Pampans Held Up, Robbed Of $72 In Cash

Stanley Admits He Had 50 Cases Of Liquor In Car

A verdict of guilty was returned and a sentence of five years in the penitentiary was assessed Leroy Eggleston, on a robbery charge, in 31st district court at Wheeler at 10 o'clock last night.

Eggleston had been charged in alleged connection with the taking of $72 in currency from Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Stanley of Pampa last January 3 on the highway near Mobeetie. The hijacking occurred, according to testimony at the trial, after the Stanley automobile had been forced to halt and hit three times, and fired to halt beside the road.

Eggleston had been charged with robbery in a complaint filed in justice court at Wheeler last January. County officers referred to Eggleston a "Little Oscar." He is the same man who was injured here last winter when he attacked Sheriff Cal Rose in the courthouse.

District Judge W. R. Ewing presided at the trial yesterday, which opened the fourth week of the current term of 31st district court at Wheeler.

Dennis and Marion Reynolds represented the defense, County Attorney Homer Moss and District Attorney Bud Martin the state.

Trial Ends Suddenly
A surprise finish to the testimony, which had been expected to last at least for one more day, came in mid-afternoon when both state and defense announced a rest, and Judge Ewing began preparation of the charge.

Argument was finished about 4 o'clock and the case went to the jury.

Mr. Moss, Wheeler county attorney, made the opening talk in the state's argument. He was followed by Dennis Reynolds and Marion Reynolds, defense attorneys, with District Attorney Martin concluding for the state.

In his charge to the jury, Judge Ewing stated that the law provided that when force, threats to life were used in robberies, the sentence might be for life or for any number of years imprisonment, not less than five.

A sentence of more than the minimum was asked by the state.

Only Five Witnesses
Witnesses heard were C. D. West of Shamrock, Texas highway patrolman formerly stationed at Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Stanley, Pampa; and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Howard, who live three miles east of Laketon.

Other witnesses who were sworn in but not called to the stand were C. G. Miller, publisher of The Wheeler Times; H. J. Cobb, and H. S. Shifflett, city detectives, Fort Worth; Sam Cambren, Gray county deputy sheriff, and E. B. Emerson, both of Pampa.

A grilling cross-examination was made by Dennis Reynolds of the witness, Ivan Stanley. It was along this line that the defense centered its activity.

Highway Group To Meet In Allison

Pampa will be represented at a highway meeting in Allison Wednesday afternoon when final plans will be made for completing an organization to advertise and secure designation of a highway from Cheyenne, Okla., to Mobeetie, Texas, via Reynolds, Okla., and Allison, Texas.

Reid Simson, chairman of the highway committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, will lead the local delegation. The meeting will be at 3 o'clock in the Allison high school auditorium.

L. E. Malone of Cheyenne, Okla., president of the organization which will be given a name at tomorrow's meeting.

Designation and paving of the road between Cheyenne and Mobeetie would give an all paved highway between Pampa and Tulsa, Okla., which would be nearly 100 miles shorter than by any present route.

The temporary organization was set up at a meeting here two weeks ago.

PASSIVE PENGUINS GIVE BYRD BASE THE ONCE-OVER

Impressive as a bevy of diplomats at a grand ball, penguins waddle over to the Byrd expedition's west base and stick out their shiny, well-furred fronts. This new photo from the Antarctic is probably the best of a long line of swell, rib-tickling penguin pictures.

Worley Announces Survey Of Panhandle By War Department

Rep. Eugene Worley of the national congress would like to see the Panhandle made a defense location, and he is asking that each section of the entire Panhandle cooperate with officials of the war department and with one another, and point out every single one of the advantages offered from all sections of the Panhandle area.

Stock Market Comes Out Of Hibernation

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP)—The long slumbering stock market came out of hibernation today to record a spirited advance in the wake of a new sharp rise in leading commodities.

In the stock exchange steel, rail, oil and specialty shares vied for leadership and volume approached the million-share mark, which was two to three times the dealings of many of the quiet sessions in the last few months.

Wall Street trading sources said the market's recently improved resistance to a tenor "war psychology" accounted in part for the revival in buying interest. Both markets, wheat at new highs for the season and cotton at new peaks since the summer of 1937, were made buoyant by hopes for congressional approval of a pending program which would establish government loan values for both staples at 85 per cent of parity prices.

Cotton futures in New York and Chicago wheat were the pace-makers of the commodity rise. Both markets, wheat at new highs for the season and cotton at new peaks since the summer of 1937, were made buoyant by hopes for congressional approval of a pending program which would establish government loan values for both staples at 85 per cent of parity prices.

100 Russian Agents Will Leave U. S.

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP)—Federal court proceedings today disclosed that approximately 100 Russian purchasing agents were planning to leave the United States immediately because they could obtain no export facilities for their purchases.

This was revealed when an attorney for Galk Badolovich Ovakimian arrested yesterday on charges he had failed to register as a foreign operative until he was ready to leave the country, told the court that Ovakimian was an official purchasing agent.

Radio-Screen Singer On Stamps Program

Millon Estes, formerly of Hollywood, California, where he was featured in motion pictures and on both the National Broadcasting company and Columbia Broadcasting company networks, will be master of ceremonies when the Stamps-Baxter Lone Star Quartet presents a concert tonight at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. The program is being sponsored by the Junior High Parent-Teachers association.

Mr. Estes played with Gene Autry in the picture, "Gold Mine in the Sky," a Western musical, and was with Eddie Cantor and the Camel Caravan on the radio before moving to Wichita Falls.

Admission to the concert will be 15 cents for students and 25 cents for adults. Musical organizations from all parts of the Panhandle have been invited to attend the concert.

Members of the quartet are young men who feature popular, comedy, spiritual and serious numbers. Tonight's concert will be varied with the quartet featuring negro spirituals for which they are famous.

The quartet was organized many years ago in Wichita Falls by the late Virgil O. Stamps. It is heard regularly over Radio Station KWFT at Wichita Falls.

Members of the quartet are Milton Estes, second tenor, Ralph Gage, first tenor, "Rosie" Roseberry, baritone, Shaw Elland, base, and Edwin Daggett, piano.

Amateur Rodeo To Be Held At Folks Fiesta

By popular demand the 1941 Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta will have an amateur rodeo. Literally hundreds of people in this community have been lobbying the Jaycees for a rodeo for weeks, and last night the steering committee broke down and said "yes."

Members of the committee voted unanimously to sponsor an amateur rodeo after the plan was explained. An amateur rodeo at Spearman last week was attended by 3,000 persons. The steering committee let it be known that they were not "through" with rodeos—just professional rodeos which they compared "rackets" and "big gyms." An amateur rodeo, they said, was a rodeo with all the evils of the professional rodeo lacking. Contestants will come from southwest ranches, towns and cities, as will the livestock which will not be trained.

The steering committee composed of Finis Stillwell, Charlie Gunn, Joe Tooley, Bob Miller, L. H. Johnson, Jimmy Dodge, Tip Windom, B. B. Altman, also decided that the official costume for the Fiesta would be overalls for the men (overalls of the striped variety) and sunbonnets and aprons for the women. Whoever wants to grow whiskers can grow them, but the Jaycees will have none of it.

It was decided that the Fiesta will last really only two days—June 13 and 14. The Fiesta will open the afternoon of June 12 with registration of old timers at the gym. Dances will open the Fiesta that night. The parade will be held Friday and Saturday mornings, beginning at 11 o'clock.

And the rodeo will be held Friday and Saturday afternoon. Dances will be held each night.

This year there will be no free admission to any of the events to anyone, except prize-winners. Admission will be charged to both old and young at all events, including all dances and other special attractions.

The Jaycees are not operating for profit, but they must operate so that they will not go into debt," the steering committee announced. "We believe that the people want us to run the Fiesta without going into debt, so we have decided to charge everybody at all attractions."

The White House said a major purpose would be to consider the needs as outlined by Mr. Roosevelt in a letter to Stinson, of increasing the output of big bombers "with all possible speed." It was reported his goal is 500 heavy bombers a month.

Hopkins, it was said, has been virtually a clearing house on the lease-lease program, with representatives of governments seeking assistance coming to him with their requests. Burns will go into the office of emergency management, in the executive office of the president, as executive officer of a new division of defense aid.

The bill is similar to the one introduced in the house by Representative Favors and in the senate by Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo. The bill also had the full support of Representative Dick Craig of Miami.

John Sturgeon, Gene Green and Ray Hagan were in the senate when the bill passed the third reading, the rule suspended and the bill sent to the house for immediate consideration.

Under the terms of the bill sweet gas wells with no market outlet for light and fuel, under which sweet gas is now produced, could by order of the Texas Railroad commission be allowed to produce gas for other purposes than for light and fuel.

A large delegation of Pampa business men went to Austin last year to appeal for relief for sweet gas wells not connected with pipe lines. In December 92 such wells were shut in or production curtailed and since then have been producing only a small portion of the well potentials.

The Pampans in Austin are optimistic that the house will pass the bill.

Truck Load Of Pennies Buy Defense Bonds

PARIS, May 6 (AP)—Dick Hopper had to use a truck to get his money to the post office when he swapped it for some of those United States defense bonds.

The reason: It was all in pennies—54,200 of them.

Postmaster T. W. Russell had to do the counting.

Hopper had been saving pennies for two years.

Peace Officers Elect Sheriff Rose President

Gray county's sheriff, Cal Rose, was elected president of the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma Peace Officers association for 1941-42 at the opening day of the association's spring convention in Childress Monday.

Sheriff Rose was vice-president of the association for the past year. He succeeds Bud Taylor of Durant, Okla., as the chief officer.

Highlighting today's program will be a talk on fifth column activity in the United States, given by A. P. Kitchin of the FBI, Dallas, and a pistol shoot at the Childress Fair Park stadium.

The semi-annual gathering opened Sunday afternoon and will continue through today with more than 200 officers in attendance.

Attending the convention from Pampa are Sheriff Rose, Deputy Dan Cambren, and W. C. Dillman, of the Pampa police department.

Convoying Urged By Sooner Solon

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—Rep. Patrick (D-Ark.) today urged the house again today that "we ought to start convoying immediately."

In a one-minute speech, Patrick said that if "England's back is broken," the United States would no longer have the protection of two fleets. The safest course, he contended, was to put material for England under the guard of American warships.

"We would be in a sad plight if we would wait as long as we seem to," he said, "to start convoying immediately."

Late News

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt and his principal advisers on defense and war aid met for an hour and a half today in a conference which the white house said centered on speeding the production of heavy bombing planes.

None of the participants would discuss the parley, called by Mr. Roosevelt.

LONDON, May 6 (AP)—The House of Lords voted unanimous confidence in the Churchill government today after two and one half hours debate paralleling the House of Commons discussion of the conduct of the war.

One observer called the debate "healthy heart-searching without the slightest embarrassment to the government."

All Men Invited To Hear Popenoe Speak

Attention of the sponsors for the series of lectures to be given here tomorrow by Dr. Paul Popenoe of Los Angeles, counselor on family relations, was directed to that fact that the luncheon tomorrow is for all men of the community and the meeting to be held Wednesday afternoon is for all women of the community.

Some persons have thought the lectures open only to members of sporting clubs.

Pampa Rotarians, Lions, and Kiwanians will join together with other men of the community at the luncheon at noon tomorrow at the First Methodist church.

At the high school auditorium at 2:30 o'clock that afternoon will be held the lecture for all the women of Pampa, and the 8 o'clock meeting tomorrow night, also to be held in the auditorium, is open to the general public, men, women, and young people.

Meetings to be held tomorrow morning at the high school auditorium are primarily for the junior and senior high students.

Better Relations Objective
Dr. Popenoe's chief concern is better family relations: helping young people to get along with their parents and with one another, helping parents in their problems with young people, helping husbands and wives to understand each other and get along together.

It is his idea that where family relations are good homes do not

British Isles Battered In Violent Raids

Clyde Shipyards Attacked By German Raiders

(By The Associated Press)
British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden couped a hurry-up appeal today for United States war materials with a warning to the Arab peoples of the Middle East not to side with the Axis at the cost of their freedom.

Even as he spoke, fighting spread in the "Arabian Nights" kingdom of Iraq in the dispute over the presence of British troops.

RAF warplanes bombed Iraq airfields, motor transport and other military positions; and London quarters made it clear that Britain was determined to fight rather than yield to the regime of Premier Rashid Ali Al Gailani, even at the risk of opening new war front.

Eden declared that Britain's paramount need is ships and more munitions "because every move in the diplomatic field is conditioned by our military strength."

"Every effort," he said, "must be made to reduce the disparity, for it is there we shall find the key to victory in diplomacy just as much as on the battlefield."

With a diplomatic eye on Turkey, Eden said he was confident that country would stand by her military alliance with Great Britain.

The war in the air mounted in fury.

(By The Associated Press)
Germany's Rhineland felt the scourge of a "made-in-England" blitz today—a series of raids in which RAF bombers reported attacks on Frankfurt-am-Main, Mannheim and other Rhine industrial centers as well as on the Nazi-held Ruhr coast.

A Berlin announcement said the RAF bombed the ancient German university town of Heidelberg, known for its student dwellers, and hit academic and hospital buildings.

The British, omitting mention of any assault on Heidelberg, said "a great weight of big explosive bombs was rained on Mannheim, while other RAF raiders attacked the channel ports of Boulogne and Cherbourg."

The Germans said RAF bombs were directed at unspecified "well-known" resorts in southern and southwestern Germany, and declared that military objectives were nowhere hit.

Hitler's Luftwaffe countered with equally violent raids on the British Isles, striking again at Belfast, the capital of Northern Ireland, where 79 deaths were reported in Sunday night's raid, and a fiercely attacking Scotland's west Clyde river shipyards which stretch from Glasgow to the sea. Liverpool's Merseyside docks were raked by bombs for the fifth consecutive night.

British statement acknowledged that the Germans, hitting in

Denison Dam Again Before High Court

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—A challenge by Oklahoma of the constitutionality of federal construction of the $45,000,000 Denison Dam across the Red River which flows between Texas and Oklahoma came before the supreme court today for argument.

Governor Leon C. Phillips of Oklahoma contended the hydroelectric and flood control project violated state rights, would inundate approximately 100,000 acres of Oklahoma land and would destroy highways and bridges.

