Native State Societies Will Be Organized In Pampa Next Week

HITLER-HESS FRAME-UP CHARGED BY BRITON

Meetings To Be Held Four Nights In Row

Schedule For All States Published In News Today

Would you like to meet the people who hail from your native state?

If so, you will get the opportunity next week when the native state societies will be organized under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

It doesn't make any difference whether or not you registered in the native state canvass, you are still invited to attend the meetings which will be held four nights next week.

In these four nights all the state clubs will be organized, according to the blitz plan, announced by a Jaycee committee which met last night.

Attending each meeting will be a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce who will explain the entire program, and will describe the proposed parade of all states and nations which will be a feature of the Fiesta. Then a temporary chairman for each state represented will be introduced and will proceed to organize the club, elect

The native state society organization schedule:

MONDAY NIGHT

New England states (Maine, Vermont, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Hampshire).

County Court room, courthouse, Dr. C. H. Schulzke, presiding Jaycee, Archer Fullington, assistant.

TUESDAY NIGHT

Western States (Oregon, Washington, California, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Arizona, Wyoming).

County Court room, courthouse, Dr. C. H. Schulzke, presiding Jaycee, D. L. Parker, assistant.

TUESDAY NIGHT

Texas, district court room, Jimmie Dodge, presiding Jaycee.

Tennessee and Kentucky, city auditorium, C. N. Gunn, presiding Jaycee, of committee chairman.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Pennsylvania and West Virginia, county court room, Fins Stillwell, Archer Fullington, presiding Jaycees.

Southern states (Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana), district court room, C. N. Gunn, presiding Jaycee.

Arkansas, Indiana, New Mexico, city auditorium, Dr. Adrian Owens, presiding Jaycee.

THURSDAY NIGHT

Middle Western states (North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Nebraska), city auditorium, Jimmie Dodge.

Colorado, Ohio, Iowa, district court room, Fins Stillwell, Middle Atlantic states of New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Washington, D. C., county court room, Dr. C. H. Schulzke.

Officers and make plans for the state club's participation in the Fiesta, June 12, and 13 and 14.

Each state club will be requested to elect a queen to ride on the float that will represent their native state. The queen may be from three years old to a hundred, but must be a descendant of a native of the state which she represents. The state societies will pick their own queens. From the state societies queens will be chosen the queen of the entire Fiesta.

Folks from the entire Top O' Texas territory, including the counties of Gray, Carson, Hutchinson, Hansford, Ochiltree, Wheeler, Donley, Roberts, Hemphill and Lipscomb are invited to attend these state meetings. These state societies will be the only such group in the Panhandle after they are organized, and such being the case they will be called for instance, "The Kansas Society of the Panhandle of Texas."

It is planned to make the organizations permanent and later the Jaycees will sponsor picnics and other events for the various societies.

The News today publishes the schedule for the organization of

American Says Hess Threat To Britain

LONDON, May 15.—The coming of Rudolf Hess—whatever the purposes of the Lieutenant-Fuehrer—is a threat to the defense of the British Isles, a highly placed American source declared today.

In this view, Hess may be wittingly or unwittingly, the harbinger of new, smash: attacks by the German military machine.

"I'm suspicious of the whole thing," the American declared, preferring anonymity in injecting himself into this gripping domestic issue.

But he frankly expressed criticism of the British handling of the affair as having "spread too rosy a glow, and this, combined with German emphasis on the angle that Hess came to the British isles with suggestions for a peace understanding, may lure people into a letup and soften them for new blows by Germany."

The riddle of Rudolf Hess was complicated today when authorities quarters declined to confirm the British Press Association's report that Hess parachuted onto a Scottish moor last Saturday night as a self-constituted apostle of German-British peace.

Prime Minister Churchill, who is generally assumed to have talked with Hess, apparently wants more information from the erstwhile No. 3 Nazi before laying the whole affair before parliament and public.

An extensive Churchill statement had been expected today, but by late afternoon it became certain the prime minister had decided to postpone it. When it will come is uncertain.

Hess is still nursing his ankle fracture at an unidentified military hospital.

Churchill actually has not interviewed Hess, he is known to have a full report on a meeting in Scotland during Hitler's longtime collaboration and the Duke of Hamilton, an old acquaintance of Hess.

The Duke saw Hess within 48 hours after he parachuted out of the night seeking the premier Scottish peer presumably as a hoped-for go-between of the "peace" plan the Germans say Hess carried.

It is understood that the 38-year-old airman-duce met Hess on his way to a military hospital apparently after he received first aid treatment at a field station after Hess had asked for him. The Duke, a squadron leader in the RAF, was on active duty when Hess landed. On instructions he flew to Glasgow, later to meet the unexpected prisoner.

Somewhere on the road to the hospital Hamilton and Hess renewed their old acquaintance, in the presence of representatives of the British Intelligence Service and the foreign office.

A report of the interview (in which Hess presumably outlined his mission) was rushed to London and is expected to be the basis of Churchill's prospective statement, unless, of course, the prime minister has had personal contact with Hess.

The prize prisoner's hospital is now completely guarded against intrusions, it was reported today, with Scotland Yard operatives augmenting army regulars.

Strike Called Against Three Motor Plants

LONDON, May 15.—German workers (CIO) union called a strike against three Hudson Motor company plants in Detroit today and General Motors corporation reported a walkout at its Flint, Mich., Chevrolet works, despite agreement to postpone a strike against GM until Friday.

The defense mediation board early this morning, only a few hours before a strike was set for 60 plants of General Motors in 22 states, announced a postponement for one day in the walkout. CIO union officials said they thought the stoppage at Flint took place because word of the postponement got there too late.

The Hudson walkout applied to three plants, with 8,500 employees, but union officials said work on a $10,000,000 defense order for airplane parts was not affected.

The union demanded a 15-cent-an-hour wage increase in unrevealed current scales at the Hudson company. The board of directors considered the union demands. Claude E. Blanton, the local union official, said "the company refused any decent wage offer."

T. A. Johnstone of the General Motors division of the UAW-CIO said at Detroit he was trying to get back on their jobs. The walkout also closed a Fisher Body plant, with 1,100 workers.

The General Motors postponement came shortly after settlement of a two-day strike at Colt's Patent Fire arm Manufacturing company at Hartford, Conn.

William S. Knudsen, chief of the office of production management, termed the GM situation "damn serious."

The mediation board announced that the management of General Motors had until 4:10 a. m. (EST) Friday to accept or reject the findings and recommendations which the board made for settlement. The findings and recommendations will not be made public, the board announced, until they have been accepted or rejected by the corporation.

Representatives of the CIO United Automobile workers, it was added, had said the terms "without reservation" but subject to ratification by the union membership.

Nub of the controversy appeared to be the union's demand for a general wage boost of 10 cents an hour. The corporation has said the average wage average is slightly more than $1 an hour, and made the union a counter-offer of 2 cents increase generally, with greater increases in some departments.

10 Pay Fines For Running Stop Signs

CITY police officers and Recorder C. E. McGrew are keeping their word to arrest and fine all stop sign runners. Today there were 12 persons fined in city police court, 10 for running stop signs and two for speeding.

Fines depended on the offense and the number of previous appearances in court for traffic violations. Recorder McGrew stated that fines will begin at $1 and "go up" for each repeat violation.

Parking cars in alleys is also against the law and five tickets were issued for that offense this morning.

All stop signs in the city were cleaned and painted by officers early this week so there's no excuse for motorists not seeing the signs, officers declare.

Farm Supplies Sent To Great Britain

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Farm supplies worth $60,000,000 already have been "sent to ports" for Great Britain, Carl Robbins, president of the commodity credit corporation, said today.

Robbins made the statement during a house banking committee discussion of corporation loans to other farm agencies for purchase of farm crops.

"Some emergency needs of the British have arisen for supplies which could only be met by the surplus marketing agency," Robbins said. They were met very promptly and were sent to ports.

"Reimbursement will come from lease-lend funds in case the British will not be able to pay out of their ordinary dollar exchange."

Germany Goes To Aid Of Iraq With Planes

LONDON, May 15.—Germany has moved into Iraq by way of French-mandated Syria, using Syrian airfields for Luftwaffe operations, the British government announced today.

At the same time a prospect of French mandate's involvement in the struggle over Iraq was cited in a declaration by Foreign Secretary Eden that "full authority" had been given to British forces to attack German planes in Syria.

Eden charged that the transit of German planes via Syria was a "clear breach" of the armistice agreement between Germany and France after that British ally was knocked out of the European war last June.

Iraq scene of sporadic guerrilla fighting between native forces and the British since May 2, is one of the world's richest oil producers and a route to Britain's vital Suez canal.

Apparently Adolf Hitler (perhaps through agreement with Vichy government) at last had gone to the aid of the Iraqis against the British, fulfilling the German statement at the end of the Balkan campaign that the Middle East was over.

Evidence that the Germans had launched a new military venture on the hot sands of Asia Minor came today from several sources—including a Cairo announcement of the Middle East command. Among them were:

1. A reliable source here said German planes were landing in French-mandated Syria enroute to Iraq and would be bombed and machine-gunned by the British.

2. Foreign Secretary Eden charged that the Vichy government apparently had granted transit rights to the German forces.

The German ambassador to Turkey, Franz von Papen, who recently returned to Ankara after consultations in Germany, conferred at length with Turkish President Ismet Inonu today and bore him "friendly greetings" from Hitler.

"The German radio said the British had ordered all British women and children withdrawn from Palestine."

Reliable reports reaching Cairo last night said German personnel had reached Syria by air.

Amnesia Victim Enlists In Army

CHICAGO, May 15 (AP)—A victim of amnesia, Jesse P. Sanderson, 33-year-old investigator for an insurance firm, enlisted in the army and spent four months at Camp Beaugard, La., while the object of a nationwide search.

The strange story of Sanderson was disclosed today by his father-in-law, Roger A. Simonson, wealthy office equipment manufacturer.

Simonson said that his son-in-law disappeared in Florida last Sept. 1 while investigating a ring of smugglers for his firm. Last Saturday, he added, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reported that Sanderson had been identified by finger prints and that he had enlisted at New Orleans in January under the name of James Williams.

