

Light Crust Doughboys Called Most Popular String Band In Southwest

"The Light Crust Doughboys are on the air," a slogan that has become well known over a period of nine years continuous broadcasting over the Southwest's most powerful network and under the same sponsorship of one large milling organization.

Accepted as the most colorful and popular string band in the Southwest and possibly in the nation, the Light Crust Doughboys, who will appear in person at the Top O' Texas Fiesta, June 13 and 14, are a unique troupe, noted for their individuality and versatile entertainment which affords you a true impression of cordial Western atmosphere and the style of music so particularly adapted to this section of the country.

Led by tall, handsome and genial Parker Wilson, who arranges, directs and conducts their radio programs and numerous personal appearance tours, the troupe is known far and wide and hob nob with famous citizenry and screen notables from east to west. When appearance tours are scheduled, there's no last minute arrangements for transportation because their sponsor has provided them with a mammoth streamlined, custom-built sound truck, air conditioned and equipped with the latest sound installation.

While their radio and appearance tours have attained wide-spread recognition, recordings of their popular numbers have also done much to enhance their fame and to reach the most remote parts where the air waves of the network do not penetrate. A bit of movie fame is another contribution to their versatility, having appeared in two Hollywood produced movies with Gene Autry, the singing star of Western thrillers.

One of the more meritorious recognitions of the Doughboys ability was their official appointment in 1936 by Governor Allred of Texas as good will ambassadors to the West Coast for the Texas Centennial.

Yes, when screen notables tour to Texas, you can almost bet your bottom dollar that amiable Parker Wilson will have collared them for an interview on one of his noontime broadcasts. Some of the more notable screen biggies who have appeared as guest artists on their program are: Gary Cooper, Bob Hope, Mary Martin, Edward Arnold, Charlie Ruggles, Walter Brennan, Edward Everett Horton, Gene Autry, and Samuel Goldwyn.

All in all, you can't find a more congenial and likeable bunch of fellows banded together than this intangible group, nine of them originally and now enriched by a newly acquired feminine member in the person of Dolores Jo, a star singer and sweetheart of the band who has just turned 12. Perhaps the amiability of always smiling Parker Wilson could be the primary reason—and, too, all of these boys come from the land noted for genuine friendliness and true western hospitality. Although each one is an accomplished artist in his own right, there's not a touch of temperament to be found in the band of the land where "The Light Crust Doughboys are on the air."

Miss Ursula McCarty New School Nurse

Miss Ursula McCarty of Pampa is the new Pampa school nurse appointed by the board Monday night. It was incorrectly stated yesterday that Mrs. Jewell McCarty of LeFors had been appointed.

Miss McCarty has been a resident of Pampa for five years and at present it is in the office of Dr. Overton and Howze. She is a graduate of the Border-McGregor School of Nursing at Mangum, Okla. She has done work at the University of Texas toward a bachelor of science degree in nursing education.

She will begin her new duties on Sept. 1.

AMATEURS WILL RIDE IN RODEO FRIDAY, SATURDAY

Amateur rodeo hands are scheduled to meet some salty animals in the Top O' Texas Folk Fiesta rodeo to be presented Friday and Saturday at Recreation park. The rodeo performances will begin at 2:30 o'clock each afternoon. Only amateur ranch hands will be allowed to compete in the rodeo which will include bulldozing, calf roping, bronc riding and steer riding. Monty Reger of Woodward, Okla., will be here to announce the rodeo and his two daughters will do trick riding and fancy roping.

It's All One Big Army, Says Uncle Sam To Soldiers

Uncle Sam frowns on localisms in his new army.

That may mean Texans will simply have to consider themselves as a part of the huge armed forces of the United States, but anyone knowing Texas, knows that no matter how the system works, you can take a boy out of Texas into the army, but you can't take Texas out of a Texan.

There's something about the Lone Star state that stands out like a field of bluebonnets beside a river, and who doubts that Texas pride will be bound by iron military discipline to the extent that Texans will forget their state.

Anyhow, Uncle Sam is trying a scheme so that amalgamation of the new army may be accomplished as rapidly as possible.

Here's how it works: Men inducted by local boards go first to reception centers where they are "processed," which includes interrogation, classification, issuance of clothing and preliminary instruction in the school of the soldier.

Should a request for so many men to fill up a given unit be received direct at that center, an inductee might find himself, if qualified, one of those chosen to fill such requisition, and thus, might go directly to a troop unit.

Otherwise, he would in due course go to the replacement center of his army, there to continue his training in training companies and regiments until such time he is needed as a replacement by a troop unit in the field.

Such training units are Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells, for infantry; Camp Wallace, Hitchcock, for coast artillery; Camp Huilen, Palacios, for anti-aircraft; and Fort Bliss, cavalry.

Oil Industry Tackles Problem Of Coordinating For Defense

By BEN FUNK
TULSA, Okla., June 11 (AP)—The $10,000,000,000 United States oil industry, producer of more than one-half of the world's petroleum supplies, has tackled the knotty problem of coordinating its efforts in the interest of national defense.

During the past week, one of the most momentous in the history of this rough and ready industry, these developments captured paramount interest:

1. Appointment of Ralph K. Davies, vice-president of the Standard Oil Company of California, as deputy to Secretary Harold L. Ickes, the new petroleum coordinator for national defense.

2. Efforts toward solution of the transportation "bottleneck" and the consequent shortage of oil supplies along the Atlantic coast caused by diversion of tankers to the British.

3. An impending federal investigation of recent oil and gasoline price increases throughout the nation.

The selection of Davies, a man popular in the industry as well as with the national administration cheered up oil men who were dubious about the appointment of a coordinator—President Roosevelt's first major step under his unlimited national emergency powers.

The choice of the Californian was taken by leaders of the oil business as an indication the new federal agency would function in complete cooperation with the industry itself. A group of oil men from throughout the country is expected to be named soon to serve with Ickes.

The transportation bottleneck—created when the federal government requisitioned 50 tankers carrying oil from Gulf ports to the Atlantic seaboard and turned them over to the British—continued to be the industry's most pressing problem.

About 98 per cent of the Atlantic coast area supply of oil and refined products had been arriving by water. Loss of the tanker transports created a shortage which was expected to lead to the proclamation of "gasless Sundays" in the East.

There were a number of possible solutions to the problem. One was the proposed diversion to the Gulf Coast-Atlantic seaboard service of tankers now engaged in carrying oil from South America to the United States.

In addition, there are about eight tankers of German, Danish, Italian, and French registry in United States ports which may be taken over by the government and placed in the coastal service.

Another solution was the construction of new pipe lines from the oil producing regions to the East. Such construction would be facilitated by passage of a bill now before congress giving pipe line companies and the government the right of eminent domain for the construction of such lines necessary to the national defense.

Previously, opposition from railroads and from various state legislatures has prevented the construction of some big pipe line projects. Since the congressional bill was introduced, nine large companies have pooled their resources and planned two $70,000,000 lines from the Southern producing areas to the East.

The Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply in Washington has postponed until July 1 enforcement of its request that crude oil and gasoline prices be reduced in California to the mid-May level.

The price inquiry had attracted intense interest throughout the industry. Officials decided to re-examine the records after producers testified recent price boosts were necessary to meet rising materials and operations costs.

In the field, The Oil and Gas Journal reported 594 completions during the week, compared with 644 in the previous week and 561 in the corresponding week of 1940.

Probably the most significant field development of the week was the discovery of Ellenburger oil in the old Electra field of North Texas. With Ellenburger production extending from Young county to the Red river and as far east as Cooke county, much activity is anticipated in the near future.

19 States And Foreign Country Represented In White Deer Census

Special To The NEWS

WHITE DEER, June 11—Almost exactly 50 per cent of the population of White Deer is native Texan, according to a poll taken for the Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta. Of the 103 persons about whom information was secured, 52 were born in Texas and have spent most of their lives in the Lone Star state.

The other 51 represent 18 states and one foreign country. Dr. Richard Falkenstein, who recently moved here from Colorado, came from Germany to the United States before the outbreak of the present war, and his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Siegfried Falkenstein, arrived here about an o'clock, from Berlin, by way of Portugal.

W. J. Haggerty and his daughter, Mildred, represent the most distant state, Pennsylvania.

No natives of the far west were found, although Harold Drummond, an Oklaian by birth, has lived in Colorado, Wyoming, and Utah; Mrs. Drummond, a Kansan, has lived in Utah; Mrs. J. W. Wells, a Texan, in Montana; C. B. Chunn, a Texan, in California; and M. W. Potet, in California, Oregon, and Washington.

Mr. Potet has lived in seven states and the Indian Territory, including Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, his native state, Mississippi, and the western states mentioned. He named the towns of Fox and Elk, Okla., and at one time served as a missionary to the Choctaw Indians. He first came to Texas in 1876.

L. F. Smith holds the distinction of having lived in eight states. Born in Missouri, he has for a time lived in Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, Illinois, Arkansas, and Texas.

Mrs. J. W. Wells has resided in the most widely separated states, Montana, Kentucky, and her native Texas.

Next to Texas, the "Show-Me" state is best represented in the poll, with six native sons and daughters: Mr. Smith, C. S. Lowary, Mrs. W. J. Stubblefield, and the three Lassiter children, Floyd, Montie Jo, and Dean.

Kansas, Illinois, and Virginia are next with five each: Kansas were Mrs. Drummond, Mrs. W. H. Haggerty, Mrs. John Skaggs, W. E. Moore, and Mrs. M. E. Ralston. Mrs. Ralston has pioneered in three states, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas. Her husband made the run into the Indian Territory and staked a claim, but another man beat him to the registry, so Mr. Ralston returned home. The Ralstons came to White Deer 25 years ago.

Representing the Old Dominion, Virginia, are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Evans; their son, Frank; Mrs. J. W. Everly; and Mrs. J. D. Edgar. From Illinois come W. M. Dittberner, Eddie Dittberner, Mayor A. J. Daur, Mrs. M. W. Potet, and Mrs. W. E. Moore.

From the deep south are Mrs. Doshia Anderson and J. W. Wells, Georgia; J. D. Edgar, Tennessee; Mrs. Harry Edeborough, Mrs. Mae Coffee, B. R. Weeks, and Mrs. Henry Hynds, Kentucky; Harve and John Skaggs, Alabama; and M. W. Potet and J. E. Smith, Mississippi.

Indian Territory is represented by Mrs. Frank Evans and Neal Edwards, and Oklahoma by Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Hess, for whose family the town of Hess was named; Mrs. Everett Williams, and Mrs. W. M. Dittberner. From the Sunshine state of New Mexico come Chester Nunn and Allen Stecker.

Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Clements and Miss Dona, Newton hail from Arkansas; and that the real mid-west might not be overlooked, Mrs. C. B. Chunn comes from Nebraska, and Mrs. Florence Lassiter from Iowa.

Among the native Texans are Harry Edeborough, who has been in business here continuously longer than any other person; G. B. Moss, a cowboy in Denton county during the earlier days; and W. J. Stubblefield, who has lived in the Panhandle since 1903 and in Carsen county since 1914.

