

Egyptian, Jewish Warships in Battle

Capital City Is Reported Shelled

TEL AVIV, Israel.—(AP)—A running naval battle was fought at New El-Yar's dawn between Egyptian and Jewish warships off Tel Aviv, Israel, it was announced today.

The battle which was said here to have been inconclusive, was fought after the city was awakened at 2 a. m. by heavy naval fire and the buzz of planes. Officials said two Egyptian corvettes pumped shells at the blacked out city for half an hour without causing any casualties or doing any damage.

Correspondents neither saw nor heard of any shells falling in the city.

An Israeli spokesman immediately threatened that if the Egyptians attacked Tel Aviv once more, either by sea or air, the Israeli Navy or Air Force, or both, would retaliate against Cairo, the Egyptian capital.

"In the present phase of fighting we have avoided attacks on the battle zone," the spokesman told foreign reporters.

"But if after this action the Egyptians shall take appropriate action in Egypt—on Cairo in particular," he said he meant specifically that the Israeli Navy and Air Force would retaliate directly against Cairo.

The Egyptian ships apparently were five or six miles off Tel Aviv when the city was awakened by the gunfire and air raid sirens. Most people, some of whom still were holding parties in their home assumed at first that an air raid was in progress.

But observers could see the bright gun flashes. Then the roar of airplane motors was heard, presumably from Israeli planes.

The Israeli announcement said the fire was "returned from Israeli shore batteries and after a short while the enemy vessels steamed off."

Later it was announced that the Egyptian ships were spotted. (See CAPITAL, Page 3)

Contest for 'First Baby' Is Still On

No "first baby" contest entries had been received at the Pampa Daily News last night, but the contest is still on. Merchants of Pampa are offering numerous gifts to the first child born in Gray County of Gray County parents.

The contest announcement Friday said the first white areas of Egypt would be read "first baby."

The rules of the contest are that the exact time of the child's birth must be certified by the attending physician, and that the birth must be reported to The News Baby Contest Editor as soon as possible.

The first baby born in 1949, as reported, will be the winner of the Baby Sweepstakes.

Ted McGuire Decorations Win Plaque

The 14-inch "Supremacy" plaque for the best decorated home in Pampa will go to Ted McGuire, 1229 Charles, Mrs. J. B. Massa, chairman of the Home Decorations Committee, said yesterday.

Local judges spent many evenings driving through the streets of Pampa, judging entries in each group and district.

There were more homes decorated here during the Yuletide season this year than ever before," Mrs. Massa said.

The McGuire residence was one of the most brightly illuminated homes in Pampa. Several scenes were displayed on the lawn, porch and inside the house. Blue lights were strung around the front of the house, a large Christmas tree with red lights displayed in the living room and Santa and two elves were placed on the front lawn above the porch. A miniature silhouetted wise men and camels.

Honorable mention went to Mrs. J. L. Harrison, 534 S. Gray, Under a large shadow-box reading "Peace on Earth" was a large nativity scene. In front of the scene were life-sized silhouetted figures of a father reading the Bible to his young son. (See MCGUIRE, Page 3)

Administration Faces Rebellion From Southerners

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Administration leaders may face open rebellion from Southerners if they take patronage away from Dixie lawmakers who didn't back President Truman in November.

Some of Mr. Truman's supporters have been talking about denying backers of the States Rights ticket the right to say who gets the federal jobs in their states.

This already is said to have been done in some minor instances in Mississippi, where Senator Eastland was active in the States' Rights movement.

One Southern Democrat who took no part in the election campaign told a reporter if any such move becomes general the smoldering party battle over civil rights is going to flare again.

"So far as I am concerned," this Democrat said, "if they take patronage away from any senator, they can have mine too."

"It doesn't amount to anything, but I'm not going to just stand by and see them punish others who have about the same views I have and not do anything about it."

Senator J. Howard McGrath, the Democratic national chairman, declined to discuss patronage matters.

It is understood, however, that McGrath favors moving very slowly. He apparently is his attitude that so long as the Southerners show any signs of coming back into the party they ought to be encouraged.

Officials Take Oath Of Office

Before an audience of 21 people, County Attorney Bruce Parker took the oath of office as county judge in union with all other county and precinct officers to accept the county commissioners.

The small inauguration ceremony was presided over by Judge Lewis M. Goodrich in 31st District Court Room.

At 10 a. m. Saturday, Judge Goodrich called the County Commissioner's Court before the bench, ordered them to raise their right hands and repeat the oath after him. There was no fanfare. Each of the three elected commissioners, and J. W. "Bill" Graham, newly elected commissioner of Precinct 2, then signed their oaths.

Then the Court called all other officers, including the new county judge, and John Studer, new county clerk, ordering them to line up outside the court railing. There, in a long line, they raised their right and repeated the oath after him.

Missing from the line were the late Justice of the Peace Charles L. Hughes and Tax Assessor-Collector F. E. Leech who is ill. Judge Hughes died last week of a heart ailment.

The ceremony ended as abruptly as it began and the elected officials returned to their desks.

Extension of Unemployed Pay Is Urged

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Extension of federal-state unemployment benefits to an additional 7 million workers was urged yesterday in a report to a Senate committee.

The report also called for steps to assure larger payments for longer periods under the program and for taxing workers as well as employers to finance the insurance fund. In general, employers pay the entire tax, although there are local exceptions where employers pay.

The recommendations were submitted to the Senate Finance Committee by its Advisory Council on Social Security. The 17-member council is headed by Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., former secretary of state. It includes representatives of industry, labor, government and the general public.

The advisory group was set up by the Senate committee during the Republican-controlled 80th Congress. The first, which convenes Monday with Democrats in the majority, will decide what to do about the council's recommendations.

The Democratic platform calls for broader social security benefits. President Truman repeatedly has urged expansion of the program and it is expected to do so until Jan. 12.

Both men suffered shock plus cuts and bruises around the face and head.

FLOODS HIT NORTH ATLANTIC STATES

Five hundred families were evacuated from flooded Manville, N. J., shown here, after the rain-swollen Raritan River overflowed its banks. Flood waters, brought on by torrential rains and unseasonal snow thaw, swept over large sections of New York, Western Massachusetts, Southern Vermont and Connecticut in addition to New Jersey.

TRANSATLANTIC WEDDING—Dina Marchetta, 21, left, in Milan Italy, and M/Sgt. John Kent, 30, right, in Fort Worth, exchange marriage vows by transatlantic telephone. Gray County Commissioners Vote Themselves Pay Raise

By HENRY S. GORDON, News Staff Writer

Less than 90 minutes after they were sworn into office, members of the Gray County Commission voted themselves a salary increase from $250 to $300 a month during their regular first of the month meeting.

Salaries of officers, including the county judge, will remain the same. Most officers' county judge, county clerk, county attorney, sheriff, tax assessor-collector, district clerk, recorder, clerk of the court, and deputy recorder receive a maximum of $4,156.50 per month.

County Judge Bruce Parker handed the commissioners the officers' bonds for approval as the first matter of business by the Court. They were approved unanimously.

But when it came for approval of retention of deputies and other hired personnel the picture changed. Not all of the departments heads had their deputy applications ready for approval, a few had to be rounded up.

It was then that the Commissioners Court refused to approve District Attorney Tom Brady's application for a deputy (secretary) allowance. The DA will have to pay his own secretary this year. The Court ruled that since Brady had elected to retain his office in the Combs Worley Building, in lieu of moving into the Courthouse office allotted him on a full time basis, and that he has had no deputy, or secretary, on full time duty in the Courthouse, the allowance would not be granted.

The Court also cut off allowance for jail cook and county health inspector.

The same course of feeding prisoners as now used by the city will be tried out by the court for three months. Meals for prisoners will be purchased from the Court House Cafe at 35 cents a meal. The Court arrived at the decision after County Auditor Ray Wilson reported the jail had had an overall average of five or six prisoners every day in the year, but that while the jail was empty at times, there were times when as many as 20 prisoners were behind bars.

There was no reason given, other than an attempt at economy, when the Court elected to end the joint city-county use of the health inspector. The allowance (See PAY RAISE, Page 2)

The Queen Mary, second largest vessel in the world, had just left Cherbourg and was heading for the United States when a strong wind drove it aground.

All passengers will stay aboard, the captain said, as the vessel is not in any danger. The liner took on 580 passengers in Cherbourg.

The port of Cherbourg received a radio message from the ship at 9:30 p. m. asking for immediate help.

The message said the Queen Mary had bumped a sand bar west of Cherbourg, just in front of Chavagnac Fort under the lee of the Querveville Seawall.

The liner lies on muddy bottom and it was believed it did not strike any rocks.

Two tug boats belonging to the merchant port went out immediately, followed by the French naval tug Mammoth.

Hindu India, Pakistan Call Cease-Fire

NEW DELHI, India.—(AP)—Hindu India and Moslem Pakistan last night called an immediate cease-fire in their 14 months' shooting feud in the neighboring princely state of Kashmir.

The sister dominions, whose assistance as free and sovereign nations is not much longer than the Kashmir conflict, announced a truce agreement calling for an end of fighting one minute before midnight (12:25 p. m. CST) as a New Year's harbinger of peace.

They said they agreed that the major issue—whether Kashmir shall belong to India or Pakistan—would be settled by a United Nations-supervised plebiscite.

Recent dispatches from Pakistan said both countries had agreed to withdraw their armed forces from the field there, and to divide the state into two zones, each having its own interim government.

Mohammed Abdullah, a Mohammedan who is close to the predominantly Hindu Indian government, would head the interim government in the Indian-occupied zone.

Francis Compton, a Christian, would head the interim government in the Pakistan-occupied zone.

of $100 per month plus mileage for Ray Salmon, city health inspector, who had been serving as county health inspector too was cut off.

The Sheriff's Department request for an increase in mileage rates from the present six cents to eight cents, based on other counties paying 10 cents per mile, was tabled for further thought.

A budget amendment in the salary fund of $556 for the Tax Department was approved.

However, in going over officers' salaries, the application for county health officer, salary $200 per month, was missing. No action could be taken until an application is made by some doctor or Dr. Julian Key, present health officer, files his application for reappointment.

