Willkie Flies To Eire To Talk With De Valera About Bases

22 INJURED AS TRAIN LOCOMOTIVE BLOWS UP

GOP Leader 'Talks To Him Across Desk'

British Roll Into High Gear To Crush Italians

(By The Associated Press) Wendell L. Willkie flew to Dublin today to confer with Prime Minister Eamon De Valera on the subject of Irish ports and bases—repeatedly sought by the British to combat the German counter-blockade—even as RAF bombers twice attacked the Nazi U-boat center at Brest, France.

Willkie said he planned to ask De Valera questions and talk to him across the desk regarding neutral Eire's bases.

So far, De Valera has flatly refused permission for either British planes or warships to use Irish territory in operations against Germany's sea attacks, which recently have turned the waters west of Ireland into a so-called "graveyard of the Atlantic."

After lunching and talking at length with De Valera, Willkie was silent on the subject of their conversation beyond saying it dealt with "the proposition of Ireland and the international situation."

Three hours after his arrival, he flew back to England, where it was expected he would meet King George VI and Queen Elizabeth later in the day.

Permission to use bases would extend the range of British defenses 200 to 300 miles farther west. Willkie emphasized, however, that he would "not attempt to influence De Valera in any way."

In London, the admiralty announced that nine British and allied merchant ships totaling 36,004 tons were lost "by enemy action" in the ending Jan. 26.

Shipping Losses Claimed By coincidence, both Rome and Berlin announced new inroads against British shipping in the apparently quickening war.

Hitler's high command reported 43,000 tons sent to the bottom—29,000 tons by a German warship "operating overseas"; 11,000 tons by a Nazi U-boat; and 3,000 tons by German dive-bombers.

Premier Churchill's high command reported a spectacular raid by Italian torpedo boats last night against "an enemy convoy strongly escorted by cruisers and destroyers" in the Red sea.

"Attacking decisively," the Fascist high command said, "our vessels launched a total of nine torpedoes, of which seven hit ships."

"Our units, despite strong enemy reactions, succeeded in getting away and returned to their base unharmed."

The RAF's one-two raid on Brest was the 35th on the German-occupied port at the west gateway of the English channel.

Returning pilots said both attacks were successful.

The RAF assault followed a night of intermittent raids on British by German planes which dropped incendiary bombs on London and explosives at two places in East Anglia.

The British said the German raids at no time reached serious proportions, and that fire started in the capital were extinguished before much damage was done. No casualties were reported.

On African Front On the north African front, the British reported last night their bombers had carried out violent attacks on the coastal road from captured Derna to Bengasi and on the area around the important west Libyan port of Tripoli, 400 miles to the west. Observers interpreted these raids as preludes to an all-out assault aimed at capture of Bengasi and swift completion of the conquest of eastern Libya.

There was no indication whether the attack on Tripoli was launched from newly won British bases in Libya, or from the Mediterranean base at Malta, only 200 miles from the objective.

Reports from east Africa indicated the British offensive was being speeded there in an attempt to crush Italian resistance before March, when sweltering heat and torrential spring rains might hold up operations.

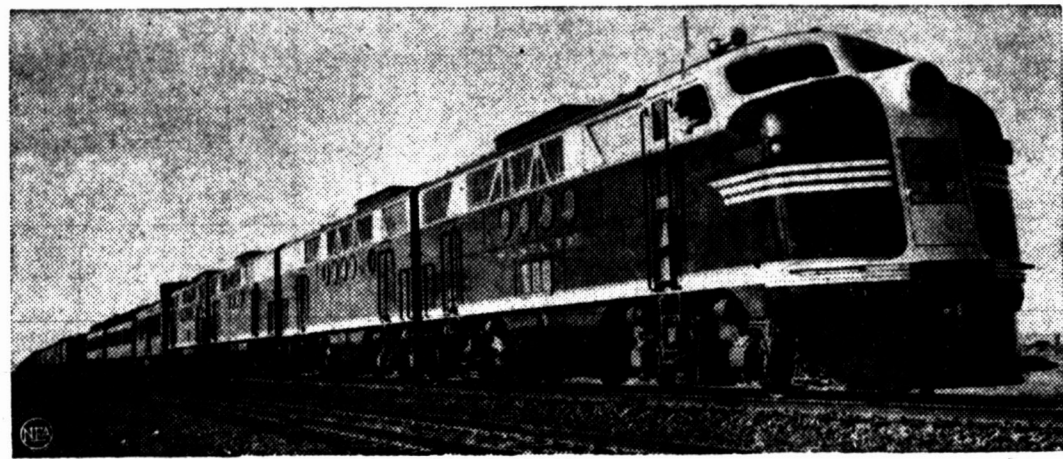

The British declared they were in undisputed possession of frontier areas in Eritrea, Ethiopia, and Somaliland and driving steadily deeper into all three Italian colonies. Great est progress was reported in Eritrea, across which the British have driven

Alanreed Youth Replaces Fagans On Draft List

Charles Burford Fagans, 392, Pampa, last on the list of eight selectees scheduled to leave this week has been replaced by Chester Aubrey Darnell of Alanreed.

Reason for this is that Darnell registered at Big Spring and asked for a transfer here. He thus becomes the last selectee under the February quota here, and Fagans is placed first on the list of possible replacements.

The Gray county men will report at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the selective service board office at the court house, then leave here the next day by bus for Lubbock, where the induction station is located.

On March 5 the 14 selectees from Gray will go by train direct to Ft. Bliss, as the induction station at Lubbock will be closed.

The local office had no information from state headquarters as to whether the group leaving here Thursday would be sent to Ft. Bliss or elsewhere. Preceding quotas from Gray, the one in November and the January 15 groups, were assigned to Ft. Bliss after they had reported at the Lubbock station.

VFW Auxiliary Announces Theme For Essay Contest

"One Nation Indivisible," the ideal expressed in the oath of allegiance to the American flag, has been selected as the theme of the sixth annual essay contest to be conducted in high schools throughout the country by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Chairman of the essay committee of the local V. F. W. auxiliary is Mrs. Bertha Chisum, and The Pampa News is the contest sponsor in this city. It will be the fifth local contest.

February 22 has been set as the date on or before which all local essays must be in the hands of the local committee. Compositions will first be submitted to Miss Margaret Jones, head of the English department in Pampa High school. She will then turn the essays over to the committee.

Limited to 500-1,000 words, the essays must be original with the student and affidavits to that effect will be required from the students and their faculty advisors.

The winner in the local contest will compete with other local winners throughout this state.

The essay adjudged best in the state contest will be entered in competition with other state winners for the $1,000 first national prize.

Other national awards will include $500, second; $250, third; $100, fourth. There also will be 10 prizes of $10 each and 10 prizes of $5 each in the national finals.

Wrecked Army Bomber Reported Found In Woods

MORTON, Wash., Feb. 4 (AP)—Surrounded by military secrecy, a force of soldiers with state and county officials undertook a trek today into a thickly-wooded region in quest of a wrecked army bomber which two rancher-woodsmen reported sighting yesterday.

More Changes Approved In School Plans

Contracts for hardware and mill work for the new high school building were awarded and more changes in the plans made at yesterday's special meeting of the school board. Another meeting will be held next Monday at which time bids for doors will be opened.

The Home Builders Supply company of Pampa was awarded the contract to furnish all hardware for the new building. The company's low bid was $4,269.72.

A contract was given Panhandle Sash and Door company of Amarillo to do all the mill work. The company's bid of $5,865 was low.

Hardware to be furnished will include all door locks and latches, hinges, stops, kick plates, etc. Mill work will include all woodwork, inside windows, door frames, moulding and other woodwork.

The board voted to purchase a welding machine that had been rented and used on the high school. Rent amounting to $225 was credited on the purchase price of $750. The welding machine will be used on fences to be placed around school grounds, to repair equipment, and will be rented to the adult vocational welding classes.

It was decided to place more showers in the boys dressing rooms and to add wash rooms to the dressing rooms in the auditorium. The wash rooms were not included in the plans and specifications.

Four teachers previously recommended by Supt. L. L. Sone were approved.

Stolen Car Found Stuck In Mud Here

City police officers this morning reported the recovery of a Ford coach reported stolen Sunday morning from the Pampa Brake and Electric company used car lot.

The car was found by Connie Moore, driver for the Ideal Laundry, stuck in the mud on East Third Street. The thief had tried to remove the car, officers said. They found several boards under the car and the mud was churned over a large area. The car was also out of gas.

An Oldsmobile car reported lost last week was found the following day.

Egleston To Leave Worley Hospital Today

Lee Roy Egleston, who had been a prisoner in the Gray county jail, was to be dismissed from Worley hospital today, following treatment for injuries he suffered in an altercation a week ago at the court house.

He is to be removed to his home in Ft. Worth. In Pampa to accompany him on the trip were his wife, his father-in-law, Arthur Hill, and Clyde Mayes, attorney, all of Fort Worth.

Release of Egleston follows his posting of a $10,000 on a charge of armed robbery. The charge was entered in justice court in Wheeler. Egleston had entered a plea of not guilty.

