

Basketball Tonight And Games Tourney Friday To Raise Money For Gym

A basketball game tonight and a games tournament Friday night will raise money for Pampa's new recreation center. The drive proper has not started but events are being staged regularly to raise money for a starter.

Tonight at 8 o'clock in the high school gymnasium the Pampa Jaycees will battle the Shamrock Faculty in what is hoped to be a rip-roaring basketball tussle. The Shamrock team, composed of faculty members and a couple of former Irish stars, nosed out the Pampans in Shamrock last week. Tonight the Jaycees, composed of former Harvester basketball greats, will be out for revenge on the home court.

Admission to tonight's big game will be 15 cents for students and 25 cents for adults. Members of the junior chamber of commerce, sponsors of the recreation center plan, and players on the basketball team are selling tickets.

Basketball fans of Pampa and the Pampa area are invited to attend the game. They'll not only be seeing two teams of college caliber but they'll be helping a needy cause.

President Jimmy Dodge of the Jaycees said today. Members of the Pampa team are Elmer Irving, Junior Strickland, Albert Ayer, Claude Heiskell, Orville Heiskell, Neva Johnson and Tom Dean.

Playing for Shamrock will be John Walker, former WTSC Buffalo star mentioned for All America honors, Forest Kline, Scott McCall, Moss, Puett and other former college and high school stars.

On Friday night in the Schneider hotel the Pampa Business and Professional Women's club will sponsor a games tournament, including contract and auction bridge, forty-two and dominoes. Admission will be 50 cents per person and all proceeds will go to the recreation center fund.

Joe Key, chairman of the drive committee, is working out plans for the big drive to start soon. He plans to call a meeting of committee members this week to set the show-off date for the drive. It is planned to erect a huge building on city property on West Brown street. If the Jaycees can raise $6,000 the National Youth Administration will provide the balance and the labor for the $12,000 building.

BRITAIN SEVERS RELATIONS WITH RUMANIA

Britain Does Not Need Men, Says Wilkie

NEW YORK, Feb. 10. (AP)—Wendell L. Wilkie is back from England still unchanged in his conviction that peace for America lies in aiding the embattled British empire.

"If we do give aid to Britain, we are likely to stay out of war," he said yesterday, "while if we do not give aid to Britain, we shall probably become involved in war."

The 1940 Republican presidential candidate stepped off the Dixie Clipper 18 days after leaving here for a "see-for-myself" tour of England and Eire.

He plans to present his full conclusions to the senate foreign relations committee tomorrow as it nears the end of its hearings on the house-passed lend-lease bill calling for aid to Britain.

An advocate of the measure, with certain amendments, even before his trip, Wilkie declared that what he saw and learned abroad had "modified" his views on how to assist England, and that he would disclose them in Washington.

He said, however, that on his survey he had "heard no talk at all in Britain of either expecting, anticipating, or suggesting that the United States become an active ally as far as war is concerned—neither from the man in the street, nor from cabinet officials."

What the British desire from us, he asserted, "is not men, but materials and equipment."

In a statement issued after an interview at La Guardia airport marine terminal, where the clipper landed after a trail-blazing flight from Lisbon via Africa, Trinidad and Puerto Rico, he summed up his opinion on the British-aid question thus:

"I have been much interested since my return in reading press dispatches concerning discussions about aid to Britain. Apparently the issue is being drawn by some on the basis of war, or no war. In other words, the opponents of aid to Britain are saying that if the United States gives aid to Britain, we may become involved in war, while if we do not give aid to Britain, we can remain at peace.

"That is a wholly unrealistic statement of the issue. As a matter of fact, in my judgment, if we do give aid to Britain, we are likely to stay out of war, while if we do not give aid to Britain, we shall probably become involved in war."

He would not elaborate on this point, other than to observe that a British collapse would make the danger of American involvement in war very great.

"The British people," he reported, "are united as I did not believe it was possible for a whole people to be united in a common purpose to survive."

"The free people of the United States should be prayerfully thankful that they do not have to live as the free people of Britain are compelled to live, with sleepless nights of apprehension and days of fear as to what may happen on the morrow."

Navy Shells Genoa, 75 Reported Dead

ROME, Feb. 10. (AP)—At least 72 persons were killed and 228 injured in the British naval bombardment of Genoa, northwestern Italian port, at dawn yesterday. The Italian high command reported today.

The shelling caused "enormous damage" to dwellings, it said. The high command's communique reported that Italian warplanes overtook the British ships yesterday afternoon and hit a cruiser at the stern with a bomb.

C-C Will Discuss 1941 Program At Meeting Tuesday

Pampa Chamber of Commerce members will discuss plans for an active 1941 program tomorrow noon in the basement of the First Methodist church. Frank Culbertson, new president, will be in charge. Also present at the meeting will be members of the junior chamber of commerce and citizens.

The Jaycees will present part of the program—speakers on Americanism from White Deer and Pampa high schools. The five-minute talks will be broadcast over radio station KPDM, co-sponsors of the contest, between 12:45 and 12:55 p. m. Names of the speakers have not been revealed.

Each person attending tomorrow's luncheon meeting will be given a slip on which to write his or her idea regarding activities the chamber of commerce should undertake during 1941.

An added act, action will be music by the Pampa high school trio.

Federal Approval Of CAA Training School Expected

Federal approval of a Civil Aeronautics Administration training school for Pampa is expected this week, President Jimmy Dodge of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce revealed today. He has received word that the application has been received in Washington and that favorable action is anticipated.

Up to the present time 85 persons living in the Pampa area have signed to take the ground instruction course which will be sponsored by the Pampa school system. Cost of the ground course will be $2.45 for text books and the charge to be made by the school for instruction space, lights, janitor service, etc., which cannot be more than $10 per student but which is expected to be much less.

One out of every five persons between the ages of 19 and 26 taking the course will be selected for a flight scholarship. Others taking the course will be able to take the flight course at a nominal charge.

Application blanks for the ground course may be secured from President Dodge at the Pampa bus terminal.

Court Orders Ford To Reinstate Workers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—The Supreme Court refused today to interfere with a labor board order directing the Ford Motor company to reinstate a group of employees with back pay and to cease alleged interference with collective bargaining right of the workmen.

Denial of a review left in effect a decision of the Federal Circuit court at Cincinnati which sustained the board's action as applied to 23 employees.

Unless the Ford company should be successful in other litigation it will be compelled to comply with the circuit court ruling.

As is customary, only one word was used in announcing that the petition was "denied."

Justice Murphy, former attorney general, did not participate in the action.

It had been generally expected that the outcome of the controversy might have an effect on future defense contracts awarded by the government.

Litigation resulted from a labor board ruling that the company was responsible for "assaults" on a group of persons attempting to distribute United Automobile Workers (CIO) leaflets at the River Rouge plant in 1937.

Reinstatement of 24 employees subsequently dismissed was ordered by the labor board. The circuit court limited the order to 23 workmen.