Action on appointing a successor to Justice of the Peace Charles I. Hughes was also tabled. County Judge Bruce Parker told the Court he has several applications; County Commissioner Joe Clarke also had several. The Court unanimously tabled the matter for "further thought." None of the applicants were named.

Mexican Oil Field Aid Proposal

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House Interstate Commerce Committee has recommended U. S. financial aid in the development of Mexican oil fields.

The committee suggested in a report that the development might include:

1. An oil line across the isthmus.
2. Gas lines from the oil fields to consuming centers in Mexico and the U. S.
3. A refinery on the west coast of Mexico to handle oil from the Mexican fields.

Further swiving the economy tax, the Court cut off the monthly elevator inspection by The Davis Electrical Company. In lieu of the $10 monthly inspection cost, the Court voted to have the elevator inspected every three months.

It was at the tail end of salary approvals that the Court arrived at setting its own salaries. While they were all in favor, the matter wheedled about from one to the other until Commissioner Joe Clarke made the motion. The motion was seconded by Commissioner Earnest Beck. It passed unanimously. The move was legal since the county's valuation was pushed up over the $30,000,000 mark last year.

A budget amendment of $12,000 for the Road and Bridge Fund to maintain a bridge repair crew in Precincts 1, 2, and 3 was approved, with the three participating precincts transferring a pro rata share of their budget to the fund. All fines too, paid to Justice Courts and the County Court will go into the Road and Bridge Fund. The costs of courts will continue to be divided in the various salary funds.

The Court adjourned at approximately 12:15 to reconvene on Jan. 10 when bids for county road work will be opened and unapproved salaries, caused by lack of applications, will be made.

occupied sector, these dispatches said. Leaders of the so-called Azad (free) Kashmir government, who have worked closely with Pakistan, would administer the Pakistan-occupied zone.

A U. N. administrator would be designated over both zones, according to this information, to establish machinery for a fair test of the people's will in a plebiscite.

Kashmir is predominantly Moslem in population, perhaps as high as 80 percent at one time.

These points were not mentioned in the terse official announcements by the two governments.

Both dominions, after a recent conference in New Delhi, announced they had settled many other economic and political differences amicably and would meet again in Karachi, the Pakistan capital, in early January to settle more disputes.

The fighting in Kashmir (more properly known as Jammu and Kashmir), burst into the open Oct. 27, 1947, when India started an airlift of troops into the princely state, which had been invaded by half-savage Mohammedan tribesmen.

India acted after Kashmir's Hindu Maharajah, Sir Hari Singh, acceded the state to the Indian union at an emergency conference.

What happens to the Maharajah under the terms of truce and piblicite has not yet been made clear.

12 Leading Doctors Complete Study of Rheumatism, Arthritis

In a 48 page booklet, a committee of 12 of the nation's leading doctors have issued a complete report of their study of rheumatism and arthritis, covering a period of many months of medical research. From their findings a formula for the quick relief of rheumatic pain was developed by a well-known pharmacist.

This formula, called Ru-Tel was first tested by physicians, hospitals and clinics and has achieved remarkable results in relieving the pain of rheumatism, arthritis and neuritis. They found that Ru-Tel Tablets are pleasant to take, do not upset the stomach—in most cases give quick, soothing relief, sometimes overnight. Now, these Ru-Tel Tablets are available, without prescription through all drug stores. First bottle must help or your money refunded.

again in this state of the union message Wednesday.

The federal-state unemployment insurance program has been in operation on a nation-wide basis for about a dozen years. Under it, the federal government levies a three percent tax on the payrolls of employers in business and industry who have eight or more employees.

This federal tax can be offset, up to 90 percent, by contributions paid by employers under approved state laws. Payments to workers are handled by the states. The amount of benefits and the duration of payments to individuals vary in the several states.

In proposing to bring an additional 7 million workers under the insurance system, the advisory council recommended extension of the program to smaller firms—those with fewer than eight employees.

It also urged expansion to include federal civilian workers; members of the armed forces who do not come under the serviceman's readjustment program; those employed by non-profit organizations, such as college professors, and certain workers in border-line agriculture jobs.

Under the present system of a three percent federal levy, actual employer contributions averaged less than half that, or 1.41 percent in 1947 after deductions to offset payments under state laws.

Legislation to guarantee equality of political and employment opportunities to all persons regardless of creed or color.

Admission of more displaced foreigners to the United States.

Statehood for Hawaii and Alaska and voting rights for the District of Columbia.

These and many other proposals are in the Democratic platform on which President Truman was elected and his party restored to power in the new Congress.

The President's advisors say he will not overlook a single point in that platform, but may space his requests as Congress moves along.

ted by planes and pursued by Israeli corvettes in a running battle. The announcement said the raiders escaped southward.

It was the first incident of its kind since about six months ago when an Israeli corvette and planes drove off three Egyptian ships which approached to within sight of observers on the Tel Aviv waterfront.

Last summer the Israeli Air Force, then only a fraction of its present striking strength, raided Cairo once. The spokesman said, however, that was before the present truce when there was a full-scale fighting and when Egyptian planes were attacking Tel Aviv almost daily.

It was speculated that the Egyptian sea raid may have been with the purpose of drawing off Jewish naval forces which may be standing off Gaza to prevent that Arab-held port from being reinforced.

Gaza is reported cut off from reinforcement on the land side. Meanwhile, no new reports of land action came from the battle front. Action in the Negev, where Egyptians and Jews have been fighting since Dec. 21, was of small scope.

There was widespread gunfire along the Iraqi front in Central Palestine, especially in the Tulkarm area, where both sides are tense. It died down at dawn.

Clashes there have been on the increase the past week, especially after the Iraqi premier, Musahim Amin Al-Fachachi, made a warlike speech threatening to resume the attack.

Funk Wins Finest Match Of Season

What was perhaps the finest wrestling card of the year was held for the last night of the year, Friday night. Two hard fought, exciting matches were presented to the large crowd present.

The main event found Dory Funk winning over Eddie Gideon in the cleanest and fiercest bout here in some time. Gideon nearly had it won, only to have a hold that looked like a winner quickly turn into a losing one.

The first fall went to Funk, who gave the Scotman a rough time for 13 minutes. The cool and calm Dory had Gideon on the canvas most of the time, applying an arm roll and knee jump, and arm lock and wrist twist. Finally a series of knee hits was followed by the punishing knee lock and toe twist which won the fall for Funk.

The second fall was more like a boxing match, with both men slugging it out in the center of the ring before Gideon finally got his series of three flips rolling, leaving Funk groggy and pinned.

The third fall started out to be another slugging affair, and again Gideon started his flips rolling. After two flips, Funk set his foot stuck in the ropes to stop the somersaulting Gideon, and change a situation that looked like sure defeat for the Southwestern Junior Heavyweight Champion into victory after seven minutes time.

The opening event of the night was the rough and dirty Monte LaDue apparently trying to choke Dory Detton to death, and Referee Lester Anderson having a tough time trying to make the Canadian break. At one point the lad from Quebec jumped outside the ropes, only to find himself flying back into the ring when Dory applied a figure four head scissors to throw him back in, after which the Amarillo promoter pinned the Canadian.

The second fall started out with the Canadian again choking Detton, and refusing to break when told to by the referee. Detton floored LaDue with a couple of Sonnenburg tackles, and

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hass—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: Who is the present Texas Golden Gloves heavyweight boxing champion?

WEST COAST FOOTBALL: The outcome of two of the major bowl games yesterday tends to strengthen our opinion that Pacific Coast football has been built up through the usual Chamber of Commerce ballyhoo.

A couple of emissaries from the Coast, undefeated until yesterday's games, found that they don't play as good a type of football as do teams in the Southwest and Midwest. Here was Oregon, with admittedly the best team they have had in years, and the choice of many people as Rose Bowl representatives, had a hard battle remaining close to the SMU Mustangs, having to score twice in the final half to remain in the game.

The other disappointed West Coast team was, of course, California's Golden Bears. They also entered the game with a clean record and high hopes of ending the Big Ten's reign as Rose Bowl champions the past two years. But they wound up second to twice-beaten Northwestern University from Evanston, Ill.

The biggest difference in the West Coast teams seems to be that they depend too much on one star. The Northwestern Wildcats and the SMU Mustangs had their share of the stars, but they were moulded into a team, a smooth working unit. They didn't have to depend entirely upon the prowess of one man. If one player couldn't get started they could call on another to do the job. The Webfoot's from Oregon depended on Van Brocklin, and California relied on Jackie Jensen.

A team can set up their defense to stop these key men, knowing they are the main part of the machine, and to stop them is to stop the whole team. Those were the defensive tactics used by Coaches Matty Bell and Bob Voight, and they were lucky coaches that had enough stars to mould them into a fine machine.

Writers Give Gil Johnson Big Title

DALLAS —(AP)— Gil Johnson, Southern Methodist University's great passer, Saturday was selected "Southwesterner of the year" by the Texas Sports Writers Association, which also named the coaches of the year in all the college conferences.

Johnson edged Donk Walker, the all-America quarterback of Southern Methodist, by three votes. He was selected as the man who did most for sports during the past year. The writers considered Johnson's great football season in which he won or tied several games with his passing despite his handicap of a trick knee was a major influence in his selection.

Coaches of the year were: Southwest Conference, Bob Woodruff, Baylor; Texas Conference, Tom Coleman, Abilene Christian College; Lone Star Conference, George Vest, Southwest Texas State; Border Conference, Dell Morgan, Texas Tech; High School, Lee Cranfill, Denison; Southwestern Junior College Conference, Claude Gilstrap, Paris Junior College; Texas Junior College Conference, Ken Clark, Navarro Junior College.

The writers re-elected George White of the Dallas News for a third term as president of the association and named Bill Scurluck, Beaumont Journal, vice president.

Harold V. Ratliff, The Associated Press, was re-elected secretary-treasurer for a fifth term.

Committees headed by Amos Melton, Fort Worth Star-Telegram; Harry Gilstrap, Amarillo Globe News, and Gene Gregaton,

It also was voted to again take up the matter of high school football statistics with the Coaches Association. The writers want the schools to compile statistics on all players and make them available to the press.

The writers discussed promotion of baseball at the Texas coaching school and will discuss the matter with the Coaches Association in its annual meeting in Beaumont next August. The writers want the association to bring former professional baseball players to the school to serve as instructors.

