The Pampa Welfare Board will function only one month more unless Pampa citizens honor their pledges to the Community chest. It was announced following a meeting of the board members this morning in the chamber of commerce rooms. The board is "broke" and there is no way of getting around it unless pledges are paid. Alex Schneider, chairman, declared at the meeting.

There is approximately $1000 due the Welfare Board from the Community chest activity. Members are charged it is up to those who signed pledges and have never honored them to come to the rescue of the board so that a new one can be organized in January, when another drive will be made.

The board will be no longer able to pay doctor and medicine bills, it was decided. What little money remains on hand will be used for needy cases only.

Ferons desiring to honor their pledges may mail or send a check to Mrs. W. H. Davis at her office in the basement of the city hall.

St. Paul Man Is Thought Kidnaped

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 6 (AP)—Having solved one kidnaping, police today were searching for Morris Rutman, clothing shop proprietor, who was whisked away in a black sedan by a masked man.

Rutman was chatting with his wife when the man appeared at the home, and the abduction was completed despite screams for help from the Rutman maid, Mary Schwartz, 22.

Police said they saw no connection between the kidnaping of Rutman and Leon Gleckman, St. Paul politician and finance company head, since five of Gleckman's kidnapers were captured and the sixth had been slain by his companions. Gleckman was released for $5,000 ransom, and the capture of his abductors was affected later.

M'Lean Gas Hearing Begun

Utility Company Claims Its Profits Are Reduced to 1.75 Per Cent.

M'LEAN, Oct. 6 (Special)—Pat Neff, member of the railroad commission, this morning opened the hearing on gas rates arbitrarily reduced by the city commission from 50 to 30 cents per thousand cubic feet.

Prior to opening the hearing, Mr. Neff spoke at high school chapel and he was slated to address the M'Lean Lions at noon. The state commission recently suspended the new local gas rate pending outcome of today's hearing. The M'Lean Gas company, in asking the commission to review the case, posted a $5,000 bond for protection of gas consumers in case the low rate should prevail.

Before the state took charge, a district court injunction prohibited the gas utility from collecting more than 30 cents per thousand cubic feet. The importance of the hearing in the widening fight for cheaper utility rates was recognized. Additional interest was provided by the fact that Mayor Ernest Thompson of Amarillo, and his law partner, Clem Colburn, were attorneys for the M'Lean city commission. Another angle of interest was the attitude of Mayor D. N. Massay recently chosen mayor in a special election to replace Joe Montgomery.

With Judge W. H. Potts of Wichita Falls and Senator J. D. Parrell of the same city representing it, the M'Lean Gas company put one witness, Hines, of Wichita Falls, on the stand this morning to testify concerning the value of the M'Lean system. Based on his estimate of $172,000, the gas system would carry only 1.75 per cent under the new 30-cent rate, compared to 3 per cent under the old rate.

Attorney Thompson and Colburn for the city questioned Hines sharply, seeking to show that the system's replacement value was only $89,000. The city was to play the role of an attorney on the stand this afternoon. The meeting was open to the public for questioning or testimony.

An Upham of Wichita Falls is principal owner of the M'Lean Gas company.

Citizens Fail to Respond to Drive

Pampans seem indifferent to the suffering of unemployed in Pampa, as they have failed to respond to the clean-up and fire prevention week program this morning.

Not a single property owner in Pampa has called the Welfare Board to have a man sent to his place to clean up the yard and vacant lot owned by him, according to Clyde Garner, head of the employment bureau of the board.

"It is possible that every yard and vacant lot in Pampa is chock full of weeds and rubbish but a drive around the city would not convince a person that such is the case," Fire Chief Clyde Gold said. The chief is ready to send a truck anywhere in the city where weeds and refuse are to be burned so that there will be no danger of fire.

"We have plenty of deserving men begging for even a few hours work," Mr. Garner declared this morning.

Comedians Much Needed at Present

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (AP)—Mike 'em laugh. Soft pedal depression woes. Those are commands to actors and entertainers this season from directors and booking agents.

And, as one gray haired booking agent whose office has been a haven for stock performers for a generation, said:

"It is getting easier for actors to lose out the laughs because things are picking up somewhat for theatrical folks, not only in New and Chicago but throughout the country."

"No good comedian need look for a job," said the head of the booking department here of one of the major vaudeville circuits. "Our outfit in New York and Chicago is hand combing the country for good comedy acts and topnotch comedians."

LINDBERGH'S MAY CONTINUE ON JOURNEY

Return to America at Once Would Be Difficult—Plane Is Disabled as Result of Accident.

FLAGS LOWERED

Republican Governor Expected to Appoint Party Man to Senatorship Pending Election in 1932.

CHANGHAI, Oct. 6 (AP)—and Mr. Charles A. Lindbergh disembarked from the British aircraft carrier Home on Monday. According to today's official news, Lindbergh and his father, Senator Owen W. Morrow, and approximately 100 other Americans in the American consulate general here.

A Lindbergh family couple is shown from the left, Lindbergh, who had brought back, and their disabled plane from Bangkok. The plane had been damaged in a crash landing after being captured by the Japanese and Colonel Mrs. Lindbergh was thrown into the water.

It could be months before Lindbergh's plane could be repaired. The time and place of the couple's landing was not announced. Only American Consul General Cunningham, Mr. Cunningham, and a half dozen newspaper men were at the consulate, which was closed to the public.

Asked whether he planned to continue his present aerial tour, Lindbergh said:

"Under the circumstances, I'd rather wait a little while before making any announcement."

Lindbergh said he would withhold any announcement as to whether the Lindbergh flight would be continued pending the receipt of several cables to America and arrival of the aircraft.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Flying at half mast on the capital today symbolized the nation's grief at the passing of its Senator Dipomat, Dwight W. Morrow of New Jersey.

Announced by the news of Senator Morrow's death, the capital expected generally that President Hoover would give a public address on the subject of the late Senator's death.

While expressions of loss of the nation and sympathy to the Morrow family continued to pour from all sections throughout the country, the effect of Senator Morrow's death on the senate was speedily noted.

It left the make-up of the new senate meeting in December, 47 Republicans and 47 Democrats, with one farmer laborite holding the balance of power.

Under New Jersey law, however, the governor may fill the vacancy until the 1932 election. He may publish. Had Morrow died a few days sooner, however, election of his successor would have been thrown into an election to be held next month.

The program of the union will be described by capable speakers, according to R. J. Lane, president. Questions will be answered. Mr. Lane urged citizens to attend to learn what the union stands for and what it opposes.

Graves Damage Suit Is Started
AMARILLO, Oct. 6 (AP)—Testimony was being heard today in federal court in the $30,000 damage suit against E. S. Graves, former Gray county sheriff, and G. H. Parrish, former constable at Pampa.

E. F. Lambright, who filed the suit, charged that Parrish and Graves, come to his hotel room in Pampa looking for stolen goods and beat him on the head. He said he was unconscious for three days after the alleged beating.

Monday. He and his pilot, Lieut. William Olds, encountered a rain and electrical storm and had to fly above it to get through. The Texas said he "got sorta cold, away up there at 6,000 feet."

Reaching the capital, Garner first went to his hotel, office where his old friend, political enemy, Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, is away for six years. They were cronies for 28 years, the aristocrat from Cincinnati, and the rugged southwesterner. Both entered congress in 1903. They met as full members of the foreign affairs committee and became fast friends.

As he entered the speaker's spacious rooms for the first time since Longworth adjourned congress March 4, he looked around the dismantled place, glanced at the desk behind which the Ohioan sat, and then hurriedly turned away saying: "It does not look the same with Nick gone."

Garner is serving his fifteenth term in the house from the fifteenth Texas district. If the democrats organize the house in the coming congress, he undoubtedly will be chosen speaker to succeed his late colleague, Longworth.

Garner declined to discuss the purpose of his hurried visit but it was learned he would attend a conference at the White House tonight.

Wednesday he plans to return to Dyalde by airplane to remain until shortly before congress convenes Dec. 7. He approves of flying and expects to wing back over the southern route.

