Australian Bombers And Planes Arrive

Balance Of Air Power Believed In Britain's Favor

By C. YATES McDANIEL—SINGAPORE, Feb. 19 (AP)—The fighting strength of Britain's Singapore base was reinforced today by thousands of Australians and by such great numbers of bombers and fighting planes that neutral observers believed the balance of air power in south-eastern Asia had turned in Britain's favor.

The arrival of the Australians made the Malay Peninsula a veritable powerhouse of military energy and increased expressions of official, press and popular confidence that the empire now was ready to meet any threat of an extension of the war to the South Pacific.

The Australians came completely equipped to reinforce British, Indian and Malay troops guarding the great base. Malay's volunteer and civil defense units also have been completely mobilized and are in training to support the regiments manning the defenses.

Chinese residents who form Malay's largest and most important racial minority are organizing to help in protecting the country. An air defense program is being vigorously pushed ahead in all parts and centers of population. Bomb blast shelters are installed to protect important buildings in Singapore, and a plan is being perfected to disperse the unessential population to the nearby countryside in the event of an emergency. Hundreds of shelters are being built in the hilly areas of central and northern Malaya.

Japanese observers in Tokyo said the Australian expedition was another indication that Britain was attempting to create a crisis in the far east. In Shanghai a Japanese army spokesman said the Australian arrival was "a belligerent action" aimed at bringing pressure on Thailand and French Indo-China with Japan in bringing a new order to the far east. This spokesman said it might prevent success of the Tokyo peace conference, in which Japan is mediating between Thailand and French Indo-China.

(Unconfirmed reports reached Saigon that two Japanese flotillas were in the Gulf of Siam, the body of water lying between Indo-China, Thailand and the Malay Peninsula. One was said to be off the mouth of the Tenne Nam river, leading to Bangkok, the other south of the Thai island of Koh Chang, on the eastern side of the gulf near the Thailand-Indo-China border.

(Bangkok lent some support to these reports, telling of present or imminent visits there of four Japanese destroyers. At least three Japanese cruisers are known to have been in Indo-China waters in the last few days.)

City Concerned Over $29,333 In Delinquent Taxes

Like any business, the city has its troubles with delinquency. Delinquent taxes occupied a large part of the city commission's time at its meeting Tuesday afternoon. The commission scanned delinquent tax sheets totaling $29,333.14, about half of the total amount. This sum represented delinquent taxes, plus 6 per cent interest, on property assessed in 1939 and prior years, and not including Cohen, Keister, and Wilcox additions.

An order was passed providing for the election of these taxes by March 31, end of the fiscal year. If not paid by that date, the delinquent list is then to be turned over to an attorney for collection. He is to add the statutory fee for his services to the amount of taxes due.

However, the city is still open until March 31 for the liquidation of delinquent taxes or for arrangements to be made for their payment.

Exclusive of interest charges, the amount due the city on delinquent taxes on the city rolls for 1940 or prior, totals $76,717.09.

ASCAP Meets Federal Terms, To Pay Big Fine

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—The directors of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers today agreed to a consent decree providing for payment of $24,000 in fines, thus ending the federal government's anti-trust action against the organization.

Although ASCAP officials refused to comment, it was learned that the government had agreed to dismiss the criminal action now pending in federal court at Milwaukee, Wis., and to substitute a superseding civil action here.

To this, under the plan, ASCAP would plead nolo contendere, and the consent decree would be entered—probably within the next two weeks.

In anticipation of the board's approval of the consent decree, the agreement would be submitted for ratification, was called for tomorrow night.

The principal terms of the proposed consent decree, a responsible source disclosed, were:

ASCAP to pay a $5,000 fine and 19 directors individual fines of $1,000 each.

The exclusive agency provisions of ASCAP to be modified to permit a member to license any of his works to any individual or company; ASCAP also to retain licensing power.

No member however, to license his works to Broadcast Music, Inc., an opposing organization set up by the broadcasters at the beginning of this year, when the nation's music war started.

All money received by the individual member licensing his work is to be paid to ASCAP, to go into its general fund and be dispensed under rules of the society.

Membership qualifications to be lowered so that any individual having one song, regularly published, might be eligible. Existing rules call for a minimum of five songs.

House Passes Truck Load Limit Bill

AUSTIN, Feb. 19 (AP)—While opponents cried "steamroller," the house today quickly passed to the senate a highly controversial bill to triple the motor truck load limit.

The bill, under which maximum weight of truck and load would be 35,000 pounds, had been passed to final reading only 18 hours before.

When the bill was reached in its regular order, backers immediately put on "the previous question," which means that no debate is permitted. With fees powerless to say or do anything the bill was passed, 77 to 69.

Moves to boost the truck load limit have appeared at every regular legislative session in recent years but always have been defeated.

Democracies Must Hang Together Or Separately Says Tom Connally

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Senator Connally (D-Tex.), pleading for national unity in support of the administration's British aid bill, told the senate today that the democracies of the world "must all hang together or they shall hang separately."

The tall, heavy-browed Texan opened the third day of senate debate on the legislation with the assertion that opponents of the bill had engaged in "specious" arguments with the charge that the so-called lease lend measure would make President Roosevelt a "dictator."

Describing the European war as "this death struggle of democracy against ruthless tyranny," Connally said the United States could not afford to be indifferent to the fate of those nations fighting the Axis powers.

"In foreign affairs," Connally declared, "America should face the world as a united people. In these high and important transactions we ought to prepare a solid front. The democracies must all hang together or they shall hang separately."

"Our own material interests, our prestige before the world and our own domestic tranquility require that we meet this titanic issue with a single voice and a single purpose. America must play the part of America. It must not fail."

Citing Nazi statements about establishment of a new world order, Connally said it was his belief that the Axis powers of Germany, Italy and Japan hoped to dominate the world.

"This compact of aggression and conquest," he declared, "is an armed threat to the security of the United States, Great Britain, with superb gallantry, in a solemn pledge, with fate, is pouring out the blood, not alone of her soldiers, but of her civilian population in stemming the tide of world dominion."

To help Britain, he said, the "lease-lend bill proposes to furnish

War Flashes

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 19 (AP)—The strategically important Ethiopian village of Najbara, about 150 miles northwest of Addis Ababa, has been captured by the British along with many prisoners, general headquarters announced today.

The town, 140 miles inside Ethiopia, lies directly south of Lake Tana. Between Najbara and Addis Ababa, the capital, is Gogjam province, where Ethiopian patriots defeated the Italians five years ago, are aiding the British with harassing movements against their Fascist conquerors.

Nazis Speed Supplies Across Yugoslavia

War fever mounted sharply in the Far East and the Balkans today, threatening new major explosions at any moment.

In the Orient, Japan accused Britain of committing "a belligerent act" as thousands of newly-arrived Australian troops filed into defense posts on the Malay peninsula to reinforce the empire's naval base at Singapore.

In the Balkans, long lines of sealed railway cars were reported speeding German war supplies across Yugoslavia en route to Bulgaria—a gateway for a possible Nazi invasion of Greece.

Dispatches from Belgrade said Germany's Axis partner, Italy, was apparently throwing all available reserves into the conflict against Greece in Albania, and a Greek spokesman declared Italian commanders were ordering counterattacks "with complete disregard of bloodshed" without gaining "an inch of ground."

From these dispatches, it appeared that Mussolini's Fascist legions were making a final desperate attempt to turn the tide alone before Germany makes her expected strike with the arrival of spring.

In Shanghai, Major Kunio Akiyama, official spokesman of the Japanese military forces in China, asserted the arrival of Australian troops at Singapore "cannot be interpreted as a gesture contributing to peace in the Far East," but other quarters declared this was Britain's answer to increasing Japanese pressure in the South Pacific.

Across the adjacent Gulf of Siam in French Indo-China, the Japanese are reported to have more than 13,000 troops—far beyond the quota France formally permitted.

Unconfirmed reports reaching Saigon, French Indo-China, said two Japanese fleets were in the Gulf of Siam between southern Indo-China and Malaya—one of them anchored off Bangkok, Thailand.

Earlier, the Thai government announced the Japanese destroyer Yugure was taking on supplies at the mouth of the Bangkok river, and that two other destroyers were expected there. The announcement said the Japanese had asked permission for the visits and thanked Thailand for facilities granted another Japanese destroyer already supplied at the port.

The Australians who disembarked yesterday at Singapore after a 3,000-mile trip which Britain's China fleet commander termed a demonstration "of the power given by British command of the sea," reinforced an already formidable concentration of British, Indian and Malay troops guarding Singapore.

