FEMININE FANCIES

By Hollyce Sellers Hinkle

We may make more or less profound talks to grown-ups of various organizations, but there is nothing so much fun as speaking to a group of youngsters.

Chapel periods of our early school days bring memories of paper wads, notes, and whispers, but a visit to Sam Houston school yesterday has convinced us that things have changed. Teachers and pupils who can achieve such perfect order are to be congratulated.

If there is any talking going on at Sam Houston chapel, it is to the speaker—and the speaker likes nothing better than to have the pupils take enough interest in the subject at hand that they will answer questions asked from the platform or will ask questions themselves.

Are Harvester Boosters!
Sam Houston school pupils are Harvester boosters—no doubt about that after the yells they gave for the team yesterday morning at chapel. There is a future pep squad in that Sam Houston crowd.

School of Roses
Horace Mann school pupils are taking their first lessons in gardening, and they will soon be known as the school of roses. Three hundred seventy-five rose cuttings have been set out by the various rooms, and in the spring a picture will be given to the room which has set out the largest number of cuttings. The kiddies are doing the work themselves, and parents are furnishing the cuttings.

Horace Mann school is growing constantly, and with the first of this week came 10 new pupils. Here are their names: Sybil Davis from Groom; Lindsey and Altha Boyd from Kingsmill; Jack Chase from Amarillo; Bernard and Stanley Cannon from Forge; Dickey Lane from New Mexico; Dorothy Poindecker and Vivian Cargill, transfers from Sam Houston school; Curtis Tugeston from Arizona.

Mothers' Day
Yesterday might have been called Mothers' Day at Baker school. Mothers of first grade pupils and mothers of third grade pupils held their respective meetings and heard programs. Several fifth grade mothers also were at the school but they postponed their meeting until next Wednesday.

Practical Lessons
Children at Woodrow Wilson school are delighted with the practical lessons that are being taught there. A 15-minute period each day is being devoted to handicraft such as the making of book ends and door stops for the boys, and sewing for the girls.

Physical education also is being cared for at Woodrow Wilson school. Physical culture classes were organized yesterday in the school auditorium. Each class will meet for 15 minutes daily. There are about 200 children taking this work, but not more than 60 meet at one time.

LOST UGLY FAT

Her Husband Says She Looks Five Years Younger!

There is a certain weight at which every woman looks her loveliest—not skinny underweight nor pendulous overweight, but normal weight. "My husband says I look five years younger," writes this lady of 29 who—thanks to her daily dose of Kruschen Salts—has unbundled her body of 18 pounds of ugly fat. Read her letter:—
"Having heard from a friend of mine that she had lost considerable weight since taking Kruschen Salts, I started using them in July last, when I weighed 177 lbs. I have lost weight steadily since then, and am now 159 lbs—my normal weight. Moreover, I feel brighter and more energetic in every way. I have enquired of my dressmaker my measurements, which in August last were:—Bust 40, Hips 43 1/2, Waist 33 1/2 inches. Last week they were:—Bust 38, Hips 40, Waist 31 inches, which is normal for my height, which is 5 ft. 8 in. My age is 29. My husband is a very severe critic. He says I look five years younger. There is no other reason for my loss of weight except Kruschen, as I do not take any particular diet."
(Mrs) S. R. London, England.
A bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last four weeks costs but 85 cents—try one bottle—if not joyfully satisfied—money back.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15. (AP)—Mrs. Helan Smith, 21-year-old bride is one woman in a hundred thousand. Although she shot herself in the heart Tuesday night, she was still living today and was expected by surgeons at the Edgewater hospital to win her fight for life.

Dr. Charles G. Shannon her physician said that when she fired the shot her heart was dilated between beats and the bullet grazed it and lodged in her back.

Mrs. Smith snort herself because she feared she would have to undergo a serious surgical operation. For three hours afterward she worked at cleaning up her apartment and preparing her husband's evening meal.

FER CAMP IS GLOOMY WITH BACKFIELD CRIPPLED

This Game of GOLF

By O.B. KEELER

A friend of mine, Mr. Murray Howard, has collected among other interesting books of bygone vintage a volume of Hoyle's games, published in 1818—more than a hundred years ago.

