Miss Tayerle And Ralph West Wed Here This Week

White chrysanthemums and green fernery formed the background for the Armistice Day wedding of Miss Mary Elaine Tayerle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. W. Tayerle, 1301 E. 7th Avenue, Amarillo, and Ralph West of Pampa, which took place in Pampa Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock in the Holy Souls Catholic church.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. William Stack, pastor of the Pampa church, with only relatives and close friends present.

The bride was attired in a dress of viking blue with a corsage of miniature shattered mums. She carried a white prayer book, Miss Rosella Tayerle, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a dress of solid blue with black accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. She carried a black prayer book.

Carl Boyle of Pampa served as best man to the groom.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party and guests attended a wedding breakfast at the Schneider hotel. A bridal table decorated with white sweet peas and roses with green ferns was arranged, centered with a large white wedding cake.

Those attending from Amarillo were the bride's parents, sisters, Adele and Rosella, and a friend, John Oden.

Mrs. West is a graduate of St. Mary's Academy and has been employed up to the time of her marriage by Southwestern Public Service company in Amarillo. Mr. West, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. West, of Pampa, is associated with his father in the oil drilling business at Pampa.

The young couple will be at home in Pampa after December 1.

Texas Baptists Mike Budget

HOUSTON, Nov. 15. (AP)—Texas Baptists launched a program today that will mean gradually increasing their annual budget until it reaches $1,500,000 in the next five years.

This was voted yesterday at the general convention which also selected Abilene for the 1941 meeting. The dates will be Nov. 11-14.

Dr. E. S. James of Vernon will be convention preacher, with J. F. Wheason of Denton as alternate. Hardin-Simmons university of Abilene will be absorbed by the association, taking it over from the Steeplewater association at the latter's request.

Under the terms of the agreement, the convention will not assume the university's $43,000 indebtedness.

The convention also voted to accelerate and expand its labors in the light of world conditions.

Russell C. White of Bryan, delivering the Home Mission report, said receipts for this work were showing an increase, with the mission board receiving $544,288 last year, and forecast, with like continued response on the part of Southern Baptists, the objective of a debtless mission board by 1945.

Rev. William H. Andrew of Bryan in delivering the report on Southern Baptist Foreign Missions pointed out that the total income in 1939-40 was $1,492,231.

Mortals Will Be Subject Of Sermon

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 17.

The Golden Text is: "He that loveth his life shall lose it; and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal" (John 12:25).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be, but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is" (1 John 3:2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man in the likeness of God as revealed in Science cannot help being immortal" (page 81).

Texas Turkeys Move To Eastern Markets

(By The Associated Press)

Texas turkeys from a Thanksgiving crop of excellent quality moved in large numbers today toward next week's festive tables.

The street market for northern and eastern Thanksgiving sales closed at most Texas shipping centers Wednesday, with prices on a strong tone. At Cuero there was a raise of a full cent on reports of heavy losses in northern flocks through wintry weather.

A cent higher than a year ago, the Cuero market was 11 1/2 cents for No. 1 toms and 13 1/2 cents for No. 1 hens. Prices at Brownwood just before the market close were the same as in 1939. 11 cents for No. 1 toms and 13 for No. 1 hens. Brady reported that the 11 and 13 cent quotations there were about two cents under last year on the same date. At Plainview dealers paid 15 cents for young hens, 12 cents for young toms, and three cents under those prices for old birds.

Cuero buyers estimated 10 per cent of the total Dewitt county crop had moved within the past four days and that cold, dry weather had aided the market by reducing weight losses in handling of birds. The county expected to show a five to ten per cent gain in yield over 1939.

When the market closed ten carloads had been shipped from Brownwood, eleven from Brady, and 5 1/2 from Plainview.

Cunningham Electrocutted At McAlester

By FRANCIS E. BARDEN

MCALISTER, Okla., Nov. 15. (AP)—Roger Cunningham was electrocuted early today after a dramatic last ditch legal fight failed to save him from paying the supreme penalty for arranging his socialist wife, Eudora.

Calmly, the 34-year-old Cunningham walked unaided to the scarred old electric chair, shook his head when asked if he had any last words, and sat down to die.

The legal current was applied at 12:47 a. m.

