

Serb Guerillas Battle Axis Division In Old Yugoslavia

(By The Associated Press)
Adolf Hitler's invasion armies, hard-pressed on the sands of North Africa, and flung into headlong retreat in the Russian Ukraine, had a new fight on their hands today as Serb guerrillas were reported battling three Axis divisions in old Yugoslavia.

The broadcast said that Nazi military preparations all along the frontier had been stepped up, and that the Germans were tightening their control on Bulgarian ports and airfields.

There was no immediate indication whether Germany feared that Russia's sweeping counter-offensive in the Ukraine, might open a new "back door" front in the Balkans or whether Hitler planned to move into Turkey himself.

A Serb communique, issued in Cairo, said the Germans had launched "what appears to be a general offensive" against positions held by unquarreling guerrilla forces of Gen. Draza Mihailovic in a valley of the western Morava river.

German troops in Yugoslavia have been estimated at five divisions (about 75,000 men), while Gen. Mihailovic is said to have 80,000 soldiers, sworn to wipe out the Nazi conquerors.

A Havas (French news agency) dispatch said 1,500 persons were killed by a munitions dump explosion at Oujtza, Serbia, in a fight between guerrilla and government troops.

Official London announcements recently have reported 350,000 persons killed in mass executions in Yugoslavia since its fall last spring.

Coincidentally, in Nazi-conquered France, the German military commander of Paris threatened "the most rigorous of reprisal measures" unless Paris citizens surrendered the perpetrators of recent terrorist acts against German soldiers—the latest a German army doctor shot on the street.

Trib Rumors AEF Of Five Million Men

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—Stephen Early, White House secretary, said today the government would investigate the source or sources of a report in the Chicago Tribune today asserting that a confidential report of an army-navy joint board called for an American expeditionary force of 5,000,000 men for an offensive against Germany by July 1, 1943.

When asked about the story at his press conference, Early replied: "All that can be said is I've not talked to the president about the story. I am in no position to confirm or deny it."

Early added that the president and War Secretary Stimson would look into the matter. "I will say," he continued, "that there are two branches, one in the war department and one in the navy department, both known as war plans."

It is his duty, even in peacetime, to study and plan for all possible emergencies. Even the most improbable situations are studied and planned.

"An unlimited national emergency has been declared. If they lacked the plans to meet this emergency or any phase of it they would be guilty of inefficiency, and if the president of the United States permitted them to face an emergency without a plan, he too would be guilty of negligence."

ENGINEER SAVES PASSENGERS AND LOSES OWN LIFE

—As a crowd watches fascinated, rescue workers threw the body of Jack O'Connor, 70-year-old engineer of the crack B & O "Shenandoah," New York bound streamlined train. The locomotive stands propped against the end of the open drawbridge through which it plunged into the Indiana harbor ship canal at East Chicago, Ind., after O'Connor threw his engine into reverse to save as many cars as possible.

House Passes Drastic Strike Curb Bill

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—A hard-bolled strike curb bill, stamped with an unexpected house endorsement of almost 2 to 1, moved to the senate today where extensive modification appeared probable.

Senators predicted freely that their chamber would relax the bill's drastic terms, and then let a senate-house conference committee work out some agreement on the final scope of the legislation needed to avert work stoppages in vital defense plants.

After working itself into a complicated parliamentary snarl, the house finally rolled up a 252 to 136 vote yesterday for the far-reaching bill by Rep. Smith (D-Va.) without even considering some pending "middle-of-the-road" measures.

Eighteen Texas representatives voted for the bill and one, Rep. Albert Thomas of Houston, against it. Speaker Rayburn as presiding officer did not vote, and the vote of Nat. Patron of Crockett was not recorded. All others voted for it.

Candy, Movies, Bands To Be Attractions

Thousands of Children Will Attend Event

Candy, a motion picture show, and a glittering parade await children of Pampa and surrounding towns when the annual Santa Day is held here Saturday.

For the first time this year, brilliant Christmas lights were turned on last night in Pampa, as a community singing of carols was held in a program in front of the LaNora theater, attended by 500 persons.

This year's Santa Day, Saturday, will be the greatest since the annual event was first started a decade ago.

There will be a gorgeous array of eight beautiful floats, seven bands from Pampa schools, and several from out-of-town. Miami and Ocala are among the 27 towns that have agreed to send their bands to Pampa to take part in the parade.

Invitations and tickets have been issued to children of Skellytown, Spring Creek, Berger, Phillips, Pampa, White Deer, Groom, Grandview, Hopkins, LeFors, Webb, Back, McLean, Alamored, Jericho, Greenlake, Miami, Canadian, Farrington, Laketon, Mobeetie, Wheeler, Kelton, Shamrock, Lela, Kellerville, and Magic City.

Free candy will be issued to the children up to the age of 12 at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The candy will be given out by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce committee in the 100 block on S. Cuyler.

Children up to the age of 8 must be accompanied by their parents in order to receive a sack of candy.

This rule is a safety measure, in order to prevent small children from being hurt in the crowds. At 11 o'clock, the LaNora and Crown theaters will open their doors for a free motion picture show for the children, which will last about an hour.

A selection of short subjects will be shown at the Crown; a Jane Withers picture and a cartoon comedy at the LaNora.

Parade Route

At 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the parade will form at the Junior high school gymnasium. Starting promptly at 4:30 o'clock one hour later, the parade will move south on Cuyler to Atchison, west on Atchison to Frost, south on Frost to Tynge, east on Tynge to Cuyler, thence south to the intersection with Brown.

The Pampa a cappella choir, directed by Miss Helen Martin, the Pampa Junior high band, directed by Ray Robbins, singers from "The Messiah," and the public joined in the Christmas musical program last night.

Jack Johnson, president of the Jaycees, issued an invitation for all to join in Pampa's Santa Day. Bill Browne was master of ceremonies. The program was broadcast over Radio Station KPDN.

NYA Funds For Texas Slashed

AUSTIN, Dec. 4. (AP)—A $1,250,000 slash in National Youth Administration funds for Texas will result from President Roosevelt recent general appropriations impounding order, J. C. Kellam, state NYA director, disclosed today.

Kellam said the reduction would apply to the remaining seven months of the federal fiscal year and cause a curtailment in the program of projects farthest removed from those designed to aid national defense efforts.

The director estimated the aid to youths in schools program would be cut in half and the college student aid program curtailed by 25 per cent.

In addition, the out-of-school NYA work program will be reduced in such a manner as to drop the 14,000 participants on the rolls Nov. 30 to an average of 7,651 the rest of the fiscal year. Aid to 4,000 will be stopped this month and the balance staggered through January and February.

Test At Polls Of Roosevelt Foreign Policy Developing

BOSTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—A major test at the polls of President Roosevelt's foreign policy appeared developing today as the special primary campaign in Massachusetts' defense-booming seventh congressional district gained fury.

The showdown was indicated in the contest among 10 candidates for the Democratic nomination for the seat vacated by the death of U. S. Representative Lawrence J. Connerly (D-Lynn).

Demands that the campaign be confined entirely to foreign policy came early from a 33-year-old state senator, Joseph B. Harrington of Salem, a leader in the America First committee, who is running on an out-and-out isolationist platform.

His challenge brought a quick response from the two candidates generally considered the favorites at this point of the campaign for the Dec. 16 primary.

Assistant Democratic floor leader of the Massachusetts senate, Thomas J. Lane, 48, of Lawrence, asserted that he was "casting my lot with the kind of Americanism typified by President Roosevelt" and added "I pledge my full support to his foreign and domestic policy."

County Commissioner J. Fred Manning, 55, 10 years mayor of Lynn, the largest city in the district with a population of 100,000, said that he would "never vote for war," and declared:

"I stand steadfastly behind the foreign policy of President Roosevelt in giving all aid to the powers fighting the Axis without sending our boys across to fight on foreign soil."

mine barrier and was damaged by three hits.

Two German patrol boats with a total crew of 80 captured the prize, the high command said, adding that Finnish troops had occupied Hango island.

