REPORT U. S. TO REINFORCE PACIFIC FLEET

'Oscar Spoke Out Of Turn,' Says Boyles

Evidence by the grand jury in its investigation of the injuries suffered by Leroy (Little Oscar) Eggleston, a fight with Sheriff Cal Rose was insufficient to warrant an indictment against the officer, it was learned today from V. L. Boyles, grand jury foreman.

Judge Bawls Out Absentee Witnesses

Breaking the customary dull routine of district court witnesses, in the case of State of Texas vs. R. T. Waldrip received a "lecture" yesterday afternoon from District Judge W. R. Ewing.

His Honor was vexed because only one witness showed up when court opened Wednesday morning. Officers were sent scurrying about and witnesses brought forth to appear that afternoon.

Meanwhile the 29 jurors who had reported marked time during the forenoon.

In effect, Judge Ewing told the witnesses lined up before him that a summons to appear as a witness was not just an invitation to a pink tea, to be accepted or rejected at the individual's pleasure.

He called their attention to the rule of "contempt of court."

14,000 Employees May Walk Out At Bethlehem Plant

Despite an official prediction that today would bring an end to the month-long strike which has held up work on $45,000,000 in defense production told the house judiciary committee today that "strikes are the rare exception in defense industry" and no additional legislation was necessary to deal with them.

He praised labor and management for the job they were doing together "to avoid interruption of production," and said they should be encouraged "in their use of the democratic conference table technique."

The committee, which is divided over the need for remedial legislation to cope with defense production stoppages, called Hillman for testimony after hearing from his colleague, William S. Knudsen, director of the office of production management.

Knudsen informed the committee yesterday that labor disputes had not caused any important delays. He recommended no legislative action under the circumstances.

He listed eleven vital defense industries—aircraft, aluminum, automobiles, steel, electrical machinery, engines, explosives, foundries, and machine shops, machine tools, lumber and shipbuilding—and said that statistics showed that "idleness due to strikes constituted one-sixteenth of one per cent of the time actually worked."

Members of the Everyman's Downtown Bible class of the First Baptist church will hold a banquet at 7 o'clock tonight in the basement of the First Baptist church.

The banquet marks the conclusion of a three-month membership and attendance contest between the Reds, led by Wayne Phelps, and the Blues, captained by Jeff Bearden, class president, with the Blues declared the winners.

The losers will eat beans and the winners chicken—an no snitching on the sky, it was said. On the program tonight will be music by Ernestine Holmes and Ken Bennett.

Divorcee Calls Weidemann Head Of Spy System

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20 (AP)—A divorcee who asserted Captain Fritz Weidemann owed her money for investigating his status with Adolf Hitler, described the Nazi consul general in a law suit today as head of the German espionage system in America.

The complaint, filed in superior court by Mrs. Alice Crockett, an attractive brunette, sought $8,000 from Weidemann, Hitler's former personal adjutant, in payment for an alleged visit to Germany.

Mrs. Crockett, a Swiss native who said she once played in moving pictures under the name of Alice Gulden, asserted she went to Germany at the request of Weidemann who wanted her to find out if he still was a Hitler favorite.

"It's all bunk," said Otto A. Hoeker, the attorney whom Weidemann said would do his talking for him. Hoeker referred to the complaint which made the following charges:

Under a verbal agreement with Weidemann, Mrs. Crockett left San Francisco June 9, 1939. She returned the following December after having spent $5,000 of her own funds, which she wanted returned, along with payment of an agreed salary of $500 a month for the six months she was gone.

Hitler, Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels, and other high officials of the Nazi government were named in the suit.

Application blanks for the ground course may be secured from Jimmy Dodge at the Pampa Bus Terminal up to Saturday night.

Calf Show Entry, Blanks Sent To County Club Boys

Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club boys of Gray county are giving their calves last minute attention preparatory to filling out entry blanks for the third annual Gray County Calf show to be held here February 28 under sponsorship of the Pampa Board of City Development.

The boys will enter their calves in the judging contest, in the morning, and will then place them for sale in the afternoon. The calves will be judged by E. R. Duke of Amarillo, Auctioneer will be Tom Cox of Pampa.

Entry blanks were mailed boys today and they must be filled out and returned immediately so that the sifting committee can complete its work. That committee will examine all calves and approve the ones for the auction. Thus, purchasers will know they are buying the best beef possible.

The judging and sale will be held at the Livestock arena at Recreation park.

Pampa Has Coldest Weather In Texas

Snow, sleet, rain and cold numbed a goodly portion of Texas and Oklahoma Thursday with prospects of a genuine assault by nightfall.

Temperatures skidded to the low twenties in the Texas Panhandle and on the Plains, with snow apparent in some spots and sleet replacing rain.

A moderate cold wave was forecast for the southeast portion of West Texas tonight, with occasional snow in the north and rain in the south.

Light sleet covered the ground at Pampa, where 22-degree weather prevailed. It was 23 degrees at Borger at 7 a. m. with a faint coating of snow and earlier rain turning to ice. The temperature was near freezing at Plainview with a light drizzle falling.

Inclement weather at College Station forced postponement of the National Defense Week review of the Texas A. and M. cadet corps. Continued cold and rain would cause abandonment of the review, re-scheduled for Friday afternoon.

Readings of 31 degrees were reported at Wichita Falls and Lubbock, but way down south Corpus Christi had a 58-degree minimum and Brownsville, 63.

Other readings: Dallas, 39 and rain; Abilene, 37 and rain; Amarillo, 25 and a trace of rain; El Paso, 41; Galveston, 60; Houston, 55; San Antonio, 53.

Cloudy, rainy weather, with a light freezing rain, was forecast for the southern portion of East Texas, with sleet in the extreme north. Freezing temperatures were expected tonight.

The forecast for West Texas: Mostly cloudy tonight and Friday; occasional snow in north portion; slightly colder in north portion; considerably colder in south portion; with moderate cold wave in south-east portion tonight.

Maximum temperature in Pampa Wednesday was 40, minimum 25. Precipitation from the freezing drizzle here totaled .04 inches, making a total of .06 inches for the day period, Wednesday and Thursday. January precipitation totaled .43 inches; for year to date the total is 1.63 inches.

Hogsett Dies On Way To Amarillo

He had resided in Pampa and Skellytown since 1926 and for eight years was employed by the Cities Service Oil company.

Japs Try To Soft-Pedal War Alarms

600 Italians Captured At Garrison

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, was reported to have told the senate military affairs committee today that the United States intends to reinforce the Pacific fleet immediately with an unspecified number of the latest type of army and navy fighting planes.

Declining to reveal even in the secret session of the committee, the number of planes to be dispatched for this purpose, Marshall was said to have described the situation in the Pacific as "serious."

(By The Associated Press) British South African troops slashing into Italian-conquered Ethiopia were reported today to have captured the Fascist garrison at Mega along with 600 prisoners, while other British forces were locked in heavy fighting with the Italians on the Somaliland front.

Mega is 40 miles north of the Kenya Colony frontier, where the South Africans started their drive into the kingdom taken from Emperor Haile Selassie in 1935-36.

Premier Mussolini's high command said the British had made "repeated violent attacks" in an attempt to cross the Jubba river in Somaliland. In the battle of Britain, RAF bombers raked the "invasion ports" of Brest and Calais on the Nazi-held French coast as German night raiders strewn their cargoes of death and destruction on London, Plymouth, Portland, and Swansea, Wales.

Nazi bombers wrecked a block of a big London hospital, killing several patients in bed and a nurse. Other patients were buried in the debris while rescue squads, doctors, and nurses working by flashlight throughout the night extricated all the trapped survivors by dawn.

In another London district, an elderly woman was killed when seven high-explosive bombs fell; two pedestrians died, and two children were killed asleep.

A British communique acknowledged severe damage at Swansea, south Wales industrial port, including a considerable number of houses and business premises.

Japan renewed efforts to soft-pedal war alarms in the Orient, with Domei, the Japanese news agency, reporting that Japan's vice foreign minister, Chuichi Chuda, told Australian Minister Sir John Greig Latham, the talk of a "far eastern crisis" was groundless.

Nevertheless, British residents of Thailand (Siam) were officially advised to leave as thousands of new-arrived Australian troops manned defenses in northern Malaya border.

Dramatically symbolizing Britain's bull-dog trip on the Mediterranean is the photo above, showing Royal Navy units under the towering Rock of Gibraltar. 'Culture Carriers' Ribbed In Dallas In Texas Comedy

DALLAS, Feb. 20 (AP)—The smart folk of "Big D"—Dallasites, to use the ugly newspaper word for the people who live here, were a bit red of face this morning.

Tuesday a house full of first-nighters were gently ribbed and satirized through three acts at the Little Theater premiere of a new comedy by a Texan about Texans, John William Rogers' "Where the Dear Antelope Play."

Indian Gap is anytown, Texas, today. Arabella Wiggin is any stylish woman with an uplift urge yearning for art, interior decorators and transplanted culture. Her husband called her a "culture carrier." And she organized everything from Aida, with Dallas Texan station as a backdrop to her grand ideas of all, her society for the fruitful use of leisure!

Behind the comedy, the Texas dramatist speaks for regionalism in art, letters, love, and old Texas houses with high ceilings.

The first of four performances was an evening full of fun, good humor, and the acting a full evening because, as one chic young Dallasite—there's that word again—chirped, you couldn't tell the acts from the intermission. The same kind of characters peopled the stage and the foyer.

Math Class To Be Formed At Skelly

Instructor of the course will be H. J. Johnson, former vocational teacher. The course is open to anyone in the Skellytown area.

Bakeries Seized

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Feb. 20 (AP)—The Bulgarian army took control of bakeries and their personnel throughout the country today, presumably to assure bread supply for new troops called in recent days.

The bakeries continued also to serve the civilian population but under army direction.

Democracy Faces Greatest Test, Say LeFors Youth In Oration

Democracy faces a crucial test, Paul Jenks, LeFors High school student, told members of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Jaycees regular weekly luncheon this week at the Schneider hotel.

Jenks was one of the two speakers in the Jaycees Top O' Texas Americanism oratorical contest. This week the other speaker representing Claude High School. Both speeches were broadcast over Pampa radio station KPDM.

The speech of the LeFors entrant, "Democracy is preparing to fight its battle of existence. It has been challenged and the struggle is now on. If democracy lives through this Dark Age then life and liberty shall prevail and that government of the people, by the people, shall not perish from the earth."

"Democracy is too easily assumed to be a pattern of government based upon special political bodies and offices. Actually democracy is a spirit, not a form of government. This spirit must prevail in each heart or democracy shall not prevail. Ours is a government by free men, not of one man; of democratic principles, not of dictatorial dogmas. We in America enjoy very many privileges and freedoms not known to people of other countries because we live under democracy. Now that democracy is being challenged by totalitarian ideas of government. These totalitarian governments want to see our individual rights and personal privileges of free men destroyed.

"I, like most Americans, do not realize the importance of free speech which we enjoy today. Free speech was one of the immortal privileges our forefathers fought and died for. The freedom to speak your ideas about the government, to criticize anything you see fit, and not having the fear and dread of being heard, and of being punished for expressing an honest opinion.

"You and I think very little about the right of free press. We take it for granted not as a privilege. In foreign countries only the things which will further the cause of the government will be published. In America we print news as it happens, fighting causes which we think are wrong, printing what we see fit.

"We have the privilege to worship as we please. Jew or Gentile. Our forefathers brought and founded our democracy on religion, because it was not a privilege in their home country. Today we still have that privilege.

