

RAF Smashes At Nazi Bombers In Syria As Roosevelt Talks Gravely

(By The Associated Press) RAF warplanes were officially reported smashing at German bombers poised at Damascus, Syria, reputedly the oldest city in the world still inhabited, as Nazi tanks were declared today to be rumbling across the French-ruled colony en route to the rich oil kingdom of Iraq.

The semi-official Turkish radio broadcast a report that "Axis officers in both Syria and Iraq are going about the streets in uniform." In Berlin, the well-informed commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland said flatly that "the positions from which the next blow will be struck have been occupied"—an evident reference to Nazi infiltration into Syria and Iraq.

Unconfirmed reports said French fighting planes were escorting German bombers and troop transports in their flights across Syria. Simultaneously, France's active new role in collaborating with Germany many stirred grave repercussions in both London and Washington.

President Roosevelt said today that international conditions were too serious for him to interpret or comment further on the implications of his appeal last night to the French people to turn down collaboration with Germany.

The situation immediately thrust to the fore the future status of French colonial possessions in the western hemisphere, particularly Martinique in the Caribbean and French Guiana on the northeast coast of South America. A high official singled out Martinique as one colony that was receiving special attention.

There was no inkling in government quarters as to just what action might be contemplated, but administration spokesmen have repeatedly made clear that any attempt by a puppet government to use new world colonies in the interests of another power would be considered a change of colonial sovereignty and hence a violation of the Monroe Doctrine.

The unexpected pronouncement from the white house followed swiftly on the heels of the radio address of Marshal Henri Petain to the French people, saying that "collaboration" negotiations had "lighted the pathway to the future" for France and that it was up to the people "to follow me without mental reservation."

British Middle East headquarters announced that RAF warplanes attacked the German aerial invaders yesterday in a series of raids in Syria, including Damascus, Rayak and Palmyra, where some of the principal airports are situated.

Summer Round-Up Topic Of Program At Baker P-TA Unit

B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher Association met this week at the school for the last regular session of the year with the president, Mrs. Jess Beard, presiding.

Ken Bennett led the group in singing one verse of "America" after which Mrs. B. B. Hayes, program chairman, presented the rhythm band of the first grades, who played "Pop Goes the Weasel." The devotional, followed by a prayer, was given by Principal J. A. Meek.

Mrs. H. E. Symonds, principle speaker, discussed "Summer Round-Up Blanks." The blanks are for each child who is to enter the B. M. Baker school in the first grade next September, she pointed out. Blanks were distributed to the pre-school mothers present, and mothers not present will be able to get blanks by contacting Mrs. Jess Beard or Mrs. J. M. Nichols.

Mrs. Symonds stated that one great value of the summer round-up blank is to help the teacher to understand the child. She continued by saying that the parent has had either six or seven years to become acquainted with the child's peculiarities and that the teacher could better get acquainted with a child if she might have some information about that child. She also stated that it is to the benefit of the child, the home, and the school to have the child examined by a doctor.

The doctors will examine the child's eyes, hearing, and teeth and suggest the corrections to be made so that the child will be in better physical condition and can adjust himself to the school room. Each parent is required to have the child vaccinated for small pox and if possible be given the diphtheria serum. She concluded by saying that the sooner the summer round-up blanks are filled out, the longer the child and his parents will have to meet the suggestions of the doctor.

Mrs. G. H. Heard gave a reading, "Maggie and Jiggs at the Pearly Gates."

Miss Minnie Allen reported on the district conference at Dumas and during the business session, Mrs. Symonds read the minutes and Mrs. J. M. Deering gave the treasurer's report.

Principal Meek announced this school term will be ended on May 27 and that all children are to be in school through May 26. He also urged everyone to attend the music program of the schools Friday night.

Mrs. Roy Holt was in charge of the introduction of officers for the coming year: Mrs. J. E. Beard, president; Mrs. B. B. Hayes, vice-president; Mrs. Bill Coffee, secretary; Mrs. J. M. Deering, treasurer; Mrs. J. S. Gault, district representative; and Mrs. J. B. Mayes, County Council representative.

Miss Verdie Denton won the room award with 17 parents present.

Agricultural Outlook Best In 20 Years

By LEDGERWOOD SLOAN
Associated Press Staff

Farmers and ranchmen are throwing machines and teams into a top speed effort to catch up with their spring work, seriously delayed in some areas by weeks of wet weather.

Forty-cent wool is being shorn in the sheep country. In the northwest harvesting of bumper crops of small grain will begin in a few weeks.

The finest ranges in many years assure fat livestock and no feed bills for at least a good part of the summer.

It all adds up to the brightest production and price outlook in 20 years for parts of northeast central and south Texas where planting is weeks behind schedule. A few additional days of sunshine would provide an excellent chance for good crops even in those sections.

Cotton, washed out by torrential rains in South Texas is being re-planted. In the Houston area, farmers are as much as two months behind in planting.

Feed and cotton planting is in full swing in the South Plains where enough underground moisture is assured to carry through the summer.

Although farmers are fully a month behind in the San Angelo-Abilene section they have been receiving a steady income from eggs and poultry.

Shearing of spring wool, expected to total 65,000,000 pounds, is going forward with crews working overtime in an effort to catch up. Most 2-months wool, estimated at 8,000,000 to 12,000,000 pounds, was shorn before the rains came.

Prices are holding generally around 40 to 41 cents for 8-months and 42 1/2 cents for 12-months. A new top of 46 1/2 cents was set on a 90,000-pound crossbred clip purchased at Mertzon Wednesday.

Only a few hundred thousand pounds of mohair remains unsold. The spring clip brought around 53 for grown and 75 for kid.

Shorn muttons are being marketed in the range country at 7 1/2 cents per pound.

Little fall lamb contracting was reported in the San Angelo-Abilene sheep country. Spring lambs sold at a top price of 8 1/2 cents around San Angelo, that price being paid for lambs averaging 65 to 75 pounds.

Calves are selling at 11 1/2 to 12 1/2 cents a pound.

Many ranchmen are holding wool and livestock for better prices.

C. J. Pawcett, general manager National Wool Marketing Corporation, predicts that consumption of wool this year will approach one billion pounds of grease wool, nearly 50 per cent more than last year.

Ideal conditions on lightly stocked ranges are holding prices of stocker and feeder cattle strong at Fort Worth where choice steer calves are selling up to $13 a hundred. Stocker and feeder yearlings are selling at $9 to $10.50 with stocker cows at $9 to $8.

Slaughter cattle and calves are uneven with heavy steers and yearlings about 25 cents lower this week. One load of fat 1,130-pound cows with the excellent price of $8. Good choice fat calves are selling up to $10.50.

Clarendon Man On TWC Reunion Plan Committee

Special To The NEWS: FORT WORTH, May 16—Sam Braswell, publisher of The Clarendon News is one of the state committee of alumni planning the golden jubilee homecoming celebrating the 50th birthday anniversary of the Methodist-supported school now known as Texas Wesleyan college.

Dr. W. W. Ward, alumnus and college chaplain will direct the homecoming. Another member of the committee is H. S. Hillburn, Plainview.

Over 20,000 persons have attended the college, among them Silliman Evans, Nashville, Tenn., newspaper publisher, and Tom E. Hunter, former gubernatorial candidate from Wichita Falls.

Attendance at the jubilee is expected to be 5,000.

Founded as Polytechnic college by the former Methodist Episcopal church, South in 1891, the school became Texas Woman's college in the educational plan of the church in 1914 when Texas Methodists founded Southern Methodist university in Dallas as the center of their educational activities. In 1925 the Port Worth institution again became co-educational and adopted the present name.

For the first time since 1915 ex-students of the old Polytechnic college will come from all parts of Texas, many other states and foreign countries to attend the fiftieth annual commencement activities and an ex-students banquet.

Miami P-TA Ends Work For 1940-41

Special To The NEWS: MIAMI, May 16—The last meeting of the year and installation of incoming officers was held by Miami P. T. A. in the school auditorium this week.

Mrs. Theo Jenkins acted as installing officer and the following officers were installed for 1941-42: Mrs. Dan Graham, president; Mrs. H. J. McCuiston, first vice-president; Mrs. W. L. Lard, second vice-president; Mrs. Jim Kivliehen, secretary; Mrs. Thomas O'Loughlin, treasurer.

