How to Oust Admiral Is New Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speculation around the Pentagon today was that the administration is trying to figure out just how to remove Admiral Louis Denfeld from his command of the Navy. Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Jenny's marriage to Ted Dumas had never been happy because of Liz Conover. Liz goes to the job office and asks Jenny for a divorce and asks Jenny to take charge of the twin Dumas boys. Liz Conover is a woman who has been married to Ted Dumas for three years. She is a woman who has been married to Ted Dumas for three years. She is a woman who has been married to Ted Dumas for three years.

THE day of the divorce hearing dawned at last: one of those drizzly September days. When it was over, Jenny had gained custody of the twins, but the decree would not become final for six months.

The judge's words resounded in Jenny's mind as Rick drove her away from the courthouse in his car. "For the sake of your two children, if nothing else, you two people should have tried in every way possible to make a success of your marriage. But if you have left nothing undone, and still cannot live together in any semblance of peace and happiness, there is nothing else to do but to cross your marriage off the books as a failure."

She had tried. She had loved Ted. Rick put his hand over hers. "I could tell you were miserable. But there had to be unpleasantness attached to it, you know. I wonder what Ted thought about the six months' wait for the final decree."

TOD, in fact, had been stunned by the verdict. He ought to feel happy that the divorce had been granted. He was free. Only, you were never quite free of someone with whom you had lived and shared things as he and Jenny had. Besides there were the boys. His

Princess' Speech Brews Tempest in British Teapot

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Analyst

Public pronouncements by the King and other immediate members of the British royal family ordinarily are non-controversial and are sanctioned in advance by the Prime Minister's office, since the monarchy is Constitutional.

For this reason England sat up and took notice when 22-year-old Princess Elizabeth, heiress to the throne, made a public address in which she gave the country a good trouncing for lax morals. She was speaking at a Mothers' Union meeting and her remarks were aimed at the British royal family which has increased heavily since the outbreak of the late war.

"When we see around us the havoc which has been wrought, above all among the children, by the breakup of homes," said the princess, "I can have no doubt that divorce and separation are responsible for some of the darkest evils in our society today. I do not think you can perform any finer service than to help maintain the Christian doctrine that the relationship of the husband and wife is a permanent one, not to be lightly broken because of difficulties or quarrels."

This speech by the niece of King Edward VIII, who abdicated the throne to marry an American divorcee, was the sharpest delivered by royalty in recent years. It had the surprising effect of bringing a rebuke from the King and the royal family, which broke the tradition of silence toward royal utterances by challenging her statement that divorcees lead to many of Britain's social evils.

So a good sized tempest has been brewed in the British teapot. One of the highly interesting aspects of the development, as I see it, rests in the fact that Mrs. Geoffrey Fisher, wife of the Archbishop of Canterbury, presided over the meeting at which the princess spoke. Therefore it strikes me that Elizabeth must have had not only the approval of Prime Minister Attlee's office but that of the head of the Church of England.

What is the significance? Well, there are those in informed places who believe that England is ready for a radical and religious revival. They feel that the country won't overcome its economic troubles or regain its old status until there has been a tightening up of morality.

Ex-Sheriff Gets Five-Year Term

GREENVILLE, Texas — (AP) — Former Delta County Sheriff Nolan Maynard was sentenced to five years in prison Monday for the murder of Miss Dorothy Palmer of Cooper.

Maynard's attorney said he would file a motion for a new trial. If that is denied, W. H. Crunk said, he will appeal the sentence.

The jury received the case shortly before 7 p. m. and returned its verdict shortly before 10 p. m.

Miss Palmer, 22, was shot to death on May 26, 1948. Maynard testified Saturday she shot herself with his pistol as they rode in his car between Cooper and Sulphur Springs.

The case was transferred here.

U. S. Chewing Gum Made Eastern Issue

SINGAPORE — (AP) — U. S. chewing gum sales to the Philippines have been jawed about two days at the conference of the United Nations Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East (ECAFE).

The sticky issue was raised by the Soviet delegate, S. S. Nemtchina. Yesterday he charged that the United States was more interested in selling chewing gum than materials for industrial development to the Far East.

Then, U. S. Ambassador to the Philippines Myron M. Cowen told the conference:

"The Philippines are an independent country, so I assume we can't stop them from chewing our gum if they like it."

Noro Morales Is Character Of New York

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — In a city of characters Noro Morales is one of the biggest.

He is a short dark man of 37 who weighs between 265 and 320 pounds — depending on his mood — can identify more than 45 perfumes by their odor, and wears a ring with 21 diamonds on the little finger of his right hand.

His weight, his collection of perfumes and his diamond rings reflect Noro's rising status as "The Rajah of the Rumba."

He shares the honor with another dance band leader, Xavier Cugat. His fans say Cugat may play a sweeter rumba, but Noro — "he puts in more tom tom."

"I like music with the bongo in it," is the way Morales, who wrote the current song hit, "Rumba and Soda," likes to put it.

The reason I sought out Noro, however, wasn't his music. I wanted to explore a report he was the author of the current Broadway catch phrase — "wha happen?"

I found "the rajah" holding court as usual in Hanson's drugstore at Seventh Avenue and 51st Street. This is a favorite hangout of theatrical and musical personalities until they become famous, but on dark glasses, go to El Morocco — and dare photographers to try and find them.

About this phrase on everybody's lips — how did "wha happen" come to happen?

"I use these phrases ever since I learn English — in 1935," said Noro. "But it really didn't catch on until about four years ago. I play engagement and when it sees finish no money come, so I say, 'wha happen?' and everybody think it ees funny."

Later Morales wrote a song called "Wha Hoppin, Baby?"

Noted Ranch Is Sold to Texan

ROSWELL, N. M. — (AP) — The land where Billy the Kid lived and hid from the law became the property of a Texan here.

Arthur L. Wason, rancher, oilman and philanthropist, from Big Spring, purchased the historical Block Ranch from T. A. Stencer and family from Carrizosa, N. M.

The sale price was in excess of $1,000,000 for the 200-section ranch and the 5,000 cattle, according to Hiram Dow, Roswell attorney and member of the Pecos River Water Compact Commission, who handled the transaction.

The Block Ranch was established by W. C. McDonald, a native of Scotland who became New Mexico's first Governor in 1912.

American Debts Hit Record High

WASHINGTON — (AP) — America's total debts — private and public — stood at a record $429,400,000,000 level at the start of this fiscal year after a 12-month climb of $14,000,000,000, the Commerce Department reported.

Averaged out, that would be over $2,875 indebtedness for each man, woman and child in the country.

Greatest debtors were the governments — federal, state and local — who were in the hole $232,700,000,000. Private debt, $196,700,000,000, was split in this fashion: corporations $112,100,000,000, individuals and unincorporated enterprises $84,600,000,000.

The federal government alone owed over half the total American debt: $216,500,000,000 on a net basis, which leaves out billions of guarantees that count in gross debt figures.

During 1948, when other governments, corporations and individuals as a whole were running up their debt totals, the federal government made a $6,000,000,000 reduction, the department said.

Now the government's debt is growing again as it overpays its income.

Most rapid expansion in private debt, said the department, was a 52 percent climb for farm production loans, mostly provided by the government in connection with its price support program. Farm mortgage debt totaled $5,100,000,000 and other farm debt $5,400,000,000 at the start of this year.

36 Attend Breakfast

The beginning of the annual Girl Scout drive took an unexpected twist this morning when 36 members of the Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary Clubs and Junior Chamber of Commerce met in the Palm Room for the kick-off breakfast.

During every drive of the Scout association in past years, there have been from six to 20 extra plates since some workers who indicated they would attend failed to show up.

This morning 11 extra places had to be set up because of the interest shown by the drive workers.

Joe Wells, general drive chairman, explained how the contact cards should be worked. A. C. Troop, president of the association, thanked the civic workers for their part in the drive.

The drive started at the close of the breakfast. Drive chairmen hope the $400 goal may be reached by the end of next week.

