

Hitler Claims New Victory But Reds Say Nazis Halted

(By The Associated Press)

Adolf Hitler's invasion armies have launched a great new offensive on the central (Moscow) front, aiming at a knockout before winter sets in, the Russians acknowledged late today, and the entire Soviet nation is being mobilized to meet the assault.

While the Russians pictured the Nazi armies as turning in toward Moscow, away from the vast flanking attacks on Leningrad in the north and the Ukraine in the south, Hitler's high command emphasized German progress on the southern front, claiming victory in a big-scale battle north of the Sea of Azov.

London military quarters, however, reported that the Germans in that region had been checked with severe losses and that guns of the Soviet Black Sea fleet were heavily bombarding the invaders.

Germany's bitter war to stamp out revolt in the conquered nations by firing-squad, hangman and guillotine brought six more executions—and one suspended death sentence.

Simultaneously, the British government announced it was collecting evidence against Germans responsible for murder, oppression and cruelty to hostages and others in Nazi-occupied territories.

Richard K. Law, undersecretary for foreign affairs, told parliament that the government was considering the subject of punishment for such individuals—presumably after the war.

German authorities announced the 73rd execution in occupied France, with the victim, a Belgian, shot in reprisal for an attack against German soldiers in the French Ardennes.

In addition, five Czechs were moved down by German firing-squads on conviction of preparing treason and possession of weapons.

DNB, the official German news agency, said the death sentence imposed on Premier General Alois Elias of the Nazi Bohemia-Moravia protectorate (in old Czechoslovakia) for "premeditated treason" had been suspended to permit him to testify against other suspects.

A Berlin spokesman declined to comment as to whether Elias had made a plea for mercy to Hitler, the only person who can commute his sentence.

The Germans denied British radio reports that 650 German hostages were being held by guerrillas in Yugoslavia.

A bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters indicated that the battle north of the Azov sea was part of the "gigantic new developments" which the fuhrer himself declared had begun last Wednesday.

"German troops, shoulder to shoulder with troops of the allied countries, are pursuing the defeated enemy," the Nazi communique said.

"Motorized and tank units thrust deep into the enemy retreating columns."

The Russians, acknowledging that the Germans had "wedged into our lines" at an unspecified sector of the western (Moscow) front, reported that Soviet tanks and bombers had destroyed 34 Nazi tanks in fierce counter-blows.

Advices reaching London said the Germans had suffered bloody casualties on the narrow Perekop Isthmus, in a drive southward into the Crimea Peninsula, and that a Nazi division had been halted at Genichesk, on the north-west shores of the Azov sea, un-

INDIAN PANHANDLERS BITE DUKE FOR TWO-BITS—Even on their Alberta, Canada, ranch, the duke and duchess of Windsor can't get away from fans and cameramen. These Indians, it turned out, wanted cash, not autographs. "Need money for tea. Need money for coffee."

"Need money for flour," they said. "You boss, you pay." The duke parted with a quarter, then told red men to vanish.

Girl Found In Forests On Mountain

CONWAY, N. H., Oct. 7 (AP)—Pretty little Pamela Hollingworth sat in a hospital bed today and ate her first meal in eight days—the amazing survivor of more than a week of wandering and waiting in the freezing cold of the heavy forests that blanket Mount Chocoma.

Chipper and apparently little affected by her long stay in the open, the five-year-old youngster's first thoughts were of scrambled eggs.

Hospital authorities were astounded at her condition. Dr. Albert Williams at Memorial hospital, said she probably could go home in two or three days, that her lungs were clear and that her tiny toes—frost-bitten by temperatures which sank to nearly 20 degrees above zero—were responding to treatment.

Recalling that she wore only overalls and sneakers and was without shelter night after night, the doctor said Pamela showed more than normal stamina and was "amazingly rational" when she was found just as darkness fell last night after hope for her had been abandoned. She had wandered away from a family picnic on Sept. 28.

Her father, Joseph Hollingworth, Lowell, Mass., business man, retreating that he knew he would "find her alive," said Pamela told him she had slept "side of a road until one day I crawled to a brook."

The girl was found near a tiny mountain stream, and the father said he believed she had not wandered far from it during the entire week. This, doctors believed, enabled her to conserve her strength.

The curly-haired child, weighing 45 pounds when she vanished from a family picnic Sept. 28, was eight pounds lighter when amazed searchers heard her shout "Hi" just before dusk last night.

Veteran woodsmen and medical men termed her survival even more surprising than that of Down Fender Rye, N. Y. Boy Scout found alive after similarly being lost eight days in the Mt. Katahdin region of Maine two years ago.

The girl, they pointed out, was seven years younger, naturally lacked the Boy Scout's woodlore, and she encountered temperatures as low as 22 degrees at one period and driving rain at another.

"Her shoulders and back exposed, the girl wore tattered green overalls and red sneakers when a group of CCC boys heard her shout and found her reclining beside a trail two miles from the picnic scene.

She was smiling and showed no trace of fright.

"I've been out in the rain and cold since Sunday," she told Matson. "I've been drinking out of brooks and everything, but there hasn't been anything to eat. I want to see my mummy and daddy."

Back Broken In Fall

Dr. E. H. Turner, Pampa physician, suffered serious injuries in a fall down the elevator shaft at the Rose building last night.

Attending physicians today reported that Dr. Turner suffered a broken back, fractured arm and badly crushed foot. Dr. Turner apparently fell on one foot, shattering the ankle.

The accident occurred a half hour after he became the father of an eight pound, 11 ounce, son at the local hospital.

At the time of the accident, Dr. Turner was talking to Dr. A. J. Black, Walter Rogers and Sid Patterson who said that Dr. Turner secured the master key to the elevator, which was locked, and that after opening the door he reached inside to turn on the light and lost his balance. He apparently failed to notice that the elevator had already begun to rise to the top floor of the building.

