

Texas Convict Writes Himself Out Of Prison

HUNTSVILLE, May 17 (AP)—Tom Whiteside, Texas' most literary convict, made one of his numerous writs of habeas corpus stick in court today and walked out of prison a free man—and with a contract to write his own life story.

For 10 years Whiteside—serving two 20-year terms—has been writing all sorts of stories for pulp magazines and using the money to hire lawyers to get him out of prison legally.

In that time he has prepared himself eight or more writs trying to win his freedom.

Today Judge Max M. Rogers looked with favor on the latest. In effect the court granted Whiteside enough overtime, commutation of time and time served to allow immediate release.

"A job at $150 a month for eight hours a day and all the contracts for writing in spare time I can fill—well, I've got to be going," Whiteside told reporters. "I want to get started."

The prisoner was given 20 years for murder in Houston in 1930 and two years later was sentenced to 20 years for robberies committed on a turlough in Fort Worth.

discussion among all the American republics.

Although the senators urged direct United States action, it was believed that this government would take no step except in collaboration with the other American republics. The pact of Havana provided for joint action in event the status of foreign possessions in the western hemisphere was threatened by developments of the war.

In that connection, it was reported authoritatively that the 21 American republics were ready to establish "provisional administration" over the French colonies if French-German collaboration should extend to this hemisphere.

Informed persons said, however, that any decisive action would await clarification of Vichy's attitude toward Berlin. Dispatches from Vichy quoted semi-official French sources as expressing great astonishment that President Roosevelt interpreted Petain's remarks as "putting French colonies at the disposal of Germany."

At a press conference today, Secretary Hull said enough facts had reached the state department to support entirely the President's expression of American apprehension over Berlin-Vichy collaboration.

Brownwood Refuses To Give Troops Beer

BROWNWOOD, May 17 (AP)—The citizens of Brown county decided today by a vote of more than two to one against permitting their merchants to sell beer to Camp Bowie's 21,000 soldiers.

With 26 out of 29 boxes complete, the vote stood 2,365 against to 991 for legalizing beer.

Mr. Gen. Claude V. Birkhead, commander of the 36th division at Camp Bowie, several weeks ago announced he favored the sale of beer for the soldiers.

BRITISH

yesterday (Sat.) in the preliminary stages of the newest phase of the conflict that has spread from northern Ireland to India as immediate objectives.

British planes machine-gunned German bombers on Mosul airfield in the heart of Iraq's eastern oil fields while the Luftwaffe bombed British air forces at Dhibban, 200 miles south of Mosul, on Lake Habaniyah.

At the same time, planes from the British fleet pushed up the Tigris river valley to bomb oil and gasoline tanks at Amara, near the Iran border and an Iraq communique said a large scale battle between British and Iraq troops was raging near Basra, on the gulf of Aden.

In Great Britain, which spent a day comparatively free from bombs, London sources said it would "certainly be no surprise" if the Vichy government, in the future, should yield the use of the strategic west African port of Dakar to the Germans in a manner similar to that in which Germany entered Syria.

Vichy authorities, however, were quoted in a Reuters, British news agency dispatch, as denying that German troops already had arrived at Dakar. Occupation of that west African port by the Nazis would give them a good base for submarine or surface raiders attacking south Atlantic or African trade routes.

It was considered in Vichy that tension in French-American relations, arising after statements by Chief of State Marshal Petain and President Roosevelt this week, had relaxed.

On Iran's northern border loomed the armed might of Soviet Russia, but Moscow's intentions in this new phase of the war remained Joseph Stalin's secret. A delayed report from Moscow that some of the ablest Soviet generals had been shifted from far eastern posts to the west, and shed little light on the Kremlin's attitude.

Turkey, practically isolated from her British ally, clung to her non-belligerence, and a British report from Rumania said German troops were steaming through the Bosphorus, presumably enroute to Syria.

In North Africa British and Axis armored forces battled for control of the desert gateway to Egypt, with both sides claiming the upper hand.

In Berlin there was talk of a new turning point in the war, and Roosevelt warned President Petain his efforts to discourage Franco-German cooperation would only help Germany to "unite all Europe against him."

London counted the cost of the air war in human lives and found that since last June to the end of April nearly 36,000 civilians were killed by German raiders in the United Kingdom. Total civilian casualties were put at 83,612 men, women and children.

Collaboration between Soviet Russia and Italy was evidenced in a report by Tass, Russia's official news agency, that the Soviet ambassador in Ankara and the Iraq minister there have exchanged notes on the establishment of diplomatic, trade and consular relations between the two countries. Moscow earlier had announced acceptance of an Iraq proposal to establish diplomatic relations between the two countries.

Japanese officials wound up a week of activity in which Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka conferred with envoys of Axis and other countries and studied future steps in the "China affair"—as the Japanese call the war in China.

A discreet silence covered all the meetings, however.

British bombers continued their attacks on German points on the French coast opposite England, pounding them for the third consecutive night assault. They were believed striking especially at long range guns which shell the English coast.

The political week was not without other sensations.

He gave as evidence numerous flood control and power generating dams, the Corpus Christi naval base, the shipyards at Orange.

Johnson, suffering from a throat ailment, had been advised by his physician not to speak.

Army Air Corps Orders College Recruiting Drive

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—The army, ordering an intensive campus recruiting campaign for air corps pilots, announced today a decision to train flying cadets from each college as an individual unit.

The decision was admittedly intended as an incentive to qualified youths to become army pilots. The army did not say so, but it appeared it might also mean carrying college athletic rivalries into flight training with, for instance, the Cornell squadron vying with a Pennsylvania outfit in progress.

Cadets from the same city also will be trained together, raising the possibility that the "broox bombers" may soon mean an air corps unit as well as a baseball team.

Instructors went to corps area commanders to concentrate recruiting efforts on students in the few remaining weeks of the college year as the air corps accelerates the training of pilots from 12,000 to 30,000 a year.

Outstanding athletes and campus leaders, officials said, will be sought as organizers of units of twenty flying cadets, each of which the War department promises to keep intact during the training period of 7-12 months.

There was no promise however to keep units together indefinitely in the manner of the Eagle squadron of Americans in Britain's Royal Air Force or existing National Guard organizations.

Hearing Will Be Held On Libel Bill

DALLAS, May 17 (AP)—Representative Dallas Blankenship today announced his opposition to a senate bill placing venue in any county where libel is circulated.

"I'm afraid the bill, if enacted into law, would be a step toward changes in the civil libel laws that would open the way for attorneys to prey on newspapers," Blankenship said. "In suits filed in distant places, newspapers might find it cheaper to pay off than to fight, even if they knew they would win."

Blankenship, chairman of the House Criminal Jurisprudence committee, which the senate bill was sent, said a public hearing would be held Tuesday night. The bill is now in a sub-committee. Before sent to sub-committee, the full committee amended the measure to make clear its provisions would apply to criminal libel.

Under the present law, criminal libel cases must be returned in the county of residence of the defendant.

Strange Lingo Being Developed At Camp

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—A strange lingo is being developed at Fort Benning, Ga., by army tank troops.

The war department reported today this sample from a machine gunner:

"It happened in the woods. The geezer was slipping his clutch about the way I played the devil's piano during a dry run. I wasn't goofing off, though. I couldn't hold the chatterbox on the bull because the cowboy kept letting her eat."

The English translation:

"It happened while we were on maneuvers. My lieutenant was talking about the way I was firing the machine gun during a combat rehearsal. I wasn't making any mistakes, though. I couldn't hold the gun on the target because we had a tank driver who was running too fast."

MINE STRIKE

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—The union and operators announced the agreement by which the miners will continue at work until Friday morning while negotiations continue.

Seeking to get work restarted on $500,000,000 worth of defense contracts tied up by a strike of AFL and CIO machinists in the San Francisco area, Assistant Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal offered army and navy assistance in settling the dispute.

John Frey, national head of the AFL metal trades department, exhibited a letter from Forrestal which said he had requested navy and army officials in the area to "give you every assistance in your endeavor to correct this most unfortunate situation." What form the assistance would take was not made clear immediately.

The strike of 1,700 machinists closed 11 shipyards and repair plants. They asked raises from $1 to $1.15 an hour and retention of double time for overtime.

Efforts to get defense production going again in a plant at Vanderslick, Pa., were successful. The mediation board announced an agreement had been reached between the steel workers organizing committee (CIO) and the United Engineering and Foundry company. The company makes casting for big gun mounts and also machine tools. The strike, involving 900 men, began May 8.

Bees Take Charge Of Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, May 17 (AP)—Wichita Falls is swarming with bees.

For 10 days, swarms of bees have invaded homes in various sections of town—hiving principally in chimneys but in some cases attempting entry into houses, proper.

Several householders today reported the swarms made noise "like a roaring fire in the fireplace."

Claude Caviness said a swarm had taken over most of his home. Anti-bee remedies from "bellings" to sulphur fires have proved generally ineffective.