O'Daniel Asks 26 Millions For Pensions

AUSTIN, Feb. 10. (AP)—Both branches of the Texas legislature saw rapid-fire action today.

The house quickly voted, 94 to 41, for an immediate committee report on a bill to double the motor truck load limit. A few minutes later, it authorized creation of a general state government investigating committee similar to that which the senate has had for several years.

Governor O'Daniel sent in a special message suggesting a social security appropriation of $26,820,000 if the legislature continues deficit financing. Shortly thereafter, three senators introduced the suggested bill.

The house plunged into a heated argument over extending Texas' market demand oil proration law. In order that it might work on session rules, the senate postponed until tomorrow its questioning of State Auditor Tom King regarding overlapping state boards.

The senate voted to renew the life of its pension investigating committee for another 30 days if needed. Sen. Joe Hill of Henderson expressed confidence, however, that the inquiry would be completed next week.

The house vote requiring the highways and motor traffic committee to act on the 14,000-pound truck load bill probably will give that proposal a chance to be passed. The bill permits gross truck and load weight of 56,000 pounds.

Many advocates of the latter bill assert that the 14,000-pound measure would not provide the needed relief. The 14,000-pound bill, they say, is inconsistent with a court injunction restraining the peaceful picketing by an Illinois labor organization of a business in which there was "no immediate employer-employee dispute."

Justice Frankfurter delivered the 6 to 2 opinion which applied specifically to picketing of the Ross W. Swing beauty parlor in Chicago by a local of the Hairdressers and Cosmetologists union (AFL).

In a 5 to 3 opinion delivered a little earlier by Justice Frankfurter, the court held in another case that picketing could be enjoined because the controversy had involved violence.

Justice Frankfurter asserted in the opinion on the beauty parlor case that the "ban of free communication is inconsistent with the guarantee of freedom of speech."

He said that the issue presented by the controversy was:

"Is the constitutional guarantee of freedom of discussion infringed by the common law policy of a state forbidding resort to peaceful persuasion through picketing merely because there is no immediate employer-employee dispute?"

"That a state has ample power to regulate the local problems thrown up by modern industry and to preserve the peace is axiomatic," Frankfurter added.

'We Need Tools Not Men,' Says Churchill

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 10.—If the United States will "send us the tools," Great Britain can "finish the job" of defeating Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini without the aid of an American expeditionary force, Prime Minister Winston Churchill declared in a Sunday night radio address.

"We do not need the gallant armies which are forming throughout the American union," he said. "We do not need them this year, nor next year, nor any year that I can foresee."

"But we do need most urgently an immense and continuous supply of war materials, and we need them here, and we need to bring them here. We shall need a great mass of shipping in 1942, far more than we can build ourselves, if we are to maintain and augment our war effort in the west and in the east."

He warned that Hitler would "do his utmost to prey upon our shipping and reduce the volume of American supplies."

With this, Churchill coupled another warning that the long-predicted German invasion might be near at hand.

"We must all be prepared to meet gas attacks, parachute attacks, glider attacks, with constancy, forethought and practised skill," he asserted.

Speaking in tones of grim confidence, Churchill declared "We may be sure the war is soon going to be won."

City Fines 11 For Driving Cars With Defective Lights

Fines totaling $76 were assessed in city police court yesterday morning and this morning by City Recorder C. E. McGrew. Among the fines assessed were 11 on charges of operating cars with improper lights.

The drive against defective lights was conducted last night by state patrolmen assisted by city officers. Fines were $1 each. The officers said they planned to continue the drive because it has been learned that defective lights have been responsible for several accidents.

Recorder McGrew fined a speeder $10 and another $5 in court this morning and also fined a man $10 on an intoxication charge.

City officers turned three LeFors youths over to county officers in connection with the theft of 24 cases of soft drinks from a truck on South Cuyler street late Friday night.

Crude Oil Output Up 87,500,000 Barrels

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. (AP)—Crude oil production in 1940 totaled 1,351,847,000 barrels—a new record. Last year's output was 87,500,000 barrels more than the 1939 total.

In December, production remained stationary, with a daily average of 3,565,200 barrels, compared with 3,563,500 in November.

Announcing these figures in its monthly report today, the Bureau of Mines said crude production in December totaled 110,520,000 barrels, compared to 106,904,000 in November.

The report said the yield of gasoline continued to decline with an average for December of 43.1 per cent, compared with 43.4 in November. Domestic demand for motor fuel in December was 46,413,000 barrels, up 6 per cent over December, 1939. The annual total was 589,424,000 barrels, also a gain of 6 per cent.

Production of crude petroleum by states and principal fields in December: Arkansas, Rodessa 55,000, rest of state 2,066,000; Illinois 10,354,000; Kansas 5,932,000; Louisiana, Gulf Coast 6,862,000; Rodessa 503,000, rest of state 1,607,000; Mississippi 516,000; New Mexico 3,110,000; Oklahoma 3,022,000; Seminole 3,183,000, rest of state 6,761,000; Pennsylvania 1,444,000; Texas, Gulf coast 10,282,000; West Texas 6,513,000; East Texas 11,060,000; Panhandle 2,371,000; Rodessa 477,000, rest of state 9,328,000.

Rumanian Oil Field May Be Bombed Soon

RAF Would Also Bomb Bulgarian Military Targets

By ROBERT ST. JOHN

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Feb. 10. (AP)—Great Britain broke off diplomatic relations today with Rumania, into which Germany has poured hundreds of thousands of soldiers, and arranged to turn over her Rumanian interests to United States care.

The British minister, Sir Reginald Hoare, notified Rumanian Premier General Ion Antonescu that the long-strained relations between their countries were at an end in a brief note delivered on the stroke of noon (4 p. m. C. S. T.).

(This decision followed on the heels of British Prime Minister Churchill's broadcast declaration yesterday that "the Nazis, having absorbed Hungary and driven Rumania into a frightful internal convulsion, are already on the Black sea" and "perhaps" a southward movement of German troops into or through Bulgaria already has begun.)

There was speculation in neutral diplomatic quarters whether Britain soon might follow the break with a declaration of war, especially since Rumanian oil fields are now completely in German hands and would provide a legitimate target for Britain's bombing planes.

The British minister to Bulgaria recently notified the Bulgarian government, according to diplomatic sources in Sofia, that Bulgarian military targets would be bombed by the RAF if a way were opened through Bulgaria for German troops to get at Greece or Turkey.

The United States minister, Franklin Mott Gunther, and his staff immediately began taking over British documents in preparation for taking charge of British interests in this country.

A special steamer is waiting in the Rumanian Black sea port of Constanta to take Sir Reginald and his staff of almost 50 to Istanbul, Turkey.

Official Rumanian reaction to the break in relations was not immediately available, but a breach had been expected since large contingents of German troops began entering Rumania last fall.

The British minister spent almost an hour with Antonescu, arriving back at the British legation after 1 p. m. (5 a. m. C. S. T.) looking tired but smiling broadly.