Dr. Black crawled down the elevator shaft while the other witnesses to the accident called a Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home ambulance and then went through the Father's Drug store basement secured the master key to the elevator. A covey was lowered into the elevator well and Dr. Turner lifted to the basement level to which the elevator was lowered.

Dr. Turner said he was going to his office to call Mrs. Turner's mother and inform her of the birth of her grandson.

Mrs. Turner was not informed of the extent of injuries suffered by her husband until this morning. Last night her physician told her that he was "having trouble with the Turners," and that "Doc fell and broke his ankle."

Long Illness Fatal To Mrs. B. R. Wood

Mrs. B. R. Wood, 37, resident of Pampa for 11 years, died at the family home, 309 N. Hobart street, yesterday morning of a long illness.

Until two years ago Mrs. Wood operated a beauty shop. She was a member and active worker in the First Baptist church.

Survivors are her husband, with the Tex Evans Buick company, her mother, Mrs. Della Silgar, Pampa, three sisters, Mrs. Barney Wood and Mrs. R. H. Bell, both of Pampa, Mrs. Ruth Lane, Tucson, Ariz., and one brother, Fred Silgar, McLean.

Funeral services were to be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the First Baptist church by the Rev. C. Gordon Bayless, pastor, and the Rev. W. M. Pearce, pastor of First Methodist church. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery under direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home.

Plan To Swap Wounded Men Collapses

LONDON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Negotiations for the war's first exchange of wounded prisoners between British and Germany collapsed today because Germany insisted the deal be on a prisoner-for-prisoner basis while Britain held out for an exchange of all sick and wounded without regard for numbers.

Britain's war secretary, Capt. H. D. R. Margesson, charged in the house of commons that the negotiations failed because of "a flagrant breach of faith on the part of the German government."

He announced that wounded German prisoners who had been put aboard two hospital ships at Newhaven, poised to leave at any hour over the weekend for their homes were being disembarked and sent back to camps.

Germany holds several times as many wounded British prisoners as there are wounded Germans in England.

Capt. Margesson, quoting Article 68 of the international convention regarding treatment of prisoners of war, said the exchange should be "without regard to rank or number." The British, he said, had planned to exchange approximately 150 Germans for 1,200 Britons.

(Berlin, agreeing on the reason for failure of the deal, gave the figures as 1,500 seriously wounded Britons in German territory compared with 500 wounded Germans in England.)

BERLIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—Germany is ready to exchange seriously wounded war prisoners with Britain and also women and children, on a person-for-person basis, authorized sources declared today in commenting on a hitch in repatriation negotiations.

A German radio message directed last night to the British government, these sources said, had in no way prejudiced continuation of the negotiations but merely sought to effect one concrete exchange—namely 100 seriously wounded Germans reported ready for departure from Newhaven for 100 British similarly wounded.

Druggists Told Of Professional Status

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7 (AP)—The druggist forfeits professional rank and standing by expanding his soda fountain while neglecting his drug business, President Samuel J. Watkins of Dora, Ala., told the National Association of Retail Druggists today.

Watkins asserted at the convention session: "When we relegate the prescription department to an inconspicuous corner, when we expand the soda fountain until it becomes the largest restaurant in town, we can hardly blame the general public for classifying us with the grocer and tobacconist instead of with the physician, the dentist and other professional men of the community."

General Serves As Airliner Steward

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 7 (AP)—They tell the story here of a famous British general who, as acting steward, served cold lunch to the passengers of a British overseas flying boat recently, and did a good job of it, too.

The airways have stripped all "luxuries" from the big four-motored craft used in this part of the world to increase carrying capacity. Stewards have been dismissed. On each voyage the passengers choose an "adjutant" in charge of their welfare.

Two Die As Train Drops Into River

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Oct. 7 (AP)—Collapse of one arm of a lift bridge—believed to be the largest of the bascule type in the world—brought defense-vital iron ore shipping from Lake Superior ports to a temporary halt here yesterday.

The giant span, owned by the Canadian Pacific Railroad co., sagged beneath the weight of a loaded freight train. A locomotive and tender shot from the open end into the approach to the St. Mary's Falls canal, carrying two trainmen to their deaths and effectively blocking the two largest of the Sault Ste. Marie locks which link Lakes Superior and Huron.

A wrecking train was summoned immediately, but Lieut. Col. Jules Houghtaling, intelligence officer for the Sault Ste. Marie military district estimated it would be four days before the locks would be sufficiently cleared to provide passage for fully laden ore carriers, which include some of the largest craft that navigate the lakes.

Cause of the bridge collapse was not known. Col. Fred T. Cruse, commander of the military district, said it appeared to be "purely accidental" and that there seemed to be no reason to suspect sabotage.

One of two great spans in the bridge collapsed as a heavily loaded Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic train started to cross from Canada. The locomotive, dragging two freight cars behind it, dropped into

Methodist WSCS Continues Study Of Book Monday

Women's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist church met in fellowship hall to continue the study of Arthur E. Holt's book, "Christian Roots of Democracy in America," with Mrs. John Hessey in charge.

The program was given by commissioner-number one whose chairman, Mrs. H. H. Boynton, presided and opened the discussion by referring to the large poster of the democracy tree. She spoke of the main branch of the tree which she named brotherhood; its other branches were individual freedom, responsibility, self development, justice, service, faith and love of both God and man.

Next on the program was the subject, "Democracy on Trial in Pampa." The scene was a court room with the audience as the jury. Mrs. Carlton Nance was the judge and opened the discussion by referring to the large poster of the democracy tree. She spoke of the main branch of the tree which she named brotherhood; its other branches were individual freedom, responsibility, self development, justice, service, faith and love of both God and man.

The second case was that of Mrs. Cox whose husband was thinking of getting a divorce because of jealousy. She complained of having no place to go for entertainment, no friends and good times. They had lived in Pampa for three years but never had been to church. The judge advised her to talk it over with her husband and that they attend some church and enter its social life. Mrs. J. E. Kirchner played the part of Mrs. Cox.

