Harvesters Win Regional Basketball Tournament For First Time CARS AND PLANES TAKE NAZIS INTO BULGARIA

Pampa Beats Lubbock In Finals 34-22

Turkey Turks To Play In Pampa Tuesday Night

The Pampa Harvesters last night carried the green and gold colors of Pampa high school to new heights when they won the Region One basketball tournament at Canyon, defeating the Lubbock Westerners 34 to 22.

For 12 years Harvesters teams have been trying to win the coveted regional title. So last night the Harvesters dedicated the game to their departing coach, Odus Mitchell, who last week accepted a contract as head coach at Marshall.

Teams which will battle in the state playoff at Austin this weekend will be San Marcos, 1940 champion; Abilene, Waco, Mount Vernon, Jeff Davis, Blooming and El Paso state runner-up for the last eight years. For further details of the regional championship games turn to page 7.

With tears glistening in their eyes as they took the floor, the Harvesters jumped into a commanding lead and were never headed. They played as one man, with one purpose, and Lubbock was never in the running. The Harvesters led 9 to 2 at the quarter, 17 to 10 at the half, and 26 to 12 at the third quarter.

Pat Flanigan, elongated center who has been in a dangerous scoring slump, snapped the jinx to lead the scoring parade with six field goals, four of them in quick order to put the Harvesters out in front. Grover Heiskell, flashy forward, was a close second with 11 points.

So potent was the Harvesters' defense that Lubbock had to be satisfied with a few center shots, some of which hit the hoop.

With two minutes to go and leading by 20 points, Coach Mitchell sent the second string into the game and every boy on the squad had a hand in winning the first regional title.

Nine times in past tournaments the Harvesters went to the finals but on every occasion they were denied the right to go to the state.

Hundreds of Pampa fans saw the Harvesters show their greatest play of the season last night and after the game plans were started to run special buses to Austin to the state tournament next Friday and Saturday.

If as many as 30 fans sign by Wednesday night, a bus will be taken to Austin. Round trip fare will be $1.00.

Hurrey Knows Student Leaders Around World

A man who knows student leaders around the world will be the second speaker in the Pampa Rotary club's institute of international understanding.

He is Charles D. Hurrey, of Montclair, N. J., who will speak here on "The New World and the Whole World," at 8 o'clock Wednesday night in the high school auditorium.

Last week Pampans heard the opening lecture on "What's Ahead for Business, Agriculture, Labor?" delivered by Ethan Colton, traveler, author, and lecturer, from Upper Montclair, N. J.

The speaker this week, Mr. Hurrey has had opportunity for travel and study far beyond that which is wanted to most men. He spent the winter of 1908 studying in Madrid, devoting attention chiefly to the Spanish language and history.

From the summer of 1908 to the summer of 1911 he made his headquarters in Buenos Aires, Argentina, representing the international committee of the Y. M. C. A. and charged with the responsibility of visiting the principal cities and exploring the possibility of organizing associations. During this time he made repeated visits to Brazil, Paraguay, Bolivia, Peru, Chile, and Uruguay.

Since 1915, he has served as general secretary of the committee on friendly relations among foreign students. In connection with this responsibility he has spent considerable time traveling abroad, having made eleven trips to Europe and separate trips to the Near East, Australia, and New Zealand, thus

Panhandle Allowable Hiked 5,500 Barrels

An amended order of the Texas Railroad commission will give the Panhandle oilfield about 5,500 barrels more oil daily during the month of March over February. The increase will relieve somewhat the need for more oil but it will not be nearly enough to meet demand.

Daily allowable for the Panhandle will be 86,386 barrels with a five-day shutdown. In January there were nine shutdown days; in February this was reduced to six. But February being a short month, left only 22 production days, just two less than in January. The new order gives 26 production days for March.

Various fields currently exempted from non-producing days because of physical reasons were continued in the exemption class.

Statewide closings were ordered March 2, 8, 9, 15, 16, 22, 23, 29, 30, and 31.

Panhandle holidays were March 2, 9, 16, 23, and 31.

East Texas holidays were March 2, 8, 9, 15, 16, 22, 23, 30, and 31.

The order was signed by Commissioners Jerry Sadler and Olin Culbertson.

In a joint statement the officials said they had attempted to establish parity between like fields, taking into consideration types of crude and the demand for them, depths of wells, and spacing programs in the pools.

The shutdown order was effective March 1, but the general order was made effective March 10 since the schedule for individual wells cannot be completed before then, Sadler said.

The current 60-day order was not due to expire until March 31, and the amendment was based on evidence taken at a statewide hearing Feb. 24. The commissioners' statement said: "In establishing these allowables the commission took cognizance of the fact that the types of crudes produced are different even within the Railroad Commission districts and

British Aid Foes Attack Bullitt Talks

FDR Could Give Navy Away, Says Senator Wheeler

BY RICHARD L. TURNER
WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Foes of the lend-lease bill insisted in the senate today that despite restrictive provisions President Roosevelt could "give" any portion of the navy to the British, and, moreover could consolidate the American and British fleets.

With these statements, they opposed an attack on William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to France, for, they said, making propaganda speeches in this country, and for asserting in a recent address that the opponents of the bill were suffering from "political dementia praecox."

"Of course, Mr. Bullitt ought to know," said Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.). "I stressed the 'I' have never been under observation. I have never been in a hospital for the treatment of nervous diseases. Those who have, of course, ought to know about political and other kinds of dementia praecox."

Wheeler took the floor at the outset of the session to continue a long prepared speech he began yesterday. Several senators, Lucas (D-Tex.), Funnell (D-Dele.), and Smathers (D-N.J.), also had prepared speeches.

Administration leaders, concerned over the continued lengthy speech-making, talked among themselves, meanwhile of longer sessions next week in an effort to speed a final vote.

Less than half the senate seats were occupied, but the galleries were jammed.

Wheeler began by referring to an argument which arose yesterday, over the bill's provision that existing defense articles to a maximum value of $1,300,000,000 only could be transferred to Great Britain or other nations. He had contended that by placing arbitrary valuations on naval vessels Mr. Roosevelt could transfer as much of the fleet as he chose to England. Proponents of the bill, particularly Chairman George of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, had replied that "value" was "value" and definitely limited the extent of such transfers.

Returning to the argument, Wheeler said that "Corpus Juris" is a passage that said value, as determined by many considerations, it could be market value, use value, sentimental value, or any one of several such things.

It was unfair to the president, he said, to give him the power involved without laying down, simultaneously.

Germans Take Over Capital; U. S. Warned

British Arrange Final Break With Balkan Nation

(By The Associated Press)
Adolf Hitler pushed his military domain almost to the Mediterranean yesterday (Sat.) when German troops rolled unopposed into Bulgaria and that little country finally linked its destiny to the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo military alliance.

General Bulgarian mobilization also sent Bulgarian troops marching to the Turkish frontier.

Nazi military occupation immediately raised grave questions as to the future of Greece in her war with Italy, of Turkey's future under her allegiance with Britain, of the latter's attitude toward Bulgaria, and of Yugoslavia's ability to continue sitting on the fence as a strictly neutral nation.

Fearing retaliatory British bombs, little Bulgaria was blacked out completely last (Sat) night and early today after joining the Axis and allowing German troops to enter her country—the eleventh to be dominated by Germany in three years.

Bulgarian authorities also feared internal revolt against the Germans—as evidenced by the issuance of carbines to all policemen, the mobilization of the army on all frontiers, and the arrests of would-be agitators.

More anti-aircraft batteries were mounted atop Sofia buildings, and frontiers were closed.

British Minister George Rendel scheduled a meeting with King Boris for today (Sun.) possibly a prelude to a British break with Bulgaria. He already had warned Bulgaria against admitting German troops. British bombers based in Crete are on a few hours' flight from Sofia.

Nazi Foreign Minister Ribbentrop in welcoming Bulgaria into the Axis at ceremonies yesterday in Vienna said: "The Axis armies are drawn up, ready for action, to grab and strike England wherever she shows herself. . . . The states represented here today are on watch and ready to make their contribution to the final triumph of our common cause."

He also said he hoped the total weight of the Axis powers would force Britain "to her senses" and force her to seek peace.

In the west, the Luftwaffe kept up its raids on London, striking at the British capital three times after nightfall and raiding a south coast town.

By nightfall the Nazis had taken over the capital, Sofia, and the strategic Black Sea port, Burgas, making it possible for the British to make good their threat of bombing troops and communications once Bulgaria was occupied.

The departure of the British minister, George Rendel, from Sofia was expected hourly. The legation waited for word from London as Nazi troops on foot and in road cars moved past the legation.

Rendel obtained an early evening audience with King Boris and was expected by members of his staff

Bond Posted By Man Charged As Pistol Carrier

Bond of $1,000 was posted Saturday by T. W. Snyder, charged in a complaint filed in the court of E. F. Young, justice of the peace, yesterday with illegally carrying a pistol.

The complaint, signed by W. C. Dillman Pampa police officer, is dated March 1, and gives the date of the alleged offense as Friday, the preceding day.

Snyder is alleged to have drawn a gun on Bob McCoy while he was walking in the 100 block on N. Russell street early Friday afternoon. The gun failed to fire and the two men grappled, Officer Dillman reported.

Dillman and O. T. Lindsey were looking out of the police station window when the altercation occurred and disarmed the man, he reported.

McCoy said that he and Snyder had done business together for several years and that he was unable to understand the attack.

Four Killed As Train Hits Car In Sooner Town

CHELSEA, Okla., March 1 (AP)—The firefly, fast-traveling Frisco passenger train, struck an automobile at a downtown crossing today, killing four of its occupants outright and sending another to a hospital with critical injuries.

The dead were Theodore Smart, 32, Catala farmer; his 16-year-old bride of three days; Billie Johnson, 61; and Montgomery Johnson, 4. Smart's mother, Mrs. W. I. Smart, 70, was reported at the point of death in a Vinita hospital.

Highway Patrolman Jack Rollins said Smart's car, a rattle seat of 1929 vintage, was driven onto the tracks directly into the path of the firefly, which was traveling between 65 and 70 miles an hour.

The collision, witnessed by several persons, hurled the old car 50 feet through the air, leaving its parts strewn up and down the right-of-way for a hundred yards.

Rollins said witnesses told him Smart apparently failed to see or hear the approaching train, although there is a fairly good view at the crossing. He was driving slowly when the car rolled onto the tracks.

The Smarts, who were married Wednesday, had come to Chelsea from Catala, six miles north of here, to do their Saturday shopping, friends reported. The two boys, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Johnson of Catala, and grandchildren of Mrs. W. I. Smart, had come with them for the trip.

When spectator's reached the automobile wreckage, only the elder Mrs. Smart was alive. The bodies of the others were taken to a funeral home here.

British Bring Down Three German Planes

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, March 2 (Sunday)—German raiders struck intermittently at London and England's south coast last night and early today.

Three air raid alarms were sounded in London after midnight. The third came shortly after midnight but it lasted less than an hour.

British fighter planes swept over northern France yesterday afternoon, shot down four German planes—three fighters and a bomber—and returned without a loss, the government reported.

The fighter raid followed up overnight bomber attacks in which the German ports of Wilhelmshaven and Emden were pounded despite thick weather which kept Nazi raids on Britain to a minimum.

The three Nazi fighters were downed in an "offensive sweep" across the channel, the ministry of information reported. The bomber, it was said, was shot down into the channel later by RAF fighters.