The program was entirely an entertainment feature presented by the freshman class, assisted by Thomas Carruth who sang a vocal solo, and Vera Lee Black who played a piano solo.

Two one-act plays given by the English 1 class under the direction of Sloan Baker were "Two Crooks and the Lady," a plot with a modern slant, and "The Patchwork Quilt," a charming old-fashioned type of plot and setting.

Characters were Miller, the hawk Leland Ethel; Lucile, his accomplice, Imogene Baker; Mrs. Simms-Vane, Ann Morgan; Miss Jones, her companion, Ava Lea Carnahan; police inspector, Bob Haynes; Garity, a policeman, Leo Graham; in the crook play.

In the second one the characters were Mrs. Willis, Adella Jane Craig; Anne Wendell, her daughter, Mae Nelson; Joe Wendell, Anne's husband, Clifford Parker; Betty, their daughter, Lola Tobert; Mrs. Willis in her wedding gown was played by Dovie Lee Harris, and in her young days she was played by Florence Keeth; her husband was portrayed by Gerald Kent.

During the business session Mrs. Campbell, the retiring president, announced that the summer round-up and arrangements for the Shick test had been postponed until a later date.

Carson To Observe 'I Am American' Day

Special To The NEWS: WHITE DEER, May 16—White Deer will join in the observance of National Citizenship day by presenting a program Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the grade school auditorium under the auspices of the Venado Blanco club, with all new voters in the county as guests of honor.

Chester Strickland, superintendent-elect of the White Deer schools, will be the principal speaker. On the program also will be presentation of the colors, pledge of allegiance, patriotic music by the high school sextet, response to the address by Allen Stecker, and a reading "The Laughing Man," by Wendell Cain.

This is a county-wide observance.

Tobey Says Letters Oppose Convoys

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—Senator Tobey (R-NH) asserted today that "tremendous and increasing volume of letters to the white house was acting as a definite check on the president" against any move to order use of the navy to convoy war shipments to belligerents.

In a formal statement announcing he intended to delay offering an anti-convoys resolution in the senate, Tobey predicted that by the time President Roosevelt makes a scheduled speech May 27 sentiment against convoys will have "reached a peak of overwhelming opposition."

Tobey said he had been urged by a "substantial number of senators" of like views not to offer his resolution as an amendment to a pending bill but to authorize requisition of foreign ships idle in American ports.

"I shall present the issue for a senate roll-call vote under a procedure which will not confuse it with the issues involved in the pending ship seizure bill," he said, predicting "a decisive victory" against convoys.

Western Union Hires Girl Messengers

CLEVELAND, May 16 (AP)—Singing telegrams began coming in contrast here today.

Western Union hired seven attractive girls to replace boys taken by the draft or gobbled up by defense industries. The company expects to add more later.

The messengers, all more than 21 years of age, wear ordinary street clothes, and are handling routine delivery messages and singing telegrams, but are not sent farther than downtown office buildings. Boy Messengers continue to do outside errands entailing bicycle riding.

Mack Moves For More Night Games

PHILADELPHIA, May 16 (AP)—Connie Mack, noting a drop in baseball attendance due to stepped up defense work, disclosed today a move for more night games to meet demands of fans.

He predicted the major leagues would get together in joint session within two weeks and lift a rule prohibiting more than seven non-annual tilts at home a season.

"We may have 10, 14 or even more," declared the manager of the Athletics. "My suggestion to increase night games—voted down at the winter meeting—has been gaining momentum."

"Within the last few days I have talked to practically all the owners in our own league and I am sure a similar discussion has been going on in the National.

He hinted the possibility of definite developments tomorrow when commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis and other baseball notables gather here for a Connie Mack Day celebration.

"The fans want night games," remarked Connie. "During the last month I guess I have had at least a hundred letters asking me to do what I could."

I have checked our latest analysis of your water from Pampa and find that according to a formula developed by Herman Stabler in his water supply paper of the U. S. Geological Survey, Number 274, "The industrial application of water analyses," that the alkali coefficient is less than 18, which places it in a good class. That is to say, that waters having an alkali coefficient of less than 18 have been used successfully for many years without special care to prevent alkali accumulation. It should be borne in mind however, that even the best waters may eventually cause an alkali accumulation in the soil, which will be detrimental to plant life if proper drainage is not maintained.

Totals	$771,000.00	$479,695.00	$148,000.00	$43,470.00	$1,442,165.00

$771,000.00 of the principal is payable from taxes, and only $148,000.00 from the Water and Sewer Fund. In order to pay the entire indebtedness it will require $1,442,165.00, which includes $523,165.00 for interest.

The City of Pampa maintains two Interest and Sinking Funds for the purpose of servicing the Bond and Warrant Indebtedness of the City. A fund termed "General Interest and Sinking Fund" is used for the purpose of servicing all Bond and Warrant Issues of the City with the exception of the 1938 Water Revenue Issue. The income of this fund is derived entirely from taxes collected. A fund termed "Water Revenue Bonds Interest and Sinking Fund" is used for the purpose of servicing the 1938 Water Revenue Bond Issue and the income of the fund consists entirely of direct transfers from the "Water and Sewer Fund."

The Bond and Warrant Indebtedness of the City consists of eighteen separate issues, bearing interest from 4% to 6%. Although a number of the Bond and Warrant Issues were issued for the Water and Sewer Department, they are all paid by taxes, with the exception of the one issue.

WATER AND SEWER: The only Bond Issue which is serviced by the Water and Sewer Department is the 1938 Water Revenue Bond Issue, the average annual requirements of which amount to $15,955.83. Revenue from the Water and Sewer Department in excess of its operating needs and the servicing of the Bond Issue, can and has been used for General Municipal purpose.

Operations for the year ending March 31, 1941, resulted in a Net Profit of $101,510.82, before debt requirements and depreciation—this profit was used for the following purposes:

		% of Total
Cash transferred to General Fund to operate the City	$ 71,900.00	70.83%
Cash transferred to 1938 Water Revenue Bond Fund to pay principal and interest	16,456.81	16.21%
Cash spent for improvements to the Water and Sewer Departments	12,243.54	12.06%
Leaving a net increase in other assets of the Water and Sewer Department of	910.47	.90%
	$101,510.82	100.00%

1933	80,469.94	26,122.96	54,346.98

Complete detailed reports are on file in the City Offices, open to anyone interested in more information. One reduction was made in water rates effective August 1, 1940 based on the results obtained from a special survey made of water rates.

Customers' Meter Deposit at the close of the fiscal year amounted to $14,478.61, in comparison to $13,874.41 at the beginning of the year. Water and Sewer Account Receivable increased from $11,645.48 to $12,191.83 during the year.

TAXES: 1940 valuations for tax purposes amounted to $7,440,645.00, an increase of $217,285.00 over the previous year. In the following schedule is shown a comparison of Valuations, Tax Rates, and Taxes Assessed for the years indicated:

Roll	Valuation	Tax Rate	Taxes Assessed
1933	$6,380,370.00	$1.40	$ 89,325.18
1934	6,432,981.00	1.40	89,400.01
1935	6,519,250.00	1.50	97,788.77
1936	6,872,451.00	1.50	103,086.77
1937	7,086,569.00	1.40	99,211.96
1938	7,196,140.00	1.50	107,942.10
1939	7,223,360.00	1.50	108,350.40
1940 (Inc. Supplemental)	7,440,645.00	1.50	111,606.33

It will be noted that Valuations and Taxes Assessed for 1940 were the highest for the period shown in the comparison.

The 1940 tax levy of $1.50 was for the following purposes:

General Purposes—
General Fund	$0.25
Board of City Development	.12
Library	.03
Interest and Sinking Fund	1.10
TOTAL LEVY for 1940	$1.50

Cash tax collections for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1941, amounted to $104,457.66, in comparison to $96,387.75 for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1940, an increase of $8,069.91. $79,521.28 of the current year tax collections was for Interest and Sinking fund purposes, and $24,936.38 for General purposes. Discounts amounting to $9,320.32 were allowed during the current year.

Delinquent and unpaid taxes as of March 31, 1940, amounted to $103,756.84, in comparison to $100,951.93 as of March 31, 1941, a reduction of $2,804.91 for the year. The unpaid taxes when collected will be distributed as follows:

To Interest and Sinking Fund	$ 80,368.93
To General Fund (Including Library)	12,917.72
To B. C. D.	7,665.28
Total	$100,951.93

The above summary shows that the bulk of the taxes are deposited to the credit of the Interest and Sinking Fund for the purpose of servicing Bond and Warrant Issues and only a small part of the taxes used for operating the City.