Coleman and Celina are better represented than any other Texas towns, with Mr. Edeborough, Mrs. Harris Holmes, Evelyn and Iva Ruth Osborne, and Mrs. T. G. Brewton from Coleman; and Mrs. J. W. Wells, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Powers from Celina.

Dean Haggerty, White Deer, Irene Haggerty, White Deer, Mrs. J. A. Hutton, Hemphill, J. A. Hutton, Center, Lorena Hutton, Woodville, Elton Beene, Gilmer, Mrs. Elton Beene, Plainview, Irma Ray Smith, Ravenna, Mrs. B. R. Brownwood Catering To 76,000 Troops

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

CAMP BOWIE, Brownwood, June 11 (AP)—Bone-dry Brownwood, 10 months ago a quiet little college town of 13,000 souls, surrounded by cattle and sheep country, today is bustling, character-transformed city catering to 70,000 soldiers spread for miles about its boundaries. The soldiers, radiating in all directions from the greatest maneuvers ever held in Texas. Forty-five thousand of them are here for one week only, but Camp Bowie, on the edge of town, is the permanent base for the remainder—25,000.

Brownwood has this great camp, whose soldiers spend approximately $1,000,000 (million) a month with its merchants, because it is a city which sets its mind and gets results. Citizens with an eye to the benefits of an adjacent army reservation arranged to purchase the 2,798 acres of farm and grazing land which now constitute the site of Bowie.

They offered the area to army for a consideration of one dollar a year. The army looked over the place and accepted.

First off, when construction of the $19,000,000 camp started, 13,500 workers plopped a half million dol-ars into town every week. Then came the soldiers, whose payroll doubled that figure.

Brownwood's population also doubled.

Folks don't notice the roads and college boys any more. There are too many soldiers around.

Outside the maneuver periods, the men throng into town at night—thousands of them. They can't buy beer, for Brownwood long ago voted dry, but there are plenty of places where a soldier may take a girl and enjoy a pleasant evening.

There are few honky-tonks to gall civic pride. Practically all the dances palaces are respectable and the city has gotten behind a move to provide clean, acceptable entertainment for the enlisted men.

The federal government has a paid recreational director here to see that the boys are amused.

American transport planes were used by the British army in moving troops from India to Iraq, the British Press Service reports.

Cecil Will Give Democracy Speech

On Wednesday, June 11, nearly 400 radio stations will broadcast "Speak Up for Democracy" radio the seventh of a monthly series of appeals being sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. In this area the June 11 broadcast, dedicated to the 64th anniversary of Flag Day on June 14, will be heard over Radio Station KPDM at 4 p. m. with D. E. Cecil, member of Pampa Post No. 1637 as the speaker.

According to Commander J. G. Sturgeon, the June 11 broadcast will discuss the forces which threaten the basic Americanism principles symbolized by the flag.

"In this particular broadcast," declared Mr. Sturgeon, "we will tell our listeners why that little man with a mustache in Europe hopes to tear down Old Glory from every flag pole in our land. We will expose the tricks he is using in his ambition to substitute the crooked svastika for the Stars and Stripes because he knows he will never be able to make his dream of world conquest come true until he murders freedom everywhere."

Consumption of scrap iron and steel in the United States during the first four months of this year totaled 17,518,000 tons, nearly 6,000,000 more than in the same period of 1940.

Nearly half the states in the United States operate airplanes in connection with some governmental function.

The nation has about 6,500 draft boards.

NEWS ABOUT

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Offen and son Betty Lee of El Dorado, Kan., have arrived for the Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta, an annual visit for them. They are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Stark and family, also native Kansans.

Mr. and Mrs. Offen joined the Kansas society and assisted in financing the float on which their niece, Miss Willetta Stark, will ride as queen.

They are looking forward to meeting natives of Kansas now living in the Panhandle of Texas.

Mr. Offen is field superintendent for the K. G. and E. company of El Dorado.

To elect a queen, members of the Ohio society will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the district court room.

Members of the float committee, headed by Mrs. Mary Hunter, met yesterday and decided that the queen would ride on a huge Buckeye throne on the float in the Fiesta parades.

Officers of the Ohio society, elected at a meeting held Monday night are: Mrs. J. B. Townsend, president; Mrs. B. L. Hoover, vice-president; C. E. McPherson, Kokomo, F. C. St. John, Montpelier, Mrs. Frank St. John, Montpelier.

Mainly About People

Mr. and Mrs. Finis Jordan have as their guests this week Mrs. Jordan's sister, Mrs. S. R. Watson, and Dr. Watson of St. Louis. The couple is here for the Fiesta celebration. Mrs. Watson is a psychiatric social worker. After July 1, Dr. Watson will be assistant medical director at the Washington University in St. Louis.

Lost: White bird dog, Black spots on back, 4 weeks old, Ed Dumigan, 1206 Mary Ellen, (Adv.)

Mrs. Aubrey Randle and son, Jimmy, left this morning for a week's visit with Mrs. Randle's parents in Seminole, and with Mr. Randle's parents in Sapulpa, Okla.

Wanted: 2 or 3 passengers to Los Angeles, Calif. Leaving Thursday, 115 S. Gillespie, Ph. 1985. (Adv.)

Mrs. Joe Donarces left this morning for a week's visit with friends in Cushing, Okla.

For Sale: Starkweather St. Grocery. Living quarters in rear. Apply 438 N. Starkweather St. (Adv.)

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harrah and daughter Joyce, and Joan Stroup visited at Camp Ki-O-Wah in Hemphill county Sunday where Jimmie Harrah attended camp.

For Sale: Semi-modern 4-room house on Sinclair-Fred Merton lease, 5 miles southeast of Pampa. (Adv.)

Clerks in Pampa stores are asked by the police department not to park their cars on downtown streets on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday during the Fiesta. The clerks are also warned that after the Fiesta they are going to be fined for overtime parking. No more excuses will be accepted, City Recorder W. C. deCordova announced today.

Payment of May bills totaling $4,997.08 was approved by the city commission at its meeting yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Yoder and children arrived yesterday from a vacation trip to McPerson, Kans.

A survey of a possible 30 drainage jobs, including hauling dirt to raise street levels and re-working draws, has been made by the city engineer and street superintendent, the city commission was informed at its meeting yesterday.

C. E. McGrew left this morning for Atlanta, Ga., where he will attend the Kiwanis International convention. From there he will go to Virginia and Pennsylvania to visit relatives.

There have been 10 applicants for extra work in the police department during the Fiesta submitted to the city commission. No action, however, was taken at the commission's meeting yesterday pending a conference of the city manager with the department.

Correcting an error in an assessment, the city commissioners at their meeting yesterday approved payment of $143.98 in taxes by E. H. Hamlett to the city tax assessor collector.

All Tapley Music Store band students who wish to play on the float please be at the Music Mart at 9:30 Friday morning. Wear uniforms. (Adv.)

County commissioners at their meeting Monday approved payment of bills voted a $17.50 amendment in budget from the general fund for legal expenses.

Lost: 2 in. gasoline hose, 14 ft. long, between Pampa and Coltxco. Reward, L. P. Ward, Ph. 949. (Adv.)

no discrimination against CIO men, and that negotiations be resumed immediately on union demands for 75 cents an hour minimum wages, as compared with the present 50 cents, and 10 cents hourly boosts for higher skilled workers.

Col. Branshaw said there would be no discrimination, and Mr. Roosevelt at his press conference promised continuation of mediation and negotiation. North American workers, said the President, will get their regular pay this week, but if wage raises should be granted they will be retroactive to May 1.

The basic wage is now 50 cents an hour, but CIO strikers have been seeking a 75 cent minimum and 10 cents an hour increase for workers in high classifications.

Mr. Roosevelt said the plant owners would get their property back as soon as possible, and added this would be true in other similar cases, if any should develop. He said he hoped none would develop.

outposts at Abou Kemal, where a pipeline from the Mosul oil fields enters eastern Syria.

London reports said a British detachment—apparently the same one mentioned by the French—was knifing into eastern Syria from Iraq in a drive aimed at the Palmyna air base, on the Mosul-Tripoli oil pipeline.

An oasis cross-roads of desert caravans in olden times, Palmyna is about 150 miles west of the Iraq frontier.

In the far east crisis, Germany clicked on the green light for her Axis partner, Japan, in connection with the Dutch East Indies dispute.

A Berlin spokesman said Germany "recognizes Japan's interest" in the Dutch islands—a fount of such war supplies as rubber, tin and oil—and intimated broadly that Germany would not be adverse to seeing Japan include the Indies in Japan's "Lebensraum" (living space).

Such a thrust by Japan, raising the possibility of conflict with Great Britain and the United States, obviously would be welcomed in clambake to be held at the Knotty Pine and park on West Brown street. Admission will be $1.50 and proceeds to go to the fund being created by the Jaycees for a recreation center for Pampa.

The old timers will have dances three nights at the high school gymnasium with the Stars of the West playing Thursday and Friday nights and Homer Ratliff and his gang on Saturday night.

Native States Headquarters Center of Fiesta activities will be the native state registration at 314 W. Foster. Here the various state societies will set up headquarters, with desks, chairs, and registration lists, as a place where natives of the sundry states can register, visit, and rest.

Reunion and registration will be held throughout Friday and Saturday, beginning at 9 a. m. each day. All out-of-town visitors and folks who have not registered are especially invited. Native state programs will be held at headquarters at 4:30 o'clock each afternoon.

Brilliant Fireworks Second event on the Fiesta program, following the old time dance tomorrow night at the high school gymnasium, will be the free fireworks display at Recreation park starting at 8:30 o'clock Thursday night.

The display will be seen in front of the park grandstand. There are 17 brilliant sets in the exhibit, which will have as its climax, "The Bombing of London," a vivid, thrilling picture in fireworks of an air raid on the capital of the British empire.

Included in the mammoth show will be such glittering spectacles as held in Galveston last week, John E. Plant, local representative, reported that the outstanding point of the meeting was the announcement by C. P. O'Donnell, president of the company, of the retirement plan for all agents. The plan is effective July 1, 1941, and all agents that have been with the company for 20 years and have reached the age of 60 are eligible. The plan is strictly non-contributory on the part of the agent, all expense being incurred by the company. An agent can still remain in the service after 60 and draw his retirement income, besides getting his regular service commissions on business he produces after the age of 60 years.

"O, Give Me a Horse I Can Ride"

O, Give Me a Horse I Can Ride—
 My love is a rider, wild bronchos he breaks,
 Though he's promised to quit it, just for my sake.
 He ties up one foot, the saddle puts on,
 With a swing and a jump he is mounted and gone.

The first time I met him, 'twas early one spring,
 Riding a broncho, a high-headed thing.
 He tipped me a wink as he gaily did go,
 For he wished me to look at his bucking broncho.

He made me some presents, among them a ring;
 The return that I made him was a far better thing;
 'Twas a young maiden's heart, I'd have you all know,
 He's won it by riding his bucking broncho.

Now all you young maidens where e'er you reside,
 Beware of the cowboy who swings the rawhide;
 He'll court you and pet you and leave you and go
 In the spring up the trail on his bucking broncho.

