

As Socrates says, I have sinned. I have talked carelessly.

A year or so ago, I advocated a graduated tax on consumption. By graduated, I meant the man who consumed a larger amount should pay a higher rate per unit of consumption; that is, if one man consumed $10,000 worth of goods and services and another $1,000, he would pay more than 10 times as much. I now do not believe that this graduation is practical because it would give some group undue and arbitrary power and tend to retard production and thus lower the standard of living. And anything that lowers the standard of living of all the people is wrong. And anything that tends to constantly raise the standard of living of all the people is right. If we cannot constantly raise the standard of living of those who try, we are no better than animals. Their standard of living is stationary.

Please do not misunderstand me. I do not believe in taxing anybody who adds to the tools of the world; that is, adds to the capital of the world. It seems to me that the theory of taxing production, instead of consumption, tends to retard production.

Why should a man be taxed for adding to the tax duplicate? Certainly he should pay property tax for the service which the government renders him in having the use and enjoyment of his property. If he makes it grow, he should not have an additional tax, which is all that the income tax is. He should not have the additional tax because the property tax takes care of all the additional expenses he incurs for the government by adding to the wealth of the world. He should not be taxed twice. Any double tax is a discrimination and any discrimination leads to tyranny, classes and is thus undemocratic and un-Christian.

It is of the utmost importance that people come to understand the fundamental principles of taxation. The kind of a taxing system we have in the United States has as much to do as any other single thing in the prosperity and progress we make. The system we have is the one that is invariably used by every country that is in decay. And when I opposed and now oppose the system, I should have had a suggestion that would be better. I believe a uniform tax on consumption is the best form of taxation that will promote the greatest happiness and prosperity over a period of years. I am sorry, of course, that I advocated the graduated part of the consumption tax.

Grandiose propositions such as dumping the farm surplus on the Latins through some continent-wide variation of the stamp plan have been advanced. They're still in the talk stage, but the talking is being done by some important people. Until it jells, no guess on the future of the domestic farm program is much good.

KEEP THE ENGLISH OUT IRELAND CAN DEFEND ITSELF

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 13.—Everybody on the set of "The Wagons Roll at Night" is being very nonchalant about having nine large lions parked around the sound stage. Eddie Albert, who plays their trainer in the picture, has been buying and feeding them ice cream, which the lions are crazy about.

And when there were scenes to be filmed in the arena with five of the cats, nobody seemed to get nervous. Director Ray Enright, Script Clerk Wanda Sybold, the camera crew, a couple of grips and Eddie Albert went right in with the trainer, whose only instructions were "Keep still and don't try to pet my dollings."

Hollywood people just seem to assume that everything they're asked to do is perfectly safe and that all reasonable precautions have been taken. I went to a cocktail party at John Hewlett's house one time and there was an old tiger there who went around rubbing against people's legs and purring like a twin-engine bomber. The only person who paid him much attention was an actress who kept trying to coax him to lap a Martini.

ONLY TRAINER IS WORRIED

When Paramount was making "King of the Jungle," Buster Crabbe led Jackie the lion around the lot on a rope leash. One noon he and the trainer took Jackie into the cafe, put him up at their table and fed him a quart of ice cream. Only reaction from the lunch crowd was "Well, look at the cute lion over there!"

Only person who's worrying about the lions now at Warners' is Louis Roth, the man who trained them and the only person they'll obey. Of course, the safety of players and crew is his responsibility but what's really bothering the veteran animal man is that his cats' discipline is going to suffer.

"Dese moofle peopel, dey make so much troubles for me!" he complains. "Wan girl has de bag for knitting and pokes it troo de bars. 'Course de lion grab it an' tear it to pieces, and den de girl is mad. She mighta loo on arm. So silly! You tease a lion, an' he's not so nice." "So I speak in real quiet," five are completely movie-broken and pay no attention to anything except Roth. His special pet is Tony, which just finished a role in "Chad Hanna," and got an 18-year check during it. One scene called for Roth, doubling for Comedian Roscoe Ates, to get into the cage and lie down with the lion. Roth had to wear a pink flannel nightshirt, striped stockings, a wig and a false nose like Ates'. "So I speak in real quiet," said Roth, "and Tony's asleep. But when I touch him he turn his head and—whoosh—he almost go trough de top of de cage nearby, and he carry on something terrible."

