

One Dollar for Crude Oil Is Prediction of Cicero Murray

STERLING HAS OIL PLAN

SOONER FIELD TO BE OPENED UNDER PRICE

Governor Bill Reveals Proposal to Convene Legislature or Submit Crop Curtailment to People Soon.

PLANS 2 BOARDS

Sooner Chief Talks Long and Loud to His Second Unemployment Session at Kansas City.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 25. (AP)—Cicero I. Murray, chairman of the Oil State Advisory committee, told the members of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce in a luncheon address today that the desired $1 a barrel price for crude oil would be in force throughout the state by the first of next week. He also said the Oklahoma City field would be open by that time.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25. (AP)—Gov. William H. Alfalfa told Murray said at his second midwestern unemployment conference here today he was contemplating calling a special session of the Oklahoma legislature to pass two laws, or to submit them by initiative petition, to curtail cotton and wheat production. The proposed law would provide for co-operation by other states.

The governor said he would decide within the next ten days whether to call a special session of the legislature, or whether he would submit the proposals to the people directly by the initiative.

The proposed law which would be designated to restrict production of both crops, would be effective under the governor's plan only in those states in the cotton producing states, in the case of that crop, and in a like number of wheat growing states, in the case of wheat, would agree to curtail production also.

Governor Murray explained his cotton curtailment proposal would provide that cotton be grown in Oklahoma in 1933 and 1934 only on one-third of the cotton land in that state, and that beginning in 1934 cotton would not be grown on the same land for more than two consecutive years. Other cotton producing states would have to agree to a similar program, however, before the proposed Oklahoma proposal would become effective.

A cotton control commission would be created, to be made up of the chairman of the board of school trustees in each school district where cotton is produced, these officers being used to avoid creating a political board, and when two-thirds of them called for an increase or decrease in acreage, the governor would order it by proclamation. This plan would be carried out also, throughout the cotton producing states.

A similar control commission for wheat would be created, the governor said, but in the case of this crop it would be planted three consecutive years on the same land, and the fourth year would be skipped.

Governor Murray said if he is assured the legislature will pass such bills he will call a special session of the Oklahoma legislature, or he can submit them by the initiative within 30 days. He said he would reach a decision which course to pursue within about ten days.

Pampa Day Is Set At Lubbock Fair

October 2 is Pampa day at the Panhandle South Plains Fair at Lubbock.

This information comes from Homer D. Grant, president of the fair, who through THE NEWS wishes to urge Pampa folk to attend.

He wrote, in part: "We will have the biggest carnival ever brought to Texas at the fair this year. We already have more agricultural exhibits spread up than ever before, and of course, with crops better this year, the quality will be improved. We have added a rabbit department. As a result of the large amount of home canning and preserving, the women's department will have many entries.

"There will be a football game each day and four big circus acts each afternoon and night. There will be free band concerts during the days of the fair. A fireworks display will be shown each of the six nights."

The dates of the fair are Sept. 28, 29, 30, and Oct. 1, 2, and 3.

CASE TO JURY

ANSON, Sept. 25. (AP)—The jury which will determine the fate of Jim Saffel on a charge of murder this afternoon was hearing attorneys' arguments on evidence presented in the fatal shooting of J. W. (Will) Windham, at Saffel's blacksmith shop last June 13.

Each side was given three hours. The case was due to reach the jury late this afternoon.

BANK CASHIER SHOOTSELF

No Motive Yet Discovered For Act of John P. Fleming, Archer City.

ARCHER CITY, Sept. 25. (AP)—John P. Fleming, cashier of the First State bank of Archer City, shot himself through the head in his office today. Physicians said the wound would probably be fatal.

When the bank was opened the cashier walked to his desk, drew out a pistol and fired the shot into his right temple.

Bank officials were unable to account for his action. A preliminary investigation failed to reveal any motive.

Another Sheriff Under Indictment

AUSTIN, Sept. 25. (AP)—Another Texas sheriff today was under indictment on charges of having demanded and received extortionate fees in felony cases from the state.

Two indictments were returned yesterday by the Travis county grand jury against J. J. Burtshell, sheriff of Tarrant county. He was charged with having made claim for and receiving payment of $2 for serving a subpoena and $2 for transferring prisoners. The indictments alleged he performed neither of the services.

Burtshell was the fourth sheriff to be indicted by the Travis county grand jury as the result of evidence uncovered in an investigation of the fee system and its irregularities by a special legislative committee. Members of the committee indicated other indictments against Texas county and district officials would be sought in the near future.

Other sheriffs indicted were Sherrill, sheriff of Burleson county; W. W. Levensett of Bastrop county; and John Bigham of Bell county.

Sob Tale Fails To Affect Judge

AMARILLO, Sept. 25. (AP)—Although he sobbed audibly as he begged the court for mercy, Hector Gaudin of Fisher county today was sentenced to serve 18 months in a federal reformatory for transporting a stolen car from California to Amarillo.

Cable, who has a wife and 7-year-old son, told the court he was trying to reach the bedside of his mother who was ill at her Texas home.

After George W. Jones of New Mexico had been fined $500 and sentenced to six months in jail for a liquor violation, Judge James C. Wilson set aside the fine and cut the jail sentence to 30 days when he learned that Jones' mother had furnished $1,000 cash bond in another case. Judge Wilson said he would not jeopardize the woman's money.

Average Salary of Employees $149.23

The average monthly salary of the 30 city employees is $149.23, according to City Manager F. M. Gwin, who had occasion to study the salary situation when making out his budget for 1932. The average was lower than he anticipated, although higher than allowed in the budget for next year.

"We may make a few changes and reduce some salaries for next year," Mr. Gwin said yesterday. "We are operating with the least number of employees possible," he said.

The city hires numerous unemployed men to clean streets and vacant lots.

HOME LABORERS SLAYINGS BARED TO MEET ON SATURDAY

A regular meeting of the Gray County Home Labor union will be held at 8 o'clock Saturday evening in the State theater building. Every member and prospective member is urged to attend the meeting.

B. J. Lane, president, said that "the attention of the union has been called to the fact that a report is being circulated to the effect that this union is only for the benefit of the unemployed. This is not true. This local union stands for the cooperation and the welfare of each and every individual and citizen of this county."

"We do try to discourage the use of transient labor for the sole purpose of keeping our money in this community, where it will benefit every individual and business house of this county."

Amarillo Man Severely Stabbed

ALAMOGORDO, N. M., Sept. 25. (AP)—V. V. Dickson, of Mountain Park, N. M., charged with stabbing J. H. Engman, Amarillo resident, after a quarrel which followed an automobile accident, today was placed under $5,000 bond.

Engman, whose condition is serious, was stabbed five times over the chest, the physician said he had slight chance to recover if no complications develop.

Dickson contended he stabbed himself in defense when Engman followed him up the road after the accident. Engman and his wife told officers that Dickson was the aggressor, and that they did not know he was armed until after he struck Mrs. Engman. Dickson flourished two knives while her husband attempted to find who was to blame for the accident, and that Dickson called her a swearer.

Dickson is a cauliflower grower and was en route to his home from El Paso. Two knives were found by officers in the weeds alongside of the road.

Texas Managers Going to Kentucky

Texas city managers who will attend the City Managers convention in Louisville, Ky., Oct. 7 to 10, will outnumber the representatives from every other state in the union, according to information received by City Manager F. M. Gwin yesterday.