National Soap Box Derby Date Selected

Pampa and Top O' Texas boys can look forward now to August 17, the third Sunday in a month containing five Sundays, for that date has been selected for the eighth annual running of youth's great summer sports classic, the All-American Soap Box derby, to be held in Akron, Ohio.

Date for the 1941 Pampa derby the third to be held here has not been decided. Last July, 3,000 Pampans saw Mark Bratton win over 60 contestants to take the city championship, first place in class A (ages 14-15) and the prize for the best designed car. Boys from 11 to 12 are classified in class B. As city champion, Bratton represented this newspaper and Pampa in competing against boys sent to Akron by 125 other newspapers in the United States, Canada, Mexico, and the Panama Canal Zone. Pampa's first entry in the national contest was Hugh Blevins, and the 1940 derby here was a nip and tuck race between the 1939 local champion and Bratton. Grand award in the national derby is a four-year university scholarship. All boys competing in the national derby, however, receive awards and their expenses to and from Akron are paid by their sponsors. Locally, The Pampa News and the

Cuban Dictator Ousts Army, Navy Chiefs

(By The Associated Press) HAVANA, Feb. 4—President Fulgencio Batista told the Cuban army, navy and police forces today that he had arrested their chiefs to suppress a seditious plot.

Authorities declared that the group conspired to overthrow Batista and that he had feared for his own safety.

Because of the serious charges and to internal crisis involved in the asserted plot, Batista suspended constitutional guarantees for 15 days.

He spoke to the armed forces at Camp Columbia. Batista held personal control of the army for several hours after ousting its chief, then turned that command over to Col. Manuel Lopez Migoya. He already had appointed new chiefs of the navy and national police in steps he declared necessary to "repress" the alleged sedition and "reestablish public order."

Protective measures included the mounting of machine-guns and barricades at entrances to the presidential palace.

These arrested were Col. Jose Pedraza, army chief since Dec. 6, 1939, and national police chief since Saturday, and Lieut. Col. Angel Gonzalez, ousted navy chief. Pedraza had been army chief since Batista resigned the post to run for the presidency.

One provisional army leader, Lieut. Col. Ramon Gutierrez De Vialquez of Oriente province, was relieved of his campaign, which was entrusted to his subordinate, Major Oscar Diaz.

Lieut. Col. Jesus Gomez Casas was appointed to the navy command and Col. Manuel Benitez, former commander of Matanzas province, was made national police chief.

In a statement to the Cuban people, Batista asserted the "seditious attitude" of the arrested army and navy leaders arose from his dismissal last week of Col. Bernardo Garcia as police chief and his transfer of several navy departments to civilian control.

Garcia's "resignation" was announced Saturday and the police command added to Pedraza's army duties. The President said Garcia had been "openly seditious" in his attitude toward the government.

An official announcement said the Cuban congress would meet within 48 hours, "act according to circumstances."

As a precautionary measure, the army took over public utilities, including the buildings of the Cuban telephone and electric companies.

The suspension of constitutional

Engine Being Pushed Into Yards At Denver

DENVER, Feb. 4 (AP)—At least 22 persons were injured, some seriously, when a large Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad passenger locomotive blew up this morning as it was being pushed into the railroad yards in the southwest industrial section of Denver.

Fire Chief John Healey said the boiler and cab of the locomotive were lifted from the undercarriage, hurled 60 feet into the air and thrown upside down on an empty railway express car.

The boiler and cab arched over the locomotive immediately behind the one that exploded.

Several of the persons injured were motorists who had stopped at the intersection of Thirteenth street and Osage avenue for the train to cross.

Force of the blast blew windows and bricks from the Western Elaterite Roofing Co. plant, located 25 feet from the tracks, and blew parked automobiles out of position.

Some members of a loading crew working on a track 50 feet away were injured.

Fireman Ray Shaffer, member of the first fire department rescue squad reaching the scene, said that "we found people wandering around over a whole square block, so dazed they didn't know what they were doing. We just put them in ambulances and automobiles and sent them to hospitals."

Several of the dazed victims asked the firemen, "What's happened around here?" Shaffer said:

"Neither Chief Healey nor Police Chief August Hanebuth could find any immediate explanation for the terrific blast."

CAA Flying School Approved By Board

The Pampa school board yesterday afternoon voted to become the ground school instructor contract or in the proposed Civil Aeronautics Administration flying school here. The plan was explained by Jimmie Dodge, president of the junior chamber of commerce, which is sponsor of the flying school.

Application of the Jaycees has been approved by the state CAA organization and it is now being considered in Washington.

The school board will provide a room in which ground school instruction will be given by a licensed instructor to be furnished by the school board. His salary will be paid by the government.

One out of every five persons taking the ground course will be eligible for a flight scholarship. A maximum of 10 scholarships will be given free unless the merchant desires to pay for a flight course and then the government will give another free scholarship for each sponsored student.

Up to the present time 50 persons have applied for ground school instruction. It is hoped that the number will reach 100. Application blanks can be secured from Jimmie Dodge at the Pampa Bus terminal.

The ground school class will be open to everyone but only men or women between the ages of 19 and 26 will be eligible for scholarships. Those not eligible for scholarships may take the flight course at a nominal cost, to be set.

More women are being invited to take the course. Six have already applied, Mr. Dodge said today.

Fire Ravages Buildings

MARLIN, Feb. 4 (AP)—Three brick buildings in the Marlin business district were wrecked and a fourth ravaged by fire after a mysterious explosion.

Doors and windows were broken in two blocks of the section. Local officials and state fire department officials were investigating. Damage was estimated at $25,000.

Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

- 1. Should a high school girl comb her hair at the table in the school cafeteria?
2. Is it good manners for guests at a large banquet to leave the table before every speaker has finished?
3. Should a girl wear a dinner dress or a low-cut, sleeveless evening dress to a formal dinner?
4. Should a young man consider the color of dress a girl will wear when he selects a corsage for her?
5. How far ahead should a chaperone be asked to a dance?
What would you do if—
You are a high school girl dressing for an informal dance in the evening—
(a) Wear a sweater and skirt with socks and saddle oxfords?
(b) Wear an afternoon-type dress, shoes with heels and silk stockings.

Answers
1. No. That is just as bad manners as it would be for her to comb her hair at a downtown restaurant table.

2. No. It is very rude.
3. A dinner dress is suitable.
4. Yes.

5. When the dance is planned or a little later, it is rude to wait until the last minute to ask a chaperone. Best "What Would You Do" solution—(b). High school students are old enough to dress appropriately for every occasion.

But, it was so well put in the first place that we decided not to change it around any.

Behind The News

By BRUCE CATTON NEA Service Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Back of the Department of Justice's anti-trust law indictment of leading corporations and individuals in the magnesium industry is an amazing story of how one government agency got worried about national defense bottlenecks long before the current defense program even got started—and set out to do something about them.

The War Department did nothing about it, although Arnold's letter warned that "it is not too much to say that the situation is dangerous." Arnold thereupon went to work—despite an inadequate budget and staff—to bring some anti-trust prosecutions.

First he exposed the situation in the manufacture of optical instruments, in which the German firm of Zeiss had a water-tight agreement with the American firm of Bausch & Lomb by which the latter firm paid royalties to Zeiss on its sales of instruments manufactured for the U. S. Army and Navy and gave the Germans access to full information about the manufacture and sale of those instruments.

PUBLIC EDUCATORS IDEA OF EDUCATION

I have just been reading the January issue of the Education Digest. This magazine is, as I understand it, a magazine that goes to professional educators. In this magazine, the first article was under the heading of "What people think about youth and education."

After reading this and the questions asked, one sees that the test of education, according to public educators, is whether the majority approves. It seems to make no difference whether a system really trains its pupils to have respect for their fellowman or whether it teaches them to be collective thieves and to have no regard whatever for the rights of others.

It uses the word "education" as synonymous with schooling or college attendance and, thus, jumps at conclusions. For instance, it makes the dogmatic statement that "Educated persons are least often critical of present emphasis on education." Then it goes on in the next sentence, "Of those who attended high school and college, 82 per cent oppose the idea that education is considered too important, as compared with 68 per cent of the group who did not attend high school."

Of course, he might have more technical knowledge but he might have a great deal less understanding of the fundamental truths which make for equal freedom and culture and happiness. Their first question is, as follows: "Many people say there is too much importance placed on education these days. Do you agree or disagree?" The magazine says that "seventy-three per cent of the population do not think education is being overemphasized."

Any man who thinks that we are paying too much attention to education has, in reality, no conception of what education means. There is no question that we are not devoting a large enough fraction of our energy in the right kind of education.

Why do not these people who are trying to sell more public education and get more money and jobs inform the public as to why, with all the money we have spent on public education, that we have had the longest and worst depression in our history, and why the average wage increase of 1 1/2 per cent a year that was taking place for a hundred years before 1930, has ceased? The test of education, like anything else, is results.

CAN CAPITAL BE DRAFTED?

