Borger Aviator Killed In Jump After Plane Goes Into Spin

SENATE PASSES BRITISH LEND-LEASE BILL

'Chute Fails To Complete Full Opening

L. T. Ruttman Killed Instantly In Fall Saturday

Bailing out of his plane at too low an altitude for his parachute to fully open cost the life yesterday of L. T. Ruttman, 35, of Fritch, when his plane apparently went into an inverted spin two miles southeast of Borger.

The fatal crash occurred when Ruttman was returning from a plane formation that flew over the parade inaugurating Borger's 15th birthday celebration, about noon Saturday.

When the plane crashed, it landed on a small hill with such force that the motor was completely buried in the ground and the craft was so crumpled that the tail was only one yard from the motor.

The gas tank was hurled 25 feet from the plane. There was no explosion. Ruttman's body struck the ground 75 feet from the place where his plane crashed.

The air show, scheduled for the afternoon at the airport south of Borger, was not canceled and proceeded as planned. Al Myers of Amarillo, CAA inspector, was called to Borger to investigate the accident.

Ruttman was an employee of the Texoma Gas company. He was active in Borger aviation circles, and had a reputation as a stunt pilot.

His widow and their two children, a son, 8, and daughter, 10, survive.

Old-Fashioned Blizzard Sweeps Eastern States

Wind-borne snow approaching in depth the blizzard of 1888 whipped the eastern seaboard yesterday (Saturday) and appeared inclined to lash it spasmodically until late today.

Enveloping the coastal areas from Virginia to Maine and extending from 100 to 200 miles inland, the storm encircled several areas with 16 inches of snow and sleet, took at least six lives, and generally impeded transportation and communication.

Not so severe in suffering and havoc as the great storm of "March 10" that caked the east with 16 1/2 inches 53 years ago, yesterday's storm was, nevertheless, bad enough to prompt passengers arriving in New York by steamer from Iceland to complain: "Bitter weather—colder than at home."

Temperatures generally were in the twenties, but gales and driving sleet which at times turned to rain and ice gave the storm a blizzard aspect. In New York City two deaths were attributed to the storm.

DEANNA'S DOG TO REPLACE "LADDIE"

Deanna Durbin presents Private Everett Scott with "Laddie," an airdale to replace "Laddie," Scott's pet which was flown across the country to him when the dog went on a hunger strike after his master's enlistment in the army. "Laddie" died of grief after being reunited with Scott. "Mickey" and Scott returned to Fort Ord after getting together with Deanna in Los Angeles.

John Haggard Named County Commissioner

John Haggard, who concluded eight years as county commissioner on January 1 and was not a candidate for re-election, was appointed Saturday by County Judge Sherman White to fill out the unexpired term of R. A. Smith, 68, who died here Thursday morning.

Funeral services for Commissioner Smith were held yesterday afternoon at the First Baptist church here.

Commissioner Haggard will return to his duties as commissioner of precinct 2 at a meeting of the county commissioners to be held tomorrow morning.

He had served as commissioner from 1933 to this year, when Mr. Smith, winner of a hotly-contested race, was sworn in on January 1. As successor to Smith, Mr. Haggard will fill out, therefore, a practically full term.

100 Wranglers To Conduct Boy Scout Campaign

More than 100 wranglers will gather in the Schneider hotel dining room at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday morning to take on a regular ranch breakfast before the hardest days work they have ever faced. Their job will be to complete the annual Boy Scout financial roundup in a single day.

The workers will be from Pampa's four luncheon clubs—Lions, Rotarians, Kiwanians and Jaycees. Each club will furnish a boss wrangler, four foremen and 28 wranglers for the big drive.

Promptly at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the workers will gather downtown for the final check-up and the boss wrangler whose workers have collected the most money will take a large pair of shears and whack off the shirt tail of the boss wrangler whose boys collected the least amount of money.

Names of foremen and wranglers have not been released but the boss wranglers are: The Rocking Chair ranch (Lions club) Sherman White; the Double Cross ranch (Rotary club) Glen Mordy; the Bar Nothing ranch (Jaycees) Frank Monroe; the Lazy K ranch (Kiwanis club) Clyde Carruth.

Santa Fe Passenger Delayed 16 Hours

Santa Fe train schedules in Pampa yesterday were thrown out of joint when 15 derailed freight cars had to be removed from the Santa Fe tracks at Rio Puerco near Albuquerque, N. M.

Due to the derailment, the east-bound train due in Pampa at 7 o'clock Saturday morning did not arrive until near midnight, while the train due here at 6 p. m. was a half-hour behind the first.

In New Mexico, two cars loaded with fruit and vegetables bound for the east, left the tracks early Friday night and other trains were delayed for about 10 hours. Officials said they did not know the cause of the derailment.

Air Raid Destroys London Dance Hall

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, March 9 (Sunday)—Londoners were killed, wounded, or trapped in piles of debris last night and early today in the first heavy night Luftwaffe raid on the British capital in weeks.

Attacking with a fury reminiscent of the Blitz raids of last fall, the Germans scored a direct hit on a night club crowded with dancers; killed and injured a number of pedestrians on a London roadway; and caused other casualties when two bombs exploding at the ends of a block, caved in a cafe where many were dining.

There was a brief hull in the raid shortly before midnight and then the Luftwaffe stepped up the bombs.

Band And Float From Pampa In Borger Parade

A record crowd of 12,000 persons jammed Borger streets Saturday as the Hutchinson county town celebrated its 15th birthday.

Featured was a parade represented by its high school band, a float bearing a representation of a huge birthday cake, 4 1/2 feet in diameter, trimmed in white candles, and the name of the Pampa Board of City Development, and a band of good-will envoys that participated in the two-mile long parade yesterday morning.

There were 15 plains towns represented. An air show from 2 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at the airport south of Borger, a band demonstration at the Borger Bulldog stadium, and a band concert later, were the principal parts of the afternoon program.

A replica of Judge Roy Bean's "Law West of the Pecos" court was set up between Fifth and Sixth on Main street, with Sam Stradley, Stinnett justice of the peace, acting as the "judge" and J. O. Ward, Borger city attorney, as the prosecutor.

Fines of from 10 cents to a dollar were collected on various charges, including one against a Borger newspaperman found carrying an out-of-town newspaper.

Hold in conjunction with the celebration was the regular monthly meeting of the American Legion posts and auxiliaries of the 18th district.

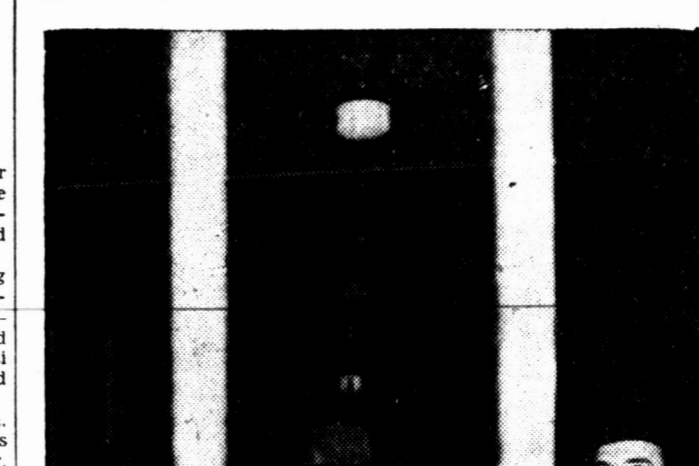

Their business meeting was held at the Legion hut, followed by a meal at the Borger arena, and a dance last night at the Legion hut. A stag party was held by the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Borger also last night.

German Attack Denied

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP)—Passengers arriving today on the Icelandic freighter Godafoss denied reports by DNB, official German news agency, that German planes had machine-gunned a British air base in Iceland Feb. 10.

LABOR EXPERT Mr. Thomas Tchou of Oberlin, Ohio, will be the next speaker on the Pampa Rotary club's institute of international understanding. He will speak at 8 o'clock Wednesday night in the high school auditorium in "An Impoverished World." His lecture is the third in a series of four, held on Wednesday night of each week. Mr. Tchou is an author and lecturer upon Chinese political and social problems. He attained distinction in Chinese public welfare, served as labor director of the Nanking government, represented China at the international labor office conferences at Geneva. The lecturer was private secretary to General Chiang Kai-Shek for two years, and member of several important commissions of the Chinese government to the United States.

ASK HIM IF CRIME PAYS

In a picture symbolizing the oft-proved truth that crime does not pay, George Joseph Cvek, framed by jail bars, walks between detectives after confessing assault and killing of New York housewives.

It was believed a large number of civilians—and perhaps service men enjoying a leave—were trapped late last night in the wrecked night club.

The leader of the band playing at the night club, some of his musicians, and a number of guests—some of them beautifully gowned women—were killed when the Nazi bomb crashed through the roof and hit the dance floor.

Lights in the club remained on, revealing the chaos, where seconds before there had been laughter, and the light-hearted gaiety of London night life in full swing.

Civil defense workers quickly restored order and began rescue work. Soldiers, sailors and Royal Air Force men on leave joined air raid workers in rescue work immediately after the bomb fell, although other bombs were coming down in the sector.

Crowds which gathered around the club wreckage quickly scattered as more bombs fell. Bombs falling on both sides of another cafe caused casualties.

Masses of German planes were dumping hundreds of high explosives on the capital. The drone of the attacking planes sounded unusually low.

The fury of the Luftwaffe was met by intense and spectacular anti-aircraft fire. The crash of heavy bombs mingled in numerous London districts with the roar of defending guns and flares and tracer bullets lighted the city's skies.

At least one public shelter was hit; hospitals were warned to prepare for casualties. Buildings trembled under the shock of high explosive blasts, flames lighted the sky, revealing a criss-cross of vapor trails from the planes.

The night raiders came after a day of air attacks on England's east coast and in Scotland, in which, some British sources said, three bombers were shot down. The air ministry officially accounted for only two.

They flew across a moonlit Dover Strait, where only a light southeast wind was blowing.

The toll of air warfare on civilian lives was raised by the announcement of the air and home security ministries that 789 civilians were killed in raids on Britain last month, while 1,068 were injured.

Those casualties were approximately half the figures for January, however.

House Victory Foreseen By 60-31 Triumph

Woman In Gallery Is Ejected After Banner Is Thrown

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—Worn down by three weeks of oratory and dispute, the senate finally passed the lend-lease bill authorizing President Roosevelt to mobilize industrial America and throw its products into England's battle against Germany.

It sent the measure to the house with a request that the latter concur in the series of administration-approved amendments which had been added. All indications were that the house would agree to do so on Tuesday, or by Wednesday at the latest, with the bill going to the white house immediately thereafter for President Roosevelt's signature.

The vote on final passage, 60 to 31, found the senate in easy-going good humor, despite many days of frazzled tempers and personal animosities.

The opposition, clinging obstinately to its view that the bill means war, was simply worn out by repeated demonstrations of the administration's numerical superiority.

For all practical purposes it utterly collapsed last night, and today's session consisted of a routine of throwing out remaining opposition amendments as rapidly as they were offered, and then capping the debate with the passage of the bill.

In the course of this process, the senate summarily rejected an amendment by Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) of the Naval committee, to guard the navy and air force against depletion in the help-to-Britain program, and a substitute bill by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) authorizing loans totaling $2,000,000,000 to Britain, Canada and Greece.