Their officers said the Australians—the size of their force not disclosed—were equipped fully for front line service. Large quantities of artillery and motorized equipment were unloaded from the big gray liners which brought the troops.

On the other side of the world, in Europe, trainloads of German war material were reported moving across Yugoslavia toward Bulgaria amid predictions in Balkan diplomatic circles that Greece would be attacked by German troops from Bulgaria, unless she talked terms quickly with Italy to settle the fighting in Albania.

German observation and photographic planes were said to have been flying deep into Greece from Bulgaria for several days.

In Albania, the pace of battle was stepped up.

Military observers in Yugoslavia said the Greeks apparently had seen the writing on the wall and were striking hard in an effort to bring

Strike Goes Into Fifth Week Today

William S. Knudsen told a house committee in Washington today that he expected settlement of the Albas-Chalmers strike at Milwaukee by tomorrow.

He did not give the reasons for his belief. Representatives of the management and the CIO-UAW at Milwaukee went back to conferences to settle the month-old deadlock.

On the whole matter of labor difficulties in defense industries, Knudsen said that what delays had occurred had not kept "the job of production" from proceeding fairly well.

Knudsen remarked to the congressmen, without elaboration, that he thought we had (the Albas-Chalmers strike) settled Saturday night, but they thought up another one on the way home.

The dispute, which has kept 9,000 workmen away from their machines and choked off production on $45,000,000 worth of defense orders, had seemed on the verge of settlement two days ago.

But union men and company officials placed different interpretations on a key clause of a truce agreement worked out at Washington by William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman, co-directors of the office of production management.

Albas-Chalmers officials declared that the union interpreted the clause as a "maintenance of membership agreement" under which current union members would be subject to discipline or discharge if they failed to pay their dues.

Earlier, the Thai government announced the Japanese destroyer Yugure was taking on supplies at the mouth of the Bangkok river, and that two other destroyers were expected there.

The announcement said the Japanese had asked permission for the visits and thanked Thailand for facilities granted another Japanese destroyer already supplied at the port.

City Hires Engineer And Adds Two Clerks

Pampa hired a city engineer, added two clerks to the police department and re-aligned the shifts in that branch of the city government, by action of the city commission at its regular meeting yesterday afternoon.

Richard T. Pepin is the new engineer. He succeeds Oran J. Payne, who recently was transferred from the position of city building inspector to water department superintendent.

As city engineer Pepin will have a variety of duties. For the city he will be in charge of all Works Projects administration paving and other jobs, serve as building and electrical inspector, do drafting, and bring all city maps up to date.

The last-named duty alone will require a considerable part of his

CAA Training School To Be Operated Here

Application of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce for a non-college Civil Aeronautics Administration training school for Pampa was approved in Washington today, according to word received by Jimmy Dodge, president of the Jaycees. The course will be conducted in conjunction with the Pampa Independent School district.

One hundred persons in Pampa and nearby communities have made application to take the ground school course, necessary for flight instruction. Deadline for making application for the ground school course has been set for Saturday night. Forms may be secured from President Dodge at the Pampa Bus Terminal.

The ground school course will be sponsored by the Pampa school system. An instructor, with a CAA ground school instructor rating will be appointed by the school. He will be paid by the government.

Anyone over 18 years of age is eligible to take the ground school course but only young men and young women between the ages of 19 and 25, inclusive, are eligible for a scholarship which entitles them to a free flight instruction course. One out of every 10 persons taking the ground school course is selected for a scholarship. However, firms or business houses can purchase flight scholarships at a nominal charge and for each scholarship purchased, the CAA will give an additional one free.

Persons planning to try for scholarships should have a physical examination. Others do not need the examination until prior to taking the flight course, at a cost yet to be set. Only present cost will be $2.45 for text books and a small charge made by the school board to defray expenses of lights, janitor service, etc.

Many young women have signed to take the ground school course and many of them plan to try for a scholarship. The scholarships are presented to the persons making the best grades in the ground school.

'Gas Buggies' Quite A Problem In 1908

BOSTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Those new-fangled "gas buggies" were quite a problem back in 1908.

Arnold H. V. Lyman, traffic engineer of the New Jersey motor vehicle department, said in a prepared address today at the 17th annual convention of the National Safety Council that the national safety council has quoted the Nebraska petroleum industry committee as listing the following rules as in vogue that year:

"On discovering an approaching car, the automobilist must stop off his side and cover his machine with a tarpaulin painted to correspond with the scenery.

"In case a horse will not pass an automobile, notwithstanding the scenic tarpaulin, the automobilist will take his machine apart as rapidly as possible and conceal the parts in the grass.

"Automobiles must be seasonably painted; that is, so that they merge with the environment of the winter. They must be green in the spring, golden in the summer, red in the autumn and white in the winter.

Duncan Condition Serious
Condition of J. N. Duncan was still critical this afternoon following a restless night. Mr. Duncan suffered a heart attack Sunday at his home on North Ballard street.

Observance Of World Day Of Prayer Planned By Council Of Church Women

Plans were made for the World Day of Prayer at a meeting of the executive board of the Pampa Council of Church Women in the home of Mrs. M. Pearce Tuesday morning. Mrs. F. E. Leech, president of the council, opened the meeting with the devotional from Matthew 6, stressing the theme of the World Day of Prayer, "Thy Kingdom Come—On Earth."

After the business of the council was completed, the Rev. W. M. Pearce, chairman of the annual census of the Ministerial Alliance, outlined the tentative plans for taking the census this year.

Mrs. Pearce, chairman of the Bible in Life area, discussed plans for the World Day of Prayer on Feb. 28. This year's observance of the day will begin with a service of prayer and meditation in the First Baptist church at 10:30 o'clock and will be followed by the usual paper sack luncheon and an address at noon.

For more than 25 years this World Day of Prayer has followed the course of the sun around the earth with women in 50 countries dropping their usual household and business tasks to devote a quiet half day to prayer. The same printed program is translated into all of their languages and dialects so that everyone may know the one theme for their united thoughts.

The truly moving quality in such a day of prayer lies in the fact that even in this world crisis there are millions of women reaching out toward the one power and the one force strong enough to bind the world together. Over-looking all national lines, all racial lines, all battle lines, they will pray together, "Thy Kingdom Come—On Earth."

Present at the meeting yesterday in addition to Mrs. Leech and Mrs. Pearce, were Mrs. E. L. Buzaristi, Council secretary; Mrs. Ora Wagner, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Hill, county issues chairman; Mrs. W. J. Kinzer, Christian Home and Family area chairman; Mrs. George F. Alton, Foreign Relations area chairman; Mrs. J. G. Teeters, representing the First Baptist church; Mrs. P. R. Gilchrist and Mrs. Emory Noblitt, First Christian; Mrs. Hol Wagner, St. Matthews Episcopal; Mrs. H. J. Davis, First Methodist; Mrs. William Dixon, First Presbyterian; Mrs. Eddie Gray, Nazarene; and Mrs. E. N. Franklin, McCulloch Memorial.

Theresia Oney, Ralph Garrison, Mary Recently. Announcement has been made of the marriage of Theresia Oney and Ralph Garrison which was solemnized Thursday evening, February 13, in the home of the officiating minister, the Rev. T. D. Sumrall.

Following the ceremony was Mrs. John Schulz, sister of the bridegroom. The bride was dressed in beige with black accessories.

Mrs. Garrison is the daughter of Mrs. Lola Medford. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Garrison of Neoma.

Public Invited To Hear A. A. U. W. Speaker Tuesday

Jeff H. Williams, Chickasha, Okla., lawyer, who is widely known as a humorist and orator, will be the speaker at the annual Founders' Day dinner of the American Association of University Women next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Schneider hotel.

Recent speaking engagements have carried Mr. Williams to Montana, Wyoming, Kansas, and Missouri, in addition to points nearer home.

When he has spoken at closed meetings, people have voiced the regret that everyone could not have an opportunity to hear such an entertaining and inspiring speaker.

Because of Mr. Williams' crowded schedule, the A. A. U. W. therefore is inviting the public to attend the Founders' Day dinner and hear Mr. Williams speak. Reservations can be made by calling Mrs. Aubrey L. Steele at 425J, or Mrs. Hol Wagner at 1135.

Christian Churches To Participate In Dinner Tonight. All of the Christian churches around the world will participate in Brotherhood dinner tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

It's purpose is to create a feeling of bond of brotherhood among the churches. Each program is to be a similar one in all the churches, that is, the same order of service and responses. Greetings from various churches will be read.