Sherman White Ends Eleven Years Of Service as Gray County Judge

By JIM McCLUSKEY

Eleven years of service as county judge were closed Friday, when Sherman White stepped out of that office. He is returning to private practice in the law business, with offices in the Comb-Worley Building.

He did not seek reelection to the office now held by Bruce Parker.

He was elected county attorney in 1930, and in 1931 moved his family from McLean to Pampa. He served as county attorney for six years before he was elected county judge in 1937.

On May 24, 1925, he married Miss Frankie Mae Uphan of McLean. Their only son, Billy Grant, who was born Sept. 24, 1926, drowned in Lake McClellan March 20, 1942.

During his years as county judge, he has done much toward building roads. He was instrumental in having the road between Pampa and McLean taken over by the state. Also, the road between Pampa and Perryton has received a great deal of attention from him, as has Highway 152.

Judge White has made a number of trips to Austin and Ft. Worth in an attempt to better Gray County roads and for other county benefits.

One of the largest undertakings was turning the dream of the Highland General Hospital into a reality.

During his early days as county judge, before there was a county juvenile officer, he not only tried the juveniles but also worked with them and their parents.

He was instrumental in the acquisition of the auxiliary airports for the county. He assisted in getting improvements installed at Recreation Park.

The free legal advice he has given county residents would run into hundreds of dollars.

This fall he was placed at the head of the Gray County Government Bond Committee to replace the late Judge S. D. Stennis. Recently he was appointed a member of the Board of City Development. Also, he was elected chairman of the Pampa Chapter of the American Red Cross for the year.

In 1938 he flew to Washington to secure Lake McClellan as a WPA project, which he did. He has worked for many years with the Boy Scout program, and as a reward was presented last year with a certificate of appreciation for service rendered when he was an Executive Board member of the Adobe Walls Area Council.

A member of the Francis Avenue Church of Christ, he also belongs to the Lions Club, serves on the Lions Finance Committee, and is a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Relatives Meet After 16 Years' Absence

Guy Yoder and Lt. Grady L. Yoder, both of Hickory, N.C., visited Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Yoder, of northwest of town and Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Yoder for several days following Christmas.

Guy Yoder had not seen his sister-in-law, Mrs. J. E. Yoder, for 16 years; it was the first time the Pampa Yoders had met Lt. Yoder, a distant relative from the Yoderville community in North Carolina.

Lt. Yoder, USMC, was enroute from New Base, N.C., to duty at San Diego, Calif., when he stopped here.

Man Dies While New Year Arrives

WICHITA FALLS —(AP)— B. G. Swindell, 74, came to the bus station here late each night and sat by the hour, watching passengers come and go.

He was there Friday night and may have heard the noise signaling arrival of the new year.

An unidentified traveler attempted unsuccessfully to arouse the elderly man about 2 a.m. and summoned bus station attendants.

Swindell had died of natural causes, Justice of the Peace H. M. Newman said. He had been dead about two hours, the inquest determined. Relatives reported Swindell had suffered a heart ailment for some time.

Out-of-town residents attending included: Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Mills, Nash, Okla.; Gordon Jones, Cooperhill, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Hess, Jake Hess, McLean; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Horn, Wellington; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Brummett, Mrs. Tom Chesir, Mrs. H. C. ICC Allows Rail Merger

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Interstate Commerce Commission authorized the merger of 16 Santa Fe Railroad subsidiary lines into two operating companies.

The lines operate 3,143 miles of trackage in the Southwest. They are wholly owned by the Atchafalaya, Topeka and the Santa Fe Railway Company and are being consolidated to effect operating economies and to simplify Santa Fe's corporate structure.

Under the approved plan, the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Company of Amarillo will become a 1,914-mile line. It will absorb the properties and assume the obligations of the Clinton-Oklahoma-Western Railroad of Pampa, North Plains and Santa Fe Railway of Amarillo; North Texas and Santa Fe Railway of Spearman; the Pecos River Railroad of Pecos; Pecos and Northern Texas Railway of Amarillo and South Plains and Santa Fe Railway of Lubbock.

The Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Company of Galveston, Texas, will become a 1,229-

Seminary Gets $8,000 Fund for Scholarships

AUSTIN —(AP)— Nine contributions, totaling more than $8,000, were received by the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary during the latter part of December, Dr. David L. Stitt, president, said.

Three created new student scholarships, three added to existing scholarships, two increased the fund to place an organ in the seminary chapel, and one started an endowment trust.

All scholarships, funds and trusts are to be increased annually, the respective donors have indicated.

New scholarships were instituted by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Barrett and Paul and David Dean of Fort Worth, and Miss Josephine Camp of Longview, while additions to scholarships were made by Misses Flora and Bessie McNeill of San Antonio, Mrs. R. H. Walker of Gonzales, and W. Bruner Smith, also of Longview.

Misses Amy and Laura Sloan of San Saba added to their respective previous donations increasing the organ fund, and E. T. Fiewellen of Longview instituted the Junius J. and Ada V. Fiewellen endowment trust fund.

The Barretts established the E. K. Failor memorial scholarship in memory of her father, while the Josephine Camp and Paul and David Dean scholarships were established in order "to assist students in financing their education for the ministry."

After the death of Britain's King Edward VII, his little wife, Queen Mary, was allowed to march with the king's favorite horse directly behind the gun carriage bearing the dead monarch.

1948 A.D. One of the Best Years, Correspondent Says

By HAL ROYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The year has come to the final harvest—and the harvest was fine.

1948 A. D. will go down in the record books as one of the best years of our lives.

It was a time when, on many fronts, man rescued his spirit from the chaos of the post-war world. And it was a time when he openly dared to hope for an enduring pattern of wide peace, even though it be at present only a peace of truce.

It stood out as a year of rising plenty. A flood tide of American goods and machines flowed out in waves that had the power to wash away some of the miseries in other lands.

There was work for almost everyone. There was a jingling in the pockets, and many things in the stores to buy. The price tags were high. But at the end of the year the price tags were coming down.

1948 had romance, adventure, death, prosperity, tears—and a great big belly laugh.

In brief:

The heart of boyhood was broken with the death of Babo Ruth, victim of one of mankind's oldest enemies. "Black Jack" Pershing dipped his colors and rode off to the endless resting place of all good cavalrymen — "Fiddler's Green."

Two apostles of peace—saintly Mohandas K. Gandhi and Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden—fell to assassins' bullets. The Jew and Arab played a mortal scrimmage. Communal strife bloodied ancient India.

The promise of peace flew chiefly with the thousands of anonymous young British and Americans who fed Berlin with an aerial ladder. And they were the larger heroes of the year, for they signalled that the West would make no second Munich compromise.

Somewhere, unknown to us now, a child perhaps was born in 1948 whose memory the earth will have reason to bless always. The mother of the year was Princess Elizabeth of Britain, who had a bonny prince the world wished well.

The big belly laugh was provided by the little man from Missouri. Harry S. Truman hatched a memorable surprise for the people who count their chickens before they are hatched.

The finest gift of the year 1948 was the confidence it brought, the clearing of at least some of the clouding confusions left by ing, typing, secretarial or accounting courses. We have more calls for trained office help than we can fill. Pampa Business College, Ph. 323 at 305 East Foster, Pampa, Tex.

Production of Steel Sets Record in '48

By WALTER S. TOWER

American Iron and Steel Institute President Furness of the steel industry poured out more than 88 million tons of raw steel during 1948, an amount larger than ever before in peacetime. The total was more than half of the world's output of steel. The steel tonnage represented about 94 percent of all the metals produced in the United States, and it lacked only a few days' production of reaching the top wartime output of steel during 1944.

Record steel production permitted the country's principal manufacturing industries to turn out a rising stream of thousands of different products for the American economy and employ more persons than at any prior time. All major classes of industry benefited by the increase in steel shipments during 1948. The needs of certain essential industries were met under the voluntary allocation programs supervised in Washington.

Even more impressive than the year's total output of steel was the steel industry's unprecedentedly high production in the Autumn of 1948. An alltime monthly record tonnage was established in October and a new record weekly production was set in November. The latter was at the rate of 94 million tons of raw steel per year.

These feats reflect some of the benefits of the large scale programs of postwar expansion and improvement which steel companies have undertaken at a total expenditure of about two billion dollars. They show that a new high level of production is entirely possible with the steel industry's available capacity.

In 1949 the industry's output ought to run substantially above million tons if the necessary raw materials such as scrap and coal are available and no interruptions of production occur.

Another factor which will help give industries of the United States more steel than ever before, is the rapid improvement in Europe's steel production.

Output in Germany increased sharply during the Autumn of 1948, while production in other western European countries reached a level higher than in the best prewar year. These developments will tend to lessen the pressure for exports of steel from the United States. Such exports were lower in 1948 than in 1947.

Reported net earnings of steel companies in the first three-quarters of 1948 were about 6.2 percent on sales, compared with 6.3 percent for the full year 1947. In view of the depreciated dollar, rising inventory values and inflated cost of improvements, profits in 1948 were not too generous.

The high cost of replacing plant and equipment has been a very grave problem for iron and steel companies. Depreciation reserves based on the original cost of the industry's facilities are far short of enough to pay for replacements. Few other industries call for such heavy capital requirements as does steelmaking.

The estimated total payroll of iron and steel companies, not including non-steelmaking operations rose to the unprecedented figure of approximately $2,230,000,000 in 1948. This was about 28 percent higher than in 1947 and 128 percent higher than the top prewar figure in 1937. The industry's employment averaged about 834,000 persons during the past year. Wage earners alone received a greater total payroll than all employees received in the peak year of the war.

Goodwill Group Returns Home

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A goodwill delegation from Southeast Texas went back home yesterday after a four-day visit here.

The group included businessmen, their wives and the Melody Maids, a group of singing girls from Beaumont, Tex.

While here the businessmen discussed trade relations with Mexico City officials. The visitors represented Beaumont, Port Arthur, Orange, Nederland, Port Neches, Jasper and Vidor.

During the visit, the group went on a sightseeing tour that included the pyramids at Teotihuacan, Puebla and the Villa de Guadalupe here.

At the railroad station to see them off were members of the Rotary Club and Junior Chamber of Commerce.