Partial payments on taxes are held in a Special Trust Fund until a full year has been paid at which time they are withdrawn and run through as regular collections. On March 31, 1941, the Special Trust Fund had a balance of $1,805.13.

FUND BALANCES: Fund Balances on March 31, 1941, amounted to $67,790.57, in comparison to $44,747.28 at the beginning of the year, an increase of $23,043.29. A detailed list of the various funds is as follows:

Cash in Funds
General	$ 1,275.85
Water and Sewer	2,140.69
Library	1,155.98
Pool	24.34
Garbage	3,169.57
Trust	1,805.13
Recreation	193.91
W. P. A. Paving	1,499.84
Petty Cash	253.00
TOTAL OPERATING FUNDS	$11,518.31
Interest and Sinking Funds
General	$48,631.65
Water Revenue Bonds	7,640.61
TOTAL CASH IN FUNDS 3-31-41	$67,790.57

It will be noted that the bulk of the funds are carried in the Interest and Sinking Funds for the purpose of servicing the Bond and Warrant Indebtedness of the City.

The total cash receipts for the year amounted to $313,198.58, with total disbursements of $290,155.29. A brief summary of the disbursements is as follows (all funds):

Disbursed for Water and Sewer Improvements, Paving Costs

"Just a couple of Sunday drivers!"

Flashes Of Life

(By The Associated Press) RADFORD, Va.—Called for induction into the army, Harold Doto received a traveling bag and other gifts at farewell parties given by fellow office employees of the plant where he worked.

Doto back and entertained again in his honor—at a homecoming party.

SOMERSET, Pa.—George C. Schmidt, supervisor of a Penn State defense training engineering course, says a student baffled by a drafting course quiz gave these answers:

Question seven: "If I could remember the formula, I could answer this one easily."

Question eight: "I left my textbook home, or this one would be a pipe."

Question nine: "I never could do mathematics." The final problem: "Oh, —, I'll never be a draftsman."

ALBUQUERQUE—A Pueblo Indian seeking aid in filling out his questionnaire told the draft board he once had frozen his feet.

"Very badly?" asked the interviewer.

"No, just a little." "Do you think you should be placed in class 'IA'?"

"No," was the reply. "I've got two artificial feet."

SALT LAKE CITY—Ira Stormes was a one-man convention.

He presided at the annual encampment, nominated and then elected himself Utah Department Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The 95-year-old Civil war veteran is the only surviving member of the Utah G. A. R.

There is about a pound of salt in every gallon of sea water.

Missionaries Will Speak At Methodist Church On Sunday Joe J. Mickie, who has spent the past 20 years in Japan, will speak at the morning service of the First Methodist church Sunday.

At 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Mickie, who returned home only a few weeks ago, will conduct a forum, answering questions on Japan, an interest-spot in international affairs today. Also Mrs. Mickie will tell of the customs of the people in everyday life.

Because of the request of the government, missionaries have been withdrawn and this step has caused much discussion, both for and against such a policy. Reasons for the action of the Board of Missions as well as the nature of the work which has been going on for a long time will be discussed.

Church Services To Continue In Absence Of Episcopal Pastor Despite the fact that St. Matthew's Episcopal church is temporarily without a minister, services will be conducted regularly each Sunday morning at 11 o'clock with S. G. Surratt, lay reader, in charge.

On June 1, Bishop E. C. Seaman will preach the sermon and administer holy communion.

Rev. R. J. Snell, who for the past four and a half years has been the minister in charge, left Wednesday with his family to take up his work as rector of St. Mary's parish, Big Spring.

The church school will continue to meet regularly throughout the summer at 9:45 a. m. and the Young People's Service league at 6:45 p. m. During the summer months the Woman's Auxiliary will meet once each month instead of every two weeks.

Mortals, Immortals Subject Of Sermon

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 18. The Golden text is: "Forsake the foolish, and live; and go in the way of understanding." (Proverb 9:5).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly. . . . For this corruptible

Tulsa Oilers Slip Back Into Cellar

(By The Associated Press) After a brief glimpse of sunlight, the Tulsa Oilers slipped back into the Texas League cellar last night and the Dallas Rebels climbed out. The inexperienced Oilers beat the first-place Houston Buffs two in a row, but that sort of thing couldn't last and the Buffs came back with a crushing 13-6 victory in the third game of the series at Tulsa. The Rebels managed to wriggle through with a 9-2 win over visiting Beaumont by virtue of Red Hayworth's single to left center in the ninth, which scored two runs and put Dallas one game ahead of Tulsa.

The Oklahoma City Indians took three straight from San Antonio, winning 10-6 due to Paul Fride's single in the eighth with the bases all occupied. Walter Navie hurled the Shreveport Sports to a 7-1 decision over Fort Worth on the latter's field. Navie let the Cats down with five hits.

EXES RUN OVER HARVESTERS BEFORE SHOWER ENDS GAME

1941 Eleven Battered In 7-0 Thriller

Uncorking an overwhelming brand of football, the ex-Harvesters last night defeated the 1941 Harvesters 7 to 0 in a game which was short by a heavy shower which fell early in the third quarter. At that time the Harvesters were staging their only threat of the game.

The exes played a fiery, hard-charging, deadly blocking game which ripped the Harvesters to pieces. The brand of ball they displayed last night could have carried them to a district title in past years.

The lone touchdown of the game came on the third play after the kickoff opening the last half. Edson booted into Pendleton's arms on his 15 and the left-hander sprinted down the sidelines unopposed until stopped by Hollis on the Harvester 40-yard marker.

Then "Speedy" A. C. Enloe sneaked to the sidelines on a huddle play and took a 15-yard pass from "Chief" Carlisle and he roared to the Harvester 2-yard line. A buck failed to gain and then little Bert Ibbell sneaked through a hole for the touchdown and Carlisle booted the ball between the uprights.

It was the only scoring threat of the game. When the rains came again—the Harvesters had the ball on the exes' 25-yard line, closest point they came to a touchdown all night.

But the Harvesters showed flashes of promise—great promise. They worked their reverses exceptionally well considering the lack of practice, but their straight thrusts failed to click. Most successful ball carriers were R. L. Edmondson, midget quarterback, and Leonard Hollis, half-back. The big fullbacks showed possibilities of power but failed to seriously dent the exes' line, possibly because they forgot that Coach Mac Best had moved them back to get up power and they in turn kept closer to the line where they couldn't get started.

Play in the center of the line looked good at times but inexperienced ends, playing against a couple of veterans, was the weakest spot in the Harvester forward wall. The Harvesters lost Wayne Ott, letterman, during spring practice because of illness and Allen quit reporting for practice last Friday.

Enloe and Ibbell were outstanding in the exes' backfield with Kyle and Mullings shining in the line. Harvesters' threats.

A strong south wind made it difficult to control passes or punts and as a result a varied offense was practically impossible. The exes' took the wind and with Enloe and Ibbell carrying, marched for three first downs before penalties threw them back and the drive bogged.

BY JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox are performing tricks again in the American league, hovering around second place with a collection of castoffs while other star-studded clubs wallow in despair.

Their aging pitchers have surprised the staffs of every other team in both majors by hurling 17 complete games out of 24 played, in spite of hit-and-miss help from their teammates.

Their lineup includes Joe Kuhel and Taft Wright, a couple of pickups from the Washington Senators; Dario Lodigiani, a throw-away by the Philadelphia Athletics; Billy Knickerbocker, castoff utility infielder of the New York Yankees; Myril Hoag, who was passed around by both the Yanks and St. Louis Browns, and other derelicts.

But this conglomerate cast has abiding faith in Manager James Joseph Dykes, and ability to rise to the occasion.

Yesterday was an occasion—the retirement of their brash swashbuckling line leader after 22 years on the active list of the American league. He hadn't played in a game since 1939 and, at 44 years of age, is growing portly and bald. However this last concession to time, removal from the playing roster, was an event and the Sox celebrated.

They whipped out a 14-hit offensive and sent the once-proud Yankees crashing to their fifth straight defeat, 13-1. The Sox had made only five homers all season, but they belted three more as evidence of their enthusiasm—and Knickerbocker and Hoag, the former Yanks, each collected four hits.

