

Hearings To Be Held On Draft Time

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Suggestions developed in the senate today for drastic overhauling of war-department sponsored legislation to retain selective service trainees in the army beyond one year and to lift the ban against sending them outside the western hemisphere.

Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) told reporters he would ask the senate military affairs committee to start hearings on the measure next Wednesday.

Although he introduced the legislation at the war department's request Reynolds made clear he did not favor it in its present form.

When I voted for the draft act, Reynolds declared, "I did so with the clear understanding that the men would not be sent out of this hemisphere and that they were making a contract with the government for only one year."

As an alternative, Reynolds suggested selectees might be given "some inducement, perhaps higher pay, to reenlist."

Another suggestion changes Chairman George (D-Ga) of the senate foreign relations committee. Telling reporters "that some compromise will be worked out," George suggested a plan whereby selectees could enlist for one, two or three years, in their discretion.

Enlistment of trainees would accomplish the ends of the legislation since there is no restriction on where regular army troops may be sent.

Some senators, linking the legislation with foreign policy, said privately they would have to have a clear explanation of why it was needed before they would consider voting for it.

In asking for the legislation, war department officials have spoken only in general terms of a necessity for this country to be ready for any emergency.

Senator Danaher (R-Conn) asserted "the administration should be more honest with the congress and with the people regarding the various steps it is taking."

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) told reporters that "unless the President is willing to ask congress for a declaration of war he should keep the country advised of what steps he is taking that might lead us to war."

Reynolds said many persons believed enactment of a measure permitting selectees to be sent outside this hemisphere "would be tantamount to a declaration of war."

Chief Of Army Air Forces To Watch Glider Exhibition

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—Mass glider invasion of Elmira's sailplane base in the presence of the chief of the army air forces terminates the 12th annual national soaring contest tomorrow as a demonstration of military use of the silent, motorless craft.

In what is believed to be the nation's first such exhibition 40 to 50 planes are expected to be launched and then—upon signal to sweep down on the field in twos and threes.

Major General Henry H. Arnold, deputy chief of staff for air and head of the army's air forces, together with other army, navy and marine officers will witness the hill-top "attack."

Four Months Ahead

Britain Claims Edge In Tonnage Of Bombs Dropped

LONDON, July 12 (AP)—The British air offensive against Germany has reached a point in tonnage of bombs dropped surpassing the heaviest German attacks upon England, it was stated authoritatively today, as the RAF continued its non-stop assaults on the continent.

During June, said a statement, the weight of British bombs dropped on Germany actually exceeded the tonnage dropped on England in April, which it is said the Germans claim as their record month.

Furthermore, the weight of bombs dropped on Germany in July "will be heavier still," it was said.

British air sources declared that the new air offensive had accounted for 216 German planes since June 22, and that the total German losses since the start of the war, on all fronts from the Arctic to equatorial Africa, have risen to 8,000 aircraft and 20,000 airmen.

Last night, raiders flew the northwestern German naval base of Wilhelmshaven, the air ministry announced, without losing a plane, and today heavy British bombers roared over northern France and were reported authoritatively to have bombed railway and canal communications near St. Omer. The southeast English skies were described as being alive with the bombers and escorting fighter planes as unusually heavy forces took part in the attack.

Two British fighters and one bomber were missing from day raids, but six German fighters were declared to have been shot down.

Authoritative British circles state that the cannon fire of their fighting planes is taking a devastating and constantly heavier toll of German pilots.

Three Overcome By Gas And Drowned

SAN ANTONIO, July 12 (AP)—Walter Stieler, 52, rancher, and two helpers were overcome by gas and were drowned in a water-filled silo they were cleaning this afternoon on the Stieler ranch six miles north of Comfort.

Lupe Chapa and his son, Raymond, were working in the silo when they were overcome by gas. Stieler went down into the silo to rescue the pair and was himself overcome.

The accumulated gas halted an attempt of Eddie Widzenfeld, a neighbor, to rescue the trio. Widzenfeld lowered himself into the silo but was pulled to the surface by others when the gas prevented the rescue.

A pulmotor squad from Kerrville removed the victims but efforts to resuscitate them were futile.

Stieler is survived by his wife, Hedwig; two sons, Roland of California, and Bernhard of Comfort; and a daughter.

GUEST SPEAKER

The Rev. E. R. Foster, pastor of Assembly of God church in Amarillo, will be guest speaker at the local Assembly of God church tonight. He will fill the pulpit in the absence of the Rev. Bracy Greer, pastor, who is conducting a revival in Amarillo.

NAZIS CLAIM

that the French-mandated Levant states did not become bases for a German drive against Suez.

Attention, however, was generally centered on the German-Russian struggle of men and machines.

The Saturday communiques of both Berlin and Moscow gave few details of the strategic situation.

But Germany used DNB, the official news agency which does not pretend to speak in the finality of the high command, to announce that an assault on the Stalin line in its "wet zone" was opened yesterday by combat teams and was stepped up today by reinforcements of shock troops.

The phrase "wet zone" was the closest DNB came to identifying the point of the attack and this seemed to place it either on the Dnepr river, somewhere south of Ostrov, an anchor of the line where it leaves the river to run cross-country northward without any immediate water protection, or farther north in the lake country along the border of the Baltic states.

Russia used subordinate portions of her long communiques as well as TASS, official news agency, and Pravda, Moscow organ of the Communist party, to describe in detail the picture of the war.

TASS said that "the flames of a nation-wide guerrilla war are enveloping the districts of Soviet Byelorussia (white Russia) captured by German fascists." The agency gave no details of these harassing tactics, notably in the region of Pinsk.

A Pravda dispatch from the front declared that the old Polish city, far behind the German front, still was in Russian hands.

Russian forces in Pinsk were said to be raiding the German rear.

Between the lines of the reports from Moscow one could read of intensive preparations for the German big push. Moscow was being cleared of children and the aged.

Leningrad was under heavy aerial assault. A Helsinki dispatch said great fires raged in the Russian base and industrial center after the latest German bombing.

Railways and other transport and communication facilities of western Russia were under heavy harassment by the Luftwaffe.

Russian readiness was illustrated by a section of the communiqué telling how German thrusts across two unidentified rivers had been smashed by air attack, artillery, and finally infantry mop-up.

The Russian air force seemed to be a formidable weapon despite German claims that about 6,000 planes had been destroyed. That the Russians still were challenging the Germans was indicated in the statement of an authorized source that "in the past 24 hours, He gave the ratio of destruction as seven-to-one in favor of the Germans."

The Russians had their own statistics. "On July 11 our air force brought down 85 German planes in combat and lost 19," the Russian communiqué said.

The RAF offensive on Germany's western front continued unabated and it was authoritatively stated in London that in point of tonnage of bombs it had surpassed the heaviest German attacks on England with increases still to come.