NLRB Orders Plant To Reinstate Four

DALLAS (AP)—A National Labor Relations Board official has recommended that Texas Miller Products, Inc., Corcoran, reinstate four employees recently discharged and to cease interfering with union organizing activities.

The decision of NLRB Trial Examiner C. W. Whittemore was announced by Dr. Edwin A. Elliott, NLRB regional director in Fort Worth.

Dr. Elliott said the case grew from unfair labor practice charges filed by the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers union.

Bus Line Buys Into 'Pike's Peak Route'

DALLAS (AP)—Continental Bus System announced purchase

Palaver de Pampa

NOW, BREATHE DEEPLY—Take a deep breath this morning, my neighbor, and let's all start through this with the same resolve. By this, I mean this new year. Yes, this is a new year. I'm fixing to give you a shot in the arm, and the first thing I want you to do is to take a deep breath—and then, then listen to this little story: An English journalist, so it is told, always looked forward with dread to the hill he would have to climb on his way to work. "I got so I hated that hill," he said. "I was always so tired when I came to it, and the climb certainly didn't refresh me any. Then one day, I overheard someone remark that my hill offered one of the most beautiful views in all England. That night on my way home, I paused at the top of the hill and looked at the view and, sure enough, it was magnificent. As I gazed out across the broad, beautiful valley, the red sun was just sinking behind the distant hills. The beauty of it was so exhilarating that all my weariness vanished completely. Ever since then, I've looked forward with eagerness to climbing that hill. It has become a haven of rest and pleasure to me on my way home. Just think what I missed all those months by keeping my eyes on the ground as I ascended that steep hill!" Come on, now, my neighbor, lift up your eyes; don't look at the ground. How often all of us miss the beauty of life. We keep our eyes on the ground so much of the time that we miss many of the beautiful things about us. Even the steepest hills of adversity—and there will be some of those hills in 1949—will bring us joy and satisfaction if we lift up our eyes to the good they bring into view.

HERE AND THERE DEPT.—Jovial Hal Lucas back in town seeing many friends... the Doc Overtons, Eddie Dunigans, and Bus Haidridges enjoying one of the holiday daddies... Dell Lamka looking yummish in a tan crepe set off by a wide girlish of aquiline... Jean Haw and J. E. Wigham, a new twosome... Sybil Weston and Hazel Sullivan were both quite, quite attractive in black... it was good to see Dick McCune (of the away-at-school set) playing that old trombone with Ken and his Combo.

AND... the Jaycees are holding their installation dinner January 4 at the Terrace Grill... Jim Arndt goes out as president and Floyd Watson will be installed as the new mogul... Bunch of Pampans, I understand, attended at least two bowl games... saw a huge table full of people at the Schneider Saturday p. m.—an appreciation dinner for the artists who donated their time on the Nativity scene on the Courthouse lawn.

WITHOUT THE introductory whereas, and such, here are some of the resolutions I've been hearing: Chris Atkinson resolves to raise no more rabbits... J. Ray Martin resolves to sing only Irish ditties... H. C. Coffee resolves to put an elevator in the City Hall, and "lows he will find some hair restorative, or wear a toupe (he and his friends have a lot of fun on the subject of his bald—but kindly—head)... Don Foster resolves to never attend another Jaycee convention... Postmaster Weathered resolves never to have another bad cold, which affects his throat (through which he talks, of course!)... By the way, Mr. Weathered, if you find out how not to have colds, let us all know.

WOMAN'S WORDS—This old thing—any garment that has been worn once before... tidy up the house a bit—a major operation that takes about four days and requires moving all the furniture and ejecting the husband... scout downtown—an expedition that consumes an entire afternoon and is spent looking for a spool of thread to match a weird and unbelievable swath of cotton... those noisy people—anyone who lives upstairs or next door... never speak to me again—don't say anything for ten minutes... you're always picking on me—I wish you hadn't noticed I used your razor to scrape paint... some beautiful hash—dinner for the family... an inexpensive sirloin steak—dinner for company... charge it—a phrase used to get money out of a husband without asking for it—I wouldn't be seen at a dogfight wearing it—her last year's coat... looks better than it did when you first bought it—his last year's coat... that's not exactly what I'm looking for—too expensive... this is more what I had in mind—I can afford it... I think we should cut down a bit—a phrase used to suggest to a husband that he is spending too much on cigars, candy and shoelaces... I haven't got a thing to wear—I haven't got a thing to wear except three frocks, ten house dresses, four afternoon dresses, three tea gowns, two evening gowns and a sweater... you don't love me any more—a general phrase used to soften a husband into paying more for something he can't afford.

PANORAMA—Saw Charles and Jean Cook home for the holidays... and they will return in June to stay... by the way, if you are one of the lucky ones who received "rip-ons" (or "loofer socks") for Christmas, be sure to have them dry-cleaned, not washed... "rip-ons" are combination wool socks and leather soles, good for romping about the house... A. L. Patrick, Jr., certainly turned into a fine looking man... saw him ready to return to school in Oklahoma Friday... Ben and Vicki Williams proudly escorting their attractive daughter around the past week... I hear Kenneth Baumgardner is a delightful acquisition to music circles in Pampa... for a striking picture, see Faye Ashby in her new white convertible Cadillac (on her way to the Sugar Bowl game in New Orleans).

PROGRESS-WISE—The schools and churches of a town usually signify the advancement of a community, and Pampa seems to be on the forward march, in this respect... I've noticed a building program set up for the First Baptist Church, Church of the Brethren, Assembly of God, Central Baptist Church—and now I hear that the First Methodist are planning a completely new church auditorium and chapel... the part I like best is their plan to include a recreational center for the young 'uns—needed for a long time... the Episcopal Church donated the collection for the midnight service Christmas Eve to the new organ fund for the chapel.

We're already here... In a brand new year... Oh, dear!... My age!... Agingly.

PEG O' PAMPA

Youth Council Meets Monday

The Youth Council of the various Pampa churches will meet at 7 p. m. Monday in the County Court Room. All churches are asked to send two youth delegates and one adult. Jimmy Baines is president of the organization until the new constitution is completed, probably at the end of January. His project of the year is to provide entertainment for the young people of the community. Tentative plans have been begun, but further support from other churches is needed. To date, 18 churches are participating in the Youth Council program.

WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT, NEA Staff Writer

From a New York University professor of education comes the warning that church and home are in a sense like Siamese twins. If they are separated, both may die.

There's a challenge there for the many educated parents who today are undertaking the job of bringing up their children without help from any church.

Such families have grown away from the idea that the church should play a vital role in family living.

The children in such families may occasionally be sent to Sunday school, if they want to go because some of their friends are going.

THEY DON'T ALL GO

But the parents don't think it is necessary for the family to go to church as a family unit on Sunday. That is just too much trouble.

Besides, such parents are often smug in the belief that they know all about child training and guidance, and they can give their children all they need at home.

When religious leaders tell them the home needs the church, it isn't always convincing.

But, since they set such a great store by education, educated parents may take it to heart when it's a professor of education who warns them that the church and home are dependent on each other for their strength.

Eight hundred years ago a monk in Egypt asked to hold a job for life. When he died he was mummified and his mummy still sits by the door where he worked as a doorman.

Wagner-Elsheimer Vows Said in Home Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Elsheimer

Miss Florence Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Wagner, 500 N. Frost, became the bride of Kenneth L. Elsheimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Elsheimer, Chanute, Kans., Dec. 18, at the Wagner home.

The Rev. S. Duane Bruce, of the White Deer Methodist Church, read the double-ring ceremony before an improvised altar. The mantel was decorated with an arrangement of white mums in a low bowl flanked by white candles tied with green satin ribbons.

Gerald Elsheimer was best man, and following a wedding trip to Midland, Lamesa and Lubbock, the couple settled in Sunray, Tex.

Mrs. Elsheimer attended Pampa High School and was graduated from the San Jacinto Beauty School. Until her marriage, she was employed at the Personality Beauty Shop.

Elsheimer was graduated from Phillips High School and served in the United States Navy. He is now employed by the Phillips Petroleum Company at Sunray.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elsheimer, Chanute, Kans., Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Elsheimer, Higgins, M. R., and Mrs. Grover Frier, White Deer, Mrs. Corene Johnson, Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Florence Lappin and son, Bert, Los Angeles.

Short Hair-Do's Easy to Manage

By ALICIA HART, NEA Staff Writer

New short cap-cut coiffures are easy to manage but they don't automatically eliminate all hair-care problems as many women seem to think.

Short bobs, which are youthful and flattering need expert barbering, careful styling and the shine that comes from a fresh shampoo.

Because strands must be shaped and thinned to hug the crown of the head and end must be left full and fluffy, only an expert barber is qualified to handle the scissors. After hair has been cut it will need trimming every two to four weeks, depending on how rapidly it grows.

Although hair clipped short will sometimes encourage the appearance of a natural curl, if yours shows no such tendencies, plan to put a gentle permanent into the ends. Otherwise you may be forced to roll your own every night, which threatens unending tedium.

Most frequent shampoos may be needed for short-cropped hairdos to keep them fluffy and gleaming. As soon as ends start to droop or strands show a tendency to stick together, dunk your hair. Soap several times and rinse well. Brush dry, following the line of your hair-style. Brush end curls over your fingers. To set, redampen ends and pin up to give curls a springier look, a long-lasting life.

After World War I the Italian sculptor Alceò Dossena reproduced numerous pieces of Renaissance sculpture and, he said, disposed of them in copies at a slight profit. They were so good, however, that the artist sold the copies as originals for fabulous sums.

PAMPA SCOUTS RESOLVE TO SEND 'FRIENDSHIP KITS'

From the first Savannah troop and its 12 members, the Girl Scout movement in the U. S. has grown to include a total membership of 1,072,498 organized into 61,777 troops across the country, Hawaii, Guam, Alaska, Puerto Rico, Panama, Philippine Islands and Virgin Islands.

Total membership in the organization numbers 1,384,864. Pampa's membership totals 412 girls, 28 troops and 151 leaders and volunteers.

Pampa Scouts understand the need of the bewildered child victims of war in Europe and China, but 1948 has brought an unfamiliar aspect into the somber world picture.

As never before in the history of the U. S., the children of American have accepted the responsibility of the bond which links all children—the spirit with which a child says, "Let's be friends."