The legation staff had nearly completed packing by then.

Newspapers carried columns of instructions to civilians on how to behave in air raids and how best to protect themselves.

Bucharest was blacked out last night and the blackout will be permanent hereafter. This decision was made, the newspaper Curentul said, because "there is danger of air attacks."

The reported British warning to Bulgaria is held to apply also to Rumania because of the presence here of German troops and

Twentieth Century Forum To Sponsor Newest American Opera In Repertoire

An American opera thoroughly native in spirit, with composer, librettist, and cast all-American in origin, education, training, and career is the newest opera in the Junior Programs repertoire. Titled "Jack and the Beanstalk" with libretto by the well-known novelist John Erskine, and music by Louis Gruenberg, it will be performed in Pampa High school auditorium at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, under the sponsorship of Twentieth Century Forum, Junior Programs, Inc. is the long selected and approved entertainment for young people throughout the country. The cast is largely made up of the original company who performed at the world premiere of the opera in New York City. Critically acclaimed at the time by the seasoned metropolitan music reviewers as "the best piece of operatic composing ever done by an American," the opera's repertoire marks the attainment of a goal of many years' standing by the non-commercial group. During the past five years, Junior Programs has been incalculatingly educating and young people an understanding and appreciation of opera, ballet, good music, and drama. Its first two operas, Humperdinck's "Haensel and Gretel," and Rimsky-Korsakov's "The Bumble Bee Prince," have been seen by audiences of more than a million. The former is the oldest children's opera classic in existence, having been performed for the first time in 1893 with Richard Strauss conducting. Mrs. Dorothy L. McFadden had "The Bumble Bee Prince" adapted into English only three years ago after a long search for a new opera suitable for children to add to the Junior Programs repertoire.

Women's Council Meets In Groups For Regular Study

Monthly group meetings of the Women's Council of First Christian church were held recently in the homes of members. At the meeting of group one in the home of Mrs. A. Thiemann, Mrs. I. S. Marlin conducted the business session, and Mrs. Jessie Sowler presided over the lesson. The devotional by Mrs. O. A. Wagner was followed by the topic, "You Must Know Lebanon," by Mrs. S. E. Elkins; and "Answer to Your Question on China Today" by Mrs. A. L. Burge. Eleven members were present. Lunches were served at the church to 15 members and five guests, Mrs. L. R. Taylor, L. K. Stout, Ernest Balch, of Wheeler, B. A. Norris, and Miss Margaret Brummett, of group two. Mrs. W. L. Parker presided over the business session and the lesson on "China's Missions" while Mrs. Hal Stult conducted the business. A handkerchief shower was given for Mrs. Kephart in observance of her birthday.

FOR A PATTERN OF 8881

Glance at the little diagram drawing, which shows your pattern cut out and ready to assemble, and you'll see at once how easy it is to make. Why, you can finish design No. 8881 in just a few hours—it's all long, straight seams, and the only detailing required is the making of long darts at the waistline and more darts on the shoulders! And what an excellent line those darts give you—slim-waisted, full and smooth, with just enough fullness over the bust and not a bit too much! Even the pockets are decorative as well as useful! And the delicate waist, the flaring hemline, make this dress supremely comfortable for active days at home. Make it of printed percale, flingham or calico; it's most attractive in crisp, starch cottons. Pattern No. 8881 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 4 1/2 yards of 35-inch material without nap. Even this simple pattern includes detailed sew chart.

And what an excellent line those darts give you—slim-waisted, full and smooth, with just enough fullness over the bust and not a bit too much! Even the pockets are decorative as well as useful! And the delicate waist, the flaring hemline, make this dress supremely comfortable for active days at home. Make it of printed percale, flingham or calico; it's most attractive in crisp, starch cottons. Pattern No. 8881 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 4 1/2 yards of 35-inch material without nap. Even this simple pattern includes detailed sew chart.

FOR A PATTERN OF 8881

Glance at the little diagram drawing, which shows your pattern cut out and ready to assemble, and you'll see at once how easy it is to make. Why, you can finish design No. 8881 in just a few hours—it's all long, straight seams, and the only detailing required is the making of long darts at the waistline and more darts on the shoulders! And what an excellent line those darts give you—slim-waisted, full and smooth, with just enough fullness over the bust and not a bit too much! Even the pockets are decorative as well as useful! Boy Scouts In Tune Of Crisis

The Boy Scouts of America, the world's largest youth organization, is 31 years old this week.

The anniversary finds Scout activities once more directed along emergency service lines which have won the most recognition for the movement in the past three decades.

All life is a series of emergencies with periods of preparations leading up to them.

The world is not so constituted as to assure "smooth sailing" for its peoples.

As a purely "play" organization, the Boy Scout movement could not have grown to its present tremendous proportions—there are now more than a million and a half members.

It has won the confidence of officials and civic leaders and parents throughout the nation because it uses the recreational medium to prepare boys to meet the tough problems of life.

The 47,000 Scout units have pledged themselves to follow a program of strengthening and invigorating democracy in the United States.

Troops have taken stock of themselves in order that they might organize emergency corps in local communities, prepared to act when danger of any kind threatens.

The Pampa Scout organization has a program along this line.

Floods, storms and fires have seen these khaki-clad youths in immediate action. New England and Florida, still recovering from the hurricanes and floods of 1938, remember the Boy Scout work with appreciation.

Older folks remember them in the World War, when more than $400,000,000 worth of Liberty Loan subscriptions were sold by Boy Scouts; and they cultivated war gardens and farms and distributed more than 30,000,000 pieces of literature.

Efforts of the Boy Scouts to prepare in advance for the new emergencies that seem certain to come will lighten those who fear for the future of America.

Behind The News

Pampa News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10—News you read about the United States Navy is now practically under a censorship, but it's nothing to be alarmed about.

Secretary Knox and the navy press officers are approaching the whole problem by asking the newspapers to co-operate in a voluntary censorship.

The whole trouble began several months ago, when a good deal of news value to "potential enemies" got into the papers.

WHAT'S THE MEANING OF LAW OF EQUAL FREEDOM?

What is freedom? Is there an eternal, everlasting principle or law of equal freedom?

Since we are hearing so much talk about freedom and we are drafting millions of our men and appropriating billions on the pretense of defending freedom, not only in our own land but in foreign lands as well, it is certainly most timely that we set down in as plain, concise and understandable language as possible, what freedom is—what it means, not to different people, but what the Divine Architect intended freedom to mean for all mankind.

Freedom cannot be universal, unless it is equal: so "equal" should first be considered.

"Equal" expresses equilibrium, balance, harmony, neutrality, lack of preference or desire. It specifically limits and circumscribes and defines. It is axiomatic. Something we know inherently and intuitively.

When Is Man Free
Each man is free when he is the owner of himself, and thus of his abilities, and thus of the product of his abilities.

