

Mayor 'Upset' With General

By HENRY GORDON
New Staff Writer
Mayor C. A. "Lefty" Huff was running a high temperature this morning. It wasn't the weather but a sarcastic letter emanating from the office of Major Gen. K. L. Berry, adjutant general of Texas.

The letter was a mild "bawling out" of the city for charging the Texas National Guard Armory Board $150 a month rent for the National Guard Armory at Recreation Park.

The general was somewhat peeved when he reminded the city that it got the property "as a gift, or near gift, from the armed forces."

The general thought this was "unfair."
He didn't reveal the source of his information, merely stated at the beginning of the page and a half letter:

"It has come to my attention that the city of Pampa charges..."

But the general, in making his accusations, not only missed the bull's eye, but the target altogether.

Trumanites See Victory For Housing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration Democrats confidently predicted victory as the slambang House debate on public housing — which started off with a fight — went into its second day.

House leaders claimed a margin of 30 votes for President Truman's hotly contested housing bill.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) told supporters the administration is sure to win.

However, lawmakers spearheading an opposition team of Republicans and Southern Democrats insisted the issue is still in doubt.

The opposition appeared split over whether to make an all-out fight to kill housing legislation for this year, or offer a substitute.

Opponents shouted "socialism" at the bill yesterday as floor debate opened, and cried that the administration proposal imperils the financial soundness of the government.

The bill's backers — including some Republicans — kept up a running argument that billions put into publicly-owned housing would be a good investment in better citizenship, by reducing juvenile delinquency and crime, improving health, and instilling confidence in democracy.

The legislation proposes a vast program of slum clearance, low-rent public housing and farm housing aid. Its cost has been estimated at the way from $7,500,000,000 to $20 billion.

Czech Group Defies Action By Catholics

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP)—Catholic priests said today that Czechoslovakia's Communist government apparently has succeeded in clamping a wall of silence around Archbishop Josef Beran.

The archbishop is in semi-captivity now in his palace in Prague. The informants said all their contacts with him had been broken off since last weekend.

Vatican informants and informed diplomatic sources here expressed the belief Archbishop Beran might be formally arrested at any time. The Communist regime has accused him of anti-state agitation. He has resisted the Communists' campaign to bring the church under state control and to crush the influence of the Vatican in Czechoslovakia.

According to the priests here, the Communists seem now to have sealed any loopholes through which the archbishop might smuggle another pastoral letter out of the country.

Last weekend Archbishop Beran emerged from the palace and made two sermons in which he accused the government of trying to split the church and crush religious freedom.

The Communists - sponsored Catholic Action Society leadership defied Vatican excommunication last night and accused Beran and his followers of anti-state activity.

A similar charge was leveled against Archbishop Beran Tuesday night by Premier Antonin Zapotocky who warned that the law will take its course.

Archbishop Beran and the Vatican have denounced the government-sponsored Catholic Action on the grounds that it intends to split the church and permeate it with anti-Christian ideas.

Promoters and wifil followers of the Catholic Action Society have taken the name of a church organization, have been declared automatically excommunicated by the Vatican.

Leaders loyal to Archbishop Beran declare many of the Catholics listed by the government as supporting the rival society have been threatened and misled or were listed without their knowledge.

Leaders of the group claimed last night that they were "loyal members of the Roman Catholic Church who also wish to remain loyal to our beloved country."

The leaders claimed to speak for millions of Czechoslovakia's 9,000,000 Catholics. They could not be hindered by the Catholic hierarchy in our endeavor for agreement and cooperation between church and state.

Criminal Code Has Become Obsolete, Says Dallas DA

"The criminal code of Texas is basically sound, but has become obsolete since it was adopted in 1856," District Attorney Will R. Wilson, Dallas County prosecuting attorney, told Pampa Rotarians during the club's weekly meeting in the Palm Room, City Hall.

Wilson said that since the time of passage of those laws the radio, automobile, telephone and airplane have been invented and put to use both by criminal and police. He used, for example, the law of arrest, that prescribes for an arrest under three conditions: 1. When seeing a felony committed, 2. on a warrant by a justice of the peace, and 3. on information by a reliable citizen that the law has been violated.

He cited an example of a purse snatcher in Dallas, the radio alarm and the pickup by police, and then the follow-up of technical details that had to be worked out the defense could not break down the case through cries of illegal arrest.

That was the only point in Texas criminal laws that the speaker dwelled upon at any length—or at all.