Most outstanding example of this spirit is the "Clothes for Friendship" campaign, which has been a year-long project of the U. S. Girl Scouts.

During the past year seven Pampa troops have sent 28 friendship kits and hope to send at least 35 by March 12, the 37th birthday of the Scout program. The U. S. Girl Scouts have pledged themselves to collect and send overseas one million garments, enough to adequately clothe one hundred thousand children.

In enlisting the cooperation of Pampans and in every other community where they exist, the Scouts have punctuated their campaign with the slogan "Make Warm Friends." The theme is indicative of a deeper significance in "Clothes for friendship."

As their main New Year's resolution, Pampa Scouts have pledged themselves to meet their goal in friendship kits. Troop and leaders who have sent kits include: Troop 1, under the leadership of Mrs. H. W. Becker and Mrs. C. Simonton, has sent two kits; Troop 2, Mrs. Noel Dalton and Mrs. Frank Carter, twelve; Troop 3, Mrs. Archie Bullard, three; Troop 14, Mrs. H. F. McDonald, Jr., and Mrs. E. B. Palmer, four; Troop 19, Mrs. Burl Lewter, Mrs. W. L. Kretzmeier, Mrs. Clem Followell, two; Troop 20, Mrs. R. H. Nensiel, Mrs. Leon Cook, three; and Troop 22, Mrs. Harold Osborne and Mrs. W. E. Moore, three.

Kit Kats Have Presentation Ball

The Kit Kat Klub held its annual presentation ball Wednesday night at the Palm Room in the City Hall.

The ceiling of the ball room was covered with blue crepe paper streamers. The face of a huge silver cat, backed with blue crepe paper and with the paper on either side was used in the presentation.

At 10 p. m., the new members were presented by their escorts as they walked through the mouth of the huge silver cat.

Jane Wilson was deemed best pledge of the year and as such received a dozen roses. Her escort was Bob McPherson. Jill Chapman was presented by Richard Green, Ann Perkins by G. D. Holmes, Cheryl McDaniels by Jimmy Moore, Vivien Brake by Barton Lockhart, Harriet Schwartz by Ronald Beard and Clarice Parks by Bill McPherson.

The club meeting Tuesday in the home of Nancy and Arvilla Patterson, 627 N. West was held to complete plans for the dance and a rummage sale. Next meeting will be held at 7 p. m. Tuesday at the home of Theola Reim, 437 Graham.

Sydna Morris Has Birthday Party

Sydna Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Morris, 3417 N. Charles, was honored on her ninth birthday with a party Thursday given by her mother at their home. She was assisted by Sydna's grandmother, Mrs. J. E. Ward.

After games were played, pictures were made of the group and favors were given from the lighted Christmas tree. The birthday cake was pink with green candles and "Happy Birthday" was written in green.

Guests were Billy Jones, Tommy Strickland, Bobby Conley, Winston Ed Rowntree, Henry Atchison, Becky Palmer, Paty Huffines, Shirley Hankhouse, Linda Steele, Gene Green, Maynette Loftus, Bonnie Glaxner and Raina Jean Storms.

Joella Shelton, Bob Skeen Engagement Is Announced

Miss Joella Shelton

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shelton, 523 N. Russell, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Joella Shelton, to Bob L. Skeen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Skeen, Clovis, N. Mex.

The wedding will take place Feb. 27 at the First Methodist Church.

Stephens-Rainey Nuptials Are Exchanged at Church

Mrs. Robert W. Rainey

Miss Patricia Stephens became the bride of Robert Weaver Rainey in a double-ring ceremony solemnized at the First Methodist Church at 4 p. m. Tuesday. The Rev. Clyde Smith officiated.

Miss Stephens is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens, long-time residents of Gray County, and Rainey is the son of Dr. and Mrs. William T. Rainey of Fayetteville, N. C.

The ceremony was performed before an altar banked with fern palms interspersed with candelabra decorated with white gladioli and chrysanthemum pompons. A railing of huckleberry and gladioli and pompons decorated the altar. Abile bouquets were of white pompons tied with white satin ribbons.

Tracy Cary, organist, played "One Alone," "Wonderful One," "The Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" as the professional and "The Wedding March" from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" as the recessional. Mrs. Harold Wright sang "I Love You Truly" by Bond and "Because" by d'Hardelot.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory duchess satin made on princess lines, with a sweet-heart neckline, fitted sleeves and a chapel train. Her finger-tip veil was of tiered French illusion held in place by a coronet of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a white orchid in a cascade arrangement of Stephanotis.

Miss Barbara Stephens, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a gown of carmelian red faille with draped décolleté neckline, short sleeves and bustle back. She wore a Mary, Queen of Scots, hat of matching faille and veiling and carried a colonial bouquet of red roses encircled with violets. Miss Merle Rainey, sister of the bridegroom, wore a gown of white tulle and carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Dr. William T. Rainey, Jr., Dr. J. L. Chase, Jr., and John Chisholm.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Stephens held a reception at their home. A profusion of white flowers decorated the house. The bride's table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a three-tiered bridal cake encircled with white pompons and huckleberry, flanked by candelabra. The mantel was decorated with an arrangement of red roses and white pompons.

Guests registered with Miss Jean Chisholm, Miss Sara Parker and Mrs. J. L. Chase, Jr., had charge of the cake.

Mrs. Stephens, mother of the bride, wore a black crepe gown with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Rainey, mother of the bridegroom, wore a violet gown with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

Years Bring House Dress Evolution

By DOROTHY ROE, AP Fashion Editor

The evolution of the house dress from the days of the Mother Hubbard to its present streamlined smartness follows, more or less, the history of the emancipation of women.

So says Erwin Feldman, director-counsel of the National Association of House Dress Manufacturers, preparing for the celebration of its 50th anniversary as the oldest needle trade industry in America.

At the start of the industry, in 1898, the house dress was strictly a functional garment, designed not for beauty but as a sort of coverall.

As women's interests reached outside the kitchen, her sense of style also grew, and house dress manufacturers responded by creating the first strictly American fashions.

Today the house-dress industry has a vast scope, making everything from cocktail dresses to sun dresses, pedal pushers, dirndls, two-piece suits, play outfits, tennis and golf dresses.

Most of the styles are simple and flattering, with practicality a prime consideration. And they're a far cry from the shapeless garments that Grandmas used to wear.

These marquisette glass curtains which are actually woven of glass fibers drape softly and won't shrink or stretch.

U.N. Directly Reflects 'Cold War,' Analyst Says

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Log the blame for the current Indonesian republic upheaval against the Dutch, or assess it against the republic, and you still haven't covered the ground.

The fact is that the world is paying for the failure (or perhaps one should say inability) of the United Nations to set up an international police force to handle such situations. Thus far the U. N. has been simply a sounding board for heated arguments pro and con regarding peace violations. Of course it's easier to name the shortcoming than to cure it. The U. N. is divided into two hostile camps which are the direct reflection of the "cold war" between communism and democracy. Up to now it has been impossible to get coordination of effort on any issue vitally affecting either side.

The Indonesian trouble is particularly unfortunate. The republic is part of an archipelago of 3,000 islands with a population of 75 million. This huge group lies in the heart of one of the last-ditch stands of imperial rule.

There is the gravest sort of danger that out of such quarrels as the Indonesian affair there might grow an Asiatic bloc which would be hostile to the Western world.

Mighty India, for instance, is siding with the Indonesian republic against the Netherlands.

The danger to the Western world doesn't rest in anti-imperialism. The days of empires are surely numbered. The majority of nations recognize the right of self-determination for all peoples.

What the West has to guard against is the continuance of a situation which might produce that hostile Asiatic bloc. Should that develop it would eventually produce the horror of a war between East and West.

The position is made much more critical by the fact that communism is taking advantage of the unrest of the Orient.

The baby is on the U. N. doorstep.

Gulf Coast Construction Approved

GALVESTON—(AP)—Col. B. L. Robinson, district engineer, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, announced two construction contracts had been approved. He said a third had been sent to the U.S. Maritime Commission for approval and that bids had been tabulated on another project.

Coastal Construction Co., Houston, was awarded a $2,997.68 contract for work on Mustang Bayou Bridge on the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway near High Island.

J. V. Dougherty Construction Company, Houston, was awarded a $5,966 contract for alterations to the Federal Land Bank building at Houston.

A $27,967 contract with R. P. Farnsworth & Co., Inc., Houston, was sent to the Maritime Commission for the approval. It is for construction of a shower and washroom building at the commission's reserve fleet site at McFadden Bend on the Neches River.

Associated Laboratories of Dallas was apparently low bidder for the job of testing cement to be used on various projects. The Dallas firm entered a bid of $2,984. Daniel F. Smith Laboratories, Houston, bid $6,668, and Southwestern Laboratories, Fort Worth, $8,660.

The Atlantic, Gulf & Pacific Co., New York, was notified to proceed with the dredging of the Houston ship channel from the vicinity of Baytown to Tucker Bayou in Harris County. Coastal Construction Co., Inc., Port Lavaca, was notified to proceed with the construction of steel sheet piling guide walls at the flood gates at the Brazos River diversion channel.

SECOND BEST YEAR AUSTIN—(AP)—Total farm value of Texas crops this year was estimated by the United States Department of Agriculture at $1,147,386,000. The value is exceeded only by the all-time high of $1,452,300,000 in 1947.

Texas' Famed Interurbans Go Out With the Old Year

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

Texas' famed interurbans, colorful, high-wheeled and fast rolling, went out with the old year Friday midnight.

Born with fanfare, shouting and speeches, the old system died quietly, victim of the progress it served so long and well.

In their heyday, the gaudy, galloping cars were the darlings of an era, a quick, vital transportation link between bustling cities of North Texas.

But highways broadened, automobiles developed style and power and the buses came—buses and motor freight lines. With such competition, the Texas Electric Railway Company lost money. The interurbans were too expensive to operate.

And with the birth of 1949, buses of the Texas Electric Bus Company, replace the interurbans. James P. Griffin, president of the electric railway company, heads the bus company.

The Texas Electric Railway Company is the successor to firms that built and operated the interurbans in years gone by. The line between Denison and Sherman went into operation in 1901; between Dallas and Sherman in 1908; between Dallas and Waco, 1913.