Sanderson at present is at his father-in-law's home in suburban Evanston on a furlough. Simonson said that the young man has not yet been able to recognize his wife and three young children.

House Overrides O'Daniel's Veto

AUSTIN, May 15 (AP)—The house of representatives today overrode the governor's veto of a $44,000 emergency appropriation for the Liquor Control board.

The vote was 92 to 42. It marked the first time this session that either house has passed a bill over Governor O'Daniel's veto.

After the vote, ten members switched their votes from no to yes, giving the bill 102 yeas in order to make the appropriation immediately available in case the senate takes similar action.

Representative James Taylor of Kerens, who made the motion, said the money was needed to obtain stricter enforcement of the liquor laws in the vicinity of army camps and to provide the board with more men to help collect the increased liquor tax which goes into effect June 1.

A $23,000,000 omnibus tax bill increased the tax on liquor from 96 cents to $1.25 a gallon. By superseding the plying of tax stamps on retail and wholesale stocks on hand June 1, the liquor board will collect about $500,000, Taylor estimated.

Adolf Knew All About It, Avers Bevin

London, May 15.—Rudolf Hess' strange flight to Scotland was with the full knowledge of his Fuehrer, Labor Minister Ernest Bevin said today, and a highly placed American declared that whatever the purpose, it is a threat to the British.

New Citizens To Be Guests Of Kiwanians

Pampa Kiwanians will have as their guests at their regular weekly luncheon at noon tomorrow 20 "new citizens"—men and women who have become 21 years old since May 18, 1940, or men and women who have become naturalized since that date.

There will be 15 in the new voter category and five naturalized citizens.

The special invitation to these groups is a part of the plan to observe "I Am An American Day," which comes on Sunday.

Due to inability to secure a speaker, a program planned here for next Sunday has been postponed but plans for the Kiwanians and other service clubs to invite the "new citizens" to their weekly luncheons is going ahead as scheduled.

There is still time for persons eligible to be guests at the luncheons. Such persons should fill out the registration blank below.

"I AM AN AMERICAN DAY" Registration blank for men and women who have become of voting age since May 18, 1940, or men and women who have become naturalized citizens since May 18, 1940. Mail to Postoffice Box 977, Pampa, or telephone your registration to W. B. Weathered, phone 1084.

Late News

ST. LOUIS, May 15 (AP)—Chairman James L. Fly of the Federal Communications commission charged today the management of the radio industry had been "all too clever, too brilliant."

He said the National Association of Broadcasters' type of management reminded him "of a dead mackerel in the moonlight—it both shines and stinks."

AUSTIN, May 15 (AP)—The senate today sent Governor W. Lee O'Daniel the answer to one of his major recommendations—a constitutional amendment which would give the state a cash basis.

VICHY, France, May 15 (AP)—Chief of State Marshal Petain told the French people tonight "it is up to you . . . to follow me without mental reservations."

VICHY, France, May 15 (AP)—Neutral sources said tonight that the British had attacked an airbase in French-mandated Syria, but the French foreign office said it knew nothing of events in Syria.

VICHY, France, May 15 (AP)—I agree that any one who harbors such fantasies about England is silly. Over here we should call the people who believe Dr. Goebbels' tools.

I wonder if you find it as difficult to believe that he flew to England.

German Planes Land In Syria En Route To Iraq

LONDON, May 15.—Rudolf Hess' strange flight to Scotland was with the full knowledge of his Fuehrer, Labor Minister Ernest Bevin said today, and a highly placed American declared that whatever the purpose, it is a threat to the British.

Pipe Minister Churchill Delayed Full Statement, But Denied That Separately Peace With Scotland Was One Of The Illusory Purposes Hess Might Have Had In His Saturday Night Descent On A Scottish Moor To Seek Out A Scottish Nobleman, The Duke Of Hamilton.

The American, who preferred to keep his anonymity in the issue because of its domestic reverberations, declared Hess was either the witting or unwitting harbinger of new blows by the German military machine.

As if to accent his warning, it was officially announced from Cairo today that the German Luftwaffe was moving into Iraq, using bases in the French mandate of Syria as way stations.

"From my point of view," said Labor Minister Bevin, making known his views, "Herr Hess is a murderer."

He added that he was not going to be "deceived by what he called a stunt which had been tried over and over again by totalitarian gentlemen and Communists."

Hess, he said, is "no man I would ever negotiate with," and "I do not believe that Hitler did not know Hess was coming to England."

The reference to Scotland came in a question to Churchill in the house of commons by the Scotch-labor member, Arthur Woodburn.

"Is there any truth in the inference suggested by the German wire- less that the intelligence department has created the impression in Germany that Scotland is ready to make a separate peace with Germany?" he asked.

"Whatever delusions may exist that is not among them," Churchill answered.

Explaining the delay of 48 hours in making the first British announcement of Hess' coming, Churchill said "it (the delay) certainly was not unfortunate, but if it had been unfortunate it would have been unavoidable."

He did not believe the story himself when he first heard it, he said, and conclusive identification had to be established in the face of the "surprising character of the information."

Asserting it was Hess' index card system which had made the Nazi persecution of German labor leaders and social democrats so thorough, Bevin said the "secret information" he was speaking of was based on internal conditions in Germany and his concern was for Germany and not for Britain.

Bevin made it plain in his speech that he was speaking in his own personal opinion independent of any government expression.

Glasgow residents said Hess had told several individuals with whom he talked that there was great distress among the people of many German towns because of bombing by the British air force and that he was weary of war.

Bevin called Hess "not a man I would ever negotiate with" and said "I do not believe that Hitler did not know Hess was coming to England."

I agree that any one who harbors such fantasies about England is silly. Over here we should call the people who believe Dr. Goebbels' tools.

I wonder if you find it as difficult to believe that he flew to England.

Nutrition Posters Put Up By Home Ec Pupils At Canadian

Special To The NEWS
 CANADIAN, May 15—The 15 girls of the third year pupils of Mrs. Jeanette Pickens in the home economics department of the Canadian High school have prepared nutrition posters which will be displayed in windows of grocery stores down town this week.

These posters are made to give information on the value of nutrition as connected with the national defense program. Not all these girls are high school seniors but nine of them are among the fifty pupils to graduate this month from Canadian High school. Mrs. Pickens took four of her pupils to San Antonio to the recent state meeting of Future Homemakers. Mary Spurlin, Maxine Bryan, Ida Mae Johnson, and Virginia Moseley were among the 2,500 girls from Texas high schools who competed in sewing and other forms of home-making work.

Mary Spurlin won third place and Maxine Bryan fourth place on their written work, the former on "making our home more livable" and the latter on "home nursing and first aid."

Hemphill Red Cross Asks Workers Report

Special To The NEWS
 CANADIAN, May 15—Mrs. E. H. Snyder, chairman of Red Cross work for Hemphill county, has made a call for the work taken to homes for completion to be turned in Friday to the room in the Methodist church which has been assigned to Red Cross workers for some months past.

Mrs. Snyder hopes to ship this assignment to Red Cross headquarters a week ahead of time required, which is the last of May. The chairman has received notice of another assignment for which material will be received sometime in June. The number of garments asked for is double that of previous quotas, but workers have approximately five months in which to complete them.

About 100 women have been volunteer workers in either sewing or knitting. Mrs. Harold B. Reed in charge of the knitters, but Mrs. Snyder is asking for additional volunteers for the summer.

The parlors of the Woman's Christian Temperance building will be used for Red Cross work during the summer months.

the state societies. Read it carefully and note when and where your club will meet, and then plan right now to attend.
It will be noted that natives of the two states with the largest registration, Oklahoma and Texas, will organize clubs on Monday and Tuesday nights. The Oklahomans will meet Monday night in the district court room, and the Texans will meet Tuesday night at the same place. Eight o'clock is the time of all meetings. Principal Monroe urges Oklahomans to pack the district court room Monday night.
But Dr. Owens would like to bet that there are more Kansans and Missourians in the city auditorium Monday night than there are Oklahomans in the district court room, despite the numerically preponderance of the Sconers in the Panhandle.
Tomorrow names of temporary chairmen will be announced. At the state society organization meetings next week, clubs will name committees to assemble displays in local store windows. Each state will be represented in the Fiesta by displays as well as floats.

With settlement of the Colt strike at Hartford, 5,000 munition workers were ordered back to their jobs after a two-day tie-up in the nation's largest machine gun factory.
A strike which had held up construction of a $30,000,000 naval dry-dock in Boston was settled, but shipyard strikes in the San Francisco bay area continued to tie up $500,000,000 worth of naval construction.
Details of the Boston settlement were not announced immediately, but the strikers had protested use of WPA workers on the project.
Rumblings of new labor trouble continued in the soft coal industry, while Bituminous operators made ready to confer today with representatives of the CIO United Mine workers. John L. Lewis, union president, has declared that if a wage agreement with southern operators could not be reached this week, the union would be forced to consider a complete stoppage throughout the eight-state Appalachian district.

Bill Would Strip O'Daniel Of Power To Appoint State Auditor

AUSTIN, May 15. (P)—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel today faced the prospect of taking half a loaf or none at all on one of his most cherished recommendations to the legislature.

On his desk for approval or veto lay a bill which would strip him of the power of choosing a state auditor and endow a joint legislative committee with the function.

O'Daniel, this session and last, asked the lawmakers to make a double change. He wanted the legislature to take over appointment of an auditor but also asked that the governor be empowered to name a budget director, taking that job from the board of control.

Bills to that effect were introduced but in the course of committee and floor action the portion permitting O'Daniel to name a budget director was discarded.

Adoption of a conference committee report by the senate yesterday routed the bill to the governor, the house having approved it previously.

Chances dimmed somewhat for approval in the waning session of a bill which, it was estimated, would slash state revenues from $4,500,000 to $9,000,000 annually, a move opponents asserted would undo much of the legislature's efforts to boost income by recently enacting a $23,000,000 omnibus tax law.