PRICE TRIAL DELAYED
AUSTIN, Oct. 6 (AP)—Trial of District Judge J. B. Price of Bastrop on six articles of impeachment voted by the Texas house of representatives was postponed in the senate today until tomorrow. A quorum failed to appear and after waiting until noon the case went over.

Air Fireman

Flying the airmail between Chicago and Kansas City, Lewis Graves, above, discovered a fire on a plane in Kankakee, Mo. The fifth he had spotted in three years. He saved and landed his plane, a motor side man, until he had notified the occupants, who hurried out to safety.

Policeman O. R. Salmon arrested William Davis, 58, for investigation in connection with the shooting. The officer said Davis emerged from the office with a pistol in his hand, dealt a "toan pilana erwik sla."

"I was skinned in a real estate office," said the witness. "I was standing in the office when Davis entered. He said Davis drew a pistol and without saying a word, fired at Stephen. He then turned the gun on Wolfe and wounded him, Sunderland said."

Sunderland said he grabbed a chair and threw it at Davis, but missed. He said the shooting ceased and Davis walked out of the office and down the street.

Another witness, Frank Negro, Jr. told police a story that conformed with Sunderland's description of the shooting. Both said five shots were fired.

Two charges of assault with intent to murder were filed against Davis in connection with the wounding of Wolfe and Stephen.

Capone Smiles When His Trial in Chicago Opens
CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (AP)—"Scarface Al" Capone, the swarthy, smiling ruler of Chicago's gangs, went on trial in U. S. district court today charged with evading taxes on an alleged six-year income of $1,638,654.

The bulky gang chief, was brought before Judge James H. Wilkerson and permitted to substitute "not guilty" for the "guilty" plea he recently withdrew. The first duty was the selection of a jury.

The government, throwing all of its resources into the battle, did not attempt to hide the fact that this was its most important gangster case.

Capone arose quickly from his seat at the counsel table, and walked before the bar when Judge Wilkerson asked if the defendant in court? "I replied 'not guilty' twice in a low voice when the judge asked for his plea on the income tax charges.

About 60 veniremen were then brought into the court.

Sheriff Is Given Surprise Today
Sheriff Len L. Blanscet had invited several friends to luncheon today but all of them "just couldn't go." To be met with such unpopularity on his 35th birthday seemed discouraging for such a special occasion—but not for long.

When the sheriff went to his apartment on the fourth floor of the courthouse, he was congratulated by all of those friends he had invited to eat with him, and several others.

The elaborate menu and the surprise from Mrs. Blanscet, topped with 35 candies, came as a surprise from Mrs. Blanscet. Those attending were Judge W. R. Ewing, District Attorney Raymond Alford, County Attorney Sheehan White, Justice of the Peace James Todd Jr., Nest Dodson, Oran Thompson, Ernest Reynolds, Olie Pennington, Deputy Floyd Archer, Raymond Hurrish, Cowboy Mumford, Percy Faust, Harry Hoare, Herbert Blanscet, George Vance, and Claude Vance.

Burglary Trial Is Scheduled in Court
Vernon Poe was scheduled to go on trial in 31st district court this afternoon. He is charged with burglary on three counts. The youth is alleged to have entered Levine's store, the Walberg Implement company, and the Sinclair filling station in one night.

He has been in jail for several months awaiting trial. It was not known at noon whether he would waive a jury and appear before Judge W. R. Ewing.

ASSAILANT IS CLAIMING HE WAS 'SKINNED'

Arthur Wolfe, Dealer in Real Estate, and Charles Stephan, Produce Dealer, Are Seriously Hurt.

CHARGE IS FILED

William Davis Is Arrested as He Leaves Office—He Cites Business Deal as Cause of Affair.

DALLAS, Oct. 6 (AP)—Two Dallas business men were shot and critically wounded in their office here today by a man who claimed he had been fleeced in a real estate transaction.

Arthur Wolfe, real estate dealer, was shot in the neck. Charles Stephan, 40, a produce dealer, was shot twice in the body.

Policeman O. R. Salmon arrested William Davis, 58, for investigation in connection with the shooting. The officer said Davis emerged from the office with a pistol in his hand, dealt a "toan pilana erwik sla."

GENERAL BUTLER QUILTS

When Maj. Gen. Smedley Butler reviewed his marines for the last time at Quantico, Va., the other day, prior to his retirement from the service, his voice broke and he told the leathernecks huskily, "You have given me something to remember the rest of my life."

His emotion is easily understood. He will take many memories with him when he goes to private life. It must be a wrench for an officer to lay aside his uniform after 33 years of service, much of which has been, in the fullest sense of the word, "active" service.

But it works both ways. If the marines have given General Butler a lot to remember, he himself has given the marines plenty to remember, too. His occasional indiscretions may have made some of us forget the fact that he has been an exceptionally useful and gallant officer. The marine corps, caring nothing for his indiscretions, will keep his gallantry in mind for a long, long time.

POLITICAL PROTECTION

The legislative investigating committee that is trying to uncover some of New York City's more scandalous municipal secrets pops up now with evidence that the late Arnold Rothstein, "big shot" gambler of nation-wide notoriety, conducted many of his operations under the sheltering wing of Tammany Hall.

Whether or not this particular charge is finally substantiated, there is nothing about it that need surprise anyone. Whenever any racketeer attains the proportions that Rothstein attained, it is a perfectly safe bet that he has a quiet little understanding with someone in high authority. Underworld "kings" simply don't exist without protection. The only surprise possible in this case would be to learn that Rothstein didn't have any high political connections.

Would it be rash to say that England had been penny wise and pound foolish?

It's easy to understand why a fellow with a one-track mind often goes off his trolley, says the office sage.

Hard times notwithstanding, 38,000 men were given jobs in sugar factories out west. Sweet are the uses of adversity.

Still, there must be a silver lining to the gold situation.

Now if the gold digger only would take a lesson from the currency situation.

Japan to Increase Troops in China

TOKYO, Oct. 6. (AP)—The Japanese government today announced its determination to send "several hundred" reinforcements to Shanghai to protect its personnel in the face of possible trouble over the Sino-Japanese situation.

At the same time, it was stated, four cruisers, 24 destroyers and an airplane carrier were ready to start for China on short notice in case of emergency.

It was explained that Japanese troops already in Shanghai numbered only 700 and that other nations were maintaining much larger forces than that. France has about 13,000, Great Britain 23,000, and the United States 12,000.

Shanghai dispatches yesterday said two destroyers had arrived to strengthen the Japanese flotilla on the Yangtze river and that two other Japanese ships of war were on their way here.

COTTON OPENS FIRM

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 6. (AP)—Cotton opened steady but rather quiet today. Liverpool cables were just as due and first trades here showed gains of 2 to 3 points. This high advance was soon lost owing to heavy selling but a little later the market rallied sharply and became active owing to a firmer opening in the stock market and good trade and speculative buying based on the expectation that some favorable developments would follow the meeting of senators and representatives called by President Hoover in Washington for tonight.

December advanced to 5.59 and January to 5.58, or 12 to 14 points up from the early lows.

Sterling Wants Oil Propositions

AUSTIN, Oct. 6. (AP)—Gov. R. S. Sterling will receive propositions from any one interested in the state's contemplated development of the Sabine river bed for oil in East Texas, even though the law authorizing the exploration does not become effective until 90 days from last Saturday, he said today.

Governor Sterling said a California company already had made an "indirect" proposal to pay a bonus of $500,000 for lease of the river bed. This would be in addition to the state's share of the production on a one-eighth barrel or more royalty basis, he said.

"There isn't any reason why we should not negotiate for development of the river bed while we are waiting for the law creating the board of mineral development to become effective," he said. "A bonus of $500,000 would look mighty good to the state treasury just now."

Mexican Women Held After Riot

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 6. (AP)—Fifteen women were detained today after police intervened in the National Congress of Women Workers and Peasants to put down a near riot, marked by shouts of "down with the government."