The Cleveland Indians kept rolling with a 6-4 victory over the Boston Red Sox, with Bob Feller doing a ninth-inning relief chore.

The Detroit Tigers broke their six-game losing streak by overwhelming the Athletics, 10-2, with a vicious 18-hit attack and the seven-hit hurling of young Hal Newhouse.

The St. Louis Browns shut out the Washington Senators, 7-0, with a sensational one-hit pitching performance by slender Dennis Galehouse.

Junior High Track Team In Amarillo

Coach C. P. McWright and his Pampa Junior high track and field team went to Amarillo today for the annual Panhandle Junior High league track and field meet.

First and second place winners in the junior high meet here last Friday made the trip but when he left Coach McWright said he wasn't sure of his starters in each event. The boys have been working out long and hard for the meet but they'll meet stiff competition.

The track and field meet will be the last athletic event this season.

Bombers Shut Out Oilers In 13-0 Fiasco

BIG SPRING, May 16 — Jodie Tate's Big Spring Bombers exploded all over the country last night to blast the Pampa Oilers 13 to 0 in a West Texas-New Mexico league game. The Oilers managed to get only five hits off Welchell while Lefty Glab and Bush were being socked for 15 bingles.

Prather and Phillips bagged doubles for the Oilers while Monroe, Scott and Glab hit singles. Haney, with two doubles and a single, and Potras, with three singles led the Big Spring attack.

Glab yielded eight hits during his four innings and Bush was nicked for seven bingles the rest of the way. Prather, McPartland and Myers all played first base while Monroe and Reynolds worked behind the plate.

The Oilers play in Big Spring tonight before moving on to Lamesa.

Low Jenkins Underdog For Bout Tonight

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—Laughin' Low Jenkins goes to the post against serious Bob Montgomery in Madison Square Garden tonight to try to prove once again that the best way to get ready for a fight is to play the juke box circuit on a motor-cycle.

And young Bob, a Philadelphia negro who works harder for a fight than a bridegroom trying to avoid attention, is just as sure he can show that Lew's way doesn't pay.

Of course, the immediate ten-round tea party will pay for both of them, regardless, since they'll be cutting up the big end of an expected $40,000 gate, kindly contributed by a "house" of some 14,000 customers. And, if Montgomery wins he'll also have a chance to pick up some more change in a shot at Fritz Zivlic's welterweight title.

But beyond that, this tussle, which has no bearing on Jenkins' lightweight championship, should de-

Pampa Needs NYA Program

Pampa, at the head of the class in so many worthwhile projects, thus far has not taken advantage of the NYA program that has been and still is being offered it. There is a group of Pampa men, most of them young business men, who are really doing everything they can to get the NYA program started here, and if they keep up the good work it is predicted that in the end they will be successful. It will mean not only thousands of dollars for Pampa, but it will mean valuable training for the youth of the city.

Fifty thousand young Texans who stand at the threshold of maturity are finding the National Youth Administration holding the door open for them.

The six-year-old NYA is spending upwards of $5,000,000 in Texas this year to equip these young people to meet the battles of life later on.

They need that sort of help because they come from low income families unable to launch their young ones properly and because they are in the malleable years of 16 to 24.

Progress NYA is making with the job can be judged by the completed work to be seen all over the state; by the increasing confidence of once skeptical sponsors; so that there are always applications for more projects than it can approve; by the speed with which the Texas NYA has adapted itself to national defense plans.

NYA provides work experience for boys and girls in the great number of clerical and mechanical jobs opening up for people of some experience as the defense program gets under way. NYA also has many projects now operating directly in the cause of defense.

There are two kinds of assistance that NYA gives youth. One is for those who must have part-time jobs to finish their education. It is known as "the student work" program. An April count showed that 22,905 students are continuing their education in schools or colleges of their choice by doing some socially desirable type of work for the institution which they attend.

Twenty-five hundred and 85 schools and 85 colleges are participating. At that, four applicants are waiting for every available in-school job. NYA approves the school, the school approves the student. A little less than a million and a half dollars of the State NYA budget of six and a half million dollars is being used for this kind of aid.

The remaining five million dollars finances the "out-of-school" program. Twenty-four thousand boys and girls not in school and who do not have jobs are getting their first work experience on NYA projects. These may be locally sponsored workshops where youngsters of a particular community work during daytime hours and go to their homes at night. Or they may be resident centers, either full or part-time, where boys or girls from further distances are lodged, fed, given medical attention and recreation, while their work experience is gained at shops in connection with or near the residence center.

NYA youths receive $16 on local projects, $30 at residential centers, either for some kind of service they render on a project, or for work where they actually produce articles.

NYA requires boys and girls to be from low income families, and in need of work experience, but NYA is not a form of relief, as such.

It is, State Administrator J. C. Kellam of Austin explains, a program to give young people a chance to develop manual and mechanical skills and get some work experience so they may get jobs. Administrator Kellam tells how the program has developed through three phases since its beginning: From dirt moving to small construction to workshops.

"The NYA was first set up as an agency within the WPA," he says. "It's job was to put jobless young people to work, quickly. They did roadside park improvement, built culverts, dug drainage ditches. In those early days, public sponsors, who are required by provisions of the national setup, were doubtful as to whether inexperienced, unskilled youngsters could do work of any financial value to the sponsor.

"A financially weak school district, for example, wouldn't sponsor the building of a vocational cottage for fear NYA youth couldn't build it. Faced with the prospect of not getting the building, because they had insufficient funds for it, they began taking chances. Under competent supervision, NYA boys built the cottage. Seeing was believing, and an adjoining school district asked for a library. Now communities are putting in applications for more projects than we can approve."

While communities were getting less timid about giving NYA a try, NYA was making a few changes of its own. And it was being transferred out of WPA to the Federal Security Agency with increased budgets voted by congress.

Two things became apparent to National Administrator Aubrey Williams and state NYA leaders: that the international situation, becoming graver, unmistakably pointed toward this country having to speed up its defense measures and industrial production; two, that while NYA was filling the job given it of putting to work boys and girls who had to have jobs, it was not giving enough of them the kind of jobs in which they could learn to use their hands and some tools—the sort of skill that all indications pointed toward their needing soon.

"The question was how to give youngsters what they needed. The workshop program was begun. Cities and counties began here and there to furnish buildings and offer to pay utility bills. The NYA set up shops in them—woodwork at first, then general metal, auto repair and machine shops.

Today, about 2,000 young people are employed in

Common Ground

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the shares of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

STRIKERS THE REAL WAGE CUTTERS

The real wage cutter is not, as many well-meaning but uninformed people think, the employer who refuses to pay wish-wages but the men who attempt to establish wages by strikes.

In other words, strikers are the biggest and worst and most pernicious wage cutters. Of course, many strikers do not realize this. They actually believe that they are helping their fellowman get decent wages. They probably believe this because they can see a few wages forced up by the threats of strikers, but they do not see that these artificial wages come out of the sweat of all other labor. They reduce the real wages of all other laborers. They do this in two ways: First, by increasing the selling price of the product paying the wage established by the threat of sudden and arbitrary stoppage of production. This is the equivalent of reducing the real wages of other workers.

Second, they cut the real wages of all other workers because they greatly reduce production. They reduce production because those people who believe that wages can be established by strikes contend that each worker in the union has as much to say about the wages of each individual in the union as the most intelligent, the most efficient and the most experienced worker.

This puts the wrong man in the wrong job, prevents tools and human talents from being efficiently used and so greatly reduces production. Doing this discourages and retards the accumulation of capital and tools without which there can be no wage increases.

Will Not Answer Questions

The fact that strikers are the biggest wage cutters is known by every man who knows enough about what he is talking about, that he can and will answer questions without contradicting himself.

Of course, most strikers are like Charlie McCarthy, parrots, puppets, tools, repeating what agents of Karl Marx tell them to say. Karl Marx contended that wage workers and employers were enemies; that business was a form of war; that one man's producing was harmful to another worker instead of beneficial.

None of these so-called labor leaders will publicly answer questions or submit to a discussion, with a stenographer present, that can be made public. All they will do is to discuss things in a manner in which their contradictions and irreconcilable statements cannot be made plain to their followers. They will never go into a newspaper that insists on both sides of a controversy being presented. They establish their own propaganda papers and will not allow people who will answer questions space in their mediums. By following these tactics, they have succeeded in fooling many well-meaning, conscientious, capable workers. Many of these workers actually believe, when they strike and thus retard production, that they are really helping their fellow workers get decent wages.

