GERMAN STAFF OFFICERS BOOED IN BULGARIA

State Wins Title To Hutchinson Oil Land

Nazi, British Planes Show Off Strength

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Feb. 22—Big squadrons of German and British planes rode the air over the Dover Strait hour upon hour today in a display of strength.

British bombers swept over the channel to attack the Nazi invasion positions on the French and Belgian coasts, but there was no official word as to the results.

A qualified informant declared obliquely that while there had been opportunity on this side of the channel "for one of the war's biggest dogfights," there was for "various reasons" no general battle.

At one time more than 100 German and British planes twisted angrily in the sky, and German warships—during a period of brilliant sunshine that alternated with squalls and snow and hail—came out to sea.

Late News

(By The Associated Press) LIMA, Peru, Feb. 22—John Lear, Associated Press staff member and four other occupants of an airliner stranded in the Sechura desert who had been missing for four days, arrived safely today at the coastal village of Morrope after a hazardous journey through the wasteland.

Veterans of this city loud in their praise of the Pampa Veterans band, formerly the Pampa Municipal band, directed by J. R. Eason. AUSTIN, Feb. 22 (AP)—The state won title in district court here today to 1,863 acres in Hutchinson county, much of it oil land estimated by the Attorney General's department to be worth about $5,700,000.

Roy Whittenburg and relatives were the defendants. The point at issue was what constituted the state-owned bed of the Canadian river.

The state's contention, as explained by Assistant Attorney General James Noel, was that the state should have title to all the land between the cut banks. The defendants, who own the land adjoining the river, took the position that the state was entitled only to the river bed as it existed when surveys were made in 1888, or a total of 647 acres.

District Judge Harris Gardner upheld the contention of the state. Noel said that the area already had one producing oil well, and that at least 900 of the 1,863 acres considered proven oil territory.

War In 60 Days Seen By Foes Of British Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—Three opponents hammered at the administration's British aid bill in the Senate today, and one of them, Senator McCarran (D-Nev.), predicted it would put the United States into war within 60 days after its enactment.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said the bill would put "the issue of war" before the country within six months, and senator Capper (R-Kan.) asserted it would give the president "complete war making powers."

While the Senate worked through an extraordinary Saturday afternoon session in order to hasten action on the bill, administration supporters discussed among themselves the question of accepting two amendments—one suggesting that the president consult legislative leaders from time to time on operation of the British aid program, and another naming Britain, Greece, and China as the countries to be aided under the bill.

Three of those in charge of the measure—Senators Barkley (D-Ky.), George (D-Ga.), and Connally (D-Tex.)—said that there was no present plan to accept further revision of the bill, which already has been amended by the house and the senate foreign relations committees.

George told reporters that any additional amendments might have an adverse "moral effect." He said the changes might be interpreted abroad, especially in Japan, as a setback to the disunity.

Connally and Senator Austin (R-Vt.), a supporter of the measure, agreed it was unlikely that further amendments would make any appreciable change in the final vote.

Charlie Thut Injured In Fall

A second edition of Saturday's fog and drizzle was in prospect for Pampans today and tomorrow with the official weather report of the U. S. Weather bureau for West Texas reading:

"Cloudy, Sunday and Monday, with light rain and drizzle. Little change in temperature."

Pampans slipped and slithered to work on downtown streets yesterday, over a thin but extremely tricky sheen of sleet.

Despite the dangerous conditions of the roads, however, no serious accidents were reported although there were numerous minor mishaps.

On the casualty list was Charlie Thut, county clerk, who slipped and fell on the driveway of a North Frost street filling station.

He suffered cuts on the back of his head that necessitated two stitches. The accident happened when Mr. Thut, with W. B. Weathered, county superintendent of schools, and Jack Back, deputy tax officer, were returning to the court house after they had driven to the postoffice in Weathered's car to pick up their Saturday morning mail.

Mr. Thut was helped to his feet. He laughed at the accident and did not think he was badly hurt. Then it was noticed that his head was bleeding severely, and Mr. Weathered took him to a doctor for medical treatment before the county clerk was taken home.

Maximum temperature in Pampa Saturday was 29, minimum 24. Friday's maximum was 32, minimum 25. Temperatures varied little in Pampa yesterday, as shown by the 5:35 reading of 28 degrees, 27 at noon, 28 at 6:35 p. m. and 27 shortly before midnight.

Children March In Mardi Gras Parade

GALVESTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—Hundreds of costumed children marched along the palm-lined streets here today behind colorful bands and a dozen floats that depicted episodes in American history as the principal event of the second day of Galveston's five-day Mardi Gras celebration.

The parade, which this year is stressing Pan American friendship, was a highlight of the city's annual celebration.

Oil was brought closer to the Pampa city limits and new territory was opened when the two wells pictured above struck pay dirt. At the left is pictured the Rock Oil company's No. 1 Vickers estate located about 200 yards west of the Pampa city limits.

At the right is the Dolomite Oil company's No. 1 R. E. Johnson, located one and one-quarter miles due south of the Pampa city limits.

Finding of oil in the Dolomite company test south of the city benefits not only the property owner and Pampa merchants, but also benefits hundreds of orphan children.

The Dolomite well is located four locations north of nearest pay and more than a quarter of a mile east of nearest production. There are no wells north or south which means that considerable drilling will be necessary to prove up leases and to establish oil fields.

The Rock company well on the Vickers estate was tested last week and given an open flow potential of 239 barrels. The hole was bottomed at 3,306 feet.

The well is so close to the city limits that an east offset would almost be necessary to protect the city.

Locations to the west but none for nearly a quarter of a mile to the north. If a south offset were staked it would fall in the center of the Santa Fe railway tracks. The next point of a location south would be in the living room of the I. W. Sparger home on Ripley street. So where the next location south will be made has not been determined.

The land was purchased by the late J. C. Vickers, father of DeLea and Oscar Vickers, in 1908. Like the R. E. Johnson land, bought in 1915 from the Bailey estate, it was part of the vast White Deer Land company holdings.

No locations have been staked for offsets but activity is expected soon.

All young people who signed applications, and there are nearly 100 of them, are asked to take the physical examination Sunday, or at least by Wednesday night. Many young women have signed for the course.

Five passed the examination Thursday and seven more were approved for the course Friday night.

They were Calvin Ditmore, Chester Huntapiller, Vincent White, James Nevins, Oscar Cunningham of White Deer, L. R. Williams Jr., and Bobby Karr.

25 Fat Bees Owned By Boys To Be Sold Here

Twenty-five fat bees will go over the auction block at Recreation park next Friday when the third annual Gray County Junior Livestock show is held.

Prizes totaling nearly $100 will go to the winners and the calves will later be sold to the highest bidders.

The show, sponsored by the Pampa Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce, is open to any member of the Future Farmers of America club of Pampa and McLean and to all 4-H club boys in Gray county.

A meeting is to be held at the BOD office at 9 a. m., Tuesday by the agriculture and livestock committee to work out last-minute details of the show.

Members of the committee include Tom Cox, chairman; Mel B. Davis, J. L. Lester, Irvin Cole, Ralph R. Thomas, Otis Pumphrey, Clyde Carruth, and Roger McConnell.

The committee is anxious to have a large number of bidders at the sale when the calves are sold. Tom Cox said yesterday. The livestock feeding program needs to be encouraged in the Panhandle and the encouragement given the PFA and 4-H boys through these shows and sales is one of the most lasting things that can be done to boost the local livestock feeding program.

You Can Make Faces At Hitler By Radio At No Cost At All

Want to put a bullet through a Messerschmitt 109 right here in Pampa?

You can, in effect, do this by sending a telegraphic message of not more than 25 words, all at Hitler's expense. The local office of the Western Union has announced that it will accept messages to be cabled to Berlin as long as the Nazi offer holds good.

This is in answer to the invitation of the Berlin short-wave radio station asking American listeners to cable at Hitler's expense their

Huge 1941 Retail Turnover Forecast

By FRANK McMILLEN NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (AP)—Retail buying by Mr. and Mrs. American consumer aggregating $50,000,000,000 or more, was forecast today in merchandising circles for the full year 1941 as the tempo of store sales hit the fastest pace in eleven years.

Merchants across the nation this week reported cash register dollar tallies averaging 12 to 20 per cent above the comparable 1940 period, with demand heavy for all types of staple goods.

Wider employment, fatter pay envelopes in defense industry centers, economists said provided the basis for broadened store business that has now spread to even many remote rural shopping centers.

Some executives thought an estimate of retail sales in the vicinity of $50,000,000,000 for 1941 was too conservative. They pointed out such a figure would represent a gain of only 10 per cent over last year's $45,500,000,000.

The big question mark in the business ahead for the stores along main street was whether the defense program, as it expands, would hamper production of consumer goods.

Right now the making of airplanes, guns, ammunition, army clothing, motor trucks, and tanks isn't interfering much with output of peace-time goods, but another six months, business leaders say, might bring another story.

Already there are some complaints from manufacturers ofouseware, brass, and cast iron plates are rolling more and more heavy sheets used in armament industries, and less and less of the light sheets used in the making of pots and pans.

Two semi-official observers close to the administration in Washington—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and former American Ambassador to France William C. Bullitt—this week had comments on the housewares situation. Mrs. Roosevelt said housewares should begin thinking about doing without new aluminum pots and pans, and Bullitt, in urging spreading up of defense activities, declared faster armament building was vital, even though such inconveniences as doing without new kitchenware might develop.

There also was talk in Washington about people having to go without the auto makers new automobiles. Auto makers themselves have made no official predictions on motor car supplies.

The chances seemed good, however, that there would be plenty of cars to go round this spring. Auto makers are turning out 1,500 new cars an hour. Production this week totaled 129,240 cars and trucks, against 127,510 in the preceding week, and 102,670 a year ago.

Building Permits Here Total $16,500

Building permits issued last week by Dick Pepin, new city building inspector, totaled $16,500. Total for the year to date is $48,250.

Largest permit of the year was issued Friday to the White Way Drive Inn for construction of a new $9,000 building on West Foster avenue. L. C. Graham was named the contractor. The new building will be erected around the present structure which will then be dismantled.

The Panhandle Lumber company took out two permits for $3,000 residences in the Benedict addition.

STUDENTS TRY LIFE UNDER A DICTATOR

Students of Pierson High school, Sag Harbor, N. J., got a taste of life minus democracy when Principal Raymond Schneible set girl students scrub the sidewalk of the school as "storm troopers" bark orders and threaten imprisonment in concentration camps.

BASIC TRAINER

Mabry Simmons

Flying Cadet In Training At Moffett Field

MOFFETT, Feb. 22—Mabry Simmons, formerly of Pampa, Texas, is one of 146 young men who have completed their primary flight training, and have reported here for their basic training at the school maintained here by the West Coast Air Corps Training Center.

Prior to his acceptance as a flying cadet, he attended Northeastern State College, Tahlequah, Oklahoma. He is a graduate of Pampa High school, Pampa, Texas. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Simmons, 321 N. Frost, St., Pampa, Texas. He played basketball and was a member of the band, he was also a Phi Sigma Epsilon.

Simmons has completed ten weeks of training at Glendale, where he was enrolled in the Cal-Aero flying school. He acquired about 60 hours of flying while there, in addition to considerable ground school work. Here, he will learn additional flying on 450 horsepower training ships.

At the successful completion of this part of the training, he will go to Stockton, California, to the advanced flying school. A ten-week period of training there will lead to a commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Corps, and his wings. He will then be assigned to an Air Corps unit for further training.

Simmons is one member of the second class to come to Moffett Field following its conversion into a school. The local field was thus placed in a similar capacity to Randolph Field, Texas, where the Air Corps for years has trained its pilots.

King Nor Reigns

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 22 (AP)—Romantic King Nor, 13-year-old school boy, today blazed a sunlit trail through New Orleans in his one-day reign over the children's Mardi Gras fête, and then relinquished the glittering show to the fair sex who parade tomorrow for the first time.

422 Sign Up For Old-Time Dances

More residents of Pampa want to learn folk and square dances than there is space available for instruction.

On Friday Jim Edwards, director of the Pampa Recreation council, announced that James R. Clossin would be here to give free instruction on next Thursday and Friday. On Saturday he had to call a halt on registration because of lack of floor space for instruction.

No less than 422 men and women have registered to take lessons and now Mr. Edwards doesn't know where he is going to put them.

Afternoon classes will be conducted from 3 to 4:30 o'clock each afternoon at the American Legion hall. Night classes will be from 6:30 to 8 o'clock for one class and from 8 to 9:30 o'clock for another class, in the city auditorium.

Mr. Clossin is one of the outstanding instructors in folk and square dances in the nation.

BIGGEST ROOM IN THE WORLD IS WORKSHOP OF NEW NORTH AMERICAN WARPLANE FACTORY

By ED HOFFMAN
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

DALLAS, Feb. 21—The biggest room in the world... without a single window... made liveable by the world's biggest air-conditioning system... illuminated by one of the world's most powerful lighting systems... yes, it's quite an airplane factory North American Aviation, Inc., is rushing to completion just outside Dallas. Company officials hope army planes will be rolling out of the plant by mid-March.

Big is the word for just about everything related to this enterprise.

Big is the word for the plant itself, which will cover one million square feet.

Big is the word for government contracts already assured—$50,000,000 worth.

BUILT IN LINE WITH EUROPE'S LESSONS

Backed by the government in building the new plant, North American bought 140 acres adjoining Hensley field, an army air base four miles west of Dallas. Ground was broken last Sept. 28. Company officials expect to be making planes by March.