The Rev. K. L. Messenger of Canyon will speak at the local church on "The Fellowship of a World Church."

This dinner has become a very popular occasion among the Christian churches. Last year over 250 attended the dinner, and fully that many are expected this year.

NEW "WITH BOLERO" FASHION

This demure little lady, taking the air with her dachshund, shows you the spring 1941 version of that favorite style for girls—the frock with bolero that serves as a little suit. Too made with broad shoulders, basque-pointed, belting waist, and flaring skirt, it has exactly the lines most becoming to growing girls between the sizes of 6 and 14.

The frock of this design (No. 8882) is a sufficiently smart unto itself, as you see from the small sketch in the corner. It makes up charmingly in a combination of checked and plain material, as pictured, in a combination of print and plain—or all one color. Wool crepe, flannel, jersey, and school cottons (gingham, linen, percale) are smart for this, little fashion.

Pattern No. 8882 is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10, 12, 14 years. Size 8 requires 2 1/2 yards of 39-inch material for dress and bolero without nap, and 3/4 yard contrast.

For a PATTERN of this attractive model send 15c IN COIN, YOUR NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER, and SIZE to The Pampa News Today's Pattern Service, 241 W. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill.

Send, right this minute, for a copy of the new Pattern book! It's a brilliant fashion parade of the best Spring styles, in designs that you can easily make at home! Everything you want—from home frocks to dressy clothes, sports outfits, lingerie, and adorable children's clothes.

Blue Bonnet Club Has Annual Lunch

Special To The NEWS MOBBETIE, Feb. 19.—The general theme of the Blue Bonnet Club's annual luncheon, held Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. French Bristow with the assistance of Mrs. Ralph Oldham, was "Americanism."

The long table was laid in white linen, with cocktail glasses and flowers of red, white, and blue. These colors were carried out in the appointments so attractively placed. The quaint chop suey meal was served by candle light, furnished by red candles placed in cut glass candleholders.

Before the guests were seated, the invocation was given by Mrs. Ralph Oldham, Mrs. Grady Harris, the program chairman, announced the following program: A piano solo, Mrs. O. W. Elliott; an Americanism talk by Miss Maurita Dunn; and the closing prayer by Rev. R. L. D. Schmitt.

All of the members of the club were present with the exception of Mrs. H. E. Matthews, who was unable to attend due to illness in her family.

And the Bride Wore--Cotton

For her wedding in Memphis Alice Hall chose a bridal gown of sheer cotton. Miniature cotton balls caught her veil of cotton cloth to her blond hair. Her bouquet was of cotton calla lilies. (This keeps up southern farmers won't worry about war-hit cotton exports. Miss Hall was flying ambassador for the Memphis Cotton Carnival in 1939.)

Glassware Topic Of Woman's Club Program Tuesday

CANADIAN, Feb. 19.—The regular session of the Woman's club met in the home of Mrs. Sam Isaacs Tuesday afternoon.

In the absence of the president, Miss Georgia Engle presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Furman Williams was in charge of the program, a study of glassware, both English and American, and of glassmaking in England.

Mrs. C. W. Callaway discussed glassmaking in England where the business flourished during the 17th and 18th centuries, at one time 25 glassblowing factories in one town.

Different patterns designed were in honor of a prince or ruling king, as the Bonnie Prince Charles, and the son of King James. Mrs. Malcolm Abraham's paper on the Pretender pattern, the latter for Mrs. Malouf Abraham's paper on American glassware, both early period and present-time patterns, was read by Mrs. E. N. Williams.

Mrs. John Mead Carpenter rendered piano music. Mrs. Wallace Flewelling and Mrs. Uel D. Crosby were guests.

Mrs. Lewis Merry reminded the members of preparations being made for the district meeting of women's clubs to be held in Amarillo April 29.

Announcement was made of the banquet and lecture in Pampa next week in observance of the AAUW Founders' Day.

A letter was read relative to the Biennial convention of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs to be held in Los Angeles in June. Texas delegation expects to have a special train with numerous stopovers at places of special interest.

The club voted to add to its student loan fund by contribution from each member. Several contributions were made at the meeting.

The following new officers were elected for the next two years: President, Mrs. Rex Reeves; second vice-president, Mrs. Edgar Frost; reporter, Mrs. Joe Champion; year book committee, Mrs. J. E. Mallow, Misses Ruth Darnell and Edna Hastings.

To WASH SWEATERS

Sweaters will retain their proper shape and size even after many washings if they are laundered correctly. Draw an outline of the sweater on a thick turlow towel before washing. Use rich lukewarm sudsy water. Wash quickly and gently, taking care that the sweater is not stretched. Rinse thoroughly in lukewarm water, never wringing or twisting during the process. Absorb excess water by wrapping in a thick towel, then lay out the sweater on the dry turlow towel to conform with the pattern drawn. If it tends to shrink a bit, pin in shape with rustproof pins.

It's A Good Guest Who Knows How To Thank His Hostess

By RUTH MILLETT How often have you thought, as a husband and wife took their leave after an evening at your home, "I believe JIM had a good time?"

But you weren't too sure about Mary. Plenty of times, it's safe to bet for an evening's entertainment.

That ought to give any woman quite a jolt. For if the husbands of her friends are better than their wives at saying "Thank you," may be she, too, isn't so convincing when she is a guest and it comes time to say good-bye.

Let's see WHY men are more convincing when they say they have had a good time. BREVITY IS THE SOUL OF SINCERITY. To begin with, a man usually looks at his hostess when he thanks her for an evening's entertainment.

A woman is just likely to be looking in the mirror, glancing over her shoulder to see if the other guests are leaving, too, or struggling with her gloves.

Then, too a man confines his thanks to a couple of sentences. Just the brevity of his words gives them a sincere ring. While a woman all too often drags out her thank you.

There may be something, too, in the fact that a woman guest is often a bit jealous if a party really has been a success. Proof of that is the fault she finds with things on the way home. If her husband says "That was ONE swell dinner" she's sure to add, "It was a little too heavy for me."

PRaise THE HOSTESS, NOT THE PARTY

Most important of all, a man praises the hostess—while a woman praises the party. That is, a man picks out something special about the evening, or the food—and that is direct praise for the hostess. His wife, though, says, "I had a lovely time"—the same thing she said at yesterday's bridge party and just what she'll say when she visits the Jones' tomorrow night. The hostess knows that—and so "I had a lovely time" doesn't carry any more of a personal message than "How do you do?"

If you really want to make your hostess feel that you had a good time, take a tip from the men and do as they do next time you say "Thank you."

Their technique for good-byes is simply better than ours. It can't be they really have a better time than we do when they go out. If they did it wouldn't be such a struggle to get them to a party.

Fate Of Bobby's Pate Has Become Public Concern

LONDON, Feb. 19 (AP)—The fate of the London's bobble's pate under war-time helmets has become public concern. The diversion from warfare problems started, of course, with the inevitable letter to a newspaper in which a woman expressed fear that London's bobbles would be bald by the end of the war.

'Immanuance III' Scorns City Dads But Likes School Board

The city commission had a disdainful visitor at its meeting Tuesday afternoon. With the same haughtiness which General Braddock might once have looked on American "provincials," or a belle of the court of Louis XIV on the Parisian "rabbles," the visitor walked straight to the table around which the commission was seated.

Here's What Truck Can Carry Under Engrossed Bill

Cash Found Not Guilty Of Theft

A verdict of not guilty was returned by a 31st district court jury yesterday afternoon in the case of State of Texas vs. C. W. Cash, who had been charged with theft.

The charge was in alleged connection with the removal of a bill-fold containing a sum of money from the American apartments.

Cash had been indicted here on June 5 of last year and one week later a jury returned a verdict of guilty and assessed a two-year prison term.

On July 23, however, in answer to defendant's motion, an order for a new trial was granted.

Representing the defense were Bill Culwell and Oleo Clayton, both of Amarillo, while Bud Martin, district attorney, and Aaron Sturgeon represented the state.

Jurors in the case were W. H. Davis, C. A. Huff, L. M. Watson, H. L. Williams, Bob Thomas, Floyd Galt, C. S. Stendennen, J. T. Huger, Jim Eudley, B. C. Galt, Frank D. Smith, and R. H. Ketchings.

NAZIS

the fight in Albania to a decisive stage before the Germans could step in.

