Commission to Hold Hearing On Radios in Street Cars

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Does a street car company have a right to turn its vehicles into rolling juke boxes?

Does a mellow waltz or a bit of bebop soothe and relax the harried traveler?

Or does it bring out the best in him?

The Public Utilities Commission of the District of Columbia, aims to get some answers to these and kindred questions today at a public hearing on the Capital Transit Company's recent trial installation of short wave radio receivers on some of its street cars and buses.

The straphangers' consoles have been in operation several months on some routes. An FM station broadcasts a selected program to them—weather reports, news summaries, a snatch of a tune.

Also commercials. The radio station pays the transit company for the privilege of serenading its passengers. The passengers form a select if captive audience for the program sponsors.

Public reception of the new attraction has been sharply divided.

Fine and dandy, say the music lovers. Off to work they go with a hi-nony-nony and a plug for liver medicine ringing in their ears.

Teachers, dreamers, philosophers and other people on the ragged edge of being driven nuts by modern civilization call it a dark plot against sanity.

decided the matter warranted a hearing. That was after a man wrote the regulatory body that he sure was glad to be back in New York and away from the "din and clatter" of Washington street cars.

Top o' Texas Fairs Will Be Continued

Top o' Texas Fairs will be continued. It was brought out last night at a meeting of the Board of Directors and department superintendents of the association.

After reviewing the second annual fair, the group decided additional exhibit buildings must be provided if the activities of the fair are to be expanded. If other buildings are not provided the fair will have to be curtailed and modified.

The directors and superintendents said they were pleased with the increased interest shown at the second fair.

Weather conditions and lack of adequate exhibit space this year will result in an approximate $700 deficit. However, it was pointed out the fair would not have shown this deficit had there not been so many improvements, including about $1,100 for the lighting system and about $1,500 for additional tents.

The fair association has arranged to take care of all indebtedness incurred at the fair.

It was announced petitions are being circulated asking the commissioners court to call a special bond election to take care of needed improvements at Recreation Park. Buildings in the park are now used by the Hereford Breeders' Association show, 4-H Club show, Top o' Texas Fair and other community activities.

Legion Backing Cut in Costs

CHICAGO—(AP)—The national commander of the American Legion said the Legion wants the help of the business man in trying to cut governmental costs through a program promoting the principle of self-help and self-reliance.

But he said the proposal for national economy should not mean failure to discharge "a solemn obligation" to disabled war veterans and their dependents.

Commander George N. Craig, addressing a convention luncheon of the National Metal Trades Association, said the Legion is a community organization that is very close to "main street and free enterprise avenue."

Woman Found Dead in Home At Shamrock

WHEELER—(Special)—Mrs. Ivy Close, about 70, was found shot to death in her home on S. Madden in Shamrock about 8 a. m. today.

A woman who does housework for Mrs. Close, but whose name was not available, could not arouse anyone at the Close home when she reported for work this morning.

She called John Templeton, justice of the peace of Freeland, 4 and Dr. C. R. Chaffin, who entered the home.

Mrs. Close's body was found lying on her bed.

A .32 caliber automatic was lying beside her and apparently two shots had been fired from it. One bullet had entered Mrs. Close's chest and had lodged in her heart. Another bullet was found in the floor.

Dr. Chaffin said she had been dead six or seven hours.

All doors and windows were closed.

Fate of Girl In Hands of State Council

SAN SABA—(AP)—The state Youth Development Council has decided what to do with Sandra Peterson.

The 17-year-old girl, charged with the hitchhike murder of a Braden man, yesterday was declared a juvenile delinquent.

She was returned to custody of the McCulloch County sheriff to be held in jail until the council decides what to do with her.

She is charged with the murder of Lewis Patterson of Brady, Tex. She was brought to juvenile court yesterday on a charge of aggravated assault against a man who gave her and Loretta Fae Moringo, 15, of Austin a ride from Lampasas to San Saba on Aug. 24. She said she was propositioned by her friend, he denied it.

Patterson's body was found in a roadside ditch Aug. 25. He had given the two girls a lift from the edge of Brady.

Manhunt for Convicts Who Escaped

WILMINGTON, Del.—(AP)—A widespread manhunt was on today for eight convicts who escaped from the New Castle County Prison with guns and ammunition taken from the jail arsenal.

The eight—led by a 20-year-old life term prisoner—made a daring break through the prison's front gate last night after locking up Guard Captain Harry Harrington and using another guard as a shield.

A burst of machine gun fire from a prison tower failed to stop them.

Five of the escapees were reported to have boarded a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train bound for Reading, Pa. Two others forced J. L. Elliott, a stationery store clerk, to drive two blocks in his own car and then shoved him out before driving off.

The car was recovered several hours later.

Harrington's version of the escape gave these details:

Shortly before 4 p. m. (CST), the prisoners were taken back to their cell blocks from the exercise yard.

Danny Norris, 20-year-old life term convicted of slaying Wilmington Detective Thomas Conarty on Christmas, 1947, asked Harrington for an aspirin. The convicts then jumped Harrington and Guard Harry Beck.

The two guards were marched to a cell and locked in. During the scuffle, Beck sustained slight cuts.

Minford McCoy of Merkel testified he gave Sandra and her companion a lift from Lampasas and was going as far as Lometa.

But, he said, that when they reached Lometa the girls forced him at gun point to drive on to San Saba. There the girls got out.

City Leaders Seek Repeal

GALVESTON—(AP)—The Texas League of Municipalities wants the Legislature to repeal the firemen's and policemen's civil service and minimum wage laws.

These acts take away local self government of Texas cities and towns, a resolution passed Wednesday declared.

No Deadline Set on Mediation Efforts

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The White House said today President Truman has set no deadline on mediation efforts in the steel-coal disputes and is "keeping hands off" for the present.

Charles G. Ross, Presidential secretary, described as "entirely without warrant" reports that Mr. Truman planned to intervene in the strike if they were not settled by the weekend.

Ross said Mr. Truman authorized him to say the President has not discussed the strike situation individually with any member of the cabinet.

The President may have mentioned it at a cabinet meeting, Ross said. A cabinet officer told reporters yesterday that the President had decided to step in if the strikes were not settled by this weekend.

He asked not to be publicly identified by name.

Ross said the President has kept abreast of the progress of conciliation efforts through John R. Steelman, his assistant, who has been in touch with them through Cyrus Ching, federal mediation director.

The strikes are still in the hands of the mediation service, Ross emphasized.

Ross' statement was regarded in some official quarters as an effort to discourage reports of possible Presidential intervention because of the feeling that such reports harm mediation efforts.

Even before Ross made his statement, another official—prominent in behind-the-scenes planning on Truman labor policies—had insisted the cabinet officer was mistaken in talking of a deadline.

This official, unwilling to be quoted by name, said, "evidently, the gentleman misunderstood the President."

Ching was reported trying to get Philip Murray, president of the CIO and head of its striking steelworkers union, to negotiate directly today with the U. S. Steel Corp. in New York.

Murray went to New York from meetings in Cleveland with his CIO lieutenants. Ching has been meeting with industrial relations experts of U. S. Steel, the nation's biggest steel producer, for more than a week.

The union has refused to budge from its position that the dispute should be settled according to the terms of a report by a Presidential fact-finding board. This called for employer-paid pension-insurance benefits worth up to 10 cents an hour.

Steel firms have all agreed to put up that amount of money if the workers will chip in something too.

Navy Will Show A-Bomb Carriers

PEARL HARBOR—(AP)—The Navy will show Nov. 7 how atomic bombs can be delivered by submarines.

It will be done by launching 16,000-pound guided missiles—"loons," which could carry atomic warheads—from the standard fleet-type submarines Cusk and Carbonero.

Pacific Fleet headquarters said the "loons," 30-foot-long improvement on the wartime German buzz bomb, will be fired by two undersea craft off Hawaii.

The missiles, electronically guided by the subs, have a range of 100 to 200 miles.

The demonstration will be "a very significant step in the exploitation of sea power," said Cmdr. John S. McCain, Jr., who has charge of the future and missile development. He added: "The submarine, with guided missiles, has become a siege bombardment weapon and can be charged to deliver atom bombs. The whole idea of using submarines to launch guided missiles is a long step toward push-button warfare."

The Navy said submarines proved in the Hawaiian war games concluded yesterday that they can carry huge high-speed, long-range guided missiles across oceans in normal undersea operations.

"Loons" fired by the Cusk and Carbonero will streak past a 35-mile column of 70 ships at the speed of 400 to 600 miles an hour at an altitude of 4,000 feet. The warships, which took part in the Hawaii maneuvers, will try to down the missiles with anti-aircraft fire. If these ships don't get them, fighter planes from the Carriers Boxer and Valley Forge will get a chance.

The loon is an adaptation of the jet-powered V-1 which the Germans showered on Britain in 1944.

Tito to Fight Domination By Russians

BELGRADE—(AP)—Marshal Tito last night promised to "fight enduringly" against Russian attempts to dominate Yugoslavia.

"We know," said Tito, "that in this struggle we are fighting for a great, just cause that will have tremendous historical significance for the future and that this is the true, correct relationship among the socialist states."

Tito sounded this serious note after a day in which a Moscow newspaper accused him of lavishing diamonds on an "American spy" named as the future and "Metropolitan Opera Soprano Sinka Kunc Milanovic."

The singer, interviewed over the telephone, said the story in the Moscow Literary Gazette was "just silly."

Tito pledged continued opposition to the Kremlin's present policy in a speech to a visiting group of Italians who had fought alongside his partisans during the last war. He declared:

"We shall fight—and we shall fight enduringly—to prevent Yugoslavia's subjugation by Russia. That 'socialism in the Soviet Union' will not fail" because of the Yugoslav fight against the Kremlin policy.

Socialism, Tito said, "is a reality in the Soviet Union—we know that. But we also know that today the leadership of the U.S.S.R. do not have the right point of view on the further development of socialism in other countries of the world."

The kittens have another home in a boiler room at the county jail, and their Mom makes regular trips carrying them back and forth. They spend the night in jail, then Mom carries them out, climbs the tree with a kitten in her mouth and one by one deposits them in their tree "sun room."