Berlin dispatches told of bitter hand-to-hand fighting in the 100-mile zone along the Sea of Azov between Rostov and Mariupol, where the Russians declared the Germans were in scattered and disorganized flight.

On the rain-soaked North African front, British Middle East headquarters said a lull in the 17-day-old conflict had prevailed for the past 24 hours.

British imperial troops and armored columns were reported massing their main strength on an offensive line from El Gobi, 50 miles northward to Rzegh, 10 miles below long-besieged Tobruk.

In Wellington, N. Z., Prime Minister Peter Fraser said he had received a message from Maj. Gen. B. C. Fryberg reporting severe New Zealand casualties in the Libyan desert struggle, and the British admitted that a hard fight lay ahead.

Referring to German Gen. Erwin Rommel's North African forces a high British officer declared: "We will knock him out entirely, but it will take some time yet."

Premier Mussolini's high command said troops of two Italian divisions captured several fortified points from the British on the Tobruk front, while German and British mechanized forces clashed west of Bardia, near the Egyptian-Libyan border.

Meanwhile, a German spokesman bitterly assailed President Roosevelt's announcement that he had found "the defense of Turkey vital to the defense of the United States" and the disclosure that United States lend-lease aid to Turkey would include $100,000,000 worth of planes, tanks, guns, and other army supplies.

"It is interesting to note that the ever-expanding American defense zone now embraces the Near East," a Nazi spokesman said caustically. "But mark my word, the last word has not been said in this matter."

In the Far East crisis, the Japanese press sizzled anew today over alleged "encirclement" of Japan by the ABCD group of America, Britain, China, and Dutch East Indies.

As the United States still waited for Japan's answer to Secretary of State Cordell Hull's terms for peace in the Pacific, the Tokyo privy council, Emperor Hirohito's highest advisory organ, discussed American-Japanese relations in a two and one-half hour session.

Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo and Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo reported to the council in detail, and it was announced that "active opinions were exchanged."

Amid the bristling tension, Portugal was reported to have joined in the rush of defense measures among Europe's colonies in the Orient.

The Vichy (French) radio said the Portuguese Minister of Colonies had ordered to active service all reserve officers in the colony of Timor, on the eastern tip of the Malayan peninsula.

In Tokyo, the newspaper Yomiuri displayed a photograph of Thai troops marching in Bangkok, the Thai capital, and said the country's neutrality was menaced by intensified British and American propaganda.

Koh Ishii, former Japanese cabinet spokesman, now Japanese embassy counselor in Bangkok, declared that collapse of Washington-Tokyo negotiations would mean an immediate outbreak of hostilities in the Far East. Relations between the United States and Japan were not such as to precipitate war, he said.

His optimism was not echoed however, by Foreign Minister Togo, who bluntly stated that the refusal of the United States, Britain, and their associates to "understand" Japan's program for east Asia had created an unprecedented crisis.

Domei, the Japanese news agency, summarizing Tokyo press reaction to Secretary Hull's statement yesterday, said the papers showed "shocked surprise and extreme pessimism" over the future of Washington negotiations.

The newspaper Nichi Nichi headlined its Washington dispatch: "Hull slanders Japanese foreign policy; reveals United States insincere regarding Japanese-American negotiations."

Mr. Hull's statement had indicated an unbridgeable gap between the attitudes of the United States and Japanese governments.

There was something of a lull in the north African fighting, where both the British and the German-Italian forces were reorganizing their battle-scarred units for the expected attempt by the British to regain ground lost recently to the Axis.

As for the Far East, the United States still waited for Japan's answer to Secretary of State Hull's note laying down conditions for peace in the Pacific. The U. S. position was unchanged and the Pacific situation still was considered in Washington to be extremely grave.

The city of Paris faced stern but unspoken reprisal measures next Monday to the German military the persons guilty of two terroristic acts against German soldiers.

Two Nazi artillerymen were killed and several others wounded last Saturday night by a bomb. The latest incident was the shooting of a German military doctor as he walked along the Boulevard Magenta.

About 800,000,000,000 light waves enter the eye in one second when looking at a violet-colored object.

Bankers Told To Quit 'Bellyaching'

HOLLYWOOD BEACH, Fla., Dec. 4 (AP)—Edward Eicher, chairman of the securities and exchange commission, today struck sharply at what he called a "bellyaching" attitude of bankers.

In a statement to newsmen, Eicher replied to the criticism which had been made of the SEC in the annual convention of the investment bankers association of America.

"I sympathize with the bankers and I think they are important to our economy," he said. "But they'll never get anywhere by bellyaching."

Eicher said Emmett F. Connelly of Detroit, president of the IBA, "is not helping the cause for national unity by preaching a doctrine of despair."

President Connelly attended the press conference at which Eicher spoke. He differed with the view that big institutional investors were getting all good security issues.

Instead, he said, about 25 percent of them fan out to small buyers.

Survivor Of Reuben James Wants To Get Back In War

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 4 (AP)—A terrifying experience with torpedoes which sank the ill-fated destroyer Reuben James wasn't enough to make George Beasley, 22, weary of the war.

"The Heavens, Okla., youth who was aboard the ship when it sank west of Iceland Oct. 31 says he would be glad to get back to the war zone.

Beasley clung to a life raft in the icy north Atlantic for two hours after the Reuben James was hit. He narrowly escaped death in explosions of the ship's depth charges.

"We were swimming about 30 yards away from the Reuben James when she went down," he said, visiting friends here. "Just as she slid under the depth charges went off. The ocean was thrown up in a great wave, our raft was overturned and I was pulled under. About half of the men on the raft were drowned and I was able to climb on. A few minutes later another destroyer came along and began circling us. It was one of the most beautiful sights I ever saw. But it didn't stop. Another ship came along and picked us up."

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP)—Stocks ran into enough profit fishing and tax selling today to stem the market's rising tide.

While favored industrial groups managed to elude fractional improvement, and leader issues were up as much as 3 or so, an early decline in the recovery aviation fastened out after mid-day and closing trade was moderately irregular. Rails were hesitant from the start.

There were frequent slow-downs but speedy rallies were plentiful and traders for the full proceedings were around 1,150,000 shares. It was the third successive session in which volume exceeded the million-share mark.

Sister Kills Brother And Is 'Very Glad'

KINGS PARK, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP)—The death he preferred to live as a mental patient finally has come to 26-year-old George Horn, and the sister who ended her own melancholy days is glad.

"It was the least I could do," authorities quoted Mrs. Edith Reichert, 28, as saying after pumping four bullets into her brother from a saved-off rifle as they stood talking with their mother yesterday in a visiting room at Kings Park state hospital.

Sealed lips concealed the feelings of the mother, Mrs. Edith Horn, 55, of Brooklyn, but Mrs. Reichert spoke freely.

"I'm very glad. It was the least I could do. I didn't want to see him suffer. He had talked of suicide before he went away, but he got so bad he could not kill himself, so I decided to put him out of his misery." District Attorney Fred J. Munder quoted her as saying.

But the act that released her brother from a condition listed on hospital records as "hopeless—recovery doubtful if at all"—brought a first-degree murder charge against Mrs. Reichert. Her arraignment was set for 10 a. m. Saturday before Justice of the Peace Roy O. Bradley.

Monk And Allies Have Fun Eluding Humane Society

NAUGATUCK, Conn., Dec. 4 (AP)—There's a lot of monkey business going on in Naugatuck these days and apparently the residents like it.

Since last July the humane society has been trying to trap a medium-sized monkey that escaped from a traveling carnival but the monk apparently figured it was entitled to public support and wanted to stay.

So while the humane society triters about with traps, treated bananas and the like (and she side-tracks them all) residents headed by banker H. A. Daly and manager Carleton W. Brennan of a coal company here, have contributed small sums to a fund to keep monk off relief.

Others bring oatmeal, milk and the like to tempt monk from her daytime perch atop the coal company's elevator.

Don't worry, monk knows where it's warm these cold nights. She scrams to the iron works across the street to share the heat from the molten metal.