Western Union To Change Rates

Western Union on Nov. 1 will introduce a new state point-to-state point telegraph rate in Texas, it was learned yesterday from Bob Watson, local manager.

The new rates, he said, provide equal charges for equal distances and eliminate inconsistencies in that respect on present tariffs.

Charges between some points have been lowered, while others have been raised.

He said that there will be 32 decreases in rates noted in the Pampa tariff, and 15 increases.

As an example, he said the old rate on a 10-word message from Pampa to Dallas was 72 cents. Under the new rate plan the charge will be 60 cents.

15 Percent of Cotton Gathered

Between 12 and 15 percent of the cotton in this area has been harvested, L. P. Fort, local manager of the Texas Employment Commission, said this morning.

"A few crews are drifting in from other areas," he added, "but they will probably move on when cold weather sets in."

If a frost kills the cotton leaves, many of the farmers in the McLean area and Wheeler County plan to use machine strippers. About 500 additional laborers are needed in these areas, he said.

Housing is available for crews. Also, a demand has been shown for compress workers at Twitty as well as a couple of good ginners.

Two Minor Fires Are Reported

Firemen were called at 7:45 p. m. yesterday and 7:45 a. m. today to extinguish two minor fires.

Last night's fire was at the home of O. Gordon Powell, 405 Hughes. A divan became ignited and was destroyed, and the wall adjoining the divan was damaged.

A stove too near a curtain at the S. North home, 425 N. Zimmers, this morning resulted in the second alarm. The curtain caught fire, but firemen had the blaze under control before any serious damage occurred.

VOTING

Election judges were told to note particularly the qualifications for judges and assistants, outlined on Page 29 of the booklet, which, Parker said, are being strictly enforced.

The law provides, among other things, that no one who is not a qualified voter of his precinct shall act as an election judge or clerk. And also: "No one who holds an office of profit or trust under the United States or of this State, or in any city or town . . . or within 30 days after resigning or being dismissed from such office . . . or who is a candidate for office, or who has not paid his poll tax, shall act as judge, clerk, or supervisor . . ."

GOVERNOR

Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas says rural electrification co-ops ought to steer clear of federal squabbles.

He said last night co-ops had no reason to get into such fights as the recent electric battle over nomination of Leland Olds as federal power commissioner.

But, he told the meeting "a man purporting to speak for all of you went on record publicly in an endorsement of the nomination."

Shivers and Johnson were guests of honor last night at a dinner of the County Democratic Executive Committee.

Before Johnson spoke, Clyde T. Ellis, executive manager of the Natural Electric Cooperative Association, told the REA meeting power companies are seeking "to kill off" electric co-operatives.

"For your political life as for your business life I recommend a four-word slogan: stay out of the red," Johnson said.

Compromise Seen Possible

WASHINGTON — (AP) — An industry leader's suggestion that a steel strike compromise is possible encouraged government officials today in their efforts to settle the coal-steel crisis.

These officials saw a chance of getting company-union peace talks started, on the steel pension financing dispute.

They pinned their hopes on remarks made by Chairman Irvin S. Olds of the U. S. Steel Corp. in New York yesterday after a board of directors meeting.

"It seems to me," Olds said, "the sensible thing would be to sit down and see how far we could get toward agreeing on a pension program. We might even reach some common ground on contributory and non-contributory features."

He implied that the amount of proposed pension and insurance might provide a basis for bargaining. That issue has never come up he said, because of disagreement over another matter.

What Is to Be Nation's First Line of Defense

(EDITOR'S NOTE) This is the second of a series of articles summing up and analyzing the armed services controversy.)

By BARNEY LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON — (AP) — What is to be the nation's first line of defense? The strategic long-range bomber, or naval carrier aviation?

This, very much in brief, is the thorny question which the admirals and the generals have been airing in all its pros and cons before a perplexed nation in recent weeks.

On the solution of these differences — strategic versus tactical airpower — may rest the course of initial U. S. defense strategy in case of war.

The Navy's admirals touched off the explosive dispute with the assertion that too much dependence is being laid on unproven strategic bombing (the raiding of distant targets as contrasted with air attacks in close support of other fighting forces.)

Underlying the whole dispute is the universally held assumption among our military planners that the next war — if it comes — will pit the United States against the world's greatest land power. Namely, Soviet Russia.

And how to command the air is what is bothering the admirals and the generals.

Our strategic air planners, in their testimony before the House Armed Services Committee, have stated that the long-range strategic bomber is:

1. The prime retaliatory weapon upon the outbreak of war.
2. The best weapon to destroy the war-making potential of the enemy.
3. And finally, the only weapon by which we can strike into the heart of Russia — the nation occupying the greatest land mass in the world.

Some insight into what these Army and Air Force planners think is furnished by Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff. He told Congress: "Ultimately . . . we will have to carry the war back to the enemy by all means at our disposal. I am convinced that this will include strategic air bombardment, and large-scale land operations."

This conception relegates the purpose, heavy atomic bombers at the expense of small fast bombers and extremely high performance fighters for which we now have such an urgent need in great numbers.

Admiral Arthur W. Radford, the Navy's top air admiral, summed up the differences between strategic and tactical concepts this way: "It is my opinion that the Air Force is concentrating on slow, expensive, very vulnerable, single-purpose, heavy atomic bombers at the expense of small fast bombers and extremely high performance fighters for which we now have such an urgent need in great numbers."

In contrast with the precise tactical bombing of carrier fighters, the Navy says:

1. The strategic bomber is vulnerable to fighter defense, and must take unacceptable losses.
2. The inaccuracy of high-level

Eight of the fourteen injured were children.

Seriously hurt in the explosion were:

Michael Staton, four, head injuries.

Mrs. Virginia Ballard, 28, shock and burns.

David Ballard, 7, head injuries.

The others were not considered badly injured.

Betty Ann Ballard, 9, related: "I was in bed drinking a glass of lemonade and reading a funnybook. I laid the funnybook down. Then everything blew up. I got Carol's hand to keep her from getting hurt, and things begin falling on us. They hit my leg. I was scared."

"A man came in and got me first. He drug me outside and put me down and then he went back and got my little sister."

"Then the firemen came. They went back in and got my brother. And then some men went back and got my mama."

"We had been smelling gas."

Shannon said that he had to pull his head from beneath a pile of wreckage.

"All I could think about was her and the boy," he said. "It happened all at once. I really don't know what happened."

Sailboats That Carry Dairy Cargo

FULL CARGO—Attractive sailboats carry a valuable supply of milkshakes to a children's party.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

When an after-school party teaches youngsters good eating habits and increases their happiness at the same time, that's a party to make mothers grateful. Let's call it a sailboat party. Allow your children to ask in a few friends after school. Then plan this simple and novel little get-together.

Give them warm squares of spicy gingerbread topped with whipped cream. Use either the following recipe or else prepared gingerbread mix.

To add gaiety, get a small plastic boat at the dime store for each young guest and write his or her name on the sail. Into the little boats load a rich cargo, either a tall glass of milk or a vanilla or chocolate milkshake.

Oh yes — tell the young visitors they may take home the sailboats on the valuable cargo has been unloaded. Watch that vigorous building milk disappear.

Gingerbread

One-half cup butter, 1 cut light brown sugar, 2 eggs, 2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons ginger, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 cup boiling water, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 cup molasses.

Work butter to a soft cream and beat in the sugar. Add the eggs and beat to a smooth cream. Sift flour with salt, soda, baking powder and spices. Mix boiling water and molasses, stir into the butter mixture, then add the flour and stir just enough to mix to a smooth batter. Pour into a buttered 8x12-inch baking pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 40 minutes or until the gingerbread is firm to the touch and shrunk from the sides of the pan.

Vanilla Milkshake (4 servings)

Three cups milk, 1 pint vanilla ice cream. Put milk and ice cream in a shaker and shake until well blended. Pour into tall glasses and serve at once.