Walsh's amendment was rejected, 56 to 33, and Taft's substitute bill was turned down, 63 to 28.

The roll-call vote on final passage was begun at 7:26 p. m. (EST). All amendments were disposed of before 7 o'clock, but Senator Nye (R-Ind.) held things up with his fifth speech against the bill, while interminably, members of the senate interrupted remaining amendments with none-the-less emphatic calls of "vote—vote—vote."

When the vote on passage came, John Crockett, the senate's ex-Shakespearean-actor clerk, read the list with a lingering solemnity. Some senators were deeply stirred and pronounced their "ayes" or "noes" with emphasis.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.), a gallery favorite because he is always ready with pointed speech adorned with homespun Texas wit, roared his "aye." There was a subdued and appreciative moment of laughter. The "no" of Senator Johnson was scarcely audible, but Nye made up for it by bellowing down on the negative.

The bill's last day in the senate was nevertheless enlivened by one sharp little incident. Senator Connally (D-Tex.) was saying he was "tired" of listening to Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) "treash" arguments that international bankers got the United States into the war in 1917. At that point, a woman in the gallery unfurled a banner and tossed it onto the floor. It said the bill "means war—vote no."

Capitol police hustled her off to the office, where the senate's sergeant-at-arms, Chesley Jurney, from there she was determinedly escorted to Union station and told to leave town immediately or be turned over to the city police force.

Afterward, the Capitol police mobilized their strength—mostly Washington college boys holding patronage jobs—in the senate galleries.

FFA And 4-H Club Boys To Attend BCD Banquet

Members of the Pampa Chambers of Commerce and their guests will dine on some of the quality meat sold by FFA and 4-H club boys last week at the Third Annual Junior Livestock show at the regular March membership meeting next Tuesday, Tom Cox, chairman of the agriculture and livestock committee announced today.

Members are being urged by the agriculture and livestock committee of the chamber of commerce to bring as their guest one of the FFA or 4-H boys of the county. Should a member wish to bring a guest but not know a boy personally, the committee will arrange to secure a guest for the businessman.

Purpose of the meeting will be to further acquaint business men and merchant with the livestock feeding program being carried on and to lend further encouragement to it.

The meeting will be held at 7 p. m. in the First Methodist church basement. Reason for the evening meeting is to accommodate some of the guests who will come from LeFors, McLean and other parts of the county who could not attend at noon, the regular meeting time of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet jointly with the senior organization as is customary at the monthly joint meetings.

The meat that will be served by the Clara Hill class of the Methodist church will come from a calf entered in the show last week by Bob Sherrod of McLean. His calf was the best of three and the other two calves were carried on to Amarillo and good showings were everyone will be assured of a real treat, members of the agriculture and livestock committee point out.

Only a short program is being planned which will be headlined by a talk by Melton Morris, head of the vocational education department of the West Texas State college at Canyon.

Members are urged to make reservations by Monday so that proper arrangements may be made. Members of the committee in charge include: Tom Cox, chairman, Mel B. Davis, Clyde Carruth, Roger McConnell, Ralph Thomas, J. L. Lester, Irvin Cole and Otis Humphrey.

Little Opposes Gathering Tax On Natural Gas

(By The Associated Press) AUSTIN, March 8 (AP)—The House of Representatives steamed at top speed this week through the last of the preliminaries and got set for a floor showdown Monday on the important issue of new taxes.

Considerable opposition to the natural gas sections had been expressed. Rep. Jack Little of Amarillo contended that the proposed gas gathering impost of one-fourth cent per thousand cubic feet would not hit the big interstate pipelines but would either constitute double taxation on producers or put an unduly heavy tax on small pipelines and gathering systems.

In addition to the gas gathering levy, the bill would boost the production levy from 3 per cent of value to 1 1/2 cent per thousand cubic feet on sweet gas and 1 1/2 cent per thousand cubic feet on sour and casinghead gas. It also would impose a natural gas processing tax estimated to yield $350,000 a year.

Rep. G. C. Morris of Greenville, sponsor of an omnibus tax bill estimated to raise an additional $14,500,000 a year, said he anticipated little or no difficulty in bringing up the bill Monday and he believed the house probably would pass it before the end of the day. The house must act before the senate can consider the vexing tax problem.

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel had urged the lawmaking body to provide $50,000,000 a year in new revenue. There already was considerable speculation on whether he would sign a bill raising only twelve to fifteen millions.

The omnibus bill would boost levies on natural resources, corporation franchises and public utilities and impose on automobile finance companies a tax of one per cent of the value of the notes handled by them.

Iron For Britain Being Collected

Iron from Gray county will soon be reinforcing the ramparts of democracy across the sea.

There are two cars spotted on the Port Worth & Denver tracks here, ready to receive the iron. Gray county residents wish to donate.

Trucks of J. D. Wright & Son, the Keller trucks, and those of C. M. Jefferies will haul the iron to the cars for those who do not have their own trucks to transport iron to the railroad.

Headquarters for the local "Iron for Britain" movement is the Standard Pipe & Metal company, 703 S. Cuyler, telephone 719. Gray county residents who have iron to donate should get in touch with Dave Finkelstein at once, if they have no way to bring in their supply, so that trucks can be sent to pick it up.

Mr. Finkelstein is Gray county chairman of the campaign. He has just returned from Tulsa where the movement began and where 31 carloads of iron were collected, along with $6,000 in cash. Oklahoma plans to send a total of 150 carloads.

The iron collected here will be shipped to the Sheffield Steel works at Kansas City, Mo., and at Sand Springs, Okla. Cars for the Gray county iron will be bannered.

20 Major Companies Control Oil Industry, Committee Declares

WASHINGTON, March 8 (AP)—The monopoly committee received a suggestion today that government regulation of the $15,000,000,000 petroleum industry "on public utility principles" might be advisable.

The comment was made by Roy C. Cook, an economist in the justice department's anti-trust division, in a study of the industry made in cooperation with the George Washington University economics department.

Cook said the industry resembled a public utility in many respects, and that regulations might be necessary "because of the public interest involved in the problems of the consumer and national defense."

The study made these general findings:

Twenty major companies, with 440 subsidiaries and affiliates, control the industry. They own 60 per cent of the assets, control 70 per cent of the production, and have 85 per cent of the crude oil trunk lines, and 87 per cent of the oil tankers, and account for 85 per cent of both gasoline production and sales.

The report said that state oil production proration laws were sponsored by the major companies because they made possible "a stabilized price structure to the disadvantage of independents."

Earnings from pipe line companies, Cook said, enabled the major companies to "subsidize" their other divisions, especially marketing.

Ford Says Unions "Losing Ground"

WAYS, Ga., March 8 (AP)—Henry Ford said today he believes unions are "losing ground," and that he has no intention of recognizing them as bargaining agencies for employees of the Ford Motor company.

"We do not intend to submit to any union, and those who belong to one are being fooled," the manufacturer said in an interview at his plantation home here, thus indicating his attitude unchanged since he refused to recognize union leaders four years ago.

"A union is like a big spider web," he continued, "once inside the web, the workmen can't move."

"Freedom, freedom of speech and personal pursuits, is the keystone of our American government."

"American industry should be free to function; American workmen must remain free to do as they will, without being shackled by a few union leaders who are using the defense program to advance themselves."

"What have unions given in return for the initiation fees and dues collected of men employed on defense projects, men who were compelled to join unions for the first time in order to secure jobs waiting for them and for which they are qualified?"

Soldier Killed In Crash Of Bomber

NEW ORLEANS, March 8 (AP)—A soldier was believed killed and two army fliers were injured today after bailing out from an army bomber which crashed in desolate swamp-land 40 miles south of New Orleans.

Lieut. D. W. Lang and Lieut. W. Moore were rescued by Ken Oliver of Houma, La., who took them aboard an amphibian plane and flew them here.

Oliver and two other rescue pilots said the body of a man apparently dead, lay behind the wreckage of the bomber beside a partly opened parachute.

Lieutenants Lang and Moore left their base at Orlando, Fla., this morning for San Antonio, Texas, by way of New Orleans. Officers of the 54th bombardment squadron, to which they were attached, said a private named Gent had accompanied them.

VICTORIA, March 8 (AP)—A large crew of United States army engineers, including some 30 draftsmen, will arrive here Tuesday to complete detailed plans prior to actual construction of the United States army $2,350,000 aerial gunnery training base.

Construction of the base, to be located five miles east of Victoria, will be rushed so that instruction can begin June 7, the war department announced, which means night and day crews will be employed on the project.

Facilities will be provided for approximately 365 flying cadets and 1,775 officers and enlisted men. Construction plans call for 155 buildings on the site.

23,585 Texans In Training Next Month

Texas will have a force of 23,585 men in training under the selective service act next month, when the eleventh call, for 2,000 more trainees, has been answered.

Potter county is to supply 18 men on the April 2-8 call, and Gray county's quota is expected to be the same but the local selective service board office has not yet been notified by state headquarters to confirm this number.

All over the state, the 35th selective service boards will be asked to supply 2,000 white men for induction between April 2 and 8.

General J. Watt Page, state director, said approximately 10,000 additional selectees will be inducted by June 30 to complete the state's quota for the first year of the program.

Census Of Local Churches Nears Completion Today

All workers in the annual Church census of Pampa are urged to get their final reports in not later than today. All indications are that this is to be the best Church census ever made in Pampa.

Although bad weather has hindered the work during the week, the reports from the workers have been coming in in good order.

This census is one of the most important pieces of work done by churches in the community each year. Therefore the workers are urged to do their work thoroughly and get all cards in immediately.

An estimated 5,000,000 persons attended basketball games in the United States during 1939.

JAIL'S BEST

Eric Blomberg, 37, who has spent the last 14 years in the Washington county, Kansas, jail for failure to pay a county judgment of $63.35, leans back on a jail cot after his release and figures that there could be much worse places for him to spend his remaining days. He was released from the jail but returned when he found little of interest to him outside it.

Revival At Central Baptist To Continue

Interest in the revival meeting now in progress at Calvary Baptist church continues to grow. The Rev. Hulon Coffman has been preaching to capacity crowds throughout the past week.

Many visitors have been attending from other churches in Pampa and from neighboring cities and towns. Record Sunday School and Training Union attendance is expected today.

Rev. Coffman will continue to preach twice daily during the coming week, at 10 o'clock in the morning and at 7:30 o'clock in the evenings. Special music will be a part of the services. The public is invited to attend.

Boys Brave Girls' Charms At Denton

DENTON, March 8 (AP)—Pioneers in the art of becoming better husbands and fathers, more than 80 boys braved the feminine charms of 1,500 companion high school girls today at the area four meeting of future homemakers of Texas at NT-STCC.

The boys' seven official delegates told an audience of 2,000 that they enjoyed learning how to cook and keep house.

British Benefit From Berg-Jameson Match

SAN ANTONIO, March 8 (AP)—Golf's old and new queens—Patty Berg and Betty Jameson—played a very lady-like exhibition match for British relief here today, and if a scorekeeper had to be pinned down, a hollow victory would go to Betty.

It wasn't a match between the Minneapolis red head, now a professional, and San Antonio's shy medal champion, but just a good-natured get-together for charity.