Bad weather over the English channel was said to have prevented any major activities overnight by the RAF or German Luftwaffe, but Nazi warplanes were reported over the east coast of Scotland today.

Authorized Germans said at Berlin the England-bound former Netherlands tanker Tania was believed destroyed in a bombing raid by 435 long-distance German plane yesterday. The 10,354-ton ship was said to have been hit amidships by three bombs and settled in a "giant oil patch."

Commenting on this latest aerial assault on Britain's vital shipping the Germans declared that "the air over the Atlantic has been vibrating with SOS calls" from British sea victims.

While snow fell over the English channel, grounding both RAF and German night fliers, daylight brought Nazi raiders sweeping over two north Scotland towns where residents said they machine-gunned a school yard and a bus without casualties. Three persons were killed and others wounded by bombs. Children had been cleared from the school-yard.

Disclosure that British forces have knifed 140 miles inside Ethiopia, in a campaign to regain the African kingdom wrested from Emperor Haile Selassie by the Italians in 1935-36, was made by British headquarters in Cairo.

This was apparently the deepest the British have penetrated into Ethiopia.

A Cairo communique said the British had captured the strategically important town of Njhabara, only 180 miles northwest of Addis Ababa, capital of Ethiopia, along with "many prisoners."

The communique also noted that the British-fostered "patriotic situation"—the rising of tribal warriors against their Italian conquerors—"continues to develop satisfactorily."

Haile Selassie himself has gone into the Ethiopian brushlands and may be playing a leading role in the drive toward Addis Ababa.

Pampans Leave For Austin To Lobby For New Gas Bill

A delegation of 20 Pampa business and professional men and gas operators left for Austin today and others are expected to fly to Austin tomorrow to attend public committee hearings in both the house and senate on a new sweet gas bill for the Panhandle.

The bill, introduced by Ennis Favors of Pampa in the house, and by Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo in the senate, would allow sweet gas from unconnected wells to be used for manufacture of carbon black after gasoline content had been removed.

The Pampa men will support the bill and will probably give testimony regarding the need of relief for operators of sweet gas wells who have no connections to pipe lines where the gas can be used for light and fuel.

Boom Business Done In McGrew's Court

City Recorder C. E. McGrew was a busy man this morning. He has been absent from the city for a few days and work really piled up, he reported.

While the recorder was away, officers handed out 75 overtime parking tickets and many of the offenders appeared before the judge today. Some were excused while others were assessed fines.

The judge assessed a fine of $27.50 against one man picked up last night on an intoxication charge. Only part of the fine was for that offense, the additional amount being for a speeding charge, running a stop sign charge, and another intoxication charge that the man failed to answer.

Will Lighten Schedule

Instead of the 12 hour shifts previously worked, the Pampa police department is now on a nine-hour tour, as the result of the employment of Mrs. Marion Parks as day clerk and C. P. Ballew as night clerk.

Under the old tour, policemen worked 12 hours a day seven days a week, with one day off every three weeks. The new arrangement will provide for the policemen to work three hours less each day and have one day off each week, and there will be three employees on duty at all times.

Salary of the day clerk will be $60 a month, of the night clerk, $80 a month. Their duties are to keep the records of the department and to answer telephones.

Both Mrs. Parks and Mr. Ballew have been Pampa residents for eight years. Mrs. Parks has had copious experience in office work, while Mr. Ballew for five years has been a stenographer for the Dangle Refineries, Inc., here.

The employment of the two clerks is the first change in the police department since T. P. Johnston, patrolman, was transferred to the water department as assistant superintendent.

Connally said the charge made by opponents of the measure, that it would make President Roosevelt a "dictator" was "specious and mischievous." There is nothing in the measure, he said, that would give the President any authority over the lives or liberty of any American citizens.

"I submit," he added, "that the bill gives the President no power over the property of a single American citizen except indirectly through taxation which shall have been previously provided and enacted by the congress of the United States."

"Whatever power is given to the President to procure arms and munitions or war supplies must be exercised in the normal, legal way by purchases and by the payment of compensation, as is guaranteed by the constitution of the United States and the laws enacted thereunder."

Auditors Attend Credit Union Training Course

Thirty-six auditors and members of auditing committees of credit unions in Pampa and the Pampa territory attended a school of instruction last night in the high school building. In charge was W. E. Mallard of Washington, D. C., assistant chief of the credit union office.

Others present were Robert Seay of San Antonio and Harlan Puckett of Dallas, district service men. The auditors and committee members were instructed in their duties and how to speed up their work and improve their reports.

Sixty-five credit union officers and members attended a banquet in the Schneider hotel Monday night at which Mr. Mallard spoke on the credit union program. He said Pampa had the largest and most enthusiastic turnout for the number of unions since he left Washington a month ago.

There are 11 credit unions in Pampa and vicinity. They are Pampa Postoffice employees, Pampa School District Teachers, Cabot Carbon company, Humble Oil and Refining company, Texas company, Magnolia Petroleum company, Skelly Oil company, Coloco (Coltex corporation), Standard Oil and Gas company, F. New Bill Hits At Drunk Drivers

AUSTIN, Feb. 19 (AP)—Efforts to clamp down on drunk driving, admittedly a factor in highway violence resulting in death, crippling and enormous economic loss, moved forward a notch in the Texas legislature today.

Reported favorably by committee in both the house and senate, which acted last night, were bills amending, clarifying and tightening up on statutes providing penalties for the offense.

Current laws make drunk driving a felony and inflict severe penalties, a factor which, advocates the bills asserted, caused lax enforcement because of their harshness.

The new proposal would reduce the first offense from a felony to a misdemeanor calling for from five days to two years in jail, a $10 to $500 fine and suspension of the driver's license from 14 days to two years.

The second offense would be punishable as a felony with penalties of one to five years in the penitentiary, $100 to $1,000 fine and license suspension of six months to permanent revocation.

Before the senate committee on criminal jurisprudence, Senator Weaver Moore of Houston, sponsor of the bill drafted by prosecuting attorneys and advocated by the Texas Safety association, explained he was amenable to amendments which would not destroy the bill's purpose.

After adopting an amendment providing that a scientific test to determine the amount of alcohol in the blood of an offender could be made only with the offender's permission, the group approved the bill with a unanimous vote.

State Park To Honor Governor Hogg Proposed

AUSTIN, Feb. 19 (AP)—Creation of a state park in Cherokee county as a memorial to former Gov. James Stephen Hogg is proposed in a bill awaiting action in the house of representatives.

The proposal, amended to eliminate provisions for a $25,000 appropriation for improvements and appointment of supervising commissioners by the governor, won approval of the house public lands and buildings committee last night.

The proposed park, covering 180 acres in the East Texas piney woods, is located two miles northwest of Rusk. On the site stands the homestead of Gen. Joseph L. Hogg, birthplace of former Gov. Hogg.

Popular Commander Of 90th Division Subject Of Sketch

A leader admired by thousands of Texans and Oklahomans is the subject of a biographical sketch in the February issue of U. S. Army Recruiting News.

He was Major General Henry Tubeman Allen, who commanded the 90th (Alamo, T-O) division in World War I.

The 90th division commander died on August 30, 1930. Major General Allen was born in Sharpsburg, Ky., on April 13, 1859, and graduated from the U. S. Military academy in 1882.

In 69 days in the front line, 28 of which were spent in battle, the Oklahoma and Texas division advanced 17 miles, captured 1,876 prisoners, had 7,500 casualties of which 1,496 were deaths.

Major General Allen was awarded the Distinguished Service medal, Order of Leopold, Croix de Guere with palm, Order of Prince Danilo 1, order of La Solidaridad, and the Order of the Crown.

Trial of Arson Case Will Start Today

Trial of the case of State of Texas vs. R. T. Waldrip was to start this afternoon in 31st district court.

Waldrip was indicted here on July 24, 1940, on a charge of arson in alleged connection with the burning of the house of Henry Huber. The alleged offense occurred on January 25 last year, the indictment states.

Willis & Via are attorneys for the defense.

The case was called this morning, but failure of witnesses to be on hand caused District Judge W. R. Ewing to dismiss petit jurors reporting until 1:30 p. m.

Oil Authority Gives Advice To Mud-Slingers

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Dr. George A. Stern, associate chemical engineer of the U. S. bureau of mines, gave this bit of advice to mud-slingers today.

Don't throw mud—it might mean money in your pocket.

The oil industry spends millions of dollars annually for special muds—mostly heavy clays—which it uses in drill holes to prevent the escape of gas, and Dr. Stern disclosed a simple test to show the valuable type.