Cocktail Suits Shine Like Glow Worms After Dark

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The shimmer of metallic threads or the glitter of jewels make new cocktail suits shine like glow worms after dark.

Many of these so-called suits are actually one-piece dresses with a two-piece look. Imported antique gold croquignole taffeta—a crinkled taffeta which achieves its metallic sheen from a weav- ing process of crossing black threads with gold — makes a dress that passes for a suit. Styled by Pauline Trigere, winner of the 1949 Fashion Critics' Award, this ultra-smart dress has a straight skirt flounced by a pleated peplum, stand-up collar and three-quarter length sleeves.

Make-believe sapphires set in gold glitter like real jewels from a cocktail suit of stone blue faille. The notched hipline jacket of this Eisenberg design, which is buttoned up with these "jewels," has a draped cowl collar and a neckline bow. The skirt is circular.

Winged T Adds Tactics of Single Wing Power Attack

(This is the last of a series of three stories on football's T formation. Previous stories covered the regular T and the Split T.)

By JIM BECKER

A desire by many football coaches to combine the offensive advantages of the single wing back and T formations led to the development of the Winged T. Lou Little, Columbia's veteran coach, was among the first to adopt this style of attack, as an answer to some coaches who say the T formation is a case of "interference, follow me."

In the Winged T, the line is balanced (three men on each side of the center) and the quarterback is up behind the center. He tucks the ball on most plays and is the chief passer as in the regular T. Two backs retain their regular T positions, about five yards back of the line and behind the offensive tackles. The third back is stationed outside the end, in the wingback post of the single wing.

From this setup most of striking speed into the line of the regular T is maintained. In addition, ball carrying duties are distributed more evenly than in the single wing. As in the T, the high blocking is easier to teach and helps to hide the actions of the quarterback.

Little says: "I feel that the winged T retains most of the trickery and speed of the T, with its handoffs and counter plays, while giving added power to running plays off the right side, as in the single wing. We get more chances for the two man block on the important end. Of course it loses some of the strength of the formations, but it adds many strong points. We especially like to lure the defense into declaring itself before the play."

Other advantages of the wingback are that he can get down the field fast on passes, he sets the defense to create a good reverse possibility to the weak side and he is in a good set blocking position. Quick slashes to the left side by the left halfback or fullback may be even more effective from the winged T, because the defense must shift somewhat to the wingback's side.

SMU's first undefeated team was in 1923, and two of the stars were Logan Stollonewski and "Ham" Payne, each of whom has a son on the SMU varsity this season.

Unbeaten Henderson Puts Record in Jeopardy Friday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The surprising Henderson Lions, who have gone through six games undefeated and untied and yielded only seven points to the opposition, get the acid test this week in the feature of Texas Schoolboy football.

The Lions, a quick-striking outfit, meet Marshall at Marshall Friday night and if they hurdle that one they'll be top favorites for the District 9 championship of Class AA.

Henderson is one of six unbeaten, untied elevens in the state. Marshall lost the first time last week and it was a surprise, too. South Park of Beaumont took them down. But Marshall still is the most formidable team for Henderson.

Another of the teams with unblemished records also gets a rugged test. Corsicana, just as surprising as Henderson, takes on the City Conference and Class AA. It is the first week for conference games to predominate.

Others unbeaten, untied teams appear in no danger. Wichita Falls plays Quanah. Lubbock marches against Lamesa and Port Arthur against Orange while Grand Prairie rests.

Among the unbeaten but tied, Reagan of Houston plays Milby of Houston in District 3 of the City Conference. Baytown engages Pasadena in a District 12 conference game in Class AA. Neither is expected to lose.

There are 49 games in the state this weekend with 38 of them conference affairs. They involve 18 of the 20 districts of the City Conference and Class AA. It is the first week for conference games to predominate.

Lefors Bandits Play Tomorrow

LEFORS (Special) — The Lefors Junior High Bandits will play the Clarendon Junior High Thursday night at 7:30. Last week the Bandits romped over the Wheeler Junior High at Wheeler.

Coach Beam of the Bandits says that the game will probably be a rough one. He said his club has improved 100 percent since the first game of the season and that the boys seemed to find themselves last week against Wheeler.

NEW YORK (AP) — One reason why Branch Rickey is acknowledged No. 1 man in baseball trading is that nearly every Brooklyn talent to another major league club, the deal calls for a "messenger" to bring the money back to you. And if you want to know what becomes of the messengers, look at this: In 1946 Rickey sold Monte Baggall to Pittsburgh for $60,000 and Jimmy Bloodworth, the next year Bloodworth went to Cincinnati for $50,000 and money-toter Kermit Wahl . . .

ATLANTA (AP) — The payoff for playing in 1950 football bowls will be greater than ever with the adoption of NCAA "proposals" by three of Dixie's major bowls.

The Sugar in New Orleans, Cotton in Dallas and Gator in Jacksonville have approved the collegiate athletic association recommendation that each competing team be paid at least 40 percent of gate receipts.

DALLAS (AP) — Out in the plains country, Lubbock's Westerners beat a championship football team from the Hub City may have its second Texas Schoolboy title winner in 10 years.

The Westerners are moving through the opposition like a scythe. The payoff came last week when they beat Amarillo 47-7. Few times in history has Amarillo taken a 40-point licking.

If Lubbock does go to the finals of the Schoolboy race it will be a great story.

The day the finals will be played will mark exactly 10 years since another Lubbock team — this one called the team of destiny — rolled to the championship.

The Lubbock team of 1939 won because of an ideal — because it wanted to bring that glory to a fellow who couldn't attain it in life. The story of Weldon Chapman is well known. He died in mid-season. He had long been a high school coach, had produced many strong teams but never had known that honor.

The Lubbock team of that year hadn't been going anywhere. It had game after game. But when Chapman became ill, and told his assistant, Goober Keyes, to carry on for him the team of destiny was born. There is no record that the boys actually got together and made a vow to win the state title. Keyes didn't ask the team to do it. He said he didn't feel that was what Chapman would have wanted. But there was an understanding among the team and among the people of Lubbock that this was it — that this team was going to win for Chapman.

Guerillas Seek Revenge for Lone Defeat of Year Friday

The Senior High School "B" team Guerillas will seek retribution here Friday night when they tackle the big and rough Price College "A" team at Harvester Park. Game time will be 8 o'clock.

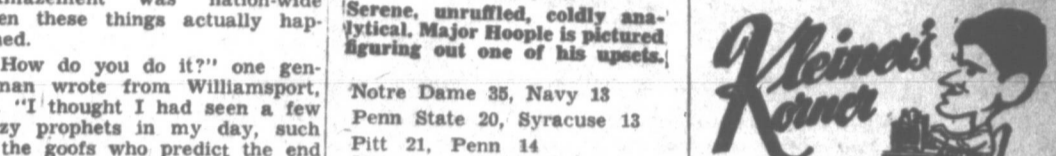

Price College, a team composed of boys up to as old as 19, is the only squad to hold a victory over the Guerillas this season. That was accomplished in Amarillo two weeks ago in a rough ballgame. The loss for the Guerillas ran even deeper than just the game, as it cost them the services of athletes. Charley Ely, fullback, broke a bone in his foot and will be out the rest of the season. Jimmy Cook, end, chipped a bone in his shoulder and will also be out of action for a while. Derral Wilson, speedy back, is working with a bad back. Outside of those three injuries the Guerillas will be prepared for Friday.

Amazement Nation-Wide, Hoople Takes Bow Diagnosing Unexpected

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Wizard of Upsets

Gridiron enthusiasts have learned to look to my sterling forecasts for a number of upsets each Saturday.

Egad! This week is no exception. My three recommended specials are Pitt to defeat Penn., Illinois to overcome Michigan and Washington to upset Southern California.

I have received mountains of letters commending me for my success in diagnosing unexpected results. On a recent Saturday, you know, I picked Northwestern to beat Michigan, Rice to prevail over Southern Methodist, and Santa Clara to beat UCLA.

Amazement was nation-wide when these things actually happened.