Envoys Fred Goddard of the Salvation Army and John D. Seal, prison chaplain, were with Cunningham during his final minutes in the death cell.

"He admitted he did it but said he didn't know why," Goddard said. "He said he'd rather not discuss it any more."

The former FHA housing inspector killed his wife with a scarf, buried her body in a sewer ditch at Oklahoma City, March 6, 1939, then pleaded insanity.

He went silently through the last grim routine of the condemned on his last afternoon, his attorney, Herbert K. Hyde, appeared dramatically with two alienists.

Hyde was denied permission for them to examine Cunningham and he hurried to Pittsburgh county district court. There an impassioned plea failed to win him writs which would have forced a sanity test.

The attorney telegraphed the criminal court of appeals with the same result. That left Cunningham's fate in the hands of Gov. Leon C. Phillips, who had said he would not interfere—that his "every constitutional right has been protected and guarded every step of the way."

Cunningham did not testify at his trial, but he had spoken of marital discord after confessing the killing. The confession came after 19 days of mystery during which the pretty Eudora Cunningham was widely sought. Cunningham, who had issued a plea for her to come home, finally broke down and drew a diagram of the muddy sewer ditch where her body lay.

Three hours before he was to die, Cunningham requested Hyde to ask Mrs. Joel P. Stokes, the victim's mother, to forgive him.

Dies Accumulates Evidence On Nazi And Italian Agents

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15. (AP)—Evidence bearing on alleged activities of German and Italian agents in the United States was given a No. 1 spot today on the list of subject matter before the Dies committee on un-American activities.

With the state department interposing no objections, Chairman Dies (D-Tex.) announced that the committee would resume its work next Monday or Tuesday, centering attention on the operation of German and Italian consular and other agents in this country.

Dies did not reach a decision whether the hearings would be open to the public.

Make The Most Of The Draft

Nobody is likely to urge that the military training camps now being established be turned into schools. The primary job of these young men is to learn to be soldiers capable of defending their country. Nevertheless it seems likely that a great deal of good can be accomplished by certain training courses only indirectly connected with national defense.

Imaginary Barriers

Jascha Heifetz, the violinist, said a very sensible thing the other day. He was just back from a 25,000-mile concert trip through South America. "It is plain silly to say that we can't understand our Latin-American neighbors, or that they can't understand us," he said.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—One of the big things keeping Nelson Rockefeller busy these days is the fact that Latin Americans can't quite forget the U. S. marines and dollar diplomacy. Saddled with the lengthy title of co-ordinator for the Defense Commission of Cultural and Commercial Relations with Latin America, young Rockefeller has become chief salesman, field marshal and kink-remover for the whole good neighbor policy.

CO-ORDINATES VARIED ACTIVITIES

In the commercial field, Rockefeller has to act as a sort of liaison man. Commerce Department is trying to help U. S. exporters increase their sales in South America. Agriculture is helping the South Americans develop new commodities—such as rubber—for sale to the United States. State Department and Import-Export Bank experts are puzzling about dollar exchange, about getting capital for new industries and public improvements in the southern continent and about disposal of commodities.

STRAIGHT FROM THE SHOULDER

Rockefeller frankly admits he doesn't know precisely what will be done in these various fields. First job, he says, is to figure out just what sort of stuff the South Americans themselves want. He may send out some sort of poll, or questionnaires, to find out. "We're way behind some other countries in this field, and we can't catch up in a month, or even in a year," he says.

Common Ground

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

DEBTS AND STOCK PRICES

It is interesting to observe that when the Secretary of the Treasury advised the American people that we should increase the debt limit by $20,000,000,000 that the stocks increased in selling price $5.77. Of course, the cause of the increase was not that the value of the stocks were going to be increased but the buyers evidently believed it was a forerunner of inflation.

WILLKIE AND NEW DEAL POST

It has been rumored that Willkie will be offered a post in President Roosevelt's cabinet. If he is offered this post, I can see no reason why he should not accept it, since he has said he believes in most of the things which the New Deal advocates. He also has repeatedly said he can furnish employment for all the workers.

The Nation's Press

Mr. Willkie is a fine man, undoubtedly, and he made a heroic campaign, but as a politician he is a wash-out. Almost the first declarations of his campaign lost him the election. This campaign was not fought and not intended to be fought on domestic issues.