The plant is being built with an eye to all the lessons learned from Europe's experience with bombs laid over a three-inch sand cushion. Builders believe a bomb would not greatly interfere with production.

The roof will be thoroughly camouflaged. A complete 18-hole golf course with artificial trees and shrubs will be painted on it.

SAME SYSTEM HEATS AND AIR CONDITIONS

The factory will have six units: the main building, largest room in the world, 960 by 870 feet, covering a floor space of 835,200 square feet; hangar building, 45,000 square feet; drop hammer building, 15,000 square feet; foundry, 25,000 square feet; paint mixing building, 12,500 square feet; office building, 8,400 square feet.

This gives an idea of the size of the building.

The national capital at Washington is famed not only for its beauty but for its immensity. It covers 153,112 square feet. But the North American factory covers about five and a half times as much floor space as the capital.

The main building will be divided into four units. Final assembly of planes will be made in an area 150 feet wide by 960 feet long—that's about equal to three football fields—with 150-foot span steel trusses.

Emerson Talks To Journalism Class

Pupils of the high school journalism class of which W. R. Swann is teacher, heard Brownwood Emerson of the editorial department of The Pampa News give a talk at the 2 o'clock period Friday afternoon.

Feature writing, how to find feature leads, what constitutes news, the code of journalism, and how high school students should regard their work on the school newspaper were subjects discussed by The Pampa News reporter.

Mr. Emerson at the request of Mr. Swann, read one of his recent feature stories to the class and explained how the idea for the story originated and how the story was developed.

Fire Truck Lost In New Mexico Blaze

JAL, N. M., Feb. 22 (AP)—The city hall and fire truck it housed were completely lost in a fire at this southeastern New Mexico oil town today.

Damage was estimated at $10,000, including the recently-purchased $3,800 truck and other fire fighting equipment.

When the blaze was discovered about 1 a. m., it was too late for firemen to remove the truck. The fire departments of Kermit, Tex., and Emu, N. M., arrived in time to keep the fire from spreading.

The Vought-Sikorsky XP4U-1 with 1850 horsepower is rated with a top speed of 400 miles an hour plus.

This view of the structural steel work on the North American plant gives an idea of the immensity of the building. Tiny speck in right extreme background is a man.

HOPE FOR 300-400 PLANES PER MONTH

Electric power will be obtained from Dallas, but there will be an emergency service in the factory itself, consisting of three 1000-watt diesel generating units.

As there are no windows in the plant, lighting will be all-important. Fluorescent lighting of the latest type will supply 26 foot candles of light on all points of planes under construction and, where precision work is necessary, will supply 40 foot candles of light.

The plant will be the first new airplane plant at a new location constructed as part of the national defense program. If plane deliveries begin in March, it will also be the first new plant to get into production. By the end of 1941 officials expect the plant to be turning out between 300 and 400 airplanes a month.

While the plant is being pushed to completion, the company is running a school in Dallas to train men to take places in the factory. There will be 12,000 employees at first, with a yearly payroll running into millions of dollars.

Legislature Ahead Of Usual Schedule

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL
Associated Press Staff

AUSTIN, Feb. 22—In the steady unfolding panorama that is the general session of the forty-seventh legislature, at least four trends were plainly visible today.

The regular appropriation bills which will make available the multi-millions necessary to operate the government another two years were speeding well ahead of normal schedules toward floor consideration.

The legislators were nibbling cautiously with reference to taxes, although the house revenue and taxation committee, in the midst of hearings on revenue-raising proposals, had appointed a sub-group to draft an omnibus bill.

The senate was going over major appointments of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel with a fine tooth comb and confirming minor ones at a fast clip. In sharp contrast with the situation two years ago, little disposition to attack O'Daniel personally and directly, was evident, nothing comparable to the bitter onslaughts of the past having appeared in the first 40 days of this session.

Evidencing the desire of many members for swift action on appropriations, the house Thursday passed the judiciary appropriation bill, first of five major money measures to reach the floor of either legislative branch.

Because several of the newest American fighting planes are so fast and can climb to thin air so rapidly, pilots must take the same precautions that divers do to prevent "the bends."

Fire Discovered At Store At Closing Time

A lucky discovery, made just as a Pampa merchant was preparing to close his store, prevented the outbreak of what might have been a major fire threatening an entire block in Pampa last night.

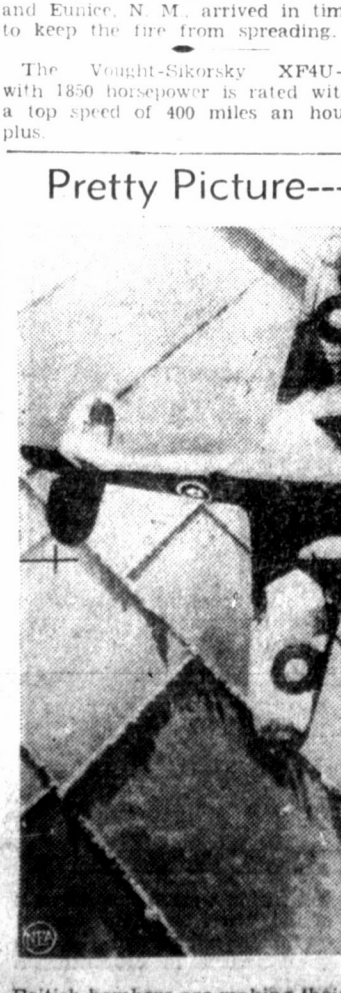

Only damage to Lively's, 114 W. Foster, was a burned out section of wall and a 15-foot section of charred roof.

The fire was discovered by Homer Lively, owner of the store, when he started to check the source of a faint smell of smoke and the sound of a heat-expanding ceiling, about 10:30 o'clock Saturday night.

Pampa firemen were promptly on hand and soon had the smoldering fire out. The part of the wall affected was toward the rear of the store and extended up a section about three feet wide, from near the floor level up to the roof.

Fire Chief Ben White said the fire occurred between the inner and outer walls, and that cause of the fire had not been determined last night.

Garner Has Sore Jaws And Is Mum

AMARILLO, Feb. 22 (AP)—Former Vice President John Garner was more silent than ever today as he arrived with his wife for Monday's wedding of their only grandchild, 18-year old Genevieve Garner.

Recent dental work left his jaws sore and he declined to comment on national affairs.

Genevieve, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garner's only son, Tully, will marry John J. Currie, Jr., plains country rancher. The young couple will live on Currie's ranch.

Cameramen have been barred from the wedding and a reception to follow.

King's Ranch Wins $20,000 Hoss Race

By GAYLE TALBOT
MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 22 (AP)—King Ranch's Dispose, the commuting colt from South Carolina, set himself up as a good Kentucky Derby candidate by winning the $20,000 Flamingo stakes by a head over Curious Coin today before 29,541 fans, the biggest crowd seen at Hialeah park since the brown days.

Dispose won a thrilling, breath-taking race, in which he and Curious Coin fought it out down the stretch, yet promising three-year-old was forced to divide the crowd's attention with Col. E. R. Bradley's Bimelech, which made his 1941 debut with an impressive victory.

The "big hoss" of 1940, running against three horses in the event just before the Flamingo, looked handsome as a silver dollar. He took the lead almost at the start and led the rest of the way.

Greentree Stable's Hash, which will oppose Bimelech in the $50,000 widener next Saturday, challenged the favorite in the stretch, but he didn't quite have it.

Dispose might have had his job in the Flamingo made easier by the scratching of Warren Wright's Whirlaway just before post time.

Dispose in winning $20,250 of the purse ran the mile and an eighth in 1:48 4/5, a full second less than Bimelech required for the same distance, and returned to his backers $4.20 for each 2 mutual ticket. Bimelech paid off only $2.70.

Draft Unfair, Says Boss Of Dodgers

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 22 (AP)—Larry MacPhail, boss of the Brooklyn Dodgers, said today that "the draft as it is going to affect our young baseball players is definitely unfair."

"By drafting them into service in June, they are knocking the boys out of two years' play," said MacPhail, who came here from the Dodgers' Havana training camp for a week-end business visit.

"I mean by that, if you're going to lose a fellow June 1, then you can't figure on him and consequently have to find someone else. Then the following season you don't get your man back until June and in the meantime you've got somebody else."

MacPhail said the club owners wouldn't know how seriously selective service would affect their teams until about June 1. Brooklyn farm clubs have already lost a half-dozen of their key players, however, he said, and stand to lose others.

"I think, frankly," he declared, "that inasmuch as draft officials are applying leniency to the classes of young doctors, clerks and men in other professions, they should defer calling ball players until, say October 1."

"Of course," he added, "I'm not entering a protest. But I think the draft officials will come around to my way of thinking after a while and adopt a system whereby ball players will be compelled to lose only one season away from their work."

Pension Official 'Scouts' Meeting

FORT WORTH, Feb. 22 (AP)—Revelation that a staff member of the old age assistance office here "scouted" the Waco hearing of a special legislative investigating committee furnished a climax today to the committee's two-day inquiry into pension practice in this area.

Mrs. Annie Twiss, area supervisor, and John D. Moseley, records examiner in the office here, were quizzed about the expedition. Mrs. Twiss admitted sending Moseley to Waco and Moseley admitted he went.

Questioning of Mrs. Twiss on all angles of the policy followed by the office here closed the hearing. Representative McNamara, of Waco, chairman, set no date for resuming it, but said the inquiry "probably would be reopened in Wichita Falls."

He said he hoped the committee would be able to make its report to the legislature within two or three weeks.

Mrs. Twiss explained she sent Moseley to the Waco hearing because "I wanted to see whether you were conducting an investigation or an impartial, conscientious hearing intended to get at the facts and accomplished something."

"Are you satisfied now that that is being done?" she was asked.

"Yes," said Mrs. Twiss.

Mrs. Twiss recommended that the legislature "work over" the section of the law setting standards for determining the eligibility of applicants for pensions.

Federal authorities, before contributing to the Texas pension fund, require that the need of applicants be established, she pointed out, whereas the Texas law expressly forbids it.

FDR Works On Records

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Feb. 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt spent Washington's birthday working on his papers in the new library in which will be preserved the official and personal records of his years as the nation's chief executive.

White House officials said he had no caller today. Harry L. Hopkins, who was the President's personal representative in England for four weeks, accompanied Mr. Roosevelt from Washington, however, and the two had time for further discussions of the situation in Britain.

Santa Claus Visits Louisiana Children

BAYOU DU LARGE, La., Feb. 22 (AP)—Two months overdue, jolly old Santa Claus paid his annual final call of the 1940 Christmas season here today, gladdening the hearts of the children of a "lost" colony of English folk, whose origin is a mystery.

Amid bright sunshine and warm Gulf breezes, St. Nick distributed his gifts at the St. Andrew mission, after the Rev. Skardon D'Aubert, Episcopal minister, led the children in singing Christmas carols, and delivered a Christmas "peace" message.

Santa Claus comes late each year to Bayou Du Large because the parents and children are deep in the south Louisiana marshes at Christmas time trapping muskrats. The season ends in mid-February.

The English people, a group surrounded entirely by French and French-Spanish descendants, make their living by hunting and trapping in the winter, fishing in the summer. Although only a few miles below New Orleans, their settlement was isolated, until a road was opened recently, and the mission established.

Their origin is a mystery. Some historians claim they are descendants of captives of Jean Lafitte and his Baratarian pirates. Lafitte, according to this theory, had imprisoned them on a nearby island from whence they escaped to settle on the mainland.

In appearance, language and religion they are distinct and apart from their French-speaking, Catholic and dark-skinned Cajun neighbors.

In Japan, the whale is utilized for food. The Japanese, who can't afford beef, relish whale steaks.

You'll find its SOFT AND QUIET RIDE

WE INVITE YOU to compare the ride of your present car, no matter what it is, with the ride of this year's Ford.

- Never before in Ford history have we devoted so many improvements at once to producing increased comfort.
- We lengthened both wheelbase and springbase. We designed entirely new bodies of greater length and width than ever before. Bodies with as much as seven inches added to seating width. Bodies with wider doors and bigger windows than ever before.
- Then we equipped this big 1941 Ford with softer "Slow-Motion" springs. With a new frame that is 100% more rigid. With improved shock absorbers. And with a perfected ride stabilizer for steadiness on turns and in high winds.

The result is a ride that many say is new for a car of any size!

England 'Our Only Hope,' Says Wallace

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 22 (AP)—Vice President Henry A. Wallace said tonight that "the price of democracy and peace on this hemisphere is based on our being more willing than the Nazis to sacrifice our goods, our time, and, if need be, our lives."

He made this assertion in an address prepared for the National Farm Institute, and, it was understood, read and approved by President Roosevelt. It was his first address since he assumed the presidency.

"Our only hope for peace is to prevent England from being destroyed by the Nazis," he declared. "Let those who fear the consequences of war keep that in mind."

"They looking toward a time when Nazism is defeated," Wallace said that the United States has "the resources, the inventive genius and the heart" to do "the job of peace" in gaining higher living standards for common men the world over.

"We shall look forward to the time when no man will go hungry," he said.

The vice president added that the wisdom of American action in the first three years of peace "will determine the course of world history for half a century."

In aiding Great Britain, Wallace said, "we are driven by the most selfless of motives—self preservation."

"Given sufficient time to arm, we will be able to repel any immediate armed invasion. I doubt our ability to repel the economic attack which would follow the downfall of England."