Freedom is to be free, under one's own responsibility, to think and act, to choose, to speak, to write, to work and trade, to give away, to save or use one's own production, to play, to loaf, to teach, to learn—this is to be free.

Freedom does not mean, as Augustine and his followers claim—that man is not free unless he has his wants satisfied.

Freedom is like every other natural thing. If one does not use his freedom to support himself he loses it. He perishes. He thus loses his freedom.

This is true for both individuals and nations. Those individuals who do not use their inherent natural talents, or their accumulations, lose them, as they should under a just God.

Freedom, of course, does not give any individual the right to make a contract and then the right to refuse to carry out the contract.

The law of equal freedom is the foundation, the beginning, the starting point, the anchorage, the tap-root, of goodness, of virtue, of justice, of honesty, of humanitarianism, of kindness, of ethics, of morals, of true Christianity and true democracy.

If the law of equal freedom is not the beginning, the eternal and ever-lasting guide, and divine law of determining what is good, desirable and virtuous, then let those who proclaim otherwise set forth a better eternal law, rule, or course of action that is as fair and hold their peace.

Until such time as this is done, I will regard the law of equal freedom as final purpose of Divine Law.

NEXT WITNESSES AT THE CAPITOL?

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 10—After all the talk about defense committees and government co-ordination and assurances of mutual aid in picturing stories of preparedness, you'd never guess the troubles Hollywood is having with simple things such as training camps and tanks.

Time was when a location manager could grab a telephone and get a battleship or a squadron of bombers or a regiment of infantry for a movie. But not any more.

So it looks as if the studios will have to build their own cantonments, hire their own soldiers, uniforms and arm them.

First Paramount put in calls to outfits such as Baldwin Locomotive, American Car and Foundry, and Chrysler, asking if the studio please could rent, borrow, or even buy a tank—a good, fast juggernaut capable of knocking down a few trees and prop buildings.

When the studio insisted it really needed a tank, the reply was, "Brother, you aren't the only one! Every tank we make is stamped and sealed for somebody's army."

So finally Paramount followed Metro's example, except that it was able to buy the chassis of an experimental machine built in Indiana.

With no plans except some pictures torn from current magazines, studio workmen began to make the superstructure out of everything from old automobile frames to hunks of boiler plate.

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Britain's severance of diplomatic relations with Germany would appear to be due to the fact that this Balkan state is now virtually a German dependency and military base.

Not only is it vital for the British that they do all possible to hamper the concentration of Nazi troops there, but the Rumanian oil wells are of such importance to Germany for prosecution of the war that the Anglo-Allies likely intend to try to put the Balkan state under their control.

Britain's daring bombardment of Genoa was of great strategic value but as I read the story this historic event was much more than that—it was John Bull's battle cry of confidence.

This operation, which took the western Mediterranean fleet right into the defenses of the Gulf of Genoa and up against one of the world's great naval bases, was tantamount to that, as British Premier Churchill reminded all in his broadcast yesterday.

It is right that the Italian people should be made to feel the sorry plight into which they have been dragged by Dictator Mussolini.

And if the cannonade of Genoa, rolling along the coast, reverberating in the mountains, has reached the ears of our French comrades in their grief and misery, it may cheer them with the feeling that friends, active friends, are near and that Britannia rules the waves.

Churchill pointed out that perhaps a Nazi German expedition might soon have sailed (from Genoa) to attack General Weygand in Algeria or Tunis.

Another important theater the British wanted badly to reach with the sound of the bombardment at Genoa was the Balkans.

Speaking of the German operations in Rumania (as this is written, the word comes that Britain is breaking diplomatic relations with Rumania).

He added that "his forward tentacles have already penetrated Bulgaria."

"With, we must suppose, the acquiescence of the Bulgarian government, airfields are being occupied by German ground personnel numbering thousands, so as to enable the German planes to come into action from Bulgaria."

Speaking of "the acquiescence of the Bulgarian government," the premier put his finger shrewdly on a tender spot. It is widely believed that at least part of the Bulgarian government is bitterly opposed to allowing the Germans to use their country as a base.

Moreover, great numbers of the people are ready to fight to keep the Nazis out.

Texas Dairy Farmers Failing To Improve Stock, Expert Says

(By The Associated Press)

Although Texas has more Jersey cows than any other state in the nation "or any country in the world," says M. E. McMurray, manager of the Texas Dairy Products association, "we are breeding ourselves out of the dairy business."

McMurray says one-half of Texas' dairy cows are being bred to beef bulls.

"Many dairy farmers have lost sight of the future," he says, "absolutely disregarding it for temporary gains from white-faced calves."

"This trend must be stopped now if we are to continue to grow and improve our milk stock."

Texas will NOT become a better dairy state—it ranks 42nd in production per cow, although it is fourth in the number of cows kept for milk—"as long as we have 125,000 farms without a single cow and thousands more with only two or three neglected cows," McMurray says.

"We need more farms who will milk from 10 to 20 cows. We need thousands of bulls with high production lineage. We need a new crop of dairy heifers, better milch cows. We need more farms which through good bulls will grow into the dairy business, if only as a side line of a diversified program."

Texas is fifth in the manufacture of cheese, eighth in the total income from the sale of milk and is forging ahead fast in the production of butter, evaporated and powdered milk and ice cream.

Since 1927, McMurray asserts, the amount of milk which went into manufactured products has increased 122 per cent and still Texas has to import dairy products to supply the need of over nearly 7,000,000 people, even though our per capita consumption is far below the national average.

As an example, the state's 40 cheese factories produce close to 20,000,000 (millions) pounds per year and yet Texas consumes 40,000,000 (millions) pounds of cheese.

"Also we are importing hundreds of carloads of condensed milk and butter," McMurray says.

McMurray feels Texas is overlooking a good bet in NOT taking advantage of what he expects will be a tremendous increase in population within the next decade and a period of expansion in the industrial uses of milk by-products.

"We will see many new things made from skimmed milk, whey, casein and other by-products of milk," he believes. A new type of fiber recently has been developed by one of our great dairy laboratories.

"Another discovery is a method of making saterne wine out of whey, a by-product of cheese factories. A quart of saterne wine is made out of a quart of whey."

"Let your imagination run wild and then try to estimate the amount of wine valued at a dollar a quart that could be made by the cheese factories of this country. Today millions of gallons of whey are being poured into the sewer and millions more sent back to the farms for hog feed."

Such a firm believer in chemistry is McMurray that he wears a milk mask from casein. "It is a good tie," he says; "it won't wrinkle, therefore never needs pressing and costs only 65 cents. Thousands of other articles are being made from milk."

Fewer dairy heifers are being raised yearly, McMurray notes, and asks "where are our cows of tomorrow?"

He winds up his argument by asserting "we should be able to grow cattle and produce cheaper milk than any other state."

"Dairy men from other states have been buying our best cows by the thousands. Considering all these facts, I wonder if our farmers know the real value of a good milk cow."

"How much is she worth if she pays for all the pasture, feed and forage she eats, gives him a calf and nets a profit of, say, from $25 to $75 a year?"