BARBS

But the longing for lost freedom is something that is not so easily removed as a pair of tonsils. It lies down deep in man, out of reach of the surgeon's knife—or even of the bayonet. Barber's bill found in Deerfield, Mass., shows shaves cost 50 cents in 1756. Let's quit laughing at the boys on our family albums.

The War Today

This daily feature, conducted by Dewitt MacKenzie, is being written by Fred Wandersmidt while MacKenzie is taking a brief vacation.

The obvious story between the meeting of the German and Italian high commands in Innsbruck today is that Mussolini has asked Hitler for help against the Greeks.

That he needs it urgently there is no doubt. The Greeks are reported to be advancing into Albania on a 100-mile front, and there is a very real threat that they may reach southern Albania.

British warships and planes have hampered Italian supplies and reinforcements in the Strait of Otranto; half of Italy's capital ships are reported to be mated and waterlogged in the naval base of Taranto, victims of British aerial torpedoes.

That Hitler will help his Axis partner must be taken for granted, not because Hitler especially wants to rescue Il Duce from the Greeks but because the Axis is slipping badly in the Mediterranean.

It is in the Mediterranean and Near East that this war may be won or lost. Here are the places to watch for an Axis counter-stroke:

- 1. A German march through Bulgaria and possibly southern Yugoslavia on Salonika, to cut off the Greek border on or over the Albanian border.
2. A German dash to Albania through extreme difficulties of distance and terrain, and does not seem feasible.
3. Tremendous reinforcements of the Italians in Albania by German troops proceeding through Italy and across the Adriatic. The British navy and airforce would have plenty to say about this, and they would talk with the students unless they can be drawn away, which leads to:
4. The possibility of the long-expected German assault on Gibraltar, through docile Spain, not only to draw British naval and air power away from Greece and Italy but to seal the Mediterranean and permit the Axis to launch their offensives on Suez.

There is more than conjecture to support the imminence of an Axis smash at Gibraltar. Ramon Serrano Suner, the No. 1 Axis man in Spain, has gone to Paris to see the Germans. Spain already has grabbed Tangier, the international zone across the strait from the rock.

Units of the French fleet are reported to have left their Toulon, southern France, base for Africa. These units are under the immediate control of Admiral Jean Darlan, the French naval minister, who, with Vice-Premier Pierre Laval, long has been reported as itching to use them against the British.

There is reason to suspect that Laval and Darlan are in agreement on a secret agreement with the Germans to utilize these ships whenever the Germans called for them. Actually, they might not have to fire a shot in order to immobilize a considerable section of the British fleet at a time when British warships would be needed desperately elsewhere.

Lake Created By Palo Duro Slide

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS CANYON, Nov. 15.—A landslide of surprising proportions in the Palo Duro canyon recently stopped a small stream and created a lake seven hundred yards long.

It was discovered by S. Skyes, who investigated the reason for drying up of the creek on his place below the slide. The location is in Ceta Glen, near the Methodist encampment.

Prof. Wm. F. Read, instructor in geology at West Texas State college, studied the site and declared it was "just a landslide." A slice of a 300-foot wall, probably fifty feet thick in places, slipped into the ravine and "bulged" the soft clay at the bottom. This bulging puzzled many persons and led to much speculation. The stream has cut through the slide.

Prof. Read said the clay foundation upon which the slide rested had become water-filled and that in expanding it had started the slide. He said other slides in the same vicinity were likely. The movement was similar to thousands of others which mark the erosion during formation of the canyon.

Prof. Read warned that many formations in the canyons are unstable and should be approached with some caution.

Advance In Drilling Practices Revealed

CHICAGO, Nov. 15. (AP)—New advances in the study of the problems of the oil industry were reported at divisional meetings of the 21st annual convention of the American Petroleum Institute today.

Application of modern instrument techniques to the continuous drilling of oil wells, with equipment for recording and analysis operated at the wells, promises to make possible the more successful completion of many wells, J. T. Hayward of the Barnard Research Corporation of Tulsa, Okla., reported to the institute's division of production.

Hayward said that through the use of newly-perfected instruments, minute traces of the character of the underground formations penetrated by the drill can be detected in the drill cuttings carried to the surface in the drilling mud which circulates down through the drill pipe and back to the surface.

