Anti-Convoy Bloc Foresees Certain Defeat

WASHINGTON, May 10. (AP)—Some backers of the Tobey anti-convoy resolution conceded today that it faced almost certain defeat and undertook to dissuade the author, Senator Tobey (R.-N. H.), from pressing it to a senate vote.

For that reason, Nye said, he was attempting to convince Tobey that he ought not to offer the resolution as an amendment to this course.

The triple summer program of recreation, food and learning for children will be offered the Pampa Independent school system Monday night at a school board meeting by Mrs. Ima G. Newberry, district supervisor for the WPA.

Three projects, recreation, lunch and library, which many schools in the Panhandle have already adopted for the summer, will be offered the system through the school board, Mrs. Newberry said in a statement to 'The News.'

Principal Aaron Meek of Baker school said that about 20 students of his school would need lunches this summer. Principals of other schools have not reported lunch needs in their schools for the summer.

"If there are going to be hungry children in Pampa this summer, children whose bodies will suffer for want of food, we don't want them to go hungry—naturally they should be fed," said Dan Williams of the 40 and 8 of the American Legion which last fall took the lead in raising cafeteria funds.

Under the plan, commodities would be provided by WPA, the same as they have been this school season. Mrs. Kilgore of the cafeteria in the red brick said that commodities this school term have been and are still "grand."

Mrs. Newberry discusses the entire plan in the following statement. "Throughout the state and nation, WPA is offering what is termed a Summer Program, this program to include the services of three projects now operating in Pampa, namely the recreation, lunch and library projects.

"It is estimated that an average of 150 children would be fed daily. The serving center would be at the Junior High school, that school being in close proximity to a park. The children would come about 10 o'clock in the morning and participate in various recreational activities until noon, at which time they would be fed. Surplus commodities will be available for use on the summer program the same as they have been available for use during the school term. Supplementary foods will be provided by the sponsor. All labor and supervision will be provided by WPA.

Death Takes Mrs. Garretson At Home Here

Mrs. Margaret Alice Garretson, 87, a resident of the Panhandle for 43 years, died Saturday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. O. H. Ingram, 303 North Starkweather street, where she had made her home for many years.

Mrs. Garretson was born in Licking county, near Elizabethton, Ohio. She moved with her parents to Huron county, Kansas, in 1859 and in 1870 she was married in Claytonville, Kan. Calling Natives Of Cook, Wise Counties!

Hal Collins To Run For U. S. Senate

Hal Collins of Mineral Wells, political pal of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, opened his senatorial show on the public square at Waco Saturday night, climaxing a week of steady campaigning by the other candidates in the 12-man race.

Another opener in the senatorial campaign was Arlen B. Cvelone, Davis Jr. of Dallas, bearded son of the politically-famous father. He spoke at Mount Vernon, Sulphur Springs and Greenville.

Collins mentioned O'Daniel's name twice in his speech but had nothing to say about the governor's senatorial intentions. Making his official political bow with music, as O'Daniel once did, Collins urged support of President Roosevelt's foreign policy, called for prevention of strikes and limitation of profits in defense projects.

Lyndon Johnson rounded out a week's aerial tour of the state with conferences in Dallas and speeches at Greenville and Commerce Saturday. Martin Dies was warning West Texas audiences of fifth column dangers in speeches at Vernon, Plainview and Lubbock. Gerald Mann was in deep East Texas for rallies at Carthage, Center, Nacogdoches and Lufkin.

At Mount Vernon, his birthplace, Davis declared himself "100 per cent for superadequate preparedness." He said, however, it would be "the height of folly to follow a lot of scarecrows and warmongers heading long into a war with Europe without a gun, a bagpipe or a bayonet" when Europe has been warring since Cain killed his brother Abel.

Former Governor Jim Ferguson announced at Houston Saturday that he would not be a candidate. "My wife and I will vote for Governor O'Daniel," Farmer Jim said in a statement. "If he does not run we will endeavor to select the one that will do the least harm in the office."

BY THE ROVING REPORTER

Proud natives of Cook county, Texas, yesterday not only announced that they would have a float in the parade of all states and nations at the Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta, but declared that it would be the best float in the parade.

To hear them talk you'd think that Cook county was the only county in Texas! Anyway, when the Roving Reporter, Dr. C. H. Schukley, and Mrs. Clifford E. High, natives of Wise county, heard the Cook county boys and girls bragging they took their dare and said, "Wise county natives are going to have a float in that parade, too, and we'll see which is the best."

Well, the old boys and girls from the counties of Grayson, Montague, Denton, Hopkins, Navarro, Jack and several other counties heard the natives of Wise poppin' off, and they immediately got high behind and began talking up floats for their own counties. So you see what Claude Roberts county who is a native of Cook county started. He's the boy who was first to suggest the Cook county float.

Claude and Horace McBee of The News and several of Cook county natives got together yesterday and announced that all natives of Cook county who want to help build a float to show up Wise and other counties should register either with Mr. McBee at The News or with Mr. Roberts at the latter's hat shop on East Kingsmill.

And the R. R. and Doc Schukley come right back at them with this announcement: All right, you natives of Decatur, Boyd, Rhomney, Greenwood, Bridgeport, Sildell, Sweetwater, Black Creek, and all you natives of Wise county, come on down to The News and register with the R. R.

Any other natives of Texas counties who want their native county represented in the parade, should let the R. R. know immediately, and he'll send out a call to rally the natives.

"That Cook county must be some place to be," Claude Roberts tell it. Do you know who was born in Cook county? Well here are a few of the national figures who first saw the light of day in or not far from Gainesville: Marvin Jones, Gene Austin, Frank Buck, Charley Paddock, Paul Wanner, and such people in Pampa as W. R. Campbell, Potter Pennington, W. L. Davis, Mrs. Claude Lawrence, Harold Miller, Mrs. Jack Dunn, Mrs. H. F. Barnhart, Z. H. Mundy, and scores of others.

Buildings of the float will begin next week. Cost of each float will be approximately $15 because the Jaycees are building all material to be used in them. The floats, if built by a professional float builder, would cost about $30 each.

Berlin Hit By RAF Friday Night

Allied Shipping Losses Announced At 6,000,000 Tons

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, May 11—(Sunday)—Hundreds of German bombers savagely poured explosives on London early today and caused rapidly mounting casualties in a deadly reprisal raid for the pounding the RAF gave Berlin Friday night.

Two hospital wardens posts were among direct hits scored by the Luftwaffe as its planes swarmed low over the city. There were many reports of people buried in the wreckage of heavily-bombed residential districts and defense services were given little respite in fighting the rain of high explosive and incendiary bombs.

It was a major attack that quickly gave signs of approaching the biggest raid of the war on London on the night of April 16. The terrific attack was unleashed last night and it grew in intensity as the morning came. While the raiders directed their main attack at London, there were indications of some activity in other parts of the country.

"It seemed they were almost as low as the rooftops," some observers said. The moon was almost full when the Germans began their attack last night and whole London areas shuddered in early morning hours from sticks of big bombs.

Whipping at the capital in concentrated force every few seconds, German planes dived steadily and the roar of explosions was as loud as any yet heard in London. The raid began as Nazi leaders mulled over increasing British raids and opinions of German commentators saying "war rigulators" were gaining ground in the United States.

German acknowledgement of destruction and casualties in the center of Berlin and fires in the twin industrial Rhine-Ruhr cities of Mannheim and Ludwigshafen—wrought by British bombers Friday night—gave evidence of the vigor of Britain's revitalized air offensive.

A pilot returning from the Mannheim-Ludwigshafen raids said 27 major fires were burning at one time; another told of observing a large Mannheim factory burned out. A bomber-winning toward Berlin reported sending a German Messerschmitt spiraling to earth, and then the British pilot said he continued on to the German capital to unload his cargo of heavy explosives on factories.

The Berlin attack, it was announced, was carried out by a "very small" force, the main assault having been reserved for targets of "greater military importance." However, Berlin reports said a congested district in mid-Berlin was hit.

From all the far-flung night operations, the British announced officially that five planes were lost. The raids followed a great Thursday night raid on Hamburg and Emden. The Germans today acknowledged at least 95 casualties at Hamburg and 35 missing.

Germany studied closely the speeches of American leaders, and See GERMANS, Page 8

'I Am An American' Observance May Be Held At McClellan Lake

Lake McClellan may be the location for the "I Am an American Day" observance scheduled for 3:30 p. m. next Sunday instead of Harvester park, as had been planned. W. E. Weathered, committee chairman, said yesterday the committee had thought it would be a good idea to hold the ceremony at the lake instead of in Pampa, as a better crowd might be obtained.

Motorboat races are to be held at the lake next Sunday, preliminary to the park's opening in full summertime swing. Purpose of the special day, which has been proclaimed by the president, is to inculcate a spirit of patriotism over the nation and to provide for recognition of new citizens, both native and foreign born. Arrangements have not yet been completed for a speaker. Dr. Roy A. Webb, one of the members of the committee appointed to arrange for the principal address, is to make inquiries in Fort Worth this week-end for that purpose.

First Mother's Day Observed In Philadelphia Church In May, 1907

The History of Mother's Day
 On the second Sunday in May, 1907, a Philadelphia spinster, Anna Jarvis, mourned the first anniversary of her mother's death and prevailed upon a Philadelphia church to hold a special service to honor beloved mothers everywhere. Next year the idea had spread to other churches—to so many that the governor of Florida issued a Mother's Day proclamation. In 1914, Congress passed an Act, designating the second Sunday of May as Mother's Day and requesting the display of the American flag on all government buildings on that day.

During the intervening years, from 1914 to 1941, the observance of Mother's Day has grown to gigantic proportions. The National Committee on the Observance of Mother's Day, Inc. was incorporated this year as a non-profit, membership corporation, to bring order into a somewhat chaotic condition and to promote the constructive observance of Mother's Day, both as an occasion for family homage to mother, and as an opportunity for making all mothers aware of the vital importance of proper pre-natal care of themselves and wise post-natal care for their children. Mr. George J. Hecht, publisher of "Parents' Magazine," is the chairman of the National Committee.

The New Significance of Mother's Day
 A new significance for Mother's Day is urged in a joint statement signed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Katharine F. Lenroot, chief of the U. S. Children's Bureau and more than twenty-five outstanding maternal health authorities, parent educators, child welfare officials and prominent American mothers.

"Mother's Day was officially started in 1914," says the statement issued by George J. Hecht, publisher of "Parents' Magazine," and chairman of the National Committee on the Observance of Mother's Day, Inc., "as a purely sentimental observance. In many homes it caused children for a day at least to stop and think of mother as a person with rights and feelings of her own, who merits a very special sort of devotion. That stirring of sentiment has real value, of course. And it is very gratifying to many thoughtful evidences of affection throughout the year."

"But Mother's Day has now grown far beyond such personal and sentimental consideration. Today it means something more than a gesture of homage. It now has a deeper, broader significance. Mother's Day is no longer symbolized by the sweet, white-haired, resigned Whistler's Mother. The older generation is not forgotten, but now Mother's Day is personified by a young woman with young children. Mother today is youth, and freshness, and gaiety, and happiness, and health. In her honor, Mother's Day has become an occasion of changing a lethargic public attention to an alert interest in the dissemination of scientific information on the pre-natal care for mothers and on the health, education, and training of their children. The new concept of Mother's Day includes education both to remove needless fears about a normal function, child bearing, and to aid mothers in the rearing of healthy, happy children.