The next case was that of Washington Irvin Davis, a young negro boy who was brought into court because of stealing. He had only been in school a few months because the parents had enough sense to let the child go to work. This part was taken by Mrs. E. A. Grace.

The following case was that of Mrs. Levi Goldberg, a Jewish merchant, whose complaint was that other children were prejudiced against her children because of their nationality. The case was left to the jury for a decision. The part of Mrs. Goldberg was taken by Mrs. S. C. Evans. The jury decided that children should be more democratic and should be educated to love everyone as a brother.

The last case was that of Joe Jackson, negro, who was asking for a retrial because he had not had justice when charged with chicken stealing. The jury was made up of white men who looked upon him as a problem. He also objected to the supervision of the negroes in voting in the elections. This part was given to Mrs. Fred Cary.

Mrs. Elma Burke deflected Pampa telling about the improvements made in education of the negroes in Pampa. The negro school is in the supervision of the public schools and is given the same allowance per pupil as are the whites. There are no racial prejudices in Pampa, she stated. Mrs. W. M. Pearce, lawyer for the defense, said that everyone should be more democratic in spirit. She suggested that the church people support the civic service clubs in their movement to provide clean entertainment for our young people and older by backing the Y. M. C. A. and other youth movements.

Mrs. Frank Shotwell gave the closing devotion on "Facing Our Failures." The meeting closed with a poem prayer entitled, "God of Nations."

All members are urged to attend the seventh district annual meeting of Church Women at First Christian church Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. E. C. Gorman will give her report on the recent national meeting at Columbus, Ohio.

The full bodice sections are excellent for the larger figure and the vestee section between continues as a smart slimming belt. New Plan For Pipeline To Be Offered

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Defense officials forecast today that the disputed Texas-to-New York oil pipeline project, once quashed by the supply priorities and allocated board, would reappear shortly before that body in altered form.

Instead of the $80,000,000 project for which SPAB last month declined to grant steel plate priorities, a plan will be offered for a seamless steel tubing pipeline, informed sources said. Seamless tubing is pressed out of steel billets.

Use of such tubing would avoid depletion of the supply of steel plates essential to the ship building program.

One official said the office of production management was prepared to report to SPAB that the country's tube mills could handle tubing orders sufficient to complete the projected 1,580-mile crude oil pipeline in 1943. The line would be expected to alleviate the threat of a shortage of gasoline and fuel oil in the East.

Eleven oil companies have offered to sponsor the pipeline, proposing to put up 20 per cent of the needed funds in cash, the rest to be supplied by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Another plan reported to have received some consideration in official quarters is a drastically shortened pipeline from Texas to Chicago, whence oil would be forwarded to the Atlantic coast by tank cars or inland water haul. Wood River, Ill., has been mentioned as the possible eastern terminus, instead of Bayonne, N. J.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—A lot of people who got all tangled up in their turkeys said there oughta be a law about double Thanksgiving days. A lot of congressmen agreed.

Now, it's up to the senate to make it strictly unambiguous.

Yesterday, the house passed a bill to make the last Thursday in November a legal holiday, to be known after 1941 as Thanksgiving Day.

Since 1939, the nation annually has been confronted with two turkey days, the traditional—or last-Thursday-in-November version—and the new model—or third-Thursday-in-November—established by President Roosevelt's proclamation.

This year, about two thirds of the states will follow the president and one-third won't, duplicating last year's showing.

Such a situation "only made for confusion," the house judiciary committee reported to the house, and legislation was needed to pin down a single date. The president announced earlier this year that the country would revert to the traditional date in 1942.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Daily crude oil production in the United States decreased 247,385 barrels to 3,844,715 for the week ended Oct. 4. The Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Texas production was off 212,550 to 1,240,300; East Texas, 71,350 to 298,350; California, 7,000 to 628,250.

U-Boats Tighten Net In Atlantic Battle

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Sept. 28. (Delayed)—(AP)—The battle of the Atlantic is entering a crucial period. A great onslaught of German U-boats against the north Atlantic supply line equal in scope to that of March and April is well under way, informed persons say.

A vast amount of war material, much of it the product of American industry, is the objective of a campaign calculated to cripple the British war effort.

There was some complacency in high political circles in London this summer over the battle of the Atlantic.

But this is not reflected in the minds of British and United States naval officers or merchant captains here. They regard the situation as critical.

The actual figures of tonnage losses are secret.

The popular estimate in London of the German U-boat strength last spring was 600 submarines of all types operating in the Atlantic. Experts estimated that the Atlantic Kurlers and Condors for observation and bombing.

Despite German losses of the past summer, in which an increased number of destroyers and aircraft dealt severe blows to U-boats, the German submarine strength is believed in informed quarters to remain at the 600 figure.

Broken Bodies Of Six Fliers Found On Peak

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Oct. 7 (AP)—The mangled bodies of six officers and men, killed Thursday when their big army air corps B-18 bomber crashed into lofty Agassiz peak during a swirling snow storm, were carried by stretcher over trailless terrain today to waiting army ambulances from the Albuquerque, N. M., air base.

In the grotesque flicker of lanterns last night, Coroner W. E. Jolly conducted an inquest, but the verdict was not immediately announced. Soon afterward, CCC employees, soldiers and civil authorities began their descent down the 12,340 foot peak, Arizona's second highest.

Four to five inches of snow and a heavy stand of timber impeded travel. By the time the group reached here, it was expected that a salvage crew of 20 from the Tucson, Ariz., air base would arrive. The scattered remains of the bomber will be taken by truck to Tucson.

The bodies were horribly maimed and except for the right wing and the tail it was hard to realize that the wreckage was once a plane.

Bob Fronske, Flagstaff photographer, who was in the first ground party to reach the scene.

Fronske expressed the belief that the pilot, Lt. A. T. King, Laramie, Wyo., was attempting to back track on his course when he swung head-on into the side of Agassiz peak at about 10,500 feet. The ship plowed into a heavy stand of timber, shearing the left wing.