Rather long and difficult putts were conceded in spots, and Patty, obviously weary from weeks of traveling by automobile over the country on a lecture tour, wasn't the Patty of old.

As mentioned, if it had to be, Betty won the match, 2 and 1.

Betty teamed with Tod Menefee, the home-club professional, who shot a blazing one-under-par 71, in the gusty, cold winds, to defeat Patty and Billy Bob Coffey, the Texas amateur champion, one up.

Local Pastor To Head Tri-State Peace, Relief Work

At a special district meeting in Thomas, Oklahoma, last week the Rev. Russell G. West, pastor of the church of the Brethren, was elected to the office of Brethren Service Promotional Secretary for Oklahoma, Northern Texas and New Mexico.

For over a year the three historic peace churches—Mennonites, Brethren and Friends—have been working with the Federal Government in the interest of all people who can not conscientiously engage in war or military training. Under the Selective Service Act of 1940 it is provided that men who hold conscientious convictions against combatant and non-combatant service within the army shall be assigned to work of national importance under civilian direction.

Already 6,700 men have been placed in this classification and it is thought the number may reach a total of 18,000.

Since the government has made no provision for these men either by plans or appropriations the three historic peace churches have assumed the responsibility of caring for them. Camps are now being opened in all parts of America where these men will be cared for at church expense and work for the government without pay.

To promote this program the church must think in terms of millions of dollars. While the responsibility for providing and promoting these Civilian Public Service camps was assumed by the Mennonites, Brethren and Friends, practically all churches are working in full cooperation. Represented officially by the above churches are the Methodists, Disciples of Christ, The Federal Council of Churches and the Fellowship of Reconciliation. Many other bodies have applied for official recognition but it has been thought wise to keep the official body small enough to work efficiently. Young men of all faiths—Catholics, protestants and Jews—who hold conscientious convictions against killing will be admitted to these camps without discrimination.

In these camps the boys will work eight hours a day under technical experts provided by the government. During the remainder of the time they will be cared for and directed by outstanding church leaders. Each camp will have a physician and registered nurse. Six hundred different correspondence courses are now available to those who wish to study. The Carnegie Peace Foundation has granted an appropriation to be used in the educational program of these camps.

Dr. Paul H. Bowman, president of Bridgewater College in Virginia, has been chosen as National Director for the Church of the Brethren.

Local Red Cross Chapter Completes Winter Quota

"Dear Ladies of America," read the cramped, childish scrawl, "I thank you for the bed suits you sent us. I have been in the hospital nine months and not out yet, but I have seen Mum and Dad. They send me comics once a week. We have eggs for breakfast and porridge as well. I am glad you are making some planes to fight old Hitler with. I have to close now. Love from Jimmy Abbott."

Jimmy's letter came through with several thousand others from every section of England, Scotland and Wales, from hospitals, air-raid shelters, towns crowded with evacuated London families, thanking the American Red Cross for the warm clothes, the food, the hospital and medical supplies, the necessary facilities for continuing to live, which had been sent them.

Another letter said: "To all those who made and packed these beautiful infants' layettes may I say 'thank you' from the mothers whose babies have been born or are shortly expected in a terrible time. It has meant more to them than I can express in words to see the loving care with which each little garment has been made. I must mention too, with special appreciation, the safety pins. The small knitted blankets and wadded quilts are all now in use and we are indeed grateful to the kind ladies who sent them."

In the letters received are grateful thanks for the many and varied gifts. A few excerpts are quoted: From Southampton: "Fifty fine layettes sent from the American Red Cross, each containing a full outfit for a baby. Given to two maternity homes and the home for evacuee expectant mothers. At the latter, two sets of twins have been the recipients of these layettes." From Hert's Emergency Hospital Matron: "The provision of children's clothing is at the moment a major problem in our hospital and the garments have been a veritable Godsend."

And this is how Pampa helped to make these people comfortable and happy. Its winter quota, which has all been shipped now, consisted of 50 layettes, each layette composed of 20 pieces, 11 women's crocheted shawls, 122 sweaters, and 435 skirts. The women who have been in charge of this work and have made this production possible are: Mrs. Bruce Walters, Mrs. Omer Russell, Mrs. V. L. Hobbs, and Mrs. Doyle Osborn. It would be impossible to estimate the number of hours each of these women has put in. To Mrs. Russell fell the job of seeing that the 435 skirts were given out to be sewed and returned again. She herself sewed 29 skirts and made all of the alterations on the skirts that came back that were not-up to specifications. The following organizations and women assisted in the skirt production: Assembly of God Church women, 64 skirts; Nazarene church, 60; Civic Culture club, 40; sewing club at Phillips' camp, 32; Entre Nous club, 29; Mrs. Omer Russell, 29; Central Baptist church women, 28; American Legion auxiliary, 25; Francis Avenue Church of Christ women, 24; Hopkins Home Demonstration club, 15; Eastern Stars, 12; A. Mrs. Bruce Walters has been in charge of the production of layettes. She arranged to have each layette made, did all of the purchasing which was necessary, completed all garments that were returned unfinished, and folded and packed the 30 pieces of each of the 50 layettes. The following women and organizations assisted in the production of the layettes: Mmes. Jess Wynne, DeLea Vicars, Hal Suttle, W. G. Kinzer, J. C. Barnard, M. P. Sloan, Ethel McEwin, W. H. Burden, Cyril Hamilton, Harry Hoare, Lloyd Laird, Harvey Haney, E. L. Yeargain, Women's Auxiliary of First Presbyterian church; Women's Missionary society of Central Baptist church; Civic Culture club, Girl Scout troop five, Girl Scout troop, Friendship class of First Methodist church, Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service; and Orchid Beauty shop.

Mrs. V. L. Hobbs, who has been assisting with the knitting, has conducted a class for beginners every Wednesday morning. Others assisting with the knitting of sweaters are as following: Mrs. Elma Phelps, 6 sweaters; Mrs. E. E. Bard, 2; Mrs. E. J. Kenney, 2; Mrs. J. E. Ward, 1; Mrs. Earle Scheig, 1; Mrs. Robert Louvier, 1; Mrs. W. H. McBride, 1; Mrs. Aaron Meek, 1; Mrs. F. E. Leech, 1; Mrs. W. D. Barber, Mrs. Jimmie Krause, Mrs. F. Rainbolt, Mrs. L. Johnson, Mrs. F. Barber, Mrs. W. Clabby.

Mrs. Doyle Osborn has supervised all the cutting of the layettes and skirts in the cutting rooms in the basement of the post office; groups of women from many churches and clubs have assisted her. Special mention might be made of such women as Mrs. W. G. Kinzer, Mrs. Robert Louvier, and Mrs. T. S. Bunting, who cut practically every day the rooms were open.

It is impossible to give special credit whenever it is due since many women who worked through organizations and the individual accomplishments are not known at the Red Cross office. Mrs. Fred Roberts stated, however, some mention should be made of the work done by Mrs. Ethel McEwin and Mrs. W. H. Burden, who have worked untiringly since Red Cross garment production was started in Pampa. Both women recognized the great need since they had been in charge of the Red Cross sewing rooms during the last war. Together they have made five dresses, seven hospital bed shirts, three shawls, six kimonos, and 39 dozen diapers. And they are ready now to begin hemming 20 dozen diapers for the May quota.

Should there be any error in any of the above, please notify the Red Cross office, for it is very anxious that its records be correct, directors of the local work started Saturday.

BILL PASSES

Every able had its trim, blue-coated youth, looking very alert and ready to protect the senate from any danger, solemnly waiting all the spectators who had been assigned to his supervision.

At one point, Senator Clark (D-Mo) protested against the presence of the "gendarmes," as he called them. Never, he said, had the senate taken an important action, with so many policemen in the galleries.

Bill Authorizes As the bill stood when passed by the senate; it authorizes President Roosevelt, acting through the War and Navy departments, to:

Order the manufacture of war materials, in government arsenals or private commercial factories, and sell, transfer title to, lease, lend or otherwise dispose of these products to countries whose defense he "deems vital to the defense of the United States." (That intendedly means such nations as England, primarily and Greece and China, which are resisting the attacks of the German-Italian-Japanese alliance.

But, specifically, the manufacture of the defense materials in question would be limited, in terms of money, by a program administered by the senate, which administration spokesmen said would retain for congress a complete and always current control of the program. This limits orders for the production of war materials to the amount of money appropriated and approved appropriations or authorizes the signing of contracts.

To make the money control complete, another limitation restricts the extent to which war supplies already in the hands of the army and navy may be used. It provides that no more than 50 percent of others to a maximum "value" of $1,300,000,000. There was extensive debate on what the word "value" meant and administration leaders finally put in a provision that the "value" of the articles should be determined by the heads of the departments or agencies immediately concerned.

The bill furthermore would permit the president subject again to later appropriations to order the repair or reconstruction of "defense articles" of such nations as England, Greece and China and to communicate to these governments information on defense and defense equipment (Repair of defense articles included in damaged British warships which may be put in good condition and outfitted in American ports.)

Debated Two Weeks The terms and conditions under which guns, tanks, planes and other war supplies shall be turned over to these governments is left to the discretion of the president. His authority to enter into contracts ends on June 30, 1943, and the fulfillment of contracts is limited to July 1, 1946. In addition, the President is required to make a report on the program to congress every 90 days.

The senate's debate concerned itself with the broad generalities of foreign situation. In grave danger of involvement in war, its advocates contended that it was the most certain method, in an uncertain world of peace, of keeping the United States safe.

With various elaborations, these arguments ran on for fourteen separate days. Then the stage of voting on amendments and tests of strength, was reached yesterday. In quick succession, the big administration majority smacked down a series of restricting amendments. The size of the votes constituted a coup-de-grace for the opposition and it folded at once.

There was no real fight at any time today. On a voice vote, the senate rejected an amendment by Senator Bridges (R-N. H.) to provide that aid could be sent only to Britain, Greece, China "and such other countries as may be invaded or attacked and whose defense is vital to the defense of the United States."

Such an amendment had been suggested by Wendell L. Willkie, the 1940 Republican presidential nominee, when he testified in support of the measure before the senate foreign relations committee.

A voice vote also turned down a proposal from Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) to write in a new section creating a congressional committee to confer with the President on policies of the President's foreign relations.

Another Taft proposal—to prohibit use of this country's ports by British warships—likewise was shouted down.

A 55 to 33 vote defeated an amendment by Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) designed to prevent American vessels from carrying passengers or materials into European combat zones.

Early in the day, the senate bowed over the proposal to prohibit the transfer of modern naval vessels and naval and army aircraft unless they could be replaced within six months.

Wheeler Interrupts The proposed change was offered by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) who put behind it his prestige as chairman of the senate naval committee. In a vigorous speech, Walsh asserted that those who "profess the fear" that Germany may attack this country should oppose any "weakening of our defenses by giving away portions of our navy."

"The country need have no fear," replied Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the majority leader, "that President Roosevelt is going to deplete our navy. x x x No man in America with the possible exception of a few officers has a more intimate knowledge of the navy than the President."

House leaders began making plans for "short-cut" action on senate changes so as to hasten the measure to the White House for Presidential signature.