"There are many parental education and health agencies, mothers' clubs and child study groups as well as many magazines, books and pamphlets through which mothers may learn how best to meet their responsibilities in the care and training of their children. If on Mother's Day the public can be aroused to the vital importance of the job that mothers have to do, if mothers themselves can be moved to seek more information on the problems involved in their jobs as mothers, and to use increasingly the health and educational facilities offered in their respective communities, then Mother's Day will be an increasingly important factor in the development of healthier, happier families throughout the coming years."

Joining Mr. Hecht in signing this statement are Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt; Katharine F. Lenroot, chief, U. S. Children's Bureau; Frances Perkins, secretary of labor; Hazel Corbin, general director of the Maternity Center association; Mrs. Sidonie M. Gruenberg, director of the Child Study association of America; Mrs. Gordon Wagenet, executive secretary of the National Maternal & Child Health Council, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Mary Breckenridge, executive director of Frontier Nursing Service; Edna Dean Baker, president, National College of Education; Dr. Ruth Andrus, chief of the Bureau of

Training Course Begun At Detroit By Chevrolet

DETROIT, May 10—In line with Chevrolet's newly created specialization program announced April 8 by William E. Holler, general sales manager, 102 men arrived here May 1, to begin an intensive three-week training course in the phases of customer-dealer relationships with which they will work when they return to the field. Fifty-two of the men are recently appointed Assistant Zone Service Managers, who will be schooled to work directly with the 8,500 dealers' Service Managers, in developing the latest and most modern methods of customer-service relationships. They will also outline methods for the training of apprentices to replace mechanics required for the national defense program.

Fifty-five of the men are recently appointed Assistant Zone Business Managers, who will be thoroughly schooled in specialized business management methods to take to dealers, thus further strengthening Chevrolet's program of "specialization for efficiency." This group will conduct its three-week training and schooling period using all the facilities of central office. Both groups heard an outline of the plan from Mr. Holler, opening the schooling sessions.

Farmers To Vote On Government Control Of Year's Wheat Crop

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—In the first nation-wide referendum of its kind, farmers will vote May 31 on a proposal to give the agriculture department authority to control sales of this year's wheat crop.

Secretary Wickard issued a call for such an election today after the federal crop reporting board forecast another bumper wheat crop with the market already carrying a huge surplus.

If the farmers approve, the department will control sales by imposing marketing quotas designed to divide a limited market among all growers and to keep a part of the surplus off the market until needed. Institution of the control program requires the approval of two-thirds of the farmers voting.

Officials said they expected between 750,000 and 1,000,000 farmers to cast ballots in the referendum. Polling places will be established in every wheat producing community. Similar controls have been imposed on cotton sales since 1938. In addition to cotton, this year's tobacco and peanut crops will be marketed under quotas.

The wheat referendum was ordered under provision of the 1938 agricultural adjustment act. This law requires such a vote when the estimated wheat supply exceeds a normal year's domestic needs and exports by more than 35 per cent. The supply for the coming season was estimated by Wickard at 1,236,000,000 bushels while domestic consumption and exports have been averaging only 755,000,000 bushels.

Buick Announces Contracts For New Buildings

FLINT, Mich., May 10—Announcement of the award of more than $600,000 in contracts covering the construction of test house, power house and personnel buildings for the aviation engine plant of the Buick Motor division, was made today by Harlow H. Curtice, president of Buick and vice president of General Motors corporation.

This brings the total to more than $4,000,000. Mr. Curtice said, covering the contracts for steel construction and the completion of the main manufacturing building. Contracts for plumbing, heating and electrical work will be let within the next few days.

Successful bidders on the contracts for the test house, power house, and personnel buildings were Torgerson and Erickson of Chicago, who also hold the construction contracts for the main manufacturing building.

Mr. Curtice announced that construction of the aviation plant in which Buick will build Pratt & Whitney 1200 horsepower twin row engines under government contract is progressing slightly ahead of schedule despite inclement weather in the Melrose park area. Begun on March 17th, two days after the awarding of the contract, work has been carried on day and night in an effort to have the plant ready at the earliest date possible.

The plant, which will contain more than 1,000,000 square feet, is one of the largest of its type in the world. When operating at capacity, the plant will employ more than 10,000 men and will produce in the neighborhood of 500 engines a month.

Pontiac Develops Salt-Spray Cabinet

To best guard against the ravages of road salt upon automobile brightwork, Pontiac Motor Division has developed a salt-spray cabinet in which all chromium-plated parts used on the Pontiac car are placed for 24 hours.

During this period a continual spray of cold water containing a 15 per cent salt solution on the bumpers, grilles, silver streaks or other chromium-plated parts.

Should the least evidence of rust appear on a part after this 24 hour exposure to salt water the part is rejected.

"We consider a salt spray test the only sure evidence whether chromium plating will stand up," said P. H. MacGregor, Pontiac's general manufacturing manager. "We have also found that chromium plating which resists rust during the 24 hour test will resist it indefinitely. After 24 hours chromium-plating is comparatively immune."

MacGregor said that tests have shown that the depth of chromium plate has little bearing on its ability to withstand rust. Smoothness and freedom from tiny breaks which might allow rust to penetrate are the most desirable qualities of chromium plating.

Pampan Promoted To Ward Master Of U. S. A. Hospital

New Short Route Across Panhandle To Be Publicized

Pictures, printed matter and direct r-lesmanship will be employed Tuesday to sell the story of the new highway across the Panhandle of Texas, connecting Oklahoma with New Mexico and Colorado points with a twenty mile saving.

The publicity committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce has prepared the pictures and the printed matter. The committee will be divided into four sections Tuesday for the contact trips.

Crawford Atkinson, chairman of the committee is in general charge. Sid Patterson will head a section of the committee that will visit towns along U. S. 66 from the Texas-Oklahoma line to Oklahoma City.

C. A. Huff is head of a section of the committee that will visit points beyond Dalhart to Raton, N. M. Mark Vantine will head a group to visit LeFors, McLean, Lela, Shamrock, Wheeler and Mobeetie. J. C. McWilliams will head a group to visit Skellytown, Borger, Stinnett, Dumas, Hartley, and Dalhart. The delegation will carry pictures showing a section of the new road across the Panhandle, which was finished last fall when the Stinnett to Dumas section was finally completed. They will have printed strip maps to leave in every service station, hotel, garage, tourist court, cafes and other places catering to tourists. The strip maps will be left for distribution to the traveling public. They show the highway across the Panhandle from Texline through Dalhart, Dumas, Stinnett, Borger, and Skellytown to Pampa where the traveler can either follow 152 to Mobeetie and Wheeler to Shamrock, or 273 to LeFors, and McLean to Shamrock, to the Oklahoma line.

This route is shorter by 20 miles than any other route, and is entirely paved.

The route likewise brings the tourist through the heart of the Panhandle oil and gas field.

29 MILLION!

A record never before approached!

★ When the 29,000,000th Ford rolled recently from the assembly line, an all-time record for the industry was set. 29,000,000 units built by the same management and all bearing one name—a name that has become one of the best-known trade-marks in the world!

It is significant that this achievement comes at a time when our country is making a mighty effort to re-arm swiftly. For to further that effort, to help speed it along in any possible way, we have offered the vast facilities of the Rouge Plant and every ounce of our experience. As you read these words, a new $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine plant, started only last fall, is nearly completed. A new magnesium alloy plant, one of the few in the country, is already in production on lightweight airplane engine castings. Work is right now under way on a new $18,000,000 plant for mass production of big bomber assemblies. Orders have been filled for military vehicles of several types, including army reconnaisssance cars, army staff cars and bomb service trucks. In the midst of this activity for National Defense, building the 29 millionth Ford car is simply one part of the day's work. The public has acclaimed the 1941 Ford car as the finest in Ford history. Ford Dealers are enjoying their greatest sales and expecting their best year since 1937. It is good to be producing the things America needs, and to be setting records on the way!

CHICAGO GRAIN CHICAGO, May 10. (AP)—Corn, soybeans and hard futures prices rose today to figures unequaled here since 1937 as a result of renewed buying inspired by prospects of increased loan rates for grains and government purchases of land for domestic and foreign relief distribution.

What did not follow the upturn, although prices reached new 12-month peaks early in the session. Later wheat declined fractionally, reflecting sharp upward revision of official estimates of winter wheat production and possibility that spring wheat may exceed expectations. The 1941 loan program and other government purchases of grain on marketing quotas helped to support prices, however, lower to 1 1/2 cents higher compared with yesterday, May 7; July 1941, wheat 5 1/2-5 3/4, soybeans 1-4 higher; rye 5/8 lower to 5 1/8 higher; fat 10-13 higher.

Solons Prepare For Exodus From Texas' Capital

(By The Associated Press) AUSTIN, Tex., May 10.—The legislature has disposed of much of its important work and thoughts of the lawmakers are drifting homeward.

An adjournment or recess plan might crystallize in the wake of next week's developments.

These include possible windup of conference committee study of major appropriation bills and the arrival May 13 of the 120th day of the general session, after which pay of representatives and senators drops from $10 to $5 daily.

The house has approved a concurrent resolution ordering a recess from June 2 to July 15 but the senate has kept this measure idle on its docket.

This device, never before attempted, would bring the lawmakers back in mid-summer for action on possible emergencies that might develop in the interim. A review of any vetoes the governor might apply and senate confirmation or rejection of recess appointments by the governor.

Although floor work on must legislation, that without which the state could not operate, is largely completed along with bills which would seriously affect state policy.

Aside from approval of conference reports on departmental, higher education, eleemosynary and rural school aid appropriations, these items contribute to the unfinished business list.

Extension of oil proration statutes, approved by the house and pending in the senate.

Disposition of the road bond law re-enactment. The matter went to conference committee after house and senate differed on policy. The house favored continuance of distributing the road bond account surplus, estimated to be about $3,000,000 this year, among counties while the senate voted to assign the surplus to the highway department for state road

Fill Out This Blank For Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta

On June 12, 13 and 14 the only celebration of its kind ever held in America will draw tens of thousands of people to Pampa: It will be the Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta, and that means it will be a celebration for just folks, not just for big shots nor just for the forgotten man but for all folks. One big attraction of the Fiesta will be the Parade of All States and Nations which will consist of floats representing all states and nations which have natives living in this territory. Each float will be decorated in the dominant color of the state flag, state flower, state motto. The Pampa News and the Junior Chamber of Commerce are making a canvass to determine the native states of the population of this territory. You are invited to fill out this blank regardless of whether or not you plan to attend the Fiesta. Natives of Texas as well as of other states and nations are asked to fill out the blank. Please print your name, address and other information.

construction and maintenance. Remission of one-half the state ad valorem tax for general fund purposes to Texas counties for a five-year period, approved by the senate and pending in the house. Either branch has heavy calendars of proposals ranging from universal premarital health examination to new truck vs. railroad issues. Whether these will advance beyond their present status depends largely on the still unanswered question of adjournment or recess.

Best Soap Box Derby Car Now On Display Here

The best designed soap box derby automobile in the United States is now in Pampa. Frank Culberson, co-chairman of the 1941 Pampa News-Pampa Lions club Soap Box derby, said the car was received here late yesterday and will be put on display this week at The News.

For weeks now the soap box derby committeemen have been seeking to get the car, built by Mark Bratton of Pampa, returned here. The car has been on exhibit in several cities, following the national finals last summer in Akron, Ohio.