The disorder resulted from discussion of a resolution to request immediate discharge of all Catholic employees of the government and reduction throughout the country of the number of priests allowed to officiate. The delegates divided into bands and several fist fights developed.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY, NEA Service Writer

There are countless ways you can dress up simple desserts to make them seem most festive and "partied."

Chocolate cream roll is one of the easiest and most to make, but it has the effect of being elaborate and tricky. It can be served within an hour after baking or it can ripen in the refrigerator for ten hours or longer. You simply spread chocolate wafer with sweetened whipped cream and pile them up in a tall stack. You will need about sixteen wafers for a family of four. Two layers to three-fourth cup whipping cream will be enough after it's whipped to spread over the wafers and over top and sides of roll. When ready to serve, cut in slices diagonally in order to show the layer effect. Ginger wafers can be used in place of chocolate if a spicy flavor is wanted.

An attractive way to serve fresh fruit and cake is to spread the top and sides of a plain cup cake with currant jelly, sprinkle with shredded coconut and top with whipped cream and arrange a circle of fruit around the base of the cake. This, of course, is served on a large flat plate or glass tray and each person helps himself.

Sponge Cake Can Be Used

If you like to serve your dessert in one large form rather than in individual service, this same idea can be carried out with a sponge cake or angel food. Cover top and side of cake with currant jelly and sprinkle with shredded coconut. Top with whipped cream and arrange a circle of fruit around the base of the cake. This, of course, is served on a large flat plate or glass tray and each person helps himself.

Another cake and fruit dessert uses the juice of fruit to advantage. A square of sponge or other plain cake is moistened with fruit juice and a slice of the fruit is placed on the cake. The whole is topped with whipped cream and garnished with a contrasting fruit. An ice cream or sherbet can be used in place of whipped cream. For instance if you use canned peaches, fill the cavity of each peach with raspberry sherbet. Try pistachio ice cream with canned pineapple.

Fresh fruit served in sherbet glasses topped with a sprinkling of shredded coconut or whipped cream mixed with coconut is a delicious dessert. Combinations of fruit are always liked and offer an excellent opportunity to use up odds and ends. The addition of whipped cream makes the mixture more definitely a dessert and less like the fruit cocktail you so often use to begin a meal.

Another refreshing dessert for a hot-weather meal uses fruit and sherbet of contrasting flavor. Put a large spoonful of orange or pineapple sherbet in a chilled sherbet glass. On this lay half an apricot or peach fresh or canned—fill with more sherbet and four crushed blackberries over the whole.

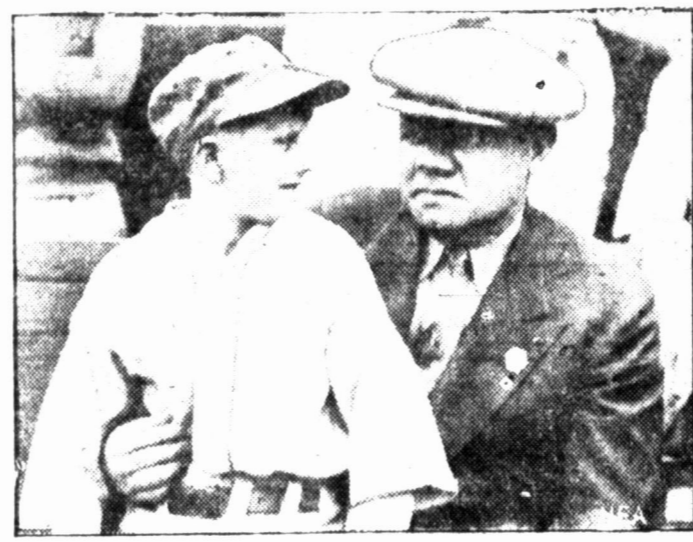

While any of these desserts can be made entirely with home-made ices and cakes, they also can be made with commercial products which merely means combining without any preliminary preparation.

On World Series Sidelines

You'd expect to find Connie Mack around at world series time, but it doesn't naturally follow that Mrs. Mack would also be present. However, the wife of the veteran Athletic manager is a staunch baseball fan. The A's are as much her boys as they are Connie's. The above photo shows Mrs. Mack in a box seat conversing with her husband.

Can you imagine a world series without Babe Ruth? If he isn't playing in them, he's expiring and writing for the newspapers—and autographing baseballs for a fad that never gets tired of admiring the Athletic mascot. And probably the young mascot doesn't know whether to vote for Simmons or Ruth.

Great Britain Is To Have Election

LONDON, Oct. 6. (AP)—Great Britain will vote Oct. 27 in a general election on issues of outstanding importance, it was announced today at Buckingham Palace.

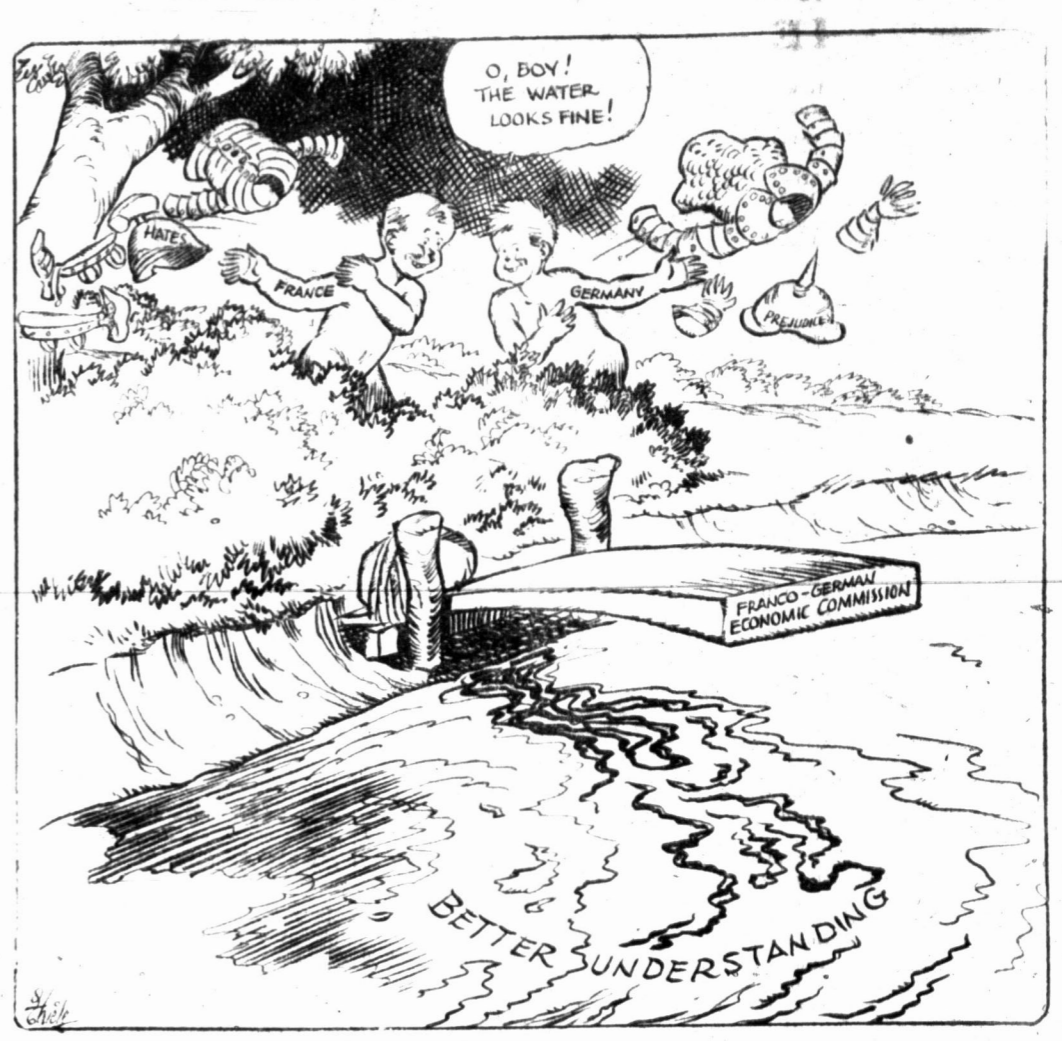

It will be the first general election since May 30, 1929, when Stanley Baldwin's conservative government was swept out of power and the labor party returned to the helm for the first time in five years. The liberal representation in parliament was radically reduced but it has held the balance of power throughout the period.