By a paper-thin margin of votes, the lower chamber sent back to a committee a senate-approved bill donating one-half of state property taxes for five years. The committee was instructed to report the measure not later than Monday at 10 a. m.

Proponents contended the bill, because of lateness of the session, had been shunted to oblivion.

Although the house has not acted, the senate accepted a conference committee report on a bill remitting interest on delinquent property taxes paid by Nov. 1. A six per cent tax would be levied on the tardy payments.

Urging reductions in the departmental and education appropriation bills, Rep. Sam Hanna of Dallas, asserting "somebody's got to protect the taxpayer," questioned how many members voting against his proposal had wives or other relatives on the state payroll.

He made a fiery personal privilege speech in which he "dared" anyone to introduce a resolution expelling him from the house for what he said. His proposals failed.

House bills approved in the senate would prohibit scalping of tickets to athletic events; appropriate

Laughs In The Legislature

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 15 (P)—Lieut. Gov. Coke Stevenson was in good humor during a recent session of the senate when local bills were being passed.

Stevenson accommodated the members by explaining the bills as they came up. Some of his explanations were:

"This one authorizes the commissioners' court.

"This prohibits shrimp cocktail in inland waters.

"This one authorizes the Red river to flow in its own channel.

"This makes it unlawful to catch people in steel traps in Robertson county."

One of the senators passed a local game bill, then asked that the vote be reconsidered because something was wrong with the measure.

"He's got the rabbit in the wrong hole," Stevenson murmured.

Most of the senators were shouting for recognition during the local bill session. Senator Houghton Brownlee was standing, holding a bill in his hand, but he couldn't get Stevenson's attention.

"You can't be a gentleman in here," grinned Brownlee. "You've got to be a hog caller."

Representative Jimmie Phillips of Angleton, one of the "baby" members of the legislature, received a telegram the other day.

From an automobile company in west Columbia, it read:

"Dear Jimmie—Please mail me at once check for $8.50 to cover tax on your car."

For a moment Phillips was puzzled, then he remembered and yelled out loud:

"Hey, I want to reconsider that tax bill."

Only a few days before, he had voted for the Omnibus Tax bill, which included an additional sales tax on automobiles. It became effective May 1. And on May 1 Jimmie had bought a new automobile.

All day long it had been raining. And raining and raining.

About noon, after a dreary session, the senate decided to quit work. It adjourned until Monday.

Whereupon the sun burst through the clouds and sunlight played in the senate chamber.

"Well, sir," said Senator eWaver Moore of Houston, "what do you know about that! We ought to have adjourned sooner."

Two Federal Wheat Graders Assigned To Amarillo Office

In order that wheat being shipped from Pampa and other sections can be satisfactorily graded at Amarillo instead of going to distant points, two new officials have been assigned to Amarillo.

They are George L. Holtzschler, federal grain supervisor, from Omaha, located now in the Amarillo Grain exchange, and George W. Krumsick, Kansas City, Mo., whose office will also be in the Amarillo Grain exchange.

These Commodity Credit Corporation representatives will supervise the handling of government wheat. It is estimated that from 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 bushels of wheat will be transferred from the Panhandle to outside storage points during this month in order to make room for the 1941 harvest.

The CCC would not accept Amarillo inspection on wheat moving through Amarillo, but with the transfer of the two CCC officials to Amarillo, that office is now on a par with any inspection point in the country.

Mr. Holtzschler was previously located in Amarillo during the 1932 harvest.

Bumper Crop Due

The agricultural marketing service has predicted a 1941 Texas wheat crop of 47,614,000 bushels, 52 per cent above the 1930-39 average.

The indicated production was exceeded only by the 67,933,000 bushels in the record year of 1931, the United States department of agriculture's agency said.

The Texas acreage sown in the fall of 1940 was 4,360,000 acres, of which about 22 per cent was abandoned. The indicated yield was 14 bushels, compared with 10.3 in 1940 and the 10-year average of 9.8 bushels per harvested acre, the survey showed.

Following severe wind damage in February and early March, soil and weather conditions were almost ideal in the chief wheat area of northwestern Texas.

Oats were reported at 81 per cent of normal in condition, compared with 64 per cent for both the 1940 crop and the 10-year average on May 1.

Wheeler Asks FDR To Bring About Peace

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Citing the flight of Rudolf Hess as indication the time may be propitious, Senator Wheeler, critic of administration foreign policy, made suggestions today that President Roosevelt use his good offices now to bring about peace between Great Britain and Germany.

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) said that the escape of the No. 3 man in the Nazi hierarchy to Scotland "is bound to have a profoundly adverse effect on the morale of the German people."

Moreover, he told reporters, the incident seemed to have created "an opportunity for the president of the United States to step out and moving the further slaughter of human beings."

Expressing a similar view Senator Brooks (R-Ill.) said that the Hess incident "has provided a break" for a peace gesture. "It is an excellent time for any step this country might properly take in an effort to bring about peace," he declared.

On the other hand, Senator Pepper (D-Pla.) said he believed Hess' landing in Scotland might be part of a preconceived plan by Hitler to bring peace terms to the attention of the English without personally appearing to offer the olive branch.

Pepper, who saw Hess at Munich in 1938, said he could not bring himself to believe that the Nazi party leader ever would desert Hitler. Rather, he speculated, Hess might have been sent to do what he could toward convincing the British that they ought to negotiate with Hitler to end the war.

"When you hear about Harry Hopkins turning his back on President Roosevelt, taking a plane and parachuting down in Germany, then you can believe that Hess has split with Hitler," he told reporters.

"In my opinion, it is an audacious trick, so big and so monstrous that the people will believe it. Hess is just another Trojan horse."

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the senate foreign relations committee said he saw little possibility that Mr. Roosevelt would intervene in the European conflict in an effort to obtain peace at present. The chief executive, he declared, might reason that any such intervention would be embarrassing to Great Britain.

Hog Prices Advance

CHICAGO, May 15. (AP)—Hog prices advanced for the fourth successive day this week, moving up to a new top for the year at $9.20 a hundred pounds, on the livestock market today. Most sales were made between $8.85 and $9.10.

Today's top was the highest price paid for swine since September 7, 1939, when a top of $9.25 was reached. Livestock men attributed advancing prices to strength in the dressed pork market, which is receiving government support.

War Will End In 1943, Says Rotary Guest

World War two will end in the summer of 1943.

So says Dr. Allen Albert, Rotary institute of international understanding lecturer, who delivered the principal address at a 127th district conference banquet at Lubbock early this week.

Dr. Albert appeared on the club-sponsored institute program in Pampa two years ago.

The remark of Dr. Albert was contained in a report on the district conference given at the Pampa Rotary club's regular weekly luncheon by Ernest Cabe, delegate of the Pampa club to the conference. Charlie Burton was another Pampa delegate at the Lubbock meeting.

Prediction of Dr. Albert as to the date of the war's ending was based on his knowledge of communications with other writers, economists, and experts in world affairs, Pampa Rotarians were told.

Attendance at the luncheon yesterday was 49. Visiting Rotarians were John E. Hill and R. E. O'Keefe, both of Amarillo, and H. J. Hughes of Panhandle.

Other guests were Harry Hight of Fort Brown, and Paul Hughey of Pampa.

Named as junior Rotarian for the month was W. C. Epperson, who was introduced by Doyle F. Osborne.

Walter E. Rogers, club president-elect, was named as the Pampa delegate to Rotary International's convention next month in Denver, and Travis Lively was selected as alternate.

INDIANAPOLIS—Motorcycle Policeman Charles Haine wondered if he was dreaming when he saw two identical automobiles with identical rear license plates, but he didn't pinch himself.

Instead, he pinched the drivers—on charges of displaying improper tags.

It turned out, he reported, they were brothers, Paul Davis, 33, and Oscar, 38, and had divided a set of license plates. Neither car had a number on the front.

SOMERSET, Pa.—A criminal court witness wishes now he hadn't tried to collect his $2 fee for testifying.

Clerk Ivan Lambert had the man jailed when records disclosed he owed the county $94 court costs on a case tried in 1934.

KANSAS CITY—Police have four small problems on their hands.

A mother opossum leading four offspring across a street was killed by a car. Motorists stopped to look at the baby animals gathered around the body of their mother.

Police cleared up the resultant traffic jam, but would like to know what to feed four young 'possums.

SEATTLE—Mrs. Wilhelmetta Butterworth's haircut may not be stylish, but it was timely.

Her hair, cut in a long bob, became entangled in the washing machine wringer. Relatives, unable to release her, called the fire department.

Fire Lieut. Floyd Wylie decided there was only one solution. He borrowed a pair of shears and clipped the tresses.

Camp Ki-O-Wah To Open On May 25 At Lake Marvin, Hemphill County

Scouting is "outing" and outing to a Boy Scout calls for the experience found only in a Scout Camp. On May 25 Camp Ki-O-Wah, the Boy Scout Summer Camp of the Adobe Walls Council, opens on beautiful Lake Marvin where Scouts from fifteen counties will join in one of the highlights of the year's program.

Since 1937 the camping program of the Council has made rapid strides toward the type of camping that boys want. The council now owns complete tentage to house 100 boys with all the kitchen equipment to insure good eats for hungry campers. Through the commissioners court of Hemphill county a tract of land has been made available for a permanent Scout Camp. A complete waterfront program on Lake Marvin is carried out with boys being taught to swim, row boats, and paddle canoes.

Health and safety is the keynote of the camping program and each activity is carefully checked for any possible hazards. No chances are taken and those who fail to play the game by not obeying camp rules are asked to return home. A happy camp is one free from accidents and the way to prevent accidents is to avoid taking chances.

Camp Ki-O-Wah is scheduled to operate for three, one week periods but it is hoped that enough Scouts will want to enjoy this experience to cause extra periods to be added. All Scout troops should make reservations at once so that any necessary adjustments can be made.

It has been suggested by the camping committee chairman, Frank Ford of Panhandle, that if each registered scout of the council would see that one boy came to camp there would be enough boys for five or six full periods. If the scouter would accept this challenge the Adobe Walls council would have a camping program that put the "outing in scouting."