People who have not carefully studied economics proclaim that capital should be drafted, as well as labor, in our defense program. But capital must be owned by some man who has created it and when it is drafted, it is in reality drafting the services of the man who created it. It does no harm to the capital itself, other than destroy it by consuming it, but it does draft human energy.

Truly a nation that shows no discrimination between its citizens, should never draft anyone even by lot or by chance or by any other method. A real democratic government is interested in only one thing—equality of rights.

However, she is much envied by a man, a professional demonstrator of a similar contraption, whom the studio hired as technical adviser. "She gets to kid to customers, throw pellets at the floor manager, and walk out," he said wistfully. "Every demonstrator or feels that way sometimes, especially toward the end of a day when some cow-eyed customer who has watched his whole act two or three times, steps up and asks, 'What does it do?'"

A YOUNG lady from Pampa, with a flare for writing fiction, has just finished a novel and has shipped it off for publishers' perusal. . . . Ed. Tracey, ex-Pampan now in Clovis, hops back into town for a day and reports everything in Clovis is lumpy-dory. . . . We know of a cat by the name of "Early Bird." . . . Likewise, we once knew a race horse by that name, but he never lived up to it. . . . The grapevine from some of our European correspondents says that Britain is considered a 6 to 5 favorite to win the war.

After four days of clouds and fog, the sun looked good Monday and today. . . . In affairs of love, according to Marie Corelli, a woman is said to be perhaps most easily ensnared by a man who can mix passion with plesantry and not pursue with social tact and diplomacy. . . . There are thousands of men in the nation named "Bill Smith," including at least one in Pampa. . . . The prima that Glamour Girl Ethel Merman has married one of them, which goes to prove that when love walks in there's nothing in a name.

The front of Judge Roy Bean's combine gambling saloon and court in the current movie, "The Westerner," is a mighty fine replica of the picture of Judge Bean's place to be seen hanging locally in the courtroom of Gray county's Justice of the Peace E. F. Young. . . . But, sticklers for accuracy have found that the movie version does not run true to Judge Bean nor to his connection with Lily Langtry. . . . Nevertheless, it's a grand bit of entertainment if you like high-class horse opera. . . . One misuse, the history-stickers point out, is that there never was a corfield anywhere near the unrigged Pecos territory around Langtry, Texas.

Dramatic highlight in "The Westerner," to us was that scene where Gary Cooper finally unfolds the countless packages to get to that lock of Lily's hair as he and Judge Bean sit atop the knoll against a background of the cattlemen's exodus. . . . And, perhaps the final flash scene where the Judge finally gets to meet Miss Langtry backstage in the Fort Davis opera house. . . . How did we get off on this tangent? . . . After all, this is not a movie column.

In general we are all familiar with the fact that there are more older people and fewer young people all the time. That's because fewer babies are born and fewer people die.

The 1940 census throws new and clear light on the problem. In 1930 the median age of all persons in the country was 26.4 years. Last year it was 28.8. That lusty youngster, the American people, had grown 2.5 years older. The age group over-65 had added 2,322,401 people in the decade.

So, it seems, we not only live faster, but longer. Which is wiser, too we ought to be growing wiser, but.

THIS is not January 1, but we have made a resolution not to snoop around and interest ourselves in something that's none of our business. . . . One of the greatest weaknesses of individuals is the inherent trait of curiosity that "shows" us when we come to the point where we feel we've just got to pry into somebody's personal and private life or bust a G-string. . . . All those who can plead not guilty, please raise the right hand.

AND while we're on the subject—we want it made clear that we do not believe for a minute that what has just been written about it here will in any way deter anybody so inclined, from prying into something that's none of their business. . . . It's too much fun!

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The clash between Herr Hitler and Marshal Petain, France's aged chief of state, is well worth keeping an eye on since it bids fair to rank as one of the far-reaching events of the war.

The outcome may tip the scales of conflict sharply, and therefore is of the utmost importance to both Germany and Britain. Of immediate concern is the fact that the offensive operations which the Fuehrer has in hand are effected.

The underlying cause of the duel between these two determined personalities has been the failure of Petain and his government to "co-operate" with Nazidom after the manner prescribed by the conquerors. Specifically, the marshal is said among other things to have refused to turn the French navy over to the Germans, or to grant them the use of naval bases in unoccupied France and the colonies.

These assets, and the French colonial armies which total more than half a million men, are Petain's ace in the hole for the protection of his shattered country. The possibility that the old marshal, still full of fight, might throw these resources to the support of Britain has kept the Nazis from cracking down on the Vichy government and taking what they wanted without more ado.

Hitler until recently has kept pressing policy but firmly for his brand of collaboration, which in effect meant that France would become the ally of Germany against the British. Petain has steadfastly refused to play this role, unsharpened by the loss of his empire but for honor and, not to put too fine a point on it, for the security of France.

For a time Berlin appeared to be making some progress. Vice Premier Laval who was second in command to Petain, was keen on cooperation with Germany and hot for turning against the England he disliked. But Laval, who is smart and ambitious, pushed his plans so hard that Petain on December 14 created a sensation and angered Berlin no end by throwing him out of the government.

Since then there has been a growing coldness on the part of Berlin, and the Nazis have insisted on Laval's reinstatement. This has gone on until recently when war developments have forced the Fuehrer to take energetic measures.

The position is that the Nazi chief is about to intensify his offensives against the British Isles. At the same time he is undertaking a risky, though the French turn against him when he was in the midst of his promised invasion—one of the most hazardous gambles in the history of war—it would put him on a tough spot. If the French navy were given over to England, that alone might hamstring the Nazi program.

So in the past few days we have seen the formation of the "People's National Committee" in Paris, in support of Laval and for collaboration with Germany. There has even been talk that this committee might establish a government to supplant that of Petain. Berlin has kept silence but has turned a benign countenance toward the committee.

This is the preface to Petain's move in sending Admiral Darlan to Paris to confer yesterday with Laval. Many believe the marshal fears that Hitler will occupy all France unless the Vichy government comes to terms.

The outcome of the Darlan-Laval conference is believed to have been to make it clear that Berlin expects Laval to be taken back into the Vichy government with increased powers. Through him the Nazis is naturally hope to secure what they want for furtherance of their war against Britain.

The next move will be up to Marshal Petain.

PAMPA-BORGER CAGE RIVALRY REACHES RED-HOT STAGE

Reserves To Face Strong Test Tonight

The Pampa-Borger basketball rivalry, already red-hot with not a game played yet, will be renewed tonight at 8 o'clock on the high school court at Borger.

It will be the beginning of a feud which will not end until the district tournament three weeks away.

The undefeated Pampa reserves will get their strongest test of the season against the Borgans in a preliminary game. The Borger reserves have lost three games, but have annihilated other teams, just as the Pampa reserves have done.

The Harvesters have lost six games and Borger three.

For the second time in a half-dozen years the Bulldogs loom as a threat to Pampa supremacy in this district. Borger is leading the Big Five league of which Pampa is the defending champion. Borger had beaten Lubbock twice, and the Pampans have lost to the Westerners twice.

But Pampa lost to Canadian by a smaller score than Borger did, and on the whole looked as good as Borger did in the Canadian tournament.

The Borgans will play a return game in Pampa next week. They may meet again in the district tournament.

Borger is boasting the best team since Calhoun Smith's boys, led by Buddy Barron, and the Harvesters battled in the finals of the district meet here four years ago. The Harvesters won that game by one point.

Until this year, the Bulldogs have not seriously threatened, but they are claiming superiority this year, and the battle is on.

It will be the sixth conference game of the season for the Bulldogs.

The Redbirds, champions of the annual Canadian tournament last Saturday, will meet the Mobeetle girls in the first half of the double-header. The Bulldogs took second place in the tourney, falling 32-25 before the Canadian boys.

The victorious Pampa boys' win mark up to 43, as against only seven losses. Local basketballers have scored 1,706 points to date for an average of 34.1 per game, while their opponents have scored 1,009 for an average of 20.2.

The Bulldogs have amassed a 665 total in 20 games for a 33.3 average and a win-loss record of 17 and 3.

Their opponents have scored 432 points for an average of 21.6.

The "B" team, with 10 victories and three defeats, has run up a total of 413 tallies for a 31.8 game average and held its opponents to 240 and an 18.4 average.

Miller Convicted For Kidnaping His Stepdaughter

TEXARKANA, Ark., Feb. 4 (AP)—Jesse William Miller is scheduled to be sentenced Thursday in federal court on his conviction of kidnaping his stepdaughter, Mrs. Dorothy Crawford Garner.

Mrs. Garner had charged that Miller and his wife lured her to Texas from Deussen, Ark., by telling her that her grandfather was critically ill. She alleged she was forced to pick cotton and was beaten when she failed to reach a certain quota.

Mrs. Miller was freed by an instructed verdict from Judge Harry J. Lemley, who said the prosecution did not show that she might not have been unduly influenced by her husband.

Miller was convicted yesterday.

Miller is now used in 155 cities in the United States.