Analyst Considered Visit to Russia in Spring of 1948

WASHINGTON (AP)—Judith Coplon said today that she considered visiting Russia in the spring of 1948, but dropped the idea.

John M. Kelley, Jr., a government prosecutor in her trial on charges of stealing government secrets to give to the Russians, drew out the story.

It was the sixth day for Miss Coplon on the witness stand and the third day in which she has been cross-examined by Kelley. Kelley said he expects to complete his questioning of the 28-year-old former Justice Department political analyst today.

She denied yesterday that she ever had any intention of going to Russia with Valentine A. Gubitchev, a Russian engineer with whom she was arrested March 4.

Kelley brought this up again, then asked her if she had not inquired whether it would be possible for her to visit Russia in the spring of 1948.

She replied that she did. She added quickly that the implication of Kelley's earlier question was that she considered going to Russia to live. She said she gave up the trip plan because she feared she could not get Russian permission.

Miss Coplon visited Western Europe on a vacation trip beginning in May, 1948. Kelley earlier had asked her whether she met any Communists while in Italy and she replied "not to my knowledge."

Miss Coplon has admitted numerous meetings with Gubitchev prior to their arrest in New York March 4. But she says she thought she was in love with the Russian, and that the motive of the meetings was romance, not the delivery of government secrets as the prosecution contends.

It was while attacking her love-for-Gubitchev defense that the prosecution developed she had spent nights in hotel rooms and a Washington apartment with another man. That angle occupied much of the last two days.

As Kelley hammered a way yesterday at Miss Coplon's story of a kissless romance with Russia's "Engineer Valentine A. Gubitchev," the calm she had displayed earlier evaporated.

Once she leaned forward in the witness chair and shouted: "You have branded me as a spy and now you are trying to brand me as a harlot!" She swore that her all-night

Jester Signs Bill Killing Rent Controls

AUSTIN (AP)—A bill abolishing rent controls in Texas was signed into law today by Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

It will become effective 90 days after adjournment of the 51st Legislature plus 15 days for federal processing. Date of adjournment was still uncertain.

The measure that stirred up one of the session's hottest controversies went back to Jester's desk yesterday with an opinion from Attorney General Price Daniel that it would stand up legally.

"The Legislature, in passing House Bill 808 (the decontrol measure) has declared federal rent controls are no longer needed in Texas and, in the same act, has provided that the governing body of any city or town may establish rent control for the duration of a housing emergency in Texas," Jester said.

"I am signing House Bill 808 because this bill, according to a clear and well-reasoned opinion of the attorney general and the answers thereto to the questions in my request for an opinion, is a valid and Constitutional law," Jester's statement said.

The statement continued: "It is properly pointed out that the existing emergency must be one of such grave proportions as to affect the health, welfare or safety or morality of the city as a whole. Only under such conditions, indeed, could rent control by any authority be justified.

"Upholding of this home-rule right eliminates or modifies the objection to House Bill 808 that, while the need for rent control has passed in most places, some Texas cities still gravely need it. The opportunity exists for these cities... to evaluate the emergency and prepare proper local regulations if they so desire. House Bill 808 will not become effective until 90 days after the 51st Legislature adjourns, and the federal law gives the federal

Area Dam to Be Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal reclamation official has raised questions concerning cost, location of dam and water purchase agreements in the proposed Canadian River development project.

Rep. Worley said yesterday, after a talk with Wesley Nelson, assistant reclamation commissioner, that Southwest reclamation engineers will be called in for talks on the $85,000,000 program.

Field agents submitted a plan calling for a $27,000,000 dam near Sanford and a $54,000,000 aqueduct to serve eleven Plains and Panhandle cities. Worley said Nelson expressed surprise that the cost would be that high.

"His department desires additional information before making a feasibility report," Worley said.

Worley said about $79,000,000 of the total proposed would be paid back by water users. "It's more than justified because of the benefits of a great section of Texas."

A formal report will go to a Congressional committee after the Reclamation Bureau completes its investigation.

Thornton Known For Death-Defying

AMARILLO (AP)—Tex Thornton, renowned, death-defying oil field trouble shooter, was found slain in a tourist court here today.

Police said a shirt and towel were wound tightly about his throat.

The famed explosives expert, about 60, was president of the U.S. Nitroglycerin Company of Amarillo, Justice of the Peace C. W. Carter said he had been killed about midnight.

Jessie May Walker, a Negro maid at the Park Plaza Tourist Court, found the body about 8:30 a. m. today.