City Spent $290,155 In Fiscal Year

Annual audit of the city funds by Cornell & Co., for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1941, was the object of considerable study by the city commission at its meeting yesterday.

The report, dated April 30 of this year, shows the total receipts of all funds during the past year amounted to $313,198.58, with total disbursements amounting to $290,155.29, which resulted in an increase of $23,043.29 in the fund balances.

Fund Balances
 A summary of fund balances at the beginning and close of the current fiscal year, showing increases: City operating funds, April 1, 1940, $1,974.22; March 31, 1941, $11,265.31; increase, $9,290.99.
 Petty cash funds, April 1, 1940, $253; March 31, 1941, $253.
 Interest and sinking funds, April 1, 1940, $42,519.96; March 31, 1941, $56,272.39; increase, $13,752.43.
 Totals, at beginning year, $44,747.28; at close, $67,790.57; increase, $23,043.29.

Water and Sewer
 Comparison of actual receipts and disbursements with budget for the year:
 Receipts, total cash, budget, $151,834.92; actual expense, $149,115.77; decrease, $2,719.15.
 Less transfer to general, budget, $73,500; actual, $71,900; decrease, $1,600.
 Less transfer to water revenue bond fund, budget, $16,456.81; actual, $16,456.81. Totals, budget, $81,878.11; actual, $60,758.96; decrease, $21,119.15.
 Expenditures, total, budget, $62,137.88; actual, $58,913.31; decrease, $3,224.57.

Actual expenditures for the current fiscal year were $2,286 less than the estimated budget. Net cash receipts after deducting transfers were $1,119.15 less than budget estimate.

Taxes
 Cash collections for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1941, amounted to $104,457.66 in comparison to $96,387.75 for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1940—an increase of $8,069.91.
 Deposited in the interest and sinking fund of the current year tax collection was $79,521.28; in the city operating fund, $24,936.38.
 Valuation of the 1940 tax roll included supplemental, amounting to $7,440.654 in comparison to $7,223,360 for the 1939 tax roll.
 The 1940 tax levy of $1.50 was for these purposes:
 General fund, 25 cents; Board of City Development, 12 cents; Library 3 cents; total, 40 cents; interest and sinking fund, $1.10; total levy, $1.50.
 Delinquent and unpaid taxes as of March 31, 1940, amounted to $103,756.84 in comparison to $100,951.93 as of March 31, 1941—a reduction of $2,804.91.
Bonds and Warrants
 Retired during the year were bonds of $33,000, leaving a net bond and warrant indebtedness of $919,000 at March 31, 1941. Interest coupons totaling $48,840 matured and were paid during the year.
 The city maintains two interest and sinking funds for the purpose of servicing the bond and warrant indebtedness of the city.
 The general interest and sinking fund is used for the purpose of servicing all bond and warrant issues of the city with the exception of the 1938 water revenue issue.
 Water revenue bonds interest and sinking fund is for the purpose of servicing the 1938 water revenue bond issue only, and the income of this fund consists entirely of direct transfers from the water and sewer fund.
 Cash in the interest and sinking funds at March 31, 1941, amounted to $48,631.65 in comparison to $35,473.66 at the beginning of the year.

Houston Loses To Oilers At Tulsa

(By The Associated Press)
 The ambitious Tulsa Oilers climbed out of the Texas league cellar last night, making room for the Dallas Rebels, who have been slipping down the ladder for some time.
 While the Oilers were beating Houston 8-7 at Tulsa, the Rebels before a crowd of discouraged home fans let the Beaumont Exporters snatch a 5-4 victory.
 At Fort Worth Earl Caldwell tossed a five-hit shutout for the Cat, against Shreveport while his teammates were rolling up six tallies. Oklahoma City made it two in a row over the visiting San Antonio Missions by winning 8 to 5.
 The defeat for Dallas was no sweeter because of the part in it played by Bob Uhle, former Rebel pitcher. Uhle won his own game by a three-sacker in the ninth which drove in the needed run and then a few moments later struck out the Rebel side.

Report On Houston T. B. Meet Planned

A report on the recent national-state tuberculosis associations convention held in Houston will be made when the Gray County Tuberculosis association meets at 8 o'clock on the night of May 22 in the district court room.
 Attending the convention from Gray county were Dr. C. B. Batson of McLean and Mrs. W. I. Gilbert, LeFors school nurse, who were delegates of the county association. Dr. Batson was in Pampa yesterday en route home following the convention.
 At the combined state and national associations gathering, W. B. Weathers of Pampa, a past president and present treasurer of the county association, was elected second vice-president of the state organization.

DERBY CHAMPIONS ON PARADE AT AKRON

One hundred and thirty young champions, among them Mark Bratton of Pampa, marched before the crowd of more than 100,000 gathered for the All-

American Soap Box Derby last year in the greatest parade of champions the event has ever seen. New records for participation were set last year, both of which are expected to fall at the 1941 running of the "greatest amateur racing event in the world" to be held August 17 at Akron, Ohio.

Former Pampan Director Of Flying School

The director of the Brayton Flying school at Cuero is Gordon Matthews, who attended Pampa high school in 1922. He is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tignor with whom he made his home while attending school.

Matthews' picture and a story regarding his long history as pilot, airport manager, dispatcher and now flight school director appeared in a special edition of the Cuero Record received here this week.

Young Matthews was a football player in his high school days but because of league rules he was unable to play for the Harvesters. But he did his bit by being student yell leader. That was before the days of pep squads when every student yelled his or her "head off."

Matthews learned to fly in 1929 at the Curtis-Wright plant where he was employed. In December of 1930 he joined the operations department of Eastern Airlines, later becoming field manager at Boeing field and later at Newark airport. He went off flight status in 1936 and until 1937 was flight dispatcher chief of the eastern division at Atlanta, Ga.

He became affiliated with the department of commerce, as aeronautical inspector, in 1938, stationed at Kansas City and later at Wichita, Kan., where he remained until resigning to become director of the Brayton school.

Archbishop Lucy Receives Pallium

VATICAN CITY, May 15 (AP)—Pope Pius XII conferred the customary palliums today on 20 archbishops, including those of San Antonio, Texas, Montevideo, Ottawa, and Montreal, in a secret consistory of the college of cardinals.

(The pallium is a circular band of white wool, with pendants, worn about the neck. The pope alone has the right to confer the pallium. Worn by archbishops, it typifies their participation in the supreme pastoral power of the pope.)

Archbishop Robert E. Lucey of San Antonio was not present, his pallium being received for him by two officials.

The ceremony, lasting 20 minutes, presumably ended without the pope making an expected address to the cardinals on the international situation.

BMI Slashes Fees In Radio Music War

ST. LOUIS, May 15 (AP)—The radio music war, subject of much controversy since the first of the year, was broadened today with an announcement by Broadcast Music, Inc., of a 33 1-3 per cent slash in fees in its battle for business with ASCAP.

The cut was disclosed in a report to the National Association of Broadcasters convention by Sydney M. Kaye, executive vice president and general counsel of BMI.

In effect it means that BMI station subscribers will receive a rebate of this amount in contracts already signed for the year ending April 1, 1942.

"Reductions of 33 1-3 per cent," Kaye explained, "will mean that our rates will commence from 1 per cent and range up to 1-2-3 per cent of gross receipts, dependent upon station revenue."

"BMI can do its full job for the coming year at approximately $1,400,000, a rebate to the broadcasting industry of approximately $600,000."

The Mutual Broadcasting System announced Sunday an agreement with ASCAP providing payment of 3 per cent of gross revenues for four years and 3 1/2 per cent thereafter until Jan. 1, 1950.

ASCAP is the familiar name for the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers.

BMI leaders said the new reduction to station subscribers was planned before the Mutual-ASCAP contract was announced.

Banquet Held By WD Seventh Grade

WHITE DEER, May 15—The seventh grade banquet was held Saturday evening at the high school cafeteria.

A patriotic color scheme was carried out with red, white and blue candles and bowls of red tulips and white spiras decorating the tables. Floor baskets of iris were also used.

Since the group was to see the motion picture "Wagons Roll at Night," the banquet program was brief; Jean Roy Powers introduced Glenn F. Davis, principal of the high school, who welcomed the class into the activities of the high school.

Guests were Messrs. and Mesdames George Heath, Harold Drummond, Glenn F. Davis, Elton Beene, and Henry Hynds, Misses Kathleen Crawford and Evelyn Mayfield, and Mr. Ray Vineyard.

Members of the class present were Elizabeth Ballard, Doris Banzet, Phyllis Shuman, Bert Haiduk, Glenn Hess, Jean Lassiter, Lucy Bednorz, Marilyn Brown, Shirley Evans, Jean Holmes, Peggy Johnson, Eric Matheson, Ouida Nell Overstreet, Glorine Reim, Milton Hamman, Jean Roy Powers, Billy Rusk, Gaston Tribble, Clifton Walker, and Jesus Lopez.

Civil Service Exams Announced

Civil Service examinations for the positions described below were announced by the U. S. Civil Service Commission today. Applications will be accepted at the Commission's Washington office not later than June 12, 1941. The salaries are subject to the usual 3 1/2 per cent retirement deduction.

Fishery marketing specialist, $2,000 to $4,600 a year. Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of Interior. For the position of junior fishery marketing specialist, at $2,000 a year, 1 year of appropriate experience is required. Completion of 30 semester hours of college work is also necessary unless applicant can substitute 1 year of additional experience for part of this requirement.

Specialist in vocational education in agriculture, $3,800 a year. Office of Education, Federal Service Agency. Completion of a 4-year college course in agriculture is required, as well as a minimum of 5 years of appropriate experience. Two years of the experience must have been in teaching vocational agriculture, and 2 years supervision of teacher training in a program of vocational education in agriculture, below college level. No written test will be given, but applicants will be rated on their education and experience.

Full information as to the requirements for these examinations, and application forms, may be obtained from V. Darnell, Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, at the post office or custom house in this city, or from the Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, at any first or second-class post office.