He described the test before the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers' meeting, saying it could be performed by any one.

Take a lump of clay, he said, and pour on it a solution of one part benzidine (any drugstore has it) and 200 parts water.

If the clay turns a brilliant blue color, it's bentonite and worth upwards of $40 a ton.

If the clay stays its original color, it's good for slowing down automobiles on a wet road.

Ten Teams To Compete In District Cage Meet Friday, Saturday

Miami Quint Withdraws From Tourney

Ten teams will participate in the district high school basketball tournament to be played here Friday and Saturday. Twelve teams are eligible to compete but Canadian withdrew last week and today Miami school officials announced that they would not send a team to the tournament.

Canadian was scheduled to play the winner of the Donley county playoff with the winner meeting Berger, Miami was to play Shamrock with the winner meeting Phillips.

Coach G. B. Rush said basketball had not been stressed in Miami this season and that his Warriors "had no business in the fast company that will participate in the district tournament."

Withdrawal of Canadian and Miami leaves only one game to be played Friday morning, three on Friday afternoon and two on Friday night. Two semi-final games will be played Saturday afternoon with the finals Saturday night.

Pairings have been made but because of withdrawal of the two teams, time of games will probably be changed. Bill Anderson, who will direct the tournament, will release time of all games tomorrow. It may be that the only morning game will be postponed until the afternoon.

Challendon May Be Big Horse In $100,000 Race

By ROBERT MYERS
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19 (AP)—Challendon may still be the big horse in the ranks pointing for the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap, but he'll have to prove it in a distance race against a real field of rivals.

However, the Maryland invader served notice in a betless-race at Santa Anita park yesterday that he can still run without falling apart, as some of the doubting railbirds had whispered he might.

He also gave evidence that he can be raced an apparently sound contender in the Golden Gallop March 1, despite the interruptions in the past few weeks at critical stages of his conditioning program.

The real test for Challendon comes Saturday. The $40,000 of them will be down, each worth $1. The distance will be a mile and one-sixteenth, as compared to a mile and one-quarter for the big handicap and the seven furlongs he traveled yesterday.

And the event, the $100,000 San Antonio handicap, will pit Challendon in his first real race of the season against a strong field of rivals, chief of which will be Charles S. Howard's Midland, the four-year-old who romped into prominence while Challendon cooled an injured heel these past few weeks.

Challendon's owner W. L. Brann, trainer L. T. Whitehill and jockey George Woolf, expressed satisfaction with the workout, staged between races and carried out in usual style except to the betting bank. Challendon finished over a slow track in 1:36 3/5, carrying 126 pounds, four less than he was handed for the big 'cap.

Said Brann: "That work did him more good than anything since his layoff. He cooled off perfectly, and the last I saw of him he was eating big mouthfuls of hay."

Unbiased opinion differed. Some handicappers labeled the work unimpressive, others called it good. Most of them said they preferred to see Challendon in real action.

Barring mishap, they will see him Saturday.

Dodgers Getting Into Condition Fast In Havana; Durocher Happy

By GAYLE TALBOT
HAVANA, Feb. 19 (AP)—After only three days of training in this tropical climate, the Brooklyn Dodgers already are so far along in their conditioning that Manager Leo Durocher is cautioning his athletes to take it easy.

"I'm having trouble getting it thru their heads that this is a new kind of climate," complained Leo, his blistered nose glistening in the noonday sun. "They're about to wear themselves in the first week. We're further along right now than we were after three weeks in Clearwater last winter."

It is extremely important to the Dodger boss that he flag his boys down and make them respect the Cuban sun, for they have a record-breaking schedule of nearly 50 exhibition games starting them in the face. Durocher, however, sports at the suggestion that his batters might leave their fight in the dressing room.

"Nuts," he said. "We're playing a lot of games, too, and by the time the season opens none of them will have seen any more action than he has in previous springs. I'll spread them thin after we get out toward Texas, maybe three or four innings a game, and I'll guarantee you we'll be ready on opening day."

As for Leo, himself, he says he's playing through as a playing manager. The great little shortstop is beginning to show a sprig of white at each temple, and he says Pee Wee Reese will play every game this season except when he's sick or perhaps the second half of some doubleheaders.

"Why should I get out there when I've got a great player like Reese to take my place?" Leo asked. "Maybe I was as good or better than Pee Wee a few years ago, but not any more. That kid's really wonderful. He's going to be the best shortstop you ever saw—mark my words."

"With him in there every day and Joe Medwick due to have a big season and Kirby Higbe added to our pitching staff, we're bound to be stronger than we were last year. Not only that, but just look at Paul Waner bounding around out there. I'll admit I had more or less planned on Harold Reiser playing right field, because he can give that ball an awful ride and would make me a good third-place pitcher. But Waner is determined that he's going to play it, and if he can beat Reiser out, it's sure all right with me."

"There's much use of my making a prediction. Everybody knows we've got to beat Cincinnati, and naturally I think we have a good chance. Cookie Lavagetto is going to be a lot better third baseman since he had his appendix out. He's 15 pounds heavier and says he does not get tired any more. Luke Hamlin is training harder than ever before in his life. What if he and Curt Davis and Whit Wyatt and Freddie Fitzsimmons should all come through with big years? Boy, what a pitching staff that would be."

Right now Fitzsimmons is limping around with a bruised heel, from trying to turn first base like a quarter-horse, but the veteran says he never felt better and is going to make an awful stab at repeating his remarkable record of 16 wins and two losses last season.

President Larry MacPhail is having minor troubles, such as a betting case he had shipped down from New York that is so complicated nobody can put it together. "What we need around here is somebody with enough sense to read a blue print," he complained.

Larry is unusually grim about his holdout catcher, Mickey Owen, who still is in Missouri. Owen has tried to talk to MacPhail by telephone twice, but Larry refuses to answer. "I have a feeling he'll stay up there a good while," he said. "You might not see him down here at all."

"The red head apparently is thru negotiating with Owen, whom he obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals during the winter.

Phillips Beats Arkansas 31-26 On Free Shots

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 19 (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks, victors in 15 straight games with college basketball opponents, fell for the second time last night before the Phillips Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., the only team holding a victory over them this season.

The Southwest conference leaders, striving for something no college team ever has accomplished—two out of three wins over the National A. A. U. champs—failed by only five points, 31-26, before a crowd of 4,800 fans.

Phillips was pushed hard all the way by the red-clad giants from Fayetteville and was forced to settle the issue on accuracy at the free throw line. Each team scored eight field goals.

Proceed of the game went to the Tulsa park department to replace athletic equipment lost in a recent fire at Newblock fieldhouse.

Phillips '66' To Play Red Raiders In Phillips Gym

It isn't often that folks wait a year to see a ball game, but ever since Ole Man Weather hooked cage fans of this section out of seeing the Phillips Oilers and Texas Tech Red Raiders play at Phillips a year ago they have been looking forward to the long-scheduled game this week.

The Phillips Oilers, National A. A. U. champions of Bartlesville, Okla., and the Red Raiders of Lubbock will play at Phillips gymnasium Saturday, Feb. 22. This will be the third tilt of the year for the two teams; previous games are slated for Lubbock and Amarillo.

Last year the two teams were scheduled to play at Phillips the night after a two-night stand at Lubbock. Snow-blocked roads interrupted plans for the game after the Tech boys stamped a double upset on the crew which went on to win the national title.

Ticket sales steadily increasing in volume, but there are still some of the 400 seats left. Funds from the game will be used by the Phillips Civic club, sponsors of the event, in varied child welfare programs.

BLOCK THAT BASKET

GUARD MUST NEVER FORGET HIS MAN

Guard's work doesn't end when his man takes a running shot and goes out of bounds. He shouldn't wait to watch ball, but should follow man he's guarding.

By JEFF CARLIN
Famous Player and Coach

It's surprising how many baskets are scored because a guard fails to follow his man out of bounds.

Many an otherwise good guard will get a running shot under the basket and goes out of bounds. Then—if the shot isn't good—the guard will forget all about him and turn to watch the play or attempt to take the ball off the bankboard.

In just about nine cases out of 10, the offensive man will cut back to one of the corners, or closer to the basket, and be free to take a shot.

It's all right to keep an eye on what is happening on the court, but the guard should remember that his foremost duty is to guard his man—and he should keep guarding him even if he goes up into the stands.

A player may be running at top speed when he takes a shot under the basket, but it will take him only a few moments to turn and be back on the court, so his guard must keep him covered.