Democracy is the preserver of personal independence and the champion of the principal of authority. Democracy the American way means opportunity.

Democracy Defined

"Few people take the trouble of asking what democracy is. President Lincoln defined democracy to be the government of the people, by the people and for the people. This is a compact statement of it as a political arrangement. Theodore Parder said that 'Democracy meant not I'm as good as you are but you're as good as I am.' Thomas Marshall defined democracy as a government dedicated to the interest of the rights of man to life, to liberties, and the pursuit of happiness."

"We should make many sacrifices to assure democracy. Each should give up temporary freedom for lasting freedom. Each is expected to do his duty to insure democracy. Your duty may be in a uniform, or staying at home providing the financial end of the burden.

"Give the last ounce of your strength and the last drop of your blood to preserve the ideals, and principles of democracy.

"Many nations have fallen that once had the same right and privileges that we enjoy today, but they lost hope. Faith and hope are a necessary factor in the preservation of democracy.

"There is no use in being meek and wishy-washy about it. Democracy itself is on trial. Forces are at work in the world today which are determined that democracy shall no longer exist. It is a crisis, of course, but let us resolve, each of us, to resolve to fortify and strengthen our understanding of what it means to be an American and make a determined effort, if necessary to fight for democracy. I hope that we will not be called on to do that. We want only to live for democracy, as participating citizens in the community, state and nation. For God helps those who help themselves, and only those who do so."

British Advised To Leave Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand, Feb. 20 (AP)—British residents of Thailand have been advised officially that the removal of women and children is desirable as a precautionary measure. The advice (presumably by the British legation) was circulated last night, it was said.

The United States legation, however, made it known that no such advice has been given its nationals in Thailand.

Thailand's relations with Britain have become somewhat tense owing to concentrations of strong British and Australian army and air force units in northern Malaya, at her borders. A Japanese army spokesman declared yesterday that the arrival of several thousand Australian troops at Singapore was a "belligerent action" toward Thailand "which is cooperating with Japan in bringing a new order into eastern Asia."

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

Backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisons out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 16 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of sleep, and dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, stiffness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent uric acid passages with smarting and burning sensations down the ureters. Being wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

Petrolia Ward P-TA Unit Accomplishments Reviewed Recently

PANHANDLE, Feb. 20—Parent-Teacher association of the Petrolia Ward school of Panhandle announces the following accomplishments for the school year:

The association has 52 paid memberships with a school enrollment of 35 pupils; the study course outlined in National Parent-Teacher magazine is being followed, with Mrs. Carl Disney doing the teaching; two delegates, Mrs. J. L. Hawley and Mrs. Carl Disney, were sent from the Petrolia unit to the state P-TA convention in Dallas.

Only two money-raising events have been necessary to net proceeds required to meet the unit budget. A baked food sale was sponsored in October, and a quilt was made and sold by the association in January.

The project selected for the year has been the organization of a school cafeteria. Under the supervision of Mrs. M. F. Nurse, a balanced meal, including milk, is served to school children at a minimum fee. The cafeteria is operated as a non-profit organization.

The association also plans to buy records to supplement the school's music program. The room representatives, Mrs. Walter Pyle, Mrs. E. T. Lowe, and Mrs. M. F. Nurse, honored their respective groups with Valentine parties.

National Founders' Day will be observed by the Petrolia association March 28.

THREE STANDS, ONE DESIGN

Just see what you can do with this! One simple and inexpensive pattern! You can make a coverall apron that's pointed in the front, one that's cut straight at the foot, and a pretty little frill-trimmed tie-around. Thus it's really a three-in-one pattern, and endlessly useful. What you'll love about the coverall versions is that they go on easily over your head, stay put on the shoulders, and cover all vulnerable parts of your dress. In all three, the corselet waistline gives an effect of added slimmness.

This design (No. 8878) will be your favorite stand-by, not only for making your own aprons, but to use for gifts and church sales, too.

Pattern No. 8878 is designed for sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48. Size 36 requires, for No. 1 and No. 2, 2 1/3 yards of 35-inch material, and 3/4 yards trimming; for No. 3, 1 1/2 yards of 35-inch material, and 3/4 yards each of binding and ruffling.

Annual Dinner Served At First Christian Church

Approximately 200 members of First Christian church attended the annual Brotherhood dinner Wednesday evening.

Flags of different nations decorated the room and globes were used as centerpieces to carry out the theme of fellowship throughout the country and other parts of the world where similar dinners were being held.

Greetings were read from other Christian churches, including those at Duncan, Okla.; Des Moines, Ia.; the three Amarillo churches, Lubbock, Wichita Falls, and Newton, Kansas.

Mrs. Alfred Gilliland sang "Roses of Picardy," accompanied by Mrs. Mel Davis at the piano. Following the invocation by the minister, Rev. B. A. Norris, the group sang "Holy, Holy, Holy."

The main speaker of the evening, the Rev. G. L. Messenger of Canyon, was introduced by Rev. Norris. His theme was "The Fellowship of a World Church."

Rev. Messenger stressed that Christian fellowship was the keynote of the early church. People became Christians then because they were living in great inactivity.

"We have allowed fellowship to mean only a small group in the church. How can we talk about world fellowship when we can't fellowship with the ones in our own group or locality. We must set our houses in order before we can hope to set an example to other peoples of the world. History moves in cycles because we won't learn from it." He questioned the fact that Christians really believed that Christianity was the answer for world peace enough to put it into practice.

The program was concluded with a free-will offering to help the brotherhood churches in England.

One Place of Peace Left in Europe

High in the sunlit Swiss Alps, yet undarkened by war, a parish priest celebrates the holy mass, a symbol of peace on top of a continent covered with conflict. Occasion was the placing of a great wooden cross at the peak of 12,869-foot Mt. Bietschhorn above the Lotschen Valley of Switzerland.

Masterstroke of Luck

Fifty years ago the father of Mrs. George Pelz, of Brooklyn, bought an oil portrait in an obscure Italian gallery. Mr. and Mrs. Pelz always considered it just another painting. Recently Henry L. Maloney, director of the Brooklyn Contemporary Arts Gallery, pronounced it an original Rembrandt, probably "The Banner Carrier of Amsterdam." He is pictured looking at the painting, whose value he estimates at $750,000.

Frequencies Of Radio Stations To Be Changed

Pampa retail radio dealers may expect a landslide business around March 29, when practically every radio station in this area will change kilocycle frequencies. The Pampa station will be changed from 1310 to 1340.

"Pushbutton" radios will be the worst affected by the change which is being made to increase broadcasting channels in the nation from one to six.

The idea in changing the frequencies is to clear up the radio channels. At the present time, stations almost overlap each other. In earlier days, before "pushbutton" tuning and limited receptivity, this meant little.

Here's how to adjust your automobile radio to the new frequencies: If your car has push button controls, it is a simple matter to adjust them to pick up your favorite stations when the shake-up comes.

If your radio has cylindrical buttons, here's how to change to the new wave-lengths:

Turn on receiver for 10 minutes or more by turning each counter-clockwise about half a turn. Tune in the first desired station manually and press in the first push button as far as it will go.

With the button held all the way in, tighten it gently. Then release it and tighten securely. After all buttons have been adjusted to stations, check the setting. Push each button and see if it is possible to tune the station more sharply by hand. If so, loosen and reset the button.

If your radio has the square buttons, procedure is the same except that the button is disengaged from its present connection by pushing as far as it will go rather than by turning.

This Story Smells To High Heaven!

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 20 (AP)—A carload of oats was figuratively pushed around in great circles here today because nobody appeared to want it under the circumstances.

As the story goes, Robert E. Dunn, grain salesman, sold the oats to the Seale Elevator Co., but when it was delivered out "wheeled a skunk."

What's more, two other skunks—both dead—were found inside.

The Seale company representative protested the deal. It smells, he said, and demanded a discount. A skunk, he continued, certainly comes under the ruling against foreign material in grain.

But Dunn refused to approve the claim. "Produce the live skunk as evidence," he said in effect, "and we'll discount. No skunk, no discount."

To settle the row Chicago officials were wired to rule who, under the odoriferous circumstances, owns the grain. Back came the helpful answer:

"The skunks, undoubtedly."

Method Of Lettering Grid Sweaters Proposed

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 20 (AP)—Coach Mike Casteel of the University of Arizona proposed today a system of lettering football jerseys whereby he believed Mr. Fan could more easily describe the plays to the little woman.

Casteel suggested lettering each player according to his position and numbering him odd or even with reference to his place to the left or right of the center, who would wear an "X."

Thus, left ends would wear the letter of their position and odd numbers, as H1, E3, E5, E7, etc.

Nazis Use Pictures To Warn French

PARIS (Via Berlin), Feb. 11 (Delayed) (AP)—The French are being told through posters and handbills these days "what they are losing" by failing to cooperate with the Germans in rebuilding their own country and Europe in general.

Recently distributed along with copies of Petit Parisien were three pictures.

One showed a German industrialist and a French farmer shaking hands. In the background were a busy farm and smoking factory chimneys. In the upper corner was a circular inset of a prisoner returning from a German prison camp to the outstretched arms of his wife and children.

The second picture showed a vaillant Petain trying to rise above the wrangling of petty politicians, Jews, money changers and seekers of special favors with the agreement of Montoire in this regard.

The third picture contained a warning—a future without collaboration was depicted as a flaming barren waste, all prosperity wiped out and the entire landscape overshadowed by a dark flame and red- dened clouds.

French Incredulous At Clothes Rationing

By PRESTON GROVER
PARIS (via Berlin) Feb. 13 (delayed) (AP)—Drastic clothes rationing restrictions on the German model went into effect in Paris today, but met a somewhat incredulous reception from the French, whose attitude toward regulations is well known.

Clothing cards cover such articles as stockings, dresses, overcoats, and suits. Only one card is to be issued to a person for the year. It permits purchase of clothing totaling 150 points, and a woman's wool garment would take about 50 points.

Thirty-five of the leading French designers were exempt from the regulations, however, so Paris can still qualify as a fashion center.

As a result, the wealthy woman can pay her 1,000 francs for as many high-culture models as she wants, but a woman in the middle-class will be strictly rationed when it comes to purchasing a 100 or 200-franc frock.

A reporter who went the rounds, however, discovered the idea had not penetrated deeply into the consciousness of either storekeeper or customer.

Some stores were shut for inventory, but others were selling freely of everything from suits to handkerchiefs.

"The regulations really didn't go into effect today," explained one merchant.

"If a man needs a suit, he needs a suit—and there are ways," explained another, waving his arms, as he offered to take an order for a suit—"now or later."

Auld's President Of Junior Stamp Club

Jim Bob Auld was elected president of the Pampa Junior Stamp club at a meeting last night in the city commission room attended by 12 members.

Other officers elected were Patty Jo Burrow, secretary-treasurer; Bonnie Nell McBe, reporter; Dudley Holman, program chairman; and Keith Robinson, assistant program chairman.

Next meeting of the club will be March 19 when new members will be welcomed.

This air raid shelter outfit, shown at the recent Empire Fur Show in London, is called a siren suit. "Siren" refers to the air raid warning, not to suit's wearer. The baby waddy ur, which can be worn inside or out, comes from Australia.

Hitler Takes Every Third Freight Car In Conquered France

VICHY, France, Feb. 20 (AP)—Transportation authorities asserted today that Germany had requisitioned 520,000,000 worth of the rolling stock of French railways—every third freight car in France. Of the remainder, only one quarter are in the unoccupied zone—60,000 cars to serve two-fifths of the nation.