Although there are 60 boys who have registered for the local derby here on July 17-18, the signatures of parents on 40 of these entrance forms are needed, and either the fathers or the mothers of the boys who have not signed the forms along with their sons should do so at once. There were 15 boys who were present at the derby clinic yesterday morning at the Rex theater when Bratton explained the blue-prints of his prize-winning vehicle.

Another clinic session will be held at the theater at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning, and it is planned to have Mark's car on exhibit at the Rex for the boys attending the clinic.

Brunow Rites Held In Pampa Saturday

Friends from all sections of the Panhandle came to Pampa Saturday to pay last respects to Dr. V. E. von Brunow, pioneer physician who died Wednesday afternoon. Services were conducted in the First Baptist church by the Rev. H. R. Whitley of Haskell and the Rev. C. Gordon Bayless, pastor of First Baptist church. Burial was in Fairview cemetery under direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home.

A tribute to Dr. Brunow's philanthropic and patriotic characteristics was given in the sermon. "He was a man who did good, loved children and his fellow men," said Rev. Whitley, longtime friend and former pastor. "Few knew of his many kindnesses because he did good for the doing, not for publicity."

"A friend to all races, creeds and colors," was Rev. Bayless' description of Dr. Brunow. "He was a student of the Bible and a lover of good literature."

Dr. Brunow came to Pampa in 1903 as physician and postmaster. He was organizer and chairman of the executive committee of the Republican party in Gray county, a member of the Kiwanis club and the Elks club.

Members of the Kiwanis club attended services in a group, acting as honorary pallbearers. Survivors are the widow, a daughter, three sons and an adopted daughter.

Longhorns Retain Track Title As 3 Records Fall

AUSTIN, May 10 (AP)—University of Texas Longhorns hung on to their Southwest conference track and field championship today in a which were three new marks into the record books and saw one equalled.

The well-balanced Steer aggregation ran up 64 points against Rice Institute's 40½, Texas A. & M. college's 31, Southern Methodist's 17, Arkansas university's 11, Baylor university's 7 and Texas Christian's 5½.

The record assault started in the first event when Harold Hill of Rice blazed to a new mark of 47.8 seconds in the quarter-mile, shaving 2/10th seconds off the old record set by Paul Sanders of the same school in 1937.

Henry Coffman also of Rice then leaped to a new mark in the high jump, reaching 6 feet, 7 3/4 inches as compared to 6 feet, 6 1/2 inches set by Vickery of Texas in 1937. Dub Walters of Baylor also bettered the old record with a height of 6 feet, 6 7/8 inches.

Third record to topple was in the half-mile run, Mac Umstad of Texas easily besting the field in 1 minute 52.8 seconds, knocking 4.40th second off the record set by Bell of Rice three years ago.

With Carlton Terry, ace Texas sprinter, out with a muscle strain, W. H. Seay, Joe Sparks, Fred Hamms and Lonnie Hill of the Longhorns combined to equal the conference record of 41.4 seconds and win the 440-yard relay. The original quartet has set new records in other meets this season.

"HE SAVES MOST NOW WHO SPENDS ENOUGH"

There's a rule for your guidance you may not find in the copybooks — but that doesn't subtract one whit from its truth. Because when you buy a new car this spring you want one that will see you through many a summer. So while you're trading it's good sense to trade up — up to something solidly good through and through. Trade up, for instance, to the FIREBALL power of Buick's more efficient valve-in-head straight-eight. Trade up to the thrift of Compound Carburetion — exclusively Buick's, and as much as 10% to 15% more economical of gasoline than last year. Trade up to a splendidous big Body by Fisher — to Buick's all-coil springing that is forever cushiony yet forever free from service attention — to stout, ride-steady torque-tube drive with nothing about it to go wrong. Buick's bodies are roomier, its frames huskier — its steering gears go three to four times as long without adjustment and its main bearings have half again the service life in them. Things like that really count these days — yet they're yours in a Buick for a trifle more at most than you'd spend in any event. Go call on your Buick dealer now!

VALUES and POLICIES

It has been in the past and will continue to be in the future, a policy of THE IDEAL FOOD STORES to sell at ALL TIMES merchandise of like brands and quality at a price as low or lower than any competition.

We do not believe in selling merchandise below cost, as this practice is unhealthy for both the consumer and merchant as this loss must either be added to the cost of other items or result in a loss to the merchant.

BUT---if and when this condition does arise, you will find a price at THE IDEAL as low or lower than any other REGARDLESS OF COST and this loss will not be added to the price of other items.

IT is our policy to price EVERY ITEM at a small margin of profit, relying on large turnover to yield a reasonable net income.

OUR COMPANY has certain advantages through direct buying connections to eliminate several in-between profits and this saving is passed directly on to the consumer.

WITH food markets on the upward trend, you can rest assured that at all times your IDEAL FOOD STORE will increase their prices only enough to offset the actual wholesale cost.

Defense Guard Calls On Pampans To Show 'Americanism'

GERMANS

AN EDITORIAL
 What's the sense of getting out once a week and going through a lot of military formations with 20 other men, marching back and forth? That may, or may not, sum up the outsider's opinion of Pampa's company of the Texas Defense Guard. Perhaps the farmers who comprised Washington's army after Lexington and Concord were regarded by their more peacefully-inclined neighbors in the same light. Yet, it was this same clumsy looking group of New Englanders, New Hampshire and Massachusetts, and Vermont farmers and Maine fishermen—that formed the nucleus of the army that brought America into existence. There is no war now in our land; at least, no invading army is here, nor do Stukas darken Texas' sky. Just the same it is wise to prepare, and the nation that is not prepared suffers the fate of Norway—or of France that was too indolent, too greedy, and not so low a moral as it flung up its hands and said, "What's the use?" The local company of the Texas Defense Guard is not an isolated unit. It is a part of the 14th battalion, which is composed of similar companies at Amarillo, Plainview, and Borger.

There are other companies all over the state. The Defense Guard is not any amateur "home guard" outfit, for it is designed to take the place of the Texas National Guard while that organization is in training at camps. Enlistments are for a three-year period and the Texas Defense Guard is subject to call to serve within the state by the governor. Marching and working with other men, as the local guardsmen do at their drill—which is regulation U. S. Army—inculcates mental alertness, a spirit of cooperation, and a pride that comes to those who perform the duties of an American citizen—not just talk about it. There's no pay to being a member of the TDG. That means the score of men who have been turning out want to do their share and do not expect any reward.

Enlistments are open to men from 18 to 64. It is a sorry commentary on all the talk on "Americanism" we've been hearing all these years—that only 20 men turn out to show their Americanism. There should be enough patriotism in Pampa to cause the formation of five companies, instead of just one. Or—is the Americanism here merely of the "after dinner speech" variety?

The possibility of U. S. entry into the war was awfully a matter of increasingly sober speculation in Berlin. Their counter-move to such U. S. action, Germans intimated, would be to try to unite the continent of Europe, including prostrate France, into a solid block of opposition to the British-American world. But in London, too, perturbation was expressed by certain sections of the press and public over the British admiralty's admission that more than 5,000,000 tons of British, allied and neutral shipping had been sunk since the war began. There were vigorous demands for "the whole truth" henceforth and without delay.

On the other side of the picture were admirably announcements that British naval forces had attacked the harbor of Bengasi, Libya, early Thursday, destroying two Axis ships; and that contrary to Italian claims of heavy damage to a British convoy in the western Mediterranean that same day, not a single British ship was damaged in repeated attacks by Axis torpedo planes and bombers. The RAF also announced it had raided Bengasi as well as other Libyan bases of the German-Italian forces Thursday night and Friday morning.

In Cairo, the Egyptian defense ministry said Axis planes raided the Suez Canal zone early Saturday, causing slight damage in the second such attack in four days. Of land warfare there was little to report Saturday. The British claimed new advances in southern Ethiopia, and in Iraq both Heibahiyah airbase and Basra were quiet while British patrols pursued retreating Iraqis in the desert. In northern Africa there were minor skirmishes at Tobruk and Salama. In Hungary, however, there was a hint of possible new activity by the German army. Railway traffic was sharply restricted and the Hungarian-Slovakian border was closed. Observers recalled that similar developments last December preceded troop concentrations in Rumania preparatory to the occupation of Bulgaria. Other observers, in London, saw signs of an approaching German thrust through Spain to Gibraltar, while in Paris unconfirmed reports of a mysterious conference between French Vice-Premier Admiral Jean Darlan and a "high personality" encouraged speculation as to imminent closer collaboration between France and Germany—possibly in the matter of passing German troops through French-mandated Syria into Iraq. In the far East Japan, after nearly four years of war, appeared to be struggling toward a new, more effective, policy in dealing with the massive, unconquered China. Kunitomo Honda, ambassador to the Japanese-sponsored Nanking regime, was quoted as saying that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek seemed determined to talk peace only through the United States. Honda's answer to that attitude, according to the newspaper Nichi Nichi, was that there could be no peace "through the mediation of a third nation." Meanwhile the Japanese again heavily bombed Chungking Saturday, after a Friday raid that caused 200 casualties in Chiang Kai-Shek's capital.

Draft Policy Toward Marriages Outlined

Only two appeals have been made by Gray County registrars from classifications made by the Gray County Selective Service board. Re-classifications by the local board total 128, including Gray County's 94 inductees. When inductees are received into military service, their classification becomes 1-C. Gray County has had only one selective rejected at an induction station. Classification has been a much discussed question among registrants. The classification given by the board is the status of the registrant at the time his questionnaire is mailed. Classifications are not permanent but are subject to change under what may happen to the registrant in the interval between the sending out of the questionnaire and selection.

not be replaced satisfactorily because of a shortage of such workers in his special line; removal would cause a material loss of effectiveness. Deferment in this class is for a period of not longer than six months. Class 3, any registrant upon whom one or more dependants depend for support in a seasonal manner. 4-A, man who has completed service; 4-B, official deferred by law; 4-C, nondeclarant alien; 4-D, minister of religion, divinity student; 4-E, conscientious objector or available only for civilian employment; 4-F, physically, mentally or morally unfit. John F. Sturgeon is chairman of the Gray County Selective Service board. The other members are C. P. Buckler and Postmaster C. H. Walker.

icipating. Those who are unable to pay will be given their lunch free of charge. Plans for financing the program might include public subscription, club donations, proceeds from charity shows, etc., together with funds received from the sale of lunch tickets to those children unable to pay. A charge of only ten cents will be made for those purchasing tickets, but each ten cents will provide two lunches.

"In order for the summer program to operate as inexpensively as possible, and in order to have a supply of canned food on hand for school lunches next year, we are hoping to operate a garden project through WPA. Produce from the garden could be used fresh to feed the children during the summer; much produce could be canned and stored for use next fall and winter. The labor necessary for cultivating, gathering and canning produce from this garden would be provided by WPA.

"I have been assured by Mr. Steve Matthews, city manager, that the city of Pampa would provide two acres of ground to be used for a garden plot. This land is located near the swimming pool. Mr. Matthews said that the city would provide and lay the pipe so that the garden plot would be properly irrigated; the ground would be irrigated with water drained from the swimming pool.

 Dear Mr. Doe:
 Would you like to hear about our program for National Defense? Would you like to see democracy in action?