Landis And Club Owners In Backstage Player Squabble

By JUDSON BAILEY
NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—Backstage struggles in baseball over rules and regulations sometimes seem drab business to the average sports fan. Sometimes they are, but the apparently technical law-making is the warning rumble before such volcanic eruptions as Commissioner Kenehan M. Landis freeing 90 players owned by Detroit, or naming Pitcher Rube Melton a Philadelphia Phil signed up to call 'em in the National League next summer—and at more pay, to boot.

Right now there is another squabble between some of the major league clubs and Landis over a new ruling that a minor league player purchased by a big league club while under contract to the National League must be returned to the minors on option unless waivers are obtained.

The ruling and the question of what could be done about it were expected to come up for discussion today at the National league's annual schedule meeting.

Landis' order varies drastically with the rule adopted long ago by the clubs themselves that a player could be returned to the minors three times without getting waivers.

The practical effect of the new regulation is this: Cincinnati's world champion Reds bought a player named Charles (Chuck) Aleso from their Birmingham farm. He is a good player. He might be worth $30,000, maybe more. But he is a third baseman. The Reds have a very able third baseman now named Bill Werber. So they probably expected to send Aleso to some Class Double-A club like Indianapolis for a year's seasoning. If they still want to do it, they will have to ask for waivers by the other major league clubs. If the Phillies, or the Cardinals, or some other club should put in a claim, the Reds would have to turn him over to that club for the first waiver price of $7,500, or withdraw the waiver request and keep him on their own roster. The Reds have 38 players on their squad now, but must cut down to 25 players by May 15.

Another example would be George Staller, a young leftfielder purchased by the Brooklyn Dodgers from Montreal. The Dodgers have nine outfielders, including Leftfielder Joe Medwick. When it comes time to cut this number to four or five, Brooklyn will have to get waivers on Staller to send him to the minors, or turn him over to another major league club.

Irish football teams under Layden won 46 games, lost 14 and tied three during his seven years at the helm. His first machine was the 1938 Notre Dame squad which won eight games, losing only to Southern California.

Pro Football Has New Boss

By TOM SILER
CHICAGO, Feb. 4 (AP)—Professional football has a new boss—scholarly, 37-year-old Elmer Layden—and Notre Dame is looking for a new football coach.

Layden accepted a five-year contract at $20,000 annually yesterday as commissioner and resigned as head coach and athletic director of the institution where he was an All-American half-back one of the famed "Four Horsemen" 17 years ago.

The Rev. Hugh O'Connell, C. S. C., president, accepted Layden's resignation, but issued no statement as to his successor for the job, considered one of the choicest coaching positions in the collegiate football world.

Several former Notre Dame stars already have been mentioned as likely candidates—Dr. Edward Anderson, Iowa; Buck Shaw, Santa Clara; Jimmy Phelan, University of Washington; Jack Menger, Auburn, and Jimmy Crowley, Fordham.

Layden's salary at Notre Dame was reported to be about $10,000.

The National football league and subsidiary circuits have been seeking a prominent sports figure for several months to rule the sport as commissioner. M. Landis rules baseball. The club owners, however, emphasized that creation of the commissioner would in no way affect the status of Carl Stork of Dayton, Ohio, president since the death of Joe Carr of Columbus, Ohio, two years ago. Layden's duties will be defined further when the league holds its annual meeting here in April.

Miller Convicted For Kidnaping His Stepdaughter

TEXARKANA, Ark., Feb. 4 (AP)—Jesse William Miller is scheduled to be sentenced Thursday in federal court on his conviction of kidnaping his stepdaughter, Mrs. Dorothy Crawford Garner.

Mrs. Garner had charged that Miller and his wife lured her to Texas from Deussen, Ark., by telling her that her grandfather was critically ill. She alleged she was forced to pick cotton and was beaten when she failed to reach a certain quota.

Mrs. Miller was freed by an instructed verdict from Judge Harry J. Lemley, who said the prosecution did not show that she might not have been unduly influenced by her husband.

Miller was convicted yesterday.

Miller Convicted For Kidnaping His Stepdaughter

TEXARKANA, Ark., Feb. 4 (AP)—Jesse William Miller is scheduled to be sentenced Thursday in federal court on his conviction of kidnaping his stepdaughter, Mrs. Dorothy Crawford Garner.

Mrs. Garner had charged that Miller and his wife lured her to Texas from Deussen, Ark., by telling her that her grandfather was critically ill. She alleged she was forced to pick cotton and was beaten when she failed to reach a certain quota.

Mrs. Miller was freed by an instructed verdict from Judge Harry J. Lemley, who said the prosecution did not show that she might not have been unduly influenced by her husband.

Miller was convicted yesterday.

Oklahoma Picks Snorter Luster As Sooner Coach

Skis to Golf Victory

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—Snorter Luster looks like anything but a football coach, but the "experts" who've watched him work tell you this is just another case where you can't tell how good your mind julep is by the frost on the glass.

He's a quiet little man with "specs," this newly-named head coach at Oklahoma university, and when you meet up with him the first time, you tell yourself he probably would be scared to death to trust his 140 lbs. on there on the gridiron with those big rough guys.

Despite Luster's 19 years as high school and assistant college coach the average fan outside of Oklahoma and the Big Six territory probably is wondering where the Sooners dug up this little man to succeed Tom Stidham yesterday.

He's thought so well of in the trade, for instance, that early last fall, when he came to New York to study for a master's degree at Columbia, stout Steve Owen, coach of the New York Professional Giants, asked Snorter to help him with his club. Luster guided stout Steve's backs all during the campaign.

Incidentally, the Oklahoma job just dropped in Snorter's lap yesterday. He knew he was being considered for the job, but no one out at Norman had contacted him, and he hadn't heard a thing about it until the Associated Press called him up to tell him. He was pretty close to tears, he says, that happy.

"I guess every coach," he said, "has a secret ambition to go back and coach his alma mater. Now I'm realizing that ambition—I think I'm the first alumnus ever to coach at O. U."

Snorter's best known teams were those he produced in nine years at Norman high school. In 1924, his schoolboys were unbeaten. In '35 and '36, the home town folks thought so well of them they chipped in and sent the lads to the Sugar Bowl game one New Year's day and the Rose Bowl the next. He also piloted Southwestern Oklahoma Teachers' college in 1925 and Colorado Mines in '32, and was backfield coach at Oklahoma for three years ending in 1939.

Snorter is a pretty smart little guy, and can handle his law shingle any time he wants to. He was all set to do that back in 1922, but an automobile accident injured his left eye, and he turned to coaching. "Not because it was any easier, but because the strain on the eyes was less."

He has borrowed Howard Jones' box-type backfield formation as his coaching plan. He'll have to name an entire new slate of assistants when he gets to O. U. next Monday. His first move will be to appoint Dale Arbuckle, whom he calls the smartest backfield coach around. Then he'll ask Jap Haskell, O. U. athletic director, to coach the line.

Mustangs To Play Baylor Tonight

DALLAS, Feb. 4 (AP)—Southern Methodist University's Mustangs, one game away from the leading Arkansas Razorbacks in the South-west Conference basketball race, meet the only team to beat them this season when they square off against the Baylor Bears here tonight.

Baylor is tied with Rice for third place and a victory over the Mustangs would push S. M. U. below the Bruins in the standings.

Baylor defeated Southern Methodist 34-30 in the teams' first engagement.

Screwballs, Inc., Throws Membership Open To Nation

ANGOLA, Ind., Feb. 4 (AP)—Screwballs of America, Inc., threw its membership open today to the nation at large—or at least to whatever part of it might consider itself eligible to belong.

The society, formed about two years ago, incorporated yesterday under Indiana law.

Papers carried the provision that any city enrolling 25 "certified screwballs" should be given a charter.

The ambitious little fraternity was founded on the principle that many human beings are created somewhat bawly.

Lawyer Kenneth Hubbard, who has the title of recording screw in the Mother chapter, said that persons who wanted to join might qualify very simply—and he used the word advisedly.

"They have to do something a little off center to be eligible," he explained.

For example, one Angora business man went to Florida and forgot to take money along. He was indicted as soon as he got back.

The membership rolls list at least three celebrities, Senator Raymond E. Willis (R-Ind.), Rep. George W. Gillie (R-Ind.), and Charlie McCarthy.

Two More Changes In Gridiron Code Being Considered

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1 (AP)—College football coaches, still arguing the merits of three major rule changes announced less than a month ago, were confronted today with the likelihood two more changes will be incorporated into the 1941 gridiron code.

Wilmer Crowell, middle Atlantic district representative on the N. C. A. A. rules committee, said the latest changes "will be formally introduced into the code at a meeting in New York next week-end. They stipulate that:

1. A kicked ball touched first by the kicking team within the opposition's 10-yard line is to be classified as a touchback. The ball thus will be returned to the 20-yard line.
2. Three balls will be used in games played on wet or muddy fields. Crowell said they are to be rotated after each play to provide "ample opportunity to have the balls wind-dry on the sidelines."

Crowell told a gathering of district coaches the new rules were "agreed upon by a telegraphic vote" of the committee.