Before the war, it was said, France had 450,000 freight cars of 10, 20 and 30-ton capacities. After the armistice last June, the Germans began to requisition them systematically, taking mostly 20-ton cars. By November, they had taken 85,000 cars, and by January, had 65,000 more—a third of the total equipment.

Recently Germany returned 10,000 cars to the unoccupied zone, but these did not relieve freight congestion appreciably.

The result of the German requisitioning has been that, in addition to countrywide shortages of food and other materials, there have been even more severe regional shortages of provisions which are found abundantly in one section but lacking in another—in the absence of transport.

Louisiana Governor To Urge Rice Tax

LAKE CHARLES, La., Feb. 20 (AP)—Governor Sam Jones will fly to Austin Monday to appear before the Texas House of Representatives' committee on agriculture to advocate passage of a bill placing a tax on milled rice.

Secretary and general manager of the American Rice Growers Cooperative association, said here today, Brinkley said passage of the bill was necessary before a three-state compact between Louisiana, Arkansas, and Texas providing for increased advertising of rice and rice products would go into effect. Similar bills have been passed by the Louisiana and Arkansas legislatures, he said.

The bills provide for a two-cent tax on every 100 pounds of rice, revenue to be derived from the tax to be used in increasing the consumption of rice throughout the nation.

'World's Richest Indian' Works At Filling Station

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 20 (AP)—Multi-Millionaire Willie Taylor, new claimant to the title of "world's richest Indian," works at a filling station for $18 a week because he wants to "set a good example for my tribe."

Nor is the job just a playboy's fancy. He's been doing common labor in service stations more than a year, despite his flock of oil wells and a fortune he estimates at approximately $8,000,000.

"Most rich Indians are lazy," Taylor declares. "They figure they will never have to work, so they never try to make themselves capable of earning a living. I want to show my tribesmen that work hurts nobody."

Bulgaria Will Not Join Axis, Says Turks

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Feb. 20 (AP)—Officially controlled Turkish newspapers said today that the Bulgarian-Turkish non-aggression accord is insurance that Bulgaria will not join the Axis and that it actually constitutes an obstacle to any German advance through Bulgaria to Greece.

"Bulgaria promises not to enter the tri-partite pact," said the newspaper Vakit.

"It would not be easy for Germany to go to fight in Greece against the Greek and Turkish army unless the way had been thoroughly prepared as in Rumania and this declaration makes this preparation more difficult."

Nazi Bombs Kill Hospital Patients In South Wales

LONDON, Feb. 20 (AP)—The industrial port of Swansea, in south Wales, and London, where bombs wrecked one block of large municipal hospital, killing several patients and a nurse, bore the brunt of last night's attacks by the German air force.

The government said bombers raked Swansea with high explosives, damaging "a considerable number of houses and business premises."

A direct hit was scored on the London hospital, demolishing a part of it and killing several patients in their beds. One nurse's body was found under the wreckage.

Other patients were buried in debris. Rescue squads, doctors and nurses worked by the rays of flashlight through the night to release them.

Rescue work was halted when a delayed action bomb was discovered near another wing of the hospital. The patients were quickly removed. All trapped survivors had been extricated by dawn.

A children's hospital in another part of London was damaged but there were no casualties.

Longhorns Lose To Baylor 52 to 48

(By The Associated Press)

Arkansas can put the finishing touches on its campaign for the Southwest Conference Basketball championship this week-end.

If the Razorbacks take two games from the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs at Fort Worth Friday and Saturday it will be over.

Only Southern Methodist retains a chance of beating the Forkers out-and to do so the Mustangs would have to win their four remaining games while Arkansas was dropping four.

Texas faded from the chase last night when the Longhorns lost to Baylor 52-48, their fourth loss.

Pilot Forced Down

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 20 (AP)—Pilot B. L. Cook, California flier overdue on a flight from Winslow, Ariz., to Albuquerque last night was reported safe early today after being forced down at Cuba, N. M., northwest of here.

CAA officials said Cook telephoned them that weather had forced him down. They said he gave no other details.

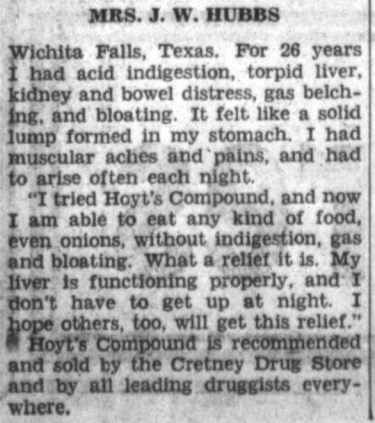

Even Eat Onions Now That Hoyt's Aids My Stomach

"I tried Almost Every Medicine Without Relief," says Texas Lady; "Then Hoyt's Compound Bonified Stomach Misery."

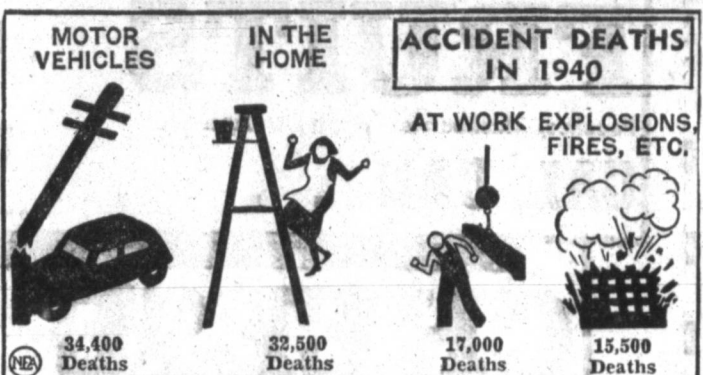

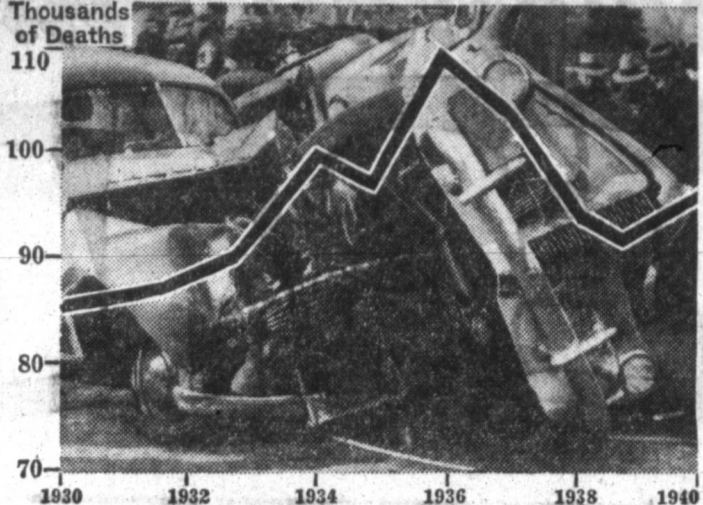

"Thanks to Hoyt's Compound I no longer have aches and pains, headache, or kidney distress," declares Mrs. J. W. Hubbs, 1321 Third St., Wichita Falls, Texas. I had muscular aches and pains, and had to arise often each night.

"I tried Hoyt's Compound, and now I am able to eat any kind of food, even onions, without indigestion, gas and bloating. What a relief it is. My liver is functioning properly, and I don't have to get up at night. I hope others, too, will get this relief."

Hoyt's Compound is recommended and sold by the Crestney Drug Store and by all leading druggists everywhere.

REPORT

ering Thailand, and Japanese warships were reported massing in the Gulf of Siam.

And in Washington, Japan's new ambassador, Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, left no doubt that Japan is bent on further southward expansion in the Pacific—"Peacefully and economically" if possible.

"I cannot say with absolute definiteness that Japan will not resort to force."

Dispatches from Shanghai pictured Japan in the curious role of "demand" mediator in the conflict between Thailand and French Indo-China, making sweeping military and economic claims on the two countries while supervising their "peace conference" in Tokyo.

Previously, Japanese officials had asserted their only motive was to restore peace, denying that Japan would exact concessions as a price for her mediation.

At the same time, Japan appeared to be rapidly building in her "airial balloon" suggestion that Japan might mediate in the European war. Domel declared that "particular exception is taken to the London version of the 'peace offer by Japan' of which, in the view of the whole Japanese (public), there could be no question."

Whether the so-called "offer" was a piece of devious strategy inspired by Japan's Rome-Berlin Axis partners remained obscure.

The specter of Nazi intervention continued to hover over Greece as her small but tough army fought to retain the initiative against Italy in an Albanian campaign that appeared to be stalemated.

Although the Greeks reported new local successes, there was no indication of material change in the battle lines, and observers drew the conclusion that the Italians, aided by the weather, were recovering from early reverses.

Leads of news from Balkan capitals served only to increase speculation concerning the intentions of the Germans, who—with troops massed along the Bulgarian-Rumanian frontier—were casting a menacing shadow over Greece.

Equally enigmatic was the attitude of Turkey, whose recently negotiated non-aggression pact with Bulgaria had been interpreted in some quarters as indicating the German plan to consider an adverse factor in Axis encroachment in southeastern Europe.

The Turkish press and radio, however, insist that the pact could in no way be regarded as a German plan to consider an adverse factor in Axis encroachment in southeastern Europe.

"We are Greece's best friends," one Turkish newspaper asserted. "We believe in her and we know victory will be hers."

Other Istanbul papers characterized the treaty as the beginning of "a new Balkan entente," and said that if war became general in the Balkans it would be Germany's responsibility.

There was no immediate Japanese reaction to the action of the United States House of Representatives in passing and sending to the senate a bill which would provide funds for expanding and improving U. S. naval stations at Guam and Samoa.

Yeah, Just A Few Goldfish In Pool

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 20 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Stecker's goldfish are a problem. Just watering them is no itty bitty job.

The Steckers bought a home. Its previous owner suggested: "There are a few goldfish in the pool in the back yard. You'd better seine them out before the pool freezes."

Mrs. Stecker and a nurse, armed with flashlights and a seine, caught 50 fish and put them in a tub in the basement. Next morning they rescued 156 more.

Now there are two wash boilers and a huge tank in the basement and three aquariums upstairs—all thronging with goldfish.

"Mr. Stecker," admits his wife, "believes we have a few too many."

Texarkana Factory

TEXARKANA, Feb. 20 (AP)—Damage estimated at more than $50,000 resulted here last night from a fire that swept the main factory building and an annex at the 15-acre W. S. Dickey Clay Manufacturing company plant.

The firm held some defense contracts for sewer pipe for army camps and air fields. H. P. Williamson, vice-president of the company said, but he added that these contracts did not constitute the principal production of the plant.

Origin of the fire was unknown but an explosion was heard in the factory building shortly before the flames began sweeping the structure.

45th Division To Be Transferred

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP)—The transfer of the 45th division from Fort Sill, Okla., to Camp Barkeley, near Abilene, Texas, will be made about March 1, the war department announced today.

The division is a national guard unit composed of troops from Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona, plus some selective service recruits. Its present strength is between 9,000 and 10,000 men.

The movement to Camp Barkeley will be made by rail and motor carriers.

Army Estimated At 867,000 Men Now

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP)—The war department estimated the strength of the American army today at approximately 867,000 officers and enlisted men.

The 62,000 officers on duty included 14,000 of the regular army, 14,000 national guard officers and 34,000 reserve officers on extended active duty.

DIVORCEE

soph Goebbel's an dField Marshal Herman Goering all assured Mrs. Crockett that Wiedemann, consul general here since March, 1939, was properly doing his consular work and also his duties as "chief of the espionage service" of the German government in this country.