Montague Crowd Not Friendly Toward Murray

MONTAGUE, Oct. 7 (AP)—William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, former Oklahoma governor, moved on to Denton today on the second lap of a Texas tour after assailing the foreign and domestic policies of President Roosevelt in a talk here last night under the auspices of the America first committee.

An audience listened silently for the most part while Murray warned that the national administration was hurrying the United States into war. Occasionally someone would twit the speaker, but the interruptions were infrequent.

To one heckler, Murray retorted: "You don't have sense enough to grease a gimlet."

Murray spoke from the back of a truck. He indicated that he had been refused use of the courthouse and had been denied lighting facilities for the meeting, but county officials said they had not been asked for such accommodations.

Dick Lawrence, Montague county's sheriff, arose at the conclusion of Murray's talk to say that he favored immediate and all-out aid to Hitler's enemies. The crowd cheered.

Earlier in the day, Joe Bailey Irwin of Dallas, member of the Texas America first committee, declared that members of Murray's party had been threatened.

He added that "We have evidence supplied us by our friends in Okla-

South Africa Doesn't Need Any More Oil

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Declaring that petroleum stocks in South Africa were greater than in years, James A. Moffett, board chairman of the California Texas Oil company, said today it was "disgraceful and outrageous" that the torpedoed tanker L. C. White should have been taking more oil there while there is talk of a shortage in the United States.

At a press conference Friday, Moffett recommended that six of 73 tankers transferred to British use should be taken back into American service for use on the Pacific coast, adding that he was advised that the British had offered to return some of the oil-carrying vessels obtained from the United States.

Harvesters To Play Last Game Here For 5 Weeks

Injury Jinx Hits Baylor Eleven Only

(By The Associated Press)

Aside from Baylor, Southwest conference football teams probably are as free from injuries as is to be expected at this stage of the season.

Head Coach Frank Kimbrough has the megrims, not without reason, over the end positions on his Baylor eleven, Jack Russell, all-conference end, has a neck injury, Wenzel Gandy is suffering from a broken nose, and Audrey Bailey is incapacitated with a bad foot. In addition to that, Travis Nelson, a regular back, has an infected knee. The Baylor mentor, therefore, is not overly optimistic about the chances of the Bears with Arkansas at Waco next Saturday.

Texas A. & M., which takes on New York university at New York Saturday, escaped virtually unscathed from the Texas A. & T. game.

Coach D. X. Bible let it be known that he was pleased over the fact his Texas squad came through the LSU game with no serious injuries.

The Rice Institute was up against their toughest test when they met Tulane in their next start, suffered no injuries of consequence in the Sam Houston contest. Two sophomore backs—Willie Smalley of Lufkin and Norton Roberts of McAllen—failed to report yesterday, however. They were rumored to have planned to withdraw from school, but Coach Bible Neely professed ignorance of the matter.

The Texas Christian Horned Frogs are in excellent condition for their game with Indiana at Bloomington next Saturday.

Arkansas is expected to be minus the services of its punting star, Meredith (Ooton) Jones, in the Baylor game. The Porker back hurt his knee early in the TCU contest and the injury probably will not be sufficiently improved by next weekend to permit him to play.

Southern Methodist emerged from its bruising struggle with Fordham without the loss of a player.

East Texas Lions Lead Conference

(By The Associated Press)

The surprising Lone Star conference swings into its fourth week end of play next Friday with the critics still wondering who has the best chance at the circuit crown now worn by Coach Jack Sisco's North Texas Eagles.

Pre-season speculation, favoring the Denton boys to retain the championship with Coach P. Wilson's Sam Houston Bearkats having an even chance to unseat the Eagles. With conference play beginning next weekend, however, Coach Bob Berry's East Texas Lions are sitting atop the table of standings.

The unpredictable Denton Eagles entertain Arkansas A. & M. this week after unsetting every docket in Texas last weekend when they handed the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys a 7-3 defeat in Abilene, the first loss the Cowboys have suffered at home since Oct. 1, 1938, and their second defeat in a 16-game streak.

Sam Houston, smarting from a 42-0 loss to Rice last week, will journey to Kingsville Saturday to meet the Javelinas of Texas A. & I.

Over at Commerce, the East Texas Lions and the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks, present leader and runner-up respectively among the Lone Star elevens, will battle in the opening conference meeting of the year Saturday.

The luckless Southwest Texas Bobcats, perennial occupants of the Lone Star cellar, will meet Southwestern university in Georgetown Friday.

Experienced Sportsmen Write Code

Here are some things others have written on two general subjects: first, what your conduct toward others should be in the hunting field; second, how to keep down the possibility of accidents.

You may not agree with all of these things. That is your business. But some of them may offer even the seasoned sportsman food for thought.

These rules are not written by some stay-at-home, but by men who go hunting whenever they get the opportunity. These are the rules these men have made up for themselves for their own pleasure and their own safety. And what follows are quotations from these men and are not intended as rules that you are to follow. In other words, they are suggestions that come out of experience, and your code may be as good as the combined codes of all of these men—even better. Yet the rules are given here for whatever they may be worth. Read them, disregard them if you wish, adhere to those you think best if you like; they are merely suggestions from others.

On the subject of the ethics or courtesy of shooting, here are the things these men say:

"Are you one who doesn't own a dog but constantly complains about other fellow's dogs?"

"What about the fellow who never can agree on the way or direction to hunt?"

"You know that hunter who always ill-treats his dog?"

"If you are one of those proverbial poor shots, then you should be patient enough to hunt down your cripples."

"Gather up the cripples and maybe you too can get the limit."

"Make clean kills."

"Don't shoot unless you are sure."

"Be a sportsman; give the game a chance."

"When two or more are hunting, select a segment of the possible area made by flushing birds and do not shoot another's bird."

"On singles decide beforehand who takes first, second or third shots."