The society, all adither in its anxiety to restore the Simian to its owners, originally set up a cage with a trick door outside and a blanket inside.

But when they came to look, lo, the blanket had vanished and the trap door was sprung.

Prominent Indians Freed From Jail

NEW DELHI, India, Dec. 4 (AP)—Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, president of the India congress party, and Jawaharlal Nehru, its former president, were released from prison today under a new government policy which already has set free at least 500 civil disobedience prisoners.

The government, announcing the decision to release such prisoners, many of them followers of Mohandas K. Gandhi, estimated that approximately 8,000 in all were held.

All of those except certain categories jailed for definite acts of sabotage or inciting to sabotage are expected to be freed.

Gandhi, however, has declared that such a step would not affect the nationalist movement for independence from which the civil disobedience campaign stemmed.

Champion Steer Sells At Auction

CHICAGO, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Grand Champion steer of the 42nd International Livestock Exposition sold at auction today for $330 a pound, the same price paid for last year's titlist.

The steer "Loyal Alumnus 4th," an Aberdeen-Angus and exhibited by Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., was purchased by Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., which also bought last year's winner, "Sargo," a Hereford, owned by Evelyn Asay, Mx. Carroll, Ill.

Try as he would, the auctioneer, Roy Johnson, Belton, Mo., was unable to coax the bidders to go above the 1940 price. Bidding started at $1 and moved up slowly.

The reserve champion steer, "T-O Again," a Hereford exhibited by T. Richard Lacy, 15, Kansas, Ill., sold for $1 a pound to a Chicago night club. It weighed 890 pounds. "T-O Again" was also the champion steer of this year's contest among junior showmen.

Texas Cities Look Forward To OPM Train

(Editor's Note: This is the second of several daily articles on what is being done and what is not being done by and for Texas' little businessmen in the national defense effort.)

(By The Associated Press)
 Disput with the entire set-up for small businessmen in the national defense effort was expressed by the spokesman of the Sherman, Tex., chamber of commerce in a statewide survey made by The Associated Press.

"Firms have filled out so many questionnaires for so many agencies without results, that they have become quite discouraged," said Frank M. Thompson, manager of the Sherman chamber of commerce.

Ahlens and other West Texas points have experienced similar discouragement.

Yet all Texas cities indicate new hope with the visit of the OPM Red - White - and - Blue train to Texas, and clinics for small businessmen and manufacturers scheduled this month.

"I've seen a train," said Lowell Stapf, Amarillo businessman in reply to a query whether he would go to Dallas for the OPM clinic on Dec. 11-12.

"This is a constructive move," said Chamber of Commerce Manager Thompson.

In July some 65 manufacturers and machine shop operators in the Abilene area held a special meeting and organized a pool of machine shop operators to bid on prime and sub-contracts.

"We have spent considerable time in assisting this pool," said Merly Gruver, manager of the Abilene chamber of commerce, "but like others in the state that have been organized, there have been no definite results obtained—at least they have not received any contracts."

"Too much red tape in the OPM office and too few on the staff ever to catch up with the problems facing them" was the criticism voiced by W. E. Long, manager of the Austin chamber of commerce.

"There must be something done and done soon," he declared, "if many small business places are to survive. The belief of many of our businessmen is that a billion dollar job is being done on a 25 cent basis."

Organization of a South Plains pool of manufacturers, fabricators and machine shop operators brought no tangible results in the Lubbock area, reported A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock chamber of commerce.

"We have not received any concrete evidence of contracts, nor any definite indication of forthcoming relief for the small operator," Davis said. "To the contrary, it appears that freight rates and other contributing circumstances eliminate us from filing successful bids."

Garnet Reeves, manager of the Pampa civic body, reported an earnest effort in his area to assist small manufacturers but

MEET YOUR PAMPA NEWS CARRIER BOY

(Editor's note: This is the sixth in a series of 30 biographical sketches of The Pampa News carrier boys. Pictures of the boys and accompanying sketches will be published in The News daily.)

Outstanding success is the record of John Vestal (J. V.) Mosley Jr., carrier of Route 6, Mary Ellen and Charles.

He has been a carrier for two years but not always on the same route, as he had two other routes before he was assigned to his present one. This means he had the difficult job of being a "utility" man before taking over the Mary Ellen and Charles route. Joe De Grace was the carrier on the route before him.

J. V. has developed into one of the best carriers. He is 17 years old, was born November 10, 1924 at Clarendon, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Mosley, 519 N. Hazel. J. V. is a senior in Pampa High school. His favorite sports are baseball and swimming; hobbies, photography and stamp collecting. He wants to be a business executive when he grows up.

"without a great deal of success." The campaign to aid small manufacturers is not benefitting Denison plants at all, according to A. W. Long, chamber of commerce manager. "We do have quite a number of firms handling defense contracts but these were obtained without assistance."

"The same problem confronts small plants in the Marlin area, said George S. Buchanan, chamber of commerce manager.

"Local manufacturers hesitate to make bids because of lack of reasonable time to obtain specifications and make estimates," he said. "Quantities called for are usually so great as to disturb them."

Representatives from small manufacturing concerns in Vernon have held several meetings with chamber of commerce officials on means of securing defense contracts.

"I do not know how successful we will be," said W. H. Wright, chamber of commerce secretary, "but I am of the opinion that the concerns must secure defense contracts or eventually be closed due to lack of materials with which to work on civilian contracts."

Wichita Falls' pool of 40 manufacturers, fabricators, machine shop and factory owners "has made no howling success in obtaining contracts," said J. C. Boyd, Jr., assistant manager of the chamber of commerce. "But we believe it has been able to find out a number of reasons why it is so difficult to get work in this section."

"In my opinion," he added, "very little work will be obtained by the small manufacturers until some very substantial changes are made in the rules for handling out this work."

Waco, Pampa and Corpus Christi delegations of small manufacturers will visit the defense special train during its Texas tour, and San Angelo and Waco will send representatives to the defense clinic Dec. 11-12.

Today's War Analysis

By DeWITT MACKENZIE

Jack London, who not only was a master-writer but an expert in things pugilistic, used to say that every time a man does battle in the ring he loses some of his velvet, that is, a bit of his youthful strength and power of recuperation.

Signs along the now blizzard-swept, frozen wastes of the Russian war front are strong in the suggestion that the Nazis have lost a very considerable amount of their velvet since they started beating their heads against the Muscovite wall. Their striking-power is noticeably weaker and on the southern front even their defensive resistance has lowered so that we have the amazing spectacle of a German debacle westward from the Rostov zone.

This is not what we have been schooled to expect from the Hitlerian machine that "can't be stopped." Indeed, such a reversal is so foreign to the Nazi operations thus far that one is impelled to caution in reaching conclusions. An interesting appraisal of the position is given by Russian General Bodin in the army newspaper, Red Star.

"The initiative now is in Russian hands," says Bodin, "but the strength of the Germans is not crushed. The enemy has many tanks and reserves."

That looks like a fairly shrewd estimate, though we do need to see a little more before taking it for granted that the present phenomena means that the initiative has definitely passed from the Germans to the Bolsheviks. This much is obvious: That the invaders have lost much velvet and that the Reds are on the offensive in most sectors. For the first time the Nazis are showing signs of heavy exhaustion.

Moscow reports that along the Sea of Azov the Germans have continued their headlong retreat beyond Taganrog, with the Bolsheviks in hot pursuit. That means retirement of more than 40 miles, and the end of the debacle isn't in sight. The Russians also claim the initiative on the bloody Moscow front.

It is true that the Nazis difficulties are due in part to unusual circumstances. For instance, the German radio, as heard in this country by NBC, said the disaster on the southern front was due to a change of weather which "rendered useless the mechanized might of the German army." There might easily be something in that, though it wasn't explained what effect the weather had on the Russian mechanized forces.

The Hitlerites have made many of their own troubles by taking huge chances at various places in an effort to achieve some worthwhile victory—almost any kind of triumph, either moral or strategic. They need such a victory both for home consumption and for the effect abroad, especially in view of the critical position of their relations with France and Japan.