Thus far, however, no human casualties have been reported.

Hess A Giant Panda? A Trojan Horse? A Rat? He's In Jail

LONDON, May 17 (AP)—Responsible Britons left it still anybody's guess tonight why Rudolf Hess flew to Britain one week ago, but Home Secretary Minister Herbert Morrison declared:

"It doesn't matter what kind of animal he is—whether he is rat No. 1, a Trojan horse or just a giant panda over here in the vain hope of finding innocents to play with—the main thing is, he is caged."

Referring to Hess as "this gangster now in our hands," Morrison said, "Whatever his reasons for coming here, the German people are to put it mildly, very much shaken by the whole episode."

General Escapes From Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt, Sunday, May 18 (AP)—The Egyptian government today sought the arrest of a former chief of staff of the Egyptian army, General Aziz El Masri Pasha, known here for his pro-Axis sympathies, after the general and two Egyptian air force members attempted unsuccessfully to flee Cairo in an Egyptian military plane.

The government offered a reward of £1,000 ($4,000). The general and his two companions were accused of committing an act coming under "crimes injuring the security of the kingdom."

Dies Claims Reds In Government Jobs

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Chairman Dies (D-Tex) said tonight that the House committee investigating un-American activities would hold public hearings next week to put into evidence "the extent to which Communist and Communist sympathizers have been able to obtain employment in the federal government."

In a statement, Dies asserted that the committee had obtained "full membership lists of five Communist front organizations operating in the District of Columbia" and a "complete list of the federal government employees who own Soviet government bonds and regularly receive interest payments from the Soviet government."

Skilled Workers May Be Deterred

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Associate Director Sidney Hillman revealed today that the office of production management was completing an exhaustive study of labor requirements in defense industries, indicating the possibility of some new move to have more skilled workers deferred from military training.

In a letter to Brigadier General Lewis B. Hershey, acting chief of selective service, Hillman said that to plant expansions now under way "the greatest need for additional workers will not materialize for skilled labor in the metal working trades will soon outrun the supply."

Texas To Launch Drive For Defense Community Centers

DALLAS, May 17 (AP)—Texas tomorrow will launch a $400,000 campaign to provide its quota of a $10,000,000 fund for a year's operation of government-built community centers near national defense camps and bases.

E. B. Germany, regional and state chairman of the sponsoring United Service Organizations for national defense, will touch-off the drive with a Sunday radio address at 2:45 p. m. over the Texas Quality network.

Operation of the centers by the non-political, non-profit and non-sectarian U. S. O. is expected to prevent political administration of a program which should be free from such influence, Germany said.

Although three British consuls still are at their posts in French-mandated Syria, informed sources said, no representatives from Vichy concerning Royal Air Force operations against Axis aircraft on Syrian airfields have been received in London either through these consuls or neutral channels.

Reuters, British news agency, reported from Vichy a French denial that German troops already occupied Dakar but London sources said it would "certainly be no surprise" if in the future Vichy yielded that West African base just as she seems to have yielded Syria to the Nazis.

These sources said there was no information indicating whether the Germans yet planned such a move, but they did know German agents have been active in French African possessions for a long time.

Dakar would be a convenient base for either submarine or surface raiders attacking the south Atlantic and African trade routes.

Texas To Launch Drive For Defense Community Centers

DALLAS, May 17 (AP)—Texas tomorrow will launch a $400,000 campaign to provide its quota of a $10,000,000 fund for a year's operation of government-built community centers near national defense camps and bases.

E. B. Germany, regional and state chairman of the sponsoring United Service Organizations for national defense, will touch-off the drive with a Sunday radio address at 2:45 p. m. over the Texas Quality network.

Operation of the centers by the non-political, non-profit and non-sectarian U. S. O. is expected to prevent political administration of a program which should be free from such influence, Germany said.

Individual groups comprising the U. S. O. include the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Salvation army, Travelers Aid society, National Catholic community and Jewish Welfare board.

Taylor Ranch Area Southwest Of Lefors Attracts Oil Men

Well Flows 500 Barrels Cleaning Out

Oilmen in the Panhandle are watching with interest the area southwest of Lefors where the W. H. Taylor Oil company's No. 2-B Taylor ranch, section 24, block B-2, H&GN survey, flowed and swabbed 500 barrels while cleaned out following a 225 quart shot of nitroglycerine.

All available storage was filled and cleaning out ceased until more storage can be secured or a permit received to run the oil. The well is six miles southwest of Lefors.

There is one other well on the lease, completed several years ago as a marginal well but acidized last week and re-gauged at 58 barrels. Nearest production to the Taylor well is three miles north, which is in the West Lefors pool. There is no production in any other direction.

Dolomite pay was found from 2-850 to 2,932 feet. A shot of 225 quarts of nitroglycerine was used and as cleaning out progressed the well started to flow. Pumping equipment has not been installed and it will be some time before the well is placed on railroad commission test.

The north edge of the Osborne pool in southeast Wheeler county is getting another well in the Charlotte Oil company's No. 1 Mitchell section 90, block 24, H&GN survey. The well pumped 170 barrels of oil and a quantity of water. The water will be shut off and another test made. The well is an outside location.

Sixteen new locations were staked in the field last week, bringing the total for the year to 297. Gray county is the busy area with 11 of the locations. Eleven new wells, good for 2,623 barrels, were completed and tested. New wells to date in the field total 189.

Completions by county: In Carson County: Cities Service Oil co., No. C-2 Burnett, section 14, block 4, I&GN survey, gauged 90 barrels.

In Hutchinson County: Kewanee Oil co., No. 54 Badger, section 8, block 23, BS&F survey, was given a potential of 423 barrels. Paloma Oil & Gas co., No. 9 Lewis, section 7, block 23, BS&F survey, gauged 229 barrels.

FDR Abhors Trade Dominated By Nazis

WASHINGTON, May 17. (AP)—President Roosevelt, asserting that international trade in a world "dominated by totalitarianism" would be merely a weapon for aggression, declared tonight that United States must defend democratic principles and "continue its leadership in the preservation and promotion of liberal economic policies."

"Only through that leadership" the chief executive said in a statement on national foreign trade week, "can this country fulfill its responsibility in the rebuilding of a world economy from the chaos into which it has been plunged by destructive trade restrictions, born largely of greed and unreasoning fear, and by ruthless aggression."

Secretary of State Hull will deliver a trade week address over the NBC at 8:30 p. m. Central Standard time tomorrow. Several hundred business, civil and governmental organizations will take part in observances designed to promote commercial relations between the United States and friendly foreign countries.

Rev. Franklin Weir; Mmes. Joe Wells, O. J. Foster, Frank Chapman, Homer Lively, L. E. Gallimore, Fred Roberts, and Flaudie Gallman.

Rev. Franklin Weir gave the invocation and assisted otherwise in the program of the evening. Dr. Pearce received the troop charter, presented by Mr. Roberts.

Nazi Ships Try To Get Past Blockade

SANTIAGO, Chile, May 17. (AP)—Two German merchant ships, heavily-laden with cargo and fuel, sailed tonight from Chilean ports in an apparent attempt to run the British blockade and two more appeared to be preparing to follow suit.

The 6,173-ton Rhakotis steamed out of Antofagasta and the 5,522-ton Frankfurt followed later from Concepcion. The 1,230-ton sister ships Quito and Bogota were taking on cargo and fuel, possibly to follow them.

To get home from this country on the west coast of South America they must round Cape Horn and run the chance of meeting British ships in the South Atlantic patrol, or make the long haul across the Pacific, around the Cape of Good Hope into the Atlantic—and face the same possibility.

Surprise—Then Relief

BROWNWOOD, May 17. (AP)—Camp Bowie's tanned, dusty soldiers were startled today when they read the daily orders.

"Wearing of shorts and halter tops," said the headline. "But as they read, they smiled. 'It is prohibited,' the order continued, 'for female members of this command to wear shorts and halter tops within camp limits.' That was meant for relatives and girl friends.

There Will Be Work To Do

Lots of people are frowning their brows over this question: "When the defense boom collapses, what shall we do with our productive facilities to keep them busy and to keep men in jobs?"

It is a very real question, and one which will require our very best efforts to solve. Its nature ought not to be misunderstood, however, at the start.

The real question is not "What work is there to be done?" It is: "How shall we do it?"

There will be plenty of work to be done when the war emergency is over, plenty of work to create here in our great America the kind of country it ought to be.

Have our cities no slums and blighted areas to be torn down and replaced with dwellings really fit for men and women to live in? Are our roads, built for the horse-and-buggy era, sufficient for the motorized era? Are railroads crossing traveled roads at a grade a mark of a well-designed community? Are there not even now too many people living without electricity, without ordinary minimum sanitary facilities? Shall not the airplane be as common as the automobile is today, a cheap, easy means of transport for the average family? Shall we ever be able truly to say that we raise too much food, when the Surgeon-General says that 40 per cent of the people are not properly fed? Will there be no friendly neighboring countries to whom we can lend techniques and money to raise their standards of living with our own? Are there no more schools, recreation fields, and cultural centers to be built. It is conceivable that men, once shown the facilities and techniques for building all these things as they have never been built before, will then be denied them?

