He said he read with interest stories in the Pampa News, which he receives daily, about the Washington Birthday program. He wrote that everything would have been perfect if L. L. Fort Worth Trippers Bring Jollity Here

Pistol shots rang out, jokes were told, and typical Western jollity prevailed as Pampa entertained a group of boosters for the Fort Worth Fat Stock show with a breakfast this morning at the First Methodist church basement.

At noon today, the Fort Worth boosters, traveling on a special train, were to be entertained at Wellington. They came to Pampa from Amarillo.

Principal talk at the breakfast here was by J. R. Edwards, president of the North Side Fort Worth Kiwanis club, who outlined the progress of the annual stock show.

President Edwards told how in 1877 the Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers association was formed at Graham, and how 20 years later the Fort Worth show was started.

He said persistence was the reason for the steady growth of the show, and stated there were 600 entries in this year's exposition.

There will be students from 16 agricultural colleges participating in judging contests at the show, to be held March 7-16.

Excellent Singer
Outstanding feature of the breakfast was the singing of Tommy Thompson, Texas Wesleyan college, who sang "On the Lone Prairie" and "Blue Skies."

The college band, numbering 25, played at the intersection of Ball-foster and Foster, preceding the breakfast.

Mayor Fred Thompson of Pampa, district governor of the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis district, made the welcoming address, with Jack Goldstein, president of the local club, opening the program.

Besides Edwards, another Fort Worth booster making a brief speech was H. R. (Pink) Hutchins, who complimented Mayor Thompson on his elevation to the chief Kiwanis post of two states, saying it was a

Ginger Rogers And Stewart Win 'Oscars'

By HUBBARD KEAVY
HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 28 (AP)—Ginger Rogers and James Stewart are the new queen and king of the movies.

They are the newest winners of the awards signifying best given by the academy of motion picture arts and sciences.

Ginger was better than any of her acting sisters in 1940, her fellows believe, because of her portrayal in "Kitty Foyle."

And Stewart impressed them by his work in "The Philadelphia Story."

They, as well as a score of others, were called to the podium of a banquet hall jammed with celebrities and fellow workers last night to be handed statuettes a foot high which have been dubbed Oscars.

"Rebecca" was the year's best motion picture, in the opinion of the academy's 12,000 voters.

The award for the best performance by a supporting actor went to Walter Brennan, who played Judge Bean in "The Westerner." It was old stuff for him—he won in 1938 for "Come And Get It" and in 1938 for "Kentucky."

Supporting actress for her character in "The Grapes of Wrath."

The director of "The Grapes," John Ford, won the directorial award. He also won in 1935 for "The Informer."

This, the 13th annual awards party, was highlighted by a radio address by President Roosevelt from the White House directed to the motion picture industry.

Miss Rogers, who was a song and dance girl during her early movie days, is known as one of the hardest workers in town and she has little time for play. Her real name is Virginia McMath and she was born in Independence, Mo., 30 years ago.

She came next July, but she was reared in Fort Worth, Texas.

Under contract for months to M. G. M. studio, Stewart wandered around the lot hoping he'd impress some director.

But they thought he was too lanky, that his face was too prominent. But in one small role he clicked and his personality has been registering since.

The red-haired and vivacious Ginger was competing against some of the movies' best talent, including Betty Davis, who has won two awards, and Katharine Hepburn, a one-time winner. Betty was nominated for "The Letter" and Hepburn for "The Philadelphia Story." Also named were Martha Scott for "Our Town" and Joan Fontaine for "Rebecca."

There was a surprise for Myster of Ceremonies Bob Hope. When he was announced as the recipient of the academy's plaque in recognition for unselfish service to the industry he was flabbergasted. For a change, Bob was speechless.

The academy voted the movies' "A Star" from Disney's "Pinocchio."

Motorists Can Use '41 Plates Saturday

Gray county cars can blossom out in spring fashion license plates tomorrow, when flashy black and gold of 1941 will replace the purple and white of 1940 on passenger automobiles.

License plates went on sale on Feb. 1, but tomorrow is the first day they can be put on cars, and April 1 is the day they must be affixed.

There'll be a lot of work ahead for the tax office here, though, as only 163 new plates have been sold, of which 140 were passenger, 13 truck, and five each farm and trailer.

EX-KING DIES

Former King Alfonso XIII

Alfonso, Former King Of Spain, Dies In Rome

(By The Associated Press)
ROME, Feb. 28 (AP)—Alfonso XIII, 54-year-old former monarch of Spain, died at 11:50 a. m. (3:50 a. m. CST) today in the hotel room which had been his home in exile for a decade.

He suffered a series of heart attacks beginning on Feb. 13 and had been sitting in a chair for the last seven days, too weak to be placed in bed. His mind was lucid and he was cheerful until the last.

At his side when he died were his queen, Victoria from whom he had been estranged for many years; his son and designated heir to the Spanish throne, Don Juan, another son, Don Jaime, a daughter, Beatrice, three doctors, and a Spanish Jesuit priest, Padre Ulpiano Lopez, who administered the last rites of the Catholic church when death seemed inevitable Feb. 22.

Another daughter, Maria Cristina, was summoned from Turin but was unable to reach Rome. She is expecting a child.

The padre administered the last sacrament of extreme unction for a second time this morning. The sacrament was administered Saturday at Alfonso's own request.

The next day, however, he recovered sufficiently to listen by radio to Premier Mussolini's 45-minute address.

Beginning at midnight tonight masses will be said every half hour in the tiny private chapel of Alfonso's hotel apartment.

The former monarch died just nine days after the death of his faithful secretary, the Marquis of Torres, who shared his exile.

Alfonso was king from his birth, April 14, 1886, and reigned until 1931, a period marked by turbulence and political unrest which finally drove him into exile in 1931, when Spain was a republic.

Contract Let For Highway 18 Strip

Bid of six miles of grading, drainage structures, and flexible base and base preservative on Highway 18 from 3.6 miles south of Pampa to eight miles south, was referred to the Texas Highway commission today, for early action, to J. E. Barnhill of Turkey, who turned in a bid of $103,610.

County Judge Sherman White said that bid on an additional 12 miles on Highway 18 would be let as soon as plans and specifications are completed.

This will make Highway 18 completely paved across Gray county, when the two jobs are completed.

Another bid referred to the Texas Highway commission today was: Hill and Navarro counties—16.4 miles grading and drainage structures on Highway 31 from 1.6 miles southwest of Mt. Calm to Dawson, Purvis, and Bertram and Fred Hall, Fort Worth, contractors, $180,203.

Division Of Indo-China Demanded

'Forceful Action' Promised By Jap Government

TOKYO, March 1 (Saturday) (AP)—Japan's ultimatum to the French that they agree to yield to Thailand large areas of the Indo-China provinces of Cambodia and Laos or suffer "forceful action" by Japanese armed forces expired at midnight Friday without a reply.

Authoritative sources said the Japanese foreign office was planning an extraordinary conference of key officials later this morning, to which Indo-China peace conference delegates would be invited for an explanation of why the French had not replied.

The nature of future Japanese action will depend upon an analysis of the French explanation, it was stated.

The Japanese foreign office attaches had waited up in their wooden building until midnight, although it had been apparent by mid-evening that the French were not going to meet the ultimatum deadline.

Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka attended a dinner honoring the Manchoukuo ambassador, but left it at 8 p. m. and went to his home to await developments.

These were signs of the seriousness with which Japan watched the outcome of this first test of her east Asian leadership since the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo alliance allotted her a sphere of influence in "greater east Asia."

Japan has threatened "forceful action" unless France's Far East colony yields to her ultimatum.

The crisis was pointed by Japan's Emperor Hirohito receiving his war minister in audience—often a prelude to important Japanese military action.

Unconfirmed reports from Saigon, winter capital of Indo-China, said Japan had massed 51 warships in the Gulf of Siam and off southern Indo-China.

Apparently determined to fight, if necessary, French troops and supplies moved to strategic points.

Dispatches from Vichy, and Saigon, Indo-China, indicated the French would refuse to accept the settlement—said to entail transfers of large slices of Indo-China territory to Thailand—and military preparations for defense of the rich Asiatic colony were reported under way.

Significantly, Japan took steps to remove her nationals from Indo-China.

Two hundred Japanese in Saigon were ready to board a Japanese cruiser at a moment's notice and several Japanese families residing at Phnompenh, in Cambodia province, had arrived at Saigon prepared to leave. Hundreds of Chinese left Saigon on small ships.

A Japanese cabinet spokesman said the Japanese-fixed truce between Thailand and Indo-China would run until its stated expiration time, noon March 7, but Japan made it clear that she intended to forcefully into the picture if France rejected her ultimatum.

A Singapore report by the British news agency, Reuters, said the eastern approaches to Singapore harbor and the roads would be closed to shipping by mines after March 3, indicating that existing minefields around the great Far Eastern base have been enlarged.

Vital diplomatic maneuverings held the spotlight in the Balkans, too.

Britons interpreted their government's position.

The R. R. Learns To Do 'New Shoes' Right At School

By THE ROVING REPORTER
So you think you know how to put your little foot? So you think it's called "New Shoes?"

Well, you've got another thing coming—just like the Roving Reporter had yesterday afternoon when he went down to the Legion hall to learn a few of the folk games which it seems everybody else in Pampa also wants to learn.

James R. Clossin, instructor of the folk dances, says that Pampans do "New Shoes" wrong and it ain't "New Shoes" anyway. He says that the name is "La Varsoviana," meaning as they do it in Warsaw—or as they did it there. Mr. Clossin says this particular folk dance came into the U. S. from Mexico where Max Miller introduced it in the middle of the last century.

Well, Mr. Clossin showed Pampans yesterday afternoon and last night how to do the double La Varsoviana, and Pampans found out that they'd been doing only the first few steps of the dance they've been calling "New Shoes."

Mr. Clossin is teacher of square and country dances in El Paso where he is employed by the government. He says that down there they have 40,000 square dancers, and that he has called dances for 1,000 people at one time. Mr. Clossin is an expert folk dancer himself gave some exhibitions of schottishes, the Oxford Minuet and La Varsoviana that left the Pampans green with envy.

Capacity crowds took instruction yesterday afternoon and last night from Mr. Clossin.

A total of 232 Pampans responded to the dancing classes in American folk and square dancing the first day. Thirty people attended the afternoon class from 3 to 4:30 in the American Legion hall, 74 people attended the first evening class from 6:30 to 8:00, and 128 people attended the last class held from 8:00 to 9:30. These classes are sponsored by the Pampa Recreation Council, conducted by the nationally-famed James R. Clossin of El Paso.

The author of three well-known books on American folk and square dancing, Mr. Clossin is paid by the State WPA office for his services here.

Today is the last day of his instruction. Schedule for classes today is the same as for yesterday. Afternoon classes at the Legion hall from 3:00 to 4:30. Night classes from 6:30 to 8:00 and from 8:00 to 9:30.

State Cage Tourney To Be March 7-8

AUSTIN, Feb. 28 (AP)—Pairings of regional champions for the State High School Basketball tournament beginning at 2 p. m. March 7, semi-finals the morning of March 8, and the finals the night of March 8.

R. J. Kidd, athletic director of the interscholastic league, announced the schedule set quarter-final competition beginning at 2 p. m. March 7, semi-finals the morning of March 8, and the finals the night of March 8.

Mr. Pinkelstein said he intended to ask the chamber of commerce to work with him on the plan. No date has been set so far when the iron is to be picked up and shipped.

Letter Explains Purpose
An excerpt of the letter received here by Mr. Pinkelstein from the Pipe & Steel Dealers association, is to be sent by train from Pampa. Prepared scrap will go to the Sheffield Steel corporation, Sand Springs, Okla., while unprepared iron and cast iron or mixed cars will be consigned to Sheffield Steel corporation, Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. Pinkelstein said he intended to ask the chamber of commerce to work with him on the plan. No date has been set so far when the iron is to be picked up and shipped.

Ample Steel Exists, Reports President

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—President Roosevelt made public today a report declaring that ample steel production facilities existed to meet all domestic defense and civilian needs as well as those of nations trying to uphold democracy.

Commenting at his press conference on the report, which came from the office of production management, Mr. Roosevelt said there had been a lot of loose talk about the adequacy of steel production capacity and that the report was exceedingly encouraging.