At least city managers from 12 Texas cities will make the trip, according to the number of reservations already made. Ohio, bordering state, will have 10 representatives, according to the information sent to Mr. Gwin. City Manager Durham of Amarillo will be the only representative from the Panhandle.

The convention is one of the most beneficial meetings a city manager could attend, and I am sure that I will be unable to make the trip," City Manager Gwin said this morning. "The sessions are strictly business, and a person learns much of benefit to his city during the convention," he declared.

Fraudulent Check Evil Is Lessened

Through the watchfulness of Pampa merchants and the heavy fines being imposed by judges, the "hot check" practice in Pampa is decreasing. Justice of the Peace Todd Jr., declared this morning that he was clamping down on hot check ards before him would get the limit. Justice of the Peace W. S. Baxter also said he was through being lenient with offenders and that since raising his fines he was having less business.

"Merchants are becoming more careful and justly so," Carson Lotz, secretary of the Pampa Business Men's Association, said this morning. "The only way to play safe is to cash checks for no one that is not known," he said.

INJUNCTION IS GRANTED HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Manney Restrained From Disposing of Any Assets of Times.

District Judge W. R. Ewing today granted minority stockholders of the Pampa Times Publishing company a temporary injunction restraining Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Manney from disposing of or removing any of the assets of the firm. A hearing on the injunction will be held Sept. 28 at 1:30 p. m. in the courthouse.

In applying for the writ, the complaining stockholders said the injunction was necessary to protect their equity and that of creditors. They alleged that in the absence of a restraining order the assets of the recently suspended newspaper might be disposed of to their loss, and in a lengthy petition cited reasons for their beliefs. Recent employees who hold labor liens against the firm are waiting for an opportunity to liquidate their claims.

Mr. Manney recently announced purchase of the majority stock from J. D. Sugg, the deal involving transfer of the Manney Printing company of Amarillo to Mr. Sugg.

TRAYLOR TO BE BOOSTED AS NOMINEE

Kentucky Home Town of Former Home, Now Famous Bank President in Chicago, Plans Rally.

WILLING TO RUN

Financier Is Reluctant About Move to Make Him Demo Candidate; Silent When Issues Are Mentioned.

COLUMBIA, Ky., Sept. 25. (AP)—A home town boy who went west to make his money and made good in a big way was honored today by the home town he never forgot.

Thirty-one years ago Melvin A. Traylor, then a youth of 22, shook the dust of Adams county from his shoes and headed for the cattle country. He landed in Texas with $2 in his pockets—his total assets.

Today, as president of the First National bank of Chicago, he is one of the west's financial leaders and the choice of his own people for the Democratic nomination for president of the United States.

Civic and political leaders from all over Kentucky were here today to participate in a "home town rally" which they hope will give impetus to a move to send Mr. Traylor to the White House.

There were brass bands on the streets and a "country ham and chicken dinner" was the noon attraction. The afternoon was set aside for speeches at the fair grounds.

Started in Texas. The move to build up a "Traylor for President" organization was inaugurated in Texas where Traylor met with success as a cattle founder.

Kalms, already having been held in Hillsboro, Malone, and Ballinger, Texas, and similar meetings are planned in Illinois.

Mr. Traylor has not committed himself publicly on the presidential question and issues but friends here said he had indicated he would accept the nomination if elected.

He has declined to take any part in the preliminary movement.

Included in the list of speakers is Dr. William J. Hutchins, president of Berea college, Berea, Ky.

Daniel Upthegrove, St. Louis railroad official, was unable to attend the rally but sent a message in which he said:

"I think Mr. Traylor is the best man in the United States for the nomination for president for the reason that he can do more than anyone else to straighten out not only the affairs of this country but of the whole civilized world."

Mr. Traylor will not attend the rally. He visits Columbia each summer and spends several weeks with those who knew him as a boy.

With the exception of six strips, right-of-way through the county has been secured. For citizens have donated most of the right-of-way through that town.

Considerable property in Pampa will have to be condemned and this will delay the work. Collection of pledges is also holding up the program. A J. McAlester has been appointed collector and he will maintain an office in the White Deer Land building.

League Declines to Answer China's Plea for Probe

GENEVA, Sept. 25. (AP)—The council of the League of Nations rejected China's plea for examination of the Manchurian situation and announced its decision tonight.

The council's decision was announced in a statement which said the League's proposal to withdraw troops to their original position.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—A formal appeal from the United States that they withdraw their troops from the Manchurian danger zone today lay before Japan and China.

Coupled with America's plea was a request that the two avoid acts which might interfere with moves to decide the controversy peacefully.

Secretary Stimson last night dispatched cautiously worded identical notices to the two powers, expressing regrets and concern over the situation.

This official action followed informal representations made to the diplomatic spokesmen here of China and Japan.

The League of Nations, which had requested America to take action similar to its resolutions urging peace and withdrawal of troops, has been kept advised of the state department's actions.

MARKETING BY CO-OP METHOD NEW SUBJECT

Governor Suggests Basis Similar to That of Cotton Might End Waste and Help to Stabilize Industry

IS TOPIC NO. 17

Extraordinary Session Will End Tuesday Unless Decision of This Morning Withdrawn by Solons.

AUSTIN, Sept. 25. (AP)—Gov. Ross S. Sterling today submitted the subject of cooperative marketing of crude oil to the special session of the legislature. Cooperative marketing has been impossible because it has been prohibited by the anti-trust laws.

"It has been suggested," Governor Sterling said, "that if a law patterned after the law regarding cooperative marketing of cotton was passed it would greatly aid in the elimination of speculation and waste, and would possibly stabilize marketing problems of the producer of unrefined natural petroleum."

Other Subjects Minor. This was the seventeenth subject submitted by the governor within the last two days but most of the others were minor or local. Little hope was held that the special session would adjourn before next week.

A bill to permit the cooperative sale of crude oil the same as cotton was introduced shortly before the subject was submitted. The bill is sponsored by the Oil Producers Sales agency of Texas, of which Sam McCorkle of Mexia is secretary.

McCorkle said the suggestion came from California where producers have formed a sales agency.

The bill was signed in the senate by Nat Patton of Crockett, Tom Pollock of Tyler, W. R. Pogue of Waco, and Pink L. Parrish of Lubbok.

Relinquishment of penalties and interest on Texas delinquent up to October 20, 1931, if the taxes are paid by Jan. 31, 1932, was provided in a bill passed by the house today. It received enough votes to go into immediate effect if given 21 votes in the senate.

It was hoped by sponsors of the bill that releasing the interest and penalties on delinquent taxes would cause a surplus of funds to be paid into the state and county treasuries. Rep. E. M. Barron, of Sherman, author of the bill, claimed the relinquishment would be an incentive to property owners to pay their back taxes to escape the heavy penalties and interest.

May Adjourn Tuesday

AUSTIN, Sept. 25. (AP)—The legislature today set 6 p. m. Tuesday as the hour for adjournment of its special session which started Sept. 8.

While the action was not irrevocable, it was considered conclusive unless conditions should change between now and Tuesday.

The house this morning passed the tax relief bill submitted yesterday by Gov. Ross S. Sterling. The bill would provide for the relinquishment of penalties and interest on all taxes delinquent up to Oct. 20, 1931, if the taxes were paid by Jan. 31, 1932. It received enough votes to go into immediate effect if given 21 votes in the senate.

Advocates of the bill hoped it would cause thousands of dollars to be paid into the state and county treasuries which otherwise would not be paid because of the heavy accruals of interest and penalties.