"It's that damn pink nightshirt an' de stockings. I yank up de nightshirt an' show Tony my pants. I

ROOKIES WILL LEARN HOW TO CONCEAL THEMSELVES FROM ENEMIES IN FIELD

One of a series taking a drafted Uncle Sam's new army.

BY MILTON BRONNER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—John Q. Citizen, drafted into the army through the selective service machinery, will in the first 13 weeks of intensive training be taught that one of the most important things for a soldier in time of battle is how to protect himself as much as possible from the enemy's fire.

So he is taught the difference between cover and concealment. There are features of the terrain which he happens to be which would give him partial or complete cover from the fire of the enemy. There are others which would give only concealment from the enemy's observation. This latter is of use only when and if the enemy does not know he is there.

John will learn a lot of things about ground which he never suspected before. He will be taught to see how slight depressions in a grassy knoll may give him cover against rifle fire. He will learn how the color of the ground may make his small or even invisible target.

His instructors will show him how to avoid making his body stand out sharp against a sky-line. To do so would be to invite death or serious injury from rifle fire. He will learn how to add to his concealment by wearing something white in a snow landscape or something sand colored in a sandy soil.

He will also get a certain amount of may reading. John in private life may be an automobilist and may pride himself on his reading of road maps in strange country. But that is child's play compared to army work.

The maps he will study will be those giving the contour of a country—its hills, streams, woods and meadows. A map of that kind is a good for soldiers advancing on an enemy position. It is especially valuable for scouts or for dismounted cavalry.

CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES

Here are five questions to test your knowledge of the amendments to the Constitution and the method of amendment.

1. An amendment to the Constitution, to become law, must be ratified by how many states?

2. How many amendments to the Constitution are there?

3. Can you describe, in a few words, the most recent amendment to the Constitution?

4. Three amendments were the direct result of the Civil War. Can you tell what each of them provided?

5. An amendment to the Constitution is pending—that is, it has been approved by the House and Senate but has not been ratified by enough states to make it law. What is it?

TEX'S TOPICS

WINTER really took a nip at the Texas Panhandle this morning. . . When we stepped out of the house we learned it was exactly 7 above zero with about as perfect sausage- and-pancake weather as you could find anywhere. . . There is nothing like pancakes and sausage on a cold winter morning. . . We were thrown for a slight loop while having our, however, by a fellow who came in and sat down almost opposite to order and leisurely drink a bottle of ice cold coke. . . Of all things on a morning like that. . .

Miss Jean Barnes, formerly of Pampa and now with the Cabot company in Boston, is attending both Harvard university and Boston college in her spare time. . . A custom Miss Barnes finds hard to assimilate is the one so very prevalent in the East of making social engagements anywhere from 10 days to three weeks in advance. . . This is found to be very confusing as well as uncertain because so much can happen between the time of the invitation and the actual evening's engagement. . . Incidentally, "evening" begins at 12 o'clock noon here in the South. . . But in Boston and all of the East it does not go into effect until 6 p. m.

WE were invited to a duck dinner last night and the invitation said nothing about bringing your own duck. . . In fact, when the dinner was over it was so full of duck I felt like a quack. . . This was at Herman Krieger's home. . . He and I sat down with two roast ducks on the table in front of us, not to mention all the accessories that had been prepared by his mother, who is alluring to duck from the edibility standpoint and would not eat it under any consideration. . . No doubt you have seen a magician make a duck disappear. . . Well, you haven't seen anything until you have seen a radio man and a newspaper man make two ducks disappear.

Incidentally, while we were "blacking out" these two ducks, there were a couple of good local radio programs on the air. . . Maybe you heard them. . . We don't know their names, but some high school actors and actresses did a fine job on a radio skit. . . Particularly were we impressed with the work of the girl in the difficult role which called for the German accent. . . This was followed by the regular piano recital on which were featured three voices, also high school girls, which blend well and are highly adaptable to the microphone. . . Pampa has a lot of fine talent if it only can be drawn out.