Police said Thornton came to the tourist court late last night with a young man and a young woman. Fred Fairleigh, manager of the motel, said the woman, about 22, registered. The age of the young man also was estimated at 22. The time they left the tourist court had not been determined.

There was blood on Thornton's face and his shoulders. The funeral home which took the body said there were two skull fractures.

J. L. King, chief of Amarillo detectives, said no weapon had been found. Mixed drinks were in glasses on tables in the tourist court room.

Police said there was no sign of a struggle in the tourist court room. The young woman had registered as being from Detroit, Mich., but tourist court attendants told officers the party came to the motel in a car with a Potter County license plate.

Thornton's body was identified from cleaning marks on his clothing and from the large leather belt he wore marked "Thornton."

Thornton was active to the time of his death — handling explosives in oil fields. But in earlier years, he had gained his fame through extinguishing oil and gas well fires. Handling high explosives in situations where one slip could mean oblivion became a daily chore to Tex Thornton.

Royal Dutch Plane Crash Kills 30 to 40

BARI, Italy (AP)—A four-engine KLM (Royal Dutch Airline) plane crashed in the sea off this southeastern Italian port today, killing between 30 and 40 persons.

Americans, Dutch and Turks were said to have been aboard. Apparently there were no survivors.

A Bari port official said 24 bodies had been recovered, many badly burned. These included 16 men, five women and three children, he said.

Recovery of other bodies believed trapped in the wreckage was hindered by choppy seas. The plane crashed in bright, clear weather. Some accounts said the transport went down in flames from a height of about 15,000 feet.

KLM officials in Rome indicated the plane may have been off its course and possibly was trying for an emergency landing at an airport near Bari. The plane was enroute from Batavia, Java, to Amsterdam. Baggage and other effects recovered indicated at least some of the passengers boarded the aircraft in Batavia.

The Rome office of KLM said the airline has three regular flights weekly from Batavia to Amsterdam, by way of Mauritius, Aden, Cairo and thence to Holland.

From Cairo, the office said, the normal course of these planes is over Eastern Greece, Yugoslavia and Germany. This would indicate the plane which crashed today might have been off course.

Woman Is Burned And Assaulted

ORANGE, Tex. (AP)—A middle-aged woman told Sheriff Milan Anderson she was burned about the face with a heated screwdriver and then criminally assaulted yesterday by a mustached Negro.

The woman lives on the outskirts of Edhuber, a farm community five miles south of here.

Anderson said the woman told him she was ironing when the Negro appeared behind her with a gun. The woman said the Negro heated the screwdriver and burned her five or six times on the face and she fainted.

When she recovered, she said she discovered she had been criminally assaulted. Anderson withheld the victim's name.

The sheriff organized a search for the Negro, described as about six feet tall, light-complexioned and wearing a blue slack suit. Anderson said the woman asserted the same Negro attempted to attack her twice last fall.

Physicians To Be First For X-Rays

Local physicians plan to be X-rayed first thing Saturday morning to set the ball rolling at the 1949 Gray County X-ray survey, which will be held for a week at the American Legion-VFW Hall, Frank Wilson, chairman of the X-ray program, said.

"Most people found with advanced tuberculosis have a slim chance for recovery," he added. "If TB is discovered early and if you get proper treatment at once, you have a fine chance of getting back your health."

The best way to find out if you have tuberculosis is to have your chest X-rayed, he added. An X-ray picture of your chest takes only a few seconds—doesn't hurt and is a real "life-saver."

The picture is developed like a snapshot. Residents will be notified by postcard if their X-ray pictures show no chest diseases are evident. Otherwise, they will

No One Files For City Post

Time was running out fast today on the period for filing of candidacy for the Ward 2 city commissioner election as the deadline stood only 36 hours away — and no takers for the office.

The office was vacated June 1 when City Commissioner Vernon Hobbs resigned due to illness.

The election, slated for July 25 in the Tom Rose Ford Motor Company, will turn out to be a write-in election if no candidates file by tomorrow.

Should the deadline come and go without a candidate coming out, Ward 2 voters would have only a blank ballot staring them in the face on the special election day.

If no one were to vote on that day, no one would be elected, and the ward would go unrepresented unless the City Commission would call another special election and try all over again to fill the vacancy.

Higher Necks, Shorter Skirts, Strapless Slips and Night Gowns Among Offerings

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Outside a 90 degree sun was beating down, but California designers had their minds on fall rainwear.