The announcement came after Prime Minister MacDonald had conferred with King George. He was understood to have acquiesced in the king with the decision of the cabinet and advised him to dissolve parliament at once. Proclamation is expected tomorrow and dissolution Thursday with the reading of a speech from the throne which will outline the need for an election.

Ninth Inning

CARDINALS—High flied out to Simmons. Watkins flied out to Miller. Frish flied out to Simmons. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

For defrauding the public through the sale of oleomargarine labeled "pure creamy butter," which was shipped in interstate commerce, Ferris Habib, Albert Hhadad, and Malkoun J. Savagh have been indicted by a federal grand jury. When the alleged "butter" was shipped out of New York state federal food inspectors detected the fraud and the government seized 1,140 pounds of oleomargarine. Habib had a bank account under one name, a mailing address under another, had purchased oleomargarine under a third, stored it under a fourth, and sold it under a fifth.

Oleomargarine and butter taste so much alike that the general public probably would not have known the difference, but thanks to the government, we can usually rely upon food labels.

Dr. Powers Speaks In Baptist Revival

Speaking to 150 people Monday evening Dr. O. L. Powers, of Wichita Falls opened the second day of the First Baptist revival services here. Dr. Powers was unable to conduct services Sunday, the first day of the revival. He arrived yesterday to take charge.

The visiting minister opened his series of sermons by basing his first talk on the sermon on the mount, "Christianity is Life," said Dr. Powers. "Jesus came to his sermon on the mount with this statement, 'Bob Ingersoll said that Christianity did not bring happiness, but that it brought sadness and long faces. But Christianity is a joyful religion, for when Christ was born joy to the world was sung over his cradle.'"

Dr. Powers then called attention to the fact that Christ designated his followers as the salt of the earth. Christ means to tell his disciples that Christianity is a necessity in every day life, and not a luxury. He meant, too, that our religion is a saving factor when he compared it with salt, was the gist of the revivalist's thought.

"In this same sermon," said the minister, "Jesus said that ye are the light of the world. This light is compared to the Christian because when it gives itself in lights on the path; so do Christians, when they give themselves, act as light for the rest of the world."

The revival will continue through this week and next week. The public is cordially invited by the membership of the First Baptist church to attend and lend its support to the services.

SAYS KILLING OF MASSES IS NOT UNLIKELY

"War always has been an evil, but only now has it become intolerable," declared women of the First Methodist church when they held circle meetings Monday afternoon. They pointed out that if another war were held—and that it was very likely—it would be much more terrible than any known in the past. It would, they agreed, take a flotilla of only 20 or 30 airplanes to asphyxiate all London.

It was said another war would be a tragedy not only because of mass killing but because of the tremendous cost of war and because of the interdependence of countries.

Means of settling disputes without war—arbitration and conciliation—will be studied at the next circle meetings.

BLOUSES HAVE NEW DESIGNS; TAFFETA GOOD

By DIANA MERWIN
(Associated Press Fashion Editor)

PARIS, Oct. 6.—Blouses are affairs of importance in the fall and winter mode.

Designs are more varied than they have been in many seasons. Simple street suits, furied tailleur and formal afternoon ensembles all complete their chic with a blouse designed to harmonize with both color and contour of the costume.

Fabrics vary from knitted wools to gold brocades, while lengths range all the way from two-inches below the waistline to the knee.

The newest note for the tailored suit is a taffeta waist designed along the old-fashioned lines worn in the mauve decade. Pale-tinted and bright paid taffetas are made in the ship-waist, puff-sleeved designs reminiscent of the days of Queen Victoria.

The blouses which accompany the formal velvet ensemble for tea-time wear are of dull satin in rich tones of Persian red, green or blue or of gold or silver lane.

Sports and traveling suits complete their chic with knitted wool blouses finished with a purled band at the waistline.

Mexico Mourns for Dwight Morrow

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 6. (AP)—Mexico mourned Dwight W. Morrow today as a diplomat, a student of human nature, and above all as a friend.

The news of his death brought expressions of regret from Mexicans in all walks of life. The embassy was visited by a steady line of persons coming to present their condolences. Telephone calls and telegrams of condolence poured in from the city, and other parts of the country.

Highly esteemed for his ability, sincerity, and rare understanding of Mexicans and their problems, demonstrated during his term as American ambassador, Mr. Morrow was unanimously referred to as one of Mexico's greatest friends.

The senate held a special session to draw up a note of regret to the American senate. General Plutarco E. Calles, whose friendship with the late senator was one of the features of Mr. Morrow's three years in Mexico, telephoned the embassy from his ranch near Monterrey.

President Ortiz Rubio and Mrs. Ortiz Rubio wired their regrets and sympathy to Mrs. Morrow. Ambassador J. Reuben Clark said that in his death the United States had lost a great spirit and Mexico an understanding and sympathetic friend. The embassy flag was lowered to half mast.

Howe Will Pick Cotton in County

A number of Pampa baseball fans are going to write Gene Howe, better known as the Tactless Texan and one of the bosses at the Amarillo NEWS-GLOBE, inviting him to come to Gray county to pick the cotton he is going to have to pick after the Pampa Harvesters-Amarrillo Sleds football game.

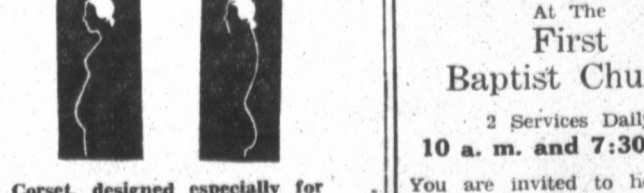

The Tactless one wagered Henry Ansley, farm and geologist in the paper, two to one that the Sandies would beat the Harvesters here Oct. 17 and Henry took the wager, which was the picking of 100 pounds of cotton to 50 pounds.

Fans are behind Ansley 100 per cent following his write-up of the Pampa-Wichita game here last Saturday. Ansley gave the Harvesters a real break in his story and when Howe comes to pick the cotton Ansley will be royally honored, fans declare.

Hollywood Sights Sounds

By ROBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—How to present certain scenes adequately for audience appreciation without conflicting with the varying objections of censors in different states in an old movie problem aggravated by the talkies.

In certain states where censorial shears are wielded more freely than in others, many of Hollywood's talkies have reached the screen with whole sequences deleted. Often the continuity was broken and the story botched.

Lowell Sherman, directing and acting in one of Broadway's spiciest hits, may have found a solution.

The screen version of "The Greeks Had a Word for It" necessarily has been somewhat expurgated as well as considerably strengthened in plot structure by Sidney Howard. And certain broad scenes which passed in the stage play are being presented delicately, yes, very delicately, through the old movie expedient suggestion.

Satisfying The Censors.
But—and here's the novel idea—some of the scenes are being photographed two or three times, to meet the varying degrees of "suggestion" Sherman believes the censors in various sections are prepared to accept.

That is, he will shoot them once as he believes they should be taken for best artistic and dramatic effect, and again as he believes the sterner censors would prefer.

Thus the "right" version, as Sherman would have it, will be shown in the states where censorship is more liberal, but in other states the picture, through the use of the substitute scenes, will be saved from ruthless hacking.

Young Stars in Film
The cast of "The Greeks" includes, besides Ina Claire and Sherman, two young actresses who have risen rapidly. Madge Evans and Joan Blondell.

In the pictures Miss Evans has made her place secure, while Miss Blondell, who has another wisecracking role, would still be good even if she weren't a Wampus "baby star."