A NEW YORK feminine auto driver became excited and stepped on the accelerator when she intended to step on the brake. As a result three persons, two of them children, were killed. And the two children were on the sidewalk at the time. Has seemed to me for some time automobile manufacturers should make an effort to separate or distinguish the accelerator and the brake in a way that would make accidents such as this impossible.

EIGHT YEARS Pettengill

Democratic Congressman From INDIANA

IS WAR NEXT? The tumult and the shouting of the campaign have now died. What men say now is not for party. It is for country.

Many men have said that as soon as the election was over we will be in the war within a few months. Both of the leading candidates promised not to send our armed force abroad. But that promise was broken at the moment it was made. President Roosevelt delivered his message to one of the belligerents. Mr. Willkie approved this act although he questioned its method, and its secrecy. Those destroyers were part of our armed might. If 50 warships can be transferred to help fight a war the entire fleet, or any part of it, can be also. And may be.

It is a quibble to say that we are not going to participate in the war. We are participating and without the consent of Congress. Those destroyers will engage in war. Therefore Mr. Roosevelt has made war. He sent them overseas to fight. That was his only purpose. Neither Mr. Roosevelt nor Mr. Willkie were entirely honest with one of the belligerents. Mr. Willkie approved this act although he questioned its method, and its secrecy. Those destroyers were part of our armed might. If 50 warships can be transferred to help fight a war the entire fleet, or any part of it, can be also. And may be.

Moreover, if after giving a belated part of our navy or air force we find that is not enough, will we stop then and there? Will we get half way into a war and then pull out, thus acquiring none of the benefits but all of the enmities of a half fight. . . and full coward? Neither candidate answered that question. Neither honestly faced the ultimate issue. . . The fact is that the millions of our people who are determined to not fight overseas had no real champion in the campaign just closed. Both of the leading candidates were and are interventionists in fact. But they hid the fact behind a mask of words. . . What resource is left to these millions of Americans? Just one. Congress. Your newly elected congressman is now home in your district. Before he leaves for Washington, tell him to his face, at his office, at his home, by telephone, or by letter that he promised not to go farther into this war than we are ready and that you expect him to keep that pledge. . . These are solemn days. And 1944 is a long way off. Will we have a free government four years hence? That will depend on whether we are still capable of being all-American or half-English or half-Chinese. . . It has been said that you can sell the American people anything at all if you only wrap it in the flag. We are ready for slogans. In half a century we have not followed a slogan without regret. Forty years ago "manifest destiny" and "Remember the Maine" carried us to the Philippines, although no member of the Court of Inquiry found the slightest evidence that the Spanish government blew up the Maine. A few years ago we agreed to withdraw from the Philippines and leave "manifest destiny" to its fate. If God is good, we shall by 1946 have gotten out of the Philippines without a major war to defend prestige. . . In 1917 we went hell bent to "make the world safe for democracy". As soon as the guns grew cool we decided we made another terrible blunder. . . On November 11, 1918, Marshal Foch said, "The armies will stand at ease. The war has been adjourned for 20 years." Will new slogans now send the sons of the A. E. F. to confess to the youth of 1960 that we are completely incapable of being Americans? "Armistice" is a poor name for Monday next. It should be "Never Again Day". Let us ask ourselves some questions. . . Shall we continue to meddle in every quarrel throughout the world? Or shall we return to the Monroe Doctrine. Shall we pledge our lives and fortunes for all time to defend the imperialism of any foreign power outside the Americas? Have not the struggles for land, raw materials and seaports gone on since time began? Have they not gone on wholly irrespective of the kind of governments involved, whether absolute monarchies or republics? Did not we, a republic, take land by armed force from Englishmen, Indians, Mexicans and Spaniards? . . . Is there any reason to believe that Germany, Italy and Japan would not see what growing nations have always sought if they were also republics and France and England were dictators? The fact is that the greatest colonial expansion of France, England, and the United States took place while all three were constitutional democracies. . . Let us tell the whole cockeyed world on Monday next that we are fed up on slogans and will fight only if we see what our own vital interests are directly at stake. . . SAMUEL B. PETTINGILL