"What should he ask for her when a buyer shows up, or should he consider selling at all?"

Hearings On Tax Bills To Begin Tuesday

AUSTIN, Feb. 10.—While a senate committee kept plugging away today on the old age pension investigation, house members got ready for big hearings starting Tuesday on highly controversial tax bills.

Adam R. Johnson, white-haired former state pension director, told the senate group that the public welfare board asked for his resignation last September. He also quoted board member Frank Roberts of Breckenridge as saying he (Roberts) believed in the "spoils system" and that "there shouldn't be a soul in this program (old age pension administration) who didn't vote for Governor O'Daniel."

Johnson testified he was informed by board members he had done "a splendid job," but that they were supporters of the governor and thought it best he should resign.

Under a senate resolution, this was the last day of the investigating committee's life. However, Sen. Joe Hill of Henderson, asserting the inquiry was not yet completed, said he would seek recreation of the group.

Johnson said the worst ailment of the old age assistance program was that the legislature had liberalized the law but had not provided any additional money.

The tax bills to be argued in hearings from next Tuesday through Feb. 28 would supply considerably more funds for pensions and other governmental functions. Governor O'Daniel contends that new state taxes should aggregate $50,000,000 a year, but many legislators insist $20,000,000 would be sufficient.

On Tuesday, the house taxation committee will consider proposed higher levies on cigarettes and telephone companies; Wednesday, corporation franchises and sulphur; and Thursday, new automobiles and amusements.

Longview Fire Record Improved

AUSTIN, Feb. 10.—Announcing fire insurance credits for 35 Texas cities, Fire Insurance Commissioner Marvin Hall today reported Longview was the only city among them with an improved record.

Higher than that of last year, a 15 per cent credit was awarded Longview, a rating which officials said would save insurance holders $14,946 in premiums through the year beginning March 1.

Ten of the cities were given the maximum credit of 25 per cent, and the maximum charge of 15 per cent, and three, those of Corsicana, Tyler and Waco, remained unchanged from last year.

Cities which suffered a number of fires and received charges instead of credits were Big Spring with a 15 per cent charge, Denton with a five per cent charge, Palestine with a 10 per cent, Temple with 10 per cent, and Texarkana with 15 per cent.

Credits, either the same as last year or lower, were awarded the following cities: Abilene 20 per cent, Amarillo 20, Austin 20, Corpus Christi 25, Dallas 10, University Park 25, Highland Park 25, Houston 15, West University Place 25, Beaumont 20, Brownwood 20, Bryan five, Denton five, El Paso 20, Fort Worth 10, Galveston 25, Greenville five, Laredo 25, Longview 15, Lubbock 20, McKinney 10, San Antonio 25, Alamo Heights 25, Sherman five, Texas City 25, and Wichita Falls 10.

Small Boy Saved From Ice Cake

LOWELL, Mass., Feb. 10.—George King, only seven, was in bed tonight being fed hot drinks to fight off a threatened cold.

He admitted he was "a little bit scared" when he became trapped on an ice cake floating down the Merrimack river today. But George wouldn't concede too much.

"I was a good man, though, wasn't I?" was his greeting to policemen who rescued him. Later after he had floated more than a quarter of a mile down the river.

The real hero was George's older brother, Willie, 12, who jumped to safety just as the ice cake broke loose near the shore and moved toward mid-stream.

Before running for help, Willie shouted to George to "sit down and don't move." And when police finally reached him a half hour later, there was George—shivering and almost speechless—but still sitting down.

"It's lucky he kept seated," said Police Inspector Andrew Hunter, who directed the rescue. "If he moved even inches, the chances are the ice would have broken under him."

Food Clinics Proposed

AUSTIN, Feb. 10.—As an aid to the national defense program Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, today proposed emergency food clinics over the state.

Purpose of the clinics, Mrs. Walker said, would be to study family diets and offer instructions for use of cheap foods with high nutritive values.

Earl Averill Released

DETROIT, Feb. 10.—The Detroit Tigers today announced the outright release of veteran Earl Averill, 37-year old utility man, to make a place on the roster for Walter "Hoop" Evers, newly-signed 19-year old outfielder.

For some time Averill had known his playing days were near an end. "I'm only good for four or five more years," he declared in 1938.

London Repulses Mosquito Invasion

LONDON, Feb. 10.—A mosquito invasion has been repulsed by London's air-raid shelter dwellers.

People congregating underground, warm air and water attracted the pests in the early days of the Nazi air raids, and officials were flooded with complaints. The government then attacked the problem with a vengeance.

"Now we have driven most of them off," Alderman Key, chairman of the London shelters committee, said today. "Only a few big ones are left, and we'll get them soon."

"Despite the fact that it's winter upstairs, conditions below are almost ideal for mosquitoes."

Pampa Man's Cousin Belonged To First Boy Scout Troop Of Nation

A cousin of a Pampa man was a member of the first Boy Scout troop in the United States.

The Pampa man is Evert Revard, 517 Ash, and his cousin is Alex Thicker, who appears in a picture on the front page of the Pawhuska, Okla., Daily Journal-Capital of Thursday, February 6.

In the accompanying story, written in connection with the observance of Boy Scout week, the claim is made that the Pawhuska troop was the first in this country.

"Pawhuska Boy Scouts," reads the story, "will join other scouts of the nation in observing National Boy Scout week February 7 to 13, but for them it will be the celebration of a 32nd instead of a 31st anniversary, because Pawhuska is the home of the first Boy Scout troop in America."

On an April evening in 1909, the British anthem of 'God Save the King' floated out on the breeze from the old Episcopal church here.

"Inside the Pawhuska Boy Scouts were meeting. The troop, believed to be the first organized in America had been patterned closely after the English Boy Scouts and until the procedure could be thoroughly Americanized, the young Oklahomans in it sang praises to 'the king' and otherwise comported themselves as young Britons.

"The Boy Scouts were organized here in 1909 by the Rev. John Mitchell of the Episcopal church, shortly after he had been sent by his church to America.

"Mitchell had become acquainted with the Scout movement in England through his association with Sir Baden-Powell, founder of the Boy Scouts. The movement was less than a year old when Mitchell was sent to America."

"When Mitchell came to the New World, he brought the Scout idea with him and after reporting to his bishop in New York, he came directly to Pawhuska to take his first church in America.

"What Mitchell thought after he arrived in Pawhuska is not a matter of record. But he must have been amazed. Pawhuska then was a little town of 1,500 on an Indian reservation in a state just two years old. The streets were unpaved. The people were dressed roughly. Indians in native costumes and cowboys with spurs jangling were common sights."

Increases were reported in Harris, from 67 to 82; Tarrant, 24 to 29; Bexar, 25 to 34; Galveston, 13 to 15; Travis, 13 to 14; and El Paso, 20 to 25.

"This Dallas county record is further proof that traffic fatalities can be reduced enormously when a thorough and adequate plan of combating them is put into effect," said Col. Hubert Garrison, Jr., state police director.