PICKED WRONG MAN

BENSENVILLE, Ill., Sept. 26. (AP)—Jack Frost is on the job. He was standing in front of a filling station when three men attempted to hold him up. He seized two of them and knocked their heads together. Then he slapped the third one down.

After the trio had been taken to jail, they became curious and asked the jailer who was the stranger with the quick fists.

"Oh, that fellow," said the keeper of the lockup, "is Jack Frost. He's the chief of police in this town."

"Guilty Hands" Is Popular in First Showing in City

Large audiences last night heard and praised "Guilty Hands" which opened at the La Nora as the premier mystery drama of the movie season.

Looking back over the last dozen years, it may be concluded that murder mystery pictures are the most implausible and unentertaining of all films and almost invariably one quality is sacrificed for the other.

"Guilty Hands" is not without an occasional implausibility but it certainly is the most entertaining mystery film the screen has seen. Lionel Barrymore gives a superb performance, ranging from dry, sophisticated humor to potent dramatics. There are few tackle scenes that stand more forcefully than the one in which he demonstrates to Kay Francis how he would convict her of the murder of her lover Miss Francis and Madge Evans do fine work in the two leading feminine roles.

If you ever have guessed the solution of a murder story and like to indulge the effort, take a try at this one. Satisfaction is guaranteed, but not the satisfaction of being right. It is unfortunate that such an otherwise plausible story should be marred by the weak point of Miss Francis's easy discovery of Barrymore's cleverness. The solution is not without improbability also, but it is possible and what is more essential, surprising.

UTILITY RATES STUDIED

McALLEN, Sept. 25 (AP)—A three-day hearing on public utility rates of firms serving the Lower Rio Grande valley was concluded last night with a study of telephone rates. The city commission planned to consider findings on gas, electricity and telephone rates, basing its future action on testimony given.

GROVE GETS NEW RECORD FOR WINNING

Turns in 31st Victory As Compared to Old Mark of 27.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Not content with leading the Philadelphia Athletics in their greatest pennant-winning season in the American league and becoming the first left handed pitcher to win 30 major league games, Robert Moses Grove evidently is out to set a record for the boys to shoot at for a good many years.

Grove already has tied one American league record by winning 16 straight games earlier this season and seems to have clinched a new American league pitching mark as he won the thirty-first game of the year yesterday. So far the southpaw king has lost only three games against his 31 victories, giving him an average of .912. The record, which stands at least until this season ends, is the .872 average made by Smokey Joe Wood of the Boston Red Sox who won 34 games and lost five in 1912. It seems likely that Grove will not pitch again before the world's series, but he can even hurl and lose one more and come out with a record of .886.

Other Achievements
Lefty has done a good many other things worthy of note this season. In winning yesterday's game from Boston by a 9 to 4 count, Grove gave only five hits to gain a record for the season of allowing only 24 safeties in 286 innings, and by fanning four men he brought his strike out total, which leads the league by a wide margin, up to 109. The Athletics, as a team, piled up seven of their runs from the third to sixth innings to win their 100th victory of the season, two more than any previous team of Athletics ever has won in a season.

A pitcher far less seasoned than Grove scored a triumph that probably was as important to him in yesterday's other American league game. Oral Hildebrand, who came up to the Cleveland Indians from Indianapolis only a short time ago, bested the veteran Earl Whitehill of Detroit to win his second major league victory, 6 to 4. Hildebrand allowed only eight hits.

Big Jim Elliott of the Phillies turned in an enviable performance in the only game of the National league schedule as he held the Pittsburgh Pirates to five hits to win his 19th victory of the season, 5 to 1.

Many Benefit Games
A flock of exhibition games for the benefit of the unemployed kept five other major league teams busy and netted something over $78,000 for the jobs of New York and St. Louis. The results were something of a triumph for the American league representatives. The St. Louis Browns walloped Burleigh

At New York, the Yankees took the best claim to the city championship by downing the Brooklyn Robins 5 to 1 in the second half of a charity doubleheader after the Giants had defeated Brooklyn 3 to 1. The Yanks beat the Giants in another charity game two weeks ago to take the first leg on the title.

Then came through with a flock of home runs to win yesterday. Four batters by Larry Dickey, and Gehrig accounted for all but one Yankee run. The Giants also won on a homer when Johnny Vergez hit for the circuit in the seventh inning of the opener to break up a mound duel between Bill Walker and Austin Moore.

DEAN AND BOB HASTY TO MEET IN SERIES BATTLE TO COMPLETE TOURNEY

Barons, Hitting Again, Expect No Trouble in Disposing of Houston Buffs.

HOUSTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—The Birmingham Barons and the Houston Buffaloes will meet under the arc lights here tonight in the last and deciding game of the 1931 Dixie series.

The two teams traveled back to Houston yesterday, tied at three all as the result of Birmingham's sensational comeback when the Barons hammered four Buffalo pitchers Wednesday for 23 hits and 14 runs. The two teams were travel-worn when they arrived in Houston, but there was no lack of confidence.

Tonight's hurling duties were assigned to Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, illustrious Buff youngster, and Bob Hasty, veteran of many major and minor league baseball campaigns.

"We're hitting now, and no pitcher can stand up to the ringers in a statement attributed to one of the Barons stars.

The Buffs were equally as confident that Dean, who limited the Barons to eight hits and one run in 18 innings in his two other appearances against them, would hurl the Texas champs to victory. Some of Dean's most creditable performances have been under the lights.

Pampa Bowlers Defeat Borgerites

The Pampa All-Star bowling team won two out of three games from the Borger Hadly Ables on the Pampa alleys last night. The Pampa boys were hitting the pins from all angles, running up the big score of 1,001 pins in the second game. Each team rolled an 843 and an 811 pin game.

B. Thompson of the All Stars rolled the highest game of the night when he toppled 217 pins in the second game. He was followed closely by Powell, who rolled a 215 score in the same game. Murphy with a 200 pin game was the highest scorer for the Hardy Ables.

The score:

A 2,000-barrel oil well was brought in near Hamlin early in August, and two wells offsetting it have been spudded in.

Football Argument Also Includes Rain

"Rain fell between Amarillo and Hoover" stated the Amarillo NEWS yesterday. "Now why couldn't the Amarillo paper have said that rain fell between Amarillo and 4 miles east of Pampa," John B. Hessey asked yesterday morning. "No one except persons living in this section of the Panhandle knows where Hoover is located and therefore could not tell the extent of the rain," he remarked.

The rabid football fan declared that Amarillo was taking cracks at Pampa from every angle just because they knew Pampa was going to beat the Amarillo football team.

"Why even when roads are mentioned, the Amarillo paper says that traffic is good or bad between Amarillo and Miami or Canadian, but leaves the name Pampa out in the cold" some of the listeners-in remarked after Mr. Hessey had re-

SHARKEY NOT TO BOX HUGE ITALIAN SOON

Tommy Loughran Looms as Probable Opponent of Carnera in October.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25. (AP)—Primo Carnera may make that second New York appearance of his next month but it appeared a bit improbable today that the big Italian's opponent would be Jack Sharkey, the Boston sailor man who still can talk a good fight.

Promoter Jimmy Johnson has had Carnera and Sharkey booked for some time to clash in a 15-round bout at Ebbets field, Brooklyn, Oct. 1, but yesterday the bout was shoved back to Oct. 12 on Sharkey's plea that he had injured the little finger of his left hand and would not be able to go through with the battle on the earlier date.