Hoecker said Wiedemann's version of his relations with Mrs. Crockett shaped up in the following manner:

She came to the consulate in the spring of 1939 and professed interest in the Nazi philosophy and wanted to work for Germany in this country. But Wiedemann told her he had no place for her.

That summer, she wanted to go to Germany and asked Wiedemann for a letter of introduction to German movie industry leaders. Wiedemann tried to dissuade her, but reluctantly gave her a letter to a Mr. Paul, German film leader.

In the spring of 1940, Mrs. Crockett wrote from New York that she was ill and needed money. Wiedemann charitably sent her $100. In November she asked for a $500 loan, which Wiedemann refused.

"The upshot of it was this suit," Hoecker said, "and the business about propaganda and espionage was obviously inserted to prejudice the case."

Kansas Team Will Play In Mexico

Coach Johnson said the team also might play a series at Monterrey or Torreon before returning to Kansas.

Clarendon Postmaster Dies At Amarillo

CLARENDON, Feb. 20 (AP)—Forest Taylor, 51, postmaster and member of a prominent West Texas pioneer family, died today in an Amarillo hospital from complications following influenza.

Born on the old Hart ranch in 1889, he had lived here since.

Connected with the First National bank of Clarendon for several years, Taylor was appointed postmaster in 1936.

The army has reportedly placed orders for trailers to be used in military locations where housing is inadequate.

Fields Report Strengthening Of Crude Demand

By EDWARD CURTIS
TULSA, Okla., Feb. 20. (AP)—A strengthening of crude oil demand was reported in many mid-continent fields today.

Crude markets were said to be strong with most buyers seeking new connections.

So far this year, crude production has remained under that of a year ago when stocks were built up sharply.

With the industry still worried over the threat of possible federal control, congressmen on the Cole subcommittee of the house of representatives planned conferences this week with oil men in Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma.

New Orleans, Baton Rouge, East Texas, Houston and Oklahoma oil centers were some of the points to be visited before the congressmen return to Washington March 1 for a resumption of hearings on the bill about March 1.

While the industry still had not felt the full impact of expected increases in business because of defense orders, many marketmen reported better business in gasoline and heavy fuels, with scattered higher quotations reported for the latter.

State Compensation

Fund Plan Proposed
AUSTIN, Feb. 20. (AP)—Opposition forces were ready today to carry to the house floor their fight to kill a bill designed to take workmen's compensation from insurance companies and set up a state fund for payment of accident awards.

The insurance committee of the house of representatives voted unfavorably on the proposal following a public hearing last night.

Harry Ackerman, Austin, state secretary of the American Federation of Labor, urged passage of the proposed measure which Rep. Leslie Lowry of Beaumont, author, said would put workmen's compensation awards in charge of a state board.

Judson Francis, Dallas attorney, argued that "the ultimate purpose of the bill is to destroy civil liberties, the right of trial by jury in Texas," he charged it "annihilated" the "lump sum" provision of the compensation law, and "betrayed the best interests of the working man in Texas."

Others speaking in opposition were J. R. McDougald, Beaumont attorney, Ben H. Mitchell of Dallas, secretary of the Employers Insurance association and Porter H. Whaley of San Antonio, manager of the Texas State Manufacturers association.

British Need Little U. S. Farm Products
WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—Administration farm officials said today they saw little likelihood that Great Britain would require any appreciable quantity of American farm products in the near future.

This view was based upon an analysis of English needs, the present shipping situation, and the factors which caused Britain to restrict its imports of United States agricultural products after the war started.

When the war began England cut down on purchases of American farm products to conserve foreign exchange for purchase here of airplanes, munitions and other tools of war.

Since that time, England has taken steps to expand domestic production sharply as well as to reduce requirements by imposing the rationing system.

Solon Introduces Sales-Resource Tax
AUSTIN, Feb. 20. (AP)—A sales-natural resource tax constitutional amendment similar to the one endorsed two years ago by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, was introduced today by Rep. James E. Taylor of Kerens.

Taylor said the resolution would impose a two per cent general sales tax with the exception that food and cheap clothing would be exempt. It also would boost natural resource taxes 25 per cent.

At the same time, Taylor introduced a constitutional amendment to levy a net income tax on corporations and individuals making $3,000 a year or more, and double the corporation franchise tax. The Navarro county representative said that he personally preferred to sale-natural resource proposal because he did not believe the other would yield enough money, but he wanted the legislature to take its choice.

Some legislators believed that the impending tax controversy in the current session might eventually resolve itself into a sales tax fight. Others were of the opinion that the legislature might obtain sufficient money from an omnibus bill, including heavier levies on natural resources.

Closed World Or Open World

Putting aside for a moment the principal issue of Wendell Willkie's recent appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations committee, let us look at the last paragraph of his prepared statement. It is worth reading and re-reading, because in it he so succinctly and clearly stated the great issue which divides the world.

"That world cannot be a closed world. It must be an open world," he said.

There Willkie put his finger on the broad issue between the free nations of the world and the totalitarian nations. It is not a question of forms of government.

It is fair to say that the rest of the world was maddeningly indifferent when Mussolini seized power in Italy. True, the world gazed a little when the castor oil heroes swept across Italy, and shuddered when various freedom-loving people were summarily put to death.

So with Germany. The rise to power of Hitler was viewed with a similar indifference as long as it appeared to be a purely German matter.

Then it gradually became apparent that no totalitarian system was, or could be, content with that. The nature of all three demanded constant interference with the affairs of other countries.

They made exclusive trade agreements, which effectively barred others from normal markets. They closed their communications, their libraries, their minds, as they closed their borders.

Behind The News

Pampa News Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—There's still a little bit of jealousy between the regular army officers and the experts brought in from private industry to speed up the defense effort, and that's only to be expected.

Privately, army officers will admit that the bright boys from Sears Roebuck, A. & P., Penney and other chain outfits are teaching them all kinds of tricks about buying, and as a result, the entire supply system for the service is being modernized so the government will buy on a buyers' market when prices are low, and the national economy will be stabilized by putting some seasonal industries to work in slack periods.

Out of the original $13 billion appropriated for the defense effort, all has been allocated except a matter of some $600—mere chicken feed. That doesn't include the supply bills to keep the services going, but that's where the smart buying comes in. It explains also the need for the current $175 million appropriation bill which will enable the quartermaster corps to buy food and clothing.

Take food. It will cost three-quarters of a million dollars a day just to feed an army of a million and a half men. Yes, a day.

To do that trick, the chain store boys have set up three principal purchasing offices to supervise the job for the whole country. New York will buy meats, cereals and non-perishables. Chicago will buy meats, flour and cereals. San Francisco will buy fruits and vegetables. The lines aren't hard and fast, but those are the main divisions.

Supplementing that, there will be 36 zone offices, one in each of the 12 main and 24 branch federal reserve districts, which will buy stuff locally for the camps in its zone. All this buying will be done under the army quartermaster corps, with a civilian expert sitting in to advise.

Under the old setup, the Q. M. from each camp would do his own buying. Sometimes, when there were three or four camps in the vicinity of one market town, the Q. M.'s would drive up with their trucks early in the morning, go into competition with each other for supplies, run up prices, and by noon have the market so cleaned out there wasn't anything left for the local housewives. The new idea is to eliminate all that. Furthermore, truck farming in the vicinity of each camp is to be encouraged, so that areas will be largely self-supporting.

Take clothes—take overcoats. Right now is the slack season in the overcoat making industry. All coats for this winter have been made, and they haven't started on the coats for 1942. The army will need nearly a million overcoats, for next winter. It owns the cloth, so it will soon let contracts to cut, make and trim next winter's garments.

Take shoes. A soldier wears out four pairs a year. Carter Glass wonders how Washington's men got thru that winter at Valley Forge, when the revolutionaries didn't have any shoes at all, but since this won't be

Common Ground

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the share of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

EMPLOYER GETS TOO LARGE SHARE A correspondent, in defending an arbitrary wage established by collective bargaining, says there were 33 persons in the United States in 1934 who received $57,774,000.00. He inquires as to whether those men who work for individuals with such incomes could not have received larger pay without in any way affecting other laborers.

The answer is that they could not. The only exception would be that those who received the larger pay had saved this extra gift-pay and invested it as wisely as those who had the $57,000,000 income. And if they invested it, their living standards for the time being would not have been better. It is not at all probable that those people who wanted a gift-wage—and that is all an extra wage above what others would do the same thing for—is would have invested it as wisely as those men who had demonstrated their ability to have such income.

The correspondent also says that the writer has said repeatedly that none of these millions from these large incomes was used for new tools. The writer never made any such statement. We have repeatedly said that only a part of it was invested for new tools. The correspondent also says that none of this was needed for materials and labor.

Evidently the correspondent knows what is needed, knows that the inventions and improvements are all made. To make such a statement shows the writer to believe that all knowledge and foresight is based in his own judgment. This, of course, is an absurdity. He is like the President, who says our industrial plant is built. People without foresight have been making this same kind of a statement for centuries.

I would ask the correspondent, if Ford had paid out his profits in gift wages, whether he could have supplied as good a car as he has for the money? And if he could not have supplied as good a car for the money, then would not all the real wages of all other workers who wanted to own a car have been less? Is not a real wage what the individual can get for the money received? And if men had to work longer to get enough money to get a car, because profits had been shared, would this not then reduce all the real wages of all people who wanted to spend their wages for cars?

And if the result was lowering the wages of car owners, because of sharing profits in automobiles, by some collective bargaining scheme forcing up wages, then the effect would be the same in every other line of industry that retarded the accumulation of capital.

The man asking the question seems to think there is some profit that can be too large. This belief is not true. The inquirer cannot write an impersonal, mathematical rule by which he can determine when the share of the employer is too large, provided the employee or any other entrepreneur has a right to go into the business where the profits seem too large.

Any one who is confused on this subject can get a thorough explanation of how any arbitrary wage fixed by force or emotion lowers the real wages of all other workers, if he will read "Ethics and Economics" by J. A. R. Marriott or "What Social Classes Owe Each Other" by William Graham Sumner.

LABOR UNIONS LENGTHEN HOURS AND REDUCE PAY

It is strange the number of people who actually believe that labor unions have been instrumental in increasing wages and shortening hours. The reason many people have jumped at this conclusion is that some groups have had their wages increased and their hours shortened and the number of people who have had their hours increased and their wages decreased, because of labor unions, has been so many and the cost has been spread over such a great area that it is not as visible as it is when the results are concentrated.

I was talking to the wife of a business man the other day and she actually believed that the poverty and misery in the centuries past were due to the fact that they did not have labor unions and laws to reduce hours and increase wages. She did not seem to have any conception that wages had been increased and hours shortened in spite of labor unions and laws, not because of them.

The only reason that wages have been increased and hours shortened is because tools enable men to produce more and consequently receive more and when men get enough in a shorter number of hours to supply their necessities then most men prefer shorter hours rather than the increase of material things that they would get by working longer hours.

There is no need of any law to shorten hours. No man will work when he prefers leisure to more material things.

Truly, labor unions lengthen hours as a whole and lower wages; that is, they prevent wages from being increased as fast as they would be if it were not for labor unions and they keep hours longer than they would be if it were not for labor unions. And to keep things from benefiting mankind, is the same as lengthening hours and preventing wage increases.