From BUCKING BRONCHO

While Admiration Coffee may not pack the "wallop" of a bucking bronco, nevertheless there's a quality about it as a pick-up beverage that is wholly satisfying. After work, either physical or mental it provides a lift that soothes tired muscles and tired minds.

Care is taken to roast Admiration to the exact point where its essential oils of caffeine and coffee serve their purpose best as a mild stimulant. This, plus the known food value of good coffee, makes Admiration the ideal pick-up drink. And of course, Admiration is as delicious to the taste, as it is good for you.

Death Toll Stands At 15 In Storm Area

(By The Associated Press)
The death toll stood at 15 today in the wake of floods and tornado winds which ravaged Texas and northwest Louisiana yesterday.

Searchers at Albany, Tex., reported recovery of the bodies of all 12 victims swept to their deaths by a flash flood caused by the collapse of two dams converging on that town.

J. L. Ravencraft, 36, of Glade-water, Tex., was drowned in Cross lake near Shreveport, La., and his son and wife had a narrow escape from death when their skiff was swamped by a high wind which shortly before had struck Hallsville, 14 miles west of Marshall, causing extensive property damage. A torrential rain accompanied the gale.

Ravencraft's wife and his 14-year-old son, who had been fishing on the lake, were rescued in another boat by D. H. Cavness of Texarkana.

Mrs. George Bryant, 63, died of what physicians said was a cerebral hemorrhage brought on by excitement when the wind and rain storm swept through Morringsport, La., causing property damage and flash floods.

Dorris Jennings 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jennings of Hemphill, drowned in Nolan creek at Belton, in central Texas, when he was carried away by high water while attempting to wade across a dam.

Heavy rainfall in the north Texas area sent the Trinity river on a ten-foot rise out of its banks at Dallas last night and flooded highways in Collin and Benton counties. The weather bureau issued stock warnings to farmers in the Trinity lowlands.

A process has been developed for removing husks from grains of wheat by flotation, a method used in mining for separating values from their ores.

California has been producing olive oil for twenty years.

Oklahomans Will Accept Registrations

Oklahomans are all set for the final lap on their Fiesta plans. At the meeting of the Sooners held last night in the district court room, arrangements were made to secure a registration place for the society during the Fiesta, to complete plans for constructing the float, and to "mop-up" on the sale of buttons.

Mrs. Claude Lord and Mrs. Hugh Isbell volunteered to make arrangements to secure a location for the registration and Ruby McMahan offered to be in charge of the place.

Harold Payne and V. R. Belflower agreed to work with John Monroe, club secretary, in building the superstructure of the Oklahoma float.

In charge of the "mopping-up" on the sale of Sooner buttons will be Mrs. Harold Payne.

All of these workers are to maintain contact with the club secretary and keep him informed of their progress.

Unable to secure a state flag from the governor, the Sooners are today ordering one from an Oklahoma City firm. The Oklahoma flag is due to be received in Pampa not later than tomorrow, in sufficient time for use in the Fiesta parades.

The Sooners had a fast session last night, checking in on button sales, securing more buttons, and making suggestions for further participation in the Fiesta. All of the society's business was completed within an hour.

O'Daniel's Son Rained Out At Madisonville

(By The Associated Press)
Texas senatorial candidates pounded away steadily at the themes of national defense and old-age pensions with election day only a little more than two weeks away.

Although the Texas legislative session has put a crimp in Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's contemplated tour of the state, his son, Mike, visited Madisonville last night and played a transcription of one of his father's speeches until a rainstorm interfered.

A hillbilly band accompanying Mike was soaked by the downpour and moisture apparently caused the transcription apparatus to go awry. Reminiscent of a recently popular song called "The Broken Record," the apparatus caused the governor to say, "I will get more later than tomorrow, in sufficient time for use in the Fiesta parades."

The Sooners had a fast session last night, checking in on button sales, securing more buttons, and making suggestions for further participation in the Fiesta. All of the society's business was completed within an hour.

money in Washington for the old folks, the old folks, the old folks." At San Angelo, Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson declared at a national defense rally that "an aroused America always meets its emergency. We have a habit of banding together in danger—and danger is making the words "Roosevelt and unity" real for us. But under Roosevelt and unity we get the job done." Congressman Martin Dies in a speech at Ennis said that the defense program is being seriously crippled by "Communist instigated and engineered strikes," and urged support of his program to rid defense industries of foreign agents. Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, another senatorial candidate, spoke at Mineral Wells.

"But that's one of the things I have to tell you..."

"It's a long story. I had crashed in a ski jump..."

"But how did you get over here?"

"Suddenly my superiors wrote suggesting that if I were able to travel..."

was someone there I wanted to keep an eye on...

"Not that alone..."

"I have an idea," Angie had said...

"Sweetheart, don't look like that..."

"Seeing her white face and quivering lips..."

"You don't imagine I have any intention of turning up officially..."

"But, darling, you're trembling!"

"I don't mean to be a coward, Stephan..."

UPSTAIRS in his room, she begged, "Let me pack for you..."

"Obviously amused and touched, he turned the coin over in his strong, finely made fingers..."

DEBORAH went to the window and opened it...

"Debbie!" she called. Then more sharply, "Is that you, Debbie?"

Prized Heirlooms Owned At Canadian

Special To The News: CANADIAN, June 11—Prized heirlooms are those owned by Canadian residents, who recall the history of special items as the Top O' Texas Fiesta opened at Pampa. Carl Zybach, long-time employe in the Canadian postoffice, has a bronze medal awarded an uncle for prize poultry exhibited at the National Fair in Geneva, Switzerland in 1896. Zybach also has two articles given him by his father, who was a native of Switzerland. One is a knife sharpener used by meat cutters when Mr. Svabach, Sr. was a butcher's apprentice at the age of 19 in Geneva. The third is an exquisite piece of hand-carved wood, a satin-lined card case. It is a scene in the Swiss Alps, and Alpine deer stands on a rocky pinnacle, another resting near, blossoms and leaves of the natural flower, Edelweiss, frame the mountain scene. The tiny leaves are per Ruth Wagon Phelps, 410 Rose, Marlow. Mrs. L. M. Wagnon, 831 N. Harvey, Berger, Pauls Valley. Idabelle Wagon, 731 N. Harvey, Berger, Marlow. Don E. Enton, 641 N. YOUTHFUL BURGLAR SLEEPS ON JOB

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—A 17-year-old youth who broke into a grocery store found it was a mistake to go to sleep on the job. Patrolman Charles Henry said the boy entered the store at night, took a raincoat, two pounds of cheese, and several candy bars. Frightened by his attempt at robbery the youth crept into the basement to wait until he could get up enough courage to leave the store. Then he fell asleep and employes found him there.

GOVERNORS SEND GREETINGS TO NATIVES OF THEIR STATES

KANSAS GOVERNOR INVITES TEXANS

Payne Ratner

To Jayhawkers, With Pleasure, From Ratner

"On behalf of the people of my state, who are always interested in the welfare of Jayhawkers away from home, it is a great pleasure to extend greetings to native Kansans in the Texas Panhandle.

"As neighbors, we Kansans also wish the greatest of success to those who are participating in the Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta, and we appreciate the fact that special honors are being conferred in this connection upon some of our own people.

"This year Kansas is observing four hundred years of progress in connection with the Coronado Quadricentennial, and in addition has

'We Are All Americans'-- Fiesta Theme

By ARCHER FULLINGIM
City Editor, The News

When the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Pampa this year decided to hold its first annual Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta it called upon the governors of every state in the Union to help out.

The Jaycees wrote every state governor, asking for a flag to be used on each state float, a message to the natives of the various states living in the Panhandle of Texas, and a picture of the governor. The response was far greater than was expected.

Most state governors responded. This special edition of the Fiesta contains pictures of the governors and messages from them addressed to the natives of those states living in the Panhandle. The pictures and messages published in this issue of The News make it probably the first of its kind ever published. Anyway, the idea was original with the Jaycees, and if any other such special edition was published the Jaycees don't know about it.

Heretofore, The News has published stories of regional interest, mostly concerning pioneers and old-timers, but this year the special edition is devoted to just plain folks, and nobody is slighted. The News and the Jaycees believe that the Fiesta should honor everybody in the Panhandle, and that everybody should have an active part in it. So they sponsored the organization of state societies of the Panhandle.

For the last two months The News and the Jaycees have conducted a native state census or canvass with the result that more than 10,000 persons registered.

The News and the Jaycees wish to thank all the governors who sent their pictures, messages and flags. They also wish to thank the folks who registered. It is believed that readers will find the messages from the governors intensely interesting as a "back-to-Kansas" campaign which we hope will bring to our state many who formerly lived here, but are now away, and thousands who never before had an opportunity to see the glories of our state as they exist today. Please consider this a cordial invitation for everyone in the Panhandle to attend."

Payne Ratner
Governor of Kansas

they reflect the unity that exists in the Panhandle where people from all states live in harmony and as one on major issues.

The real purpose of the Folks Fiesta is to unify the people, and in a larger sense to honor all the states, and to discourage narrow sectionalism and regional prejudices, and at the same time be loyal to the Panhandle. The News and the Jaycees are certain that all the natives of the Panhandle are loyal citizens of the United States, and they feel it a privilege to honor all the states and the people who came from them to the Panhandle.

The Panhandle is proud of Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Indiana, Illinois and all the other states, and is proud of the people who were born in the 48 states—and that is the real unity that every American is proud of. In brief, we are all proud of our native states, but first, last and always we are all Americans, ready to defend to the death the liberty and freedom for which Americans have always fought.

Student Preaches His First Sermon At Samnorwood

CANYON—Olie T. Brown of Canyon recently made known his call to the ministry and preached his first sermon to his old home church in Samnorwood.

He will enter the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth in September to take a three-year course.

Mr. Brown, who will complete graduate work at West Texas State College in August, is educational director at the First Baptist church. He has been active for several years in student church work here. The Baptist student group is one of the most active organizations in this community. Several ministers have come from its ranks in recent years.

SINCERE GOOD WISHES FROM GOVERNOR CARR

Ralph L. Carr

'May Fiesta Be Eventful,' Says No. 1 Coloradoan

"On behalf of the people of Colorado, may I take this opportunity to extend to those original Coloradans who are now residing in the Panhandle, my sincere good wishes.

"From the Rocky Mountains to the broad plains of Texas comes this message of greeting. May your Top O' Texas Fiesta be an eventful and memorable occasion."

Sincerely yours,

Friendlyness Of Arkansas Sent By Gov. Adkins

"Inspired by the Top O' Texas Fiesta, Arkansans in Arkansas salute the legion of transplanted Arkansans in the Texas Panhandle. In behalf of our people, I send these greetings to the Arkansas Society of the Panhandle of Texas and urge its members to continue to express the friendliness that is inherent in the mountains and forests, the streams and valleys, the soil and the people of Arkansas."

Sam H. Jones

Governor Sam H. Jones Praises Texas, Louisiana

"The native sons daughters of Louisiana who have chosen to live across the Texas line have chosen well, if they must leave us. Texas and Louisiana, historically associated, will always feel a close and growing kinship. Our two states have, I think, the true pioneer tradition—Texans and Louisianans alike have the will to live courageously and honestly. As governor I extend to the natives of this state and also to all Texans the warmest possible greetings and my hope for a successful Fiesta."