He told questioners that it would not be necessary at the present time to establish priorities for steel and said production could even be increased if needed.

The chief executive said proposed congressional investigations of the defense program were all right with him.

The President said it was news to him that Harry L. Hopkins or William C. Bullitt would head a new defense set-up to administer the British aid bill.

Iron-For-Britain Move Begins Here

Pampa has been invited to join the "Iron for Britain" movement, a plan inaugurated recently at Seminole, Okla., when residents of that town gathered up scrap metal for the benefit of the Empire.

At the Pipe & Steel Dealers association convention in Oklahoma City early this month, the sum of $6,000 in cash and 31 carloads of scrap iron were donated.

For Pampa, the plan is for oil companies, truckers, drillers, and all others who have iron to contribute to notify Dave Pinkelstein, telephone 719, giving the location and description of the material they have on hand.

At least two carloads are expected to be sent by train from Pampa. Prepared scrap will go to the Sheffield Steel corporation, Sand Springs, Okla., while unprepared iron and cast iron or mixed cars will be consigned to Sheffield Steel corporation, Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. Pinkelstein said he intended to ask the chamber of commerce to work with him on the plan. No date has been set so far when the iron is to be picked up and shipped.

Rotary's Next Speaker To Be Charles Hurrey

Pampans will hear an interpretation of "The New World and the World" at 8 o'clock next Wednesday night in the high school auditorium, when Charles D. Hurrey of Montclair, N. J., delivers the second in a series of lectures sponsored by the Pampa Rotary club.

A headline yesterday over the account of Mr. Colton's address was interpreted by The News today to mean that the speaker praised German efficiency, preparedness, and production, German thrift and love for work, as outlined in the story. The News did not interpret the headline to infer that the Rotary speaker praised Germany against Britain, or that he was pro-Nazi, or anti-British.

Since 1915 Mr. Hurrey has served as general secretary of the committee on friendly relations among foreign students, and has made 11 trips to Europe and other trips to the Near East, Australia, and New Zealand.

He is responsible for the first guide book for foreign students in the United States.

Opening the lecture series, which is a part of the Rotarians institute for international understanding, was the speech here Wednesday night of Ethan Colton, of Upper Montclair, N. J., who spoke on "What's Ahead for Business, Agriculture, Labor?"

Mrs. Whisenand died at 3:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Funeral services will be held at the Baptist church in Wilson, Okla., at 4 o'clock today.

She is survived by her husband, employed as a pumper for the Badger Oil company, one son, J. D. 5, and daughter, Mildred, 9. The family reside on a lease near Borger.

NEW HEADGEAR—FROM THE HEADLINES

OYSTER STEW

When making oyster stew, it is important to remember that the oysters should be sauteed first in butter, and only until the edges begin to curl. Add to hot milk, season and sprinkle with paprika. To make a richer stew, substitute one cup of light cream for one cup of the milk in your standard recipe.

New York Or Nassau, Brenda Frazier Still The Smartest Deb

NASSAU—Most smartly dressed debutante in Nassau at the moment is dark-haired Brenda Frazier, from whom no other debutante has been able to grab away the title, "No. 1 Glamour Girl."

With her long bob as long as ever (the ends of her hair touch her shoulder blades), lipstick and nail polish darker than ever (they're a deep oxblood shade), and plenty of powder but almost no rouge on her small, doll-like face, Brenda goes everywhere in the simplest, smartest clothes we've seen on any deb.

DIGNITY, NOT NONCHALANCE

She appears late every afternoon in the Palm Garden or the cocktail bar at the British Colonial hotel, in impeccably tailored slacks suits, which she wears with dignity rather than nonchalance.

She went to the professional tennis matches, to watch Alice Marble, Mary Hardwick, Donald Budge, and William Tilden play before the Duke and Duchess of Windsor and a record crowd of topflight socialites, in navy wool gabardine slacks, a simple white silk shirt, and a white polka dotted tie, and a scarlet wool gabardine jacket, worn casually over her shoulders.

The pretty, black-haired Brenda went to a fish drag picnic, at which 200 of the socially prominent Nassau and American residents of Nassau netted their own fish, then cooked and ate them on the beach, in an all red slacks suit.

IMPORTANT

In the evening, for private dinners, dancing afterward at the Bahamian club (where everybody who is anybody turns up sooner or later), and for Sunday buffet supper at the Royal Victoria hotel, Miss Frazier is an attractive one night in a two-piece dinner dress of red and white Hawaiian-type print with long, slim skirt and a short blouse, exposing a bare midriff between skirt and blouse.

One reason Miss Frazier is the smartest young girl in the Bahamas (the Duchess of Windsor is the smartest woman) is because her posture is practically perfect. She stands straight and tall in her slacks. She stands just as straight and tall when she dances.

Miss Wink And Alphonse Britten Wed At Panhandle

PANHANDLE, Feb. 28—Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Bertha Marie Wink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike N. Wink of St. Francis, and Alphonse Britten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Britten, Jr., of Groom, Wednesday morning in the St. Francis Catholic church. The single ring ceremony was read by Monsignor John A. Steingale.

A white aisle cloth led to the altar. The scene was lighted by tall burning tapers in cathedral holders. The altar was decorated with large bouquets of white snapdragons, and banked with fern and palms.

Miss Agnes Wink, sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid. She wore a floor-length gown of virgin blue satin trimmed with pearl clips at the square neckline, and fastened with puffed sleeves, fitted bodice, and full skirt. Her turban of matching blue was trimmed with a pearl pin. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and tulle, tied with blue and white streamers.

Alphonse Britten, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Clarence Wink and Edward Pruesser, brothers of the bride and bridegroom. Acolytes were Claybourn and Maynard Bichel.

The bride wore a floor-length dress of ivory satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, basque waist, covered buttons down the front, full skirt, and fan-shaped train. The fingertip veil of tulle was held in place by a wreath of spray carnations and fern, with a tiara crown. She carried a white prayer book adorned with white gardenias, tied with blue and white ribbon. She also carried a rosary made of olive wood from the trees near Mount Olive. For something old the bride wore a solid gold necklace which belonged to the great-grandmother of the bridegroom and a white linen handkerchief which was a gift from the bride's grandmother. The necklace came from Germany.

The bride's mother wore a silk chiffon navy dress with a corsage of white carnations and black accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a black chiffon dress with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The processional march was played on the organ by Mrs. Edward Pruesser of Groom. The march was composed by the Sisters of Mercy. The mass in honor of St. Aloysius was read by Monsignor John A. Steingale. Aloysius Britten of Groom, and Al Bichel.

Mr. Bichel directed the choir in "Ave Maria" at the offertory and "Oh, Lord, I Am Not Worthy" at the communion. After the mass, the choir sang "O Virgin Mother, Lady of Good Council." A nuptial high mass followed the ceremony.

Members of the immediate families and the wedding party were entertained at a wedding dinner at the Groom Hotel. A three-tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom centered the table, which was decorated with white and blue ribbon and blue candles.

When the couple left on the wedding trip, the bride wore a tailored beige fitted coat with a full skirt and accessories of brown. She wore a corsage of gardenias.

Mrs. Britten is a graduate of St. Mary's Academy and she attended Annapolis Business college. She was president of the Cathedral Young People's club of St. Francis.

Mr. Britten is a graduate of Groom High school. He was engaged in stock raising before he became owner of the ranch near Spearman.

Hopkins HD Club Members Study Furniture Care

"Furniture should be given a thorough cleaning at least twice a year when the scratches and scuffs can be removed by giving the woodwork an oil bath to prevent drying, cracking, warping or loosening of veneer," Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, county home demonstration agent, said when she visited the Hopkins Home Demonstration club in the home of Mrs. G. C. Claylock.

Mrs. Kelley showed how economical cleansers and polishes can be made in the home and demonstrated the removal of white spots on furniture by using a cloth saturated with camphorated oil.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Blaylock, who gave the Council report. She stated that each club must send a representative to all Council meetings. Plans were made for a St. Patrick party to be given for members and their families on Friday, March 14. Three new members, Mesdames H. H. Wooten, Joe Stone, and Huelyn Laycock, were added to the club.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Cliff Horn on March 11, when the program subject will be "Yards."

PRINCESS FOR SCHOOL-GIRLS

This smart design (No. 8887) varies the classic little-girl princess by means of braided used to suggest a vestee effect. Your small daughter will like it for school and play because it's so simple and unhampered—no trills or fussiness. The braided trims make it look bright and pretty, the sash bows draw it in to a small, smooth waist, but there's nothing to get in her way when she's busy! And you'll be equally delighted with the way it looks on her, because the puff sleeves and flared skirt have a filling-out effect very becoming to rapidly lengthening young ladies.

Make this up in polka dot percale or calico, plaid or checked gingham, or plain chambray, with the bright emphasis on braid or binding. It's a pattern you'll repeat time after time, and it's very easy to make. Detailed sew chart included.

Pattern No. 8887 is designed for sizes 4, 6, 8, 10, 12 years. Size 6 requires 2½ yards of 35-inch material, and full skirt. Her turban of matching blue was trimmed with a pearl pin. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and tulle, tied with blue and white streamers.

For a PATTERN of this attractive model send 15c IN COIN, YOUR NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER, and SIZE to The Pampa News Today's Pattern Service, 211 W. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill.

MODERN MENUS

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Economy is not the whole budget story. The most important factor in any series of menus controlled by a budget, is this: Are you buying the variety of foods essential to supply all the essential nutrients to protect against disease and in buoyant health.

"Diets to Fit the Family Income," prepared by the Federal Bureau of Home Economics, gives this advice:

"Leafy green and yellow-colored vegetables, tomatoes, and the citrus fruits are among the most highly valued of all vegetables and fruits for vitamins and minerals. It is for their vitamin A and iron especially, but also for vitamin G, that the green leafy vegetables, other green kinds, and the yellow ones should be included frequently in the diet."

"All fruits and vegetables furnish a little vitamin B. For vitamin C, tomatoes and the citrus fruits, raw cabbage and raw turnips are valuable. A young child, if on a diet limited in variety, should have 4 to 6 tablespoons of tomato juice, or 2 tablespoons of orange juice daily as his part of the family quota of tomatoes and citrus fruits."

Translating that advice into recipes, here are two substantial main dishes, for lowest cost:

BOILED PEA BEANS WITH TOMATOES AND ONIONS

(Serves 4)

One pound pea beans, pinch of soda, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 1 No. 2 can tomatoes, 2 medium-sized onions, sliced.

Soak beans overnight. Drain, cover with water, add soda, simmer slowly until tender—about 45 minutes—adding more water, if necessary. Drain, add salt, sugar, pepper, tomatoes, and onions. Cover and cook slowly for 45 minutes.

BEEF CASSEROLE WITH VEGETABLES

(Serves 4)

One pound boneless chuck, 3 onions, 1 cup water, 4 carrots, ½ yellow turnip, 1 green pepper, sliced, salt, pepper, 1 tablespoon flour.

Cut meat in 2-inch pieces, sprinkle with salt and pepper, roll in flour and brown in a little fat. Transfer to casserole, add water, cover and cook in slow oven (300° F.) for 3 hours. Add vegetables last 45 minutes of cooking. Just before serving thicken gravy by blending a little water with the flour and adding to stock. Omit green pepper when expensive.

CANDY TIP

Never try to rush candy cooling. Better results are obtained when making homemade candy if the mixture is cooled at room temperature.

Nobody Can Leave Bulgarian Capital

SOFIA, Feb. 28 (AP)—A cordon of police was thrown about this Bulgarian capital last night, making it impossible for anyone to leave the city, and telephone communication, internal and international, was suspended mysteriously for nearly 23 hours.

No authentic reports could be received from the frontiers.

The British legation was packed for a quick attempt to get out of the country ahead of any invasion of Nazi troops.

There are some 600,000 German soldiers in Rumania, to the north and many on the Danube frontier with Bulgaria. Diplomatic dispatches reaching Belgrade today told of a mass movement of German troops in battle uniform through Bucharest, the Rumanian capital, which is less than 50 miles from the border.

The police cordoned Sofia on the advice of the military, it was learned. All diplomatic missions, including the United States legation, were cut off from any kind of communication.

Unofficial reports said King Boris was closeted in his palace, refusing to see his own ministers. Attempts to obtain any word from the palace of what was going on proved fruitless.