In a brief filed with the high tribunal on his behalf he asserted that if the federal government constitutionally could take 100,000 acres it could take "the whole state" and "destroy" Oklahoma "one of the United States."

In reply the justice department said the project was constitutional because it would aid navigation and flood control and "promote the general welfare."

Oklahoma appealed from a ruling by a three judge federal court in eastern Oklahoma in favor of the federal government.

Beta Sigma Phi Will Observe Mother's Day

Plans for the observance of Mother's Day were made at a meeting of the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening in the home of Mrs. R. M. Klingner with Miss Louise Smith as hostess.

Members of the chapter and their mothers are to attend the morning services of the First Presbyterian church Sunday in a group. All who are planning to attend are asked to call Miss Johnnie Davis before 6 o'clock Friday evening.

In the business session conducted by Mrs. Charles Vaughn, the organization voted to sponsor a Little Miss Pampa contest. Annual reports of the chapter were discussed and arrangements were made to enter the publicity contest of the international sorority.

Continuing the review of the study on "Happiness," Mrs. Kermit Lawson led the program for the evening with Miss Dorothy Jo Taylor taking part also.

Observing a sorority tradition, Miss Evelyn Gregory presented a box of candy to the chapter to announce her engagement and approaching marriage to W. N. Anderson.

Refreshments of chocolate ice cream flower pots topped with sprigs of mint and cookies were served by the hostess to Mrs. J. B. Massa, director, Mrs. Raymond Harnah, director, Oscar Hinger, W. G. Gaskins, Roy Johnson, Kermit Lawson, Fred Thompson, R. M. Klingner, E. E. Shelhamer, and Misses Evelyn Gregory, Dorothy Jo Taylor, Helen Houston, Lois Cambren, Frankie Shugart, Johnnie Hodge, Cleora Standard, Margaret Stockstill, Winifred Wiseman, and Johnnie Davis.

Mrs. Jeff Bearden will be hostess at the next regular meeting on May 19.

In April, 1917, the army had 3,039 trucks and 437 automobiles. One and one-half years later it had 85,000 trucks and many cars and ambulances.

IF YOUR CHILD IS PALE and THIN

The reason may be WORMS! Roundworms may be keeping your child underweight, pale, weak. And anybody, anywhere, can "catch" this dreadful ailment. Yes, the worms may be inside your child right now, stealing vital nourishment, and causing uneasy stomach, restless sleep, itchy nose and seat, and even worse trouble!

Don't let your child suffer! If you even suspect roundworms, get Jayne's Vermifuge today! It acts thoroughly, yet so very gently that if no worms are there, it works merely as a mild laxative. Jayne's is America's leading proprietary worm medicine; scientifically tested and used by millions for over a century. Insist on Jayne's Vermifuge.

They had all sorts of sensible-sounding reasons for thinking Today's Mother was foolish. "Everything would be all right" before it was a great deal worse.

Some of her friends and a number of older people said, "How foolish to bring a child into the world at this time. Why didn't she wait to see how things will go? For all she knows her husband may be in the army in a few months—and think how a baby will complicate her life if it becomes necessary for her to earn her own living."

They had all sorts of sensible-sounding reasons for thinking Today's Mother was foolish. She could have answered them had she wished—for she herself had thought of every one of their reasons for waiting.

But she had what she believed were better reasons for going ahead and having a child.

The first reason was simple. She wanted a child—and she didn't want to wait for it until world conditions straightened themselves out. Experts said it might take years.

Then, too, she had faith in herself—faith that she could, if it became necessary, take care of both herself and her child, alone. Other women had done it—not only in war, but in peacetime.

Another thing, if war should come to America, perhaps she could get her child here for his father to see and enjoy a while before he was called away from home.

It never occurred to her to question what kind of heritage she would be offering her child. She knew that he would be born into, live and grow up in a free country.

She is today's Mother—and proud of it.

She's Today's Mother And Proud Of It, Too

"It never occurred to her to question what kind of heritage she would be offering her child."

She knew that he would be born into, live and grow up in a free country."

By RUTH MILLETT She is truly Today's Mother. Her child was born in one of the troubled months of 1940 or early 41.

She knew she would bring her child into an uncertain, insecure world even while she was deciding that she had a perfect right to do so. Never for a minute was she lulled into thinking that "everything would be all right" before it was a great deal worse.

Some of her friends and a number of older people said, "How foolish to bring a child into the world at this time. Why didn't she wait to see how things will go? ### Methodist WSCS Circles Continue Study Of Migrants

Women's Society of Christian Service met in circles Monday afternoon for a continuation of the study, "Uprooted Americans." The lesson was on the church service to migrants, and a survey of the conditions of the migrant workers in the Methodist church for migrant workers in the United States was discussed.

Circle one met in the home of Mrs. W. M. Pearce with 13 members present. Mrs. Bob McCoy conducted a short business meeting. A letter from the pastor, written by Joseph T. Hodge, of San Francisco was read by Mrs. E. L. Gallimore. Mrs. McCoy told the story, "People Who Love Us." Mrs. W. M. Pearce led the study. The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. M. Pearce.

Circle two met in the home of Mrs. A. F. Johnson with nine members present. The meeting was opened with the singing, "What A Friend We Have in Jesus" and prayer by Mrs. Carl Boston. Mrs. H. Price Doster had charge of the devotional which was taken from Psalm 119. Mrs. Fred Carey, who presented the lesson study, was assisted by Mrs. Fred Kinard, Mrs. Lawrence West, and Mrs. J. B. Williams. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Harry Burden.

Circle three met in the church parlor with Mrs. A. E. Fullington as hostess. The meeting was opened by group singing and a devotional led by Mrs. J. Coughlin Smyth. Mrs. Art Hurst had charge of the lesson study assisted by Mesdames W. D. Waters, John Hodge, C. V. Small, and Mrs. W. A. Hatcher. The meeting was closed with prayer. They will meet next time with Mrs. Curtis Douglas, 1322 N. Charles.

Circle four met in the home of Mrs. Lee Harrah with nine members present. Lieutenant Henry Lee Gordon, the circle's adopted soldier, on visiting his sister, visited with the circle. The chairman, Mrs. W. A. Rankin, conducted the devotional from the "Methodist Women." The study was given by Mrs. C. W. Ward and Mrs. W. A. Rankin. The next meeting will be with Mrs. E. P. Hollinger.

Circle five met in the home of Mrs. C. W. Hill, 612 West Francis, when 12 members and one visitor, Mrs. Leslie Hart, were present. Mrs. J. A. Purvis conducted a short business session. Mrs. J. E. Massa was assisted by Mrs. A. Z. Kehler. The study was given by Mrs. C. W. Hill and Mrs. W. A. Rankin. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Travis Lively, 1012 E. Browning.

Circle six met in the Clara Hill classroom with Mrs. A. J. Averitt as hostess to 10 members. After the business session conducted by Mrs. J. A. Purvis, Mrs. A. Z. Kehler, the chairman, Mrs. John Hesse had charge of the study, assisted by Mrs. G. C. Walstead. They will meet with Mrs. Joe Shelton, 523 N. Russell next week.

Circle seven met with Mrs. E. L. Emerson with nine members present. Mrs. H. E. Goodwin was a new member. Roll call was answered by giving scripture verses. Mrs. E. L. Emerson gave the devotional which was taken from the "Methodist Women" and Mrs. Frank Shotwell presented the lesson study. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Horace McCabe. Next week Mrs. W. L. Dewap, 621 N. Hobart will be the hostess.

Circle eight met at the home of Mrs. Joe Wells, 818 South Cuyler, Monday evening. There were 15 members present. Mrs. R. H. Robinson, present. After the business session was conducted by Miss Lillian Mullinax, Mrs. Harold Wright reported on the meeting at Abilene. Mrs. Flandie Gallman had charge of the devotional which was opened by group singing "I Love Thy Kingdom Lord." Mrs. Gallman also had charge of the study assisted by Miss Florence Webbert. The circle decided to adopt a soldier boy. It was also agreed to continue the circle meetings through the summer months. The next meeting is to be in the form of a picnic supper at the home of Mrs. W. M. Pearce.

Circle nine met at the home of Mrs. Ruth Wilkerson, Mrs. Dick Sullins, and Mrs. L. H. Sullins complimented Mrs. Sam Johnson with a miscellaneous shower recently in the home of Mrs. L. H. Sullins.

Mrs. Johnson was presented a corsage of pink and white sweet peas, a box of candy, a box of pink and blue streamers, forming a May pole, and to each streamer was attached a gift.

Refreshments of ice cream storks and angel food cake were served. Presenting gifts to the honoree were Mesdames J. L. McClendon, Jimmie Martins, Walter Burnett, C. E. Treto, Ann Kay, W. E. James, Dan Glaxner, Phelps, C. A. Huff, Ruth Wilkerson, and Dick Sullins.

Sam Houston P-TA To Present Radio Program Wednesday

Continuing the weekly series of programs being presented over Radio Station KPBN by the City Council-Parent-Teacher association on the theme, "Pampa and Its Youth," Sam Houston school will be in charge of the broadcast Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Arrangements for the program on "Citizens in the Making," have been made by Mrs. Lee Harrah, president of the school's unit.

Mrs. V. L. Hobbs will speak on "How Would You Describe a Good Citizen" after which Principal Winston Savage will speak on "The Experiences at Home, School, and Elsewhere That Help Young People in Making a Good Citizen."

PIANISTS

Taking part in the piano recital to be presented by Mrs. May Foreman Garr Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the First Christian church in observance of National Music Week will be Margaret Burton, above, and Betty Lee Thomson, below. Miss Burton is to play "The Sea" (Stoye), and Miss Thomson will play Polonaise American (Carpenter). The public is invited to attend this annual program.

Mrs. Meers Gives History Of First Christian Church

In the absence of the Rev. B. A. Norris, who is attending the International Convention of Christian churches at St. Louis, Mo., the services at the First Christian church Sunday were in charge of the laymen. The speaker of the morning service was Travis Lively. The evening service was led by Frank Baird with the theme of the service being the history of the local church. A general history was given by Mrs. J. F. Meers, one of the eight charter members of the church, and a financial history was presented by Charles Trömanas.

The history as given by Mrs. Meers is, in part, the following: "In June, 1902, Mr. Meers and I moved to Pampa. There were only five families here at that time, but gradually other people moved in and in 1903 we had a public school, and a one-room school building was erected on the site where the Central Baptist church now stands. J. V. Thomas, older brother of Charlie Thomas, was the teacher in the school. We wanted Sunday School and church, so we had union services in this school building. Mr. Thomas doing part-time preaching. There were two other ministers in the Panhandle at that time. In 1907 a Christian minister from Clarendon, C. Beardson, held a meeting but with no visible results.

After the next two years Mrs. H. J. Lippold, a devoted and untiring worker in the church, wrote J. M. White of Amarillo to hold a meeting here, which he did, with better results, and on April 4, 1909, the Christian church was organized with the following eight people as charter members: Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lippold, Mrs. Frances Knox, Mrs. J. A. Newman, Mrs. J. M. Bell, Miss Sulte Bell, Mrs. H. M. Bailey, and myself.

Mrs. Lippold drove over the country in her buggy visiting prospective members. Rev. White came over and preached once a month until the following August, when there was a membership of 22. In September, 1909, Otis Hawkins held a revival for the church in the red brick school building, which had just been built on the corner of Cuyler and Francis. During this meeting 96 were added, and plans were made to buy lots on which to build a church. On April 16, 1911, Rev. White led in dedicating a neat frame building on the corner of E. Kingsmill and Ballard streets.

"Ministers serving the congregation after that time were Arthur W. Jones, J. G. Parsons, W. P. Jennings, A. N. Julian, T. Q. Purcell, and a few others. An addition was made to the building and a parsonage was built in 1917. Another addition was made in 1919 when Paul J. Merrill became minister. J. W. Davis, who ministered from 1923 to 1925, when James Todd, Jr., accepted the pastorate of the church. The oil boom caused the town, and the church as well, to grow rapidly, and it was decided to build a new building. The educational unit of the present church building, on East Kingsmill and North Starkeaster, was dedicated in November, 1928. Under the able leadership of Rev. Todd, the church made strides in improving its whole program of work. After five years, E. W. O'Malley became the minister, and during his ministry, the second unit was dedicated by him on November 22, 1931."

Mrs. Meers also reviewed the growth of the church during the latter part of Rev. O'Malley's ministry to April, 1933, when John S. Mullen accepted the pastorate. Rev.

B-PW Members Hear Address By National Head

A pledge that the 77,000 members of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs are ready to serve America at any time and in any capacity during the present crisis was given in Amarillo by the organization's president, Dr. Minnie L. Maffett of Dallas.

Dr. Maffett was honor guest and speaker at the annual public affairs dinner of the Amarillo Business and Professional Women's clubs in the Amarillo hotel. Ten members of the Pampa club attended the event.

The celebrated woman physician and surgeon issued a stirring challenge for unity in the world war of ideologies, citing the liberties that have disappeared in other countries under totalitarian rule.

She quoted a letter from a member of a business women's club in Norway, in which the writer said the club had not been permitted to meet since occupation by the Germans.

"Dress Share In Defense" "And that," said Dr. Maffett, "in what only a few months ago was free and democratic Norway?" Women, she said, have an active and vital place in a democracy at war or threatened with war. In England, she pointed out, 600,000 women are "fighting in the front lines" as ambulance drivers, fire wardens, air raid protection workers, and even as mechanics. These are in addition to women working in ordinary industry. A few days ago England issued a call for 600,000 more women workers.

While no such spectacular jobs are open to women in this country yet, they can at least join in the defense bond campaign, meet their taxes uncomplainingly, and fit into the defense picture in many other ways that will help bring unity of effort.

Mrs. Ivey Johnson, president of the Amarillo club, introduced Mrs. Mildred Buttker, master of ceremonies. Mrs. Buttker traced the rise of feminism from Eve, "who really couldn't be blamed for sneaking off with a handsome snake in a racoon coat when Adam refused to take her place," to the present business woman who has dared to organize service clubs just like Rotary and Kiwanis. She mentioned Chopin and her Roman boy friends; Caesar's wife, who, because she was above suspicion is not given much attention in history, and Mrs. Noah, who isn't mentioned much, but who probably used to show visitors through the Ark.