Great Tenor Sings 'Home On Range' At Chicago's Aida

CHICAGO, Nov. 15. (AP)—Chicago opera goes this season as getting the informality and innovations that were promised them.

Last night they came to the City Opera house for a performance of Verdi's "Aida" and went home to the strains of "Home on the Range."

It was all in line with the Chicago Opera company's program for revitalized opera—with excessive formality and stiffness conspicuous by the absence.

John Charles Thomas served up "Home on the Range" as an encore after playing the role of Amorus, king of Ethiopia, in the opera. Thomas, frowning looking in his leopard skin costume, sang the homespun American ballad superbly and earned a prolonged ovation.

Last night's performance also marked the beginning of "business man's opera." Each Wednesday evening has been set aside for tired business men who enjoy opera but hate to dress for it.

Will Aggies Be Able To Hold Off Fighting Owls?

DALLAS, Nov. 15 (AP)—Only two steps removed from a likely Rose Bowl nod, a second unbeaten season and a history-making repeat performance as titlist of the Southeastern conference, the Texas Aggies tomorrow start the leap.

Shout, surprising Rice Institute stands before them first. Some 20,000 are due to stream into College Station for the collision.

Rice is formidable—a good, fundamentally sound football team. As one was perfectly described last week-end that all doubts about their greatness were dispelled.

The Aggies shook Southern Methodist, a great team itself, with such power last week-end that all doubts about their greatness were dispelled.

He was a bull on the loose. He knocked men down and out with sheer power. He is quite ready to go again, as are the rest of his mates.

Not an injury was reported from the Cadet camp.

Meanwhile, Rice, still very impressive in beating off Arkansas, 14-7, has tackle trouble.

Two erstwhile starters, Bill Heard and Bob Smith, are reported ready to play but not in the pink. It will be more than interesting to see Rice's grand Bob Brumley, a fullback who has pulled games from the fire for the Owls, duel with Kimbrough.

The Aggies' line of concrete, the seven boys who weigh in above 200 pounds and have a season record of allowing something like 23 yards per game on enemy rushing plays, will get a workout. Rice runs with the ball. Passes are in their play bag, but Jess Neely has built a solid, smashing ground game.

In seven games, the Aggies have piled up 1819 yards while Rice, in six—and six tough ones—has managed for 1388 yards.

Only Tulane has whipped the Owls in a season that has already been acclaimed a terrific success by the homefolk.

Second ranking game of the day brings Texas and Texas Christian together in a homecoming game at Fort Worth. This is the battle of the crippled. Texas is wobbling with Jack Crain, Johnny Gill, Noble Doss, all fine backs, under the weather.

It was even doubtful that Crain would play. But TCU had its troubles also. Fullback Frank Kring had a head injury and Tackles Woodrow Adams, Emis Kerlee and Darrell Palmer, the first line boys, were far from being ready.

The Christians carefully kept the doubtfuls out of the Detroit game last week and are the "sleepers" of the week. It's TCU, after a riot.

Brused Southern Methodist starts all over again at Dallas against Arkansas, and should win their second conference bout. Only Guard Hoyle Simes is missing after the Aggie game.

Wrecked at the tackle positions, and still looking for an effective offense, Baylor's lagging Bruins will have a rough afternoon at Waco when Rocky Koch, the old Baylor immortal, brings in his Tulsa Golden Hurricane. It's a good bet that Koch will saddle the homefolk with another setback for Baylor.

The Hurricane has been blowing hard since the Aggies sent it into a calm, 41-6.

Wake Forest Game At Tech Holds West Texas Interest

LUBBOCK, Tex., Nov. 15—The feverish red center of the West Texas football thermometer is bubbling at the top this week as the Tech's annual home-coming and the undefeated Texas Red Raiders prepare for the biggest intersectional game in their history here Saturday afternoon against the powered Wake Forest Deacons.

It will be Tech's annual home-coming and the Raiders will be seeking their seventh consecutive victory.

The rugged, bruising Wake Forest Deacons, one of the top teams in the Southern conference, will arrive here Friday morning and workout that afternoon on the Tech gridiron. Naturally, the center of interest on the Wake Forest team will be Jolin' John Pulanski and Tony Galovich, not only two of the best halfbacks in the Southern conference but two of the best in these United States.