MRS. GRUNDY IS CHOSEN AS SPEAKER HERE

Members of the First Baptist Woman's Missionary society meeting at the church Monday afternoon, voted to invite Mrs. D. A. Grundy of Memphis, their district president, to be principal speaker at a luncheon and missionary program to be held Oct. 19.

The meeting was opened with a song, Work for the Night Is Coming, and prayer by Mrs. R. W. Tucker. Mrs. F. E. Hoffman, president, led the devotional.

Yearbooks, prepared by Mrs. L. H. Greene, Mrs. F. Ewing Leech, and Mrs. J. Powell Wehring, were given the group. The books contain watchwords, objects, general officers, committees, auxiliary leaders, circle officers and committees, places for meetings, the W. M. S. budget, and a schedule of giving. The books are for a period of three months.

During circle and committee reports it was brought out that more than 300 cans of food were canned for the Welfare Board during September.

Raskob to Give Dinner for Fifty Party Leaders

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP)—John J. Raskob has invited 50 prominent democrats to a private dinner next Tuesday to find a way to pay off the party's indebtedness and to finance next year's campaign for the presidency.

The democratic national chairman hopes to raise $1,500,000, representing the party's deficit, before 1932, and another $6,000,000 for use of the national organization.

The indebtedness report of the democratic national committee filled with the house of representatives shows that the New York County Trust company holds a note for $422,900, and Mr. Raskob a personal note for $355,250.

The plan is to get a dozen $50,000 donations to start the campaign. Many democratic leaders have expressed doubt at the wisdom of such a campaign at this time.

Bakers Launch Economic Plans

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 6. (AP)—America's bankers today launched an assault on the nation's economic problems.

Criticizing critics of the banking structure and pleading for a perspective picture of a serious situation, the economic policy commission of the American Bankers' association presented its report to the first general session of the association's convention.

The report is not voted on by the convention but the bankers take it to represent the views of financial men and regard it as particularly important at this time.

RE BIRDS OF MISSOURI SETTING NEW SERIES RECORDS

ATHLETICS IN DILEMMA AS ACES FALTER

Earnshaw, If He Loses To Down Way Under Par. day, Will Let Champs

By Edward J. Neil
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6. (AP)—For the first time in five years, the National league, represented by the St. Louis Cardinals, held a world series advantage today over the champions of the American league.

In as many ways as the situation could be diagnosed, those surprising Red Birds of Missouri hit the Philadelphia Athletics, world champions for two straight years, on the run. They lead in the series, two games to one, the first time a National league club has done that since the Cards of 1926 took two of the first three games from the New York Yankees and finally won the series four games to three. They have beaten Connie Mack's great pitching duo, Lefty Grove and George Earnshaw in successive games, they have all the better of pitching strength, strategic position, psychology and greatest of all, winning impetus.

Today the veteran pilot, Connie Mack, seeking his third straight world championship and the fifth series title in a row for the American league, faced a situation which was truly desperate.

Against the charge of the Cardinals, rising with power and savagery, he had but one bulwark to throw up against them—"Big Jere" Earnshaw. If the Red Birds can beat the great righthander as they did in the second game, then there is not a baseball man in this time of series excitement and conjecture who will concede the A's the slightest chance of catching St. Louis in the final three games.

The ancient Mack, silent as ever, and showing more and more of his 68 years as he watches the breakdown of the machine the baseball world hailed as invincible only a week ago, was faced today with the problem of making quick and drastic repairs before it was all together too late. Silent as ever, Mack had nothing to say of his pitching prospects for the fourth game today. It might be that he had decided to gamble on Earnshaw. The critics thought he had. But there was also a basis to the prediction that Rube Walberg, the southpaw who won 20 games for Connie Mack through the past American league season, would try his luck against the clouting Cards today with Earnshaw held in reserve for a final do-or-die effort if it is necessary tomorrow.

TEXAS TO BE IN FINE FORM ON SATURDAY

Rice Eleven Also to Put Powerful Outfit Into Important Game.

By The Associated Press
Having accumulated 67½ points in two games, while holding their opponents scoreless, the University of Texas will have an uncrossed goal line at the start of the game Saturday against Rice. It will be the first conference game this fall for both teams.

Determined to be at the top for the invasion of Elbe, Texas started this week's practice with heavy work. The only light drill will be Friday when the Longhorns taper off. Jack Sparks, end and Captain Baumgarten suffered strained leg ligaments in the Missouri game but are expected to be ready for the Rice fray.

Rice returned from Oklahoma late Sunday and returned to routine practice yesterday. Bert Mueller, ace halfback who failed to make the Oklahoma trip because of injuries, is expected to play against Texas.

Southern Methodist and University of Arkansas started preparations yesterday for their game Saturday in Fayetteville. Although both won warm-up games last week, they were sent through hard practice sessions yesterday and were in for more today. Arkansas held scrimmage against the freshman team. S. M. U. spent most of the day on blocking and tackling and concluded with a light scrimmage against the freshman team.

Light practice yesterday, but harder work the rest of the week was announced from the camps of Texas A. and M., Baylor, and Texas Christian. Texas A. and M. meets the University of Iowa Saturday in Dallas. Baylor plays Centenary in Shreveport, and T. C. U. battles Austin college in Fort Worth. All escaped from last week games minus serious injuries, and should be at their best this week-end.

The Notre Dame "system," as a result of Knute Rockne's death, will be watched with special interest this year. Those who follow the trends and styles of the gridiron, will be curious to see whether any new variations will be forthcoming at South Bend under the new regime of Harper, Anderson Chevigny.

The "system," so-called, has gone through a continual process of development ever since its fundamentals were established by Harper in 1931. Rockne, in the presence of A. A. Stagg, once remarked: "Jesse Harper put on the basis of the Notre Dame shift 20 years ago from a plan he learned from Coach Stagg."

The evolution of the "system" is described in interesting detail by Charles W. Bachman, University of Florida coach, for Maj. John L. Griffith's "Athletic Journal." Bachman was a freshman at Notre Dame in 1931, the year Harper came there from Wabash college.

"It was the first year Notre Dame adopted the Western conference rules which have since been followed," Bachman writes.

"It was the first year of large inter-sectional games and it was one of the most successful seasons Notre Dame ever enjoyed, as they had one of their all-victorious teams. Rockne was captain in this 1931 team.

Shift Vs. Rules
The three formations with which Harper started the season of 1931 were an open punt formation, a close punt formation and a shift formation. The last was a ten-man shift with the center one the line, six linemen one yard back of the line and the backfield in a T formation.

"This type of shift was used up until about the middle of the season, when the line shift was eliminated with the exception of a slight outward movement of the ends to flank the tackles. . . . From about the middle of the 1915 campaign the shift became our chief stock in trade.

"In 1917 the double shift of the backfield was added. About 1920 the deceptive shift of the quarter-

GRIMES GETS PRAISE FROM OVER NATION

Protects His Syndicate But Can't Keep Off Baseball Subject.

By Gayle Talbot
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6. (AP)—He's just an old syndicate writer, this Burleigh Grimes, but if you stick around long enough and talk baseball he'll unburden himself, sure as the world.

Last night this latest world series hero, clean shaven and immensely pleased with the world in general, moved from chair to chair in the lobby of the Cardinals' hotel and accepted congratulations from hundreds of milling fans and baseball men. They thought right well of that two-hit game the veteran had pitched against the Athletics, and, so, for that matter, did Grimes.

Telegrams were pouring in from every part of the country. They started coming in a few minutes after the last out had been made and they still were coming at intervals at a late hour. Grimes read each one with meticulous care and chuckled.

"I Can't Talk
"I'll tell you, boys," he said, when cornered by a bevy of correspondents, "I can't talk for publication. I'm giving my reactions to a syndicate, and it wouldn't be right. I've gotta play fair with my syndicate."

One may appreciate Mr. Grime's dilemma. It was a very delicate situation; a situation calling for tact.

"But Mr. Grimes, it surely would be all right for you to tell us how you felt about losing a no-hit game when it was right in your grasp. After all, a no-hit game would have been mighty fine, especially in a world series. What was it Bing Miller hit there in the eighth inning?"