To ask questions like those is to answer them: The only question is: "How?"

The answer in turn by no means implies public provision for all these things. Builders of things, constructors of buildings and works, are already turning their minds to means of drawing private capital on a vast scale to such projects. The Urban Re-Development Corporations law in New York state is only one such plan. This provides easier condemnation of blighted areas, and certain tax concessions on improvements (instead of immediately taxing improvement, as we do now.)

The New York law is only a forerunner. There will be other plans, all addressed to solving not the question "What?" but the more vexatious problem "How?"

Behind The News

By PETER EDSON
Fampa News Washington Correspondent
Washington, May 17—If you think this isn't a gas buggy war, park your slippers on the fire escape late some evening after supper, pull out your trusty scratch pad and pencil and just add up a few of the items which will make a dent in the fenders of the motoring public.

Take the 20 per cent cut in the production of new cars for 1942. That's just one factor. There will still be four and a quarter million new cars manufactured unless another slash should be taken at the figures. That is one new automobile for every 30 men, women and children in the land, or a new car for every seventh family.

It should be enough, even though it's a million fewer cars than are being produced in 1941, but it just goes to show the part automobile manufacturers are expected to play in all this defense production.

DEALERS
Furthermore, it gives you an idea of how hard hit a lot of automobile dealers are going to be with fewer cars to sell.

It's the repercussion of this cut that probably will be felt most. With more people making money, the demand for new cars will naturally increase. There will be a temptation to bid up prices in this competitive market, but the government price control policy will be standing behind the door to help dealers resist the temptation. Prices for good used cars may go up a little too, but again the policy will be to keep these prices reasonable.

If the emergency goes on for any length of time, with curtailed automobile production for the duration, one result will be that old cars will be driven longer. If the sequel to that is more breakdowns on the road, the car owner will have to learn what he has now practically forgotten, how to get out and get under to fix up his own automobile.

Already there is a shortage of automobile mechanics in repair shops, caused by the scouring of the country for machinists to work in defense industries. Road service department of American Automobile Association is really worried about that one.

PLENTY OF RUBBER

The tire situation is something else. Statisticians differ a little on the rubber supply, but OPM's rubber experts see no threat of price rises, figuring imports now running 87,000 tons a month with consumption only 66,000 tons a month and 11 months' reserve on hand, unless shipping from the Indies has to be diverted, cutting off supply.

Road building and traffic control problems have defense angles, too. National Highway Users conference and the A. A. A. have both gone into this to report that of the 75,000 miles of roads in the United States, 5,000 miles are less than 18 feet wide and 14,000 miles incapable of carrying army transport loads.

Nearly 2,500 bridges of inferior standard bottleneck the system for use by tanks or heavy duty traffic. The 190 new camps with bad approaches are a major traffic hazard, and 4,000 miles of new access highways have to be built at a cost of more than $230 million.

Truck production for the present is not curtailed, but on the books is a War Department-highway traffic advisory committee report that some time in June

JUR SACCRED COW

I have just been reading a new brochure written by John Rustgard under the heading of "Our Sacred Cow and the New World Order."

He says our sacred cow is the belief in universal suffrage; that the voice of the people is the voice of God has become the basic tenet of democracy. He says we have come to believe that universal suffrage must not only be left untouched, it must be treated as a divine institution.

His suggestion is that we elect all legislative officers for a period of 25 years, at the end of which time they would be retired on a pension without the right to hold any other public office.

He also shows the absurdities and dangers of kings. He points out the fact that our forefathers had no faith in majority rule countries; that no country ever lasted long where the majority had a right to do anything they wanted to with the minority.

Mr. Rustgard gives the Sanford Tables, used in the schools to show the I. Q. of the people. He contends that in the United States it is estimated that the number of people who care or give serious consideration to any subject of public interest does not exceed 250,000; that book publishers of experience have told him that they consider that estimate entirely too high. This estimate would only give two persons in each thousand and not all of these take part in political and economic discussions. He contends that there is no reason to believe that more than one man in each 10,000 has ever read a book dealing with fundamental laws of economics and sociology; and there is probably no more than one woman in 100,000 has ever done so.

Then he reasons, it is irrational to hope that people who will not study these problems can vote intelligently, even on political problems, let alone on economic problems, when the government attempts to regulate and even go into production of consumable goods.

It is his idea that if the legislators were elected for 25 years and could not be re-elected that they would be far above the average. He points out, as is well known, that at present most of the legislators vote not their judgement but what they think their people want so that they can be re-elected.

The book as a whole is certainly one that takes the optimism and the starch out of anyone taught to believe in universal suffrage, as to our economic and political future.

The suggestion of a 25-year term might be the most practical way out. We do not want dictators, nor do we want the crowd or the mass to smother and destroy the initiative and the talents of a few as they always do in a majority rule country where the legislators have to be so frequently reelected.

AGE OF THE EARTH
(Los Angeles Examiner)
(By Benjamin G. Chesser)

Professor Adolf Knopf of Yale University, a man who has been examining the earth for many years, says the old mother is 2,200,000,000 years old.

Now to me, it has never seemed important just how old this physical earth is. What is this: How old is man? How old is his mind? How near is man to his peak of development? Or how near is man to senility?

This is a very beautiful, a very awesome, a sublimely tragic star on which we live. But without the consciousness and mind of man it would have no more significance than a bug in the grass.

Well, if, as Professor Knopf says, the earth is 2,200,000,000 years old just what will be the fate of man in 2,200,000,000 years from now?

Don't tell me you don't care. For as a member of the human race you must care. For you were in the original sparks struck off from the sun which we call the planet earth and you will still be here—as no force, psychic or physical, dies, but is merely transformed—in a billion years or two.

In this respect, then, the religions are superior to the speculations of physical science, for they are more concerned with the destiny of the human soul than with the rocks and the dust of a planet.

there will be a national truck and bus inventory. The idea will be to find out what equipment is available in event of national emergency.

It's in the field of new tax proposals that the motoring public must take its worst bump. According to Automobile Manufacturers' Association they line up like this:

Table with 3 columns: Present, Proposed, and a third unlabeled column. Rows include Gas, Oil, Parts, New cars, Tires, Tubes, Trucks.

This puts total yields at $465,598,932 for the present taxes and $827,498,932 for the proposed taxes.

Add to that last the proposal of a $5 vehicle use tax which, on 27,300,000 cars, would bring in $136,500,000.

Add to that state taxes. In 1939, the last year for which complete figures are available, state gasoline taxes of varying amounts brought in $816,500,000. State fees for tags and drivers' licenses brought in an additional $412,000,000.

Wrap up the four main items above, throw them onto the family hack, and if the springs don't break you have a potential load of approximately $2,192,500,000. That's approximately 60 per cent of the $3,600,000 which the treasury proposes be raised by increased taxation for the defense effort.

WASHINGTON TRAVEL NOTES

If you're planning a motor trip this summer, best bet is to find out what roads lead to army camps, and dodge 'em... Or, if you're going to see somebody in camp, find out in advance exactly what division, regiment, company and barracks your soldier boy bunks in. That will keep you from having to wander all over some thousand-acre cantonment... Don't plan to stay overnight in a town near an army camp unless you make your reservations in advance... Military truck convoys moving on highways will have sufficient interval between vehicles for passenger cars to pass through them if ordinary safety rules are observed... Passing through cities, army truck trains travel close up and with police escorts move through traffic lights without stopping. In such cases, the army convoys have the right-of-way, and civilian cars and trucks should not break through them.

HOLLYWOOD, May 18—Preston Sturges, the writer-director who has declared that he'd never make a picture with a social message, seems to be slipping in his resolution, because in the script of "Sullivan's Travels," he powerfully affirms the importance of simple laughter in a troubled world.

The moral is aimed at Hollywood since the story is about a director of comedies who decides to make a great social document, a drama of the people. Realizing that he knows nothing about poverty and suffering among the underprivileged, he starts out to become a hobo. After a lot of goofy adventures, he encounters some of the soul-searing experiences he sought and returns to Hollywood to make a more realistic picture. For by this time he also has learned that people don't want to see their troubles re-enacted on the screen; they want the tonic of make-believe and laughter.

It's fun to read a Preston Sturges script because even the stage directions are set down with wisecracks. He begins with a foreword: "This is the story of a man who wanted to wash an elephant. The elephant darned near ruined him."

TRICKY TITLES
Joel McCrea is the actor chosen to play Director Sullivan, some of whose comedy hits are listed as "So Long Sarong," "Hey-hey in the Haymow," and "Ants in Your Plants of 1937." Title of his proposed social epic is "For Whom the Night Falls." There's a lot of sharp satire on Hollywood, along with a few leers at the Unhappiness Boys, John Ford and Frank Capra.