Since our small and un-important beginning over thirty years ago here in the Panhandle we have always tried to do our part in the building of a community as well as this great section of the "Lone Star" state.

It is with satisfaction that we review our progress made in the past years. Thousands of people have bought from Furr Food and have made their way back, year after year, which has given us the necessary financial support and encouraged us to continue in a progressive manner of helping to build the Top O' Texas, the best section of any state we know.

We join in extending a most cordial welcome to all of our friends and neighbors to the Top O' Texas Fiesta.

Fiesta Gesture Of Friendliness, Says Gov. Miles

On the occasion of the Top O' Texas Fiesta, I am happy to express my greetings and good wishes to New Mexicans now living in the Texas Panhandle.

much to celebrate and much to be thankful for, and the Top O' Texas Fiesta is a splendid gesture of friendliness and neighborliness.

New Mexico is proud of her people wherever they may be, as we know New Mexicans are proud of their home state, whether at home or away from home.

To those New Mexicans now away from home and living in the Panhandle, I express the good wishes of all of our people and the hope that during the year they will be able to renew their contacts with friends and relatives by a visit to the 'Land of Enchantment.'

SON OF JERSEY

Charles Edison

'Sincere Love Of Liberty' Praised By Gov. Edison

Greetings from Governor Charles Edison to the natives of New Jersey

now residing in the great Panhandle of Texas.

Since the 17th century when the Spaniards founded the first permanent settlement in the land we now call Texas, New Jersey's native sons have been attracted to this great Lone Star state, and have joined the sons of other states and countries in heroic feats of bravery to place this valuable land under the flag of our country.

Today, many natives of New Jersey, the Garden state, have permanently settled in the great Panhandle of Texas, and have become a part of the great tradition of this largest of all states. They have taken to Texas the sincere love of liberty and a willingness to fight for freedom that has imbued Jerseymen since before the Revolution. I am sincerely proud of them, wherever they may settle.

To New Jerseyites, residing in the Texas Panhandle, I send my congratulations and praise your selection of a section of this great country to call home.

In participating in the great Top O' Texas Folk Fiesta, enjoy yourselves, praise both your adopted state and the State of New Jersey, and uphold the great American tradition.

Charles Edison, Governor of New Jersey

'Flame Of Hospitality Still Burns In Indiana,' Says Gov. Schricker

As governor of Indiana, I wish to greet the former residents of the Hoosier state. We know that you are upholding the good name of Hoosierdom in your adopted state of Texas. I am grateful to The Pampa News for this opportunity to send you these greetings and to assure you that the flame of hospitality burns brightly in your home state of Indiana.

GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA SENDS GREETINGS

Arthur H. James

'Let's Go Forward Hand In Hand,' Writes James

Dear Friends: The chairman of your Top O' Texas Fiesta committee has sent me a most courteous letter in connection with your celebration this year, and I am pleased to take this means of sending greetings.

Pennsylvania's sons and daughters have journeyed throughout America, carrying with them the splendid traditions of the Keystone state wherever they may reside. It makes all of us happy to know that they are ever mindful of the great heritage which the old Commonwealth has given them as their birthright. This, I believe, is particularly true of those who have gone to the great state of Texas.

As the chief executive of Pennsylvania, I could ask of them no greater contribution to the progress of Texas than to give generously of their time and energies in its advancement, and determine solid citizens to whom we may point with pride.

'They Couldn't Have Picked Better State'

The Pampa News: Would you be so good as to convey the greetings of this Commonwealth to the Massachusetts Society of the Panhandle of Texas.

I send best wishes to its members and to you on the occasion of your Top O' Texas Fiesta. The native sons and daughters of Massachusetts who are Texans now have left the best state in the union, but they couldn't have picked a better adopted home. Good luck.

Leverett Saitonstall, Governor

Larger Unity Advocated By Illinois Chief

"To former citizens of Illinois now living in the Texas Panhandle: It is an especial pleasure to send most cordial greetings to the officers and members of the Illinois Society of the Panhandle of Texas, and to all former residents of Illinois now living in that region.

"The people of Illinois have had a leading part in the great drama of winning the West. Former residents of our state, and their descendants, have set up homes in practically every part of the Great Plains, from Canada to Texas. They have become loyal and well-established citizens of their adopted commonwealths. Yet I am sure they retain fond memories and a lasting regard for Illinois.

"This is one of the glories of our great republic—a diversity within a larger unity. We may cherish ties of affection to those great states where new ties have been formed, the whole holding, over and above it all, staunch loyalty to America.

"I wish it might have been possible for me to accept the invitation to attend the Top O' Texas Polk Fiesta. This three-day festival is sure to be crowded with colorful entertainment and filled with hearty good fellowship. Please accept my very best wishes that the occasion may be an outstanding success."

Sincerely,

Texas Famed As Home Of Soldiers, Forts, Camps And Aviation Fields

Always an aggressive and independent spirit has marked people of Texas and the present crisis finds the Lone Star State leading the nation in the number of men furnished the armed forces of the United States.

In addition to the 29,704 men called under selective service, Texas has more than 80,000 men, all volunteers, in the army, navy, and marine corps, national guard, and coast guard.

Located in Texas are 17 posts of the U. S. army, eight forts, five camps, and four aviation fields. Total authorized strength of these 17 posts is 115,725.

Largest authorized strength is Fort Bliss, El Paso, 21,000, with 20,000 each as the strength for Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, and Camp Bowie at Brownwood. Camp Barkeley, Abilene, and Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells, each has an authorized strength of 18,000. Camp Hulen at Palacios, 10,000. Smallest post is Fort McIntosh, Laredo, 350.

Commanding Officers
Commanding officer at Fort Sam Houston is Brig. Gen. John N. Greely; at Fort Bliss, Brig. Gen. James P. Swift. Brig. Gen. Swift is also commanding officer for Fort D. A. Russell, Marfa, authorized strength, 875; Fort Clark, Brackettville, 1,500; Fort Brown, Brownsville, 1,000; Fort Ringgold, Rio Grande City, 500; Fort McIntosh, Brownsville, 350. Colonel Olin H. Langino is in charge at Fort Crockett, Galveston, 2,100; Maj. Gen. Claude V. Birkhead, Camp Bowie, Brownwood; Brig. Gen. Harvey C. Allen, Camp Hulen, Palacios.

Camp Barkeley's force of 18,000 men at Abilene is led by Maj. Gen. W. S. Key. Brig. Gen. John B. Maynard is the commanding officer at Camp Wallace, Hitchcock, authorized strength 3,000; and Brig. Gen. William H. Simpson, Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells, 18,000.

Strength of the four aviation fields are: Randolph, San Antonio, "The West Point of the Air," 5,700; Kelly, San Antonio, 5,000; Brooks, San Antonio, 3,400; Ellington, Houston, 1,500.

Five States In Army Area
Texas is within the eighth corps area, which is comprised of the states of Texas, Colorado, Oklahoma, Arizona and New Mexico. The corps is commanded by Major General Richard Donovan with Colonel George Dillman as chief of staff. The eighth corps area is rich in historic lore, dating back to the Spanish explorers.

Pride of the Lone Star
Texas' own is the 36th or "Lone Star" division, which has for its insignia a blue arrow head with a "T" enclosed.

The concentration of the 36th division at Camp Bowie is history repeated itself. This division, which is composed of troops of the Texas National guard, was formed at Camp Bowie July 18, 1917, and drafted into the national service on August 5, command assumed by Major General Edwin St. J. Creble.

New Hampshire 'Follows Natives With Pride'

To the Sons and Daughters of New Hampshire in the Panhandle of Texas: "New Hampshire has always been proud of her sons and daughters, and no matter how far separated from the old homestead they may be, she still follows them with pride and interest in their welfare. To those who have left the hearth-stones of New England for the new life of the West, and, particularly, the Lone Star state, New Hampshire sends her cordial greetings and asks them to remember that the door to the old homestead swings open at their touch and a hearty welcome awaits their return and, whether returning or not, the state still claims them as her own, more so because they have become a part of the larger community of states.

Streamline Army Units Explained

Know how many men compose a division?

Under Uncle Sam's new setup for his army, it is about 4,000 more than the population of Pampa, numbering 16,123 of which 624 are officers, 15,499 enlisted men.

All regular army divisions are now triangular or streamlined, and the number of men per element is as follows:

Unit	Officers	Enlisted Men
Squad	1	12
Platoon	6	58
Company	28	239
Battalion	123	976
Regiment	624	3,325
Division		15,499

How Units Interlock

Three companies, plus one machine gun company with necessary headquarters, forms a battalion.

Three battalions, plus a headquarters company, service company and anti-tank company, forms an infantry regiment. There are three such infantry regiments to a division.

The brigade no longer exists as part of this reorganization for a

Old Soldiers Want Rookies 'Army-Minded'

How do the old-timers view the "selectee" army?

Royden Williamson, Lt. Colonel, G.S.C. Public relations officer, at the eighth corps area headquarters, Fort Sam Houston, says:

"The older soldiers accept without question the new infantry as they do the new uniforms. They are only interested in imbuing the new soldiers with respect for the customs and traditions of the service, these having stood the test of time and proven their value. "Soldiering is a trade like any triangular division, such as the 2nd division at Fort Sam Houston. The 38th and 45th divisions are organized on the "square" division scheme; that is, they have two brigades of two infantry regiments each, and the divisional artillery which is formed in regiments instead of battalions.

There are many variations from this general organization. For example, a regiment of cavalry and a regiment of engineers are quite different.

other. All the angles are not learned in a few weeks, appearances to the contrary notwithstanding.

"In general, a soldier's life is much the same at all posts; variation depends on their speciality. This much, though, may be said, that whereas in the old days most men had little to do when not on guard or engaged in trial courts or other routine duties in the afternoons, now the training period, instead of stopping at noon time continues until nearly sundown and everyone is straining every nerve to do his part in making up for lost time in creating adequate national defense."

MOON SUPERSTITIONS

In the Middle East, exposure to the rays of the moon is said to cause nightmare as well as headaches, and in the Far East, a morning "thick head" is added to these symptoms. In Burma, there is a belief that when the insane suffer from mental storms these correspond to the phases of the moon.

At only one point in the United States do four states have a common border. Meeting at right angles, the states are Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, and Utah.

Worley Announces Fund For Museum

CANYON — President Roosevelt has given his approval to a WPA allocation for erection of an addition to the Panhandle Plains museum. The sum, and the sponsor's portion, are to reach a total of $56,952.

News of the grant came from Congressman Eugene Worley. Mr. Worley immediately notified Senator Grady Hazlewood at Austin, urging him to push the bill under which the State would match funds with WPA. As a result of the Panhandle-wide "gold brick" campaign, a fund of about $7,000 is pledged to expedite beginning of construction. The local fund or state appropriation must be increased to $20,000 or more.

The basement for the addition was completed several years ago under a $25,000 grant from the Texas Centennial Commission. The present campaign is intended to rear the upper structure on this basement.