Wallace, who recently made a good-will trip to Mexico and is expected to visit other Latin American countries in the future, declared that the idea of Pan-American solidarity has been "an ever-growing one" but asserted:

"A complete Nazi victory will first result in Nazi domination of South America and the effort to dominate our own United States."

"All of Europe and Africa will be coordinated and the Nazi quislings in South America will at once direct for political power. Nazi Germans will endeavor, by skillfully directed trade, to determine the economic structure of every country in the world."

"The only hope of keeping even a part of our pre-war markets for wheat, cotton, tobacco, pork products and other agricultural commodities is Hitler's defeat."

The fact that seven million Americans are supported by foreign trade, the vice president continued, "makes complete trade isolation unthinkable."

France Asked To Give Up Third Of French Indo-China

(By The Associated Press)

VICHY, France, Feb. 22—France rejected today a Japanese-sponsored proposal which reliable informants said was a demand that approximately one-third of the western Indo-China provinces of Laos and Cambodia be ceded to Thailand (Siam).

Informed sources, in the midst of far Eastern tension of which the Indo-China dispute is only a nebulous segment, said the government had decided it would prefer to let border hostilities be resumed rather than accept peace terms so severe.

(French Indo-China and Thailand ended their sporadic warfare with an armistice signed on Jan. 31 aboard a Japanese cruiser. Japanese mediation of the dispute began shortly thereafter in Tokyo, but it has bogged down.)

(Japanese radio advice indicated the French rejection of the Thai demands followed a meeting of the supreme council of war of Indo-China which, in the Japanese view, discussed whether to cooperate with Japan or to align the colony with "Anglo-American powers.")

(The Thai demands are generally considered to be connected with Japan's own plans for expansion southward.)

Some observers believe the stiff attitude in the Far East of both Britain and the United States will cause Japan to change her position in supporting Thailand.

Byrd Expedition Dog Dies In Canyon

CANYON, Feb. 22—Neeka is dead. Canyon's most prominent canine citizen died following an operation for tumors.

She was a big malmute dog which was used by the second Byrd Antarctic expedition. She was born in Maine about eight years ago but was taken aboard a Byrd ship while a pup. Friendly and quiet, she was given the run of the ship—an unusual liberty for dogs of the northern breed—and became a favorite of Admiral Byrd. By spring she was a large, powerful animal trained as a sled dog. She served faithfully on the Antarctic trails.

When the expedition was ended and the dog packs were dispersed, Admiral Byrd gave Neeka to Joe Hill, Jr. of Canyon, the youngest member of the expedition and son of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill. Neeka accompanied her young master on speaking tours and later was a part of the Byrd exhibit at the Texas Centennial. When Joe, Jr. went to the University of Texas, Neeka was left with Dr. and Mrs. Hill at Canyon.

Neeka was an invalid most of the last year and her condition was closely followed by local people and others who learned of her illness. She was a dignified animal, showing a reserved interest in visitors but permitting no familiarities. Her skin is being prepared for the Panhandle-Plains museum by a taxidermist.

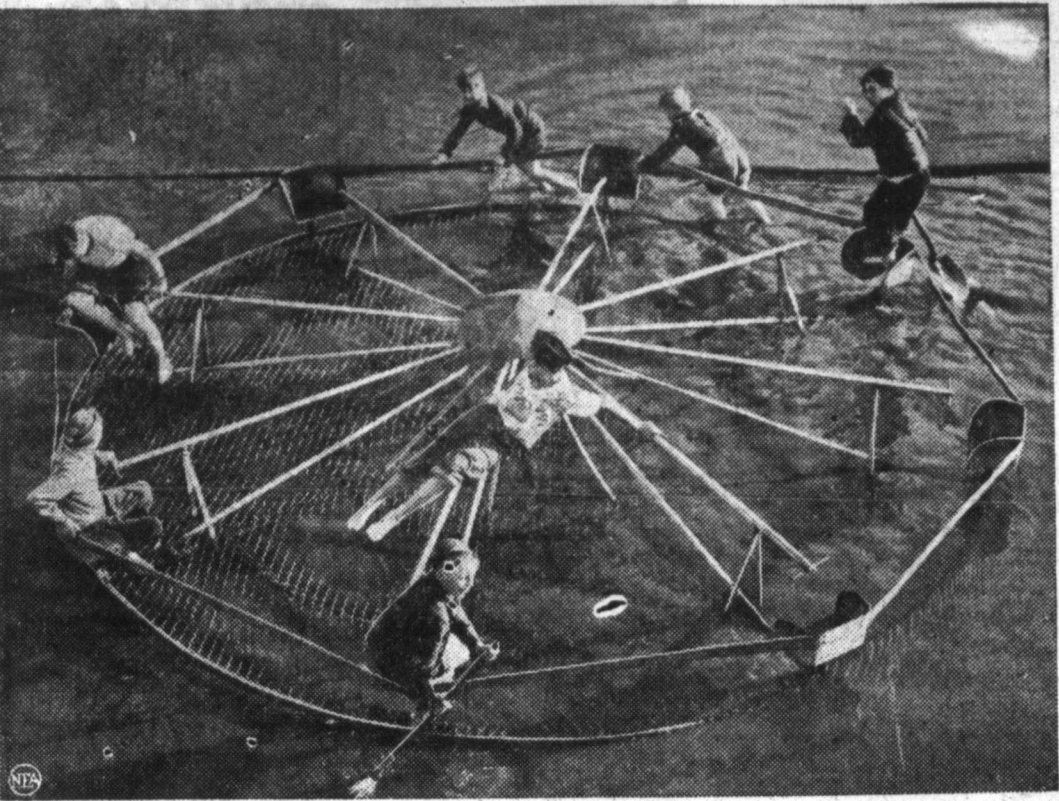

Joe Hill, Jr. has a good position in a Douglas Aircraft Corporation factory in Santa Monica, Calif.

Radio Set Given To Miami School

Miami, Feb. 22—A new radio has been installed in the study hall of Miami High school. It was presented to the school as a joint gift from the P.-T. A. and the FFA.

It is the latest model of its type having both the recording system and the public announcement attachment.

Down to the Sea on a Merry-Go-Round

Boys have evolved this new sport out of necessity because of California rains—heavy mists, if the Chamber of Commerce is listening. Washed out of their playgrounds for some time, the kids rolled up their pants and, equipped with brooms, shovels and such for paddles, mounted a merry-go-round in Golden Gate Park and rowed their way 'round and 'round.

KPDN Radio Chat

For thirty minutes every morning lovers of cowboy music and hillbilly tunes will have a chance to hear favorite melodies played and sung by the most popular cowboy and hillbilly melodists. The program is called "Stringing Along," and begins at 7:45 a. m. everyday, except Sunday, when it comes at 8:15 o'clock and runs for a quarter hour. It features Bob Willis, the Sons of the Pioneers, the Light Crust Doughboys, and Gene Autry.

Since the commencement of the program two or three days ago, KPDN has received quite a bit of fan mail about it. One card requested that the Sons of the Pioneers play "Tumbleweeds," for "no one can play it like they do." Music director Ray Monday reacts to this one: "To be exact, no one can play it." You see, "Tumbleweeds" belongs to AS CAP.

One mother reports the music has a quieting effect on her young son, who needs quieting most of the time. This harem-scarem four-year-old carries a gun and is pretty wild-west himself; so the cowboy music is right down his alley. He sits before the radio throughout the program strumming an imaginary guitar, and singing with Gene Autry and the others.

So, mothers, take a hint. Here's a sort of lullaby for those bucky-bucking buckaroos of yours.

Here's a warning: Kids will do well to watch this column next Sunday for an announcement about the beginning of a new dramatic program that's filled with adventure and thrills. It's "The Adventures of Frank Farrell." It'll start in March.

Miss Eileta Bullard, secretary-receptionist at KPDN, received a letter yesterday from Father Flanagan at Boys Town, announcing that she has been elected to honorary citizenship in Boys Town, that city of little men in Nebraska. A certificate of such citizenship, suitable for framing will be along in a few days, the letter says. Miss Bullard has handled the programming of the half-hour Boys Town program which has been airing since Sunday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, and the honor is in recognition of that.

There were a great many telephone calls and comments about that quiz program that Claudia Bengé and Ray Monday conducted over at the high school auditorium during a regular assembly here. It is hoped that this may be made a regular feature.

Musing on Music

KPDN's music library expanded further this week when 20 new dance tunes were added. Sterling Young tunes were favorites: "It All Comes Back to Me Now," "Toot That Trumpet," "People Like You," "The Harvest Moon is Shining," and "So You're the One." In addition to the brand new numbers, "Blue Lament," "Time Stood Still," "Disillusioned," "So Far Away, But Yet So Near," and "Good-bye, Summer." Fred Nagel and his orchestra bring these tunes to KPDN listeners. "Eloise," "My Pledge of Allegiance," "Where the Mountains Meet the Moon," "In My Mountains of Love," "Let's Dream This One Out," "Shadows in the Night," "I Can't Remember to Forget," "Here's a Picture of My Mother," "You Made a Touchdown on My Heart," and "That Lonely Tune."

"It All Comes Back to Me Now" springs immediately into the "top tune" list in number three position, preceded by "Eloise," and "The Same Old Story." Rated fourth and fifth, respectively, were "G'Bye Now," and "There I Go." Those are the melodies that will be heard this afternoon at 3 o'clock on KPDN's "Top Tunes of the Day."

Statewide Oil Proration Hearing Set For Monday

AUSTIN, Feb. 22 (AP)—Texas oil operators preparing to attend Monday's statewide proration hearing noted today that the railroad commission, since Jan. 1, had increased no field allowances between major production orders and held over-all yield below market demand estimates.

Commission engineers' figures disclosed estimated actual production the past week averaged 29,317 barrels daily under the February demand estimate of 1,312,900 barrels by the U. S. bureau of mines.

The bureau recently forecast an increase of 14,500 barrels daily in demand for Texas oil, bringing the total to 1,327,400 for March.

At the hearing, testimony on which to base future orders will be received. The current order, of 60 days duration, will expire March 31.

Pampa Churches To Hold Their Annual City-Wide Survey

Pampa churches will hold their annual city-wide survey on Tuesday, March 4, it was announced today by the Rev. Russell G. West, secretary of the Pampa Ministerial alliance.

Reason for the change of the day of the week for the survey from Sunday, as has been the case in the past, to a week-day, is that the alliance believes more persons can be contacted at home on Tuesday than on Sunday.

Another change in the annual religious census will be that workers will not fill out cards for persons who are now members of some local church.

On Sunday, March 2, census workers from each church will meet at the First Methodist church for information, supplies, and instruction. There will be 170 workers, each church furnishing its assigned quota.

Purpose of the survey is to locate Pampans who are not affiliated with any local church.

LET US NOT FORGET (No. 1)

The congress of the United States and for the most part, the people of the United States are involved today in a controversy which has no precedent in our history. On the one side we have groups which are favoring "all out" aid to Great Britain in her war against Nazi Germany and on the other side we have groups which are sarcastically branded by the other side as "isolationists" and "appeasers."

Shall we give all that we can give to Britain? Shall we give to Franklin Roosevelt more power than any President in all American history has had at the cost of ordinary peace-time and war-time congressional power?

Shall we be "isolationists" and work for the defense of our own shores and let Britain fight her own war? These who are opposing the first two questions and lean to the third are not, contrary to Washington propaganda, against Britain and sympathetic toward the Nazi regime. They are, in reality, attempting to put this question ahead of the most important question:

Shall America go to war? They see in the granting of these immense powers to Franklin Roosevelt and in "all out" aid for Britain the possibility and the probability, the very likelihood, in fact, that we will become actively engaged in another war. If we dodge war now we will be doing more than the ordinary American citizen expects today. These so-called "isolationists" and "appeasers" are not acting as political enemies of the New Deal. Politics should have no part in the settlement of these great questions. It is refreshing to note that the "isolationists" are of both political faiths in Washington and, if comments heard here in Pampa, can be used as a criterion, over the country, too.

They are American men and women who have not forgotten 1917-1919. Let us look at the World war record and then ask ourselves if keeping America out of war is not the No. 1 problem before this country today, a problem greater than helping Britain, greater than more presidential power, greater than all else. It is argued that if we do not help stop Hitler now he will attack us. This might and might not come to pass, but up to the present time it is only supposition on this side of the Atlantic. Supposing we spend our resources on Britain and Britain loses and then we are attacked. Will we be prepared with the Roosevelt indebtedness hanging over us plus the loss of our resources shipped over to Britain? Perhaps we can aid Britain and also adequately prepare, but most certainly the Roosevelt debt is against us and the outset.

We are united in favor of a British victory, not because it would be a victory over the German people, but a victory over the present-day German government and because Britain is close to us although we have had to fight on more than one occasion to free ourselves from British domination. We should be equally united in favor of doing all that can possibly be done to keep America out of Europe's hell.

We need now to recall the World war. Among us there are millions who were too young at the time to realize what it was all about.

Among these millions are some young people who look upon war as a "lark," or an "adventure" instead of as the tragedy that it really is. Most of us today know that we have not yet recovered from the last war and that we will not have recovered from it for years to come.

Shall we now flirt with another? (Continued Tomorrow)

Behind The News

By PETER EDSON The Pampa News Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, Feb. 22—You may not have noticed it, but Commissioner Leon Henderson of the division of price stabilization, Council of National Defense, issued his "Price Schedule No. 1" the other day, and there's more to it than meets the eye. "Price Schedule No. 1" covers the maximum prices to be charged for second-hand machine tools after March 1, and while the family's kitchen meat grinder and orange juice squeezer don't come under the heading of machine tools, and the subject may therefore seem of remote interest to the average housewife and kitchen mechanic, it's the principle of this thing that counts, so anyone who buys or sells anything may well take note.