National Chairman Visits Dr. Maffett was introduced by Hattali White, who is a nominee for state B. & P. W. president. Invocation was given by Mrs. Fay Gordon. The city's welcome was extended by City Commissioner Oscar Hargett, and the response by Vaneta Cross of Plainview, director of District 1, B. & P. W. Guests were introduced from Lubbock, Plainview, Pampa, Shamrock and Crowell.

Miss Grace Fitzgerald of Dallas, the national organization's membership chairman, accompanied Dr. Maffett to Amarillo and spoke briefly, paying tribute to the late Frankie Gober.

Shower Given As Courtesy To Mrs. James Hopkins

Mrs. James A. Hopkins was named honoree at a tea and pink and blue shower given recently in the community hall at the Phillips Pampa plant. The hall was decorated throughout in pink and blue streamers and vases of iris and tulips. Guests were received by Mrs. Huelyn Laycock and Mrs. A. W. Coltharp. Mrs. R. W. Talley and Mrs. A. W. Mallow served punch and individual cakes from a lace covered table which was lighted with tall pink and blue candles in crystal holders. Mrs. Moore Jones presided at the registry.

Music was furnished throughout the afternoon by Mrs. R. W. Orr, Mrs. Fred Partridge, and Mrs. Emory Smith who were presented corsages of vari-colored snapdragons by Mrs. A. A. Proctor. Gifts were opened by the honoree, who wore a corsage of pink and white sweet peas.

Hostesses were Mesdames A. W. Mallow, A. A. Proctor, Huelyn Laycock, A. W. Coltharp, R. W. Talley, and Moore Jones. Guests attending were Mesdames W. R. Barnett, Cliff Horn, Siler Hopkins, Charles Fisk, R. W. Orr, Dan Partridge, C. O. Jones, Vern Savage, Maggie Hopkins, Pendleton, Hopkins, W. E. Melton, Henry Parker, John Phillips, C. F. Jones, Ernest Vandenburg, Fred Vandenberg, J. E. Haden, Harvey Dawson, B. R. Coltharp, W. J. Morris, George Reeve, Frank Monroe, B. R. Nuckols, and Misses Hazel Gilbert, Layma Taylor, Ruby Johnson, and Margaret Evans.

Gifts were sent by Mesdames L. G. Pierce, W. R. Barrett, A. A. Cooper, Ewing Williams and Roger McConnell.

Eastern Stars To Have Mother's Day Program On Friday

A Mother's Day program will be presented at a special meeting of the Order of Eastern Star Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Masonic hall. Men of the Order are to present the program with Charles Ward heading the committee in charge of the program.

Mullen was with the church a longer time and received a greater number than any other minister of the church. In 1939, he resigned and the present pastor, B. A. Norris, began his work. Mrs. Meers, as a charter member, has witnessed 33 years of the life of the local church.

DOUBLY USEFUL

You can make runabout dresses, untripped, and slipped to the waistline (see small sketch) with this pattern, as well as braided-trimmed house dresses. Very comfortable to work in, because the side-belted waistline is so unhampering. That front panel, narrowed at the midriff, is very flattering. Pattern No. 8886 is designed in even sizes 12 to 20; 40 to 48. Size 16, 4 2/3 yards of 39-inch material without nap, 5 1/2 yards braid.

Legion Auxiliary To Make Wreaths For Decoration

A total membership of 92 members was reported by Mrs. L. R. Franks, chairman, at the meeting of the American Legion auxiliary Monday evening in the Legion hall. Legion auxiliary and Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary members will meet at the hall on May 26 at 7:30 o'clock to make wreaths to be used on graves on Decoration Day. The local Legion auxiliary will be hostess at a party to be given in the veteran's hospital in Amarillo on Wednesday, May 14, with the program beginning at 7 o'clock. Those planning to go to Amarillo are asked to meet at the hall at 5 o'clock.

A short skit on the history of the poppy was given by Mrs. Emmett Osborne, assisted by other members of the auxiliary. The next regular meeting will be held May 19 when a combined regular and social session will be conducted with Mrs. L. R. Franks and Mrs. Al Lawson as the refreshment committee.

Troop Seven Girl Scouts Have Regular Meeting Recently

Girl Scout Troop seven, sponsored by Horace Mann Parent-Teacher Association, met recently for a regular session and games were played. Beverly Sue Baker, Edith Mae Morrow, Eudelle Hancock, and Jean Sitton received badges on work which they had been doing.

Attending were Beverly Sue Baker, Elsie Ruth Graham, Edith Mae Morrow, Betty Jo Myatt, Carol Key, Pauline Ward, Betty Lee Delaney, Alice Jean Robinson, Jean Sitton, Leona McClendon, Eudelle Hancock, June Myatt, Mrs. E. S. Hancock, Jr., and two committee women, Mesdames A. D. Robinson and F. H. Sitton.

Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher association Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the school auditorium. Instructions will be given and summer round-up sheets will be presented to these pre-school mothers. These round-up sheets will have to be filled out by the family doctor before the child can enter school next fall.

FDR Asks 500 Bombers Each Month

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt made a big boost in heavy bomber production today.

He instructed the War Relocation Authority to get the job done "with all possible speed," and gave him a secret production figure as the mark to be attained.

Authoritative reports were that Mr. Roosevelt had called for 500 long-range, four motor bombers a month—an output at least ten times greater than at present. Heavy bombers in such quantities, almost said, would be an offensive weapon which the Axis could not meet.

The President made his call for a "substantial" production increase last night in a letter to Stimson, directing him to "take whatever action is needed" to attain the production rate set in an accompanying private memorandum.

"Command of the air by the democracies must and can be achieved," he wrote. "Every month the democracies are gaining in the relative strength of the air forces. We must see to it that process is hastened and that the democratic superiority in the air be made absolute."

Mr. Roosevelt said that more heavy bombers were needed both for the defense of this country and for "the vital defense of other democratic nations."

The President's instructions recalled the recent appraisal which William S. Knudsen made of the value of heavy bombers.

"If we had 2,000 of that type now," the OPM chief said of one four-motor bomber, "we could fix things up over there."

Two new assembly plants for heavy bombers, however, already are under construction at Tulsa, Okla., and Fort Worth, Texas, which will be out in space each month beginning some time this fall. The automobile industry is working on manufacture of the parts these plants will assemble.

GOP Fails To Force Vote On Convoy Issue

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—House Republicans sought and failed today to force an immediate vote on the question of whether the United States should convoy shipments of supplies to Great Britain.

Rep. Bradley (R-Mich.) said that he and others had planned to offer an "anti-convoy" amendment to a pending bill which would authorize President Roosevelt to take over idle foreign-flag tonnage for national defense but had been informed that a parliamentary technicality blocked their attempt.

Nevertheless, the convoy question remained uppermost in debate on the bill to permit diversion to commerce and defense of the cargoes of 83 foreign ships, including two German and 26 Italian vessels. Republicans contended that the possible transfer of the Axis vessels to Great Britain would constitute "a clear act of war."

To avoid such a step, they decided to sponsor a provision which said that such flagships "shall not be turned over to any nation now at war or used for the purpose of promoting their objectives."

Democratic leaders, publicly asserting that disposition of any ship that might be taken over should be left to the discretion of the president, predicted that the amendment would be defeated and that by night-fall the measure would be sped to the senate—where another fight was brewing.

Three Democrats spoke out forthrightly on the convoy question during yesterday's debate as Rep. Fish (R-N. Y.) attributed to the president the statement that convoys would mean shooting and shooting would mean war.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), one of them, told the house, "Of course we're going to convoy, and convoy right away."

"We have voted billions of credit for Great Britain," Cox said. "We have promised support to the limit of our capacity. It happens that we can't fulfill our promises because of convoys what are you going to do?"

NAM Would Have Low Salary Class Pay More Taxes

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—The National Association of Manufacturers suggested today that Congress broaden the individual income tax base to reach more persons in low income brackets and also give "consideration" to a general sales tax.

A statement on behalf of the association was made by Livingston W. Houston, chairman of the organization's committee on government finance, to the house ways and means committee in connection with proposals to raise $3,500,000,000 additional revenue.

The association also advocated "stringent economy in ordinary expenditures," increase in the normal income taxes on individuals and corporations and changes in the excess profits and other tax laws.

Opposing proposals of the treasury and the joint congressional committee on taxation to levy stiffer surtaxes on individual incomes, the manufacturers' committee expressed belief such plans would fall heaviest upon "the great white collar class," whose incomes, it said, tend to remain practically constant.

The association, Houston testified, was suggesting consideration of some form of general sales tax "because the huge demands for revenue required to help meet the national defense effort in our opinion can not be obtained from the existing forms of taxation without undue hardships, and hence the means of broadening the tax base should be examined."

Hershey Would Exempt Men Over 30 Years Old

PHILADELPHIA, May 6 (AP)—The national director of selective service wants to revise U. S. draft procedure to exempt men over 30 years old.

"They are too settled after that age," declared General Lewis S. Hershey in recommending congressional action to give the president the right to defer by age classes.

"They are past their physical peak and others find it hard to learn new skills. That has been our experience in the draft to date."

Among the older men—those in their 30's—General Hershey said "there is a great deal more dependancy than we find among younger draftees and physical disabilities are more frequent."

"Physical co-ordination is demanded for training in tanks, planes and other implements of mechanized warfare. Young men are able to fill the requirements better."

After visiting Independence Hall yesterday to see the "fish bowl" from which draft numbers were drawn in 1917 and 1940, General Hershey told a gathering of selective service board members:

"While we have fears for the future, those fears do not deal with things outside America. No great empire has ever fallen from pressure without. We must look at the internal situation and strive for unity."

He estimated that the United States would have 1,418,000 men in the field by July 1, and that from 60,000 to 75,000 would be inducted each month during the remainder of the year.

Asked if drafted men would be out of service in a year, the general replied:

"I'm no prophet. I couldn't tell if I was a farmer and it looked like this I'd get my hay in."

1,400 Drivers On Greyhound Lines Strike

(By The Associated Press)

The defense mediation board today renewed its efforts to avert threatened strikes against General Motors corporation and the Minneapolis-Honeywell company, while Labor Department conciliators attempted to settle a strike involving 1,400 bus drivers and other employees of the Pennsylvania Greyhound lines.

Union demands for a closed shop and wage increases figured in the bus strike and General Motors dispute, with union recognition reported.

In an echo of the month-long shut-down of Appalachian soft coal mines, CIO coal miners of Arkansas and Oklahoma presented formal demands on operators for basic wage increases of $1 a day, in line with the increases granted in the east.

The American Stove company plant at Lorain, Ohio, was closed by a strike of CIO workmen who asked a wage increase of 10 cents an hour.

One GIM plant, the Packard Electric division at Warren, Ohio, was closed last Thursday by a strike for wage increases, and in protest against dismissal of certain employees. Doors of the plant were re-opened by the company yesterday, but observers did not see any workmen go through the picket lines.

CIO employees of the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company at Pittsburgh notified the mediation board yesterday that they would defer a threatened strike pending efforts by the board to settle the dispute. At issue are wage and contract renewal demands.

both of Tucson, Ariz., as being of the treacherous and evasive type. Its treachery was described as being in the way it spreads and in the symptoms.

In addition, the doctors reported, it usually takes from one to two months to recover from the infection. However, Dr. Farness said, if the organism spreads to parts of the body other than the lungs, the disease becomes progressive and about 50 per cent of the victims die.

Although the disease is concentrated in California, the doctor reported, there is increasing evidence that it also exists in other sections of the country. Dr. Farness said that there are few men in the country who are familiar with this type of lung infection. Cattle, sheep and dogs, as well as human beings, develop the disease, the doctor said.

The disease is produced by inhalation of the vegetative spores of fungus, which presumably, contaminate the soil. In some instances, the spores may enter through broken skin, Dr. Farness said. Symptoms of the infection are frequently mistaken for bad colds, influenza or broncho-pneumonia, he said.

How Xerxes, Nazis Cirled Mountains at Thermopylae

German troops used much the same tactics to take Thermopylae in Greece as did warriors of the Persian King Xerxes when fighting the Spartans in 480 B. C. Both armies, unable to smash through defense line at the narrow pass, sent troops around the mountains to attack from the rear. Also, Germans used six-inch guns, which Persians didn't have.

'Get Tough,' Sen. Pepper Advises U. S.

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—Declaring that "it is time for the United States to get tough," Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) urged today that this nation, in cooperation with Great Britain, occupy Greenland, Iceland, the Azores, the Cape Verde and Canary Islands, Singapore, and Dakar, West Africa.
 Pepper's "get tough" program also carried these recommendations:
 "That the U. S. and British navies 'join openly' in the Pacific 'to shut up the Japanese fleet in its lair,' and"
 "That long-range bombers, manned by American pilots enlisted voluntarily, be made available to China."
 "A few bombers flown by American pilots wouldn't leave enough of Tokyo to build a bonfire," he commented.
 The Florida Senator, consistent administration supporter and early advocate of aid to Britain, said in a speech prepared for senate delivery:
 "We must stiffle threats against us near their source. We have not ready waited too long. If we continue a pussy-footing policy the foe will not fear us and our friends will not respect us."
 Speaking of lease-lend cargoes, Pepper asserted that the country "should resolve the danger to stab us when we become involved with another foe," Pepper said.
 "We know that the little yellow men are waiting behind the door with a drawn dagger to stab us when we become involved with another foe," Pepper said.

The Lens Was Quicker Than the Mustache

Snapped before the splash, a fast camera caught this picture of a college boy about to get wet. Victim was victor in mustache-growing race at University of Chicago. He's being paid off by losers.

War Department To Spend $2,616,049 On Army Roads

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—Preparing for intensive army maneuvers to be held this summer, the war department ordered today an immediate start on a $2,616,049 program of construction of access roads to training area and firing centers.
 Specific allotments were made for 29 camps and $436,008 set aside for contingencies. The department said additional road construction would be authorized later.
 Among the allotments, and the type of work to be done at each camp were:
 Camp Wallace, Tex., shell 0.5 miles, $12,500; Post Sam Houston, Tex., stone or gravel 10.9 miles, $11,300; Camp Bowie, Tex., asphalt 3.5 miles, $44,000; Camp Wolters, Tex., stone 12 miles, $120,900.

Big Question Is, Will O'Daniel Get In Race For U. S. Senate?