McLEAN, DAVDS TO BATTLE FLOYDADA GOLATHS FRIDAY

Tigers To Be Outweighed By Behemoths

A David and Goliath battle is in prospect when the McLean Tigers meet to decide the champion of Districts 2A and 4A of the Texas Interscholastic League. Game time will be 2:30 o'clock at Tiger field.

David, tomorrow afternoon, will be the McLean Tigers who will face a big Floydada team, especially the line. Despite difference in weight—better than 15 pounds per boy—a hard-fought battle is in prospect.

The McLean attack will be handled largely by John Kelly Lee and Robert Cooke while Floydada will probably depend on the rushing of their star fullback of the same name, Rushing. Floydada's Rushing weighs 160 pounds and he's an ace in all departments. Ruffledge, 135-pound quarterback, is the scooter of the backfield, working through the big line. Ross and Morris, 155-pound halfbacks, round out the visiting backfield.

The Floydada line is led by Baxter, 260-pound tackle, who isn't a slow poke despite his weight. Tyler, 175, handles the other tackle assignment. At guards are Warrity and Fawer, 165-pounders while the ends are Patterson and Sparks, 160-pounders. Boteler is a 160-pound tackle.

Lee will have to use all his speed and tricks tomorrow and so will Cooke, the touchdown team for the Tigers. And it's going to take every ounce of power Dwight has to dent the big Whirlwind line behind Dyer's crushing blocks.

The little McLean line will be handled by Jack Lisman and Robert Batson or Gayle Montgomery, ends; Phillip Lisman and J. D. Roth, tackles; Joe Hill and Arthur Boyd, midget guards; and Jack Jones, center.

Floydada fans will ride a special train to McLean, arriving at 12:30 o'clock over the Rock Island.

The winner of tomorrow's game will meet the Phillips Blackhawks in the regional final next week. Neither McLean nor Floydada has ever won a bi-district title. McLean has been district champion on several occasions but Floydada is celebrating its first district title.

At the recent district meeting it was voted to place the bell in Lubbock for the first six months and then send it to Lubbock for the last six months.

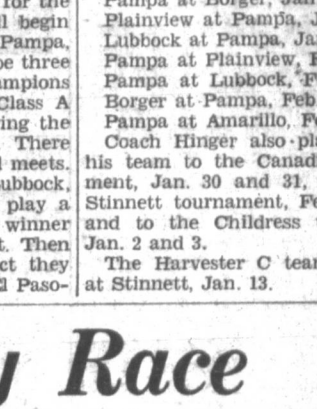

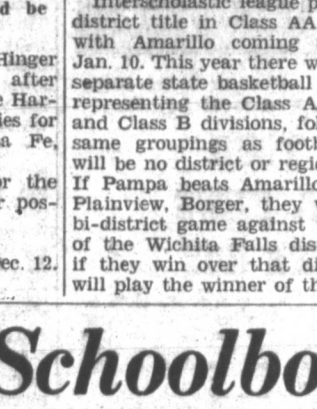

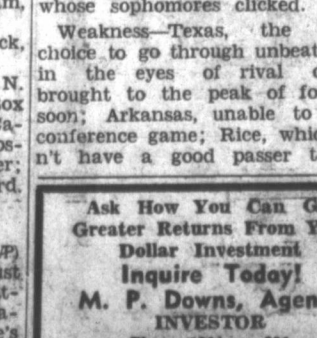

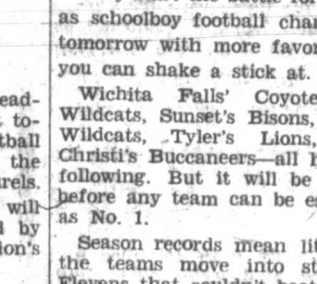

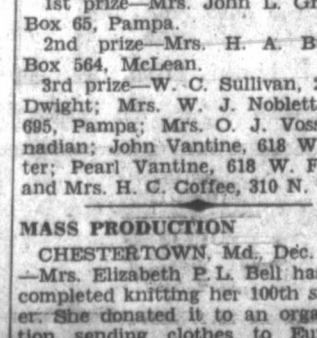

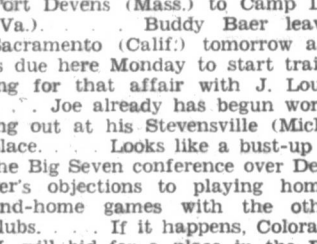

"Right now the main thing is for the entire district to get behind the Lubbock Westerners, our representatives, and help them in their quest of a state title," Supt. Stone told Amarillo school officials. "Therefore, I suggest that the bell be presented first to Lubbock and then brought to Pampa."

Harvesters Schedule 3 Tournaments And 16 Games

The Harvester basketball team was scheduled to scrimmage LeFors this afternoon at 3 o'clock, instead of tonight. Coach Oscar Hinger announced this morning.

It was inadvertently stated yesterday that the game would be played tonight.

At the same time Coach Hinger announced a trip directly after Christmas that would take the Harvesters to five New Mexico cities for games—Clovis, Roswell, Santa Fe, Las Vegas, Raton.

The basketball schedule for the season is complete except for possibly three or four open dates.

The schedule follows: The Spearman tournament, Dec. 12. At Childress, Dec. 16.

Childress at Pampa, Dec. 18. At Clovis, Dec. 29. At Roswell, Dec. 30. At Santa Fe, Dec. 31. At Las Vegas, Jan. 1. At Raton, Jan. 2. At Pampa, Clovis, Jan. 6.

Interscholastic league play for the district title in Class AA will begin with Amarillo coming to Pampa, Jan. 10. This year there will be three separate state basketball champions representing the Class AA, Class A and Class B divisions, following the same groupings as football.

There will be no district or regional meets. Pampa beats Amarillo, Lubbock, Plainview, Borger, they will play a bi-district game against the winner of the Wichita Falls district. Then if they win over that district they will play the winner of the El Paso-Sweetwater district, and advance to the state finals at Austin in which eight teams will be entered in each division.

The Harvester Class AA schedule follows: Amarillo at Pampa, Jan. 10. Pampa at Borger, Jan. 16. Plainview at Pampa, Jan. 30. Lubbock at Pampa, Jan. 31. Pampa at Plainview, Feb. 6. Pampa at Lubbock, Feb. 7. Borger at Pampa, Feb. 8. Pampa at Amarillo, Feb. 20.

Coach Hinger also plans to take his team to the Canadian tournament, Jan. 30 and 31, and to the Stinnett tournament, Feb. 6 and 7, and to the Childress tournament, Jan. 2 and 3.

The Harvester C team will play at Stinnett, Jan. 13.

Texas Schoolboy Race Crammed With Favorites

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

They start the battle for the Texas schoolboy football championship tomorrow with more favorites than you can shake a stick at.

Wichita Falls' Coyotes, Paris' Wildcats, Sunset's Bisons, Temple's Wildcats, Tyler's Lions, Corpus Christi's Buccaneers—all have their following. But it will be Saturday before any team can be established as No. 1.

Season records mean little when the teams move into state play. Eleven that couldn't beat a carpet in September develop into roaring lions by December and it's the teams that escape the injury bugaboo in the clinches that stand the gauntlet.

You can't name Wichita Falls as a favorite without doing the same for the puzzling Lubbock outfit that smashed into the stretch playing football as well as any team in the state.

Paris may find the going quite rough from an upsurging Highland Park team that didn't look as though it would win its district title six weeks ago.

Temple's Wildcats, one of the state's four undefeated, untied teams, had its chances dimmed when its fine back, Wayland Hill, joined a couple of other regulars with a touch of influenza.

Tyler, while it has a good record carrying the season's opening game, still is untested. And so on.

But anyway four games are scheduled tomorrow to bring half of the district champions into action. They are: Paris vs. Highland Park at Dallas. Breckenridge at Temple. Nacogdoches at Tyler. Austin at Corpus Christi (night). Then Saturday they line up like this: Lubbock at Wichita Falls. Sweetwater vs. Ysleta at El Paso. Sunset vs. Amon Carter at Riverside at Fort Worth. Lama vs. Robert E. Lee at Houston.