Griffin rode that first interurban out of Waco. It was a gala, wonderful day and happy crowds gaped at the big, shining monsters of the rails.

And generations of Texans reveled in the big red and yellow cars; thrilled to the speedy, rocking rides, the fancy flashing headlights, the shrill whistling and the clanging bells.

The last interurban—from Denison—used 15 minutes of the New Year for its dying run, arriving in Dallas at 12:15 a. m. Jan. 1. Twenty minutes earlier, the final car from Waco rolled into the Dallas terminal.

"No, there won't be any kind of ceremony," Richard Montgomery, an assistant to the general superintendent said earlier.

Montgomery said the 26 passenger cars and the 29 express cars would be sold. "People will use them as diners and homes and I guess other uses will be found."

And the job of ripping up the tracks from Denison to Waco will begin this week, with the salvage value estimated at $1,800,000.

Some of the 800 commuters who used the interurbans daily groused that the cars were uncomfortable.

But there was many a heartache when that last run ended, for the interurbans had a host of friends.

Friends like Mrs. J. W. Williams of Waxahachie, who patted the brown leather cushion of an interurban lovingly and said: "Why, I've been riding these cars 30 years—they're so roomy and comfortable and you feel so safe off those crowded highways."

Friends like the red-haired, blue-eyed Montgomery, who said: "The only work I've ever done since I left the Oklahoma farm has been around these interurbans. The more you're around them the more you become attached to them. They have history and personality."

I don't know much about ships but I guess you'd say an interurban is like a ship—sort of human.

And friends like grey-haired, 69-year-old G. W. Bradford of Waxahachie, since 1916 a proud operator and inspector of interurbans.

He stood on a high interurban platform, a big, husky man and there was sadness in his face and in his voice: "I helped build some of these at the "native sons." At the regular noon luncheon, those members not born in Texas wore black crepe bands about the left arm—mourning the departure from office of their "furriner" president, Lieb Langston. It was his last meeting at which he would preside as head of the club. The new list of officers has now been placed in office—and the president is a Texan, Huey Laycock.

grams have been built around it. The Music Committee presented Friday's program. Introduced by Guilford Branson as musical guests were John Robert Lane, who is attending school at Oklahoma U.; and Miss Ernestine Holmes, music teacher at the local high school. Lane played two piano numbers, and Miss Holmes played three numbers on the accordion.

Historicus Lends Bit to History

At extended intervals, Marshal Stalin has met and talked with foreign interviewers. Among the Americans so favored have been Roy Howard, Elliott Roosevelt, Harold Stassen, and Walter Duranty. In each case, the remarks for foreign publication have been of an amiable and conciliatory character. Their basic theme has been an expressed desire for peace, buttressed by the statement that communism and capitalism should be able to exist together in the world in harmony.

These interviews have always been happily received in this country and elsewhere. They seemed to contain grounds for an optimistic view of the future world trends. Unfortunately, however, there is an amazing contradiction in what Stalin has said for foreign consumption, and what he has told the millions of Russians he rules at home.

That contradiction is the subject of a long article in Foreign Affairs, signed with the nom de plume Historicus. The magazine believes this is the first time a documented study has been made of the matter. In order to obtain his material, the writer examined everything published by Stalin since February, 1919, which was in itself a heavy job of research. In this connection, it should be recognized that Stalin's writings are practically unreadable in Russian. One of his books, "History of the All-Union Communist Party," has had a distribution of 31,000,000 copies. Another major work, "Problems of Leninism," has been published in 11 editions, and the 1947 printing alone totaled 4,000,000 copies. It is extremely significant that none of his interviews with foreign reporters has been reprinted in Russian voluminous works in Russian.

Fair Enough - - by Westbrook Pegler

The first expose of the vicious character of the riff-raff who got fantastic pay plus overtime and bonuses for sailing aboard American merchant ships in the war, comes in sidelong fashion in the December issue of The Proceedings of the United States Naval Institute, a highly professional publication by and for Naval officers. While the war was on, the American Merchant Marine was treated as the property of the maritime unions. The favored union was the National Maritime Union of the CIO, which followed the Communist line and included many Communists among its bosses.

Joseph Curran, the president, was indistinguishable from his Communist colleagues during the war, but he pretends, at least, that in some internal political fight since V-J Day he broke with the Bolsheviks. Like Mike Quill, of the Transport Workers, he now professes to be their enemy. It remains to be seen whether they have changed. After all, Stalin signed up with Hitler, and the War Labor Board has been written by Lieut. Holmes F. Crouch, of the Coast Guard, the service which had the difficult duty of trying Merchant Marine criminals, from murderers and Communist saboteurs to pilferers, during the war. This duty was the more difficult because Curran and other unioners, including many Communists, enjoyed the favor of the White House and the Board.

Mr. Crouch does not propose the absorption of the Merchant Marine into the Navy, but he does insist that discipline is had and must be excellent if the Merchant Marine is to serve as an adjunct to the Navy, the Army and the Air Force. And he warns the country that the traditions which can be cured only by a consciously directed socialist revolution, and which are assumed, the determination to use the foothold won in the Soviet Union as a base for world revolution, is elementary common sense.

Historicus states that one of Stalin's favorite passages was written by him and goes as follows: "We live . . . not only in a state but in a system of states, and the existence of the Soviet Republic side by side with the imperialist states for a long time is unthinkable. In the end either one or the other will conquer. And until that comes, a series of the most terrible collisions between the Soviet Republic and the bourgeois states is inevitable." Stalin quoted this bit of prophecy in an article of his own, and commented: "Clear, one would think."

Common Ground by R. C. HOLLES

Can't Find Anyone Willing to Answer Questions Defending Tax-Supported "Education" If tax supported education is what people generally think it is, namely education, there certainly would be plenty of people who would be willing to answer questions as to whether or not it is in harmony with the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

It will be remembered that this column offered to give any preacher holding a pulpit in Orange County $100.00 if he would attempt to harmonize tax supported "education" with quotations from Jesus Christ. No preacher holding a pulpit in Orange County could come to the aid of the believers in tax supported schools with quotations from Jesus Christ, it is evident that tax supported schools are not in harmony with the moral ideals advocated by Jesus.

We offered $500.00 to the superintendent of schools in half a dozen towns in which the Holles newspapers are published if he would attempt to harmonize tax supported education with the Ten Commandments. The only requirement was that he should submit to cross examination, as would the opponent of tax supported schools, and ask and answer each question in one minute's time. No one would undertake this for $500.00.

No Defense Found Then last May we tried to find an individual willing to attempt to harmonize tax supported schools with the Ten Commandments. We did not offer any money because if we had we would have had plenty of individuals willing to make a pretense of answering questions for the money even if they were obliged to contradict themselves and let it be known that they were lying.

There are cases of assault with deadly weapons (meat cleaver, fire axe, broken bottles, etc.) with intent to kill; intentionally throwing crew members overboard, mental and physical incompetence resulting from narcotics addiction; setting fire to one's own room; shooting of crew members during a drunken party; gross negligence resulting in the deaths of crew members; homosexuality; dangerous psychopathics; mutinous conduct; theft of mail, and continuous refusal to obey lawful orders. There are also routine cases involving the loss of property, destruction of ship's property, theft of ship's stores and so on.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG news behind the news

WASHINGTON—The voters of a score of states showed a distinct preference for the Republican higher taxes to finance the same sort of health, housing, education and increased old age assistance which President Truman is expected to submit to the next session of Congress.

White House financial aides are now making a careful study of the returns in these latest tests of public sentiment on this issue. Mr. Truman's more conservative advisers cite them as evidence that he should reduce his many campaign pledges. Members of the House and Senate are also examining these polls for guidance in passing on an expanded program of federal expenditures in this field.

But there is some question whether Oregon's vote is binding on the legislature or only advisory. It is also doubtful whether the state's financial condition, a matter which the voters apparently overlooked on November 2, can stand the strain of these payments to "feed, clothe, house and provide medical care" for the needy aged.

California raised the old age though I offered him the sum of one hundred dollars and offered to pay for the hall too, to meet an opponent of good standing, in open debate. He never answered the letter but on Dec. 15—nearly two months later—he sent the Gazette-Telegraph of Colorado Springs a carbon copy of a letter he sent to a union operated "newspaper" which the typographical union in that city had taken over.

He carried a periscope ever since he got docked for breaking dishes! Nanking has been the seat of China's government eight times.

Success Secrets

Never be afraid you'll fall in a job that you get a kick out of. Joseph (who uses only one name) was an executive in New York. Designing costume jewelry was his hobby. He liked both jobs but his big thrill came after hours when he could putter around at home, making up new pieces of jewelry.

Then came the great depression. Joseph found himself without a job. He went out to California to look around, but there were no jobs there either. He had all his money. Things looked pretty bad. Then he heard that one of the big studios needed a man who could make costume jewelry. Joseph got up nerve enough to introduce himself as an "expert" designer.

He took with him a couple of old pieces he had made. On the way he blew his few remaining dollars on some clothes so he would be packaged properly. He succeeded in selling himself to the studio people. They gave him a contract, and he borrowed money to put up a "factory" in an old grocery store. His employers liked his work, and so did other studios. Orders began to come in from stars.

Soon Joseph was making more money than he's ever hoped to make in the advertising business. Joseph says he has a fool proof success secret. "First discover a new need," he says. "This means a new market for you. Next discover some way to fill that need—make a product or render a service for your new market. Last of all—do everything you possibly can to make your customers satisfied."

This formula never fails, says Joseph. For every product you develop on the market, you don't have to worry about competition. When you make a product to fill people's needs, they will buy—and when you satisfy your customers, they'll keep on buying.

FOR RECOMMENDED READING ROBERT M. TRUMAN (Chicago Daily Tribune)

As the President brings up for his annual message to congress, we recommend that he read a 115 page government pamphlet, "Daily 1948." It contains much information which should help him to an enlightened decision on such questions as an excess profits tax. The author is one Mr. Truman will not accuse of throwing a red herring, if he orders will pardon the expression.

Table 30 on page 106 of the little book shows that to meet the increased need for goods in the last 2 1/2 years, American corporations had to scurry around for a lot more money than they found themselves possessed of at the end of the war. Altogether some of the unions, notably the CIO, have been inclined to cry foul conditions for failure to expand plant capacity adequately, this table shows that corporations spent $5 billion dollars for new plant equipment in the last 2 1/2 years.