For a gal to follow McCrea in his eventful wanderings, Sturges picked Veronica Lake, the floppy-haired dish from "Wanted Wings" whom Bob Hope tagged as "the only one-eyed movie star."

Miss Lake's revealing costumes in the aviation picture were a great trial for the censors, and she has a few slick gowns in "Sullivan's Travels." Most of the time, though, she will be in hobo garb—trousers, tattered coat, turtleneck sweater and a cap hiding that celebrated hair.

There's a sequence in which Sturges has defiantly written a reminder of the sweater ban by the Hays Office. When McCrea is trying to persuade her to give up the masquerade and go back to Hollywood he remarks: "You look about as much like a boy as Mae West does." He'll have to do some battling to get that on the screen.

Although Sturges seems to have written a gentle sermon about laughter, he hasn't abandoned any of his other rules for simple storytelling. Not once has a picture of his had a love triangle, or even a villain. Only characters who really count are a boy and a girl.

RUBY MAN
Just a couple of sound stages from where that picture is beginning production, another writer-director who believes in laughs for their own sake is completing a third filming of that old stage farce, "Nothing But the Truth." Elliott Nugent is a lean, bespectacled gent with enough energy to keep up with the zany clownings of Bob Hope and Paulette Goddard, to write a play for Broadway at the same time, and to make plans for a venture into movie producing.

As if that weren't enough, Nugent returned to acting recently. He and James Thurber wrote "The Male Animal" for the New York

George Ritchie is a lonely man. He worked hard in his life, he raised a nice family, the kids turned out well, and that's why George is a lonely man. His neighbor's son didn't turn out well and George often envies his neighbor.

George had a generous portion of his parent's ego that knows the offspring will go far if given an opportunity. He saw to it that they got the opportunity. He kept them in school, good days and bad. Nothing less than the yellow quarantine flag of scarlet fever in his house ever prevented his kids from attending school. And they had to bring home good report cards.

George taught them to tackle life just as they went to school. You didn't lay down to hard work or hard luck, blustery days or rainy. You didn't give in to headaches or stomachaches. George preached hard work and he turned out solid citizens. They all became leaders in their communities and were always busy as beavers.

So busy were they that they only came home on rare occasions. For each in his or her way had become the backbone of another family and community. They had been trained for places in life and they never shirked or asked for time off.

After the doctor forced George to retire he nearly went crazy for something to do. It would have been a great comfort to have one of his children near enough to visit. But when he made a long trip to see one he was always disappointed. He seemed to have lost touch with them. He liked his grandchildren well enough but he resented spending all his time with them while the grown-up world goes on. After all he was not ninety and he was not a nursemaid. He had ideas about politics and government and the war but nobody wanted to hear them.

Nobody except Henry Stone's son Rodney. Rodney would listen and talk and George liked him very much. Rodney was a son who hadn't turned out well. In fact he hadn't turned out at all. Half the time he was living off his old man. He never kept jobs when they got difficult and he was always having to move in with his folks. He had a pretty young wife and a couple of boys and they lived up the place.

George never got much chance to talk to Rodney's generation. He often thought what a pleasure it most be for Henry to have Rodney around like that and his pretty young wife. He sometimes wished he had not been quite so successful with his children. It would have been a pleasure to have one lame duck.

TEX'S TOPICS

AMERICAN citizens who have just "turned 21" got an idea Friday what a foreign-born American citizen thinks of the rights that have been granted to him through his naturalization papers... They heard Abraham Barakat, of Amarillo, born a Turkish subject, 51 years ago in Jerusalem... Incidentally, he was born six miles from the birthplace of Christ and only three blocks from His burial place... Mr. Barakat was the principal speaker on the Pampa Kiwanis club's "I Am An American" Day program Friday noon.

Young men and young women who have just become 21 and persons born in other lands who have been naturalized within the past year were club guests... They listened to Mr. Barakat tell what he thought of the opportunity which he said is his and theirs and ours to preserve the American principles of life... Each one of us, he said, has a duty to perform... That duty is to exercise the rights of American citizenship by voting and taking part in community affairs and affairs of government whenever the need arises.

For who would live so petty and unblest. That dare not tilt at something ere he die. Rather than screened by safe majority. Preserve his little life to little ends. And never raise the rebel battle-cry.

RAISED any rebel battle cry lately? If not why not? Haven't any "Why don't they?" "Why do they?" "Why haven't they?" There ought to be a law or "How do they get away with that stuff?" thoughts entered your mind lately? Remember our "rebel yell" department is always ready to join in the squawking where the cause is just.

And so she was vaccinated on a spot just above her left hip... At quarantine the doctors made a check-up... "We must enforce the law—and see that everyone's been vaccinated if they assured her... The War Today

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON

The menace to Britain in the near and middle east from France's surrender to German pressure for "collaboration" is so grave that it has diverted attention momentarily from developments on the main Anglo-German war front in the Atlantic.

Yet there are definitely favorable offsets there for the British to the ominous developments in Vichy, in Iraq, and in Syria. Nor should it be overlooked, in attempting to assess the trends of the British-Axis war, that British, American and even German judgment agrees that it is in the Atlantic that victory or defeat must come.

He who emerges from this war as master of the Atlantic will shape the destinies of Europe and profoundly influence those of the rest of the world.

Even the Hess incident emphasizes the German conclusion that it is in the Atlantic, where it began with the sinking of the British liner Athenia off the Hebrides September 3, 1939, that the German-British war must end.

Whatever his Hitler-assigned or self-imposed "peace" mission to England (if such it is), Hess, once first among Hitler henchmen and now a voluntary war prisoner in England, reflects that fundamental war conception. Obviously he could not see in Nazi victories on the continent the means of fulfillment of the Nazi dream. For he made his bid for fame, whatever its true motivation, at a time when German prestige, military and diplomatic, was at a new peak.

Balkan war triumphs had swept British arms off the continent except at Gibraltar. Impending conquest of France was unquestionably known to him. Yet he fled to England. And almost certainly, if he made his flight in hope of somehow inducing a negotiated peace, it must have been in dread of continued war must end in ultimate Nazi defeat or in the utter crash of European civilization.

Dark as is the outlook eastward for Britain, matters are taking for the moment a brighter turn in the Atlantic. More than two months—two crucial months by Hitler's own word—of the Nazi spring drive to crush England have gone by and England still stands. British shipping losses in the Atlantic in recent weeks have gone down rather than up according to London admiralty accounting.

There are definite indications that British bombers and naval craft are exacting an increasingly heavy price from their foes for damage wrought by bomb or torpedo at sea. The deadly menace of two Nazi battleships at large in Atlantic sea lanes has been parried if not conclusively ended.

British air fighters still rule the daylight over England. Their night-fighting comrades are an increasing protection against after dark raiders.

And to cap those favorable developments, American help for Britain is expanding. Its full measure or method yet to be revealed. But it already has insured both American sea scouting to help keep the Atlantic open to England and added merchant shipping space to keep Britain going in the Atlantic through this crucial summer, fall and winter.

Prather Leads Oilers In Hitting With .373 Average

Manager Dutch Prather showed his Pampa Oilers how to hit the ball when he ended up with a batting average of .373 in games through Friday night.

The manager also batted in the most runs, 21, with Leon Bills second with 15.

Leading Oiler pitcher was Frank Grabek with three wins against one loss. Tough luck pitcher was John McPartland with one win and four losses.

The league's official statistician records the following information on games through Monday night:

A fellow who boasts a mere 289 batting average during the entire 1940 season is leading the West Texas-New Mexico league hitting parade through three weeks of play.

It would not be unusual to see Williams' manager, Gordon Nell, leading the hitting pack, but he is back in the crowd at 328.

Only one Gasser twirler has been knocked off the pitching hill in 14 games.

Just to make it unanimous, the Borger crew is leading in team batting with its 287 average.

Bombers Nose Out Oilers In Series Finale

BIG SPRING, May 17.—The Pampa Oilers could get plenty of men on base but they couldn't get them home last night so the Bombers won the last game of the series, 8 to 7. Three past balls by catcher Monroe and an error by Haralson also proved costly.

John McPartland, Oiler tough luck pitcher, was nicked for 14 hits while Boal was giving up an even dozen. At that McPartland should have won the game. He whiffed 10 batters and walked only two.

Little Kelly Haralson, with a triple and single, led the Oiler attack. The Oilers presented for the first time in their lineup Lou Frierson, Amarillo castoff. Frierson is a class man who is being given a trial after being dropped by Amarillo because he wasn't doing much hitting.

From Big Spring the Oilers moved to Lamesa for a game Saturday night and two on Sunday afternoon. They return home Monday night with Amarillo's Gold Sox providing the opposition for three nights.