White Deer To Represent Carson In District Meet

Schlitz Beer won two out of three from Cabot Shops, Voss Cleaners took two out of three from Jones-Everett and Schneider hotel won two out of three from Home Builders Supply last night in the Major Bowling League. Weeks rolled high game of 221 pins and Swanson took high series honors with 589 pins.

In the Oil Belt league Monday night Berry alleys won two out of three games from Diamond Shop in the only series rolled.

In the LeFors Duck pin tournament, Oldhams Service station won two out of three games from Coltexo.

White Deer became the Carson county representative in the district basketball tournament to be played in Pampa this week-end when the Bucks beat the Groom Tigers 20 to 19 last night in Groom.

The game was a fast-breaking affair from the opening whistle with White Deer jumping into a lead and holding it all the way. At the half the Bucks had a 16 to 13 margin, widest of the game.

Just as the gun sounded ending the game, Referee Francis Smith of LeFors, called a foul on White Deer, but the Groom shooter was under strain trying to make the tying point and the ball dropped wide of the hoop.

White Deer will play Perryton in the opening game of the district tournament here Friday. The game is scheduled for 10 o'clock but the time may be changed because of withdrawal of two teams from the tournament.

The White Deer Bucks went through county playoff undefeated. They took two games from Panhandle and then nosed Groom out by one point in each game.

Mustangs Defeat Aggies To Remain In Title Race

(By The Associated Press)
Southern Methodist University clung to a mathematical chance at the Southwest Conference basketball championship today but it was a long shot indeed.

The Mustangs defeated Texas A. & M. 45-40 last night to remain in the running.

Arkansas Razorbacks, unbeaten in eight starts, have but to take two games to clinch the title and they play winless Texas Christian University at Fort Worth Friday and Saturday nights.

The Razorbacks last night lost an exhibition tilt with the Phillips 66 Oilers, national A. A. U. champions, 31-26.

The Rice Owls defeated Texas Christian 59-46. It was the Frogs' ninth conference loss.

The Texas Longhorns, who have the same mathematical chance at the title as Southern Methodist, play the Baylor Bears at Austin tonight.

Bryan Lloyd swished in 14 points to lead the scoring for S. M. U. in its victory over A. & M. with J. T. Lang topping the Cadets with 10.

One of the busiest members of the legislature is Senator A. M. Aiken, Jr., of Paris.

None who knows the legislature disputes that he has one of the toughest jobs in the official legislative organization.

He is chairman of the senate finance committee, which passes on all appropriation matters which flow through the upper house.

In a general session, the quantity of work routed to the committee simply is tremendous. The chairman bears the brunt of it.

"I have missed being in the capitol only two nights since the session started," Senator Aiken said the other day.

The house taxation committee decided to hold its long tax hearings in the house of representatives chamber in order that there would be plenty of room for all who wanted to attend and that house members need not on the committee might listen. The arrangement, however, definitely has its drawbacks.

There is a continual buzz in the chamber, as representatives not on the committee dictate letters, discuss problems with one another or talk with visitors. Speakers sometimes have appealed for order so that they may get their main points across.

Rep. Howard Hartzog, committee chairman, frequently on his own initiative has grabbed the microphone and requested the assistance of the sergeant-at-arms in breaking up noise-producing huddles.

The other day, Hartzog heard a new noise, whistling from somewhere on the floor.

"Someone's whistling," the soft-spoken former professional football tackle remonstrated. "That's kinda confusing."

No matter what tax the legislature imposes, most members who vote for it will be defeated at the next election in the opinion of Rep. W. R. Chambers of May, Brown county.

Chambers recently told the house taxation committee that he had made a considerable study of the tax levies of many nations, and among things he learned was that whenever the burden falls, those on whom it falls complain, and no matter what tax is put on, those who put it on are defeated the next time they go before the people."

The West Texan went on to say, however, that persons who repeal taxes paradoxically are turned out by the voters. He admitted that he did not know the whys and wherefores of this strange situation.

Burglars would have a tough time cracking the 35-ton, drill-proof and torch-proof door to the vault. Only three employees know the combination which opens the vault.

It is reported that 99,126,719 miles were flown and 2,235,319 revenue passengers carried by U. S. air carrier in domestic operations in the year ending June 30, 1940.

Superintendent House has divided the Amarillo district into three sections, in each of which a monthly meeting of pastors is to be held.

The group at this end of the district will hold their March meeting with the Higgins pastor.

"What Is Democracy?" Subject Of Speech By Claude Youth Here

A high school student from Claude and another from LeFors were the speakers in the Top O' Texas Americanism contest...

They were George Wilmoth of Claude and Paul Jenks of LeFors, eighth and ninth of the speakers to compete in the oratorical contest in which awards are offered by the Pampa Jaycees.

In preceding weeks the Jaycees have heard students from Panhandle, Mobeetie, Perryton, Higgins, White Deer, Pampa, Canadian, There are 25 Plains schools competing in the contest.

"What is Democracy?" was the subject of the speech by Wilmoth of Claude, published below.

The speech of the LeFors entrant will be printed in a later issue of The Pampa News.

WHAT IS DEMOCRACY? By George Wilmoth.

"Once I had a school teacher who said he understood Greek and Latin. He told me the word democracy came from 'demos' which he said meant people, and 'cracy' which, I again quote him, meant 'rule' or 'government'."

"This definition of democracy is considerably expanded in the words of a gentleman from Illinois, a poor rail-splitter, who said those famous words: 'Democracy is a government of the people, for the people, and by the people—this man was Abraham Lincoln.'"

"Perhaps this definition, this representation as to the true meaning of democracy, may better be attained by a brief glance at mankind's experience with this certain form of government.

"This democratic form of government being predicted on the assumption that the state exists for the good of the individual and that the individual is all-important in the governmental set-up.

"Actually, I suppose, the real beginnings of this type of government are shrouded in the mists of by-gone history. I can picture these beginnings as being as primitive as the forests and the wide free spaces of our early world.

"To my mind a type of government in which the individual is paramount would just naturally come into being in a free and untrammelled region such as our own timbered frontier of another day.

"But, to get on with this historical glance I mentioned: Back in ancient Greece, when those sturdy fellows showed that such rugged individualism as they are showing their totalitarian invaders today, their government began its session of democratic government with the assembly in the Greek city states. This type of government was slightly on the democratic side, however, only a few of the upper-class people were allowed to vote, and the poor class people were treated like slaves.

"Democracy Rome

"Next consider the ancient Roman government, under it the Romans had an enjoyable period of a democratic form of government. However, this government was overtaken by dictators and emperors and the democratic government was brought to a close.

"In this glimpse at democratic history come those first steps in the forming of the democratic history of government in England. At Runnymede, King John made his mark on the first written document ever to grant government to a people. So—the Magna Carta came into being.

New Type of Life

"Now for the American beginning in this interesting field—democracy. This country first entered the scene when some of King George of England's loyal subjects became tired of the cooped-up life they have been living and set out for a new type of life. Along about 1770-odd, these people who at this time formed the original 13 colonies, celebrated the signing of the treaty which recognized their independence and assured the establishment of the United States of America.

"This treaty began with the Declaration of Independence. To the handful of people settled on the eastern sea coast the extent of land under the treaty seemed more than ample for it stretched along the coast including all the territory now in the states from Maine to the boundary of Florida and the west to the Mississippi river.

"However, if a person had lived in the next 70 years following 1783 he would have seen the United States move westward in long giant-like strides to the western coast.

"Since then the nation has developed very rapidly in size of territory and more rapidly in the size of democratic concept. With the growth of America and Americanism, democracy—and our American way of life, democracy would lack the example of living, definition.

"In final definition, in complete and condensed response to this query, 'What Is Democracy?' I give you the answer that democracy is Americanism—Americanism is the essence of democracy."

"But—can you bake a cake?"

"That sums up the requirements of a perfect secretary in the governor's mansion. She must be a jack-of-all-trades and a master of all arts."

Bobbie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilson of Smithville, was "discovered" by former Gov. James V. Allred when she was only 17. At the time, she was a stenographer in his capitol office. He liked her manner and efficiency.

When the O'Daniels moved in, she stayed on.

"Now I know you are all good typists and can take dictation well. I know most of you can meet people with ease and graciousness, that you are capable of answering social letters."

SERIAL STORY

DRAFTED FOR LOVE

BY RUTH AYERS

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Kent goes on, criticizing April's side, as a selfish, vain, spoiled, April, all things Ann, is hurt, but she says she has a secret side, too. April keeps her secret, though, knowing what this day means to Kent. And she adds a final "No matter what happens, I love you." And means it.