Raincoats with weighted hemlines—to keep the coat down no matter how hard the wind blows—featured the display by Colle of Hollywood at the California Apparel Creators Fall Fashion Show.

In the lingerie department, strapless slips with built-in bra scored a hit. There's a strapless night gown, too. It's held up by elastic in the back and around the top.

Necklines, it seems, are coming back up, on both dressy and casual clothes. Turtle necks and small rolled collars will be reinstated. The plunging neckline will remain for afternoon and evening dresses but usually will have a convertible collar.

In short, necklines will either be very high or very low. Whistles, presumably, will be in reverse ratio.

Skirt lengths were from a half to one inch shorter. Dressy dresses still have back interest, but elaborate bustle effects have given way to more simple lines.

Pockets—big and little, buttoned, cuffed or slashed deep—were used over and over as the most prominent new note. Buttons also were used for accent.

Wesuits, wool or corduroy pleated skirts, striped wool jersey blouses fit into the back-to-school picture. Suits featured jackets one to two inches shorter and slim skirts with slits front and back.

Fabrics to watch: Plaid corduroy for casual wear, brocaded taffeta for cocktail dresses, glove suede for dresses and coats; pucker cotton and rayon with satin stripes for coat dresses.

Military Police Corps Organized

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A military police corps available for any emergency in Texas has been created.
The formation of the new corps, to be a part of the Texas State Guard Reserve, was announced by Lt. Gen. Claude V. Birkhead, Birkhead, commanding general of the state guard, said the corps will have 12 district provost marshals. It will be headed by Col. Royal G. Phillips, chief of the Bureau of Intelligence of the Texas Department of Public Safety.
The corps was set up to keep order in an emergency. It is also scheduled to direct the evacuation of casualties from any area stricken by a disaster or war.
San Antonio has been designated headquarters of the new corps. Lt. Col. Millard M. Gardner, chief of police at Highland Park (Dallas), is deputy provost marshal. Lt. Col. Charles R. Wells, Kilgore, police detective, is state executive officer. Maj. James O. Musick, Austin, is administrative officer.

Wichita Falls Still Has No Police Chief

A deadlock between Mayor Harold Jones and the City Council on the replacement of Chris Jensen was not settled by a straw vote of the Police Department itself last night.
Twice the council has voted to oust Jensen. Each time he has taken his case to court. The latest ruling by District Judge Frank Ikard blocked the council's choice of Traffic Officer E. A. Nelson for the post. It involved a question of who had executive powers.
Yesterday, the mayor and council informally agreed to accept the decision by the Police Department.

ment. After Capt. S. J. (Baker) Lawrence received 23 of the 27 votes cast, the council met and adjourned with no action.
Nelson received five votes; Jensen none.
Alderman J. E. Ray talked of "compromise," but the mayor, who has offered Lawrence's name before, said he would re-submit his nomination.
Lawrence, 32, was a nominee of Jensen for his captaincy. Nelson, 29, is a long-time foe of the deposed chief.
The dispute began in 1947 when Jensen discharged Police Capt. Ed McDonald, charging insubordination, and demoted several other officers, including Nelson on the same charges.
Candidates for the City Council posts in both 1948 and 1949 became involved in the dispute. The present council was completed in last year's election.

Theta Rho Girls Are Awarded Third Successive Championship

The Pampa Theta Rho Girls Club Number 15 has been awarded the state championship for three successive years in state competitive degree work. The latest honor came at a state meet held at Lubbock.

The club made 988 points out of a possible 1,000, it was reported. The club was closely pursued by the Lubbock team which amassed 990 points. Pampa took the lead on the ritualistic work and held it by achieving a perfect score on expression and impression, as well as by a perfect score on floor work.

Fort Worth won third place with 947 points. The next state rally will be held here at Pampa (in June, 1950) when the Junior Odd Fellows will hold their state meeting in connection with the Theta Rho Girls Clubs of Texas.

It was announced that this is the first time the two events have been held together, and Pampa has the distinction of being the first meeting place of the two. About 700 boys and girls between 12 and 21 will be here, it was said.

The local club has won six cups, with three cups being won the past three years as state champions.

Scatter Jewelry—(Special)—Style-setting motion picture actresses have introduced a new vogue in scatter pins that recreates in gems and precious white palladium an object or idea intimately identified with the wearer.