Flashes Of Life

No Excuse LANCASTER, Pa.—Haled into traffic court, 21-year-old William G. Schnupp admitted he drove 90 miles an hour, explaining: "When I drive fast I watch the road and nothing happens. When I drive slow my eyes wander about and I get involved in accidents."

He was charged with reckless driving, improper passing and speeding while eluding a motor patrolman in a 12-mile chase.

Busy Line SNOW HILL, Md.—A buzzing noise disrupted service on a Snow Hill-Queponco rural telephone line.

Trouble-shooter Jerome Henman found that a swarm of wild honey bees, nesting in the walls of Alex Bradford's farmhouse, had chewed the lead-in telephone wire in half.

Stitch In Time DALLAS—Clutching his midriff, a man entered the emergency hospital.

"Are you fellows good at sewing?" he asked.

Homer Summers, relief driver, reminded him that staff physicians were adept at some kinds of sewing—sutures, for instance.

"Then how about sewing this suspender button on for me?" The surprised Summers obliged.

Look Out Fish! MINNEAPOLIS—Here's a new angle: The state legislature passed a law this year granting free fishing licenses to recipients of old age assistance in Minnesota. It means a saving of $1 for an individual or $1.50 for a man and wife.

Pampa's Water In 'Good' Class

Pampa's water is in a "good" class. This was the report of Carl A. Nau, director, division of industrial hygiene, Texas State health department, in a letter read at the city commission meeting yesterday.

Wrote Director Nau: "I find that an analysis of Pampa water shows that it contains an alkali coefficient of less than 18." Waters having an alkali coefficient of less than 18 are rated good, the director explained.

City Manager Steve Matthews clarified the technical classification by saying that it meant that the city's water was not harmful to plants and would not retard their growth.

Oilers Win Rubber Game Of Amarillo Series 14-7

A slug-happy bunch of Pampa Oilers last night staged a baseball blitzkrieg in Mallin park at Amarillo to take the rubber game of the current series from the Amarillo Oilers 14 to 7. Tonight the Oilers will be in Big Spring, home of the team now holding down second place in the league standing.

Last night's win put the Oilers in a four-way tie for third place and showed the Gold Sox into the cellar, all by themselves.

Frank Grabek, who was knocked from the box Monday night, returned and pitched two-hit ball until the seventh when Emmet Fulewider homered. Again in the ninth Fulewider hit for the circuit, with two on board, but Grabek nipped the rally in plenty of time.

Frank Scott paced the Oiler attack with a home run, double and single while Bills bagged a double and two singles and Phillips paraded three singles. Every man on the team hit safely, including Pitcher Grabek who got his first hit of the season—a double.

On the paths the Oilers ran wild, no less than five of them pilfering bases during the game, which lasted two hours and 30 minutes.

Amarillo used three pitchers before stopping the barrage of hits. An unusual feature was the fact that each team registered only four assists.

Gambling Guys Bet Negro Will Whip Jenkins

NEW YORK, May 15. (AP)—The 48th Street betting house hung out its odds today on tomorrow night's Lew Jenkins-Bob Montgomery fight, and the more you studied them the less you knew about growing sugar in Siem.

Because, for some reason not even your best friend could tell you, the "fraternity" as the gambling guys like to be called—established the Philadelphia negro a 10 to 13 choice to finish on top in his chosen line.

1—Montgomery already has been beaten once by Jenkins.

2—He has never fought a main bout in the Garden, which gives even the best of 'em as much stage fright as your newest country cousin.

3—Jenkins still rates as the deadliest puncher the lightweight division has seen in more than a decade.

4—Lew is still "the champ" and carries into the ring all the assurance the title usually gives the man who owns one.

over-weight get-together with Texas Lew in Madison Square Garden.

On the records, this is about as logical as taking the train to Tallahassee to get from Times Square to the Bronx. Apparently the odds-makers haven't bothered to take the advice another New York fellow (remember?) once gave to "look at the record." At any rate, just consider these details:

1—Montgomery already has been beaten once by Jenkins.

No Admission To Be Charged To Grid Scrimmage Tonight

A bruising 48-minute set-to-foot between the Pampa Harvester football team of 1941 and a team of former Harvesters greeds will be staged tonight at Harvester field. The kickoff is scheduled for a few minutes after 8 o'clock and no admission will be charged.

The big battle will close the 1941 spring training period which may be the last ever conducted because of the state athletic committee's trying to ban spring training for football teams. Opponents of the move claim that abandoning of spring training would drastically lower the level of football now played in Texas.

Coaches Buck Prejan and Mac Best have been working the Harvesters for one month. They are not exactly satisfied with the team but agree that it has possibilities. Because of breaking new players into key positions, the coaches had to go slow in the spring training period. They had to go to the Gorillas and Reapers for fullbacks and to the Gorillas for one guard. Four positions are being held down by starters from last season and the rest by reserves from the 1940 team.

The exes will field six members of last year's team plus four from teams of two and three years ago, still in school taking post graduate work. The exes have been working out under direction of Grover Heiskell, Ed Terrell and Wayne Fade of last year's team.

Interesting individual battles are scheduled to crop up in tonight's game. Take the quarterback job, for instance. The Harvesters will have 135-pound R. L. Edmondson barking signals while the exes will use 100-pound Bert Isbell. A couple of giants will lock across the line at each other when Roland Phillips of the Harvesters faces Carroll Montgomery.

"We might not look very smooth tonight, but we'll be giving everything," Coach Prejan said today. "I have never seen a more wild bunch of boys. Every one of them wants to make the team and as a result there have been fights for every position. Tonight's starting lineup will not necessarily be the team that will get the call next fall. Reserves may crop up who will put

Pampa Golfers To Compete In Greenbelt Tournament

Several Pampa golfers will compete in the 16th annual Greenbelt Golf Tournament to be played over the Childrens Country club course, beginning Monday of next week. Pete Nossent, pro at the Pampa Country club, will be official starter.

Among Pampa golfers planning to compete are Grover Austin Jr., John Austin, C. F. McGinnis, Bill Speed, Marvin Harris, Haskell McClung, Mark Heath, Lefty Cox and possibly others.

Qualifying will start with an 18-hole round of medal action at 8 o'clock Monday morning, and four days of title quests and entertainment will be crowded in between the first qualifying link and the putting that marks the championship start Thursday, May 22.

The opening day will be devoted almost entirely to qualifying, although a driving contest will be staged at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and a round of entertainment, including a Dutch lunch, stag smoker, Calcutta pool, and the annual election of association executive committee and officers, will follow Monday night at the Hotel Childress.

Tuesday will be the initial day of matched play with a morning round starting at 7:30 o'clock and an afternoon lap getting underway at 1:30 o'clock. Tuesday night at the Fair Park auditorium a dance for the golfers will be open to the public.

The Wednesday activities will follow closely the Tuesday routine, including a Dutch lunch, stag smoker, Calcutta pool, and the annual election of association executive committee and officers, will follow Monday night at the Hotel Childress.

Thursday will be the final day of the tournament, with a morning round starting at 7:30 o'clock and an afternoon lap getting underway at 1:30 o'clock. Thursday night at the Fair Park auditorium a dance for the golfers will be open to the public.

Red Fans Debate Faults Of Team

CINCINNATI, May 15 (AP)—Just what's the matter with the world champion Cincinnati Reds is up for violent debate from the city wharf to aristocratic Indian hill. The management admits it doesn't know for sure but is going to do something about it. Quick.

The first overt step gives Mr. Branch Rickey a $35,000 check, more or less, for the St. Louis Cardinals left fielder and gives the Reds, in second division of the National League for the first time since 1938, Ernie Koy.

The next overt step is not determined, at least for publication, but General Manager Warren C. Giles says:

"We're going to get going if we have to change half the club. But we're not going to make changes while we're panicky."

Ernie, slugging, 28-year-old speedster who went to the Cardinals in the business that gave Brooklyn Joe

LeFors Names Honor Students

Special To The NEWS

LEFORS, May 15—Outstanding students of LeFors High school were named last week by an election held by the students. The persons were nominated by the teachers and voted on by the students.

Those receiving awards were: Popularity, Pelton Webb and Joyce Bowman; personal appearance, Kenneth Browning and Stella Benefield; friendliness, Lynn Pite and Bertie Pae Quarles; school interest, D. B. Coleman and Norma Lee Lantz; courtesy, Johnny Taylor and Willie Mae Taylor; sportsmanship, Kenneth Twigg and Virginia Coleman; interest and ambition, Cleo Nipper and Ragina Lockard, and honesty, Melton Oldham and Jean Smith.

Medwick, became Red property in a straight cash deal. Giles announced it last night, just after the Reds had dropped their fourth straight game, a 6-2 defeat by the Dodgers which pushed the champs into sixth place.

WTCC To Hold Testimonial For Sheppard

Special To The NEWS

MINERAL WELLS, May 15—Mrs. Morris Sheppard, wife of the late senior United States senator from Texas, is being invited to attend a testimonial in his honor here Friday evening, May 16th.

This will be the national defense banquet closing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, which opens today. Senator Sheppard was chairman of the military affairs committee in the upper house at Washington, and had been invited to appear on the WTCC banquet program. He was ill, however, and soon died. The invitation to Mrs. Sheppard has gone to her home in Texarkana.

The eulogy to Senator Sheppard will be delivered by Congressman Ewing Thomason of El Paso in his banquet address, "The People in National Defense." This will be broadcast over station KGKO, Fort Worth, and possibly other stations in the Lone Star network. Thomason is chairman of the military affairs committee in the lower house.

ated Cramps shipyard before being brought under control.

Loss to the lumber yard alone was estimated by firemen at well over a million dollars.

A physician was killed in a traffic accident while hurrying to the scene. A score of persons—firemen, spectators, and occupants of the burned homes—were injured, but none seriously.

Michael Regan, night watchman at the lumber yard, was missing, and his employers said they believed that if he had gotten out alive he would have reported to them.

Four hundred firemen were mobilized quickly after the first of the six alarms at 1:45 a. m. (EST). The flames, which had leaped a hundred feet into the air and turned night into day for blocks around, were pronounced under control at 8 a. m. The fire broke out in the heart of the lumber yard—but the cause was not immediately determined.