Shortly after dawn, secret police raided the homes of 10 or more Bulgarian journalists, oil men and others seeking incriminating documents; then all were arrested. They were described as "men with British connections."

Pigmy Truck On Assembly Line

By DAVID J. WILLKIE Associated Press Automotive Editor DETROIT, Feb. 28—The pigmy truck, of which the United States army has 4,500 now on order, reached the volume production stage on the assembly lines of the Ford Motor company in suburban Dearborn today.

The truck, with a rated load capacity of only a quarter-ton and small enough to be "easily concealed in the field," or to be transported by large army bombers, is unique in military service. It is designed to take the place, in many respects, of the motorcycle and has space for the normal transporting of three men, an anti-tank gun and light field pieces.

A group of army officers and officials of the Ford company were on hand today to see the first of the vehicles come off an assembly line in the building the Ford company used in World War days to produce its Eagle boats for the United States navy.

The company made no announcement of the output volume expected, but all the conventional mass production methods, including the moving line and overhead conveyors with supplemental "feeder" lines, have been adapted to the assembling of the pigmy vehicles.

On the line today were approximately 30 of the little fighter units in various stages of completion. Moving off the line, they are to be sent to an undisclosed destination for the mounting of armament.

The vehicle, officially designated by the United States army as a "reconnaissance or scout car," has an 80-inch wheelbase and 127 1/2 inch overall length. It weighs 2,130 pounds and is equipped with a four-cylinder engine producing 45 horsepower and a top operating speed of 57 miles an hour. At the cow! it is only 38 3/4 inches high.

Mt. View School District Annexed

Special To The NEWS MOBEETIE, Feb. 28—When the school boards of the Mt. View and Mobeetie school districts met recently, the two schools were formally consolidated. The Mt. View community voted in the spring of 1940 to unite with this district, but due to difficulties, the consolidation was not completed until last week.

This district's unification with Mobeetie will enlarge the school district to something over a 100 square miles of territory. This increase in area will enable this district to qualify for more transportation aid out of the rural aid fund. The Mobeetie district has just received $2,468 in salary aid from the equalization fund, which represents 50 per cent of the salary aid for the current year. The school is expecting to qualify for about $4,000 in transportation money from this fund also.

Peck Catches Fish, Anyway

If he's as expert at pennant-hunting as he is at fishing, Manager Roger Peckinpaugh ought to bring the American League pennant to Cleveland this year. Peck is shown, left, with a 245-pound sea bass, largest fish brought in at Fort Myers, Fla., this year. Ken Keltner, center, Indian third baseman, and Clint Brown, pitcher, examine the manager's catch.

28 Ships Sunk In Last Two Days, Says German Air Force

BERLIN, Feb. 28 (AP)—Germans claimed for their air force today the sinking or damaging of 28 ships in the last two days and informed sources declared "it will be a little more lively next week." "In fact," they added, "there will be no rest for the British merchant fleet or correspondents." In addition to air and submarine warfare on the Atlantic there were indications that German air activity against the British in Africa were being stepped up. The total tonnage claimed damaged or sunk by bombs in the past two days is 146,000. Aside from the war on shipping, in the air and on the high command told of combat plane attacks yesterday on "war vital objectives in eastern England," including six airports and an aircraft factory. "Numerous" planes were reported destroyed at the Langley field while hits were scored on "hangars and shelters." Heavy explosions resulted from "several direct hits" on the factory, the communique said.

Britain Tries To Make Hitler Show His Balkan Hand

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Authoritative sources in London declared today that Bulgaria must "bear responsibility for German aid." Repeated British warnings to Bulgaria to avoid any act which might lead to a break in diplomatic relations was interpreted here as a move to force Germany to show her hand—whether she means to fight in the Balkans or was bluffing to screen an attempted invasion of England. No date has been set for the departure from Sofia of British Minister George W. Rendel, a spokesman said, but added: "Obviously it can't be delayed." The British hailed as an important political victory the announcement the "full agreement on all points" had been reached with Turkey. Official circles frankly asserted that assurances which Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden received from the Turkish government at Ankara had been the foundation for the firm stand taken yesterday by Rendel. The British hailed as an important political victory the announcement the "full agreement on all points" had been reached with Turkey.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Stock market apparently felt better today but was well enough to ease in a real rallying spirit. The list exhibited mild hesitation at the start, then moved forward under leadership of steel. Dealings picked up at intervals and transfers were around 400,000 shares. Tilted upward in the concluding hour were shares of Consolidated Edison, North American, Public Service of N. E. Electric Power & Light, and American Water Works. Supported the greater part of the day were Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Steel, U. S. Steel, Woolworth, Douglas Aircraft, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania, Loft, Paramount, Loew's, Warner Bros., Anagnonia, Eastman Kodak, General Electric and Philip Morris. Weighted strength of commodities added the stock department.

1,104 Trucks Carry Troops To Abilene

PORT BELL, Okla., Feb. 28 (AP)—Strung out in two long caravans, a fleet of 1,104 trucks carried the main contingent of the 45th division—10,090 strong—today from the training center to its new location at Abilene, Tex. Functionally at 6 a. m., the first detachments of the former Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, and Colorado guardsmen left the training center. In what army officers called the largest motorized troop transfer of the national defense program. Unit after unit fell in the line of march as the movement got under way strictly according to schedule worked out in advance. The first trucks were expected to reach the new Texas training center constructed at a cost of more than $6,000,000, by 3 p. m. Patrol cars from the Lawton division of the Oklahoma State Highway police headed each of the two columns to the Texas state line at the Red River. There Texas patrolmen took over the job. The weather was cold and partly cloudy.

O'Daniel Sells 50 Blankets For $3,200

EL DORADO, Feb. 28 (AP)—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel auctioned fifty Texas made blankets for $3,200 and made the pioneering spirit of El Dorado citizens at the opening here yesterday of the new woolen mill. Pointing out that for 104 years Texas did not have a single plant for processing its wool and mohair, O'Daniel said "it took the president of the bank of this town in West Texas to give us a lesson in 20th century pioneering." "J. B. Christian, the banker, went into partnership with his son, Joe Christian, the engineer, trained in Texas Technological college, and today we celebrate the first accomplishment of the business combination, the West Texas Woolen Mills of Eldorado," the governor said. O'Daniel, who spoke to a crowd of 5,000, was accompanied by West Texas members of the legislature. B. Wardlaw of Del Rio, president of the National Wool Growers association, paid $300 for the first blanket.

Special To The News MOBEETIE, Feb. 28.—One of the main educational features of the Mobeetie schools is to put to good use their moving picture machine. This is done to create interest as well as to furnish an enjoyable means of entertainment for both the grade school and high school students.

The latest short picture to be shown in the schools was the film, "Bound to Last." This was a story of the binding of books and it emphasized the amount of time that it took to complete this process.

CHURCH

Windows are steel sash with colored cathedral glass. A large memorial wheel window of blue cathedral glass is at the front of the chancel. The chancel is in "the traditional style." The communion table is in the center of the chancel with choir seats on both sides. The lectern is on the right and the pulpit on the left. An arched aisle separates the sanctuary from the chapel which is 15 feet wide and 35 feet long and will seat 75. The pulpit is visible from nearly all points of the chapel which will be used for the youth church, small weddings, and small funerals. At the front of the chancel is a window in the shape of a cross, made out of glass brick.

Between sanctuary and chapel is a new M. H. Moller pipe organ, which can be used for services in both auditoriums. Mrs. Harlan A. Yoder is organist.

Sunday School Room Off the foyer is a 17 by 28 foot room to be used as an adult Sunday school room and for meetings of women's organizations. Walls of the room are of Nu-Wood planking of different sizes and colors. A dumb-waiter connection leads to the kitchen in the basement. Also off the foyer is the beginners department which is also used for a nursery at morning services. It is 17 by 22 feet. The department has a piano and play equipment.

The second floor consists of the minister's study. Walls of the study are also of Nu-Wood. Other room is 33 feet square and is for the primary department. Half of the room is a chapel and the other half for class rooms. An Estey junior reed organ, electrically operated, has been installed.

In the basement is the fellowship hall, 35 feet wide, and 60 feet long, which can also be used for class rooms. A well-equipped kitchen offsets the hall. Also offsetting the hall is a 22 by 35 foot room, which will be used as a Boy Scout and Cub room, and also for a recreation room. It has an outside entrance. Rest rooms are also in the basement. Closet space and store rooms are located on all three floors.

Construction of the church building began on July 2 with the firm of Frank of Amarillo the architects, and L. C. Graham of Pampa the contractor.

Members of the building committee were Clyde Fathere, chairman; M. A. Graham, C. H. Walker, P. C. Ledick, and George Briggs.

The Presbyterian church in Pampa was organized in December, 1926. Services were held in the high school auditorium, the American Legion hall, and the Rex theater, until the former brick church building was erected at the corner of Frost street and Browning avenue. First service in the new church was on July 10, 1927.

First minister and organizer was the Rev. W. M. Baker, a Sunday school missionary who served until 1927, when the Rev. W. L. Evans was called. The Rev. A. A. Hyde served as minister from June, 1928, until November 1934, when the Rev. L. Burney Shelton was called. The Rev. Robert Boshell, present minister, was called in October, 1937. The church had 75 charter members. It now has a membership of more than 300.

In previous accidents this month, two pilots were killed in separate pursuit plane crashes on Feb. 12, and one pilot was killed the next day. There were no fatalities in the fourth crash.

Roy A. Webb, son of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Webb of Pampa, is stationed in the Canal Zone. He is a flight lieutenant in the 16th pursuit squadron, stationed at the Atlantic end of the canal. The bomber squadrons are at the Pacific end of the canal, Dr. Webb said.

In a recent letter to his parents, young Webb told about the crashes which took the lives of three of his comrades. He said that the squadron had been grounded while all ships were being overhauled.

Where New War Threatens Balkans

British co-ordination of her African and Aegean fronts and a German drive through Bulgaria into Greece are likely coming events in the Balkan theater, where a new stage is set for war. The British minister in Bulgaria, George W. Rendel, said the "forerunners" of a German invasion of Bulgaria already were present by "thousands" and hinted at an imminent break between Britain and Bulgaria.

The British halted yesterday's announcement that "full agreement on all points" had been reached by Britain's forceful stand toward Bulgaria. Turkey is Britain's non-belligerent ally but her position had been questioned in some quarters since she recently signed a friendship pact with Bulgaria.

On the fighting fronts, an entire Italian division was said by the British today to have been shattered in fighting with West African Gold Coast forces on the Juba river in Italian Somaliland. The Greeks claimed to have inflicted heavy losses on an Italian force "trapped" by Greek fire in Albania.

Workers And Steel Firm Settle Strike

(By The Associated Press)

The strike at Bethlehem Steel's Lackawanna, N. Y., plant ended today with the CIO's acceptance of a formula drafted by the defense commission in its anxious efforts to keep production flowing.

Government officials, cheered over this, also found pleasure in the settlement of a smaller strike, by the AFL, at the National Supply company in Philadelphia. A representative of the company, which makes Diesel engines for the navy, said "substantial wage increases" were granted.

William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman, co-directors of the office of production management, worked late last night in Washington drawing up the plan which they hoped would start production rolling again at full volume in the big steel mill.

They proposed first that all employees be reinstated in their jobs, management and the steel workers organizing committee confer in an effort to adjust grievances, and that the office of production management explore with the labor relations board the possibility of holding an election to determine a collective bargaining agent at the Lackawanna plant.

Within a few hours after the strike was called Wednesday night there was violence along the two-mile picket line as some non-striking night shift employees attempted to enter the plant.

Police officials increased their guard after a melee in which a patrolman was injured.

The union had asked for a collective bargaining election, an immediate conference to settle grievances, and reinstatement of workers who had been "indefinitely suspended" by the company. An earlier demand was for a 25 per cent wage boost.

Hillman announced he would take additional steps today toward settling another strike—that at the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., Milwaukee, which has tied up production of $45,000,000 in defense equipment for more than a month.

An arranged conference with the high officials of the CIO-United Automobile Workers union on the matter.

Ford Motor company was threatened with strikes at its Lincoln, Rouge, and Highland Park plants, the probable date such strikes might become effective was undetermined.