... was accomplished on July 8, 1918. The advanced detachments arrived at Brest on July 22 and elements followed, landing at various points in France.

At St. Mihiel On August 2, 1918 the division less artillery moved to the Bar-sur-Aube training area while the artillery trained at Redon and vicinity, later moving to Camp Coetquidan having passed under the administrative control of the VI corps. The division's first battle participation was in the St. Mihiel September 12-16, 1918 where it was in reserve of the first army and later of the French group of armies of the center.

Attached to French On October 4 the 36th division was attached to the French fourth army, and its 71st infantry brigade, having battalions of the 2nd division on its right and left, attacked toward the village of Machault and two days later completed relief of the 2nd division in the Blanc-Mont Sector.

Energetic pursuit of the enemy led the division northward across the River Aisne until about October 28, being relieved by the French 61st and 22nd divisions. It was ordered then to join the American first army in the Triancourt area.

On November 3-17 the division underwent rehabilitation, and eventually was reverted, following the Armistice, to the vicinity of Le Mans. Repatriation took place through the border Brest, beginning May 17, 1919 when it returned to Camp Bowie for demobilization about June 20 of that year. It was led during its active opera-

Texas Leads Division In Population

The population of Texas, and of the other states comprising the west south central division, will increase 9 per cent per generation, according to a report of the U. S. Department of Commerce, bureau of the census.

This statement is based on the condition that present birth and death rates continue unchanged for several decades, and assuming no net migration from or to the division, which is composed of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Arkansas. Population of the division for 1940 was 12,094,525, with Texas leading with 6,414,624; Louisiana second with 2,363,880; Oklahoma, 2,336,434; and Arkansas trailing with 1,949,387. Average age of the population in the division increased between 1930 and 1940 three years, from 23.2 to 26.1. In all residence areas of the division there was an increase in the proportion of persons 65 years old and over and a decrease in the proportion of persons under 20. The 1940 census shows that white persons, including Mexicans, comprised 89.9 per cent of the population in 1940 as compared with 90.4 per cent in 1930, and that the ratio of males to females decreased in the decade ending 1940. There were 101.2 males per 100 females in 1940 as compared with 103.3 in 1930. Females were in the majority in the rural nonfarm and rural farm areas. Urban and rural non-farm populations increased whereas rural-farm population decreased between 1930 and 1940.

LONDON'S DOCKS The biggest and most vital docks of London are concentrated within a 10-mile area near the center of the city. BEST WISHES FROM IOWA GOVERNOR

George A. Wilson

National Unity Praised By Iowa Chief Executive

"From the deepest furrow of the Empire of Abundance I send greetings to the topmost flag of the Fiesta of Folks of the Top O' Texas."

"The sons and daughters of the pioneers who brought Iowa out of a wilderness inherited the colonizing spirit and have gone into many states of the union to be helpful neighbors and good citizens. We have never heard of an Iowa colony, large or small, that was not welcome."

"We have reason to know that wherever they go the Iowa colonizers carry with them the will to overcome the inertia of even the most sullen mood of nature and the determination to lead on to highest flights of joyful imagination. Everywhere in Iowa colonies join in support of the things that make for the home life of peace loving people."

"The stars and stripes had been floating over the capitol of Texas just one year when Iowa slipped into the union and joined the parade of free peoples and their free commonwealths. Iowa placed on the Iowa stone in the Washington monument the romantic suggestion:

"Iowa, her affections like the rivers of her borders, flow into an inseparable union."

"So it is that today we are closely and eternally united with Texas and all the other states in devotion to the ideals and purposes that have made the United States of America, through the unfolding of national unity in a century and a half of growth and expansion, the most powerful influence for good in all the world."

"Please bear to all the Iowans in the Panhandle of Texas, and all their friends, the well wishes of the people of the homeland."

Strengthen Bonds Between Us, Says Florida Chief

"Cordial greetings and Good Wishes to the former citizens of Florida residing in Texas."

"The peoples of the sovereign states of Texas and Florida are the proud inheritors of the same high ideals of freedom and democracy, and I ask that you, as former Floridians, express to the people of Texas the high regard and sincere spirit of friendliness that all Floridians feel toward them."

"In these critical times, it is vital for us to strengthen the bonds between all Americans in order that, as a nation, we may stand for them united against the barbarous forces of aggression which threaten the American way of life and civilization, throughout the world."

Spessard L. Holland, Governor.

South Dakotans Called Group Of 'Good Fellows'

"It is with pleasure that I note you expect to participate in the Top O' Texas Folk Fiesta to be held in Pampa June 12, 13 and 14."

"May I, from the capitol city of your native state, send my greetings to you. Wherever South Dakotans foregather, you can depend on it that a group of good fellows is meeting. That you have gone far afield from your native state and have made successes in nearly every line of endeavor only adds to the luster which you throw upon South Dakota."

"South Dakota is, in our opinion, the foremost state in the union. Let us, whether at home or abroad, keep its banner nailed to the masthead."

Nevada Chief Hopes Fiesta Is Big Success

"As governor of the state of Nevada, it is my pleasure to extend to all natives of Nevada living in the Panhandle of the great state of Texas the best wishes of the people of this state."

"I also extend to the people of Texas Nevada's greetings and trust that the Fiesta to be held at Pampa, Texas, on June 12, 13, and 14, 1941, will be a great success."

E. P. Carville Governor of Nevada

47 Natives Of Ohio Register For Society

Although not an oil state, many of the 47 natives of Ohio who registered in the Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta poll and joined the Ohio society came to Pampa and the Panhandle to work in the oil fields.

Others came as business men and women.

There are probably hundreds more who came from Ohio who failed to register. Widely scattered sections of the Buckeye state registered with Toledo and Spencerville leading the way with six natives each.

The seven members of the J. M. Wineset family and the four members of the W. S. Dixon family and the four members of the J. B. Townsend family were all born in Ohio.

Natives of Ohio, their present addresses and birthplaces follow:

- Mrs. J. B. Townsend, 1202 E. Francis, Spencerville. Mrs. Ray McVay, R. No. 1, Pampa, Marietta.

Charles W. Huffine, Pampa, Findlay. Mrs. Richard L. Bodey, Skellytown, Box 177, Near Sidney.

Isabel Ward, Pampa, Sardis. Charles E. Zimmerman, Pampa, Bradner.

J. B. Townsend, 1202 E. Francis, Spencerville. Roger Townsend, 1202 E. Francis, Spencerville.

Minnie B. Keyhart, 1202 E. Francis, Spencerville. Mrs. Ira Peterson, LeFors, Gogan. J. R. Musselman, Skellytown, Hamilton.

Ira Peterson, LeFors, Spencerville. Homer Proper, Pampa, Trail Run. Richard Bodey, Skellytown, Near Spencerville.

Washington Club Has Three Members

Two from Seattle and one from Spokane comprise Washington's registration in the Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta. All of the three reside in Pampa.

Of all the states with registrations less than a dozen, Washington has the most metropolitan representation, as all from that state have a large city as their birthplace.

Name, address, and birthplace of the Washington natives registered are:

- Evelyn Kentling, 207 E. Brown, Spokane. Donald B. Gurney, Box 1481, Pampa, Seattle.

Lucille Douglass, 317 N. Somerville, Seattle.

Senator Houston Wires Greetings

Senator Andrew Jackson Houston, oldest man ever to serve in the United States senate, and son of General Sam Houston, one of the founders of the Republic of Texas, today wired greetings to folks in the Top O' Texas territory and sent good wishes for the Fiesta.

Senator Houston's telegram: "I desire to extend my cordial greetings and good wishes to those attending the Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta at Pampa. The theme of patriotic unity is one which needs to be emphasized at the present time. I wish for the occasion every success."

Canadian Residents Came From Many States, Foreign Countries

By MAY STEVENS ISAACS
Special To The News

CANADIAN, June 11—Canadian and the entire Panhandle of Texas has a cosmopolitan citizenry. Native of many of these United States of America and some foreign countries found their way south and west to Texas, an empire in the making.

Mentioning first some of the earliest settlers in this section is the father of Judge Frank Willis, father of Attorney N. P. Willis of Pampa, born in Alamo, Ind., in 1840. He came to Texas in 1875 and to Canadian in 1892, where he died in 1894.

V. W. Arrington, native of Alabama, veteran of the war between the states, traveled in Central America in 1867, then settled in Brown county, Texas, became a Texas Ranger, and later came to the Panhandle.

Capt. Arrington married Miss Sallie Burnett in Missouri in October, 1883. He died in 1923. Mrs. Arrington resides in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Texas, in Canadian.

E. H. Brainard, native of Massachusetts, resident of New York state, later of Colorado, settled in the Texas Panhandle in 1883 and has maintained a home in Canadian most of the years since that time.

Judge H. E. Hoover, native of Tennessee, came to Texas in 1887, stopping a couple of years in Kansas on the way.

W. C. Isaacs, native of Louisiana, came to Texas with his parents when but a few years of age, and to the Panhandle in the fall of 1883. John C. Isaacs and Sam Isaacs came together to the Panhandle, arriving March 1, 1884. W. C. died in 1935 and John C. in 1937. Sam resides in Canadian.

Judge B. M. Baker, deceased, came to Canadian in the early 90's. He represented this section in the Texas legislature and was a prominent attorney until his death some years ago.

John A. Chambers, native of Hood county, Texas, came to the Panhandle in 1883. He was a cowboy for a few years, has been a merchant for 40 years, was Hemphill county treasurer for three terms, and is present observer for the weather bureau here.

George and John J. Gerlach came from Kansas to set up a small mercantile establishment on the north side of the South Canadian river in the early 80's and were among the first to settle the town of Canadian on the south side of the river when the Santa Fe reached this far in September, 1887.

John J. Gerlach later operated a store in Woodward, Okla., but George remained with the store in Canadian. Both are deceased.

J. C. Studer, native of Switzerland, came to the United States at the age of three years, grew to manhood in Tennessee, spent two years in Kicwa, Kans., en route to Texas, arriving in the Panhandle in 1887, where he still resides.

George A. Simpson, early-day buffalo hunter, married Amanda Wood, native of Missouri, in Old Mobeetie in October, 1887, the first couple to be married in the Texas Panhandle.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tubb, deceased, came to America from their native England in 1881. Lived six or seven years in Kansas, then came to Hemphill county. Mr. Tubb was a sister of Robert Moody, pioneer cattleman and banker in this section.

Mrs. Paul Hoeft, native of New York City, came to Texas with her husband in 1881, and to Canadian where she still resides in her late 80's. Mr. Hoeft died many years ago.

Mary Brainard, native of Massachusetts, teacher in the schools of New York state, came to Canadian with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brainard, in 1888, and has made her home here since that time. She taught school three years, then married W. C. Isaacs, pioneer cattleman.

Fewer than 200 persons have been interviewed in this roll call of the states so it is far from complete, but we found representatives from 23 states, the Indian Territory, and seven foreign countries.