New Pipeline Planned From Canada to U.S.

EDMONTON, Alberta — (AP) — Oil from Canada's Western province of Alberta is seeking out Eastern Canadian markets through a 1,150-mile pipe line which will run from Edmonton to Superior, Wisconsin.

It will cost $90,000,000 and will cross the prairies to Lake Superior in three great jumps — Edmonton to Regina, in the province of Saskatchewan, 450 miles; Regina to Gretna, on the Manitoba-North Dakota border, 340 miles; and Gretna to Superior, 360 miles.

Work already has started and oil is expected to be flowing from Edmonton to Regina by the fall of 1950 and to Superior by early 1951.

Initial capacity from Edmonton to Regina will be 95,000 barrels of crude a day; and for the rest of the distance 70,000 barrels.

When filled with hot water, a thick glass will crack more quickly than a thin one.

Delhi Finals Wildcat in Dakota Sand

DALLAS — (AP) — An important oil discovery in the San Juan basin of New Mexico appeared in the making yesterday at Delhi Oil Co.'s Ingwersen No. 1. Section 20-24-2W, Dakota sand wildcat in Rio Arriba County.

The Dallas company said it was preparing to set casing for completion after a two hour drill stem test from 7,726-7,802 feet recovered 4,050 feet of 40 gravity oil, 2,070 feet of fresh water and 90 feet of drilling mud.

The well is located on a block of about 30,000 acres in which Delhi obtained a half interest for drilling of the test.

The well is near the village of

Court Settles Gas Flare Rule For Humble

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled in effect there is no longer any argument between the Humble Oil and Refining Co. and the Railroad Commission over natural gas flaring in the Tijerina-Canales-Blucher field.

Humble contended that the Railroad Commission's policy now is to prohibit "avoidable waste," and that it is now complying with commission orders in the Jim Wells and Kleberg County fields.

Humble asked the Supreme Court to erase a trial court judgment refusing to give it an injunction against operation of the original flaring gas order issued Nov. 23, 1948.

The Supreme Court agreed. It dismissed the case "without prejudice" so that the commission may issue future orders to halt "avoidable" waste.

Anderson Refuses API Nomination

VERNON, Texas — (AP) — R. B. Anderson, general manager of the W. T. Waggoner estate here, said yesterday he has "declined a suggestion" that he be nominated for presidency of the American Petroleum Institute.

A Washington columnist had reported Anderson declined the nomination. Anderson is president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Both Parties Negligent Jury Declares

A 31st District Court jury late yesterday nullified, by its verdict, the cross action of G. S. "Pinkie" Vineyard, Sunshine Dairy, in a debt suit brought by the Panhandle Roofing Co., Amarillo.

Testimony ended early yesterday afternoon before District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich.

The jury found that both plaintiff and cross plaintiff were negligent and awarded no amount of damages to Vineyard for the loss of paper containers and caps from a leaking roof, partially built.

The roofing company entered suit against the dairy for $740, cost of the new roof. The dairy in cross action asked for $600 in damages to the containers and caps.

Attorney Walter Rogers, counsel for defendant and cross plaintiff, said he would file a motion for judgment, notwithstanding the verdict of the jury.

This morning a compensation suit that arose out of a fight between two elderly employees of the Cabot Shops, Inc., got underway shortly after 10 a.m.

The trial was delayed yesterday by lack of jurors and talesmen. The Sheriff's Department was instructed to summon 18 talesmen to complete a full panel.

After delays over technicalities by both plaintiff and defense, the case of William W. Cheely vs. the Texas Indemnity Co. finally got started at 10:05 a.m.

Cheely, 66, is seeking workman's compensation from the insurance company that carries the insurance for Cabot.

Atty. Walter Rogers, representing Cheely, first called Insurance and Safety Director Don M. Conley to the stand to establish proof of Cheely's employment with the Cabot Shops.

Cheely was called and was being cross-examined by Atty. Curtis Douglass and Arthur Teed, representing the insurance company.

Under direct examination by Rogers, Cheely told the Court and jury that he went to work on Sept. 3, 1948, and was sweeping out the gate house about 9 a.m. when the injury was sustained. He said that a fellow employee, Silas Prather, came into the gate house and he (Cheely) stepped aside to allow him to pass through the narrow door. He added that Prather came in and demanded, "what's this you've been saying about me" and then struck him across the temple with some object. Cheely banged into a window pane, and then he blacked out. He tried to move toward Prather, but fell to the floor unconscious, he told the Court.

Cheely declared that he has suffered serious injuries to his head and neck, has suffered growing weaknesses in sight and hearing and has not been able to work since then.

Under cross-examination by Douglass, Cheely denied calling Prather a "dirty—" or that he said Prather was "too yellow to fight." He declared that he never had time to say anything before Prather struck him. He denied that he offered to pay Mrs. Verna L. Donham, telephone operator at the gate house, $20, or any sum of money, if she would say that Prather started the fight. Cheely told Douglass he did not remember anything that happened to him after he was struck; then added if he said any of those things after the blow he didn't recall it because he was "out."

Shortly before noon Court was recessed and the jury retired from the room to take a breather.

Girl Scouts Give Rotary Program

Dr. Douglas Nelson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, yesterday spoke to the Pampa Rotary Club in connection with the annual Girl Scout Drive, now in its second day.

A group of 15 members of the Sam Houston Brownie Troop sang several songs and gave a choral dance, "The Shoemaker's Dance."

The girls and their leaders were introduced by Mrs. Jean Thornton, executive secretary of the Pampa Girl Scout Association.

Prior to the program, Floyd Watson presented the club president, Jack Sullivan, with the victory plaque from the first inter-city club golf tournament. request of a number of steel firms that the Presidential board be reconvened to "clarify" its findings. Any reconvening would have to be done by Mr. Truman.

There had been no direct negotiations between the union and steel companies since the strike began Oct. 1.

Strike effects grew steadily worse. Production of up to 6,000,000 tons of steel has been lost, spelling shortages of all sorts of fabricated metal items in the months ahead.

Besides the growing unemployment, there was a threat of a fuel shortage if the 39-day mine walkout lasted much longer. Already, more than 600 passenger trains had been discontinued on government orders to save coal.

Pence efforts appeared bogged down in the coal strike. Union-operator talks at Bluefield, W. Va., recessed yesterday until next Tuesday. From all signs, nobody had agreed to as much as a comma for inclusion in a new contract. The old one expired July 1.

An inquest was held this morning, but no verdict has been announced yet.

The late J. T. Close, her husband, died at the family home in the Lela Community near Shamrock in 1917, and a daughter, Mrs. Ethel Perry, died several years ago.

Mrs. Close is survived by six sons; Vernon in Montana, Harvey of Wheeler, George of Shamrock, Oscar in Florida, Edgar in South Dakota, and Elmer in Oregon; and by several grandchildren.

Mrs. Close's age is uncertain, but she is reported as "in her 70's."

AUSTIN — (P) — The Chemical Bank and Trust Company of New York bid low Wednesday on $5,000,000 worth of state bonds. The money will finance a veterans' land campaign. Chemical's bid was at a weighted interest rate of 1.65845 percent. No premium was offered.

Explosion Cause Being Investigated

DALLAS — (P) — What caused an explosion that ripped apart a four-apartment building and injured 14 persons?

Fire Marshal W. G. Burns headed an investigation seeking the answer to this question.

The blast wrecked the building in a housing project late Tuesday night. Five persons were still hospitalized today. Fire Battalion Chief Jack Johnson said a heavy concrete sill probably saved the lives of all occupants.

"It kept the heavy roof from going all the way to the floor."

New Pipeline Planned From Canada to U.S.

EDMONTON, Alberta — (AP) — Oil from Canada's Western province of Alberta is seeking out Eastern Canadian markets through a 1,150-mile pipe line which will run from Edmonton to Superior, Wisconsin.

It will cost $90,000,000 and will cross the prairies to Lake Superior in three great jumps — Edmonton to Regina, in the province of Saskatchewan, 450 miles; Regina to Gretna, on the Manitoba-North Dakota border, 340 miles; and Gretna to Superior, 360 miles. Work already has started and oil is expected to be flowing from Edmonton to Regina by the fall of 1950 and to Superior by early 1951.

Initial capacity from Edmonton to Regina will be 95,000 barrels of crude a day; and for the rest of the distance 70,000 barrels.

When filled with hot water, a thick glass will crack more quickly than a thin one.

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Railroad Commission yesterday scheduled a public hearing Dec. 7, on the application of Dave Rubin and Gold-Rubin Oil Properties to carry on a gas injection project of Barnhill and Whittenburg Leases, Panhandle field in Carson, Hutchinson, Gray and Wheeler Counties. Delhi Finals Wildcat in Dakota Sand

DALLAS — (AP) — An important oil discovery in the San Juan basin of New Mexico appeared in the making yesterday at Delhi Oil Co.'s Ingwersen No. 1, Section 20-24-2W, Dakota sand wildcat in Rio Arriba County.

The Dallas company said it was preparing to set casing for completion after a two hour drill stem test from 7,726-7,802 feet recovered 4,580 feet of 40 gravity oil, 2,070 feet of fresh water and 90 feet of drilling mud.

The well is located on a block of about 30,000 acres in which Delhi obtained a half interest for drilling of the test.

The well is near the village of the following hearings:

Dec. 2 — Application of Slater and Henderson for discovery allowable rights for the reservoir of his Henderson Pickering well No. 1, Placedo field, Victoria County.

Dec. 2 — Application of the Bluff Creek Oil Co. for exemption from shutdown for wells in the Gronow (Strawn) field, Montague County.

Dec. 7 — Application of the Gulf Oil Corp. for discovery allowable rights and a new filed designation for the reservoir of its J. H. H. Dennis well No. 3, Wharton County.

Dec. 7 — Application of The Texas Co. for discovery allowable rights and a new field designation for the reservoir of its W. E. Haws well No. 1, Montague County.

Court Settles Gas Flare Rule For Humble

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled in effect there is no longer any argument between the Humble Oil and Refining Co. and the Railroad Commission over natural gas flaring in the Tjerner-Canales-Blucher field.