(By The Associated Press)
 Rushing along like a river at flood, the turgid Texas senatorial race lapped around the statehouse today. And the big question was, would Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel jump in?
 Supporters of the governor insisted he was the man for the job, but few of them appeared to know whether he would seek it.
 A complicating factor was the entry into the race of Hal Collins of Mineral Wells, long a confidant of the governor. Would Collins seek the vacancy left by the death of Morris Sheppard without O'Daniel's nod?
 The campaigns of the other candidates were gaining momentum.
 Headquarters of Attorney General Gerad Mann were organizing "Mann's Man" clubs throughout the state.
 Rep. Martin Dies, basing his bid on a plea that he be given wider scope for the campaign against un-American activities which he has waged in congress, yesterday called for unity in labor in a talk to a conference of the International Streetcar and Electropylon union at Austin.
 Rep. Lyndon Johnson, whose candidacy is reputed to have the blessing of President Roosevelt, told Baylor university students at Waco that if it becomes necessary for him to vote to send the youth of America to war he will himself join them on the battle line.

'Lamb And Lion' Topic Of Sermon At Full Gospel

A capacity crowd attended the Full Gospel Temple, 500 South Cuyler street, last evening when the pastor-evangelist, the Rev. Bracy Greer, spoke on "The Lamb and the Lion."
 He said that Christ in His first advent came as a lamb to offer mercy but when He comes again He will come as a lion to take vengeance.
 Rev. Greer will speak again tonight on "The Second Coming of Christ."
 J. B. Lindsey is in charge of the choir with Elmo Hudgins at the piano. Special music and singing are rendered each evening by the Rev. and Mrs. Joe Nash of San Juan, New Mexico.
 The public is invited to attend the services.

Large Crowd Hears Johnson Speak At Waco

WACO, May 6—A large crowd gave Congressman Lyndon Johnson a lusty welcome to Waco and McLennan county this morning when he made the first stop on a six-day swing through Texas on his campaign for the United States senate.
 The fast moving senatorial candidate who will invade key sections in all parts of the state this week speaks tonight at Ranger, Johnson was to spend a large part of the day meeting supporters from Waco and scores of adjoining towns.
 One of the high spots of the day was a personal call on Dr. J. T. Harrington, chairman of the board of trustees at Baylor university.
 Johnson has a sentimental attachment to Baylor. His great grandfather the Rev. George W. Baines served the great Baptist educational institution as its second president.
 Feeling hale and hearty after his rousing opening campaign rally at San Marcos Saturday night Johnson plunged quickly into a vigorous campaign of hand shaking and conferring with delegations.
 Supporters here reported unusually strong sentiment for Johnson in this section where Pres. Roosevelt got an overwhelming vote for the precedent shadowing 3rd term race last November. The tall tireless congressman of the 10th district whom the president referred to as "my old and close friends," is the only senatorial aspirant who has unequivocally endorsed the president's foreign policy. For years, Johnson also has been a champion of the Roosevelt domestic recovery program.
 Besides meeting delegations Johnson's stay here included an address before the Rotary club where he was introduced by Frank Baldwin, editor of the Waco News Tribune and Times Herald.
 Johnson supporters jamming a big floor of downtown hotel to greet the candidate came from Hillsboro, Mary, Marlin, Temple, Moody, Belton, McGregor, Valley Mills, Crawford, Gateville, Hamilton, and many other points.

Eden Asks U. S. To Rush War Materials

LONDON, May 6 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Eden told the House of Commons today that the sooner United States war materials reach the battlefield of Asia, Africa and Europe the sooner the war will end.

He expressed faith that Turkey would stand by Britain and he told Arab peoples, including the Iraqis, to beware of an Axis victory.

During his review, which opened the government's statement in full debate on the conduct of the war, a heckling member interrupted Eden's reference to United States aid with: "Let us do a bit ourselves."

Eden promptly retorted he was "presupposing maximum effort of ourselves and the United States of America."

Government critics, among them Leslie Hore-Belisha, rose to attack Eden's long review.

"Now that events are going against us, I trust temporarily," Hore-Belisha said, "there is a tendency to minimize their importance, to distinguish them from what is happening in the Atlantic."

Labourite Les Smith, speaking from the front opposition bench, warned that in the battle of Suez Britain had a smaller margin of time than in the battle of the Atlantic.

"In the Mediterranean," he said, "it is a race between Hitler's immediate advantage and our power to build up equipment to hold him until American supplies swing in our favor some months hence."

The Labourite speaker wanted to know why measures were not taken to keep German panzer divisions out of Libya and asked if the government was satisfied that the French government at Vichy is maintaining strict neutrality.

Eden, retracing ground covered last week by Prime Minister Churchill, declared Greece was informed beforehand just how much aid could be expected from Britain.

"Felling of diplomatic sort in the middle east preceding the Nazi invasion of Greece and Yugoslavia, Eden declared he was impressed by the loyal friendship and determination of the Turks to "stand firm against any menace to their sovereignty."

"I am sure," he added, "the loyalty to their alliance with this country will be the basis of the Turkish government's policy."

He declared Britain had nothing to be ashamed of in her dealings with the Arab peoples, most of all Iraq "whose independence we assured; it is we who have assisted them and in every respect have kept our word."

Eden said the British were very grateful for the offer of the good offices of the Turkish and Egyptian governments in mediation, but until Iraq withdrew her troops from Habbaniyah and ceased hostilities, Britain would not discuss fulfillment of her treaty rights.

Brady Waitress Shot

BRADY, May 6 (AP)—Opal Thompson, Brady waitress wounded in a shooting last Thursday, remained in a critical condition today.

Mrs. Stella Mae Garner, charged with assault with intent to murder, is at liberty under $5,000 bond to await action of the grand jury May 14.

If you are driving at a speed of 60 miles an hour, and are called upon to make a sudden stop, it will take you approximately 251 feet to bring your car to a standstill.

"large-scale operations," inflicted "much damage" and that the toll of dead and wounded was expected to be high. A single direct hit on a Belfast shelter claimed 12 lives, it was reported.

With daylight, a formation of Messerschmitts flashed across the channel, spattered machine-gun bullets in the streets of Dover and stabbed at the town's harbor barrage, sending three of the big "sky traps" down in flames.

A flight of RAF Spitfires sped after the Germans as they raced back across the channel.

The Italians announced occupation of six islands in the Kyklades (Cyclades) group, adjoining Italy's Dodecanese archipelago in the southern waters of the Aegean—the Isles of Anaphe, Thera, Naxos, Amorgos, and Paros.

Premier Mussolini's high command said a new British attempt to break through Axis forces in the month-old siege of Tobruk, Libya, was repulsed "thanks to prompt action by valorous Italian and German troops, who inflicted extremely grave losses on the enemy."

This may have been the same action described yesterday by the British middle east command, which said counter-attacking British troops had smashed Axis preparations for a big attack on the fortress.

"On the Salum front (in Egypt), an enemy tank thrust was repulsed," the Italian communique declared.

In the crucial Near East situation, a decisive battle for control of Iraq's rich oil reserves appeared inevitable after both the British and Iraq were reported to have rejected a Turkish offer of mediation and an Egyptian appeal for a peaceful settlement.

British middle east headquarters said fighting in the oil kingdom had spread, with RAF planes blasting Iraq military positions at Dwanilya and motor transports at Falluja.

The German radio broadcast a report that Britain was attempting to establish an Iraq emigre government at the court of Emir Abdullah of Trans-Jordan and that the emir was trying to raise an Arab army for the reconquest of Iraq.

Meanwhile, the Greek government of King George II, now located on the Isle of Crete, said all its auxiliary vessels—more than 30—had been "savagely bombed and machine-gunned, sinking with the crews" in the last days of the German invasion.

The government said five Greek hospital ships, fully lit and unarmed, were sunk.

"Survivors struggling in the sea were pitilessly machine-gunned. One case was particularly flagrant as she carried women and children," a Greek statement said.

House Bloc Refuses To Cut Rangers' Pay

AUSTIN, May 6 (AP)—A strong house group today smothered a move to cut the pay of Texas Rangers beginning Sept. 1 and then initiated a drive to up the salaries of highway patrolmen.

The action came during consideration of the big departmental appropriation bill which was before the lower chamber for the third day.

As sent to the floor by the appropriation committee, the measure proposed a $2,700 annual stipend for Ranger captains and $2,100 for privates, a $300 reduction from respective present salaries.

Rep. Charles V. Lansberry's amendment boosting pay in each division $300 a year was adopted.

As the house settled down for appropriations session on May 17 to the final passage of a bill permitting the use of sweet natural gas in carbon black manufacture.

Sandwiched in house debate on departmental expense authorizations was a proposal to increase the appropriation for the general session from May 17 to July 15, a move which would enable the lawmakers to reconvene without call of the governor.

One reason backers gave for the proposal, now in the form of a resolution, was that national and international conditions might dictate more state legislation by mid-summer.

Private flying hung up another all-time record in 1940, when nearly a million miles were flown per fatal accident.

Patrolman West testified to a trip he made to Oklahoma City, Wheeler, Wichita Falls, and Port Worth, starting on January 17. He told how he accompanied Stanley to a "line-up" at Vernon and stated that Stanley did not inform him that he recognized Eggleston.

Stanley Identified Defendant

Later testimony brought out identification of Eggleston by Stanley as the man who had hijacked him, according to Stanley's statement.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley in the courtroom yesterday both identified Eggleston as the alleged robber.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard testified to the Stanley's appearing at their farm home near Laketon early one January morning, and Mr. Howard described the injuries of Stanley, telling how his shirt and trousers were bloody from head injuries.

Tape allegedly used by the hijackers to blindfold the Stanleys at the scene of the hijacking was introduced as a state exhibit.

Stanley testified that he had been struck three times, once in the back of his head, with a gun, and that a continuous round of curses by the hijacker had accompanied the beating.

At the trial Eggleston was calm, displaying interest in testimony given but showing little concern.

He is slim, black-haired, dark eyed, 34 years old, and was dressed in grey trousers, white socks, oxfords, and a fine quality khaki shirt.

from the viewpoint of the entire area and not for any particular section or individual project or location.

"The officials finally consented to make a fair and impartial survey of the entire Panhandle to determine if our section of the country could fit in with the plans. In an effort to be helpful, I submitted to the department officials the names and locations of at least one town in each of the 28 counties in the 18th congressional district. I have no assurance whatever how long such a survey will require, nor at what point the survey parties will begin or end, but I did want you to have this information for yourself and other citizens of your city who are interested in this matter."

According to my information from the officials in the department, the location of any particular unit, whether it be cantonments, air schools, industrial plants, etc., depends on many factors, but it is my belief that the panhandle with all its resources can qualify as well as many other sections of the country. We might not get anything at all but I personally feel a great deal better in making the strongest efforts possible than I would if we did not take any interest at all.

"So far as I am personally concerned, I would like to see the representatives of each section of the Panhandle cooperate with the officials of the war department and with one another, and point out every single one of the advantages offered from all sections of the Panhandle area."

"I will continue my efforts at this end and will be glad to comply with any suggestions or requests that I can in an effort to be as helpful as possible."

Defense Demands May Slow Up Wheat Cars

KANSAS CITY, May 6 (AP)—World War I brought $3 wheat, automobiles and silk shirts to midwestern farmers. World War II has brought a problem.

Good spring rains indicate a heavy wheat crop this season. Defense demands on railroad facilities may make its movement to market difficult when harvest starts.

Railroad and elevator men, government officials and bankers here to discuss the problem saw a threat of wheat piled in yellow dunes on the prairies while box cars were tied up with defense loads.

The difficulty is complicated by the fact much of last year's bumper crop remains stored in country elevators. Usually railroads provide box cars to small elevators to hold the crop until it can be shipped to larger terminals. This year they may not because of a concentration of cars in the east.

"Last year the Santa Fe railroad had between 7,000 and 8,000 box cars stored for grain loading at middle-western country stations," James J. Mahoney, Chicago, general superintendent of transportation for the Santa Fe railroad, told the conference. "Today the railroad has only 1,836 box cars in the same position."

U. S. Stops Machine Exports To Russia

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—The United States, it was learned authoritatively today, has halted all exports to Russia of machinery or equipment which can be utilized in defense production.

The policy was adopted, it was said, despite strenuous Soviet diplomatic efforts to obtain the necessary export permits and despite the fact that some of the machines involved had been ordered and paid for by the Russians months ago.

Major reasons for the scarcity of exports "Today the railroad has only 1,836 box cars in the same position."

1. President Roosevelt's instructions to the office of production management that "every single critical machine in the United States be used the maximum number of hours each week."

2. The signing of the Russo-Japanese neutrality pact, which "imposed" official mouthpiece of the Communist party, described as a blow at American and British interests.

3. Russia's anomalous position in the war and her conflicting swings of policy between cooperation and non-cooperation with Germany.

that he had once been convicted for violation of the national prohibition act. Testimony brought out at the trial was to the effect that he had 50 cases of whiskey in his car when the hijacking occurred.

Where the liquor was obtained, from whom, why, the alleged variation in testimony at a trial in Wheeler on January 27 and later testimony—these were among the barrage of questions fired at Stanley by Dennis Reynolds, in cross-examination.

All Real He-Men One-Fifth Woman

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE RICHMOND, Va., May 6 (AP)—The discovery of a quirk in the male body which explains much of man's failure to get along perfectly with women was announced today to the American Psychiatric association.

It was found that many men, numbering probably millions, produce along with their regular male sex hormones, an excess quantity of feminine sex hormones.

When this feminine production reaches one-third of the total sex hormones, man is in trouble. He is, quite simply, one-third female.

At this level which is by no means the lowest amount of feminine hormones found in men, he begins to prefer the affection of other men, rather than women.

Any impulse to become homosexual is in no way his fault. This explains the occasional outbreaks of this difficulty and among brilliant men and among men who outwardly bear no feminine traits.

The discovery, with charts showing how the normal body manufactures both these products, was announced by Doctors Abraham Myerson and Rudolph Neustadt of Boston.

They found first that one-fifth of the hormones of even an entirely normal man are female. That is an ordinary man is really one-fifth woman in this respect.

They checked this dual sexuality in studies of animals, finding precisely the same sort of mixing, in all human degrees.

A real he-man normally produces about five-sevenths as many feminine sex hormones as do his women-folks, except that there are periods when women step up their rate far above usual.

Raiders Bomb Mainly About People

(By The Associated Press) BERLIN, May 6 (AP)—German raiders by the hundreds rode the skies over Glasgow and the Clyde-side shipping area last night, wreaking heavy destruction in shipyards, armament factories and other industrial plants, the Nazi high command said today.