"How do you do it?" one gentleman wrote from Williamsport, Pa. "I thought I had seen a few crazy prophets in my day, such as the goofs who predict the end of the world, and birds who say it's going to rain because the cat sleeps on the left side of the fireplace, but you are positively the weirdest character I ever met."

Texas Hopes For Change Saturday

AUSTIN (Special) — Texas travels back to Dallas Saturday, hopeful of changing its luck in the enlarged Cotton Bowl.

The bid for a better fate will come when Southern Methodist University, the only Southwest Conference rival that holds an edge over the Longhorns in the all-time standings. Since the rivalry began in 1916, SMU has won 13 games, Texas 12 and three others have resulted in ties.

That was the challenge tossed at Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati, the NEA heavyweight boxing champion, today by Joey Maxim of Cleveland after a fifth-round technical knockout here last night over Joe Kahun of Portland, Ore. "I want Charles again," he said. "He's a dirty fighter. He doesn't break clean. He shoves with his shoulder on what is supposed to be a clean break and then socks you with a right."

QUESTION: What kind of ducks appear on the 1949-50 federal "duck stamp?"

SPORTS SIDELIGHTS: If the weather is as good tomorrow as it was Tuesday, you can expect to see good golf out at the Pampa Country Club. . . PRESIDENT WILL HARRIDGE of the American League met Manager Casey Stengel in the Yankees' clubhouse after the final World Series game and greeted the jubilant Casey with: "Casey, the American League is proud of you." . . . Casey came right back with: "Mr. Hartridge, the Yankees are proud of the American League. . . When the New York Football Yankees went looking for ends in 1946, they found a couple of experts in Texas. . . Bruce Alford of TCU and Jack Russell of Baylor have been the Yankees' regular wingmen from the start of the All-American Conference until this moment. . . After three and a half years of effort they are tied with 69 forward pass catches apiece, Alford for 1,185 yards and Russell for 1,069. . . And where is that pitcher that said that Preacher Roe's pitching performance in the World Series could be called a "sermon on the mound" . . .

PAUL HINRICHS, $40,000 Yankee bonus rookie who formerly performed in this league, has been recalled by the Yankees. . . He had a 3 won, 10 lost record this past season with Kansas City. . . When Pancho Gonzales turned professional he missed a chance to make a niche in tennis history. . . Had he played and won in the National Hardcourt Tournament in Berkeley, Calif., he would have been the first American player to hold the wood surface, clay, grass and hard court championships. . . A Birmingham, Ala., sportswriter claims that the Southeastern Conference has never seen a team as strong as this year's Tulane eleven. . . It's not too deep, but three, four and five deep at some post very highly of the Southeastern after the lacing handed Tulane by Notre Dame's Irish. . .

LLOYD BRAZIL, University of Detroit's director of athletics, says his most embarrassing moment occurred during the 1945 baseball season. . . He was driving with the university baseball squad through one of the suburbs en route to the game. . . Suddenly he heard the roar of a motor cycle pulling along side. . . "Full over, Bud!" said the officer. . . Brazil meekly complied. . . "Where are you going in such a hurry?" the law demanded. . . Brazil explained he was on the way to a ball game his team was going to play. . . The officer shut his notebook. "I'll see you there," he said, "I'm the umpire." . .

BUCKY HARRIS, newly re-appointed manager of the Washington Senators, had a tough time breaking into pro baseball. . . He started at Norfolk in 1917 and was making good when the league folded. . . He shifted to Reading and in a few more weeks that outfit took the count. . . He transferred to Buffalo, and when the season ended he was informed the club would not operate the next year. . . Bucky went to work in a shipyard and a few weeks later enlisted in the Army for the first World War. . . Joe Louis, who has been a faithful fan of the Detroit Tigers baseball team, is reported to have switched his allegiance to the Brooklyn Dodgers with Jackie Robinson holding the top spot on Joe's list of heroes. . .

ANSWER: The picture on this season's stamp shows goldeneye ducks. This stamp is the sixteenth in the series of migratory waterfowl hunting stamps.

Gulf Coast Is Near Existence
LAKE CHARLES, La. — (AP) — The Gulf Coast Baseball League is a step closer to actual existence today.

Five cities — Lake Charles, Crowley and Opelousas, La., and Galveston and Port Arthur, Texas, paid membership dues and elected temporary officers yesterday at a meeting here.

Howard Green, of Abilene, Texas, was named temporary president. Dick Oliver, sports editor of the Port Arthur News, was appointed secretary.

Green said the next move would be to get a sixth member. He said an effort would be made to interest Baytown or Orange, Texas, in joining.

Robert (Red) Rolfe, manager of the Detroit Tigers, stole 11 bases for Darnouth in 1931 to lead the Eastern Intercollegiate League.

Brazil Soccer Fans Tough on Umpires

RIO DE JANEIRO — (AP) — How about a slightly medieval moat around your playing field? The municipal stadium, a huge affair expected to be ready for the world football championship next year, has one. It is intended, along with a wire fence, to keep the fans away from the players and referee.

British officials now working in Brazil probably will approve. One of them was manhandled recently on leaving the field. Another was spat upon by a fan.

One heckled official — not a phlegmatic Briton — got even, sometime back, in a provincial game. There was only one ball. He took it, pulled out a knife, slashed it — and ran.

Even the police had a hard time at a recent Botafogo-Vasco da Gama clash. Botafogo fans — presumably, since they were among the rooters on Botafogo's side of the stands — bombarded the Vasco goal with heavy firecrackers repeatedly.

LONG (AIR) ARM OF LAW NABS CHEATING ARIZONA HUNTERS

PHOENIX, Ariz. — (AP) — Cheating hunters are being stalked by airplanes in Arizona.

Spotting game law violations from the air was initiated with great success during the recent state-supervised antelope hunt.

Game rangers, rising in slow-cruising aircraft, scanned the hills, valleys and meadows of northern Arizona for law-breaking hunters.

When an observer, using binoculars, spotted a violation or suspicious actions, he radioed the information and location to rangers on the ground. The ground officials in most cases were able to speed by car to the area and make arrests before the culprits could leave or dispose of the evidence.

In one instance, an airborne ranger saw a hunter kill one antelope and wound a second. The bag limit was one buck. The ranger landed his plane between the hunter and the dead animal while the hunter was running to it.

On another occasion, a flying ranger spotted a plane chasing a herd of antelope toward hunters on the ground. The ranger followed the plane to an airport and arrested the pilot. Five of the pursued antelope died of exhaustion.

Chasing antelope by automobile was the most common violation sighted from the air. Several arrests were made and fines imposed.

"Actually, there were fewer violations than ever during the antelope hunt," said Thomas L. Kimball, director of the state game and fish commission. "When word got around about the airplane spotters, the hunters were careful to stay within the regulations."

"Killing of does was almost negligible," Kimball reported.

Rangers took bloodhounds into the hunting areas to search out dead and wounded does. There were less than 20.

Enforcement of hunting regulations by aerial observation proved particularly practical in the antelope hunt because the animals range in open areas, Kimball said. It would not be as successful in deer hunts since deer haunt the forests and deep canyons.

This fall's antelope hunting season was the first held in Arizona since 1943.

Six hundred permits were issued. Recipients were drawn by lot from the list of applicants.

Another innovation in the antelope hunt was a scoring system set up by the game and fish department. The objective was to encourage clean kills without damaging the meat, selective killing of old bucks with trophy heads, and the proper care of the meat after the kill.

To make a perfect score of 100, the hunter had to get an antelope with at least one horn measuring 17 inches, both horns symmetrical. The animal had to be killed with one shot through the neck. The hunter had to skin the animal as quickly as possible and take good care of the meat.

Four hunters made the 100 score. One hundred and thirteen scored between 80 and 100.

"It certainly indicated that by far the majority of the hunters are sportsmen," said O. N. Arington, big game supervisor for the department.

Two Horse Show
BALTIMORE — (AP) — The Pimlico Special Friday is going to be a pure case of deciding which horse can run the faster.