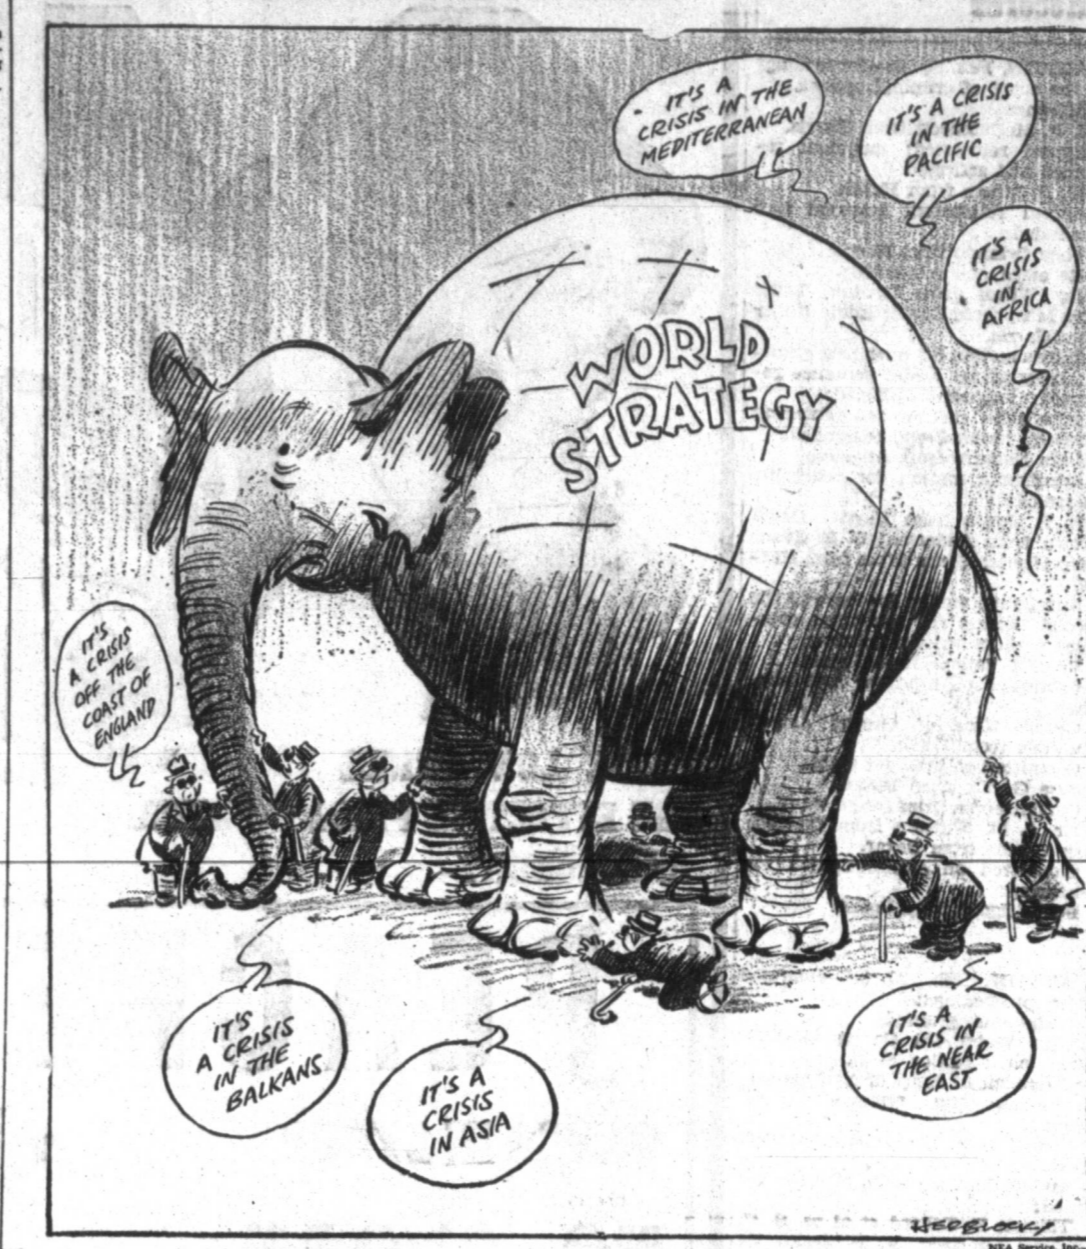

The columns are open for any defender of collective bargaining to refute the above conclusions: a barefoot army, shoe buyers have to figure how they can get six million pairs a year out of present factory capacity.

RUBBER, SOAP PLANTS TO MAKE POWDER BAGS

This matter of finding plants to make the things the services want is a problem in itself. More than 10 years ago the army began its big survey of industrial production facilities in the United States. Ten thousand plants were inspected, catalogued, and classified. The survey took into account how each factory could be converted to make war supplies. A corset factory, for instance, was found to be an ideal place to make gas masks.

For some supplies, the number of experienced manufacturers is limited. There are only about four companies that can manufacture explosives on a big scale—DuPont, Trojan, Hercules and Remington. The job of making 15 freight car loads of smokeless powder per day had to be turned over to them. That done, the problem of finding arms to load the powder bag for artillery had to be met. With few experienced firms to approach, the army looked around for companies with good records of plant management and asked them to tackle the job. Two of those who said "yes" were Goodyear and Procter & Gamble, and as a result, these rubber and soap companies are going into entirely new businesses, starting from scratch.

THE BLIND MEN AND THE ELEPHANT

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 18.—Scene-stealing is a form of dramatic art successfully practiced only by the slickest actors. And yet I have just watched a couple of lowly stand-ins trying to steal a scene for their principals.

I say "lowly" because stand-ins never are photographed but are announced. Actors who move or pose as ordered while the cameraman and director work out the lighting and mechanics of a scene before it is filmed with the real players. During the camera rehearsal with stand-ins, marks are made on the floor so the actors will know where to walk and where to pause so they will be in focus.

The man and woman who stand in for Brian Aherne and Kay Francis were on the set while a scene was being planned for "The Man Who Lost His Mind." Director Ludwig whispered, "Watch 'em edging back from the camera. I'll be doggone if they're not trying to upstage each other!"

It's an old trick, and you've seen it a hundred times. It was being done here, I saw to myself. Director Ludwig and I stood together and talking. If a steps back a little, B's only natural action is to turn partly away from the camera in order to face him. Thus an audience will see less of B's face and more of A's, and will keep its attention on A.

Similar attention-stealing trick is for A to maneuver B into a position in which B's face is in shadow. When the two stand-ins came off the set, the woman went to Miss Francis and said, "Don't you worry; I saw to that. No matter where you stand you'll be lighted. I didn't let that guy back away from me!"

SCENE STEALER GETS CUE ON HEAD

There are several kinds of scene-stealers. Children and animals are natural—because audiences watch them when they're not doing anything.

Then there are muggers, such as Mickey Rooney, and stationary acrobats like Jimmy Stewart, who likes to put his hands in his pockets and rock on his heels. Jack Oakie is the most notorious fly-catcher; even on location in Death Valley he'll invent some little piece of business—such as scowling and puffing at a cigar that has gone out—that keeps you watching him.

W. C. Fields is famed for once having swatted a fly-catcher into unconsciousness. It was during his pool table act on the stage. After wondering why the audience kept snickering, Fields discovered a rival comic hidden under the table and clowning in pantomime. He hopped the interloper with his cue.

On location in Death Valley recently I saw Bettie Davis challenge Jimmy Cagney for trying to steal a scene by reacting too violently. She was supposed to end a quarrel by pushing him backward into a patch of cactus, and thus it should have been her triumph. Instead, Cagney thrashed around and howled and went into such frantic contortions among the artificial stickers that a screen audience would have forgotten all about Miss Davis. As she later commented, he was practically committing suicide to win a laugh.

FLUNKY STEALS KING'S THUNDER

When Harry Davenport reminded over a 75th birthday cake a few weeks ago, he told of a classic scene-stealing on a night when John F. Sheridan was playing Richard III. In the fourth act a flunky rushes in and announces "My lord, the Duke of Buckingham is taken!" This

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

Pampa and the Panhandle will always be grateful to two former residents who visited here yesterday—M. K. Smith and E. D. McIver, both of San Antonio, and I will never forget to remember them with gratitude and affection. Mr. Brown who was with that ancient and honorable institution, the White Deer Land company so long, was and is known to all old-timers and to many comparatively new-comers.

Mr. Brown moved to San Antonio several years ago, but he has never forgotten that Pampa was his first love in America after he came over from England right after the turn of the century, and he still spends his money freely with the Boy Scouts, Salvation Army, and other civic projects.

He is still one of the town's most generous philanthropists. Said Mr. McIver of his fellow townsman: "Mr. Brown is one of the few men of means that I know who does not continually rail at paying taxes and who does not think the country is going to the dogs, and he is not stingy when worthy causes need to be supported."

Now as to Mr. McIver: He is the man who organized the Adobe Walls Boy Scout Council and he was its first executive. From Drue McIver this one learned that Scout would fall utterly if you did not follow these fundamentals: take the boys on hikes and camping trips at least every three weeks; get the boys who need it in the troops before you get the boys who don't; inspire the boys to govern themselves and develop responsibility in them—that was Scouting to Drue McIver.

McIver is always welcome in Pampa, and when they come back their many friends are never too busy to take time out to re-never association.

HIGHLIGHTS FROM LATEST BOOKS

By JOHN SELBY "AMBASSADOR DODD'S DIARY," edited by William E. Dodd, Jr., and Martha Dodd; (Harcourt, Brace; $3.50).

Today one of the indispensable source books on the decade 1930-1940 is published. This is "Ambassador Dodd's Journal," as edited by William E. Dodd, Jr., and Martha Dodd. The historian, Charles A. Beard, is a foreword, tries to explain how important the book will become. Its present importance is little less, if any.

This is because the crotchety Mr. Dodd was honest with himself sufficiently honest not to strike out of his diary the passages which future events proved wrong. There are not so many of these. It also is true because of the Ambassador's background.

Dodd was a Jeffersonian Democrat. He was trained in scholarship, practicing historian, a teacher of history, and a man of simple tastes. He had taken his doctor's degree at Leipzig, and he worked three years for it. It was not an honorary degree. He knew German scholarship, spoke the language, understood better than almost any of ten men the German mind. Had he had less sympathy for mankind, his diary indicates indirectly, he might have been more popular in Germany with the powers that were, and still are.

His diary shows that from his arrival in 1933 to his departure from Germany in 1938 (partly, he thought, as the result of opposition on the part of certain American officials as well as of Germany) he understood the inevitable course of the Hitlerian autocracy. The pro-Nazi bias, later corrected, of Neville Henderson puzzled him by reason of its lack of realism. The underground motivations of the armament makers horrified him. The position of the smaller European states aroused his pity and often his anger.

He often stated flatly what he thought, sometimes unattractively. And he never abandoned fundamental belief in two things—that humanity was worth saving, and that an attitude of isolation on the part of the democratic countries would permit war and perhaps cruelty the world.

Perhaps because his life as a teacher forced him to deal with individuals, he was able to maintain his general theses and to particularize them. He could struggle grimly for a democratic ideal, and put away a blue dress with white buttons that he had bought to save Hirsch, the poor young Jew who was executed for trying to murder Streicher, the Jew baiter. Perhaps this is the measure of the man and of his Diary.

That's almost kidding anybody in this section. The man was E. D. McIver, organizer of the Adobe Walls Scout council and former Pampa, now residing in San Antonio. He said there is no use kidding anybody about it, that's the way he feels.