Humble contended that the Railroad Commission's policy now is to prohibit "avoidable waste," and that it is now complying with commission orders in the Jim Wells and Kleberg County fields.

Humble asked the Supreme Court to erase a trial court judgment refusing to give it an injunction against operation of the original flare gas order issued Nov. 23, 1948.

The Supreme Court agreed. It dismissed the case "without prejudice" so that the commission may issue future orders to halt "avoidable" waste.

Lindrieth, N. M., 70 miles southeast of nearest commercial production in the Kutz Canyon gas field. It is the first discovery in western Rio Arriba County.

Bruce Arbogast, editor of the Oil News, said the location was selected by Frank W. Schultz of Dallas, vice president and geologist of Delhi, who was almost alone in recognizing possibilities of the area.

He said the acreage was blocked by the Magnolia Petroleum Co. Magnolia obtained the leases from the Albuquerque Associated Oil Co., which retained a two percent overriding royalty.

Most of the associated's 85 stockholders are Albuquerqueans.

Anderson Refuses API Nomination

VERNON, Texas — (AP) — R. B. Anderson, general manager of the W. T. Waggoner estate here, said yesterday he has "declined a suggestion" that he be nominated for presidency of the American Petroleum Institute.

A Washington columnist had reported Anderson declined the nomination. Anderson is president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Both Parties Negligent Jury Declares

A 31st District Court jury late yesterday nullified by its verdict the cross action of G. S. "Finkey" Vineyard, Sunshine Dairy, in a debt suit brought by the Panhandle Roofing Co., Amarillo.

Testimony ended early yesterday afternoon before District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich.

The jury found that both plaintiff and cross plaintiff were negligent and awarded no amount of damages to Vineyard for the loss of paper containers and caps from a leaking roof, partially built.

The roofing company entered suit against the dairy for $740, cost of the new roof. The dairy in cross action asked for $800 in damages to the containers and caps.

Attorney Walter Rogers, counsel for defendant and cross plaintiff, said he would file a motion for judgment, notwithstanding the verdict of the jury.

This morning a compensation suit that arose out of a fight between two elderly employees of the Cabot Shops, Inc., got underway shortly after 10 a.m.

The trial was delayed yesterday by lack of jurors and bailsmen. The Sheriff's Department was instructed to summon 18 talesmen to complete a full panel.

After delays over technicalities by both plaintiff and defense, the case of William W. Cheely vs. the Texas Indemnity Co. finally got started at 10:05 a.m.

Cheely, 66, is seeking workman's compensation from the insurance company that carries the insurance for Cabot.

Atty. Walter Rogers, representing Cheely, first called the insurance and safety director Don M. Conley to the stand to establish proof of Cheely's employment with the Cabot Shops.

Cheely was called and was being cross-examined by Atty. Curtis Douglas and Arthur Tard, representing the insurance company.

Under direct examination by Rogers, Cheely told the Court and jury that he went to work on Sept. 3, 1948, and was sweeping out the gate house about 9 a.m. when the injury was sustained. He said that a fellow employee, Silas Prather, came into the gate house and he (Cheely) stepped aside to allow him to pass through the narrow door.

He added that Prather came in and demanded, "what's this you've been saying about me" and then struck him across the temple with some object. Cheely banged into a window pane, smashing it, and then blacked out. He tried to move toward Prather, but fell to the floor unconscious, he told the Court.

Cheely declared that he has suffered serious injuries to his head and neck, has suffered growing weaknesses in sight and hearing and has not been able to work since then.

Under cross-examination by Douglas, Cheely denied calling Prather a "dirty—" or that he said Prather was "too yellow to fight." He declared that he never had time to say anything before Prather struck him. He denied that he offered to pay Mrs. Verna L. Donham, telephone operator at the gate house, $20, or any sum of money, if she would say that Prather started the fight. Cheely told Douglas he did not remember anything that happened to him after he was struck; then added if he said any of those things after the blow he didn't recall it because he was "out."

Shortly before noon Court was recessed and the jury retired from the room to take a breather.

Girl Scouts Give Rotary Program

Dr. Douglas Nelson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, yesterday spoke to the Pampa Rotary Club in connection with the annual Girl Scout Drive, now in its second day.

A group of 15 members of the Sam Houston Brownie Troop sang several songs and gave a choral dance, "This Shoeless Dance."

The girls and their leaders were introduced by Mrs. Jean Thornton, executive secretary of the Pampa Girl Scout Association.

Prior to the program, Floyd Watson presented the club president, Jack Sullivan, with a victory plaque from the first inter-club golf tournament. The club will keep the plaque until it is surrendered to the winning club next year. Medalist prize for low score in the tournament was presented to Joe Key, and to lowest club scorer, Fred Nealage.

request of a number of steel firms that the Presidential board be reconvened to "clarify" its findings. Any reconvening would have to be done by Mr. Truman.

There had been no direct negotiations between the union and steel companies since the strike began Oct. 1.

Despite the growing unemployment, there was a threat of a fuel shortage if the 30-day mine walkout lasted much longer. Already, more than 600 passenger trains had been discontinued on government orders to save coal.

Peace efforts appeared bogged down in the coal strike. Union operator talks at Bluefield, W. Va., recessed yesterday until next Tuesday. From all signs, nobody had agreed to as much as a comma for inclusion in a new contract. The old one expired July 1.

An inquest was held this morning, but no verdict has been announced yet.

The late J. T. Closs, her husband, died at the family home in the Lela Community near Shamrock in 1917, and a daughter, Mrs. Ethel Perry, died several years ago.

Mrs. Closs is survived by six sons; Vernon in Montana, Harvey of Wheeler, George of Shamrock, Oscar in Florida, Edgar in South Dakota, and Elmer in Oregon; and by several grandchildren.

Mrs. Closs's age is uncertain, but she is reported as "in her 70's."

head injuries when he was stuck with a window sash weight.

Leaving his companions hidden behind a staircase, Norris went to the door leading to the main portion of the prison building. He asked Guard Charles Lynch to let him through to get some papers from the printing shop where Norris worked.

As Lynch opened the door, he was seized and marched past the office of Warden Elwood H. Wilson to the prison arsenal.

There, the convicts used Lynch's keys to open the arsenal door and took a quantity of guns and ammunition.

Handcuffing Lynch, the men marched in single file prison fashion toward the gate house with Lynch at the head of the line, a pistol in his back.

One of the convicts pressed the button controlling the electrically-operated gate and the parade moved out into the open.

Tower Guard Raymond Pritchard spotted the men but withheld fire until the convicts shoved Lynch aside and ran. Then he fired a burst of bullets but apparently none stuck the fleeing men.

Explosion Cause Being Investigated

DALLAS — (AP) — What caused an explosion that ripped apart a four-apartment building and injured 14 persons?

Fire Marshal W. G. Burns headed an investigation seeking the answer to this question.

The blast wrecked the building in a housing project late Tuesday night. Five persons were still hospitalized today. Fire Battalion Chief Jack Johnson said a heavy concrete sill probably saved the lives of all occupants.

"It kept the heavy roof from going all the way to the floor."

Roberson was being brought to Pampa to be processed for reenlistment in the Army.

Brown has been the Army recruiting sergeant in Pampa for more than two years.

Reds Call for Coalition Purge

BERLIN — (AP) — Communists called today for a purge of the "extreme right" in the government coalition in the East German Republic, the doctor said.

The Communist-edited Berliner Zeitung accused the Christian Democratic Union of harboring elements which "systematically damage the anti-fascist democratic bloc."

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright, 1949) NEW YORK — The term "liberal," which has a favorable sound and meaning to the people, actually is a synonym for fascist or nazi in its present applications.

his personal affairs or his earnings. They may be right. Thus far they have had their way in many impairments of the citizen's rights and freedom, but it must be said for us citizens that we were taken unwary.

"spivs" and "drones" of England who were smeared for refusing to be bulldozed into "useful, patriotic work" for the benefit of the present nazi-fascist-Marxian Labor Party. They couldn't answer back, pointing out that the NRA was nazi-fascism.

Soon after the 1936 election and certainly no later than the criminal instructions were given in Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania under a phony guise of strikes, I began to get next to myself.

I saw that that which I had mistaken for liberalism was oppression and I began to strike out and holler out against it.

I repeatedly showed that where there is no strike vote and no union exists there can be no strike. These were riots fomented by outside professionals to create political power for Lewis, Murray and other ruthless.

The New Deal propagandists turned on me with the foulest publicity that their dirty genius could invent. They called me a labor-baiter and a boss-lover.

Frankly, it wasn't a pleasure to take this from ill-handed, intellectual sedentaries, who were subsidized Harvard study-boys when I was pushing a hand-truck in the stockyards or working 12-hour tricks as a cub in Chicago and the bushes. From a lot of lazy, incompetent misanthropes, simply because they were no good and now blamed their failure on capitalism. And why shouldn't I be a boss-lover? The boss was a better man than the whole snarling pack of curs together.

A true liberal can't abide persecution and the hypocrisy of Hitlerian men and women who beat up innocent people and terrorize them into accepting their brand of spirit and make them submit. I was one of the first to perceive the crime of coercive unionism against our laws, our government and human dignity.

Now, years afterward, I find accounts of those who are smirking, that they had absolutely no right, no mandate to "represent" the employees of General Motors, Chrysler, and Republic Steel, and that they acquired their power over millions of us by a treasonous uprising against government and, in the final crisis, by the cowardice of Frank Murphy as governor of Michigan.

They now admit that the majority of the workers did not want to join the CIO, but were coerced by Murphy's act of cowardice in refusing to enforce the law against insurrection in the plants. Abandoned by government, the management caved in, but it was the majority of the workers who were the losers.

They were caught in the open and compelled to join and submit to rules and discipline ordained by criminals and pay tribute to a criminal empire. From that misbegotten criminal state the New Deal-nazi-fascists spread out, encroaching on free territory and capturing slaves by the million.