Table showing batting averages for Pampa Oilers and Big Spring Bombers.

War Dead To Be Honored Here June 1

More significant than any observance of the day since 1919 will be Pampa's tribute to America's war dead when Memorial Day ceremonies are held here on Sunday, June 1.

With the nation talking a policy of aid to another nation, belligerent in a European war, while this nation has not formerly declared war, a special emphasis marks 1941's Memorial Day.

As May 30 comes on Friday, it has been decided to hold the ceremonies on the nearest Sunday, which will be June 1.

Following the local custom the Veterans of Foreign Wars will take the lead in plans for the observance of Memorial Day. On Armistice Day, the American Legion has the leading part in the plans. Both organizations, however, join together in doing their part in the ceremonies on both days.

Gold Star Mothers Honored
A tribute to Pampa's three Gold Star mothers will be given at the Memorial Day ceremonies start at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon with a drill of Company D, 14th battalion, Texas Defense Guard, at the American Legion grounds.

The Gold Star mothers are Mrs. Estelle Pollard, Mrs. S. H. Crossman, and Mrs. P. P. Reid.

Marching with the T. D. G. company will be the Pampa Veterans band. The units will parade from the Legion hut to the high school gymnasium, going east on Foster to Cuyler, thence north to the gym.

Here the group will enter automobiles for a trip to the cemetery, where the V. P. W. ritual will be performed.

The Rev. W. M. Pearce, pastor of the First Methodist church, will deliver the invocation, and the principal address will be by the Rev. William Joseph Stack, C. M., pastor of Holy Souls Catholic church.

W. L. Heskew will be in charge of the firing and color squads. Chairman of the Memorial Day observance will be J. G. Sturgeon, commander of Pampa Post 1657, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Paul D. Hill is in charge of arrangements and Joe Roche will be parade marshal.

Mr. Baracat was born in Palestine at a place 6 miles from the birthplace of Jesus.

He made a talk on the advantages of being an American.

Men and women who were first voters since May 18, 1940 and naturalized citizens, were guests of the club, in further observance of the special patriotic day.

Naturalized citizens present included Harry E. Hoare, and Mrs. George W. Canada; Gerhard True, Germany; and J. W. Garcia, Mexico.

alog of National league batting weaknesses—has played on five pennant winning teams since then. Now, he's back "home" and going stronger than ever—a veteran who is young again.

A lot of factors have combined so get the Cardinals away to a fast start in pursuit of their first pennant in seven years, but Mancuso's handling of rookie pitchers stands out above everything else in the Red Bird drive.

The youngsters—Sam Nahem, John Grodzicki, Hank Gornicki, Howard Krier, and Ernie White—have won eight decisions while dropping only two.

The reason for such a uniformly fine showing is readily volunteered by one Cardinal hurler:

"It's a little guy by the name of Gus Mancuso."

"Gus hasn't made a mistake yet," said this admirer. "He knows all the hitters in the league. And what he doesn't know isn't in the book."

Joining in the praise, another teammate remarked:

"You never saw such a come-back. He's been riling line drives between outfielders till they're sick. Every day. What a hitter. What a catcher."

Mancuso is leading the team with a batting average of .395.

How to make horsepower out of Thin Air!

Buick SPECIAL 6-passenger Sedan, $1006. White sidewall tires extra.*

JUST consider these plain facts about the engines in this 1941 Buick SPECIAL:

The engine that regularly powers this Series develops 115 horsepower and turns up 20.1 miles per gallon at a steady 30 miles an hour in Proving Ground economy tests.

But add Compound Carburetion,† and the same engine in the same model develops 125 horsepower and goes 21.5 miles per gallon by exactly the same tests!

There's more from less gasoline—and it comes, literally, out of thin air.

Because the two carburetors in this exclusive Buick feature handle a larger air volume than can be provided efficiently by a single mixer.

We'll let you figure out what extra power and extra mileage mean in extra fun, extra thrills, extra satisfaction.

We'll let you size up, too, how nice it is to travel farther more pleasantly—on as much as 10% to 15% less gasoline than former Buicks used.

But for the whole picture, just go get actual, local, delivered prices on a Buick.

You'll find that nowhere else can you buy the same size, the same style, the same power, the same comfort at the same low bargain Buick figures.

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $915 for the Business Coupe

*Available at slight extra cost on some Buick SPECIAL models, standard on all other Series.

Parties For Four Brides-Elect Highlight Week-End Social Activities

Just Between Us Girls

By Johanna Davis

Commencement Time
The house is topsy-turvy—
Been fluffing for a week—
For we're goin' to the college
Whar Sally'll talk in Greek!

To think them furrin' languages
She'd ever learn to speak,
An' rise from Georgy dialect
To dictionary Greek!

An' so we're all frustrated,
An' fellin' mighty meek,
A—livin' still in dialect
Whilst Sally sings in Greek.
—Frank L. Stanton

By this time next week the town will be seething with the old chant, "No more pencils, no more books, no more teacher's crabby looks" as students leave school for a three month's vacation. . . . One of the busiest periods of the entire year for high school seniors begins with final exams and the Junior-Senior banquet. . . . Among the events this week will be the annual mother-daughter tea to be given Tuesday evening by the American Association of University Women. . . . Beautifully simple and yet simply beautiful will be several affairs honoring the seniors. . . . The attractive girls that we have noticed in their bright-colored dresses make things so gay that elaborate decorations would not even be missed.

At the Seventh District, Texas Federation of Women's club convention held the first of the month in Amarillo, the local Civic Culture club received recognition for having sewed and knitted 110 garments for the Red Cross. Mrs. R. G. West is in charge of the sewing and knitting done by this group. . . . Mrs. Walter Wanner and her 16-year-old daughter, Joyce, are running a race to see which can knit the most sweaters. At present Joyce is one step up on her mother; she has knitted nine and her mother eight.

Most mothers who scold little boys for carrying crazy things in their pockets should look in their own handbags. . . . Men criticize women for their extravagances, but she never spends $10.00 on a three-day trip that nets two 45 cent fish. . . . A regular two-gun cowboy is Buster Carter, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carter, who celebrated his fourth birthday Saturday. . . . When Buster goes into a cafe with his parents, he takes off his guns and belt and hangs them on the hat rack with his daddy's hat. . . . Not to be outdone by her brother's attire, Phoebe Ann, who is five years of age, wears overalls with bright colored buttons.

An inseparable pair is Catherine Pearce and Mary Gaylord Booth, teachers at Woodrow Wilson and Sam Houston schools respectively. . . . Both attend Southern Methodist university where they were roommates. . . . Industrious Mary Gaylord, who was making some lunch cloths, thought it would be a good idea to take her work with her to the beauty shop. . . . While Mary Gaylord had her nails manicured, Catherine dried her hair and worked on the lunch cloths. . . . Mary Gaylord has a system there.

Showers for May and June brides have been a custom since the day many years ago when the first bridal shower was started unwittingly by a mean father. . . . His daughter planned to marry the town miller, poor because he gave his bread to the needy instead of selling it. . . . Papa declared she would have no dowry if she married the miller, and the poor people, conscience-stricken, got together and brought the best their homes had to offer—until the dowry was better than papa's.

Every time the Red Cross cutting room has been open, six local women, Mmes. L. L. Davis, W. G. Kinzer, T. S. Bunting, Robert Louvier, H. P. Larsh, and F. C. Wilson, have been there and assisting with the cutting of garments.

Two roommates who are beaming brides-elect are Evelyn Gregory and Dorothy Egerton. . . . Only last week Dorothy presided at the tea table when a crystal shower was given for Evelyn who is to marry Bill Anderson June 2. . . . Then two evenings later Evelyn was a hostess at the party to announce Dorothy's engagement to Robert Farley. . . . A sentimental note was attached to the gift presented to Evelyn by Mrs. John L. Rankin, the former Edith Stubbs, which reminded her that they had graduated three times, from grade school, high school, and college, together, and soon they would be "Mrs." together. . . . This happy pair, Evelyn and Dorothy, was honored at a clever bicycle party and this morning at a breakfast.

Here is a button front dress which has many interesting style details. A pretty shoulder yoke, for instance. Notice the well placed pockets, the simple sleeves, the tucking which gives wanted fullness through the bodice. Best of all, buttons from the open low cut neckline to the hem. You can always wear the dress with a snug waistline too, because of the ties in the back.

Pattern No. 8938 is in sizes 34 to 50. Size 36 takes 4 1-8 yards of 35-inch material. 3 1-2 yards ric-rac braid for trimming.

For this attractive pattern send 15 cents in coin, your name, address, pattern number, and size to The Pampa News Today's Pattern Service, 211 W. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By ALICIA HART
You can't stop sneezing and coughing. Your eyes simply won't stay clear no matter how often you wash them with eye lotion. You wish to goodness that you could stay out of everyone's sight until your cold has been pronounced cured. But you cannot.