The submarine and naval base at Wilhelmshaven was described as the "principal objective" of the overnight air assault in which British bombs were dropped also on several airdromes in northwest Germany and Holland, the invasion port of Boulogne on the Nazi-held French coast, areas of the Dutch coast, and Quiberon and the nearby Nazi submarine base in the French port of Lorient.

Last Petit Jury Will Convene

Last petit jury week of the January term of 31st district court will open here tomorrow. A week from Monday, beginning of the tenth and final week of the term, the grand jury is to reconvene.

Judgments filed in district court this week-end included an order overruling a motion for a new trial in the case of State of Texas vs. R. T. Waldrip.

The defendant was assessed a two-year prison term in a verdict returned by the jury in the case.

District Judge W. R. Ewing allowed the customary 90 days for the defense to file its statement of facts with the court of criminal appeals at Austin. The 90-day period begins with the adjournment of the current district court term. Bond was set at $2,500.

Other court business includes one adoption case and two dismissals of divorce cases on plaintiffs motions.

Japanese Warships Off Indo-China Shore

SAIGON, French Indo-China, March 1 (AP)—Three Japanese warships steamed close to shore today off Cap St. Jacques, 40 miles south of this south Indo-China city and added to the nervousness of officials tormented by conflicting rumors of Japanese intentions.

Arrival of the warships was resented by observers as partial confirmation at least of reports that 51 ships of the Japanese navy were on patrol in nearby waters.

Freighters plans to remove Japanese nationals continued with two ships expected Sunday and Monday.

Paralysis Chapter To Be Formed Here

Gray county will join the other counties of the United States in affiliation with the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, when a local chapter is set up at a meeting to be held at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the city commission room at the city hall.

Purpose of the chapter will be to administer the $501,433 raised here during 1939 and 1940 for the cure of infantile paralysis cases in Gray county.

The chapter will be a county-wide and not a Pampa organization solely.

Postmaster C. H. Walker is chairman for the Gray county chapter.

Spanish Class Enrolment Rises A Third At Tech

By BILL CLARK
Special To The NEWS
LUBBOCK, March 1—At Texas Technological college, where el espanol has always been mucho mucho, beginner's Spanish classes have reflected a 30 per cent increase over last year, according to Dr. C. B. Qualla, head of the department of foreign languages.

Dr. Qualla, author of Spanish textbooks and sponsor of a biennial field trip to Mexico City, said the quota of students for next summer's field trip has been practically filled without any preliminary advertising. A total of 217 students is taking Spanish this semester at the college.

Students are becoming aware of the great possibilities of Spanish, Dr. Qualla said. A bright field is opening up in South America for radio operators, engineers, journalists and businessmen. Texas Technological college has sent several engineering graduates with training in Spanish to good jobs in Latin American republics.

In the United States, too, Spanish will have increasing importance. Public schools and colleges are asking for more and more teachers of Spanish—teachers with a thorough knowledge of the language. Civil service positions as translators are being advertised frequently.

Los muchachos in the public schools are finding the language may be bueno, too. Approximately 400 elementary school pupils—from the third grade up—are taking basic Spanish lessons in the elementary grades in Lubbock.

The Lubbock schools are following the lead of such systems as El Paso, San Antonio, Brownsville, Mission and Dallas. Corpus Christi leads the field, having made Spanish compulsory in the elementary grades.

New consciousness of Latin America has a definite commercial value. Music stores report tremendous increases in the sale of records with a South American flavor—canciones, boleros and tangos.

Women's study clubs have almost universally taken up good neighbor themes for study this year.

And Mexican food? Si, senior. It still makes a good neighbor—on a cold, cold night.

Legislators To Tour Big Bend Park Area

ALPINE, March 1 (AP)—Thirty-two Texas legislators, including members of the appropriations committee of the house, and other legislative representatives, will leave here tomorrow for a tour of the Big Bend park area.

The group arrived here from El Paso where they inspected the Texas College of Mines and Metallurgy and the lower El Paso Valley Experimental Farm.

Today the group inspected Sul Ross State Teachers college here.

Phillips Orders US Engineers From Dam

DURANT, Okla., March 1 (AP)—Gov. Leon C. Phillips ordered U. S. army engineers at the Red River damsite today to stay off state land in the area until arrangements are made to compensate the state for "the losses we will suffer."

The red-haired chief executive went to the engineers' office, one-fourth of a mile from the damsite, delivered his ultimatum, then turned back without ever looking at the $56,000,000 project on the Texas-Oklahoma border.

Phillips met Major R. C. Brown, who is in charge of land acquisition for the project, and Capt. J. H. Anderson, in charge of relocating highways and railroads. He advised them that under the law state land may not be sold without his consent, and added:

"I notify you now as governor of Oklahoma to stay off it until a program of actually repaying us for the losses we will suffer has been worked out."

Secretary Perkins To Confer With IHC Officials, Strikers

(By The Associated Press)
Strikers and the International Harvester company management agreed yesterday (Saturday) to meet with Secretary Perkins in Washington Monday in an endeavor to settle a dispute holding up several million dollars worth of defense contracts.

Four plants of the company are involved in strikes, called by the CIO Farm Equipment Workers Organizing committee. The labor department estimated that 13,000 men are idle. Workers walked out of the huge McCormick plant at Chicago on Friday. There are strikes also at another Chicago plant, and at Richmond, Ind., and Rook Falls, Ill. The union demands include recognition as collective bargaining agent for the employees and wage adjustments.

Another strike of direct interest to the government was settled during the day. CIO union employees of the Troy, N. Y., plant of Clegg, Peabody and company, holding a $228,000 contract for army shirts, approved a new contract and voted to go back to work Monday. The new contract provides for wage increases for the strikers at company plants in Atlanta, Ga., and Leominster, Mass., were met; later to consider acceptance of the contract for their locals.

The government, meanwhile, pressed its efforts at both Washington and Milwaukee to bring an end to the strike at the Allis-Chalmers company plant, where work on $45,000,000 worth of defense contracts has been held up for six weeks. That strike was predicated on demands for union security, wage increases, and certain seniority adjustments.

Lamblike March Comes To Pampa

In reverse for Pampans yesterday worked the old saw about March "in like a lion, out like a lamb," at least as far as the "in" is concerned.

For Saturday was a bright, sunny day, enough to delight the soul of the most frisky lamb that ever lived.

With the advent of a new month, Pampans were reminded that today is Texas Independence day, anniversary of the founding of the Republic of Texas.

On the sacred soil where illustrious forefathers gathered 105 years ago to declare a new and independent Texas republic, a band of Texans will gather today to celebrate.

Stored, historic old-Washington-on-the-Brazos with its replica of the wind-torn blacksmith shop where frontiersmen declared Texas independence on March 2, 1836, is the site.

Thoughts of Pampans of Celtic descent naturally turned to March 17, St. Patrick's day, when the big annual Irish whoop-in is to be held at Shamrock.

The eternally fashion-conscious feminine element no doubt gave renewed interest to spring styles, and anticipation of Easter outfits.

Spring begins on March 21 and Easter comes on April 13.

Front Line Radio Reporter To Make Talk In Shamrock

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
SHAMROCK, March 1—William L. White, war correspondent, who has recently witnessed Britain's struggle for life on land and sea, will give an address here on Tuesday night, March 11, under the auspices of the Shamrock Boosters club.

A brilliant speaker, Mr. White will, nevertheless, elect to leave a generous portion of time for the audience to guide the program. They will be given ample opportunity to question him on conditions in war-torn Europe and of his personal experiences on his two trips to the war-racked Europe—his first to Germany and Finland and his most recent one to a harassed England. He will give facts that everyone is interested to hear about but which American audiences have not had the opportunity to know since censorship has blanketed a major portion of the earth's surface.

The famous son of a famous father (William Allen White) he first embarked for Europe in the fall of 1939 to write for the New York Post syndicate. He was in the comparative security of Berlin when the Columbia Broadcasting system asked him to cover the then raging war on the Finnish front.

He proceeded to Stockholm, boarded a passenger plane which had a narrow escape from a fleet of Russian bombers over Abo, and finally made his way to Helsinki. From there, he moved his microphone right up to the battle lines. One of the outstanding broadcasts in the history of radio was made by White when he described Christmas in the front line trenches. Robert Sherwood happened to hear this literary and journalistic gem and was so moved that he immediately wrote the play "There Shall Be No Night."

White returned to the United States for a series of lectures but as the war continued, he obtained permission to journey to England on one of the 50 destroyers traded to Britain for naval bases.

In his talk here, White will tell about his experiences on these trips and will give a general resume of the situation in Europe as seen by an actual observer.

The talk will begin at 8 o'clock in the Clark auditorium. Tickets may be obtained by writing J. B. Clark, Shamrock.

Attorney General's Ruling Challenged

AUSTIN, March 1 (AP)—Challenging an attorney general's opinion that a rice promotion tax bill was unconstitutional, Representative Price Daniel of Liberty, author, said today a mass meeting of South Texas farmers supporting the measure would be called to map further action.

Daniel contended the advertising and research campaign planned with the revenues would serve a public purpose in "promoting the prosperity and welfare of the rice growers and producers."

He called attention to the fact Louisiana and Arkansas legislatures have already adopted the plan, with operation depending on its approval in Texas, and that similar bills to promote sales of fruits and potatoes had been upheld by supreme courts of Florida and Idaho.

Highway Groups Told "Shortage Of Funds"

AUSTIN, March 1 (AP)—With military roads holding first draw on the state's highway funds, delegations seeking road improvements got little encouragement from the state highway commission at the monthly hearing today.

Representatives from four counties appeared with requests, and each heard in reply "shortage of funds," but were assured all applications would receive full consideration.

Explaining all federal aid must be used for strategic highways in the military network, Chairman Bracy Gentry said many road improvements now badly needed would probably not even get started for 15 years.

Widening and paving of state highway 36 in Borden was asked by a Fort Bend county delegation. Representatives of Wichita and Clay counties requested designation and construction of a road from Wichita Falls to Charlie and Byers.

Chile's Army Will Supervise Election

SANTIAGO, Chile, March 1 (AP)—Chile's armed forces were ordered tonight for the first time in history to supervise a general congressional election tomorrow which may alter the course of Chilean policies for the next four years.

President Pedro Aguirre Cerda's leftist administration admitted tonight that it had lost the support of many of whom supported him two years ago in the now defunct popular front coalition, seek to retain a majority of seats in the senate and chamber of deputies. On the other hand, a so-called "leftist front" bloc including Aguirre's own radical party and members of the old popular front with the exception of the Socialists, is bidding for control of both houses of congress.

At stake is the entire membership of 147 seats in the chamber of deputies, and 20 of the 45 senate seats.

Use Of Cotton Suggested For Raid Shelters

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Cotton instead of reinforced concrete for air raid shelters was proposed today.

E. C. Wallace, New York engineer who conceived the idea, told members of congress that a 7-foot thickness of cotton would resist the penetration of a 6000-pound bomb falling from 30,000 feet, whereas a 2000-pound bomb falling 15,000 feet would penetrate six feet of reinforced concrete. The cotton can be fireproofed, it was said, so that incendiary bombs would have little effect.

Wallace's idea stirred enthusiastic interest among members of congress from the cotton producing states.

Representative Boykin (D-Ala.) explained it in a letter to members, and said he hoped to get a joint demonstration by the army and navy with the air corps dropping the bombs.