Sheer speed is the only question to decide since Calumet's Coaltown and Greentree's Capot will be the only starters.

There'll be no such racing complications as pace or worrying about shut off.

Three of Gene Hermanski's 15 home runs for the Dodgers in 1948 came in one game last August.

Kramer-Gonzales Off to Big Start

NEW YORK — (AP) — Even if he never beats Jack Kramer in their professional tennis tour, Richard (Pancho) Gonzales is going to have a lot of fun and make a lot of money.

They launched the tour in Madison Square Garden last night and Kramer showed that he still is the best tennis player in the world by drubbing the 21-year-old Mexican-American youth, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

But the crowd of 13,967 fans who came out on a rainy night and contributed to a gross gate of $41,128 cheered Gonzales all the way.

Not since 1921 has SMU finished seventh in the Southwest Conference.

Our $64,000,000 Answer TO TEXAS' DEMAND FOR MORE BUDWEISER

Making friends is our business—and has been for nearly a century, but BUDWEISER has so many friends that there hasn't always been enough to go 'round.

The war interrupted our plans to expand what was even then the world's largest brewery. Expansion of our facilities since Repeal—$64,000,000 worth—has since been completed. But this is not enough to meet the ever-increasing demand for BUDWEISER, so still more expansion is now under way.

You can see from the label on the BUDWEISER bottle that the world's most famous beer is brewed from finest barley malt and brewers' rice and choicest hops.

But it is not as simple as it sounds. Our brewing process, the most expensive known, calls for much equipment built to our own design.

Besides, BUDWEISER is one of America's very few TRUE lager beers. "Lagering" is a technical term for much-longer-than-usual ageing of beer under the most favorable conditions. BUDWEISER is really aged. Its secondary fermentation period alone is longer than thirty days.

This means that we have to have the biggest collection of ageing cellars on earth. It means that we have to have row after row of immaculate glass-lined lagering tanks, each so big that you could drop a truck into it.

It means that we have to generate enough electricity to supply the household needs of a city almost as big as Dallas. Our railroad shipping facilities have been enlarged until they now exceed those of most cities of 100,000 to 200,000 population.

Altogether, this expansion means that you get in each bottle or can of BUDWEISER a beer without equal anywhere.

Every sip tells you that all these expensive materials and processes are worthwhile. It explains why all America prefers BUDWEISER. There's nothing like it... absolutely nothing.

Can We Check the Revolutionaries?

What does the conviction of the 11 Communist leaders mean to the future of their party?

Obviously it deprives the party of the bulk of its present national leadership. Elizabeth G. Flynn is the only member of the top group now available for full service. One other, William Z. Foster, is disabled by a heart ailment and is himself under indictment.

The convictions will of course be appealed and probably will be reviewed by the Supreme Court. Until a final decision is had, it is unlikely any profound change will occur in the American Communist Party except the temporary development of new leadership.

But what then? Foster and Miss Flynn insist that if the convictions are upheld the party will not go underground, as some of its spokesmen threatened in the closing days of the nine months' trial.

Yet it is hard to see how it can do otherwise if the jury in that trial has correctly gauged the aims and purposes of the party.

The 11 leaders were convicted of conspiracy to teach and advocate the overthrow of the U. S. government by force and violence. To make a case against these defendants, government lawyers had to satisfy the jury that the entire party is bent upon such a conspiracy. They had to convince the jurors that the organization is not a legitimate American political party but merely masquerades as one to achieve its revolutionary aims.

It is conceivable the heart of the party's work may be driven underground. But the facade of a regular party is still maintained above ground. For this case does not appear to outlaw the Communist Party nor to make its members automatically subject to penalties for conspiracy.

In every instance the government will have to prove to the surface and expose their revolutionary intent. This looks like a continuing advantage for the Communists, this privilege of keeping the false facade in place. But actually it will not make much difference. The truth is the Communist Party has always operated underground to a considerable degree.

Even to prove a conspiracy in the present case, the FBI had to ferret out these secret activities. The government has made clear it is ready to delve deeper in the future if necessary to bring conspirators to justice.

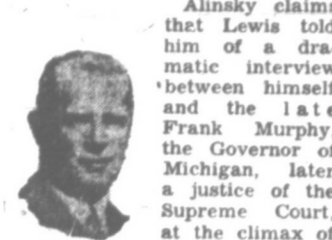

Having part of the organization above ground may really be a help despite the fact it is a phony front, for it may well supply the FBI with leads to the underground.

Thus it seems to us the important thing is not to outlaw

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1949)

NEW YORK — In the present crisis in steel and coal there is bitter news for Americans in a new book, the latest of many biographies of John L. Lewis, by Saul Alinsky, of Chicago.

Alinsky claims that Lewis told him of a dramatic interview between himself and the late Frank Murphy, the Governor of Michigan, later a justice of the Supreme Court.

At the climax of the CIO-Communist insurrection in the form of sit-down strikes, riots and public terror in 1937, if Alinsky's report is truly presented and if Lewis did not lie to give himself the better of the situation, Murphy was a historic coward.

Up to this time there has been some question whether Murphy was yellow or believed he had some legal justification for his failure to use force to expel Lewis' criminal mob from the occupied plants in Flint.

The result of his failure was that the employees of General Motors, and millions of other American citizens, were delivered into the power of the Communists, Marxian socialists, criminal rioters and racketeers of the CIO. The current situation in steel and coal flow out of that default by a politician governor. There is no other conclusion to be drawn as to Murphy's conduct according to the version which Alinsky attributes to the tyrant of the United Mine Workers who was the immediate beneficiary of his criminal conduct.

Murphy had called out the National Guard to enforce a court order to the sit-down insurgents, generally mislabeled "strikers," to vacate the factories and to arrest those who refused to obey. Alinsky speaks slightly of the law through orders of the courts and it is significant that his blubs declare his fierce opposition to fascism and particularly to General Franco of Spain but say nothing against communism and the labor monopolists.

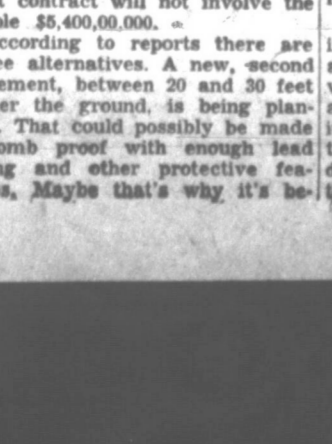

Murphy was well known in process of organization through crime and terror, did not represent the workers employed by General Motors.

In the stilted language of the professional bleeding-heart, Mr. Alinsky puts that admission thus: "The order was one of the most fateful in American history. It is characteristic of Lewis that he withheld all this until Murphy was dead. He is no brave himself but a magnificent fourfunder. And yet the story does ring true to the character of both the men."

Thirteen pieces in a "baker's dozen" originated when King Louis of France warned all bakers who gave under measure that they would be beheaded.

Freedom of Speech There is a great deal of confusion among people who think they are leaders about the true meaning of freedom of the press and freedom of speech.

Freedom of speech and freedom of the press are practically synonymous. If a man has a right to speak anything, he has a right to print it.

It is absurd to contend that men have a right to bear false witness against another. It is absurd to contend, if one believes in Higher Law, that any man or any group of men have a right to advocate the limiting of force against an individual to get part of his life energy without his consent in an involuntary manner.

That is exactly what every Socialist and Communist advocates. The republican principle thing that the republicans and democrats are now advocating under the false name of Republicanism and Democracy.

There are certain things that no man has a moral right or a practical right or a rational right to think, let alone say. No man has a rational right to advocate a course of human action that he will not be able to explain by answering any and all questions about how it could be harmonized with other things he gives lip service to believing.

Those men who insist they have a right to say anything, who will not answer questions about what they are advocating or opposing, are our most dangerous people. They are the people who have confused and confounded their fellow men and caused an immoral, impractical, harmful law after another to be passed in our cities, counties, states, and nation.