Less than a month ago, the committee announced rule changes providing for unlimited substitution, handing the ball forward to any player one yard behind the line of scrimmage, and elimination of the touchback on fourth-down passes thrown into the end zone.

Truck, Railroad Car Crash, 2 Die

JACKSONVILLE, Tex., Feb. 4 (AP)—The crash of a truck and a railroad motor car at Forest brought death to two men and injury to five others.

Jack McCurry, 35, of Trinidad, and Howard Bell, 35, of Tyler, died in a hospital here last night.

They were members of a crew of 12 bridge workers on the Cotton Belt railway.

Injured were G. W. Hudson, Chandler; Carl Sanders, Corcoran; J. H. Hudik, Texarkana; J. A. Webb, Waco; and Travis Savage, address unknown.

Sophomore and Junior First on White Deer Roll

WHITE DEER, Feb. 4—Beatrice Haiduk, a junior, and Billie Ruth McDowell, a sophomore, were top-ranking students on the high school honor roll for the first semester, each having a 3.0 average.

The senior class had the largest number on the roll. They were Barbara Jo Freeman, Frances Lamb, Dena Newton, Alliceen Werth, Mary Elizabeth New, Jimmie Russell, Maxine Nelson, Peggy Ann Covey, James Beck, Billy Beck, Leta Vene-Taylor, Wilfred Urbanczyk, Eunice Nash, Billy George Clements, and Eula Mae Stovall.

Five sophomores were listed: Billie Ruth McDowell, Geraldine Walker, Chester Williams, Billy Carey, and Margie Davis.

Only two juniors made the roll: Beatrice Haiduk, and Nell Roach. To be eligible for this honor, a student must have a semester average of B or above in each subject.

"Know Thyself" Topic of Speech At McLean School

McLEAN, Feb. 4—At a special assembly Friday morning Tom Preston gave a lecture on "How to Find One's Self" to the McLean student body and the visiting Alairred school.

In his lecture Mr. Preston offered $25 to any student or teacher that would tell him, "Who you are, what you are, and what you possess?" No one claimed the award.

Mr. Preston reminded us what the Greek said, "Know thy self," and later what Jesus said, "A man that possesses himself is greater than a city." He also put the student body on the spot when he asked, "Why are you in high school?"

After the lecture each class went to their home rooms and took up a free will offering for the speaker.

Mr. Preston lectured in McLean High school once before in 1937.

Regulation Of Labor Upheld By High Court

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Col. Philip B. Fleming, wage-hour administrator, expressed gratification today over the supreme court's action in upholding constitutionality of the national wage-hour act, and declared the law had put an extra $100,000,000 into workers' pay envelopes since it became effective October 24, 1937.

The court's decision, Fleming said, protects these wage increases for the future.

In two important decisions issued yesterday, the court ruled that the federal government has power to regulate labor standards in the nation's industries even though "control of intrastate activities" is involved. The act applies basically to industries operating in interstate commerce.

"We estimate," Fleming said, "that the 30 cent minimum wage, constitutional in character, which was upheld in the Darby lumber case, has increased pay envelopes about $65,000,000."

"The Opp cotton mills case upheld the procedure we have been following in issuing wage orders. We estimate that our wage orders, which have been issued in 40 cents an hour, account for an additional $35,000,000 in increases."

The decisions not only upheld all phases of the law but also specifically overruled a 1918 supreme court decision which invalidated a statute intended to outlaw child labor.

Although yesterday's ruling apparently gave the federal government the right to regulate child labor, the children's bureau of the labor department said it would continue to urge ratification of a proposed constitutional amendment against the practice, inasmuch as it contends that three-fourths of the children's bureau of the interstate commerce. Twenty-eight of the necessary 36 states have ratified the amendment.

Justice Stone, who delivered the wage-hour decision, said congress had adopted the policy of excluding from interstate commerce all goods produced for the commerce which do not conform to the specified labor standards.

Congress, Stone added, "may choose the means reasonably adapted to the attainment of the permitted end, even though they involve control of intrastate activities."

The wage-hour act, passed by congress in 1938, now provides a general 40-hour maximum work week and a 30 cent an hour minimum wage.

Under another section of the law, orders have been issued setting higher minimum wages for several industries, following the recommendation of committees named by Andrews to represent the employers, employees and the public.

The act also prohibits employment of children under 16 in a mining or manufacturing occupation and in an industry declared to be hazardous. Limited employment of children 14 or 15 is permitted in certain other industries.

The 1918 child labor decision, declaring the rule of Ethiopia, was declared to be hazardous. Limited employment of children 14 or 15 is permitted in certain other industries.

Reeves To Speak At Clarendon Banquet

Representatives of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce will go to Clarendon tonight when the Clarendon Chamber of Commerce holds its annual banquet. Garnet Reeves, manager of the Pampa chamber, will make the response to the address of welcome by J. R. Porter.

Principal speaker at the banquet will be Wes Zard of Amarillo who will talk on "War Comes to the Pampa."

The complete program of the banquet will be as follows: Toastmaster—J. R. Porter; Invocation—Rev. Cecil Harvey; Welcome address—J. R. Porter; Response—Garnet Reeves, Pampa.

Tri-o-McLean High school. Frances Sitter, May Evelyn Foster, Beth Yvonne Floyd, accompanied by Eric Glenn Fullbright, piano, Robert Gibson, violin.

Introduction of guests and presentation of awards for 1940 Holiday Decorations Contest; Balloting for directors of Chamber of Commerce; Tri-o-McLean High school; Introduction of speaker—Sam Braswell; Address—Mrs. Zard; Report of elections committee; Adjournment.

J. R. Gilliam is the secretary and manager of the chamber of commerce.

They Cooked Up a Romance

What's pie and coffee when you're in love? Corporal L. Lowell Bennett ignores his chow to gaze at Elizabeth Walker, helper at the American Eagle Club snack bar in London. They recently announced their engagement. He's from South Orange, N. Dies Interested Only In Publicity, Money, Charges Hill

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 3.—In a letter made public here tonight, Rep. Knute Hill (D-Wash.) charged that Rep. Dies (D-Texas) was interested "not in the protection of the country but the publicity and money he would be able to get out of the activities resulting from the (Dies) committee's work."

Hill's letter was released by Jack Abrams, commander of American Legion post No. 9, to whom it was written in reply to an appeal from the post for Hill's support for the committee.

"I voted against the committee in the first place because of my personal knowledge of the activities of Congressman Dies," Hill wrote.

It has been estimated that he is claiming $100,000 higher as a result of the book he has written and addresses he has given. He is all over the country holding hearings—sometimes alone—without the presence and the counsel of other members of the committee.

"In addition, he frequently classes who group as Communists, although there are often members of the group in no way connected with the Communists or other subversive organizations."

Also, several cases have come to light where the FBI has been on the point of taking into custody certain individuals and Mr. Dies has prematurely made statements that have put such individuals on their guard and thereby defeated the work of the FBI.

British Helping Drive Italians Out Of Ethiopia

LONDON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Britain, cooperating with Haile Selassie in reclaiming his rule of Ethiopia, will participate in "temporary measures" of military guidance and control," Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the house of commons today.

Selassie, who fled to Britain when the Italians conquered his country in 1936 and made it part of the fascist empire, has returned to his East African kingdom and reasserted his rule with British recognition.

British and Ethiopian forces have combined, meanwhile, in a drive to stop the Italians. A British military spokesman reported today that British forces have established "direct communication" with native "patriots" and with their help are forcing the Italians back in an "extremely successful action."

Epworth League Union Meeting Held At Miami

CANADIAN, Feb. 4—Rev. Uel D. Grooby and 10 members of the Epworth League of the Methodist church here attended the Miami-High Union at Miami Sunday afternoon.

The Miami leagues presented the program and served refreshments to the group.

Patrol Planes Will Help Convoys Ships

LONDON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Shipping Minister Ronald H. Cross disclosed today that Britain is to get patrol planes from the United States for convoying her merchant fleet.

Addressing the empire society, spoke of "the very valuable acquisition of 50 United States destroyers and added that "strong" aircraft which are to be received from the United States will also play an important part in protecting our ships."

$3,500 Bond Set For Jim Hodges

A recognition bond for $3,500 for Jim Hodges was approved in 31st district court yesterday, pending the judgment of the court of criminal appeals.

Hodges was charged with receiving and concealing stolen property and on January 24 a jury verdict returned here assessed his punishment at three and one-half years in the penitentiary.

Under the court order, Hodges is to report from day to day and term to term and not depart in order to abide by the state court's decision.

SERIAL STORY

CONSCRIPT'S WIFE

BY BETTY WALLACE

Copyright, 1941, NEA Service, Inc.

YESTERDAY: Martha discovers work in the best medicine for heartache. Paul is in New York, so the meeting with him is postponed. Then she gets a letter, orders her to take important papers to Paul. When the plane lands, Paul is waiting to greet her.