Simultaneously, the RAF swept into southwestern Germany, hitting academic and hospital buildings at the university city of Heidelberg according to German reports. Several fires were said to have been started at Heidelberg and at other communities in the south and southwest, where a number of cities described as "well known resorts" were bombed.

In addition to the Clyde-side, the high command said Luftwaffe units struck in force at other English industrial establishments, docks and supply facilities, leaving a trail of burning destruction behind.

In English waters, the war bulletin said German airmen sank a large patrol boat and a small merchantman and damaged two other ships. Other authorized sources said another ship of 8,000 tons was sunk.

The north African front was energized, the high command reported, by another British counter-attack at Tobruk, which was declared "strategic" with the heaviest losses in the face of the courageous stand of German and Italian troops.

11 American Plane Ferry Pilots Missing

OTTAWA, Ont., May 6 (AP)—Eleven American plane ferry pilots were listed today among 125 persons reported missing at sea from various branches of the civilian and armed services.

The full list included men from the army, navy, royal air force, the royal Norwegian air force, members of the United Kingdom and Canadian inspection board and some civilians.

The Americans and their next of kin were listed as follows:

Reginald Lawrence Wells, royal Canadian signal corps; Mrs. Marjorie Wells (wife), Melrose Highlands, Mass.

Ferry pilots: R. E. Fordyce; J. H. Finch (uncle), Chicago.

R. W. Lowell; Mrs. Lida Lowell (mother), 414 1/2 Colorado Ave., Chickasha, Okla.

J. S. Wright; Sam Wright (uncle), Medford, Okla.

J. C. Torpey; T. W. Torpey (father), route 1, box 184, Silverdale, Wash.

E. Fredrichs; Mrs. Ella Klier Fredrichs David (mother), Peoria, Ill.

R. Burden; John R. Burden (father), Warsaw, Ind.

J. A. Woodall; Mrs. Kitty K. Woodall (mother), 4221 Versailles St., Dallas, Tex.

K. B. Collins; Mrs. Katherine D. Collins (wife), Oceanside, Long Island, N. Y.

W. H. Nance; Mrs. W. H. Nance (wife), care Automatic Distributing Co., 2107 Main St., Houston, Tex.

R. G. Smith; Miss Mary L. Conrad (niece), Warsaw, Ind.

I. Landis; Samuel E. Landis (father), Boyertown, Pa.

Inclusion of the pilots in the list of missing raised speculation that those lost might have been aboard more than one vessel (or even aboard planes).

It was believed improbable here that ferry pilots, who have been flying American-made bombers to England, would be traveling by boat in that direction. Sam Robertson, manager of the London bureau of the Canadian Press, who was returning to England after a Canadian vacation, was among those listed.

The list was not accompanied by an announcement but it was known that it was in connection with the loss of a ship, which Navy Minister Angus McDonald announced last night. McDonald told the house then that 75 military men were feared lost.

Included in today's list was Sam Robertson, manager of the London bureau of the Canadian Press, who previously was listed as believed missing as a result of "enemy action" during a sea voyage.

RFC Chairman Nominated For Exchange Head

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP)—Emil Schram, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corp., has been approved by the Board of Governors of the New York Stock Exchange as the next president of that institution.

Schram would take the post vacated by William M. Martin, Jr., who left the exchange last month for a year's service under the selective service act.

Exchange officials were said to be in Washington empowered to come to an agreement with Schram, who was said to have indicated his willingness to take the job.

Raiders Bomb Mainly About People

(By The Associated Press) BERLIN, May 6 (AP)—German raiders by the hundreds rode the skies over Glasgow and the Clyde-side shipping area last night, wreaking heavy destruction in shipyards, armament factories and other industrial plants, the Nazi high command said today.

Simultaneously, the RAF swept into southwestern Germany, hitting academic and hospital buildings at the university city of Heidelberg according to German reports. Several fires were said to have been started at Heidelberg and at other communities in the south and southwest, where a number of cities described as "well known resorts" were bombed.

In addition to the Clyde-side, the high command said Luftwaffe units struck in force at other English industrial establishments, docks and supply facilities, leaving a trail of burning destruction behind.

In English waters, the war bulletin said German airmen sank a large patrol boat and a small merchantman and damaged two other ships. Other authorized sources said another ship of 8,000 tons was sunk.

The north African front was energized, the high command reported, by another British counter-attack at Tobruk, which was declared "strategic" with the heaviest losses in the face of the courageous stand of German and Italian troops.

11 American Plane Ferry Pilots Missing

OTTAWA, Ont., May 6 (AP)—Eleven American plane ferry pilots were listed today among 125 persons reported missing at sea from various branches of the civilian and armed services.

The full list included men from the army, navy, royal air force, the royal Norwegian air force, members of the United Kingdom and Canadian inspection board and some civilians.

The Americans and their next of kin were listed as follows:

Reginald Lawrence Wells, royal Canadian signal corps; Mrs. Marjorie Wells (wife), Melrose Highlands, Mass.

Ferry pilots: R. E. Fordyce; J. H. Finch (uncle), Chicago.

R. W. Lowell; Mrs. Lida Lowell (mother), 414 1/2 Colorado Ave., Chickasha, Okla.

J. S. Wright; Sam Wright (uncle), Medford, Okla.

J. C. Torpey; T. W. Torpey (father), route 1, box 184, Silverdale, Wash.

E. Fredrichs; Mrs. Ella Klier Fredrichs David (mother), Peoria, Ill.

R. Burden; John R. Burden (father), Warsaw, Ind.

J. A. Woodall; Mrs. Kitty K. Woodall (mother), 4221 Versailles St., Dallas, Tex.

K. B. Collins; Mrs. Katherine D. Collins (wife), Oceanside, Long Island, N. Y.

W. H. Nance; Mrs. W. H. Nance (wife), care Automatic Distributing Co., 2107 Main St., Houston, Tex.

R. G. Smith; Miss Mary L. Conrad (niece), Warsaw, Ind.

I. Landis; Samuel E. Landis (father), Boyertown, Pa.

Inclusion of the pilots in the list of missing raised speculation that those lost might have been aboard more than one vessel (or even aboard planes).

It was believed improbable here that ferry pilots, who have been flying American-made bombers to England, would be traveling by boat in that direction. Sam Robertson, manager of the London bureau of the Canadian Press, who was returning to England after a Canadian vacation, was among those listed.

The list was not accompanied by an announcement but it was known that it was in connection with the loss of a ship, which Navy Minister Angus McDonald announced last night. McDonald told the house then that 75 military men were feared lost.

Included in today's list was Sam Robertson, manager of the London bureau of the Canadian Press, who previously was listed as believed missing as a result of "enemy action" during a sea voyage.

Senate Okays Governor's Appointments

(By The Associated Press)
AUSTIN, May 6—While a $29,000,000 appropriation to pay for state government the next two years topped the house's working calendar today, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's appointments to state offices again attracted attention in the senate.

The house departmental appropriation bill, on which the lower chamber worked all day yesterday, exceeded current allocations by $7,000,000 and dug about $3,000,000 deeper into state coffers than the senate's version.

After the governor had submitted a number of nominations to the senate for confirmation, the upper chamber's committee to investigate appointments recommended approval of E. D. Battle as state auditor, Rev. Jeff Davis, Dallas dry leader, as chairman of the liquor control board, and a number of others.

Senator Joe Hill of Henderson contended Battle's residence was in Shreveport, La., while Battle and the governor claimed it was in Longview. Battle would succeed Tom C. King who was denied confirmation after an investigation.

Rev. Davis was the governor's third nomination for the liquor board post, the senate having rejected Dr. W. D. Bradford, militant prohibitionist of Dallas who served in the office more than a year, and Tom Love of Dallas having declined the nomination.

The committee recommended confirmation of Highway Patrol Captain John D. Reed of Wichita Falls as labor commissioner to succeed Joe Kunschick of Austin, rejected upon renomination, and Tom M. Lassiter of Falls as a member of the livestock sanitary commission. The senate had turned down J. Everts Haley of Houston for the livestock post.

Others approved by the committee were: Dr. Thomas H. Taylor of Brownwood as a member of the state board of welfare; Mrs. Lillie Stone of Commerce as a member of the board of cosmetology;

R. L. Thomas of Dallas, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby of Houston and Melvin C. Eickens of Luling as members of the board of regents for state teachers colleges;

Mrs. Edwin T. Phillips of Fort Worth, George Barron of Yoakum and S. B. Whittington of Amarillo, as members of the board of regents for the Texas State College for Women.

Adding to signs of nearing session adjournment was assignment of a highly controversial road bond bill to a conference committee. A house-approved version would allot approximately $2,000,000 excess moneys in the state's county and district road indebtedness fund to counties for lateral road building while the senate voted to allocate the cash to the highway department for construction of military roads.

The senate approved a resolution asking a conference committee to restore a bill providing for appointment of a state auditor by the legislature a section calling for appointment of a budget director by the governor. O'Daniel recommended the double-barrelled plan which would strip him of the auditor-appointing power and take budget preparation from the board of control.

A bill authorizing purchasers of prison lands to sue mineral rights and divide the bonus and royalty with the state was approved by the upper chamber which also saw introduction of a proposal permitting soldiers from outside Texas to operate their cars in this state without buying licenses.

Without knowing who would speak or on what subject, the senate, after being criticized by Mrs. Claude de van Watts, W. C. T. U. leader, voted for a joint session Wednesday to hear representatives of "The Good Women of Texas."

Texas Needs Reforms In Tax Assessing, Says Tax Expert

HOUSTON, May 6 (AP)—Aldro Jenks, tax research specialist of the University of Texas, told the state tax assessor-collectors association today that needed reforms in tax assessing practices are made impossible by political influence upon elective tax assessors.

Jobs of assessing and collecting taxes are inseparable, he said, and such functions should never be performed by the same man.

"So long as the human element enters into the making of assessments," Jenks said, "just so long will you find those who attempt to exert political influence in the assessor's office, thereby flaunting the law and placing the assessor in an indefensible position."

"The assessor should be divorced from politics and should hold office under civil service or by reason of appointment. He should not be required to go before the voters every two years as a political candidate for an office which is purely administrative in character and which ought to have no political significance."

He should possess skills which should not be subject to political preferment.

"Only when the assessor is permitted to use the knowledge and ability, judgment and experience of himself and his force and when he can act with the honesty of purpose which he has taken an oath to do, only then can assessment standards be raised and county and state assessments be made in the manner set out by the law.

The plain letter of the constitution and the statutes demands that all property should be assessed according to its value. The adoption of a more or less scientific system of valuation honestly administered is the only thing that can provide for a square deal to the taxpayer by one of the most over-worked, underpaid, most maligned and imposed upon officials in all government—the assessor."

Congressmen Suggest Higher Crop Loans

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—Farm-state congressmen seeking to stabilize farm prices in the face of advancing costs for other commodities turned today toward higher loans on basic crops as a substitute for extra, outright appropriations from the federal treasury.

Senators and house members alike agreed that the income on wheat, cotton, corn, tobacco and rice this year would be determined largely by the rate of such loans, rather than the amount of parity payment appropriations.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala) said both Democratic and Republican senators had agreed that the government should lend farmers sufficient money on basic crops which are stored rather than sold, to assure the producers an income of 85 per cent of parity. The house already has passed a bill authorizing 75 per cent crop loans.

While no effort has been made yet to reconcile the two loan figures, house agriculture committee members predicted that the 85 per cent level would prevail. Rep. Doxey (D-Miss) said that if such was the case the senate might agree to accept the lower parity appropriation of the house.

Here are the approximate incomes, including government benefits and payments, for wheat, corn and cotton at present and under the two loan proposals:

Wheat—present, 83 cents; 75 per cent, $1.04; 85 per cent, $1.15.
 Corn—present, 75 cents; 75 per cent, 78 cents; 85 per cent, 85 cents.
 Cotton—present, 12 cents; 75 per cent, 15 cents; 85 per cent, 16 cents.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, May 6 (AP)—The stock market joined commodities today in one of the year's fastest rallying sprints. Paced by rails, oils, steels and specialties, share leaders bounded up as much as 2 or more points, many to new highs for the past several months.

There was a slowing of dealings in the final hour but transfers for the full proceedings were around $50,000 shares, or more than double yesterday's volume and the second best turnover since Dec. 31, last.

Brokers were unable to put a finger on any one particular new item as the main-spring of the surge.

Stocks posting peak quotations for 1941 included Santa Fe, Atlantic Coast Line, Southern Pacific, Standard Oils of California, Indiana and New Jersey, Panhandle Producing, Ohio Oil, Secony-Vacuum, Pure Oil, Mid-Continent Petroleum, and preferreds of Nickel Plate, Pere Marquette and American Car & Foundry.

Among climbers also were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, American Steel, Youngtown Sheet, General Motors, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Du Pont, Jennebo, Westinghouse and Allied Chemical. A string of 5,000 shares of N. Y. Central came out just before midday on a few inches of ticker tape. Utilities did virtually nothing. Strength was exhibited by futures of rubber, hides, cottonseed oil and silk. Wheat at Chicago was up 2 to 2 1/2 cents a bushel and corn ahead 1/2 to 3/4 cents. In the trade, wheat in front 85 cents to $1.35 a bushel.

Volunteer First Aid Detachment To Be Formed

The training of lay persons so that they may take care of those who are injured in accidents in the absence of immediate medical care has long been a responsibility of the American Red Cross and to carry out that tradition locally, a Red Cross Volunteer First Aid Detachment will be organized in Pampa.

A detachment shall consist of not less than 15 nor more than 50 persons. Members must have completed a standard and advanced course in first aid.

In order to make the proposed chapter more efficient, a special advanced first aid course will be conducted here by Tom Eckerd, member of the Pampa fire department and local Red Cross first aid instructor. Anyone in the Pampa area who has completed a standard first aid course will be eligible to take the advanced course. Persons desiring to take the course are asked to call Mr. Eckerd at the new fire station in South Pampa, telephone 2328.

First aid may play an important part in national defense, especially in this section of the country where fires, explosions and other forms of destruction, either accidental or planned, are possible.

All persons living in Pampa and in this section who have an advanced first aid certificate are asked to contact Mr. Eckerd so that he can start the detachment organization.