Paris, Temple, Tyler, Corpus Christi, Sweetwater, and Sunset are definite favorites to win, but the Lubbock-Wichita Falls and Lamar-Robert E. Lee tilts are toss-ups.

The winner of the Lubbock-Wichita Falls game will be picked to go on to the semi-finals, but should Sunset and Paris meet in the quarter-finals, there are many who would take the Dallas eleven over the Wildcats despite all the forecasts that have been coming out concerning Paris' power since the season opened.

In the lower bracket, the critics are not convinced that Temple could go past Tyler, should these teams clash in the second round. They do believe, however, that Corpus Christi is going to the semi-finals but that it's toughest game is due this week against Austin, a team the Bucs beat in a non-conference tilt in mid-season.

Anyway, close to 75,000 fans are due to see the eight battles this week-end if the weather is favorable. That would be a new high for the bi-district round.

with and then had key injuries.

South Up—Virginia, able to win all but one game because of ace back Bill Dudley and a stronger line; Vanderbilt, moving faster in the second year under its present coaching staff; South Carolina, because of "better morale," according to Coach Rex Enright.

Down—Furman which, after being rated high, apparently never recovered from a 32-6 licking by Tennessee in its opener; Tulane, the team no one could keep up with because it was down too often.

Par West Stronger than rated—Washington State, able to win five conference games in spite of the loss of 22 men, including three fullbacks; Idaho, revitalized by Francis Schmidt to such an extent that the same material which won one minor game in 1940 and scored only twice was able to hold Washington State scoreless for a half.

Weaker—Santa Clara, which lacked a blocking back; Southern California, where Sam Barry had to take over after Howard Jones' death; California, hit hard by the loss of star back Jim Jurkovic, in its second game.

Rocky Mountains Up—Colorado State, which developed the season's best pass attack in Coach Harry Hughes' 31st consecutive season.

Down—Colorado, hampered by slim material to start with and injuries on top of that.

East Up—Army, given a grand "shot" in the arm" by Earl Black; Syracuse, whose Ossie Sotem came up with one of the year's biggest developments in his reversed-center "Y" formation; Penn. making up by Gene Davis' smart quarterbacking and Bert Sutt's plunging for the loss of many 1940 stars.

Down—Colgate and West Virginia, whose sophomores failed to come up to their promise the first time out; Lehigh, unable to win a game for the first time since 1884; New York U., stripped of almost its entire first-string line by the draft.

Aggies Head For Tacoma

By ROBERT MYERS

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4 (AP)—Heading toward the great Northwest today was the Texas Aggie football team, led by a candidate for the mythical coach of the year laurels.

At Tacoma Saturday his team will meet Washington State, guided by another contender for the nation's coaching honors.

The friendly rivals are Homer Norton of Texas A. and M. and Orin (Babe) Hollingsbery of Washington State.

Norton lost nine out of eleven regulars from his great 1940 machine yet won the 1941 southwest conference championship. His one defeat with a team that had to be fashioned from the well known scratch was to the mighty Texas Longhorns. It was his second defeat in 30 games.

Hollingsbery's feat was equally astounding. He took the remnants of what was a remnant to begin with, lost more than 20 players—yes, 20—during the 1941 campaign via injuries, conscription and withdrawals, and emerged as the giant-killer of the Pacific coast.

The Cougars lost two games by one-point margins to Southern California and UCLA, and dropped another to Washington, but they walked the Rose Bowl Oregon State team, Stanford, California and all the rest of their opponents.

There should be some kind of award for these two coaching geniuses.

Hank Leiber Returns To New York Giants
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 4 (AP)—Big Hank Leiber returned to the New York Giants today in a deal that sent Pitcher Bob Bowman to the Chicago Cubs and it was anybody's guess whether the trade was worth all the labor that went into it.

The first big league player swap of the minor league meetings was made in a smoke-filled hotel room at 2 a. m. today after representatives of the two clubs had wrangled nearly three hours over terms of the transaction.

As finally announced, the trade called for the Giants to give not only a right handed hurler but a sulky of cash for the big blond outelder who has shown signs of being one of the most dangerous slugers in the National League.

The money involved was generally estimated at $10,000, but this was in doubt because the Cubs, who the conference reportedly seeking something like four times that amount.

At one time Leiber's value would have been many times greater than represented in this deal, but he will be 36 years old next month and has been hit on the head twice with pitched balls—making his durability doubtful.

Aggies And Oregon State No. 1 Surprise Champions

By BILL BONI

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (AP)—Oregon State, Texas A. and M., Vanderbilt, Notre Dame and Army—these were 1941 college football teams which showed unexpected strength. Colgate, Tulane, Texas, Stanford and Colorado—were teams which failed to live up to their advance promise.

The ten teams listed, five on the "up" and five on the "down" side, are the most prominent examples from an annual Associated Press survey designed to show how close-up football follows pre-season ratings. The survey shows there were just about as many, from coast to coast, on the right side of the ledger as on the wrong.

Since they will be playing in bowl games on New Year's day, Oregon State and Texas A. and M. are perhaps the No. 1 "surprise" champions of the year.

Neither had been rated a contender in its conference race (the experts picked the Aggies for fifth in the Southwest), yet each came through handsomely. Oregon State, behind a stout defense, fought its way into the Rose Bowl, and the Aggies, chiefly through the unexpected development of Derrace Moser as the conference's best forward passer, became the first successful defending champions in Southwest history and earned a Cotton Bowl berth.

Each section had its surprises and its disappointments. Hitting the high spots, with causes wherever known, they were:

Mid-west Unexpected strength—Ohio State, which in its first year under high school marvel Paul Brown operated with brand-new precision; Notre Dame, given its first unbeaten season in 10 because Frank Leahy made the most of his new material; Michigan, with Bob Westfall and Sophomores Tom Kuzma, Paul White and Merv Pregulman taking up the slack left by the graduation of Tom Harmon and Co.

Disappointing—Nebraska, which, after losing 15 lettersmen from its Rose Bowl squad, was hit further by injuries and lost five games in a row for the first time since 1939; Wisconsin, beaten chiefly through a porous pass defense.

Southwest Strength—Texas A. and M., champion again despite the loss of nine 1940 stars; Texas Christian, whose sophomores clicked.

Weakness—Texas, the general choice to go through unbeaten but, in the eyes of rival coaches, brought to the peak of form too soon; Arkansas, unable to win a conference game; Rice, which didn't have a good passer to start.

Up—Virginia, able to win all but one game because of ace back Bill Dudley and a stronger line; Vanderbilt, moving faster in the second year under its present coaching staff; South Carolina, because of "better morale," according to Coach Rex Enright.

Down—Furman which, after being rated high, apparently never recovered from a 32-6 licking by Tennessee in its opener; Tulane, the team no one could keep up with because it was down too often.

Par West Stronger than rated—Washington State, able to win five conference games in spite of the loss of 22 men, including three fullbacks; Idaho, revitalized by Francis Schmidt to such an extent that the same material which won one minor game in 1940 and scored only twice was able to hold Washington State scoreless for a half.

Weaker—Santa Clara, which lacked a blocking back; Southern California, where Sam Barry had to take over after Howard Jones' death; California, hit hard by the loss of star back Jim Jurkovic, in its second game.

U. S. Providing Turkey With War Supplies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—The United States began furnishing Turkey with military supplies six months ago so the Turks could stand by their pledge to Britain to defend Turkey and the strategic Dardanelles against any threat of Axis aggression.

This Turkish-British pact, it was learned authoritatively today, accounts to a great extent for President Roosevelt's formal decision adding Turkey to the list of nations eligible for lend-lease aid.

The White House statement yesterday, however, said merely: "The president announced that he had found the defense of Turkey vital to the defense of the United States and had directed lend-lease administration E. R. Stettinius, Jr., to see that the defense needs of the government of Turkey were filled as soon as possible."