Now a dozen evil men hold a monopoly over labor and the power to throw the United States into bankruptcy and revolution. So I say the real liberal is the man who dares, against terrible abuse by ridicule and slander and the attribution of evil motives, to stand alone if necessary against the very beginnings of tyranny and usurpation. He is always finding himself fighting an enemy who calls himself a liberal, a progressive and a friend of the common man.

Under the repeal measure, the amount of aid to which an aged or blind person would be entitled would not be reduced. But other provisions, such as age limits, qualifications, protective limitations, etc., would be returned to the status prevailing prior to passage of the amendment. According to the Council for the Blind, pensioners themselves would actually be better off if the amendment is tossed into the discard than if it were a very strong feeling that the interests of the aged and blind are definitely endangered by measures which cost so much, and create so many problems, that they may prove absolutely impossible to maintain.

Bankruptcies Show Slight Increase

NEW YORK — (AP) — Business bankruptcies showed a slight increase in the week ended Oct. 20, Dun & Bradstreet reported. The credit rating and business research organization said there were 181 commercial and industrial failures in the latest week, compared with 172 in the previous week. They compared with 124 in the like week of 1948 and 75 in 1947.

Washington.....by Doug Larsen

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — At one stage in the Navy's revolt against unification some consideration was given to preparing a blast at the President for keeping the big battleship Missouri in operation against the better judgment of the admirals. Twice the Navy has tried to put the huge vessel in mothballs on grounds that it was far more costly to keep active than it is worth to the Navy. Both times, apparently for sentimental reasons, President Truman has had the order changed.

Two big carriers can be kept afloat for what it costs to keep the Missouri going. If the Navy is being cut back only for economy reasons the admirals' reason why the Missouri kept in commission? It was temporarily decided not to make a public issue of this point, pending the outcome of the whole dispute.

WHISTLE-STOP Library of Congress has been pressed into a very unusual decision. It has had to rule that it no longer furnish the words or songs over the telephone. And music experts are not permitted to give opinions on the titles of songs which are whistled or ummed over the telephone. Copies of all copyrighted music were kept in the Library. Teenagers in Washington discovered this and have pestered Library employees to death on the telephone and in person with requests for the words to their favorite popular tunes. All the radio quiz programs offering prizes to persons who can identify song titles of tunes played on the air inspired the ban against answering the whistling and hummed queries. WASHINGTON COLD-SNAP Civil Service Commission now reveals that last August saw the fewest number of Federal employees hired during one month than any period since before the war. Reasons given was the freeze put on new hiring by the agencies, pending the outcome of their budgets in Congress.

Right below that statement was the announcement that the national Democratic fundraising dinner would be held in New York in December, with a $250,000 goal. THEY CAN WORK TOGETHER! Why So Many People Believe in Government Planning and Zoning

It might seem strange to those people who oppose zoning and city planning and zoning that so many people—the great majority—believe in planning and zoning. There is nothing mysterious about it. It is a natural result of their "education."

Public Schools is Government Planning The whole public school system is simply government planning of the "education" of the youth. And when people believe that the government can plan better the education of youth than individuals can plan it, it is only natural for them to believe that the government should plan material things as well as intellectual and spiritual things.

When the youth is trained, not educated by agents of government and planning in "education," it is only natural for them to believe that public schools are in harmony with what is right and just and good. And when he believes in that, of course, he will believe that the government should plan wages, the hours a man should work, how he should exercise his labor, the use of land, tariffs, immigration restrictions and all such socialistic things that are in agreement and in the same category with tax supported schools, which are nothing but government planning or the government initiating force upon individuals to comply with the agents of the majority.

Public planned schools are the nurseries for all other planning. It is irrational to think that we can have the growth of government interference with an individual's natural rights when the youth is grabbed in his formative period and forced to come in contact with government planners—a school teachers. As the twig is bent so is the tree inclined." When the youth grows up, he naturally believes in the things that his elders have sanctioned and endorsed.

The only way of retaining or checking government planning is to get at the roots of the thing, which is public schools. It is necessary to point out where Socialism and Communism which are nothing but government planning, are stimulated and developed. Yes, public schools are nothing but government planning. It is the only way of retaining or checking government interference with human initiative and at the same time condone and sanction and endorse the worst and most dangerous form of planning—public schools.

How Many Really Unemployed? The number of people who are unemployed will depend entirely on what definition one uses for an unemployed person. If one believes that a man is unemployed when he is being paid on an involuntary basis for a large number of people who are paying his salary, and these people believe he is not only not earning it but making it more difficult for those who earn their wages to work, then we have a million people as a whole unemployed.

We live in the neighborhood of 60 million people working. About one-eighth or 7,000,000 of them are workers who were the great losers of the government that render no real service or wealth. In fact, they are making it harder for those people who are selling and exchanging their services on the open market to do, these people earn a living. If most of these people would get off the government payroll and receive the same amount of income as a sole farmer or a worker on his own, they would be able to produce more and thus earn more.

The reason for this is that most of the people who are employed by government are meddlers and spreading ill-will and covetousness and hate that interferes with American workers finding jobs they can do. The government is so interfering with the accumulation of better tools so that the worker has to work with poorer tools and thus produce less and thus earn less.

When we add these seven million people working for the government to the four million who are not working, we have about 11 million out of 60 million living on the produce of the 49,000,000 workers who are earning their wages on a voluntary basis. This total does not include those who work on their own time and are not as long each week as there would be if it were not for an unhampered market.

School Teachers Example As an example of those people who are really unemployed, take the school teachers. They make it infinitely more difficult for the youth of the land who come in contact with them to understand the moral and economic principles that govern human relations. The youth who come in contact with them naturally come to believe that the majority determines right from wrong, and that there isn't any law superior to the will of the majority, and that the majority by way of the state can initiate force against the minority to take a large part of their life energy from them without their consent. When people get the idea that there isn't any moral law superior to the will of the majority, they greatly interfere with the good-will among men and cause many laws to be passed that interfere with a free and natural division of labor when men are given a greater chance to find the jobs that God gave them the talent to do.

The men who are enforcing these laws are men who make it more difficult for men to make a living. These laws require men to produce wealth under conditions which are not as favorable as they could be.

All the bureaucrats who attempt to enforce minimum wages and labor relations and the graduated income tax do not earn a penny. They make it more difficult for men to earn an even living wage as they should and would if we didn't have so many parasites eating up their substance.

Eleven million people, or better than 1/6 of all the working population, is quite a lot of unemployed unproductive people. Yes, in order to get the true number of unemployed, we have to

National Whirligig news behind the news

By ROGER WARREN

WASHINGTON — Europeans in Washington took upon the recent French cabinet crisis as a hopeful sign. Heretofore most continental government upheavals were tense ideological struggles between free men and the Communists—with revolution lurking around the corner. No matter how long Mayer can hold the premiership, the Communists and the extreme left wing will howl. The Reds hate Jules Moch, who turned down the job. He was a former naval engineer who became the hard-boiled head of the police and impartially cracked down on both the Gaullists and the Communists.

Thorez and his Marxists also hate Mayer, whom President Vincent Auriol summoned to take over. This Radical Socialist bank-rupt and former minister of finance once proposed marriage to a fabulously wealthy American girl. She rejected him because she thought he had no future. Now he is one of the top men of France.

BONUS — After the liberation France was prostrate. Hopelessness and hunger drove five million people to support the Communist Party. But the Marshall Plan and the energy of the French people brought a substantial proposal for recovery. The recent crisis was precipitated by the Socialists, who feared that their underpaid followers again were going over to the Communists. But the crux of the battle was in economics and not in a change of leadership.

Every six months since the end of the war labor's pay had been raised. But for more than a year Queuille resisted demands for wage jumps. Mayer favored a temporary bonus.

OUTLOOK — Members of Congress back from Paris say that last summer's drought pushed up the price of food. Rising living costs have pinched the "white collar" class. The French school population is expected to increase sharply by the pay of teachers. Crowded classrooms has not gone up.

The housing situation also is a headache. France has had rent control since Marshal Foch beat the Germans in World War I. Landlords have had no money for repairs. Dwellings, which look so picturesque on the postcards, are in many cases than our cold water tenements and share cropper hovels.

The general outlook, however, is encouraging. Before Paul Hoffman's ECA began to pour materials into the stricken country, the Paris stores were closed three days a week and the shelves were bare. Now the shops are filled with goods. Food is plentiful, though expensive. The black market has expanded.

PRIDE — The output of coal, steel and cement has soared above the prewar level of productivity in 1929. Peasants have the money to buy modern equipment. The big farms are well stocked and mechanized.

Approximately 60 percent of imports are now covered by export. Not only the four million who are now unemployed, but also the seven million on the government payroll get the same minimum and women who are really unemployed according to a definition of unemployment that fits in with an unwise, free market economy.

Economy Begins at Home

By GORDON MARTIN

There's a lot of righteous squawking over governmental waste, since we've got some public servants who can blow our dough in haste. And we say they ought to trim their sails and try to realize that we'd cheer old Uncle Whiskers if he'd just economized but sometimes it's sort of funny when they cut expenses back, for economy depends, it seems, on where they spend the jack.

Now suppose the needs of war-time brought a lot of work to town, and although the war's long over, no one thinks of cutting down. But at least some public servant has the guts to make a slash, and causes advocates of thrift to break out in a rash. Then you quickly hear their protest and their agonizing cry, for they only love a saving if it costs some other guy, agonizing cry, for they only love a saving if it costs some other guy, agonizing cry, for they only love a saving if it costs some other guy.

There are several kinds of inflammation of the tonsils, or as it is more commonly known, tonsillitis. Tonsillitis often results from infection with a germ called the streptococcus. In such cases, tonsillitis is a severe throat, is typical at the beginning of scarlet fever which is a streptococcal disease. Tonsillitis may be caused by other germs and perhaps some by viruses. Most of those who have not lost their tonsils early in life have experienced one or more attacks of acute tonsillitis, and they do not have to be told that this is an unpleasant and painful disorder. Usually they have fever with it and feel just miserable!