Who was Mr. Hoyle? Haven't you ever heard the phrase, "According to Hoyle?" Well, he was Edmund Hoyle, who wrote indefatigably and expertly of games of all kinds, including card games, golf and even the humble craps.

Mr. Hoyle had a good deal to say about the game which he terms the celebrated Scotch game almost peculiar to that country, played with clubs and a ball, the former being employed to hit the latter to a series of holes "the common distance between one hole and another being about a quarter of a mile."

"The club (writes Mr. Hoyle) is perpendicular in the part that rises the ball, which is faced with brass and loaded with lead. There are six sorts used by good players: 1. The common club, used when the ball lies on the ground; the paper or half-scraper, when in hollow; the heavy iron club, when the ball lies deep among stones or d; and the light iron ditto, when the surface of shingle or sandy ground."

Compromise Hint
The light ball, it appears, was not so much a problem as in these days. According to Mr. Hoyle it was used in the solution of a problem:

"The balls are much smaller than those used at cricket, and much harder. They are made of horse leather, and stuffed with feathers in a peculiar manner, and then boiled. When playing with the wind light balls are used; and heavy ones against it."

This, Mr. Hoyle asserts, that the new ball is half wrong, anyway.

In regard to the holes, the distance of which—that is, what Mr. Hoyle calls the "common distance"—is about a quarter of a mile, it is planned that while there is a succession of series of such holes, each one is a separate "game" in itself. Obviously all competition was at match play, in those days.

The one-shooters came in with medal play, perhaps, when a certain pride in "holing the round" began to appear, in addition to the match play achievements of our forefathers.

Eighteen holes averaging a quarter of a mile apiece would not be exactly conducive to snappy medal scores even today—and even with the good old 1.62 ball.

'Crabbed' Out
Mr. Hoyle says of backgammon, "It is allowed on all hands to be the most ingenious and elegant game, next to chess; the word is Welsh, and signifies a 'little battle'."

Our ultra-modernistic game of crabs evidently is a version of Mr. Hoyle's game, "Hazard." The latter-day name probably came from the depressing double-one, known today as "snake-eyes," but a hundred years ago as "crabs."

They do look like crabs' eyes, sure enough, although I have heard them called a lot of other things.

Public Nagging Will Be Halted

CHICAGO, Oct. 15. (AP)—A Chicago court has issued an injunction against nagging in public.

It was granted against Peter Dowladalis by Judge Joseph Sabath. Peter's wife, Victoria, who is blind, is forced to seek maintenance. The pair run a grocery store. Under the injunction Peter must not stop while waiting on a customer and ask his wife what she did with the $1.25 last week, or engage in other forms of nagging.