We have offered such believers in the efficacy of raising wages by strikes, as William Green, Frances Perkins, Mrs. Roosevelt, John Lewis and Bishop Francis McCormell of the Methodist Church, $100 if they would answer such questions as the following. They have always refused to do it. Here is the question:

If employees are not to be selected on the rule of the worker who will do the most for the compensation paid over a period of years, then by what impersonal, eternal rule, or law, are they to be selected?

Are they to be selected by the rule of the man who will do the least for the compensation paid? Are they to be selected by lot? Are they to be selected by seniority? Or by the workers' needs? Or by rotation? Or by threat of sudden stoppage of work? Or by what impersonal, arithmetical, unchangeable, eternal rule are they to be selected?

When they are not to be selected by the rule of the free choice of all workers, there seems to be no rule. Then it becomes arbitrary. Then it becomes anarchy.

One outspoken proponent of labor unions answered the above questions by saying a committee should determine the rate of pay. But when he was asked by what rule the committee would determine the amount of the wage, he answered, "God only knows."

And this lack of any known rules other than the rule of competition causes all kinds of confusion and misunderstanding. It is for this reason strikers are the worst of all wage cutters; the worst of all chiselers in wages; the worst enemy of other workers. They have no rule, no plan, but anarchy and arbitrary, changeable action without principle. This means poverty, misery and eventually starvation of millions of people if the attempt to set wages by strikes becomes the general practice.

Of course, I would like to believe that the wage levels could be raised by wish or by threat of strikes. It would be such an easy way of raising wage levels. But until the above questions are answered, my reason tells me that strikers, instead of raising wage levels and helping their fellow workers, are the worst enemies of other productive workers, who, by their work and production, make the production of all other workers producing other things exchange for more. This is the same as increasing the real wages of all other productive workers producing other things.

The columns of this paper, of course, are open for any man who believes that strikers are beneficial to other workers to explain how it can be done by answering the above questions.

projects directly sponsored by the army. These vary from clerical training to airplane mechanics. Six thousand others are getting work experience in NYA shops, keyed to the needs of defense industry. NYA has proved that one of its most valuable assets is a flexibility, so that its program for out-of-school youth in a nation at peace with itself and with the world is changing to meet the demands of a country that overnight has had to plan and put under way the biggest defense program it has ever faced.

"Tell me the situation of your youth today and I'll tell you the state of your nation tomorrow," a European refugee to this country commented recently. He had watched the young men of Germany, unable to fit themselves into the industrial life of a country which seemed to have no need for them, form the spearhead of the Nazi movement.

NYA is taking the young people of this country and undertaking to forge them into useful human tools whose work is to help preserve their society.

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

NI A Service Staff Consultant

HOLLYWOOD, May 16—If the motion picture industry really is trying to win amigos and influence opinion in Central and South America, it certainly seems to be going about it the hard way.

Our federal government has set up a bureau to promote better understanding and closer relations of all sorts between the American republics. The young man in charge is Nelson Rockefeller, whose family has been known as an acquisitive and dominant power in the oil business of the world.

So it is worth noting that one of the most popular pictures being exhibited in Argentina just now is "Petroleo," produced by a Buenos Aires studio and dealing indignantly with U. S. oil grabs in the Argentine. All the villains are Yankees.

SOUTH AMERICAN WAY —HOLLYWOOD VERSION

Under Mr. Rockefeller in the good-neighbor department is John Hay Whitney, head of the motion picture division. Merely by being the owner of a large and widely distributed fortune, Jock Whitney is more likely to be regarded by our Latin neighbors as a Yankee imperialist than an altruistic internationalist.

I suppose Mr. Whitney has been in South America, but I'll bet that he never sat in a theater down there during the showing of one of Hollywood's so-called South American pictures and heard the natives murmuring in mixed amusement and would not now pretend that he is satisfied with the fact Hollywood is making and planning more pictures with South American locales.

It's harder to imagine that Hollywood ever could do right by those countries south of the Rio Grande than an Argentine picture company could accurately mirror the life and thoughts and moods of people in one of our states.

And here's a question that this correspondent never has been able to get answered in Hollywood: Even if we were able to represent faithfully the customs, psychology, cosmology, backgrounds and all the rest—what of it? Would it help to make South Americans admire us?

Would you, for instance, think any more of England if the London studios began presenting a picture of life in the United States? The chances are you'd think them pretty stupid to try to compete in that way with our own movie companies.

If you're asked to see a London-made film, you'd want it to tell you something about England or the empire. And a "Mr. Chips," a "Citadel" or a "Pygmalion" would show you quite a bit about the people and their way of life.

LATINS LIKE OUR WESTERNS

South and Central Americans seem to like pretty much the same way about U. S. pictures.

They like our westerns and musicals and historical epics—in fact, everything that can be readily understood through dubbed dialog or superimposed subtitles. A poll in Buenos Aires named "Grapes of Wrath," "Gone With the Wind" and "Ninotchka" as the best films of 1940.

It's fairly obvious that Hollywood's comic-opera conceptions of South America are being filmed for the North American trade, but with just enough attention to authenticity and avoidance of insults to deter the Latin customers from tearing the seats out of the theaters.

As good-will builders, Nelson Rockefeller and Jock Whitney might

THE LOOKING GLASS

FRAIL MAID

By Stella Holit

Lily Belle wore the biggest sunbonnets of anybody round Rush Springs. They always had long tails and she pulled the strings tight under her chin. You had to peer in like you would in a covered wagon to see her face. She had a horror of sunshine. She put old stockings on her arms and even arranged the feet part so they would cover her fingers.

She put buttermilk on her face at night and rubbed cucumbers on her arms. And before Ed was coming over to see her she used to take calomel tablets so she would look pale and frail.

Ed seemed to like her. He'd come and take her driving and everybody said they were sparring and they'd make a fine couple when Lily Belle got over some of her foolish notions and quit primping so much.

Then Ed went away to visit an old uncle of his down near Galveston and he liked it so much there he decided to stay on. He wrote to Lily Belle once in a while but he couldn't spell very well and letter writing was a big chore for him.

Lily Belle didn't have to take calomel any more to look pale. She went right into a decline. She'd moon around like a dying cat and try to smile bravely if anyone looked at her. Her little brother would look at her, pull a gloomy face and sing

"I'll be all smiles tonight, love I'll be all smiles tonight; Though my heart may break tomorrow I'll be all smiles tonight."

Then Lily Belle took to having spells. No matter where she was, generally where there was a crowd, she could just slump down and faint away. Bud had to stop teasing her because it scared him to see her faint. The doctor couldn't find anything wrong with her but he thought she ought to stay in bed. And that was where she was when Ed came back. Somebody wrote him that Lily Belle had gone into a decline.

The blipds were drawn to shut out the sunshine which she hated. In the shadow of the room, in her long sleeved, high throated white night gown, with her long red gold braids framing her pale face, Ed thought she looked just like an angel. So as soon as she got well they were married and she was never sick another day in her life.

She had six children and she used to work in the fields bare-headed and bare-armed. She had lots of big freckles but she never minded the sun after she got Ed.

TEX'S TOPICS

By Tex DeWeese

HANG onto your hats folks, here we go! . . . Which is one way of telling you that we got a nice package from Uncle Sam yesterday telling us how to take care of ourselves in the event of an air raid. . . . It's a good idea and everybody should be glad to get something like that, but it sure gives you the willies to think about ever having to follow out those instructions. . . . The bulletin is "No. 1" and it presents the general background necessary for intelligent consideration of the subject of protective construction of your air raid shelter.

You can get one of these little books by writing to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., and enclosing a quarter.

It has been prepared by the War department with the assistance and advice of other federal agencies, and issued by the Division of State and Local Cooperation out of its office for emergency management. . . . In no sense should the bulletin be construed, however, as the signal to start work immediately on any of the structures described. Nevertheless, it is deemed essential that responsible civil authorities and civil engineers give thought to methods, plans, and especially procedures that can be followed in their respective localities should such protective structures become necessary in the future.

THE material presented in this little booklet was prepared after close study of the latest information available from European sources, chiefly British, and it is intended as a general summary of that type of information. Many subjects are treated in it briefly. The detailed data upon which designs for air raid shelters can be based are being assembled from foreign reports and from tests being conducted in the United States. The foreword in the book says that this material is digested it will be disseminated to the public.