"Never claim bird on which you have doubt with another. If you know you missed, say so. If you know you hit, let the other fellow start the argument."

"Never give orders to another fellow's dog unless you and the dog are separated from the rest of the party."

"When a dog wags well, tell the owner; he will appreciate it."

"Split up the favorite stands during the day. Do not hog them. Let the other fellow have as many breaks as you are taking."

"Never hunt without permission."

"Have your license with you."

"Do not shoot just to hear the boom of your gun."

"When hunting on another's property, respect his property as you would your own."

"Respect the game laws; they are made to insure a continuous crop of game."

"Hunting is not a competitive sport; it is better to kill two rabbits or three quail clean than to slobber your shots trying to get more game than some other fellow."

"Don't be a bird claimer; ask the other fellow if he shot."

"Don't shoot at the other fellow's bird when hunting singles. If it is the other fellow's turn to shoot, let him do all the shooting. One hunt or ought to be enough to shoot at a single."

"Don't shoot at birds out of range. It means another man finds a dead and useless bird."

On the question of safety, here are some of the suggestions that have been made. Read them and apply them if you wish, or disregard them or disagree if you wish. That's your business. But here are the hints:

"No loaded guns in the car."

"Never cross-fire."

"Don't shoot blind at close quarters."

"Never point a gun at anyone or anything unless you wish to kill."

"Hammer guns—do not carry cocked; hammerless guns—carry with safety on."

"Never unload gun when it is pointed in direction of another person."

"Never shoot at game unless sure that the area beyond is clear of animals and humans."

"Don't carry both 12 and 20 gauge shells. A 20 in a 12-gauge gun may take off your hand."

"When hunting with another, always keep your gun pointed away from him."

"Don't stand your gun against your car. The car jostles, the gun falls, and someone gets hurt."

"Make your hunting party small, two preferred and three the limit."

"Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun."

"Be sure the barrel and action are clear of obstructions."

"Don't leave your gun anywhere unless you first unload it."

"Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or at the surface of the water."

Now you've read what these hunters have to say. If you like these rules, all right; and if you don't, all right. It's your business to make your own rules if you wish.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(The Special News Service)—Yesterday's game, some folks would even show up. . . They did, but the Yankees showed them up so thoroughly that it is hard to find any reason for Brooklyn's "Wait until next year" motto. . . Somehow we can't see the Dodgers even winning another pennant unless they come up with a lot stronger infield and at least one pitcher who can win regularly. . . To beat the Yankees, they will have to learn to treat baseball like something more than just a game, too. . . The Bums didn't seem a bit worried about Sunday's hardluck loss while they were practicing yesterday. . . They grinned, signed autographs without a bother and kidded Durocher when he took his licks. . . The Yankees were about as playful as a bunch of executives starting a day's work. . . Nobody can claim the breaks hurt the Dodgers in the last game. . . Retser got a triple in the first inning, the "Stratoliner" press box rebound off the center field wall. . . Dickey was kayoed by a foul tip and Bonham almost was knocked out the way it was when Riggs' liner hit his foot with a smack that could be heard clear up to the "Stratoliner" press box on the roof. . . And twice the Yanks hit into double plays with nobody out. . . One trouble was that the stands caught fire instead of the teams. . . When a small blaze flared up behind the pressbox just after the Yanks scored their first two runs someone remarked: "Don't worry, boys. It's just MacPhail."

Crowd's Eye View

Those Brooklyn fans are molecular but loyal. . . Sunday it was "Owen, ya bum. . . Yesterday it was "Atabari. . . Yesterday it was "The Stratoliner" press box and another when the lineup announcer called his name. . . After that, the boys didn't have much to yell about except when Durocher and Wyatt raised a better about a pitch and then when DiMaggio and Wyatt almost tangled. . . That's what they really like. . . The bleacher fans were down on DiMag all afternoon, but there were some cheers, too, just to show that Yankee rooters were on hand. . . They must have been the guys with their eyes on the coaches to tell them apart. Only when they step on a scale is there a difference, John weighing 175 and Frank 168.

PORT WORTH, Texas—Texas Christian has opened with a new almost as far as Sam hits a golf ball. . . Cleveland got one record this year. Jeff Heath became the first American League ever to hit 20 or more homers, triples and doubles in one season.

COLUMBIA, Mo.—Two years ago the University of Missouri gridgers contracted oak poisoning on their swing as bad as Sam Sneed's. . . And when he connects he hits 'em almost as far as Sam hits a golf ball. . . Cleveland got one record this year. Jeff Heath became the first American League ever to hit 20 or more homers, triples and doubles in one season.

Yankees Win 8th Straight World Series Since 1926

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Yankees, colossus of the baseball world, are sitting up there again, looking down at the little fellows.

Their 3 to 1 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the final game of the 1941 world series yesterday only served to emphasize the dominance of the Bombers.

For it is on the schoolboy fields where a lot of football hysteria is born. The kids who carry on the Southwest's own type of football get their start on the schoolboy grid-iron right in their own state.

Fans who get their first taste of this thrill-dizzy football at the high school field, "graduate" to college football.

The Southwest has a system of its own—for the development of its footballers and fans. They just naturally develop together. Seldom does an out-of-stater play on a Texas football field.

High school football in Texas is no sissy stuff. They start playing the second week of September and don't finish until the last week of December.

College coaches will tell you Texas high school coaches, as a general rule, are better students of the game, work harder and are more conscientious about their job of teaching football than rival brethren in some other states.

And college coaches will further tell you that the high school men instill those things in their boys. It all sums up into earnestness, which, the college coaches declare, is the real reason for the Southwest's aggressive, daring and spectacular style of football.

South Texas schoolboy football is prone to be more wide-open than that played in the northern part of the state. The reason for this, most coaches agree, is the climate.

The wide-open game, with all of its passing, isn't as tough on the youngsters in the warmer climes as the more conservative power type of football.