READ a magazine article last night in which the author was having a hot discussion with himself about the question: "What colors in women's clothes most affect men?" It has been the subject of research in the New York clothing industry, now that New York has replaced Paris as the world fashion center. We used to say, for instance, that we liked any color evening dress just so long as it was black. But time changed that idea. This fellow in the magazine article says that a man of science told him that when a secretary wears a blue dress with white dots it puts the boss in good humor, that a girl in California says when she wears a watermelon red hat the male glances in her direction triple.

Wouldn't it be surprising if what's in the dress and what's under the hat also has something to do with it.

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Britain's heavy reinforcement of her great naval base at Singapore doesn't challenge Japan to combat, but it does at long last set up the blunt "no trespass" sign which has been gathering dust in John Bull's basement because of his heavy commitments in Europe.

Nippon has declared this to be a belligerent act. If the taciturn J. Bull said anything he presumably would term it merely a defensive move, although to judge from the determination and finality in his playing one might equally expect him to reply "So what!"

Whatever you look at it, however, it in effect calls for a showdown of the Japanese hand. John Bull is prepared for an argument. It isn't unlikely that Britain would get a quick response were it not for one circumstance. That is America's firm stand, not only as regards her own interests in the Far East, but as the all-out supporters of the British against the Axis powers.

Nippon appears to be rather painfully disturbed to read in the writing on the wall that Uncle Sam regards her in exactly the same light as Germany and Italy when it comes to the question of war on Britain. America's decision to strengthen her naval bases in the Far East has brought the change from Tokyo of "warlike preparations." The American and British moves, however, have made the Japanese pause for consideration, as is apparent from their disavowals of any hostile intentions.

Japan's chief concern undoubtedly is with our attitude. If she had to deal only with Britain, already hard pressed by the Axis in the west, the picture would be far different. The Japanese cannot afford to tangle with America. Quite apart from any military or naval operations, the United States could play havoc with Nippon by clamping a blanket embargo onto all our exports to her.

Since Japan is dependent on us for virtually all her essential war materials, we could just about stop her fighting machine altogether. The Japanese economy would be rendered desolate by such a move and by the severance of the vast ordinary trade between the two countries.

As things now stand the British and Japanese are fairly well set for a stalemate. The position is so tense that it would be too bad if somebody accidentally let off a gun, for it might start hostilities. The situation is this:

The Japanese, taking advantage of France's collapse, have established military and naval bases in French Indo-China. They have a considerable land force there, and a large fleet is said to be cruising in those waters. This gives Japan a powerful position about midway between Britain's Singapore and the Philippines, and only some 600 miles from each.

Singapore, which is one of the most powerful naval bases in the world, is the giant which guards the gateway between the Indian ocean and the Pacific—the lane between western Europe and the Orient. It is the guardian of the Malay peninsula and the wacky rich Dutch East Indies which the Japanese covet so greatly to further their program of self-sufficiency.

A successful attack on Singapore would just about make Japan at least temporary mistress of the Far East.

Despite these circumstances I see no reason to change the view previously expressed in this column, that Japan isn't likely to strike at Britain unless very sure that Germany has the war all but won.

DISTRICT BASKETBALL MEET WILL OPEN HERE TOMORROW

Booker Will Be Lipscomb County Entry

The 10 best high school basketball teams in the northeast Panhandle will be in Pampa Friday and Saturday battling for a district championship and the right to play in the regional tournament in Canyon February 28 and March 1, from which will emerge a team to represent the Panhandle in the state tournament at Austin.

Play in the local district tournament will begin at 10 o'clock Friday morning with White Deer and Perryton in action. It will be the only game of the morning because of the withdrawal of Canadian. Play will end on Saturday night with a single game.

Tournament officials decided to go "abroad" for an official and they approved a budget of $100 to secure Jim Lookabaugh, coach of the Oklahoma A. & M. college at Stillwater, Okla., recognized as an outstanding official. Before going to Oklahoma A. & M., Lookabaugh was for many years coach of the Capital Hill Indians of Oklahoma City, football foes of the Pampa Harvesters in past years.

LeFors Wins On Forfeit

Only one county champion has not been certified. That is the title holder in Donkey county. It is believed that Hedley will again represent Donkey county.

Two champions were named last night when McLean defeated LeFors for the Gray county title but forfeited by not paying an entry fee and Booker was named to represent Lipscomb county.

The Lipscomb county playoff staged yesterday ended in a three-way tie. Booker opened the tournament by defeating Darrouzett 14 to 12. Then Follett beat Booker 18 to 17. Darrouzett then came back to beat Follett 25 to 21. Rather than play another series the coaches decided to flip coins and Booker won. It will be Booker's first trip to the district tournament.

McLean's coach, Cricket Christian, discovered this morning that the school had failed to pay the $1 entry fee. He called Coach Francis Smith at LeFors and forfeited the game which allowed LeFors to be Gray county representative.

The Tigers were heartbroken because of the "slip" but they voted unanimously to withdraw and allow LeFors to represent Gray county in the tournament.

"We didn't know anything about the failure of the school to pay the entrance fee and probably wouldn't have," Coach Smith of the Pirates said today. "We certainly appreciate the sportsmanship shown by Coach Christian and his boys and if the rules would allow McLean to enter the tournament, we would not accept the forfeit and would allow McLean to represent Gray county."

Many Teams "Unknown"

Because of the unknown teams that will participate in the tournament, wise birds are not designating a tournament favorite. They lean, however, to the Pampa Harvesters because of victories over Berger, LeFors and White Deer. Berger is second in the running but the real strength of Perryton, Spearman, Booker, Shamrock, Phillips and the Donkey winner is unknown.

Admission to the tournament will be 15 cents for students and 25 cents for adults per session. That is, one admission price will entitle the spectator to see all games in one session. There will be one Friday morning, three Friday afternoon, two Friday night, two Saturday afternoon and one Saturday night.

Pairings for the tournament follow:

Friday:

- 10 a. m.—Perryton vs. White Deer.
- 1 p. m.—Booker vs. LeFors.
- 3 p. m.—Winner of Perryton-White Deer game vs. Spearman.
- 4 p. m.—Winner of Donkey county vs. Berger.
- 7 p. m.—Winner of Booker-LeFors game vs. Pampa Harvesters.

McLean Wins Title But Can't Enter Cage Meet

Coach Cricket Christian of the McLean High school basketball team announced this morning that his team would not represent Gray county in the district meet here Friday and Saturday despite a thrilling 35 to 29 victory over LeFors last night.

The McLean coach said he had discovered that his school had failed to pay the necessary $1 entrance fee for admission to the district tournament and that he was withdrawing and would allow LeFors to play in the tournament.

Coach Christian said his boys were "heartbroken" but had voted unanimously to forfeit the right to play in the tournament.

It was a sportsmanlike gesture on the part of Coach Christian and his boys because the error might not have been discovered until long after the tournament if at all.

Coach Francis Smith of the LeFors Pirates said he and his boys would allow McLean to play in the district meet but since McLean was honorable enough to report their error, he would try to put up a good showing in the tournament as McLean would have done.

In announcing his withdrawal, Coach Christian said he and his boys would attend the tournament in the roll of spectators and would be cheering for the Pirates.

LEFORS, Feb. 20—McLean's mighty Tigers shot the works last night in Kellerville to beat the LeFors Pirates 35 to 29 in the third and deciding game of the Gray county high school basketball playoff. McLean will represent the county in the district tournament in Pampa Friday and Saturday.

McLean will play Booker of Lipscomb county at 1 p. m. Friday, and the winner of that game will meet the Pampa Harvesters at 7 p. m. Friday.

Cook and Bond led the McLean Tigers last night, Cook bucketing seven field goals and Bond six field goals and a charity shot.

Keeper Of Bees Mum On Purchase Plans

BOSTON, Feb. 20—President Bob Quinn is in "no position" to talk about the status of negotiations for the purchase of the Bees and, but it's significant that "pressure of business" keeps him in Boston today as his club embarks for pre-season training at San Antonio.

"It's still up in the air," said the 71-year-old keeper of the Bees in response to a query about progress of plans for purchase of the club's controlling stock by a syndicate of several men.

But Quinn is ready and willing to talk about his promising young ball club. He thinks it has a bright chance to finish in the first division and he expects the National league to stage a very close race for the flag this season.

But that doesn't mean he will stand pat with the youth-studded lineup which did so well in the last two months of the 1946 season.

"No baseball club can stand pat," said the forthright Quinn. "Even a championship like the Cincinnati Reds made moves during the off-season in an effort to gain strength."

8 p. m.—Shamrock vs. Phillips. Semi-final games will be played at 2 and 3 p. m. Saturday with the final game Saturday night.

NATIONAL A. A. U. CHAMPIONS

On Friday night in the Amarillo Junior college gymnasium, and on Saturday night in the Phillips High school gymnasium, the Phillips 66 Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., National A. A. U. champions, will battle the Texas Tech Red Raiders.

Hillbilly Steals Show In Houston Golf Tournament

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

HOUSTON, Feb. 20—Frank Stiedle, the heralded hillbilly better who breezed into the Houston Country Club Invitation Golf tournament like a March wind, faces the possibility of going out the same way today in the first round of match play.

Stiedle, colorful Hot Springs, Ark., hotel clerk, charmed the gallery yesterday in the qualifying session. He won a host of admirers, but bumped into a tart today in the person of Long John Barnum, the former Rio Grande Valley who was runner-up in the tourney two years ago.

Barnum, whose tee shots almost match those of Stiedle, figured to give the Ozark star a rousing reception.

Stiedle's performances struck the spectacular even before match play began. First, he was a late but welcome entry in the tournament.

Then he blew around the tough par 36-35-71 all in 36-34-70 to share medal honors with Reynolds Smith of Dallas and Billy Bob Coffey of San Antonio.

In the driving contest following the qualifying round, Stiedle didn't show up until the last man had pounded a shot down the No. 1 fairway. Just as the officials were about to give up and the crowd decided wouldn't have a chance to see this famed slugger in his specialty Stiedle appeared.

His first shot was out of bounds. His second was exactly one yard short of Ellsworth Vines' 288-yarder, the best previous effort. On his third and last try, Stiedle—who weighs only 165 pounds—sailed the ball 297 yards.

Stiedle had seven one-putt greens in the qualifying session, which balanced his iron troubles. Coffey, state champion shot a 37-33, and Smith a steady 35-35.

Coffey met Dick Nauts of Houston in another feature match today. Nauts, a perennial darkhorse, reported a 75 yesterday along with Barnum.

Jack Muger of Dallas, who also took 75 shots, was a decided underdog, despite his long and impressive tournament record, when he took the tee against Johnny Dawson, Hollywood salesman, who probably is shooting the most consistent golf of any nationally-ranked amateur.

Dawson's even par 71 yesterday matched the scores of Bobby Riegel, the driving champion, and Howard Creel Houston southpaw.

Vines, Ed White, former titleholder, Walter Emery of Tulsa, and other favorites apparently were in for little trouble in their opening tilts.

Junior High Intra-Mural Basketball Tourney Ends

The intramural basketball fans of junior high school will long remember Charles Hatcher, a blond headed carer from room 68. Charles made only two points in a basketball game played between room 68 and room 61, but those two points, made in an extra period, brought victory and the seventh grade intramural championship for his team.

With one minute to play, Dee Griffin sank a field goal which tied the score at six all. The final score was 8-6 in favor of Coach Mike Gavin's cagers from room 68.

The game was a thriller from the very beginning when Coach Jack Dunham hit the bucket and started his team off with a two point lead. Billy Gehlin soon tied the score and neither team held over a two point lead during the remainder of the game. Dee Griffin was high point man with four points. The game was well officiated by Glen Coats and Billy Gise, students in junior high school.