That was just one of the necessary needs for additional money. Funds to carry inventories at the higher prices required 17 1/2 billion dollars more. A lot of people who bought goods couldn't pay for them at once. A total of 11.5 billion dollars had to be found by corporations to carry the accounts of people who couldn't pay for goods when delivered. All of these items taken together amounted to $4.3 billion dollars.

That is how much extra money the corporations had to find to carry on during this period, according to the statistics in the pamphlet. Every one of the specified uses of the money was indispensable. If the $5 billion extra for new plant and equipment was not provided, it would not have been possible to serve the needs of the people in the United States while meeting the foreign demand for our products in the amount of a billion dollars a month on the average.

Where did the companies get the money for all of these necessities? The table shows that, too. Twenty-two and nine-tenths billions came from net earnings retained in the business and from depletion allowances accumulated during the war when normal replacement could not be made, supplied 11 billions. From new securities 8.3 billions was raised. Companies sold the rights to valuable patents, bank balances, realizing 6.9 billions. Banks increased their loans to corporations by 5.8 billions. That was net after repayment of old loans to the banks and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Credits with trade discounts were utilized to provide an additional 4.6 billions. By mortgaging properties to private lenders, 1.6 billions was obtained. Then there were other sources, including the sale of government bonds, which added 1.5 billions to the total. The sale of war bonds owned by companies was an excellent source of funds, but that is a one time operation.

We come back to retained profits as one dependable means of raising funds for an expanding economy. An excess profits tax would come out of the corporation's expansion funds. Smaller profits after taxes would make security owning less desirable and thus reduce the price of new stock issues. The inescapable conclusion from the data in this government pamphlet is that if Mr. Truman wants a recession in business, he should raise the tax. It is a sure way to bring it about.

Mr. Truman will not question the facts in this pamphlet, the title of which is "Midyear Economic Report of the President, July, 1948."

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Samuel Goldwyn recently ran a private showing of his picture, "Enchantment," for the operators at the House of Westmore, the famous Hollywood beauty mill where movie stars have their faces lifted so they won't have their options dropped.

Goldwyn, a great believer in word-of-mouth advertising, knows there's no better place to get a rumor started than a beauty parlor. So, feeling there might be a story lurking behind this unique tactic, I decided to see how the hair twisters, cuticle trimmers and mud packers reacted to Goldwyn's picture.

Inasmuch as this called for an experienced undercover agent to pump the gals and find out what they thought about it all, I set about securing the services of such a person. I wanted the best eavesdropper money could buy. So, sparing no expense, I went to my wife (who could worm the truth out of a clam) and confided my plan.

Our strategy was for Mrs. J., in the guise of an Iowa tourist, to stroll into Westmore's, ask for a beauty treatment, and let nature take its course. "DIDN'T YOU HEAR?" I could tell from my wife's expression when she came home that things hadn't worked out as we expected. "Sorry," she told me, "but I found out absolutely nothing. But those operators," I said, "must have said something. Didn't they even mention that they'd been to a preview of the picture?"

"Oh, sure," Mrs. J. admitted, "but nothing worth while writing about. I had a long chat with the maid in the powder room. She thought 'Enchantment' was a very good title for the picture. It made her feel romantic. She said, after she'd married for love instead of money."

FUNNY BUSINESS

AGENTS—President Truman appreciates that the U. S. is never more favorably situated for making these demands. Almost every nation outside the "iron curtain" depends upon us for economic recovery and military protection. He thinks that our special interests are entitled to consideration in return.

Washington also has reason to suspect that Russian agents are largely responsible for domestic unrest in these areas so vital to our peacetime and war-time economy. Stalin realizes that two world wars and our normal consumption of natural resources have forced us to rely on imports from these three distant trouble spots.

POTPOURRI

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Army Chief of Staff Gen. Omar Bradley recently got involved in a discussion with a big shot of the Midwest city where he was making a speech. The group was arguing about future wars and how they would be fought.

One of the men said that "World War III will be fought with atomic bombs, supersonic planes and a lot of new weapons. These are great strides, but how about World War IV? Is it possible to get any newer or fancier weapons than these?" "I can give you exact answers to that question," said Gen. Bradley. "If we have World War III, then World War IV will be fought with bows and arrows."

The powerful American Legion lobby is preparing for two big fights before the next Congress. The first is a budget battle over probable drastic cuts in Veterans' Administration appropriations. The second fight, which is already out in the open, concerns ex-President Herbert Hoover's reorganization Commission recommendation that all government hospitals be put under one administration. If this recommendation were put through, it would probably mean that only veterans wounded or afflicted while in service could get medical attention in government hospitals. At present almost any veteran can get into a VA hospital, whether his trouble comes from service-con-and Turkey were named to the commission. The two European countries are apparently waiting for the United States to name its delegate first.

Here's a hypothetical question which United Nations experts are debating: If the Chinese Communists drive out Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government and take over control of China, the Communies will pick their delegates to the United Nations. If the Chinese Communists join the Russian bloc, it would give the Communists two of the five permanent seats on the Security Council. Then if France should eventually go Communist the Russians would control three of the Big Five seats.

Texas Truck Crops Jump Over Last Year

AUSTIN—(AP)—Commercial truck crops were worth $82,278,000 to Texas farmers this year, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported.

Texas Indignant Over Tidelands

By The Associated Press
Texas turned with indignation over the latest government move to take away its tidelands. State Attorney General Price Daniel sounded the pitch: "Texas will fight this cause with the same spirit that caused our predecessors to win these lands by blood and valor at San Jacinto." This is what the fuss is about: U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark asked the Supreme Court of the United States to rule that the federal government has jurisdiction over the tidelands off the coasts of Texas and Louisiana. The tidelands are the underwater lands off the Gulf Coast. Seven producing oil fields have been found in the deep-water tidelands off Louisiana in the past year. Explorations are going on in the Texas tidelands, though oil has not yet been found. But Texas has sold leases in its tidelands to oil companies on 379,594 deep-water acres for $7,201,666. This money has gone into the state treasury.

Clark said that Texas is claiming title to these lands, now claimed by the states. The fight has been long and bitter. It has involved Congress, the courts, the executive branch of the federal government, the states' legal departments and the oil companies. In June, 1947, the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that the federal government has a "paramount" interest in the tidelands off the coast of California. Now Clark, a Texan, is trying to have the same principle extended to Louisiana and Texas. But Texas claim that Texas is a special case. They say that Texas retained title to its tidelands when Texas, a republic, joined the Union. Senator Tom Connally of Texas says his state has absolute title to its tidelands and cannot be deprived of them. And over in Louisiana, Attorney General Bolivar Kemp announced that Louisiana's jurisdiction over the Gulf lands will be "defended vigorously all the way." He added: "We will fight at every step."

Clark entered the Union. "If the federal government can nationalize the land, minerals and other things along the coasts of the states of this Union, it can nationalize them in the interior." Attorney General Daniel said he didn't think the United States would give "this kind of treatment" to an enemy nation. "Texas did not convey any of these lands or minerals to the federal government but specifically reserved them as part of the agreement of annexation approved by the Congress of the Republic and the Congress of the United States." Texas Land Commissioner Bascom Giles growled that his opinion "is not publishable."

What does Congress think about the matter? In 1946, when the California case was pending, Congress voted to declare the tidelands the property of the states. President Truman vetoed the bill. In the 80th Congress, now about to pass out of existence, the House passed a similar measure. This bill was sponsored by the National Association of State Attorneys General. The Senate never acted on it. And what do Texas oilmen think of Clark's newest move?

108,000 Vets Spend Holiday in Hospital
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration estimates that about 108,000 war veterans are in hospitals this holiday season. The agency's chaplaincy service says it wouldn't be a bad idea for the public to drop in on those veterans who are able to have visitors.

Air Force Lacks Plans for Reserve

THE DRILLER'S LOG

By KEN BENNETT

The holiday season has brought a quietness to the oil industry that almost has made this column today a story of no happenings. However, a few things have happened in the past few days that are worth mentioning. For instance, there's the new acreage acquired by Eddie Dunigan in Carson County where he is to drill a wildcat very soon. The permit has been filed and listed elsewhere in today's Oil News. Dunigan has approximately 25 sections of land in that area under lease and many eyes will be turned in the direction of this well to see what develops. The well is about five miles southeast of Panhandle.

When yours truly dropped into the Railroad Commission office this past Monday morning, I found several members of the local office quite perturbed over the issuance of the order from the State Office in Austin regarding the moving of the allowable orders to be effective January 1. The telephones were ringing off the walls with the various employees going from one phone to another trying to answer the questions which were coming in regarding the order. From where I sit it looks as if this order is going to work a real hardship on the small gas producer, although it is to be hoped that when the order is clarified following the first of the year that all will be worked out well. A press release issued by Ernest Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, states as follows: "In the vast amount of clerical work connected with the calculation of the gas allowances for the many gas wells in the Panhandle Area in the past few weeks, even in the past few days, there will naturally come about some clerical error or errors in testing. These errors will promptly show up and will be corrected as fast as brought to our attention." That notice was dated December 29, 1948.

This is one week in which the Driller's Log has been unable to learn anything regarding the deep test wells, even in rumor form. I can report that the Texas Company well in Hutchinson County, the Belle-Wisdom, is down to around 3,112 feet, but aside from that the Christmas and New Year's holidays have me stymied. Well, here's 1949 to look forward to, and so it appears right now as if any further information regarding those wells will have to come in the new year.

I wish I had a crystal ball to look into to see what is in store for the Panhandle Area in the coming 12 months. It could be a very interesting time. The development in several directions with Pampa sitting pretty much in the center of things. I wish I could have concluded that sentence with the words "sitting pretty," but many things I have to develop before that can be. First and foremost among those things is the Pampa-Perryton Highway and the bridge across the Canadian and New Year's holidays have me stymied. Well, here's 1949 to look forward to, and so it appears right now as if any further information regarding those wells will have to come in the new year.

Late Flash... The Pure-Langford well in Hartley County struck granite at 7864 and is being abandoned. Latest rumor... Phillips will soon release samples on the Jenkie and Carruth wells and will cease making the Kathryn "A" a tight well. Now maybe those who have wondered what they found in that area will be able to glean a few facts.