The new date of Oct. 12 was the New York State Athletic commission's idea and not Sharkey's. Jack maintained that he would not be in shape to fight Carnera then and when asked point-blank whether he planned to go through with the match then replied with a flat and decisive "no."

So the whole matter was up in the air with Johnson. Jimmy went scurrying around yesterday and discovered that Tommy Loughran, the clever Philadelphia, was perfectly ready and willing to meet Carnera. Loughran may get the shot either on Oct. 1 or Oct. 12. Carnera's manager, Leon See, protested vehemently against any postponement and said Carnera would be prepared to fight Loughran on the first and Sharkey on the 12th.

Loughran would be outweighed 90 pounds by Carnera but the Philadelphia is used to giving away weight. He conceded Victorio Campolo 50 pounds and nearly knocked out the huge South American recently and has whipped Max Baer, Ernie Schaaf, and Tuffy Griffiths as well during the last few months.

Three hundred thousand cans have been sold in Eastland county this year for home canning and carrying out a live-at-home program. All of the state highways in Hale county are now paved with concrete, a total of 67 miles radiating in four directions from Plainview.

Gorillas Leave for Perryton Tilt

The Gorilla football team from Pampa high school is in Perryton today playing the Perryton Rangers, first string high school team and one of the fastest elevens in the north plains.

The team left by motor this morning at 9 o'clock and will return to Pampa tonight. Final score of the game should be available by 6:30 o'clock tonight.

Coach W. O. Workman had not definitely announced his lineup when he left this morning. He said he would probably start Stevens, Robinson, Owens and Marbaugh in the backfield but had no definite lineup for his forward wall.

At 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the Pampa Harvesters and the Memphis Cyclones will meet at Harvesters park. The Cyclones team comes to Pampa unheralded and may give the Harvesters a tough battle. Coach Mitchell says a bunch of his subs will probably get a chance to show their wares this afternoon.

Next Saturday the team will entertain Wehitta, Kan. Indians reported to be one of the strongest teams the Harvesters will meet this season.

"HIGHEST TEST" at the price of ordinary gasoline

GRAVITY from 60.6° to 71.4° TO MATCH WEATHER

PHILLIPS 66 is made by the world's largest producers of natural high gravity gasoline

A cheap price posted on a road sign rarely lures the experienced driver. He looks for less cost per mile. And this has brought millions of veteran motorists to Phillips 66... the greater gasoline.

It is higher test without higher price. It gives results for which many would gladly pay extra. They do not have to, because the Phillips organization has reached a place among the leaders by offering greater value for the money.

In Phillips 66 you get a sensational motor fuel as modern as your motor. A gas that proves there is a difference, by quicker pick-up, added power, smoother running, and longer mileage. Each gallon you buy has a CONTROLLED VOLATILITY which matches your weather at the time you buy it.

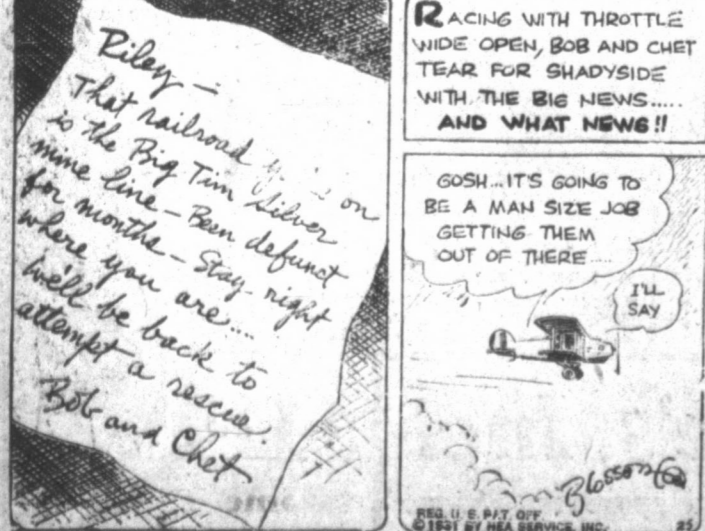

Its year 'round gravity, from 60.6° to 71.4°, is always higher test than others. Yet costs no more than ordinary gasoline.

These are only claims to you until you try a tankful. But once you make the test, your own good judgment will tell you that it saves money and guarantees better performance to stop at the Orange and Black 66 shield.

PROGRAMS ON SAFETY GIVEN AT SCHOOL Officers Are Named By Methodist Friendship Class

CHILDREN TAKE PART IN FIRST CHAPEL SERVICES OF SEASON; TALKS ARE MADE BY VISITORS

Talks on "Safety" were included in the year's first chapel programs at most of the local schools this week. More attention has been given to safety this year than ever before. Student assistant traffic officers have been appointed, and the boys and girls are being taught respect for the law. They are also being cautioned in regard to fire.

A flag salute opened the chapel service for Woodrow Wilson school at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and a song, "Eyes of Texas," and the Lord's prayer followed.

Officer Joe Persky presented badges to each of the student traffic officers, and each of the boys made a talk. A reading, "Our Police," then was given by Lois Dean Walters.

The Rev. F. W. O'Malley, minister of the First Christian church, gave a talk on Safety, and a Supt. R. E. Fisher spoke on the same subject.

A harmonica solo was played by Billy Thompson.

Waidean McCallister was spokesman.

Mr. Gwin Speaks

City Manager F. M. Gwin, fire chief Clyde Gold, and Supt. R. B. Fisher spoke on Safety at the Horace Mann chapel service Thursday afternoon. The city manager and the fire chief invited the pupils to visit the fire station during fire prevention week which begins Oct. 3 and to report fire hazards to the fire department at all times.

Devotional was led by Principal Josephine Thomas, and music was furnished under the direction of Miss Loma Groom.

At Junior High

A sing song was enjoyed under the direction of Miss Lois Stallings when the junior high school met for chapel Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Miss Stallings, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Teed, also sang a solo.

High school had a brief chapel period Wednesday morning at 9:30. Mrs. John I. Bradley will be in charge of this year's programs.

Meek in Charge

Principal J. A. Meek and teachers and pupils from Baker school were in charge of the chapel service Wednesday at Sam Houston school. A number of parents attended.

Mr. Meek opened the program with scripture reading, this being followed with a violin selection by Russell Roof.

The walk, "The First Melody," was played by an orchestra from Miss Martha Wulfman's room. The number was rendered surprisingly well for so early in the season. Miss Wulfman was at the piano, and the following pupils took part: Russell Roof, Maxine Holt, Marie Raley, Dorothy Hatfield, and Toddy Crowder.

Two readings were given by Idelle Rice, and a piano selection was played by Edith Lane.

Miss Clarice Fuller favored the group with a story.

Mrs. Edna Underwood accompanied the pupils who entertained from her room.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Hollyce Sellers Hinkle

With such cooperation as has been given in Pampa, the seriousness of the plight of needy families is greatly lessened. Churches, Parent-Teacher organizations, and other groups have answered every challenge that has been given them. Through united efforts they are able to accomplish much more than they could as individual organizations.

The United States bureau of home economics gives some valuable suggestions for those doing relief work or for those planning their own meals at the lowest possible cost, especially those using home-canned products.

Among foods necessary to emergency diets, the bureau lists tomatoes or oranges, six pounds of which should be consumed each week by a family of five. If tomatoes are chosen, this means a family of five should have three quarts of the canned product each week.