Blind Attorney Gets His License

AUSTIN, May 15 (AP)—Blind Lloyd Sparkman of Dallas, led by his seeing-eye dog, left the supreme court today as a full fledged attorney.

The former law student received his law license from the high tribunal in recognition of successful completion of bar examinations, grades for which were posted in the court today.

Sparkman attended the University of Texas law school.

ALL-AMERICAN FOOD STAMP PLAN

FOOD STAMPS BRIDGE THE GAP BETWEEN FARM SURPLUSES AND UNDER CONSUMPTION AND STRENGTHEN OUR NATIONAL HEALTH DEFENSE!

Now you can have more food for your family without spending more money.

Through the cooperation of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and the combined effort of the food retailers of Pampa, the Food Stamp Plan is now in effect in Pampa.

The Food Stamp Plan has three major objectives:

1. Aid to American Farmers, through the creation of larger markets for domestic farm products.
2. Aid to the Underprivileged: through increasing their food purchasing power so that they may buy more food and have a wider variety of the necessary wholesome foods essential to good health.
3. Aid to Business: by utilizing normal trade channels for the distribution of food products to families certified for public assistance.

Stamp Issuing Office will be located at 535 South Cuyler Street.

For more detailed information read elsewhere in today's NEWS or call at any one of the following stores for special bulletin on the Food Stamp Plan for Gray County.

When Philosophers Rule

A plaintive little letter to the editor the other day showed pitilessly the futility of a certain type of mind which still, in these hard and realistic days, lives in an ivory-towered Never-Never land. Bewailing everything in general, this gentle, well-meaning soul pleads, "I have often thought it would be better if the world's governments were headed by philosophers rather than by log-rolling politicians."

Of course. Lots of other people have had the same thought, including Plato, 2,300 years ago.

But governments aren't headed by philosophers as a general thing. It's like disarmament, it's great if they all do it at once. But a world with 50 countries ruled by philosophers and one ruled by a Hitler is still a world in which an ivory tower is nothing but a bomb-target.

Not Very Funny

Some perverted prankster had the brilliant inspiration recently that it would be awfully funny to explode a "bomb" at the Ford plant which turned out to be just a big firecracker. The presumption is that when workers found it was only a fire-cracker they just laughed and laughed and laughed.

To us it doesn't seem so funny. People are jittery enough these days without practicing pranks on their raw nerve-ends. Most people are in no mood for practical jokes of this misguided kind.

The same thing goes for the irresponsible people who delight to spread wild rumors about goings-on at army camps. A moment's thought will show anyone that to circulate unverified stories about camp conditions is an evil thing to do. The trouble with such people is not only that they don't think a minute. They don't think at all.

Spanish Resistance

Ramon Serrano Suner, Franco's foreign minister in Spain, doesn't like the United States or any free democratic country. He is proud, however, of the Franco government's defense of Spain from outside influences.

"Just as on May 2, 1808, Spain did not request to become French; similarly on July 18, 1936, Spain did not want to become either Russian or British," he said in a recent speech.

Proud words, and it will be interesting to see how strongly and how effectively Franco Spain defends itself in 1941 from becoming German. He might ask the Italians how they're doing.

Behind The News

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—What national defense has done to the world's biggest printing business is one for the record. A year ago, Uncle Sam, printer, was doing an $18,000,000 a year business. This year, he'll double it.

A year ago the Government Printing Office had around 5,500 employees. The number now is about 7,200.

In a cluster of buildings a few blocks north of the capitol, this fabulous government enterprise is an industrial center in itself.

One Monday morning not long ago, Augustus E. Giegengack, bald, round, good-natured public printer of the United States, came down to his office to find a memo that 80 freight carsloads of paper were waiting to be unloaded immediately. Mr. Giegengack didn't bat an eye. Why should he? That's only a little more than a week's supply for GPO. Sixteen at a time, the cars were rolled into the third floor tracks of GPO's great warehouse and a few hours later, the first of it was rumbling through the tunnel that carries two lanes of big truck traffic underground to GPO Building No. 3—there to be swallowed by the hundreds of presses.

GOING DAY AND NIGHT

Off these presses, books, pamphlets and folders roll day and night. Off them come the reports of the departments, all the thousands of forms used for government records and red tape. Take for example, penny postcards. Did you ever wonder who prints them? GPO presses print them—and at the rate of more than two billion a year.

Presses nearby spew out postal money order blanks at the rate of 300,000,000 a year and that is such a minor phase of GPO's activities that Mr. Giegengack hardly ever has to give penny post cards and money orders a thought.

I could go on reeling off such figures for hours. I could tell you that GPO has nearly 200 Linotype and Intertype machines, besides 100 Monotype keyboards and nearly half again as many Monotype casters. I could tell you how the public printer makes his own ink and uses about a half million pounds of it a year. But I'm sure by now you know that Uncle Sam's printing business is Big Business with capital B's.

THE UNPREDICTABLE RECORD

One of the most interesting jobs GPO does is the daily publication (when congress is in session) of the Congressional Record. It's interesting, because you can't tell a thing about the Record. It puts GPO in the same spot as the housewife who never knows whether her spouse will eat dinner downtown tonight or bring home from one to 10 guests.

Sometimes congress doesn't do much of anything and the Record may be hardly enough pages to bind. Sometimes, as in most of the national defense sessions, it runs to several hundred pages. But in any event GPO has to get it in the mails by 8 o'clock the following morning—and this in spite of the fact that copy is often until after midnight reaching the plant.

Since GPO moved into its new main building in February and was able to streamline its production (work now moves from the seventh floor down—a sort

Common Ground

This column extends there can be no satisfactory program until we measure the share of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

ARRIVING AT VALUES BY DEMOCRATIC WAY

There can be no true value of any service or the fruits of man's services, unless all the people not only in this country, but in the world over, have a right to help establish the value of man's services.

This means that there can be no fair wage, no fair value when they are established by a part of the people, excluding one part of the people from having the right to participate in establishing a fair value. To claim that a wage is fair, when only part of the people have a right to help establish the wage, or the value, is a mockery and a farce. It is to use words that have absolutely no meaning. It is as senseless as saying there is a good sin, or a reasonable advantage, or a fair murder.

Probably there is no word misused more often than the word "fair." When labor contends an employer is unfair, they invariably have excluded part of the people from having the right to establish its fairness.

And when part of the people are excluded, we have a form of dictatorship, a form of tyranny, an undemocratic, unChristian method of doing things.

We then are using coercion, intimidation, blackmail, revenge, destruction rather than voluntary agreements.

There can be no fair value on things, whether they be wages or commodities, unless all people may participate. To the degree that all people are permitted to participate, does it become fair. To the degree they are excluded, does it become unfair, tyranny, oppression and slavery.

UNION LABOR FEES

The fact that labor unions are able to collect very large fees from workers, in order to join unions, is prima facie evidence that the wages the workers are receiving are out of line with a free market; that they are arbitrarily high.

The only way to establish the value of anything is to have it freely exchanged and make it available to all the people.

But when labor unions can collect $400,000 fees and dues on a temporary government job, as they have done, that is absolute proof that the wages are out of line with other wages. If it were not so, labor would not pay these dues to get these fictitious wages.

And, of course, labor officials who get these dues produce no wealth, but consume a great amount of wealth which reduces the wealth of the children of the workers who pay these dues may have. It also reduces the clothes and the comforts that these workers would have, if these labor officials did not live in luxury and ease and not only produce no wealth but prevent the right man from getting in the right job and, thus, by so doing greatly reduce the total production of wealth.

Yet, labor union initiation fees and dues is evidence that the employer paying these artificial wages are collecting too much from their consumers for the services they render. If the government is the customer paying these wages these union fees are taken out of the sweat of every man who labors.

HITLER WILL WAIT

Hitler is a keen student of history. Will Durant said that Hitler trembled when Oswald Spengler disapproved. Oswald Spengler was a great historian. He foresaw the World War. He predicted it in his great masterpiece, "The Decline of the West," written in 1913 but did not publish it until after the World War. So, Hitler had respect for Spengler's opinions. Hitler is also a student of history.

And if he is a student of history, he will not attack the United States for some time.

A student of history can see any nation can be conquered when its people get the opinion that the most stupid person, through his vote counts as much in controlling production and distribution, as the most far-seeing and the man with the greatest disinterested benevolence; that when this thing comes about, it is only a question of time until a people so governed become so destitute and weak that they can be conquered with little sacrifice by a people who more nearly realize that there is a difference in the importance and judgment of the opinions of men.

It behooves the American people to study history and adjust themselves more nearly in line with the aspirations our forefathers attempted to establish.

Hitler will wait and let us destroy ourselves by our own shortsightedness. It will be nature's way of more nearly using all the talents of all the people.

Let us not let this happen. Let us return to the belief that each man is entitled to all that he produces as our forefathers believed and as every student of history knows must be the objective of the government if freedom and progress are to live.

HISTORIC DIARY

A little girl's writing in her diary may well prove to be one of the greatest human documents of the present times. The youthful diarist is Princess Elizabeth of England. Three years ago she began making daily notations in a diary and she frequently illustrates them with drawings. She is living during England's greatest struggle. What this child of royalty sees, what goes on in her mind, her innocent jottings on events all around her during times of stress—all of these things in her diary may prove remarkable and enlightening reading in future years.

(of vertical assembly line) and to use the tunnel and conveyor belts to Washington's main postoffice, this business has been simplified somewhat but still it is a chore.

WHAT DOESN'T IT PRINT?

While I was gathering these little facts and figures, it occurred to me that I would like to know just exactly what GPO does turn out. I was sent to the superintendent of documents and what I got was a catalog of more than 3,000 pages. What I want to know now is what GPO prints.

There were such things as Programs of High School Parent-Teacher Associations; Training for the Painting and Decorating Trade; Pacing the Problems of Youth; the Labor Information Bulletin; Great Forest Fires of America; Planning for Farm Plumbing; Death Valley; Grand Coulee Dam; and Ferns and Flowering Plants of Isle Royale, Michigan. . . 3,000 pages of them.