Steel Report Submitted To President

The steel report was submitted to the President by Gans Dunsen, chief production consultant of O. P. M.

Reading from two graphs in the report, the President said they showed steel production capacity was based on national income, meaning the higher income the greater demand for steel.

On graph, estimating the 1941 national income at $80,000,000,000, said on this basis there would be an estimated surplus capacity of steel of 10,000,000 tons this year, over and above all military and civilian needs.

For 1942 the income was estimated at $90,000,000,000 and the possible surplus capacity of steel at 2,000,000 tons.

IRON FOR

Tulsa, signed by Jerry Watt, chairman of the Iron for Britain committee, reads:

"In an effort to assist the British in their magnificent and courageous fight on behalf of the democracies, we urge you to get busy in your community and load at least one carload of 'Iron for Britain'."

"Arrangements have already been made with the Sheffield Steel corporation to convert the donated iron at no cost into furnished steel for the British government."

"When each car is loaded, mail the original bill of lading to the Sheffield Steel corporation with a note advising them that the car should be applied to the 'Iron for Britain' account. Please mail to us in Tulsa the copy of the bill of lading with net weight of car; also, mail us, if possible, a list of contributors with the approximate tonnage they loaded in the car."

"Let us do our part by aiding the imperiled democracies now being murderously attacked by lustful dictators. Their fight is our fight."

Worker Rescued From Railroad Coal Chute

TALLULA, Ill., Feb. 28 (AP)—James Light, a railroad worker, was alive today because he was able to cling grimly to a ladder for two hours without moving—when a move might have meant death.

Light climbed down into a giant coal hopper used to replenish locomotive tenders. While he was loosening frozen coal so that it would flow through a chute, a mass of coal buried him to the neck.

By seizing a ladder rung, Light kept from being submerged. Still jutting dangerously above him, however, were tons of fine wet coal, which threatened to break loose and bury him.

All passing trains were halted because it was feared vibration would loosen the overhanging coal. Workmen then built a protecting timber wall around him and dug him out. His only injuries were minor bruises.

Troops At Wichita

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 28 (AP)—The main body of the west column of the 45th division, a throng of 10,500 soldiers en route from Fort Sill, Okla., to Camp Berkeley, near Abilene, started pouring through Wichita Falls today at 9:45 a. m., 30 minutes behind advance trucks.

Nazi Troops Moving Thru Bucharest

(By The Associated Press)

German troops in battle uniform were reported moving through Bucharest today, while extreme nervousness prevailed in Sofia, capital of Bulgaria, that Adolf Hitler may be about to start his long-expected march into southeast Europe.

Telephone communications with Sofia were cut off for 23 hours until a single line was opened to Belgrade, Yugoslav capital, tonight. Police cordoned the Bulgarian city, making it impossible for anyone to leave.

Sofia reported it still was impossible to communicate with Bulgarian provinces to ascertain what was happening along the Danube. An estimated 200,000 Nazi troops have been reported massed on the Rumanian side of the river.

In the far east crisis, France ignored the deadline on Japan's ultimatum demanding that French Indo-China yield great territorial stretches to Thailand or risk "forceful action" by Japan.

The hour of midnight passed in Tokyo (9 a. m. C. S. T.), with lights burning in the Japanese foreign office and officials gravely awaiting this first test of Japanese resolve which the east Asia sphere—where the Axis was allotted her.

But no reply came, and the Japanese summoned an extraordinary conference for Saturday morning at which French Indo-China representatives will be asked to explain the lack of an answer to this "final mediation proposal" by Japan.

As part of her devious moves southward, Japan chose to step in and mediate the sporadic border war in the jungles of western Indo-China between the French and invading Thais. Observers feel she expects to win military and economic advantages from both countries at her "reward."

There were new hints from Europe, of the imminence of a German smash at England.

Barge Captain's Daughter To Wed Spanish Count

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (P)—Wilma Baard, the barge-captain's amber-blond daughter whose debut was sponsored by 14 young-men-about-town, has married a Spanish count.

Wilma came out the same season Brenda Frazier did, at a party given by her young "uncles" as a gesture of protest against "the over-exploitation of pampered daughters of a so-called society that doesn't exist any more."

"We expect to get her married off by spring—beating nearly all the others," said Peter Arno, the cartoonist.

This was in December, 1938, Pretty Wilma, an advertising model, was married yesterday in the Church de Mila Crossa to Count Nava de Tajo, a shipping executive.

Wheeler Renews Attack On Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (P)—Senator Wheeler of Montana, tore into the administration's British aid bill again today, calling it an invitation to dictatorship, and Senator Maloney of Connecticut pleaded for its passage as an encouragement to democracy.

As far apart in their views as their home states are distant from each other, the two democrats kept the debate rolling along on its 11th day of flowing oratory.

Defeat of the bill, said Maloney, would bring "rejoicing" to Germany, and "new strength" to Germany, and the psychological effect might well be "disastrous" for England, her allies, and the smaller nations of the world.

He and the majority of the people, the New Englander said, believed that President Roosevelt would exercise the lease-lend powers "with prudence and with wisdom."

But Wheeler saw it differently. He argued that the legislation would "strip us of our defenses, invite the chief executive to declare war, and create a dictatorship."

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) urged the Senate meanwhile, in a statement to stop debating the bill, saying that "the time has come to start voting and finish the job."

Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) proposed in the Senate, meanwhile, that congress approve loans of up to $2,000,000,000 to Great Britain, Canada, and Greece for war equipment purchased in this country. Lodge said such a bill could be enacted immediately and then the Senate could return to consideration of the pending British aid.

Dutch Army In East Indies Being Formed

HEADQUARTERS OF THE NETHERLANDS EAST INDIES ARMY, Bandung, Feb. 28 (AP)—Gen. G. J. Berenschot, commander in chief of the Netherlands East Indies army, disclosed today a hitherto unknown military expansion program designed to create a 3,000-mile chain of fortresses along the equator in these rich islands.

In an interview, the general said that the rate of increase in his land forces is mainly a question of obtaining equipment for "new army units which are being organized and commissioned as rapidly as equipment arrives."

"The manpower is available now but material is coming slowly," he said.

Figures cannot be disclosed but the commander said that an army "many times the former size" is being formed.

Berenschot described a new defense system whereby infantry units will be stationed in outer islands to protect auxiliary naval bases there. Formerly it was believed that the N. E. I. army would make a concerted stand only in Java, and Sumatra if attacked.

The new program scraps that plan, enlarging the possibility of each larger island from Borneo to New Guinea.

"We never intended to surrender any islands however distant," Berenschot said, "but actual defense formerly was impossible with the forces available. The new system provides adequate protection of the outer territories."

British And French 'Contacting' Enemy North Of Cheren

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 28 (AP)—British headquarters announced today that the British and "free French" column which has been driving into Eritrea from the north "is now in contact with enemy troops holding covering positions north of Cheren." Italian defense center which has stalled the British advance for weeks.

This contact was declared to have been made after a "victorious sweep" by the forces which advanced into Eritrea from the Anglo-Sudan two weeks ago.

The object of this Pincer movement is to break Italian resistance around Cheren, mountain key to Asmara, the Eritrean capital 42 miles to the southeast.

"Meanwhile," today's war bulletin said, "by local activity we have improved our positions west of the town." The British have been held up there since driving westward across Eritrea.

To the south, in Italian Somaliland, where the British have unofficially claimed control of the entire colony following capture of the capital city of Mogadiscio, the middle east command said "operation in all sectors are developing successfully."

In Ethiopia, it asserted that "in the face of increasing pressure" by native patriots, the Italian withdrawal from military posts in the Goujan area in the northwest is continuing.

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 28 (AP)—Germany has acquired sufficient petroleum to oil her military machine and as the situation now stands oil starvation is not likely to whip the Axis, William B. Heroy of Pilgrim Exploration company, Houston, said today.

Heroy was speaking before the spring meeting of the southwestern district, American Petroleum Institute.

Heroy described the feverish efforts of the Nazis to increase the flow of Rumanian oil into the Reich. The Axis now controls, he estimated, oil production of 300,000 barrels daily, a figure well above the pre-war consumption of Germany and Italy. Of this total, however, the Italians have only 4,000 barrels daily—a mere drop in the modern, mechanized warfare—and the Nazis seem little disposed to increase the supplies of their partner.

Heroy expressed surprise that the Germans in pre-war days had not used more modern methods in their attempts to discover oil in their own country.

Malony Defends Lease-Lend Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Senator Maloney (D-Conn) told the senate solemnly today that if it defeated the British aid bill, the physiological effect might well be "disastrous" for England, her allies and the smaller nations of the world.

The stocky Connecticut senator took the floor at the opening of the eleventh day of general senate debate to appeal for speedy passage of the bill.

"The time has come, he asserted, for 'action—no debate.'"

While the nation might not be able to avoid war, he said he believed the bill offered the best hope of peace.

Should the lease-lend program be voted down, he declared in a prepared address, "all over the world, east and west, men may surrender their hopes and their aspirations and the curtain may not rise again for generations."

Maloney announced to his colleagues that he was willing to vote for a grant of extraordinary power to the President because he believed "the overwhelming majority" of the people believed that Mr. Roosevelt would exercise such authority "with prudence and with wisdom."

Japs Leave Singapore
MANILA, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Japanese liner Hakone Maru arrived here today with 127 Japanese evacuees from Singapore, mostly women and children. Fifteen more Japanese, mostly women, boarded the ship here, after which it sailed for Kobe.

Observers expressed the belief that these were the first to leave in a general evacuation of Japanese civilians from war-threatened Far Eastern points, principally Singapore and French Indo-China.

Bulgaria Due To Sign German Pact

BERLIN, Feb. 28 (AP)—Rumors were current in Vienna tonight that Bulgarian leaders would sign the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo pact there tomorrow.

Although nothing official was announced there or in Berlin, the view was widely held that Bulgaria's formal adherence to the accord would take place at a famous Hapsburg castle.

Earlier press reports to the same effect had evoked in Berlin the authorized statement that "nothing is known" on the subject.

Texas Will Be 105 Years Old Sunday

By RICHARD WEST
Associated Press Staff

Mighty Texas—man-sized empire within an empire, but once a baby born in a blacksmith shop—will be 105 Sunday.

Down in old Washington (pop. 100) where the muddy Brazos curves through the cotton, patriots Sunday will honor a small group of intellectuals who March 2, 1836, drew up

Texas' declaration of independence from Mexico and gave birth to a nation.

Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, Federal Judge James V. Allred and others in an all-day program will extol the prowess of a state whose 260,000 square miles could clothe and feed a nation.

But in the state park at old Washington thoughts will go back 105 years to N. Y. Byars' blacksmith shop where fifty-eight Texans labored over a lamp for freedom.

Outside a howling norther nearly capsized the shack. From the south thundered Santa Anna's picked Mexican army. The Alamo was in its seventh day of siege.

Signers of the declaration read like a map of Texas—Richard Ellis, George Childress, Robert Poiter, Thomas Rusk, Collin McKinney, Edwin Waller, Bailey Hardeman and others. For days they had ridden on horseback toward Washington, "living on corn mush and fresh air."

Far from being adventurous swashbucklers, they were learned men. Historians say that on their document are names of more college graduates than on any other similar treatise in history.

Childress—its author—came to Texas on horseback from Nashville where as editor of the stormy Banner he espoused Texas' cause of freedom.

Tall, handsome, favorite with the ladies, he grew bored with Nashville society. A month after his arrival he was chosen a delegate to the convention; some say he wrote the declaration before he left Tennessee. Today he lies buried in an unmarked grave in Galveston—a suicide victim with a Bowie knife.

Every year the Washington celebration honors a signer. This year it is Richard Ellis for whom Ellis county is named. A plantation owner in Alabama, he came to Texas in 1825, liked "the raw country," and never left.

U.S. independence observances will be held in hundreds of other

Germany Moving French Population From Channel Area

VICHY, France, Feb. 28 (AP)—Unconfirmed but credible reports that Germany is removing the French population from the English Channel area.

Communities from Saturday through Monday. Fifteen thousand University of Texas ex-students will meet and break bread together, a tradition started by the late R. E. L. Sauer of Dallas.

Old Washington is even smaller today than on that cold March night. But Texas' 1836 population of 36,000 has multiplied in its six-flag-history 180 times.

nel coast were taken by some French observers today as indications of final preparations for attack on the British Isles.