Leading exponent of the fad in the film colony is petite Gracie Allen. Latest addition to her wardrobe is a series of four scatter pins of diamonds set in this new jewelry metal. Each pin has its own distinctive design, and, worn together with the others, accent her costume.

Most unusual of the four is a replica of Gracie's front door key fashioned in palladium and diamonds. A radio microphone, symbol of her greatest success, is reproduced in miniature in sapphires. Third of the group is a Star's New Rage—palladium four-leaf clover brilliant with emeralds, and a palladium heart set with rubies completes the ensemble.

The fascinating foursome is fastened to the plunge-necked bodice of a black chiffon dinner dress, or worn in a gray group on belt, beret, lapel, cuff, long gloves or collar.

New Zealand only started growing tobacco a few years ago, and now it is one of the leading industries of that country.

Fire Destroys Hudgins Home

MIAMI — (Special) — The suburban home of B. W. Hudgins was completely destroyed by fire Monday afternoon. When the fire department arrived, fire had gained such headway that, coupled with inadequate water facilities, there was little to be done except help save part of the furnishings. The blaze, which started in a closet where winter clothing was stored is thought to have been started by faulty wiring or spontaneous combustion. Monday was the hottest day of the summer here, so far. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

Doomed Boy Watches As Sister Buried

LAUREL, Miss. — (P) — Eight-year-old Billy Anderson, stricken by leukemia, watched quietly during the burial of his sister Betty Joyce, also a victim of the blood destroying disease. Then he said to his mother: "I don't want to go to New Orleans for treatment again. It didn't do Betty Joyce any good and it won't me either." The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glaze Anderson, took the children to specialists in New Orleans three weeks ago. The specialists said neither child could live long. Billy's case of leukemia was more advanced than Betty Joyce's. The five-year-old girl died Saturday and was buried Monday.

(Editor's note—This is another in a series of stories on oil and gas camps surrounding Pampa.)

Thirty-two families live in the Cabot Mills Plant which is near Kingmill on Highway 80. The heads of five of those families work at the Cabot Shops.

The plant offers housing to the employees at very reasonable cost—ranging from $15.00 per month to $28.50. The rental is determined by the size of the house.

The Mills Plant is known as a "pilot" plant, in that it is the center of much of the company's research into new uses for carbon black. Dudley Steele, who is a resident of Pampa, is in charge of research.

The camp has a tennis court, community hall, pool tables, ping-pong, dominoes, and occasional dances are held there. However, the residents do their trading in Pampa, and go to church and Sunday school here. A large garden plot is furnished for anyone who wishes to use it.

A. B. Turner, maintenance man for the camp, is on duty at all times. He has been with the company 18 years.

Howard M. Coday, who has been with Cabot for 12 years, is superintendent of the Mills Plant. He was superintendent at a Cabot Guyton plant for one year; was assistant superintendent at the Shafter Plant for three years. At the Mills Plant two years, he is married and has one son, Bryan Lynn, 7. William L. Marshall is assisting superintendent; and S. J. Meador, Jr., is plant office manager.

The church, school, and recreational life of the camp center around Pampa. A school bus to Pampa schools passes right by the camp. The camp has no commissary, so shopping is done here at Pampa.

Other family names of those employed at Cabot Mills are: W. A. Boyd, Lloyd Carlile, Floyd Crow, George Dauner, Joe Denton, Carlos Evans, Forrest Gibbs, George Henderson, Uel Hest, Floyd Hubbard, James Jackson, Garland James, R. V. Lewis, Charlie Morgan, John McLean, Jess Partin, John Ratnes, W. P. Ridgway, Leo Simpson, Jack Stafford, Robert Stewart, Alvin

Polio and Its Treatment Discussed by Area Doctors

Poliomyelitis and its treatment were discussed Tuesday night at the Top of Texas County Medical Society meeting held in the home of Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Overton, Jr., on the Old Miami Highway.

The dinner was served by Mrs. Overton, assisted by Mrs. Joe Donaldson, Mrs. M. E. Wyatt and Mrs. E. S. Williams.

Following the meal, the meeting was called to order in the game room by Dr. W. W. Brooks, Phillips, president. The report of clinical cases was dispensed with to give time for the program. Dr. L. C. Smith, Plainview, was unable to attend. He had planned to speak on "Early Diagnosis of Poliomyelitis."