The Memphis public schools are planning a summer recreation program which will be the biggest thing of its kind Memphis has ever seen. Starting about 8:30 a. m. the day after school is out, children may participate in play ground ball, gym work, marionette shows, tennis, swimming, volleyball, and many other activities. Boys and girls will be exercising their bodies for health and recreation and for the fun of it!

oting age since May 18, 1940, and for men and women who have become naturalized Americans since May 18, 1940. Each one of these persons is to be a guest of either the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, Lions, and Kiwanis clubs at these organization's regular weekly luncheons. In the case of the Rotary club, the invitation will be for the week after next, due to the 127th district annual conference in session this week at Lubbock.

The other organizations will have the "first voters" and "new Americans" as their guests at their regular luncheons this week; Jaycees, on Tuesday, Lions on Thursday, and Kiwanians on Friday.

"I Am an American Day" is for all Americans, but there will be special recognition of the groups listed in the blank published below. If you have not already done so, and are in the groups specified, you should fill out the blank at once, and mail it to the chairman or phone 1048.

Local boards, however, as a rule will listen to a registrant who requests that he be allowed to make an appeal to the district board, even though the time-limit has expired. On the case of Gray county one appeal has been made from a classification, another in the case of a minister. The various classifications are: 1-A, available, fit for general military service; 1-B, available, fit only for limited military service; 1-C, member of armed forces of the United States; 1-D, student fit for general military service, available not later than July 1, 1941. 1-E, student, fit for limited military service, available not later than July 1, 1941. 2-A, occupational deferment; registrant considered "necessary man" in industry, business, employment, agriculture, governmental service.

"Almost without exception individuals and organizations that have been contacted regarding the summer program seem favorably impressed with the plan. This attitude on the part of the general public bears out the theory that there is nothing so appealing as the feeding of hungry children. By using surplus commodities which will be available for the summer program, by using fresh vegetables from the garden, if that plan goes through, by using the many foods which will be donated, it will be possible to operate the summer program at a comparatively small cost. We estimate that 150 to 200 children will be fed well balanced and palatable lunches five days a week at a cost of $100 per month. Towns throughout the Pampa handle are financing the summer program in various ways. One town is financing through private subscription; the Y. P. O. is financing the program for another town; the city, county, and school have pooled resources in still another town in order to operate this program. A fourth town is using funds left over from the regular lunch fund for

Federated Clubs To Conclude Year's Study With Luncheons

Just Between Us Girls

By Johanna Davis
TO MY MOTHER

You painted no Madonnas
On chapel walls in Rome;
But with a touch divine
You lived one in your home.

You wrote no lofty poems
That critics counted art;
But with a nobler vision
You lived them in your heart.

You carved no shapeless marble
To some high soul-design;
But with a finer sculpture
You shaped this soul of mine.

You built no great cathedrals
That centuries applaud;
But with a grace exquisite
Your life cathedral God.

Had I the gift of Raphael
Or Michael-Angelo,
Oh, what a rare Madonna
My Mother's life would show!

—Thomas W. Fessenden

GRACE IN LACE

Miss Arden Beavers waited at New York's Cinderella Ball in this charming organdy dance dress, worn with a rope of pearls and bracelets of fresh camellias. The wide ruffle, outlining the off-the-shoulder neckline, forms a cape effect at the back. The ruffled theme is repeated at the hemline.

Mrs. Sone Wins First Place In Spring Bonnet Contest Held By Garden Club

Mrs. Doc Schwartz, Mrs. W. T. Fraser, and Mrs. R. M. Kilger were hostesses at the seated tea and spring flower show given Friday afternoon in the city club rooms to entertain members and guests of the Pampa Garden Club.

Mrs. Fraser and Mrs. Schwartz poured tea at a table centered by tiny dolls with flower hats, depicting different styles, arranged on a reflector encircled in spirea. An orchid floating in an oval bowl completed the arrangement.

Mrs. Bob McCoy, president, announced that Harry O'Brien will speak in Amarillo soon, and members of the Pampa club will be guests at the event.

The program presented by Mrs. Perry Gault included talks by Mrs. McCoy and Mrs. Glenn Pool on the State Garden Club convention which they attended recently.

Arrangements were selected by popular vote with Mrs. Perry winning first place; Mrs. Tucker, second; and Mrs. Perry, third. In the iris arrangements Mrs. R. B. Saxe received first place and Mrs. Saxe and Mrs. Pool tied for second place.

The flowers entered by Mrs. Pool in this group were grown by J. B. Massey. Mrs. Perry Gault won first; Fraser, and Mrs. R. M. Kilger were hostesses at the seated tea and spring flower show given Friday afternoon in the city club rooms to entertain members and guests of the Pampa Garden Club.

SUMMERY ACCESSORY

Mrs. John Bradley and Mrs. Hutchens

Dan Price presented J. H. Flathers who spoke on "What the elementary schools are doing for the promotion of good health." Mr. Flathers stated that a healthy mind clothed in an unhealthy body is a poor investment.

"It is the policy of the school not only to educate the child but to educate him to make his body take care of his mind. Some of the beneficial things Pampa schools are doing are the periodic checking of weights, health inspections, disinfecting rest rooms three times daily, waist line inspections and eye inspection. On the play ground there are football and baseball - as the more active sports, volleyball, hand ball and different games played on the play-ground equipment. Another thing promoting development of good health is the two-hour program of games in the gymnasium Saturday morning and intramural sports. For the less active students there are horse shoe games and rope jumping," Mr. Flathers added.

Jack Davis spoke on the subject, "Athletics for Better or for Worse," bringing out that athletic games are first of all for the fun of it. "The competitive instinct is not only natural but it is educational. Sports develop in the child self mastery and self control in adverse circumstances. One of the normal values is fair play, the boy respects the rights of the opponent and officials' decisions. Some of the things that can be said against athletics are the practice of showing off and alibis instead of fair play, honesty, and courtesy, going as far as the law allows and deceit."

"As to what Pampa is doing about athletics," Mr. Davis continued, "we have one of the best programs of sports for the reason that our administration is backing and helping our program and it is cautious in its selection of men to carry on the program. They are conscious of the fact that the athletic coach has a great influence in the life of those under his jurisdiction and even in some cases has more influence than a parent."

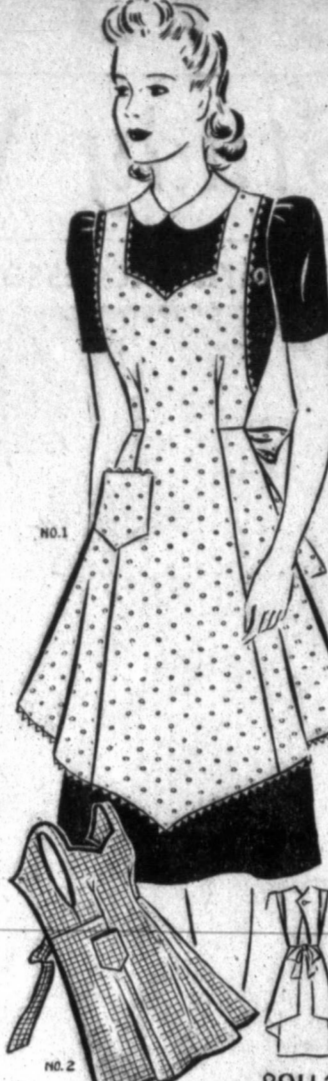

A question and answer period was conducted by Ernest Cabe, Jr., and questions on student health were discussed.

Mrs. L. L. McCollm installed the following officers: President, Mrs. W. L. Hobbs; vice president, Mrs. J. Collins; secretary, Mrs. S. T. Beauchamp; treasurer, Mrs. C. J. McNaughton; parliamentarian, Mrs. W. T. Fraser; city council representatives, Mrs. C. C. Cockerill and Mrs. C. B. Haney; county council representatives, Mrs. R. J. Epps, Mrs. Garnet Reeves, and Mrs. Joe Hodge.

Refreshments were served during the social hour with Mrs. Hobbs presiding at the tea table.

be putting the "finishing touches" on their new home.

Artistic ability of several Pampa women was discovered Friday when each member of the Garden club fashioned a spring bonnet from flowers growing in her yard.

One group with which we should like to be affiliated at some day is the Ninety-Nines, an international organization of women pilots. The first 99er club in Texas was organized only last February at Dallas by 22 women flyers. The entire state has 104 licensed women flyers.

In speaking of this newly organized club, one writer says, "The Texas chapter is young but is made up of the stuff of Texans and there can be no better recommendation for the successful progress of any group."

MOTHER'S DAY PRAYER

Father of our Heaven,
Listen to our prayer,
For we pray that Mother
May have tender care.

Let thy angels, singing,
Lead her to the Light;
Let thy children, smiling,
Make her way more bright.

If you need for Mother
That which we most own,
Take it gladly from us;
Add it to her throne.

Father, make us like her,
Good and pure and true,
Giving love to all we meet,
Knowing love from you.

Early Texas Solons Fought With Fists, Pistols--Not Words

Special To The NEWS
AUSTIN, May 10—The most heated sessions of the Texas legislature today are tame compared with the meetings of law-makers in the old days.

In early Texas history, contends William Hogan, University of Texas graduate student from University, La., legislators preferred to fight it out with pistols and fists rather than invective.

The Louisiana State university historian has been conducting research in Texas history in the university archives here.

Hogan said he had records of at least five fights between legislators during the Texas republic. One day, he reported, a shooting between two congressmen took place on the very steps of the capitol—all over a matter of legislative policy.

On several occasions, Hogan said, the House adjourned to watch fights between legislators taking place on the capitol lawn.

Miami P-TA Will Hold Last Meeting On Monday Night

Special To The NEWS
MIAMI, May 10—The last meeting of the year for P. T. A. will be held Monday evening in the High school auditorium.

The program will be given by high school and grade school students. Mr. Baker's English I class will present two one-act plays, "Two Crooks and a Lady," and "The Patchwork Quilt."

The entertainment feature will be presented by the first grade, and the new officers will be installed.

GUARD RAIL SPEARS CAR

Odd auto accidents are a dime a dozen, but this one is more than odd. It's well nigh unbelievable. Five soldiers and the wife of one of them were returning to Camp Shelby, Miss. from their homes in Ohio. Their car hit a highway guard rail outside Bowling Green, Ky. Fall ran right through radiator, on through driver's seat and out rear end, as shown in pictures. Driver was Mrs. Howard Raines, wife of a sergeant. No one was critically hurt.

Half-Million Troops To Maneuver This Summer, Fall In War Games

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—More than 550,000 troops will maneuver this summer and fall in war games which army officials said they believed would be the most extensive in history.

The War Department, announcing the maneuvers today, said that more than 800,000 other soldiers of the expanded land forces would take part in mobilization training, or would man supply and other services.

Major General Robert C. Richardson said the war games, which will reach a climax in September when two field armies oppose each other in Louisiana, would be "the largest I ever heard of."

General Richardson, War Department spokesman, said the European peacetime military maneuvers usually involved only from 100,000 to 200,000 men in any one exercise.

Beginning May 24 with corps maneuvers in California, the war games will gradually build up until September 1-30 when elements of the second and third field army oppose each other in simulated battles in Louisiana, under direction of General George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff.

A secondary climax is scheduled for November 3-30 in the area between Fort Jackson, S. C., and Fort Bragg, N. C. This will involve elements of the first and third armies.

Armored divisions, the general headquarters air force, and parachute units will take part in the three main war games, in Louisiana, the Carolinas, and Washington. An area around Fort Lewis, Wash., will be the scene of maneuvers of the fourth army.

Hundreds of civilians are to take part as airplane spotters.