Under present plans, it was disclosed, future lend-lease aid to Turkey is expected to include some $100,000,000 worth of planes, tanks, trucks, anti-tank and anti-aircraft guns, ammunition, and other supplies urgently required by the Turkish army.

All supply shipments since last May have been made to Great Britain, which in turn delivered them to Turkey, and it was learned that this procedure would prevail on all future shipments.

By this arrangement, it was explained, Britain will be enabled to fulfill her treaty promises of military supplies in return for Turkey's pledge not to allow any aggressor the use of Turkish territory as a pathway for attacks on Iraq, Iran, Palestine, Suez, or the vitally important Caucasus and Mosul oilfields.

The United States and Great Britain alone were said authoritatively to have worked out the Turkish lend-lease agreement, which is expected to have far-reaching consequences in future diplomatic and military moves in the Near East.

It was learned that the Turks, looking to the British for the promised arms and munitions, did not ask the United States for lend-lease aid, played no role in the negotiations, and made no pledges or commitments to the American government.

Here are the background facts of the agreement that has been hailed as a major diplomatic defeat for the Axis:

On Oct. 18, 1939, a Turkish-British pact was signed. It provided for a British grant of $40,000,000 (approximately $100,000,000 in credits to Turkey, of which $25,000,000 (ap-

'Rebels' Plan New State Of 'Jefferson'

By WALT STAFFORD
Written for NEA Service

YREKA, Calif., Dec. 3—Step up and meet "Jefferson," the proposed 49th state in the Union.

Some 45,000 residents of four frontier counties in California and Oregon are clamoring for secession, charging that their own state government has failed to develop vast resources of timber and minerals. The new state would be short on population, but long on territory. Its 12,665 square miles would exceed the combined areas of Connecticut, Rhode Island and Delaware.

The peaceful rebellion started in Curry county, Oregon, when that state failed to do anything about proven deposits of manganese and bauxite. Mayor Gilbert Gable of Port Orford, in Curry county, announced plans to quit Oregon and join California.

Immediately Siskiyou, Del Norte and Modoc counties of California warned him he would be hopping from the frying pan to the fire. They pointed to big deposits of chrome, copper and manganese which they said couldn't be developed because the sovereign state of California wouldn't build them passable roads.

There followed a "mutual neglect" meeting at Yreka (now regarded as the provisional state capital) and the dream of a 49th state was born. The Siskiyou Daily News conducted a contest to name the new state, and "Jefferson" was suggested by J. E. Mundell, Del Norte property owner.

The Siskiyou board of supervisors appropriated $100 to give the secessionists a treasury, and virtually all of the supervisors of the four counties agreed to work on the project. Dr. E. F. Auble, Modoc supervisor, summed up their attitude when he commented:

"We wouldn't be worse off than we are now."

Jefferson's state seal would be a miner's pan with a double cross imprinted thereon—indicative of the double cross given the proposed state by California and Oregon—its proponents say.

Meanwhile, over a tortuous 288-mile route, the trucks of Dorothea Maroney, the Siskiyou "Chrome Queen," hauled out 600 tons of chrome ore from one of her chrome claims to prove the deposits were well worth developing. One of the six trucks was wrecked by a slide on the narrow, treacherous Klamath river road.

It was understood that the United States undertook last May to provide the military equipment which would enable Britain to discharge her treaty obligations, and thereby stiffen Turkish resistance to Axis diplomatic pressure.

President Roosevelt followed this up yesterday by putting Turkey on the lend-lease list—an act, which in effect, gave her formal assurance that the flow of military equipment would continue under the United States guarantee.

The timing of President Roosevelt's announcement was considered significant in view of the swiftly changing developments in the Middle East war zone. German reverses in Russia, the continued large-scale guerrilla fighting in the Balkans, and the disclosure of widespread Italian conspiracies against the Fascist government.

War Problems Discussed At ICM Convention

What is to be done in the United States after World War 2 is over occupied a large part of the discussions at the 28th annual conference of the International City Managers association at Miami, Fla., held at the Hollywood Beach hotel, November 23-27.

Already, City Manager Steve Matthews, who attended the conference, told Pampa city commissioners yesterday, city managers over the nation are looking to the future.

A. Emil Davies, chairman of the London County council of London, England, told the conference how he expected London, as a large city to be a thing of the past, and that the object would be to decentralize metropolitan areas.

Evacuation of children from London, and the problems of finding food, supplies and shelter overnight for large numbers of persons bombed from their homes were discussed by Mr. Davies.

From the lessons learned in the war, it is likely that startling changes may be effected after the struggle in the way Londoners eat and live, Mr. Davies said.

More training for city employees was another important theme at the conference.

Attendance at the meeting was 325, including wives of city officials. There were 152 city managers present, including four city managers from Canada.

Frank Cloud, city manager of Kingsport, Tenn., for 23 years, was elected president of the association, succeeding Roy S. Braden of Greenbelt, Md.

1943 License Plate Situation Serious

AUSTIN, Dec. 4 (AP)—Distribution of 1942 Texas automobile license plates to county tax collectors has begun but state highway officials are living awake nights pondering the 1943 situation.

Already denied a priorities number for steel for the 1943 tags, they are not very hopeful about cracking the Office of Production Management's ruling.

What makes the problem particularly knotty is the fact that the 1942 plates—made of 26-gauge steel and given one coat of paint—were designed and built to last only 12 months.

Therefore, there is small chance of adopting the policy of some states and making 1942 licenses permanent by attaching to them in following years a supplementary metal strip or certificate to show payment of registration fee.

Schwenk, Sinkwich, Price Lead Nation In Offensive

By GAIL FOWLER

SEATTLE, Dec. 4 (AP)—There are still a few more games on the 1941 football slate, but individual football laurels have already been nailed down for the season.

The American football statistical bureau, which chronicled the forward advance of 204 teams and 5,000 players this fall, lists its well-worn yardstick in the direction of these leaders:

Wilson "Bud" Schwenk of Washington University in St. Louis, Schwenk set a new total offense yardage mark of 1,928 yards in nine games; he set a new forward pass completion figure of 114, or 21 more than the old standard fixed by Dave O'Brien in 1937, and he set a season "workhorse" record by figuring in 354 plays.

Frankie Sinkwich, the boy with the broken jaw from Georgia Tech, although records on his last game against Georgia Tech are still unreported, led the nation as a rusher with 1,038 yards, and finished third in total offense with 1,556 yards, a figure which undoubtedly will be expanded with addition of Owen Price of Texas Mines. Price became the only individual to lead a statistical classification both this year and last. The top punter of 1940, he booted one 30-yard spiral last week to nose out Steve Lach of Duke by a fraction for punting supremacy with a 45.33-yard average per boot. Price also finished second as a passer, tying O'Brien's 1937 completion mark at 83.

Henry Stanton of Arizona. Stanton caught 41 passes for 680 yards, and has one more game in which to better the modern record of 47 catches established by Jim Benton of Arkansas in 1937.

Jimmy Richardson of Marquette. Richardson boasted the best pass completion percentage figure of .637. He completed 56 of 91, with seven interceptions. Previous high man was Hugh McCullough of Oklahoma who in 1938 completed 70 of 111 for a percentage of .631. His figure still stands for passers attempting 100 or more throws.

The Dreadful Gunfire

Behind the roar of the flaming hell that is the Russian front, behind the clangor of the clash in Libya, behind the steady boom of bombs flattening a score of Europe's cities, there is a dreadful obligation of rifle-fire. It is the German executions in conquered lands.

As many as 100,000 men and women have died before these Nazi firing-squads, the Inter-Allied Information Committee in London estimates. Whether that is an accurate figure we don't know. Nobody knows, not even the Nazis.

In Poland alone 82,000 people have been executed during two years of occupation, this committee estimates. Every conquered country has contributed its toll of those who were led out to die unarmed, unconvicted of any offense.

In no modern war has anything like this, on anything approaching such a scale, been permitted to happen. It is the measure of a Nazi future.