If they go to bed promptly, drink plenty of fluids, and perhaps are given one of the sulfa drugs or penicillin, recovery also occurs without much delay. Acute tonsillitis is never treated by removing the tonsils at the time when the inflammation is severe. If it is necessary to remove the tonsils at all, this is not always the case—one must wait until the acute infection has quieted down. If this is not done there is danger of letting dangerous germs into the blood stream, causing blood poisoning and perhaps death. Although figures on the frequency of acute tonsillitis do not seem to be available, there are many reasons for believing that there are fewer cases now than in the past. Probably they are partly because of our better sanitary knowledge which has resulted in fewer dangerous germs in drinking water, milk, and other sources of infection.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS Question: Since hard heads of cattle, horses and even elephants get their health and strength from eating green grasses or herbage, would it be advisable for human beings to extract the juices from such grasses and herbage and drink them? Answer: The digestive processes of human beings are different from those of the animals mentioned. Human beings belong to an animal group called carnivores, or meat eaters. I am afraid the answer to your question is "no."

Stock Market Crashed Just 20 Years Ago

By WILLIAM D. HORGAN
NEW YORK — (AP) — Twenty years ago this week the stock market crashed in a tragic ending to an era of prosperity.

The Coolidge bull market died a violent death that shocked and stunned the nation and financial capitals throughout the world.

There is no standard by which to measure the selling panic which swept into Wall Street in east-like silence and ripped the financial district wide open.

Described in generalities, the market value of the nation's productive machinery plunged, in a matter of minutes, by billions of dollars. The decline lasted for three long heart-breaking years.

In human terms the losses could be measured in dollars and cents: in the bankruptcy record, the destruction of lifetime savings, in foreclosed mortgages, in pawn shop tickets. It could be measured, too, in the deliberate, haggard faces of the poor, in dead dreams, in the pathetic bewilderment of little people and big people all over the country.

The prelude to panic was enough to lull the most astute financial men. Government and business leaders painted the future in rosy colors.

There were a few people who disagreed, but they were viewed with suspicion.

People begged, borrowed and stole money to buy stocks. The total of brokers' loans, a figure which indicates the amount of stock bought on credit, soared to an astronomical figure.

Stock prices advanced until many were simply absurd in relation to the ability of a given company to earn money and pay dividends.

The week which ended Oct. 19, 1929, was a bad week for the market — but not too bad.

The next week panic struck. The bottom literally dropped out of the market. The ticker tape, pounding out oblivion for speculators all over the world, ran hours behind the market's close in order to catch up with an avalanche of transactions. Nearly 13,000,000 shares of stock changed hands.

The city's big bankers got together, finally emerged with an announcement which certainly seemed a masterpiece of understatement. They found, it seems, "a little distress selling."

The market rallied for a while but on Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 28 and 29, the climax was reached. Stocks of the country's leading industries collapsed. Sales on "black Tuesday" totaled more than 18,000,000 shares.

That was the day the insiders,

Eyesight Is Something to Be Guarded

AUSTIN — Emphasizing the urgent need for parental supervision of all phases of child health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer said today, "Much of the impaired eyesight of advanced years could be prevented if sufficient interest in early life were applied and a correction by means of temporary glasses made when required."

Parents, Dr. Cox asserted, should be watchful for danger signals in the child such as frowning, squinting, persistent headache, eyeache, and watery eyes. If the youngster reads too closely or too far away from the face, that situation may also be significant of trouble.

"No child likes wearing glasses, nevertheless, it is the obligation of those responsible for the future of young folks to have their eyes examined by a reputable specialist if there is a suspicion that normal vision does not exist. It is much better for a child to wear glasses for a few years during early school life the big money men, the millionaires, saw their fortunes melt away. The little fellows had already been sold out. The big fellows lasted a few days longer.

Demo Sets Out To Build GOP

DALLAS — (AP) — A former vice chairman of the State Democratic Committee is out to build up the Republicans in Texas.

Mrs. R. A. Thompson of Goliad has resigned as Democratic chairman of Goliad County to join the Republicans. She will be vice chairman of the Campaign Committee for two-party government in Texas.

Jack Porter, former Democrat who was the Republican candidate for U. S. senator from Texas last year, heads the committee.

Mrs. Thompson and Porter went to Garland Monday to a meeting sponsored by the Dallas County Women's Republican Club.

Houston Bans Text 'American Government'

HOUSTON — (AP) — "American Government," a textbook used for senior high school civics classes, has been banned from use in the Houston Independent School District.

Only one member of the school board Monday night voted against the ban after a paragraph in the book was called to the board's attention.

The book, written by Dr. Frank Magruder, has been on the State Textbook Commission's approved list since 1944.

Ewing Werlein, member of the Houston board, told the board a paragraph on Page 87 had been called to his attention and he thought the book should not be used.

The paragraph was quoted as reading:

"The United States is called a capitalist country. but it does not have pure capitalism. It has capitalism subject to increasing governmental control as our manner of living becomes more complex. The country is capitalistic with strong socialist and even communistic trends. The postal system, power projects, and progressive taxes are bits of socialism; and public free education and old age assistance are examples of communism... to each according to his need."

Voting against the ban was Mrs. Olon Rogers. She said her vote did not mean she approved the paragraph but that she thought the board should at least read the rest of the chapter before taking action to throw the book out of the schools.

SHREVEPORT — (AP) — Formal charges were filed Tuesday against Pvt. Howard A. Shinneman, an airman who parachuted from a C-52 transport plane about two weeks ago in an attempt to escape from Air Force guards.

Shinneman is still in the guardhouse at Barksdale Air Force Base where he will remain until his general court martial. Barksdale officials said his trial will probably come up in about 10 days.

Charges against Shinneman include being absent without leave, and theft of government property (a .45 calibre automatic revolver). The airman's home is in Clinton, Ill.

Safety Men To Meet in Amarillo

The Panhandle Safety Society and the Amarillo Safety Council will sponsor a regional conference of the Texas Safety Association on Friday, Nov. 4, at the Herring Hotel, Victor O. Shawgo, regional director of the state group, announced yesterday.

"The regional conferences held in Amarillo in recent years have been the largest in the state," Shawgo said.

There will be three sessions at the one-day conference, all to be held in the Crystal Ballroom of the hotel.

Shawgo and Don Conley of Pampa, regional vice president of the association, have obtained some of the finest speakers on safety in the Southwest. Among those who will appear are E. C. Stokes, safety director for the Dow Chemical Company, Freeport, Texas; Dr. W. C. Ford of Houston; P. A. Lawrence of the Salt Lake City office of the United States Public Health Service; Stanley Owens, director of safety, Transcontinental Gas Pipeline Corporation, Houston; Charles A. Miller, president of the Texas Safety Association; and W. M. Braymer, district manager for the Lone Star Gas Company at Abilene.

The final session will be a banquet at which Braymer will be the principal speaker. His subject will be "How Abilene Became One of the Nation's Safest Cities."

Industries in the area who desire to have representatives at the conference can make reservations through Shawgo, at the Southwestern Public Service Company, Amarillo.

Despite cooler weather, the Health Department said, polio continues to spread. Comanche, Llano and Somervell Counties reported the disease for the first time.

University Is Big Source of Lab Findings

AUSTIN — Research in many fields at the University of Texas this school year is made possible by an estimated $1,450,000 in federal contracts and approximately $100,000 from business and industry, Fred T. S. Painter announced.

The tremendous recent emphasis on research is evidenced in the fact that eight years ago the university had no government research contracts and received only $7,200 in such funds from industry and business.

Federal agencies providing funds for research projects include the U. S. Public Health Service; the Navy's Office of Naval Research, Bureau of Ordnance and Bureau of Ships; the U. S. Air Force; the Army's Ordnance Division,

Quite a Job Being Human Guinea Pig

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Gaining weight with many women is a matter of self-indulgence — and losing it is a matter of self-torture.

But with Fay Suskind putting on pounds and then taking them off is a matter of business. She is paid to do it.

Miss Suskind, a pretty, dark-eyed girl with a fine background and a splendid foreground, has one of the oddest jobs in an odd civilization. She is a human guinea pig for the mechanical massage industry.

"It is my job to test the reducing equipment," she said as we sat in an anteroom of one of the MacLevy slendering salons where she acts also as gym supervisor.

"Three or four times a year I put on as much weight as I can, and then take it off with massage rollers."

"We have machines for every place you want to reduce — calves, hips, arms, back, waist or thighs. I test each machine by taking weight off myself."

She keeps an elaborate chart during the whole process — showing the changes in her own measurements as she builds her weight up, then takes it off.

"We went into the gym, which was full of strange instruments and resembled a medieval torture chamber. There were two fat lady customers present. One was bent over a machine that kept thumping her in the stomach mildly with a series of wooden rollers. The second fat lady was harassed in a gadget that kept rolling several tightly clamped elastic

Hefty Cop Halts Escaped Elephant

BATON ROUGE — (AP) — A hefty cop and a circus elephant had a tug-of-war Sunday. The cop won.

A housewife called the police station and reported: "There's an elephant in our block."

Baton Rouge's biggest policeman, H. E. Lambert, found his quarry gambling down the middle of a residential street. The cop latched onto a dangling neck chain, threw his 255 pounds into reverse and halted the pachyderm.

An excited elephant keeper from the circus soon relieved Lambert.

"Federal contracts for research have made it possible for the university to offer, or to increase the offerings in, several areas of instruction and research which could not have been supported through funds otherwise available," Dr. Painter said. "There have been no restricting or otherwise deleterious influences on the curriculum or research. The university feels that research projects supported by the federal government have been beneficial."

The federal funds have provided research assistants, materials and facilities which have been of important aid in the university's teaching and research program, he declared.

"The funds have provided part-time employment for qualified graduate students working in their areas of specialization," Dr. Painter explained. "With the exception of two or three projects which are continuations of programs initiated during the war in the form of assistance to the National Military Establishment, the great majority of support under these contracts is in the form of aid to qualified research men on the faculty, each with his own group of graduate students."

WHEELER — (Special) — Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Harvey Lewis Kelton, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Oral Kelton.

The child died Saturday in the Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. He was five months old.