British Press Criticizes Deal In Iraq

LONDON, May 6 (AP)—Turkey's offer to mediate the British-Iraq fight and Egypt's appeal to the Iraqis to seek terms peaceably were sidetracked today in favor of a hard-hitting military campaign in the oil-rich middle east kingdom.

As Britain's land and air forces stepped up their efforts to subdue what the British termed the "illegal" regime of Premier Rashid Ali Al Gallani, some sections of the London press called for results and took a critical view of the government's handling of Iraq relations.

The Daily Herald described the diplomatic prelude to the outbreak of fighting last Friday in Iraq as "the latest example of inadequate British methods" and said there had been "either complacency or incompetence somewhere."

The Daily Mail asked if Britain's diplomatic representatives in Iraq had been "taken by surprise" and said members of parliament would "demand a prosecution of the Iraq operation with the utmost vigor—something stronger than leaflets on Baghdad."

The RAF middle east command had announced yesterday that 24,000 leaflets written in Arabic had been showered on Baghdad by British bombers.

A communique last night, however, told of raids elsewhere with blazing machine-guns and the thunder of bombs, reported heavy attacks on Iraq artillery which had been shelling the British air base at Lake Habbaniyah, and said the RAF, largely through attacks on air fields, had put out of action "the greatest part of the Iraq operational aircraft."

Turkey's offer to mediate in the war at her backdoor, disclosed yesterday, came to naught—for the time being at least. An authorized British statement said the "friendly motives" of the Turkish government were appreciated but the withdrawal of Rashid Ali's troops from the siege of the Lake Habbaniyah base was "an essential prerequisite" to any negotiations.

The river at Winchell was 18 feet, San Saba 25 feet, Marble Falls 14,76 feet and Smithville 14 feet. The San Saba river was 24 feet at San Saba.

Greenberg To Swing His Bat For Last Time This Season

DETROIT, May 6 (AP)—Hammerin' Hank Greenberg, the big Detroit outfielder, swings his major league war club for the Detroit Tigers the last time today—for at least a year.

And tomorrow the tall Brooklyn Jewish boy, whose hard-earned career won the hearts of Detroit baseball fans, will exchange a $50,000 annual salary for a $21-per-month stipend that selective service recruits receive.

No special ceremony was planned today as Hank prepared to step to the plate, but a larger-than-usual week-day crowd was expected to watch the Tigers against the New York Yankees.

Greenberg's team mates said their goodbyes at a Country club party last night. They presented him with a gold watch on which their names were inscribed.

The Veteran Jim Rollins, who has been added to the pitching staff of the Clovis Pioneers, thought he had smashed the old home town jinx when he started out in baseball back in 1932.

But early next season, he was handed his release by Springfield and another home town boy had failed to make good at home, at least in the eyes of his local club.

That didn't deter Rollins. He set out for new fields, and since that day he drew the pink slip he has been pretty well over the baseball map and has done some pretty snappy pitching.

Last year, with Pennington Gap of the Appalachian league, he won six and lost the same number for a chronic second division ball club.

The city did not renew its membership in the league this year and Jim was free to sign elsewhere, casting his lot with the Pioneers.

In the summer of 1933, Rollins made the headlines by stopping the batting streak of Outfielder Les Horn of Greenville in the Cotton States league. Horn had hit in 29 consecutive games when he bumped into Rollins, hurling for Pine Bluff, and was stopped cold.

Rollins should be a balance wheel on the Clovis pitching staff. With Manager Howard Taylor, he will give the Pioneers that needed experience to mix in with the younger flingers, and with any luck at all, Jim should stay out of the red ink in the records.

In 1937 the army owned 11,600 trucks, of which there were 96 makes and models. By the end of the fiscal year in 1941 that number will have jumped to 186,000 trucks, exclusive of tractors and vehicles requiring a special chassis to meet military needs.

He Lost To Pampa Oilers Last Night

There's an old baseball axiom which decrees against a local boy making good with his home town club. Records bear it out, for few of them do. Usually, they fare better if they line up away from the home folks.

The Veteran Jim Rollins, who has been added to the pitching staff of the Clovis Pioneers, thought he had smashed the old home town jinx when he started out in baseball back in 1932.

But early next season, he was handed his release by Springfield and another home town boy had failed to make good at home, at least in the eyes of his local club.

Cards And Indians Seem To Be In Right Groove

The Old College Try

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The flowers that bloom in the spring are as common in baseball as dandelions in your front lawn—and they usually flourish faster.

That's why few people get excited, at spectacular showings in the early season.

But a sneaking suspicion is getting around that the St. Louis Cardinals and Cleveland Indians, the two hottest numbers in the big leagues, are riding in their right grooves at the head of the pack.

The Indians won their 11th consecutive game yesterday, 2-1, from the Washington Senators with rapid Robert Feller pitching three-hit ball, striking out a dozen batters.

The Cardinals notched their 10th in a row at Boston with a 5-1 shellacking of the Braves behind the five-hit hurling of Ernie White, the 24-year-old southpaw from Paoli, Mo.

White was the eighth different starting hurler used by Manager Billy Southworth during the Redbirds' winning streak, which shows the depth of St. Louis' pitching strength.

The New York Yankees lost their fourth game out of seven western engagements by a 7-3 tussle at Detroit. Two veterans, Tommy Bridges and Lefty Gomez, took the mound opposite each other and Bridges walked off last—with a six-hitter to his credit.

Lester McCrabb, a "control" pitcher who had an unimpressive record of 10 wins and 11 losses last season at Toronto in the International League, scored his second success in three decisions for the Philadelphia Athletics at Chicago by scattering 12 hits over 11 innings and battering in the winning run for a 5-4 verdict and dropping the White Sox into a tie with Detroit for third in the American League.

Rain washed out all the other scheduled games.

It may be true that Mule Hans called Bob Feller's pitches when the White Sox beat baseball's greatest pitcher.

Many pitchers more often than not unwittingly reveal to sharp-eyed observers, by peculiar little mannerisms, whether the pitch is going to be a fast one or a curve.

But the coach relaying the information to the batter by a shout wants to be sure.

It's an extremely dangerous practice. There is nothing to prevent the pitcher from crossing the coach and hitting.

It was this fact that prompted the Cleveland Indians on the bench to warn Del Baker during an exhibition game at Ft. Myers: "You'll get somebody killed up there, Baker!"

The Detroit manager's cry for Feller's hard one was "Nail it!"

It easily could be very unhealthy for an athlete facing a pitcher as swif as Feller to expect one thing and get another.

He hasn't time to change his mind. Guess hitters look great when what they figured would be thrown is thrown, and just as bad when the pitcher indicates one pitch and throws another.

A pitcher as wise and mechanically perfect as Feller, quickly will hide his cards if he is showing them.

But some pitchers go on winning even though the enemy claims to know what is coming.

The Yankees and Tigers contend Al Miller of the Indians was an open book last term, but the big left-hander copped 18 games.

Urban Baker swallowed when faking his spitball, did not when he doctored the pellet.

Faber's Adam's apple told the story. Yet he was a tough nut down through the years.

The answer to that was that it was difficult to slap a superlative spitter even when they knew it was coming.

And that was all Red Faber fed the boys at the cashier's cage.

Those alleged Hollywood Park race fixers will testify sadly to the fact that California is on the right track.

It isn't a bad idea to have a capable criminal lawyer—Jerry Giesler in this case—as chairman of a racing and boxing commission.

Maybe that oxygen mask beak-busting brain storm, originating on the Pacific coast, is the solution to Joe Louis.

Ever think of what one of these The Bum-of-the-Month candidates would look like if refilled and repeatedly shoved out in front of Big Butch.

By June 30, 1941, 93.2 per cent of the field artillery throughout the United States and its possessions will be motorized.

FLASHES OF LIFE

(By The Associated Press)
SHELBYVILLE, Ind.—Warren Carpenter finished plowing a field on his farm with a tractor and discovered he'd lost his bilfold and $97.

He got back on the tractor, lined his family up to watch behind and plowed the field again. He didn't find the bilfold.

So he took the plow off the tractor, hitched on a cultivator, went over the field a third time. He found his money.

CHESTER, Pa.—Butcher Morris Buzgon thought $70 he had on hand would be perfectly safe overnight concealed in a bag of trash.

What he didn't figure on was that he'd open the store the next day and immediately dump the rubbish into Chester river without removing the cash.

It took four firemen a half hour to catch the bag with a grappling hook, for which Buzgon dished out $12.

BROWNWOOD—It rained not only rain but a dead horse in this Texas town.

A car occupied by two Baptist ministers and a soldier struck the horse during a downpour. The animal was whirled skyward. It crashed through the top of the car into the back seat.

The Rev. O. B. Yancey was treated for a slight head injury.

SALT LAKE CITY—Police Judge Frank E. Moss readily fined himself 50 cents for illegal parking, but—

On the back of the ticket he wrote: "Excused. Judge's car. Was holding court."

By the time the projected air force of 50,000 planes is delivered to the government, the American petroleum industry will be able to supply the 17,400,000 barrels (of 42 gallons each) required by the armed services.

Today there are in the U. S. 15 universities giving degrees in aeronautical engineering, 16 others offer options in the subject, and California's Institute of Technology gives graduate work in aeronautics.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 6 (AP)—The 41st annual of the American Bowling Congress will end today after 55 days of pin tumbling.

The Vogel brothers of Forest Park, Ill., a Chicago suburb, won the bun in the five-man event when their 3,065 total, scored on March 30, stood up. The Vogels will pull down $1,500; a sponsor's trophy valued at $500 and five diamond studded medals.

A total of $31,651 will go to 850 and under booster teams while $62,553 will be split up in 944 regular prizes.

IN APPRECIATION

We appreciate the privilege of using this issue of the Little Harvester for D.O. "propaganda." The general plan is in line with suggestions of Mr. Swann, especially the composite of snapshots. It is a pleasure to cooperate with the journalism department and the Little Harvester staff in this manner.

Diversified Occupations work is new, but growing rapidly. It seems well worth the consideration of all our people, both parents and students, and we are using this method of putting it before our readers. Most of the material is purely informational and explanatory, but we hope you will read it.

W. H. GALLOWAY.

WHERE ARE WE?

Are we attempting to build the youth of today, using the materials of yesterday, to go out and carry on the work of tomorrow? If we accept the definition of education as being "the process of learning to meet and cope with life's situations," we assume that education must keep in step with the social, economic, and industrial progress of the world.

Vocational education—education that trains for useful employment—must keep up-to-date. It must attempt to determine the work of today and what the work of tomorrow will be, if it is to function effectively. We are inclined to follow the path of least resistance and predicate the training on experiences of the life we want through yesterday. Such a path is fatal. The experiences of yesterday combined with the facts of today should furnish clues to the problem of "what tomorrow." The challenge of this problem is so tremendous that we cannot resist accepting it. It will test the best in us and will prove our true worth. Nothing can be so real and vitalizing as the study of modern industry and the problems of meeting its needs.

In other words, using the old axiom, are you helping to pull the saw, just riding it, or riding it and dragging your feet also?

Are we ahead, abreast of, or behind the times?
State Director of Vocational Education.

Eligibility For D.O. Course Explained

To enroll in D. O. a boy or girl must be at least 16 and of Junior classification. Most businessmen prefer that the student be older. The work usually demands a person of average ability or above. The scholastic record and standing of the student is important in getting him properly placed. The most important item is the student's interest in the anticipated work. Most businesses and industries have a place where a young person interested in their work is needed.

Often a businessman says that he doesn't have any opening but he is glad to make a place for the right fellow, with emphasis on the "right." Health, attitude, family background and reputation of the individual are taken into consideration by the prospective employer.

Education Makes Better Workmen

Present-day conception of work is wrong, it has been said. The general idea is that work is for the uneducated and that a person who has a high school diploma should not do ordinary labor. The time is here when most worthwhile work is done by high school graduates. We must put the term work on a higher plane in our thinking and conversation. People must be educated to be better workmen. Intelligent workers are in demand in all fields.

Students Earn Good Wages While Learning

At mid-term this year, D. O. students were earning from $3 to $7 weekly. Average earnings for each were 24 cents per hour for an average of 2 1/2 hours each week, giving earnings of $5.40 per school week, or $194.40 per school year of 36 weeks, not counting Saturdays, holidays, or the summer vacation work which most get with increased earnings. Many students go to college on this kind of earnings.

Thirty-five out of every 100 high school graduates go to college and about one-half of these finish college.

D. O. STUDENTS EARN AND LEARN AT WORK IN PAMPA

The composite shows Pampa D. O. students at work on their jobs. They are: No. 1, Glenn Dyson, Radio Electric Shop; No. 2, Naomi Snyder, laboratory technician, Worley Hospital; No. 3, Dorothy Lee Watt, J. C. Penny company; No. 4, Leola Hogsett, Dr. Hicks, dentist; No. 5, Don Board, Montgomery Ward; No. 7, Joe Blackwood, Culbertson Chevrolet body shop; No. 8, Theo Cummings, Cabot Shops; No. 9, Dewey Johns, Texico distributors; No. 10, Arnold Johnson, Bert Curry Refrigeration company; No. 11, D. O. class; No. 12, Roland Bailey, Ward's Cabinet Shop; No. 13, Glenn Wilkie, Baash-Ross Pool company; No. 14, Ed Taylor, Jr., Dwyer-Boynton Machine Shop; No. 15, Harry Hoyer, Western Auto Associate store; No. 16, Beryl Foster, Jones-Roberts Shoe company; N. L. Cummings, Tom Rose Motor company, was in the hospital when the snapshots were made.

Attitude of Public Favors D.O. Course

Public attitude seems to be 100 per cent for diversified occupations. Many do not have business that will justify using a part-time student, but all believe it one of the best moves our schools have made. Many business men say they do not need a trainee, but will make a place for the right student with the expectation of developing a good employe for the future.

Two Who Needed Vocational Education

Helen Smithy left school at the age of 15 without finishing high school. She entered a business college but soon dropped out. During the next three years she held 21 different jobs. No one of them for more than four months. At the age of 20 she was looking for a job.

Good Jobs Available For D.O. Students

Most business men are on the look out for young people who are ambitious, industrious, capable, honest, and interested in learning the business or occupation. Several of the best businesses in town have openings for students, part-time, who are really interested in their type of work and can qualify. The above qualifications plus a personality capable of being developed in the right way are necessary for employes, and they must be willing to work.