TROUBLE AHEAD

"Oh, Paul!" Martha cried, in mixed gladness and dismay. "You shouldn't have come!" Yet even while they walked through the busy, glassed-in passenger loading underpass to the administration building, she felt a little throb of relief that she wouldn't have to back this bewildering huggens alone. "How did you ever manage to get away from the conference?"

"What was the sense of twiddling my thumbs in the hotel?" He looked down at her with undisguised joy. "It's good to see you! When did you get back to the office?"

"Yesterday." "I'm glad you came to your senses, Martha. One day of the office has worked wonders." She couldn't help dimpling. "Only the difference between my best suit and newest hat, and Helen's printed house dress and the accompanying symphony of baby howls."

As they entered the great round room which was the main ticket office of the administration building, Martha's breath caught. "Why—it's, it's lovelier than Grand Central Station!"

She had a swift impression of warm, pinkish marble; of gold-glinting brass. The room was spacious, modern, somehow thrilling. She looked up to the domed ceiling and saw that an enormous globe, the continents and oceans of the world in bold relief, was suspended above them. At each side of the room were the busy counters of the various airlines, and in the center, an enormous circular information desk. Martha couldn't take all the splendor in at once, and Paul was already rushing her.

"In the cab, she wanted to stare out and get her fill of LaGuardia Field. Paul wanted to talk. "You haven't told me anything. Why did you come back to the office? Did the Chief tell you about the awful time we had without you?" She brought her eyes back, reluctantly. "He told me. With gestures." Paul looked rather fit, considering that he had been in the hospital so recently. "How's your collarbone?" "It's all right. I'm good as new."

Look here, Martha, what happened? Did you suddenly come back to your senses—or did Bill—? He stopped. His eyes clouded. "Bill's still sore about what Suzanne said, I suppose?" "There was no point in evading. "Yes, he's—he's being very silly about it. Oh, Paul, I'm so sorry it ever happened! If you had only listened to me when I tried to tell you!"

Somehow, against her will, the old regrets tore at her. She remembered Bill's sullen eyes, the hurting way that he clung to his suspicions. But she must not tell Paul about Bill's senseless rebellion, there at camp. She must not tell him that she had come back to the office because she could bear no more.

She touched the briefcase that lay on the seat between them. "Haden't you better be checking this over, making sure it's all in order? It'll be almost 4 when we reach the hotel, and your men may be waiting."

Paul frowned, but his fingers worked the tiny brass catch. He drew the crisp papers out, and Martha gave herself again to sightseeing. They were skimming along some sort of parkway, now. He said, "Martha, do me a favor. As long as you're here anyway, sit in and take notes of the whole proceedings, will you? Then I won't have to remember all the endless details, and there'll be less chance of slipping up on anything important. These boys don't quite know what it's all about yet. If I have to write them later, clarifying any points—"

"I'll be glad to, Paul."

Now he was all engineer, and she was all secretary. No one, seeing them half an hour later in the richly-paneled conference room which the hotel had put at Paul's disposal, could possibly have imagined that the stern, gray-eyed man with the strong, bony jaw and the self-possessed, commanding voice was in love with this small, redheaded stenographer.

The conference lasted until after 6. One of the men suggested, "Send out for something to eat?" But they didn't. They rushed the discussion to a close, and shook hands all around. "See you at 9, then, Mr. Elliott. Finish up all the ends." The long notebook she had sent out for was almost filled. Page after page of her neat, shorthand hieroglyphics. "Paul," she said, "ought to transcribe these while they're reasonably fresh. You could get a typewriter from the management, couldn't you?" "I could, but I won't. Take it back to the office with you. Better yet, stay tonight, take the rest of the stuff in the morning. . . . We could fly back together." Martha stirred uneasily. "You won't really need me in the morning."

"I will. God only knows what may pop into their heads. I tell you, they're foggy. Building plane parts isn't like fabricating auto parts. They're experts in their line. But this is my line and—"

"I don't think the Chief meant for me to stay."

"I'll phone him. When he hears how it's been going, he'll want you to stay."

SHE felt dazed, bewildered. This morning, when she woke up in Mrs. Larkin's boarding house, she hadn't had the faintest notion that tonight she'd be in New York with Paul.

With Paul. An ominous little doubt shook her. Bill, there at camp—out of the guardhouse by now—had already received her note, telling him that she had left Helen's. Although they had quarreled, although she was not sure of what would come now, her spine crawled at the thought of Bill's ever finding out about this.

Never in the world would be believe the simple truth! Not after all the things they'd said to each other, not after his bitter, "Back! Back to Paul!"

"I can't stay, Paul," she told him. His eyes were suddenly very direct. "Don't be a fool, Martha! I'll drive you to a well-known woman's clubhouse just a block from here!"

She gathered up her pencils, the notebook, her handbag. Her face was hot. "I simply can't stay Paul. Surely, after all we've been through already, you should understand that!"

So he took her back to the airport, in a taxi, his pipe between his teeth and his eyes hazy. He bought her a ticket for the 9:20, and they ate almost in silence in the beautiful Airport Terrace. Twinkling lights on the field below, the hum of airplane motors, the sound of wings in the darkness above them, did nothing to lighten their mood.

"I can't help it, Paul!" she tore out once. "I love Bill and he—he's crazy enough, already."

But she never dreamed, in that moment, exactly how crazy Bill was to be. She never guessed, either then in the restaurant, or later, after midnight, when her cab pulled up in front of Mrs. Larkin's boarding house, how appalling was the situation that awaited her.

Plains Winter Wheat Ranges Fair To Good

Condition of winter wheat holds the spotlight in Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, and portions of Colorado and Texas at this time, not only because of the importance of that crop but as a barometer of what is in store in a general way for the year. The report of agricultural conditions in the Santa Fe states as of February 1 states while the growth of winter wheat in Northwest Texas is small, both in top and root development, the general condition is considered fair to good. Surface moisture is becoming a little short but there is from 18 to 24 inches of subsoil moisture in reserve and with normal snow and rain from now on there should be at least a fair crop. Greatest danger to the wheat while it is small and does not cover the ground is from wind or soil erosion. Already there has been some damage from this source in widely scattered areas, causing farmers to strip their fields with lister furrows. This method of checking soil blowing has proven quite successful in the past, in some cases stopping the damage entirely. It destroys little wheat and many farmers believe the plan pays. There is a feeling of optimism in Northwest Texas over the general crop outlook for this year. There is a good supply of moisture at present and much of the land to be planted this spring has been listed or plowed. It is expected that larger than normal acreage of wheat will be sown, beginning in late February and early March.

Wheeler Man Named Manager Of CVPCA

Special To The NEWS WHEELER, Feb. 4.—Dick Craig who resigned the office of Wheeler county clerk on January 1, after several years service, has been appointed manager of the Canadian Valley Production Credit association. Clarence Beasley, in charge of the Wheeler office since it was established in January, 1940, has been promoted to the office newly opened at McLean. He started work there yesterday.

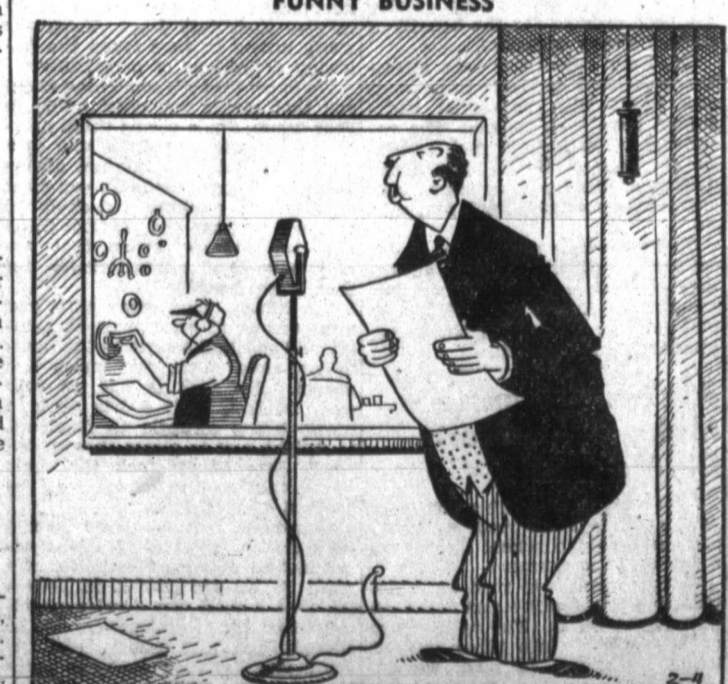

McLean Law Class Elects Officers

Special To The NEWS McLEAN, Feb. 4.—The Commercial Law class, a half-year course, at McLean High school, has started. According to Mr. Cunningham, instructor, at the end of each unit, a trial will be held with the officers who were elected this week presiding. These officers were: Lee, sheriff; Naomi Hancock, court clerk. In the election of these officers, nearly everyone in the class was nominated. Before the election was held each person running for each office made campaign speeches, and then, after the election, the one who was elected to the office made a speech of appreciation. Before the school year is over this class plans to have a trial before the student-body, and break the case of the "Perfect Murder."