Besides his parents, he is survived by four sisters, Jaunell, Christine, Peggy Ruth, and Martha Louise; by one brother, Francis; and by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Young of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Kelton of Wheeler.

Services were held in the Allison Church of Christ with B. M. Litton, minister of the Wheeler Church of Christ, officiating. Burial was in the Zyzbach Cemetery under the direction of the Kirk-Mason Funeral Home of Wheeler.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THEY HAD: Jenny had obtained a divorce from Ted Dusen and had moved out of their town home. Her divorce will not become final for six months. Jenny looks back on the two unhappy years with Ted, who was unable to forget her, as a success. She will be moving when the divorce is final. There had been a rumor that she had been married to a man named Rick. She had been quarreling with him, who says that he has a job with her father's firm through her.

LIZ had some ideas for filling up those six months she had to wait before her marriage to Tod. First, a trip to Sunrise Valley with some friends. "You'll just adore it, Tod."

"But—" "It's all right, Tod," Mr. Conover boomed smoothly. "You're practically one of the family. If Liz thinks you need vacation from the office, off you go!"

For the rest of the day Jenny's small thin face haunted him. He had to keep pushing it out of his mind. "That's all finished," he kept telling himself grimly. "It was never right and now both know it and now it's all over. And neither of us cares."

Jenny had let Rick persuade her to take the rest of the day off. She couldn't bear to be around people. To feel Nina's commiserating eyes and catch the whispers of the girls at the shop.

"Let's drive out into the country and find some nice place to have lunch," Rick suggested. "Just the two of us."

It sounded good. With Rick she didn't have to pretend. She phoned Nina from a drug-store booth and said she wouldn't be back. It was soothing just to lean her head against the seat and watch the pavement slide swiftly beneath the car as Rick drove.

Rick pulled the car into the gravel drive of a small log cabin lodge. A red neon sign out front kept blinking "Eat." He put his arm around her in a comradely way. "Don't torture yourself, Jenny. It's no good."

She tried to return his smile. But there was a lump in her throat all at once. "I'm not torturing myself, but I can't help thinking about it."

"Look, hon," Rick said. "You lay awake nights before the divorce worrying yourself sick about it. You've lost weight. But now it's all over and settled and you've got to brace up like a good girl and get back your sense of humor and start building something new. Right?"

She nodded, her eyes burning. "Yes, Rick."

Their eyes clung for an instant. "Will you marry me, when that six months is up?"

She stared at him. Something inside her whispered to tell him yes now and have it settled, something to build on, something to shut out all the unhappiness of the past weeks, and this morning in that courtroom.

HE took her hand, and his arm encircling her shoulder tightened. "We'll have such a wonderful life together, Jenny, the four of us. I'll make everything up to you. I'd do anything for you. You know that, don't you?"

She nodded again, mutely. "I'd like to marry you. I'd like to, Rick, believe me. But—"

He saw her hesitation. "Well," he said slowly. "Just don't say no. That will be enough. Maybe I should have waited to ask you—until you'd eaten—or maybe I should have been more subtle about it—dined you and—vined you!" He laughed—and her laughter mingling suddenly with his was a welcome surprise to them both.

For such a beginning as the day had had, it didn't turn out badly. They went to a movie that afternoon and came home to find that Mrs. Drew had prepared an extra special dinner, with all Jenny's

Lady Godiva Rides Again

COVENTRY, Eng. —(AP)—Lady Godiva was undressed again Saturday and this time everybody watched.

A bronze statue of the famous lady, who 900 years ago rode naked through the streets of this town, gave up her veils of British and American flags in an impressive public ceremony.

Mrs. Lewis Douglas, wife of the American ambassador, pulled the string that loosed the covering. But Lady Godiva appeared suddenly modest. The flags stuck to her when the cord was pulled and workmen had to prod them down with long poles.

It was the first statue the townspeople had ever had of their historic benefactress. Legend has it that at noon one day 900 years ago she rode forth naked in the streets, covered only by her own long tresses, to force her noble husband, Earl of Mercia, to lower the taxes.

On that occasion the townspeople went indoors to let their beautiful lady pass unseen. But one guy peeped and became the almost equally famous Peeping Tom. The story has it that the demonstration worked and the taxes were lowered.

Accepted was a conveyance of $50,000 cash from the Southwest Medical Foundation, originally granted by Ray Skillern of Dallas, for construction of a student center at the Southwest Medical School when it moves to its proposed new location on Harry Hines Boulevard. It will be known as the J. A. Skillern Memorial Student Center.

December brought the usual rush of Christmas business to the shop. And there was a lot to do there, the holiday windows to plan, extra help to be interviewed and hired. She and Nina were both elated at the business they were doing. Jenny was trying to shop for the twins too, and plan their Christmas.

And then one day Tod phoned. (To Be Continued)

University Plans for Buildings

AUSTIN —(AP)—Plans for six new buildings at the University of Texas here are rapidly taking shape.

The Board of Regents was told Friday it may be possible to authorize bids at the January meeting. The regents voted to hold their next meeting, Dec. 9 and 10, in Galveston.

Members plan to spend Dec. 8 in Houston, although not in formal meeting, to confer with officials of the Texas Medical Center and others interested in the university's Dental School and the M. D. Anderson Hospital for Cancer Research which the university administers. Both of these units will have new buildings in the Texas Medical Center. Plans and specifications for both are being prepared.

The board also accepted a conveyance from the Southwest Medical Foundation, Dallas, of oil payments, originally granted the foundation by Mr. and Mrs. Grady H. Vaughan of Dallas. The money will be used in research in heart disease and hypertension by the Southwestern Medical School. The amount of the conveyance was described as "substantial."

Seeking Converts

SEOUL —(AP)—Now is the time for all good men to give up the Communist Party, says NAPCPC.

The "Nation's Association for Guiding Converts from Communism" announced it will accept all Korean Reds who are ready to reform.

Not Part of Car Manhole Cover

OTTAWA, Canada —(AP)—Mrs. Fred Browne stopped and got out when she heard a clanging noise under her brand new car. The car seemed to be running all right without the big steel disk lying on the road but she decided to take it home for her husband to look at.

Hubbie took one look and suggested she take the manhole cover back.

It's Not Funny To the Victim

VENTURA, Calif. —(AP)—It sounds like something out of an old Mack Bennett movie but it was no comedy to Harry Wilton Field, 35.

Field took his two children with him as he drove a trailer-load of trash to the city dump. He saw that the trash was afire. He stepped on the gas to beat the fire to the dump.

Rounding a curve, the car door swung open and Field fell out. The driverless auto with the children aboard sped crazily down the highway, turned itself around and came back. It knocked Field to the pavement.

The car stalled. Field was treated for cuts. The children were unhurt.

Hit-and-Run Interview Is Miss Sullivan

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)—Margaret Sullivan can be classified as a hit-and-run interview.

A movie interviewer soon learns to class his subjects. There is the sit-and-chew type, who remains in one spot as long as you want to ask questions. There is the hot-and-heavy variety, who pursues you until you can make a graceful exit. This one always wants to know: "Do you think you have enough for a story?"

With Maggie Sullivan it's hit-and-run.

The actress with the muted-fog-horn voice is doing a film again after a six-year absence. She's playing in "No Bad Songs," her first since the wartime "Cry Havoc." After a wait while she changed her costume and makeup, she finally emerged from her dressing room. I began firing. "Report your return will become a habit."

"That's very nice, but we'll wait and see."

"Haven't you signed for one picture a year with Columbia?"

"Yes, but that continues only if they like the first one. I might turn out to be terrible."

"I'm not worried. Maybe you'll become a California resident again."

"I don't know about that. California is the easiest place in the world to live. But I want my children to know what it's like to have seasons. They're in Connecticut, you know."

She was very charming, but she slowly retreated back to her dressing room door. Hit-and-run, you see.

Texas Employment Expected to Hit All-Time Peak

AUSTIN —(AP)—Texas employment is expected to hit an all-time peak next month.

The Texas Employment Commission reported that employer reports indicate 2,345,200 workers will be on non-farm employer payrolls during November.

Previous peak employment month was December, 1948, when 2,338,200 were on Texas non-farm jobs.

September employment stood at 2,330,500 up 15,700 above the August figure, TEC said.

Unemployment declines were reported for last month in Austin, San Antonio, El Paso, San Angelo, Lubbock, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Waco, Dallas, Longview, Texarkana, Abilene, Amarillo, Beaumont and Houston. A slight increase in unemployment was reported at Corpus Christi.

Dallas Reports Egg Price Drop

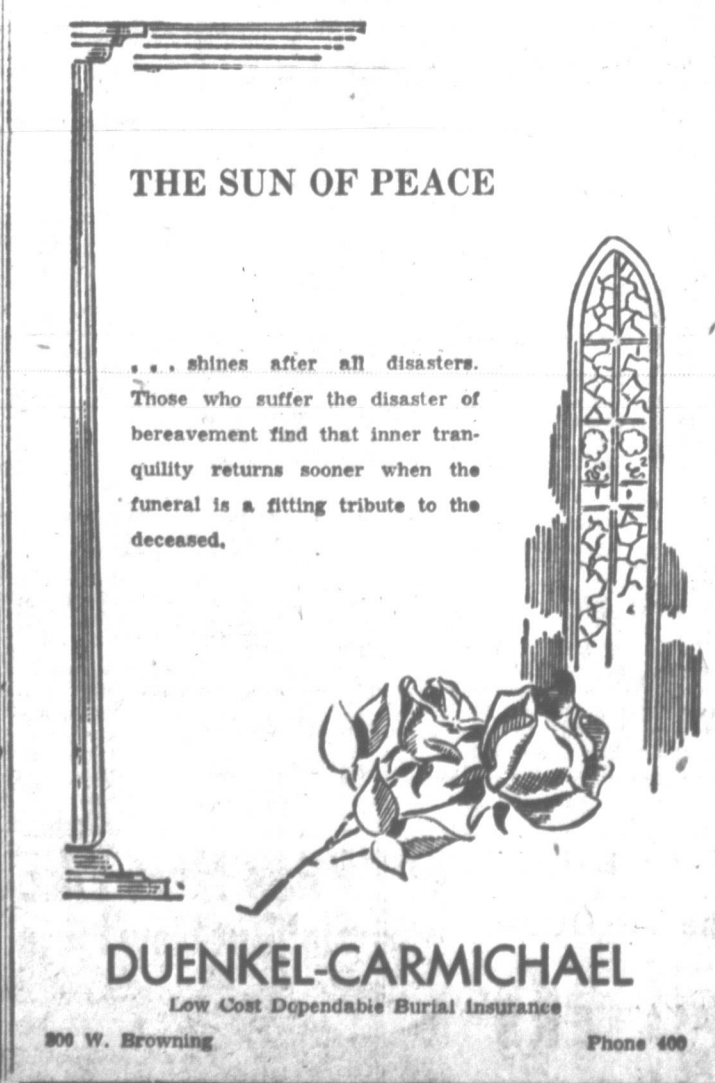

DALLAS — (P) — Retail food men in Dallas said today eggs have dropped from 6 cents per dozen in the last 30 days and they expect further declines.