D. O. Course Should Be Part of Curriculum

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt stated recently that the adjustment of the young people to their local social, business, industrial, and economic environment should be the chief aim of education. She found one school in the U. S. where students were required to work at some local job for at least one year, half time, before they were granted a high school diploma. Perhaps this would be a good plan in our community which has more business and industry than most towns of its size.

Make Applications Before School Is Out

Students expecting to take D. O. next year should make applications this spring. They may be considered for summer jobs or try-outs and be employed when school opens in September. The coordinator will be at work contracting business people this summer and thus can more nearly find suitable employment early in the school year if he has the student's application. Students cannot be enrolled in D. O. until they have a job.

Students Continue Work During Summer

The employer does not agree to employ the student other than for the school week; however, practically all employes use students for extra help on Saturday and during holiday rushes. In addition to this, where local conditions justify it, the students are given regular full-time employment at increased pay during the summer. A recent check-up indicates that about 80 per cent of the present D.O. class will have full-time employment at their respective training stations during the coming summer. The others will expect part-time or substitute work during the summer months.

Ten Commandments For Public Relations

1. Keep skid chains on your tongue; always say less than you think. Cultivate a low, persuasive voice. How you say it often counts more than what you say.
2. Make promises sparingly and keep them faithfully, no matter what it costs you.
3. Never let an opportunity pass to say a kind and encouraging thing to or about somebody. Praise good work done, regardless of who did it. If criticism is needed, criticize helpfully ever spitefully.
4. Be interested in others; interested in their pursuits, their welfare, their homes and families. Make merry with those that rejoice; with those who weep, mourn. Let everyone you meet, however humble, feel that you regard him as one of importance.
5. Be cheerful. Keep the corners of your mouth turned up. Hide your pains, worries and disappointments under a smile. Laugh at good stories; learn to tell them.
6. Preserve an open mind on all debatable questions. Discuss, but not argue. It is a mark of superior mind to disagree and yet be friendly.
7. Let your virtues, if you have any, speak for themselves, and refuse to talk of another's vices. Discourage gossip. Make it a rule to say nothing of another unless it is something good.
8. Be careful of another's feeling, wit and humor at the other fellow's expense are rarely worth the effort, and may hurt where least expected.
9. Pay no attention to ill-natured remarks about you. Simply live that nobody will believe them. Disordered nerves and a bad digestion are a common cause of backbiting.
10. Don't be too anxious about your dues. Do your work, be patient and keep your disposition sweet, forget self, and you will be rewarded.

Texas Heads List In Producing Petroleum

All but three of Texas' 154 counties produce natural gas or oil, or both. There are more than 800 separate oil and gas fields. There are 93,630 producing wells. Twenty-five years ago Texas produced 6 per cent of the oil of the United States. Now she produces approximately 40 per cent and has more than one-half of all proved unproduced petroleum resources of the United States. In 1939, Texas produced 486 million barrels.

Skilled Men Needed In Mechanical Trades

There is a definite need for skilled workmen in most of the mechanical trades. Industrial establishments and the United States government are looking for skilled workmen today. There are not enough. This is due because few young men have trained for the mechanical trades during the past 25 years. Airplane mechanics for production and maintenance are in demand. Radio technicians are needed, especially by our government.

Duties of Coordinator Are Many and Varied

Pampa's part-time training program is directed by a teacher called a coordinator, selected by the local school board. This person must hold a standard college degree, a state teachers certificate, and must have had three or more years experience in business and industry. Also, he must have finished creditably at least eight specified college training courses in vocational work.

D.O. Class Organizes Social Activities

Diversified Occupations students have to sacrifice most all extra-curricular activities. They can not take part in athletic, card, glee club, or similar school affairs.

D.O. Helps To Meet Need For Training

During the past five years Pampa High school has graduated 672 students. Of this number 294 have enrolled in some college but probably about one-third of these dropped out during the first year. This would leave more than two-thirds of our high school graduates who did not need college entrance requirements but who, no doubt, could use very profitably the SAME practical training and experience in the business world which Diversified Occupations offers.

Ninety per cent of male, and 20 per cent of female adults in the United States work for a living. Beggar: "Have you enough money for a cup of coffee?"

D. O. Graduate's Salary Comparable To Teacher's

D.O. Coordinator Has Advisory Committee

The coordinator of diversified occupations is selected by the school board, but his work in the community is directed and approved by a group of business men, the advisory committee. The committee approves and directs the work of the coordinator as it concerns local business and industries.

At present the advisory committee is composed of F. M. Culbertson, Culbertson Chevrolet company; L. L. McCoin, with Hinderliter; Arthur Teed, local attorney; Hol Wagner, Wagner Electric; W. D. Kelly, operator.

In addition to the advisory committee, each D. O. program has a crafts committee where three or more students are engaged in the same type of training.

Type of Student Selected Important

The student selected for each training position determines to a great extent the success of this educational program. Employers are interested in helping young workers who are honest, dependable, alert, clean in every respect, and have mastered the fundamental subjects so they can continue to learn now proceeding. For this type of student the business and industrial world holds unlimited opportunities. Selections are made on the following basis:

Students interested in this type of educational program have a conference with their principal and high school adviser, stating their desire to enter the cooperative vocational training program.

Students selected should have grades of average or better and evidence of a good record in school.

Satisfactory evidence must be furnished that the student is dependable, honest, willing to work, and absolutely interested in this type of training because of the opportunity it offers to advance in a chosen occupation.

The students must be physically fit and mentally able to advance in the occupation selected.

Parents or guardians must indicate their interest and support by signing the application blank of the student.

Final selection, placement, transfer, and, when necessary, discontinuation of training, are the responsibility of the employer, school officials, and advisory committee.

Employers Help Train D.O. Students

Through an arrangement with employers and parents, students in their junior year of high school are placed in the various training agencies-cooperative business situations. The training agencies grade the students on their choice for four hours per day, five days per week. Students spend half of the day in school studying subject matter directly relating to actual job and taking two academic courses leading to graduation. Upon completion of 17 solid units, including D.O., which counts two units for each year taken, he receives his high school diploma, which, by proper planning, may be for college admission.

The student receives the cooperative student a definite vocational training in a specific occupation at graduation.

Under this plan the highly skilled business and industrial people of the community train the students in actual business situations. The training agencies grade the students on their accomplishments and the school gives the student a unit of credit for each year's work.

D.O. Students Train In 17 Occupations

A D. O. student may train in almost any occupation in his community, provided it requires at least two thousand hours of work experience to qualify for the job in mind. Some of the occupations available to students in Pampa are: auto mechanics, automobile electricity, auto top and body repair, bottling plant operative, building supplies, cabinet making, cafe management, carpentry, dental assistant, doctor's office assistant, drafting, dry cleaning and dyeing, electric appliance service, electric motor and armature service, farm machinery service, laboratory techniques, machinist, metal working, meat cutting and butchering, plumbing, printing, radio service, refrigeration service, salesmanship, secretarial training, sheet metal, and store management.

One-Half of Workmen Are In Skilled Trades

Only seven or every 100 workmen of our country are in the professions or occupations which demand college education. Twenty-five per cent are in other white-collar jobs. This leaves 68 per cent of all workers in overall jobs. Probably 18 per cent do manual labor. The others, half of all our workers, are engaged in some kind of skilled or semi-skilled work. It is the purpose of D.O. to help train this 60 per cent for the skilled occupations.

Diversified occupations has been offered in Pampa High school for three years prior to this year. During that time 64 have enrolled. Twelve of these enrolled in high school again this year, nine dropping out or moved away before finishing the course, 10 were counted twice. After graduation, one married and quit work, another entered military service, while two more have entered college. This leaves 19 who have followed up their training in an occupation.

Of these 19, eight are still working at their original training stations at an average of $22 per week. Six more are continuing in the same kind of work, but with other employers at an average of $18.75 per week. Another four are working in allied occupations at an average of $18.12 per week, while the last one is in a different occupation from that which he trained, earning $20 per week.

The average age of these young people is now less than 21, while their earnings are about the same as is paid Pampa teachers. They have only the special training given in diversified occupations while in high school, obtaining both money and credits while getting that training.

Some of the noticeable things about this situation are: They know how to do something when they left high school; they and work of their own choosing when they graduated; they are satisfied with their occupational outlook and their employers are pleased with their abilities and attitudes; both the employers and these young people have a good word to say for D. O. they are employed and financially independent, though out of high school only two years.

Requirements For Enrollment In D.O.

It is necessary that students, in order to have a workable program, finish as much of their required academic work as possible during the ninth and tenth grades. Students at the beginning of their sophomore year (10th) who desire to enroll in the vocational program should have a conference with their principal or adviser. Arrangements should be made for the required high school subjects, leaving as much time as possible for the study of subjects that may be beneficial to the student upon entrance to the cooperative vocational course.

From conferences and records supplied from time to time, during the sophomore year, arrangements will be made to locate training agencies so students may be properly enrolled and placed in training at the beginning of their junior year.

A two-year training program is required in most cases. When considered advisable, seniors or post-graduates may be enrolled.

High school subjects for cooperative students are under the supervision of senior high school principals. Grades secured in cooperative vocational training are given by the training agencies and transferred to the senior high school for purpose of graduation.

Graduation will be with a high school diploma of whatever type earned.

Business Demands Specific Training

Statistics show that only about seven per cent of the workers of our country are engaged in the professions and those occupations which demand special college training. This leaves more than 90 per cent of our workers engaged in occupations not demanding college training. College training should help anyone to succeed in his occupation, still a very small percentage of the workers in our country are college trained.

Business and industry are demanding that those who seek employment know how to do something. Since these conditions exist, it would seem wise for every young person to learn how to do something specific as early as possible. If a profession is not anticipated, this training should be obtained before high school graduation.

D. O. is one of the best methods for obtaining this training because it offers a study course to go hand in hand with the work experience. It also supplies the student with a prospective job when he finishes high school.

D.O. Course Offers Extra Opportunities

The D. O. plan offers students an opportunity to find themselves and to become adjusted to the business world. It sets up a balanced educational program by dividing school hours between work, technical studies related to the job, and academic training. It offers opportunities that it is impossible to get through the school. It gives training under working conditions where production is necessary.

The school can not let up stores, business offices, printing offices, shops of varieties, etc., but this plan makes these available to the cooperative vocational training student, through the cooperation of the business people.

The plan is of advantage to the employer because it enables him to train future employes at the minimum cost.

SERIAL STORY

LOVE POWER

BY OREN ARNOLD

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY Carolyn found a note pinned to the door. She opened it and she found a note pinned to the door. She opened it and she found a note pinned to the door.

BOB LANDS SAFELY

CHAPTER XIX

IN the village of Blair, Ariz., Carolyn and her rescuer found one light burning. It was in a large house that seemed to be a combined residence and store.

"Hello! I have you a telephone? May I please call for help? If I can just telephone Boulder Dam, I might—"

"Come in, honey!" The woman interrupted Carolyn's frantic talk, appraised her quickly. "Look here, honey, is your name Tyler, and did you drop outen an airplane?"

"Yes! Oh!" "Well, I'm that glad it's you! They've been already phoning about you. They're men out already on a search. Now ain't this just dandy!"

"Come in, child. You look bedraggled. Ain't you cold? They've already phoned about you from Boulder. I expect it's been on the radio, too."

"Law, I expect they're a-tearing around every whichaway, for one as young and sweet as you! Now you just phone 'em back right now as quick as you can, and I'll get you something warm and dry!"

The good woman, not one to be overly excited, was plainly excited. Carolyn grabbed her.

"What about Bob? Dr. Hale? Tell me! He must be safe or nobody would know where I—is he? Who called?"

"Honey, set down a minute! He's safe. Him and the man flying him both is safe. It was a Mr. Hale that called me. He said—"

That was all Carolyn needed. She called Boulder Dam—specifically, Boulder City, Nev., the town near the great dam. The operator there couldn't get Bob for her at the moment but did get the local airport, and the field official told her that Bob and the plane had come in safely. Bob was about crazy, the official admitted, worrying about her, and he would get word to Bob at once and call off the search.

He talked some more, but Carolyn didn't hear it. If the kindly woman here hadn't come quickly, Carolyn would have slipped right down to the floor.

It was the first time in her life Carolyn Tyler had ever fainted, but even a young and healthy girl can stand only so much.

IT took Bob Hale a week to quit begging Carolyn's forgiveness. Almost pitifully he apologized, over and over, berating himself and humbling himself before her.

He had honestly felt that her life depended on that parachute jump. She understood that.

But when he had gone to tell the pilot, preparing to jump out himself, the pilot had taken command of the storm danger. It was indeed real but the pilot had steadfastly refused to abandon ship.

His refusal had, in turn, made Bob decide to stay. Bob had tried to weigh the dangers both ways and in the end the presence of the X-999 had decided him.

The pilot, Bob knew, could not be made to realize the extreme potency of that substance in the box. A forced chance landing, bumpy and rough, might set off the greatest explosion in the history of man.

But even so, Bob elected to stick with the pilot and their freight. He felt directly responsible for the X-999. Bailing out now would be cowardly running away, and at least Carolyn had a fighting chance.

When it all ended happily he was like a boy released from some hideous dream and it took him days to calm down again. For her part, Carolyn was back to normalcy after a long sleep, a bath, fresh clothing and a hearty meal.

"Nothing boring about being your secretary, at any rate," she told Bob, laconically. He was still serious.

"I have raised your pay, Carolyn! As I told you, the Schoenfeld Laboratory is abundantly endowed, and, of course, with the X-999 we have absolutely unlimited means at our command."

"So I'm still just a steno being overpaid already, and that's that!" she declared flatly. "Please get right down to your work, Bob. The serious work, I mean."

THERE was much to be done. That first day, while she slept, he had bought a station wagon, and would have carried the boxed X-999 to his mountain retreat alone, but she insisted on joining him.

Together they drove the priceless stuff through the canyons to Blair, thence branched onto the rougher trail that led to the abandoned Copper King mine in Tonto Mountain. There they were met by Bob's workmen, who already had erected temporary tents and shacks, reconditioned the narrow gauge ore track into the mine shaft, and brought in provisions.

When the X-999 had at last been deposited nearly three-quarters of a mile inside the mountain itself, Bob showed visible relief.

"Now, for the first time, I can breathe easily," said he. "Now it is safe, and no one's life need be in constant danger. Thank heaven for that!"