Before the game started, the student coaches seventh grade all-tournament team was announced. The boys making the team were: Dee Griffin and Jimmie Terrell, forwards; Mike Gavin, center; Jack Dunham and Charles Hatcher, guards.

In the girls' seventh grade finals, room 61 led by Captain Joyce Cloud, who score five points, won over room 65 by a score of 11-4. The fast breaking, smooth passing forwards from room 61 hit the basket from all angles. Captain Lucille Smith and the lassies from room 65 played bang-up basketball but just couldn't get the ball in the basket.

The best of sportsmanship was displayed by the student spectators, coaches, and players. It was especially pleasing to watch the losers, sincerely exhibiting traits of a good sport, congratulate the officials and winners.

The intramural sports program is carried on by the students and for the students. Every student in junior

Puerto Ricans Enroll At West Texas State

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

CANYON, Feb. 20—They made an understandable error in geography in coming to West Texas on the theory that all of Texas' climate is reasonably similar to that of their native Puerto Rico, but Beatriz Martinez and Gloria Solo are thrilled and pleased to be students of West Texas State college this semester.

One of their first acts on arrival was to write home about a dust storm. . . . Schacht's box office here and they expect to finish Puerto Rico, they explained, although hurricanes are not unknown. They are eager to see their first snowstorm.

They have been pleased by the reception here and they expect to finish Puerto Rico for degrees in home economics a year from now. They intend to teach in Puerto Rico. Each is 21 years old.

They selected West Texas State from a list of institutions given them by the dean of women at the University of Puerto Rico in Rio Piedras. They had fifteen days on a boat to study maps and encyclopedias about the Texas plains. What they had not anticipated was the vast size of Texas.

"Your great open spaces and sloping roofs are new to us," Gloria explained. "Puerto Rico is overcrowded, houses are close together, and the roofs are flat."

The Latin-American girls came to West Texas State to perfect their spoken English. They speak fluent Spanish and talk English quite passably. They are familiar with the customs, books, dances, and music of the American mainland, although their native customs are somewhat different.

As of June 30, 1946, there were in operation 28,745 miles of lighted airways in the United States, having 2205 beacons, and 296 lighted intermediate landing fields.

LeFors Boxers Win 6 Out Of 9 Bouts From Sandies

Earlier in the season Amarillo won from LeFors in a dual meet in Amarillo.

Billy Stroup of Berger was third man in the ring. Judges were Paul Hill of Pampa, Oran Gross of Canadian and Demaris Holt of Miami.

In an exhibition bout Elmer Lee and Lynn Fite, both of LeFors, staged such a fight that seconds threw the towels in at the same time and the fight was called a draw.

Meet results, LeFors boys named first:

- 80 pounds—Eugene Cooper dished Joe McLaughlin.
- 95 pounds—Donald McLaughlin lost to Glenn McDowell.

Tension High For Hearing On Tax Plan

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 20—Tension ran high today for what amounted to a virtual trial by jury of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's prize money-getting plan—his famed 1.8 per cent transactions tax.

Booked for a public hearing before the House of Representatives Revenue and Taxation committee this afternoon, the drastic proposal, termed a "pyramided sales tax" by opponents, mustered the support of at least one lawmaker, Rep. Clinton Kersey of Bridgeport.

Kersey, who adopted the bill after "he had talked vainly about for lack of a sponsor, asserted he was "loaded with ammunition" to refute arguments against it.

"The governor won't appear before the committee," the legislator said, "because, as he told me, he has already given us an overwhelming number of reasons why the bill should be passed."

O'Daniel wanted the tax, he told the lawmakers, because $50,000,000 additional a year was needed for bigger old age pensions, other social security functions, eleemosynary institutions, education, and retirement of a fund deficit.

Recalling the identical proposal died in Committee two years ago, many legislators expressed the opinion $15,000,000 more annually would be ample.

Nearly every transaction would net a tax, each time one and six-cents on the dollar, necessitating the use of metal tokens.

Arguments for the proposal are that every person in the state would be forced to contribute his share to the support of government, that the plan is fair and equitable and that it should be made to realize pensions and other governmental spending costs money.

Foes of the bill declare it would place the heaviest tax burden on those least able to carry it. They said they would pay far greater proportions of their incomes in taxes than the rich. The wealthy, opponents contend, would escape taxation because not all their income is spent on living expenses.

Silverton Wins Briscoe County Cage Tourney

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

SILVERTON, Feb. 20—The Silverton Owls won their 22nd basketball game Tuesday night with a win over Quitaque which gave them the Briscoe county championship.

The 36 to 16 score made the Owls' total points 994 to 597 for all opponents. The Owls have scored 552 of the total points.

The Owls are suffering from the loss of Rex Douglas, 6 feet, 2 inch forward, who has been ill for the past two weeks.

Silverton is still favored to place in the district tournament at Childress this week-end. Their first opposition at the tournament will be Quail.

CHILDRESS, Feb. 20—Leading the week's local valetic program is the annual district four basketball tournament, which will be staged Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at the high school gym.

Not only is the tournament the headline sports attraction of the week, it is practically the only athletic event slated locally during the next seven days. Nothing of any importance is scheduled for the first three days of the week.

The district cage show will attract a dozen and a half teams, provided each of the nine counties enter two teams. However, a maximum of 15 to 16 quaillets is expected to compete. Childress county will have a pair of representatives, the local Bobcats and Carey's Cardinals. The Cats won the county and Carey was the victor in the county round-robin playoff.

Winner Goes To Regional

Local tournament officials have not yet received the entries eligible contestants from the other eight counties. The counties in the district are Hardeman, Foard, Cottle, King, Childress, Collingsworth, Hall, Briscoe, and Motley.

Coaches and officials, from all schools eligible to enter the tournament, have been invited to attend a meeting here tonight at the high school to arrange the tourney bracket. The meeting will start at 7:30 o'clock.

A Change Has Come Over Joe Medwick

By GAYLE TALBOT

HAVANA, Feb. 20—The change that has come over Joe Medwick in 12 months is one of the most interesting and significant features of the Brooklyn Dodgers' training camp. It is something to be pointed out and marveled at, like the artillery-scarred hotel in which the team is quartered and the city's "legion of death" bus drivers, many of whom are still living after years of careening through the capitals' winding streets.

Medwick, for one of the few times in his stugging career, neither is holding out for more money or sulking over his salary. Instead of offering to punch photographers as he was just a year ago, he is whooping it up and grinning all over Tropical stadium for two hot hours every day and whipping himself into condition.

Medwick is happy and contented, and that is going to be powerfully important to the Dodgers in their drive to overcome Cincinnati in the National league. He was a great hitter even when he was dissatisfied at St. Louis, and if he can come back to thump the ball at about .330 in the clean-up spot for the Dodgers they will be very tough. In fact, the club's chances depend primarily on his doing just that.

Joe says he has recovered completely from the terrible beating he suffered last season, and looks it. His eyes are clear and sharp and he is meeting the ball squarely in batting practice. He shows no symptoms of aches at the end of the campaign, though some of the Brooklyn pitchers already are cutting loose with more speed than control.

To show how serious he feels about coming back and repaying President Larry MacPhail with a pennant, Joe has consented to give up golf completely until the end of the campaign. That means something to Medwick, for he is a golf nut, and has been known to get in 36 holes on a day when his club was playing a night game. He is the only player until the end of the campaign has asked to store his sticks for the duration.

Perhaps Medwick's example has helped to make the Dodgers one of the most cheerfully confident outfits in my experience. They're not silently sipping cocaine like the Yankees were in their last great streak, but from Durocher down, they'll tell you they're a good team.

FORGOTTEN LAND

The Church of England owns a forgotten acre of tobacco in the tobacco country near Franklinton, N. C. The deed never has been transferred; accrued taxes would amount to more than $6,000; but the property, though never improved, still is classified as non-taxable church land.

Well Rages But Godoy Will Make Argentine Movie

NEW YORK, Feb. 20—Arturo Godoy, who failed twice to bump Joe Lewis off his heavyweight throne, has the fight folks here in a dither about his intention of trying a third time.

Before he went home to Chile a couple of months ago Godoy signed a contract to meet Louis again on April 15.

But yesterday in Santiago, Godoy announced that he was preparing to go to Buenos Aires to make a movie with his pretty wife, Leda, and hoped that his date with the bomber might be set back to next August.

Right away Nat Rogers, matchmaker for the 20th Century Sporting club, disclosed that promoter Mike Jacobs was negotiating with Bob Pastor to fill the April date with Louis, and Al Weill, manager of Godoy, moaned over the prospect of his protegee losing another chance at the title.

Weill sent Godoy a cable and expostulated to the press his surprise at Godoy's preference for picture making at a time like this.

SERIAL STORY

DRAFTED FOR LOVE

BY RUTH AYERS

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY April plays her part up to the hilt... she makes her entrance... the storm of emotion... the hail beats as they reach Kent's home...

ESCAPE FROM AN AUNT

CHAPTER X

STEP by step, Aunt Elizabeth Carter descended the stairs... And with every step, it was to April Burnett like the ax falling, the loop tightening...

"Still afraid of Aunt Elizabeth, aren't you?" Kent was whispering close to her ear... "April's head went up, to a silly phrase darted through her mind... 'Your sin will always find you out.'"

All right, she'd take it. She'd face the music... She'd even be flip and pretend she had taken an impudent delight in the masquerade...

Aunt Elizabeth was at the bend in the stairs, coming closer at every second... April had never seen her before and now, even in the midst of her own torment, she could find herself studying the old lady with a certain detachment...

What had Kent said? "Still afraid of Aunt Elizabeth, aren't you?" That meant that Ann had been timid in the presence of the old lady... She found herself saying clearly, "How do you do?"

Miss Carter came closer, peered up at her with eyes as round and black as currant berries...

Kent said, "I've wanted you and Ann to meet for a long time, Aunt Elizabeth... 'Ann Burnett?' The old woman reached out a wrinkled, ivory hand... 'Ann, eh?'"

SHE looked closely at April, but there wasn't a flicker of recognition... April grasped the hand gripping her... anything foolish like fainting in a heap on the floor...

APRIL sat still, her hands twisting. Then, momentarily, her taut nerves relaxed... Aunt Elizabeth Carter was speaking to Kent... the eyes she turned toward him were neither sharp nor gentle...

She said, "Since Jasper isn't at hand to make coffee, you will go to the wine cabinet, Kent, and bring out the bottle of elderberry and a tray of glasses..."

pause by saying, "Let's all go to the library... It's the only warm place in this ark of a house... We're freezing, Aunt Elizabeth... Maybe Jasper could bring us some coffee..."

"Jasper," Miss Carter said, "has gone to meeting for an hour... With this, she led the way down the hall to the library..."

It was a big room, book-lined, with an open grate fire which burned in an orange and ruby glow... Aunt Elizabeth took the straight-backed seat at the desk, leaving April and Kent to sit together on the leather lounge...

A little alarmed by the aunt's bright and searching eyes, even though the danger of being discovered as an impostor was over, April launched at once into nervous chatter...

"We had a lovely day, Miss Carter... We drove miles out in the country for a steak fry... 'A steak fry?'" The tiny martinet of an aunt lifted her brows as if April were talking of a cannibal roast...

"Not at all, Aunt Elizabeth," Kent cut in loyally... "It's fun. Besides, Ann loves roughing it outdoors..."

Aunt Elizabeth surveyed the Ann who was April... "I shouldn't think so to look at her," she said... "She doesn't seem what is called, nowadays, the type..."