Jolin' John Pulanski has carried the mail 118 times this year and netted 555-yards or an average of 4.7 per try. Tony Galovich has carried the ball 98 times and netted 617 yards or an average of 6.3 yards per try. Galovich leads the Deacons in scoring with nine touchdowns and seven conversions for 61-points. Pulanski is next with six touchdowns for 36-points.

In front of these two scintillating halfbacks will be one of the stoutest lines in the hundred year history of Wake Forest. A forward wall that boasts such giants as Carl Givier, John Jett, Louis Trunzo, Pat Preston and John Pendergast names that have been in the headlines throughout the current football campaign.

The Red Raiders, realizing they face the biggest and hardest game in history of the college, hope to counter-balance the Wake Forest power with one of the most versatile attacks in the country. In winning six straight games the Red Raiders have accounted for 28 touchdowns, 15 conversions and one safety for 185-points. Tech is no one man team as proven by the fact that sixteen of the Raiders have scored one or more points this season. Thirteen have scored one or more touchdowns.

Stanford-Oregon State: The Indians had better be on their toes all the way or their perfect record will go by the boards here. Stanford, but not by much.

North Carolina-Duke: Form rarely means much in this one but injuries have played hob with Carolina. We'll take Duke.

Dartmouth-Cornell: Having got a lot of bad football out of its system last week, Cornell ought to roll again and get this vote.

Pitt-Nebraska: There are few better defensive clubs than the Huskers, Nebraska.

Notre Dame-Iowa: Nile Kinnick was the reason the Hawkeyes whipped Notre Dame last year. There's no Kinnick at Iowa City this time. Notre Dame.

Georgia Tech-Alabama: Tech's on the skids and this game won't help much. The ballot is cast for Jimmy Nelson and Alabama.

Tennessee-Virginia: David and Goliath but the result should be reversed. Tennessee, easily.

Southern Methodist-Arkansas: Pretty close but stringing with Southern Methodist.

Baylor-Tulsa: Not many clubs can take Tulsa by the faint-hearted nod goes to Baylor.

Texas Christian-Texas: The choice is Texas.

Washington-Southern California: The Trojans have mislaid the winning combination. Washington.

California-Oregon: California gets better all the time and rates this vote.

U. C. L. A.-Washington State: Apparently UCLA can't get going. Washington State.

Oklahoma-Missouri: Figures very close. Out of the hat, Missouri.

Princeton-Yale: Princeton.

Penn-Army: Penn.

Harvard-Brown: Not much to choose. The coin says Harvard.

Syracuse-Colgate: Syracuse.

Columbia-Navy: Navy has the power but no team can afford to make a mistake against Columbia. Navy.

West Virginia-Kentucky: Kentucky.

Penn State-New York University: Ditto Penn State.

George Washington-Kansas: George Washington.

Holy Cross-Temple: Temple.

Illinois-Ohio State: No need to look past Ohio State.

Wisconsin-Indiana: Would prefer to dodge this Indiana.

Marquette-Michigan State: One guess is as good as another. Michigan State.

Auburn-Louisiana State: The Plainsmen are hot. Auburn.

Tulane-Georgia: Fireworks can be expected. Tulane.

Texas Tech-Wake Forest: Probably close. Taking Tech solely because it will be playing at home.

Catholic-Hardin-Simmons: Catholic.

Groom To Meet Booker In Six-Man Struggle

GROOM, Nov. 15—For the second time in as many years, Groom will meet Booker for the district championship game in six-man football.

This game promises to be the best six-man game ever played at Groom. The Tigers have never lost a six-man game and are pointing toward their second district championship. Game time will be 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Booker, winner of the north section of the district, has been steadily improving throughout the season.

They have not lost a game this season and have defeated such teams as Lipscomb, Gruver, Stratford, Texline, Morse, and some good teams out of Oklahoma and Kansas by large scores.

The fans at Booker are so sure that they are going to stop the Tigers that they have made repeated offers to take the game to Booker. The last offer was refused in hope of bringing the Tiger's best game of the season to a homecoming crowd. Mr. Stevens, superintendent of Booker schools reports that Booker is moving to Groom en-masse for the game.

The Groom boys are, perhaps, in the best condition of the season. They are ready to give the Klowas a real battle for the district crown.