She liked that streak in him. That reverence, that feeling of humility and selflessness, despite the fact of his brilliance as a scientist and his fame, it was another reason for loving him.

Loving him? She contemplated that again. Of course she loved him, more profoundly than ever. And with the rush of physical excitement subsiding, she would give full thought to that problem of making him love her.

MEANTIME, Carolyn knew, Leana Somri was a lurking, insidious danger. She "knew" it largely through intuition, but it was definite even so.

Leana's eyes had revealed it. Leana's way of looking at Bob. The little things Leana had let slip back home. The peculiar circumstance of that first explosion, the hint contained in the telegram to Leana, and the fact that a wire robber! They all added up too much to be mere coincidence.

"I've been terrifically lucky," Carolyn whispered to herself, in apprehension again. "She's not likely to miss any bets next time!"

Leana would be brought here to the mountain retreat in a few days, Carolyn knew, because there was a great work facing her and Bob—harnessing X-999, adapting its unprecedented power to engines, inviting other distinguished scientists here for consultation, re-making the whole world of engineering!

But Carolyn knew that somewhere in this rush Leana Somri would strike again. And soon!

"Flee? Run away? Chuck this crazy job forever and go back to the city and its safety?"

"I could never do that," Carolyn told herself. "It would leave Bob helpless, alone!"

Doctors Urged To Enlist In Corps

AUSTIN, May 6 (P)--Draft boards over the state today were urging doctors who had registered to apply for commissions as first lieutenants in the medical corps. The action was taken after General J. Watt Page, state selective service director, said yesterday a shortage of physicians and surgeons in the medical corps existed and such registrants could better serve their country in that capacity than as regular military draftees. 'We are asking all local boards,' General Page asserted, 'to communicate with physicians and surgeons among their registrants and encourage them to apply to the corps area surgeon, Eighth Corps Area, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.'

A Million Men To Arms Overnight

It is possible that any responsible statesman ever really went before the American people with that old cry that in time of danger "a million men would spring to arms overnight?"

The hard, stern realities of today recall us from such vapors like a blow in the face. We have seen a million men "spring to arms" in Yugoslavia overnight, and be crushed to earth in less than two weeks.

The present "new army" is one of which we have every reason to be proud. The men have made amazing progress, considering that they have been in camp most of them, only since last fall. It is good, but not enough.

The core of the amazingly successful German army of today is the nucleus of "100,000 sergeants" developed in the skeleton army permitted under the treaty of Versailles.

The Germans are not braver or better than the men we have repeatedly beaten. They have more know-how, and better tools.

Behind The News

WASHINGTON, May 6—Not all the aid which has gone to the belligerent countries of the eastern hemisphere has been in the form of planes, guns and tanks purchased directly by those countries.

Because of the neutrality law, it is now possible to check up on those contributions and see where this money came from and where it has gone.

Protection of the public is the main purpose of this registration, intended to avoid the phony war charities which lured big-hearted Americans out of so many millions in the last war.

So it is of the utmost importance that workers come to understand that one man producing much for little or low wages, if this thing were possible for any length of time, which it is not.

But, of course, there is no need of worrying about any workers working for less than they can get. All workers will sell their services to the best advantage they can, as they certainly should.

Polish charities, numbering more than 100, form the largest group as Poland was the first country invaded. Most Polish relief funds are collected in Polish communities but the amounts they have collected total over $4,000,000.

British American Ambulance Corps, $1,047,000. British War Relief Society, Inc., $5,843,000. Bundles for Britain, $1,097,000.

Greek War Relief Association, $2,825,000. Hadassah, Inc., $1,205,000.

Of the total of $30,000,000 collected by these war relief charities, the costs of collection have averaged about 10 per cent. Many of the organizations report

Common Ground

This column extends there can be no satisfactory program until we measure the character of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything beyond the bare necessities of life.

A MOST SERIOUS ERROR IN WAGE BELIEFS

Each worker, in reality, when he accepts wages, is receiving a warehouse receipt for what he produces, which is good to be exchanged for the production of other workers.

If farm hands could live on air and water and consume no wealth at all, and all that the people living in the city had to do would be to furnish them efficient tools with which to work, and these people would produce and deliver to the city worker absolutely free all the food and farm materials the city people needed, then the city workers could have better real wages; that is, have a higher standard of living.

Of course, there is no danger of the worker working for a low wage simply because he could live cheaply. Workers will always get the highest wage, which includes other things than money, that they can get for their energy.

If an employer were willing to work for his employer for absolutely nothing and could do so, this would not hurt the wages of other workers.

If, on the other hand, the employer used the wealth, that the benevolent or foolish or unwise worker permitted the employer to get, in new capital and new tools, then, instead of lowering the real wages of all other workers, it probably would raise their real wages. This is so, when used by the employer as new capital, because the competition between employers with better tools in selling their goods and buying labor, would compel them to sell for less and pay more for labor.

The union workers who are getting $1 an hour and who think that low farm wages hurt them, do not realize that if the farm workers had restricted those who dare work at farm work and were receiving $1, instead of 50 cents to 50 cents an hour as they are now receiving, and this added cost were passed on to the city consumer, as it would have to be, that the dollar an hour man's real wages, his real living standards, instead of being what they are at present, would be much less.

No, this real wage of the city worker could not be increased one iota by another boost in money wages to take care of the increased living costs if all other workers did the same thing.

If other workers did not boost these wages there would eventually be civil war if the artificial wages were pushed up high enough.

The belief that some men working for low real wages hurts other workers causes minimum wage laws to be passed with the intent of protecting the wage levels of all workers. But this throws slow workers, who cannot produce products that can be exchanged for an amount equal to the minimum wage, out of work. The result is that less is produced and those more efficient workers suffer in three ways.

1. What they produce will not exchange for as much as it would if all workers were putting something in the market place.

2. They have to share what they produce with the unemployed, who cannot be left to starve when the law prevents them from working.

3. It tends to retard the accumulation of good tools, keeping down the production and the wages of those efficient workers who have jobs.

This slowing down, due to the belief that low wages hurt other workers, resulting in minimum wage laws, more taxes to support the unemployed and extra government employes to supervise, finally so discourages workers that it leads to complete loss of free enterprise and makes a complete totalitarian state, just as in Germany and Russia.

So it is of the utmost importance that workers come to understand that one man producing much for little or low wages, if this thing were possible for any length of time, which it is not, instead of hurting other workers, would greatly benefit them.

But, of course, there is no need of worrying about any workers working for less than they can get. All workers will sell their services to the best advantage they can, as they certainly should. But this belief that lowered costs resulting from competition in wages is not, willy nilly, passed on to other workers is the most dangerous belief facing the American people.

no costs at all, paying for their drives and campaigns out of their own pockets. Those are the ones that stand out as the most sincere in their efforts to help.

On top of cash contributions, there have been collections of clothes, blankets and medical supplies totaling nearly $6,000,000. British War Relief and Bundles for Britain head this list with $1,500,000 worth of goods, from ambulances and rolling kitchens to baby blankets and bandages, sent to Britain.

TEN MILLION FROM TAXES Red Cross donations of money and materials equal the $30,000,000 privately collected, and $10,000,000 of this is U. S. government money given to the semi-official organization for the relief of wounded prisoners of war and non-belligerents in six European countries and China. Britain has received half of this Red Cross relief, France $4,000,000, Greece $2,000,000 and the rest was about equally divided between Spain, Finland and Yugoslavia.

HOLLYWOOD, May 6—When Joe Cotten first came to town, he was introduced as "Katharine Hepburn's leading man in 'Philadelphia Story'."

At the grimly hostile press preview, he got the first applause and it was spontaneous clapping that surprised even the critics themselves.

Like many movie newcomers, he is well known to most of the country outside Hollywood. New York theatergoers saw him not only in "Philadelphia Story" but in most of Orson Welles' Mercury Productions.

Teamed on the radio with Martha Scott in a program of domestic difficulties and with a major tragedy in every week's script, he sold his sponsors' insecticide and cold cream by the gallon. The southern and mid-western tour of "Philadelphia Story" added more fans. He was, of course, the logical person for the film version of the play, but M-G-M wouldn't consider anybody except screen stars to support Miss Hepburn.

LEAD QUARTER By Stella Holit

Jeff never knew where he got the lead quarter. All he did know was that he had accepted it for legal tender and by all that was sacred he aimed to get a quarter for it.

The quarter burned his pockets and gnawed at his patience. He bought, cokes when he didn't want them just to try and pass that quarter, but each time he offered it the cashier looked at it narrowly and then handed it back so kindly.

"Sorry bud, that's a lead quarter." "Jeff always tried to look surprised at the always went through the same performance. They tossed it on the counter and then threw a good one beside it just to show him the difference in the ring.

He tried it everywhere. He bought gum in the most crowded stores thinking that in the speed of making change someone would hand out two good dimes.

Jeff was beginning to have the look of a criminal about that quarter. Sure he knew it was bad, but he had passed a quarter for it, hadn't he, so why shouldn't he get his money back. Quarters were scarce enough with Jeff. So scarce that he started thinking economically about that quarter.

The hope of passing it was driving him to little extravagances that mounted up rapidly over a couple of weeks. gum cokes, candy. Why, come to think of it, that quarter had cost him at least a dollar. He knew he'd tried to pass it at least twenty times and each time had to produce a good nickel. Then Jeff said to himself. Anybody could lose a quarter, might lose it right out of his pocket, but anybody who kept on spending money, wasting money just trying to get that quarter back was a fool, not worthy to be the great financier Jeff hoped one day to be. So after this little understanding with himself his mind was at rest about the quarter. Charge it to profit and loss he decided. And he made no more attempts to pass it.

One day about a week later he thought about his lead quarter and turned his pockets inside out. He didn't have it any more. He'd spent it quite unconsciously.

TEX'S TOPICS

By Tex DeWeese

WE don't know whether you've been listening to it or not, but they tell us that KPDN Staff Frolic which takes the air every Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock and runs for 30 or 40 minutes is getting so good that the station management is figuring on moving it to a spot where it will be available to night listeners.

KPDN soon will be moving its night sign off time to 10 o'clock, and there are dickerings going on now for a network affiliation.

The Staff Frolic program is written and produced entirely by members of the KPDN staff.

The only outsiders on the program are singer Alvin Adams and the members of Bill Kenton's orchestra which plays the musical interludes.

In the orchestra are Kenton, Fred Warren, Bob Dyer, J. L. Jones and Ken Bennett.

Others of the staff who take part on the program are Eleta Bullard, Johnny Wells, Bill Browne, Margorie Maxwell, Ray Monday, Peggy Ketter, Lester Aldrich and the reaper of the space.

One of the most difficult characterizations is that of Cecil Bassington Blunkelsoop, the British commentator, done by Bill Browne who also takes the part of "Bolke," the New Jersey lawyer.

Announcement Monday that the "straight man" parts and acts as master of ceremonies.

KPDN is inviting a studio audience for the Frolics program and those who wish to see the fun as well as hear it, are invited to be in the main studios by 2:55 p. m. Saturday, at least five minutes before the program goes on the air.

Members of the staff who stage this weekly radio show really get a lot of fun out of it themselves.

The show never is rehearsed. When you hear it on the air that's the very first time it has been done.

Those who take part usually get to the studio 15 or 20 minutes early to check over their lines and see where they fit into the general pattern of the afternoon's madhouse.

The producers have found that the "show goes better" without a rehearsal.

Last week Bill Browne was still writing his script after the program already had gone on the air.

He finished it just in time to rush into the studio and go before the mike at the point where he was scheduled.

The laughing you hear in the background of this program is not staged. It is real.

Members of the cast sometimes are so convulsed at the antics of others that they themselves do not completely recover sufficiently to carry on their own parts without laughing.

If you like to listen to the Staff Frolic you'll really get a kick out of hearing it.

Remember, you're welcome to come to KPDN on Saturdays and be a part of the studio audience.

Don't forget the time. The program goes on at 3 o'clock.

You should be there at least five minutes earlier than that.

Ray Monday, the producer, has advanced notice that this week's production will be a whiz.

DAILY Crude Flow In U. S. Decreases

TULSA, Okla., May 6 (AP)—Daily crude oil production in the United States declined 236,320 barrels to 3,498,620 barrels for the week ended May 3, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

The War Today

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

HITLERdom has let it be known that Germany is preparing to speed up munitions production for a longer war than she had expected, on the strength of her assumption that there is a possibility of America entering the conflict.

If the Germans believe there is a chance that the United States may intervene, they also must be laying plans to counter allied strategy. That brings us bang up against this hypothetical question of what scheme of operations the Nazis anticipate.

Now it isn't my business to guess whether the United States may take a hand in the war, and I don't propose to do so. However, they can't hang us for having a quick look at this hypothetical question which the Nazis have created.

So what line of strategy might the allies be expected to pursue in an effort to defeat Herr Hitler.

At this moment he is master of the most powerful land and air fighting machines the world has known. He occupies or controls the entire continent of Europe right up to the Russian border. The Nazis haven't left free a piece of land big enough for a Swiss mountaineer to hook onto with an alpenstock, to say nothing of landing an allied army on it.

What's the answer to that one? How would the allies get at Hitler?

Naturally nobody can forecast with certainty the line of strategy which might have to be employed a year hence, or even a month from now. This is a fast moving war and circumstances frequently alter overnight. However, as I see it, the hypothetical alliance would pin its faith to two fundamentals, from which would spring all operations.

The first of these cardinal points would be absolute control of the sea. That would be insured by joining the United States navy to the British, which already is maintaining a stiff blockade on Europe.

The second would be supremacy in the air—merely superficially, but control. In this connection it is interesting to note President Roosevelt's demand for a big increase in heavy bomber production, and his declaration that "command of the air by the democracies must and can be achieved."

The long and short of this is that the allies would intensify the British effort to strangle Germany by cutting her off from essential supplies, meantime subjecting her industries and military centers to a merciless bombardment from the air.

If and when the Reich defenses were sufficiently weakened, allied armies would be thrown onto the continent for invasion.

As I have pointed out more than once, at the outset of the war the allies pinned their faith mainly to Britain's control of the sea. They proposed to garrote Germany with their great ring of steel.

Britain never has abandoned that line, but on the contrary has reiterated her intention of pursuing it.

One year ago the United States Navy could have fired, in a single broadside, an entire day's production of the entire privately owned explosives industry in the country.