Boykin said the use of cotton for all-purpose shelters would absorb large quantities of surplus cotton.

Plans of the designers call for spans of 20 feet or more with clear ceiling and insulate sheet-steel sidewalls. The roof would be made of 7-foot-thick baled cotton tied in place by heavy steel wire netting.

"Woven wire mesh," said Wallace, "has been approved as a means of camouflage and this design has utilized this method as additional protection to the shelter. The design calls for two specially-woven mats having a tensile strength of 220,000 pounds to the square inch. These mats are to be separated approximately 6 feet apart, and supported on an angle above the cotton roof."

"The method of weaving the top mat and the angle at which it is placed should deflect any falling bombs, and if not exploded, should retard the fall and cause the bomb to hit the second screen on its side. The second mat should resist the fall of any bomb up to 1,000 pounds, and if it is a delayed action bomb, deflect this bomb away from the bomb shelter."

4-H Club Hears Talk On Raising Chicks

Raising of baby chicks was the subject discussed by the county home demonstration agent at a meeting of the County-Wide 4-H girls club, held yesterday.

For the next meeting, the club members are required to bring samples of cotton material for a coat suit, have jumper dresses ready for a picture, and shirt waist patterns. Knitting will be discussed by the sponsor.

Attending yesterday's meeting were: Vardene Broadus, Virgil Mae Myers, Mary Fern Lewis, Mae and Loucille Nelson, Rosemary Hamilton, Minnie Bell Williams, Mrs. H. H. Kealey, club sponsor, and Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, Gray county home demonstration agent.

GE Hires 16,000 Workers

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., March 1 (AP)—Defense contracts totalling $350,000,000 have given employment in General Electric company plants to 16,000 workers in the past six months, a company official said today.

Troops Transfer To Camp Barkley Without Mishap

ABILENE, March 1 (AP)—Transfer of 10,500 troops of the 45th division from Fort Sill, Okla., to Camp Barkley here without an injury or mishap demonstrates the "strategical mobility" of a modern motorized division, Major General W. S. Key said today.

The commanding general of the division made up of "Southwestern soldiers" said the chief significance of the swap in camps lay in its value as "splendid training, giving us an opportunity to show how more than half a division can pick up and move, bag and baggage, more than 200 miles without a hitch." "The convoy came through on schedule and without a scratch," he said. "It reflects credit on the men and on their supervising officers. When our entire allowance of motorized equipment is received, we will be able to move the entire division under our own power by the shuttle process. We moved yesterday with 8/11ths of our own motors."

"The men are in fine physical condition and they like to work. This training camp is well-suited to field work, and they will get plenty of it."

He asked that visitors postpone inspecting the camp for a week or so until construction is further along and until the troops can adjust themselves here. He pointed out that in addition to approximately 13,000 troops in camp, Sunday there will be 6,000 workmen on hand. A major portion of the trucks that brought the troops here returned to Fort Sill today. They will be used to transfer an additional 6,000 soldiers from the Oklahoma camp Friday, making complete the shift of the square division of 18,000 troops.

General Key, who was up before daylight to inspect kitchens and mess halls, said the division's officers and men were the "out-hotcake eatingest bunch of country boys I ever saw."

The troops from Oklahoma, Colorado, New Mexico, and Arizona will spend the week-end cleaning up the camp and otherwise getting settled. Training will start Monday morning.

Veterans Asked To Get Certificates Of Army Discharge

Many World War veterans have lost their certificates of discharge and many do not possess birth certificates. American Legion officials say that each day it is becoming more important that veterans possess these records.

Methods of securing these documents will be discussed at the regular meeting of Kerley-Crossman post 334 to be held at 8 o'clock Thursday night at the Legion hut. Veterans who have not already filled out national defense questionnaires can do so at this meeting.

The slang expression, "apple pie order," was used in writings by Scott as early as 1813.

The sermon will be by Bishop Mariano S. Garriga, DD, co-adjutor bishop of Corpus Christi.

The body will be sent to Notre Dame, Ind., for burial.

Devil And The Deep Blue Sea

Twenty years after crushing democratic Italy by his "march on Rome," Benito Mussolini has succeeded in landing Italy and the Italian people directly and literally between the devil and the deep blue sea.

All around Italy to the south is the deep blue sea of the Mediterranean, the soft and friendly sea that the Italians have liked to call Mare Nostrum, "our sea." It isn't their sea these days. Only by night dares Mussolini sneak a few ships across to carry supplies to the harassed legions now crowded into the far western corner of Italian north Africa.

And on the other side, the devil, just as in the old proverb. Down through the Brenner Pass, which Mussolini once swore mightily to defend, come pouring the legions of the north, the strutting Germans who with their "experts," "technicians," and secret police, are gradually seizing a control over Italy which will be hard indeed to break.

Thus, while the youth of Naples and Milan and Venice fight and die, or give up the struggle in the freeing mountain passes of Albania or in the burning wastes of Ethiopia, the homeland is gradually occupied by the ancient enemy, entering by invitation. Mussolini has made it sure that even if Germany wins, Italy can be nothing but an obsequious and servile province of the Greater Reich.

More and more Americans of Italian descent are realizing this gross betrayal every day. At one time, impressed by order in a disorderly Italy, by suppression of the Mafia, reclamation work, and a seemingly successful imperialism, they were inclined to listen to the fervent propaganda of the Fascist functionaries who came to the United States as consuls and in other positions of influence.

In London and Montreal, Free Italy movements are gaining strength. In New York the Mazzini Society, remembering the days of Italy's real glory, cheers to the echo the statement that "here in this country you cannot help but feel the rhythm of the coming days"—days of a new order based not on tinless tyranny, but on ancient liberties revived and made more glorious still.

Millions For Mercy

While the question of feeding the people of occupied territories in Europe is being discussed, it might be well to pause a moment to realize that the United States has not entirely turned its back on Europe's sufferings.

Almost $20,000,000 has been spent by the Red Cross in helping stricken people of Europe and Asia. About half of that has gone to Britain, but France, Finland, Greece, China, Spain, and Poland, Belgium, Canada, the Netherlands, Norway and Switzerland have all felt the touch of this helping hand.

There are many things happening in the world of which we cannot be proud. But of this aid, and further similar help that is to follow, we may feel both proud and united.

Behind The News

By PETER EDSON

The Pampa News' Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, March 1—A few new angles on U. S. relations with South America have bobbed up as the European and Oriental comets of crises move along their orbits with blazing tails.

Principally, there is puzzlement as to where the lease-lend bill will lead the South Americans. If hemisphere defense is to be the big thing, and a large part of the U. S. defense effort is intended to prevent the Nazis from taking over South America, then where, the South Americans wonder, will help come from them.

Argentina, for instance, not so very long ago decided to abandon German, French and British planes for its air force—because the United States would be able to make deliveries. But the Argentine republic has had an order on file with U. S. plane makers for months, and hasn't been able to get deliveries.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

SELF-PRESERVATION NOT FIRST LAW OF NATURE

No matter how often the fact is pointed out that self-preservation is not the first law of nature, people continue to make the assertion that it is.

Of course, it would depend upon what is meant by "self-preservation," whether or not it is the first law of nature; but if preserving life as one unit of a species is what is meant by preserving, then self-preservation is not the first law of nature.

Preservation of the species, rather than the individual, is the first law of nature.

This is evidenced by the fact that certain kinds of fish, when they spawn, and certain animals, when they beget, die. It is also evidenced by the fact that females run the risk of losing their lives when they bear children, yet this does not prevent them from bearing children.

On the other hand, if by self-preservation is meant preserving one's influence, one's spirit, one's personality, one's character, then self-preservation is the first law of nature.

It makes quite a lot of difference whether people come to realize that man, as he is constituted, follows the law of preserving the specie rather than preserving the individual.

When men are willing to die for a principle, as Jesus and Socrates did, we have a culture and an ethos that is of much greater benefit to mankind than if we come to believe that self-preservation without any regard to posterity, is the first law of nature.

A SHORTSIGHTED PROPOSAL

The proposal of the International Allied Printing Trades Association to limit the sale of advertising by radio for companies and to impose a special tax upon the profit of the broadcasting companies, shows the lack of vision of union leadership.

They are perfectly willing to demand discriminatory laws in order to keep themselves in jobs, no matter whether it stands in the way of progress of mankind or not. They claim that radio has caused a drop of 25,000 jobs in the printing business.

They fail to see that the arbitrary high wages of all union labor, way beyond what the same skill is able to get in other competitive jobs, is largely the cause of the lack of jobs in printing trades.

They do not seem to recognize that radio has created a lot of jobs.

If the publishers and the printers are not getting more profit or pay than they are entitled to under a free market, then if radio can serve the consumer better than the newspapers, there is no reason why the radio should be stopped in order to make jobs for the workmen in the printing trade and profits for newspaper publishers.

The allied printers trade had better pull the beams from their own eyes and help remove the causes that kill their jobs, rather than try to pass discriminatory laws against a service resulting from scientific improvement.

If discriminatory laws of this kind are passed it will lead on and on and eventually kill all free enterprise ending up in a totalitarian state.

If the Allied printers' reasoning is right, then the farmers, wagon makers and harness makers should have put a special tax on automobiles to prevent them from reducing the cost of transportation.

Any discriminatory tax or any law that interferes with the free and natural division of labor and free and natural development of new scientific methods is undemocratic, un-American and, in the long run, hurts all the people in the country.

Understand, the publishers of this newspaper are not against the movement from an unselfish standpoint. They are against the movement because they believe that any movement attempting to help one class at the expense of another class, in the long run, would do the consumers, and they, a great deal more harm than it would do them good.

LAMOUR WILLING TO DO HER BIT

What has perhaps been overlooked is the possibility that the southern sister republics might try a little more selling of their excess groceries to each other. Travelers who come back drooping about the tenderness and juiciness of Argentine steaks will tell you in the same breath that the best filet mignon in the other South American countries is obtainable by slicing off the sole of your own shoe. Recently, an air express shipment of steaks was sent over the Andes as a publicity stunt. It was from page news, and it did result in an effort to drive cattle herds from Argentina into Chile for slaughter.

Spreading Yankee culture is still much on the trial and error basis, with emphasis on the error. "Grapes of Wrath," which was to educate South America about American life, was a terrible flopper. The people just wouldn't believe it was a true picture of life in the U. S. A. Mistakes in staging, such as putting palm trees in the Andes or Argentine cowboys in Brazil, leave the cousins very disgusted, but with experts on every lot in Hollywood now, that may be overcome.

Best idea so far seems to be to send a string of stars on personal appearance tours. Dorothy Lamour is dying to go, at government cultural relations expense, and should fix everything up dandy.

BRITISH ASSETS MAY BE POOLED

How much good the government loans will do remains to be seen. Palms—hands, not trees—are supposed to be out all along the line. One big problem will be to keep the American loans from helping finance foreign competitors, particularly the British, whose trade in South America has always been out in front of U. S. commerce.

One plan, which you will hear more of, and which will give you an idea of how some people in Washington are thinking, is to take all the British assets in Latin America and have them pooled under some joint custodianship like the Havana Conference of 21 American republics, already organized to take over administration of British territory in the western hemisphere, should Britain falter.

Secretary Morgenthau has estimated these British assets in South America as currently worth $4,000,000,000, or more than double his department's estimate of British holdings in the United States. It's a nice jackpot, and the South Americans wouldn't mind having it themselves, so that they could nationalize their railroads, mines, and other assets, and so drive out foreign competition.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

Clyde Atteberry who used to own a laundry here and is now back in his old-home town of Clarendon was telling one time about a game that was won with a single batted ball.