Stack Out Bat
The veteran, still clean shaven,

SERIES NOTES

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6. (AP)—President Hoover made the only wild pitch of Monday's game. He tossed well beyond Mickle Cochran's reach in officially opening the play.

Pepper Martin, Cardinal flash, continued his hitting streak with two hits, one a double, out of four time at bat.

Connie Mack said Martin is making the Cardinals tough. Martin said "I'm just lucky, I guess."

Burleigh Grimes tossed 130 balls to win the game. Grove and Mahaffey threw 134. The assortment sent plateward by the Burleigh gent included 52 called balls, 30 called, or missed strikes, six outfield flies, three infield flies, 12 grounders, 25 fouls and two hits.

Jimmie Fox tried to duplicate his 1930 feat of parking one in the bleachers on the last ball thrown him yesterday. After eight scoreless innings in 1930 Grimes saw the game broker up with Fox-homer. Jimmie aimed at the bleachers yesterday but missed the ball.

pondered a moment.
"Well, it was a fast ball, right smack down the middle. All he had to do was to stick out his bat and hit it. I could have hit it myself."

Grimes, had he been a little more selfish of his own interests, might have gone down in the records as the first man in history to pitch a no-hit no-run game in the world series. But he didn't take a chance. He made Miller hit.

Although he announced he would be ready to take his regular turn again if the series goes back to St. Louis, Grimes had a bad looking little finger on his pitching hand. It received quite a lick when he knocked down a drive from Mule Haas' bat in the ninth inning. It was swollen last night and was to be X-rayed today for the possibility of a break.

Baseball Purse Is Goal Today in Chicago Tourney

CHICAGO, Oct. 6. (AP)—The sum of $7,421.62—the difference between the winners' and losers' pools in the Chicago baseball championship series—was the objective of the Cubs and White Sox in the final game today.

Captain Charlie Grimm of the Cubs shoved the National leaguers back into the race for the title yesterday and just in time. In the ninth, with the Sox leading by 2 to 1, and two men on, Grimm ramed out a double to give the Cubs 2-3 to 2 triumph and square the series at three victories each.

The other thrill of the game came in the second inning, when, after Vic Frasier, young Sox righthander, had walked Guy Bush, Cub hurler, Catcher Frank Grube attempted to slug Umpire George Hildebrand, to emphasize his disapproval over the decision. Grube was restrained by Manager Donie Bush and Coach Mike Kelley, and was ordered from the field.

Tommy Thomas for the Sox, and Pat Malone for the Cubs, were the pitching prospects.

Ship to Shore Plane in Crash

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 6. (AP)—The crash of a plane believed to be the ship-to-shore "New York" carrying mail from the liner Bremen was reported today by William Faulkner, light keeper at Bur Coat.

Whizzing along in the darkness, the craft was heard to come down heavily on Cobiquid bay. An explosion followed and cries echoed over the bay, but when Faulkner and other rescuers rowed out on to the bay, they could find no trace of men or plane.

CONOCO

CONOCO GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL

— is Worth its Weight in Gold to Any Motorist!

It's not the mileage your speedometer shows that makes your car wear out quickly, lose power and need costly repairs. It's motor wear, caused by friction, that does it! And almost half of all this motor wear occurs while you're starting. Cut down starting wear and you'll give your motor longer life.

That's just what the "hidden quart" of Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil does! It stays up in your motor and never drains away and thus cuts down starting wear! Ordinary oils drain away, leaving working parts unprotected until oil is pumped from the crankcase through the motor, which takes several minutes. Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil penetrates and combines with metal surfaces of working parts, stays there and never drains away. The "hidden quart" safely lubricates every cylinder, piston and bearing the instant you touch the starter.

GUILTY LIPS

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of "MAD MARRIAGE" ©1931 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Pretty Norma Kent, 20-year-old secretary, marries Mark Travers, son of F. M. Travers, millionaire real estate dealer, in spite of the father's threats to disinherit Mark.

The story opens in Marlboro, mid-western metropolis. Mark sells his expensive roadster to get money for the honeymoon and he and Norma go to fashionable Blue Springs.

After two weeks their honeymoon is gone, partly due to Mark's gambling. With $500, borrowed, the couple return to Marlboro. Mark sets out on a round of pleasure seeking instead of seeking work.

When their funds dwindle again he and Norma move to a cheap apartment. Mark gets one job—and loses it. Then he becomes a floorwalker in Blossomdale's department store.

In spite of poverty the young couple are happy. After a few weeks Mark's father sends for him, offers to take him back into his business organization if Mark will prove he can make good.

His first task involves a business trip to France. Norma is to remain at home. She begs him not to go but in spite of her protests Mark departs.

Norma, treated rudely at her father-in-law's home, slips away leaving no trace of her whereabouts. She takes a room in a cheap lodging house. Mrs. Saunders, her former roommate, helps Norma find as job as secretary for Frederick Stuart, literary agent.

The days drag slowly for Norma. Detectives whom Travers has employed find Norma's name and photograph in police files.

Now GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXIV
There were three men around the desk. F. M. Travers was hunched forward, arms folded and resting on them.

His face was ruddy, his chin set and determined. They were in Travers' office. The man at his right would have been recognized in any legal gathering in the city.

Kelsey McCormick, chief counsel for several important corporations, including the Travers real estate organization. Facing both of the others was Stanley Cromwell.

Several sheets of paper were spread before them. Travers glanced at the sheets, then shrugged distastefully. The picture of Norma Travers came to view and he reached forward and turned it face down.

"It's—it's more than I expected!" he said thickly. Neither of the others spoke. Travers turned to Cromwell.

"There's no doubt about the authenticity of this thing?" he demanded. "Oh, absolutely none! That's a copy from the files at headquarters. Picture. Fingerprints. Everything. You can see for yourself it's the same girl. Three years ago, under the name of Norma Kent, she was sent to Mount Florence Home.

Served her two months and was released. There's nothing against her but this one charge—and conviction." Kelsey McCormick put in, "It's enough to give your son a divorce, F. M. No doubt about it. As good in a French court as it would be here."

Travers eyes glistened. "That's it!" he exclaimed. "Divorce! By God, the young whipper-snapper will believe me now! He can't deny what's before his eyes. Oh, but it's dirty business. Vice charge! Why didn't I guess? Why didn't I have him locked up in a mad house?"

The other men watching him grew uncomfortable. Cromwell said, "If you want anything further you might get in touch with Hollis Stone. Understand he's a relative of yours. Stone was the girl's lawyer."

"Her lawyer? She's not entitled —oh, I see! You mean about this thing here. Hollis Stone, eh?"

He pressed an electric button while he was speaking and a dark-haired young woman appeared in the door.

"See if you can get Hollis Stone for me," Travers instructed her. "Rush the call. It's important."

As he turned from giving these instructions he said to McCormick, "You've got to plan this thing. There's got to be no slip-up! By God, when I think of it!"

McCormick began speaking. His voice was lower pitched, controlled, Stanley Cromwell leaned back in his chair, his eyes closely fixed on the lawyer's.

They were still together an hour later when there was a knock on the door and Travers' secretary reappeared. "Mr. Stone is here," she announced.

"Tell him to come in."

Almost immediately a slim, well-dressed man appeared in the doorway. He glanced at the group about the desk, pulled the door shut behind him and came forward.

"How do you do," Stone said shortly. "How're you?" This last, with a nod implying more personal interest, was addressed to Travers. "Understand there's something you want to see me about?"

"How are you, Hollis?" Travers said. "Glad you could get here. Have this chair over here." He waved toward a fourth seat a little distant from the others.

When Stone was seated the older man turned toward McCormick. "Tell him what it's about, will you?" he said.

Kelsey McCormick cleared his throat. "You know, Mr. Stone," he began, "that Mark Travers a few months ago contracted a rather—unfortunate marriage. It was after a quarrel with his father. A head-strong, impulsive thing to do. They soon spent their money and Mark went to work in a department store.