General Richardson said some of the units would be lacking complete equipment of tanks, anti-tank and other weapons and indicated also that shortages would limit the participation of air forces. Further, he said that unless deliveries were speeded up in the meantime some motor transport would be missing.

Troops taking part in the war games will be in the field an average of seven weeks. The war department said the "most advanced techniques of modern warfare will be employed in the simulated battles."

General Richardson announced at the same time that the land forces had expanded to a total of 1,302,500 officers and men, toward the aggregate of more than 1,400,000 expected to be under arms next month. Of the latest total, the regular army accounted for 487,000 officers and men, the national guard 290,000, selective service trainees, 480,000, and reserve officers on active duty, 45,000.

LUBBOCK, May 10—A local Ferdinand finds his pleasure sitting among—not flowers, but golf balls. Texas Tech coeds, learning to drive and put under direction of Mrs. Zella Huffman, persist in sinking their shots in his nearby domain. So far no balls have been reclaimed.

U. S. Takes Funds Of German Company

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—Attorney General Jackson said today that the United States had attached the funds of I. G. Farbenindustrie, which he described as "probably the most powerful single factor in German influence on American industry," because of its failure to appear in response to an indictment under the Sherman anti-trust law. Jackson said at a press conference that Farbenindustrie had refused to appear in court on the ground that it was not doing business in the United States and was not subject to American law as a corporation. The funds attached are in the National City bank of New York, the attorney general said. He explained that the action was taken today because it was learned that payments to the German company under licenses issued to American corporations totaling about $250,000 were to be made today and that the action was taken "when we could get it."

He is certain, Jackson said, that the attachment would result in appearance of counsel for Farbenindustrie. In response to a question as to whether the department had reason to believe that the money might be sent out of the country, Jackson said that there was an indication that it would be "transferred out of the country or disbursed," and that once it had reached private hands it could not be traced easily.

Pioneering Spirit Still Exists In Flagg Community In Panhandle

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—The pioneering spirit that built America still exists and is exemplified in the activities of a small community in the Texas Panhandle.

Recognition has been accorded the community, hardly more than 16 years old, by the agriculture department. Prominently featured in the latest issue of the departmental publication, Extension Service Review, is an article describing how farm women and men there have cooperated to realize a happier life with a minimum of expense.

The accomplishments of Flagg's forty families—the hardest of nearly 100 who moved there before the "seven year drought," were set forth by Laura Lane, acting editor of the Texas Extension Service.

Most of Flagg's families came from Oklahoma and East Texas and bought tracts of land, usually quarter sections, in an eight-mile square area. Drought, high land values and other problems sent many back to their homes, and most of those who remained to stick it out were forced to do so as tenants.

Center of activity is a small frame church built to hold 200 or more people. Baptists, Methodists, Nazarenes and Christian faiths share the structure, a pastor of one denomination holding the pulpit one Sunday and one of another belief the next week.

Built when the community was first settled, on land donated by an Amarillo woman, the church also served as a school until 1930. Now the younger pupils have a separate school house, while the older ones go by bus to a school in the county seat, Dimmitt.

The church was falling into a sad state of repair when, just about a year ago, the Flagg home demonstration club decided something should be done about it. Thirty-four of the forty women in the community are members of the club, so the community soon was sold on the idea. Money was raised by suppers, rallies and a minstrel show. The church was moved to a more convenient location at a cost of $100, farmers erected a fence, while their wives donned overalls to paint the interior woodwork and a paperhanger redecorated the walls for $13.

The men painted the outside of the church, and the women and children came along and prepared lunch for the whole crowd.

The Flagg community agriculture association holds its meetings in the church; cotton improvement meetings were held there and a one-variety staple for their area was selected; cotton mattress programs were centered in the church. Recreation-al meetings also are held there, but dominoes and cards are frowned up; the 4-H club boys and girls hold many of their functions in the church.

Concluding the departmental publication states: "No doubt the 1940 census will reveal their case income for the year considerably below the average for

Down In The Dumps? Here's Story That Will Pull You Up Again

PITTSBURGH, May 10 (AP)—"Disappointed American," a jobless young husband who threatened to kill himself by leaping from a downtown skyscraper on Christmas eve, 1939, rejoiced today that he didn't—he's now one of the happiest Americans.

Things have changed a lot since then. He works every day and has gained 27 pounds. His pretty wife, who was ill, looks like a new woman. Their four-year-old son is in better health, too.

The case of the young man, whose identity was concealed because of the circumstances, aroused wide interest. He wrote the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph of his suicide plans, saying: "I hope I awaken the people to the fact that there are young people out of work." The letter was signed "Disappointed American."

Then the newspaper went to work. It published letters from a minister and a priest, counselling the man to get hold of himself, not to bow to defeat but to think of his wife and son.

The counsellors followed that up by providing medicine for his sick wife and helping him get a job. He became a machinist's apprentice, earning 50 cents an hour plus overtime. Now he plans to study to become an electric welder. Eventually he and his family hope to move into the country. They don't brood over life's troubles any more.

"I'm grateful to America now. There's nothing a job won't fix."

Winter Wheat Crop Estimated At 653,105,000

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—The Agricultural department today estimated this year's winter wheat crop at 653,105,000 bushels, as estimated by May conditions.

A crop of 616,128,000 bushels was indicated by conditions a month ago. Production was 589,151,000 bushels last year, and the 10-year (1930-39) average production was 569,417,000 bushels.

Winter wheat was sown last fall on 46,271,000 acres, compared with 48,820,000 acres the previous year, and 48,057,000, the 10-year average. Acreage abandonment was 12.9 per cent, compared with 17.5 per cent a year ago, and 13.8 per cent the 10-year average. Acreage remaining for harvest this year is 40,313,000 acres, compared with 36,147,000 a year ago, and 39,141,000, the 10-year average.

A yield of 16.2 bushels an acre is indicated by May 1 conditions for this year, compared with the yield of 16.3 bushels last year, and 14.4 bushels, the 10-year average.

The indicated grapefruit crop is 42,963,000 boxes, compared with 35,175,000 last season. Florida has 23,900,000 boxes, compared with 15,900,000; California 1,863,000 boxes, compared with 1,975,000 and Texas 14,400,000 boxes, compared with 14,400,000.

LA PORTE, May 10 (AP)—Of the letters and requests for autographs which have come to 86-year-old Interim United States Senator Andrew Jackson Houston, one from Rudolph Hobby, a fifth grade pupil of Durham, N. C., captured the senator's fancy.

"We have been studying about your father (Gen. Sam Houston, Texas hero who led the Texas battle for independence from Mexico)," Rudolph wrote. "I have been interested in how we got Oregon, New Mexico and other states, but most of all I am interested in how we got Texas."

The boy asked for a personal letter from the senator for placing in the museum of Edgemont school. As soon as Houston's senatorial stationery arrives from Washington, the request will be filled.

AUSTIN, May 10 (AP)—In an attempt to abolish numerous small signs, the Texas senate has voted in favor of fewer—and bigger—beer advertising signs along the highways.

U. S. Agrees To French Purchase Of Wheat Cargoes

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—The American government has agreed provisionally to permit France to buy two ship cargoes of wheat monthly to feed the unoccupied zone, Gaston Henry-Haye, the French ambassador, announced at the state department today.

After calling on Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, the ambassador told reporters that France would purchase the wheat in America out of funds now frozen in this country.

Flour shipments heretofore sent to unoccupied France have been gifts of the American Red Cross.

The ambassador said that Welles told him the arrangement of allowing two ships monthly would be continued provided the general situation was not changed.

Mobeetie Almost Destroyed By Cyclone Forty-Three Years Ago

Forty-three years ago last Thursday, the historic Mobeetie cyclone struck, bringing destruction to one of the most colorful towns in the old west. From that time, the former "Capitol of the Panhandle" dropped in population and with Fort Elliott abandoned it became just another small community.

One of the residents of the early Wheeler county city was Mrs. Mollie Quillen Adams, widow of the Panhandle's first postmaster and sister-in-law of the man who published the first newspaper. She was born May 1, 1865, at Red River Station, Montague county, the day after her mother stood guard shoulder to shoulder with the men during an Indian raid on the little settlement.

Her older sister was married to

Louis, Chicago, and made a wide circuit through Minnesota and the Dakotas, visiting friends and relatives, making most of the trip by stage. They returned to Mobeetie via Dodge City, Kansas, where Montgomery bought lumber for a new store building and skating rink. The building materials were hauled by ox train.

Mobeetie, during its brief lifetime, was a gay place for visiting girls and young matrons, Mrs. Adams recalls. As the young wife of the town's postmaster and leading merchant, she helped organize the Mobeetie Musical and Dramatic club and took an active part in its entertainments. Officers from Fort Elliott and their wives attended the dramatic and musical evenings, and also took part in the various other social activities.

"Court Week" Festival
"Court Week" was looked forward to as a great social occasion. There were many counties attached to Wheeler, and all court business for these were attended to at Mobeetie. After the daily judicial routine citizens and officers and soldiers stationed at Fort Elliott held horse races, roping contests and tournament riding every afternoon and there was dancing every night.

"Big names" of Mobeetie's court week, Mrs. Adams recalls, included Temple Houston, later State Senator from the Panhandle section; J. N. Browning, known as "Honest Jim," the section's representative in the legislature, and Col. W. H. Grigsby, Presiding over the court was Judge Willis, who had been a neighbor and intimate friend of the Quillen family in Montague county.

Scattered Far and Wide
Mobeetie's prosperity and gaiety were short lived. The railroad did not come, Fort Elliott was abandoned as the Indians were rounded up and placed in the Indian Territory reservation, the Cherokee Strip was opened for settlement. The one time "Capitol of the Panhandle" was almost abandoned when the "big cyclone" struck. Among the last to give up, according to Mrs. Adams, were Johnny Long and his wife, who was Mary Richardson.

Colorful City
Mobeetie was one of the most famous and colorful towns of the old West. Many prominent people were numbered among the early citizens of the town. The list was headed by Temple Houston, brilliant son of Sam Houston. Jim Browning, who was later lieutenant governor of Texas, was one of the most famous of the pioneer lawyers. Others were Frank Willis, W. H. Woodman, W. H. Wallace, W. B. Plemons, who was later first judge of the 74th judicial district, and L. D. Miller, known and loved as the cowboy lawyer.

The court sessions were social as well as legal in nature, as they attracted large crowds from nearby ranches.

Mobeetie was an exceptionally quiet pioneer town, but there were a few lawless people and it soon became necessary to build a jail. The first jail was a 10 x 12 building made of pickets, with a dirt roof. It was later replaced by a rock jail, built in 1886, which still stands in old Mobeetie.

Fort Elliott Condemned
The fort was no longer needed to protect the people against the Indians so it was condemned in 1889.

Major H. C. Cook of the 18th Infantry was the post commander at the time. A detachment of companies C, E, and H, 13th Infantry and Troop E, 6th Cavalry stayed at the fort until October 20, 1890, to take care of the property and prepare for the removal of the buildings, and to construct enclosure fences.

Mobeetie's first church was built in 1890. It was called Presbyterian, but people of all denominations came there to worship.

Prices were prohibitive in the little town as everything had to be hauled from such distant points that freight charges were high. Flour sold for $8 a hundred, coffee for fifty cents a pound, and sugar for 25 cents per pound. Other things were priced in accordance.

The railroads did more, perhaps, to settle the country than any other one thing. With their coming many new towns sprang up along their route. Settlers came into the Panhandle from every direction and farms began to dot the plains where so short a time before the land had been almost untouched.