THE book describes just what happens in an air raid, the type of weapons used, the types of bombs, their effect, how they act when they strike, and then it gives information on the measures of defense against aerial attack with blue prints of the various types of air raid shelters for protection of various types of homes, public buildings, and industrial plants.

Personally, we enjoyed that style show last night much more than we did the reading of this book sent to us by Uncle Sam.

However, if we had been given our choice—we would have taken the book, because you never know when you might need some of the information which it contains. . . . It's a smart thing for Uncle Sam to do. . . . Better get this information now than wait until it's too late.

WE'll be glad to let you borrow our bulletin just to convince you that you're going to get your money's worth when you send that quarter.

Quick change of subject. . . . Why not go up to KPDN tomorrow afternoon and become a part of the studio audience at the Staff Frolic program which goes on the air at 3 o'clock for 30 minutes of fun and hilarity. . . . Among other things, Randolph Hemingway is scheduled to conduct a laugh clinic on the various types of laughs all the way from the "muffled" to the "riotous," after the individual laugh types have been discussed and illustrated in detail. Mr. Hemingway will take up "mob laughter," and this is where the studio audience comes in. . . . So, why not oil up your laugh and go up to KPDN tomorrow afternoon. . . . You'll have fun.

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

France's new move toward collaboration with her Nazi conquerors—a sensation boldly punctuated by the disclosure that Germany is occupying French mandated Syria and already using its airdromes for operations against Britain—represents a grim development for the Allies.

It means more than that, for Washington has labelled it as a potential menace to the western hemisphere. President Roosevelt's appeal to the French people, over the head of the Vichy government, to reject collaboration with Nazidom, clearly marks the gravity of the position.

While Marshal Petain, French chief of state, yesterday announced the extension of cooperation with Nazidom, there remains some question as to whether he actually approved of the use of Syrian territory by the Germans. I he did so he abandoned one of his foremost policies—that of maintaining "keep hands off the French colonies."

British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden yesterday charged that Petain apparently had indeed granted the Nazis transit rights in Syria. Should this prove to be true it will mean that a tired old man, bowed by the weight of his 85 years, finally has succumbed to German pressure, which has been as unrelenting as the third degree.

Certain French quarters in Vichy say that Petain has made some concessions in order to gain time. The dogged fight which the old gentleman has made to preserve the integrity of his colonies might lend some substance to that idea.

However, the fact remains that strategically important Syria has gone by the board and is now in the hands of the enemy. The safety of the Allies in the Near East. If this is an indication that Petain may grant similar privileges to the Nazis in France's African possessions, it represents a position of the utmost concern to the Allies.

This is a thing which Britain has feared all along. Should the marshal throw his colonies open to Hitler, it would provide the Germans with eagerly sought bases for operations which would threaten the British command of the entire Mediterranean. That would be an Allied catastrophe.

And if the Nazis were able to secure the naval base of Dakar on the west coast of Africa, they could strike heavily from there against the trans-Atlantic shipping routes. They would give Hitler another powerful link for the counter-blockade with which he is trying to strangle Britain.

If Petain really is succumbing to Hitler's onslaught, then Allied hope must turn in the direction of General Weyand's command of the French colonial possessions. Weyand is Petain's man, and has supported the chief of state through thick and thin. However, he has always stood for the welfare of his country and there must be some question whether he would surrender colonial privileges to the Germans under any circumstances.

Texas Oil Facts

The Gulf Coast area of Texas has 33 oil refineries with a capacity of 1,047,950 barrels of crude daily, or more than any other entire state.

Four-fifths of all the oil produced in Texas is also refined in Texas, making petroleum refining the state's largest manufacturing industry.

Texas-made oil tools and equipment are shipped to every oil-producing country in the world.

Texas has five oil fields producing oil from below 10,000 feet, or approximately two miles deep.

Texas has two of the five deepest oil tests ever drilled, one in South Texas going to 13,728 feet and one in West Texas to 12,785 feet. California has the deepest, which went to 15,004 feet.

YESTERDAY: Bill Jenks reports for a sensational tabloid...

TROUBLE FOR CARDMAN

CHAPTER IV

DR. VAN HORN studied the tabloid newspaper on his desk. Lines of worry creased his forehead...

CLIMBING the stairs to Van Horn's office, Paula fought for composure. The president arose as she entered and said courteously...

ject to questions that won't involve others?"

"Please ask them, Dr. Van Horn."

"Miss Jeffers, are you interested in stirring up conflict at Cardman?"

"Of course not!"

"Then you don't want to see a quarrel begun that would result in unpleasant publicity for the school?"

"I'm sure no one wants that—not even the League," Paula replied.

"Perhaps not... Do you think the Greek-letter societies are forcing this fight?"

"No, sir." This time Paula was vehement. "I'm certain they're not."

"Well, they have their faults, Miss Jeffers, but on the whole they're a good influence. He arose and, moving to the window, gazed across the campus."

"My life," he said softly. "Here one group must not be pitted against another. There is too much of that already in the world today."

Impulsively Paula laid her hand on his sleeve. "Will you believe me, Dr. Van Horn? I—I feel that way, too."

"Miss Jeffers, your record at Cardman forces me to believe you. I cannot think that your presence at that meeting was anything but a mistake. I wish I might say the same of Wentrich."

"Oh, Dr. Van Horn," Paula cried recklessly, "please let Chris off this time. He—he won't make any trouble. I promise you."

Van Horn's eyes grew stern. "You forget yourself, Miss Jeffers."

"I—I'm sorry," Paula turned toward the door. "Thank you for believing me."

Van Horn's manner softened. "Wait, please. Suppose I accept your word in regard to Wentrich? True, he's never been involved in serious difficulties, but his record is, er, turbulent. How can you be so certain of his future behavior?"

Paula turned, her eyes shining. "I—I'll see to it, Dr. Van Horn—personally!"

He smiled down into her flushed, determined face. "Yes, I believe you will, Miss Jeffers. How can you remember your promise when I talk with Wentrich?"

"Thank you," Paula whispered. "Just one thing more, Miss Jeffers. You may think a great deal is being made of this affair. You will notice that the newspaper story makes it appear that I am at fault for siding with the Greek-letter societies. I must warn you that certain outside interests would like to make trouble on the campus. It's the duty of every student who loves Cardman to fight them. Good day, Miss Jeffers."

EMERGING from the dusky corridors of the Administration building, Paula stood blinking in the brilliant sunshine. A dozen questions prowled through her mind. Who were the "outside interests?" Why had Jenks' paper played up the story? Why had Jenks himself written from a biased viewpoint? Why was Kilo's face the only one in the photograph to be obscured?

Paula saw Chris coming up the path and dodged behind a corner of the building. She didn't want to talk to him until he had seen Van Horn. She waited on a bench until his tall figure emerged, then she went to meet him.

Chris said coldly, "Hello, Paulie." He tried to brush her, but she fell into step with him.

"Chris, don't be an idiot. What happened last night wasn't my fault. Jenks was coming to the meeting anyway. I couldn't stop him, so I tagged along to warn you."

Chris's face clouded into a sulk. "I don't need anyone to watch out for me, Paulie," he said. "Try to remember that."

Paula bit her lip, then grinned up at him. "Crab! Look, Christopher, we're pals. How about telling the little gal what happened in Van Horn's office?"

"Plenty," Chris mumbled. "First he gave me canned lecture No. 1, then he told me he was disbanding the League until after commencement."

"Chris,"

"You're going to do what he says, aren't you?"

"Promise?"

But Chris was staring across the campus. "Look, there's Kilo. I've got to break the news to her."

"Tiny flocks of gold swam into Kilo's green eyes as she listened. "So he thinks he can stop us with another ruling!" She tossed her lovely head. "We'll have something to say about that, won't we, Chris?"

Chris evaded the question. "Van Horn said the whole thing would be ironed out next year."

"Next year!" Kilo sneered. "He knows he won't be—" She broke off abruptly. "Chris, he's not going soft on me?"

The old reckless look flickered in his eyes. "Count on old Christopher all the way, Kilo!" he grinned.

"No, Chris!" Paula cried. But she knew it wasn't any use.

Picnic And Graduation Party Welcome Season With May Basket Of Ideas For Spring-Into-Summer Eating

BY JOHNNIE DAVIS

Not until the first picnic of the season is spring a reality. One whiff of sizzling steaks and an open window with the freshness of awakening earth bids farewell to winter and welcomes more carefree days.