The bureau points out that 15 to 18 pounds of other vegetables and fruits are necessary for this family of five each week. About two-thirds of this quantity should be allowed for vegetables and one-third for fruit. The amount of vegetables is again divided in half between the stored vegetables, including the roots and cabbage, and fresh or canned vegetables. The list should include some of green or yellow color because of their

DANCE PUPILS COMPLIMENTED

Miss Catherine Vincent entertained 30 of her dancing pupils with a party in her home Thursday evening.

An amateur dancing and stunt contest was held in which six prizes were given, three for the older and three for the younger pupils.

Punch and cookies were served during the informal reception that followed.

The group also discussed the opening of the dance studio on Oct. 1.

Winter content.

There should be from five pints to three quarts of a variety of canned vegetables per week for the family of five. If the canning has been done in the numbered containers as is the commercial pack, this would mean that the family of five should eat each week either two No. 3 cans and one No. 1 can, or three No. 3 cans of vegetables. In families doing hard physical work the larger quantity is necessary. A family of five requires from 7 1/2 to 9 pounds of stored vegetables, excluding potatoes, which are listed separately in this low cost food guide.

From 2 1/2 to 3 pounds of fruits, fresh, canned or dried, complete the week's allowance of fruits and vegetables. Canned fruits, including the jellies and preserves, may be utilized entirely, providing they are of such a nature as to fit advantageously into the low cost diet, the bureau says. From 2 to 3 pints of home canned fruit are the equivalent of the 2 1/2 to 3 pounds of fresh, canned, or dried fruit.

In addition to fruit and vegetables, the bureau also lists the weekly requirements of grain and cereal products, milk, legumes, fats, sugar, fish, cheese, and eggs. Wherever possible, it suggests that the vegetable, fruit, and meat allowance be increased.

MRS. PURVIANCE INTRODUCED AS CLASS TEACHER

Election of officers and plans for a cooked food sale to be held Oct. 10 featured a meeting of the Friendship class, First Methodist church, Thursday afternoon in the church classroom. The meeting was the first of the season.

A social hour also was held in which contests and a program held interest. With Mrs. F. L. Elliott at the piano, Mrs. H. B. Jones and Mrs. Philip Wolfe entertained with vocal solos. Mrs. C. M. Barrier played a piano solo, and Mrs. Ray N. Johnson gave two readings.

Mrs. W. Purviance then was introduced as the new teacher of the class to succeed Mrs. Carson Loftus, who resigned recently. Mrs. Purviance taught the class for the first time last Sunday.

Gift Presented

Mrs. C. S. Boston, in behalf of the class presented a lovely gift to Mrs. R. D. Morris. Mrs. Morris, until recently, served the class as chairman of the finance committee.

The new officers follow: President, Mrs. Jerry Boston (re-elected); vice-president, Mrs. Philip R. Pond; secretary, Mrs. C. M. Barrier; assistant secretary, Mrs. Chester Norris; treasurer, Mrs. L. P. COMMENTS ON THE NEWS

Bill Murray says we need a presidential candidate who knows what to do in this depression. Yeah, that's right. Show us the man!

Jim Reed may not be seen in the presidency, but if he goes into the race the fur will fly as long as he is in it. As a spellbinder we have never heard his equal.

We hear much talk of supply and demand, but all the talk and work is about supply. Why not think of demand for awhile? The reasons for the lack of it are more significant.

Something to think about: A post-season A-1 football charity game, with food for the needy accepted as tickets.

Eugenie styles certainly ended the depression in the millinery business. Now will someone please think up some new styles in breakfast foods made from wheat? And don't puff the grains up so much.

The five-day week plan does not appeal to several Pampa golfers. They had rather play six days.

Having won one war, the Legion evidently does not fear another one that of prohibition, in which the World War will soon be forgotten.

Oldtimers are swiftly passing from the picture in recent years. Wonder how long it will be before we have an Old Settler's Sons and Daughters organization?

HIGH SCHOOL P-TA FAVORS CAFETERIAS

The high school Parent-Teacher association yesterday voted unanimously to support the cafeteria plan in Pampa as explained by Supt. R. B. Fisher.

The high school band, under the direction of "Pop" Frazier, gave three numbers at the opening of the meeting, and invocation by the Rev. F. W. O'Malley, minister of the First Christian church, followed.

Mrs. B. E. Finley was elected as a representative to the city council of Parent-Teacher associations.

Principal L. L. Sone announced that a second-hand piano could be bought at a very reasonable price, and the organization voted to buy the instrument instead of renting one this year.

A talk by Mr. Sone was included on the program, given under the direction of Miss Bernice Whiteley. He brought greetings from the high school, and stated that the teachers planned to make this the most profitable year in the history of the school.

The purpose of the Parent-Teacher association, he said, is to aid instructors in giving the best possible education to young people of the high school.

Miss Eloise Lane, who was graduated at the high school last year, entertained with a piano election, Military Polonaise.

Mrs. V. E. Fathree addressed the group on ideals of the Parent-Teacher association. Among other things she said the organization stands for an efficient corps of teachers, higher salaries for these teachers, and the prevention of any laws which hinder, rather than help, childhood and womanhood.

Mrs. Carson Loftus favored the group with two readings, Psalm of Life, and Today.

AUSTIN MAN ELECTED - HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Sept. 25. (AP) William J. Tucker of Austin, Texas, was elected president of the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation commissioners today at the close of the organization's annual convention.

INVESTIGATE HAZING

WACO, Sept. 25. (AP)—Pres. W. S. Allen of Baylor university announced today that the investigation into the alleged hazing of freshmen by seven upperclass students, including three stars of the football team, had not been completed.

The first year men were reported to have been severely paddled with boards and a split baseball bat.

CONTROVERSY CONTINUED BY EPISCOPALIANS

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 25. (AP)—Church liberals and conservatives assembled their forces today for a final contest over marriage and divorce laws of the Protestant Episcopal church, followed.

The Rt. Rev. James de Wolf Perry of Rhode Island, presiding bishop, will be opposed by Bishop James H. Freeman, Washington, D. C., and Bishop Edward L. Parsons of California in today's balloting at a secret session of the house of bishops.

The element seeking liberalization of the church marriage laws, headed by Prof. Joseph Beale of Harvard, was defeated on a proposal which would have allowed ministers of the church to remarry persons divorced for any cause. This remarriage, under the provision, would have been allowed after the case had been reviewed and passed upon favorably by an ecclesiastical court.

Unexpected strength was manifested by the liberal element, however, when the house of deputies adopted an amendment to the proposed canon which would not allow divorced persons who have remarried outside the church to retain their communicant status, but under certain conditions the church would also "bless the parties to the union."

Ministers of the church under this provision, however, would not be allowed to remarry divorced persons.

Spudding Defined By Jury As Not Being Shallow

BRECKENRIDGE, Sept. 25. (AP)—A jury in district court here last night grappled with the knotty question of "what constitutes spudding an oil well?" by finding Dr. Victor Zeigler, geologist, guilty of false swearing, the jury apparently decided that digging a shallow hole with shovels is not spudding a well. A sentence of two years was assessed.

The state's contention was that, in order to obtain payment of $1,000 held in Escrow in a bank here, Zeigler made an affidavit that a No. 1 well on a Shackelford county lease had reached 1,000 feet in depth, and that a No. 2 well had been done with crowbar and shovels.

The defense's contention was that there is no accepted definition of what constitutes spudding, and offered testimony that Zeigler had taken the word of another person engaged to spud in the No. 2 well, that the work had been done.

The jury reported at 11 last night after an all-day session.

NATURALIST DIES

HOUSTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—H. P. Atwater, 77, international known naturalist, geologist and retired industrial agent for the Southern Pacific, died today at his home here.