Speaker Rayburn told newsmen an effort would be made early next week, probably Tuesday, to have the house concur in the senate changes. After the some times bitter ear-

Iron For

We have contacted on this movement has expressed enthusiasm in sending out at least two carloads of iron. Oil companies, individuals, and organizations are all cooperating in this drive. Won't you help?"

DALLAS, March 8. (AP)—A jolly, rough and ready Seminole, Okla., oil field machinery dealer and a polished, suave but deadly earnest English purchasing agent came to Dallas today to preach Texans a "scrap iron crusade" for Britain.

Fred McDuff, the dealer, is originator of a plan which he says has sent 70 carloads—some 5,000 tons—of scrap iron from Oklahoma, alone, the past two months to steel plants making English war supplies. Ian Elliot, agent responsible for steel and raw supplies for the British purchasing mission in America, is accompanying McDuff on a regional tour to give a British blessing.

Since McDuff offered the British his first carload of scrap iron, the "crusade" has swept Oklahoma, he says. Legion posts, steel and pipe dealers and oil supply companies as well as private individuals have supplied spare scrap. Now, he says, the movement has swept into Louisiana, Kansas, Arkansas and parts of Texas.

"The Sherman, Texas, Lions club donated a carload," he reported. "Sam Krashner of Corpus Christi sent a carload and has pledged five others. J. E. Farrell of Fort Worth, chairman for Texas Iron for Fort Worth to Abilene, has pledged two cars."

McDuff and Elliott now are looking for a Texas state chairman.

British Applaud Lease-Lend Bill NEW YORK, March 8 (AP)—The British radio tonight said that senate passage of the lease-lend bill "marks the beginning of the end for a dictatorship now plaguing this continent," and "may be the turning point in the history of this war."

America has "definitely made common cause with Britain," it was added in a broadcast heard here by NBC and CBS.

The regular announcer, J. B. McGeachy, said the senate's action was "America's answer to Mr. Churchill's message to 'give us tools and we will finish the job'."

Mexican Navy Will Be Enlarged Soon MEXICO CITY, March 8 (AP)—Official spokesmen for the ministry of the navy expressed the opinion tonight Mexico's fleet of gunboats and coast patrol vessels would be enlarged before long and that expansion of the Republic's naval bases was eminent.

Research, Ray Of Hope

Men like Dr. Karl T. Compton and Charles Kettering, quite aside from their own considerable personal accomplishments, are of double value to the nation. That is because they are always looking ahead.

They are apostles of research, preachers of "never be satisfied with things as they are." If the world ever need such men, it is now, when increasing numbers of men and women all over the world are becoming convinced that "things as they are" just aren't good enough.

At a time when the defense program is just getting fairly under way, people begin to worry about "what will happen when the defense plug is drawn out of the national bath tub? Will our present relative prosperity go promptly down the drain? There are plenty to say that the come-uppance is coming.

Certainly it could come. The conditions are being made right for it. But that doesn't necessarily mean that it must come.

More and more, mankind inclines today to reach out and grasp his destiny firmly by the throat, (or by the hand, if that is his nature). In other words, we are no longer content to sit supinely and say that what will come, will come. What we bring, will come, says the modern, scientific-minded man or woman.

True, we have badly hashed up our attempts to direct our own destiny since 1918. And whose fault was that but our own? And whose fault will it be, with all the lessons of 1914-1940 spread before us, we fail to do better another time?

Dr. Compton, in a study for the Advisory Commission on Scientific Research of the National Association of Manufacturers, sees research as one of the ways out. It is certainly true, he grants, that if, after the emergency has passed, everybody slumps back to making just what we made before it began, there will be a tremendous set-back. But by research today, Dr. Compton believes, we can assure prosperity tomorrow. He queried 181 companies, and found that they were spending 2 per cent of gross sale for research, some as much as 10 per cent.

If this plan were carried throughout industry, Dr. Compton believes, new goods, new services, new industries, new jobs, new sources of wages and salaries may be developed which will more than take up the slack.

It is this kind of forward look that America needs so desperately today.

World In False-Face

He runs a costume rental agency which has prospered for 20 years. But 1941 to date is about his worst season. A whole generation of people is growing up who have never been to a masked ball, never known the gale of fine and exotic clothes, the thrill of the mask lifted at midnight.

Why, we asked? "The psychology of masquerading," he mused, "was probably grounded in an attempt to become for a moment someone else, someone more glamorous, just for an evening. But the world's too small for that now. Who wants to be an Italian flower girl and a Japanese Mikado today? You know they aren't having any better time than we are."

There you are. Sometimes we think we are having a thin time, what with the draft, and taxes, and all. If you think anybody else is having a better time—well, name two.

Behind The News

By PETER EDSON

The Pampa News' Washington Correspondent - WASHINGTON, March 8—As soon as income taxes get out of the way, the House of Representatives will begin to worry about the next tax bill.

A few of the good congressmen, particularly doughty, bald Robert L. Doughton of Laurel Springs, N. C., who is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, have already started worrying. It's this committee's responsibility to write the new ticket, find new or additional sources of revenue which will yield annually from one and a half to three billion dollars, on top of the seven billion in taxes already collected.

Whatever comes out from under the collective committee hat, there are headaches ahead for the people who write the tax bill, the people who have to collect it, and the people who have to pay it.

UNJUST—BUT NECESSARY?

Right now, federal tax income divides like this: From gas, liquor, tobacco and other consumption taxes, $2 1/2 billion.

From income and estate taxes, $1 1/2 billion.

From corporation and excess profits taxes, $2 1/2 billion.

From social security taxes, $3 billion.

Present estimates are that the broadening of the income tax for this year's payments, making it hit a lot more people of smaller incomes, will yield $14 million, but it will cost $8 million—60 per cent of the take—to collect. Further broadening of the tax might cost proportionately more, so there are bugs in that.

One idea that is still bandied about, in spite of the fact that it has been previously killed by Congress in 1917, 1921 and 1932, is the general manufacturers sales tax. Proponents of this form of tax admit that it is in many ways unjust, but as Senator Prentiss M. Brown of St. Ignace, Mich., says, "It is more important to raise the money than it is to be entirely just, if it is the only way we can raise the money."

A FEW DIFFICULTIES

Thirty-two states now have retail sales taxes of one kind and another, which yield about 15 per cent of the states' total income. The retail sales tax field is therefore one which the federal government wants to stay out of.

The federal government does now have certain selective taxes, the internal revenue taxes on tobacco, liquor, automobiles, tires, electrical energy and the

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

This column contends there can be no satisfactory progress until we measure the ability of each man by the common yardstick of the God-given equal right to create and enjoy anything anyone else has a right to create and enjoy.

REASON FOR REFUSING TO ANSWER QUESTION REGARDING SHORTCUTS FOR REDUCING POVERTY

There is no class of people in the United States who have done as much harm as those people who point out the great poverty in the country and then infer that Federal laws or labor unions will help reduce this poverty but will never answer questions about their shortcut theories of reducing this poverty.

There is probably one common reason why they will not.

Of course the crook will not answer a question because he knows it would embarrass him. And the wild man or the child or moron will not answer a question because he does not recognize the necessity of being consistent.

But the one big reason these dreamers refuse to answer questions about how their shortcuts will reduce poverty is that they get a great deal of joy and happiness out of their believing that they have some method of being of great service to their fellowman and helping reduce their suffering from poverty.

There is a great pleasure that always comes with the feeling of accomplishment, or the feeling that someone is blocking the individual from being useful to their fellowman. These dreamers like to believe the cause of poverty is the selfishness of the employers.

If these dreamers were obliged to answer questions and they came to recognize that their theory would lead them up a blind alley and would not work but cause more poverty, instead of reducing poverty, then these dreamers would lose a great deal of joy and happiness that their blindness permits them to enjoy. By putting their head in the sand and refusing to answer questions they still feel they are important.

Undoubtedly that is the reason all the defenders of collective bargaining refuse to answer the questions of what impersonal rule should be used in employing help, if not the rule of hiring the man who will do the most for the reward.

If they would attempt to answer this question, they would get themselves so entangled and make themselves look so ridiculous that they would have to give up their pet theories of reducing poverty and raising wage levels by collective bargaining.

So they blindly change the subject by asking a lot of other questions and refuse to be courteous enough to answer questions themselves. They want to do all the talking and ask all the questions but will not talk about the part of their theory that shows the impracticability of their scheme.

These people who refuse to answer questions on their shortcuts to reducing poverty are the country's worst enemy. They are anti-social. Probably many of them do not even analyze themselves enough to know the great dis-service they are doing to their fellowman. But, sooner or later, when their schemes are put into practice they will suffer with all their victims.

If there is anything that would do society a great service, it would be to get people to realize that the man who will not answer questions about his short cut theories of reducing poverty by law or by wish or by force is the poor man's worst enemy.

REAP WHAT WE SOW

A reader contends that my corollary of Divine Law that men reap what they sow is not correct. He writes: "Do the humble, innocent, untaught farmers and miners of England and France whose homes are destroyed and loved ones killed by aerial warfare reap what they sow?"

They reap what they sow because they are a part of the whole unit. They get the benefits of the combined act of all the people. And if it had not been for the combined act of all the thinking people they could not even exist. They would not even be alive. They have sown nothing in the line of educating people how to get along with their neighbors and they are reaping nothing. And when a man reaps nothing, he perishes. It makes little difference whether he perishes starving to death or being bombed. They failed to sow understanding and goodwill and they are reaping the exact results of inaction or nonfeasance of citizenship of enlightening their fellowman. Mankind is one unit, a part of a whole, and when the unit fails to enlighten its fellowman, he suffers the consequences and reaps the reward for this failure.

There is never an act without a cause. Many men may not understand it, but that does not alter the infallible rule that men reap what they sow. If men understood this, we would not have 10,000,000 people out of work and be drafting our young men and spending billions and billions upon war preparation.

like. The success of these taxes is one thing that leads some people to believe that a general manufacturers sales tax is the easiest way to make the government pay train run both ways, but the grief of manufacturers' tax administration and collection is so abysmal as to make it seem hopeless.

Take, as an example, the pains in the neck of a simple manufacturers' sales tax on cosmetics.

In the first place, define a manufacturer. Is he the man who manufactures witch hazel, or the one who puts up with hazel and balm in five-gallon cans, selling it cheap, or the fellow who takes it out of the can, adds a smell of rosewater, puts it in a two-ounce bottle, pastes on a label, does a lot of advertising and sells it to the drug store or the drug wholesaler as "Eau de Oomph"?

Second, at what price level will the tax be applied? An average dime lipstick is 2 cents gross, 4 cents adv. 2 cents label and container, 2 cents profit. Do you tax the goo maker and the label maker because they ship their wife and ware to the assembler, or do you wait till the infernal things are ready to do damage? If the latter, you are taxing insurance and transportation. The point is to get back to an F. O. B. manufacturer before applying the tax.

LET'S DON'T

Then, how about pyramiding the tax? If the hair dye manufacturer is taxed, he adds tax hairs to his price to the packager. The packager adds his transformation profit to that, the wholesaler adds his toupee of profit to that, and the retailer passes it all on with full-grown whiskers to the customer. And up goes the cost of living.

If you exempt all raw materials, you have to have a system of licenses, with fees and bonds to keep track of exemptions.