"The first man who came up to the plate in the game between Giles and Clarendon in 1904 smacked the ball out into a mesquite flat," Atteberry said. "It rolled down a prairie dog hole. The umpire yelled 'play ball' but we couldn't play. It was the only baseball in the game."

"The dog is 'Muggsy,' owned by Mabel Davis. It is a red cocker spaniel and is a beauty. It has already learned to point for the bench. Another beautiful cocker spaniel is 'Sandy,' owned by the W. L. Davis family. The dog was given to Mr. Davis for a birthday present by his sister, Mabel. . . Still another red cocker spaniel beauty is owned by Bernice Chapman. One of the best pictures Fletcher ever made is a life-sized photograph of the Chapman dog. . . The Davis children, Johnnie and W. L. complain that Sandy gets more attention than they do.

For breakfast Mr. Davis feeds Sandy post toastes and milk, for lunch hamburger meat and dog food for supper and special tidbits and calcium and other kinds of pills between meals. . . Mrs. James Todd is also a dog lover but she loves her dogs in pictures and on plaques and she has a large collection of dogs—in paint and print. . . Thanks Lucille, for putting The Last Light of My Blue Eyes in the juke box at Six's. Swell songs, them.

Big Bend Park Praised

ALPINE, March 1 (AP)—The Big Bend national park was pictured today by Dr. H. W. Morelock, president of Sul Ross State Teachers college, as a magnet to lure tourist dollars into Texas trade channels.

"Regardless of what forms taxes take the money with which to pay them must come from the trade channels of the state," Dr. Morelock, who is vice president of the Texas Big Bend association, said in an interview.

"Development of the Big Bend will bring tourist dollars to augment those attracted to Texas by its other resources, the agricultural and livestock industries," Dr. Morelock added.

United States Representative Gene Worley sends word back from Washington that he never, never again will tell us anything about how pretty he looks in white tie and tails. The excerpt from his letter we printed here some time ago was picked up and reprinted in a dozen or more Texas newspapers. . . Now he's taking quite a bit of joshing about it from the boys back at the fork of the road.

As you read this, the skipper of this space is far from Pampa basking in the sunshine of another state, he hopes. . . Which all goes to prove you can be away and still get the job done, too—or can you?

America's champion tall-tale teller of all time was Louis Timothy Stone, newspaper correspondent of Winsted, Conn. . . Every week Louis put a tall-tale on the wire that was so tall nearly every paper in the country printed it. . . Some of Stone's famous dispatches were those about a cat with a bare-lip that whistled "Yankee Doodle," a quarter lost in a garden in the spring and found inside a cabbage in the fall.

"Why is it that male business executives always wear tight fitting double breasted suits?" asks a young woman in the office in Pampa.

"Why is it that personnel and efficiency experts are invariably given to pawing the feminine workers? Why are male executives working for the same firm so insanely jealous of each other? Why are the executives who know the least about the English language so pompous in dictating?"

Lots of people move when the landlord raises the rent, because they can't. . . Wealthy Chicago couple adopted a couple of youngsters. That's the nice way of putting on heirs. . . The man who spends most of his time flaring up doesn't shine very long. . . If my public official is anxious to cut a figure, we hope he'll make it the cost of living. . . Mussolini says, "Italy will march with Germany to the end." Thousands of Italian soldiers have reached there already.

In horse-and-buggy days, if you wanted to hitch Nellie up to a buggy whose wheels were about to drop off, it was nobody's business but your own. If the wheels dropped off, nobody got hurt but you, or the people with you. . . It's different today when you sit down at the wheel of a couple of tons of automobile and start hurling them through the streets at 50 miles an hour among hundreds of others.

There is an obligation that your auto be safe—for the sake of others, if you don't care about yourself. . . Washington, D. C., started inspecting motor vehicles in 1939. Of more than a quarter of million inspected, 67 per cent were found to be unsafe. And of these, 3600 were removed from the streets entirely as completely unsafe. Twenty-seven thousand repairs or replacements have been ordered in the past year. . . By the way—what about your car?

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—A big moment for the 47th legislature—the birth of what might ultimately grow into a new tax law—was not far distant today.

Members of a sub-committee of the house revenue and taxation committee who have been burning midnight electricity to sketch rough outlines of a revenue-raising plan said they probably would report early next week.

The whole committee was expected to lose little time surveying work of the sub-group and possibly might make its recommendations to the house also next week.

Although the sub-committee was tight-lipped on details, spokesmen admitted an omnibus bill was being drafted, and hinted at still other proposals.

Interest in legislative activity next week focused also on the house state affairs committee which scheduled public hearings on the controversial bill to create an appointive commission of three members to supervise the oil and gas industries, now a function of the Railroad commission. Proponents were to be heard Monday afternoon and opponents Wednesday afternoon.

A third committee drawing more than ordinary attention was the senate penitentiary which had set for Senator Clem Pain of Livingston proposing an inquiry into financial reports and certain conditions in the state prison system.

The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

The month of March, reputed in respect to weather to go out like a lamb when it comes in like a lion, does not seem destined to live up to this reputation so far as events of the European war are concerned.

It has come in like a lion with tension high in the Balkans and Germany reporting sea-war successes against Britain. It bids fair to go out roaring with action on the Atlantic and possibly also in the Balkans and the far Pacific.

Germany reached her high-water mark in the World War in March, 1918. The Kaiser's armies all but cut the French in half, apart from the west front in that spring drive. They risked everything on that final offensive in the hope of avoiding another winter war for Germany.

There is good reason to believe now that Berlin is prepared to risk on the Hitler-pledged great sea attack on England for precisely the same reason. Another winter in the strangling grip of the British blockade could threaten the Nazi regime with internal disintegration if British and neutral economists gauge German food and oil resources aright.

Nazi leaders from Hitler down have said repeatedly that they are prepared for a war of any duration. Months ago, however, Americans back home from Berlin told this writer of their doubts on that score.

They saw possibilities of an uprising in Germany only distantly. It depended, they believed, on either of two factors.

Even iron-fisted Nazi suppression at home could not avert serious rumblings of discontent, they believed, if the German army sustained a disastrous defeat. They felt certain that it was fear of just such a defeat, that withheld a German attempt to invade England last summer or early fall when other conditions seemed right for the attempt.

The other factor which could undermine Hitler at home, they believed, was a grave food shortage, but they saw no prospect that it could develop before the winter of 1941-42. American economists who give close attention to the present or predictable food situation in Germany on the European continent seem to share that opinion.

WASHINGTON, D. C., started inspecting motor vehicles in 1939. Of more than a quarter of million inspected, 67 per cent were found to be unsafe. And of these, 3600 were removed from the streets entirely as completely unsafe. Twenty-seven thousand repairs or replacements have been ordered in the past year. . . By the way—what about your car?

Run-Off System In Oklahoma Predicted

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 1 (AP)—State Senator Joe B. Thompson, backed by a straw vote overwhelming in favor of the run-off system, said today he expected the senate to pass his double primary bill.

The Carter county senator asserted he believed the senate would accede to a straw vote referendum feature, which would be the first step toward restoring the play by legislative enactment.

The straw vote, conducted by state newspapers at the request of the legislature, has been tabulated in the office of William Cordell, state secretary. Today's tabulation showed 2,117 for and 169 against the run-off.

As yet uncompelled were hundreds of other ballots to be turned in to Cordell, Thompson said, adding that reports from various senators showed an additional 100,000 votes on the side of the proposal.

With only two legislative work days remaining before the special election recess, Thompson said he would press for action on the bill after the legislature begins March 13.

He will be in competition with some of the biggest and most controversial issues of the 18th session, which were laid on the shelf pending the March 11 vote on three constitutional amendments.

However, Thompson believed the public test made on the run-off would result in more support for it in the senate and house, where such a bill failed by a score of votes.

Montgomery Ward To Be Rodeo Host

One of the most popular events ever staged to the farm youth of Texas will be repeated on March 10, when Montgomery Ward & Co. will play host to thousands of 4-H club boys and girls at a rodeo in Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum, Fort Worth.

Arrangements for the show, which attracted $1,000 at its initial performance last spring, were completed last week, with many new features planned to captivate the youthful audience.

Jack Story, director of special promotions for Montgomery Ward & Co., said the show will begin at 10 a. m. on March 10, three days after the annual Southern Exposition and Fat Stock show opens. Story, known as the "mail order cowboy," again is expected to announce events of the three-hour performance.

Among features to be added this year are contests on bucking horses and Brahma steer churning events which include fancy riding by world's champions and an act by the comic team of Nesbitt and Lindsay, a hit of the 1940 show.

Elmer Irving, elongated Pampa center, led the scoring in both games, bucketing 20 points in the opener and 13 in the championship tussle. Ayer made 13 points in the first game and Bailey was second in the final with nine.

Bob Clements, one of the committee in charge. Mr. Clements can be reached at the Miller Drug store in Skellytown.

To date, entries have been received from the Pampa Jaycees, Stinnett Kiwanis, winner of last year's tourney, the LeFors Independents, Furr Food of Borger, and the Briggs Drug and Phillips Gasoline department teams of Phillips.

Teams entered in the tourney are limited to eight. There will be two games played each night. O. L. Statton of Skellytown, graduate of and football and basketball star at Oklahoma Agricultural & Mechanical college, Stillwater, Okla., will be the referee.

There is no entry fee. Proceeds from game receipts go to the Skellytown Boy Scout troop, No. 9, of which Cone Donelson is scoutmaster. Last year $30 was raised for the scouts from the tourney.

Awards will be presented to the winning teams.

In charge of the tourney is the committee composed of Clements, Chester Strickland, Skellytown school principal and superintendent-elect of the White Deer Independent school district, and H. C. Boyd.

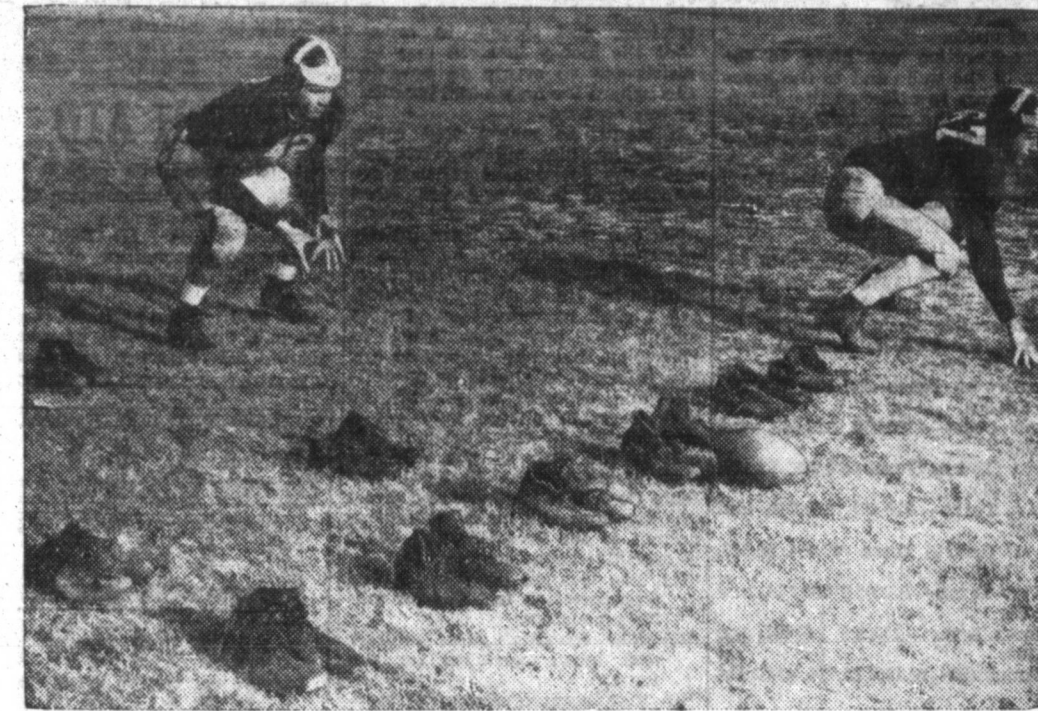

The Jaycees went into the semifinals Friday night by swamping Ashtola 82 to 22. The Pampans had a 43 to 8 lead at the half and they spent much of the second half rolling the ball around the floor.