Around Hollywood

BY LUCIE NEVILLE

NEA Service Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD, May 15—Burgess Meredith is a happy actor these days. It has been nearly a year and four pictures since anybody called him a "modern Hamlet." In a series of many characterizations, he has won the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of weakness in Hollywood. Trouble was that flicker people took him seriously from the time he first came here in 1936 to duplicate his stage performance in "Winter." They regarded him as an earnest and moody young intellectual. Sometimes when he got to talking they wouldn't know whether he was kidding the movies or not. The suspicion was strengthened when it was learned that Meredith was refusing to make screen tests for other studios, but was sending them instead a ridiculous bad test which had been made of him in New York years before.

The real reason for Meredith's behavior was that he was under contract to return to New York, and he couldn't bear the notion of turning down big-money offers from the studios. So he sent around the flattering test he wouldn't face any disturbing decisions.

HEXED BY HAMLET

Meredith liked movies from the beginning but when he finally was able to return he found himself in demand only for dreary dramatic roles. The young radical in "Tidbit's Delight" was a horrible example. Producers somehow couldn't believe that he had done comedy on the stage.

Naturally he relished his role in "Of Mice and Men," but afterward he was appalled when some enthusiastic tabbed him "the Hamlet of 1940." The phrase was repeated until the actor felt he ought to have "Hamlet-1940" lettered on a sweater like a collegian.

Gradually, perhaps through the missionary work of people who had been to parties at the amazing menage maintained by Meredith and Franchot Tone, Hollywood began to understand that Buzz did something besides stew about social injustices and the fate of civilization, and that he could be goofy as any local character.

So he went into "Second Chorus" and into "That Uncertain Feeling," both in many parts. And now as a lazy and philosophical screwball, he has the third title role in "Tom, Dick and Harry," a Ginger Rogers starrer directed by Garson Kanin.

FUN ON THE DIAMOND

Other evening when Budd Ebsen began bragging about the invincibility of his scuff-ball team he had organized at the studio, Meredith impulsively challenged for a game the next night. Meredith showed up at the field with a team of girls, champions of a local league, whom he had hired at $5 each and a fancy dinner at the Brown Derby. Anything for a rib.

For a year, or so he has been living at Jimmy Stewart's house. When the corporal was about to come home on leave recently, Meredith prepared a welcome. He strung a banner across the house announcing it as headquarters of the Peace-at-Any-Price Association, and then he hired a lot of ragged, unshaven extras to lounge on the lawn.

Meredith even ribbed the studio press agents who had trumped up a lot of hoopla about how the last pages of the "Tom, Dick and Harry" script had been sealed up and none of the three leading men would

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

Russ Coors, former Pampian, who died recently in Knoxville, Tenn., was the subject of a touching and affectionate eulogy that appeared in "Hook, Lie & Sink," a sports column written by Joe Halburn in the Knoxville Journal, a few days after Russ' death. Mr. Halburn wrote as follows: "Russ Coors went fishing Tuesday. The Master called and Russ has gone home to spend eternity on the most beautiful river of all, the River of Life. He will have the greatest fisherman of all time as his companion along with Peter and the rest of those who gave up their nets to become fishers of men. The papers say that Russ is dead. We know differently, for a spirit such as his never dies. True, Russ will not fish with us for a while, but we know that he will be waiting on the other side of Jordan, to welcome us when we get there, and we bet he will already have the good spots picked out to take us to. That is like Russ. If there was ever an unselfish man, it was he. You could never tell that Russ had any troubles, but if any one else had them he was the first to lend a helping hand.

You would never know when Russ suffered, but he was there with a word of cheer when you suffered. You would possibly not realize that Russ was a Christian but if ever a man lived by the Golden Rule it was that man. . . We are the ones who have lost him. He was left behind to face a world torn by wars and strife among men. Russ has left all that behind. The grim reaper won for a few moments, but Russ has conquered. . . Russ always loved life, and lived it with us, but now he has really begun to live. Sickness and pain can no longer keep him from the fields and streams he loves.

To him the birds will always sing, and the fish will always jump. And the prayer we would make this morning is, that when it comes our time to take the long journey home, we can face it with as much courage as Russ faced it. And if in our wanderings through this world we can spread as much cheer and happiness among men as Russ did, then we know that some day we too will cross the River, and once again we will see that boyish smile as a good fish strikes, and Russ brings another one to net."

So They Say

If America has the task of defending itself—and I hope it has not in the immediate future—then certainly it is the duty of all Americans to make a contribution to a successful defense.

know until the last day which one would win the girl. THE LOOKING GLASS

OLD FASHIONED MAN

By Stella Halit

Bozo believed that a woman was a lady no matter where she happened to be.

"Goes and gets thrown in jail for a no-good dame he don't even know," is the way one of his friends put it. "No good in the first place drunk in the second and flopping around in a tough joint in Second avenue. That guy's swell where men are concerned but a pushover for the women. Crazy fool woman was so drunk she didn't even know there'd been a fight and Bozo had to stay in jail till I could scare up enough dough to get him out. Fellows all kicked in but they cursed him plenty."

Bozo had a lilt and a swagger. He growled about everything and there wasn't anything he wouldn't do for anybody. He was tender hearted as a chicken, only he didn't want anybody to know it. He wanted them to think he was that tough guy who climbed the fire ladders to the hottest part of the fire, took the most risks, and loved nobody.

Women fell for him on account of the lilt and the swagger and the braggadocio air. Bozo didn't fool them a minute. They knew he was gentle and tender hearted and they had instincts about his chivalry. They fell for him hard and just as soon as he knew it Bozo disappeared. He didn't even say good-bye. "Can't use a woman in my life," he said. "In my business, I'd be a good. Couldn't have a woman at home worrying over me. In the fire department you take the risks. If I fall off the ladder into a burning pit like that fellow on 48th street the other day, won't anybody to weep over me. That's the way I want it, see!"

That's what he said if he had an audience. That was for publication. If you approached him from another angle you got a little more truth.

"I'm sowing my oats, and sowing thick. When I get ready to settle down, I'm through nonsense. I'll be settled. None of this working wife business either. That's a mess. A man comes home tired and his wife gives him something out of a can. When I get married the little woman's gonna stay right at home and get my meals. We're gonna have some kids too on a big yard and a garden. When I can give a woman a decent home I'll settle down. Until then, I'm not getting involved. Fellow that'd string a girl along when he has no intention of marrying her ought to be shot."

Bozo gave all the women the air but they didn't resent it. As one of them put it, "He's got a conscience, that man. He's old fashioned about women. He respects them. He walks right out and leaves you with your mouth hanging open but when it's all over you feel he paid you a compliment. He thinks it's not fair to play with a woman till he can see his home and garden. He's a bit brusque, but God love him, he's got a sweet idea about women."

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Japan's sudden urge to be quit of the "China affair," as Tokyo likes to euphemize its undeclared war, represents one of the great backflips of history, but while it's astonishing as an acrobatic feat there is no deep mystery about it, since the reasons which impel the Japanese to seek peace seem clear enough.

One of that country is in dire straits economically as the result of their unsuccessful effort through four long years to demonstrate that 70,000,000 Nipponese can sit on 488,000,000 Chinese and keep 'em down. . . . Another is Tokyo's desire to be free to deal with any situation growing out of the fast moving European war; for fear America will enter the conflict, it is understood that representatives of the triple alliance—Germany, Italy and Japan—have been conferring on that point in Rome the past few days. . . . Then, if we may be frank, the Japanese want to be in position to get their share of the spoils, if any. That is to say, they wish to be prepared to take advantage of any opportunity which arises. If Herr Hitler is victor, there should be some mighty rich pickings for somebody in the Dutch East Indies and among the British possessions.

The question of peace with China has become a paramount issue in Japan. The government has been active considering the position recently. The press has been increasingly insistent that we should progress of Japan's program for a greater east Asia, and that means spread of Japanese hegemony.

But the Japanese have discovered to their dismay that dismissal of the Chinese conquest is easier said than done—a fine exemplification of the oriental adage that he who rides a tiger finds it difficult to dismount. They now find themselves in the uncomfortable position of having either to continue the costly conflict or withdraw and admit failure—unless they can drag Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek into a peace conference.

General Chiang, however, being of determined disposition and having the backing of 5,000,000 soldiers, declines to enter any horse deal with the enemy. On the contrary, he is supporting China through the material and financial help of America. He is prepared to give the Japanese a trouncing. If there is peace at all, he avers, it must come through mediation of the United States.

Small wonder then that we find the Nipponese blaming our Uncle Sam for their failure to get salt on the tail of the peace dove. They say his action in supporting Chiang has fortified Chiang to continue resistance. And in truth, it would be difficult to refute this allegation, for Sam has made no bones of advertising that he is backing democrats against aggression.

Since the Japanese started their conquest nearly four years ago they have won control of some 900,000 square miles of China's richest territory, with a population of 200,000,000. The greatest seaports and manufacturing cities of the country are included. The casualties have been mountainous and the cost colossal. In theory the Japanese have made themselves masters of vast wealth. Actually the refusal of large sections of the Chinese population to cooperate in business and government has rendered the treasures of questionable value.

YESTERDAY: Realizing that she loves responsible Chris, Paula knows she has a rival in Kilo Sherwood...

CHAPTER III

WATCHING Chris's tall figure disappear across the campus, Paula thought, "Kissed and stood up all in one day! No girl should take that from a man."

She reached Chris just as the flash lighted the barn. There was a rush for Bill Jenks, but the reporter had disappeared.

tonight. Do you want to go along? "What for?" Paula gasped. "Bill grinned enigmatically. 'I just thought you might like to see what goes on. Besides, I can use you to jot down the names of the people I don't know. How about it?'"

Suspicious, Paula hesitated, trying to find some motive for his offer. But it was her chance to learn what she wanted to know.

BILL JENKS was on time. Paula stepped into the blue coupe, her heart beating fast. Was she doing the right thing? Even now she didn't trust the impulse that had led her to accept the invitation.