The RAF by daylight raided railway and canal communications in the St. Omer region of German-occupied France following up a night assault on the German naval base of Wilhelmshaven in the teeth of a thunderstorm.

The latest word of the armistice negotiations for Syria and Lebanon was that they were proceeding satisfactorily but certain details remain to be settled. Meanwhile, suspension of hostilities is being continued.

The armistice had been sought by the Vichy commander and high commissioner, General Henrici, on his own responsibility after the Vichy government rejected British terms. Britain seemed to have achieved her purpose of barring use of the league-mandated lands as a middle eastern base for Axis attacks on the Suez canal, it was said.

The Turkish radio announced that 50 members of the armistice commission placed Syria by the Axis after the fall of France a little more than a year ago had arrived in Turkey, leaving the Levant to occupation by British troops and their de Gaulle allies.

vice clubs outside of camps, naval stations, defense production centers and overseas bases. The government will provide the buildings, and the U.S.O. will have to find the funds to operate these clubs and their programs.

Why doesn't the government provide operating funds? Government cannot supply funds for private activities, and it has been found that the service men seek civilian or private status when off duty.

It also would be against the whole theory of American democracy to have the state financially control work conducted by religiously affiliated organizations.

Where will U.S.O. get its funds? U.S.O. believes that private citizens owe it to the youth that is depending on them to provide decent and pleasant surroundings for their leisure hours. It will seek funds through private subscription, thus giving citizens strengthened morale through active participation. Moreover, it is held that citizens have some spiritual responsibility for the defense forces.

How Gray Quota Determined
Present goal of the campaign over the nation is $10,765,000 for the first year's operations. Texas quota is $400,000; the $2,000 quota for Gray county is figured on the basis of 7 cents per person.

The National U.S.O. campaign has Thomas E. Dewey as national campaign chairman.

President of the United Service Organizations for National Defense, Inc., is Walter Hoving, and headquarters are the Empire State building in New York.

E. Germany of Dallas is the regional chairman of the U.S.O., in charge of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, and Oklahoma.

Chairman of the 18th congressional district, in which Gray county is located, is Jay Taylor of Amarillo, with Representative Eugene Worley of Shamrock as honorary chairman.

racing conditions, and weeds along the paving cut.

Friday Inspection Tomorrow
Tomorrow noon is the deadline for the inspection of cars. Boys that want to enter the derby must have their cars at the high school gymnasium on Monday morning.

Here the cars will be checked and inspected to see if they comply with the derby rules. Then on Wednesday afternoon, trucks will haul the cars to the course for trial spins.

Races will start at 8 o'clock on both Thursday and Friday nights. On Thursday night, races will be up to the semi-finals; on the following night, the semi-finals and finals.

Boys Guard Parade
There'll be no parade of the derby racers preceding this year's derby. Reason for this, Mr. Culbertson says, is that the boys are giving their cars "under wraps," and don't want to take any chances of having them damaged before the races.

Tickets to the derby sell at 25 cents each. There will be plenty of parking space for spectators' cars. All proceeds go into the Lions club benevolent fund for children.

Winner of the local derby will go to Akron, Ohio, to be this city's entrant in the eighth annual All-American and International Soap Box derby to be held there on August 17.

Prohibition Return Asked By Endeavor

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 12 (AP)—The International Christian Endeavor Society convention called today for a return of prohibition "if the people of this country are to live together in sobriety and happiness."

In a resolution, the 6,000 delegates recalled that 30 years ago in a similar convention here the society coined a slogan, "A Saloonless Nation By 1920."

They added: "Through the unceasing efforts of Christian men and women across the country, national prohibition was achieved in 1918. As endeavors meet again in Atlantic City it is to find the traffic in alcoholic beverages has been revived as a major menace to public morals and civic goodness."

Oil Well Drilling Equipment Held Up By Laredo Customs

LAREDO, July 12 (AP)—The Laredo Times says 11 carloads of oil well drilling equipment consigned to a Mexican corporation for use in Mexico for drilling oil wells for a Japanese concern, were held today by custom officials, according to the Times, when asked if a license had been issued to export the machinery, said they had no knowledge of it.

The Times said custom officials stated that a license is necessary under the President's proclamation covering exports of machinery.

The equipment arrived today by truck and four other carloads are due by rail. The machinery is en route to a point on the Tamaulipas river in Mexico. The Japanese concern holds a concession from the Mexican government to drill for oil, the Times said.

One Killed, Five Injured In Wreck

EL RENO, Okla., July 12 (AP)—One person was killed and five others injured, three critically, in a two-car automobile collision late today 13 miles west of here on U. S. Highway 66.

Mrs. Carl Edgar Frick, 42, Lamesa, Texas, was killed. Her husband, 48, suffered severe chest injuries and head cuts.

Reported near death in a hospital here were Billy Jean Frick, 12, their daughter, and Roy Robertson, 10, of Licking, Mo., their nephew.

The girl suffered a broken back and severe head cuts. The Robertson boy suffered fractures of the skull, left leg, and right arm.

Occupants of the other car were James Shaver, about 25, Geary, Okla., and Aubrey Lee Line, 30, Banner, Okla. Shaver suffered a broken collar bone and head injuries. Line had cuts and chest injuries.

Wee Chinese Turns On Negro Tormentor And Slams Him

JOLIET, Ill., July 12 (12)—Charles Jung, 100 pound Chinese laundryman at Stateville prison comes from patient ancestors who worshipped Confucius, but Charles' patience reached its limit today.

After weeks of taunting by a 200 pound negro Charles leaped at his tormentor. Warden James Doody reported, and with an Oriental wrestling hold tossed the big fellow over his shoulder onto a concrete floor.

The prison hospital said the victim, George McKerny of Chicago, a 30-year-old former pugilist, had suffered a possible skull fracture.

Warden Doody described the negro as a bully but said "some form of disciplinary action" would be necessary for the 36-year-old Chinese.

Pampa Youth In Radio Division At Selfridge Field

Robert Dunlap, who enlisted in the U. S. Air Corps in East St. Louis, and who attended Pampa schools, including Pampa High school, as well as Texas A. & M. for one year, is in the 88th Pursuit Group at Selfridge Field, Michigan. He had planned to go into training as a ground mechanic, but upon his request has been transferred to the radio division and has entered training in that field.

"Private Dunlap likes his work here and wants to say hello to all his friends in Pampa," a letter from C. D. Vornelka of the field command said.

Cavalry Will Be Tested At Bliss

FORT BLISS, July 12 (AP)—The cavalry, toughened by months of hard riding on the dusty, smoky border, sets out tomorrow to prove that horseflesh still has a place in modern warfare.

For two weeks the first cavalry division and the 56th cavalry brigade will test 17,000 troopers and their equipment in the most extensive mounted maneuvers of the current defense effort.