Carroll Ray was born last year in Sao Paulo, Brazil, South America; Louis Marvis, native of Czechoslovakia; Mrs. J. H. Ficke, native of Germany; Olaf Lee, native of Norway; J. C. Studer and Bill Begert, natives of Switzerland; and Mr. and Mrs. N. Abraham, and their sons Tom and Naceeb, all natives of Syria; also an undetermined number of natives of Old Mexico, the residents of Canadian who registered, and their birthplaces, follow:

Mr. Thomas Riley, Pittsburgh, Pa. Bruce Waterfield, Canadian. Wallace Flewelling, Kingfisher, Indian Territory. Tom Abraham, Syria. Mrs. N. Abraham, Syria. Naceeb Abraham, Syria. Malouf Abraham, Canadian. N. Abraham, Syria. Ghalein Flewelling, Crawford, Okla. Jack Flewelling, Canadian. George L. Bader, Cleveland, O. Mrs. George L. Bader, Ohio. Walter McDowell Bader, New Mexico. Jerry Berry, Canadian. Eddie Brainard, Canadian. Edward S. F. Brainard, Sparrow-bush, N. Y. Lois Poole Bryant, Guthrie, Indian Territory. Paul V. Bryant, Missouri. Wallace Caldwell, Kentucky. Frank M. Chambers, Canadian. Mrs. Frank M. Chambers, Canadian. Mrs. J. H. Ficke, Germany. Mrs. W. A. Fite, San Angelo. The Rev. Waldo A. Fite, Tennessee. Wallace Flewelling, Jr., Canadian. George W. Galloway, Attala county, Miss. Mrs. G. W. Galloway, Kansas. Georgine Henson, Canadian. Mrs. Mary Henson, Texas. Mrs. Paul Hoeft, New York, N. Y. Judge H. E. Hoover, Tennessee. Mrs. H. E. Hoover, Tennessee. Frances Jones, Texas. Mrs. John H. Jones, Wellington, Kans. Thomas S. Jones, Canadian. Walter Jones, Canadian. Albert P. Our Motto

"Never Thru Serving You"

Modern business requires a great strength known as good-will, that can be obtained only by constant effort to properly serve the customers of this business organization. Infinite care and patience must be exercised in giving the customer proper service, in order to build this intangible asset. During the years that we have been in business, we have constantly endeavored to reduce insurance rates whenever possible, and at the same time, take care of all claims promptly and courteously.

We appreciate the faith and confidence that the people of the Top O' Texas have shown the Hughes-Potter organization, because it has enabled us to expand our business so that we may be able to be of better service and live up to the slogan we have adopted . . . "Never Thru Serving You."

No organization can give the kind of service we are constantly striving to give without efficient office personnel. With our best western hospitality, we invite everyone to visit our new home and get acquainted with the personnel of our organization . . . you're always welcome!

SENDS MESSAGE FROM WYOMING

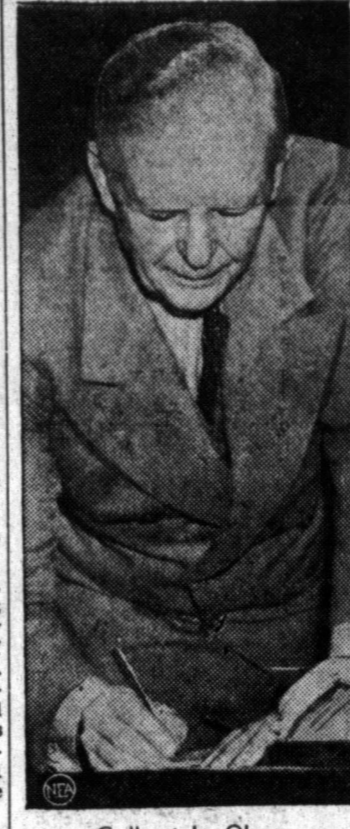

Nels H. Smith

Wyoming Like 'A Green Lawn,' Writes Smith "To the Members of the Wyoming society: 'Greetings from the people of Wyoming to the Wyoming society of the state of Texas. 'We wish for you a happy and successful Fiesta, and hope that you will find the time this summer to come up and pay your old home state a visit. 'Our state was never more beautiful than it is this spring. The range is like a great lawn, and you can come up and pay your old home state a visit. 'Again, best wishes to you all. 'Nels H. Smith, governor.'"

Histories Of Texas Posts Told Briefly

Rich in military tradition is the Lone Star State. Most of the forts established in the state date from the Mexican war and bear the names of American and Texas heroes of that war. The World War is not forgotten, however, as Camp Eulen, at Palacios, and Camp Wallace at Hitchcock, are named in honor of American leaders in the prelude of the present European conflict. Early days of aviation are commemorated in the naming of Ellington Field, Houston, for Lieutenant Eric Lamar Ellington, killed in an airplane accident at San Diego, Calif., November 24, 1913. A brief history of 10 of the United States army posts in the Lone Star state: The site of Fort Bliss, was first visited by American troops when it was occupied in December, 1846 by the force under the command of General Alexander W. Doniphan. Three years later it became the military post of "El Paso," garrisoned by infantry, but this occupancy was reduced to a mere skeleton on September 18, 1849, and in August, 1851, the detachment was removed to the nearest village of Marfatinville. On January 11, 1854 the post was re-established and two months later its name was officially changed to "Fort Bliss" in honor of the late Major William Wallis Smith Bliss, who had died the previous August. Bliss had a remarkable rise in the service and but for his premature death his talents would have carried him to high eminence in the War of Secession which was destined to follow so soon his untimely end. He saw much field service in campaigns against the Indians, particularly in Florida. Having married the daughter of General Zachary Taylor, he became during the War with Mexico his father-in-law's chief of staff and emerged from the Mexican campaign as a brevet lieutenant colonel. Following General Taylor to the White House as his private secretary, Colonel Bliss was adjutant general of the western division at the time of his sudden death at the age of 38. Fort Brown In course of General Zachary Taylor's march through Texas in 1846 immediately preceding the War with Mexico, his command halted near the site of present-day Fort Brown. Taylor constructed earthworks there and mounted 18-pound guns to hold the small outpost against Mexican attack. When the general continued his prosecution of the war by moving to Point Isabel, he left the little post under the command of Major Jacob Brown. Four days later it was besieged by an enemy force and before it could be relieved, Major Brown met his death in its defense. Later, when Taylor moved the site of the new stronghold to a spot a half mile up the Rio Grande, he named it "Fort Brown" in honor of its heroic defender. Major Jacob Brown was a native of Berkshire, Mass., but later made his home in Little Rock, Ark. He enlisted in the army in 1812. He is described by one of his contemporaries as "a man of sound judgment and great kindness of heart."

GOOD WILL FROM GOVERNOR OF CALIFORNIA

Culbert L. Olson

Texas Picnic At L. A. Recalled By Gov. Olson

"To the Former Citizens of California Now Residents in the State of Texas: 'Greetings: 'It gives me a great deal of pleasure, as governor of California and on behalf of her people, to send greetings to our former citizens who now reside in the Great State of Texas. 'Annually the Texas Society in California meets in Los Angeles county at a gigantic picnic with neighborliness as the keynote. Here old acquaintances are renewed and new ones made. The Texas picnic is one of the most welcomed events. 'I am glad to know that former citizens of California will take part in the "Top O' Texas Folk Fiesta" and ask them to convey the good will of California to all the people of Texas. Sincerely yours, Culbert L. Olson Governor of California"

Three Mobeetic Residents Hail From Minnesota

Three from Mobeetic are among the members of the Minnesota society registered for the Top O' Texas Folk Fiesta. All of the other eight are of Pampa. Although only 11 Gophers registered for the Fiesta, it is estimated that this represents only a fraction of the total number of Minnesotans residing in the Top O' Texas area. As the state society idea develops, it is expected that hundreds more will register as members of the society. Fairmont and Minneapolis take the lead as the home towns of the Minnesotans registered. There are three from Minneapolis, two from Fairmont. Other towns represented are Truman, Clotho, St. Boniface, Long Prairie, and Avoca. Minnesota natives registered, with names, addresses and birthplaces: Mrs. R. H. Kitchens, 701 E. Francis, Avoca. Fred E. Maynard, 504 N. Cuyler, Long Prairie. Mrs. W. C. Dillman, 463 N. Franklin, R. No. 2, Box 16-E, Pampa, Clotho. Florence Mae Dillman, 463 N. Warren, Minneapolis. Mrs. Mary Ann Dillman, 463 N. Warren, St. Boniface.

Greetings From Idaho-'The Gem Of The Mountains'

"To the Idaho Society of the Panhandle: Dear friends: 'I note with great pleasure that you are sponsoring a float in an All States and Nations Parade in June, and that you are taking pains to feature Idaho's flower, motto and shield. 'I wish for you a most happy meeting of old friends, whom, we hope, we are only leaving to the Lone Star state. I want you to know that I will be thinking of you during the days of your festivities, and that my heart goes out to you in warm greeting and hearty invitation to again visit the scenes of your former home, our beloved Gem of the Mountains-Idaho. Yours sincerely, Chase A. Clark Governor."

Nebraska Club Has 26 Members

The 26 natives of Nebraska who registered for the Top O' Texas Folk Fiesta came from every section of the state and in Pampa they work at widely varied jobs. There is no majority in any one line of business or endeavor. Many persons born in Nebraska failed to register but they have been invited to join in the activities of the Nebraska group in the Fiesta. All who registered from Nebraska reside in Pampa. The Nebraskans who registered, their present addresses and birthplaces, follow: Bob Leitch, 614 N. West, Kearney. Mrs. Ethel Olsen, 115 S. Gillespie, Berwyn. Mrs. J. R. Old Timers Joining Ranks Of "Vanishing Americans"

Probably one of the best-known paintings in the annals of art depicting the fall of a race is that of "The Vanishing American." The bowed posture of both horse and Indian rider facing the setting sun graphically symbolizes resignation to an inevitable fate.

Edwin W. McIntosh, in the last issue of Texas Parade, presents a most interesting article on "Vanishing Texans." He said, "Their was a hardy race, but they are rapidly disappearing."

He told about the last of the Indians and the thinning ranks of the old timers, particularly the story of D. C. McMeans.

The story by McIntosh follows: Few people appreciate the artist's conception of a great American race whose complete abolition now resolves into a mere matter of time. Many pages of history have been written in blood to bring about the subjugation of this American, and although there is no intent to renew an age-old controversy, many records are filed in the nation's capital proving conclusively that the American Indian was not always the aggressor. Notwithstanding, nothing can be done to change the pages of history.

Texas, derived from the Indian name Tejas, had her share of these vanishing Americans. Along with them, three other great Texas pioneers are now making a last stand before their debut into the realms of the unknown. They are the rugged adventurers who forced their way through unprecedented dangers to establish our western empire; the American bison, commonly called the buffalo, which roamed the Llano Estacado with the Comanche Indian; and the famed Texas longhorn that brought recognition to Texas as the nation's cattle capital.