Common Ground

By R. G. HOILES

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

MEASURING LOVE

A critic of this column contends that men do not need to be able to measure what they are talking about in order to know something about it. He says that this necessity of being able to measure in order to be of value "is not valid, unless taken in connection with reference to mechanical or physical phenomena. There are many spiritual, moral, personal, religious, and artistic truths that we know a good deal about and are most possessing realities to us, that we can neither express in figures or measurements. Can a mother tell us in terms of bushels or metric tons of her love to her child? She may give her very life for that reality."

Certainly one can measure love. The greatest of all educators measured love when He said, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

The reader will note the word "greater." This is comparison; this is measurement. And the fraction of a person's life that he devotes to making another happy is the measurement of his love. Of course, it has nothing directly to do with bushels or metric tons. The fraction of any man's life he is willing to give or exchange for a thing is the measurement he puts upon the value and importance of that thing. The percentage or fraction of a mother's life that she gives for her child when necessary is the measurement of the love.

POVERTY NOT NECESSARY TO UNDERSTAND POVERTY

Those people who claim there is some better way of eliminating poverty, than by free enterprise, invariably resort to the suggestion that those people who are not poverty-stricken themselves know nothing of poverty or the means of reducing poverty and so their methods of reducing poverty are not worth as much as those who suffer great poverty.

Poverty is relative and it is the ability of the man to foresee the misery and suffering resulting from great poverty that to a large degree causes him to work to prevent being in a state of extreme poverty. The man who is poverty-stricken might know more about poverty but he demonstrates he knows little about the method of reducing poverty.

These men who claim they can reduce poverty by the simple method of making a law to limit hours and limit profits like to point a finger of scorn at those who believe these kinds of laws will make more poverty instead of less. They jump at the conclusion that their scheme will reduce poverty and anybody who opposes is not interested in reducing poverty. This conclusion, of course, is erroneous and demagogic. It diverts the question of the problem of solving the attention to a personal basis and detracts the attention of the public from the important thing of making it possible so that all people may have a higher reward for a given sacrifice.

No, the amount of poverty a man has is not a test of whether a man knows how to reduce poverty. That is the important thing—reducing poverty not having actual experience with great poverty.

In this excitement, machine tools became public bottlenecks. No. 1. Demand did a standing high jump over the moon of supply, and certain dish-faced dealers in second-hand machine tools ran away with the spoon—full of the gravy of war-time profits. Any crossroads machine shop with an old lathe or drill press was subject to raids. Bought for a song, these machine tools were carted to manufacturing centers where there was most active demand, and sold for profits of 100 and 200 per cent. In some cases, second-hand machine tools sold for more than new equipment because the old stuff could be delivered immediately.

THE DOVES

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON NEA Service Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 23—When the movie-makers try to make a movie about the movies, it's usually a flop. It seems the customers don't like to see their dream-world kidded. But there's a sequence in "The Cowboy and the Blonde" that should get guffaws in Hollywood, anyway, because the colony will recognize all the stellar impersonations.

It's a series of screen tests made of a cowboy called Lank (played by George Montgomery, a new-comer) for mythical Consolidated Studios. Having been discovered in a rodeo, Lank is being costumed and filmed in various ways to determine his screen type.

So first they test him for drawing-room stuff, in white tie and tails. In the best George Brent-Melvyn Douglas tradition, he desperately tells the other man's wife, "Darling, we can't go on this way!" Then, generously matted with a chest wig, draped in a sarong and barefoot, Lank plays a scene reminiscent of "Typhoon" or "Hurricane."

No, the amount of poverty a man has is not a test of whether a man knows how to reduce poverty. That is the important thing—reducing poverty not having actual experience with great poverty.

It happens that the movie plot is pretty close to George Montgomery's own career, because he was a cowboy, and did take part in rodeos. He now owns a 1440-acre ranch in Montana and figures he may go back there in three or four years to raise wheat and Herefords. Twentieth-Fox figures he may not. Hollywood needs young leading men, especially handsome, 75-inch blonds with a knack for acting.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim This letter, written in an attractive feminine handwriting, is described as a "polite substitution" in a P.S. at the end of the note. And that makes me wonder just how much I owe to the pretty lady (she's bound to be beautiful—if her handwriting is any indication of her looks). Did she tone down the message from an abrupt, indignant expression of opinion to a gentle reproving rebuke? If so, thanks—and thanks to the author, too. The letter: "The drinks are on you folks! I was born and raised in the oilfields (Okla. & Texas) Glen Pool, Slick Drumwright, Ranger, Berger, Camp, remember? And I learned that song as soon as I could say 'da-da.' You know the old one about 'As I was a goin' down the road, with a tired team & a heavy load, I cracked my whip & the leader sprung and the boss busted the wagon tongue?' Well, it's the same time only the words are 'Signed, Gain Ache.' Well, do you want your drink straight, or do you use a chaser? Guess we have to buy drinks, too, for Charlie Guy in the Lubbock Avalanche, whom we described as a fraud and a fake for saying that song was an oilfield fixture."

SWAMP, MURDER, AND INDIAN WAR AFFORD VARIED FICTION FARE A boy and his dog are the heroes of Vereen Bell's unusual novel, "Swamp Water" (Little, Brown; $2), a story of the people who inhabit the fringes of Georgia's trackless, primitive swamp areas. Simple, yet compelling, this novel draws attention to the fact that there are still frontiers in United States, still untracked areas to be explored.

Ben Regan wasn't looking for trouble when he poled his boat into the darkness of the great Okfenekes swamp. He was looking for "Trouble," his carefully trained hound. Ben found his dog and a murderer, too, and together they brought Ben more worries than he deserved.

Definitely on the disturbing side is Carson McCuller's "Reflections in a Golden Eye" (Houghton Mifflin; $2), unique story of two army officers in peacetime, their wives, a servant, and a soldier.

Essentially, this is the story of a murder; but the murder is the end, not the beginning. Carefully, Miss McCuller builds suspense to an inevitable climax. And the hero, if there can be one—is the murder victim. It's not a gift book, but a psychologist might enjoy it.

The pageant of America in fiction continues, and this time dips into the colonial Carolinas to bring to attention an Indian chief who hoped to halt the white man's advance into the west. Herbert Ravenel Sass tells of an almost forgotten episode in American history in "Empire Brims" (Doubleday Doran; $2.50), leader of the Creek Indian war.

There's all the action you could ask for, a beautiful colonist, a courageous fur trader, and an Indian girl, Empire Brims enters the story only at the last, but his character overshadows the entire tale.

TEX'S TOPICS

By Tex DeWeese THE United States government, according to a story in The New York World-Telegram, has just awarded a contract for the printing of 4,500,000 special tags for identification of war dead and wounded. The story caused a sensation in New York. The paper was criticized for carrying the information. The fact, however, was not denied. Critics of the World-Telegram's story claimed: "By its frightening implications the layout served to undermine the morale of the young men who have registered under the Selective Service Act and upon whom depends the national defense." "Wah, wah, wah, but let's not kid anybody about what Uncle Sam is doing. If he is having printed four and a half million tags to identify war dead and wounded, there's nothing wrong with people knowing about it."

Babies: America's baby crop in 1940 was 2,350,000—the highest yield in 10 years. The Census Bureau reports the national birth rate rose from 17.3 per 1000 in 1939, to 18 per 1000 last year—still below the 1921 ratio of 19.1. After having 11 daughters during 16 years of marriage, an Altoona, Pa., family rejoiced over the birth of a son. A Buffalo, N. Y., couple have decided to name their 15th child "Two March. Their 12th was called Enough."

PERHAPS you noticed that it was slippery Saturday. We noticed it about the time we went into a fall-spin on the Pampa-Amarillo highway between here and White Deer. After trying to do a vehicular imitation of the Man on the Flying Trapeze we wound up north by northeast and southwest with the nose pointing skyward and our fustige in the side ditch. Passing motorists were kind enough to get us back on the runway so we could take off again, but this time between 10 and 15 miles an hour. There was no damage except a thumping heart which got that way from coming up into the mouth. There probably is no more helpless feeling than the one you get when your car begins waltzing the Blue Danube on an icy road. Unless it would be diving off a high-dive only to discover when you're in the air that they have drained the pool.

Three new pop songs that soon will take you by storm are "Hi, Hi, What's Cookin'", "Broadway Cabaret," and "Peter Piper." Also "Penthouse on the Palisades," written by a Philadelphia dentist. And, says Herman Krieger of KPND, speaking of songwriter, "I Love You" may be a welcome sentence to millions of American girls, but it has proven to be the stumbling block to more than one hopeful songwriter. Probably the greatest fault of the amateur songsmith is the lack of freshness in his work. Hundreds of songs on the "love and you" theme are received by song publishers every day, but it is the song with the new twist, or an original approach that is accepted.

ORIGINALITY or the expression of a familiar idea in a different way is one of the major points to be remembered in the creation of a song and an ingenious title or phrase has been responsible for the success of many hits. Professional songwriters are always on the alert for some new phrase around which to build a song. Amateurs, on the other hand, are content to write what they consider a "good song" without realizing that the same thing has been used in a thousand other songs. The "love and you" theme are two "Jack Stroups" in Pampa. Each is charged. One of them is a recent new papa. The other one gets many congratulations. In fact, only the other day he received a baby dress. They have a great deal of difficulty with their mail, and even their banking accounts. These two Jack Stroups are unrelated.

There's all the action you could ask for, a beautiful colonist, a courageous fur trader, and an Indian girl, Empire Brims enters the story only at the last, but his character overshadows the entire tale.

The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON A pertinent fact about the battle of Britain is that the British, after enduring months of siege, are in an offensive, not a defensive mood. If there is doubt of her ability to weather a spring tornado of German attack, whatever its nature or scope, British strategic moves fail to show it. The British have not only all but blasted Italy out of Africa, but London has deliberately challenged Germany to the Balkans, not to words but in the Malayan Peninsula area also have been landed there. It was British ability to seize air control from Italy in north Africa that prepared the way for the smashing British victories there which have shaken Italian prestige.

Observers at Singapore report that enough battle planes to insure British air safety in the Malayan Peninsula area also have been landed there. It was British ability to seize air control from Italy in north Africa that prepared the way for the smashing British victories there which have shaken Italian prestige.

The siege of Britain has cost more civilian lives than soldier casualties, but the aggregate has been below British expectations when the fight started. England has learned new defensive techniques quickly against air attack. The most recent British reports credit her with shooting down more than 3,000 German aircraft against 800-odd British ships lost over England. Presumably, better than half the British personnel in downed ships escaped, many of them to fight again. The London recapitulation

"It is for each to utter that which he sincerely believes to be true, and add his unit of influence to all other units of influence, and let the results work themselves out." —BIBBICUS, in a speech to confine their articles to 500 words.

Dear Fellow Half-wits: Do you inquire what a half-wit is? He or she is a person who makes a decision after considering only a part of the facts necessary to draw a reasonable conclusion. Society falls into two main groups, one large group who scarcely think at all—creatures of habit and appetite. Many we call these "twit-wits." The members of the second group do considerable thinking but only on one side of a subject to fortify their self-interests or their prejudice. Shall we name these "Half-wits"? The full-witted are few to form a group and yet these scattered digits are the ones who sustain our civilization and move it ahead.

Perhaps if we try right hard we half-wits may attain full mentality. A certain new dealer in one publication I read has been appearing and re-appearing over his initials instead of his full name, who is obsessed with the notion that "Industrial Hogs" is the malady which ails us. That they were the cause of such lows as the wage and hour law and the Wagner law. That these are social gains. Is it the wholesale meat packers or is it the retail "Meat Cutters Union" which monopoly charges $200 initiation fee, and the fact that industrial goods and services have been getting a disproportionate share of the swill for the past two decades. Price indices prove this and "Union" organizers and apologists claim it; so I do not need to argue the point. The fact is that affairs is claimed as a "Social Gain." Now let us examine where this "Social Gain" came from—who paid the bill.

Since 1921 the farmer has been receiving for his goods and services very near the market value that he did before the first World War, but industry has been demanding and receiving double the pre-war price for its goods and services. This doubly inflated price reduces the farmers purchasing power on half. As a farmer can only buy one-half as much industrial goods, he of necessity only keeps one-half as many industrial workers busy. This with the high cost of profligate government is the cause of our continuing unemployment. We have taken from the farmer and other competitive workers and given to the industrial monopolies and call it gain.

Not only is it not gain it is tremendous loss. The loss to the commonwealth is the product of ten million held unemployed in order to maintain fictitious and inflated prices. Thus we see we have made no social or any other gain, but instead a considerable loss. We have increased the amount of swill the industrial worker gets (if he has a job) by taking just that much from the farmer and other competitive workers. It would seem that even a half-wit might see that this is not a "Social Gain."

Yours truly, P. S. My next will be on hogs.

said nearly 500 airmen reached the ground safely. It placed Nazi air casualties at over 7,000. Only 1,000 survived and were taken prisoner. The air loss ratio over England is important because it furnishes a key to what ratio of fighter and bomber planes the Germans must provide if they are ever to achieve daylight air control over England—a necessary factor for invasion. The ratio would seem to mean a sharp limitation upon the scope of any daylight bombing attack England need expect. It probably means continuing and perhaps intensified run-Nazi bombing in the lengthening days ahead. It means more but shorter dreadful nights for British citizenry; but far less potential damage to Britain's war industries than the aggregate of months of German bombing on the scheduled British war goods output has not exceeded a 5 per cent slow up. PAMPA BEATS BORGER 41-28 FOR DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIP

Pampa, Lubbock, Amarillo And Quail To Play In Regional

Quail, Pampa, Amarillo, and Lubbock will compete next week-end in the regional basketball meet at Canyon. The winner will be one of the eight teams which will play for the state championship at Austin.