The first seven players are playing their last season for the Black and Scarlet. These boys are: Captains Angel and Kuehler; Linemen Whaley and Crowell; and Backs Ebel Clark, Black, and Townsend. The reserves, minus G. C. Whately, Jr. will be ready to take over in event of need.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (AP)—The weekly attempt to march through the football list (hoping to escape too many offside penalties):

Michigan-Northwestern: Add this one up any way you want to and it still looks razor-close. Each beaten once by a one-point margin, and by Minnesota, the nation's current No. 1 team. There's some doubt whether Tommy Harmon will be in perfect shape and this vote for Michigan is predicated on the assumption that he will be.

Boston College-Georgetown: Two of the biggest teams in the country collide in a duel of unbeaten, untied forces. Nothing but the coin can help and its falls . . . Georgetown.

Minnesota-Purdue: The Gophers are over the highest hurdles in a back-breaking schedule and are due for a let-down, which is simply preliminary to casting the customary vote for Minnesota.

Rice-Texas A. and M.: It seems the Aggies are just as good as they have to be and that's plenty good. Texas A. and M.

Stanford-Oregon State: The Indians had better be on their toes all the way or their perfect record will go by the boards here. Stanford, but not by much.

North Carolina-Duke: Form rarely means much in this one but injuries have played hob with Carolina. We'll take Duke.

Crowell Ace's Record Puts John Kimbrough's In Shade

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

CROWELL, Nov. 14 (AP)—As an end, Junior Haseloff is a star halfback—and vice versa.

The critics rave about John Kimbrough of the Texas Aggies with his 449 yards, but, after all, Kimbrough only has to play fullback and besides it required 120 tries to roll up that yardage.

Haseloff holds down two positions for Crowell high school.

In the first place he's the greatest wingman in this school's history.

In the second place he is the top average ground gainer of Texas schoolboy football—in which about 20,000 youngsters participate.

In the third place he needed only 41 tries to make 437 yards, just one-third of Kimbrough's carry and only 12 yards short of his total.

While he isn't doing the blocking and tackling, the 170-pound Haseloff whirls to the other end of an end-around play.

In addition to his average of almost 11 yards per try, he has caught eight passes for 139 yards and has scored 36 points, which would be a mighty good season even for a halfback.

His average gain is the highest for any player Crowell ever has produced—and remember Crowell gave to football one Dick Todd, who scored more than 600 points in his high school career.

Today's list with the Washington Redskins of the National professional league and is tied for the top scoring honors.

Haseloff's value to the team can be gauged only in his ground gaining ability but by his durability. In his school's nine games he has played every quarter.

Last night, as Crowell rolled over Iowa, Park 18-8, Haseloff carried the ball six times, gaining 47 yards and losing three. He had runs of 10, 18 and 12 yards, scored one touchdown on a 9-yard pass and caught four passes for a total of 59 yards.

Quite a boy!

Kangaroos Defeat McMurry 19 To 7

SHERMAN, Nov. 5 (AP)—The Austin college Kangaroos defeated McMurry 19-7 here last night in a conference game.

It was Austin college's third victory in the circuit.

Ringgold scored one touchdown and Floyd two with the latter kicking one extra point.

Mandy netted 67 yards for McMurry's runner.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (AP)—Here are a flock of rumors we're trying to check as we reel to press—Davy O'Brien will quit pro football and become a G-man if the FBI approves his application. . . . Gabby Hartnett is slated for a post with the Giants, either as coach or boss farmer at Jersey City. . . . Stanford scouted the Texas Aggies last week, which may mean a lot or nothing at all.

An eastern university is after Vic Hanson, former Syracuse coach. . . . None of these guaranteed for more than 30 minutes.

Today's Guess Star Harry Martinez, New Orleans states: "If I had to lose my shirt picking an underdog this week it would be Iowa to ruin Notre Dame's undefeated record. . . . Any team that can hold Buff Jones' Nebraska Cornhuskers to a 6-14 score can play for my dough."

Sports Cocktail Friszie Zivko ought to take Al Davis tonight unless he gets careless and runs into one. A soccer like Davis is always dangerous. . . . Add iron men: Dick Weber, Syracuse guard from Toledo, played the full 60 minutes in the last three games and went 87 minutes in a preceding tilt, or 237 minutes out of a possible 240.