He came to Houston as an employe of the Southern Pacific about 1900 and retired 18 years ago.

Many Arrests in Insurance Swindle

DALLAS, Sept. 25. (AP)—United States Commissioner Lee R. Smith was advised today that several more of the 36 persons under indictment on charges of operating a marriage insurance swindle, had been arrested at Houston and Lubbock. He did not learn their names.

Smith expected all of the suspects to be placed under arrest within a few days for prosecution by postal authorities. Charges of conducting a lottery through the mails are pending against them.

The names of three suspects arrested to date on the charges are W. A. Hedrick, Georgia A. Boyd and Lawrence W. Adkins. They were freed under bond of $1,000 each.

The marriage insurance game operated here is the same as has flourished in other parts of the country recently. Victims were induced to take out insurance for themselves, or friends, in anticipation of expected marriages.

If the marriage was carried out as planned, they were to receive a bulk sum of money, otherwise the company kept the payments. The fraud element entered into the scheme when numerous policy holders failed to collect money due them.

Great Akron Is Doing Splendidly in Series of Tests

AKRON, Ohio, Sept. 25. (AP)—For three hours and 51 minutes last night the U. S. S. Akron, new queen of the skies, cruised through the moonlight on its second successful trial flight.

Carrying 100 passengers and crew, the navy's sleek aerial battleship swung in 20 mile circles over its dock—a black hulk against the moonlit autumn sky.

Below, a phonograph moaned the blues in the still night as the ground crew amused itself until called upon at 10:46 p. m. to make the great ship fast in its berth. The flight was accomplished without apparent untoward incident.

The flight was a continuation of the maiden cruise Wednesday, and completed the first of five designed to test every detail and insure perfection of construction before acceptance of the dirigible by the navy.

Flight number one was to test general airworthiness. Number two would be to determine the dirigible's turning radius; three, to test speed with motors wide open; four, a climbing and altitude test; and five, a 48-hour cruise to recapitulate all test features.

As on Wednesday's flight, high naval officials making the cruise expressed satisfaction with the ship's operation. Dr. Karl Arnstein, vice-president of the Good-year-Zeppelin corporation, said a few minor adjustments remain yet to be made.

Hot coffee and sandwiches were served aboard last night to passengers and crew, while the chill of the night was taken off by the specially constructed heating system.

PRESS BARRED AT CONFERENCE ON GAS RATES

FORT WORTH, Sept. 25. (AP)—Newspaper men were ousted from the meeting of the league of municipalities here today during the discussion of the league's efforts to obtain lower gas rates.

Non-members of the league also were asked to leave along with the seven reporters present.

Mayor Ernest Thompson of Amarillo presented the motion. He said he wanted the meeting to be "a family party."

More than 150 persons were present, representing towns in all parts of the state served by natural gas. The purpose of the meeting was to inquire into what action can be taken by the league to secure the lower rates.

Former Gov. Pat Neff, Waco, a member of the railroad commission, was there by invitation but declared he was attending "merely as a student."

City Attorney J. Bouldin Rector of Austin, president of the league, opened the meeting at 10 o'clock and had each person present identify himself by name, title and city.

Before the session began an executive meeting was held by Rector, H. W. Draper, executive secretary of the league; Mayor Frank Morris Jr., Gainesville, second vice-president; Mayor (Thompson), who is first vice-president; J. H. Painter, Houston, legal advisor.

Cutting of Crude Importing Is Urged

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—Drastic limitation of oil imports for the remainder of this year was urged on Secretary Lamont today by representatives of the mid-continent oil field.

They urged the secretary of commerce to ask petroleum importers to bring no more refined oil product into this country this year and to limit imports of crude oil to not more than 140,000 barrels daily.

The request was presented by Thurman P. Hill, of the Kansas Public Service commission.

It also was requested that the ban on refined products and by-products be continued as long as the stabilization program was enforced by the principal oil producing states.

Hill suggested that the importing countries which are principal producers in Mexico and South America be asked to hold down their production in those countries to a total not in excess of 531,000 barrels daily.

NANKING, Sept. 25. (AP)—The American government's note to China and Japan, suggesting restriction of troop movements in Manchuria to the requirements of international law and the League of Nations' resolution on the Manchurian dispute was received by the Chinese press and government circles with deep gratification today.

Newspapers hailed the note from Secretary of State Stimson at Washington as the most important development in the Sino-Japanese crisis, interpreting it as a stern rebuke to Japan.

The Central Daily News, government organ, said America had assumed a leading role in the crisis, adding:

"For some time America's attitude toward China has been obscure and government circles here feared that America might remain aloof regarding Manchuria."

Chinese Wondering Who Is Lindbergh?

NANKING, China, Sept. 25. (AP)—Unmolested by reception committees and curious crowds for the first time since he became famous, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was plunged heartily into his volunteer flood relief job.

Both the colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh find Nanking's lack of interest in their fame refreshing. The fliers commented on their enjoyment of such obscurity.

The Lindberghs motor from the American consulate to within a quarter of a mile of their mooring place and then walk to the lake.

The name given Lindbergh by the Chinese is "Lin Bai," literally meaning "white woods." Outside the small official circle, few of Nanking's 600,000 persons know who the Lindberghs are or that they are here.

On the day of their arrival the manager of the largest hotel on the river front asked the reason for the excitement, and, upon being informed, wanted to know whether this Lin Bai was a Chinese or a foreigner.

The colonel today extended his flood relief work to include the carrying of physicians to and from the inundated centers of Northern Kiangsu province, the greater part of which is entirely lacking in medical facilities. Diseases are reported spreading among thousands of refugees there.

A Dalhart man recently offered to trade a house and lot for wheat at 35 cents per bushel.

Tarrant county's tax valuations are $190,000,000 for 1931.

So Near and Yet so Far!

TALKS TO PARENTS

Inconsistency
By ALICE JUDSON PEALE

Tony, questioned about his bedtime, answered, "Well, when mama's feeling good she lets me stay up late, but when she's cranky I have to go to bed right after supper."

Tony is an adaptable child. At 6 he already has adjusted himself to the idiosyncrasies of another with a cheerful cynicism which should stand him in good stead.

Although parental inconsistency may play its part in teaching children to adjust themselves to the unpredictabilities of an inconsistent world, it certainly does not help in the formation of good habits, nor in the calling forth that respect for those in authority which is a necessary element in proper character development.

All children now and then struggle against routine, try to break the rules, or "get away with something," yet there is probably nothing which is so sure to make them unhappy as an un dependable regime.

Usually, the child does not readily adjust himself to parental inconsistency. Because he is constantly trying to get by with something that is ordinarily forbidden. There is always a chance that he will succeed.

In a certain type of child inconsistency causes worry and anxiety.

Anti-Trust Laws Likely to Stand

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—Agitation for modification of the anti-trust laws has been renewed in Washington well in advance of the congressional session.

Attacks on certain aspects of the Sherman act have centered at the White House and have received more than passing attention from President Hoover.

Within two days two leaders in the building construction world—Robert D. Kohn, president of the American Institute of Architects, and Charles F. Abbott, director of the American Institute of Steel Construction—have laid their complaints before the chief executive.

Abbott declared that he did not believe anti-trust laws should prevent trade cooperation essential to organized industry in maintaining the wage scale and employment.