The Harvesters have already defeated Quail twice, Amarillo twice, and have lost two games to Lubbock. However, the Pampa quintet won the Big Five championship after losing to the West-erners early in the season, and soundly trounced Borger and Amarillo, teams which beat Lubbock in Big Five play.

On the basis of these comparisons, the Harvesters have a good chance to win the regional where they have played in the final eight times.

Only last week, the Harvesters overcame Quail on the latter's own court.

District champions and the regions in which they will play next week-end follow:

- Region 1 at Canyon—District 1, Amarillo; District 2, Pampa; District 3, Lubbock; District 4, Quail.
- Region 2 at Abilene—District 5, Abilene; District 6, Dublin; District 7, San Angelo; District 8, Star.
- Region 3 at Denton—District 9, Burburnett; District 10, undecided; District 11, McKinney; District 12, Waco; Dallas city champion, Sunset; Fort Worth city district, undecided.
- Region 4 at Longview—District 13, Gobet; District 14, Mount Vernon; District 15, Van; District 16, Timpson.
- Region 5 at Huntsville—District 17, Bryan; District 18, Livingston; District 19, Addicks; District 20, Beaumont; Houston city champion, Jeff Davis.
- Region 6 at San Marcos—District 21, Lytle; District 22, Jefferson (San Antonio); District 23, San Marcos.
- Region 7 at Kingsville—District 25, Victoria; District 26, Robstown; District 27, Laredo; District 28, Brownsville.
- Region 8 at Marfa—District 29, El Paso High; District 30, Imperial; District 31, Odessa.

Amarillo's Sandies won the basketball championship of district one at Canyon last night, beating Dalhart 16 to 7.

The Phillips Oilers evened the count with Texas Tech at Phillips by winning the second game of the series 54 to 48. Tech beat Phillips Friday night at Amarillo.

Other district tournaments were won by San Marcos, defending state champions, Vernon, Odessa, Van.

The Harvesters won their 10th district interscholastic League basketball championship in 12 years last night, defeating Borger's Bulldogs 41 to 28 in the final game of the tournament in which eight teams competed.

The Harvesters will represent the district in the regional tournament next week-end in Canyon.

Borger got the jump on Pampa and led throughout most of the first half. At one time in the first quarter, the Bulldogs had a 5-point lead. The Borgans led 13 to 12 at the end of the first quarter, and Pampa led 20 to 19 at the half.

The Harvesters kept the lead in the third quarter, and ran away with the game in the fourth.

LeFors Boxers Win 8 Of 10 Bouts From Shamrock

LEFORS, Feb. 22—LeFors boxers won eight out of 10 bouts from Shamrock boxers in a dual meet here Friday night. Next opponent for the Pirates will be at home Friday night when Follett invades LeFors.

Third man in the ring Friday night was Stills Cain of Wheeler. Judges were C. E. McGrew and Paul Hill of Pampa and C. A. Hammons of LeFors.

Results, LeFors boys named first: 65 pounds—Jack Carey defeated Roy Pepper, 70 pounds—Bobby Dunn won from Bobby McIntyre, 75 pounds—Eugene Cooper defeated Jimmy Close, 95 pounds—Clinton Benefield defeated Jerry Anderson, 100 pounds—Don McLaughlin won decision from Richard Beasley, 115 pounds—Charles Vanlandingham lost to Robert Callan, 125 pounds—Jack London defeated S. B. McIntyre, 135 pounds—Floyd Stephens lost to Arthur Schneck, 155 pounds—Waylon Hughes won from Red Pepper, 165 pounds—Paul Barrick defeated H. W. Callan.

The closest and most thrilling game in the tournament was fought to the last whistle by Healey and Borger Friday afternoon. The final score in this game was Borger 32, Healey 30. Hansand, forward, Dickson, center, Alexander, guard, and Biggs, guard, starred for Healey, while Trotter, Briggs, were outstanding for Borger. The game was won on free shots, Borger making 4 to 2 for Healey. Spearman also would have nosed out the Bulldogs if they had made their free shots.

The next closest game was between White Deer and Perryton, won by the Rangers 27 to 13, with Leonard, White Deer center, scoring 11 points.

Coach Jim Lookabaugh of Oklahoma A. & M. college called the entire tournament, and there was very little criticism of his decisions—less than in the history of the tournament.

Hedley came from behind to tie the score with Borger near the end of the game. The Owls had the best team they have had at the district meet since they won the title eight years ago.

TCU Fires Brumblow Then Hikes Pay As Grid Coach

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT FORT WORTH, Feb. 22 (AP)—Seven dreary seasons on the bottom of the Southwest Conference basketball team, Texas Christian university today reluctantly dismissed its coach, and immediately fattened his salary in recognition of his football ability.

Almost apologetically T. C. U. announced that Mike Brumblow, the grand Irish boy who has worried through a famine of only seven victories in 82 conference starts, would be relieved of his post.

"But we don't want anybody to think for a moment that Brumblow is being relieved of basketball for inability," asserted Dan D. Rogers, athletic committee chairman. "But he has done remarkably well with the material at hand. But we feel as he does—that he can't do justice to both basketball and football jobs. He's one of the best young coaches in the country."

Ironically enough, Brumblow, the old Christian great who has struggled along with inferior basketball material and managed to win only four conference games in five seasons, regarded as one of the finest football line coaches in the nation.

Throughout the lean game years, Brumblow, a lean, apple-cheeked Irishman who loves to yep, has suffered. But the man who developed such all-American football greats as Ki Aldrich and Darrell Lester—both centers who placed on the Associated Press first team for three out of four years from 1935 to 1939, never was able to come up with a basketball player that rated above mediocrity.

Brumblow, replaced by the committee in one breath and given a substantial salary increase a few minutes later for his work on the football field, will focus his attentions on football and physical training work.

Incidentally, he is expected to bloom into something akin to an ambassador-at-large for the institution. He is known as one of the wittiest and ablest banquet orators in the southwest's athletic ranks.

Meanwhile, Rogers, commenting on likely applicants for the basketball job, said: "We made this announcement to let the world know that we are in the market for a basketball coach and have the money to pay him."

Chalcedon Runs Seventh In Race

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22 (AP)—Chalcedon ran on his reputation and Mioland ran to victory in the $10,000 Santa Anita handicap today against a crack field of eligibles for the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap one week away.

Favored to capture this event—Mioland, owned by Charles S. Howard, reaffirmed his backing as the horse to best in the Santa Anita with a well run battle over the mile and one-sixteenth route.

Chalcedon, making his first start in nearly four months after a hard luck training campaign, finished a badly beaten seventh.

McLean Boxers Popular In All Bouts This Year

McLEAN, Feb. 22—On the night of February 14, McLean lost to LeFors in the school boxing. Ollie Lowe kayoed Jack London in the second round of the first round. Ollie was knocked down in the last few seconds of the first round but came back to win in 20 seconds of the second round.

Jack Laman caused his boy to take counts in each of the three rounds, but was not able to put him down for the necessary ten counts. Raymond Smith easily defeated his opponent.

Bob Sherrod lost by close decision after a fast hard three rounds to Wayland Hughes, the Panhandle's most publicized slugger.

Tuesday evening, Feb. 18, five McLean fans saw Shamrock cheer their fishermen to a 6 to 4 victory over the fighting Tiggers.

Frank Simpson won by a technical knock-out of his opponent, Joe Knocked his opponent to the canvas to the count of nine when the bell sounded for the end of the first round; and each round thereafter was interrupted by his opponent's going to the floor with counts of three, four, five, respectively.

Lacelle Vineyard, a boy who has been out two weeks, won his bout in a three round thriller.

Ollie Lowe, put his boy on the canvas in each three rounds but lost the final decision which caused the crowd to "boo" until the next bout started.

Raymond Bonner fought the best bout of the evening when he met Callen, a boy who is supposed to have lost only two fights in three years.

The fans were on the edge of their seats until the last bell, and all during the fight it could be easily said that the decision was a toss-up. It was a fight where two champions met. Bonner won by a close decision.

The boxers are trying to buy award sweaters and when they have received the necessary money, the season will be over.

The final fight will be with Shamrock, Tuesday night, Feb. 25, either at Shamrock or McLean. The boys want to fight in McLean, but since they can't schedule any more fights this year, they will have to accept the proposition which seems most favorable to their financial cause.

Shamrock received the money from the first fight and McLean will receive the money from the second. Shamrock promises to pack the gymnasium if it is fought there, but it isn't settled as to the place where the final contest will be held.

This will be the last time that Raymond Bonner, Bob Sherrod, Troy Corbin, and possibly one or two of the others will represent the McLean High school.

The boys agreed that they are going to work out each day at noon and after school with all possible diligence for the purpose of evening all scores against all schools by defeating Shamrock next Tuesday night, Feb. 25.

Orville Cunningham is coaching the Tiggers this year. He has taken coaching under Joe Bailey, Shamrock coach, and Toby Wagner, LeFors coach.

Former Coach Regrets Dollar Was Not Paid

McLEAN, Feb. 22—R. R. "Dick" Dunlap came to McLean as assistant coach to "Cricket" Christian, in 1938, from McMurry College, Abilene, Texas, where he had won many honors as a star athlete.

Dunlap coached the Tiger basketball team this year until a short time ago, when he resigned from McLean Ward school, where he taught math and geography, to go to Kellerville and continue teaching there.

Upon his leaving "Cricket" Christian started coaching the Tiggers. When Dunlap left McLean he turned a promise to win the county championship.

That promise was fulfilled Wednesday night, only to find McLean could not play in the tourney at Pampa.

The boys were somewhat disappointed when they heard the news, all because one little dollar ceased their playing, but they smiled and said, "We think Coach Dunlap and Coach Christian are two of the smallest coaches—any team could have."

Christian said, "All the fame the Tiggers have won this season goes to Coach Dunlap, for he really knows how to train a team to win. I will miss him next year when the Tiggers line up for spring football training."

Volume of testimony in the case of State of Texas vs. R. T. Waldrip, charged with arson, has been so heavy that the trial will be extended into this week.

Hearing of the remainder of the evidence is expected to require all day Monday in 31st district court.

Waldrip is charged in alleged connection with the burning of a house of Henry Huber here in January a year ago.

Although the case will continue tomorrow, the regular panel of jurors for the eighth week of the current term will report Monday morning.

The week is divided into two weeks, the last jury week of the term.

The week of March 10 is the final week of the January term of court. Members of the grand jury are to meet on the first day of that week.

Melanism is the opposite of albinism. It is a high degree of development of dark pigment in the skin, while albinism has a deficiency of pigment.

An Associated Press poll of the senate showed 25 presently for the bill, 20 against, and 21 uncommitted. Two could not be reached.

Opponents of the bill promptly protested when Barkley served formal notice he would ask the chamber to meet at 11 a. m., on Tuesday.

Leaping to his feet, Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.), declared that "if members are forced and driven to making speeches when not prepared, we may be forced to making speeches not relative to this bill."

"There won't be any progress gained by trying to force us into extremely long hours," he added.

Senator Clark (D-Mo.) threatened to tie the senate in a snarl of parliamentary red tape if the administration leadership "tries to pressure this bill through."

"There is no suggestion to force or drive anybody," Barkley responded.

Amiably, the Democratic leader declared that "we are all prima donnas here but we have to put in a day's work just like anybody else who has a job."

When the Kentucky senator agreed to talk the question over with opposition leaders this weekend, there was a general nod of agreement and the senate adjourned.

During the first 10 months of 1940, the passenger traffic on major airlines increased 61 per cent over the same period of 1939.

Sweet Gas Bill Turned Over To Sub-Committee

After a six hour session Thursday night, from 7:30 p. m. to 1:30 a. m. Friday morning, the House committee on Oil, Gas and Mining, re-framed the Panhandle gas problem bill to a sub-committee of five.

Members of the sub-committee are: P. L. Crossley, Eastland, chairman; Ennis Favors, Pampa; DeWitt Kinard, Port Arthur; John E. Lyle, Corpus Christi; and Clayton Bray, Longview.

Thursday afternoon, the same matter was referred to a Senate sub-committee consisting of John Lee Smith, Throckmorton; Grady Hazelwood, Amarillo; and George Moffett, Chillicothe.

Pampa, merchants and business men who attended the hearings were loud in their praise of the work of Senator Grady Hazelwood in the Senate and of State representatives Ennis Favors and Richard Craig, of Miami.

Senator Hazelwood and Representatives Favors and Craig proved they had many friends because of the support they are getting on this bill and their handling of the bill was very efficient, Pampa representatives declared.

A delegation of 17 merchants and business men, headed by Frank Culbertson, president, and M. A. Graham, chairman of the Oil & Gas committee of the Pampa Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce made an outstanding showing before other committees.

Pampa business men's delegation included: Frank Culbertson, M. A. Graham, De Lea Vickers, Judge Sherman White, Hal Lucas, Carl Benefield, R. G. Hughes, M. P. Downs, C. A. Huff, Hollis Keys, W. B. Weathered, R. W. Lane, R. B. Allen, Wm. T. Fraser, Cecil Myatt, and Garnet Reeves.