Several weeks ago his father offered to take him back in his own business if Mark would show he could make good. He went to Paris on a mission that is—er—likely to demand his presence for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Travers took the girl into their own home but she ran away.

"Through efforts of Mr. Cromwell's agency" (a wave toward Cromwell here) "she was soon located. A further investigation on Mr. Cromwell's part uncovered the fact that this girl, Norma Kent—er—Norma Travers as she is known now—three years ago was arrested and convicted on a vice charge and that you were her lawyer. We have here the police report."

Hollis Stone was on his feet. "But she was innocent!" he exclaimed. "Look here, I don't know what you're driving at but that girl was innocent!"

"Innocent?" Travers exploded. "Why was she convicted then? Why did she serve two months at Mount Florence Home?"

Stone leaned forward. "The whole thing was a frame-up," he insisted. "Every scrap of evidence they had against her. Why she was 17 years old! She'd only been in town three weeks! One of these ghouls of stool-pigeons took her to an East Side place she thought was a restaurant. The girl hadn't any idea she was getting into—"

F. M. Travers had arisen. "Look here, Stone," he said coldly. "It seems to me the time for you to have tried this case was three years ago. If it was framed, if the evidence was full of holes, why wasn't she released?"

"Because you know as well as I do that the municipal judgeships are rotten! Because she happened to employ me as her lawyer instead of one of those great court hangers-on who split fees!"

Travers' face was livid. Before he could speak Kelsey McCormick had raised a hand. "Gentlemen! Gentlemen!" he said. "This is no place for accusations against the municipal judiciary. We called you here, Mr. Stone, to make certain a few particulars in the case. It is laudable for you to defend your client but surely such an outburst is unwarranted! As a lawyer in good standing—"

Stone interrupted him. "I am not that," he said. "I gave up my practice six months ago and for exactly the reasons I've stated. Because I know Marlboro's courts are rotten with bribery. Because Norma Kent's case is only one of a dozen others I could name. You may be an officer of the Bar Association, McCormick, but if you don't know these things as well as I do you've been going around with your eyes shut!"

There was a hush. McCormick said, "Business and Professional Directory" Picture Framing

Highest Courts in Texas Open Again

AUSTIN, Oct. 6. (AP)—The Supreme court and Court of Criminal Appeals Monday opened their fall and winter terms, after the usual summer recess.

The Supreme court handed down one decision denying application of the state for leave to file an application for mandamus in a case against J. C. Epperson and others, involving a contract for collection of delinquent taxes in Hidalgo county.

The criminal appeals court recessed until Wednesday when it will begin work.

Although as far as public proceedings were concerned the courts were in vacation, members of the tribunals were at work on pending cases during much of the time.

since you came here, isn't it? It must be important!"

"For me?" Norma was studying the address on the envelope. It was her name all right. Mailed here in Marlboro. Three little wrinkles creased the girl's brow.

"Aren't you going to open it?" Obviously the landlady was waiting to share the news.

Norma turned and tossed the letter on the bed. "Oh, yes," she said, "I'll open it after while. Thank you for bringing it up, Mrs. Bixby."

"Well—good night." The landlady disappeared, disappointment written sharply across her face.

Norma sat down and then picked up the letter. She held it for several moments. Slowly she tore the end from the envelope and drew out the folded sheet.

Parley Is Failure In Shipping Strike

GALVESTON, Oct. 6. (AP)—Round table conferences between striking longshoremen's leaders and shippers Monday resulted in virtual abandonment of hopes for early settlement of their wage controversy and an announcement by steamship interests they no longer intend to make contracts with existing unions.

While special police patrolled the wharf to prevent interference, non-union laborers, numbering about 180, were pressed into service and work of loading boats resumed. No attempt at interference was made by the 1,200 union men who walked off their jobs Sept. 30 as protest against proposed decreased wages.

At Corpus Christi two union workers were arrested for an alleged attempted attack on a non-union man. They were charged with disturbing the peace.

Shippers sought a compromise today, offering a slightly revised schedule, but it was rejected. Longshoremen likewise suggested a compromise. The inexperienced non-union workers made slow progress at loading and many fainted in the hold of a ship loading wheat.

Washington Plans Fitting Praise for Herndon and Pangborn Effort

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (AP)—Out of the horrors of their historic non-stop flight across the Pacific came affluence, praise and rest today for Clyde Pangborn and Hubert Herndon Jr.

Washington and the state of Washington in general went to heretofore unheard-of pains to shower two aviators with comfort. Townspeople forgot about the depression and raised a purse of $500 to provide the fliers spending money.

Pangborn and Herndon were without a cent when they landed here yesterday morning to complete their 4,977 mile flight from Samushiro Beach, Japan. Before the first cheers had died away, a representative of the Tokyo newspaper Asahi handed them an order entitling them to $25,000—prize money which long had been posted by that periodical for the first non-stop airplane flight between Japan and the United States.

But the $25,000 order didn't provide any immediate spending money and the collection was taken up to take care of that situation.

Wenatchee staged a spontaneous celebration. From its 15,000 persons, about 10,000 collected to make the fliers welcome.

This morning the fliers were allowed to sleep late, but were called on to go to a neighboring town for a luncheon and a community banquet.

Behind all the felicity, however, there was the indelible memory of what might have happened had they not outflown the hazards that beset them.

Herndon said he and his companion expected to remain here about a week.

Informed Co. W. E. Easterwood of Dallas, Texas, would not pay them $25,000 for continuing the flight to Texas, as they had hoped, they tentatively planned to fly to New York, with several stops en route.

Young Man Will Face Mask Law

TEXARKANA, Oct. 6. (AP)—Cass county officers left Linden last night for Shreveport to return William Sullivan, 21, to Texas to face indictments charging assault to murder and violation of the anti-mask law.

The Cass county grand jury indicted Sullivan yesterday.

He was the lone survivor of a group of men who allegedly kidnaped J. H. Boyd, gasoline station operator, near Atlanta. Hardy Lues, Earlton Sullivan, and William Fish were slain and William Sullivan wounded by Boyd. The filling station operator was wounded in the arm.

He was exonerated of blame in the shooting.

LIQUOR CACHES NEAR LAND OF U. S. SECRETARY

SCITUATE, Mass., Oct. 6. (AP)—Three Boston men who cached 600 cases of liquor in a barn near the summer estate of Charles Francis Adams, secretary of the navy, were freed last night in $2,500 bail each.

First reports that the barn was on the Adams estate were corrected later by police and coastguards.

The barn was on land close to the border of the secretary's land. Police made the raid early yesterday after several automobiles passing to and from the direction of the barn had aroused their suspicions. The liquor was valued at about $50,000. Shores near the Adams property have been used as a landing place for liquor previously.

German Minister To Quit His Post

BERLIN, Oct. 6. (AP)—Foreign Minister Julius Curtius, whose policies have been the center of repeated political storms, today submitted his resignation to Chancellor Bruening. Official circles understood it would be accepted.

In his letter to the chancellor, he said:

"In a conversation we had the day after my return from Geneva I made clear to you that without regard for the parliamentary situation I wanted to resign from the government. I now deem it in every way imperative that the question of my retirement be cleared up. I therefore beg you to recommend to the Reich president my discharge."

His withdrawal was considered as a removal of one of the difficult obstacles facing Chancellor Bruening in obtaining the parliamentary support the government will need when the Reichstag convenes Oct. 13.

With the social democrats restless over wage reductions, the continual outbursts of dissatisfaction with Curtius from parties supporting the government made the cabinet's position acutely embarrassing.

Herr Curtius's successor is at present problematical, although Baron von Neurath, ambassador to London, has been prominently mentioned.

Herr Curtius succeeded the late Gustave Stresemann, his political father, as foreign minister in the cabinet of Herman Mueller in October of 1929.

Society Matron Hunts Daughter After Elopement

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6. (AP)—Convicted that her 30-year-old daughter, bride of a 21-year-old Los Angeles soda dispenser, is sojourning in Honolulu, Mrs. Laura Landon, Alhambra society matron, made efforts yesterday to locate the couple there.