Kohn, speaking for the Construction League of the United States, contended the laws should be modified to eliminate drawbacks to the building trades. At present, he added, organized contractors could not raise funds to investigate the standing of concerns offering bids on their projects. This often means, he said, that contracts go to plants furnishing bricks or lumber which are obsolete and unable to produce the materials in the time limits necessarily set.

Despite this agitation, however, Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, believes congress at its next session will not repeal the anti-trust

Mexican and Fake Notes Being Held

LAREDO, Sept. 25. (AP)—Mexican secret service agents were cooperating today with United States officials in an attempt to locate confederates in Mexico of Carlos Mena of Houston, arrested here today on a charge of importing and possessing counterfeit money. Officers seized $8,500 in counterfeit notes on the Second National bank of Houston.

Mena was arrested in a garage while attempting to obtain a ride with three men and two women who were detained by customs inspectors for investigation as suspected narcotic smugglers. Customs inspectors decided, however, that the five persons had nothing to do with Mena and they were released.

Mena told officers the notes found in his suitcase were given him by a man in Mexico City to bring into the United States. He claimed he did not know the man's identity. The money was secreted in boxing gloves in the suitcase.

Bond for Mena was set at $10,000 but he remained in jail in default of that amount.

GUILTY LIPS

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of "MAD MARRIAGE" ©1931 BY NEA SERVICE INC

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Pretty Norma Kent, 20-year-old secretary, marries Mark Travers, son of F. M. Travers, millionaire real estate dealer, in spite of the father's opposition and threats to disinherit her.

The story opens in Marlboro, middle western metropolis. Mark sells his expensive roadster to get money for the honeymoon and he and Norma go to fashionable Blue Springs. There Norma meets Hal St. Stone, and it is evident from the car's motor that she has known Stone before and for some reason seems to fear him.

Their money is soon gone, partly due to Mark's gambling. With $500 borrowed from Stone the couple return to Marlboro. Mark sets out on a round of pleasure seeking instead of hunting a job. He introduces Norma to Natalie Price, debutante who has long hoped to marry Mark. When their funds dwindle again Mark and Norma move to a cheap apartment. Mark begins to hunt work seriously. He gets a job as an advertising salesman and loses it. Then he becomes a floorwalker in Blossendale's department store. On the anniversary of their marriage two months earlier he brings Norma roses. She is outraged at his extravagance and they quarrel. Norma rushes from the apartment.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXV
The other woman jerked back quickly, said "Excuse me," and murmured something else that was inaudible.

"Oh, I'm sorry!" Norma exclaimed. "This hall's so dark. I didn't know anyone was here. I'm afraid I startled you."

It really was a dark hallway. Nearly six and November was making the day shorter. There should have been a light glowing but the bulb had been out of order for three days now. Because it was so dusky in the passageway Norma knew she should not have rushed into it headlong without looking where she was going.

She chose to ignore the fact that the film before her eyes was blinding her. Such objects as were visible had acquired odd, distorted outlines.

The other woman was older. She was an inch or two taller than Norma and rather stout. Her wrap and hat, dark-colored, were indistinguishable from the dark background. Norma, rushing into the hall from the apartment, had almost hurled herself at the stranger. "Yes," the woman admitted. "I was startled, but of course that wasn't your fault. I wonder—I'm looking for an apartment in this building and I don't seem to be able to locate it."

"What is the number?" Norma asked. "I live here." Her heart nearly turned over as she said that because of course she wasn't living there any longer! "I live here and perhaps I can tell you which way to go."

The girl didn't like delaying but a moment's courtesy was a small thing. It would help to ease the conviction that she might have upset this elderly, pleasant-voiced stranger by her harum-scarum conduct. Really, Norma was ashamed.

"Why, that's very nice of you. It's apartment C-10. I'm looking for—"

"C-10!" Norma said. "Why, that's where I live—it's right here! Are you sure that's the number?"

There was no answer to the question. "You live there?" the older woman exclaimed, as much surprise in her voice as there had been in Norma's. "Then you must be—are you Mrs. Travers?"

"Yes. Did you wish to see me?"

The stranger scanned the girl's face in the half-dark. "I'm Mark's mother," she said simply. "So you're his wife! Yes, I was coming to see you. I've wanted to know you for a long time. How—how very young you are!"

Instinct prompted Norma to say the right thing. Her head was whirling. With a swift movement she brushed the tears from her eyes—part of the tears at least. In a voice faintly tremulous but showing a splendid effort at control she said, "You'll come in, Mrs. Travers? I'm delighted to have you visit us."

"Thank you—but you were just leaving. I don't want to keep—"

"Oh, it was nothing important! Just an errand that can wait. Mark's home and I know he'll be so glad!" She had turned and was fumbling to get her key in the lock. As she finished the words the door opened. Norma entered and stepped aside for the older woman to follow.

"Oh, Mark!" the girl called. He was standing before the window, his back toward them. Not until he heard the girl's voice did Mark swing about.

"Norma—" he began, then caught sight of the other figure. "Why, Mother!" In three bounds Mark was across the floor. "Mother, how in the world did you get here? Where have you come from?" he demanded. "Why, I can't believe it's you!"

His arms held his mother closely. Beaming, at the same time periously close to less manly display of emotion, Mark kissed his mother's forehead.

"Aren't you a great one!" he stormed, laughing as he said it. "Walking in on us like this! Why didn't you let us know you were coming? How did you know where to find us? What have you been doing lately? How've you been feeling? The questions shot one after the other, without pause for answer."

"Oh, my boy! Oh, Mark—my boy, my boy!"

It was as much as the mother could say coherently. "Mark!" she repeated a moment later. She clung to his arms, pressing her cheek against his shoulder. The woman's eyes were shut but there were tears on her face.

"I've missed you so!" she murmured after a few minutes. "It's been a long while, Mark—"

"I know. I hated not bringing Norma home to see you, Mom, but I guess you know why I couldn't."

"I know!" Mrs. Travers was still clinging to her son. Apparently Norma might as well have been a thousand miles away. This husky youth—her baby son—was all the woman could think of. She was weeping but they were tears of gladness.

"See here, Mom, you don't want to take on like this!" Mark pulled a huge square of linen from his pocket. With an effort at tenderness he wiped the tear drops from her cheeks. "No more of that! I'll think you didn't really want to see me. I'll think you're sorry you came. O. K. now? Going to be—have?"

There was teasing fondness in the tone. Mrs. Travers responded like a drooping plant of sunshine.

"Of course I'll all right." She drew away, scrutinizing the young man. "Only it's so good to see you, dear! You're a little thinner, aren't you? Are you sure you're feeling well?" She put the question anxiously.

"Sure! Never better in my life!"

The scene had given Norma time to study her mother-in-law's appearance. Norma felt she might have seen Mrs. Travers anywhere and never have dreamed that this was Mark's mother. Not a feature of the woman's face resembled her son's. On the other hand it would have been impossible to doubt that the visitor was of the ruling order in Marlboro society. In the clear light of the living room Norma noted the fine quality of the mink wrap, the countenance that was autocratic even in such a tender mood, the real face, faintly ivory, showing at the opening of her coat. These were details that shrieked wealth and precedence.

"Well, Mom," Mark was saying now. "I guess you ran into Norma out in the hall. No use to introduce you two. Great girl, isn't she, Mother? And Norma knows what a brick you are. Well, say it's good to see you here. Stay for dinner with us, won't you?"

The words fell on Norma's ears with a perplexing sense of unreality. Mark was talking as though nothing had happened that afternoon. He was talking as though he and she hadn't come to the end of their life together. As though everything weren't over!