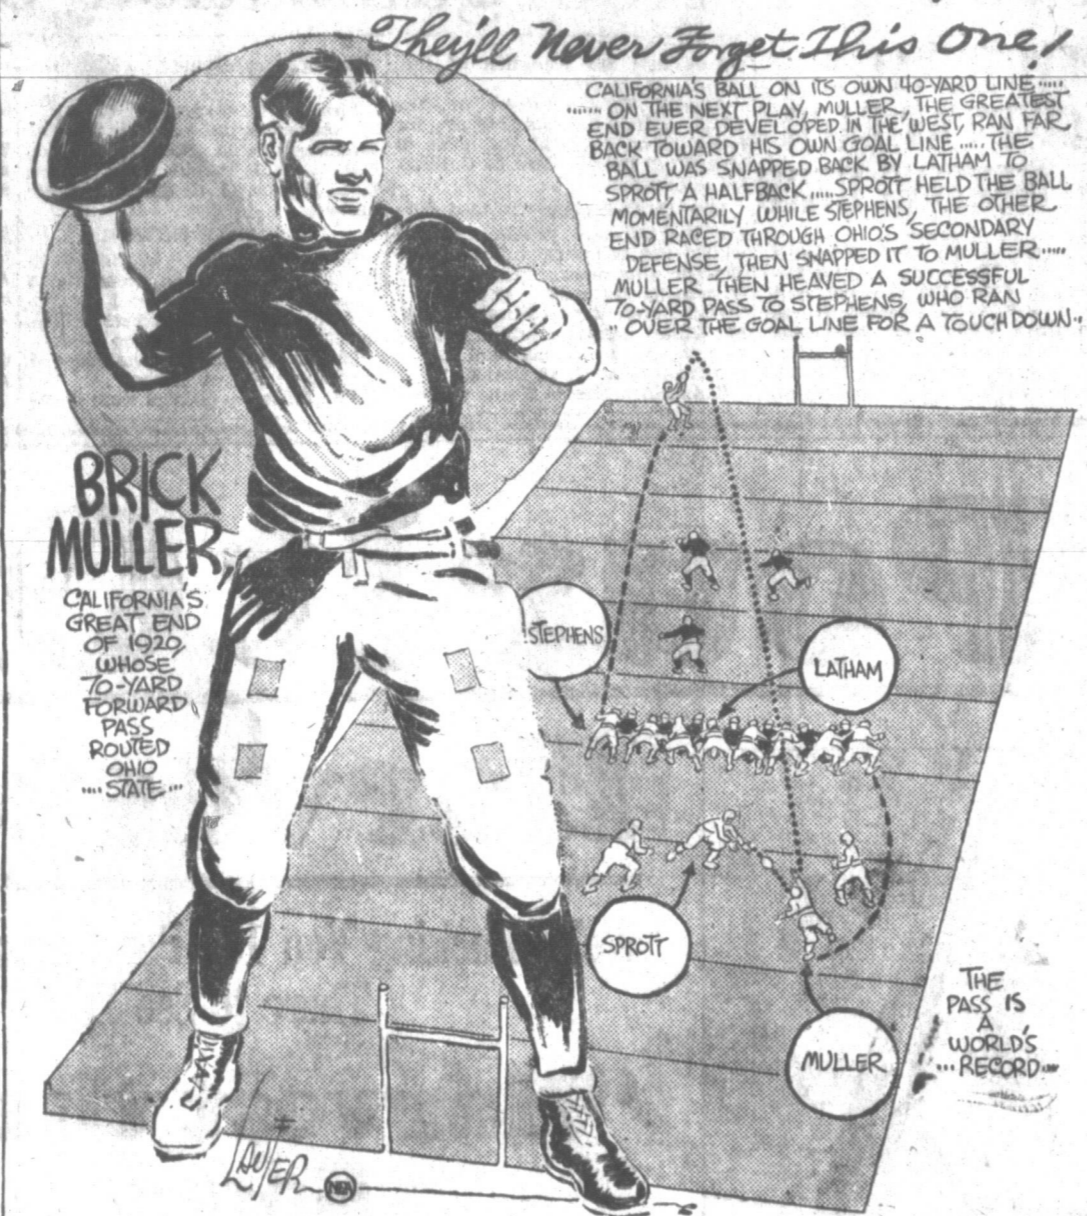

Mrs. Dowladalis complained Peter persisted in picking arguments during business hours.

YOUNG'S PLAN FOR CHARITY VERY POPULAR

Season Will Be Extended to Permit Clashes for Benefit of Jobless.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (AP)—A quick response to Owen D. Young's call for football to help the unemployed has brought prospects of the greatest gridiron carnival in the first two weeks of December the United States ever has seen.

Today, less than 24 hours after the chairman of President Hoover's committee on the mobilization of relief sources issued his request for football's aid, games have been arranged involving 10 of the east's outstanding football schools, the Western conference has laid the groundwork for most battles and various other colleges and even professional teams have fallen in line.

The Army-Navy game at New York Dec. 12, originally the one big charity clash, now takes place as the climax of a great football festival with two gridiron tournaments involving Yale, Dartmouth, Holy Cross, and Brown on the one hand, and Princeton, Pennsylvania, Cornell, and Columbia on the other taking place during the week preceding the service clash.