Why does Phillips 66 Poly Gas start cold motors faster?

Because it is higher test . . . more volatile! Not merely higher test than other gasolines which sell at the same price, but actually higher test than most premium gasolines which sell for 2¢ more per gallon.

IMPORTANT NOTE:—This remarkable fact was proved by scientific laboratory study of 303 separate samples of 19 different premium gasolines. The Volatility Number (high test rating) of Phillips 66 Poly Gas was 50 per cent higher than the average Volatility Number of the premium price motor fuels.

Is volatility important? Here is what the impartial Petroleum Marketer Magazine says, August 1940 issue, page 9:

" . . . the successful operation of a gasoline in an automobile engine depends more upon volatility than upon any other factor."

So when you want faster cold-weather starting, remember that Phillips 66 Poly Gas is higher test, more volatile, than others. Loaded with extra instant-firing elements. Ready to vaporize more quickly. Thus giving faster warm-up, and more mileage because you save the gasoline usually wasted by excessive use of the choke with low test motor fuel.

Why don't you have to pay extra for this extra high test? Because Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline. Get a load of lively power and faster starting, by stopping for a trial tankful at any Orange and Black 66 Shield.

GOAL TO GO

BY W. H. PEARS

YESTERDAY, Bill Droway and Helen anxiously await word from the Board on Buck's job. Bill's head and Dot come to the store, then Skelton and Dot. Bill's Board is meeting Buck's application. A small crowd, through the crowd, Dot Skelton's secretary, Bill hits the hands in a trying smile, Droway's secretary and Skelton changes his mind.

East vs. West—Buck Stakes All On One Big Game

CHAPTER XI "HIT 'em harder, fellows," Buck Mentor called. "Keep your eyes up. Okay, that's good. Cool off slowly."

The squad dog-trotted off the practice field. Buck Mentor relaxed on the bench, a cane in each hand. He frowned, spoke to Bill at his side:

"Going to be tough," he said. "It's hard to believe that some of these boys have played a whole season and still don't know how to time a play."

"Only five days till the big game with East," Bill said anxiously. "Think you can do it, Buck?"

"Losing your nerve?" he grinned. "Heck, no!" Bill retorted. "Look what you've done already, Buck. The fellows are stepping into the plays like they never did before."

"I can't cram them full of new plays now," Buck said. "It's only confuse them."

"Think of it, Buck!" Bill's eyes glowed. "Being able to walk again..."

Buck dropped his hand to Bill's knee. "Thanks to you, fellow. As usual, you carried the mail."

Bill laughed because the football term was so appropriate. "I carried it all right," he admitted. "I've still got that letter!" Bill sobered. "But, Buck, I wish I could really carry the mail for you."

Regret showed in Buck Mentor's deep-set eyes. "Bill, what do you think it would mean to me to have you out there playing next Saturday?"

"Not even for one quarter?" "No, Bill. Young Peskin is the only boy on the squad who hasn't honestly earned his position. And we can't yank him. Not because I'm afraid of Julius Peskin, but because it would look like spite work."

"Okay, Buck, you're the boss." "All week Buck toiled with the team. On Friday evening he gave them a final chalk talk.

When it was over, Bill headed for the Welch front porch. Bundled in sweaters, he and Helen sat on the top step and talked. Bill was neither gloomy nor optimistic in his predictions.

"East is tough," Bill said. "They haven't lost a game this season. We've only won one. But we've got the spirit now, and that makes a difference. One of their backfield men, Laurie, is a hunk of greased lightning. If we can stop him..."

"We've got to, Bill!" Helen's words made pale vapor on the brittle air. "Too much depends on winning."

Bill nodded, said slowly, "You know, if Buck gets a steady job I can sort of make plans."

"What kind of plans, Bill?" "Oh, just plans," he said vaguely. "You know, like people always make."

Helen tilted her chin. "Oh, well, if you want to be mysterious..." "Heck, no, it isn't that, Helen. It's just hard for a guy to say..."

"Why?" she murmured. "It's a long way ahead," Bill said doggedly. "Too far, I guess, to mention."

She turned her back on him. "Then it can't be very important. If it was, you'd want to tell me."

"All right," Bill said desperately. "I just thought that you and I—well, after I go to college..."

"What, Bill?" "Oh, turning Jacob, Helen, don't you catch on?"