Albert Ayer paced the Jaycees with 24 points, followed by Elmer Irving with 21, Claude Heiskell with 15, Junior Strickland with 14, Jack Bailey with six and Orville Heiskell with two.

Skellytown defeated LeFors Faculty 43 to 33 in the other game.

The Samnorwood girls won that division of the tournament by taking McLean 21 to 17.

LOTS OF EMPTY SHOES ON '41 AGGIE TEAM

One halfback, one end, one football and nine pairs of empty shoes were what lined up when Coach Homer Norton called for what was left of his great 1939 and 1940 Texas Aggie football teams at the opening of winter practice at College Station. It's going to be a tough job for Norton to fill the cleats left empty by John Kimbrough's and Marshall Robnett's graduation this spring. Derace Moser and Jim Sterling are the only starters left.

Oilers To Be Operated Independently This Year

The Pampa Oiler baseball club will be operated independently in 1941. Owners Harold Miller and Hal E. Lucas announced yesterday. They will attend the annual West Texas-New Mexico league meeting today in Borger when the playing schedule for the season will be adopted and other league business transacted.

Oiler officials and representatives of the Brookline Dodgers have been discussing possibilities of a tie-up between the two clubs but Miller and Lucas said yesterday that they believed the plan would not work.

"We believe that full control of the team should be kept in Pampa," the owners declared yesterday. "It is our plan to give local fans the best team possible and it was with that idea in mind that we decided not to accept a working agreement with a major league team this year."

Contracts have been mailed to several members of last year's championship team. Many rookies have also been contacted and a bunch of mighty promising boys will report for spring training early in April.

A new manager will be named soon. The Oiler owners revealed yesterday. They have been in contact with several eligible playing managers to succeed Grover Seitz who recently sold his half of the franchise to Lucas and at the same time secured his release.

Plans to improve the park are under way. A new public address system is being installed. All lights have been re-coated and light bulbs ordered. The grounds will be improved as soon as the weather is favorable.

Riggs Wins Hot Net Battle Over Kramer

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 1 (AP)—Top-seeded Bobby Riggs of Chicago pulled out of a hole today to defeat Jack Kramer of Los Angeles 8-6, 1-8, 6-4 in the South-eastern Tennis tournament's semifinals.

William Talbot of Cincinnati took Gardner Larned apart 6-1, 6-2. Riggs and Talbot meet in the finals at the Riverside Tennis club tomorrow.

Bay View, Rank Outsider, Beats Mioland In Santa Anita Handicap

By ROBERT MYERS

LOS ANGELES, March 1 (AP)—Bay View, 50 to 1 shot, shook off the challenge of the mighty Mioland and the rest of the brilliant field and sped on through the mud to score a smashing upset victory in the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap today.

Holding off the stretch charge of the heavily backed Mioland, and snapping the winning streak of Millionaire Charles S. Howard, Bay View, carrying the racing silks of Mrs. Anthony Peleteri, of New Orleans, rushed over the finish line a neck in front of the Oregon bay.

Bollingbroke, another long shot owned by Townsend B. M. Martin of New York, ran a startling third, while William L. Brann's Chaledon, second to Mioland in the betting, trailed far back in the pack.

Bay View broke first and was never headed in this mile and one-quarter battle over a track that was shiny as a mirror and almost as slippery.

Overshadowed in pre-race predictions by the Howard Entry of Mioland and Porter's Cap, by the mighty Marylander, Chaledon, Can't Wait, Fairy Chant and the remainder of the starting field of sixteen, Bay View paid off at the largest figure in its seven year old history of this classic—$118.40 to win, $26.20 to place and $9.80 to show.

Big Pebble, Bradley Castoff, Wins Widener Cup At Hialeah

By GAYLE TALBOT

MIAMI, Fla., March 1 (AP)—It was just as well that Col. E. R. Bradley was too ill to come over to Hialeah park today, for the master of Idle Hour farm would have seen his beloved Bimelech shut out by Bradley castoff.

The winner of the classic before a dazed crowd of 21,500 was Big Pebble, bred by Bradley and sold just over a year ago to Mr. and Mrs. Ed. S. Moore of Sheridan, Wyoming, for $5,000. In beating his stablemate, Get Off, by a head in a roaring finish, Big Pebble today returned $51,800 on the investment and must have nearly broken old Colonel Bradley's heart.

Bimelech, the top-heavy favorite, never reached the front as the field of 14 fought it out for a mile and a quarter. This was the race he was to have won to cap his brilliant career before his retirement to the breeding farm. The only time he even threatened was just before the turn into the stretch, when he moved into second place, a neck back of the leader at that stage, Cherry Jam.

The crowd, chilled by a cold north wind, was so certain of Bimelech's victory that it set a betting record for a single race in Florida—$160,878—and if Bim had won he wouldn't have paid peanuts. Big Pebble paid $34.60 each to the delighted few who held $2 tickets on him.

This was Bimelech's 15th race, and today was the first time he failed to place.

Get Off paid a handsome $26.50 for finishing second, and Hialta $4.00 for the show. Big Pebble's time was 2:02 4/5, a second slower than the Hialeah track record.

Pampa And Wellington Each Win Five Battles

Pampa and Wellington high school boxers split even in their dual boxing match here Friday night, each school winning five bouts. The Harvester mitt artists started off strong by winning four of the first five fights, but when it came time for the heavier boys to swing leather Wellington picked up the slack and tied things up in the last bout of the night.

Co-Captain Roy Ray of the Pampa team came off the mat to win his fight in the second round. The Pampa 145-pounder was on the mat for a count of five at the bell ending the first round but he came back and in less than a minute of the second round had Junior Montague flat on his face on the canvas from an eight-inch right jolt to the chin.

Lefty Pendleton, Pampa's other co-captain, looked good for the first minute of the opening round and then faded badly until the last minute of the third round when he made a comeback and had Deniz Ingram reeling around the ring. Pendleton wasn't able to land a finishing punch and Ingram had piled up such a lead in the earlier rounds that Pendleton could have won only by a knockout.

Leather flew from all angles as Everett Sparks, Pampa's 105-pounder, tried to finish George Christie but all he could do was rock the Wellington boy like a strong wind bending a tree.

Little Billy Stevens gave the Pampa team its first victory, at 65 pounds when he decided Eddy Crowley. Stevens staged a nice counter-punching attack, letting Crowley come to him.

The second fight also went to Pampa when Johnny Campbell, at 75 pounds, easily decided Don Smith. Campbell had Smith on the canvas for a nine count in the second round but the game Wellington boy weathered the storm. In the closing seconds of the fight the two bumped heads in a slugging match. Smith suffered a bad gash over his eye and Campbell came out with a lump on his forehead.

The Harvester's picked up the third battle when Murry McPhearson won a decision from James Winters, at 95 pounds. McPhearson showed plenty of foot work and a strong defense which kept Winters missing all the way.

Yancey Vogle at 75 pounds lost a decision to Wellington's Jackie McPhearson, who used his long reach to advantage.

Long-armed Willie Joe Cummings of Wellington won on a technical knockout from Bert Isbell at 125 pounds when Coach Oscar Hinger flipped the towel in the ring. Isbell had been down for two counts but didn't seem to be in much trouble when the towel sailed into the ring.

Junior Long of Wellington took Herndon Sloan at 135 pounds. Sloan never stopped charging but he kept his eyes shut and Long was able to stay away and counter punch.

Wellington evened the count in the final match when Leo Thompson, Childress Golden Gloves middleweight champion, won from John Cornett. Coach Hinger used the towel to end the bout in the second round after Cornett had been on the canvas twice. Cornett landed many blows on his opponent and at times had the big fellow rocking.

The Harvester boxers will go to LeFors Tuesday night. They will return home Friday night for battles with Borger.

Third man in the ring was Andy Anderson. Judges were J. H. Duncan of LeFors and C. E. McGrew and Paul Hill of Pampa.

Jenkins Hands Hurt Before Ambers Bout

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—A possible reason for Lew Jenkins' failure to show his usual punching deadliness in the early rounds against Lou Ambers' last night was discovered today when it was learned the lightweight champion had both his hands treated by Dr. Peter Mogul a few hours before the fight.

The physician disclosed today that the muscles inside the thumbs on both Jenkins' hands were severely bruised, and that "he was definitely in the ring under a handicap."

The Texan finally stopped Ambers in the seventh round.

Army Reservists Called To Colors

SAN ANTONIO, March 1 (AP)—Regular army reservists have been called to the colors, and those who fail to heed the call will be dropped as deserters, headquarters of the eighth corps area announced today.

The reservists are men honorably discharged from the regular army who have accepted upon discharge, engagement in the reserve.

All but the physically unfit are being called back to duty—with the deadline set as March 15, headquarters said.

It is estimated that domestic airlines flew more than 9,000,000 revenue miles and carried almost 250,000 revenue passengers during December, 1940.

Texas Tech Hires Morley Jennings And Del Morgan

Bufs Claim Texas' No. 1 Cage Quintet

LUBBOCK, March 1 (AP)—Two silvery veterans of big-time football—Morley Jennings and Del Morgan—today were named the shepherds of Texas Tech's football flock.

The board of directors unanimously named Jennings, recently resigned head coach at Baylor University, and Morgan, recently resigned line coach of Rice Institute, as athletic director and head coach, respectively.

The new combination, a combination Tech secretly hopes will lay foundation for entrance into the Southwestern Conference, replacing Peter Willis Cawthon and Dutch Smith, the Tech coaching team that resigned several weeks ago, because they said, of certain athletic policies.

Jennings will take over June 1 under a two-year contract. He will also serve as professor and head of the department of physical education. Morgan, who coached at Tech in 1935 and resigned to go to Auburn, received a three-year contract starting March 1. Spring drills will start about April 1.

The board also appointed George Berl Huffmann assistant varsity football coach and varsity basketball mentor. Huffmann resigned along with Cawthon and Smith, but the board rejected his resignation and gave him a promotion. His basketball team recently trimmed the National AAU champions, the Phillips Oilers. Huffmann received a two-year contract.

Walker Nichols, guard on the Lubbock high school, was named freshman football and basketball coach and varsity track tutor on a two-year contract. G. C. Dowell, former graduate manager, was named assistant to Jennings under a one-year contract.

Lewis (Doc) Spears, former Tech grid immortal, was named an instructor of physical education and chairman of the athletic council said the group had been selected from a field of 141 applicants and expressed the belief "Tech's athletic future is most promising under these men."