And with these meager efforts to bring you something in today's column, yours truly, Ye Editor of the Driller's Log, wishes to each and every reader the happiest and most prosperous new year you have ever enjoyed.

Draft to Call for 161 in February

Eight New Notices of Intent to Drill Filed With Commission

Intent to drill notices were filed on eight new locations during the past week according to a report by the authorities of the local Oil and Gas Office of the State Railroad Commission issued yesterday.

Hutchinson County, listing four new locations, led in new activity, while Carson County ran a close second listing three new locations. Moore County filed one new location.

Skelton Reviews Texas Oil News

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON —(AP)—The oil industry began the new year by cutting crude oil production. Reduced allowances became effective yesterday in Texas and Kansas, where conservation-minded state officials say there is no further need for record breaking production.

The Federal Bureau of Mines gave support to the curtailment order by reminding the industry of further increase in stocks of either crude or refined products is necessary to fulfill demand. Present stocks, the bureau reported, are sufficient to meet peacetime emergencies despite an anticipated 4 percent increase in demand for petroleum and petroleum products during 1949.

The Texas Railroad Commission cut the state's January crude production allowable by 250,985 barrels daily.

Last Tuesday the Kansas Corporation Commission placed January's daily allowable at 295,000.

On Dec. 25, Texas had a daily production average of 2,315,700 barrels, Kansas 306,400.

"It is now clearly apparent there will be no petroleum products shortage this winter," said Chairman Jeff Robertson in announcing the Kansas commission's action.

Domestic crude production for the week ending Dec. 25 averaged 6,070,000 barrels daily, an increase of 355,310 over the week ending Dec. 27 last year.

Of the 22 states listed in the American Petroleum Institute's weekly report, only four—Ohio, Kentucky, Michigan and Nebraska—were producing less crude on Dec. 25 than year earlier.

Sixteen states showed daily average increases ranging from 10 barrels in Virginia to 171,100 in Texas.

Utah, now producing at a rate of 150 barrels daily, was not listed in API's final report for 1947.

Important discoveries in Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico during 1948 gave those states significant increases which point to 1949 production boosts that possibly could erase much of the loss resulting from the sharp Texas cutback.

When daily averages are figured for the full year the increases will not be so large but on Dec. 25 Colorado was producing 21,300 barrels more than a year earlier, Wyoming 17,450.

The big four of crude production—Texas, California, Louisiana and Oklahoma—had the largest increases.

With Texas out in front with its 171,000 Louisiana followed with an increase of 42,600, Oklahoma 39,000 and California 31,200.

Kansas jumped its daily figure by 10,800.

Average daily production by states as listed by API for the week ending Dec. 25 and the increase or decrease as compared with the week ending Dec. 27, 1947:

New York—Pennsylvania 43,750 barrels, up 50; Florida 850, up 200; West Virginia 7,650, up 1300; Virginia 50, up 10; Ohio 8700, down 850; Indiana 23,050, up 450; Illinois 178,550; Kentucky 22,850, down 4850; Michigan 44,250, down 4250; Nebraska 350, down 150.

Kansas 306,400, up 10,800; Oklahoma 448,300, up 39,000; Texas 2,315,700, up 171,100; Louisiana 495,300, up 42,600; Arkansas 81,800, up 1050; Alabama 1200, up 200; New Mexico 134,400, up 14,000; Wyoming 132,110, up 17,450; Montana 26,000, up 100; Colorado 86,800, up 21,300; Utah 150 (no comparative figure); California 958,700, up 31,200.

King George Plans Holiday Next Week

The trip, Jan. 8, will be the first time King George has left Buckingham Palace since his illness was announced Nov. 22.

FIG CROP UP
AUSTIN —(AP)—Texas farmers raised 2,380,000 pigs this year, the United States Department of Agriculture reported. The crop is 6 percent more than last year's crop but still 9 percent below the 10-year average of 2,600,000 head.

Area Reports Completions

The holiday season brought about the completion of only six wells in the Panhandle Area, according to a report by the local Oil and Gas Office of the Railroad Commission issued yesterday.

Hutchinson and Gray Counties each reported the completion of two wells, while Moore and Carson County reported one each. No gas wells were reported as completed during the past week.

Texas oilmen also began the new year by keeping close watch on posted crude oil purchase prices.

Some spokesmen expressed belief the January production cutback will be accompanied by stiff competition for purchases.

Premier Oil Refining Company of Longview, Tex., began the new year with a new posting of $2.75 per barrel, 10 cents above the prevailing figure.

The company in late September met Phillips Petroleum's 25-cent hike which meant $3 oil. Premier's new price follows Phillips' action of abandoning its 35-cent hike which brought sharp criticism from within the industry.

Premier President Sylvester Dayson said a study of conditions in East Texas fields revealed premiums above posted prices still being paid.

TIDELANDS

Part of the federal government's Supreme Court suit seeking paramount rights to Texas-Louisiana tidelands calls for the states to account for money already received from leases, royalties and bonus payments.

Texas Land Commissioner Bascom Giles last week said the state's public school fund has received $35 million since leasing of the submerged properties began.

Louisiana officials estimated that state's income to date at approximately $24 million.

Remington Sues Miss Bentley for Libel

NEW YORK —(AP)— An attorney says he has served Elizabeth T. Bentley, self-styled former Communist spy, a summons in a $100,000 libel suit brought by William W. Remington.

Remington's attorney, Richard G. Green, said he had located Miss Bentley in the Bronx after a "12-week chase."

Remington, suspended Commerce Department employe charged Miss Bentley said he was a Communist on a television program.

1949's Biggest Problem Is Understanding With Russia

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON —(AP)— What's the biggest single problem facing this country in 1949?

It's the same unsolved one we've faced every year since the war, the one President Truman spoke of last week:

How to have an "understanding" with the Russians.

Since our whole future is involved in it, a big part of what's done in 1949 will be tied into that problem.

Comic Turns Thumb Down On Radio

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— Danny Thomas, Toledo's gift to the comedy world, says he'll never again do a regular radio show.

"I am convinced that the minds who run radio don't know anything about show business," remarked Danny, who has had forays into the world of commcial radio. "It's this way: after you have spent all your life to get where you are, they try to send you where you don't want to be."

Meanwhile, Danny's film career is drawing renewed interest. As the result of his work at the Darryl Zanuck testimonial dinner, 20th-Fox bigwigs have been talking to him about a movie deal.

Laurel and Hardy appear set for a comeback, and that's good news for their many followers.

They'll play radio sound effects men in a hilarious sequence of "You Can't Do That" for Glenn McCarthy.

The Texas millionaire will bring movie junkets back with a bang when he opens his first picture in Houston March 17.

McCarthy will take a Hollywood contingent to the premiere, which will also mark the opening of his $25 million Shamrock Hotel.

Donald O'Connor's new film has been switched from "And Baby Makes Three" to "Yes, Sir, That's My Baby." It seems that song titles always sell at the box office. Along that line, Lloyd Sloan of the Hollywood Citizen-News has an apt suggestion for Paramount: Why not change "The Paleface" to the title of its hit song, "Buttons and Bows"?

Jiggled Headline Reflects Earthquake

SACRAMENTO, Calif. —(AP)— The Sacramento Union's headline read simply enough: "Sacramento Shaken by Quake."

But the letters were jiggled as if they had been arranged from toy blocks—and knocked out of line. It was done on purpose, however, after the California capital was jiggled at 5:55 a.m. Wednesday.

Postal Receipts Pass $10 Million Mark

DALLAS —(AP)— Dallas postal receipts for the past year have passed $10 million, Postmaster J. Howard Payne announced.

Payne said Dallas was the first Southern city to attain the ten million mark. Receipts so far this year stood at an unofficial $10,002,361 late Wednesday.

There are more than 400 different species of rhododendrons and azaleas.

But what kind? The same war, with no guns fired, would still be going on. How? The Russians don't have to send their army into a country to take it over for communism.

The Communist parties within each country are always working to take control. If they win, that's one more country for communism.

So what meaning could there be in an agreement with Russia? Would it amount to more than this: giving Russia some guarantees for its own safety—while Communists everywhere outside Russia continued to try to communise the world?

In the first place, the Russians want to spread communism. But this country wants to stop it from spreading. Why? Because—

The United States and Russia are the two giants in the world: one capitalist and anti-Communist, the other Communist and anti-capitalist.

If one country after another goes Communist until we're surrounded, we'll be helpless then against the world.

And the Russian leaders are convinced that communism must win the world—and that communism and capitalism can't live side by side unendingly.

Yet when anyone talks of an "understanding" with Russia he means some kind of agreement.

But what kind? The same war, with no guns fired, would still be going on. How? The Russians don't have to send their army into a country to take it over for communism.

The Communist parties within each country are always working to take control. If they win, that's one more country for communism.

Premier Posts Crude Price of $2.75 per Barrel

LONGVIEW —(AP)— The Premier Oil Company posted a $2.75 per barrel price for East Texas crude on Jan. 1.

The new price is 26 cents a barrel below Premier's present posted price of $3.00 but is still 10 cents above the general posted price. Premier had met the 35 cents hike posted by the Phillips company in September, which raised the per barrel price to $3.00 when major companies failed to follow, most companies cut back to $2.65.

"A study of conditions in East Texas fields has premiums above the posted price still are being paid, with resultant favoritism to one producer against another," Sylvester Dayson, Premier president, said in an announcement.

"As in the past in similar circumstances, Premier is following a well established policy of paying no special premiums but in order to treat all producer connections alike has decided to increase the posted price for East Texas crude by 10 cents a barrel."

Comforts of Show
DAYTON, O.—(AP)— "I can't come to church because the benches are too hard for me to sit on through an entire service," a parishioner told the Rev. James Thomas of the South Park Methodist Church a few months ago.

So, workmen are installing 160 new theater-type seats with rounded backs and air cushions in the church.

A&P Head Predicts Competition in Food

NEW YORK (AP)—Supply of food in 1949 will equal that of this year but competition will be keener and prices may be lower, John A. Hartford, president of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., said.

"We have entered a period where the purse as well as the appetite will determine what food, and how much of it, people will buy," he said in a statement.