The exercises, a prelude to the big war games starting in Louisiana in August, will be observed by Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger, commander of the third army, and 12 staff officers.

They will study the effectiveness of motorization in increasing the speed and efficiency of the cavalry while retaining the horseman as the basic soldier.

Participating will be 11,000 men and officers of the first cavalry, 3,000 from the 56th cavalry and members of the 260th coast artillery, the 120th observation squadron, Company B of the 72nd quartermasters battalion, Company 1 of the quartermaster's detachment, the 16th veterinary evacuation hospital and the first veterinary company.

Many of the soldiers are selectees trained since last November. Fifty military umpires will grade the maneuvers.

Pampa Beats Big Spring In 14-6 Rout

The Pampa Oilers, who won a 14 to 6 game from the Big Spring Bombers here last night will face the same team twice Sunday, the first game at 2:30 o'clock and the second at 8:30 o'clock. The doubleheader has been divided at the request of fans who cannot attend the afternoon game but who can go to the night game.

Last night's battle was one of those kind in which nearly everything happens. Five pitchers paraded to the mound, Homer Matney, Pampa right-fielder, hit a home run with the bases loaded and Ernie Myers, Pampa pitcher, was taken to the hospital with a dislocated knee suffered when he crashed into Catcher Zigelman of the Bombers when he attempted to score from third after an outfield fly had been caught.

Frank Grabek relieved Myers and pitched his best ball of the season, excepting in the closing two innings when the Bombers bagged five hits good for four runs.

Every member of the Oiler team got at least one hit and four of them bagged a pair.

The game ended with Reeves, Big Spring first baseman, on the mound and he uncorked no less than five wild pitches, two of them costing him runs.

Kohout, one of the league's leading pitchers, started for Big Spring but he left for the showers in the sixth.

One of the largest crowds of the season was present last night to welcome Sammy Hale back to Pampa as manager of the Oilers. Hale will send Harley LaFavers or Monty Montgomery to the mound Sunday.

Frank Scott continued to lead the Pampa Oilers at the plate through Friday night but his average dropped to .340 or a total of 17 percentage points. Sam Malvica, who left Friday to serve a year with the United States armed forces, was second with an average of .320.

Frierson, Matney, Phillips and Smith boosted their averages while the rest of the team slipped.

He had won 12 games and lost 5 and had an earned run average of 1.728. Harley LaFavers, with five wins against four losses, was the only other Pampa pitcher with a better than even record.

Oilers Nosed Out 3 To 2 By Amarillo

Lefty DeCroo and the Amarillo Gold Sox held the Indian sign over the Pampa Oilers again Friday night, taking the second game of the series 3 to 2. It brought the Pampa losing streak to four games.

Frank Grabek, Pampa lefthander, limited the Sox to five hits but weakened in the last two innings and had to be relieved by Myers.

An error by Manager Sam Hale on a double play setup gave the Sox the tying run in the seventh and they evened the count and went one up in the eighth.

It was Emmett Fulewider, former Amarilloan now with the Oilers, who started all the trouble for Amarillo, but it was Dutch Prather, former Pampa manager now with Amarillo, who broke up the ball game with a double in the eighth.

Prather, who started the fourth with a single and two outs later scored on Hale's double. In the sixth Fulewider again started the fireworks with a double and scored on Reynolds.

Glab was wild, walking eight batters, but his support pulled him out of hole after hole until the seventh and eighth.

Many members of the McClellan boat club will participate in the motorboat races. Among those already signed to make the trip are Artie Shaw, Jim and Francis Green, Sherry Phillips, Roy Branscum, Bob Andrews, Johnny Morrison, Frank Hoskins.

There will be service motor boat races; hydroplane races; sail boat regatta; bathing revue; massed airplane flight over the stadium as government and region officials designate this half-million dollar recreational resort. Bascom White, water ski expert of Amarillo in a thrilling exhibition; clown diving events; a polo pony race with horse owners as jockeys and a six-chuckerpolo game in the stadium at the lake site. Drills and concert by the famed Dalhart XIT Band will balance a day filled with fun and thrills.

The fastest speed boats of the southwest will compete for cash and merchandise awards attracting the fastest and most capable pilots of the area for some eight thrilling races.

Earl McConnell, rear commodore of the McClellan Boat club, backed by Pampa Yacht members, will be official starter of all races including drivers from Paducah, Clavis, Berger, Amarillo, Perryton, Canadian, Plainview, Lubbock and other points.

Passenger rides will be available to residents of the former dust bowl region in the best equipped and fastest passenger boats obtainable.

Marvin Jones, former congressman of the Panhandle and now Judge of the District of Columbia will be principal speaker of the day with John McCarty, Amarillo publisher acting as master of ceremonies. High government, county and city officials and a host of dignitaries will be honored guests and participants in the ceremonies.

Festivities begin Saturday afternoon crowding each hour with fun and thrills through Sunday night. There are no charges for the races, race or contest and never an admission at Rita Blanca Lake.

Rita Blanca now has 41 feet of water and backs up to the downtown district, a distance of three miles in length.

Polo And Horse Races On Program At Park Today

Polo and horse races will be entertainment features at Recreation park Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. Three polo teams will play a round robin match and several horse races will be run during the afternoon.

The round robin polo games will see Pampa, Plainview and Dalhart foursomes in action. Two teams, to be selected by drawing numbers, will play the first chucker. The winning team will then play the team drawing a bye in the second chucker. If there is no score in the first chucker the winner will be selected by the toss of a coin. In all, nine chuckers will be played.

Some of the best horses in West Texas will be seen in the polo games. West Texas is becoming famous for its fine polo ponies, several having been sold to eastern teams.

Word has been received here that two or three Oklahomans will bring race horses here to match speed against Panhandle horses both in dash events and half-mile races. One or two races between local horses are also being arranged.

Two wronglanders finished the first half of the West Texas-New Mexico League campaign with most of the "first" honors.

Johnny McPartland of Pampa rang up a fine 1.728 earned run average, although Charlie Wheelchel of Big Spring was not far behind at 1.872. Wheelchel's teammate, Bob Kohout, followed closely at 2.088.

Portchender Bill Garland of Berger, whose 2.151 is not to be scoffed, and Kohout were tied for the best winning percentage with 10 wins and three losses each. The prize Gasser rookie had fanned 152 batters, just 113 short of the league record. He had been knocked out of the box only once in 13 starts.

Only once has as many as four earned runs been scored against Wheelchel.

ITTO To Plug And Abandon Wildcat In Hemphill County

The Indian Territory Illumination Oil company announced Saturday that its wildcat test in Hemphill county, two miles north of Mendota, would be plugged and abandoned. The wildcat, 30 miles from nearest production, was being watched with great interest by Panhandle oil men.