The technique of preparing the steaks can not be overlooked. The picnic is as successful as the steak is perfect.

To broil steaks out-of-doors, build a large fire and let it die to a mass of red, glowing embers, advises Inez S. Willson, home economist. This is important as it gives the slow, even heat that is best for broiling. Place the steaks on a brick far enough from the coals to keep them from cooking too quickly. The steaks will be more juicy and flavorful if cooked slowly at a moderate temperature. The steaks should be brown on one side in about half the cooking time. A steak one-inch thick will be done in about 12 to 15 minutes. When browned on one side, season, turn and finish broiling.

To Accompany Steak

The deliciousness of steak done to a turn and eaten out-of-doors is sufficient in itself, but we also enjoy accompaniments to its goodness. A fresh garden salad of lettuce, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes and slices of onion lightly tossed and served in a big bowl with another big bowl of crisp potato chips are the most popular appetizers. French bread—too fitless into the picture—as does the bottomless pot of coffee.

Delicious as they are, steaks aren't our one and only thought in foods for a picnic. Frankfurters in fact have become an American institution.

Table dolls to fix motif for graduation party.

A Frankfurter Frolic

For the frankfurter frolic, be sure to bring along a spicy barbecue sauce to dip the frankfurters in, as soon as they're done—just before you pop them into a bun.

To vary the usual camp-style sandwich we find at picnics, try putting a thin slice of cheese on a slice of soft bread. Over it place a slice of ready-to-serve meat, then roll. Slip onion rings around the roll and toast until brown and heated through. These are good to eat with a crisp salad.

Speaking of salads, if it's inconvenient to bring a salad bowl and mix the salad at the picnic grounds, then arrange several lettuce leaves to make a compact cup, fill with the salad and wrap like a pop-corn ball in a square of cellophane. They're irresistible that way.

STRIKE NEW NOTE WITH TABLE DOLLS FOR GRADUATION

From elementary and high schools and colleges, the graduates begin to arrive. So it's time for a celebration. You can make a giddy pair of young graduates by following the easy directions given below. Place the graduates in the center of the table with school colors and school banners.

DOLLS' HEAD: Make a tube

New Life For Your Old Shoes! We renew them in appearance and usefulness. Goodyear Shoe Shop D. W. SASSER One Door West of Perkins Drug five inches deep and five inches in circumference of double thickness of peach crepe paper. Stuff tube with cotton and tie with spool wire one inch from top and bottom. Paint features on with watercolor paints or crayons. Paint cheeks with rouge.

LEGS AND BODY: Cut two pieces of heavy No. 15 wire each nine inches long. Wrap the two wires together with one-half inch strip of peach crepe paper cut across the grain. Leave one inch of wire at one end unwrapped. Bend the unwrapped wires at right angles and fasten with gummed paper tape to the top side of a cardboard sole two inches long and three-quarter inch wide. Place a lead coat or dress weight on top of the sole and hold in place by wrapping both the leg and foot with the narrow strip of peach crepe paper. Repeat for second leg. Then place the surplus neck crepe paper below doll's head between the two leg wires and wrap together with the peach crepe paper. Wrap from neck down for about three inches.

ARMS: For the arms cut one piece of No. 15 wire nine inches long. Bend back one-half inch at each end and wrap several times with strip of peach crepe paper cut across the grain. Place center of arm wire at right angles to the body and hold in place with spool wire. Wrap altogether with peach crepe paper, criss-crossing the wrapping over and under the arms and around the doll's body. Continue until doll is stout as desired.

GIRL DOLL'S SKIRT: Make skirt out of strip of white crepe paper six inches deep and 36 inches long. Gather along one long edge with a needle and thread or on the sewing machine. Paste skirt in place around doll's waist.

SLEEVES: For the sleeves cut two bell-shaped sleeves out of black crepe paper. Paste the seams together and slip one sleeve over each arm. Tie with spool wire at shoulders or paste in place. Turn the black bottom of each sleeve about one-half inch at the waist. The skirt section of the gown is a strip of black crepe paper five inches deep and 36 inches long. Gather along one long edge and paste in place, just below the doll's arms. Then cut top yoke out of double thickness of black crepe paper and paste in place at the shoulders and front. Finish with small, round collar of double thickness of white crepe paper and a tiny black tie.

HAT: Cut strip of black crepe paper three inches deep and long enough to go around doll's head. Fold strip in half lengthwise and paste short ends together. Gather top of cap together with needle and thread. Paste a two-inch square of black mat stock on top and decorate with tiny crepe paper tassel. Paste in place on doll's head.

BOY DOLL: Dress same as girl for cap and gown. For the trousers make two tubes of double thickness of black crepe paper and slip one over each leg. Paste in place at doll's waist.

BASE: Cut a five-inch square of white cardboard. Then with gummed paper tape fasten a cardboard band three-quarter inch wide around four sides. Brush paste over outer surface and cover top with white crepe paper and the sides with blue. Make a second and smaller step using a three-inch square of cardboard. Cover both top and sides with red crepe paper. Pierce hole in center of top of each step and insert the flag pole of each bend and spread the unwrapped wires chicken-foot fashion. Fasten to under side of box with gummed paper tape. Cut pennant out of red crepe paper or other school color. Paste to top of pole. Add streamers of white ribbon.

FOR CASSEROLE COOKS

Remember the Seven Layer Dinner that enjoyed such a tremendous vote of popularity several years ago? Ground meat, various vegetables and soup—seven layers of ingredients in all—were placed in a casserole and baked together. The secret of popularity was twofold—it was ultra-simple to make and it provided a whole dinner in a single dish.

Here then is a layered main dish that is a fitting successor to the Seven Layer Dinner. It is a Tamale Casserole made of layers of cornmeal mush, browned onion and chili powder, browned meat, onions and tomato. The recipe is an adaptation of the Mexican corn-husk-wrapped tamale, but, like this country's version of chili, has had its spiciness modified somewhat to suit the American taste.

When she chooses this casserole for her dinner mainstay, the homemaker who owns an electric range will hang a sign or her kitchen door "Out for the afternoon; expect to be home shortly before dinner." For the automatic electric timer clock on the range makes it possible for her to prepare the Tamale Casserole at noon, leave it in a cold oven, and comes home to find it bubbling hot and ready to place on the table. The only thing she must do before she leaves the kitchen is to set the timer clock for the time she wishes the current to switch on and the time she wishes it to turn off. The electric range does the rest!

Tamale Casserole

(Serves 6 to 8)
1 cup yellow corn meal
3 1/2 cups water
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
4 tablespoons fat
2 cups sliced onions
1/2 cup green pepper
(finely cut)
1 pound ground beef
1 1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 10 1/2-ounce can condensed tomato soup
Prepare corn meal mush by mixing 1 cup yellow corn meal with 1 cup cold water. Slowly add this to 2 cups boiling water to which 1 1/2 teaspoons salt has been added. Stir constantly until mixture boils, then cook 30 minutes over very low heat, stirring constantly. Place half of fat in skillet on electric surface unit, using a medium heat. Fry onions and green pepper until onion is tender and transparent, then remove from pan. Then place in this same frying pan the remainder of the fat, and the ground meat. Season with the remaining 1 teaspoon salt and pepper, and brown meat lightly.
Add chili powder to cornmeal mush and blend thoroughly. Fill casserole with alternate layers of cornmeal mush, ground meat, green pepper, onion, and tomato soup diluted with remaining 1/2 cup water. The top layer should be cornmeal mush. Preheat electric oven and bake 30 minutes at 400 degrees F.

Hominy Sausage Casserole

(Serves 6 to 7)
1 pound link pork sausages
3 tablespoons water
1/2 cup onion (finely cut)
1/2 clove garlic (finely cut)
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 No. 2 can tomatoes (2 1/2 cups)
1 No. 2 1/2 can hominy (3 1/2 cups)
1/2 cup grated cheese
Place sausages, and approximately 3 tablespoons of water in skillet on surface unit of electric range. Cook over medium heat until water is evaporated and sausages are brown. Remove sausages and drain off all but 2 tablespoons of fat. Add onion and cook until tender and transparent. Combine minced garlic, flour, sugar, salt, and pepper with tomatoes. Fill casserole with layers of drained hominy, sausage, onion, and tomato mixture. The top layer should be hominy. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Preheat electric oven and bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees F.