A thing like this obviously can't be a temporary measure, just for the war. It would take five years to set up a field organization—an army to collect the taxes to keep the army that isn't going to fight. Let's not.

MISS CRAWFORD CHILD PSYCHOLOGY

If you think she doesn't understand children, you ought to see her work with the Nichols' boy. In one tough scene, Miss Crawford, as his new governess, snatches him off a window seat, gives him a shake and orders, "Take off those wet boots!"

The boy, supposed to be a wilful brat, counters with a belligerent "Who's you?"

"You didn't shake him, Joan," said Director George Cukor, after a rehearsal.

"I did, too! I was as mean as fury to him," said the star, hugging the kid, "Next time I suppose you'll want me to slap him."

They tried the scene again and again, but Master Nichols couldn't say his line to suit Cukor.

"No, no, he isn't getting it," said the director impatiently. "Look, Richard—don't shoot the line. You're insulting—indignant—humiliating!" But the long words sailed over the

Around Hollywood

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 8—A blond cutie named Christina Crawford, who was running around Stage 12 at Metro, was introduced to us the other day.

She dipped a polite curtsy, lost her balance and went tumbling down. But not at all abashed, she got up, dusted off the seat of her pants, and yelling "Boy! Tsee boy!" sprinted off in hot pursuit of Master Richard Nichols.

"Nix, darling," protested her mother. "You mustn't run after men! Don't you remember, I was telling you that just last night?"

Not many people have had a chance to see Joan Crawford's almost 2-year-old adopted daughter. There has been no publicity about her, no pictures taken. The only reason she was on the set was for a brief pre-luncheon visit with Master Nichols, who works only in the mornings. (You'll remember the 5-year-old-actor in "All This and Heaven Too"; he's now in Miss Crawford's picture, "A Woman's Face.")

If the star were able to show off her daughter like non-movie mamas can, she'd love it. Nobody would blame her because Christina is about the cutest chunk you ever saw—a blue-eyed, curly, tow-head with a cleft chin and a grin that charms instantly.

CHRISTINA IS TYPICALLY FICKLE

Master Nichols was obviously smitten at first sight and brought her toys, tried to lug her around, held her hand while he beamed at her, and took her on a stroll around the set. After a whispered consultation with Miss Crawford, he got one of the prop men to bring over a brown furred rocking horse and gave Christina a careful ride.

"Tring of it," she wriggled, said "Giddown!" but her mother said, "Please!" and Christina had to oblige with a "Peese, ma-ma," before she was lifted off.

A fickle mink, as soon as she saw Master Nichols' stand-in, she shouted, "Ooh! Nother boy!" and made a beeline for him.

The only time she is allowed at the studio is when she is driven to meet her mother every afternoon at 5:30. But if the baby comes on the set a few minutes early, Miss Crawford doesn't hide her in her dressing room.

Hollywood said there was a heavy romance brewing when Miss Crawford was wiring New York and keeping the telephone hot just before she left here about a year ago. But it turned out that the secretive calls had been about Christina's adoption.

Miss Crawford, in the east, most of her long vacation was spent getting acquainted with her new daughter, without having to dodge Hollywood nosypokes.

Japan To Send Foreign Minister To Berlin, Rome

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, March 8—The Japanese foreign minister, Yosuke Matsuoka, is coming far across the world from Tokyo for conferences at the Rome and Berlin ends of the three-power axis conferences described here as all-embracing.

His forthcoming visit—the date was not mentioned—was announced briefly today without official elaboration, but with the private remark of an informed source:

"Of course, the three-power pact covers a big territory, and there are many matters of coordination."

There was no comment on a statement attributed to Domei, the Japanese news agency, that Matsuoka was coming here for mutually informative conversations on "the eve of the invasion of England."

(In February, it was understood in the Orient that Matsuoka might visit not only Berlin and Rome, but Moscow, and in this was seen the possibility a major diplomatic move by the axis powers was in the making.)

(At that time, these were the possible motives attaching to a Matsuoka trip to Berlin: 1, to strengthen Japan's alliance with Germany and Italy; 2, to formulate a common program of action against Britain and the United States; 3, to indicate, on the contrary, that Japan had no wish to enter the war against Britain and wanted thus to explain to Adolf Hitler.)

TEX'S TOPICS

WHAT do you think about jury service for women? . . . We already have gone on record about that, and if it's necessary we repeat that we don't see anything wrong with it. . . . The question soon will come before the state legislature. . . . It already has been reported out favorably by the House Constitution Amendments committee and next it is scheduled to go before the entire House in the shape of H. J. R. No. 10.

Business and professional women over the state are mighty interested in the measure. . . . Only yesterday we had a letter from Mrs. Audrey Fowler, chairman of the committee on jury service for women, of the Pampa B.P.W. group. . . . This group claims that women are only half citizens in Texas. . . . They cannot vote but they can't sit on juries. . . . They want Texas (ranking sixth in population) to be the 26th state of the nation to grant full citizenship to women by giving them the right to jury service.

PERSONALLY, it seems silly to us that women should not be allowed to serve as jurors. . . . An indication that the system is all right is seen in the fact that in the 25 states where it has been adopted there has been no clamor that women turned away as jurors. . . . We agree with the women of Texas that they are blessed with average intelligence, listening ability and a sense of justice just as are the women in the 25 other states where women jurors are used.

It would seem to us that a man has to be pretty narrow-minded to convince himself that a woman isn't as capable of carrying her citizenship responsibilities as any man who ever wore a pair of pants. . . . Jury service is part of citizenship responsibility. . . . And, citizenship responsibility is the price of liberty. . . . The arguments of those who are not opposed to women jurors. . . .

A TOUCH of spring, an open roadster, a breathtaking beauty, and song is born. . . . "You Walk By" heard over KPDD, and now one of the nation's top tunes, came out of the come on its way to the ether last night at a year ago today at the corner of 59th Street and Fifth Avenue in New York City when two songwriters, Bernie Wayne and Ben Raleigh, were taking a walk in that stretch of old world New York that is on the Hotel Plaza. . . . Four years before, when all of his songs were unpublished, Ben Raleigh had written a treatise on "How To Write A Song." A faint suspicion that he had set down the wrong answers had been hovering over him for months; he was sure of it at the moment the roadster dashed by. . . . He turned, caught Bernie Wayne's eye just as Bernie was coming out of a trance. The music of "You Walk By" was written right there on the Avenue in less than twenty minutes.

Six months later when the song was published, the writers remembered the girl so well that they gave an accurate description of her for the picture on the title page of the sheet music. . . . "You Walk By" seemed so much better in every way than "You Drive By" that they completely eliminated the roadster, substituted "some children at play" and changed December into May. The theme line of the song goes: "You Walk By and children pause at play. You Walk By, December seems like May."

DO you take things as they come? Or do you worry about the tripping up you have had and get just a little bitter toward the world for giving you what you would like to describe as a rough deal? . . . We have just finished talking with a person who has had a major raw

The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Berlin reports of Nazi sea victories are described by London as fantastic "exaggerations," but the British situation as to cargo, if not naval tonnage, undoubtedly is serious.

Wide fluctuating London official figures week by week on merchant tonnage losses have no question of that. First Lord Alexander of the admiralty, drew a grim picture with the season of long days and short nights.

Hitler in his recent "victory-at-sea" speech boasted of news of 215,000 tons of British shipping sent to the bottom within two days.

There has been no confirmation of that nor any subsequent "British expansion of the claim. British tonnage loss figures for that period are heavier than usual; but reflect no such sea blows by the Nazis as Hitler claimed.

The British admiralty ascribes a normal 100 per cent exaggeration to the German authorities who report British shipping casualties. That might itself be an exaggeration; but there is evidence that Berlin is indulging in deliberate overstatement.

By contrast, there seems no good reason just now to suspect the British of deliberately concealing merchant tonnage losses. American aid-for-Britain policy is in the making in congress. That might furnish a plausible London motive for overstating rather than understating the seriousness of the problem of keeping England's sea lanes open.

There are good military reasons for the British custom of ignoring many German claims of British battleships, plane carriers, cruisers, and the like, sunk or knocked out of action.

The admiralty figures that if the Germans think a certain British shipping has been eliminated when actually it has not, so much the better. It also assumes that some Nazi reports of that character represent in fact an attempt to smoke out information as to fleet dispositions. In either case silence seems good policy.

The Nazi three-phase, integrated sea attack already in progress with air, undersea, and surface craft imposes a new tactical problem for British counter experts. Just how they are coping with it is undisclosed, but cautiously worded utterances by responsible British cabinet officers in parliament indicate they feel encouraged.

Those official statements also emphasize another factor: to be squared against seemingly exaggerated German claims of sea success. It is that as yet only an occasional major British convoy is even sighted by the foe. The bulk of them are still going through un molested.

EL PASO WINS STATE HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL CROWN

Harvesters Eliminated In Opening Game

AUSTIN, March 8 (AP)—The smooth-working El Paso Tigers overpowered a gallant Abilene Eagle team, 27-20, tonight to win the Texas Schoolboy basketball title in the final of the inter-school league tournament.

El Paso won its first tournament in 1921.

The Eagles, who went into the finals despite the loss of one regular and two subs by illness played El Paso tonight without their great guard, Gene Dalton. He sprained an ankle in Abilene's semi-final victory over Waco.

Jeff Davis of Houston finally got rolling in the last half of the third-place game and blasted Waco, 50-35.

The Abilene team, whose gallant play was a consistently outstanding feature of the entire tournament, sailed into El Paso with forward J. E. Smith and center Raymond Patton at the helm and kept the score fairly close throughout the championship game.

At the quarter, El Paso led only 7-6, and at the half, 14-11. But the superior ball-handling and manpower of the western crew then began to tell and the third-quarter score was 22-14.

During the closing minutes the Tigers went into a time-killing weave that enabled them to control the ball most of the period.

Tournament all-star teams were:

First team—Izquierdo and Palfox, El Paso, forwards; Billy Carr, Waco, center; Dalton, and Pete McNeill, Waco, guards.

Second team—Rudy Himelosa, Jeff Davis, and Russell Myers, Bloomington, forwards; Bubbo Coers, San Marcos, center; Mac Scheel, Jeff Davis, and Gordon Brandon, El Paso, guards.

Fading in the last quarter after going into a two-point lead late in the third quarter, the Pampa Harvesters on Friday afternoon bowed out of the state interschool league basketball tournament before the onslaught of Jeff Davis of Houston. The final score was 41 to 25.

Ed Terrell, tall forward, led the Harvesters, scoring until forced from the game in the fourth quarter with a sprained ankle. Terrell bucketed four field goals and three free shots for 11 points. Next in the scoring was Grover Heiskell, forward, who made five points before leaving the game, also in the final quarter, with his knee out of place. Early in the second quarter the Harvesters lost Dewey, stellar guard, with a badly sprained ankle which required medical attention.

All thirteen Harvesters who made the trip to Austin played in the game, the first time a Pampa team ever went to a state tournament. The Harvesters won the district and then took the regional meet at Canyon, defeating Lubbock in the playoff.

Frank Grabek Scheduled To Sign Oiler Contract

Pennant hopes of the Pampa Oilers took a sharp upturn yesterday when Grabek received a yellow slip of paper. It was a telegram. On the telegram was the crisp message "I'm ready to report for spring training upon receipt of transportation. Will sign contract upon arrival." This telegram was signed Frank Grabek.

