The modern Miss "doesn't look for looks in her guy" and he coesn't need money to woo her, asy spretty Cindy Lou Bates, 19 of Beverly Hills. She just wants him to be lots of fun and "very neat."
Cindy was selected Miss Stardius of 1948 by H.OAGY Carmichael and model agent Harry Conover. Now that her popularity has increased, she has given a lot of thought to her dream man. A registered model, now in New York and all set for the camera lens, Cindy has decided she will not marry for at least 5 years. But she intends to have lots of dates in the meantime and while she is waiting for Mr. Right Man to come along she'll find out about men.

She has a set of rules for her date, and if he doesn't measure up to his sepectations.

1. He must be dressed to meet the occasion whether they are going ice skating or dancing. His fingernalis and hands must be spotlessly clean.

2. He should arrive on time.

3. He will have to be courteous in the modern man and hands must be spotlessly clean.

It's the fashion for today's mothers to moan and groan over how overworked they are. But chances are the women who do the most complaining and who have the hardest time getting everything done are women who have never tried simplifying their lives by staying home while their children are small. That's the only real way a woman can simplify the job of being a mother.

High School Student Sees Socialism Being Taught in Schools and Churches

It is very much out of the ordinary to have a high school boy realize what is happening to the youth of the land in the public schools. It is only natural for then to believe in what their parents and teachers believe is right and proper. Most every parent believes that tax supported schools are good and that they are in harmony with the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence and the principles on which this country was formed. They are the exact antithesis of these moral guides. They make it very difficult for the youth of the land to really get an education and to really understand that there is a highe law than the will of the majority or the state or the school district This is true because they have to unlearn the basis of tax supported schools—that might makes right or that the end justifies the

THE STORY: When sixteenyear-old Merry Carson learns that her dashing father, Kin, has asked her selfish mother, Susan, for a divorce, her whole world turns topsy-turry. Kin leaves home and Susan goes to pieces. Aunt Jane comes to look after things. The doctor advises a change for Susan and they take her to St. Vincent's, an island resort. Here Susan buys a house from Carter Bagby. Carter treats her gallantly and Susan begins to perk up. Merry goes to spend a couple of days with her father in their home town. She sees Tip Kennedy again but tells him she still doesn't believe in marriage, after what happened to her parents. She is shocked when her father says he is going to be married again in August. That evening her old gang gives a party for her. Tip says he will spend his vacation in St. Vincent's.