So the next time you hear a man either insinuate or unintentionally repeat this crazy fantasy, challenge his statement. Point out to him that this statement is dangerous and untrue, and that there are no things that civilized people do not have a right to think, let alone advocate privately or publicly, or have printed.

I repeat, the most dangerous man — the man who has brought one's head in the line, the man who continues to make statements and do things and will not define his terms to admit of no further questions or answer questions without evasion.

CAMEL'S HEAD By THURMAN SENSING Director of Research Southern States Industrial Council Nashville, Tennessee

Tradition has it that once a camel gets his head in the line he never is satisfied until he gets all the way in — and that the only solution is to cut his head off. In the case of the camel, it is to cut his head off or drive him out. It is true with a lot of other things besides.

I had quite a lengthy conference with the chairman of the board of the largest sugar refining company in Great Britain while I was in London. He told me that when the Socialists came into power in Great Britain in 1945, they advocated the nationalization of certain key industries because they were monopolistic and inefficient; they said nothing about the nationalization of the sugar refining industry.

And so the industrialists of Great Britain are now realizing that once the socialist camel gets his head in the tent of free enterprise, he will never be satisfied until he is all the way in — and that there is no room enough for both of them. And they now realize that all the Socialists ever wanted from the beginning was control, complete control of all production and distribution — which of course means a complete ordering of the lives of the people.

WASHINGTON — State Department officials have been growing more and more angry every since the Air Force and Navy have been washing their dirty linen in public at the hearings before the House Armed Services Committee.

The diplomats' attitude, privately expressed, is "a plague on both your houses." They fear that even more harm has been done to our diplomatic position than to our military security by the sensational disclosures.

The battle of the Pentagon is far from over. Censorship forced the virulence of the inter-service feuds during the war. Later all branches went through the motions of unification. But now magic is hurling reckless charges.

BRAWL — Washington is used to scraps. Congressmen berate each other on the floor. Then they and their wives go to dinner together. Even grim John L. Lewis can be chummy with the big coal operators after hours.

A certain amount of healthy rivalry always has been present among the great industrialists. This latest blow-up is no debate. It is tooth-and-claw jungle stuff. Great American heroes are acting like participants in a Saturday night bar-room brawl.

SECURITY — Air Secretary Symington complained that Naval officers had imperiled the national defense by revealing technical details of new types of aircraft and operating details of newest equipment and by uncovering our plan for defense. Congressional committee members say they consulted with our own military and with European military experts and both agreed that no secret information had been disclosed to a potential enemy, beyond what he already knows.

PROPAGANDA — A similar belief is held by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and other Congressional leaders, who have recently returned from Europe where they were confronted by Red propaganda about America's "imperialistic war." Our staff at the State Department and several of our embassies already report bad reaction. They think that the Soviet Union has been given a priceless propaganda theme to broadcast again and again.

1950-Model U.S. Senator to Cost American Taxpayer More

By DON WHITEHEAD
 WASHINGTON — (AP) — The 1950-model United States senator is going to cost the American taxpayer $50,908 a year — and up.

That's the package cost in salaries and expenses for a single senator and his office staff. The bill for all 98 of them will run around $5,000,000 a year.

The cost per senator went up about $3,000 a year last week when Congress voted the money to permit senators to increase the pay of their office help or add another worker to their staff.

One Midwestern senator put the blame on the taxpayer for the high senatorial costs. He didn't want his name used.

"I'm moved under with mail," Senator X said. "We get about 1,000 letters a day in my office. That means that five or six stenographers and clerks do nothing but handle the mail. I never see most of it. I can't. Because if I tried to answer each letter personally — I'd be doing nothing but dictation all day."

A senator's pay is $12,500 a year. It's generally agreed the salary is modest enough. A top-rank ambassador receives $25,000 a year plus expenses.

But the senatorial salary is only the down payment. The real cost is in the fine print. In addition to his salary, he gets another $2,500 a year for expenses. This expense money is tax free. He need make no accounting of how he spends it.

The senator comes from a state with a population of less than 3,000,000. That means he can draw $35,400 a year for his office help.

In addition to salary, expense money, free office rent, and office help, Senator X gets $100 worth of free stamps each year. This is outside his free mail privilege.

He also gets $400 a year for stationery. He can have 250 minutes of long distance telephone calls for free — or 50 calls. And he receives a payment of 20 cents a mile for travel pay at each session of Congress — the amount based on the distance

Board Clears Up Witchcraft Case

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — (AP) — The only witchcraft case in California's history wound up Friday night with the complete exoneration of Mrs. Lorena M. Blackwell, attendant at the Sonoma State Home for Mentally Ill.

The State Personnel Board vote exonerating Mrs. Blackwell was unanimous.

Personnel Board Hearing officer Blon R. Gregory said Mrs. Blackwell had been rejected as a probationary employe of Dr. M. E. Porter, the home's superintendent. He said Dr. Porter's refusal to keep Mrs. Blackwell was based on charges she put "curses" on patients, and that she frightened them with remarks concerning witchcraft. But the board found these charges untrue.

FIRST JEWISH STATE

The first Jewish state was called Eretz Israel (Land of Israel) and its king was Saul. First to unite the Jews, about 1080 B. C., from Washington to his home town.

Senator X's state ever grows above the 3,000,000 population mark, he'll get more office help. The size of his staff payroll depends on the size of his state.

Capitol Hill Fires Back at Tax Hike Talk

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Capitol Hill fired back at President Truman's talk of a tax increase with counter proposals to slash government spending instead.

Another popular suggestion on how to make the government's ends meet was:

By tax adjustments and other incentives, encourage a billowing industrial and business economy with sights set on a $300,000,000,000 national income. That, it is figured, would yield adequate revenue — without hikes in tax rates — to support federal, state and local governments. National income now is at the rate of about $217,000,000,000.

House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts issued a statement saying the President wants more taxes to put "his Socialist schemes over on the American people."

Mr. Truman disclosed his 1950 tax objective at his news conference Thursday, despite (1) that Congress has ignored his call last January for a $4,000,000,000 tax increase, and (2) 1950 is election year. All House members and one-third of the Senate will be out asking votes then from taxpayers.

Mr. Truman told the newsmen that if anybody could tell him any way, without tax increases, to meet an estimated $5,000,000,000 federal deficit in the current fiscal year, then he'd like to be told.

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Finance Committee came up immediately with his counter proposal:

"I think the way to meet our deficit is (1), reduce spending, and (2), readjust our taxes so as to encourage greater production and inspire greater activity in all lines."

The New York Stock Market dipped in the news of Mr. Truman's tax comments.

Czechoslovakia Has Become a 'Suffering Nation'

PRAGUE — (AP) — Czechoslovakia's Roman Catholic bishops said the Communist government has turned the country into a "suffering nation."

The bishops called upon Catholic priests to share the suffering of these "hardest times." Particularly, the church leaders said, priests should reject the wage increases offered to the clergy under the government's new laws controlling the church.

The bishops delivered the message to the nation's 7,000 priests through the clandestine Courier System set up after the suppression of the Catholic press. The church and the government have acknowledged that some priests and laymen have been jailed for participating in this underground communication channel.

The bishops bitterly condemned two laws for control of the churches enacted last Friday by the Communist-controlled Czechoslovak Parliament. The bishops said these laws aimed at the "total subjugation" of the churches and the "liquidation" of the dominant Roman Catholic Church.

The laws which the bishops condemned as anti-church provide:

Clergy of all churches become civil servants paid by the state. All church appointments, financial and administrative affairs are closed under state control.

Establishment of a new cabinet ministry empowered to rule on church matters.

The law on state support for churches offers salary increases to the clergy, which has been a

Kiwanians Promote Week on 'It's Fun to Live in America'

DENTON — "It's Fun to Live in America" — so say 13,000 Texas and Oklahoma Kiwanians out to prove the truth of that statement.