CABBAGE IN DIET

Cabbage, always a vital, important vegetable in low budgets, plays a popular part in the large budget of a successful singer.

Norona, lovely star of the Metropolitan Opera company, says, "In this country cabbage is generally relegated to a life as a side dish. It's chopped up for slaw, boiled with corn beef, or served creamed or buttered with other dishes. But in Czechoslovakia, my native country, or for that matter in most of Europe, cabbage has a career of its own. We use it for soups, for entrees, even for desserts."

Norona gives some of her favorite cabbage recipes. They offer novelty, flavor and nutrition for very little money.

BROWN CABBAGE SOUP

(Serves 4 to 6)
One cabbage, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon golden sugar syrup, 2 quarts stock, 6 pepper corns.

Cut cabbage up finely, and cook in butter until a light brown. Add syrup and stir constantly until syrup is thoroughly browned without being too dark. Add stock and spices. Cover saucepan and let simmer for about 2 1/2 hours. Serve with meat balls.

CABBAGE AND NOODLE DISH

(Serves 4 to 6)
One-half package of noodles, 1 large shredded cabbage, 1 teaspoon sugar, pepper, salt, butter.
Boil noodles. Shred cabbage, add 1 teaspoon salt, and let stand for about 45 minutes. Squeeze out and slowly in butter with 1 teaspoon sugar, then add pepper until brown. Combine with noodles. Bake in oven for 20 minutes. Serve by self or with hot or cold ham.

CABBAGE PANCAKES

(Serves 4 to 6)
One head white cabbage, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup milk, 1 egg, 1 egg yolk.

Shred cabbage fine, add salt and allow to stand about 45 minutes before using. Melt butter, add sugar and milk, until it dissolves and begins to brown, then add cabbage which has been well drained. Cook cabbage until tender. Combine egg, milk and egg yolk, which have been beaten together, and stir into the sifted flour. Beat until batter is smooth, then add cooked cabbage which has been drained. Drop by spoonfuls onto a well greased pan, and fry like pancakes. Before folding, fill with a little chopped ham.

MAY BASKET OF IDEAS

Twinkle, twinkle, little glassful (not too little) is your theme song from now on out. Carbonated Beverage Week, started by May 11th and 17th, bounds the sparkling cooler season, with your old-time favorites and some new ones making those long late ones for summer afternoons and evenings. Herald this "Week" with the tinkle of ice cubes, long-handled spoons or swizzle sticks in glasses.

Top gingerale with vanilla, strawberry or raspberry ice cream.
Try orange, lime or lemon soda with a scoop of vanilla or strawberry ice cream added.

R U FOR RHUBARB?

Rosy, glistening rhubarb is "stalking" into the markets in droves; get yours while the quality's good, the supply plentiful, the price low. Stew it, "pie" it; be sure to try it!

Rhubarb Cobbler

Fruit Mixture: Mix 2 tbsps. flour, cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt. Add 2 cups sliced rhubarb and 1/2 cup water. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Pour into greased baking dish (10x6x2 inches) and top with crust. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 20-35 minutes.
Cobbler Topping:
1 cup sifted flour
2 teaspoons all-phosphate baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
3 tablespoons shortening
1 1/2 cup milk
Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together. Cut in shortening. Stir in milk, stirring only enough to moisten the dry ingredients. Turn onto floured surface and knead for 30 seconds. Roll to 1/4 inch thickness and cut into 6 rounds with floured cutter. Place on top of fruit. Bake as directed.

QUICK 'N' EASY

Hot weather calls for cold desserts; it calls for easy to make ones, too, that keep you and the kitchen cool and unfretted. Look to packages of gingerbread mix for the luscious solution, and see to it you get the kind based on Mary Washington's own recipe, mixed all but the water, which you add, and then bake. Split it while it's hot and make it a strawberry-gingerbread shortcake; or top it with generous dabs of vanilla, strawberry or maple walnut ice cream. Slice ripe bananas on top, for another kind of sunny summer treat, or bake your gingerbread in custard cups, scoop out a hole, fill with ice cream and put the "lid" back on. Add blueberries to the batter and bake in muffin tins, for fun and quick desserts, and try that one with hard sauce. Nothing hard about desserts this summer, with packages of Mrs. Washington's mix handy!

EAT IT DOWN; DRINK IT UP!

Drink your dessert and eat your beverage; it's all the same to coffee, for the versatile favorite-drink of millions aches is what's called a "dessert beverage," and see—saves you all kinds of fuss and bother. Toss for parties, hot nights, coffee desert beverages go like this:
Coffee Frappe:
Dissolve 4 tablespoons of sugar in 2 cups of freshly made coffee; cool. Pour into tray of automatic refrigerator and freeze until firm but not hard. Beat 1 egg white until stiff; add 1 tablespoon of sugar; add the frozen mixture and beat until fluffy but not melted. Return quickly to freezing tray and freeze until firm. Using 3/4 cups of freshly-made chilled coffee, half fill 4 tall glasses; divide frozen mixture among glasses. Serve 4.

George Washington twice received every vote of the electoral college.

New Battleship Commissioned

PHILADELPHIA, May 16.—A new and deadly link joins the nation's defense chain today with commissioning of the mighty battleship Washington, six months ahead of schedule.

Rushed to completion in three years at a cost of $70,000,000, America's most powerful dreadnaught raises the U. S. fleet's battleship strength to 17 vessels.

Secretary of the Navy Knox will be the only speaker at brief but colorful ceremonies (2 p. m. EST) marking passing of the 35,000-ton ship from navy yard builders to her captain and crew.

Among some 1,000 special guests were other top ranking navy officials headed by Admiral Ernest J. King, commander of the Atlantic fleet, and congressmen and representatives of the state of Washington for which the vessel is named. Just a month ago the Washington's sister ship North Carolina was commissioned at Brooklyn Navy yard. They are the first battleships built by this country in 18 years and are the first of 17 ordered in the defense expansion program to give the nation a two-ocean navy. Sea trials are scheduled later with the vessels joining the fleet in several months.

More British Troops Arrive In Singapore

SINGAPORE, May 16.—Several thousand British fighting men—soldiers, sailors and fliers—disembarked from a transport today while freighters were unloading heavy cargoes of war supplies from the United States.

The reinforcements of men from the United Kingdom and supplies from the United States added to the steadily growing strength of Britain's far eastern defenses.

The new arrivals from the homeland, representing every branch of the empire's fighting services, were sped to depots and garrison points to join other British, Australian and Indian units already guarding this south Asian stronghold.

Members of a Chinese military mission nearing the end of a two-week tour of Malaya, during which they saw British defense preparations and conferred with military chiefs, witnessed today's debarkation.

Authorities would not comment on the significance of the Chinese representatives' visit, but a communiqué said "matters of mutual interest" were discussed.

The swastika was used in designs at least 5000 years ago.

Gasoline Prices May Jump Soon

TULSA, Okla., May 16.—America's motoring millions are paying slightly higher prices for gasoline than a year ago and market-men believe they soon may be paying more.

This year has brought an unprecedented domestic demand for petroleum products. The defense program with its higher industrial activity and bigger payrolls had put more motorists on the highways.

The year also brought the first crude oil price advance in more than three, and another crude price increase is being expected almost daily by oil executives, with most declaring it will come by June 1.

The price of gasoline at the refinery has worked up seven-eighths cents in the past two months in the mid-continent area.

The higher prices to motorists have been scattered broadcast across the nation in increases of a half cent to a cent in a few instances more a gallon. The American Petroleum Institute reported that on May 1, the average price in 50 representative cities was 13.11 cents a gallon, exclusive of taxes, an increase of a fifth of a cent a gallon over May 1, 1940.

Recently gasoline prices have been increased in the northwestern area. Suppliers along the Atlantic seaboard, from Maine to Florida, generally are quoting higher prices for gasoline.

Prices at filling stations were increased in the middle west soon after the crude oil price hike April 1. Marketmen report a hesitancy of refiners to step up rates of delivery on products or to make large future commitments.

Electric Refrigeration

Electric refrigerators make possible the most economical buying and planning of the family's food. They have meat storage compartments, so that you can take advantage of week-end prices and buy the supply for the entire week. They have humidified storage space for fruits and vegetables, and ample room for keeping left-overs until they can be made into tempting meals. The new Electric Refrigerators offer these and many other distinctive advantages! See them at your dealers. Liberal purchase terms can be arranged.