What to do? How to keep your morale? How to keep from being thoroughly objectionable to those who have to look at you in the office? These are real problems.

Special To The NEWS
MIAMI, May 17 — Seniors and other guests were entertained and ed by Hawaiian maidens in grass skirts and leis and conducted into a striking tropical setting depicting those islands, which the juniors had converted the Home Economics dining room into, when they attended the banquet Saturday night.

Walls and windows were hung with vines and blossoms. Overhead the ceiling had been made into an imitation of a summer night sky with silver stars breaking through.

The Hawaiian theme also was carried out in the tables with tropical scenes on the programs, and blossom-laden canoes centering them and gracing the combination nut-cut and place-card.

Bill Tolbert, president of the Junior class was toastmaster. The following program was carried out between four courses of Hawaiian food. Invocation, the Rev. E. Lee Stanford; welcome, Don Kivlichen, mascot of the juniors, nine dance numbers were given by both Miami and Pampa members of Mrs. Vivian Munday's class.

Canadian P-TA Unit Installs Officers

Special To The NEWS
CANADIAN, May 17 — Parent-Teacher association officers for 1941-1942 have been elected and installed as follows:

Mrs. John Stovall, re-elected president; Mrs. Frank Shaller, first vice-president; Mrs. Arthur Webb, second vice-president; Mrs. George Hill, elected third vice-president for the third year; Mrs. Ben Jordan, secretary; Mrs. Ross Tapp, treasurer.

Committees are yet to be selected, plans made for the next year's work, and programs arranged.

Parents can achieve a just-stepped-out-of-a-band-box-look — and you should.

DON'T NEGLECT SINGLE DETAIL
In addition to wearing spotless dresses and suits and crisp white blouses (don't wear a white blouse a second day without laundering), keep your shoes polished, gloves neat (black gloves require cleaning just as white one require washing).

Keep your hair soft and shining (there are several dry shampoos on the market), and nail polish smooth and unchipped. You simply can't afford to add oily hair, chipped nail lacquer, and general untidiness to streaming eyes and a red nose.

P. S. — And do fold creasing tissues and stack them in a neat pile in your bag — instead of stuffing them in haphazardly and having them wrinkled and untidy when you take them out.

DON JUAN OF THE 90S

Old New York of the Bowerly, horse-drawn carriages, German bands (pre-Hitler), beer gardens, gas lamps and other nostalgic memories of the 90s are re-created faithfully in Warners

97-minute "Strawberry Blond." Jimmy Cagney just can't make up his mind whether it's sweet Olivia de Havilland or siren Rita Hayworth he's in love with. At the LaNora Friday and Saturday.

COMEDY AND MUSIC HIGHLIGHT FILM BOOKINGS THIS WEEK IN PAMPA THEATER

Stewart, The Bumpsteads, Topper, Mike Shayne And Bing Crosby Keep Mirth, Melody, Mystery Going As Costume, Northwest, Cowboy Pics Provide Variety

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON

Shuffle them from columns of three into column of five, then into a half right and put them in double quick time—whichever way you take the flicker bill of fare in Pampa this week it still spells music and comedy for the biggest part.

Counting off: LaNora, "Pot O' Gold" and "Blondie Goes Latin," the old comedy-music combination; "Strawberry Blonde," comedy, against a 90s background.

Re: the mystery-detective-comedy angle in the "series" pics, "Topper Returns," and "Michael Shayne, Private Detective." Another "series" is booked for the Friday and Saturday crowds with the handsome Cisco Kid again doing his stuff.

Troubador Crosby

At the Crown comes the troubadour Crosby in the very musical "Pennies From Heaven," on Wednesday and Thursday. The Crown opens with the famed film boy gangs of Dead End and the Little Tough Guys combined in "Pride of the Bowerly."

Adding to the "Kids" for variety are the old reliable bread-and-butter outdoor action yarns: at the State, "Santa Fe Trail," today and tomorrow; "River's End," Tuesday; a costume pic "The Son of Monte Cristo," Wednesday and Thursday.

The Crown wind-ups the week on a "Trail"—prefixed "Sagebrush," with John Wayne drawing the cheers. Across the street at the State, one J. Mack Brown, from way down in Alabama, is head man in the cast of the "Bad Man of Red Butte."

THOSE BALMY BUMSTEADS

Eighth and latest release in Columbia's "Blondie" series, "Blondie Goes Latin," (67-minutes), has a stronger cast and higher budget than predecessors. Penny Singleton (Blondie) has more versatile role, sings and dances in addition to other chores. Arthur Lake is the blundering Dagwood, Larry Simms is Baby Dumpling, Tito Guizar and Ruth Terry are additions to the series cast. Five hit tunes by Bob Wright and Chet Forrest are heard in the film. Story deals with the Bumsteads (Blondie, Dagwood, and baby) invitation to go to South America as guests of Lake's boss. At the LaNora Wednesday and Thursday.

WASHINGTON BOY MAKES GOOD

James Roosevelt, son of the President, makes his debut as film producer in United Artists 86-minute "Pot O' Gold," frothy yarn about James Stewart as the penniless grandson of Charles Winninger, millionaire, who arrives in the city to work for him when he goes broke, and immediately gets mixed up in the Winninger-McCorkle families feud. The Pot O' Gold radio show is the angle for the romantic happy ending. Stewart, Paulette Goddard, and Horace Heidt, ork leader, top the cast of this entertaining and amusing picture. At the LaNora today, Monday and Tuesday.

LATEST IN 'TOPPER' SERIES

Joan Blondell, Roland Young, and Carole Landis are three of the starring players in Hal Roach's UA "Topper Returns," latest in the mystery-comedy series, and they contribute a number of merry twists to the plot of the story. Showing at the Rex today, tomorrow and Tuesday.

CISCO RETURNS

Latest in the 20-Fox series starring Cesar Romero as the Cisco Kid is "Ride On, Vaquero," with Romero, Mary Beth Hughes (shown above) and Chris-Pin Martin in the principal roles. Romero is trapped by the army after he is betrayed by a girl who wants the reward. However, the Colonel allows him to escape to run down a gang of kidnapers. As usual, Cisco accomplishes his job, kisses the attractive Miss Hughes goodbye, and ride off one, jump again ahead of the soldiers. The 64-minute western is on the Rex screen Friday and Saturday.

CCC BACKGROUND

A combination of Dead End Kids and Little Tough Guys has been rounded up into one group for Monogram's "Pride of the Bowerly," with Leo Gorcey, Bobby Jordan, and Donald Haines. A scene from the pic is shown above. It opens a three-day run today at the Crown. Additional interest is given the 63-minute film by using a CCC camp in Arizona as a background. Cast is able, direction adequate, and other technical aspects are up to par for pic's budget range.

Gorcey wants to train for the boxing championship of New York's lower East side. Jordan and the other kids get him to sign up in the CCC because they have no money for training purposes. However, Gorcey feels he has been tricked and there is a considerable amount of trouble and action before everything is smooth sailing and Gorcey realizes the camp is a good place for all of them.

Warren Speaks To Missouri Press Group

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 17 (AP)—David M. Warren, publisher of the Panhandle Herald, Panhandle, told the Missouri Press Association today that publishers of small city daily newspapers would profit by studying population trends.

He cited the growth of small city dailies in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Kansas and said census figures "may help you know whether you live in a city that is going to remain at 10,000 population forever, whether it has prospects to grow larger or even to decrease."

Warren is publisher of the Berger Daily Herald and vice president of the Texas Press Association. His address was in connection with the 32nd annual journalism week at the school of journalism of the University of Missouri of which he is a graduate.

Warren said a study of the 1940 census figures showed: 1. In the 14 southern states from Texas east, including Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kentucky, Virginia, Maryland all states south of that line, there are 236 cities of more than 10,000 population. Only 14 of these lost inhabitants and this decrease totaled only 19,447.

2. There are 143 cities of more than 10,000 population in the 14 states west of Texas and north of Oklahoma. Of these, 126 gained in the last decade. The 17 which lost decreased only 10,610.

3. The other 21 states have 692 cities in the 10,000 class; 260 of these lost, 432 gained.

"Such shifting of population," said Warren "cannot keep even-ly from affecting newspaper values and earnings; particularly if the trend continues another decade."

WORRIED

A suspenseful murder mystery with a punch, well-acted and full of surprises, is "The Film Daily's" rating of 20th-Fox's "Michael Shayne, Private Detective," with Lloyd Nolan, Marjorie Weaver, and Walter Abel heading the cast of the 77-minute pic. Pretty Miss Weaver is shown above, registering "worry," because she was found at the scene of the crime. On the Rex screen Wednesday and Thursday.

You have been told that there are no new frontiers in America, but there is a noticeable trend to the south and to the west. Particularly is that true of Florida, California, Texas and North Carolina.