The two tournaments, which bring a new idea into eastern football, were announced last night through E. K. Hall, chairman of the Intercollegiate football rules committee, at the request of the colleges. The four New England institutions will meet in the Yale bowl Dec. 5, while the others will come together at New York Dec. 9. In each tournament two 20-minute preliminary games will be played, with the opposition decided by lot, and the two winners will meet in a 20-minute final.

Although no games have yet been arranged in the Western conference, the rules have been amended to permit members to engage one another in charity games and to extend their seasons to Nov. 28. Maj. John L. Griffith, Big Ten athletic commissioner, estimated that five such games would net close to $1,000,000 for the unemployed.

Rockne Trophy Awaiting Champs

CHICAGO, Oct. 15. (AP)—The new trophy to be awarded to the 1931 national championship football team, on the basis of the Dickinson rating system, will be known as the Knute K. Rockne memorial.

The first edition of the award was won permanently last year by Notre Dame, the first institution to win it three times over a period of ten years. Its donor, Jack F. Riseman, has offered another one under the same conditions, with Prof. Frank G. Dickinson of the University of Illinois, who formulated the rating system, deciding to make it a memorial to the late Notre Dame football wizard.

Notre Dame won possession of the first trophy by ranking as the best eleven in the country in 1924, 1929, and 1930.

AGGIES APT TO END EASY T. C. U. WINS

University of Arkansas Is Gloomy as Injuries Cripple Team.

By the Associated Press
Victorious each year since 1925, Texas Christian University's football aggregation will lost Saturday if daily practice of Texas A. and M. means anything.

With only two casualties, the Aggies are drilling each afternoon with a firm determination to end Texas Christian's football supremacy over them. It started back in 1925 when Texas Christian won a 3 to 0 game. Last year the Aggies unveiled a brilliant game, but again Texas Christian won, 3 to 0. It will be the first 1931 Southwest conference game for Texas Christian and Texas A. and M.

Revealing ginger and snap, E. M. U. whipped through a hard workout yesterday in preparation for Rice Saturday at Houston. Coach Morrison sent his regulars against the freshmen in a lengthy scrimmage. Bob Gilbert, regular quarterback, will be out of the lineup with an infected heel but Travis, who will replace him, is a ranking star, last week, Southern Methodist beat Arkansas, and Rice walloped the University of Texas.

Gloom hangs over the University of Arkansas campus as Coach Thomsen prepares his cohorts for Baylor Saturday at Waco. Kyle went off of yesterday's scrimmage with an injured back. Stout, tackle, is on the sideline with injuries, and Jensen, end, is out with malaria. At Austin, the University of Texas worked on a pass defense to stop Oklahoma Saturday at Dallas.

HOUSTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—Continuation of the agricultural marketing act was voiced in a resolution passed at the closing session of the National Grain Dealers association convention yesterday.

The resolution termed the marketing act "an utter failure." Hugh A. Butler of Omaha, Neb., was re-elected president.

Western Audiences Will Be Larger

CHICAGO, Oct. 15. (AP)—Western conference football attendance figures for 1931 will take a big jump Saturday with two capacity or near capacity crowds just about assured. The traditional rivalry between Michigan and Ohio State has all the elements to induce a sellout in Michigan's huge stadium and 70,000 or more spectators are expected to watch the Wolverines and Buckeyes struggle to remain in the championship race.

There have been few sellouts at the University of Chicago in recent seasons but the appearance of little Albie Booth and his Yale squad, along with the ceremonies in connection with Amos Alonzo Stagg's fortieth consecutive year of coaching the Maroons, have stirred the imaginations of the customers to the extent that 50,000 spectators, all Stagg field will accommodate, are virtually certain.

Wisconsin and Purdue, another pair of teams with elimination from the championship scheme facing them, will battle at Madison, and another 35,000 probably will be added to the attendance figures.

Iowa will hold its homecoming at Iowa City with Indiana as its foe, which probably will be good for 25,000 or more. The appearance of the University of California's southern branch at Northwestern does not rate as a big attraction, but wildcat followers are proud of their team and the contest at Evanston should attract about 40,000. Illinois and Bradley will play before the Illinois student body and, plus about 25,000 Illinois school children.