A cyclone struck Mobeetie on May Day in 1898 and, according to records, four people were killed, including County Judge J. M. Exum. Two died later from injuries received during the storm.

In 1906 the county seat was moved to Wheeler. The court house was moved, too.

Auction at Fort Elliott
George Dunn of Mobeetie was made custodian of Fort Elliott in 1899 and the buildings were sold at auction in 1900. The buildings were sold at prices ranging from $50 to $300. The white pine buildings were very substantial and were used as dwelling and barns at nearby ranches and farms.

Bill Would Take Half Of State's Cash

AUSTIN, May 10 (AP)—State governmental revenues, boosted some $23,000,000 annually by passage of an omnibus bill recently passed, may be slashed approximately $9,000,000 if the house of representatives does not change its mind.

The lower legislative chamber yesterday refused to kill, by vote of 77 to 52, a senate-approved bill donating to the state's 254 counties one-half of the property tax revenues for a period of five years.

The proposal's sponsors estimated the measure, if it became law, would distribute between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000 a year to counties for road building, soil conservation, relief and other local purposes.

"You are fixing to undo in two weeks," warned Rep. C. C. Morris of Greenville, opposing the bill, "the work that this legislature has been doing in four months to put this state on a cash basis."

Morris, one of the leaders in passing the tax bill for bigger old age pensions and other social security functions, asserted revenues from the bill would reduce the $27,000,000 deficit in the state's general revenue fund and forecast a new clamor for taxes, including sales tax.

Sponsoring the bill, Rep. Howard Hartzog of Fort Lavaca declared it would be a step toward the state's withdrawal from the ad valorem tax field, assert 36:

"Cities and counties are in need of more funds and the property tax should be left to them exclusively."

Rep. Lonnie Alsop of Carthage contended the legislature already had remitted the taxes to more than 50 counties and that other counties should be accorded the same treatment.

Terminating the proposal unconstitutional, Rep. S. J. Isaacs of El Paso pointed out a similar measure passed by the legislature at the last session was ruled invalid by the Supreme Court.

The senate started work on the last major money-spending measure on its calendar, the college appropriation bill which provided $19,538,301 for two years beginning Sept. 1. The house had voted $23,031,410 for the purpose.

Among the first changes made was one boosting funds for the University of Texas medical school at Galveston by $339,110 each year. An amendment providing $150,000 for a new building at North Texas Agricultural college at Arlington was left pending.

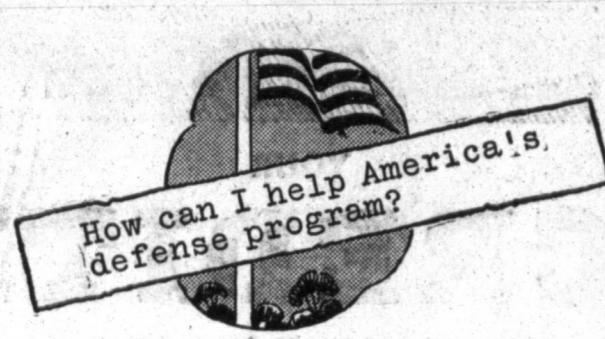

A house bill passed by the senate would make assignment of teachers' salaries valid only when approved by the employing authority. Sponsors explained the proposal would protect teachers against high pressure book sales.

County commissioners courts could name as auditors in counties with at least 25,000 population or with a tax valuation of not less than $15,000,000 by terms of another senate-approved bill.

The house passed finally a senate bill ordering a five-year closed season on wild turkey in more than 50 east and southern Texas counties. Concurrence in senate amendments sent the governor bills to authorize transfer of lands along the site of the proposed Copano bay causeway to Refugio and Aransas counties and close the season on shrimp in inland salt water bodies between June 15 and Aug. 31 and Dec. 15 and March 1.

House bills passed by the senate included ones requiring second-hand watches labeled, giving Texas A. & M. college the right of eminent domain to acquire land and eliminating inclusion of tips in computing salaries for unemployment compensation tax purposes.

Stamps Sell Best
WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—The first week of the government's campaign to sell defense bonds and savings stamps brought in $114,880,000, the treasury announced yesterday. The stamps, in denominations of 10 cents to $5, accounted for $1,554,000 of the total. Series G bonds, ranging from $100 to $10,000, brought in $80,130,000.

One way you can help (there are probably many others) is financially. Total defense requires huge government expenditures. Part of these funds are being raised by borrowing. You can do your part by purchasing U. S. Defense Bonds, which are available at this bank in a variety of denominations, ranging from twenty-five to ten thousand dollars.

The Panhandle oil field continued annually active last week with 17 new locations being filed at the local office of the Texas Railroad Commission. The new locations brought the total for the year to 281 following the 27 the previous week.

The Panhandle's two wildcats were reported as follows: Humble Oil & Refining company's No. 1 Byrd in

Tax On Gasoline Double Wholesale Price Of Product

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—Representatives of the petroleum industry, presenting arguments against increasing the federal gasoline tax one cent a gallon, asserted today that the burden of the present impost "falls upon the masses of American people including especially the very low income groups."

Their first spokesman, before the house ways and means committee, Fayette B. Dow of Washington, made no direct request that it reject a treasury proposal to boost the levy from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents.

He quoted arguments of others against this type of tax, however, and said the average combined gasoline levy, state and federal, already was 5.9 cents, or more than double the wholesale price of the product. These levies, he said, yield $1,215,000,000 a year.

A one-cent increase, Dow continued, would boost the average tax to 6.9 and would constitute a 55 per cent sales tax on every gallon of gasoline.

Dow said he appeared as representative of the American Petroleum Industries committee, the National Petroleum association, and the Western Petroleum Refiners association.

In opening his argument, Dow expressed belief that the American people would bear "very heavy taxes" for "a very long period of time," and said he considered it self-deception to label taxes "emergency" or "defense" or "temporary."

'Rigid Control' Of Oil Industry Sure, Clarel Mapes Says

TULSA, Okla., May 10 (AP)—Clarel B. Mapes, executive secretary of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association, asserted today the oil industry may expect "rigid control" under the national defense program.

Mapes, recently returned from Washington, spoke before a young business men's group.

"Rigid control may be expected, whether it's necessary or not," Mapes declared. "There's a do-or-die attitude in the country and you may expect a controlled method of operation."

"That's not alone for the oil industry, but for every major industry."

He said that through price administration, headed by Leon Henderson, "within two to four weeks he may expect price control of both services and supply" for all major industries.

"Out here," Mapes continued, "we don't realize the tenseness that there is in Washington. There's a war psychology there. You can feel it in the hotel lobbies, and the question of business as usual is completely out."

While the Cole bill, seeking federal regulation of the oil industry, was not revived at this session of congress, Mapes said that the Cole committee's authorization to investigate the oil industry has been extended to January 3 when a report is expected.

"In my belief," he added, "the final report will be complimentary rather than critical."

Revenue Freight Up Railroads Report

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—The Association of American railroads reported today that 794,391 cars of revenue freight were loaded during the week ending last Saturday.

This was an increase of 72,599 cars, or 10.1 per cent, compared with the preceding week; an increase of 128,754 cars, or 13.3 per cent, compared with a year ago, and an increase of 222,276 cars, or 38.9 per cent, compared with 1939.

Loadings for the week established a new high for 1941 and were the largest since the week of November 2, 1940 when loadings totaled 794,797.

Oil Companies Back Defense Guard Unit

"All-out" encouragement of the Texas Defense Guard is contained in letters from three oil companies, Danciger, King, and Wilcox, received here by E. J. Dunigan, Jr., captain commanding the local company.

Joe Danciger, Fort Worth, of the Danciger Oil & Refineries, Inc., writes that his company is "willing to give the fullest cooperation and believe the work is worthy of the support of each employer in the district."

The King Oil company "will go along with other companies" in supporting the Guard, writes R. A. King, president from Wichita Falls.

Wilcox Oil & Gas company is willing to take care of its employees salaries for a 30-day period while they are on active duty in the Texas Defense Guard, according to a letter from F. H. Dunn, Tulsa, vice president.

Definite Support
These three companies stated they would arrange to protect the jobs of any of their employees who were called into active service as members of the Guard.

The Texas company, Houston, believes that their employees should be "encouraged to join the state defense forces," but clean-cut policies as to wages paid workers while in service was not stated by this firm or by Stanolind, Cities Service, Continental, or by Humble Oil & Refining company.

J. S. Leach, vice president, made the reply for the Texas company; D. B. Harris, Houston, for Humble. For the Phillips Petroleum company, Bartlesville, Okla., K. S. Adams replied that the company was willing to give one-fourth of a month's wages for each week served in the Guard by their employees.

Oil Industry Ready, Sun President Says

PHILADELPHIA, May 10 (AP)—The petroleum industry can supply the needs of the nation both in peace and war "provided only that the government does not interfere with our production line," declares J. Howard Pew, president of the Sun Oil company.

"Our vast resources of petroleum are chief among our guarantees of national safety," he said last night in presenting to Franklin Institute a complete working model of an oil field and refinery.

"Should the nation face war on two ocean fronts, it has oil on both to meet the highest estimates of military, naval and aviation needs and ample capacity in refining, storage and transportation.

"This country produces over 60 per cent of the world's oil and our proved resources are greater than ever before. For whatever emergency, this industry stands ready."

Big Yellow Card May Decide Prowess Of United States Army

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

CAMP WALLACE, Hitchcock, May 10 (P)—A big yellow card may decide the prowess of the United States Army.

The card holds the key to the army's plan to put every soldier in the place best suited to him.

One is the old custom of fitting a square peg into a round hole, or the belief of World War days that soldiers and water find their own level.

The big yellow card is the nerve center of the army's great training program.

When a prospective soldier reports, an officer equipped with the card interviews him.

The questions lead the interviewer deep into the history and qualifications of the soldier.

The boy giving the answers to the card's questionnaire may think the whole thing is pretty silly. He may not understand how his army life will be affected by the amount of schooling he had, what his civilian occupation was, whether he speaks a foreign language, what his marital status is, what hobbies he has, what sports he is most proficient in, whether he has talent for public entertainment.

The army, however, believes the card is eminently important, on the theory that a soldier will be most valuable if his duty approximates his civilian occupation, if he is given the opportunity to indulge his hobbies, if he has a chance to play his favorite sport.

On the basis of the man's answers, he will be assigned to one of two general classifications: either he will be a soldier with purely military duties, such as handling a gun, or he will qualify for other duties requiring a more or less specialized background.

Suppose, for instance, John Doe's card reveals that he was a truck driver in civilian life with radio for a hobby. He may become an army truck driver, or he may be found more valuable as a radio operator.

The army is careful, however, to guard against men looking for soft jobs. Possibly John Doe tells the interviewer he was a good cook in civilian life. Maybe John Doe would prefer to dish up pot roast than to drive a truck.

The big yellow card will show him up, for included in the questionnaire, besides aptitude tests and an army general classification test, is a trade test.