The application to plug, filed at the local office of the Texas Railroad commission, revealed that drilling ceased at 4,038 feet and that neither oil or gas had been encountered.

The test was located in section 55, block 1, I&GN survey, two miles north of Mendota in a 10,000-acre tract secured by the company following nearly a year of core-drilling the territory.

The dolomite formation, anticipated at about 3,800 feet was missed, according to word received here. The company has made no announcement regarding future plans. ITTO has large leases in Hartley county which they may develop.

Today's War Analysis

By KIRKLE L. SIMPSON

Hitler's gas-engine drive to cut in half Napoleon's 1812 horse-drawn blitzkrieg to Moscow obviously has not been hitting on all cylinders up to date.

Half of his reputed 49-day time schedule for reaching the Russian capital en route that took Napoleon 90-odd days—has gone by. His fire-breathing tanks, ditch-leaping speed troop chariots, shrieking dive-bombers, and terroristic war technique have not yet brought him half way to his goal.

Napoleon found getting to Moscow relatively easy. It was getting away again that wrecked his army. That Nazi "little corporal" of 1941 must sometimes think of that night at his field headquarters, presumably somewhere in central-eastern Poland.

The 13 weeks it took Napoleon to arrive at Moscow proved to be his undoing. Like Hitler he set out in June. A Russian winter, and an exceptionally bad one at that, caught him in a carefully-set Russian trap.

OVER HILL, OVER DALE—and the big Studebaker army truck goes rolling on. The satisfactory performance of the truck in army torture tests resulted in an order for thousands of the husky vehicles.

Abandonment Of Stripper Wells Fought By IPA Heads

'd Buy Used Car Now,' Says Dodge Sales Executive

"We have just concluded a survey of the used-car business of our 4,000 dealers, and obtained information of timely interest not only to car merchants, but to the thousands about to invest in the purchase of used transportation," says Forest H. Akers, vice-president and director of sales of the Dodge Division of Chrysler Corporation.

"Ordinarily, used automobiles are merchandise which the new-car dealer must buy, stock, display, advertise and sell in order to continue in the business of selling new cars. Without used cars as part of the consideration on new-car transactions, the volume of new-car sales would never have grown to the enormous proportions which it has reached.

"The fact that we are now not doing business in normal times is of special interest to the dealers' used-car customers whose numbers are increasing at a rapid rate through new replacement and increasing earnings.

"We find that because of recent employment gains our dealers have been experiencing a definitely speeded-up demand for lower-priced, top value, used cars; cars which are being sold by owners traveling to and from plants located far from their homes. Used car sales made by Dodge dealers so far in 1941 are greater by 29 per cent than they were in the corresponding period of 1940.

"We also find that our dealers' used-car sales have accelerated rapidly with the coming of good weather."

The case of the "stripper" wells—the wells yielding small amounts of oil each day but together accounting for about 20 per cent of the total proved underground reserves in the United States—has been outlined to Petroleum Co-ordinator James by Charles F. McGaha, president, and H. B. Fell, executive vice-president, of the National Stripper Well association.

In their statement of the facts the two association officers, both of whom operate a number of the small wells, mentioned that it had been "suggested by some" that if 50,000 stripper wells were abandoned there might be a beneficial result as the steel and other materials salvaged could be used in new wells or in national defense purposes.

"It must be recognized," wrote Messrs. McGaha and Fell, "that such steel as might be salvaged from wells of this type is in most cases badly deteriorated and what is usable could, in most cases, only be utilized in very shallow wells as it is too light for use in deep wells."

That point—recovery of the material from abandoned wells—is in the principal loss that would occur in natural resources, they said. "It would seem absurd in the critical situation that now confronts our nation to abandon large known reserves in the hopes of finding new reserves which are becoming increasingly difficult to recover," the association officials asserted.

The economic point stressed to the co-ordinator was that an adequate price is necessary to the continued operation of the small wells. In considerable measure, preservation of such wells is necessary to the preservation of the independent producer. Messrs. McGaha and Fell reminded the co-ordinator that in hearings before the Temporary National Economic committee it was developed that the 20 largest oil companies own less than one-fourth of the wells but produce more than half the oil.

"The independent operators produce a large portion of the total crude oil output and offer a safeguard against monopoly," the statement said. "In addition, this independent group is vitally important in the search for new reserves as shown by the fact that they drilled 72 per cent of the total wells in 1940 and found 75 per cent of the new fields discovered during the year."

Specific cost figures on producing oil from stripper, or settled, wells were given. An example given was that of a north Texas operator whose 640 barrels daily produced in 1940 cost $1.84 per barrel and whose gross income was $112 per barrel, a loss of 32 cents per barrel. Costs have increased steadily in recent years. Labor costs have gone up, as have taxes and supplies used in oil fields.

"The production of some wells naturally gets so small and their cost of operation so high that it could not be expected that a reasonable price of petroleum would keep them going, the writers said. Thus a number of such wells are abandoned every year. "A continued low price below the cost of production, however, results in the premature abandonment of many stripper wells before they reach their economic limit," it was asserted by Messrs. McGaha and Fell.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—The stock market today concluded the best week in more than a year with irregularly higher tendencies.

Trends were indefinite from the start and, while there was a handful of gains, the market was generally bearish.

Hopefulness over business persisted as a bidding incentive, however, as the market began a new and heavier onslaught at the Red. Fears of much bigger gains than most had expected also was a restraining influence.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .11 of a point at 42.5 and on the week showed a net gain of 1.8 points, largest upturn for any similar period since last June. It was the third successive week's rise in the barometer.

Several sizeable blocks of low-priced investment transfers to 260-60 shares, a top for any Saturday since May 10.

Westerly Union, Detroit, Newport Industries and Chesapeake Corp. posted new tops to the year. On the upside, a leading incentive, however, as the market began a new and heavier onslaught at the Red. Fears of much bigger gains than most had expected also was a restraining influence.

Engineering Training Offered For Flying Cadets

The War Department is offering to young men who meet the prescribed requirements, a course of training in maintenance engineering to qualify them as Air Corps Squadron engineering officers. This training carries with it no pilot instruction and prepares only for ground duty.

Application blanks and other information may be secured from Corporal Harvey M. Gist, local recruiting officer, at his office in the basement of the post office.

This training will be given at the Air Corps Technical School, at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Illinois, and will cover a course in airplane mechanics which includes airplane structures; airplane hydraulic systems and miscellaneous equipment; air craft propellers, instruments, engines and electrical systems; engine induction, fuel and oil systems; engine operation and test; engine change and engine change inspections; and airplane inspection and maintenance.

Those who successfully complete the entire course of training will be commissioned 2nd Lieutenants, Air Reserve Corps, as squadron engineering officers. The time required for training before being commissioned will be approximately nine months.