"I'm going on kitchen police Monday—what do you suppose they want me to do, arrest the cook?"

"Friends, this weather bureau report of the oncoming tornado is coming to you through the courtesy of the Build-Well Lumber Co."

Sagebrush

When Ruth Shier forgot her gym shorts Tuesday and borrowed Wanda Roberts', who is much taller, the girls in her gym class thought she was wearing a skirt.

Elizabeth Roberts' drawing of the paramcium, a one-celled animal, resembled a specimen of modern art, especially as she had titled it "Paramcium, or Two Lovers."

Of the eight journalism students who compose the journalism class, six have never smoked a cigarette. Which reminds us of the man who was stranded in a cigaretteless town with 36 cigarettes.

The Sage, as well as other Pampa students, will miss the friendly smile of Bill Puckett, the man of many forms, who finished school at mid-term.

Happy second semester to all new students and speaking in behalf of all the students, "We are mighty glad to have you, and we hope you'll like it in Pampa."

A certain boy who flunked advanced arithmetic for the third time this semester, only smiled slightly when he received his report card and said, "I am going to publish a book on this subject after I am exposed to it two more terms."

A one-time head of the math department of Horace Mann high flunked an algebra course twice, became interested in the third time through and then went on to become an authority in the field. Good luck!

Miss Branom, she don't go for slang at all. She says if you mean "O. K.," say "all right." Kin you imagine that?

Bertha Willis and Leonard Hollis seem to get a kick out of working string puzzles.

Jewel Hill wasn't in the doghouse the other day but she was taking a small woolly dog from her locker which was housing the dog, so maybe that made it a doghouse. Ho, hum!

Tommy Howell, the new, short, dark, wavy-haired junior, seems to be doing all right in Pampa. He was last seen in the Lost and Found department, surrounded by ten pretty girls.

Advice to the love-lorn:
"Say it with flowers, say it with sweets,
Say it with kisses, say it with eats,
Say it with jewelry, say it with drink,
But, never, no never, say it with ink!"

The Little Harvester would like to get more contributors. The page should have every news item each week. You will be welcomed at the journalism room every evening from 3 until 4 o'clock. You need not be taking journalism.

One predicts a future for the schoolboy who is following terse narrative about Elisha: "There was a man named Elisha. He had some bears and lived in a cave. Some boys tormented him. He said: 'If you keep on throwing stones at me, I'll turn the bears loose and they'll eat you up.' And they did, and he did, and the bears did."

Phil Gruber (shop teacher) has a what-not to end what-nots. It's five stories high and is called an "Effel Tower" what-not.

Mr. Gruber really let himself go on this thing, untrippingly. The ceiling was the limit.

Coach Hinger, while teaching the boys the principles of boxing, showed Kenneth Spencer some of the real stuff even to the black eye he accidentally gave him.

Thomas Dewey looks quite "feline" in a ladies apron working in the school cafeteria.

Home Economics Girls To Study Hospitality
Mrs. R. H. Sandorf's first year home economics class plan to study hospitality this semester. Primary requisites of a good hostess will be discussed.

A study of simple refreshments is also planned. After this is completed the girls are going to have a buffet luncheon.

Superintendent Sone One Of Harvester's Most Ardent Fans

One of the Harvester's most ardent fans is Superintendent L. L. Sone. It is a rare occasion when he misses a game. He likes to watch the play and thinks it will take an awfully good team to beat the Harvesters.

Mr. Sone stated that he was pleased with the attendance at the games. Many students are seeing all the home games.

"I think our team compares very favorably with other teams we have had. The team is made up of good boys who are average or above in scholarship; boys who will fight to miss a game. He likes to watch the play and thinks it will take an awfully good team to beat the Harvesters.

First Words

Miss Ruby Post—"Warm up for a speed test."
Mr. A. L. Steele—"Get one sheet of paper for a quiz."
Miss Zenobia McFarlin—"Are you chewing gum?"

Mr. M. E. Elbert—"There's too much noise in here."
Mr. Odus Mitchell—"Let's see a big crowd."
Mr. Tom Herod—"What's your excuse?"

Mr. Roger Swann—"Who has a story?"
Miss Maybelle Taylor—"Did you know you had a book over-due?"
Miss Margaret Jones—"Answer this roll, please."

Miss G. H. Alexander—"Well, so much for that."
Mr. J. C. Prejean—"Hi, there."
Miss Helen Martin—"That's not the right time."
Mr. H. D. Siler—"Now, let me see."
Miss L. H. Hart—"You'll have to rip that out."
Miss Loraine Bruce—"Go back to the end of the line."
Mr. B. G. Gordon—"Let's do our own work now."
Miss Teacher Sweeney—"Do you want to let the room know?"
Mrs. R. H. Sanford—"Keep out of that food, girls."
Mr. P. F. Gruber—"That's no steal."
Mr. E. B. Wallace—"What in the world is that?"
Miss Clarine Branom—"Calm your exuberance and tame your effervescent spirits, my cherubs!"

Jack White Chosen President Of Hi-Y At Recent Meeting

Plans for a social to be held this month were discussed by members of the Hi-Y organization which met at the regular time last Tuesday night.

A motion was carried limiting all meetings from 7:30 to 8:30 unless important unfinished business is introduced into the discussion. In such cases the parliamentary, Jack Baker, will extend the meeting over for ten more minutes.

The last meeting marked the end of the term held by those elected to hold office last semester. New officials, including Jack White, president; David Graham, secretary; Vaughn Darnell, vice-president; Jack Baker, parliamentary; Tommy Mills, treasurer, and Joe Cargile, reporter, will officiate at the next meeting to be held February 4. Their term will expire next semester.

Those present at the meeting were Sherman Gray, Mark Bratton, Ethel Lane, Vaughn Darnell, Ray Thompson, Tommy Mills, Harry Kerbow, Jack White, Jack Baker, Carl Hill, Joe Cargile, and sponsor, James Nevins.

Students Urged To Buy Tuberculosis Bangles This Week

Due to the rush and excitement which has been prevailing in our school within the last week at the beginning of the new semester, the sale of the tuberculosis bangles will be extended over through this week.

The money is to go to the Gray County Tuberculosis association which has heretofore sold the bangles only in the downtown section; however, this year they have requested that the sale be held within the schools. This is being done in order to reach more students who might not ordinarily come in contact with a person who is selling the bangles downtown.

Money received from the bangles will go to help finance tuberculosis tests which have many times prevented serious cases among the students. The money is also used to send students who are not financially able to care for themselves, to a sanitarium where they receive the proper care for the disease.

Sale of the bangles will be conducted through the student council which is asking from one to ten cents for each one.

TECH STUDENTS VISIT
Edna Long and Joyce Floyd visited Pampa High school last week. They came from Lubbock, Texas, where they are attending Texas Tech. They are freshmen there.

Thirty days hath September, April June and November, All the rest have thirty-one, "Tain't fair."

Harvesters Down Pirates, Bucks In Rough Games

L. J. Halter Takes Ball Off Backboard To Shine On Defense

The Harvesters basketballers played only two games last week, with the exception of the Canadian tournament, and came through with flying colors. They defeated the White Deer Bucks in a rough and tumble affair 39-11 on Monday and on Wednesday downed the LeFors Pirates 49-23.

The set-to with White Deer was fast and rough. Several of the players fouled out, but that did not stop the ones who were left from running over anything in their path.

Flanigan Leads Scorers
Flanigan was high point man with 12 points and Heiskell was next with 8.

The battle with LeFors was fast and colorful with the orange and black striped knee-length socks of the Pirates showing to an advantage.

L. J. Halter was the defensive star of the game, appearing to catch the ball every time it bounced off the Pirate goal, while Earhart, of LeFors, took the offensive honors.

Earhart was, in the opinion of your sports scribe, the fastest and best man who has played against the Harvesters on their own court this season. He shot from any angle with either hand and wherever the ball was, so was Earhart. He did four-fifths of the playing the Pirates did and one-half of the shooting, taking 23 of the 46 shots attempted by LeFors, and chucking up four field-goals to three for the rest of the team. On top of that, he made six of the seven charity tosses the LeFors quintet sank.

Reserves Beat Starters
For Pampa it was the second string that did most of the scoring, making 29 points in the second half to 20 for the first string in the first half.

Leslie Burge, who plays center on the basketball team as well as being played center on the football team, tied for scoring honors with A. C. Enloe, another flashy reserve, each making 12 points. Pat Flanigan, first string center, was next with 8.

The Harvesters shot 56 times and made 23, while LeFors shot 46 times and made only 6. This does not include free throws.

In the opening the Gordias defeated the LeFors B team 19-14 to make up for a 33-14 loss suffered at the hands of Price Memorial of Amarillo on Tuesday.

FASHION TIPS FOR GENTLEMEN

Valuable Advice For Boys Concerning Color Harmony

Most boys just throw on their clothes without paying any attention to whether it makes a pleasing combination or not. They wear a green hat, red jacket, yellow shirt, and blue trousers and think nothing of it. But if they could see themselves as others see them they might reform. So boys, if you want to be well-dressed, follow these simple rules:

Of course it is practically impossible to make had and fast rules that will fit everyone's personality, but there are a few rules a boy should abide by.