Two years ago, when the Pampa Oilers first entered professional ranks, Grabek was one of the best pitchers in the league. He was turned loose by Lubbock and came to the Oilers in time to whip his old team four straight games and put the Oilers in second place.

Last year Grabek watched baseball from the sidelines because he and the owners of the team couldn't get together on salary. So Grabek was termed a holdout. This year owners again said, Grabek a contract and although he didn't say definitely that he would accept the terms, his message indicated that terms could easily be agreed upon.

In 1939 Grabek won 21 games and lost 11 and six of his losses were with Lubbock while he had only two victories with the Hubbers.

Grabek is a righthander. He's not big, or at least he wasn't big when he was here in 1939, but he has a smoke ball that is a dandy and plenty of curves to go with it.

The Oilers have no one definitely under contract yet, but 13 Oilers have been mailed contracts and several rookies of promise have written that they will be on hand for spring training about April 1.

Pampa Boxers Win Nine Out Of Ten Bouts From Borger

Pampa high school boxers won nine out of 10 bouts from Borger in a dual meet Friday night in the local gymnasium. With the exception of two or three bouts, the Pampa mitt artists won going away.

Three weight divisions were not contested when the Borger coach refused to match his boys with three of Pampa's best boys, Coach Oscar Hinger of the Harvesters team stated after the fights. Pampa boys who didn't get a chance to box were Johnny Campbell, Billy Gise and Everett Sparks.

Borger's Coach Tedford staged a one-man riot throughout the fights. He objected to the work of the referee, he jumped Coach Hinger for using vaseline on his boys, he berated the judges and even jumped on the sports writers.

But the coach apparently failed to notice that his boys hooked their arms around their opponent's necks and slugged away, that they hit in the clinches, and otherwise violated amateur rules, all of which the judges took into consideration in rendering their decisions.

Little Billy Stevens, at 65 pounds, gave the Harvesters their first win when he beat Billy Syrus in 40 seconds.

One of the best fights of the night saw Richard Stephens of Pampa get the nod over Jack Frayley, a smooth working boy.

Roy Ray of Pampa and Mel Newberry staged an old-fashioned slugfest match with Newberry taking two nine counts and Ray one.

Closest decision before the judges was when Lefty Pendleton received the nod over Don Nelson. Pendleton had to finish strong for the nod.

Results, Pampa boxers named first: 65 pounds—Billy Stevens won from Billy Syrus on a technical knockout in the first round; 75 pounds—Billy Gambin, decided; Chris Gikas; 115 pounds—Richard Stephens won decision from Jack Frayley; 120 pounds—Clyde Small, decided; David Priets; 125—Bert Isbell lost to Billy Askew; 136 pounds—Clarence Smiles, decided; Tom Riddle; 135 pounds—Herdon Sloan won decision from Daniel Priest; 145 pounds—Roy Ray, decided; Mel Newberry; 155 pounds—Lefty Pendleton won decision from Don Nelson; 165 pounds—John Cornett, decided Ed Carter.

Hallbourg And Dilbeck Make Hit With Padres

Dodger Drawing Power 'No. So Hot' In Cuba

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers moved to Cuba for training this year with the expectation of drawing 5,000 to 10,000 fans for every exhibition game, but Friday had only 1,926 "fanatics" for their so-called preview of the 1941 world series with Cleveland.

While at St. Petersburg, Fla., the Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals drew 819 admissions and stopped selling tickets when the grandstand was filled. . . . Wonder if the folks remember that this time last year the Yankee-Cardinal contests were being called the 1940 world series preview?

112 Top Horses Nominated For Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 8 (AP)—One hundred twelve of the nation's best three-year-old thoroughbreds were nominated today for the 67th running of the $75,000 Kentucky derby, but not more than 15 are likely to go to the post May 3 at Churchill Downs.

During the years from 1931 to 1940, inclusive, 1,147 thoroughbreds were nominated for the derby but in that span only 136 faced the starter.

It is a long, tough and expensive job between now and derby day getting a thoroughbred in shape for the gruelling mile and a quarter race, and Col. E. R. Bradley, owner of four derby winners, is reputed once to have said the odds of being able to pick a single horse which would start in the derby were about 4 to 1.

As expected, all of the top three-year-olds were nominated including Charles S. Howard's Porter's Cap, winner of the Santa Anita derby; Whirlaway, Warren Wright's pride of the blue grass, and leading juvenile; Dispose, winner of the Flamingo stakes and leading hope of the King ranch; Our Boots, owned by Woodvale farms and winner of $71,351 as a two-year old; and Wheatley, stable boy Irishman winner of $42,405 last year.

In addition to these many other top-notch three-year-olds were nominated.

For Kentuckians who generally had a couple of dollars annually on the Bradley entry "just for luck," there will be no Bradley starter this year. The Colonel announced several weeks ago he had no horse worth nominating, but added he would be back next year after his fifth derby victory.

James Carroll of St. Louis reported the following winter book odds: Our Boots and Dispose 4 to 1, Curious Coin, 6 to 1 and Whirlaway 8 to 1.

Hugh Mulcahey To Play For Uncle Sam

BOSTON, March 8 (AP)—Hugh Mulcahey, first major league player inducted into the army under the selective service act, hopes to play baseball for Uncle Sam.

The 27-year old Philadelphia Phillies pitcher, who left tonight for Camp Edwards on Cape Cod, said that a year away from the big leagues should not seriously hamper his baseball career.

"I won't be 28 until September," explained the 6-foot 2-inch moundsman, "and they say that a pitcher's prime comes between the ages of 28 and 31. So by the time I come out of the army I should be just about reaching my peak."

"My only hope right now is that baseball will be included in our recreational program in the army. If it would not only help me to stay in shape, but I also could instruct some of the younger fellows who might be baseball-minded."

Mulcahey, who won 13 games for the last place Phillies last season, had signed his new contract only six days ago.

Spring Training In Texas League Begins Sunday

(By The Associated Press)

The Texas League's big show won't blaze into its tableau until April 13 but the managerie opens tomorrow.

All eight teams launch official training although a few indicated they may not operate under skeleton first-day schedules.

By Monday, however, President J. Alvin Gardner promised, the diamond livestock will swing into traditional preperational performances.

Four teams will train at home and four abroad. Three will have new ringmasters.

Shreveport and Dallas—edging in a little pitcher-catcher exercise since Wednesday—inaugurated the training season unofficially with Beaumont and Houston they will cling to native heaths.

Fort Worth will camp at Brownsville, Tulsa at Marshall, San Antonio at San Benito and Oklahoma City at Atlanta, Tex.

The Dallas Rebels, homeless during rebuilding of their fire-laid stadium, are working at Southern Methodist university's field. Other teams will sweat in less cultural environment.

Beaumont and Shreveport raised new managers from the ranks this season. Gordon Hinkle, catcher, will lead the Shippers; Francis "Salty" Parker, third baseman, will be playing pilot for the Rebels; Walter "Wally" Dashiell, Rebel import from Pensacola, Fla., completes the league's new managerial blood.

President Gardner, announcing an "economy season" during which owners and players will need to harmonize on dollars as well as pitches, voiced dissatisfaction at numerous hold-outs.

Players failing to report by training deadlines, which will be required to pay their own expenses to camp. In addition, he suggested, they may lay themselves open to fines.

ert Doerr the only thoroughly efficient infielder.

The Red Sox again led the American league in batting last season, yet could do nothing more than tie the nondescript White Sox for fifth place.

The Hitless Wonders of 1906 were not the first to demonstrate that there was much more to baseball than hitting one. Nor will the Yankees of 1939 be the last.

As Dizzy Dean once said: "You have to get them other guys out."

WHAT MY BANK ACCOUNT HAS MEANT TO ME

I started my bank account when I was just a boy. When I got my first job I put a certain percentage of my salary each week in the bank. It wasn't much at first, but as the years rolled by I increased it as my earnings went up.

An old man's advice to young people is to start a bank account, the size or amount doesn't mean anything. Form a good habit early and it will pay dividends in later years.

In my case I am able to enjoy life now without being dependent upon anyone and I have my bank account to thank for that.

It will be the third straight year for both San Diego and West Texas, the Californians losing out in the final round on both their earlier visits.

Mioland, 4-Year Old, Wins Rich San Juan Capistrano Handicap

LOS ANGELES, March 8 (AP)—Mioland got a rich revenge today. Beaten in a head-to-head duel a week ago in the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap, the Charles S. Howard four-year-old came back this afternoon and made a show of sixteen rivals in the $50,000 San Juan Capistrano handicap.

Stretching his long legs out in new track record time, Mioland, with Jockey Buddy Haas aboard, ran his conqueror of a week ago, Little Bay View, into the ground in another battle that lasted for one mile, and then came on to break the heart of another challenger, Gen'l Manager in the drive for home.

Mioland, again the heavily backed favorite, won by three lengths over Gen'l Manager, while Barrancosa, owned by Bing Crosby and Lin Howard, ran third.

It was quite a feat for Mioland. Packing top weight of 130 pounds, 23 more than Gen'l Manager, Mioland ran the mile and one half in 2 minutes 29 1-5 seconds. It broke the track record set by Townsend B. Martin's Cravat in winning this same event in 1937 in 2 minutes 30 2-5 seconds.

Mioland, backed down to 5-2 in the parimutuel betting, paid $6.60, $5.20 and $4.20. Gen'l Manager, a rank disappointment in the "hundred grander," finishing sixth, paid $18.20 and $12.60, and Barrancosa, the Argentine-bred mare, paid $7.20. Victory for Mioland, his fourth major stake at the Santa Anita meeting, was worth $44,310 to his wealthy San Francisco owner.

East Texas Baseball League In Danger, President Declares. DALLAS, Tex., March 8 (AP)—Take the run of the season and J. Walter Morris, president of the East Texas League, is a pretty optimistic chap. But today he ruefully shook his head. "We're going to meet at Longview tomorrow morning with two strikes against us," he said. "It may be that we'll be able to figure out some means of keeping the league alive. But right now it looks as though the East Texas is through—at least for the present." It isn't a lack of teams that threatens the league, said Morris. The league could find teams. "What the East Texas must have," he explained, "is working agreements with higher class teams. It may be the draft or it may be any one of several other reasons, but there just aren't enough highly skilled ball players to meet the needs of the small minors after the higher class leagues are through choosing. "If we can find agreements by tomorrow, Texarkana will return from the Cotton States league and we'll go ahead with the season."

Two good mixers are better than one. THERE you sit, watching the long road ahead as it dips and rises. Under your feet there's a quiet whispering, to let you know that all eight able Buick cylinders are happily on the job. You're giving not a single thought to what's happening under that long bonnet nosing out in front, but here's what's going on: Instead of the single, compromise-size carburetor you find on most cars, this Buick FIREBALL eight with Compound Carburetion* has two good mixers on the job. A single one of them—the front one—keeps you rolling smoothly, easily, quietly, on the very minimum rationing of gasoline. But the other carburetor is alert and ready for any sudden need. Just tramp down on that accelerator pedal—it goes into instant action, giving you more fuel and more power for any emergency purpose! It's almost like having two engines—one to handle normal requirements thriftily, another to team up with the first for extra oomph and wallop when you want it. That kind of teamwork pays. And owners by the thousand will tell you it's more economical too—as much as 10% to 15% more economical. If you haven't experienced what it feels like to have that under the bonnet of your automobile, better go have that Buick demonstration now. *Standard on all Buick SUPER, CENTURY, ROADMASTER and LIMITED models, available at slight extra cost on all Buick SPECIAL models. If things don't go to suit you, why, it ain't no use to fret; just hustle 'round 'n' do your best.