Nautical circles, however, minimized the importance of such a move, saying it might be a routine military preparation to prevent leakage of information.

The best information was that the removals began in the middle of February and are still proceeding slowly.

One source said the coastal strip was being cleared to a depth of 22 miles.

Since the first automobile show, the automobile industry has paid wages totaling more than $85,000,000.

Razorbaks Play In Dallas Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

The champion Arkansas Razorbaks move into Dallas for basketball games with Southern Methodist university tonight and tomorrow night that will end their Southwest conference season.

Long John Adams from Beebe, Ark., will attempt to make 35 points which would break the season scoring mark of 210 points set by Hub Kirkpatrick when he starred for Baylor in 1938. Coach Whitley Bacus assigned his brother, Rusty, and Wilbur Keith to shadow Adams.

The University of Texas defeated Texas A. and M. 49-22 at College

Station before 3,700 fans last night. The Cadets were 12 minutes and forty seconds scoring their first field goal while the Steers were piling up 17 points. Texas held a 25-3 lead at the half. The Aggies will go to Austin Tuesday to meet Texas in the final conference game of the season.

Rice meets Texas at Austin and Baylor plays A. and M. at Waco Saturday night.

Texas Should Write Their Own Textbooks

The governor is right on the matter of writing free textbooks. Yesterday he recommended to the legislature that public school free textbooks be written by Texas writers, and that the State Board of Education offer prizes for them. He said that use of textbooks by Texas writers would overcome the handicap of copyrights on books now used.

That seems like a good idea for the reason that if Texas authors wrote our textbooks they may not deviate as far from democratic principles as professional textbook writers do. Maybe some of our textbooks would be less communistic and fascist than now. Maybe they would have the Texas angle of democracy to the extent that the students would comprehend a few of the governmental ideas in the books.

Maybe the students could get a clear word-picture of democracy without having it colored pink; maybe they could tell the difference between democracy and fascism when they got through reading the lesson.

Behind The News

By PETER EDSON

The Pampa News Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Senate debate. They roll out all the heavy artillery and lay down a barrage—with gas—when the upper House gets a big issue like lease-lend that it can really fight about. Democracy is at work on these days. Democracy is saved daily.

The crowd comes early. Corridors of the Senate office building, a big long block away from the capitol itself, are usually empty. You could drive a load of hay down any of them without worrying about running over women and children. But on big debate days, people plod like lost souls through the miles of corridors, hopefully, grimly looking for the office of a friendly senator who will give them passes to the reserved section of the gallery.

Characters you see in Galbraith's "Side Glances." Women, mostly middle-aged women, explaining to each other that they've always been interested in politics. That's why they're here. A few old men. A few zealots who know what it's all about. But mostly just people. Curious.

AN OLD STORY TO CAPITOL COPS

Back in the Capitol building again you watch inadequate elevators lift the crowd by sixes and eights up to the Senate floor level. Then the long climb up the marble stairs to the ornate heaven that is the gallery. While elevators reserved "for senators only" stand idle.

Doorkeepers and cops herd the crowd, like cattle into a corral at branding time. Waifs and strays are rounded up and kept in line till there's a vacant chair. It's an old story to the capitol cops, who have heard so much oratory they'd welcome a traffic assignment to the busiest corner in town, just to get some place where something happened which would be more exciting than saving democracy.

Now and then a senator comes up to the gallery himself with a beaming constituent in his wake. And the senator himself makes sure that the constituent gets inside. That's a vote, come next election, and more important than the few paragraphs missed from the logic of a Barkley or a Clark. Besides, there will be other logic.

Democracy at work. Democracy will be saved today. The show starts at noon. Prayer. Roll call. Appointments to confirm. Requests to have editorials from newspapers they should have read and speeches they should have heard reprinted in the Congressional Record where they won't be seen. Petitions from the Navajo Indians:

"Judge us, dear papa, and distinguish our cause from the Indian Bureau that is not holy: deliver us from the unjust and deceitful John Collier. For you are our last hope, dear papa."

Etc. Etc. Etc. by Many Mule Son and about 500 other Navajos. Referred to the committee on Indian affairs. Democracy at work. Democracy will be saved today.

SENATORS LISTEN AS SENATORS SHOULD

Then the main act comes on. "Mr. President of the Senate, I approach the discussion of this historic measure with a profound appreciation . . ." for an hour and a half.

Senators sit in their red leather upholstered swivel chairs behind school-like desks in semi-circular rows before the vice president. Republicans to his left, Democrats to his right. Some slouch, some lean forward. Most listen intently, politely, looking like senators should. Some go on reading. They come and go. Page boys in blue serge knicker suits come and go. Messages. Calls to the corridor. Whispers, from one senator to his neighbor. Some move to other seats, to hear better. But nothing stops the speaker. No loud-speaker system here, just old-fashioned oratory, where they yell it out and wave their arms.

No applause when a speaker finishes. It's against the rules, but when the gallery does break loose the vice president gets tough. No one realized he could be so tough. Some senator suggests the absence of a quorum, and the roll is called. That's to give everybody a breather. Senators crowd around the brow-mopping speaker to congratulate him on his eloquence. Questions. Answers. More questions and answers. The speaker keeps the floor, yielding to questioners. Democracy is being saved.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

REDUCING DIVINE LAW TO MEASURABLE, AND THUS, COMMUNICABLE TERMS

Divine law, God's law, or natural law, are synonymous expressions used for brevity to include all mathematical, measurable, orderly, eternal, immutable, universal laws not made by man. The person using the words, Divine law, like all other abstract terms—such as love, God, justice—should be able to reduce it to some measurable, mathematical term in order that he may be able to communicate his concept of Divine law to another. Otherwise there can be no meeting of minds or no effective cooperation.

Men recognize Divine law by the trial and error method of measuring over centuries the laws produced from practicing various claimed-to-be Divine laws. If the fruits produced make it possible for each and every person, present and future, to have more experiences, to be more nearly free, to enjoy more happiness, to get a bigger reward for a given sacrifice, then the law that is being examined is a Divine law.

Probably the most important of these laws is the law of equal freedom to create and enjoy in any quantity anything that the individual has the ability to create that anyone else has an equal right to create and enjoy.

Here are few corollaries to this principle of Divine law:

- 1. Men reap what they sow. 2. The rain falls on the just and the unjust. 3. Divine law knows no favorites. 4. Happiness begets happiness. 5. Misery begets misery. 6. Like tends to beget like. 7. No elements are created or destroyed. 8. Violation of Divine law invariably results in less life and even extinction. 9. Obeying Divine law always results in happiness. 10. Men were intended by Divine law to associate together. 11. Repetition begets efficiency. 12. Free and unrestricted division of labor increases total production. Men perish when they do not divide labor. 13. Man must live by the sweat of his brow. 14. Man is not free unless he gets all that he produces. 15. The only known way of measuring what each man produces which is in harmony with Divine law, is to permit him to produce and freely exchange anything anyone else has a right to produce. 16. Divine law intended men to have the use of their faculties and this included their right to choose. 17. No two men have identical or equal faculties. 18. Where man's desires are, there his mind and his energies will be placed. (Or man cannot serve two masters). 19. Preservation of the species is a Divine law, or the first law of nature. These are a few Divine laws, or axioms, or truths.

All of these laws are based on some form of mathematics. They either make men equal in rights, and/or they include all men, and/or they exclude all men. They have been learned by centuries and centuries of human experiences and when followed, those people or groups who follow them are the fittest and survive against those groups who do not follow these eternal, immutable, mathematical laws which are Divine laws.

Any human action that does not comply with these laws, such as any combination to prevent other human beings from having equal rights to create and enjoy whether put into force by a law made by the majority or by force of a dictator, are not Divine or natural laws, but are man-made laws and are arbitrary and tend to degrade men rather than to give men more life and experiences.

THE CAUSE THAT RAISES WAGES MAKES CHRISTIANS

It is about as logical to attempt to raise wages by the force of law or by collective bargaining as it would be to attempt to make people Christians by law or by collective bargaining.

The cause raises wages as make people Christians. The first cause that raises wages is respect for the equal rights of all other people, not only in this land but in all the world; a realization that every other man in the world has a right to produce and live.

This belief put into practice would permit full production and the accumulation of capital and would constantly raise the real wages of all workers.

And this respect for the equal rights of others is the tap-root of Christian religion and of all other religions.

Neither increased wages nor Christianity can be brought about by force or by law. It is just as reasonable to expect that wages can be raised by law or by force as it would be that men can be made Christians by law or by force.

And it is worth thinking about because our liberties are challenged. The word comes from the Latin word, 'Liberi' which means 'children' . . . For an hour and a half.

Mostly, the speakers read from prepared manuscripts for the main body of the argument. When they come to the conclusion, it's impromptu or from memory with all stops pulled for a grand diapason. Congressmen drift over from House of Representatives on the other side of the capitol, lining the back and sidewalks of the Senate floor to hear and see the fireworks.

Act III. Another big gun unlimbers and salvos to a conclusion. . . Mr. President, I know that the future is dark, that the risks are great, the end uncertain. . . But if we go step by step, keeping the broad picture ahead of us, and in our hearts the firm resolve to keep our faces forward, never turning them to one or the other side, or to the rear, that we shall be able to see our way through and help bring about a better world.

Senate stenographers, working in shifts, take it all down in shorthand, and it's printed in the Congressional Record next day. Newspaper reporters, working from their section of the gallery behind the vice president, hit the highspots and weed out the non-essentials.

The show is over "at 5 o'clock and 30 minutes p. m." until tomorrow noon. Democracy will be at work again. Democracy will be saved again tomorrow.

MUSSOLINI

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 28.—Behind the screen:

After an actress had received about a dozen visitors and twice as many messages on the set the other day, an impatient assistant director remarked, "That dame's got more guys chasing her than the Italians have."

A London company, Ealing Studios, announcing production of a documentary and satirical film made from newsreel clips and based on the life of Mussolini. Tentative title: "Top Wop."

And speaking of the Blackshirt country, its purchase of the films "Intermezzo," and "Rebecca," have brought a good deal of criticism in Movietown against David Selznick.

Attitude here is that his sale of the pictures not only is counter to the boycott of Italy declared by Hollywood before war began, but that the action may look to Italians like an encouraging gesture from the U. S. "The least we can do now," suggested a British actor, "is give the money to the Greek War relief."

"DICTATOR" DEBUTS DOWN ARGENTINE WAY

The Argentine government finally passed Charlie Chaplin's "Dictator," after the film originally had been banned because of protests by Germany. "Confessions of a Nazi Spy," though, remains on the shelf. Chaplin and Paulette Goddard are together again, living at the beach home of her agent and planning a Honolulu trip when she finishes her new picture. . . Cecil De Mille ably led the way in "Reap the Wild Wind" to Rex Harrison in England, and got this reply, "Sorry, but busy in greatest role of my life." The actor is a private in the British army.

The James Roosevelt divorce becomes final on March 7, and friends say that he and his former nurse, Romelle Schneider, will be married soon afterward. . . Marlene Dietrich wanted John Wayne to play opposite her in "The Flame of New Orleans." But Republic, which owns the actor, has cast him with Opa Munson in "The Lady From New Orleans."

DIRECTS PICTURE IN THREE TONGUES

Typical of Hollywood and the bold front maintained by movie people is this sign in a boulevard dress shop: "Everything in sports apparel for that week end at Palm Springs. We gladly cash relief checks."

Director Rouben Mamoulian tries to make everyone feel at home on the set of "Blood and Sand." He speaks Russian to Nazimova, Spanish to Anthony Quinn, and Texas to Linda Darnell. . . Spencer Tracy refers to himself as "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. . . Paramount wants to stage a national poll so that the public can cast 'for Whom the Bell Tolls.'" But Ernest Hemingway is insisting that Annabelle play Maria.

Casualty notes: Jimmy Gleason rose from a flu bed to play a scene in "Affectionately Yours"—an easy scene, he was assured, in which he could lie down all the time. So he lay on a couch and was repeatedly drenched by an overhead sprinkler for a comedy sequence. . . Edward Arnold has a sprained ankle and can't walk, but a high saddle-chair has been rigged up with wheels so that he appears to be moving about in scenes for "The Lady from Chyenne." . . Kent Taylor, with a broken collar bone, turns only a left profile to the camera so that a bulky neck brace won't show.