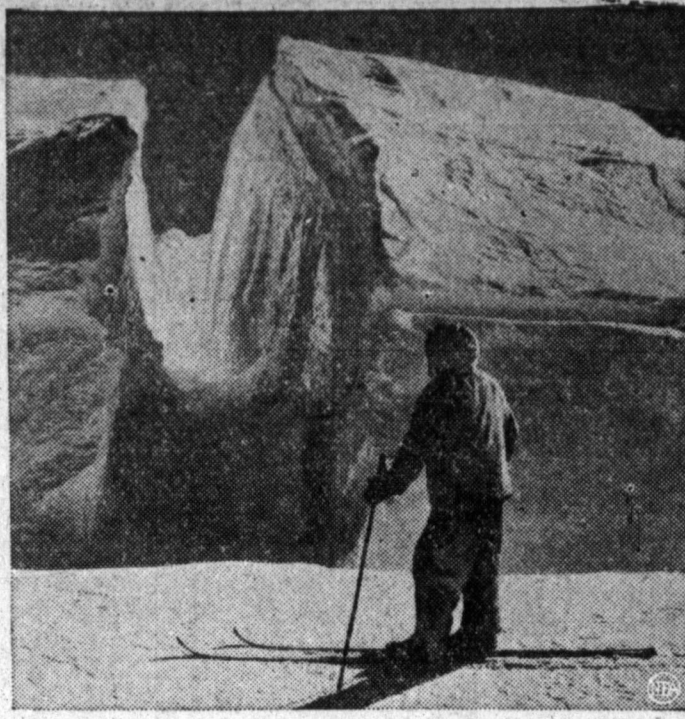

The interviewer may ask John Doe how to prepare some dish which only an expert cook could do. John Doe can't, so he doesn't become a cook.

As much as possible, however, the army considers each man's desires. The cards are filled out at the country's various reception centers and sent to the replacement center where the selectee gets his initial training.

At Camp Wallace, near the Gulf of Mexico, selectees are fitted to join the regular units of the army's coast artillery anti-aircraft batteries.

On the basis of the soldier's questionnaire, he is placed in one of

Historic Ranch House Razed For 1941 Bungalow

Special To The NEWS

CANADIAN, May 10—The house on the John Isaacs' ranch on Needmore creek in Hemphill county has been razed to make way for a modern bungalow.

This house was built more than 40 years ago. When John C. Isaacs and Miss Viola Bloom of Medicine Lodge, Kan., were married, they made the Needmore ranch their home. Soon after, they purchased lots in Canadian and built a small house for overnight stops coming to town for supplies.

The ranch is twelve miles from Canadian, but that was before paved highways and automobiles were common in the Texas Panhandle.

When two children were of school age, Mrs. Isaacs stayed in town during school term. Rooms were added to the original house.

A few years ago, the house was completely remodeled and the exterior stuccoed. Mr. Isaacs died in October, 1937. Mrs. Isaacs resides in the Canadian home. Their son, John lives at Needmore and manages the ranch.

Outing Held By McLean Music Club

McLEAN, May 10—The McLean Music club under the direction of Mrs. C. A. Cryer and Mrs. Willie Boyette, had a picnic recently at Lake McClellan.

The group went hiking and refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames C. A. Cryer, Willie Boyette, T. E. Crisp, Dewey Woods. Students attending were Bobby Campbell, Ruth Humphreys, Eddy Fulbright, Phyllis Ann Griffith, Bennie Wade, Billy Carpenter, Duella Woods, Kelly Lee, Bobby Crisp, Carl Sullivan, Evonne Floyd, Mary Foster, Frances Hudzietz, Frances Sitter, Marion Wilson, Earnestine Shelburne, Earl Humphreys, Loyce Thacker, Ruth Standburg, Alice Courts, Wayne Back and Shirley Glass.

Enlistment Requirements In U. S. Air Corps Lowered To 8th Grade

Corporal Harvey M. Gist, U. S. Army Recruiting officer, here, announces that the war department has lowered the requirements for enlistment in the regular army air corps from high school graduates to the 8th grade education, providing applicants for this branch can pass the war department classification test.

The new regulation opens to intelligent young men without a high school education, an excellent future and a wonderful opportunity to learn an aviation trade, through the air corps technical schools which are open to any enlisted men of the air corps.

The following courses are just a few of the many taught at the air corps technical schools, aircraft machinist, airplane mechanic, welders, electricians, instrument specialists, aircraft sheet metal workers, aircraft riggers, radio repair and operators, and many others too numerous to mention, for the air corps soldier must be a specialist in some department.

Applications are being accepted now, at the Pampa office or the nearest recruiting station, of young men with at least an 8th grade education who can pass the test. Young men applying now have three choices of assignment; Marsh Field, California; Air Base, Fort Sill, Oklahoma; and Lowry Field, Colorado.

Recruiting stations are located at the post office building, Pampa, past office building, Amarillo; court house, Childress; post office building, Lubbock.

Agnes, 7-Foot Snake, Pet Of Tech Student

Special To The NEWS

LUBBOCK, May 10—It may be surprising, but Charles Aves of Houston, sophomore geology student at Texas Tech, keeps a lady resident in his room at one of the men's dorms. Her name is Agnes.

Agnes is only a seven-foot garter snake, who was sent from the swamps of Florida.

"She's as gentle as a house cat," he declares. Charlie and his roommate state that her propensity for learning new tricks is amazing. They have taught her to sleep in a box and to go walking on a leash.

Affectionately wrapping her seven feet of glistening coils around her owner, she curls up complacently with her head on his shoulder, flicking her long forked tongue constantly. She is allowed the freedom of the whole room, but her favorite location is on a sunny window sill where she can lie and bask in warm spring sunshine.

Only three times has Agnes had a flare of temper, states Aves. Once while curled up amid the springs of her owner's bed for a quiet snooze, she was sat upon by an unsuspecting student. To become a hermit, her owner believes. Once she tried to "get away from it all" by crawling between a bookshelf and the wall. Not responding to gentle tugs on her tail, she seized the wall with her scales and held fast. Finally she was hauled out, tearing her scales badly, and was a very spiteful and irritated young lady for several days.

'Success' Topic Of Lecture At McLean

Special To The NEWS

McLEAN, May 10—Rev. L. M. Brown, pastor of the First Methodist church of McLean, spoke to the McLean student body at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. The subject of his lecture was "Success."

Said Mr. Brown, "Commencement is the beginning of another day; it is the beginning of another mile post in your lives. Out in life you will remember your high school teachers and friends. When you learn to make decisions for yourself you have accomplished much."

"There are three kinds of success; success in the business world, success in home life, and success in spiritual being. Competition is stiff today in the business world and you must be the best. The world is not waiting for you with outstretched hands. You will have to fight your way up. Success is a long process, but to the man who has the determination and ability, success will come. A successful home life is the greatest career that can ever come to a woman."

"Success in spiritual things is a very important factor in our success in life. Eternal value is the only value that lasts. We have a trust of life. This life must be taken care of carefully. We have a changing world, but the principals of living are the same yesterday, today and forever. Let no thief take from you the treasure of living."

Spring Lures Only Few Out Of School

When the fish begin to bite—it would mean a long trip for any local Tom Sawyer.

So, spring luring boys from school isn't so much a problem here as in sections where rivers are plentiful.

There's still some slight truancy, however, for Pampa boys like to slip off to the movies.

Some of those a. w. o. l. from classes give the alibi that they want to earn some money caddyng or distributing hand bills.

In a surprisingly large number of cases, the desire to make money is genuine, according to the attendance officer of the Pampa schools, and is not just an alibi to play hooky.

President Invited To Inspect Camps In Lone Star State

AUSTIN, May 10, (P)—The Texas senate today received from the house a unanimously-approved resolution inviting President Roosevelt to visit the Lone Star state and inspect defense projects.

The following itinerary was suggested, by inference: Abilene, Bracksville, Brownwood, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston, Grand Prairie, Marfa, Randolph Field, San Antonio, and San Angelo.

SERIAL STORY

LOVE POWER

BY OREN ARNOLD

Copyright 1941, NEA Service, Inc.

YESTERDAY: Leana has made her preparations well. During her ride with Bob and Carolyn, she pretends friendship, and Carolyn is definitely worried. Later, Leana comes to the Tyler cottage, tells Carolyn that Bob wants to see her in the shaft at 6 o'clock. She writes a note, Carolyn walks around the mountain, hurries to her transmitter. After waiting 20 minutes, she presses a switch.

WHEN X-999 EXPLODES—

CHAPTER XXIII

KNOWLEDGE of her power at this moment, and of the vengeance she was about to wreak on the Tyler girl, gave Leana Sorni's face a wild look of exhilaration. She threw her transmitter switch as if the act were a definite little finale.

And finale it was! Not even Leana Sorni, brilliant scientist, had known the extreme potency of X-999!!!

Simultaneously with her touch of that switch, all of hellfire itself belched over the universe. The earth shook in a staccato of doom. Tonto Mountain, it appeared, was lifted skyward. A great spreading bulk blacked out the light of day, extended eastward over a full five miles, then came pelting—roaring—crashing down in an all-consuming bombardment.

The top half of Mummy Ridge itself was blown square off and a minute later it and all its area there to the east were buried under countless tons of debris. The very physiography of a mountain range was being altered. And nobody—no living soul—heard Leana Sorni give her long, hysterical scream.

FROM other points of view (as told countless times in the months and even years to follow) the explosion of Tonto Mountain was that of a volcano, no less. Except that this particular volcano spewed fire from only one side of its mouth, after first bursting out an opening.

The actual eruption was not straight up, but angled. The great force of the explosion naturally took the path of least resistance. The west half of Tonto Mountain was a bulwark of granite, virtually solid rock a mile thick at its base. A flat white face of that granite had showed at the peak to form a landmark for centuries. But in nature's own eruptions sons ago she had loosened and stirred the eastern half of Tonto, upending its strata and piling there loose boulders, smaller rocks and soils. It was this loose deposit which gave way under the force of X-999's explosion.

That loose half of Tonto became shrapnel, spreading out fan-wise. The granite half stood firm, merely shaken by the recoil.

The circumstance proved to be extremely fortunate for puny human beings who had dared enclose themselves in nature's bosom here. It was as if nature had kept a benign hand over them and their little huts. Not that the huts escaped damage—every window in the scientists' village was broken, and every china dish, every bit of glass equipment in the laboratory.

Rock chimneys were toppled over. One cabin was moved quite off its foundation. The stables, filmy structures at best, were flattened and three of the horses killed. A dozen major or minor avalanches were started on neighboring mountains, and their rolling, pelting rocks were still an echoing thunder 10 minutes after the actual explosion.

Most of the village people, as Leana Sorni had mentioned to Carolyn, were at dinner. When the great shock and noise came, they were stupefied. Ears were deafened, muscles numbed. The story of all that was destined to make good telling for generations after.

WHEN Carolyn and Leana left him at the stables shortly after 5 o'clock, Bob Hale lingered to rub down his black gelding rather than give the task to a stable boy. Currying, brushing, patting and talking is the way to get acquainted with a horse, Bob knew; it can be genuine pleasure for both.

About 15 minutes later, though, Bob was called to the stable telephone. It was Leana. "Robert, dear," she began, "is it too much to ask that you drive in to Blair for me, at once? There is some equipment—a microscope part—which I simply must have in the laboratory early tomorrow morning, and I really wanted it tonight. It was due on the mail stage today and the Blair post-office closes at 6. I—I wouldn't want to trust it to one of our clumsy workmen here, so—"

"Surely, Leana! I can drive right over now. Our group doesn't eat until 7. Be a pleasure."

He was earnest about it. He remembered that he hadn't been sufficiently attentive to Leana anyway, and this little before-dinner jaunt was easy.

He didn't rush because there was abundant time, but he did take his car immediately and head off down the old road from the mine. It swung south and west from Tonto Mountain, winding in picturesque way.