Now, about the only reminder we have of the importance that this group played in making southwestern history is that we get when we settle back comfortably in the local movie for a couple of hours of exciting trail driving and serious Indian fighting. Thrilling to blood curdling war whoops emitting phonetically from the silver screen, perhaps the imaginative find themselves in the thick of the fray. About their only chance of casualty, however, would be if the theatre suddenly caught fire. In such case, serious danger would probably prevail due to the mad stampede of intrepid Indian fighters. Considering this possibility remote, the favorite corner of the local movie is a pretty safe place to fight Indians. To take part in an actual Indian fight is another story, and that's the story of D. C. McMeans, of Tucson, Arizona.

I first heard of D. C. McMeans from my friend, Val Kimbrough, well-known Arizona archaeologist and collector, while recently exploring ancient Indian ruins and mounds in the desert country some 70 miles east of Tucson. Our party also included Jimmy Uhmberger, former top rider of the once-famous 101 Ranch Show, and Ralph McIntosh, owner of the Bar Seven Ranch in Oklahoma. Our camp was situated near the San Pedro river on an abandoned section of the old Butterfield Stage Trail where, according to legend, the stage was once robbed of several thousand dollars in gold bullion. We were surrounded by rugged cliffs which formed table top mesas dotted with a verdant growth of saguaro cacti, on which the mounds of an ancient people were located. Several large canyons converged in the vicinity of our camp and the panoramic scene of wild and rugged beauty was shrouded in mysteries of the dim past.

It was around our nightly camp fire discussing the mysteries of this lost race that Val told me about Mr. D. C. McMeans, better known as "Uncle Bill," who is, so far as I know, the only living man today to have been scalped by Indians. Eager to hear the story direct from Uncle Bill, I persuaded the boys to break camp and head for Tucson. Arriving there, we learned he was in Phoenix for several days, but a mere matter of 150 miles did not alter my determination to hear his story. We headed for Phoenix. Expecting to see a man near six feet and slightly bent from the toll of 88 years, I was surprised to meet a man scarcely more than five feet five inches in height. He was hardly my conjectural picture of an Indian fighter, but my hasty opinion soon changed. In spite of his diminutive stature and mild voice, the grip of his handshake matched my own as he gazed at me appraisingly with his one gray eye that still held a glint of old-time recklessness. Then I thought of Billy the Kid, described to me by my friend, the late George Griggs, of Old Mesilla, New Mexico, as barely more than five feet and weighing slightly more than one hundred pounds. My imagination then drifted back three score years and I could see—Bill McMeans—cool, fearless, and absolutely capable.

Born in Southwest Texas the same year as the great Comanche chief, Quanah Parker, 1852, Bill McMeans, like most Texans of that day, practically grew up in the saddle. While he was growing up to the ripe old age of 21, several thousand Texas longhorn cattle had grown up too. Then somebody conceived the idea of running a railroad to Abilene, Kansas, to afford an outlet for those vast herds of longhorns, and from that time on, Texas was prominently identified with the cattle industry. The advent of the iron horse in Abilene marked the beginning of a very exciting and turbulent period in southwestern history that eventually spelled the end of the last frontier.

Along about that time, Texas was having her troubles with the Comanche and other tribes of Indians. In 1846, Texas became a state in the American Union, retaining her public lands and passing her Indian trouble on to the United States. Accordingly, the United States, thru the Department of Indian Affairs, attempted to control the various tribes of Indians by establishment of agencies for the purpose of teaching the savages the ways of the white man. But, in the vernacular of the Comanche, "many moons" were to pass before that was accomplished. The Comanches were the worst of fenders against Texas and many nomadic bands roamed over the western and southwestern part of the state as late as 1874-75. They were expert horsemen and the skill and daring with which they could ride has never been surpassed. Incidentally, the horse was the principal form of capital and exchange; and in their numerous forays against the frontier white settlements, those expeditions were primarily for the purpose of securing more horses. If, however, they were able to take a few scalps on their marauding ventures, they considered their time all the more well-spent. They were the last of the hostile tribes in Texas to submit reluctantly to control of the white man, but their surrender came almost too late for Uncle Bill McMeans to save his scalp. That's his story and here it is:

"Well, it was like this, son. —

"In the spring of '73, I was stopping at a little place in southwest Texas called Bracketville. My occupation was working cattle from San Antonio to the Rio Grande and Devil's Rivers. While I was there, Jim Adams, who was making up a cow outfit to round up a bunch of cattle to drive up the trail (to Abilene, Kansas) came by and asked me to join him. I thought it over for a minute, then inquired: "Where are you going, Jim?" "Oh, up here between the Sycamore and Devil's River," he replied. "Jim, I don't believe I'll go up in that part of the country. Too many Indians over that way right now." "Jim Adams laughed and slapped me on the back as he said: "We're not hunting for Indians, Bill. It's cattle we want to find." "He finally persuaded me to make the trip. A couple of the boys helped me get my traps together and we were soon on our way. Everything went well. We didn't see any Indians and began to think there were none in the country during this moon. Reaching our destination, we pitched camp at the end of a large basin near a cluster of trees. There was a large water hole 300 yards down in the basin which was enclosed by a limestone ridge about eight feet high. We made camp too late to start hunting cattle, so with the exception of one horse for each man that we staked nearby, we drove the remuda down to the water hole and turned them loose. After the usual camp fire palaver we were getting ready to turn in for the night when Charley, one of the boys, remarked: "It looks pretty wild in these hills. In fact it looks more like Indian country than cow country to me." "Don't cross the bridge before you get to it, Charley," Jim Adams replied. "Mr. Adams, I can smell the Comanches now." Old Jake, the Mexican cook, broke in. "Jake, you may dream about the redskins tonight, but that's as near as you'll come to seeing one," Jim Adams laughed. "We turned in for the night, not even taking the trouble to post a sentry. There was no disturbance during the night until Old Jake got up to get breakfast an hour or so before day. While sitting on his bed roll pulling on his boots, he spied a horseman on the ridge that encircled the basin. Old Jake was scared speechless as he stumbled and rolled over on us. This commotion, of course, woke the boys and we slipped on our boots. With guns in hand we gathered around Old Jake to find out the trouble. Finally regaining his composure to some extent, Old Jake mumbled: "Indians on that ridge!" "We then slipped toward the water hole in the basin as far as we dared. We could see it was Indians riding back and forth on the ridge trying to locate the horses. Finally they rode down into the basin. We

Arizona Governor Praises Spirit Of Sam Houston And Of The Alamo

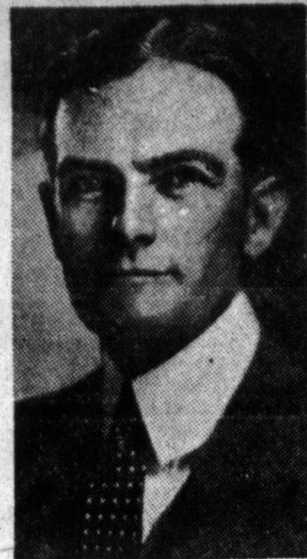

"On behalf of the citizens of Arizona, I die, and commend you personally to the Arizona Society of the Panhan-

FIESTA.
The Fiesta spirit as manifested in our several Western states from time to time has done much to preserve the spirit of the Old West and to promote a better understanding of the New West. We can be rightfully proud of the heritage handed down to us by our pioneer ancestry. The spirit of Sam Houston and the Alamo has contributed much to the building of the great commonwealth of Texas. In like manner, the early characters of Old Arizona, many of them staunch Texans, laid the foundation for our great, modern, progressive state.

"We have traditions to live up to. We are descended from those whose courage, integrity, industry carved out of the primeval desert wastes two great sovereign states. Today those sterling qualities are, if possible, still more urgently needed if these states are to be preserved in a world of unrest, suspicion and hatred. The American way of life is the Western way at its finest. In joining as Texans and Arizonans in the celebration of the Top O' Texas Fiesta, let us be mindful of the faith and fortitude of those to whose accomplishments and memory we pay tribute in these fiestas.

Sincerely,
Sidney P. Osborn

Mississippi 'All Out For Defense,' Writes Governor

"To Mississippians in Texas: It is not disloyal for native Mississippians, wherever now residing, to maintain attachment for and interest in the Old Magnolia state. For this reason, I welcome the privilege of extending to natives of Mississippi now living in the Panhandle of Texas this greeting on the occasion of your Fiesta.

"A state of unlimited national emergency in our great nation has been proclaimed by President Roosevelt. You will be interested to know that Mississippi has pledged her full support in an all-out program of national defense. Our state military department is being strengthened to replace the national guard, now rendering notable service in our United States forces. A program of civilian defense has been launched with such vigor and comprehensiveness as to secure the commendation of Federal authorities.

"As governor of your native state, I would emphasize to you the gravity of world conditions and challenge you, come what may, that Mississippi expects every present citizen and native son to do his duty."

Wyoming Club Has 11 Members, With Six From Casper

Wyoming, the state that uses a cowboy figure on its automobile license plates, rides out in front in total registrations of native sons and daughters from the Northwest states now residing in the Pampa area.

The Wyoming natives, 11 in all, are concentrated from fewer towns than is usual on lists of registrations from those states in which the number of natives is small.

Six of the 11 are from Casper, three from Midwest, one from Sheridan, and one from Byron. With the exception of Richard Casey, Midwest, who resides on the Worley-Reynolds lease, Barbara Matthews, also of Midwest, Standlind Oil & Gas, and Delmar Don Stanley, of Sheridan, Kingsmill, all of the Wyoming people reside in Pampa.

More than 1500 different types of automobiles have been produced in the United States but only about 30 survive.

The average speed at which air-mail and express travels along the airways of the United States is about 110 miles an hour.

DOUGHBOYS M. C.

Parker Wilson

The voice of this smiling gentleman is familiar throughout the Southwest as that of Parker Wilson's, genial master of ceremonies for the Light Crust Doughboys, who is going to be in Pampa in person along with other members of the noted troupe to play for appearances at the Top O' Texas Fiesta, Friday and Saturday, June 13 and 14. Wilson, who arranges, directs, and emcees the Doughboys daily noonday radio program, will bring the aggregation here in their mammoth, sound-equipped bus which is provided them for personal appearance tours by their sponsor, the Burrus Mill & Elevator company, millers of Light Crust Flour.

A REAL CLEAN-NU

WELCH, Okla. (AP)—When the men of Welch were a little slow in pushing the civic clean-up project the women took over. They scooped up 13 big truck loads of trash, nearly all there was in town, and hauled it away. Collecting 25 cents from each householder, they paid off expenses and came out $11 ahead.

Four Natives Of Oregon Register For Fiesta Society

Oregon is represented by four persons in the Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta registration. Each of the four has a different birthplace; two now reside in Pampa, one in Miami, and the other on the Merten lease. Name, address, and birthplace of the four from Oregon are: Frank Pursley, Miami, Craker City; Wilma Jean Bryan, Merten lease, Eugene; Nora Mae Frost, Pampa, Bandon; Mrs. Sparky Rizer, 930 N. Charles, Hood River.

A Californian, Benjamin Holt, invented the caterpillar farm tractor in 1909.

THROUGH THE YEARS

Creaking wheels . . . a patient, plodding horse these are now the vague and distant memories of oldsters in the carbonated beverage business. These primitive methods of transportation have given way to the modern trucks you see delivering Coca-Cola to countless retail outlets that you may enjoy the pause that refreshes with ice-cold Coca-Cola "around the corner from anywhere." The familiar red coolers for Coca-Cola . . . efficient, modern and streamlined, the handy six-battle cartons for your home. . . progress and ingenuity which a resourceful business has met directly and successfully.