Lefors was represented by Ben Diehl, Lefors groceryman.

In addition to the business men, eleven representatives of carbon black and gasoline plants, well owners and others directly affected by the gas regulations in the Panhandle appeared at the hearing.

In this group were: E. G. Allen, Gene Green and Wm. J. Smith, Cabot Carbon company; Ray J. Hagan, and John Sturgeon, Portland Gasoline company; Frank Perry, General Atlas Carbon company; Carl Smith, Curtis Douglas, all of Pampa; Chester A. Sheppard, Portland, Oregon, Portland Gasoline company; Earl Clontard, and J. L. McMahan, Wichita Falls; Geo. Mager, Amarillo.

Proponents for the bill who spoke before the Senate hearing included: M. A. Graham, Frank Culbertson, R. B. Allen, Sherman White, John Sturgeon, R. G. Allen, Curtis Douglas.

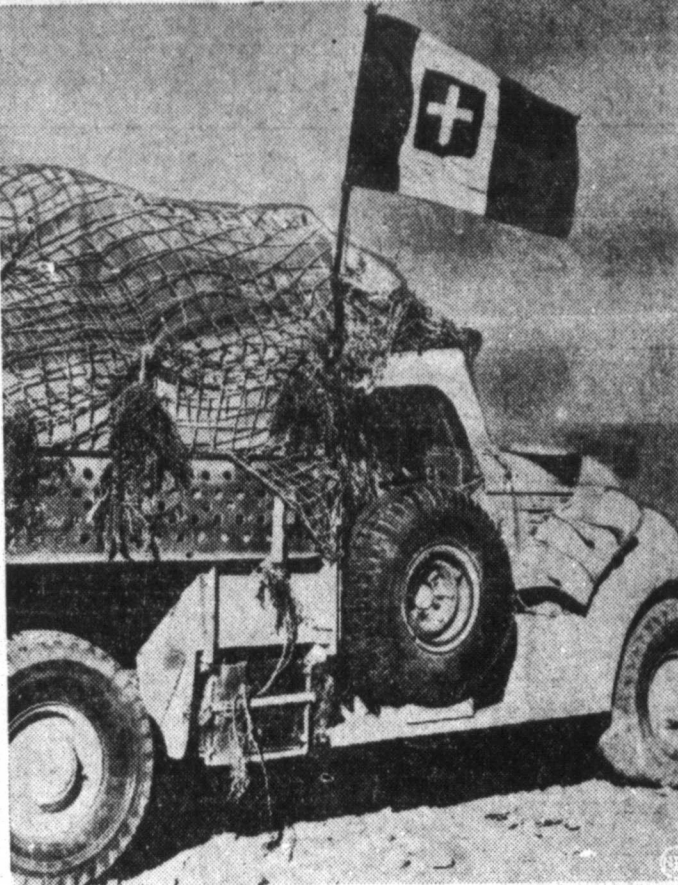

The same group spoke at the House hearing and Hollis Keys likewise appeared.

The proposed bill is an amendment to House Bill 1935 passed in 1935 by the 44th Legislature, regulating the use of natural gas in the Panhandle.

The proposed amendment would allow the burning of sweet gas for carbon black after gasoline content had been removed, provided the gas from a well can not be used for light and fuel purposes because of the lack of a pipeline connection, geographical location, or pressure too low to force the gas into a pipeline.

Proponents pointed out the proposed amendment would not open up a drilling campaign in the Panhandle; would not cause the building of new plants but would merely furnish a small quantity of gas to the plants already here, and showed the effect the present law has already caused on local business and the future harm to business, schools and other local government bodies.

Ideas of what short-wave programs they would like to hear.

A radio letter cabled collect to Berlin takes $2.19 right out of Hitler's war chest. If 100,000 persons over the U. S. send collect cables, they will spend enough of Hitler's money to have bought five Messerschmitt-109s.

Lots of Americans have already taken advantage of the offer to tell off Adolf. So far, no messages have been sent from Pampa.

An idea of what to say is seen in these two samples.

One person asked for the Nazi viewpoint on the war in Africa, because "Italian explanation was not so good." Another wanted a broadcast of Hitler's funeral.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (AP)—Hundreds of collect messages for the German propaganda ministry piled up tonight in the office of Radio Corporation of America as the midnight deadline neared her calling requested suggestions for short-wave programs.

German sources and communication authorities here disagreed on the cost of the week-long experiment which the former considered a sort of poll on the present state of American thought.

Up until 4 a. m. C. S. T., today 4,500 messages had been received at a cost of $5,000, a German spokesman in Berlin said. Communication experts here estimated the stunt cost the German government $11,000 daily.

But the expense apparently did not bother officials in Germany.

"I guess we can find enough small change to meet the bill," an official said.

A similar variance existed over the contents of the messages.

German sources said that of the 4,500 messages, 4,250 were "serious, usually intelligent requests for music or talks on certain subjects."

Radio sources here said a "great preponderance" of the messages expressed sentiments against the German government.

Greenberg Asks For Draft Deferment

DETROIT, Feb. 22 (AP)—Whether Hank Greenberg has asked for draft deferment became an issue today within the board that administered the selective service act in the Detroit Tiger outfielder's district.

Chairman Ben O. Shepherd's flat denial that Greenberg had asked deferment drew a response from another board member and a third indicated his willingness to swap verbal punches.

"Greenberg in his questionnaire did ask to be deferred to class 2 and he also gave his reasons for asking deferment," said Floyd T. Smith, a member of board 23. The third member, Ralph J. Norton, tacitly approved Smith's statement.

Smith said the board had discussed the Greenberg case and agreed they "would keep their mouths shut about it and make no public statements until final actions had been taken."

Smith declared that as he could not recall the exact words of Greenberg in asking for deferment he did not wish to be quoted in part.

Meanwhile, Greenberg, the man who might shed some light on the matter, was on the high seas, returning from a vacation in Hawaii.

Rice Breaks World Three-Mile Record

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (AP)—Joseph Gregory Rice of South Bend, Ind., ran to his second indoor world record in the space of eight days tonight as he won the National A. A. U. three mile championship for the second successive year in 13 minutes 51 seconds, one and three-tenths seconds under his own year-old standard.

Before a Madison Square Garden crowd of 14,000 that included his father and mother, here from Missoula, Montana, to see him run indoors for the first time, the chesty little ex-Notre Damer lapped every one of his four rivals, just passing Don Lash as he hit the tape.

A week ago in the New York A. A. C. meet the toy building hauled his own two-mile record down to 8:53.4. With 17 titles decided, it remained for the distance men to furnish the world records. For Rice's smashing performance in one of the meet's closing races had been preceded in the night's first by another world indoor mark in the two-mile steeplechase by old Joe McCluskey, who won his 23rd National title in bettering his own 9-year old standard for the event.

Jeff H. Williams, lawyer, humorist, and orator from Chickasha, Oklahoma, will be the speaker at the annual Founders' Day dinner of the American Association of University Women at the Schneider hotel Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The public is invited.

Mr. Williams, who is a director of Rotary International, has traveled 125,000 miles in the past 18 months, speaking to every known kind of public meeting. He is frequently compared to both Will Rogers and Josh Lee. The subject of his address will be "Through and Beyond the Conflict." Reservations for the dinner can be made up till 9 o'clock Monday evening by calling 4253.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 22 (AP)—Lanky Horton Smith of Chicago and Defending Champion Lloyd Mangrum, another Chicagoan, shaved three strokes from par with 69's today to gain an early lead in the sixth annual $3,000 Thomasville Open Golf tournament.

The veteran pros topped the record field of 140 at the end of 18 holes, but they were guaranteed plenty of trouble tomorrow when they swing into the final 36 of the playoff.

Bunched behind them with 70's were Jimmy Demaret of Houston, 1940 Masters' champion; Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Winchester, Mass.; Ben Hogan of White Plains, N. Y.; Denny Shute of Chicago; Chick Harbert of Battle Creek, Mich.; Jack Grout of Pittston, Penn.; and Johnny Bulla of Chicago.

Hard-hitting Jimmy Thomson of Chicopee, Mass., bobbled on the outgoing nine for a 37, then steadied and came in with a 34 to finish at 71.

Tied with 72's were Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y.; Ky Laffoon of Chicago, Joe Zarhart of Jeffersonville, N. Y.; Bill Urban of Tenafly, N. Y.; Emery Zimmerman of Portland, Oregon; and Tommy Barnes, Atlanta, amateur.

Byron Nelson, national P. G. A. champion and one of the favorites to take Thomasville's $750, first prize finished the first 18 with a 73, the same figure as National Open Champion Lawson Little of San Francisco, Stanley Horne of Montreal and Eduardo Blas, Argentine professional and Ray Hill of Henderson, Tex.

Heartened, Creel banged in a 6 foot putt for another birdie on the next hole, a par 5, 483 yarder, while White scrambled for his par.

NAZIS CLAIM

which had the stars and stripes painted on her hull.

The high command identified the ship as a 7,178-ton vessel named the Canadian Cruiser, out of Montreal and owned by the Canadian Trump Shipping Company, Ltd. Authorities German spokesmen stressed the implication of what they called "misuse" of the U. S. flag and said it should be of the gravest concern to Washington.

Both Washington and London were silent, Canadians jeered at the claim.

The shoe was on the other foot in another recent case of a German raider in the Indian ocean—possibly the same one to which the Canadian Cruiser is credited.

In that, the British charged that a Nazi surface vessel disguised herself as Japanese, not only by flying Japanese colors but also by taking the Japanese name Manyo Maru.

In the East African campaign the British reported fresh successes; the capture of the town of Jumbo, "a position of considerable importance" in the coastal sector of Italian Somaliland, and British bombings of Italian positions at Direcawa and Cenele, Ethiopia, and further attacks on Cheran, Eritrea.

A correspondent of Reuters, British news agency, said British-led native demolition squads in Gojjam province, Ethiopia, were worrying the Italians into retreat both north and south of Lake Tana.

Dispatches from the Albanian war-front said two Italian attacks had been repelled by the Greeks with heavy Italian losses in the Devoli valley and on the Ostrovia heights and on the important Trebisina mountain range between Kistura and Tepeleni.

The Balkans watched Yugoslavia for an indication of her future action. The Turkish press remarked that at the moment the balance between the opposing British and German interests lay with the Yugoslavs but in Yugoslavia there was no sign of what attitude the nation would take.

Famous Humorist Will Speak At AAJW Men's Night Program Tuesday

Just Between Us Girls

By Johnnie Davis

Oh, you'll not be any poorer if you smile along the way. And your lot will not be harder for the kindly things you say. Don't imagine you are wasting time for others that you spend. You can rise to wealth and glory. And still pause to be a friend.

Among the guests at a unique entertainment at Buffalo courts in Canyon recently were four former Pampa High school girls, Joan Gurvey, Peggy Williamson, Jeanne Lively, and Mary Jean Hill, who are freshmen at West Texas State college. The guests or rushees enrolled in a "new college" complete with green and white banners, registration, classes, and exams, all in the spirit of fun.

There are many who firmly believe that old-time, on-the-level straw ballot would reveal that Mrs. Roosevelt is more popular than any other member of her family.

Included in the most colorful Valentine gifts we have seen this season are bright red tulips growing on extremely tall stems in oblong and round containers just as bright red as the blossoms themselves. Other pretty floral Valentines included twin bouquets of salmon-colored gladioli with long graceful stems. "Orchid Ward" is the name of the new carnation which won a certificate of merit award at the National Carnation show in Philadelphia this year. In addition to the usual red, white, or pink carnations, we soon shall be able to buy the flowers in three other shades, yellow, maroon, or ashes of roses, the local florists tell us.

Three charming women who radiate cheerfulness every time we see them are Mrs. L. H. (Jack) Johnson, Mrs. J. M. Collins and Mrs. Robert Boshen.

The enthusiasm exhibited by students playing football on the high school campus seems to be running away with itself. In fact, during the past week the intense interest of the group in a mere football resulted in the downfall of two young women teachers. In the mad rush to get the ball, the would-be football stars knocked down the teachers and rushed madly on in pursuit of the pigskin. ONE boy did take time to assist the pair in getting to their feet.

A garden's life is a helpful life. For never a passerby can look upon its smiling face upturned to a smiling sky. And not discover that his heart has been uplifted, too.

During the week an invitation was received by the local Garden club from the River Oaks Garden club of Houston to attend its sixth annual Azalea Trail on March 1 and 2. Twelve distinctive Azalea gardens ranging from one to 12 acres in size, will be open to visitors. In addition to the lovely gardens, other points of interest in the South at this time of year, the carnival season, which precedes Lent, at New Orleans, Mobile, Galveston, as well as Mexicali, Mexico, where thousands of tourists are attending Mardi Gras observances. Among the Pampanos who will join the throng of local residents for the merry-maker parade in New Orleans are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thompson who are spending their honeymoon there. Mrs. Thompson was Grace Dwyer before her marriage in the Holy Souls church Monday morning.

Some have much and some have more. Some are rich and some are poor. Some have little, some have less. Some have not a cent to bless their empty pockets, but possess True riches in true happiness.

Increasing interest was shown by Pampanos in the Panhandle Civic Music association's membership drive which closed last Saturday. . . . Forty-three memberships were obtained by local residents for next season in comparison to the 17 this year. . . . To prove that it is concerned with development of the finer arts, the Council of Clubs is assisting in making arrangements to bring the Columbia Cooperative Concert Service here next year so that more Pampanos will have an opportunity to see and hear outstanding concert artists.