COTTON IS QUIET
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 15. (AP)—The cotton market experienced a quiet but steady opening today. As Liverpool came in better than due, first trades here showed gains of 2 to 5 points. Hedge selling soon developed, however, and the pressure of these offerings caused prices to gradually ease off until December traded down to 6.14, and January to 6.28, or 4 to 8 points under the opening figures and 2 to 3 points down compared with yesterday's close.

Near the end of the first hour, the market continued quiet and barely steady.

Smith Is Hailed as Next President

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (AP)—Tammany Braves are on the warpath again.

Spurred by the oratory of former Gov. Alfred E. Smith—the "happy warrior"—and by Mayor James J. Walker, 4,000 Manhattan Democrats crowded the Tammany wigwam last night in a noisy, demonstrative campaign pep-wow.

The objectives set for Manhattan Democracy were two-fold: Election or re-election of Tammany office seekers, and vindication from the criticism that has grown from the Seabury investigation into city finances.

Former Governor Smith, who was hailed as "our next president," went into the qualification of several candidates running for office, and warned this was not an "off year" election even though no presidential candidate is to be chosen. He did not criticize the Seabury investigators nor did he mention national politics.

District Attorney Thomas C. C. Crain, elderly, gray-haired prosecutor, recently absolved of charges of inefficiency in office, was chairman of the meeting. He hit at the city investigation by the Hofstadter committee as "aspersions upon" the character of our city government that must be answered.

Mayor Walker painted Tammany as a great humanitarian organization, which "will see to it this winter that not one man of necessity will be begging on the streets for something to eat or a place to sleep."

Mexicans Attend Fair At Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 15. (AP)—An international football game between the University of Mexico and the "B" team of Southern Methodist university will be played here tonight. It will be the feature attraction of the Texas State fair.

The University of Mexico team arrived yesterday and worked out last night under the fair park stadium flood lights. The game is expected to develop into an aerial attack since both elevens depend on forward passes for most of their yardage. Coach Ray Morrison of Southern Methodist has a powerful "B" team composed mostly of first string S. M. U. reserves.

VICK COMPANY DOUBLES ADS

GREENSBORO, N. C., Oct. 15. (AP)—The management of Vick Chemical company, makers of Vicks VapoRub is too busy cultivating old markets and creating new ones to give much thought to "depression." The Vick company is a part of Drug, Inc., and in itself is one of the largest proprietary organizations in the country. Its phenomenal success during the past 25 years is becoming more understandable in the present situation. Its remedy for business depression is more work, more employment and greater expenditures for marketing efforts—including an advertising appropriation more than doubled. This policy apparently works—and has worked throughout the lifetime of the company.

gibberish. Norma strained to hear, suddenly gave up the effort. "I've got to go home!" she cried, bursting into Stuart's office. "Something's wrong with the baby—"

She was gone like a flash, downstairs and into a taxicab, urging the driver to go faster. After what seemed endless minutes of agony they reached the apartment.

Norma ran upstairs and flung back the door. Mrs. Carey met her, white-faced.

"The baby's gone!" she gasped. (To Be Continued)

chance to tell you how grateful I am that you didn't let me get out of town yesterday.

"I'm so glad they could reach you at the station."

"Well, it was a lucky day all around. Abernathy took the Clark serial along with him. For $6000! Ten per cent commission gives us $600 for the day's work. Not bad? And besides that I've practically made him agree to another serial in the fall."

"Why, that's wonderful!"

"You helped on the 5. There'll be a $10 bonus in your envelope on Saturday. And don't forget that I appreciate loyalty."

"Thank you, Mr. Stuart. Thank you ever so much!"

The words of praise, the prospect of $10 more in her pocketbook than she had expected sent Norma at her day's work light-hearted. During the lunch hour she tried to decide whether to apply the bonus on Mark's new carriage or pay it to Chris. It should go to Chris, she concluded finally.

She had not been back in the office an hour when she answered the telephone to hear a hysterical feminine voice which she recognized as Mrs. Carey's.

"What's happened?" Norma cried. "Oh, what is it?"

Mrs. Carey tried to explain. No, she said Mark was not sick. Something was wrong, however. Her words turned into meaningless