"I can't stay, dear." It was Mrs. Travers who was speaking. "I'd love to. There's nothing I'd like better but you'll understand why I can't. It's something else I've come to talk about, Mark—something I hope will make us all so much happier!"

Lucky for Norma they excluded her from the conversation. Her glance went from Mark to his mother. She had brought Mrs. Travers into the apartment because it was the only conceivable thing to do. Now Norma found herself spoken up—told Mark's mother she could take her son home again—that Norma herself would never again come between Mark and his family. Somehow she could not do it no matter how much she knew she should.

These thoughts raced through the girl's mind as she heard the others talking. Evidently his mother's words had startled Mark. He looked up quickly.

"Just—what was it you came to talk about?" he asked.

"But you must know, dear. It's about your father—"

"Did he tell you to come? Does he know you're here now?"

Mrs. Travers shook her head. "He doesn't know," she admitted. "Not yet. But these weeks have been hard on your father, Mark. He misses you as much as I do."

Mark's chin lifted. "I guess you know why I haven't come home!" he said. "I guess you know it was Dad who started—"

His mother interrupted. "Please, darling!" she began, putting a hand on Mark's arm. "Of course I know about that. Let's not talk about it. I want you to forget all those unpleasant things. It's all over now. You can come back and everything will be just as it was before you left!"

"You mean Father's willing? You mean he wants me to come home?"

STORY

"Of course he does! It's just his foolish pride and stubbornness that keeps him from admitting it. He's been worrying a lot lately. Can't sleep—poor digestion. I know it's because he feels he acted as he shouldn't."

"But if he isn't ready to admit it—"

"Now, Mark, dear, you're not going to disappoint me! Please say you won't! All that you have to do is to go to your father and tell him you're sorry for what happened. Tell him you spoke hastily and that you've been thinking it over since."

"Oh, I see!" Mark's eyes were suddenly blazing. "You want me to go to Dad with an apology and ask to be forgiven? So that's it!"

Mrs. Travers cut in, deeply agitated. "You're taking it the wrong way, Mark! When it's such a little thing that I'm asking—just for you to tell your father you're sorry for your part of the quarrel. It will make everything all right. He'll forgive you. I know he's been trying to find an excuse to forgive you for weeks! And you can come home and we'll all be together again. Surely, you'll do this simple thing that I'm asking! Do it for me, Mark! I beg you to!"

It was all like part of a stage play to Norma. She listened to what first Mark and then his mother was saying. Difficult to believe that all this had anything to do with her. Apparently the others had forgotten her.

Mark turned squarely toward his mother. "I can't do it!" he said sharply. "I can't do it for you or anyone. He told me to get out and I did it. I won't come back until he asks me to! You can tell him that—for me!"

Mrs. Travers put a handkerchief to her eyes. "You're just like him!" she sobbed. "You're just as determined and stubborn as your father is. Oh, Mark, why will you disappoint me so!"

"Sorry, mother, but you've asked the one thing I can't do. What about Norma? She and I are married you know. Do you think I'd go to father now and admit that was a mistake? Well, I can't do it, that's all. I'm sorry but there's no use saying any more about it."

"But, Mark, don't you see—"

"No use talking, Mother. Better just let the matter drop."

Ten minutes later Mark escorted his mother down the stairs to where the handsome Travers limousine was waiting. He returned to find Norma, enveloped in a blue apron, moving about the kitchen preparing dinner.

Mark came to the open door and leaned against one side of it. "Smells good!" he said, sniffing.

"What is it?"

"Something you told me you liked—corned beef hash."

"Whoopee! You bet I like it." Mark slipped an arm about the girl. "Honey, I ought to tell you about these roses. They were foolish but I didn't spend any of the $25 on them. Like a nit-wit I put 50 cents in a football pool the other day and was lucky enough to win. That's where the ten bucks came from to buy the roses. Now, am I forgiven?"

Norma assured him effectively that he was. The corned beef hash came perilously close to turning into cinders but was rescued in the nick of time. Mark volunteered to set the table and went about his task whistling. Impulsively he returned and kissed Norma.

The girl knew she had never been so happy. Miracles do indeed occur! A miracle had happened for her and everything in the world was going to be all right now.

It was to be—for a short time.

WOMAN TURNS BANDIT
MULESHOE, Sept. 25. (P)—Two persons, one of whom was a blonde young woman attired in men's clothing, robbed J. G. Hammons, Muleshoe wholesale gasoline dealer, of $100 on the highway seven miles east of here last night.

The young woman aimed a pistol at Hammons while her male companion rifled his pockets. Hammons said the man struck him over the head with the weapon after taking his money.

SILENT UNTO DEATH
MCALISTER, Okla., Sept. 25. (P)—Showing no sign of emotion, and without breaking the silence that he had maintained for several days, Henry Lewis, 38-year-old farmer, was put to death in the state penitentiary early today for the killing of Doc Pollard, El Reno high school coach, during a bank robbery last November.

A $95,000 school building has been recently completed at Perryton, Texas.

The water mains in Canyon, Tex., are to be extended at a cost of $18,000.

Minister Is Freed Of Morals Charge

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25. (AP)—Absolved of a charge of immorality, Rev. William A. Shelton was back today in his study at the Mount Vernon Place Methodist Episcopal church, South.

A jury of 12 clergymen unanimously voted him "absolutely innocent" late yesterday of accusations of misconduct toward his former secretary, Miss Carrie A. Williams. The nature of the charge, which has been withheld during a three-day church trial in Alexandria, Va., was revealed by Dr. W. S. Hammond of Martinsburg, W. Va.

Stage to Movies

JULIETTE COMPTON

Juliette Compton obeyed an impulse and now is a movie actress. The impulse was to slip out of a crowded New York railway station and look for an acting job rather than board a train that was to carry her to the family summer home in Maine. Because of her dark southern beauty she had little trouble getting a job behind the footlights. From the stage she went to pictures.

threatened to turn its trade to San Antonio and Corpus Christi.

Markets

COTTON OPENS LOW

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 25. (AP)—Today was the first cotton market day in the cotton market and notices for 34,500 bales were issued here, but New York notices were less than 10,000 bales.

The report of such large local notices caused the market to open 15 to 23 points down, making new low levels for the season. December eased off to 6.22, and October was quoted at 5.93.

Later in the first hour, the market rallied sharply recovering nearly all the early loss, October advancing to 6.15 and December to 6.40, or 18 to 22 points above the lows and practically parallel with yesterday's close.

GRAINS DEPRESSED

CHICAGO, Sept. 25. (AP)—Severe new setbacks in Sterling exchange pulled grain prices downward here early today. Liverpool wheat quotations, terms of British currency, were higher, but the advance there was more than offset by the acute weakness of Sterling which showed the American money equivalent had been slashed. Opening 3-8 to 1-4 down, Chicago wheat sagged further, and then rallied. Corn started 1-8 to 1-2 off and later held near to the initial figures, with September at a new low for the season.

Valley Towns Seek To Effect Boycotts

HARLINGEN, Sept. 25. (AP)—Harlingen merchants in mass meeting have adopted a resolution asking that a recent milk pasteurization ordinance be abolished.

The ordinance would make pasteurization of milk in the Harlingen precinct compulsory.

Meanwhile threats of retaliatory ordinances and possible boycotts from other valley towns grew.

The Brownsville city commission passed an ordinance requiring all bread sold there to be made in Brownsville. Mercedes residents sought a similar ordinance governing the sale of meat. Raymondville