He was still thinking of the girls. Somehow, despite his avowed desire to serve her, he hadn't exactly liked Leana Sorni today. For no reason that he could set a finger on, he had resented her manner while on the ride.

He forced that thought aside as unfair, senseless. The car on the mountain curves took all his attention. And when he reached Blair he paused to chat a bit with the postmaster. Leana's parcel hadn't arrived, after all. She would be disappointed.

Vaguely he wondered why a mere microscope lens, or whatever it was, could be so urgent. There were other microscopes at hand in the laboratory. But then, a person gets used to a favorite one, he knew. He switched the talk to deer hunting.

"Shore thing, Dr. Hale," the postmaster was friendly. "It's deer as'll run right over you around here in autumn time! Shore's your're born! Big bucks with 10, 20 points all up in that Tonto Mountain country. You stick here till October, you'll see. You got a good rifle?"

They went into the matter of guns, man talk. They were examining the postmaster's own 30-30 when—

BROO-O-O-O-O-O-O!

THE earth trembled, shook them to their very teeth! Glass cracked and fell from the bursting shock of the explosion. Bob's muscles froze. The postmaster looked quickly at him in consternation. Neither spoke at first. Then both looked out.

The late sun-yellowed sky back toward Tonto was blooming in a magnificent mass of black earth and rocks and shooting flame. They saw it bill. Saw it grow—billowing, spreading, roaring and echoing furiously now. It was greater than anything in their comprehension. It was reaching out over half the horizon, as if it meant to engulf all the universe. "I know!" Bob rasped, from the deep frenzy now within him. "It—it—Carolyn's there! Carolyn's still there! . . . Come on! . . . Oh my God! . . . Carolyn!"

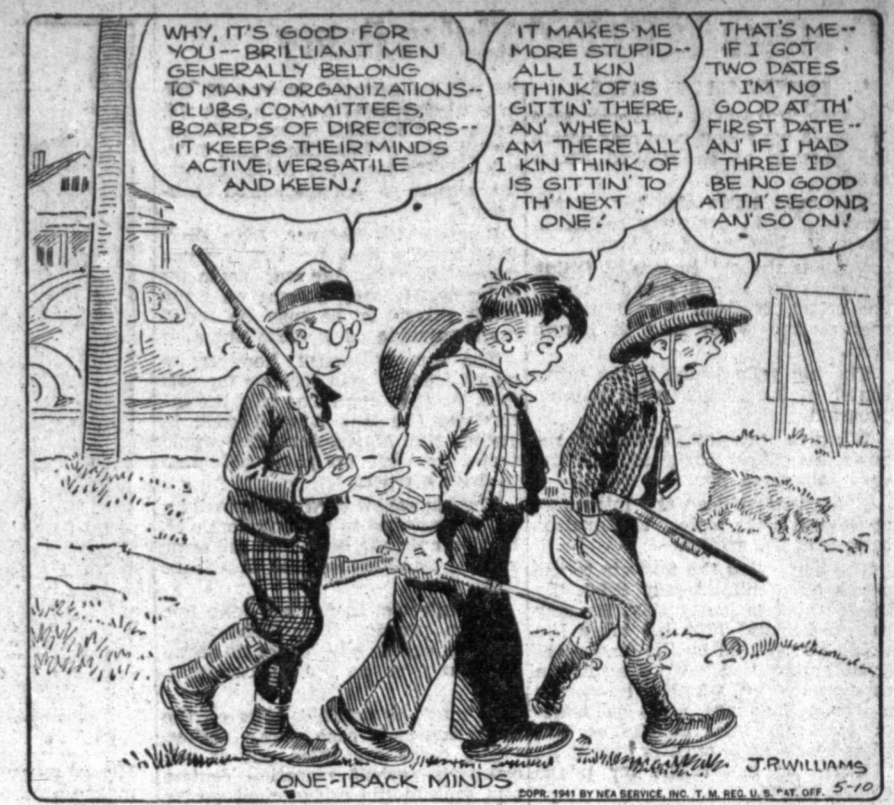

The two men were running to Bob's car. (To Be Concluded)

Selectee Outsmarts Self With Two Names

PHILADELPHIA, May 10 (AP)—Federal agents said John William Booth outsmarted himself by registering for the draft under his own name and also that of John Black.

When "Black's" number was called last December, they stated, Booth vacated the address listed "Black." Thus a charge of evading selective service.

U. S. Commissioner Norman J. Griffin held the 25-year-old Booth for court action, pointing out that he would have been free if he had kept his own name and his high draft number which hasn't been called.

HEAD OF NAVY STEPS FROM DECK TO DESK

Admiral Stark... his office has a salty air

Admiral 'Betty' Stark Bosses Biggest Navy In U. S. History

BY GERRY DICK
 NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 10—Early in the summer of 1914 the Assistant Secretary of the Navy was cruising aboard a destroyer. The ship entered waters familiar to him and he asked to take the helm.

"I'm sorry, sir," replied the young lieutenant commanding the ship. "I don't think you can relieve me of my command."

Twenty-five years later Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Assistant Secretary of the Navy who could not relieve Lt. Harold Raymond Stark of his command, could and did choose him for the Navy's No. 1 job: Chief of Naval Operations.

Admiral Stark is boss of the largest navy—built, building and on paper—that the United States has ever attempted to float. On recommendations he made six months after assuming office in August 1939, Congress authorized a 70 per cent bigger, two-ocean navy. When completed (it's now about two years ahead of its 1946 schedule), it will consist of 750 ships totaling 3,760,000 tons.

"DOLLARS CANNOT BUY YESTERDAY"

"To get the job done with all possible speed, (dollars cannot buy) yesterday," he has said, Admiral Stark arrives at his office before his subordinates, leaves it after them. The Navy Department provides a chauffeur driven sedan for the Chief, but when the weather is good, he drives himself to the office in a roadster with the top down. On such days he may have been up extra early. He is an avid movie amateur; his pet subject, sun rises. On especially beautiful mornings his aides wake him in time to film the rising sun.

His office, on what he calls the "second deck" of the Navy Building, has a salty air—with gray walls, blue leather furniture, a ship's clock and model seaplanes poised above the fireplace as though they were about to take off. His private office, adjoining the larger one, looks like a class room. The Admiral's desk is at one end, faced by rows of black leather chairs and a huge colored chart of the seven seas.

Above the door there are three miniature code flags: blue for the Secretary of the Navy; white for the Assistant; red for the Under Secretary. They are run up when the Secretaries are "aboard" the building.

The Chief looks the part of "the old sea dog." He has white hair, tanned skin. He wears steel-rimmed spectacles now.

"The Log," Annapolis classbook, described him as "musical—having made the day hideous with his singing... and 'hungry as the grave.'" His trim figure indicates that he's not as fond of eating as he once was and he has given up singing. But his quiet voice still retains a musical quality.

His energy is wiry and well coordinated; so he looks efficient without looking hurried. No one can ever remember having seen him lose his temper.

NAVY NICKNAMED HIM "BETTY"

His friends call him "Betty," but not because of his kindly face and gentle manner. When he was a plebe at Annapolis, his classmates misappropriated the name of the wife (real name: Molly), of Revolutionary War hero Gen. John Stark for the future admiral's christening. Whenever he met an upperclassman, he was made to declaim: "Beat them, or Betty Stark will sleep in widowhood tonight."

He is a careful worker, following up anything he starts. He is extremely meticulous. (On his desk he keeps a card file with all his friends' phone numbers and addresses.) Because he succeeded the extremely warm and well-liked Admirals Yarnell and Leahy, Washington was at first inclined to consider Admiral Stark rather cold. But officers who know him are quick to contradict this.

"Though he is separated from his men by the barrier of gold braid, their affection for him is evident. At sea he always called a new man into his cabin and had a heart-to-heart talk with him, before telling him his duties. 'I like to let my men know that we're all in the same ship and that we go up or down together,' he explained.

LOVE OF SEA IS ROMANTIC KIND

He is not much interested in social life here, and whenever he can get away from sweetening Washington in summer, he hops into a seaplane and flies to his cottage at Lake Carey, Pa., which is about 40 miles from his childhood home at Wilkes-Barre. Over his door is the backboard of the dismantled U. S. S. Brooklyn (once his flagship). It's usually a surprise visit and he explains it; "I was wild to row a boat." His wife was Katherine Rhoades, a Wilkes-Barre neighbor who played with him when he was a child and went sailing with him in summer holidays. He has two daughters, both married.

Today Admiral Stark's hours are filled with talk of steel, propellers, engines and oil, but his love of the sea is the romantic stout-oak-and-canvas kind. When he was graduated from Annapolis, he asked for duty aboard the last windjammer in Navy service.

Even today his tanned face relaxes when he talks, with the speed of the wind, about sailing ships. "There's something thrilling about sailing that you can get your teeth into," he says. In a reminiscent mood he tells of the thrill he got out of taking the helm of a keel boat that belonged to Secretary of the Navy Adams. "It was like driving a thoroughbred horse."

ON BATTLESHIP SIDE OF NAVY CONTROVERSY

His love of sailboats, however, does not detract from his respect for battleships. He is on the battleship side of the ship-plane controversy, but thinks of the Navy as a unit. Paraphrasing Admiral Mahan's famous remark he says: "A Navy is composed of men, ships and bases, and the most important of these are men, ships and bases."

"I got my first love of sailing as a boy," says Admiral Stark. "That was my reason for going to Annapolis." As a midshipman, "Betty" Stark rowed on the varsity crew and did a lot of swimming. He's still fond of the sport and when he's on sea duty, he often wakes his aides early for an hour pre-breakfast swim.

He was graduated about midway in his class and soon afterwards started a series of destroyer commands, on one of which he was to refuse Franklin D. Roosevelt the helm. Soon after that episode, Stark was sent to the Philippines, and when the United States entered the war, he was ordered to take five ancient destroyers on a 12,000-mile voyage to the Mediterranean. And Stark brought his "tubs" through to Gibraltar. For this accomplishment he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal and shortly thereafter was assigned to the staff of Admiral Simms.

Years of distinguished, but less dramatic, service intervened before he got the Navy's No. 1 job. That was in 1939, and he has three more years to serve.

General Page said that Texas' local boards have been instructed to see that while no practicing doctor whose services are necessary to his community is inducted for military training, the requirements of the armed forces for physicians and surgeons also must be filled.

"Cooperation with the war department in its procurement program," he said, makes it particularly desirable right now that we avoid inducting men who have made application for a commission and who qualify as medical officers and thereby serve both the army and themselves to better advantage.

For that reason we are asking all local boards to communicate with physicians and surgeons among them to apply to the corps area surgeon, eighth corps area, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, for reserve commissions in the medical corps."

General Page pointed out that where such registrants do not take advantage of this opportunity to be commissioned, and if they are placed in Class I-A, they will be inducted for military training under the selective service act. Internees, if commissioned, will be deferred from active duty to complete one year's internship.

General Page also pointed out that only doctors who are graduates of approved schools who are licensed, or eligible to be licensed, to practice medicine in the state in which they live are considered for commissions in the medical reserve corps.

Medical Corps Has Several Thousand Reserve Vacancies

There are several thousand vacancies in the medical corps reserve and physicians and surgeons commissioned will be given the grade of first lieutenant, General J. Watt Page, state selective service director, has informed the Gray County Selective Service board.

General Page said that Texas' local boards have been instructed to see that while no practicing doctor whose services are necessary to his community is inducted for military training, the requirements of the armed forces for physicians and surgeons also must be filled.