"An intelligent, hard-driving enforcement and education program has been initiated by Sheriff R. A. (Smoot) Schmidt, officials of the smaller cities in the county, and by safety organizations, together with physical improvements contributed by engineers. It has been the pleasure of the Highway Patrol to co-operate in achieving this great record."

THE SMOKE OF SLOWER-BURNING CAMELS GIVES YOU EXTRA MILDNESS, EXTRA COOLNESS, EXTRA FLAVOR

FLASH FROM SUN VALLEY!

Breathtaking spins, spirals, jumps—there's a thrill in every click of her flashing blades. And afterwards—
"A Camel tastes so good—they have so much more flavor," says Miss Doman. But more flavor is only one of the "extras" you get in slower-burning Camels.

LIKE ANYONE WHO SMOKES A GOOD DEAL, THE EXTRA MILDNESS IN SLOWER-BURNING CAMELS IS IMPORTANT TO ME. AND THE FLAVOR IS SO GRAND!

IF YOU SKATE AT ALL, then you know that cutting a pretty figure is not as simple as pretty Evelyn Doman makes it appear. Behind her seemingly effortless grace are hours of hard practice.

She takes her skating seriously . . . her smoking, too. "I smoke a good deal," she explains. "The slower-burning cigarette—Camel—gives me the extra mildness I want."

Slower-burning . . . costlier tobaccos. Yes, slower-burning Camels give you a fuller measure of flavor without the harsh effects of excess heat . . . extra mildness, extra coolness, extra flavor—and less nicotine in the smoke.

BY BURNING 25% SLOWER than the average of the 4 other largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them—Camels also give you a smoking plus equal, on the average, to 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

SERIAL STORY

DRAFTED FOR LOVE

BY RUTH AYERS

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER I

PHIL BURNETT held the telegram gingerly. It was addressed to Ann and her sister, and Ann was 500 miles away.

Also away from home were Dad and Mother, not 500 miles, but almost as inaccessible as if they were.

"Looks like I have to do the honors," April said, throwing an appealing glance at Octavia, the brown and genial maid-of-all-work who loomed like a mountain in the doorway.

Slowly, with that mixture of bravado and heart-sinking with which all such envelopes are opened, April drew forth the message.

"Meet me 7:45 train tonight. Have three day leave. Love, Kent."

Kent was Kent Carter, Ann's sweetheart. April read the message again, this time aloud for the benefit of Octavia. It was Octavia who spoke first, "Miss Ann's going to be a heart-broken little thing, what with her sweetheart home from the army for three days and she way off there by herself in New York."

But with the scared feeling gone, April wasn't thinking about her sister being a "heart-broken little thing." April was thinking about April.

"What am I supposed to do?" she demanded and saw that it was already after 6 o'clock with winter darkness thick outside the window.

Kent Carter arriving in about an hour and a half! Kent was a young officer who had been at Fort Dodd, a training camp, for several months, one of the first of the many who had since gone from Pottsville as America rushed forward its defense plans.

"Yes," and now she was crumpling the paper, "he has a nerve to send a telegram like this at the last minute, expecting me to upset all my plans."

Octavia reminded her. "Seems like he done send it to your little sister and not to you. Prob'ly ain't no call for you to meet him."

Octavia knew, as everyone else did, that while April Burnett had dozens of men clamoring around her, keeping the telephone line busy and filling the house with flowers, the quiet, brown-eyed Ann had only this one shy suitor, Kent.

April considered, one hand fussing with the bow that fastened her quilted housecoat. "Yes, I'll have to go," she said crossly. "Ann would never forgive me and Mother and Dad would raise the roof. The idea, they would say, of not sparing a few minutes to meet this young man who is serving his country, when he comes home on leave!"

Octavia was still looking baleful when April ran upstairs to her room. This was going to jam her plans for the evening! She'd have to dress first in street clothes to meet the train and then dash home and dress all over again for the dance at Casa Blanca.

She frowned into the mirror, and then remembering Octavia's brooding, worried look, began to smile. Everyone, even Octavia, always was on guard for Ann and leery of her, April.

The Burnetts lived on Elm street, Pottsville. Dad was a lawyer and someday, when one of the older members on the bench retired, he'd no doubt be a judge in the county court. Mother was gray-haired and a grand, good scout. That's why she had gone off with Dad to their log cabin upstate for a winter week-end.

The rest of the family was made up of April and Ann, the sisters; Octavia—and never forget Nip, the wire-haired terrier.

As for April and Ann, well, as the neighbors used to chuckle, if you were blind you couldn't tell them apart.

"Ann—Ann, darling!" Kent had said, his hands reaching for her. Suddenly April realized that he had mistaken her for her sister, that he wasn't seeing her at all.

They had the same way of laughing and their voices when they talked were exactly alike. They were sisterly in size, also, both a trim and tiny five-foot-two and with that smallness of bone and feature which gave them the impression of being petite.

That was where their similarity ended. Ann was the plain one and April, the beauty.

Octavia walked directly to the picture frame on April's bureau from which Ann's small, uncertain-featured face looked out. "Poor little lamb," she said, and touched the picture with gentle fingers.

"Little?" April's voice had a bite. "Why are you always calling her 'little this' and 'little that'?" Anyone hearing you talk would think Ann was a 12-year-old midget.

"No, Miss April," Octavia said placatingly. "Ah knows she's 20 come her nex' birthday. But seems 'er's such a frail 'un, always d. ate-like from the day she was born."

"There's nothing very frail about a gal who can march herself off to New York and battle with singing teachers and agents and auditions to get herself a job," April said. "It's a funny thing, Kent Carter doesn't know Ann's not at home."

Octavia's eyes became like big brown and white marbles. She was scared. "They had a little fuss, Miss April. Don't you go sayin' nothing about it. Miss Ann told me strictly confidential. Ain't another soul knows."

"Oh!" said April. "Then why I am going to all this trouble? Let him wait at the station or take the next train back."

"You're going to march yourself to the train and explain to him how Miss Ann's away and never let on what Ah done told you about the fuss."

Grudgingly, April had to admit Octavia was right. Kent Carter, lean and dark and serious, meant a great deal to Ann. April, standing as she did as Ann's older sister—April was 21—and being the one who had had all the boy friends and the romance, realized as she slipped into the sleeves, even patted it a little because it reminded her so much of the "little lamb."

She slipped behind the wheel of the roadster in which she and Ann shared ownership and started for the station.

Not in any too much time, either. With a mile detour and all the honking and stalling on Capitol street, she just managed to strike the bridge as the first warning whistle of the 7:45 sounded.

The express was a long one, with pullmans in the rear. April ran her eye down the length of the train and then started running as she saw a vaguely familiar figure being helped off by a porter.

Yes, that was Kent Carter. She remembered his figure, rather tall, nice shoulders which were very erect in uniform. Her feet sped faster and then, suddenly, she had reached out for his hands.