First priority candidates for this engineering training must be college graduates with degrees in engineering. Candidates with senior standing in engineering colleges will be eligible in second priority. Subjects considered as essential prerequisites include mathematics through calculus, engineering mechanics, strength of materials, basic chemistry and physics, hydraulics and thermodynamics. Additional subjects that are desirable include machine shop practice, general electrical engineering theory and laboratory, theory of framed structures, and machine drawing.

The status of cadets undergoing this specialized non-flying course of training is the same as that for cadets receiving flying training. They are designated "Flying Cadets" and applications for the course must meet the general requirements for appointment as flying cadets of the United States, between the ages of twenty and twenty-six inclusive, of good character, sound physique, and in excellent health.

The physical requirements are less rigid than those required for flying training, candidates must meet the standards prescribed for appointment in the Officers Reserve Corp of the Army.

While undergoing training, the flying cadet receives $75 per month and $1 per day ration allowance which is turned into a general mess fund. When the cadet graduates and is commissioned 2nd Lieutenant, Air Reserve, he receives $125 per month base pay plus $18 per month ration allowance. Those officers who reside away from the post are given a travel allowance of $40 per month.

Travel to Air Corps technical schools may be made by private automobile. Rules and regulations regarding possession and operation of automobiles while at the technical school will be issued by the Commanding Officer.

Applications for this training should be submitted in triplicate either to the commanding general of the corps area in which you reside or direct to the Chief of the Air Corps, Washington, D. C. The regular flying cadet application blanks may be used but notation should be made thereon that "engineering" training is desired. Three letters of recommendation, transcript of college work, and birth certificate, if not previously submitted, should also be furnished.

Wheat Farmers Alarmed About Their Crops

Wheat farmers south and east of Pampa are becoming alarmed about their crop which is standing in the field and cannot be harvested because of mud. Some farmers have been trying to cut with two tractors on their combines but in most cases all three machines have bogged down.

Heavy rain and some hail fell east of Pampa Friday afternoon, further delaying the possibility of getting into fields early this week. Hail was reported to have started about five miles east and extended three miles east. Length of the strip was unknown yesterday. Another hail fell east of Groom Friday afternoon.

Fields east of Pampa are either standing in water or the mud is so deep that green moss has started growing and wheat stems are turning black.

The wheat is knocked down and is so thick and matted that sun cannot get to the ground and wind cannot penetrate the stems.

Most of the crop north and west of Pampa has been harvested or cutting is in progress.

Yield is ranging all the way from 15 to 30 acres but the test is fairly low.

Trosky Bothered By 'Thumping Headaches'

CLEVELAND, July 12 (AP)—Slugging Hal Trosky surprised even his manager with the disclosure today that a "thumping headache" has bothered him at least half the time during the last three baseball seasons.

The Cleveland Indians' big first baseman declared emphatically that he has no intention of retiring at any fixed date, and added:

"But gosh, a fellow can't go on like this forever. If I can't find some relief, I'll simply have to give up and spend the rest of my days on my farm in Iowa."

"It was so bad one day last summer," he declared, "that I walked out to Mel Harder who was pitching, and asked him not to try to pick the runner off first base. I knew if Mel threw me a fast ball, I wouldn't even see it."

Roger Peckinpaugh, Tribal manager, said he knew Trosky had been bothered by headaches for several seasons but that he was surprised they were so serious and frequent.

"Hal only complained to me about them twice this summer, and Thursday night was the first game he missed because of them."

The 28-year-old slugger was replaced by Oscar Grimes. The utility man responded with four blows in as many trips.

Ex-Students Of Goodnight Baptist Academy To Meet

For the first time since the school was abandoned in 1918, ex-students of historic Goodnight Baptist Academy at Goodnight will hold a reunion.

The date is for all day Saturday, July 19; place, the academy grounds, now the campus of Goodnight High school at Goodnight.

E. Baas Gay of Pampa, who attended the academy in 1908, 1909, and 1910, has been asked to contact former Goodnight academy students living in Pampa and vicinity. He said Saturday he had mailed out 75 cards.

Other former students, in turn, are asked to notify other alumni of the famous institution, which was first founded as a Methodist school, later made a Baptist academy, and sponsored by Colonel Charles Goodnight, whose name it took.

The reunion next Saturday will be in the form of a basket lunch picnic, at noon and again at supper time.

Effort To Raise Tax Bill Total Now Being Talked

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Mounting defense expenditures and controversies over tentatively approved new levies led today to capital talk of further revision of the $3,500,000,000 tax bill.

Ten days ago the House Ways and Means committee gave preliminary approval to legislation to raise $3,504,400,000, but there were reports it might be revised materially and its presentation to the house delayed perhaps until Aug. 1.

Bill is designed to raise $1,154,500,000 additional in individual income taxes, $1,332,000,000 in corporation levies, and almost another billion dollars in excise and miscellaneous taxes. It is in the hands of bill-drafting experts who expect to complete it next week.

Because of President Roosevelt's requests in the last two days for more than $8,000,000,000 additional for defense, some committee members predicted an effort would be made to raise the tax bill's total now, rather than wait until later.

One member said privately he would renew the periodic attempt to create a congressional super-budget committee to co-ordinate the government's expenditures and revenue.

This plan would give a nine-man group veto power over all money bills, which could be overridden only by a two-thirds vote of the house membership of 435.

Norris Observes His 80th Birthday

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—It was "just an ordinary working day" for Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska Friday on his 80th birthday.

The white-haired Independent, direct and looking physically fit, planned to work as usual at his office where, as one of his aides put it, "There are always plenty of things the senator insists on attending to personally."

Norris, now in his 39th consecutive year of service in congress, has said he would not seek reelection when his present term ends in January, 1943.

Jobless Mother Deserts Her Child

DALLAS, July 12 (AP)—If Mrs. Pauline Baker, 20 year old Houston widow, can find a Dallas job paying enough to support her three week-old son, she may regain the child-found in a Dallas bus station Thursday.

Taken from a bus at Corsicana, returned to Dallas and charged with child desertion, the young mill worker, whose husband was killed recently at El Paso, is now in a juvenile home. The child is at Hope Cottage, a children's home.

"If the mother who has her child badly enough to find a job so she can rear him properly, we will let her have him," Mrs. Glen Carson, Hope Cottage official, said today.

District Attorney Dean Gaudin indicated that desertion charges will not be pressed.

Pampa Lubricating Company Burglarized

The Pampa Lubricating company office at 802 West Brown street was burglarized Friday night, city police were notified Saturday. Oil and light bulbs were stolen, police reported.

The burglar smashed the cash register but found no money. The register was not locked and could have been opened by pressing a button.

Reported taken were seven quarts of oil and eight light bulbs, which is in the 56th Pursuit Group at training in that field.

Average cost of the iron and steel in an automobile to the manufacturer is 3 cents a pound.

Why do banks charge higher interest rates than they pay?