And now the black, bright eyes were taking in April's yellow hair and doll-lashed eyes and the blistered white hands...

April saw the look of chagrin on Kent's face and she spoke quickly... "But I am the type," she trilled and even to herself it was exactly what she knew Ann would have said...

"And hailstones, too, I presume..." Outside, the sleet struck the windows and the wind was a howling mob...

APRIL sat still, her hands twisting... Aunt Elizabeth Carter was speaking to Kent... the eyes she turned toward him were neither sharp nor gentle...

She said, "Since Jasper isn't at hand to make coffee, you will go to the wine cabinet, Kent, and bring out the bottle of elderberry and a tray of glasses..."

"Sure enough," Kent agreed... "Oh, not yet," Aunt Elizabeth said, and now her eyes were brighter than ever...

"I understand that you sing? It would be kind of you to let me hear a song or two before you leave..."

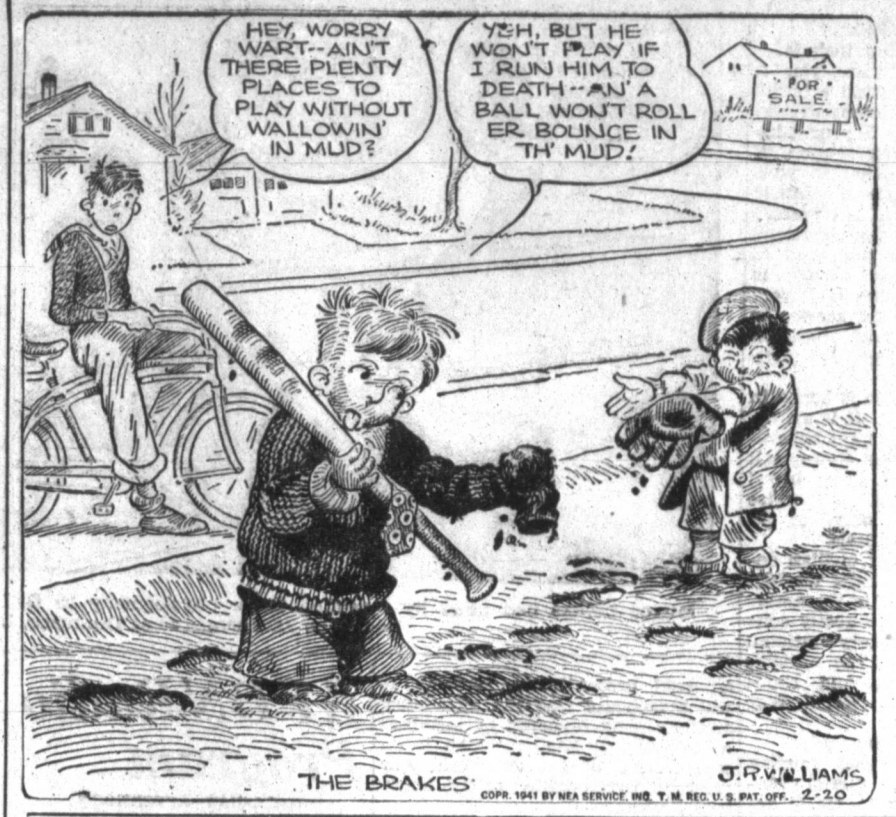

Kent turned to April... "Yes, Ann, sing for me..." But April, pushed by him, pushed by the door to the parlor where Aunt Elizabeth was already opening the keyboard of the piano...

"I'm going home, I tell you," April sobbed... "I can't sing to-night... I never could sing... I hate singing..."

With that, she opened the door and slipped through... (To Be Continued)

Former Scout Executive Guest At Rotary Club

A pioneer Boy Scout executive of the Panhandle, the man who organized the Adobe Walls council in 1928, was among the visitors at the Pampa Rotary club's regular weekly luncheon at noon yesterday.

He was Mr. E. D. McIver, who was the first executive of the council when it was formed more than a decade ago, and who was in Pampa frequently. McIver left the Panhandle in 1932 and since that time has made his home in San Antonio, where he is with a chemical plant.

Principal speaker at yesterday's luncheon was Walter E. Rogers, Pampa lawyer, who discussed oil and gas legislation.

Received as a new member of the club was Jess Rogers a geologist. Songs were sung by a quintet composed of Frank Foster, C. E. Ward, Winston Savage, Frank Baird, and G. C. Heard.

Visiting Rotarians were George M. Waddill and Forrest R. Barnes, both of Amarillo; Dave Metz and W. A. McIntosh, both of Borger; and C. H. Everett of Ardmore, Okla.

Other guests were Macon Ordor of Amarillo and the following, all of Pampa: Cliff West, Richard Pappin, Lee Bowden, Hampton Stennis, and P. O. Gaut. Attendance totaled 54.

Pakan Girl Wins Gold Star Award

Special To The NEWS SHAMROCK, Feb. 20.—Miss Dorothy Mertil of the Pakan community was chosen as Wheeler county's Gold Star 4-H club girl in the annual judging of the 4-H club girls of the county.

The committee, composed of Mrs. Carl Levitt, chairman of the Wheeler county Home Demonstration council, Marian Kings of Twitty and Josephine Noah of Wheeler, state that their basis of judgment was on the individual record of 4-H club achievements since becoming a member three years ago.

The Gold Star girls are awarded 4-H club pins by the Extension service and will be honored at the short course in July at College Station. Only one Gold Star award can be made in each county in one year.

Dorothy has served as president of her club for the past two years. She has served as chairman of the nominating committee of the county council, and is in her second term as secretary-treasurer of the county organization. She takes an active part in community affairs, teaches a Sunday school class and serves as reporter for her club.

She was selected as one of four girls from over the state to preside at a general session of the 1940 4-H club encampment at College

Legionnaires Will Answer 26 Queries In Questionnaire

Can you speak any foreign language? Have you had any police, fire department, or intelligence service experience? These are samples of questions which all local members of the American Legion and unaffiliated World War veterans will be asked in filling out their questionnaires in the Legion's nationwide voluntary national defense registration, Saturday, February 22, Commander Dan Williams of the Kerley-Crossman post 334, of this city, said today.

Registration will be held from 10 a. m. to 7 p. m. at the American Legion hut, 708 W. Foster, with Commander Williams, Joe Roche, adjutant, and Bill Heskew, sergeant-at-arms, in charge. They will be aided by several members of the auxiliary.

The American Legion national defense registration form is one legal size form in length, and contains 26 queries, Commander Williams stated. It also contains a list of 67 specific occupations, professions and trades, which are to be checked by each registrant. A space is provided for writing in vocations not listed. It was not possible to list all possible occupations.

Other Questions

Other questions asked include: Name and address? Are you a citizen? Naturalized or native born? Are you married? How many dependents have you? What is your education? What was your branch of former war service? What is your present military or naval status? Could you serve as an interpreter? What is your present occupation? How many years have you spent in your present vocation? What is the name of your present employer? Will you be available for service in state troops replacing national guards? What is your general physical condition?

An important question is boxed in the center of the form. It is an inquiry whether the registrant believes he will be able to answer to any call for immediate service, for general service anywhere, restricted service in home country only, or on part-time or full-time basis.

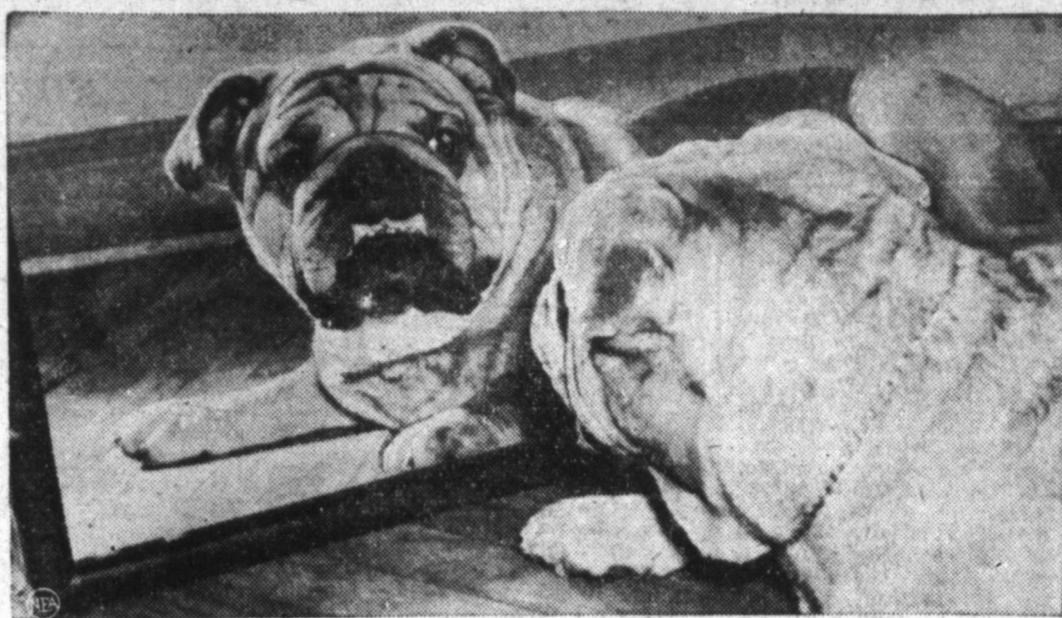

The present survey of civilian defense functions in modern warfare being made in England by an American Legion mission is directly connected with the voluntary national defense registration of the nation's 1,078,119 Legionnaires, and thousands of unaffiliated World War veterans.

Commander Williams said: "The American Legion mission overseas is headed by National Commander Milo J. Warner. He is accompanied by Past National Commander Franklin D'Olier and Major General Frank Parker, U. S. A., retired, a member of the Legion's national executive committee.

"The findings of this mission will frame the pattern of future American Legion home defense activities. What this mission will learn overseas will serve to supplement the American Legion's home defense activities."

Commander Williams said that the American Legion mission is studying civilian defense programs in Great Britain, particularly the development of aircraft warning and

Gas, Pipeline Firms Oppose Tax Levies

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 20 (AP)—A levy of $8,650,000 a year on top of what they are now carrying would hang an unfair load on the backs of Texas' natural gas producing and pipeline companies in the opinion of several witnesses before a legislative tax hearing.

That, in effect, was the testimony of a number of gas company spokesmen yesterday before the house of representatives committee on revenue and taxation which is conducting a series of public hearings in search of new ways to get money for social security spending.

While the tax group labored through the longest session to date, a senate committee whisked out a favorable report on boosting the daytime speed limit on Texas highways from 45 to 60 miles an hour but amended and sent to a sub-group a proposal intended to strengthen the driver's license law. Despite a scheduled public hearing and to the disgust of its sponsor, a proposed constitutional amendment upping the state's contribution to individual old age pensions from the current $15 to $20 went begging for action and was re-set for hearing Monday.

Unanimous approval, however, was given by the same house committee to a proposal permitting counties to transfer unused moneys in other funds for the support of hospitals and other charitable and relief purposes.

A senate committee recommended confirmation by the upper legislative chamber of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's appointees, Maco Stewart of Galveston and Joe Frost of San Antonio, to the state board of education. The group also approved a number of minor appointments.

On the request of its auditor, a bill which apparently would "take fire and police departments out of politics" by establishing a civil service system for such city employees was held over in a house committee following a public hearing.

The same group reported favorably by unanimous vote legislation authorizing Texas A. and M. college directors to borrow $1,494,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation to construct six new dormitories and other buildings.

The city manager declared one tax bill before the committee, as he interpreted it, would deny the right to charge utilities rental.