Consider the suit, shirt, and tie as a trio, which have definite color relationship to one another, with the color scheme built on the suit. Either the shirt or the tie should be in definite contrast with the suit color. Such an example may be a dark brown suit, light tan shirt, and contrast secured by a green or maroon tie. It is best to have either the shirt or tie in definite contrast, while the one which harmonizes in shade is a number of tones away from the suit color. However, this rule, although, safe, need not always be followed, and interesting combinations of these colors can be effected.

The following are conservative combinations, which are harmonious. Many more daring combinations are possible for sports wear:

SUIT	TIE
Blue	Red & Gray
Brown	Maroon
Gray	Blue & Red
SHIRT	TIE
White	Blue & white
Blue & white	Green,
Light tan	or maroon
Light blue	Brown & tan
White	Green & tan
Green & white	Brown & tan
Red & white	Red & blue
Blue	Red & gray
Green	Gray & blue
White	Light or dark green

Sweeney Needs More Underclassmen For New Debate Class

"Debaters are just getting underway and there is still room for more who are interested in debate," Miss Rachel Sweeney said Friday.

Miss Sweeney is eager to have more underclassmen start in debating so that next year there will be some students who can take the place of 1941 debaters.

"Most students who have been asked to take debate have seemed to think debating is hard, but anything that is helpful requires effort," Miss Sweeney stated.

Subject for debate is Resolved: That Texas Should Increase the Tax on Natural Resources.

Pampa and LeFors debaters will clash on Thursday, Feb. 6. The Pampa debate team has not been selected, but it will be chosen from the following: Don Barnard, Robby McClendon, Don Moorehead, Helen Dudley, Beatrice Hicks, and Koma Jo Johnson.

Student Council Sponsors Choir

North Texas Choristers Trained To Precision

Forty-five voices strong, the picturesque Denton A Cappella Choir from the North Texas State Teachers college will be heard in concert here Wednesday, Feb. 5, at two p. m. in the high school auditorium. Their appearance is sponsored by the Student Council.

Under the direction of Dr. Wilfred C. Bain, head of the music department of the Denton A Cappella Choir is said by critics to be one of the most dramatic and colorful musical organizations in the southwest.

Trained to Precision
Trained to the precision of Prussian guardsmen, the 45 young men and women offer a performance that is exciting both to the trained music lover and the man in the street. From its programs audiences derive the same thrill that comes to the spectators watching any other finely balanced human machine in action—a crack battalion of troops on dress parade or a championship football team driving down the field toward victory.

Choir Is Colorful
The Denton choir, dressed in purple velvet and white satin robes, move quickly to their positions in the phalanx formation in which they always sing. The conductor takes his position, and immediately the choir begins singing—opening its program with Franz Liszt's beautiful "Benedictus." They sing number after number, and each time there is no hesitation, and as far as the audience can tell, no clumsy "getting the pitch."

The result is a graceful performance in which Dr. Bain plays on his human "symphony of voices" with even greater precision and variation than a skilled organist. Bain guards closely as a professional secret his method of enabling his singers to start their programs without permitting the audience to discover how they receive their pitch.

Between band numbers, the "Three Tonettes" Harriet Price, Betty Plank and Dorothy Miskimmis entertained with three numbers, "There I Go," "The Drummer's Boy," and "Along the Santa Fe Trail."

"Meditation," as a violin solo, by Margaret Burton, accompanied by Carl Adams, was well received.

In one medley the band imitated a marching band which becomes faintly audible in the distance, grows louder, louder, then marches on down the street, with the music softly fading away.

One would have thought it was Kay Kyser playing "Stormy Weather" with the flashing lights and kettle drums imitating the roll of thunder.

As Horace Heidt once built up popular medleys, so the band went into a step by step explanation of the work of the various parts of the band.

The band started with the basses, French horns, followed next to fill in parts, with the tones varied and sustained, fourth, one melody part entered the musical picture, and next the clarinets, oboes, and flutes with their furbelows and trills.

Women don't know what they don't want until they buy it.

John McCoy Elected Council Treasurer

John Tom McCoy, sophomore president, of room 313, was elected treasurer of the Student Council, when Kenneth Mullins, former treasurer resigned.

The duties of his office will not be very heavy at present because there is no money in the treasury. John Tom was president of the Student Council in Junior high for a year and a half.

Library Books Sent To Bindery During Semester Exams

During the semester exams, Mrs. Evelyn Spivey mended several library books for the benefit of the students. Many of the books were sent to the bindery for rebinding and covering.

Several new orders of books were received last week. These orders included replacements of books which have been popular in the past but are worn out. According to Miss Maybelle Taylor, a new stamp catalog has been ordered for the benefit of student stamp collectors.

Since our school has been stressing vocational guidance, numerous new books with vocational background have been ordered. The vocational books include such careers as air hostess, florist, journalism, medicine, interior decorating, civil engineer, secretarial work and music.

Students who are interested in vocational work should take advantage of these new books since they are written in an interesting style and may be of help in the career which you have chosen.

English Students Make Oral Reports On Magazines

Miss Clarine Branom's senior English students each read a magazine in the high school library for a week-end assignment.

Each student is to read every article in the magazine and make an oral report on it. The articles are to be classified into three sections: based on appeal to men, women, or children.

Miss Branom planned this assignment so the students will learn well one magazine, select the best ar-

Pampa Band Goes Modernistic In Chapel Program

The Three Tonettes, Sextet And Violin Solo On Program

Pampa high school's enthusiastic band, directed by Mr. Mervin pulled a "Stormy Weather," complete with all the trimmings, from their kit bag, and built a march from the "bassment" up in one of the best-liked programs of the year.

The following program was given:
1. "March of the Tin Soldiers"—Tchaikovsky.
2. Rhythmmoods—A Medley
Sophisticated Lady
Mood Indigo
Black and Tan Fantasy

3. American Patrol—Medley of American music—Folben.
4. Stormy Weather—Arranged by Paul Yoder.
5. March of Youth—Olivadate.
6. Morning Prayer—Tschalkowsky.
Words by Joyce Turner.
Sung by girls' sextet:
Wildcat Ellis
Martha Pierson
Mary Gurley
Joyce Turner
Margaret Burton
Minnie Bell Williams

P.T.A. To Sponsor Founder Day Party Tuesday, Feb. 11

Next Tuesday is the date of the Founder Day's party to be given by the City Council of the Parent-Teacher association in the red brick cafeteria. Mrs. W. C. Hutchinson is general program chairman for the party and of the Junior P.T.A., and similar chairmen in all local units are to act as hospitality chairmen for this party, which they will have charge of registration and the greeting of guests.

Thirteen tables, including one for each month of the year, will be arranged. Woodrow Wilson, P.T.A. will have charge of January and July; Sam Houston, February and August; high school, March and September; Horace Mann, April and October; and parochial and City Council, the thirteenth table, from which the program will be presented.

Special guests who will be seated at the thirteenth table will include Mrs. E. B. LaMaster of Perryton, district president; Mrs. W. R. Campbell of Miami, Tri-County Council president; and other district officers.

No admission will be charged, and all parents in the local associations are invited.

Students Confused In English Class By Double Names

Miss Anne Louise Jones' fifth-hour English class is quite a "mad house." The students really aren't nuts. It is just the names that get everyone mixed up.

There are two Marys—Mary Nelson and Mary Bell; two Dorothys—Dorothy Stone and Dorothy Welborne; two Bettys—Betty Thomas and Betty Fletcher; two La Verne's—Lavonne Hudson and La Verne Covington; three Jean's—Jeanne Cox, Jean Caldwell, and Jean Fletcher; as well as two Bills—Bill Bass and Bill Spivy.

So you see when Miss Jones calls on any one to answer, some one knows or it's double trouble.

Students In Salesmanship Class Define Personality

1. You can be depended upon for your promises, keep promises, and appointments.
2. That you can and will adapt yourself to your surroundings.
3. Do not express your dislikes, express approval when deserved, avoid sarcasm and arguments.
4. Tolerance: try to see the other person's viewpoint. Do not ridicule others. Be patient with older people.

This was given by Ray Redman: taken from the book, "The Boy and His Daily Living."

Going Over With Girls
"The most common error of the boys is making himself too much at home when he goes to see his girl. Another error is the way a boy dresses. A boy should be neat and not gaudy. He should not be stiff, but should be courteous at all times. A boy should be careful about the places he and his girl go to and how long they stay. If she has to be in by a certain time, he should do his best to get her there and should not tease her about it. By all means, do not hang around the house until someone else comes."

Hudson Meador took this from an article by Henrietta Ripberger in the Good Housekeeping magazine, called "Going Over With Girls" in the article on "Tips to the Teens."

"The asset of personality is one of the most valuable in business. Personality can be cultivated sometimes by only adding to skill or character."