You're bound to win out yet. Remember, when your troubles come, your life is what you make it; what happens to you ain't what counts. Instead, it's how you take it.

Among the various awards to be given this spring to honor students of the high school graduation class will be the commercial merit award which is to be presented by a civic-minded organization, the Business and Professional Women's club, to the senior making the highest grades in commercial studies. The award is to be given annually, and following this year, the presentation will be made on the basis of grades received in all commercial subjects studied during the four years in high school.

These lines came to our mind as Mrs. Fred Roberts told us that local Red Cross volunteers are knitting socks again. The spiral method is being used in knitting these heeless hose... Each week more women are taking their first lesson in knitting at the class conducted by Mrs. V. L. Hobbs... Green yarn is being used in crocheting the circular sweaters.

Celebrating their anniversary last Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bratton... Which reminds us that today marks the first anniversary of Barbara and Allen Evans and Theda and Frank Cooksey... Another couple observing one year of marriage is Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Block whose anniversary is March 18.

One columnist points out that most men think that just about the scrawniest lad in recent years is the daubing of red paint on the finger nails of the women folks... A style expert has stated that correctly-styled women will not be painting their finger-nails by the middle of summer. She says the lad is on the way out; that the movement against it has just started and will sweep the country... This may be one style trend which the women will not follow, we say... then again it may be adopted unthinkingly.

A house should have a mother Waiting with a hug, No matter what a boy brings home, A puppy or a bug, For children only loiter When the bell rings to dismiss If no one's home to greet them With a cookie or a kiss.

A popular book at the local library is "H. M. Pulham, Esquire" by John B. Marquand, author of "The Late Mr. Appleby" and "Wickford Point"... "H. M. Pulham, Esquire" and "Christopher Morley's 'Kitty Foyle' have almost identical plots, and yet the two stories differ in almost every other particular... The important interest in this novel is in people... Like "Wickford Point," this novel belongs to the intelligently enjoyable class, with an equal stress upon intelligence and enjoyability.

Another new book recommended this month is "Translations from the Chinese" by Arthur Whaley... Some of the poems printed in this volume were written all of 20 centuries ago... Among them is the following:

"Illness and Idleness"

(Circa A. D. 812)

Illness and idleness give much leisure, What do I do with my leisure when it comes? I cannot bring myself to discard inkstone and brush; Now and then I make a new poem. When the poem is made, it is slight and favourable, A thing of derision is almost every one. Superior people will be pained at the flatness of the metre; Common people will hate the plainness of the words. I sing it to myself, then stop and think about it...

BANG-UP STYLE

FORWARD bangs and forward pompadours are hair style new this spring. The coiffure above has a deep shallow wave that softens the Merry Widow pompadour and soft rolls at the sides that fill in that awkward, empty space directly behind the ears—an altogether youthful and especially becoming hair-do to wear with off-the-face hats, such as this Sally Victor rough straw bound with grosgrain ribbon.

DRESS OR REDINGOTE DESIGN

PATTERN 8892

Something decidedly new under the spring sun, and an idea that you'll welcome delightedly, comes with this two-fashion pattern (No. 8892). As shown on the large figure, it's a redingote, open from the hipline to hem. As shown in the little sketch, it's a dress, with inverted pleat in the front. You'll probably want it both ways, because it's an unusually roomy style for women's sizes, with shoulder tucks and waistline darts to give correct bust fit and a slimmer midriff. Just below the hips, the stitched pleats break into soft, unpressed fullness, giving the easy hemline that's so smart. The deep V of the neckline is softened by a narrow roll collar.

Make this up yourself, in silk print, flat crepe, spun rayon, or sheers; then you'll be sure of having a smart dress that fits with made-to-order perfection.

Pattern No. 8892 is designed for sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48. Size 36 requires 5 1/2 yards of 39-inch material without nap for bracelet-sleeved redingote; 5 1/2 yards short-sleeved dress; 5 yards of braid or bias fold to trim.

MART COMEDY, MODERN SOUTH STORY, PEN PICTURE BOOKINGS THIS WEEK

'Mr. and Mrs. Smith,' With Lombard Montgomery, Opens At Crown; 'Virginia' At LaNora; 'Land of Liberty' Film Epic

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON

There's smart comedy, a story of Dixie that is up to the minute, and a smashing, stirring picture that is destined to rank among the hit-time hits to top the week's film fare in Pampa.

Carole Lombard, Robert Montgomery, and Gene Raymond are the principals in the sprightly, laugh-studded RKO Radio picture "Mr. and Mrs. Smith," opening today at the Crown.

Paramount uses Technicolor, the beautiful Madeleine Carroll, and handsome Fred McMurray, plus the moppet Carolyn Lee, to tell a modern story of modern "Virginia." It's up to date drama, but with the chum of Southern tradition as stage dressing. The film is on the LaNora screen today through Wednesday.

Last named, but first in importance from the standpoint of theme is "Land of Liberty," coming on Friday and Saturday to the LaNora. It dramatizes America's heritage of freedom and crystallizes in the minds of all who see it a determination that this freedom must be preserved.

Will H. Hayes, MPPDA president, writes: "This picture is composed of excerpts from 112 feature pictures and short subjects, plus newsreels. With more than two million feet of historical footage available, the committee, Dr. James T. Showell, consulting historian, and his associates, were able to assemble a vivid dramatic history of our nation for the past 150 years. This in itself makes "Land of Liberty" one of the most unusual motion pictures ever leased.

"All profits derived from this film's distribution are being contributed to war emergency welfare work at home and abroad. The organized industry donated the full expense of the production. All producers and distributors cooperated in making it possible.

"I have no hesitancy, therefore, in asking you to bring this significant picture to the attention of the people of your community."

Murder Mystery

Three murders, a secret room, and a sheriff Kennedy as a sheriff high-heel Republic's "Who Killed Aunt Maggie?" 70-minute picture showing Thursday at the LaNora. John Hubbard, Wendy Barrie, and Kennedy are the principals.

Water Rights

Six-guns pour out the typical ruck, there are charging horses, underling cattle herds, and fights for water rights in an arid country. The background for William Boyd the Harry Sherman production of Paramount, "In Old Colorado," is the Rex screen Friday and Saturday.

Rambling Reporter

Joel McCrea is seen as the New York reporter who gets a lucky break and is made a foreign correspondent; as such cracks open international intrigue, sees a pseudo-sensation. Final scene shows reporter plane shot down at sea. "Foreign Correspondent," with larger production, megged by Alred Hitchcock, with Laraine Day the feminine lead, is on the Rex screen today and tomorrow.

Zane Grey Western

A girl from the East forced to try a western "bad man" at gun point; the bad man rides off to little Mexican rebels; outlaws are own up by powder cached in a cky rendezvous—these are all a part of the typical sagebrush operation in "The Light of Western Stars," with Russell Hayden, Victor Jory, and Jo Ann Sayers in the chief roles. On the State screen Friday and Saturday.

Ethiopians Capture Italian Prisoners

CAIRO, Egypt, March 8 (AP)—Ethiopian natives fighting on Britain's side against Italy were reported by British general headquarters today to have captured 300 prisoners in a fight with an Italian garrison in Ethiopia. The daily communique said that 90 deserters from Italian colonial forces had crossed into British territory.

GROWN-UP, GINGERFUL JANE

Blending thrills, fun, dances, songs and romance, "Golden Hoofs," Jane Withers' 26th starring film for 20th Century-Fox, which comes today to the Rex theater, has been hailed as her best. More grownup, lovable, and romantic, but just as full of ginger as ever, Jane is supported by a grand featured cast headed by none other than Charles (Buddy) Rogers, who makes his first screen appearance in seven years.

CLEVER, SOPHISTICATED COMEDY

Packed with laughs and marked by the fine direction of Alfred Hitchcock is the sophisticated comedy "Mr. and Mrs. Smith," featuring Carole Lombard, above, Robert Montgomery and Gene Raymond. The 95-minute RKO Radio picture opens its five-day run today at the Crown. Miss Lombard, in her first "dress up part" in several pictures, will also win much attention from romme fans because of her attractive clothes. Norman Kraska has written an amusing story and screenplay, replete with clever situations and bright dialogue. Edward Ward's music is an important factor in the production.

2,500 Americans Ask Hand Of Czech Girl

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 8 (AP)—No less than 2,500 American men want to help Vera Hrubá, Czechoslovakian skating star, avoid deportation by marrying her.

That many proposals, the pretty 19-year-old skater said today, were received after the press published her plight. She is threatened with deportation because her passport as an entertainer has expired.

Mrs. Nan Foley of Lafayette, Ind., has interceded on her behalf, Miss Hrubá disclosed. She said that Mrs. Foley had posted a $1,000 bond and was negotiating with federal authorities through Rep. Charles Halleck (R-Ind.), to become her guardian until she becomes of age.

She said she "would rather die than return to Europe." Pilots testing new planes, now take along a "robot observer"—a 35 mm. camera which automatically records the readings on the instrument board and leaves the pilot free to fly the plane without making any notes.

MAGNIFICENT STORY OF MODERN SOUTH

Here is a refreshing, entertaining picture that should appeal to all types of audiences. Photographed in Technicolor, the authentic settings in Paramount's 110-minute picture "Virginia," opening today at the LaNora, are eye-filling, and do much to create an atmosphere of a South rich in tradition and sentiment. Madeleine Carroll, Fred McMurray, and Carolyn Lee are the principals in the cast. The story opens with Madeleine long absent from her Virginia birthplace, returning from New York, to sell her home. McMurray, born and bred in Virginia, deeply loves the soil of the South, and wins her over to the friendly, neighborly ways of Dixie.

British Raid On Norwegian Island Only A "Rehearsal"

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, March 8—Informed British said today Tuesday's harassing raid by British and Norwegian naval units on the German-held Lofoten islands off Norway's coast was just a "rehearsal" for bigger things to come.

The intimation was that swift sea raiders carrying strong landing parties, and capitalizing on the element of surprise, had begun a campaign of sabotaging Nazi-controlled military and industrial centers along the European coast.

The press was quick to point out that there were many other vulnerable ports along the 3,000 miles of coastline now held by the Germans where British warships could land raiding parties.

In addition to destruction of Nazi war materials and oil stocks, it was pointed out such raids should yield German prisoners for questioning, and should bolster the morale of the populations of the occupied territories.

Alive to the propaganda value of such raids, the British command was said to have given special instructions to the British troops and Norwegian marines in the Lofoten expedition to be "considerate and courteous" to the islanders. The Norwegian government journal, recounting the details of the British exploit, said: "When the ships arrived off the island powerful loudspeakers broadcast messages to the local population telling them friends were at hand

SERIAL STORY

DRAFTED FOR LOVE

BY RUTH AYERS

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: There is a dancing party for the wedding...