It's got to be raining frogs and pitchers to keep the boys entirely on the ground down in these parts.

Not many years ago, Jeff Davis of Houston and Greenville high school teams played an early season game in Houston. It was mighty warm, the fans restless. The game was over, a new passing record was set, for nearly 300 of all kinds were reeled off.

At the end, the fans were cheering for more passing. It just goes to show that the fans—and players—like plenty of offensive stuff in their football.

New Mexico Aggies Next Foe Of Undefeated West Texas

CANYON, Oct. 7.—A heroes' welcome awaited the roaming gallants of West Texas State college this week on their return from an all-victorious road trip to the Pacific coast.

The lightly regarded Buffaloes, essaying a David-and-Goliath role, defeated Fresno State college in California, 7 to 6, then vanquished Arizona State college at Tempe, 13 to 7. The Arizona club held the Border conference championship last year.

Border conference results last week were: Arizona U. 47; N. M. Aggies 0. West Texas State 13; Arizona State (Tempe) 7. N. M. U. 16, Texas Mines 14.

In non-conference games, Texas Tech defeated the Oklahoma Aggies, 16 to 6; Hardin-Simmons U. lost to North Texas State, 7 to 3; and Arizona State of Flagstaff was idle.

The Border conference standing is as follows:

TEAM—	WON	LOST	PCT.
New Mexico U.	2	0	1.000
Arizona U.	1	0	1.000
West Texas State	1	0	1.000
Arizona State (Tempe)	0	1	.000
Texas Mines	0	1	.000
N. M. Aggies	0	1	.000
Arizona State (Flagstaff)	0	1	.000
Texas Tech	0	0	.000
Hardin-Simmons U.	0	0	.000

Conference games this week bring the New Mexico Aggies to Canyon and send the New Mexico University Lobos to battle Arizona State at Tempe.

The far unimpressive New Mexico Aggies may be due for a comeback. The Aggies looked good in defeating Highlands U. of Las Vegas, 52-9 but barely got by New Mexico Teachers of Silver City, 7 to 6, then lost to Arizona university last week, 47 to 0.

Coach Jack Curtice will have to contend with over-confidence this week. His light but spirited Buffs have won three straight games, at least two of them against heavy odds. Injuries suffered by Pat Toombs, leading Irish center from Amarillo, may keep him out of play this week.

West Texas State, new member of the Border conference, lost twenty letter men by graduation, the draft, marriage, and new playing rules. The remnants, which include only six letter men ready for action, are earning the name of "iron men" and "60-minute men," but their victories are chiefly attributed to a spirit which causes them to play above their normal abilities.

Coach Jack Curtice has a favorite description for his small squad: "The most lovable team I ever coached," he says.

Texas Grid Fans Favor Aerial Game

(This is one of a series of Texas sports writers discussing the progress of football by sections.)

By RAY KORNGEY

Houston Chronicle Sports Writer (Written for the Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—When Southwest fans are thrilled dizzy by the dazzling, wide-open brand of football as played by college teams of this sector, they can lay most of their blame for their thrills and dizziness at the gates of Texas' high school stadiums.

1,000 Men On Strike At Red River Depot

TEXARKANA, Oct. 7 (AP)—Approximately 1,000 men continued on strike at the site of the Red River Ordnance depot today while the United States Conciliation service prepared to sit in on a conference between the contractor in charge of the project and union representatives.
Bryan P. Holcombe, conciliation service official, said S. E. McCullough will represent the Brown and Root Construction company at the meeting.
McCullough declared yesterday that union spokesmen had demanded a "full-shop" agreement under which non-union workmen would have to pay a sum of money for a job.
E. H. Williams, regional director of organization for A. F. of L. in Louisiana, Arkansas, and Oklahoma, said after conferring with several of the individual unions that Brown and Root, contractors on the $11,000,000 job, had refused to enter into negotiations.
He declared that the union—which encompasses 19 individual skills or trades—had only requested a conference.
He charged that working conditions at the ordnance depot were unsatisfactory to the union and "since they wouldn't confer with us, we couldn't do anything but pull our men off the job."

Steel Plant Strike Ends

CIO crane men today ended a two-day work stoppage at a Big Gary, Ind., steel plant, but a week-old strike at a Cleveland factory forced the Studebaker corporation to close down its passenger car production line because of a shortage of frames.
The Cranesmen, whose failure to report to work Saturday midnight forced the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation to halt the operation of 12 blast furnaces and 53 open hearths, voted last night to go back to their jobs after the management had agreed to meet a union grievance committee today. The absence of 39 crane men, in key positions, affected operation of nearly the entire plant, employing 23,000.
A union representative said the company had asked that one crane shift be dropped from each 8-hour shift, but the company declared this question never had been raised by the union grievance committee.
The Studebaker shutdown, at South Bend, Ind., was declared by company officials to have resulted from a lack of auto frames caused by the strike at the Midland Steel Products company in Cleveland.
Studebaker's passenger car lines employed 6,000 men and women. The commercial car and truck departments of the plant were unaffected.
CIO employes of Midland struck for wage increases to an hourly minimum of 88 cents, compared with the current 68, and a 15 per cent rise in piece rates.
Midland also makes frames for Willy-Overland army "jeeps," and Hudson, Buick, and Ford trucks. Willy-Overland officials said their operations would have to be curtailed unless they got more frames soon, but Hudson, Ford, and Buick reported no immediate shortage.
Elias Will Turn State's Evidence Germans Report
BERLIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—The death sentence imposed by a German court upon Premier General Alois Elias of the Nazi protectorate of Bohemia-Moravia for premeditated treason has been suspended to permit him to testify against other suspects, DNB reported today from Prague.
Authorized sources in Berlin explained the death sentence remained pending, but said "the decision whether or not it will be carried out has been held up."
Spokesmen were non-committal as to whether Elias actually had made a plea for mercy to Adolf Hitler, the only person who can commute his sentence.