Nov. 7-13, declared It's Fun to Live in America Week by Kiwanis District Governor F. L. McDonald, will see 181 clubs cooperating in an all-out effort to arouse interest of every citizen in better government and urging representatives in government to work toward that end.

McDonald, journalism professor at Texas State College for Women, ex-newspaperman, and ex-army colonel, backed by Kiwanians of the two states, has set out to show every community that living in America is fun and so to promote action for better government.

First step in the active public affairs program was taken at the Kiwanis district convention in Tulsa in early October. At that time the delegates passed a resolution opposing deficit spending, concentration of power in federal government, and communism and socialism. The resolution urged reduction of federal government expenditures.

The next step, McDonald says, is to let those who represent us in government know that we mean it when we say "We want still better government. This we will do Nov. 7-13. We are going to let our government officials

New Sporting Newspaper Is In Publication

EANES CREEK, Texas — (AP) — A new weekly newspaper, edited by Wick Fowler and Henry Fox, and devoted to the varied activities of the "Highland lakes area" — Lakes Austin, Travis, Buchanan and Inks — has appeared here.

The paper is compact, newsy, well-printed, and covers a wide range of readable outdoor events and comment on fishing, hunting, boating and loafing.

Its inaugural editorial is a sound and honest statement, and warning, of intentions:

"We believe if we produce a newspaper interesting enough, people will subscribe to it and advertisers will patronize it. With that combination, plus the ingenuity to attract attention to the Highland lakes area, we believe we can deliver a service and have some fun and some salary doing it."

Eanes Creek is a colony up Lake Austin known as "U-topia", that is, Utopia, with a Southern accent. Fowler already is mayor of the place, self-appointed.

The first issue of the Highland Lakes News advertised everything from minnows, worms, lamas, merchandise, expert bulldozer work and a "you catch 'em, we cook 'em cafe," to a funeral home which has "the fastest and safest ambulance service in Central Texas."

The new paper is dedicated to the proposition that a hard day's work or a long day's rest never hurt anybody. A checkup at the Eanes Creek editorial sanctum v lified the report that the first part of the creed came from Henry Fox, who is well known in the Texas weekly field. The second part was inspired by Fowler, whose example long has been studied enviously by fellow scribes in the capital city.

Former war correspondent who saw combat service and later a political writer for the Dallas Morning News, Fowler recently resigned to devote his entire time to fishing, loafing and publishing the Highland Lakes News.

Gov. Allan Shivers paused in his official duties to be relieved of $2.50 as the first paid subscriber. Weldon Hart, his press secretary, similarly was nicked, and other subscriptions are being accepted, cash in the bait bucket at Eanes Creek.

Career Servicemen Gain by Recent Compensation Act

Career servicemen stand to gain considerably, both in base pay and in future security, under the recently enacted Career Compensation Act, M-Sgt. Davis A. Brown, local recruiting officer, said yesterday.

A new system of pay based on degree of military responsibility has replaced the old longevity system which unduly rewarded lower rankers of long service over high rankers of shorter service.

Foreign duty and sea pay are abolished for officers and warrant officers and reduced for enlisted men, but quarters and rations allowances are increased for those eligible.

Various special pays, including infantry and medical badge pay and enlistment leave allowances, are abolished, while flying and submarine pay are on a fixed sum basis for each grade, rather than a percentage of base pay.

Pay for enlisted men in the Regular Army under the old and new law for less than two year's service is:

Recruits $75 and $90; privates, $80 and $92.50; privates first class, $90 and $95.55; corporals, $100 and $117.60; sergeants, $115 and $139.65; sergeants first class, $130 and $169.65; and master and sergeants, $165 and $198.45.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — (AP) — "Gold!"

The magic cry and magic word that brought prospectors, dance hall girls and confidence men to the Klondike in 1896, then sent them storming across Alaska to Nome at the turn of the century, was heard in Fairbanks again Saturday.

Nuggets "the size of peas" were reported found earlier last week along the Yukon River in the Fort Yukon-Circle area which hitherto has not been prospected.

Fairbanks has taken word of the discovery with little show of emotion.

Hearing Set on Old Murder Charge

BELTON, Texas — (AP) — Judge Wesley Dice set Nov. 12 for a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus for Eugene Padgett, serving a 99-year-sentence in the hearing death of a Bell County storekeeper.

Will Sanderford was found dead in his store at Little River, Bell County, Feb. 12, 1931. Nine years later Padgett was convicted of murder and sentenced.

At that time he was serving a sentence on a conviction from another county.

Warren to Stress Unity At TIPRO Directors Meet

AUSTIN — Guest speaker for the luncheon at the mid-year directors meeting of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association in Abilene on Nov. 1 is newly elected IPAA President J. Ed Warren of Midland. Approximately 200 TIPRO directors will attend.

Warren, elected earlier this month as president of Independent Petroleum Association of America, will stress in his remarks the importance of cooperation among local, state, and national independent associations as a means of ending excessive petroleum imports.

"Because the state of Texas is being injured most," said Warren, "it is Texans who must lead the fight to curb the excessive petroleum imports that are doing much to undermine our national security and economic well-being. It is fortunate for every citizen that there exists an association of independent operators and owners of royalty such as TIPRO to join with similar organizations and IPAA in this very important struggle."

In addition to IPAA, Warren serves as a director of TIPRO, a member and past president of the American Association of Oil Well Drilling Contractors, a member of the American Petroleum Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, among others.

Serving as general chairman of the TIPRO directors meeting is French M. Robertson of Abilene. A meeting of the executive committee has been called for the night before. The one-day meeting will include reports on association undertakings and plans and an open forum session in the afternoon.

Guest speaker at the dinner will be Congressman Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls.

Official Says European Oil Expansion May Provide Temporary Threat to U.S. Industry

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A former ECA official said yesterday the Marshall Plan agency may be unable to enforce its ban against the use of recovery dollars for unjustified European oil operations.

Walter J. Levy, former director of the Economic Cooperation Administration's petroleum division, added that foreign oil expansion represents a potential threat to the American oil industry and to President Truman's entire point four program.

Levy told the National Petroleum Council he is confident, however, that "when the storm has blown over and things have settled down again" the United States will still have the leading oil industry of the world.

Levy, now an economic consultant in New York City, said a recent ECA report estimated that foreign crude oil production would increase from 3,000,000 barrels daily in 1948 to 4,600,000 barrels daily for 1952, and that foreign refining operations would increase from 2,400,000 barrels daily to 3,800,000 barrels daily.

He figured that will bring about a foreign surplus of about 150,000 to 200,000 barrels of crude and 250,000 to 300,000 barrels of refined products a day. The producers, he said, can sell it all "for short currencies at the expense of outlets for American-owned oil."

"If that situation should arise, American-owned foreign production would have to remain at or even fall below the 1948 level," Levy said, and added:

"For our defense we must be able to count not only on a sound and healthy domestic oil industry but also on U. S.-owned foreign oil resources."