THE JUNGLE MAN

By Madame Stella

Nobody ever knew if his name was really Jones. Nobody cared. He was small, dark, humble, and queer. Hang it all, a man must be queer who catches snakes for a living and presses jungle flowers in a book as a hobby. He brought his small son a marmoset from one of his jungle expeditions and became a frequent visitor at the house. He was ready enough to talk of the jungle, but offered little information about himself. Once in two or three years he accompanied a shipment of snakes to the states, and several times a year he went to Rio.

There was a certain German beauty by the name of Gertie, a chambermaid at the Hotel Splendide who inspired these Rio visits. . . Then came the day when returning from an expedition he practically collapsed in the patio. He had a raging fever and was soon delirious. A doctor summoned, declared Jones to be a very sick man, having a jungle fever. . . He told us what precautions to take against contagion and left the delirious patient in our care. Sicker and sicker grew the snake-catcher until the doctor admitted there was no hope, and asked if he had any family.

That we didn't know. In fact, we knew of no one who cared, except possibly Gertie in Rio. We wired to her in care of the Splendide, and shortly got a wire back. Gertie wanted to come if we could forward the fare. We were so distressed at the prospect of Jones dying before she could arrive that we wired plane fare and went to the airport to meet the next plane. There was Gertie—ample, bosomy, blondish, eager to rush to the bedside of her dying lover. But Jones did not know she was there. He mumbled from the far caverns of unconsciousness. Gertie came to the dinner table with tears streaming down her fair face. They streamed right into the rice and chicken. Her copious tears in no way detracted from her keen appetite. She came out of Jones' room crying even harder the next day, for Jones had gained consciousness and it seems in all the world the last person he wanted to see was Gertie. He ordered her out but she crept back again as soon as he was delirious. The whole household was in a turmoil. It was hard to tell when Jones was sane and when he wasn't. The sight of Gertie sent him off into such flights of absurd oratory that we thought he would burst a blood vessel. We all seemed to be cringing with Gertie. But the patient was getting better. Perhaps abusing Gertie had given him the will to survive. Gertie claimed that he had once promised to marry her. In a remarkably short time Jones was out of bed and with the last money he had he bought Gertie a boat ticket for Rio and set her on her way. We see him often, but Gertie is never mentioned.

DU GARD'S COMPLETE NOBEL PRIZE NOVEL IN AMERICAN EDITION

Roger Martin Du Gard was awarded the Nobel prize for literature in 1937 for the first half of his novel "The World of the Thibaults," a monumental work covering 11 volumes. Du Gard's story of the World War of 1914-18 is now complete and is offered to American readers in a special two-volume edition including "The Thibaults" and "Summer, 1914." (Viking; $6.)

Here is a novel that covers a month's reading—Du Gard is a master whose greatness is appreciated only with slow and patient study. Like good brandy, his phrases must be rolled around on the tongue before being swallowed and assimilated. "Summer, 1914," takes up the story of the Thibaults, a well-to-do French family, where the original work ended. Those last hectic days before war swept over Europe find Antoine, the elder brother, immersed in a love affair, and his brother Jacques, upholding the ideals of socialism.

Political students will appreciate Du Gard's keen analysis of the immediate causes of war, and the avenues by which it might have been averted. And there is irony in Antoine's hope for a lasting peace. Romanticists are not neglected, as the French writer details the tender love of Jacques and Jenny, its gradual development and the tragic climax as Jacques flies into Alsace in one last heroic effort to make the men who fight war not the rulers and generals—but the workers and soldiers, see the futility of mass murder.

Others may find the outstanding portion of the novel in Antoine's diary—the day-by-day record of a soldier who is denied quick death; in the hopes he envisions for a permanent, peaceful order in Europe, and in the advice he gives to Jacques' son, a lad born in war and destined to fight in another. Du Gard's work is far from light reading. The size of the novel overshadows "Gone With the Wind." But for those who have the courage to tackle it, you're sure to finish it. This is one of fiction's great achievements.

So They Say

The men in Washington can only go part way in building our defense; we, the people, must come up and meet them. That is the way democracy works. —Council for Democracy memorandum on local defense.

If the democratic world had been successful in preventing the growth of the proletariat, there never would have been such a thing as the rise of the totalitarian state. —Senator JOSEPH C. O'MAHONEY, Wyoming.

It would indeed be inconceivable to make the great efforts now underway and contemplated in the U. S. today . . . if they were not paralleled by assistance to our vital commitments. —R. H. CROSS, British minister of shipping.

There have been only scattered and comparatively unimportant attempts at sabotage thus far, but we must not permit this to lull us into a sense of security. The saboteurs are waiting the "go" signal. —E. P. COFFEY, chief of the FBI technical laboratory.

We do not need the gallant armies which are forming throughout the American Union. We do not need them this year, nor next year, nor any year that I can foresee. —WINSTON CHURCHILL, British prime minister.

TEX'S TOPICS

By Tex DeWeese

THIS is an old subject, but here's a new angle. . . It is taken from a current magazine story and reads like this: . . . "Tonight," said she, "I want to wear something in black satin. Something snaky and sophisticated." . . . Well, the lady may have something there at that. . . No doubt you recall, if you are a movie fan, what Robert Taylor said before he was married when asked about his choice of women: . . . "I like a sophisticated woman, dressed in black." . . . The following should give any nation a laugh: . . . "Nazi chemists have invented a 'humane gas' for chemical warfare against the British. It is claimed this gas will stupefy the British population and make them incapable of strong resistance to an invading force but will not permanently injure them." . . . Oh, yeah?

After two weeks of rain, sleet, snow, fog and sunless days the sunshine of the past couple of days sure has been a honey. . . That is, of course, if you are one who is not partial to rain, sleet, snow, fog and sunless days. . . Something to reflect upon, if things like this worry you: . . . Thirty-eight per cent of the population of the Hawaiian Islands is Japanese.

HERE'S a letter from a Pampan (name withheld at request) and we give it to you without comment (it doesn't need any): . . . "Dear Sir: Flaming youth continues to flame. This for the most part is all right, but when they do their flaming on highways and the streets of our town in hopped-up jalopies it's time to call a halt. They speed through the residential districts at outlandish speed. Nobody but a pair of sappy, incompetent parents would allow a youngster to drive a hopped-up jalopy. The thing to do is to threaten these adolescent lamer-brains with a term of hard labor. The thought of having to do some hard work will frighten them to death."

The Lubbock Avalanche's Plainsman writes that particularly interesting to suspicious wives of executives—and those wives whose husbands bid fair some day to become executives—is an invention by T. G. LeClair, of New York. Mr. LeClair has invented a "robot stenographer," recently demonstrated before the American Institute of Electrical Engineers in Philadelphia.

THE "robot stenographer" does practically everything its feminine counterpart does except chew gum and pat the boss solicitously on the shoulder when things go wrong at the office. From a standpoint of taking dictation, the "robot" is both faster and neater than any human being can be and it saves a lot of time, because there is no period lost in transcribing notes to the typewritten page. . . The "robot" simply prints out the dictation, verbatim, without any notes at all!

The electrical gadget may very probably have quite a sale, especially to very aged executives and to those whose wives prefer to have them cloaked with a metal machine, rather than with a young lady who, in all probabilities, has some winsome qualities.

HOWEVER, if you want our guess on the matter, it would get awfully monotonous to say "good morning" each day to a hunk of steel and whoever heard of sending a machine next door for a package of cigarettes? . . . At least for the next 25 years, we'll stick with Miss Giotz, chewing-gum, fire-wagon, finger-nails, and all!

LEADING BOXERS OF PANHANDLE IN BOUTS TONIGHT HERE

Gold Gloves Winner Will Box Cornett

A different type of leather will fly in the Pampa high school gymnasium tonight. Instead of basketballs whizzing through the air, it will be boxing gloves. Wrestling the gloves will be boys of the Pampa and Wellington high school boxing teams.

First of 11 fights is scheduled for 8 o'clock sharp. Admission will be 15 cents for students and 25 cents for adults. Third man in the ring will be Andy Anderson. Judges will be J. H. Duncan, LeFors and Paul D. Hill and C. E. "Dad" McGrew of Pampa.

Coach John Lee of Wellington will bring to Pampa what is believed by many to be the best balanced high school boxing team in the Panhandle. He has been training his boys since the close of the football season and they are in tip-top shape.

Leading the Wellington mitt artists will be a 165-pound boy named Thompson who won the Childress Golden Gloves middle-weight title. Coach Oscar Hinger of the Harvesters will send John Cornett against him.

The pairings have not been completed because Coach Lee failed to send a list of his fighters to Coach Hinger.

In another battle that is expected to be a hair-raiser, Co-Captain Lefty Pendleton of the Pampa team will meet Wellington's Ingram at 135 pounds, while Co-Captain Roy Ray will tackle Montague at 145 pounds.

Two other sure-fire battles will see Bert Isbell of Pampa and Cook of Wellington in action at 125 pounds, and Johnny Campbell of Pampa against Smith of Wellington at 85 pounds.

Other Pampa boys who will be in gloves will be Billy Stevens at 65 pounds; Vance Vogle at 75 pounds; Billy Gise and Murry McPherson at 95 pounds; Everett Sparks and Richard Stephens at 105 pounds; Clayde Small at 115

Large Number Apply For Harvester Coaching Job

Odus Mitchell, who for the past 13 years guided the athletic destinies of Pampa high school, announced yesterday afternoon that he had accepted a contract to become head athletic coach at Marshall. Date of his departure from Pampa has not been set.

The Pampa school board will meet soon to name a successor to Coach Mitchell. It is understood that a large number of applicants have applied for the position. The applications started pouring in when it was rumored that Coach Mitchell would be named coach at Abilene, but the contract was given to Coach Vernon Hilliard of Plainview.

With the departure of Mitchell, three new head coaches will make their appearance in district 1 this season. Catfish Smith resigned at Borger and Windy Nicklaus was named his successor. When Hilliard resigned, Tyler and Kilgore in the same district it may be just as bad as with Amarillo and Lubbock in this district," the coach remarked.

Coach Mitchell came to Pampa from Childress in 1928. Since then his football teams have won 82 games, lost 44 games and tied five games. His basketball teams won the old district in Canyon twice and the district title in Pampa nine out of 11 years. His track and field teams won eight out of 10 district meets and one regional meet.

Tonight Coach Mitchell will have his basketball team in Canyon taking another crack at the regional title. In the eight years his basketball teams entered the regional tournament, they went to the finals six times only to be nosed out.

In football, in the toughest district in the state, the Harvesters went into fast company in 1930 and lost only a 2 to 0 game to Amarillo in the mud. On the following year the Harvesters won their only game from an Amarillo team. Two years later the Harvesters were given the district title when Amarillo was declared ineligible. The team went to the state quarter-finals, losing 7 to 6 to San Angelo in Lubbock.

With only two lettermen available, the 1940 Harvesters had a bad season, winning two games, tying two and losing six. Sixteen lettermen and reserves will be available for the 1941 team.

Marshall Coach Mitchell will succeed Rufus King, Texas university sensation of 1929 who recently resigned to accept a head coaching assignment at Palestine.

Coach and Mrs. Mitchell and their four children will leave for Marshall in time for Coach Mitchell to take over spring training. Coach Mitchell has been an active Rotarian. He was a former president.

Superintendent of schools at Marshall is Dick Denhard, former assistant principal here. Principal of the Marshall high school is Davis Hill, former principal at White Deer.

The Harvester football record under Coach Mitchell follows:

Harvesters Vow To Win For 'Best Coach Of All'

Jenkins Heavy Favorite Over Ambers Tonight

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Dr. Lew Jenkins, the specialist in knockout drops will attempt to give Leo Ambers a second injection tonight in Madison Square Garden to see if he can make the first one stick.

The Texas thumper flattened laughing Lou last May in three rounds, and expects to equal par for the course tonight, although it's scheduled for ten rounds. For Ambers, it's either reverse that verdict or go back to the laundry in Herkimer, N. Y.

One of the nicest little guys in the net always so sweet business of bushing beaks Ambers definitely is at the crossroads this time—and Jenkins is the traffic cop.