We join with hundreds of other firms and citizens of Pampa in a most cordial welcome to Pampa and the Top O' Texas Fiesta, may your visit be a pleasant one.

A Vision Of Yesterday That Came True

Visions that were obstructed by hard winters, scorching suns, hostile Indian tribes and countless numbers of hardships. Nevertheless, those hardy pioneers came on and on, always believing that some day this would be a great land, waving golden wheat fields, pasture land that stretched into the horizon stocked with fine cattle.

Those days came . . . soon the land was tilled, pastures fenced and homes erected that gave life to the Top O' Texas, and started it on a journey of progress that is never ending. Then came "Black Gold." A new structure was seen on the broad plains of this area . . . oil wells. The people taking this as a cue to modern progress soon began developing their land in a different way.

Today, Danciger is playing a part in the next chapter of the continued journey of progress of the Top O' Texas. Faith in the future of this country brought Danciger Refineries here and with the same visions and courage of the early hardy pioneers, Danciger is going forward with Pampa and the Top O' Texas.

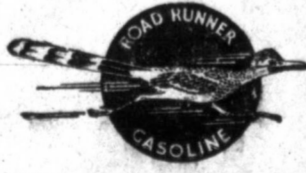

Our Hat's Off To Pampa . . .

. . . for presenting the outstanding community project of the Top O' Texas. For bringing to this great section of a great state recognition of the spirit and cooperation of the people, who are building to greater heights this area.

We are proud to be a part of this outstanding section and extend greetings to all of Pampa and community for their efforts and support in the Top O' Texas Fiesta.

Oil Industry Brought Many Pennsylvanians To Panhandle

Hundreds Of Penn Staters Live In Area

Pennsylvania, one of the states to make the nation famous for its oil fields, sent many native sons and daughters to the Panhandle, 62 registering in the recent drive to determine what states were represented in the population of the area. Several times as many didn't register. Many oilmen from Pennsylvania are prominent in the Panhandle.

Some of the natives of Pennsylvania who registered are not connected with the oil industry. The cities of Bradford and Marienville sent the most Pennsylvanians to the Panhandle.

The Hoover family came from Marienville and the Marys and the Chisholms from Bradford.

The natives of Pennsylvania elected Fred Shryock president of their association and they chose Miss June Marie Hoover for their queen to ride on the beautiful Pennsylvanians float in the parades.

Louisianans Numerous At Coltexo Camp

The neighboring state of Louisiana had 35 persons register in the Top O' Texas Folk Fiesta poll with the Coltexo camp at LeFors leading in the number of natives registering at one single time. There were many more from Louisiana at Coltexo but they have been transferred back to their native state.

There are probably 10 times more Louisiana natives in the Panhandle than the 35 who registered from the membership of the Louisiana club. Most of the natives of Louisiana work in the oil fields, particularly in the carbon black and gasoline divisions. They came to the Panhandle when their companies moved out of Louisiana.

Probably the oldest native to register was Mrs. Mary Wall of Coltexo camp, LeFors, who is 72 years old. She had lived all but four years of her life in Louisiana until coming to the Panhandle recently. She is the mother of six sons, all born in Louisiana.

The natives of Louisiana boast about their scenery, their fishing, their big strawberries and their fruit.

Natives of Louisiana, their present addresses and birthplaces, follow:

George E. Futch, East Craven, Farmerville.
 Lela M. Futch, 621 E. Kingsmill, Farmerville.

Michigan Natives Among First To Organize Society

The 11 natives of Michigan who registered for the Top O' Texas Folk Fiesta elected R. B. Saxe, superintendent of Gulf, as their president and selected Mrs. Frances Hofsees as queen to ride on their float in the parades.

Although one of the small groups, the Michigan natives were among the first to organize a state society and name their queen. They became charter members of their state society and they will welcome the many "Michiganders" who failed to register.

The natives of Michigan all came to Pampa from different cities.

Natives of Michigan, their present addresses and birthplaces, follow:

A. L. Patrick, 314 N. Cuyler, Grand Rapids.
 Stanley W. Brandt, 221 N. Sumner, Onekama.
 Mrs. Glenn Radcliff, 1237 Wilcox, Decatur.
 Mrs. Hutton Schill, 721 W. Kingsmill, Coldwater.

10 Californians Join State Club

Second only to Texas in size is California, the Eldorado or Golden state, which occupies more than one-third of the Pacific coastline of the United States.

Its topography is as varied as its climate, with every phase of surface character presented.

Death Valley, 276 feet below sea level, is the lowest point in the United States. Mariposa trees in Yosemite National park are the world's oldest and largest living things.

Capital of the state is Sacramento; state motto, "Eureka" (I have found it).

Californians registered for the Top O' Texas Folk Fiesta, with their present address and birthplace follow:

Hundreds Of Native Kentuckians Live In Great Panhandle Region

From far away Kentucky came at least 45 persons to live in the Top O' Texas area, and if all natives of the state of Kentucky had registered the number would probably be much greater.

More persons born in Winchester came to the Panhandle than from any other city, but Louisville and Monticello came close seconds.

The Eppersons, Grays, Schneiders, Richardsons, and Straders of Canadian, all came from the State of Kentucky to the Panhandle of Texas. Hundreds of natives of the Blue Grass state live in the Panhandle.

When it came time to organize a state club the Kentuckians and their neighbors, the Tennesseans, got together, buried the hatchet, and perfected a joint organization with Charlie N. Gunn as president, and O. K. Gaylor as secretary-treasurer. They decided to erect a single float with two queens riding on the float. The Kentuckians named Mrs. Audrey Richardson queen, while the Tennesseans selected Miss Inez Baird.

Many of the Kentuckians came to the Panhandle to farm. Besides Pampa, the cities of Canadian, McLean, and Miami registered natives of Kentucky. Six members of the Strader family live in Canadian.

Kentuckians, their present addresses, and birthplaces, follow:

28 Belong To Iowa Society Of Panhandle

All of the natives of the state of Iowa who registered in the Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta poll reside in Pampa which means that many Iowa born residents of the Panhandle failed to register. Those who did register, and they numbered 28, became members of the Iowa club.

Only J. W. Crout, Sr., and J. W. Crout, Jr., came from the same place in Iowa, all others being from different towns and cities. And only Mr. and Mrs. Crout Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kidder were couples born in Iowa who registered.

Natives of Iowa who registered, their present addresses and birthplaces, follow:

Mrs. H. Davis, 805 N. Somerville, Spaulding.

Tennessee Society Has 82 Members

Kentucky and Tennessee are merging their organizations to participate in the Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta, with Charlie Gunn of Tennessee as president, and O. K. Gaylor of Kentucky, as secretary-treasurer.

A check of the 82 Tennessee registrations shows 10 of the Volunteers who claim Carthage as the home town, apparently the leader, in the list of Tennessee towns. All of the registrants except four are of Pampa. One exception is Mrs. Mayhelle Foster Hopkins, of Miami. Preachers, lawyers, and doctors were once barred from serving as legislators of one state in the Union.

That state was Franklin, formed in 1784, after North Carolina had ceded to the United States the territory known now as Tennessee.

Formation of the state of Franklin occurred because the people of the territory feared the U. S. would not set up provisions for governing the state. The Tarheels had not done so after the cession.

In three years time, however, the difficulty was ironed out and Tennessee was admitted to the Union in 1796.

An outstanding sporting event in the state is the hunting each November of wild Prussian boars that roam the mountains of the Cherokee National forest. These boars are descendants of the wild boars imported many years ago from Germany's Black forest.

Capital of Tennessee is Nashville; the state motto: "Agriculture, Commerce."

Those registered for the Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta from the Volunteer or Hog-and-Hominy state, with name, local address, and birthplace, are:

Illinois Society Of Panhandle Has 54 Members

The Texas Panhandle has nothing for levelness on the Prairie state. Illinois is so level that a railway line 100 miles long in which scarcely a dirt cut was necessary.

There are 54 Illinois registered for the Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta, five of them from Chicago.

Officers of the Illinois club are Kenneth Carman, president; R. A. Hewitt, general chairman; Mrs. William Murphy, treasurer-finance chairman; Mrs. W. R. Frazee, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Todd, secretary; and Mrs. Jessye Stroup, publicity chairman.

The capital of the state is Springfield, and the state motto is "State Sovereignty—National Union."

A salary of $25 a year was the salary of one federal employe in Illinois in 1832-1836. As postmaster, that's what Abraham Lincoln received at New Salem. The old town has been restored and is now a part of New Salem state park, located two miles south of Petersburg on Highway 123.

Natives of Illinois registered with name, local address, and birthplace, are:

STRENGTH!

It takes strong financial institutions working in harmony with the other business interests of a community to build a great city and its surrounding territory. . . Security Federal . . . Southwestern and Panhandle Insurance with its associated capital has the necessary strength to meet the needs of this city and the Top O' Texas area . . . no worthy, well secured undertaking is too large or too small for any one of these institutions. If its for the Benefit, Growth and Prosperity of Pampa and the Top O' Texas It's Our Mission to Help Build for the future!

RELIABILITY!

From their first day in Pampa the set policy of these institutions has been one of fair dealing, willing service and prompt attention to our clientele's interest . . . from this policy we have never swerved! We are justly proud of the part we have taken in forwarding the growth of Pampa and the Top O' Texas, and its our constant aim and desire to be of even greater benefit to all the business interests of this entire territory. . . You have only to command—and we are at attention!

Like Crusaders of Old!

We push forward---unafraid!
with Faith and Confidence in the future---of all that has to do with the success of Pampa and

One of the scenic wonders of the world, 217 miles long, is located in Arizona, the Sunset, or Apache state. It is the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, from 4 to 18 miles wide at the Spanish, French, British, American and Confederate flags. There are three natives of the Everglade state, or Land of Flowers, who registered for the Top O' Texas Folks Fiesta. Capital of Florida is Tallahassee, state motto, "In God We Trust." Ollie Durham, 1002 N. Somerville, Tampa. Mrs. H. E. Schwartz, 1001 N. Somerville, Tampa. E. M. Anderson, 428 N. Cuyler, Pensacola.

1926 1941 Un-Measured Through 14 Years!

A statement we are proud to print because it is justified by the fact that today we still have customers that traded with us 15 years ago when we were first established in Pampa.

This reputation of fair dealing and giving greatest measure of quality, variety, intelligent service and low price in the hardware business is one that has been built on confidence and faith in this great area that is known as the Top O' Texas. Never through these 15 years has the Pampa Hardware and Supply Company stopped on its never ending road to promoting this section to new heights.

We are glad of the part we have played in developing this section and assure the people that we are entering into the future with greater zest, faith and confidence than ever before in working cooperatively with other Pampa firms and individuals in building a still better community in which to live.

Our warmest welcome to all visitors attending the Top O' Texas Fiesta. While you are in Pampa come in and spend as much time as you like. . . "You're always welcome here!"