Another Enemy To Be Fought

Shortly before the raising of the "new army" when the defense drive began a year and a half ago, the United States had buckled down for the first time in its peace-time history in a fight to reduce venereal disease. For the first time the problem was being frankly discussed in general public print, and a beginning was made in a resolute campaign against these old enemies.

Then came the draft, and two million young Americans entered the military services. Surgeon General Ponder and his aide, Assistant Surgeon General Vanderler, now charge, in a book "Plain Words About Venereal Disease," that lack of resolution on the part of army authorities is permitting the venereal disease rate to creep upward in the army.

This problem should be tackled without delay. It isn't as though we didn't know what to do. In the time of World War I army authorities met the problem resolutely and successfully. Their experience is at the army's disposal. Venereal disease is any army's No. 1 enemy within. It must be conquered before any other enemy can be faced.

Gratuitous Apology

The presidential apology to Chile for a magazine article reflecting on the late President Aguirre of that country was well-meant, but may possibly lead to later misunderstanding.

The President was naturally concerned, knowing too well that anything written in the United States which may be used against us will be promptly put to that use by Nazi, Fascist and Falangist propagandists to the south. Hence the sharp and impatient rebuke and apology for a magazine article which might well lend itself to such uses.

However, the independence of the government of the American press is not too well understood abroad. By apologizing for a magazine article, President Roosevelt assumes some degree of responsibility for what is printed in the United States. A mere expression of regret, combined with reiteration of the lack of any governmental responsibility for what magazines or newspapers say might have been better, and less likely to compound misunderstandings in the future.

The Nation's Press

Among other things photographed through the new electron microscope, which magnifies up to 100,000 times, are the tracheae or windpipes of the mosquito. Photographs show that hoops one fifty-thousandth of an inch broad reinforce the windpipes, and that small spines set in them are one quarter-millionth of an inch in length.

WHITHER BOUND? (Reader's Digest)

Is a new system of government coming into existence in the United States based on state ownership or state control? asks Freda Utley.

She believes that it is, and she declares that "the longer the war goes on, the more likely is this new system to be established in complete form, and the more likely it is to spread; and to put it sharply, can the people control the state once the state becomes their employer, directly or indirectly?"

Miss Utley, English writer and lecturer now living in the United States, formerly resided in Russia where for six years she was a government official. Quoting an American authority to the effect that already about half of our population is now directly or indirectly dependent on the government, she expresses the belief that the trend toward government control or state participation will continue, since "total war means the militarization, the regimentation, of the whole population."

In Miss Utley's opinion the fundamental reason for the growing power of the state is "that war is no longer profitable. It has become far less costly. Today there are no winners. But if the state is to wage war, production must go on and be increased in spite of the fact that it is not profitable, and it is only the state that can run industries when they are not profitable."

In respect to labor Miss Utley says: "In all probability the carrying out of our defense program will bring state control of labor. It is a misconception to believe that the government,

Common Ground

"I speak the plain-words primer, I give the sign of democracy, by God! I will accept nothing which cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms." WALT WHITMAN.

TAXING POLICIES AND WAR

If we analyze the method of taxation, we will usually find that the method which the people adopt has a great deal to do with civil war, as well as foreign wars.

In fact, civil war is usually nothing but a group rebelling against unfair acts on the part of the government.

If all people were taxed on a uniform rate so they would know that they have to pay their share of the costs of war, civil or international, there would be much less probability of our getting into wars.

In a majority rule country, the majority of the people think they can make the rich pay for the war. Therefore, they are not so active in their opposition to war.

Under a dictator, those in control think they can make the laborers pay for the war and they can have the excitement and thrill, without taking any grave risk for their own bodily harm. In fact Roosevelt and his appointees enjoy the excitement of war. It gives them power. They were unimportant when they were in private life. But, under war, they have more and more power. They enjoy this power. Little do they care whether the humble workers have their standard of living lowered because of the war.

If we have a uniform way of raising the cost of the government, then all would be equally interested in knowing whether it were wiser to fight, or to establish uniform principles respecting the inherent rights of all people.

For this reason, it is of the utmost importance that we come to discard absurd theories of taxing people by the unknown and indefinable theory of ability to pay. It is nothing but a socialist, communistic, changeable, mutable form of tyranny that leads on and on until it finally brings us to war.

What most people do not understand is that in the final analysis all taxes are paid by the consumer, directly or indirectly. If the taxes are directly paid by the big producer, and the accumulation of tools that they would create is retarded, then all workers produce less and, of necessity, must receive less and have a lower standard of living.

There is nothing more important than the uniform rule in taxation.

WHY MAJORITY RULE COUNTRIES FAIL

The New York News asks a question daily to people passing certain points. They ask the following question:

"Taxpayers are beginning to grumble because the Government will tax them approximately 3 1/2 billion dollars next year, yet the Government proposes to spend over 60 billion dollars in that period. Are you worried about this?"

They report six answers to this question from workers throughout New York. Four of them said they were not, two of them said they were.

Here is an answer of one, Harry C. Burns, Brooklyn Ave., Flatbush, railway expressman. He said, "No. It's the next and succeeding generations that will have to worry about the bills. Whatever happens the government must allow us a good livelihood in order to get anything worthwhile out of us. You can't tax poor people."

Here is a workman who thinks the poor cannot be taxed. He does not realize that he is taxed by lower wages and higher costs of everything he buys. It is this belief of the average voter that they cannot be taxed and that wars and the extra cost of government with relief and various forms of subsidy do not affect them that causes democratic majority rule countries eventually to perish.

Yes, every worker pays taxes directly or indirectly, but it is the belief that they do not that causes them to vote for office holders who lead us into war and paralyze industry by taxation. It is hardly believable that four out of six, or 66 2/3 per cent of those interviewed do not seem to realize that their standard of living would be going down because of increased government.

which is thought to be in sympathy with labor, is like to labor all it wants, and it is in full charge of production, it naturally begins to put production first."

Miss Utley closes on the warning note: "The survival of democracy in this new economic system will depend largely on whether or not the people can control their own executives." And she adds significantly, "How is the state itself to be controlled when it controls the land and the productive capital?"

MORE MONEY TO SPEND

The national income in September was running at the annual rate of $2 billion dollars a year, has since continued to rise, and must now be close to the 100 billion a year rate. In 1929 the income of all the people amounted to 83 billion dollars and this record has not been in danger until now.

It is evident that people will have more money to spend next month than they have ever had before—20 per cent more than in the holiday season in 1929. Rents for workingmen's dwellings are 25 per cent lower than in 1929, and food prices are down 16 per cent as compared with prices of 12 years ago. The lower costs of the necessities of life will release a larger per cent of the income for gifts. Continued pronouncements by government officials that the coming year may bring on a wild inflation gave a certain effect in leading people to convert money into goods anyhow.

The prospect is, therefore, for a volume of traffic in the stores just before Christmas that will dwarf any previous experience. Many stores are certainly going to be swamped at the peak of the season. Last year a number of merchants said that so many persons waited until the last week before Christmas to stock up for their Santa Clausing that the capacity of the stores was exceeded.

Merchants have stocked up heavily for the holiday season. Some stores have had as much as 50 per cent more inventory than last year at this time. In the ordinary year it is good sense to shop early in order to be able to choose gifts from the complete holiday lines. This year the penalty for delay will mean being caught in a mob of shoppers of such size that almost no one will be able to get what he or she wants. Christmas is still a little over a month away, but there are only two weeks left to shop efficiently and in comfort.

Propaganda Wins The War

(Los Angeles Examiner)

Mr. Von Wiegand says that wars are won by armies and not by propaganda.

Mr. Von Wiegand is a very able and experienced war correspondent. He has probably decided the issue of those wars.

We did it before. We will do it again—with more labor and more cost and more death and more grief, but we will do it.

Armies will win the war, as Mr. Von Wiegand says, but they will be our armies which will win, and our armies will have been built and our nation inflamed to fight by propaganda.