If a bank is to be profitable—and thus remain strong and sound—its income must exceed its outgo. Even if all its funds were available for loans or investments, it still couldn't pay as much interest as it charges, because rendering banking service costs money. In actual fact, sizable sums must be "immobilized" as reserves. Other sums are invested in government bonds which pay very little.

Last week we received a colorful and unusual necklace from a friend who spent the Fourth of July holidays in New Mexico. The lei-type necklace is made of melon seeds painted maroon color and strung together. We've heard that ordinary paper clips make enchanting bracelets and necklaces when linked together, either in a long line or in bunches. They can be painted, too, with oil paint, or with nail polish. Buttons strung together on colored cord make smart and gay bracelets for girls. Smaller buttons, varnished or painted and strung on yarn or ribbons are eye-catching. Coral necklaces can be made out of noodles by painting star-shaped noodles with red nail polish and stringing them alternately with white noodles. Clothespins are decorative if you paint faces on four or five of them, make a dress or trousers for them and tie colored yarn around the tops to make an amusing necklace.

GABLE AND RUSSELL TEAMED IN MGM's STORY OF JEWEL THIEVES IN ORIENT

Before Describing "They Met in Bombay," Film Writer Puts Forth A "View With Alarm" On Movie-Makers' Use Of Pretty-Pretty Glamour Without Plot In Filmicals

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON

Every week I vow to turn out something that is different in this column, but something always happens to mar those well-set plans. After the Fiesta, I thought, everything would be smooth sailing, and there would be plenty of time to make this Sunday feature sizzle.

There was a lot of study I was going to do, a lot of new angles, but late in the guise of the third annual Soap Box Derby, the National United Service Organizations campaign, the drive for aluminum, stepped in and said "verboten."

Besides all that, there is the Georgian style building just north of Albert square that demands a part of my time each day.

Just for the novelty of it, I decided this week to voice a personal squawk against musicals, in general, "Moon Over Miami," in particular.

Sure it was good, there were plenty of wisecracks, Betty Grable is an eye-fall and Don Ameche quite a guy, but the plot was too long, the dances were too long, and too much Technicolor, dazzling and brilliant as it was, is like two choc malts on top of a T-bone steak and French fries.

Stories don't count for much, anyhow, in filmicals (inspiring exception was "Alexander's Ragtime Band") but why in the name of all the good yards available, must the plot always be on the Polynesian side and why must the principal characters, either the millionaires or those who have no income but still don't work, apparently live high, wide, and handsome just the same?

Getting down to the business in hand, I take my veteran typewriter, and tapping the keys in a manner that would make Sports Editor Harry Hoare yelp in anguish at the staccato clatter, give you this look-see on the weekly cinema menu:

GABLE IN INDIA

"They Met in Bombay," MGM, 86 minutes, Clark Gable, Rosalind Russell, Peter Lorre, Jessie Ralph. Story of two jewel thieves, the theft of a gem in Bombay, flight, escape to Hong-Kong. After six weeks, Gable is hard up for potatoes, so he poses as a British army officer, recruits a force, robs a Chinese merchant.

The Japanese get mixed up in the scene and in a battle with the Nipponese, Gable is a stand-out, and gets the Victoria Cross. The film winds up with Gable and Miss Russell returning the stolen jewel and he promising to return for enlistment at the conclusion of his prison term.

It's on the LaNora screen for four days, starting today.

Zany Comedy

On the same screen Friday and Saturday is "The Lady Eve," Paramount, 97 minutes, with Barbara Stanwyck, Henry Fonda, Charles Coburn. A zany comedy, set against the situation of a woman who is a baron, and his bodyguard heading a boat off South America after a year in the jungle.

Aboard the vessel are Miss Stanwyck, her father, Coburn, and Melville Cooper, all card sharps and out to fleece the suckers. The picture just the beginning, but it'll give you an idea.

Doughboys

Cashing in on a new theme, Universal presents Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, the haters of radio and stage, in a comedy about Uncle Sam's new army, called "Buck Privates." Songs include "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy," "When Private Brown Becomes a Captain," and "I Wish You Were Here."

The vocalizing is by the Andrews sisters, Abbott and Costello, and Jane Frazee. "Buck Privates" opens a three-day run today at the Rex.

Woodsmen

"Men of the Timberland," with Richard Arlen, Andy Devine, Universal, 61 minutes, At Rex, Wednesday and Thursday. Another in the Arlen-Devine outdoor series. Arlen, forest ranger is dispatched to a lonely section of the country to check up on some timber thieves.

Grown Up Deanna

A very glamorous young woman is on the State screen Wednesday and Thursday. She is Deanna Durbin, in Universal's "Nice Girl," a charming and delightful film, 95 minutes. Franchot Tone is seen as the romantic young adventurer that upsets a small town and Robert Stack as the nice boy from next door who really loves Deanna.

Spy Adventure

Anna Sten returns to the screen in the stirring story of spies and adventure "Exile Express," which opens the week at the Crown. Alan Marshall is co-starred. Theme is timely and the story crammed with action.

Motorists Told Cars Burn Too Much Gasoline

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Fifty-two District of Columbia motorists received today a sample of what may be in store for automobile drivers throughout the East due to the shortage of gasoline in this area.

Their burning exhausts indicated excessive use of the fuel. They were escorted to police headquarters, and there some of the drivers did a little personal fuming, while their cars were inspected.

A special testing device showed fifty of the automobiles were using excessive quantities of gasoline. "Red stickers" were issued against their operators and they were given ten days in which to make mechanical adjustments.

If the adjustment is not made in 10 days, the annual permit for operation of the car is suspended and the car barred from the road until it is fixed.

It was a part of a campaign by Interior Secretary Ickes, the defense petroleum coordinator, against waste of gasoline. He announced this week he would ask officials of Eastern states and cities to arrest drivers for using what he described as "oil burner cars" and for making "jack rabbit" starts.

Ickes has also passed word around that unless gasoline consumption is extensively reduced, it may be necessary to issue ration cards for the fuel. Meanwhile, he instituted a conservation program here.

It calls for fewer stops by buses, less cruising of cabs, elimination of week-end deliveries by trucks, curbing home small packages to reduce store delivery operations, and sharing the car with others on regular trips such as to and from work.

The office of the petroleum coordinator also announced during today the appointment of a series of committees throughout the country to advise on coordination of the petroleum conservation program. Members of the committee were nominated by the industry.

Sooner Boy, 10, Scores in Films

He's only 10 years old, but he's been in a half-dozen topnotch pictures—and has been on vaudeville tours in 20 states. Billy Lenhart, the "Butch" of Universal's team of "Butch and Buddy," is a native Oklahoman.

He is 47 inches tall, weighs 54 pounds, has blue eyes and brown hair. His pictures include "Sandy a Lady," "The Under-Pup," "A Little Bit of Heaven," and "In the Navy."