They drove out the main highway, then turned onto a dirt road. Presently Jenks pulled over and said, "All out, honey. We're hoofing the rest of the way."

Paula nodded. "I'm not sure I ought to mention it..." "Go on, honey," Bill urged. "If you're worried about getting yourself in Dutch, forget it. I wouldn't last long in this game if I let my friends down."

"I-I really haven't much," Paula confessed. "It's about the League."

Bill Jenks hunched forward. "No fooling? Say, that's a coincidence. I came over here to..."

"Maybe," Jenks said. "Look, honey, you go in heavy for this sorority stuff. Naturally you don't like the League?"

"Naturally," Paula agreed. "Well, there it wouldn't break your heart if the League got in a jam?"

"Why do you ask that?" Paula countered. "I have just had an idea," Jenks said slyly. "But maybe you'd be afraid to tackle it."

"Tackle what?" "Well, it's like this, honey. I've been working on this League story quite a while. I know when and where they meet. I know that a gal named Kilo Sherwood is the big shot of the outfit. I—"

"Don't try," Bill snapped. "A pretty girl like you needn't worry about angles; leave that to me. The point is, I'm going to sit in on a secret meeting of the League."

"Naturally," Paula agreed. "Well, there it wouldn't break your heart if the League got in a jam?"

"Maybe," Jenks said. "Look, honey, you go in heavy for this sorority stuff. Naturally you don't like the League?"

Higher Crude Prices Still Being Talked

BY EDWARD CURTIS
TULSA, Okla., May 15 (AP)—The oil industry is beginning to show an awareness of a possible bottleneck—transportation from Gulf ports to the industrial Atlantic seaboard.

In the mid-continent area, the talk is still of higher crude prices. Some executives expect a five to ten-cent increase for Oklahoma and Kansas almost daily and many predict that the increase will materialize before June 1.

W. S. Farish, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey in the company's report for 1940 declared that the oil industry "is in a position to meet any demand for oil produced by the governmental authorities have forecast for you."

"If physical limitations on our ability to supply these requirements should arise," he added, "it would seem most probable that they will result from a shortage of ships caused by diversion of requisitioning of tanker tonnage and the lack of sufficient alternative transportation facilities."

About 260 tankers now supply the east coast with approximately 1,260,000 barrels daily from Gulf ports. In addition the east coast also imports about 250,000 barrels daily. Pipelines to the Atlantic seaboard from the interior carry about 17,000 barrels daily. The seaboard refineries now are estimated to be using about 600,000 barrels daily of crude oil.

One oil observer declared there was more than enough refining capacity in the United States, but he pointed out that much of this capacity is east of Ohio and is supplied by tanker.

Construction of pipe lines have run into difficulties, but several oil companies have shown their interest in such lines.

In the field the Oil and Gas Journal reported 577 completions for the week, compared with 572 the previous week, and 569 a year ago.

The Guthrie pool in Oklahoma was extended a half mile west—Kansas officially listed its fourteenth new pool of the year—two shows of wet gas were reported in a test in Gage county, Nebraska, west of the Granite ridge. The Louisiana Gulf coast area got a new pool in the Delta area, south of Lake Borgne—Texas Panhandle operators have staked more wells in the past two weeks than during any similar period since 1927.

Australians Patrol the Mediterranean

The beautiful, blue Mediterranean is not always as warm as it sounds. Cold winds make these lookouts bundle up like stratosphere flyers as they keep watch aboard the H. M. A. S. Perth, Australian warship, eyeing the sea and sky for any sign of axis raiders.

News From Army Camps

(By The Associated Press)
CAMP BLANDING, Fla.—A young selectee mailed a post card to the members of his selective service board. It read: "Having a wonderful time. Wish I had you here."

CAMP WALTERS, Tex.—As the time for his army service approached, Lewis M. Hvezdos decided he should say goodbye to his parents.

Figuring that he wouldn't have an opportunity to see them again for a year, he left his job in Youngstown, Ohio, and went back home to Bridgeport, Tex. Subsequently, he returned to Youngstown for his induction.

And six days later he arrived at this post—only 28 miles from his home. He has spent two week-ends with the folks since then.

CAMP UPTON, N. Y.—The troops on this reservation don't call the Brooklyn Dodgers "Daffy" any more but they believe that some of the team's supporters are still that way.

They could cite the case of a Brooklyn boy who was, quite naturally, a baseball bug. He learned that he was to be drafted a week before the opening game. So he filled a conspicuous objector's protest. While it was clearing the customary channels, he saw the Giants trim the Dodgers in the first tilt of the season; then withdrew his objection and donned a soldier's uniform here.

CAMP BOWIE, Tex.—The mess sergeants of the thirty-sixth division report that beans are the most popular dish. "The men," they avow, "call for more seconds on beans than anything else."

"Frams—red; color of hair—blue; color of eyes—tuddy; complexion—no comment."

An important outlet for cotton is seen in the increasing use of industrial uniforms made of cotton, not only by physicians, nurses, restaurant workers, mechanics and store clerks, but also by office workers.

Pampans To Attend Highway 60 Meeting

Governor Leon C. Phillips and Congressman Wilburn Cartwright head the list of dignitaries who will attend the National U. S. 60 Highway convention in Fairview, Okla., Monday and Tuesday, May 26, and 27. Many from Pampa will attend the meeting.

Congressman Cartwright, chairman of the roads committee, will deliver the principal address at the banquet Monday night. Governor Phillips is scheduled to address the convention at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Others on the program are Walter Johnson, state commissioner of public safety; Ralph E. Cain, state president; Bill West, Socorro, N. M., national president; Harry Glasser, long-time highway booster of Enid and Clarence Paden, secretary of Bartlesville Chamber of Commerce.

Convention officials are encouraged by the prospects of large delegations, particularly from Texas, Arizona and New Mexico, as well as Oklahoma and other middle western states.

Every Oklahoma city and town along the route of Highway 60 is expected to be represented.

This will be the first national convention ever held in Fairview, and all are joining to extend hospitality to the visitors. Completion of Highway 60 in western Oklahoma is the No. One project of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Nurses Needed By Government

As a part of the National Defense Program, the Government months ago began preparation to meet an anticipated need for an unusually large number of nurses, both in its military and civil services. The United States Civil Service Commission has announced open continuous examinations to secure nurses for the civil service positions.

The shortage is particularly noticeable with respect to some parts of the country. From some of the states, very few nurses apply for the civil service examinations.

From all parts of the country, floods of inquiries are coming into Washington from women who ask how they can serve their country in the present emergency. The word to nurses is that the nursing branch of the service is one that is vital to the success of the National Defense Program. The nurse examinations open the way to an opportunity to render patriotic service, and at the same time to serve in interesting and satisfying work. There is an opportunity for advancement, and the government provides for retirement for superannuation or disability.

A large staff of nurses is employed regularly in the civil service—primarily in the U. S. Public Health Service, the Indian Service, and the Veterans' Administration. They serve in hospitals and other medical centers throughout the United States and in the Panama Canal Zone and Alaska. Public health nurses carry on field work of community health care and education, giving home care to the sick, class work in home hygiene, etc., principally in the Indian Service and the U. S. Public Health Service. In the more remote regions these nurses render first aid, and they even give emergency medical treatment in the absence of a doctor. There has been an increased demand for public health nurses under the U. S. Public Health Service in extra-cantonment zones and where large defense industries are located.

Two examinations are now open for receipt of applications. One—Announcement No. 38—under the title of Public Health Nurse, $2,000 a year, and Graduate Nurse, $1,800 a year (for general staff duty), is open for the U. S. Public Health Service and the Indian Service, including Alaska. This is an "unseasoned" examination. Applicants are not given a written test but are rated on their professional training and experience as shown in their applications and by other evidence. The other—Announcement No. 100—under the title of Junior Graduate Nurse, $1,620 a year, is for the U. S. Public Health Service, the Indian Service, and the Veterans' Administration. This examination now includes a written test. It is expected, however, that it will be closed soon and reannounced as an "unseasoned" examination. The Civil Service Commission does not expect to require a written test of persons who have already filed their applications but who have not been given the test.

The need for nurses is immediate. Apply now for further information at the office of the Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at any first or second-class post office, or write to the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Workers Asked To Leave Security Numbers With Wives

In a statement issued today by Dewey Reed, manager of the Amariello Social Security Board field office, it was pointed out that as a result of the nation-wide labor recruiting campaign being carried on by State employment security agencies, thousands of men may be called upon to leave their places of residence to take employment in defense plants in various parts of the country. In such cases, these workers should have their social security account numbers in their possession.

"It is also important that when a worker leaves home to take a job in some distant city or town he should leave a copy of his social security account number with his wife or some member of his family where it may be readily secured in case the worker should lose or misplace the number he had in his possession. By doing this he may be able to save time by writing or telegraphing back home for his number."

It was explained that any field office of the Social Security board will take a worker's application for a duplicate social security account number when it has been lost, but extreme care should be taken by workers to preserve and safeguard them by keeping duplicate records of their account numbers.

"The Social Security Board uses account numbers for identifying old-age and survivors insurance accounts and all wages received in covered employment are credited to them. Old-age and survivors insurance benefits, when they become payable, are based on the worker's wages as credited to his social security account number," Reed said.

More Females Than Males In Big Cities

There were more females than males in 76 of the 92 cities having 100,000 inhabitants or more in 1940, according to a tabulation of returns in the 1940 census, Vergil D. Hill, acting director of the bureau, announced today, in a department of commerce release received by The Pampa News.

The number of males per 100 females ranged in 1940 from 84.9 in Atlanta, Ga., to 104.5 in Tacoma, Wash., and 109.3 in Richmond borough of New York City.

In 1930 the sex ratio ranged from a low of 87.8 in Nashville, Tenn., to a high of 119.1 in Gary, Ind.

Dallas has 141,832 males to 152,002 females; Fort Worth, 84,732 males to 92,930 females; Oklahoma City, 98,226 to 106,138; Tulsa, 67,887 to 74,270.

"Now would you be kind enough to show me an army furlough?"