For this reason, so much interest has been attached to the match between the Herkimer Hurricane, who ended Gallant Tony Canzoneri's reign, and the Sweetwater Swatler, who ranks among the most dangerous punchers among little men for all time, that the garden is going to do a rush business. Promoter Mike Jacobs wouldn't be at all disappointed if some 15,000 of the faithful were on hand when the feature fireworks start at 9 p. m. (CST) and he certainly would shed no tears counting a gate of $40,000 to $50,000.

Except for Ambers, Manager Al Weill and possibly young Luigi D'Amrosio, Jr., for whose arrival Lou passed out the cigars last year, not even the laughing boy's bosom pals think there's much hope for him this time. Jenkins, whose only setback since amputating Ambers' crown came at the hands of Henry Armstrong, is a 1 to 3 favorite to win and even money to do it the hard way—by putting the crusher on Lou somewhere along the route.

This corner goes along with that idea, picking Jenkins inside of five rounds for no other reason than that Ambers, in his training chores, no longer was the little man who wasn't there.

Demaree Favored To Win Florida Meet

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 28 (P)—The boys who follow golf were willing to wager today that Jimmy Demaree would win the $5,000 St. Petersburg open if gusty winds kept sweeping in from the gulf.

The opinion prevailed although the nonchalam Texan was two strokes off the pace entering today's final 36 holes, trailing Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., and Felix Serafin of Scranton, Pa.

Barron, the pace-setter with Hogan at 136, put it this way: "Demaree is the best heavy weather player in the game. If this wind keeps up he will win by two or three strokes."

Demaree, winner here last year, whipped around the windwept course in 68 strokes yesterday to reach a challenging position. Serafin, with a 67 yesterday, was only a stroke behind Hogan and Barron. Henry Picard of Hershey, Ralph Guidahl, two-time national open champion, Sam Sneed of Hot Springs, Va., Harold McSpaden of Winchester, Mass., Sam Byrd of Armore, Pa., Ky Laffoon of Chicago, Johnny Perrell of Lake Tahoe, Calif., and Clarence Doser of Sarasota, Fla., were even at 139.

Eight Boys In School All Play On Team

CARR, Colo., Feb. 28 (P)—Carr high school's basketball team is undefeated, yet there are only eight boys on the squad. There probably would be more, but that's all the boys there are in school.

In eight league games the northern Colorado hoopers have scored 521 points, averaging better than two points a minute. Their opponents have averaged only 18 per game. Carr ran up 102 points against Berthoud and 91 against Timnath.

Coach Hinkel. "This is going to be our tribute to his 13 years of fine coaching in Pampa."

Bimelech Odds-On Favorite To Win Race At Hialeah

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 28 (P)—Bimelech never has run in the mud, but even if Hialeah track is ankle deep tomorrow it won't keep the Bradley beauty from going to the post an odds-on favorite in the sixth running of the $50,000 Widener cup. All such a downpour would do is reduce the number of Bimelech's rivals from a possible 14 to about 6 or 7.

Clockers and rival trainers have watched Bimelech work out in the gulf several times, and they gathered the impression that he loved it.

The only horse whose chances of winning the mile and a quarter classic would be materially improved by heavy going is believed to be Mrs. Marie Evan's Shot Put, last year's distance champion. His unlimited endurance might make him a real threat.

A record Widener day crowd is expected to jam Hialeah.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (P)—Coaches Tom Lieb and Charlie Bachman of Florida and Michigan State, are commiserating at Gainesville—each stands to lose five guys in the draft who will make or break their football teams. . . . Coast pals of Lou Novick and Charlie Bachman of $4,000 for 1941 despite his $19,000 purchase tag. . . . And Bill Lee, principal factor in the Cubs' 1938 pennant drive, says his salary has been slashed $7,500 in two seasons.

So Trainer Leo Haskell was forced to take off seven horses and find new riders for each and every one. . . . Sounds unbelievable, but every one of those seven nags won.

The Answer Man
Prof. Claude Wolff of this office is hard to stump. . . . He knows all the answers. . . . He's been reading about the poor big leaguers who fear that if they join the army for a year, they'll have a tough time getting back into baseball. . . . Prof. Wolff admits he almost sprained his brain coming up with an answer to that one, but by God, he did it. . . . "Let the ball players keep on ball playing," he says—but at $21 per month, just what they'd get in the draft army. . . . They could give the difference between that and what they ordinarily would be paid, to a charity. . . . Not much of a price, sure, but they'd save their jobs. . . . Professor, you have something there.

Today's Guest Star
Lou Smith, Cincinnati Enquirer: "The field where the Reds are training is in poor shape and they're talking about putting a bunch of Florida convicts to work on it. . . . But they'd better not do that. . . . If Judge Landis hears about a chain gang on the diamond, he'll declare them all free agents."

Sports Cocktail
Already the National league's film, "Winning Baseball," has been shown in every state in the republic. . . . Frank Winchell, of the famous Tampa Terrace hotel at Tampa and the favorite host of baseball writers, becomes manager of the Jacksonville Tourist and Convention Bureau, March 1 and it's hokey for Jacksonville. . . . Willie Hoppe, the billiard king, doesn't like his front mandie and much prefers to be called Bill, only nobody will do it. . . . Umpire Brick Owens, who is writing his life story for The Chicago Times, so far has failed to mention that he was the first arbiter to wear silk pants. . . . Another Chicago paper—The Herald-American—is running Frank Leahy's life story.

He Are Not True
Mike Gonzales, the Cardinal coach, who was supposed to have wired back, "Good field, no hit" when sent to look over a prospect, told a group of sports writers the other night, "There is not a word of truth in him."

Training Camp Briefs

By The Associated Press

SARASOTA, Fla.—Ted Williams' holdout against the Boston Red Sox was due to emerge from its cloak of mystery today, the date set for the second squad to report to Manager Joe Cronin. Nothing has been heard from him since club officials talked to him several weeks ago in Minneapolis and offered him a contract calling for a 50 per cent raise to $18,000. Cronin said he had a hunch he would show up today with the paper signed.

ANAHEIM, Calif.—Chubby Dean, Chalmer Harris and Porter Vaughn were selected by Connie Mack to do the pitching for the Philadelphia Athletics in their first exhibition game Sunday against Seattle of the Pacific Coast league. Except for Bob Johnson, subbing at first for Dick Siebert, two complete teams will be used by the A's.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—When it comes to clowning the St. Louis Cardinals may have another Pepper Martin in Ira Hutchinson, their 200-pound righthanded pitcher. He's the noisiest player on the squad and one of the hardest workers.

SAN ANTONIO—Infielders and outfielders reporting at the camp of the St. Louis Browns today found Catcher Joe Grace the only casualty among battersmen already in training. He has a throat infection and probably will be out of action several days.

SAN ANTONIO—Out here where a "tenderfoot" has a special meaning, Pitcher Nick Strincevich of the Boston Bees still takes the word literally. His toolboxes are blistered and he's working out in sandals. The battersmen have another day of private labor before the entire squad starts training.

Howard Hoping For Heavy Track Saturday For His Mioland

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28 (P)—Sportsman Charles S. Howard gazed anxiously at the skies and then over the list of eligibles for the $100,000 Anita handicap tomorrow and said: "I hope the Howard luck holds out."

Howard, who has captured this world's richest horse race two years in succession, goes after it for the third time with the heavily backed Mioland, and while the four-year-old bay youngster has drawn the plaudits of the experts, his owner was none too sure of his chances.

The tall, pleasant-faced San Francisco auto magnate had reason to examine the sky. Showers forecast for today, clearing off tomorrow, and a muddy or slow track would favor his Mioland.

Last year Howard wanted a dry, fast surface for his venerable Sca-biscuit, and he got it.

Last minute touches were made at the huge plant today for tomorrow's expected turnout of 65,000 or more.

Expected starters, no matter what condition the track proves to be, include Mioland, Chaledon, Can't Wait, Sweeping, Viscount, Hysterical, Fairy Chant, Beautiful II, Bay View, Royal Crusader, Gen'l Manager and Welcome Pass.

(Isaiah 9:6, 7).

The adult choir will lead the music and render a special at the morning hour and will be replaced by the young people's choir at the evening service.

Wheeler Rails Against Bill Four Hours

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Montana's Burton K. Wheeler, implacable foe of the British aid bill since the day of its introduction, denounced it unsparringly today as legislation which would "strip us of our defenses, invite the chief executive to declare war, and create a dictatorship."

It was a hammer-and-tongs attack, with barbed flings at the president, at Wendell L. Wilkie, "international bankers," "court satellites," and "nameless ghost-writers" whom he aligned behind the bill.

Senator Wheeler, a Democrat, omitted any reference to President Roosevelt's assertion of last night that the administration "confidently" anticipated early enactment of the lease-lend program as an "all important factor" in hemisphere defense.

Mr. Roosevelt, in a radio broadcast to the motion picture awards dinner at Hollywood, declared that the "United States' defense" involves the defense of all the democracies of all the Americas—and therefore in fact it involves the future of democracy wherever it is imperiled by force or terror.

Wheeler, in the four-hour address he prepared for the senate floor, sharply disputed claims that the bill would help further the interests of national defense, and proclaimed anew that he would battle it to the last, regardless.

Compassion Day To Be Observed By Methodists

The local Methodist churches will join with other churches of this denomination throughout the United States in observing Sunday, March 2, as "Compassion Day," to raise one million dollars.

Five hundred thousand dollars of this will be used for overseas relief in Europe and China, two hundred and fifty thousand for British Methodism and the British people, and two hundred and fifty thousand dollars for Christian service among the youth in the army training camps of America.

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, presiding bishop over the Dallas Area of the Methodist church, consisting of the North Texas, Central Texas, Northwest Texas and New Mexico Conferences, is expecting his conferences to raise more than the forty thousand dollar quota which has been assigned to them.

None of the funds raised by Methodists is to give aid and comfort to aggressor nations. Methodism of England is confronted with tremendous damage by destruction to church property. British Methodists have appealed to American Methodists for assistance, and American Methodist leaders have felt that we must respond. These funds are to assist British Methodists to maintain their church life.

Methodism must not fail to minister to the young men who go into training in army camps of America. Sinister influences are not slow to take advantage of the tens of thousands of young men who are in these camps. We must make it possible for churches near our training camps to minister to young men in the service.

Registration Of Life Insurance Firms Proposed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Compulsory federal registration of life insurance companies doing interstate business was proposed today by the monopoly committee today by Sumner T. Pike, the securities commission's representative on the committee.

He also recommended that such companies be required to submit to federal examination. Pike asserted that these, together with other recommendations offered by himself and Gerhard A. Gesell, who conducted a study of life insurance for the monopoly committee, would provide "some slight supervision over certain primary interstate aspects" of life insurance. "The business already is subject to regulation by the states," Pike declared, "but the federal government should not supplant the states, nor should it interfere with their regulatory processes."

Pike declared, however, that "if some steps are not taken now to plug the gaps, where state regulation cannot do an effective job or where standards may become unduly relaxed, the weakness in the existing state regulatory system may lead to its eventual decay and public clamor will then arise for an all-inclusive federal regulatory system."

SERIAL STORY

DRAFTED FOR LOVE

BY RUTH AYERS

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, April tried to avoid questioning Ann about Kent, but realized that her sister is having some suspicions. About someone has operated, but will not know for some time whether Kent will see again. As April sits at home, her numerous boy friends gradually desert her. Only Hal Parks is faithful. When someone at last to see her, April is grateful for the haven of his arms.

KENT REGAINS HIS SIGHT

CHAPTER XVII

HAL proposed that night. After he'd told April the news in the town and answered her questions in regard to work at the plant, he eyed her quizzically.

"You've been through a war yourself, April," he said.

"Hm—not far wrong, Hal."

"I've missed you. Been leading a hermit's life."

"You shouldn't have done that, Hal."

"Ah, but I wanted to. You've spoiled me for other girls. I'm going to brood and sulk until you can do the town with me again. I'm terribly fond of you, April. Maybe you've guessed."

She wanted to stop him, to tell him he mustn't tie himself up to her when she wasn't in love with him. Perhaps she would be some day. Perhaps, when all memory of Kent was gone and she was sure he had his eyes back and was happy with Ann, she could think of Hal. Not yet.

Hal picked up her left hand, appraised the ring finger. "A diamond would be beautiful there," he said. Then the bantering mood fell from him and he was all ardent, all lover. "April, darling, I mean it. I love you. Say you'll marry me."