"I guess it was just 'borned' in us," is the modest manner in which Billy, 10-year-old bass violinist, disclaims the amazing musical talent first displayed on the screen by himself and his 9-year-old partner, Kenneth Brown, accordionist, in Universal's "The Under-Pup."

The comedy team, "written in" to the picture at the last minute after auditioning for producer Joe Pasternak, scored a hit second only to that of Gloria Jean, 11-year-old title player, and earned universal studio term contracts as a result.

Billy, dark-haired member of the duo, was born in Edmond, Okla., December 14, 1930. His father, J. B. Lenhart, was a carpenter in Edmond.

When Billy was three and one-half years old, he started playing the bass fiddle. Neither his father nor his mother remembers just how or why, Billy says that he "just started playing." Neither he nor his partner has ever had a lesson.

Billy has two brothers in vaudeville and a sister in school. Shortly after he started playing, he joined an older brother in a radio act that played over every station in Oklahoma City. In 1936 a fake film talent scout traveling through Oklahoma "discovered" Billy and for a small fee gave the boy a contract to a major Hollywood studio and induced the Lenharts to leave for Hollywood.

The family arrived in California on November 8, 1936, found their "contract" worthless and studio gates closed. Not until nearly three years later was Billy's name finally written on a contract.

SERIAL STORY

ANOTHER MAN'S WIFE

BY DONNA ASHWORTH

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Ducking into the big Kot Ten Room, the orchestra leader, Ann discovers Ken and Janet together, planning to go to the Strathmore Hotel to dance to Coon's music. Ann sees Jerry, who she really loves Jerry. He tells her he will come to Farmington by plane but that he must hurry because he has been called to camp. When Ann sees Jerry, her heart sinks, because she has been indifferent to Ken's proposal to accompany her to the Strathmore Hotel dance.

SEVERAL PEOPLE WAKE UP

CHAPTER XII

AT the Strathmore Hotel, there was laughter and music. Farmington society had come to dance to the swing music of Jim Coon's famous orchestra.

Jim Coon looked toward the door, a smile about his mouth. "Jerry Lane and Lita Damson, world famous dancing pair, are now entering the room," he announced swiftly. He had scarcely believed his ears when Lita had called, but here she was with Jerry beside her.

The words were magic. As she would shed an old frock that no longer was of any value, so Lita could feel the cringing sedate personality slipping away from her. She had been humble, afraid of what Ken might say—afraid of displeasing him or his friends. But she wasn't afraid now, for it no longer mattered.

She moved beside Jerry as a princess might have moved, nodding here and there to people she knew, meeting for a moment her eyes as he sat at a table near the wall with Janet.

Jim Coon watched them as they came along the edge of the floor. When they came nearer, he made his way toward them, holding out his hands in welcome, laughing as he guided them to a table. For a moment they talked and laughed; then he turned back to the room.

"We are going to have the privilege tonight of seeing Miss Damson and Mr. Lane dance. It gives me great pleasure to introduce to you—Lita Damson and Jerry Lane, the world's greatest dancers as well as my two very good friends."

They moved toward the center of the dance floor, laughing as they turned to face the applauding crowd. Lita was looking at Ken as he sat scowling beside Janet. She had never seen him look so angry. He was fairly glowing.

The applause was deafening as the music stopped.

She and Jerry were dancing again, their mad Spanish dance, swirling, dipping, swaying, stopping at last, panting and breathless, laughing into each other's eyes.

Lita was laughing and bowing as she clung to Jerry's hand. The applause was a roar about them.

TO the left was a dinner party of the gay younger crowd who was always doing things, and Ken disapproved of them because they were not in his particular social group—Rita Cavin and the Baylor boy, young Tom Phillips and Bess Begg, Charles Ryan and one or two others she did not know. Suddenly she moved toward them, laughing down at Rita Cavin.

"Jim Coon has consented to play for a party for me after he finishes here tonight. Won't you all come out to my house and dance?" "Will you?" They were looking at her with admiring eyes. "We didn't know you were Lita Damson." Their voices were bubbling.

People were watching her eagerly, and their glances darted back now and then to Ken Richards and Janet Carstairs.

"Ken, darling," determinedly she made her voice gay and light, and her eyes as she met his were mocking. "I'm having a little party as soon as Jim Coon finishes here—the sort of party at which we met in little old New York. Remember? You'd better bring Janet along; she might like it."

The look on Ken's face was fiendish. His eyes glittered. His mouth was twisted in a savage snarl. She had never seen anyone so angry. There was murder in his eyes as he leaped to his feet, striking blindly at Jerry. There was the sickening sound of knuckles cracking against flesh.

"Ken! Ken, don't make a fool of yourself!" Janet shrieked above the clatter.

A chair went over with a bang. A table loaded with dishes tilted and crashed. Jerry Lane and Ken Richards were fighting in the open space, jabbing at each other with fierce strokes that went home.

Swaying a little, clinging to a table for support, Lita watched them as they struggled. Ken had discovered at last that she counted, or was it just his pride. Even in that moment she wondered if he really cared for her... could care very much for anyone.

She couldn't think of anyone but Jerry who had come 500 miles or more because she needed him. Ken would kill him! He was so much larger and stronger. She darted forward, clutching at them wildly, trying to separate them. "Jerry, darling, be careful! Jerry!"

JERRY stopped one instant and glanced at her. Then understanding blazed in his eyes and he turned and struck so swiftly that no one knew exactly what happened. Ken Richards was swaying on his feet, crumpling down in a heap on the floor. For a moment Jerry stood swaying groggily above him. Then he stood erect, wiping the blood from his face.

"The next time he takes another man's wife from him, maybe he'll know how to treat her," he said. "I thought a six-month delay on that decree would show him up."

With the realization of the meaning of his words, she was dizzy with sudden delight. Everything was a blur. The crowd was fading away. Her knees were crumpling beneath her.

"Darling!" Jerry's voice... Jerry's arms catching her close, lifting her up. Her head dropped against his shoulder. Everything was black.

Presently fresh air was blowing in her face. Her wrap was folded about her. She was beside Jerry. The highway stretched out ahead of her, and Jerry was guiding her car swiftly over it. There were lights—the lights of the airport.

"Jerry! What...?" He did not wait for her to finish her question. A laugh played about his mouth. He bent and kissed her, silencing her. He stopped the car and climbed out, darting around, opening the door, lifting her out as if she were a child. He walked through the darkness, paused a moment at the airport office door, and issued orders. She started to speak, but Jerry kissed her suddenly, fiercely, so that the words would not come. "I love you." His lips were against hers. "I've always loved you."

The plane soared on through the night. Suddenly the moon swept out of the darkness, clear and bright. The world was wrapped in the glory of it. Pictures floated through her mind, the Strathmore, the startled faces, the look in Ken's eyes.