Training Camp Briefs

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—Most baseball people believe the Yankees' surprise sale of Babe Dahlgren to the Boston Red Sox was dictated at his holding out... that's why the Giants dropped Suitcase Seeds yesterday... the same factor is likely to promote some other deals this month by other clubs.

Tropical Stadium at Havana, where the Brooklyn Dodgers train, is so big that Larry McPhail's mighty men couldn't make any home runs, but the Brooklyn magician remedied that... He had a wire fence built inside the park, 350 feet from home plate at the sidelines and 495 feet in centerfield, and in the first exhibition game Catcher Herman Franks poked a homer over it... Anybody else got any problems?

Pitcher Joe Dobson told off a railroad conductor who asked him if he had a roundtrip ticket on the way to the Boston Red Sox' camp... Some of the Cleveland pitchers are stuffing cotton in their ears because of the shrill whistle indulged in by George Sussie, the coach who catches batting practice.

The Dodgers just can't get their batting order mixed up and Delph Camilli went to the plate out of turn... Bucky Walters went to more than 130 batters during the winter... Bill Lee, whose salary has been sliced so deep he hasn't even gone to California, let alone to the Chicago Cubs' training base at Catalina island, was the Cubs' highest paid player only two years ago.

Lefty Gomez felt so good after cutting loose at the Yanks' St. Petersburg camp he yelled, "I'll make McPhail sicker than hell"... Reminiscent of his near-trade to the Dodgers, of course... One of the reasons Casey Stengel is happy (if he is) comes from the fact Eddie Miller, the Bees' star shortstop, has quit being a lone wolf and has started chumming with one and all.

Arkansas Invited To Two Tournaments

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
DALLAS, March 1 (AP)—Popularly, and deservedly, rated the best basketball team in southwest history, University of Arkansas has one more objective—a national title.

The tall mountaineers, rulers of the Southwest conference for the ninth time in 15 seasons and holders of the team scoring record for a single season, are torn between two national tournaments.

From Madison Square Garden in New York they come an invitation to compete in the invitational tourney. But the National Collegiate Athletic association also wants the Porkers.

Decision probably will be made by the school's athletic council Monday at Fayetteville. Ark. Coach Glen Rose, shy tutor of the six foot, four inch average five that has lost only two games—both to the national AAU champions, the Phillips Oilers, said the council's decision would be final.

James St. Clair, representative of the Western region of the N. C. A. A. has strongly indicated Arkansas would be invited to participate in the Kansas City Western eliminations March 21-22. The winner of that meeting between four picked teams of the West, will meet the Eastern champions in Kansas City on March 29 for the national title.

Analysis of the Arkansas success reveals a few hidden qualities. One of jibes from the players and fans only a season ago because of the awkwardness fairly dripping from his six foot, eight inch frame, John Freiburger, the center, stumbled along until he developed his finesse.

Now he rates as a most damaging infanter on the Porker Five, and that takes in Johnny Adams, the phenomenal scorer who makes the headlines. Freiburger is the man who holds down the score.

Through eleven games opposing centers scored only 48 points on the Porkers.

The Porkers are essentially a high scoring team. No freeze-the-ball tactics are used.

Coach Rose encourages a fire-warm ready style because of the team's height, admits he might have to go back to more cautious play when shorter material comes along.

San Marcos Back In State Cage Playoff

The San Marcos Rattlers, gathering momentum in the stretch, drove into the state schoolboy basketball play-off for the second straight year Saturday night by capturing the regional title and thus becoming strong favorites to again win the interscholastic league championship.

San Marcos, loser only to Austin high in the practice schedule, raced over Jefferson (San Antonio) 27-29 for the Region 6 crown, and along with seven other title teams will go to Austin next week-end for the state tournament.

Joining San Marcos in the battle for the championship will be Pampa, Abilene, West, Mount Vernon, Jeff Davis (Houston), Bloomington and El Paso high.

San Marcos defeated Lockhart 24-15 and Jefferson defeated Lytle 37-22 in first round games of Region 6. San Marcos led all the way to beat the Region 6 team handily, with Coers, a member of last year's state championship outfit, setting the pace with 13 points.

Pampa's Harvesters won the Region 1 title with a 34-22 victory over Lubbock's Westers. Pampa reached the finals versus a 28-20 decision over Quail and Lubbock got there by beating Amarillo 29-26.

Abilene had to rally in the last quarter to turn back San Angelo 25-20 for the Region 2 crown. And two players—Gene Dalton and J. E. Smith—scored all of Abilene's points, Dalton with 14 and Smith with 11.

A free throw in the last half-minute gave Waco the region 3 championship over Sunset (Dallas) 36-35. Waco showed a well-balanced and heads-up team, taking out Burk Burnett's high ranked Eagles 27-23 in the semifinals before beating Burnett's brilliant quintet for the title.

Mount Vernon's unbeaten Tigers rang up their thirtieth consecutive victory in winning the Region 4 championship with a 32-23 victory over Van's widely heralded outfit. The Tigers broke a 16-all tie after trailing most of the first half, and from then on Mount Vernon had little trouble. Davey Newsome sparked his six-foot teammates with brilliant floor work.

Jeff Davis' mighty Panthers—long a favored team among the top-of-the-difficulty in capturing the Region 5 title, crushing Addicks' Steers 47-21 in the finals. Ed Kelley, Davis center, whipped in 16 points to lead the attack. Davis had staged a garrison finish in the semi-finals to beat out Region 7 champion.

Bloomington won the Region 7 championship by the unbelievable score of 21 to 7 over Laredo. Games in which a team makes fewer than 10 points have been scarce for several years, that with the emphasis on offense. Bloomington had nosed out Robstown 23-22 to reach the finals.

El Paso was not extended in beating Imperial 35-19 for the Region 8 title, but the Tigers had run into trouble in the semifinals against the hitherto unbeaten Odessa Brones. The Bengals managed to eke out 24-23.

Grover Heiskell, forward, and Pat Flanagan, center, were named on the All-Tournament team. Others honored were McKinnon, of Lubbock, forward, Madison of Amarillo, guard, and Nabors of Lubbock, guard.

Pampa's Grover Heiskell was named the most valuable player of the tournament.

Rice Beats Texas In Last Game, 73-64

HOUSTON, March 1 (AP)—Rice Institute's Owls defeated the University of Texas 73 to 64, here tonight as the two teams wore out the Southwestern Conference total scoring record for a game and practically wore out the basket nets.

Frankie Carswell, Owl guard, easily outclassed Udel Moore of Texas, scoring 19 points as his part in the 137 total of the game, 16 points more than the old record set by Rice and Texas A. & M. here last season. Moore held Carswell to a single point the first time the teams met.

Rice led 37 to 27 at the half, but had to stand off a threatening Texas rally in the last period. Texas pulled up to 59 to 64 with three minutes of the game remaining, but Rice pulled away again and won easily.

The victory clinched second place for the Owls, who also broke their conference season's scoring record. Rice made 615 points in 1941 compared to their 607 last year.

Arkansas Invited To Two Tournaments

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
DALLAS, March 1 (AP)—Popularly, and deservedly, rated the best basketball team in southwest history, University of Arkansas has one more objective—a national title.

The tall mountaineers, rulers of the Southwest conference for the ninth time in 15 seasons and holders of the team scoring record for a single season, are torn between two national tournaments.

From Madison Square Garden in New York they come an invitation to compete in the invitational tourney. But the National Collegiate Athletic association also wants the Porkers.

Decision probably will be made by the school's athletic council Monday at Fayetteville. Ark. Coach Glen Rose, shy tutor of the six foot, four inch average five that has lost only two games—both to the national AAU champions, the Phillips Oilers, said the council's decision would be final.

James St. Clair, representative of the Western region of the N. C. A. A. has strongly indicated Arkansas would be invited to participate in the Kansas City Western eliminations March 21-22. The winner of that meeting between four picked teams of the West, will meet the Eastern champions in Kansas City on March 29 for the national title.

Analysis of the Arkansas success reveals a few hidden qualities. One of jibes from the players and fans only a season ago because of the awkwardness fairly dripping from his six foot, eight inch frame, John Freiburger, the center, stumbled along until he developed his finesse.

Now he rates as a most damaging infanter on the Porker Five, and that takes in Johnny Adams, the phenomenal scorer who makes the headlines. Freiburger is the man who holds down the score.

Through eleven games opposing centers scored only 48 points on the Porkers.

The Porkers are essentially a high scoring team. No freeze-the-ball tactics are used.

Coach Rose encourages a fire-warm ready style because of the team's height, admits he might have to go back to more cautious play when shorter material comes along.

Cub Holdout Turns To Beagle Trials

DALLAS, March 1 (AP)—Big Bill Lee, Chicago Cub holdout pitcher, followed the Beagles today but his mind was on baseball.

"Five thousand dollars is too much of a cut for me to take," he protested while watching three of his six dogs compete in the Southern Beagle club's four-day field trials.

"The Cubs paid me $17,500 last season," he is willing to take a cut of $2,500, but $9,000—hmmmm! That's too much."

Lee, mopping his forehead after a mad dash through brush and thickets, said he had written directly to President Wrigley explaining why he thought he deserved at least $15,000.

"I'm going back to Louisiana if I haven't received the right answer by Sunday, but I'm keeping in shape and will be in top condition if and when I report to Catalina island."

Razorbacks Win Southwest Title

DALLAS, Tex., March 1 (AP)—Arkansas' champion Razorbacks fought off a stubborn Southern Methodist basketball team here tonight to win their 12th conference victory in a row, 41 to 32.

The victory gave Arkansas its second perfect season in history. A school 1928 team, featuring Schooner, Rose, and Pickel, also had a perfect season.

The Razorbacks' eleven field goals and 19 free throws gave them a new conference scoring record, and nineteen free throws gave them a total of 646 points against 607 scored by Rice last season.

But their ace, Johnny Adams, the jumping jive from Beale, failed to become the new all-time Southwest scoring king.

Guarded closely by Rusty Baccus, little brother of Southern Methodist's coach, Whitey, Adams made only one field goal—and that three minutes before the game ended. Eight free throws gave him a total of ten points for the evening.

His season's total of 206 fell short by four points of equalling the great mark set in 1933 by Hub Kirkpatrick of Baylor.

S. M. U. started fast and field goals by Lloyd and Keith and led 8-4 at the end of the first ten minutes. Then Hickey and Freiburger started slipping under the basket for crisp shots and Arkansas pulled ahead 17-12, three minutes before the half ended.

Coffee first came into human notice during the 18th century because the shrub caused intoxication among sheep.

Mobeetie Girls To Compete At Waco

MOBEEITIE, March 1—Although there has been some reports to the contrary, the Mobeetie girls' basketball team will leave Tuesday for Waco to be a contender in the state cage tourney. The winner of the district tournament is the only team that is allowed to compete in state competition; therefore, Mobeetie is the only school that is eligible to enter the state meet from this district.

The Mobeetie team won a second place in the state tournament last year. There is only one girl on the present squad who made the trip to Waco last year and who was in actual play while there. Next week's trip will be taken by nine members of the squad and Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Blankinship.

The present defense program calls for delivery of all planes ordered by July, 1942.