Mrs. F. E. Leach is president of the local Council of Church Women which will join with churches throughout the entire world in observing a Day of Prayer next Friday. . . . Women of all churches in the city are invited to attend the all-day service to be held here in the First Baptist church.

Among the Pampanos going to Amarrillo for the wedding of Miss Hope Adams and Guy Carpenter of Los Angeles, at the Central Presbyterian church was Mrs. W. D. Kelley. . . . Included in the pre-nuptial courtesies honoring Miss Adams was an informal dinner given by Mrs. Ben Guill, the former Miss Marjorie Buckler of Pampa.

MILITARY MOTIFS HIGHLIGHTED

The patriotic motif is spotlighted in spring fashions. Capes are red-letter news, too. So this ensemble, of light-weight worsted in Cadet Blue combines two new features. The cape-coat is quite military-looking with brass buttons and an eagle embroidered in gold on the side of the scarlet silk-lined detachable cape.

By MARIAN YOUNG

National defense is reflected in the spring overcoat picture. . . . The military note is frequent. . . . with brass buttons and chevrons galore. Other starred coat fashion news includes the push-up, bloomer sleeve, to wear with longer gloves. . . . midly collars. . . . detachable capes in a wide variety of lengths. . . . the rounded shoulder that slopes gently in a natural sort of way. . . . dolman sleeves with shoulders that really slope. . . . trapunto decoration.

The smartest casual coats are given that category simply because they are of soft, informal-looking woolsens.

In line, they often resemble closely so-called non-casual coats of sleek twills and hard, smooth fabrics. The fabric determines whether a coat is casual or dressy.

In casuals, greens, buttercotch, warm browns, and dusty pastels, including pink and blue, are top ranking colors. Dressier coats run more to navy blue and beige than to black, at the moment.

In general, the coat silhouette is slimmer. It's easy enough to find fitted and flared models and a great many boxy types, but even in these, the former variety is less billowing at the hemline and the latter less voluminous.

All Women Of City Asked To Take Part In World Day Of Prayer Friday

This year's observance of the World Day of Prayer, sponsored by the Pampa Council of Church Women, will be held Friday in the First Baptist church. The morning service beginning at 10:30 o'clock and lasting until noon will be one of meditation and prayer on the theme, "The Kingdom Come."

As usual, each woman is to take her own paper sack lunch and coffee will be served by the women of the Baptist church.

Following lunch, the regular business meeting of the Council will be held and an address will follow. The meeting will close by 2 o'clock at the latest.

The offering for the day will be divided between the four projects of the National Council of Church Women: Christian literature in China, Japan, Africa, Argentina, Mexico, Burma, and India; Union Christian colleges in China, India, and Japan; migrants in 40 interdenominational Christian centers in 15 different states of the United States; and Indian students in five United States government schools.

In Shanghai at the World Day of Prayer services last year, there were Japanese, Chinese, Russians, English, Koreans, and Germans present, and a German-Jew stirred the hearts of all present by pouring out her prayer in song. Japanese and Chinese women from opposite aisles approached a large central candle to light their own small candles; then side by side, down the same aisle, they returned to the audience, going from pew to pew to share their light with the unlighted candles which each woman in the huge church was holding. All this earnest friendliness in spite of bombings, desolation, and death!

This year's program for use on Feb. 28, was prepared by a committee in Shanghai, composed of Chinese, Japanese, British, and American. Whether else may be happening in the Orient that is not helpful to mankind, something is happening among Japanese and Chinese Christians that is beautiful to behold.

The sponsors of the World Day of Prayer in Pampa invite every woman of Pampa and vicinity, whatever her race or religion, to join with them in this service of prayer.

Colorful Banquet Entertains Young People Of Church

Flags, miniature hatchets, and red, white, and blue streamers extended the colorful setting Friday night when members and guests of the Young People's class of First Methodist church were entertained at a George Washington banquet in the fellowship hall of the church.

Carrying out the patriotic motif, red and blue streamers extended the entire length of the tables on which flags and bright red apples were placed at intervals. Tapers burning in a small wooden log lighted the speaker's table.

Jack Davis, who presided as toastmaster, led the invocation preceding the introduction of the group. A quartet, composed of Miss Catherine Pearce, Miss Lanelle Scheihagen, Jack Andrews, and Mr. Davis, sang a novelty number, and the same group, with the assistance of Miss Evelyn Gregory and Miss Evelyn Foster, presented a comedy skit.

The dinner was served by members of the Susannah Wesley class of which Mrs. J. E. Ward is president.

Birthday Party Will Entertain Kingsmill Club

At the meeting of Kingsmill Home Demonstration club in the home of Mrs. N. E. Cude recently, plans were made for a birthday party to be given Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. A. R. Walberg with Mrs. J. R. Combs, Mrs. W. H. McBride, and Mrs. C. Nicholson as assisting hostesses. A covered dish supper is to be served at 7 o'clock.

Each member named a piece of furniture in her home which needs repairing, in response to roll call.

Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, who spoke on "Furniture," pointed out that in buying a good piece of upholstered furniture, the purchaser should know the quality of the frame work, the springs, and padding material used in construction. Then if a good upholstering material is chosen, the piece of furniture will last for years.

Mrs. Kelley recommended that the purchaser of a piece of furniture twice a year. If the wood is waxed the wax should be removed and then a mixture of two-thirds linseed oil and one-third turpentine applied with a cloth. After the furniture is polished, the purchaser will not show.

"In cleaning upholstery, dust thoroughly and clean with liquid cleanser or soap solution," Mrs. Kelley added and gave suggestions on removing dents, white spots, and scratches from furniture, after which she showed samples of material for upholstering and slip covers.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames J. R. Combs, L. E. Twigg, Chester Williams, D. L. Lunford, S. E. Elkins, H. A. Holtman, A. R. Walberg, C. F. Bastion, C. T. Nicholson, F. P. Blankenburg, O. G. Smith, and one new member, Mrs. W. H. McBride, Mrs. Kelley, and the hostess.

Pictures of the group were made by the club photographer.

Attending were Marian DeWoody, Corinne Steeley George Fugate, Jesse Bumpass, Betty Combs, Mary Gaylor, Catherine Pearce, Jacques Farnum, Jim Nevins, Dick Taffinger, Cecil Anderson, Jack Davis, Homer Craig, June Rose Hodge, Ruby Foster, Lanelle Scheihagen, Eula Fay Foster, Jack Andrews, Lois Hinton, Franklin Wray, Helen Houston, Johnnie Davis, Sarah DeWoody, Chester Hunkapillar, Mr. and Mrs. C. Minister Speaks On American Way Of Life At P-TA

"The American Way of Life" was discussed by the Rev. C. Gordon Bayless, pastor of First Baptist church, at the meeting of Junior High school Parent-Teacher Association Thursday afternoon in the school auditorium.

"We all know the American way of life. It is so common to most of us that we do not appreciate it," the speaker stated. "One of the main qualities of the American way of life is individualism. America is the only country where it is believed in and practiced. It means that we may choose for ourselves what we want to do. Boys and girls in our country know and have more comforts than in any other land, and we recognize it as the land of opportunity."

"Freedom of the press and freedom of speech are held sacred to the average American. Religious freedom is practiced here and the question arises, 'How shall we safeguard these qualities?' Through cooperation, through democratic nationhood, education, and self independence. We must guard from decay from within, physically, mentally, morally, and spiritually," he concluded.

Opening the program was a singing led by Mrs. W. L. Campbell, after which Johnny Campbell read, "America For Me." Mrs. W. C. Hutchinson, who presented the devotional, paid tribute to the National Founders and read Paul's message from Second Corinthians: 2.

Mrs. A. E. Eaton, who will serve as president for the remainder of the year, conducted the business session.

PEEKING AHEAD INTO SPRING

Here's the perfect coat to wear over country clothes, to take along on a cruise, a picnic, an automobile trip. It's of pure wool in beige with a colorful Scotch overplaid, and has a tuxedo front and deep patch pockets. Cut along swag lines, it is full and comfortable, as a sports coat should be. But still manages not to look bulky. It would be smart over a brown skirt and orange sweater and equally nice over simple dresses in pastel wools. A coat like this is a "general utility" item that should be in every wardrobe.

MODERN MENUS

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Where economy is a large factor, dry skim milk plays an important role in family nutrition. It has practically the same value as fresh milk, providing protein, calcium, and other minerals, with sugar and vitamins B and G. In the preparation of dry skim milk, only the whey, curd, and water are removed from the whole milk.

Dry skim milk can be kept without refrigeration for several weeks if kept in a tightly covered container. If exposed to the air, however, it absorbs moisture, becomes lumpy, and changes flavor.

To prepare fluid milk with the powder, measure cold or warm water into a bowl, sprinkle powder over the surface, and beat until powder dissolves. Do not use boiling water.

SPoon BREAD

One cup dry skim milk, 1 cup cornmeal, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1 cup cold water, 2 cups boiling water, 1 egg, beaten; 3 tablespoons fat, melted.

Mix the meal, dry skim milk, and salt thoroughly. Combine with 1 cup of cold water and stir until smooth. Add 2 cups of boiling water, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens. Blend a small amount with the beaten egg. Combine all the ingredients. Pour into a well greased hot pan or baking dish and bake for 45 to 50 minutes in a hot oven (400 degrees F.). Serve from the pan in which it was baked.

DROP BISCUITS

Four and one-half tablespoons dry skim milk, 2 cups sifted flour, 3-4 teaspoons salt, 3 tablespoons baking powder, 4 tablespoons fat, about 3-4 cup of water to make a very soft dough.

Sift the flour, dry skim milk, salt and baking powder together. Cut in the fat. Add the water slowly, stirring from the center until a soft dough is formed. Drop from a spoon onto a greased baking sheet, and bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) for about 15 minutes.

To add nutrients at low cost to your menus, combine white sauce made with dry skim milk with vegetables, fish or chicken. Vary your seasoning to taste.

WHITE SAUCE

For white sauce for creamed meat or scalloped vegetables use 2 tablespoons of fat, 2 tablespoons of flour, 1-1/4 to 1-1/2 cup of dry skim milk to each cup of water, and 1-4 teaspoon of salt. Heat and stir constantly until thickened.

PLANKED MEATS

Planking the main dinner course dresses up the simplest meal. Try the savory meat loaf planked next time you serve it. Bake the loaf first, place on the plank, surround it with small cooked onions, tomatoes to halves sprinkled with buttered crumbs, and mounds of mashed potatoes; season and place in oven until potatoes and crumbed tomatoes are lightly browned. Garnish with parsley and serve with a crisp, green salad.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By ALICIA HART

NEW SERVICE STAFF WRITER

The woman about whom people always are saying—"How in the world does she find time to do so much?"—usually manages to relax more often and more completely than when she seems to be busier than when she accomplishes a great deal less per year.

The chances are that she has trained herself to go to sleep just a few seconds after she puts out the light. In other words, she doesn't take her worries to bed with her.

DOESN'T CHAFE AT DELAYS

Instead of constantly telling the taxi driver to hurry or fussing to herself about why buses move so slowly when passengers are in a hurry, she relaxes on her way to keep an appointment. She closes her eyes and now and then lets her head rest on the back of the seat, thereby relieving tension in her neck muscles.

She sits down when she combs her hair or puts on fresh makeup. When she is eating and has one by a dozen details that must be attended to, she goes off in a corner by herself and reads a page of her newspaper or closes her eyes and thinks of something far removed from the work she must do. After a few minutes she is able to go back to her work, unconfused and mentally refreshed.

TAKES TIME OUT TO RELAX

Now and then during the day she sits in a straight chair, lets her body fall forward until her head is hanging between her knees and arms are down, with her feet dragging the floor. In this position she relaxes neck, shoulders, and arms for several minutes.

In addition, she refuses to worry about two tasks at once. She concentrates on one and then goes on to the next. By so doing, she increases her efficiency and saves a great deal of wear and tear on her nerves.

Ginger Rogers, Dennis Morgan, and James Craig have the chief roles. At the Crown today through Thursday.

Curwood Novel Picturization of the James Oliver Curwood Canadian adventure novel is Warners 69-minute "River's End," with Dennis Morgan, George Tobias, and Elizabeth Earl heading the cast.

Morgan has the dual role of the police sergeant and a hunted man. George Tobias does a characterization that adds comedy relief to the picture. Miss Earl, an English girl, makes a favorable impression. On the Rex screen Wednesday and Thursday.

Boogeyman Boris Karloff does another of his eerie characterizations in Columbia's "Before I Hang," story of a scientist attempting to solve the secret of youth and turn time backward. Showing at the State Tuesday.

Opera on the Range Tloga's famous son, Gene Autry, acts in another typical vehicle titled "Gaucho Serenade," showing at the State Friday and Saturday.

The Republic film deals with Gene and Frog (Smiley Burnette) and their efforts to aid a little English boy who is being used as a pawn by a gang of crooks trying to prevent his father from giving testimony which would result in their conviction for fraud.

In the week's mail folder from Astor pictures, Dallas listing "usual and outstanding films from foreign lands." Remember Danielle Darrieux? She's in "Katia," romance of an uncrowned queen.

Grace Moore has the leading role in "Louise," from the opera by Gustave Charpentier, "Lights Out in Europe," "That They May Live," French horror pic, "Song of the Streets," a story of the "Dead End Kids of France" are others listed.

Have you ever wondered why pictures do not appear simultaneously in all theaters? A bulletin of the M. P. P. D. A. explains: "Theoretically, a motion picture could be exhibited in 17,541 American theaters at the same time. To do this would require 17,541 separate prints costing more than $200 per print.