"Welcome home, Kent," she cried. "It's wonderful to see you."

He put his bag down with a thud. "Ann—Ann, darling," he said. His hands reached out toward her.

April Burnett opened her lips to speak and then closed them. For the first time, in the wintry dimness of the train shed, she saw that Kent wore dark glasses and that while he was looking at her, he wasn't seeing her at all.

it was up to her to do the sisterly thing.

April would have the last word. "Maybe I won't be back at all."

She said it bawlingly as she ran down the stairs.

But Octavia could never let this stand. "Ober my poor old body you'll be back," she said. Then, plain-tailored camel's hair coat from the closet.

"Have you, Miss April! Wait a minute. That there skirt and bob-tail jacket ain't mighty stylish, but you've gone forgot it's cold outside. Ah's not going to let you go across town to that ole railroad station in no peacock feathers."

She tossed the coat over the stair bannister. April caught it on the run.

Hill And Crisler In College Play

Special To The News
CANYON, Feb. 10.—Mary Jean Hill and Joe Crisler of Pampa, freshman and junior respectively at West Texas State college, are members of the cast of the drama "The Night of January 16," which will be presented by West Texas students February 27, 28, and March 1 in the Randall county court house.

Miss Hill plays the part of Nancy Lee Faulkner and Crisler has the role of Judge Heath.

The play is quite unusual as the jury in the play is usually picked from the audience present at the time of the play. They are instructed to render a verdict of "guilty" or "not guilty" and the play ends according to the verdict given.

Harvesters Can Tie Borger For Big Five Lead Tuesday Night

Borger Beat Phillips 27 To 15 Friday

By beating the Borger Bulldogs again tomorrow night at the local gym, the Harvesters will prove their victory last week over Catfish Smith's boys was no fluke. They can also tie the Bulldogs for the lead in the Big Five race. More than that they can become favorites to shine in any possible meeting with Borger in the district tournament.

The Bulldogs came right back Friday night by beating the Phillips Blackhawkers more decisively than in the first game between these two teams, which Borger won by 2 points. Borger won the second game 27 to 15. That score indicates that the Bulldogs' morale did not suffer a whit after the Harvesters cleaned their plow last Tuesday night. The Harvesters will have to look a whole lot better than they did Saturday night when they lucked out over the St. Michael's Horsemen of Santa Fe, N. M., a team composed entirely of boys of Spanish and Mexican descent. Pampa won the game in the last five seconds 21-20. The Harvesters employed a zone defense to befuddle the Harvesters. The Pampa team will not play again, after tomorrow night, until Saturday night when the Sandies whom the locals beat Friday night, will invade the local gym for two games. Two games will be on the program here tomorrow night. The reserves will play at 7 o'clock and the Harvesters and Bulldog first strings at 8 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents for adults and 10 for students.

East Texas League Now Has Six Clubs

TYLER, Tex., Feb. 10 (AP)—The East Texas League lined up today as a six-club circuit with one of these entries to be picked from either Longview or Paris. The other clubs, already definitely in, were Marshall, Texarkana, Henderson, Tyler, and Sherman, a new club, Kilgore, member last year, will not enter a team. George and Julius Schepps, owners of the Dallas, Texas league club announced at a meeting of East Texas league club owners here yesterday that they were transferring farm activities from Longview to Tyler. Longview, which failed to place a requested $4,500 cash guarantee for continuance as a farm club, had until midweek to bid for a berth. Club owners instructed J. W. Morris, league president, to contact representatives of Longview and Paris to pick the sixth member.

Oil Strike Discouraged

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 10 (AP)—Sources in the petroleum workers union reported here today that any strike movement by the 8,000 workers in Tampico's vital oil fields would find "scant echo" among the remainder of the industry's 18,000 employees. These sources said that despite the prestige of the Tampico zone, the union was now committed to collaboration with the government in its efforts to liquidate the petroleum industry's current deficit, variously estimated between 60,000,000 and 150,000,000 pesos.

Baylor Dwarf Leads Scoring In Arkansas

By RICHARD WEST Associated Press Staff A fine squad of Baylor Bears went to Arkansas last week-end in plenty and were conquered—but they left a little remembrance which folks in the Ozarks are still talking about—diminutive Dwight Parks, sharp-shooting forward. Arkansas branded Baylor with 62-48 and 36-31 defeats Friday and Saturday nights, but standing out like a pearl in a pigsty was Parks, smiling little fellow with a clear eye and a fighting heart. Walking out on the floor Friday night for the tipoff against the tail Porks, Parks looked like a scrub oak among towering pines. He came off high point man with 20 points, more than Johnny Adams, Arkansas' conference leader.

A fluke, night said. Saturday night he tightened his belt and came out again. An hour later he walked off high point man again, with six field goals and one free throw, eight more points than the peerless Adams. He dribbled, he jumped, he faked, he zig-zagged, and with every basket cheered for the little spark that almost ignited his team to victory grew louder. The losses were the third and fourth for Baylor, but in defeat the Bears extended Arkansas and showed marked improvement as a result of Coach Ralph Wolf's lineup juggling. Tuesday night before their trek into the hills he had his best Southern Methodist team that whipped Rice and Texas, 55-45. Against Baylor, Arkansas, as usual, had enough tricks to win. In the first game theogs simply outscored the Bears; the second night their defense was tighter. Down at Austin, Texas swamped Texas Christian 58-39 Saturday night—the sixth loss in a row for the Frogs, the third in six games for Texas. At half-time the Steers led 39-18 and appeared headed for a new conference scoring record, but Coach Jack Gray eased up the last half. This week Rice, 1940 champions and one of the favorites this season, goes to Fayetteville for a crucial series Wednesday and Thursday with Arkansas. Texas A. & M. comes north to meet Christian and Southern Methodist and Texas will meet Baylor's rejuvenated Bears in Waco. Johnny Adams, Arkansas' forward, continued as the conference's leading scorer with 85 points in six games, an average of fourteen a game. Parks jumped into second place with 81, but has played in two more games than Adams and in three more games than Rice's Frankie Carwell, in third place.

Labor Board Bars Company Unions Of Implement Concern

(By The Associated Press) A labor board order to the International Harvester company yesterday (Saturday) to disband what the board said were "company dominated" unions at six plants brought new efforts to settle a strike of 6,500 company workers in a dispute over seniority rights and wage increases. The board's order, issued at Washington on charges filed by the farm equipment workers organizing committee (CFO), also told the company to "cease efforts to interfere" with organization activities of its employees. A. C. Chicago, Grant Oakes, chairman of the FEWOC, said "we shall immediately petition the company for recognition as the bargaining agent in all plants." The company's Chicago tractor manufacturing plant, which has a large government defense order, is idle because of the strike. The labor department's conciliation service, which has attempted to bring about an accord, sent a representative to Chicago yesterday with directions to renew peace efforts.