Grade A eggs were selling for 47 cents per dozen in many stores this week and a month ago were 73 cents. In other stores the price decline was 4 cents.

The retailers said the slump apparently can be attributed to consumer resistance to high prices and to overabundant supply.

McMurry Indians Lead Texas Race

(By The Associated Press) McMurry's rampaging Indians try for their third straight Texas Conference victory this week against Ray Morrison's Austin College Kangaroos.

Brad Rowland paced McMurry to a 21-0 victory over Abilene Christian College last week and this game was doped as the last big barrier in the way of the Indians' path to a second straight title.

Austin won its first game of the season in a convincing manner, beating Southwestern Missouri Teachers, 23-0.

In other games last week, Howard Payne dumped Southwestern, 20-7, and Texas A&I knocked off Daniel Baker, 23-0.

This week, there is just one conference game scheduled. Howard Payne tackles Trinity of the Gulf Coast Conference; Southwestern meets Independent East Texas Baptist and Texas A&I plays Sul Ross.

Abilene Christian is idle.

Chandler Gives Billy Southworth Wage Boost

VERSAILLES, Ky. (AP) — There's one assist baseball statistician won't record this season. It came from Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

The boost was a financial one for Manager Billy Southworth of the Boston Braves.

The commissioner announced at his home here he had directed that Southworth receive a full share of the World Series money earned by the fourth-finishing Boston club.

Southworth, the commissioner said, was voted only a half share by the Boston players. A full share was worth $31.66 for the Braves.

Clubs in each league finishing fourth or better share in the series take.

There were reports during the series that Southworth, who had a stormy season before leaving the club in August, was voted only a half share by an 11-8 margin.

Sportsmen to Eat Wild Meat

MARSHALL — (AP) — Antelope, elk and moose meat will be on the menu when more than 1,000 sportsmen and their families come here next Tuesday for the annual barbecue of the East Texas Wildlife Association.

The meat is being donated by Marshall hunters.

The Wildlife group, with some 1,800 members scattered about the great piney woods area, has made elaborate plans for entertainment and contests to add to this year's program.

The afternoon will be devoted to a hunting dog show and various contests. Old-time dancing will provide the evening's entertainment.

A LOOK AT THE latest Southwest Conference statistics shows that Randy Clay is up among the leaders in ball carrying and is tops in scoring with 61 points.

His closest challenger for scoring honors is Froggie Williams of Rice, who was the one who defeated Clay and Co. last weekend with his perfect field goal.

Clay has been called on to carry the ball 74 times for Texas this season so far. Of those 74 carries, only twice has he lost ground, and then for only a total of 3 yards lost. Meanwhile he has gained a total of 325 yards, or an average of 4.3 yards per try.

Only two other backs in the conference have been called on to carry the ball more than Clay, and only three have gained more yardage.

Dan Wilde, whose brother John works for the Oil Well Supply Company here in town, has been playing sensational ball for a Sophomore. He has spelled Lindy Berry in the TCU backfield much of the time this season, completing 4 of 15 passes attempted, 3 of them for touchdowns. He is second in punting in the conference with an average boot of 39.1 yards. He is surpassed only by Kyle Rote of SMU, who took over the punting chores last week in the absence of Walker, and wound up with a phenomenal 49.6 average for six tries. Wilde also has the leading punt return average, having carried 5 for an average of 25.2 yards.

ANSWER: The last Longhorns victory over the Mustangs was in 1946, when Texas won 19-3.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hass—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: When was the last time Texas defeated SMU?

LAST WEEK THESE SPORTS PAGES CARRIED A story about Jimmy Parker, hard luck end on the Pampa Harvesters. Jimmy's troubles were further enhanced by a stupid ruling (at least in these eyes) on the part of the Interscholastic League.

Because of the fact that he was kept out of school for the first part of the first semester by illness, he was kept out of athletics, by the apparently silly ruling of the Interscholastic League in the second semester of his Junior year.

Then, for further explanation you are referred to the appendix, where, in Art. VIII, Sec. 6 says: "Attendance—Absence for NOT OVER TWO WEEKS on account of sickness or other unavoidable cause shall not bar a pupil if a written certificate of such cause for absence is presented, signed by a parent or guardian."

I can understand why a person would be ineligible for the first semester of that year if he returned during the first semester and didn't complete enough hours to gain the needed number of credits, as was Jimmy's case.

But he was in school at the start of the second semester, carrying the required studies, but still couldn't play basketball, baseball or participate in track without disqualifying his team.

Because of the fact that he was kept out of school for the first part of the first semester by illness, he was kept out of athletics, by the apparently silly ruling of the Interscholastic League in the second semester of his Junior year.

From now on, he should be called Plucky Harris.

Syracuse's football team may not be too formidable, but opponents don't like the taste of that Orange, Custis pie.

Coaltown wears a piano cloth under his shoes to ease the pressure on his hoofs.

Which, of course, is why the railbirds watching him run always say: "Isn't that baby grand!"

Czechoslovakia purged three members of its top hockey team. The reason for their ouster is that they were "politically unreliable."

The Communists suspected the boys were making a soap box out of the penalty box.

The skaters kept referring to the blue line instead of the red line.

On this side of the Iron Curtain, hockey players seldom indulge in politics, reliable or unreliable. It would be difficult, for example, for the following incident to take place:

As a wing of the Boston Bruins was skating toward the goal of the Detroit Red Wings (oops! sorry) toward the goal of the New York Rangers, a Ranger defenseman board-checked him, and whispered—

Defense Man—Hey, Mac, who you votin' for?

Wing—None of your business, and get your stick out of my eye.

Defense Man—Lissen, buddy, you better vote Republican.

Wing—Suppose I don't wanna? What cha gonna do?

Defense Man—I'll purge ya, that's what.

Wing—You and who else?

Defense Man—Me and the goalie and the right wing, that's who.

Wing—Why are you doing this, chum?

Defense Man—Well, I'll tell you. A guy's got to make an honest puck somehow.

Bucky Harris is back again as manager of the Senators.

It may not be long before there's another monument in historic Washington, to go with the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials.

Harris set a record with his new appointment. He's the first major league pilot to manage the same club on three separate occasions.

There are many Washingtonians who'd like to have Bucky's knack for reelection.

Harris' bravery in taking over the Nats after they finished last, 47 games behind the Yanks, is enough to make people change his nickname.

From now on, he should be called Plucky Harris.

Where There's a Left Hand There's Hope; Has Utah Another Dempsey in Rex Layne?

By HARRY GRAYSON NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Jack Dempsey himself speaks to you about him.

And then Al Warden drops you a line.

Could this be true — another Dempsey out of the west? Since turning professional this past summer, Rex Layne has made short work of all 13 of his opponents.

No names as yet, of course, although Don Perko of Pueblo, who found a lily tucked in his hand in three rounds, won the national crown's last night.

Jack Dempsey spring. Dempsey, beetle-browed, blue-jawed, snub-nosed and scowling, came roaring out of Salt Lake just before World War I.

Young Layne hails from Lewiston, Utah, population 1804, and situated near Logan, 50 miles north of Salt Lake.

Still growing at 20, he stands five feet 11 and weighs 190 pounds.

Where there's a left hand there's hope, and while Layne hits hard with either fist, most of his knockouts have been scored with his left.

"Layne is in the rough, but has terrific possibilities," reports Al Warden, veteran sports editor of the Ogden Standard-Examiner, who says Dempsey, the hobo, three years before his blazing speed and iron dukes put his name in the headlines. "He has no bad habits, loves it, is

HAS AMBITION BALTIMORE — (AP) — Yelberton Abraham (Yardarm) Tittle, Jr., the Baltimore T-brewer who was All-America Conference rookie of the year last season, sets his sights high for the future.

Says the Louisiana State star from Marshall, Texas: "I aim to be the best thrower in these here states."

Coach Desires Free Sub Rule BEAUMONT — (AP) — Here's one coach who says he wants to be his team's quarterback.

Talk that the coaches were running the teams from the bench resulted in the free substitution rule being changed to guard against it.

But Stan Lambert, coach of Lamar Junior College, questions the desirability of the rule. He says football coaches have just about legislated themselves out of the profession.

Regulations which make it illegal to send in substitutes with signals and which prohibit substitutions except when time is out were formulated by the coaches themselves through the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Football is the only sport in which coaches are denied the right to call plays for their charges, Lambert points out.