APRIL MEETS TROUBLE

CHAPTER IX

NOW the thing to do was to harden her heart.

April didn't look at Kent after she stepped into the roadster. The day was over, the game ended. She had played her part right up to the last tag-line.

Tomorrow, Ann might come home. If she did, April would tell her what she had done and make it perfectly clear why. "He doesn't mean anything to me," she would say. "I only wanted to help you."

If Ann didn't return, there'd be some way she, April could avoid seeing Kent.

She began to think of Ann, Ann the gentle one, the sweet one with the silver voice who'd have her great chance tonight.

"Steady there," Kent advised as the roadster rocked on the road.

"I'm trying to beat the storm."

"For a minute it felt as if we were headed for a spill."

"No, we just missed one."

She scanned the skyline. Clouds were marching around the tents of the hill, gray and menacing.

"Funny," she said, "how a day can start all sunshine and then get to floundering around in clouds and darkness."

"If you'll overlook my being lyrical, I could say it always grows bright again."

"For you, it will." That was safe to say. He could take it the way he wanted. She must keep everything impersonal between them, impersonal as the weather. The speedometer danced.

And all the time, her mouth settled in a hard line and her heart grew more stoney.

"I feel like an oaf sitting here while you do all the driving," Kent said. "I ought to be taking the wheel for the truck home. It's too much for you, Ann."

"Not at all," she bit off the words. "I like it."

The top was up but already the first sweep of gale tore at the side of the car. Nip, the wire-haired, snuggled close at April's side. Kent hunched forward, straining as if he couldn't bear his helplessness.

"If I could only see you for one second," he said. "I bet your eyes are sparkling and that there's a charcoal smudge on your nose. I like to look at you when you're intent on something, Ann. You have a hit to your head that I'm crazy about."

April fought down an urge to say, "Yep, you would like to see Ann now. Five hundred miles away and as intent as all get-out on an audition with the great Vivano tonight." But no, she clamped her lips and made the speedometer dance a little faster.

DUSK blurred the daylight; night came on. The wind was a roaring cavalcade behind them, pushing them on. April knew she must reach Kent's home before the storm broke. If she timed it right, she'd have a perfect excuse for leaving him at his gate without further farewells.

On and on, the miles sped but even on the short cuts they seemed twice as long as they had been this morning. Once the engine balked. Once she stopped for gas. Another time she tried to slip past a truck and almost sent the car in a ditch.

All the things Kent had said about her came back. It was soothing to think of Hal Parks. Hal was sophisticated, smart, worldly and he liked her. And yes, blast him, he was the one who indirectly had started her on this ill-fated fling when he'd said there were other things you could be drafted for besides the army. Drafted for love! It sounded swell but she'd been turned down, rejected, service deferred.

"We're sure playing tag with the storm," Kent said, innocent of the storm that shook her to the core.

"You bet." She felt his eyes on her as the car raced. Ann never drove spectacularly.

"Where are we now?"

"Only about five miles to go."

Four miles, three and then as she reached the hill road that led to Pattonville she could pick out the lights of the town far below.

Perpiration was on her face, her hands trembled when she finally slowed the car.

"At last!" Her words were a long sigh.

"Swell going," Kent said.

"If I hurry, I can make it to my home."

As she spoke, there was a warning rattle on the hood, a warning on the canvas top.

"Hailstorm," Kent was brief. "We'll make a dash for the house."

April spoke above the wind. "I'll take you to the gate and then scam. Mother and Dad, they'll be worried."

But even in his slightness, Kent had leaned over and was enfolding her in strong, sure arms.

"Come along, Nip," he called and bore April triumphantly through the gate and up the brief walk to the door.

Laughing down, he said, "Ann, gal, anyone would say you were a lunatic. Think I'm going to let you go off alone in a blitzkrieg?"

"No, Kent. I want to go home, I must!" The wind threw back her voice.

FOR April knew once she crossed the threshold of the Carter home, disaster awaited. Great-Aunt Elizabeth Carter would know she wasn't Ann Burnett.

She tried to remember what Ann had said about Auntie Carter but it seemed now as if the hailstones were pelting her brain and blurring out every thought.

"There," Kent said, half carrying her across the threshold after he'd opened the big, grilled door, "this is what you might call symbolic."

Nip squeezed in and made a great-to-do about shaking the sticky ice stones from his fur. Kent reached to help April off with her coat. The hood toppled with a splash of drops. "You're shivering," Kent said, "we'll go back to the library where a fire's burning."

"No, I'm not cold," April chattered. "I'll stand here just a minute—then I'll have to go."

In the shadows of the cavernous hall, April saw the parlor leading off to the right. It, too, was cavernous with heavy carved furniture, oil paintings and a massive square piano.

And over the mantle was a mirror. April's eyes met April in the mirror and she knew with her coat and cap off, no one could ever mistake her for Ann, no matter how dim the light.

But except for the fire hissing somewhere at the other end of the house, there wasn't a sound. Perhaps she wouldn't have to see Auntie Carter after all!

"Kent," she began, "I'm a sight. Please, I couldn't see anyone looking the way I do."

As if this had been an invitation to catastrophe, a voice spoke out of the silence of the upper hall.

"Kent, is that you?"

"Yes, Aunt Elizabeth."

April followed his eyes in the direction of the stairs where a small, erect figure was poised.

Dr. Wood To Attend St. Pat Celebration

Special To The NEWS

SHAMROCK, Feb. 19.—Dr. L. A. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, will participate in the Shamrock St. Patrick's Day celebration March 17, according to an announcement by A. C. Hallmark, general chairman.

Mr. Wood was invited, following the custom of several years, to crown the queen of the Irish festival and promptly accepted. Last year J. L. McDonald, state agricultural commissioner, performed this function.

The Irish Rose, winning colleen of the celebration, is crowned in appropriate ceremony on the afternoon of the celebration. She is chosen by competent judges from the entries sent by each town who send a band and from entries sent in by neighboring communities.

In the colleen contest of last year's celebration Miss Opal Tedder of McLean was chosen Irish Rose of the event and presented with a fitted bag as a memento of the occasion. About 50 young ladies from all parts of the Panhandle are entered in the event this year and suitable award will be made to the winner. Dr. Wood will present the award.

First Contingent Leaves Kelly Field

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 19 (AP)—The first contingent of 38 men from the 839 newly trained recruits at Kelly field's general headquarters air force unit left yesterday by train. Seventeen men were sent to McChord field, Wash., and 21 to March field, Calif.

Today 30 men will be sent to Fort George Wright, Spokane, Wash.; 71 to Hamilton field, Calif., to be followed Thursday by 72 men who will go to Jefferson Barracks, Mo., to await until vacancies occur in the air corps technical school, Randolph, Ill. On Friday 83 men will be sent to Selfridge field, Mich.; on Feb. 24, 147 men will be assigned to Mitchell field, Long Island, N. Y., and Feb. 25, 176 will go to Fort Douglas, Utah. The remaining 13 men will be sent to Lowry field, Denver, in the near future.

Boltz Surprises 100 Clients And Pleads Innocent

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19 (AP)—In a surprise move, Robert J. Boltz stood calmly in court today and pleaded innocent to 185 indictments charging embezzlement, fraudulent conversion and violation of the Pennsylvania Securities act in the operation of a $2,500,000 investment business.

The prosecution had been so confident that the tall, 54-year old attorney would plead guilty that more than 100 of his former clients had been summoned into court to give testimony to aid the court in fixing sentence. Investigators said Boltz himself had indicated he would not fight the charges.

Boltz' huge investment business—in which he is accused of using his clients' own money to pay them dividends on their investments—collapsed after he disappeared last Oct. 22. He was captured last Thursday in Rochester, N. Y., where he had been living in a $450-a-week room.

The World War need never have happened. Certainly it need not have happened when it did.

In short, there always was a possibility in the Kaiser's Germany that that great country might have gone on to greater scientific, economic and even social triumphs.

In the Third Reich, which took charge of Germany in 1933, there was never any such possibility.

Had the billions spent by the Nazis on that military machine been spent in legitimate trade expansion, in social improvement, in the peaceful development of Germany into an expanded place in the world, today might have been far different.

It is now clear (unfortunately it was not so clear to most people eight years ago) that war was the logical and only possible outcome of all this.

So, too, the Japanese advance into French Indo-China and southward is made without even any claim that there is a provocation.