He said the "growth of the press of the Panhandle of Texas and the surrounding area has been astonishing. When I went to the Amarillo News and the Daily Panhandle combination in 1918 there were no dail-

Many Flowers Turn West Texas Plains Into Bright Garden

Special To The NEWS: LUBBOCK, May 17—With the whole of West Texas as a setting the coming of summer has occasioned one of the most brilliant coming-out parties ever staged by mother nature, as evidenced by the abundance of green vegetation and the myriads of multi-colored blossoms to be found by nature lovers on the South Plains.

Abundant rains and excellent underground moisture, combined with the rich soils of this fairland of beauty have resulted in the blooming of literally thousands of native flowers and shrubs.

Some of the most common of these are the fluttermill or yellow primrose, the Mallocks or copper and red stars, the bright blue Tahoka daisy, the wine red stork-bill geranium, the purple pinks verbenas, the yellow daisy-like blue weed, the blue eyed grass, the four leaved, the silver leaved and the lazy daisies.

"Now you will find dailies, in addition to those cities, in Lubbock, Vernon, Plainview, Pampa and Berger, Texas; Mangum, Hobart, Altus, Clinton and Woodward, Okla.; also a small daily in Guymon, Okla., a city of 2,500; Liberal, Kan., Raton, Tucuman, Clovis, Fortales, Hobbs and Carlsbad, N. M., and a second daily at Roswell."

City Treasury Has Balance

Of $23,043.39

Annual report of operations of the city of Pampa shows the balance of all city funds at the end of the fiscal year, March 31, 1941, as $23,043.39.

When the present city administration took over in April, 1940, there was an outstanding liability of $8,000 carried over. Not only has this $8,000 liability been eliminated but a total balance of nearly three times that amount created. Of the $8,000, one-fourth that sum, or $2,000 was due the Board of City Development.

What the city departments have been accomplishing in the past year was reviewed today in an outline of departmental activities.

The outline covers the departments of health, fire, police, streets, and parks.

A busy branch of the city government during the year has been the health department, which sponsored the venereal clinic in conjunction with the Texas Health department.

New paving last year totaled 18 blocks, six blocks on Hobart, three blocks each on Harvester, and all-ways; two blocks each on Charles and Mary Ellen; one block on Russell and one on Wynne.

Seal coating was put down on 70 blocks last summer, a total of 100,000 square yards.

Streets To Be Topped Listed as needing topping are 17 blocks, as follows: On Tuke, from Barnes to Gillespie, one block; Cravens, Cuyler to Russell, one-half; Harvester, Christine to Duncan, one; Wynne, Kingsmill to Foster, one; Russell, Louisiana to Kentucky, one and one-half.

Georgia, Christine to Duncan, one; West, Francis to Kingsmill, one; Thut, Cuyler to Russell, one; Louisiana, Christine to Duncan, one; Sloan, one; Sloan, Browning to Fisher, two; Twiford, Sloan to LeFors, two.

Fisher, Sloan to LeFors, two; Browning to Fisher, two; Louisiana, Christine to Duncan, one; total blocks, 12 1/2.

Street Markers The city has 368 street markers ready for installation. These markers were constructed last year under WPA project.

Train Policemen Directed by John B. Wilkinson, chief, the police department has conducted its own training school for employes. In this course, intelligence tests were given, training given in public relations, and study encouraged to increase efficiency.

All of the policemen were uniformed with the city paying one-half of the cost ($84). Putting the men in uniform has added to the respect by the public to the department, and increases the men's pride in their jobs.

Broadcasts For the past six months radio talks on safety and crime prevention have been presented in a five-minute daily series over Station KPDM.

Fast Contact Tests made by the department show that the maximum time required to contact a police car is three minutes. Installation of a signal

Water supplied to parks from the water department is at no cost and does not figure in the $5,884.74 required last year for salaries, labor, and equipment.

Salient in the report of the fire department is the loss of 10 men to the army. This has necessitated the training of 10 others for duty during the past year.

Equipment purchased totals $1,500, of which $900 was for 1,000 feet of fire hose, $600 for extra equipment.

Only Four Boys Do Not Have Derby Sponsors

A score of boys attended the final session of the Soap Box Derby clinic yesterday morning at the Rex theater. Mark Bratton, 1940 city champion, answered questions of the boys concerning the building and racing of the model automobiles.

D. L. Parker, general derby chairman, found that only four of the boys present did not have sponsors.

Attention of the boys attending the meeting, yesterday was called to the racer built by Bratton, which won the prize as the best designed car in the 1940 all-American and International Soap Box derby finals at Akron, Ohio, last August.

The car is on display in a window of The Pampa News.

Date of the third annual Pampa News-Pampa Lions club Soap Box derby is July 17-18, one month before the national finals are held at Akron.

SERIAL STORY

THREE TO MAKE READY

BY W. H. PEARS

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Paula is summoned to the principal's office when Bill's photo hits page one with a story on the League news.

DR. LUD EXPLAINS

CHAPTER V

IN the days that followed Paula's interview with Van Horn she saw little of either Chris or Tony.

Even the Sweetland, where Paula strolled one evening, held only a few students. They, like herself, were having coffee between study sessions.

"Too long, no see, Paula," he said. She laughed. "They ought to put a sign over Cardman Arch-Concentration Camp. Everybody's doing it."

"Except Chris," Tony said. "All his night work is strictly slim, blond and perious. Chris is a brilliant guy, but I wonder if he can spend his time fooling with stuff like this and make the grade?"

Tony laid a mimeographed sheet on the table. Clever, incisive, it attacked the "snobbery" of Greek-letter societies. The style was unmistakably Wentrich's.

"This stuff is all over," Tony said. "I found one under my door."

"Tony, what do you make of the League?" He shrugged. "Naturally I've heard rumors, but..."

"But you don't believe them," Paula finished approvingly. Tony wouldn't, she thought. He was not the sort to listen to campus gossip.

"It's not our affair," Tony said. Paula stood up, determination in her hazel eyes. "The other day I made a promise, Tony. Well, I intend to keep it. We're going to Dr. Lud for help."

MARTIN LUD lived in a bungalow at the edge of the campus. A spinster sister kept house for him, but he was alone when Paula and Tony arrived.

"This is a welcome interruption," he said, shaking hands with Tony and smiling at Paula. He led them into the book-filled study and indicated comfortable chairs.

"Paula went straight to the point. 'We've come about Chris.'"

"Young Wentrich?" Lud plucked at his close-cropped mustache. "Fiery young rascal, but I like him. Too young, energy, too many ideals; I know the type..."

"Lud seemed to be thinking aloud. 'Start them out wrong and they never recover... Is Wentrich in trouble?'"

"No," Paula admitted, "but we're afraid he will be."

"Suppose you both relax and tell me about it," Lud smiled. "Smoke your pipe, Tony; I'll join you."

Tony, with a sigh of relief, lit his big briar. A fire was laid in the grate and Lud touched a match to it. Tony shifted to face the fireplace and sat close to Paula. The flames shone and danced on her bronze hair.

"You talk, Paulie," Tony sighed, his eyes on her hair. "I just want to sit and smoke."

Lud coughed. "Perhaps I made the setting too romantic?"

"Of course not!" Paula said, blushing, but she was conscious of Tony's nearness. "Dr. Lud, Chris is getting in pretty deep with the League."

"I'm not surprised," Lud said with a frown. "Wentrich's the kind who has to be fighting for or against something. He needs a cause. Makes little difference what it is, just so it's an outlet for his emotions."

"You say you think it's all right then for Chris to..."

"I do not!" Lud said bluntly. "An organization of non-fraternity members is not in itself objectionable, but when it tries to suppress those it dislikes..."

"Well, it has forced Dr. Van Horn into a dictatorial role. He had no choice but to act as he did."

"Why?"

PAULA gasped at the bluntness of Tony's query.

Lud hesitated. "That, Tony, is a question you shouldn't have asked."

"I'm sorry, Dr. Lud."

"Apology accepted," Lud smiled. "But now that you've asked it, I'm going to answer. I've been advising you two ever since you came to Cardman. I believe you should know the sort of situation into which your friend Wentrich may be heading."

"We give you our word it will go no farther," Tony said, and Paula agreed.

"I know that," Lud said. "I suppose you've heard of Big Barney Sherwood?"

"Kilo's uncle!"

Lud nodded. "Four years ago, when the president of Cardman retired, Big Barney tried to handpick a successor. He pulled every string, but he failed. The Board wanted an educator, not a politician. Dr. Van Horn was chosen. Big Barney has lots of power; since then he's used every ounce of it to discredit the present administration."

"I get it," Tony murmured. Lud continued: "Recently two of the Board died and were replaced by Big Barney's party hacks. He now has the power to oust Dr. Van Horn, but he doesn't dare try it without a reason. Van Horn's record is too good. But if dissension should spring up here, something too violent for Van Horn to handle..."

Lud shrugged. "You can see for yourselves..."