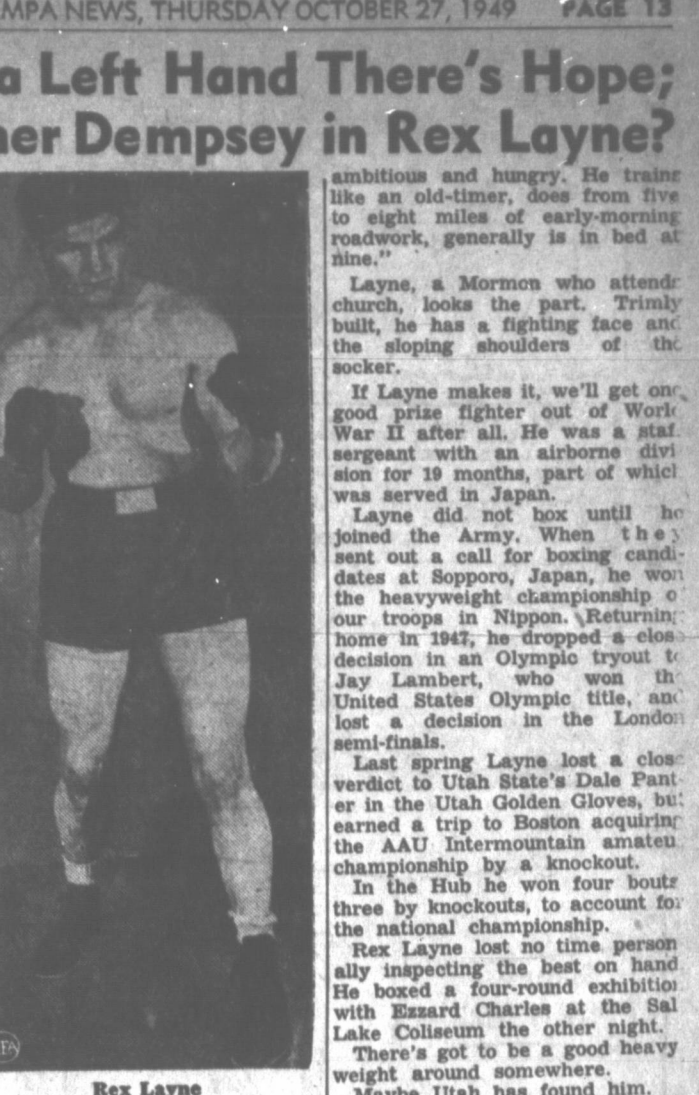

are gone and rookies must fill in.

Montreal is the good field, no hit club of the NHL. The one-pronged Canadians have been skidding downward for some time and will continue that trend unless they develop scoring punch.

At the Madison Square Garden home of the New York Rangers, coach Lynn Patrick starts his first full season with hopes of landing a playoff berth. This would be a distinct novelty in the big town, where the Rangers have been pitiful since before the war, going as high as fourth but once. The splendid Chucky Rayner is back in the Blueshirt net, and among the proven newcomers is Norman (Bud) Poile, purchased from Detroit. Patrick is high on his rookies.

NHL Skaters Off On 70-Game Grind

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY—This looks more like a pinwheel than New York Rangers demonstrating a body check. That's Leswick going over the top of defense man Allan Stanley, left, and Fred Shero.

By JIM BECKER AP Newsfeatures Sports Writer NEW YORK — The six teams in the National Hockey League get 30 more shots at the four play-off berths, this season.

The league, never one to play 60 games when 70 will do, is underway with the longer card for this campaign. The boys won't be off the ice until mid-April, when a Stanley Cup winner will be crowned. The regular season runs until March 26 to eliminate two teams. The other four scramble for the hardware.

Toronto's Maple Leafs, who finished fourth last season, have won the Stanley play-offs three straight seasons. Experts figure their chance of holding on is excellent, and also pick them to move up a couple of notches in the standings.

The Detroit Red Wings, winners by nine games in last year's regular season scramble, again are tabbed for the top. The Wings, highest scorers in the loop in 1948-49, have added front line punch in Pete Babando and Jimmy Peters from Boston. This pair will add depth to the team in the forward line, where lack of reserve strength was the chief cause of the Wings' loss to the Leafs in the Cup finals.

Throughout the rest of the circuit, trading has been lively. Also, a new coach, Buck Boucher, has taken over at Boston.

All four of the other clubs are depending on rookies in key spots, and behind Detroit and Toronto will be a scramble for the other two playoff spots.

The Chicago Black Hawks, weak at goal for more than 10 years, have immeasurably strengthened that vital spot with the addition of Frankie Brimsek, since 1928 the regular goal-tender for the Boston Bruins.

Brimsek, although his sensational play for the Bruins had earned him the nickname of "Mr. Zero" for all the shutouts he racked up, was unhappy in Boston. He wanted to play closer to the Eveleth, Minn., home and the Hawks obliged by shelling out $25,000 for his contract, although he now is 34 years old.

"He still has the reflexes of a youngster," says Bill Tobin, owner of the Hawks. "And I think he has three more good years left."

To aid Brimsek, Chicago has added defensive strength from their Kansas City farm, and the highest scoring minor leaguer in hockey, Ray Powell, to the forward line. In addition, Coach Charlie Conacher has the Hawks in the best early-season shape of any team in the loop. Conacher figures condition will be vital over the long 70-game stretch.

The departure of Brimsek leaves the Bruins out on a limb in the nets. Rookie Jack Gelineau, former McGill University star, will attempt to get new coach Boucher off that precarious spot. The big question is: Does he have enough experience for a major league goaltending? Boucher thinks so.

Boston's Babando and Peters went to Detroit for ace Defense-man Bill Quackenbush, who won last year's Lady Byng trophy for gentlemanly conduct combined with effective play. He was the first rear guard man ever to capture that title. Forward Pete Horeck came along in the deal. Several others of the old guard

Here's Plan For New Life

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK - (AP) - This is becoming a planned world.

But whether the world of tomorrow will be a fair or foul place to live in depends on you.

Therefore I have gone out, found out what the people want. And, based on what they said, I drew up a blueprint of the ideal dream community of the future.

There are two main sections of the community, separated by a 24-foot-high wall studded with broken glass and having only a single entrance - heavily guarded.

There are no loud noises. Any one who honks a motor horn is fined $10.00 and given a year in jail.

There are two Sundays in each week, one for reading the Sunday newspaper, one for going to church.

'DUST OF THE EARTH' SEEN AS NO MERE FIGURE OF SPEECH

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

ROCHESTER, N.Y. — (AP) — A theory that the earth was created from dust instead of fire was unfolded before the National Academy of Sciences by one of the world's foremost chemists.

The author of the new theory is Dr. Harold Urey of the University of Chicago — eminent atomic scientist, Nobel Prize winner and discoverer of heavy water.

Urey did something unique. He looked with a chemist's eyes at the earth beneath our feet to find there the signs and clues to its origin.

The first thing he found was the temperature which had to exist in the top crust of earth about a billion years ago to form the present chemical compounds of the ground. That temperature was nearly 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

But that temperature was not the creation, he reasoned. A billion years still earlier the earth was cool, just a huge aggregation of dust gathering into a ball as the sun passed through one or more vast dust clouds in space.

This primeval dust contained every kind of chemical, including a lot of radioactive dusts. The temperature of the dust ball began rising, due to the heat from this radioactivity, and the heat pressure of gravitation as the dust got denser. Thus it rose to nearly 2,000 degrees.

Iron and everything else was uniformly scattered through this dust ball. That would be impossible according to former theories, which required a liquid ball of fire in the center of the earth, where it now is.

Chemist Urey sees an easy way for the iron to sink to earth's center while the earth was still a large, hard ball of dust. He names the chemical condition necessary by which melting iron slips in little rivulets along silicate paths.

Urey's idea of iron sinking to the center of a solid earth explains a lot of mysteries. It explains the chemical condition necessary for the drifting apart, the lost continents, the tropical climate of Antarctica, the great glacial periods, and the fluctuating length of the day.

It explains how water formed from the incoming dust and how originally waters probably lay literally boiling upon the whole face of the earth. As the iron sank, it displaced the lighter material at earth's center. This material rose on one side of the earth — where Europe now stands the first land. On the opposite side a compensating depression formed, which now is the huge basin of the Pacific Ocean.

Chemist Urey calculates the heat energy, he says, is 10,000 times more than enough to lift to a vertical height of six miles a layer of earth covering the entire earth six miles deep.

Plenty, he says to account for the drifting of the New World continents westward when they split off from Europe and Africa.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Now They're Sitting Pretty

Squint Miller, who's working as a telephone lineman, was telling me about some birds that got into a fight with his company.

Seems a couple of woodpeckers set up housekeeping in a telephone pole. Nobody minded them living there, but they kept pecking at the wires—causing one short circuit after another.

Finally, the telephone people—who had nothing personal against the birds—just stopped up the hole where they lived. But they kept coming back. At last, the company donated that pole to the woodpeckers and set up a brand-new one for their own use!

From where I sit, we'd all be better off if we were as tolerant with our own kind as that telephone outfit was with the woodpeckers. Let's consider the other fellow's point of view—whether it's his right to live where he wants, or to enjoy a friendly glass of temperate beer or ale when and if he pleases.

Connally Sees Big Cut in Aid

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Chairman Connally of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee predicted that Congress will cut European recovery aid next year by at least $1,000,000,000.

"Europe must work out her own destiny," Connally said. "We can't carry indefinitely such a heavy burden of financial help."

The Texas Democrat told a reporter the billion dollar cut was his personal guess on what Congress will be willing to do next year for the Marshall Plan nations. He said he had no official reports from the Economic Cooperation Administration that such a slash would be acceptable.

Congress voted $3,778,000,000 for Europe's recovery in the current year. Connally led the Senate fight for this program. He will carry the ball for the administration on the new ECA program when it is sent to the Senate.

Connally applauded reports that ECA Chief Paul Hoffman is going to Europe to lay down a "get tough" policy which would call for Marshall Plan nations to take further steps to reduce trade barriers.

"Hoffman is doing the right thing in talking tough," Connally said. "He should have done it earlier."

He said he did not believe Congress will be willing to extend the Marshall Plan program beyond 1952 — the goal set for Europe's recovery when the ECA act was approved.

After that date, Connally said, Congress may be willing to encourage private investment abroad as proposed in President Truman's "point four" program of aid to backward areas.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Barocrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify your sagging weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barocrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barocrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 56 pounds

Here is what Mrs. L. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 54, Whitesville, Texas, wrote me: "I want to tell you what Barocrate has done for me. I weighed 250 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 194. I have taken my dress size down from size 38 to 44 and never felt better in my life and everybody tells me how much slimmer I look than I did. I am still taking Barocrate as I want to get my weight down to 150 or 170 pounds."