ANN DISAPPEARS

ANN followed April upstairs, her knock on the door imperative...

"Oh, Ann, don't mind me," April was struggling to pull herself together...

"I think it's time we were truthful with each other," Ann said...

Ann went on, "I've guessed all along that you've been in love with Kent Carter since that time he came home on leave while I was away."

"Ann, you're being absurd," "No, not absurd, April, but frank. We love each other very much, April. We're not alike in all ways, but we're sisters, just the two of us, April. Lots of times I've envied you because you're beautiful and I'm not. I've resented you because you had all the admirers, the flowers, the dates. I've been jealous until it hurt. But Octavia said something tonight that expressed what I've always known deep down but haven't wanted to admit."

"Octavia?" "Octavia said tonight when she was helping me dress, 'Once Ah thought Miss April had nothing more to her than that gold on the top of her head. Now Ah knows the real gold is in her heart.'"

"Oh—well, Octavia," April tried to smile it off, tried to find some way to stop Ann.

Ann persisted, "You've tried to cover up everything, even to the way you injured your ankle and paid off that wretch of a Winkie Appleman, and it's all been because you didn't want to hurt me. I think it's the most sporting thing I've ever known."

"But you're silly, Ann," April cried. "You're foolish to talk that way. There's nothing to what you're trying to say. It's your wedding day tomorrow. The house is all fixed. Mother and Dad are so happy for you! And Kent—what about Kent, Ann? You've forgotten about him in all this foolishness. Listen, honey, you and Kent are going to make a grand couple."

Ann stood there, still smiling, listening without interrupting.

"I'll come to visit you in your new home," April finished in a rush. "I'll be godmother to your first boy." She was up from the vanity table, almost pushing Ann from the room.

"Annie, go down and dance until morning and then sleep until noon. And don't get any more of those last-minute bridal brainstorms."

Ann turned one searching glance on her and then leaned quickly and kissed her cheek.

After that, the day was over for April Burnett.

She was too tired to think about it now, too weary to live it over. While the trio from Casa Blanca played in waltz time, she went to sleep.

THAT'S why she was up early the next morning, surprisingly refreshed, ready to face the last day before she would be really free. Yes, once the wedding was over, she would be clear of all remorse and doubts and decisions.

Nip had pushed his way into her room last night and slept curled on the floor beside her bed.

"You be quiet," she cautioned him, "this is a sleeping household."

As she bathed and dressed, April saw that the early morning sky gave evidence of a sunny day. A good omen for Ann. She was glad she had reassured her sister last night, quieted any doubts in Ann's troubled head.

Now for the red skating skirt and the blue suede jacket. If she went out for a brief walk with Nip, maybe it would bring some color into her cheeks and she wouldn't look like a mourner at the wedding.

"Hush," she kept saying to Nip. "One growl out of you and no walk." Nip hushed.

The wedding was set for 5 o'clock. Everything was in readiness for it, from Octavia's white-towered cake to Ann's orange blossoms. The house slept quietly after the festivities of last night. Likely, no one would stir until noon. So as April left her room bound for the walk, she tiptoed.

Her first surprise was in seeing that the door to Ann's room was ajar. Nip nosed ahead of her, poked his nose into the door. April stepped to close it and as she did, something struck her as wrong.

The bed was made, Ann's evening dress tossed lightly across it.

APRIL tried to reassure herself. Ann had probably gone downstairs for early coffee. But even as she went to check, she knew that Ann wouldn't be in the kitchen.

The kitchen was empty, spotless, untouched. Octavia had stayed up late to wash and put away the party dishes so everything would be spic-and-span for the great day of her "little lamb's" wedding.

The other rooms were empty and the inside lock was still across the front door. This cut off the last, dwindling hope that perhaps Ann had started off on an early walk, too.

"Something's wrong, Nip," April whispered, "dreadfully wrong."

Nip knew it and sniffed up and down the hall and behind the fern screen. Then a door of the kitchen creaked and opened. April almost jumped in fright.

"Who all's there?" a familiar voice was asking.

"Just me, Octavia."

"Anything I can do for you, Miss April?"

No one must know yet; the house mustn't be aroused. So April thought quickly. "Yes, Octavia, go back to bed and sleep your head off for hours. It's going to be a hard day."

When Octavia, satisfied and unsuspecting, disappeared behind the door, April started upstairs. Every step was an agony. Even Nip sensed it, his whiskers bristling.

It didn't take long to find the white envelope with her name on it in Ann's room. April held it, afraid to read, fearful of what answer her sister had found out of the three tangled lives.

McLean Economics

Class To Give Play

Special To The News—McLEAN, March 8—"Sophie from Sandysville," a one-act comedy play sponsored by the home economics girls of McLean High School and directed by Bobby Campbell, will be presented in chapel Tuesday before the high school student body.

"Sophie from Sandysville" is a story about a country girl who came to town to work. After she had been working for some time she is discovered to be a very well known friend of her employer. After a merry mix-up the play has a happy ending.

Sophie is played by Sybil Lee, and Ethel Adelbert, an old sophisticated woman, is played by Frances Hudziak. Maxine Goodman plays the part of Bonnie McFarland, a beautiful young girl who is a friend of Ethel Adelbert. Lerry Lemmonas, a handsome young chauffeur, is played by Bobby Campbell. James Martin is played by Douglas Jarrell.

Each department of McLean High school will put on a program before the student body before school is out. This is a way of showing the students what different subjects teach them. It also influences more students to become interested in the different activities, and at the same time furnishes entertainment.

What's The Low-Down On This, Winchell?

CHICAGO, March 8 (AP)—Director Edward Beira of Brookfield zoo is beginning to wonder if Nancy is one of those rare elephants who forget.

In case you've forgotten, too, Nancy was supposed to have a baby several weeks ago. All she's produced thus far, Beira reported today, is symptoms she has the look of an expectant mother, is drowsy and snores and twitches.

The director avowed that if Nancy was just pretending she's expecting so as to thrive on her special diet, "it's the dirtiest trick ever played on man by beast."

For 25 months now, Nancy has been treated tenderly. There has been much sewing of not too tiny garments and an elephant size crib has been installed to await the big day. But Nancy rolls her eyes and twitches.

Scientific smarties haven't been much help. Someone suggested an X-ray to determine Nancy's real condition as is done in cases of humans.

An X-ray company telegraphed its tubes were successful on steel but they flunked on the comparatively thin hide of a cow.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif., March 8 (AP)—The swallows have come back to Capistrano, off schedule once again.

For 100 years, according to legend, the swallows have been arriving at the mission De San Capistrano on St. Joseph's day, March 19, and departing for the south on Oct. 23.

Last autumn, however, they left ahead of time, as they had done the year before. Scout swallows arrived Monday, and a much larger flock flew in on Wednesday.

Ramon Yorba, the mission sexton, has an explanation.

"Perhaps," he says, "the birds knew somehow that our heavy rains this spring washed away their mud nests, and that they must get there before St. Joseph's day in order to build new homes."

Three Pampans To Discuss 'Trojan Horse' Over KPDN

By BILL BROWNE

"The Footprints of the Trojan Horse" is a program that will be heard over KPDN this afternoon at 12:30.

It'll be a busy day for Father Stack up at the radio station inasmuch as he is to conduct also the Ministerial Alliance program at 3 o'clock.

KPDN is bringing you a new dramatic program now at 1:45 each afternoon, Monday through Friday, which is full of laughs and something of a relief from the heart-rending tragedy that goes on during "The Heart of Martha Blair" at 1 o'clock.

"Judy and Jane" replaces in KPDN's schedule "The Monitor Views the News," which is being moved to 2 o'clock, immediately after "Judy and Jane."

Most popular new program during the past week at KPDN seems to have been the "Jingle Jubilee." It has brought larger response each day. The program comes on at 10:15 o'clock each morning, except Saturday and Sunday.

The jingles Ray reads on the program are chosen from those brought to the Pampa Furniture company, and those who bring these in are automatically entered in a contest.

Be sitting near your telephone and your radio at 10 tomorrow morning and get in on the fun.

Here is the way the new rules of the Wizard of Quiz program are to work. That's the man on the street at 12:15 daily.

Irene Brown, a fetching damsel, reigns as Queen Archery at a southern beach club and also furnishes a nice subject for cameramen.

One of the questions sent in by listeners is selected as "The Question of the Week," and the person suggesting that question gets $5 in Thrift stamps at Gunn Hinerman's.

Another program that has been winning lots of listeners is "Aunt Susan's Kitchen." Big new drawing card in that program is her male student, Dick. People are writing in to find out if Dick is really as dumb as he sounds.

This program is rebroadcast from Station WKY in Oklahoma City, where the kitchen is located. The time of the program has been moved up to an hour when KPDN cannot rebroadcast it; so KPDN has decided to transcribe it on their new recording equipment and carry it at 10 o'clock.

So listen for "Aunt Susan's Kitchen" at 10 each morning from now on. At 9:45 Lou Preston's Gang will bring you some hill-billy music. This gives KPDN a fine morning schedule every day.

Musing on Music! By Ray Mondring "G'bye Now," the cleverly-worded song hit that Martha Tilton sings, sprang miraculously from fifth to first place in the KPDN rating of "Top Tunes of the Day."

There's a new tune in KPDN's sheet music library, sung by Ken Bennett on his regular 5:15 broadcast, that seems to have what it takes. It's called "I Met You Then, I Know You Now." Perhaps you've heard it.

War Forces Nazis To Ban Magic Egg Trick

Special To The NEWS

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP)—War-time restrictions have hit the German sleight-of-hand performer—the old standbys of making eggs disappear and pulling rabbits out of hats have been banned.

Mullholland spoke of this and other developments in the world of magic today on the occasion of the 40th anniversary of his publication. "The Nazis have taken over all the magical societies," he added, "and made them a part of the Reich. In occupied France, I understand no French magician may travel from unoccupied to occupied territory. They've found them to expert at carrying verboten communications."

Condron Talks To Panhandle P. T. A.

Special To The NEWS

PANHANDLE, March 8—"We can not be unconcerned about European affairs and we are not blameless in regard to the present war," stated S. H. Condron, head of the department of economics and government of West Texas State college, Canyon, in speaking on "War, What and Who Made It," before the Panhandle Parent-Teacher association Thursday.

"We refused world leadership when it was offered us after the last war. We wanted economic leadership with no responsibilities. The underlying causes of war are the holding on to the idea of sovereignty and unequal economic conditions. Fair trade and a chance for each nation to prosper will bring peace."

Collective security is the only solution. The world must solve its problems on a basis of fairness and justice or wars will continue," concluded Mr. Condron.

Mrs. O. R. Owens presented Jean and Joan Hinchshaw, Mary Beth McOllough, Peggybeth Smith, Joyce Simms, and Lula Maye Cummings in a special arrangement of "God Bless America."

In the business meeting Mrs. Frank Ford, first vice-president, presided in the absence of Mrs. Earl Nunn.

The nominating committee presented a report which was accepted by the association. Elected officers will be: Mrs. J. S. Sparks, president; Mrs. H. L. Cantrell, first vice-president and program chairman; Mrs. Alf Pemberton, second vice-president and membership chairman; Mrs. A. R. Schulz, third vice-president and finance chairman; Nell Riney, secretary.