A little smile crept about her scarlet mouth. She threw her arm over Jerry's shoulders. She was tired of being a lady. Tired of quietness and being conservative, tired of restraint, tired of all the things she had once dreamed she wanted. Ken, Janet, Farmington all seemed very far away. They didn't matter now.

"I've wanted you so, Jerry," she murmured wearily. (THE END)

Regenis Confer On Spies Re-Election

AUSTIN, July 12 (AP)—Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president of the University of Texas, said today, in answer to questions, that the board of regents of the university had before it the subject of whether to reelect Dr. John W. Spies as dean of the medical branch of the school in Galveston.

Reports had been circulating in Austin for some time that opposition to Dr. Spies existed in Galveston and elsewhere and had been brought to the attention of the regents. It was understood the regents discussed the matter at a meeting in Austin Wednesday but no formal announcement was made.

"Dr. Spies' re-election is before the regents," Dr. Rainey said. "The board is working on the problem, and it is a problem. Nothing has been done."

He indicated there would be a further statement later.

State Senator R. C. Lanning of Jacksboro said he had heard the regents were going to dismise Spies, and added that in his opinion Spies was well qualified for his job and had done good work.

"Spies sold the legislature on building a greater medical school at Galveston," Lanning stated. "He is well qualified and has done excellent work."

In the recent session of the legislature, Spies was a frequent visitor at the capitol, appearing often before the senate and house appropriations committee in the interest of appropriations for the medical school.

Portugal Sends More Soldiers To Azores

LISBON, Portugal, July 12 (AP)—Portuguese determination to defend the Azores was declared anew today by the influential Diario Mandan, organ of the government party, in an editorial directed squarely at the United States.

The new outbreak of editorial violence came with two developments indicating Portugal's watchfulness over her Atlantic island:

1. Another contingent of troops sailed yesterday for the Azores. It was the second to go in two days, the fourth in three months and one of the largest dispatched there so far.

2. Plans were announced for General Oscar De Fragosa Carmona, president of Portugal, to leave July 20 on a one-month tour of the strategic island group.

Portugal protested to the United States after President Roosevelt, in his May 27 firsede chat, mentioned the Azores as a potential foothold for German operations.

State School Tax Slash Indicated

AUSTIN, July 12 (AP)—A balance in the state's available public school fund today indicated the automatic tax board would slash the state ad valorem rate for school purposes at its meeting here July 21 or before.

The current school rate is 27 cents, eight cents below the permitted maximum. The rate was reduced from 35 cents last year and a further reduction was probable due to the healthy condition of the school fund, which was expected to pay the current $22.50 per capita scholastic apportionment and have enough left to pay $1.50 more.

The total maximum state ad valorem rate, set by law, is 77 cents on the $100 valuation, 35 cents for schools, 35 cents for general purposes and 7 cents for confederate pensions. The latter figure is fixed by statute and not subject to change.

A $29,000,000 deficit in the state's general revenue fund, it was pointed out, precluded any possibility of cutting the 35 cent rate for general purposes.

The tax board, composed of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, Comptroller George Sheppard and Treasurer Charley Lockhart, must meet within five days after July 15, the date set by law for certification by county tax assessors to the comptroller of their assessed valuations.

While officially fixed by the board, the rate actually is determined by factors prescribed by law, as follows: total assessed valuations over the state, legislative appropriations and revenues from other sources. The difference between in-

KPDN Radio Chat

By BILL BROWNE

People ask occasionally how far out KPDN can be heard clearly. Well the other night at the ball game in Amarillo, which KPDN broadcasted, Mrs. Bubber Jonnard, wife of the Gold Sox manager, said a number of Amarillo people had told her they had heard the broadcast Thursday night. So the transmission can be heard in Amarillo, anyway, and that is at night when interference is supposed to be greatest.

A man working down in Rolfe, Texas, a tiny town about 14 miles north of Abilene, heard KPDN's 8:15 program, "Stringing Along," last Thursday morning, he said. He heard Ken Bennett play the transcribed Bob Archer tumber. "I'm Thinking Tonight of My Blue Eyes," in which the singer wails and cries and bawls so piteously while he's trying to sing about his blue-eyed sweetheart.

And when the number was ended, Ken Bennett came on the air to announce the next number and with a catch in his voice every bit as piteous and a great uncontrollable sob, Ken said, "The next number will be 'You are My Sunshine'."

A number of listeners laughed all day about Ken's heart-broken voice.

Laughs are frequent around a radio station.

Friday evening Herman Kreiger, who was working the controls at the time, put through a long distance telephone call to a distant city. Calling from the transmitter, he had to be connected by the announcer in the control room at the radio station, since the transmitter has no direct outside telephone.

Well, while Mr. Kreiger was talking, a second announcer relieved the first one and in the rush of getting his work lined up, he forgot that a long distance telephone conversation was in progress.

Mr. Kreiger finished his conversation, the other party hung up, but since the announcer was on the alert, he failed to disconnect the KPDN phone. The out of town operator came on and asked Mr. Kreiger why he didn't hang up.

He said, "All right, I'll try."

So he whistled and called "Hey!" into the telephone in the hope of attracting the announcer's attention up in the studio control room.

The operator listened to this sort of thing a moment, and then asked: "What are you doing now?"

Well, the long distance charges were mounting all the time; so finally, in order to attract the announcer's attention, Herman took the transmitter off the air. When everything went dead, the announcer jumped for the phone and called the transmitter.

"Are we off the air?" he cried.

"We sure are," Mr. Kreiger answered. "Hang up that phone. We've already got a seven-minute long distance bill."

Maybe you "Adam and Eva" listeners heard Eva ask the other morning: "Adam, are you up? Adam, are you up? Adam, are you up?"

Well the script called for only one such question, but that morning the needle got caught and that one speech over again until the control man could shake it loose.

This incident recalled one of the funniest things that ever happened around KPDN. A religious program was being broadcast by transcription a couple of years ago. The control man was called out of the control room for a few minutes to attend to something else, and he just let the 15-minute transcription play itself while he was gone.

While he was out of the control room, the needle got caught, and it picked a most embarrassing place to stop, too.

The speaker was just saying the words, "Lord, God Almighty." And the way the needle caught, it allowed just the start of the next word to go out over the air. And that sounded as if the speaker were being punched in the stomach.

So until the control man could get back into the control room again—and it took him two or three minutes—there the needle hung with the speaker exclaiming over and over again: "Lord, God Almighty! Oomph! Oomph! Oomph! Oomph!" etc.

Your correspondent might as well tell you his masterpiece. Subbing for the studio announcer when Tex DeWeese was to give the news from the Methodist church, your humble servant sharpened up his best announcer's voice and said, "We take you now to the First Methodist Hotel for the world's latest news with Tex DeWeese."