King Goes To Meet Winant

(By The Associated Press)
 LONDON, March 1—King George VI swept stiff diplomatic formality aside today and went halfway across England to greet the new United States ambassador to his court, John G. Winant, with a hearty handshake.
 The meeting place was a wind-swept railroad platform between London and Bristol. Winant, the shaggy ex-governor of New Hampshire, landed at Bristol after flying across the Atlantic to his new post.
 With Winant came his assistant, Benjamin Cohen, and President James Bryant Conant of Harvard university, who is on the government mission to collect scientific information for American defense needs.
 Spruce in the uniform of a field marshal, the king impulsively reached out and pumped first Winant's hand, then Cohen's.
 "I am glad to welcome you," he said, warmly.

Donley Selectee Will Replace Local Sailor

A change in the list of selectees from Gray county for the March 5 call was announced today by the office of the Gray County Selective Service board.
 Wylie Elmon Phillips, V-785, a transfer from Donley, will replace Howard William Barcus.
 The board has granted permission for this change as Barcus is to re-enlist in the United States navy. He is a former sailor, having served a four-year enlistment.
 Had Barcus not been available, the board would not have allowed the change.
 There will be 14 sent from Gray county to the induction station at Ft. Bliss, El Paso, on March 5. Another quota of 15 are to leave March 13.
 All of the eight men sent from Gray, including Charles Buford Fagans, a replacement, have been accepted, under the February 6 call. Fagans left here February 21.
 An additional 15 questionnaires were mailed Friday from the local office.

KPDN Radio Chat

By BILL BROWNE

Last week we warned you youngsters to watch for the announcement in this column of the start of "The Adventures of Frank Farrell." Well, it's to begin on Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. It will be heard twice weekly—at 5:30 o'clock each Tuesday and Friday.
 It's a story boys and girls will love to follow, because there is plenty of excitement in it. Young Frank is as American and as adventurous as he can be. And you older folks will enjoy it, too.
 Radio movin' day is March 29th. In short, here's what it's going to mean: It is the day on which 795 out of 883 broadcasting stations in the United States will change their frequencies. KPDN is one of the stations which will change. And that will mean that you will have to get used to finding your favorite stations at a new place on your dial. KPDN's number on your dial is to be 1340, instead of 1310.
 Of course, this is going to render useless present push-button tuning. However, radios with standard tuning will function the same as ever, except that persons tuning them will have to remember the new number assigned to the station he wants to hear.
 There ought to be lots of business for radio repairmen, readjusting those push-button tuning attachments.
 But more about this later on. Keep listening to KPDN (1310 on your dial for the time being) for explanations of the change.
 Dale Robinson, who was an announcer here for so long, was in Pampa Friday night. He has been called to the colors by Uncle Sam and is to report at Fort Sill Monday. There were long hours of reminiscences in the studio offices while Dale visited his old stomping ground. He is visiting with his parents in Borger.
 Dale's been announcing at WKY in Oklahoma City, as listeners to "The Heart of Martha Blair" know. So a new announcer will be heard on that program from now on.
 The drain the national defense program is making on radio engineers has been felt by KPDN again. Charles Cary left last week to take a job at WJDX, Jackson, Miss., replacing a draftee there. He had been engineer at the transmitter here. About two months ago Colin Ray left KPDN's engineering staff to go to Chanute Field, Ill., as radio instructor.
 Miss Marjorie Maxwell is a new addition to the staff at KPDN's Pampa studios, or she will be Monday. She has been managing the station's Burger office. Her duties will be varied here, including in all probability some broadcasting. She conducted programs over KPDN in years past, some as a singer, and some as a commentator.
 The "Frenesi" hangs tenaciously to the top run of the "hit" ladder, you might think it's a new tune. But, as a matter of fact, "Frenesi" was written several years ago. Seconded by "Perfidia," it is an outstanding

Back To City Move Starts Over Again

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
 CHICAGO, March 1 (AP)—City jobs are starting to beckon again to the boys on the farms.
 Dr. Samuel A. Stouffer, census analyst, said today that defense industries already were beginning to draw on the rural population and that the farm-to-city movement "may become a flood in a year or two."
 "If the war emergency continues long enough," he added, "the result of the movement may produce a profound change in the pattern of American population."
 A slow but steady farm to city drift for many years had been the natural result of the higher rural birth rate. When city jobs declined during the depression, however, the trend was retarded and even reversed temporarily.
 Dr. Stouffer now expects the normal movement to be greatly accelerated because of what he says is a strong demand in industry for "boys who know how to use a monkey wrench—boys from the farms and small towns."
 "Farm youth may not go to the great metropolitan cities in large numbers, but they are certain to be the great reservoir of labor supply for the defense industries in smaller cities the length and breadth of the land," he said.
 Several states have adopted eye-sight tests for prospective drivers during the past few years.

Pampan Grateful For Aid Given After Fire

A grateful man today was D. S. Ruttman of 835 E. Denver street, for the help he received from Pampans after fire destroyed the Ruttman home.
 The house has been rebuilt and clothing, bedding, and other household equipment have been supplied by Pampans to replace the articles lost in the fire on Feb. 14.
 "We moved back into our house on Feb. 21," Mr. Ruttman said, "and I sure do want to thank everyone who helped us. They helped us rebuild our house and supplied us with lots of bed clothes and clothing."
 Mr. Ruttman said his family had been staying with neighbors since the fire wiped out their home, until Saturday, a week ago.

SUNDAY, MARCH 2, 1941

(VOL. 38, NO. 278)

By Johanna Davis

A lesson hath March—if a teacher stern
A lesson 'twere well for the heart to learn
If the sky is dark and the winds are cold,
If the snows are deep on the moor and wild,
If the brown buds lie in their cells asleep,
And the clouds come only to frown and weep;
If the spring be late in her warm embrace
She comes at last with laughing grace,
With flowery banner, with rush and shout,
She will put all the legions of Frost to rout.
Ah! thus if life is a weary March,
We pass to joy through a victor's arch.

Coming in like a lamb, the month of March boasts that it brings the Springtime. Before the month will fill the air and women will be planning and assembling new spring wardrobes. . . . Already we have noticed many pastel pink, blue, and yellow sweaters and skirt-ensembles which are very pleasing to the eye.

Wonder where were the husbands of all the married women who attended the old time dance classes Thursday and Friday? . . . Could it be that the wives are learning the steps by the trial and error method in public and are going to teach the husbands at home? . . . At least we think the old-timers must have been rather long-headed to do those dances hour upon hour.

Among the 31 girls accepted as pledges by four sororities at West Texas State college in Canyon are six former Pampa high school students—all pledging Gamma Phi. . . . They are Joan Gurley, Mary Jean Hill, Jeanne Lively, Meribelle Hazard, Dorothy Jarvis, and Reita Lee Keller.

Word has been received of the marriage of former member of the high school faculty, Miss Ethel Rice, who became the bride of S. A. Renzi of Staten Island, New York. Mrs. Renzi taught in the mathematics department here before going to Hereford where she has been teaching. Mr. Renzi is employed on the steamship, S. S. America, a United States liner. The couple will be at home in New York.

Pampans attending the wedding in Amarillo of Miss Genevieve Garner, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nance Garner, and John James Currie, Jr., included John Adams and Bill Stack, who served as ushers at the service.

Even though most of us have known the words to the first stanza of our national hymn, "America," we seem to hesitate when we are asked to sing the three remaining stanzas. . . . About half of the guests at the American Association of University Women's Founders' Day banquet either hummed or sang alternate verses. . . . Since the first and last stanzas are used more often, the following copy may be helpful:

My country, 'tis of thee
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing;
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the Pilgrim's pride,
From every mountain side
Let Freedom ring.
Our fathers' God, to Thee,
Author of liberty,
To Thee we sing;
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light,
Protect us by Thy might,
Great God, our King.

Looking very pretty in their formal gowns were the high school senior girls who were honored at St. Patrick parties given at the First Baptist and First Methodist churches. . . . The boys attended the events, too, but they probably would not appreciate it being said that they were "pretty."

Numerous complaints have been made by some local men who object to women taking their knitting to the basketball games, Parent-Teacher meetings, and other public gatherings. . . . If some of these men only knew how many sweaters and other garments the women of Pampa have completed for the Red Cross chapter, they might not be so eager to criticize. . . . The new quota already has been received by the Red Cross, so the men can get ready to do some more talking. . . . or keeping quiet.

Rule For Fun
Here is the rule for having fun:
First fill the day with duties done,
But always keep a task to do
When having fun has wearied you.
Spirit is what lights up the eye
And is remembered when we die.
It is the gift, all else above
That others see to scorn or love.

Local Women Observe World Day Of Prayer

Using the theme, "Thy Kingdom Come," Mrs. W. M. Pearce led the World Day of Prayer service in First Baptist church on Friday. Assisting Mrs. Pearce were women from the local churches.

After luncheon at noon, a business meeting of the Council of Church Women was held with Mrs. F. E. Leech presiding. The new officers, and are chairmen, were introduced as were presidents and representatives from various churches.

The Council, cooperating with other Councils of Church Women, Parent-Teacher Associations, and Federated club groups in the state voted that a committee draw up a letter to be sent to the congressman from their district asking them to use their influence to improve liquor laws in our state.

Mrs. Frank Hall, community issues chairman, was asked to make inquiries concerning WPA aid for a day nursery which the Council is interested in sponsoring. Mrs. Hall reported on ways in which the church may help the community. The Council agreed to ask Jim Edwards to give the church a recreational leaders under its sponsorship.

One hundred women were present at the service and the offering to be divided among four projects of the National Council of Church Women was $30.81.

Mrs. O'Neal Hostess At Bell H. D. Club Meeting Recently

"A special home-made duster may be made by dipping a piece of flannel in paraffin oil," Mrs. Conner O'Neal told members of the Bell Home Demonstration club which met at her home last week.

"Let the cloth soak thoroughly for several hours," Mrs. O'Neal continued. "Wring it out, then wash in lukewarm water before drying. It will not only pick up all the dust but will help in polishing all furniture."

Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, agent, gave instructions on how to clean upholstery, rugs, and furniture. "White water rings may be removed with an application of liquid soap. If this method is not successful, the spots should be rubbed with camphorated oil and after removal of the rings, the spot should again be waxed," she pointed out.

Mrs. Jess Morris, vice-president, presided during a brief session in the afternoon. Mrs. O'Neal presided at the evening of March 15, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Keahey.

Mrs. Ernest McKnight will be hostess at the club on Wednesday at 2 o'clock, at which time a program on yards will be given.

HD Choral Club Group To Sing At District Meeting

Three clubs were represented at the regular meeting of Gray County Home Demonstration Choral club last week at the agent's office with Mrs. Roy Reeder as director.

During the business session with Mrs. W. Orr, president, presiding, the group voted to order a group of songs for the choral club to work on during the year. The club plans to sing on the program at the district meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association to be held in Pampa in April. Previously the district meetings have been held in Amarillo; therefore, the organization is proud to be chosen as hostess this year.

This district consists of 22 counties with 16 counties having home demonstration work in the Panhandle area. The Gray county H. D. clubs solicit the help and cooperation of the civic clubs of Pampa in making this season a success.

MISS LONDON JUST WALKS HOME--BUT SMARTLY

Typical of the influence of war in British fashions is the dinner dress as displayed at a recent style show held by the International Wool Secretariat in London. For an evening out during the blizz—when there are no buses and few taxis—Muriel Bellamy designed the dinner dress shown here. If, as often happens, the wearer must walk home, she simply unclips the long skirt and appears in the trim play suit with shorts seen at left. The skirt then becomes a cape.