She had requested aid of authorities in locating her daughter, the former Mrs. Future Williams of Pine Bluff, Ark., expressing some concern for the latter's welfare because she left home with about $40,000 several weeks ago without leaving any word.

Friends of the young bridegroom identified today by Mrs. Landon as Lee Roy Herndon, formerly of Wichita Falls, Texas, have received letters from him, the last from Honolulu, the mother said. She expressed wonder as to why the couple, if they are safe, had not communicated with her. The same view was expressed by Mrs. Lela Herndon, mother of the bridegroom, who came here from Wichita Falls shortly after the couple left.

"They didn't have to run away," Mrs. Landon said. "Future had plenty of money for them and Lee Roy seemed content to work in the soda fountain. I have learned that Future has withdrawn her $3,500 bank account from Pine Bluff by wire. That was when a $30,000 life insurance policy, carried on Future's first husband, Dr. Harry E. Williams of Pine Bluff, was cashed recently."

Great Men of World in Praise of Morrow, Delightful Personality

By the Associated Press
Statesmen, diplomats, and leaders in finance, business and education have spoken as with one voice in expressing their grief at the death of Sen. Dwight P. Morrow and in paying tribute to his character and achievements.

President Hoover: "His loyal and generous character as a neighbor and a friend, his public spirit as a citizen, his services during the war, his accomplishments as ambassador to Mexico, his unique contribution to the success of the London naval conference—all are the record of that sort of an American who makes our country great."

Prime Minister MacDonald: "I am greatly grieved by the loss of one whom I have long regarded as a most delightful personality and a much valued friend."

Ambassador Charles G. Dawes: "We shall not see his like again. To him the multitude came for help and guidance and no one was ever turned away. He gave his strength to the weak, his substance to the poor, his sympathy to the suffering."

Governor Roosevelt: "It is a misfortune for the state of New Jersey and for the United States senate the life of Mr. Morrow has come to an end at the height of its usefulness."

Ambassador Walter E. Edge: "His capacity to absorb and solve involved problems, especially of an international nature, had made him most sought after in the public life of his day."

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university: "He was outstanding for intelligence, fair mindedness, and courage."
Alfred E. Smith: "The death of Dwight W. Morrow comes as a great shock. It is a distinct loss to the country and the passing of a strong and vigorous character from American public life."
J. P. Morgan, when advised of Mr. Morrow's death at his country home at Alderman, Hertfordshire, made no comment.

Nineteen Wells Are Making Salt Water

KILGORE, Oct. 6. (AP)—Nineteen oil wells along a 60-mile front running north and south at the extreme limits of the East Texas field have been found to contain salt water.

Gen. Jacob F. Wolters issued a verifying statement yesterday after a conference with railroad commission engineers, geologists, and deputy supervisors. The amount of salt water in the wells was said to run as high as 15 per cent.

In the meantime, production in the field continued to increase. General Wolters announced production in the field from 2,192 wells ran 405,883 barrels Sunday.

Second Amarilloan Victim of Poison

AMARILLO, Oct. 6. (AP)—Food poisoning, yet to be diagnosed, took its second life in the J. H. Grider home yesterday.

Roy Grider, 20-months-old, died yesterday. His twin brother, Ray, died Saturday. The twins and their mother were taken ill last Sunday after eating food prepared at home. Physicians said they did not understand the cases.

Edison Brighter But Diseases Sap Vitality Slowly

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 6. (AP)—A complication of diseases continued today to drain the strength of Thomas Alva Edison, whose 1,300 inventions have won him the title of "wizard of Menlo park."

His personal physician, Dr. Hubert S. Howe, held little or no hope that the 84-year-old inventor would fight off the effects of diabetes, Bright's disease, uremic poisoning, and a stomach ailment believed to be gastric ulcers, none of which, the doctor said, had caused Mr. Edison pain.

The physician said he did not believe Mr. Edison's condition was immediately "critical" but disclosed that his strength was ebbing slowly before the advance of uremic poisoning.

Mr. Edison showed some improvement yesterday. His heart beat was stronger, his circulation was better and his spirits brighter than they had been during the week-end.

Dwight Morrow Had Faculty for Forgetting Thing Not Necessary

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (AP)—To remember all things necessary and forget those which were not was the rule upon which Dwight Whitney Morrow built successes in all he attempted.

He ignored formality. Kings and chiefs of state have waited while he stopped another moment to settle a troublesome question. In working he was indefatigable. Every piece he undertook received his entire time. Other questions waited. He was restless in all efforts at recreation and play. Although he enjoyed reading, he seldom took time for it.

One of the most outstanding works in his career was that on the drafting of the London naval treaty. He accomplished in three days that for which diplomatic niceties would have required three weeks. In the midst of the first drafting session, his foreign co-workers remarked it was lunch time.

"Lunch time?" Morrow asked. "There will be no lunch time until we finish this treaty."

The other delegates assented and worked the rest of the day, leaving the room exhausted. Mr. Morrow worked far into the night without food, and continued for three days working 30 hours a day in order that the document be finished.

His reputation as a diplomat was spread throughout the world. Of some 30 foreign delegates received by King George, Mr. Morrow was the only one with whom the king took time to talk.

His desk often was in disorder, but weeks afterward he would remember where he had placed a certain valuable paper. Secretary Stimson, who often called the senator for advice, is meticulous about his desk and would always assign the senator a separate table for his papers, telling him he could "spread them out" as he wanted.

You purchase shoes, fruit and candy. You call for cigarettes.

It's like this: WHEN YOU GO TO BUY A PAIR OF SHOES, you examine the leather, the way the shoes are made, their shape. You try them to see if they fit—if they satisfy you.

Why not follow the same method in purchasing your cigarettes? You want cigarettes that are made from the very best tobacco—mild, ripe, sweet. You want them made right. You want them free from harshness and bite and "pinches." In other words, you want cigarettes that satisfy you.

WHEN YOU GO TO BUY FRUIT—oranges, grapefruit, apples—you want ripe fruit, fruit that has matured before being taken from the tree; fruit that has been handled right and packed right; fruit that's the same throughout—not green on one side and ripe on the other.

Why not apply the same test in purchasing your cigarettes? You want cigarettes made from tobaccos handled right by the farmer—ripened, sweetened in the sun and cured right. You want cigarettes that taste the same, day in and day out. You want them pleasing in taste—mild and satisfying.

WHEN YOU BUY CANDY, you want to know, above all things, that it is pure. Is it real candy or are there a lot of other things mixed in with it? And you want it fresh. You want it freshly made and you want it so packed as to reach you just as it was when it was made.

Why not apply the same test when you buy your cigarettes? You want a cigarette that's pure; for purity counts in cigarettes just as it does in candy. Then again, you want a cigarette that's just as fresh as when it was made.

Now, if you apply to cigarettes all the tests that you apply in buying shoes and fruit and candy you will purchase CHESTERFIELD like millions of other smokers.

First, because tobacco men will tell you that in Turkey, Kentucky, Georgia, the Carolinas, Virginia, and Maryland, only the mildest, ripest tobacco is bought for CHESTERFIELD—tobacco cured by the sun's pure rays, by the farmers' slow-burning ovens, and finally by great high-pressure steam drying machines. In the tobacco regions where they grow tobacco and know tobacco, CHESTERFIELD is usually the leading seller.

Second, because the carefully selected CHESTERFIELD tobacco leaves are blended and cross-blended. This exclusive CHESTERFIELD blending method is not just mixing together different tobaccos—it is mixing them in such a way as to bring out the finer qualities of each. It's like producing a new and better type of tobacco—tobacco with greater mildness, more smoothness, much better taste.

Third, because the cigarette paper is selected with the same care. CHESTERFIELD paper is the purest, the best that money can buy. Then the cigarettes are made and packed by machinery in clean, sanitary factories. And the moisture-proof, attractive package—free from heavy inks or inky odor—comes to you just as if you passed the factory in the morning and took your CHESTERFIELDS from the machine.

Good . . . they've got to be good.