Lord Northcliffe said, according to Senator Tobey, that England spent one hundred and fifty million dollars to get the United States into the European war of 1917.

Moreover, according to Porter Sargent's book called "Getting the United States Into War," page 545, Northcliffe further said that he had devoted one hundred and thirty million dollars to keep the United States loyal.

And of course this did not include the expenses to control other agencies of publicity.

Whatever England spent in 1917, it has evidently spent ten times as much in the present situation.

And an interesting phase of the situation is that we have given England the money to buy the propaganda that builds our armies and bends the will of our people, and protects OUR nation into "THIRTY WAR."

It is a regular "house that Jack built"—like the nursery rhyme that we learned in our childhood.

This is the war John Bull built. And this the propaganda, studied and shrewd, conceived to deceive and made to delude.

And further the war that John built. And this the propaganda, studied and shrewd, conceived to deceive and made to delude.

That were made to deceive and built to delude.

And to further the war that John built.

And these are the young men, brave and bold, who entered the armies (as they were told).

For only a year of training and strife.

But found they were then for the rest of their life.

If not for life, then there for death.

If called to sacrifice body and breath.

When sent in the ranks of the brave and the free.

To sail far over the wide salt sea.

To serve the nation peaceful and kind.

That had somehow been made to change its mind.

And to fall for the statements, studied and shrewd.

And these are the mothers, broken with woe.

Who grieved to see their dear sons go.

Away from their homes and their chosen toil.

Into the midst of war's turmoil.

And who grieved again when their sons returned maimed and wounded or blinded and burned.

Of her grave boy buried beneath a white cross.

On a foreign field, in a foreign war.

For the foreign aims he was fighting for.

Sent in the ranks of the brave and the free.

To sail afar o'er the wide salt sea.

By a nation one time peaceful and kind.

That had somehow managed to change its mind.

And to fall for statements, studied and shrewd.

That were planned to deceive and made to delude.

And to share in the grief and divide the guilt.

Of the needless war that John built.

Yes, friends and fellow citizens, it is propaganda that makes wars—propaganda in the press, on the screen and over the radio.

Propaganda emanating from Washington which we applaud—propaganda emanating from abroad which we pay for.

It is propaganda which makes us with all the bitter experience we have had—send those armies into foreign wars to fight for foreign interests and objectives.

We are like the autumn leaves, helplessly blown hither and yon by the fierce winds of war propaganda.

Your columnist politely insists that Mr. Von Wiegand is wrong.

It is propaganda that wins wars.

Propaganda won the last war and will win this one.

And we Americans—generous and gullible souls—pay for the war and PAY FOR THE PROPAGANDA.

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Any government employe of any importance who ever worked for a firm which now has contracts to furnish more than a million dollars worth of defense materials is going to have his record and his connections looked into by Senator Harry S. Truman's special committee investigating national defense.

Public hearings on this subject, if any, will not be held until after the first of the year. It will take that long for the committee counsel, Hugh A. Fulton and Charles Patrick Clark, and their investigators to go over all the data from the defense agencies and prepare the case.

But letters have already gone out to government employes and all defense agencies asking them to submit revised lists of all their consultants, lawyers, accountants and assorted experts, together with their past and present connections, connections and their government pay.

There may be an inclination to conclude that this investigation presages a showdown between the New Dealers and the special fee men who are grouped under the broad classification of dollar-a-year boys.

Men from big business have come in by the score and departed by the dozen. The number was nearly 300 once, but a recent register listed 86 dollar-a-year men and 34 more who worked for nothing.

If these dollar-a-year men were inclined to feel sore at being "investigated" again, pack up their bags and go home for good, they might be justified. Before any firm or expert from business can be appointed he is investigated by the FBI to make sure he has no criminal record, and then by the treasury department to make sure his firm is on the up-and-up as far as income and corporation tax records are concerned.

HELP WANTED

The question naturally arises as to where the government can get men with the "know-how" if it doesn't pick them from private business, as Bernard Baruch has recommended it must. The New Deal answer is that the wrong kind of experts have been hired. Instead of getting engineers and general superintendents like Knudsen, there have been too many chairmen of the board and directors—financial men, not production men.

Hugh Fulton of the Truman committee staff insists, however, that this is in no sense a probe to "get" anybody. The Truman committee has functioned as an auditing committee, making a study of the defense progress, preparing a critical historical record of how the defense program was carried out. With the conduct of the preparedness program under the closest scrutiny, the committee feels that it has a duty to look into every phase of the defense effort.

In the case of the dollar-a-year advisers, this means a study of "the sub-conscious background with which they approach the problem of national defense," as Fulton puts it. In other words, would the natural conservatism of a good businessman make him reluctant to see the country expand its productive capacity, realizing that after the defense effort ended there would be surplus productive capacity which would keep the country went through in the late, unalleviated depression? And would this reflect unfavorably on the speed with which all-out defense progress?

QUESTION ON SALARIES

The question of the defense advisers' connection with business has come up in the Truman committee public hearings only once. That was when Arthur H. Bunker, who since June has been chief of the aluminum materials branch of the Ordnance Department, testified before the committee in September. Bunker was formerly vice-president of the Lehman Corporation of New York, which is an investment trust affiliate of Lehman Brothers, a banking firm.

It brought out that Lehman Corporation owned stock in the Aluminum Company of America, and that Bunker's salary of $60,000 a year was still paid by the Lehman Corporation. The matter was dropped there, but that's what the committee evidently means by "sub-conscious background."

Another case would be that of Ralph E. Davies, with business as union co-ordinator on a government salary, but before that, vice-president of the Standard Oil Company of California. And there are others.

Tom E. Rose, Jr., of Pampa, was awarded his "C" for gridiron prowess at Kemper Military school, Booneville, Mo.

GLANCE BACKWARD

As this year draws to a close it's interesting to look back 12 months on the events that were in the headlines in the last days of 1940. How many of these do you recall?

1. Mexico inaugurated a new president Dec. 1, 1940. Who is he?

2. Greek troops occupied Albanian port named after Mussolini's daughter on Dec. 6, 1940. What was it?

3. Two European nations and a vassal German state signed up with the Axis late in November, 1940. Who were they?

4. Hitler conferred with a Russian statesman in Berlin Nov. 12, 1940. Who was he?

5. President Roosevelt left the U. S. on a cruise in December, 1940. Did he (a) meet Churchill; (b) inspect Gibraltar; (c) visit South America on a goodwill mission; (d) go to Hawaii?

Boy Kills Neighbor Lad Because He Laughed At Him

ALVA, Okla., Dec. 4 (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Kenneth Root today was charged with the fatal shooting of a neighbor lad because, officers said, he laughed at him.

Donald Benson, 22, died of shotgun wounds inflicted last Thursday night by a youth who fled on horseback.

Undersheriff Dewey Randall gave this version of the shooting: Benson and a group of friends were walking home from a rural school box supper when Root approached. Benson laughed at him. Root fired, shouting "now laugh, Donald," mounted his horse and rode away.

A posse trapped the boy in a rugged canyon the next day. His father persuaded the men to withdraw and went into the canyon alone to find his son. He turned him over to authorities a few hours later.

Rail Workers Talk Over Strike Result

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (AP)—Around switch shanty stoves and the water coolers of general offices, the nation's railroad workers found plenty to talk about today after a wage-raising agreement ended the threat of a general strike against the carriers.

The 900,000 members of the 14 non-operating unions—clerks, telegraphers roundhouse employes, and the like—will receive 80 cents more a day.

The 350,000 members of the five operating brotherhoods—the men who actually run the trains—won increases of 76 cents a day.

The total additional cost to the carriers was estimated at $300,000,000 to $325,000,000 a year, or about one-third of the amount the employees originally asked.

In addition to these permanent increases, the workers were awarded retroactive wage boosts amounting to 7½ per cent for the operating men and 13½ per cent for the non-operating groups, for the period from Sept. 1 to Dec. 1 of this year. On Dec. 1 the permanent increases superseded the temporary percentage boosts.