An independent group of 159 critics chose this book one of the 10 best books, including both non-fiction and fiction entries. Last week the Book-of-the-Month club chose this book, although not one of their books, one of the best 10, Sinclair Lewis says, "Willa Cather is the most truly American writer of living American novelists."

Mrs. Wagner said in the first review, "Miss Cather does not have to go to the Riviera to find background to write her American stories as so many contemporary authors now do. She finds the American scene sufficient inspiration."

The author is Mrs. Wagner's favorite living American author.

ANDY (THE GREAT) HARDY GOES TO TOWN IN BEST OF METRO SERIES

High School Graduation Background For Exploits Of Mickey Rooney; Katherine Grayson, Screen Newcomer, Added To Cast

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON

The ever-popular Hardy family series comes back to Pampa this week as the latest picture "Andy Hardy's Private Secretary," opens a three-day run.

Lewis Stone, Mickey Rooney, and Fay Holden occupy their customary roles in this story dealing with the commencement of a high school class.

Mickey, senior class president and treasurer, is the head of so many committees that he has to have a secretary. He appointed Kathryn Grayson, a screen newcomer, with charm, acting ability, and a singing voice capable of anything from opera to modern music.

The ambitious Mr. Hardy, Jr., of course, gets in the doghouse after making his girl friend, Ann Rutherford, jealous, rewording a telegram that costs a job, and flunking his English—but everything comes out all right, as it generally does in the movies.

The 101-minute Metro picture is rated "tops to date for Hardy series" by The Film Daily. It's current at the LaNora.

Racket buster Jack Holt is back at the old stand in Columbia's 53-minute adventure film, "The Great Plane Robbery," in which Holt is assigned to keep Madison, a big time gangster, alive until a $50,000 insurance policy on his life expires in three months time. It's on the Rex screen Wednesday and Thursday.

Gay, colorful, and exciting is The Film Daily's tag on the 20th-Fox technicolor 94-minute blend of music, dance, romance, and comedy, called "Down Argentine Way," with Don Ameche, Betty Grable, Carmen Miranda and Charlotte Greenwood as the principals. Showing at the State today and tomorrow.

A scientist discovers a method to make a human being invisible. The discoverer, played by John Barrymore, is stalked by John Howard, wealthy, jaded playboy, and the "disappearing" victim is the role played by Virginia Bruce. Charlie Ruggles is the other principal in Universal's 72-minute comedy melodrama, "The Invisible Woman," on the LaNora screen Thursday.

Electric Living is Cheap

"Land of Liberty," a documentary film showing the history of the United States from colonial days to the present. It's scheduled for March 14-15 at the LaNora.

The entire motion picture industry joined in making this picture and the producers received no revenue from showings; all the rental receipts beyond the cost of distribution will be devoted to emergency welfare work.

I sandwiched in time Tuesday morning to see a special preview of the pic. The running time is one hour and 35 minutes, and I did not have time to see it all.

From what I did see, however, I know it is everything that's claimed for it—smash, thrilling, entertainment, and more than entertainment, a revival of patriotism, a renewal of the faith, the hope, the work, we owe our America.

"In a class by itself," comments The Film Daily, "truly a cavalcade of America," says Variety, and Box-office declares, "The film is unique . . . extremely well handled by Cecil B. DeMille . . . the cast is enough to knock anyone's boots eyes out."

Who Plays in It.

There was never such a star-studded cast. More than 100 appear as historical characters, among them, Spencer Tracy as Major Rogers, Claudette Colbert as a pioneer woman, Raymond Massey as Abraham Lincoln.

Bette Davis, Robert Montgomery, and Virginia Bruce star in other scenes.

There are 139 stars, 200 spectacular scenes, 1,000 thrills.

It's all here, all America—a colonial village, Lexington, Concord, Independence, the Constitution, Washington, Valley Forge, Tripoli, Bandenburg, New Orleans, right on down to the recent Pan-American conference.

Nelson B. Bell in The Washington Post reminds us that it is not one-angle alone, but that every factor in national growth is touched on—industry, church, education, medicine, science, invention, agriculture, conservation, labor, slavery, state's rights, foreign relations, besides all the wars of the U. S.

Getting down to cases and what you will see in "Land of Liberty," the Washington expert writes:

"Many of the films from which cuttings have been made for the magnificent mosaic that is the 'Land of Liberty'—not to mention the companies that made them—will long have been forgotten by the old-timers and never known at all to the present younger generation of picturegoers.

"But to a majority, as the picture miraculously unfolds itself, will be recognized snatches from 'Abe Lincoln in Illinois,' 'Alexander Hamilton,' 'Cimarron,' 'The Rough Riders,' 'Northwest Passage,' 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' 'The Buccaneer,' 'Man of Conquest,' 'Yellow Jack,' 'Dead End,' 'Slave Ship,' 'Tom Sawyer,' 'Victoria the Great,' 'Wells Fargo,' 'Union Pacific,' 'Jezabel,' 'Show Boat,' 'Juarez,' and so many more that no one could remember them all.

"It seems incredible that some of the features on the complete list of 112 could have been made to contribute valuably to a film of such tremendous vital interest as 'Land of Liberty'—but there it is!

"No less epochal is the appearance of such an 'all-star' cast as no producer would ever dare contemplate. Those who appear in short scenes and long sequences comprise a practically complete directory of Hollywood's great and near-great since the very inception of the cinema as a major source of mass entertainment.

"No less notable is the roster of world characters the 'cast' is able to muster—two President Roosevelts, President Wilson, the Kaiser, the personnel of the Versailles peace conference, the League of Nations and the recent Pan-American conference, to name only a few that spring immediately to mind. It is a staggering assemblage.

"And in the matter of 'production values' strange as it may seem, 'Land of Liberty' does not fall short either. Despite the long lapses of time between the making of the pictures that have been utilized, and the great strides that have been made in photography and the mechanics of picture-making, this unique subject is a peculiarly beautiful and well-blended entity, giving the impression that it all must have been made for its present express purpose. And if you love music, there is plenty of that, too. There never was another such picture.

"The 'Land of Liberty' will make you proud."

SERIAL STORY

DRAFTED FOR LOVE

BY RUTH AYERS

Copyright, 1941, NEA Service, Inc.

YESTERDAY: Hal proposes, but April puts off a final decision. She is still to love with Kent. Some word at last that Kent's eyes are all right. Ann is making preparations for a wedding. But the day Kent arrives, April refuses to see him.

APRIL PLANS ESCAPE

CHAPTER XVIII

BUT you couldn't keep yourself barricaded in a room forever. April knew she would have to face Kent some day. In the first few days of his return, her absence wasn't noted, apparently.

"Kent and Ann are like two children," Mother told April on one of her flying visits. "So sweet together."

"And Kent's eyes?" April asked from a dry throat. Mother said, "Well, at first glance you'd never know anything had been wrong. The operation was a marvelous success. But sometimes—looking at him—" Her voice trailed off.

April jogged her. "Yes, sometimes what?" Mrs. Burnett sighed. "He's changed, of course," she began uncertainly. "Anyone would who went through such an experience. And now and then it seems as if I catch a strange, questioning look in his eyes—as if he wasn't quite sure himself it was true."

"Oh, I think I know what you mean."

Mother brightened at once. "He asked for you last night, April."

"Yes? What did he say?" "Well, he wanted to know if you'd gone away. After all, dear, you're the gay one in this family, always going places. Why don't you come down tonight?"

"I'll see how I feel."

KENT had wanted to know if she had gone away. Perhaps he hoped she had. Perhaps he wanted her away. The phrase began to hammer in her brain.

Meanwhile, downstairs, Ann sang all day. But when she came into April's room, she'd lower her voice as if April were really an invalid and the room a sickroom. If she'd been blooming when Kent's letters were coming, she was radiant now in Kent's return. Faint color had crept into her white skin, her eyes shone.

"There's one thing I want to thank you for, April," she said. "Thank me?" "Yes, you didn't tell Kent about my audition with Vivano, did you?"

"No, you asked me not to." "We'll keep that to ourselves," Ann said. "Sure, right in the bosom of the family."

Ann changed the subject quickly. "Think you'll be up to being a bridesmaid, sister? Kent and I are going to set a day soon."

So it had come. A wedding, Ann's wedding to Kent! Every time Kent drove over from the Carter house on the hill, April found another excuse so she might stay in her room.

But a plan was forming in her mind. Kent Carter had asked if she had gone away.

THE idea took shape, grew. There was a place where she could go, quietly and without fuss. If she confided in Mother and Dad beforehand, they'd make a fuss. But if she could slip away without them knowing and then send a letter telling where she had gone, they wouldn't be alarmed.

So on a Monday in mid-January, her plans completed, she packed her bag with the few things she needed. "I feel better already," she told Nip as he nosed into the suitcase. "I've moped about Kent Carter long enough."

She knew she couldn't carry out her plans alone. There would be no way of driving the roadster, no means of getting to the train by herself.

Waiting until the house had quieted that afternoon, she took her suitcase downstairs and hid it in a clump of shrubbery by the front porch. Yes, the brown bushes were perfect camouflage for the brown bag.

Then she came into the hallway and telephoned to Hal Parks. "How about picking me up at 8 o'clock tonight?" she asked.

Hal said he would be there, on the nose, with bells on. Nothing, he added, could have suited him better.

Now that she had started, fate begun to play very helpfully into her hands. She learned from Octavia that Kent would not be coming for Ann that night until 8:30. So she came down for dinner with the family for the first time.

She found herself looking from one face to another with an almost hungry look. They were all dear, Mother and Dad and Ann, who seemed about to burst with happiness. She, April, had been the thoughtless one, the selfish one.

Octavia pressed cornpone and fried chicken on Ann, her "honey child," but once or twice April caught Octavia's eyes on her, something unfathomable and sad in their dark depths.

"I have a date tonight," April announced. "With Hal Parks."

Dad protested, but not too much. Mother smiled vaguely. "I couldn't bear to lose both my girls," she said.

That made April choke for a minute, but she was surer now than ever she was taking the best way. Better to have them all hurt for a little while than to stay and betray the terrible ache in her heart for Ann's sweetheart.

"It will do you good to get out," Ann was saying. "You have to take the plunge some time," April answered. "I've paid penance long enough, don't you think?"

"Penance?" Ann's voice was grave.

AFTER dinner, April hurried upstairs to dress. She chose a plain gray wool frock, with matching turban, a red pocket-book that held make-up, money, the key to the suitcase hidden outside and another key.

The money was enough to take her to her destination. The key would do the rest. She was going to the little town upstate on the river where the Burnetts had their log cabin. Surely, when she wrote home that she was there, they would understand, know she was safe. And she would stay until after Ann's wedding, resting, forgetting.

She was downstairs, her fur jacket on, at quarter of 8. Just in time, too, for the door-bell rang at almost the same second.

"It's for me," April called, and hurried, with only the trace of a limp, to answer the door for Hal. But it wasn't Hal who stood there. It was a shabby, bleary-eyed old man. Winkie Appleman. And beside him was the burly figure of the town constable.

The vocational program is sponsored by the state board of vocational education.

Largest class in the area is in Pampa where 80 men are taking a course in welding under national defense regulations. A class of 36 out-of-school youths are taking the same course free. Applicants for the course may register at the school garage, 706 North Russell street, any afternoon.

The courses include oilfield practices and related subjects.