Paula's eyes flashed. "Then you think Kilo is using the League to help her uncle?"

"I didn't say that, Paula," Lud objected. "I'm not making guesses. Kilo really hates the Greek-letter societies. When she came to Cardman she had her heart set on being a Gamma Tau. She tried to use her uncle's power and money for a wedge, and the Gamma Taus wouldn't have her."

"Why, I never heard that story!" Paula exclaimed.

"Which speaks well for your girls," Lud grinned. "We on the faculty think Dr. Van Horn is about the finest educator in the country. He's done more for this school than anyone since Elias Cardman. We feel that education should be kept free of politics. We don't want a bunch of misguided youngsters wrecking things."

"May we tell Chris about this?" Paula asked.

"Wentrich's enthusiasm for new causes is dangerous," Lud said. "Tell him anything that will check him."

"Why?"

PAULA and Tony arose to go. Lud followed them to the porch. Lights from the Gamma Tau house were visible through the trees.

"It's only a few steps home for Paula," Lud said. "Tony, will you permit me to stroll across with her?"

Tony pretended to grumble, but he agreed.

When he had gone Lud turned to Paula: "You're worried about Chris Wentrich, but what about Tony?"

"Tony?" Paula laughed. "Tony would never get into trouble."

Lud emitted an unprofessional snort. "The boy's in love with your Paula."

"You're... mistaken," Paula gasped. "He... couldn't be."

"You know better than that, my dear."

And, deep within her, Paula had to admit that she did.

Notable Figure In History Of Baylor U. Dies

WACO, May 17 (AP)—A coincidence of time covering the passing of figures notable for their length of service to Baylor university increased to three fold Wednesday afternoon with the death of W. H. Pool who had been associated with that institution for over 49 years.

Dr. Rufus C. Burleson died on May 14, 1901, and death claimed Dr. S. P. Brooks May 14, 1921.

As the Baylor flag was lowered to half mast today in memory of Mr. Pool, President Pat M. Neff of the university expressed the sentiment of Baylor university and Southwest Baptist circles for the beloved Baptist leader with these words:

"For half a century he wove into the warp and woof of Baylor university a fabric of the finest texture."

Services will be tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. at Seventh and James church, Waco, of which Mr. Pool was almost a lifelong member and deacon.

Mr. Pool, 82, is survived by his widow and seven children: Mrs. Henry Trantham, Mrs. Jack Gourley, Mrs. Frank Baldwin, Waco; Burgess Pool and W. H. Pool, Jr., Houston; Horace Pool, Dallas, and N. A. Pool, Washington, D. C.; a sister, Mrs. Jimi Doherty, Arlington; two brothers, County Judge J. B. Pool of Hico, William Pool, Grand Prairie; four grandsons and one granddaughter.

Mr. Pool's close and long association with Baylor is augmented by the fact that all members of his family have degrees from that university. He graduated from Baylor in 1887 and in 1890 was married to Miss Laura Puryear, a Baylor graduate of 1890.

Mr. Pool knew every Baptist pastor of this state personally, almost all the Baptist pastors of the Southwest and there were few ex-students of Baylor graduating during his tenure whom he could not call by their first names the instant he encountered them. His acquaintance with Baylor students and their family history was not excelled by any attaché of the university.

Defense Workers May Live In Trailers

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP)—Caravans of government-owned deluxe trailers soon may be rolling down the highways to defense production centers which are plagued with housing shortages.

This solution for the acute housing problem prevalent near some defense projects won approval today of a senate appropriations subcommittee which voted to insert $15,000,000 for this purpose in an emergency housing bill.

Charles F. Palmer, defense housing co-ordinator, told the committee the government could buy homes-on-wheels—large enough to house a family of five in an emergency—for about $1,000 each if it purchased in quantities.

The 18,500 trailers thus acquired could be used, he said, to house workers on isolated projects such as powder factories, or could be utilized to give shelter to workmen building more permanent quarters for other defense employees.

The committee also approved a $150,000,000 expenditure previously voted by the house for constructing homes, schools and utilities in communities which have had a large influx of defense workers.

State Medical Group Elects Judson Taylor

PORT WORTH, May 17 (AP)—Dr. Judson Taylor, of Houston, was named president-elect of the State Medical Association of Texas at the concluding session of the house of delegates today at Hotel Texas which ended the four-day convention.

Chosen vice presidents-elect were Dr. C. O. Terrell, of Fort Worth, and R. B. Touchstone, of Lufkin.

Dr. N. D. Bule, of Marlin, president-elect in 1940, became the association's new active president with class of the delegates meeting, succeeding Dr. Preston Hunt, of Texarkana.

At the same time Dr. Holman Taylor, of Fort Worth, began his thirty-second year as secretary-treasurer of the organization. He was elected to a two-year term last year.

The final general meeting of the association brought before the convention a summary of the most recent advances in the onward march of medical science.

Dr. W. S. Leathers of Vanderbilt university school of medicine, Nashville, Tenn., last of four speakers at the session, detailed the following advances:

1. Increase in medical knowledge has extended the average expectancy of human life approximately 15 years since the beginning of the twentieth century.
2. The most significant advances have been in the control of human disease. There are now less typhoid fever, dysentery, hookworm, diphtheria and other respiratory infections. Such diseases as cholera, bubonic plague, epidemic typhus fever and yellow fever have been greatly decreased. The triumph of science over yellow fever is the most reassuring accomplishment in preventive medicine.
3. The strides which are being made in the control of syphilis and other venereal diseases are of tremendous importance to the nation's welfare. Particularly is this true in regard to the needs of national defense. Diagnosis and treatment of the disease is becoming more uniform, with 18 states now requiring medical examinations as a prerequisite for license to marry and 17 requiring that physicians make blood tests in accredited laboratories for all expectant mothers.
4. The level of health of our children is being raised steadily. Approximately 50 per cent of infant deaths occur during the first month of life, but we now have learned how to prevent many of these fatalities. The 108,000 infant deaths in 1939 should be reduced 40 per cent in the next decade.
5. Our ideas of nutrition have been revolutionized, especially of the infant and growing child. Such conditions as scurvy, rickets and pellagra are being successfully prevented. The use of nicotinic acid for the cure of pellagra is one of the great discoveries of modern times.
6. Better trained physicians and other workers are advancing public health by leaps and bounds throughout the nation.

Convoys Approved At WTCC Convention

MINERAL WELLS, May 17 (AP)—The West Texas chamber of commerce today swung into the final sessions of a two-day meeting after approving convoys or any other means of getting American aid to Britain and endorsing federal expenditures necessary to national defense.

The powerful works committee drew a resolution asking, however, that the federal government curtail expenditures not essential to national defense. The committee's approval of a resolution is tantamount to adoption by the full directorate.

The committee also reported out resolutions recommending Texas to the national administration as a site of additional defense for this section, and urging final enactment of legislation before congress authorizing 85 per cent parity loans on basic agricultural products.

White Deer Seniors To Graduate Friday

Special To The NEWS: WHITE DEER, May 17—"I Dare You" was the theme of the graduation program presented by the senior class Friday at 8 o'clock at the grade school auditorium.

Introduced by the sponsor, Wendell Cain, members of the class discussed four phases of their theme; Jennette Moore, "Creative Thinking"; Dolores Bishop, "Character"; Kenneth Huey, "Character"; and Martha Jo Freeman, "Physical Fitness."

The high school quartet composed of Max Helen Pickens, Beatrice Haiduk, Nelrose Horton, and LaVelle Horton, sang "Sweet and Low" and "Sing Along."

The Venado Blanco Citizenship award was presented by the club president, Miss Claudia Everly, and Principal Glenn F. Davis presented copies of the inspirational book "I Dare You," to the students chosen as most likely to succeed.

Supt. George A. Heath and J. R. Nicholson, president of the board of trustees presented the diplomas.

Members of the graduating class were Anna Lou Anderson, Winifred Eichel, Ollie Buchanan, Irene Adams, Christine Austin, Johna Ruth Butler, Max Castleberry, Clarence Bednorz, Everist Bednorz,

Changing Laws Bring Trouble To Tax Offices

Legislative procedure in swiftly changing laws without much consideration is causing headaches in county tax offices over the state.

First there was the extension of the registration date on trucks from April 1 to April 15, then to April 28. Adding to the confusion was the lower fee schedules. Now after some of the truck owners have paid for their licenses at the old rates, they're entitled to a refund.

The refund deal, however, comes a long time after the truck owners signed up. There's no time limit set when the paying of these refunds will end.

Certificates Lacking Headache 2 is a new form for certificates of title. The Gray county tax office lacks a supply of these. The forms are to be sent soon, the county office has been informed, but that's not doing any good now.

This means that registration of new motor vehicles is going ahead without the issuance of certificates of title, which must come later.

There's also a monkey wrench in the machinery on the same basis in transfer of motor vehicles.

For three weeks this situation has