"Since thousands of theaters cannot afford rentals even approximating the cost of a print, and many actually pay rentals ranging from $15 to $50 a print, it follows that one print must do duty in 40 or more theaters, with periodic returns to the nearest of 447 exchanges for inspection and repairs before it is worn out and scrapped."

Roberts Sends 21 Volunteers To Army Special To The NEWS MIAMI, Feb. 22—Although eight calls have been issued for registrants to be inducted into the government's selective service draft training program, Roberts county is still having to send no men. Seventy-eight calls were received Friday morning, according to Miss Laverne Hubbard, secretary of the local board.

Woody Pond, who reported to the induction station at Lubbock on Jan. 14, is the only man from this county who has gone in response to a call. He went on Call 2. He is now stationed at Ft. Brown, Brownsville.

The reason Roberts county is still not required to send selectees is that while there are only 130 registrants, 21 boys in the requisite age group had volunteered and are in active service already with Uncle Sam.

NEW SHERIDAN COMEDY

Texas' Ann Sheridan is effective in her role of girl friend and secretary to George Brent, novelist, in Warners comedy, "Honeymoon for Three," showing Wednesday and Thursday at the LaNora. Plot is a tangled affair dealing with the dual personality, resulting from reading Brent's books, of Miss Coa Massen, wife of Charlie Ruggles. Everything happens at the same time with Ruggles pleased to get rid of his wife if Brent will have her, but Brent doesn't want her and Miss Sheridan has ideas of her own on the subject. Running time, 77 minutes.

Shamrock Boosters

SHAMROCK, Feb. 22—The Shamrock Booster's club annual ladies night held in the banquet room of the First Methodist church Friday night proved to be a gala affair from the opening welcome of Toastmaster Thurman Adkins to the final illusion performed by Bob Clark.

W. O. Morrow, assistant superintendent of schools, opened the fireworks with a clever imitation involving members of the club and had the entire audience laughing from the beginning of his impersonation to the end.

C. A. Cryer, superintendent of schools at McLean, and Boyd Meadows, mayor of McLean, made short talks and introduced their numbers. Miss Opal Tedder, last year's winner of the St. Patrick's Day Colleen contest and a well known vocalist, accompanied by Miss Betty Floyd entertained with vocal numbers and a very clever comedy number. The incomparable Bob Clark, illusionist, had the audience wondering what would come next for a full forty-five minutes. He produced eggs from the air, pulled rabbits out of the hat and generally mystified the group with his magic.

Mrs. Flake George was appointed "Tail Wringer" for the evening and provoked much merriment with her antics in fining various ladies for alleged misconduct and proceeding to collect the fine from their escorts. Ninety-eight members, wives and visitors attended the party.

'Guard' Not 'Barbed' Wire Causes Legislative Snarl

By WILLIAM E. KEYS Associated Press Staff AUSTIN, Feb. 22 (AP)—The legislature's program to lend highway department guard wire to Texas cities and independent school districts was going along nicely until somebody tried to fence in Bexar county with it.

The trouble was the concurrent resolution—which must be adopted by both legislative branches—was amended in the house to authorize a loan to Bexar county. Moffett charged the amendment has no signature and there was no mention of it in the house journal.

The reasons for many resolutions authorizing lending it is that it is no longer used in road construction. The cities and school boards that borrow it use it for fencing athletic fields and parks.

The wire is a 30-inch mesh, normally used on high hills, curves and bridge ends to prevent vehicles from rolling off the road. It's been replaced by a more rigid type of protection and in some locations abolished because of improved construction which eliminates hazards.

SERIAL STORY

DRAFTED FOR LOVE

BY RUTH AYERS

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, April discovered Ann's slingshot... KENT FINDS OUT

CHAPTER XII ANN'S letter was a brief scrawl, written in a shaky hand.

"Dear Ones—I will be home in a few days. It's no use staying any longer. The addition with Vivano was a miserable failure. It seems as if all I want now is to have you close to me, so I can forget these last weeks with my foolish hopes and dreams of success. Perhaps it was necessary to teach me a lesson. For the rest of my life I will ask nothing more than to be happy in the real blessings of my family and my beloved Kent."

It was signed "Ann" and it looked suspiciously as if a tear had blotted it.

"It's Ann," April found herself saying to Octavia. "Our Ann is coming home."

Octavia burst into such a halloo of song that if Vivano had heard her, he might have thought he had the find of a century.

At last, April Burnett knew there was only one thing to do. Ann was returning, to be, as she had written it, "happy in the real blessings of my family and my beloved Kent."

Ann's beloved Kent.

APRIL must reach Kent at once, confess to him what she had done and beg his promise never to tell Ann.

"Don't bother with supper for me," she told Octavia. "I'm going out."

Octavia's cream and chocolate smile vanished. "Not tonight, Miss April. You clean out of your wits?"

"I think I am."

"For what for you goin' to sail out in a storm like this?"

April was reaching for her own fur jacket and the tiny cat she wore like a monk's cap on the back of her shining hair.

"Bring a little breath of April to the winter blizzard," Octavia coaxed, calmed, threatened, and finally glowered suspiciously. "Wait 'til your mother hear about this. And your father, why he's like to clean get rid of me after the 20 years Ah's spent raising you and Miss Ann."

April was to remember this afterwards, even to the questioning look in Octavia's hurt eyes and the last words, "Lard help us—Lard help us all."

The sentence started ringing in April's head. If Ann hadn't written, if the letter hadn't arrived at this deadly psychological time with its pathetic appeal, April knew she would have remained stubbornly silent. Frankly, as she told herself, she would have lacked the courage to have confessed to Kent, Ann's letter changed everything.

This time when April started out there was no pretense of being Ann. From the cat and the jaunty coat with its lingering scent of the corsages that had been pinned on it, right down to the suede shoes with the high heels, she was all April. Yes, April Burnett on her way for the reckoning with Kent Carter.

THE trip up the hill in the roadster would always remain something out of a nightmare.

At a garage along the way, April stood ankle deep in snow while a mechanic put on chains. "Bad night for driving, isn't it?" he asked with a bumptious cheeriness.

"What—oh, yes, very bad."

"Should I charge this to your father, Miss Burnett?"

"To my father? Yes, please."

"Better take it easy on the road up to the Carter place." The mechanic grinned knowingly.

Vaguely, she wondered how he should know she was going to the Carter home. Small towns were funny. They knew everything.

Ann would never honk a horn. She thought it rude, bad-mannered. But April honked tonight until the home on the hill opened and a wrinkled face appeared briefly. Then the door opened again and Kent came out, a stooped old Negro beside him to help him to the car with his bags.

"Kent," April found herself saying, "I'll take you to the train. There's something I must tell you."

"There wasn't any call for you to chauffeur me," Kent answered in an expressionless voice. "I've been trying to get you all day by telephone, but I guess you know the storm's put the lines out of order."

"Quite a storm we started yesterday, wasn't it?" she forced a bitter laugh. "Yes, quite a storm." The snow was drifting on the hill, fuzzy clouds of it eddying along the road.

April turned to Kent. Did she imagine it or had he changed. He was back in uniform and the broad-shouldered coat had a certain swagger. The visor of the officer's cap shadowed his face and made the dark glasses less noticeable.

That wasn't all. April saw the turn of his chin; was aware that his mouth was set in an uncompromising line.

"I'm a little early so we'd have plenty of time to make the train," she began haltingly.

"Maybe we have plenty of time for this, too," he said.

Before April could move, Kent's arms encircled hers, arms without gentleness. Slowly, his lips brushed across her cheek and then came down to crush her mouth.

She tried to push away, but the hammering of her heart made her limp. This wasn't the kiss he had given her yesterday on the hilltop. This was something different, a searing, shattering kiss.

WHEN it was over, April pressed one hand to her lips. Kent had no right to do this unless she had loved him. He'd said he hated cheap love-making. By the dashboard light, she saw he was shaken, too, and sat remote, aloof in the corner of the seat.

"Better start," he advised in the same expressionless tone.

Automatically, she set off. The snow was a blessing; the treacherous roads an escape. Intent on the driving, she could push every other thought and question from her, except the memory of that shattering kiss.

The windshield wiper labored as it cleared an arc in the glass and the tire chains rattled with a steady, discordant clatter.

Neither April nor Kent spoke until the car had reached the foot of the hill.

"Then Kent broke the deadlock. 'What was it you wanted to tell me?'"

Deep within her, April sensed what was coming, so on impulse she stopped the car. The white night came down like a curtain as she turned to Kent. What she read in his tense face made her realize there wasn't any need for her to speak at all. Kent Carter knew!

"You're April," he said. "That's why I kissed you as I did, to let you know I knew. Why did you do it, April? Was it to annex another scalp to your belt. Did you think your charm would be fatal?"

Stalin Purges Litvinoff And Three Others

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Feb. 22—The Communist party removed former Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff and three others from the party's central committee today for "failing their duties" and warned the heads of seven commissariats that similar action would be taken against them unless their work "improves."

(Litvinoff, a supporter of the league of nations and collective security, was supplanted on May 3, 1939, by Premier Vyacheslav Molotov, who subsequently negotiated the Russian non-aggression pact with Germany.)

The party congress, now in session here, served notice on M. M. Kaganovich, former head of the aviation industry, that "unless his work improves in his new post and he fulfills the tasks entrusted to him by the party government, he will be removed from membership in the central committee and from responsible posts."

(Kaganovich, also former commissar for the defense industry, was relieved of his post as head of the aviation industry on Jan. 10, 1940, and was transferred to another post, the nature of which was not disclosed.)

Similar warning was given to M. P. Denisoff, commissar of the chemistry industry; I. P. Sergueyeff, munitions; S. S. Dukelsky, sea transport; Z. A. Shashkoff, river transport; A. A. Likhof, fisheries, and V. V. Bogatireff, electrical industries.

New members appointed to the committee today included V. G. Dekanoff, ambassador to Germany; Otto Kuusinen, head of the Finnish "peoples government" during the Russian-Finnish war and now leader of the party in the new Karelian-Finnish Soviet republic, and four others.

New candidates for membership included Ivan M. Maisky, ambassador to London; General Georgy K. Zhukoff, vice-commissar of defense and chief of the Red army general staff; and I. V. Tyulenef. Besides Litvinoff, those dropped as committee members were N. M. Anselovitch, I. A. Likhacheff and F. A. Menshikov.

Litvinoff's downfall as a power in Soviet affairs was attributed to his leanings toward the collective security policy of Britain and France and his long-standing opposition to that of Germany and Italy.

Britain Flying Planes From West Coast To Far East

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—The British embassy announced today that "aircraft are being flown" to its forces in the Far East from the west coast of the United States.

Although indicating that powerful bomber reinforcements were being sent to the British at Singapore, the embassy declined to give any further details.

"We can do nothing about the numbers, types, or routes of these aircraft," an official said.

The embassy statement followed reports that Consolidated and Lockheed bombers were being flown from San Diego to Singapore and Hawaii.

Some officials indicated the flight of Consolidated bombers was likely because they are large, long range ships, but Lockheed spokesmen doubted whether their ships had enough range for the long over-water hops.

The British long ago disclosed they were buying four-motored Consolidated ships for long range bombing duty.

For months they have been flying American-made airplanes across the Atlantic to England.

Miami 4-H Club Elects Officers

MIAMI, Feb. 22—At a preliminary meeting in the grade school recently, County Agent Marvin Simms talked to the boys on the purpose of 4-H club work, and 52 boys took enrollment cards.

The club was organized with Horace Shield being elected as president, and Junior Duizvel, vice-president. The other officers will be elected at the next meeting.

The first and third Wednesdays of each month have been set as regular meeting days.

"Aim the Plane—"

—and the bomb will take care of itself." A good deal has been written of "dive bombing" by airplane but it is not generally realized that this method of attack was developed in America. Above, Air Corps Flying Cadets at Randolph Field, Texas, are shown by an instructor (kneeling) how the line of flight of a diving plane controls the bomb's aim. Here, dummy planes, a toy ship and a piece of string suffice. Later, at advanced training schools, the embryo pilots will try the real thing as their ships speed over a target area. Uncle Sam needs more Flying Cadets.

Hitler Facing Food Shortage, Say Economists

By OVID MARTIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—A conclusion that Germany is facing the prospect of serious shortages of essential foods within six months has been reached by government economists.

This opinion, it was learned today, is expressed in a report prepared by Dr. Frederick Strauss, agriculture department economist, which correlates the confidential and other information the government has been able to secure on the German situation. It was prepared primarily for information of the white house and defense officials, and has not been given general circulation.

The prospective shortages, the report said, are in meats, fats, vitamins and minerals—foods described as necessary to maintain the striking power of Hitler's military force and the efficiency of workers in his war industries.

Deficiencies were said to be developing due to the British blockade, a decreasing domestic output, and depletion of reserves built up before the war.

The report said: "Deficiencies of vitamins and minerals may not damage health immediately or visibly, but they tax the nervous system of workers, who already have to endure lack of proper clothing, insufficient heat, and all the nervous strains that go with war itself. The effects of malnutrition may be postponed, but workers' efficiency and staying power will decline."

Commenting that Germany was attempting to make conquered nations help supply deficiencies, the report declared that with the possible exception of breadgrains, sugar, and potatoes, little success was expected.

Germany's Pöckel-Wulf 187, powered with twin engines, is rated at 2300 horsepower and a top speed of 360 miles an hour.