McLean Holding "Trade At Home" Essay Contest

McLEAN, Feb. 10—The McLean Business Men's club is offering prizes for the best theme wrote on "Why Trade At Home." Regardless of age anyone who trades in McLean is eligible to compete. First prize is $5, second prize $3, and four third prizes of $1 each. All high school students at McLean High school are requested to write themes and send or take them to the city secretary's office. There they will be judged. The contest will close Feb. 24, and all themes must be in before that day.

McLean And LeFors Begin Title Fight

McLEAN, Feb. 10—First basketball game to decide the Gray county high school champion will be played here tonight at 7:30 o'clock when the McLean Tigers entertain the LeFors Pirates. The return game will be played Wednesday night in LeFors. If one team wins both games, that team will represent Gray county in the district tournament in Pampa. If games are divided, a third game will have to be played. McLean and LeFors have not met so far this season. Both, however, have defeated common foes and tonight's game is expected to be a thriller. The McLean Tigers will rely largely on the sharpshooting of Paul Cook and Joe Bond, who have been leading scorers most of the season. Earhart has been the LeFors scoring threat, with Bowman a close second. The largest crowd of the season is expected to see the game, Coach Cricket Christian of the Tigers predicts. On Friday afternoon McLean and Memphis battled on the McLean court with Memphis winning 35 to 33. Cook, who led the McLean attack with 15 points, hit the basket with the tying points with the whistle blew but he was "traveling" when he took the shot and the points didn't count.

Howard Taylor To Be Manager Of Clovis Club

CLOVIS, N. M., Feb. 10—Skipper Howard Taylor, re-contracted manager of the Clovis club in the Class D West Texas-New Mexico league, was authorized by mail by Secretary-Treasurer Jack Johnson Friday night to report here February 15 to take charge of pre-spring training activities. In a special meeting Friday afternoon, members of the new board of directors of the Clovis Baseball association, ruling body over the Pioneer League, only New Mexico entry in the W-T-N-M league—authorized Johnson to have Taylor report as soon as possible. 40 Start Early Members of the board pointed out details of signing players, assisting in getting Bell park in shape for the coming season and other business matters would be turned over to Taylor so that an early start might be obtained in the league this year. Discussion also centered around sending out contracts to players still on the reserve list of the local club. It was decided that if Taylor could report on the 15th, contracts would be mailed out then. If not, they will wait until within a few days with the help of W. L. "Scotty" Price, last year's business manager whose position was eliminated because of financial reasons. The members of the board and members of the finance committee this week continue to conduct their financial drive for sufficient funds to pay Price's salary and clear other indebtedness of the club before the season opens.

Panhandle To Play At White Deer

WHITE DEER, Feb. 10—The White Deer Bucks will go after their second victory in the Carson county high school basketball title race Tuesday night when they entertain the Panhandle Panthers, traditional foes. The Bucks upset the apple cart on Friday night when they managed to eke out a 19 to 18 victory over the favored Groen Tigers. Groen has already taken two games from Panhandle and was riding high. But regardless of the record to date, the Panhandle-White Deer game is expected to be one of the best of the season. The two teams always rise to new peaks against each other. Date of the two return games has not been set.

Peduech Coach Dies

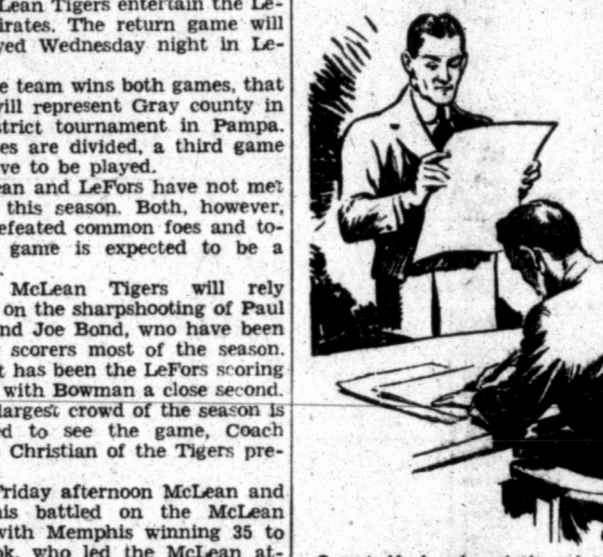

PADUCAH, Feb. 9 (AP)—Funeral services were held here Sunday for Ab Pruitt, 25, Paducah high school football coach and former Texas Conference football and golf star, who died here last night from complications following an appendix operation. Burial will be at Dallas, Monday. Among the survivors are the widow and one son, Ab, Jr.

Soldier Boys Should Be Admitted To All Sports Events, Says Texan

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 10 (AP)—Soldierboys, the induttees and regulars in the $30-a-month "bracket," need a break on the nation's sporting events and Fred Corcoran, the man of a million ideas, thinks golf should take the lead. Sitting around while they sweat out the clubhouse after some $3000 Little was infallible after the opening round played in cold weather. His 62 in the snow and slush Saturday was one of golf's greatest competitive rounds. It tied the P. G. A. 18-hole record. Just as last year a national open champion won the Texas event, Byron Nelson pulled down first money last year. Hogan had an errant putter to blame for his failure to catch the fleeing Little. Through the final 36 holes he three-putted seven greens to eventually wind up at 276. But Little just about broke Hogan's spirit on the final round with a brilliant 67 which included a three-putt green, two missed putts of five feet and a penalty shot. Sam Snead, Hot Springs, Va., finished third with 279; Clayton Heafner, Linville, N. C., fourth with 281 and Jimmy Demaret of Houston and Byron Nelson tied for fifth with 282's. Demaret slipping in a last minute 66 that included a missed putt for 12 inches and a couple of bogles. The field left here for New Orleans and the start of the $5,000 tournament there Thursday.

Mac Mitchell Race Leaves Boston Cold

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—Les Mac Mitchell didn't get any ovation from Boston track fans when he won the quarter mile at the Boston A. indoor meet Saturday, but he's due to receive it this week when he comes home for two appearances. Mac Mitchell has been chasing fame around the board tracks several seasons, and he appears finally to have caught up. Before he beat Walter Mehl, Chuck Fenske and John Munski in the excellent time of 4:10.7 at Boston, he had conquered the same field in the Getton Hall meet at Jersey City. This week, as a winner instead of just a "cooler," he is listed to run in the first Metropolitan Indoor Inter-Collegiate at the Bronx Coliseum Wednesday and to make his first start in the famed Baxter mile of the New York A. C. games at Madison Square Garden Saturday. Although he won by the huge margin of eight yards over Mehl, and although his time was just a second slower than the Boston record, Mac Mitchell couldn't stir the Boston crowd. The fans had been looking for a new mark, with a speedy early pace, and they were a trifle breathless in cheering the record-breaking feats of Hurdler Fred Wolcott and Pole Vaulteur Earle Meadows. Les figures to win the Met college mile easily and perhaps lead his N. Y. U. team to victory over Manhattan.