She turned then, smiling. She had been smiling all the time over her embarrassment. "Of course, I catch on, Bill." She squeezed his hand. "And I think you have the swiftest plans of anyone I know."

Bill got up. "Well, it's better go in so I won't disturb Buck."

Helen stood up, too, and lifted her lips to him. Bill kissed her, finding her mouth cool and sweet. "You're a darn swell girl, Helen," he said huskily.

SATURDAY was perfect for football. The thermometer hung just above freezing. With business at a standstill, City Stadium became the hub of all activity. Even Julius Peskin closed his store for the afternoon and took advantage of the box at his disposal.

Long before game time, the stadium was filled and people begged for standing room. West's scarlet band paraded about the field behind its high-stepping drum major. They made numerous formations, ending up before East's stands in a big E. Cheers cut crisply across the clear winter day.

Down in West's dressing room, the noise was a faint murmur. Thirty-odd tight-jawed youngsters wriggled into uniform. Buck Mentor hobbled among them, lending a hand here and there, but saying little. Bill stayed by his side. He had insisted on wearing Buck's old uniform, saying, "It may bring us luck."

Buck Mentor looked at the clock. "I'm not giving you a pep talk, fellows. You don't need it. You've proved that to me this week. You've done a swell job, and you'll go out there and keep it up. You're going in against a tough club. All I ask of you is to keep fighting, no matter how bad things look. Better get out now and limber up."

One by one they filed past him, and Bill asked each player a word of encouragement. He dropped into his chair and Bill wheeled him up the runway onto the field.

"They're good boys, Bill," he said proudly. "They'll give East one whole of a battle all the way!"

THE first quarter verified Buck's prediction. The West boys "mashed in on every play. They bottled up Laurie, the star of East's running attack. He made a few short gains and one of 15 yards, but he didn't break loose for any sensational runs.

East, however, was equally efficient on the defensive. Time after time Hart, Calvert, and Peskin carried the ball and were hurried back. The quarter ended with no score. At the half the two teams were still battling each other to a standstill.

Buck sent his boys out for the third quarter with a few words of quiet praise. It was on the second play that Laurie broke loose. On a fake reverse he cleared West's first-line defense, snaked away from a charging tackle and by sheer speed outran the defensive fullback. He got to the 10-yard line before West's safety man caught him.

"We want a touchdown! We want a touchdown!" Bill Mentor chanted. Buck hunched forward on the bench. Two power plays netted six yards, then no gain, and last down with goal to go. Eleven hard young bodies smashed at the West line, piled up in a heap. The referee's arms raised. Bedlam broke loose and the score was 6 to 0 against West.

Longest Fence In World Urged To Bar Rustlers And Ticks

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 15 (AP)—Cattle-wise Texans today discussed erection of a fence, probably the longest in the world, stretching the entire length of the Texas-Mexican border from El Paso to Brownsville, as a barrier against rustlers and fever ticks.

Several score cattlemen and ranch owners from the border territory, members of the U. S. Boundary commission, the Federal Immigration service, the Texas Livestock commission, Will Tucker, executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission, and Robert Lee Bobbitt of the Texas Highway commission, talked over the problem here.

The fence, they said, is needed to keep tick-infested cattle from crossing the Rio Grande from Mexico and infecting American livestock, and also to hamper the activities of cattle and horse rustlers from across the border.

Also in attendance were Representatives Richard Kleberg of Corpus Christi and Milton West of Brownsville.

Presiding over the conference was A. E. Gates of Laredo.

Support of the U. S. Boundary commission was promised by C. H. Almsworth, member from El Paso, who said that the commission had control over the necessary right-of-way, and would allow the fence to be built along it.

Dr. J. H. Cooper, district supervisor of tick eradication of the Bureau of Animal Industry, department of agriculture, outlined on a large aerial map the route of the proposed barrier.

The fence would not follow exactly the contour of the Rio Grande, which in many instances is too winding, but would always be within several miles of the river.

In some of the more thickly populated areas, Dr. Cooper said, it would be necessary to have locked gates with a cattle-guard every half mile. Owners of the property on which the gates were located would be responsible for cattle passing through, he said.

A single examination is not enough for healthy eyes. Even if glasses be fitted, they should be changed occasionally.