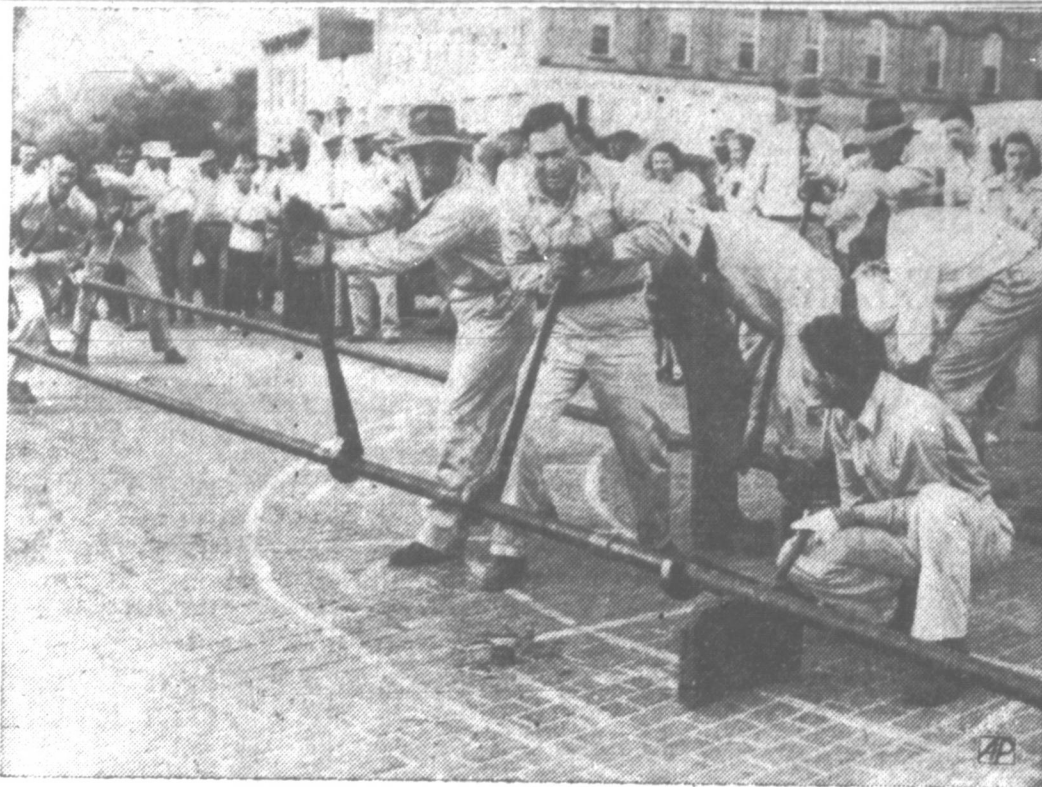

"In terms of U. S. foreign economic policy, United States private foreign investments are the keystone in the point four program. The U. S. oil industry represents by far the largest source for foreign capital investments."

"If this source of investment is cut off or the productivity of past investments curtailed, the whole four point private investment program will be put in jeopardy."

Levy said ECA has taken the position that "an expansion of European oil facilities was justified only to the extent that the output from such facilities can be sold without the use of discriminatory trade or currency practices and without the utilization of other restrictive trade devices."

But he said it may be very difficult to carry out this policy effectively, pointing out that the countries concerned may be able to find non-ECA outlets for their products or buy equipment with other currencies.

Levy opposed any "drastic" solution, asserting that "should all ECA assistance cease, much less dollar oil and a market for non-dollar oil facilities would be even greater."

PIPE LAYING CONTEST—Two teams of pipe layers are shown as they competed in the first National Pipe Laying Contest in Bowie, Texas, recently as the feature attraction of Oil Progress Day. Fort Worth Oilman Receives TCU Honor

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Trustees of Texas Christian University Saturday named the auditorium in the university's new fine arts building in honor of E. A. Landreth, Fort Worth oil man.

Landreth is a member of the board and is chairman of the finance committee for the multi-million dollar building program at the university.

Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of the university, who made the Landreth recommendation to the trustees, said Landreth had been responsible for raising approximately $3,000,000 for the rapidly

Federal Railroad Policies Deplored

FORT WORTH — (AP) — The board chairman of the MKT Railroad said "if present policies and straight-jacket regulations are continued the railroads are headed directly for government ownership."

And R. J. Morfa of Dallas said this "would be a first step toward socialism in this country." He spoke to the Fort Worth Lumberman's Club.

Mid-Continent Leads Nation In Production

TULSA — (AP) — The Mid-Continent area led domestic crude oil production into another week of surplus, the Oil and Gas Journal said yesterday.

The authoritative periodical estimated United States average output at 4,996,675 barrels per day for the week ended Oct. 22, an increase of 3,250 barrels over the previous period.

Kansas was up 5,400 barrels to 27,650 barrels a day; Oklahoma up 5,100 barrels to 421,600; and Nebraska, up 100 barrels to 1,000.

Texas production, with 2,026,200 barrels reported daily, remained unchanged along with that of Florida and New Mexico. California slipped 6,400 barrels a day to an 884,000-barrel average.

Michigan was up 3,050 barrels to 47,400, Louisiana up 500 barrels to 529,475.

Mississippi limped along with 96,200 barrels daily, down 5,900; and Arkansas decreased 650 barrels to 72,000. A similar trend was noted in the Rocky Mountain area, the Journal reported.

U.S. Begins Re-Arming West Europe

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — This week the U. S. government begins the job of helping re-arm Western Europe. This brief explains it.

First, the Senate approved our joining the Atlantic Pact, made up of 12 nations: U. S., Canada, Portugal, Iceland, Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Norway, Denmark.

They agreed to help defend one another from attack. Russia was mentioned but Russia was meant.

But if the Atlantic Pact countries nearest Russia were going to stand off, if only for a while, a Russian attack, they said "they needed arms from us."

Three countries just near Russia—Canada, Portugal, Iceland—did not ask help. The other eight did.

Then Congress voted $1,000,000,000 to supply them arms. Actually, they will receive from us arms worth about $1,450,000,000. This is why:

We'll send them three kinds of military equipment: excess stuff, reserve stuff, and brand new equipment.

1. Excess — Now we have on hand a number of items of military equipment over and above what our military planners think we may ever need, even in case of war. This is considered unneeded, excess material. We'll send some of that.

But — Congress said we cannot send abroad excess equipment which, altogether, originally cost more than $480,000,000. (That's same excess equipment if made now, might cost double the $480,000,000 when it was made.)

We'll send Europe the $480,000,000 in excess equipment allowed by Congress. This, added to the $1,000,000,000 voted by Congress for the program, will bring our total arms help to Europe to around $1,450,000,000.

2. Reserve stuff — We have on hand now, but stored away, a lot of equipment which our military planners figure we'll need in time of war, but don't need now.

We'll send some of that reserve to Europe. But we'll have to replace it. Some of the $1,000,000,000 voted by Congress will be used to have brand new reserve material manufactured and kept in this country.

3. Brand new material — Some of the equipment we'll send Europe will be brand new. We'll have to get that made. The rest of the $1,000,000,000 fund will be used for that.

Organizational Changes Viewed By IPA Heads

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The executive committee of the American Petroleum Institute proposed yesterday organizational changes for a separate post of chairman of the board of directors.

William R. Boyd, Jr., of Teague, Texas, has served both as president and as board chairman for the past nine years. He has announced he will retire Jan. 1.

Under the committee's plan, the new president and the chairman would be elected at APTI's annual meeting in Chicago Nov. 7 to 10. The chairman would serve without salary.

'Basic Airplanes' Will Be Compiled

NEW YORK — A new world language is now in the making to be used in radio conversations between pilots and tower and communications operators, Aviation Week reports.

The magazine says CAA's psychology branch is currently compiling the list which is expected to reach 1,000 words. A study is being made of wartime experiments and of recordings made in CAA towers of conversations between pilots and operators. Words most used will be evaluated on a basis of how well they can be understood in radio transmission before being included in "Basic Airplanes."

International Civil Aviation Organization has asked the U. S. to recommend a standard English vocabulary for use by flyers all over the world," says the publication, "and the CAA 1000-word list is expected to be used for this international vocabulary, as well as for standardized two-way aviation radio talking in this country."

Drive Against Aliens Increased

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — A stepped up drive against illegal aliens in South Texas has been ordered.

William A. Whalen, district director, U.S. Immigration Service, said the order came from Washington.

He said the central office of the immigration service felt agriculturalists in this section have not shown a desire to cooperate and have illegal laborers legalized.

Whalen said additional trucks and automobiles are being sent to the Border Patrol in the McAllen area in anticipation of an increase in the aliens picked up.

Flood-Hit Guatemala Said Seeking Relief

GUATAMALA, Guatemala — (AP) — Guatemala, hard hit this month by storms and floods, was reported Monday to be considering asking the United States for a loan of $50,000,000 for relief.

Red Cross officials have said approximately 800 persons lost their lives. Earlier estimates by government officials placed the total as high as 4,000.