The world of 1914 always devised a cause for its wars; often a phony cause, true, but a cause.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19—When the scores are all added up, one of the things the State department can take the most pride in is that it has succeeded as well as it has in keeping U. S. shipping out of the combat zone for as long as it has, thus reducing to a minimum the chances for one of those nasty incidents that always leads to trouble and sometimes leads to war.

First is the case of Capt. Hector Leon Marie Vanderdonck, Belgian by birth, skipper of the good ship Ville De Namur, formerly a U. S. merchantman, but transferred to Belgian registry early in the war.

Second case came to the attention of the Department of Justice, and it began an investigation. In January, Vanderdonck was indicted and is awaiting trial in New York.

When he will be tried is a question. The principal witness in the case was also a seafaring man, and right now he's on his way to Australia and doesn't know when he'll be back.

Principal reason there have been no more important cases than these, is that penalties for violation of the neutrality act are rather steep—$50,000 or five years in prison for a ship owner or master who takes a vessel into the combat zone, $10,000 or two years in prison for individuals who get into it.

When the act was first passed, there were a number of cases of mariners caught in mid-ocean, outward bound. With no newspapers available to tell them they could not do that, they went into the combat zone. Once out, back home, with the law explained, there were no further violations and no prosecutions.

But new cases which may eventually cause trouble are those of the pilots ferrying combat planes from the United States to England. Two routes have been followed, the northern by way of Newfoundland, and the southern by way of Bermuda and thence non-stop to England.

The French director offers little praise or criticism. He says what he has to say in front of the entire company, with the star opening a door to face Roland Young and an armload of roses, and everything depended on her manner and expression.

Common Ground

By R. G. HOLLES

This column contends there can be no satisfactory program until we measure the chances of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given soul right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

INCOME TAX AND WARS

Few people realize the close association between discriminatory tax laws and wars. Wars cannot be fought without men and materials.

In ancient times when warriors had to require their subjects to put in a certain part of their time in fighting for them, then they had difficulty in keeping these men fighting on the job.

But when the workers of the land began to pay rent and taxes instead of giving service to the kings, then the kings were on the road to longer wars.

When the Pitts in England put in the graduated income tax, then wars really began to flourish. Then the people thought the rich were paying for the wars and the subjects were not so much opposed to the war.

All Workers Pay

If the workers really knew that there was no possible way that was could be paid for, other than by their receiving lower wages, and a lower standard of living, then the heads of the government, whether they be elected or kings, would have to use judgment and consideration, and would have great difficulty in getting a nation into war.

The United States had a small progressive tax during the Civil War. It was paid from a patriotic standpoint. It was repeated.

Progressive tax, however, really went into part of the constitutional body of the laws in 1913.

It was only four years later that the United States really got into the first big war on an expensive scale. The great mass of people then thought they were not paying for the war.

They did not realize the unemployment, the reduced wages, the aftermaths that follow inflation. They thought there was some way of taking the wealth from the rich and not reducing the tools and the amount of wealth that labor could produce by taking this wealth from the rich.

Now we are getting into another war because the working men believe demagogues, like Roosevelt, who tell the workers they will not have to suffer and sacrifice, that they will not be deprived of the fruits of their labor.

Yes, wars and discriminatory taxes go hand in hand. If the great mass of workers knew that discriminatory taxes are more costly to them than consumption taxes, then we would have fewer wars, less waste and extravagance in government and a more rapid increase in the real wages of all workers.

STRIKE LEGISLATION

Many people talk about the necessity of a law making strikes illegal. The Railroad Labor Board has demonstrated that their laws to prevent strikes have practically bankrupted the railroads.

We do not need strike legislation. What we need is a moral awakening. We need people to have good-will toward their fellowman and not desire to strike. We need people to realize that when they strike they are doing a great injustice to all the consumers in the world.

Until we can get good-will among men, until we can get the workers to realize the importance and the service they are rendering to humanity by working and be proud and glad to render this service, there is little use of passing any strike legislation.

Measure of Service

If no man wanted more for a service, which he should not, than any other man is willing to perform the same service for, there would then be no strikes, there would be no unemployment, there would be little poverty and misery and no wars.

As one great bishop remarked more than two centuries ago, the only prohibition God has ordered is concupiscence. This worshiping of self rather than the individual as a unit of the whole, is the cause of our trouble. Let's attempt to create the right spirit among all workers and we will have no need of any strike legislation.

COME ON, TOOTS—LET'S GO!

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 19—A little reluctantly, apparently, Miss Marlene Dietrich is giving the performance of her life in a picture called "The Flame of New Orleans."

La Flamme, you might say, is burning brightly. It's no secret that she was unhappy about the choice of a director, Rene Clair, and a leading man, Bruce Cabot.

Many people talk about the necessity of a law making strikes illegal. The Railroad Labor Board has demonstrated that their laws to prevent strikes have practically bankrupted the railroads.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

The life of an army or navy pilot may seem glamorous and the very essence of adventure, compared with your prosaic life in the shop or in the field, but danger is their ever-present companion and death is at their elbow, and those boys are a whole lot braver than you. I, they have to be. . . Here is a thrilling letter of death and courage from Roy Webb to his parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Webb, of Pampa. Roy is now stationed in the Panama Canal Zone. He is an army flier. The letter: "No flying this morning in our present group. Why? Because in the last two days we have had four crack-ups. Three pilots killed and another bailed out and saved his life. A second lieutenant, Kinsey (I knew him very well) lost a wing in a dive and hit the ocean. Broemel dived straight into the ground from 9,000 feet at an estimated speed of 500 miles an hour. Fisher dived in at 3,000 feet and hit the mud and sank out of sight. They haven't recovered his body. Fisher was flying No. 58 and got by accident I had just finished flying 58 about 30 minutes before him. Sogard's plane caught on fire and he bailed out and landed in the bay—was picked up one and one-half hours later. This morning the major asked all of us pursuit pilots who wanted to transfer to bombardment—no one spoke up. Anyway they are tearing down all the P-36's to look for sabotage but I don't think that they will find any. I believe in two days. Also B-18 bomber er burst on the other side (of the canal) Wednesday. Oh well, everything will be okay. It just makes you feel funny. Anyway I'm not throwing my hat on the bed, walking under ladders or letting any black cats cross my path and no spilling salt. The fever's got me. . . How is your vacation plan coming? Are you going to get to come down here? The Panama railroad has a steamship line that is very reasonable. I sure would like for you to come. . . Chances are slim that I shall be able to come home at the end of the first year. . . Tell everyone hello for me."

HIGHLIGHTS FROM LATEST BOOKS

By JOHN SELBY

"THE MIND OF THE SOUTH," by W. J. Cash; (Knopf; $3.75)

If I were to choose a book for the month of the ground of importance, it would be W. J. Cash's "The Mind of the South." This, in spite of the fact that Jawaharlal Nehru's autobiography was recently published, and the concluding installment of Roger Martin du Gard's novel about the Tiboults is due thereafter.

Mr. Cash has done a really magnificent thing for the South in his book, at considerable sacrifice, too. He has tried to tell the strict truth about the mental and spiritual characteristics which have made the South what it is today. In so doing, he also has told the truth about himself, because he carefully identifies himself with his subject; he is a South Carolina man, a graduate of Wake Forest, and since 1926, a member of the Charlotte, N. C., News staff.

He has used his own experience and that of many others (including Howard W. Odum) in assembling his material, and he has kept the writing good-humored without ever allowing himself to be merely clever. Occasionally ironic, he is never nasty to those who may disagree with him.

Mr. Cash destroys utterly the concept of the aristocratic South. Those we think of as Southern "aristocrats," he contends, were with some exceptions men with luck or ability who rose out of the frontier, and (this is important) most of them came with cotton, in a span of little more than five decades. He shows the literal kinship of the three great classes of whites: planters, independent farmers, "white trash." He shows what factors have combined to form these classes, and to make them acquiesce in the classification, and to hold them within their boundaries. Interlarded with all this, there is the accompanying economic picture, particularly the strange and bitter things, which, according to Mr. Cash, are the interpretation of the South has put on "progress" has forced upon the land.

"Proud, brave, honorable by its lights, courteous, personally generous, loyal, swift to act, often too swift, but signally effective, sometimes terrible, in its action—this is his good side of the picture. "Violence, intolerance, aversion, and suspicion toward new ideas, . . . an exaggerated individualism, an incapacity for analysis . . . too great attachment to racial values," Mr. Cash believes are on the other side of the coin.