She drew her hand away. "I'd like to say yes—," she began, then stopped abruptly.

"You mean, April, you're not in love with me?"

She nodded her head miserably and blinked back tears. "I like you an awful lot, Hal, but it's not—it's not love."

"Is there someone else?" Hal spoke quietly.

Someone else? Someone with a crisp, russet wave in his hair, whose eyes had been shadowed by dark glasses? Someone who was shy and serious and yet with great courage? But Kent Carter wasn't hers. He belonged to Ann.

"No, there isn't anyone else," she choked. "It's just that I can't be sure yet."

Hal stood up, outwardly suave again but with that endearing way of understanding her. "I'd rather wait for you and lose you than have any other girl," he said.

SO they left it like that. When Hal had gone, April thought, "Perhaps I could learn to love him. I'll try. I really will. But not until I know for sure that Kent Carter is out of the darkness."

Any day now, Kent's letter would be coming to tell the results of the operation.

"I'll know the day just by seeing Ann's face," April told herself.

Nip took up the vigil by her bed. Ann came and went on visits to her room. If she'd been hurt, she had apparently tried to forget it. And each day, she seemed to bloom more.

"You look positively radiant," April complimented her.

"Thanks," Ann smiled in her quiet way. "Coming from you, April, that means a lot."

"Nonsense," April said. "You've always had good looks all your own, but you've never done enough about it. Take me and my vanity table. Ever see so many boxes and bottles, lipsticks and lotions? I've worked hard at the glamor stuff and you've done better just by being yourself."

April was knitting and gave a jab to the needles. This was a pair of mittens for the Red Cross and she'd missed a stitch or maybe added one, so the smooth effect was spoiled.

"It seems funny," Ann said, taking the needles in her capable hands, "to see you fussing over anything like this."

"It's my better nature coming to the front," April grinned. Then, because she could do it with a certain nonchalance when her eyes were down, busy with the stitches, she said, "By the way, Ann, when's the good word coming from Kent?"

She might have imagined it, but it seemed as if Ann's mouth tightened and her eyes weren't unlike the needles, bright, jabbing.

"I'll know soon," Ann said. And it was that very afternoon.

APRIL didn't have to see her sister's face to learn the news. There was a surer way of knowing it than that, a giveaway that was infallible.

Ann, in the downstairs hall, burst into song. It was the first time she had sung since her arrival home from New York.

April sat motionless in her chair by the window, her head bowed, her lips moving as if in prayer. "Thank God," she kept murmuring. "Thank you, dear God."

Afterwards, the Burnett house that had been filled with a nameless unrest under its quietness soared into an aria of its own.

"The operation was a success," Ann told April. "Kent's coming home in a few days for an indefinite leave. He insists he'll go back to camp—but I think he'll be home for good."

"You mean—his eyes are all right again. He can see?"

"Yes, the bandages are off. He's fine. He wrote this letter himself."

"I'm so glad for him—and for you, Ann," April said, but Ann scarcely heard her.

Mother began to work more furiously that very afternoon on the frilly white things she was making. "I have an idea there'll be a bride in the house soon," she said with a knowing nod.

IT was this that brought April to her senses. She would have to look at him and he would look back at her, this time with his eyes.

"I'll carry it through somehow," April thought, but deep in her she knew she couldn't.

She began marching up and down her room, testing the injured ankle, measuring her strength.

On the day of Kent's return, she even tried the stairs and wandered disconsolately in the downstairs rooms. Dad grinned at her, over his work of helping Mother hang some new pictures. Mother smiled and said, "You're doing fine to make the trip down here all by yourself. Here, Dad, move the frame a little to the right. We want everything just right for Kent's homecoming."

Nip nosed at April's heels. He'd been a great comfort, attaching himself to her ever since the day he had gone on the ill-fated drive with Kent.

That had been her day and this was Ann's.

As Ann made ready to meet the train which would bring Kent home, Mother poked her head into April's room. "You'll be ready to say hello to Kent?" she called out.

April had on her terry robe, the white one that hugged her thin figure and made her look like some waif of herself.

"No, I'm sort of tired," she said. "I think I'll be excused tonight."

Then she shut the door quietly, on her heart and on her happiness. (To Be Continued)

Abilene Ready For Arrival Of Division

ABILENE, Feb. 28. (P)—Abilene tomorrow will welcome in festive attire more than 10,000 of the 45th division's officers and men who move into Camp Barkeley after a 223-mile trek from Fort Sill, Okla., the training center.

The soldiers will travel in 1,104 vehicles over two routes. Window placards, street banners, label buttons and windshield stickers in the national colors, and clusters of flags around street lights at downtown intersections will be this city's visible welcome to the huge contingent.

There are 18,500 officers and men at Fort Sill.

The movement will be the largest of the division's four-part exodus to West Texas and its new training base. Except for advance detachments of service companies which have been quartered at Camp Barkeley since Sunday, the movement will include all four regiments, less one officer and 40 men each from each service company, and company C, 179th infantry, which will stay at Fort Sill as clean-up troops until the final movement March 7.

The third movement is scheduled March 3.

The east column will leave Oklahoma over the Burk Burnett bridge of the Red river and travel via Wichita Falls, Olney, Throckmorton and Albany. This column will consist of 558 vehicles, including 148 new type weapons carriers, the four-wheel baby truck recently received in the army's plan to motorize foot units, and 208 two and one-half ton convoy trucks.

Brig. Gen. W. E. Gunther, chief officer of the 89th infantry brigade, will be in command of the east column. Maj. Gen. W. S. Key, division commander, accompanied by Maj. Henry Boots, director of recruit training, will go ahead of both columns and await their arrival at Camp Barkeley.

The west column will enter Texas over the Davidson bridge and follow a route through Vernon, Maybelle, Seymour, Munday, Haskell, Stamford and Anson. It will contain 489 vehicles, including 227 two and one-half ton convoy trucks and will be commanded by Brig. Gen. Louis Ledbetter. All of the 179th and 180th infantry regiments except company C, 179th and a detachment from each service company will be included in the column.

Both columns will be preceded by 57 two and one-half ton trucks carrying kitchen equipment.

All trucks are to travel at 100-yard intervals and at 30-mile per hour speed outside of towns and 15 miles per hour within towns. There will be hourly rest periods and a noon halt of one hour.

The troops will escape no mud by changing canteenments. Wet weather both here and at Fort Sill has prevailed for 10 days and Camp Barkeley company streets are quagmires. However, concrete and asphalt paving has been finished two weeks.

Texas Capitol To Burn If Not Fireproofed, Says Senator Hill

By WILLIAM E. KEYS, Associated Press Staff
AUSTIN, Feb. 28.—Amid conjurations of bodies crushed in a stampede for exits, people leaping from windows, and flames feeding on priceless documents, the senate intimated a move to do something about fireproofing the aging Texas capitol.

On its way to the house today was a joint resolution, instructing a committee of six senators and representatives to investigate what, if anything, can be done.

It won hearty senate approval after members painted dire pictures of what might happen if something isn't done.

"They came in answer to a false call—the second in recent days—from a supersensitive automatic alarm system."

Senator Joe Hill of Henderson thought the legislature should go whole hog and renovate the capitol from basement to dome.

"As sure as we are sitting here some day this building will be gutted by fire," he warned.

"Right where the senator from Waco is sitting a big pane of glass from the ceiling crashed to the floor," he said.

The senator from Waco (Kyle Vick) was observed to leave his desk as the discussion progressed into falling plaster, foundation weaknesses and holes in the roof.

Hill recalled that fire officials had testified a big blaze couldn't be fought in the building, which they described as a natural fire.

Installation of fire doors in the basement, substitution of metal for wooden shelving and installation of the fire alarm system have helped some but not enough, Hill contended.

He asserted a good hot fire would even melt the stone exterior of the 56-year-old structure.

Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe offered an amendment suggesting the committee study the feasibility of constructing an additional state office building.

"You can't keep this one from falling in or burning up by building another one," Hill shouted.

Moffett withdrew the amendment. Backing up the grim thoughts tossed about the floor was Senator A. M. Alkin's reminder that two Texas capitols have burned.

There were 576,327 new trucks registered in the United States during 1940 as compared to 486,748 units registered during 1939.

The city of Freiburg, near the Black Forest, has at different times belonged to Austria, France, Italy, Sweden, and now Germany.

It has been estimated that the world produced a total of 149,330,000 net tons of steel during 1939.

New Scoutmaster Named At Mobeetie

Special To The NEWS.
MOBETTIE, Feb. 28.—Rev. Ted Ewing recently accepted the responsibility as scoutmaster of the Mobeetie Boy Scout troop 44, since the resignation of John Gilliam. Last Monday night was the second time that he had met with the boys and the group has responded with great enthusiasm under his leadership. The last meeting being one of the best since the troop was organized about two months ago, even during unfavorable weather conditions.

The troop was first organized with 12 charter members and has now grown to three patrols. Patrol leaders are Drummond B. and Mac Thomas and Wilbur Moore. Since its organization there has been only one member to drop the scout work and that was due to his moving away.

John N. Plaster is assistant scoutmaster. Members of the troop committee are L. D. McCauley, chairman, M. D. Blankinship, O. W. Elliott, H. L. Flanagan, and T. R. Hardin.

Plans are being made to try to organize a junior troop for the grade school boys between the ages of 12 and 14. If these are completed the senior scouts will direct their activities.

Killer Dog Turned Over To Trainer

DENVER, Feb. 28 (AP)—Saved by a chop whisker from having his hide nailed to a wall, Burly, captured dog leader of a pack of sheep-killing coyotes, will take a course in how to roll barrels, jump hoops, do "mathematical problems," and demonstrate traffic safety.

Burly fouled a forbes in a barbed wire fence Wednesday and was captured by Lee Carney and Patrolman Franck Ulrich of Fort Collins. He previously evaded two large posse of Ired northern Colorado sheep growers, who wanted to see him destroyed for guiding the coyotes in raids on their flocks.

Burly's captors turned him over last night at Fort Collins to C. E. Faubel, Wheatridge, Colo., animal educator who thinks "he's an intelligent animal—his actions show that."

Faubel removed the wire muzzle that Burly had worn since he lashed out at Carney and Ulrich with his fangs when they removed him from the fence wire, put an ordinary dog collar on him, boosted him into the back seat of a car and drove home.

"I never knew he was in the car, except when we passed other dogs," Faubel said. "Then there was plenty of noise."

Faubel plans to have Burly work with his two St. Bernards in "kindness to animals" programs he conducts before Denver school children. Burly will have two weeks of quiet in which to settle his nerves.

150 Bills Introduced Yesterday

(By The Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Feb. 28. (AP)—Scads of proposals—from abolition of the poll tax to creation of a state liquor monopoly—poured into committees of the legislature today while that body itself was in recess.

Most of the lawmakers worked on matters of state at their desks, some toured West Texas, a number attended an oil convention at Wichita Falls and a few went home for the week-end.

More than 150 bills were dumped into legislative hoppers yesterday, the final date for filing without a four-fifth permissive vote.

Besides the proposed constitutional amendment abolishing poll taxes and substituting registration, others would extend terms of state and county officials to four years instead of two, permit the governor to dismiss his own appointees without trial, authorize counties to levy a tax for assistance to the destitute and legalize a $2,000,000 loan from the permanent school fund to erect a state office building.

Establishment of a state wage and hour law, fixing a 30-cents-an-hour minimum for six years and 40 cents thereafter with corresponding 42 and 40-hour maximum weeks was proposed in one bill while another suggested levying a 50 cents tax on liquor sales by prescription.

The state liquor monopoly proposal, authorized by Rep. Roger Q. Mills of Wichita Falls would place liquor sales under stringent state control, provide state liquor stores, fix prices and regulate brewers. It contained a provision intended to eliminate drunkenness.

Among tax bills was one proposing a 25-cents-a-ton levy on coal and another increasing levies on liquor, wine and beer.

Other proposals would abolish "loss-leaders" used by merchants, limit train lengths to 78 cars, incorporate aid to the needy blind and aid to dependent children into the public welfare act and provide for motor vehicle inspections in the interests of safety.

While the legislators themselves will work on Texas Independence day Monday, the senate recommended to state department heads to permit employes to celebrate with a holiday.