Monthly Plane Production Of 2,500 Predicted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—United States warplane production should reach 2,500 military craft monthly by the end of 1941, a responsible defense production official said today.
September's new high of 1,914 delivered military planes—including training as well as combat types—was not a chance production spurt, office of production management officials said, but a token that the nation's plane producers have reached their objective of sustained, increasing quantity production.
"We are definitely over the hump," an OPM aircraft spokesman said. "I see no reason why 2,500 military planes a month should not be produced by the end of the year."
Even if output in October, November, and December should not surpass but merely equal September deliveries, it was noted, the year's production would total 18,393 planes. That figure compares with the estimate of 18,000 given in February by William S. Knudsen, OPM director-general.
Britain reportedly has been receiving 75 per cent of United States combat plane output.

Elias Will Turn State's Evidence

Authorized sources in Berlin explained the death sentence remained pending, but said "the decision whether or not it will be carried out has been held up."
Spokesmen were non-committal as to whether Elias actually had made a plea for mercy to Adolf Hitler, the only person who can commute his sentence.

Patrolmen Watching Out For Violators Of School Bus Law

Texas Highway patrolmen are watching out now for motorists who fail to observe the school bus stop law.
J. C. Reese, patrolman stationed at Pampa, said there has been an increasing number of complaints of motorists passing school buses while the vehicles were receiving or discharging passengers.
A fine was paid in Hutchinson county yesterday by a motorist for violation of the law.
Minimum fine is $10 and costs. This makes the penalty for violation of the law about $30 at the cheapest.

CANYON, Oct. 7—Attendance of 455 for the week ending Oct. 3 brought total registration at the Panhandle-Plains Museum for September to 3,191, for the year to 32,487, and for the life of the museum to 282,224.
These figures were provided by Boone McClure, assistant curator of the museum, who said that distinguished visitors included Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Yeager of Berkeley, Calif. Mr. Yeager is director of the museum of the National Park service.
McClure also announced receipt of a number of interesting gifts. Judge H. E. Hoover of Canadian gave a duce bench from the Tennessee school he attended as a boy.
Even if output in October, November, and December should not surpass but merely equal September deliveries, it was noted, the year's production would total 18,393 planes. That figure compares with the estimate of 18,000 given in February by William S. Knudsen, OPM director-general.

Former Inmates Of Reformatory Nabbed

HOUSTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Two former inmates of the Federal Reformatory at El Reno, Okla., who were caught after they engaged in a gun battle with a policeman were held in jail today in connection with two killing station robberies.
Police received calls from station attendants immediately after the each robbery and broadcast descriptions of the men.
Patrolman M. M. Ferguson spotted the men's car early today and chased it. The two suspects jumped out of their machine after it stalled, fired at the policeman, and fled.
Ferguson returned the fire but no one was hit.
Later, Patrolman John T. Taylor arrested the men as they walked along a street.

SERIAL STORY

MURDER IN PARADISE

BY MARGUERITE GAHAGAN

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

We walked down the lane, Maudie and I, searching for the puppy with my flashlight. Then the discovery came suddenly—and Maudie must have felt the terror because her hand gripped my arm.

"Why, he's caught something," she said, with pride and fear in her voice.

"Maybe a little white and black pussy cat," I said hopefully. "That might teach him and you, too, to respect country nights."

Anyway the possibility stopped Maudie cold, and I had to swish through the wet grass to the dog. I didn't immediately recognize the body of the man sprawled there as that of Herbert Cord. I just knew that a human being was there, lying with that horrible limpness that, even to one unfamiliar with death, means life has gone.

The discovery came so suddenly that for a long moment I was actually frightened. Not until Maudie, her courage returned with her curiosity, came through the grass behind me did I feel fear. She must have felt that terror because her hand gripped my arm, and she looked over my shoulder at the body lying there in the shaking, yellow glare of my flashlight.

"He got more than his ears pinned back," I said, my voice sounding hollow and shaky in the noisy hum of insects that was the only other sound in the woods. Maudie settled her glasses down on her nose and leaned over closer to look. "It's murder," she whispered in a voice shaking even more than mine. "Murder—see the blood."

I saw then that dark spot on his shirt was blood and not a shadow, and the word murder made the hair stand right up on my neck even as it had on Finn McCool's.

"WELL have to notify someone or other," I managed to whisper. Maudie was already trying to pick the dog up and slip on his harness. "Well, I'm not going to stay here," she said in that tone that brooks no arguing. "You see."

"Why should anyone stay? He can't run away. He's dead." The prospect of standing there in the shadow-filled woods with the body of Herbert Cord wasn't a pleasing one even to a school teacher.

"Of course you'll stay," Maudie said. "Haven't you ever read a murder mystery? Someone always stays with the body until the police come. You can stay here. You can keep the flashlight and Maudie. She continued fussing with the dog's harness and somehow the sight of her bending over there in the long, wet grass with the murdered man a few feet away was too much for me. I laughed hysterically and the night breeze made the sweat on my brow feel like ice water.

"And don't be feminine. There have been plenty of other times when you could have shown a little of that to good advantage, but this isn't one of them. It would be a waste of effort, so just remember your dignity. I'll be back in no time at all."

"The inn—" I insisted. "Go there and maybe that man Gordon can come back here. I don't want to stay here alone any longer than I have to. Go to the inn. It's the police we want. I'll call them."

"From the inn," I repeated. "And send that man back here to wait until they come—"

But she was gone, her bulk a large dark shadow on the moon-bathed road.

That thought wasn't one to soothe the nerves either. The living... someone still alive had committed murder here a short time before. Someone who might still be nearby. I wasn't shaking by then. I was simply paralyzed.

Finn McCool continued to grumble in that dour Scottie way of his, but I noticed that he pressed close against my legs, and I knew he didn't like the vigil any better than I. We went out to the road. If anyone comes down it, I can see them better, I told myself. If anyone comes from behind a tree, I'll just faint and get it over with.

But who would come? Who had committed this murder?

HOLDING the flashlight with one hand and tugging the dog's leash with the other, I patrolled a stretch of road thinking of those answers.

I wondered what events in a man's life could lead to this ending. It was at that point that I remembered Maudie's story of Cord's fiancée, Margie Dixon, and of the past summer's romance with Jeanie Morris. A crime of passion! That was the way they read in newspaper accounts and in the few crime stories I'd waded through at Maudie's insistence. Maudie was an inveterate reader of murder mysteries.

If this was a crime of passion, I supposed the police would consider those two girls possible suspects. I hadn't met either of them, but Maudie had already prejudiced me. I could picture the frightened blue eyes of Jeanie Morris when the police called to question her about her relationship with Cord. I didn't know why he had turned to Paradise Lake with his dark-haired, green-eyed sweetheart, but it was a dirty trick. Dirty to both girls, I admitted, but doubly so to Jeanie since she was the one who had been tossed aside. A girl might get so worked up that she could kill a man under such circumstances.

Or Margie Dixon might, too. If Cord played on her jealousy enough. Anyway, I thought, that old aunt should be glad Cord's out of the way. Now Jeanie won't be sneering family tradition. In fact, standing there on the road waiting for someone to come, I couldn't feel any sorrow in my heart for the man lying over there on the mint bed.

But murder was murder and whoever had committed it must have been driven by frustration, desperation, and I wished to heaven my vigil there alone would end. (To Be Continued)

Silent on operations along the central (Moscow) front, the German high command admitted that the Russians had made a new attempt to land troops under cover of night on the Finnish Gulf coast west of Leningrad, but declared: "A majority of the ships used for transport were sunk. The enemy units which landed were completely annihilated."

Elsewhere on the 1,200-mile battlefield from Leningrad to the Black sea, the Nazi high command said "offensive operations... take their planned course."

Mystery still cloaked the exact direction of Hitler's vast new offensive.

While the German high command said the battle north of the Azov sea was "in the course of announced new operations"—an apparent reference to Hitler's disclosure of a new push—other sources indicated that the drive was aimed at Moscow.

The German high command announced that a great new battle against the Russians had been fought and won 800 miles from the Reich's frontiers in the area north of the sea of Azov, and said that his was "in the course of announced new operations."

(By inference this was the offensive referred to by Adolf Hitler in last Friday's Sportpalast speech in which he declared "gigantic" new developments had been started within the previous 48 hours.

(The German command made reference to the central Russian front, where British military sources yesterday said the Germans had launched a giant two-armed offensive designed at encircling Moscow. Russians admitted a

12 Members Of Wedding Party Drown in Mexico

JUAREZ, Chih., Mexico, Oct. 7 (AP)—Twelve members of a wedding party were believed to have drowned yesterday when a home-made boat overturned in the treacherous Conchos river, reports reaching this border city said today.

The tragedy was said to have occurred 7 1/2 miles north of Chihuahua City, capital of Chihuahua state.

The boat carrying the celebrants to the town of Carrizo, capsized in the middle of the Conchos, swollen by torrential two-day rains. Only one occupant reached safety, the reports said.

The bodies of two children were said to have been recovered late yesterday, while search was continued for the other victims.

Suspensions of sabotage were discontinued by authorities inasmuch as the bridge, which spans a vital canal through which come freighters bearing precious ore from northern Minnesota, had been under guard of Port Brady troops during the defense emergency.

"Second on the list are fires caused by sparks on roofs. In third position are fires resulting from defective or overheated chimneys and flues. The fourth major fire cause is defective electrical wiring and equipment. Spontaneous ignition fires, while only one-third as frequent as flue and chimney fires, caused nearly as much damage.

"It is important to consider these facts now for this is Fire Prevention Week. Practically all fires resulting from these five causes can be prevented. Such fires must be prevented if we are to conserve our resources for the national defense program," he concluded.

The approximate estimate of the number of fires and losses occurring annually are made by the National Fire Protection association from reports of the Fire Marshals of the various states. The total damage for 1940 was about $300,000,000 and there were about 685,000 fires. Dwellings accounted for nearly 400,000 of these fires and almost one-third of the total loss.

Only Alcoa Named In Anti-Trust Suit

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Federal Judge Francis G. Caffey, continuing the reading of his opinion in the government's anti-trust suit against the Aluminum Company of America and 45 co-defendants, ruled today that Alcoa had been charged with conspiring to restrain sales of foreign aluminum but that no co-conspirators had been named.

"The government charges the deed to an individual conspirator," said Judge Caffey, "there can be no conspiracy on the part of anyone without one or more co-conspirators."

Judge Caffey started reading his opinion a week ago after the longest trial in history and already has ruled there was no monopolization in 12 Alcoa activities as charged by the government.

East Texas Field Devises Plan To Increase Allowable

AUSTIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—Railroad commission engineers today studied a plan by which salt water injection into strata of its origin by oil companies would be rewarded by granting of additional allowable crude production in the giant East Texas field.

Submitted at a hearing yesterday, the plan, evolved by Frank Speller, consulting engineer at the field, and others, would permit an additional allowable of one barrel of oil for every 50 barrels of brine returned to the reservoir.

The hearing was called to receive evidence on the effect of salt water yield on reservoir production and ultimate recovery of crude from the pool, one of the world's largest.

A state game commission representative informed that it had been encouraging small operators to combine efforts and build injection systems to avoid pollution of streams furnishing domestic supplies. The pollution was reported to have killed quantities of marine life, including fish and oysters.

The additional allowable oil plan, which F. V. L. Patten, commission oil production chief, said would receive full consideration, would allow the one barrel of oil production for every 50 barrels of injected brine to be allocated by the commission to wells on the lease producing the water, limited to not more than six barrels of oil to one well.

Operators of wells producing more than 100 barrels of salt water per day would have the option of shutting in the wells for certain periods and producing allowable from other wells.