Dr. E. O. Nichols, Jr., Plainview, spoke on the present conception of polio and the establishment of the treatment center at Plainview. Dr. E. T. Driscoll, Plainview, read a detailed paper on present knowledge of etiology, epidemiology, diagnosis and treatment of polio. His paper was illustrated with lantern slides, showing methods of treatment.

A letter from the National Education Campaign of American Medical Association was read, asking the doctors to order the pamphlets, "Help Keep Politics Out of Medicine" and "50 Questions on Compulsory Health Insurance." No action was taken on the request. However, orders can be placed with the county secretary, state secretary or the American Medical Association.

Dr. J. R. Donaldson said the Citizens Committee of the tuberculosis survey has requested that all doctors and their office forces have X-rays made Saturday the first day of the 1949 county X-ray survey and wear the "I've Been X-rayed Have You?" buttons throughout the next week.

The next meeting of the society will be held at Wheeler, it was announced.

Nation's Production On Another Slump

TULSA, Okla. — (P) — The nation's daily average crude oil production hit another slump in the week ended June 18, falling 20,900 barrels, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

The decline dropped the week's total daily average production to 4,889,850 barrels.

Biggest factors in the loss were an 11,100 barrel drop in Louisiana production to 497,500 barrels and Arkansas' 7,950-barrel slump to 72,550 barrels.

Increases included Oklahoma, 100 to 405,850. Crude averages for all districts in Texas were unchanged from those of June 11.

Lipscomb County Girl Tells of State 4-H Roundup Trip

COME — Special) — The first place winner in the 1948 state dress revue and went to Dallas to the state dress revue. She tells the following story about her trip to the 4-H Roundup this year:

"At the dress revue at Lipscomb, I took second place. So I hadn't thought about going to the 4-H Roundup at College Station. On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Fred Born came to see if I could take the place of Harlean Morrison, who won first place, but who had decided that she did not want to go.

"When they asked me to go I didn't feel that I could leave home because Mother had the mumps and there was only a day or two until harvest. After talking with Mother and Daddy I thought they could spare me. Then we began a very rapid rush of getting ready.

"Sunday morning we packed my suitcase and Sunday afternoon Daddy decided to go to the Rodeo Club and I wore my rodeo clothes and took the suitcase along.

"All of this time it seemed distant and far away as if it were not me going. But when Mother and Daddy were ready to go home we went down to Mr. and Mrs. Charley Herrons' for me to clean up and change. Things in my mind were beginning to change as I got the feeling of excitement like there was last year. Mother and Daddy took me to Born's and left me. It was a thrill for them to leave me there and yet I was dreading it, in a way, to not be home when harvest started.

"I spent a pleasant night in the Born's home. Kay Roach came early in the morning. We left about 4 a. m. We met Van Cope and Jerry Hawkins, 4-H boys, on the highway. Mr. Born took us to Amarillo. I really liked the ride, going along in the early, dark hours of the morning. We waited about an hour in Amarillo, but we saw only the immediate vicinity of the bus station. Here one representative from each county was chosen for pictures for the newspaper.

"We rode in two buses chartered for District 4-H clubs. There were 45 club members and leaders on the two buses. We traveled through part of the same country as last year. We went through Childress, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, and on to Waco and Bryan and so on to College Station.

"One girl had her accordion. We sang away some of the hours. We had pillow fights; we all read funny books and some slept. The country from here to Ft. Worth changes and still we saw them cutting wheat that far. As we went south the wheat changed to cotton and the level land to hills covered with trees. It was much hotter and we were bus-wary. About at Hillsboro the big fields changed to small plots and the homes weren't so large and well improved. We saw small fields of corn, watermelons, some cotton, peanuts and beans but mostly corn.

"One funny thing that happened along the way was getting lost or the buses getting separated in Ft. Worth. We got in to College Station at 1:45 a. m. and at 6:15 a. m. we were in line at the campus cafe. One day while it was raining they let us go through the kitchen. They had their own batery and such huge washing machine, I wondered how they washed dishes.

"Next we went to the building where the main part of the program was held. Mr. Billy Triggs led us in group singing. We also had the invocation. One of the Texas representatives told us some of how our Legislature works and many other interesting things.

"Just before recess a picture of the 4-H members and leaders was taken. The first day we elected our own chairman and co-chairman, one boy and one girl. They presided at the other meetings. After dinner the editor of a young peoples paper talked to the girls about "Ideas For Older Girls in 4-H Clubs." Following this meeting we were divided into groups according to districts and went to different meetings. One of the meetings held of breakfast menus, one personality and at another we were shown a little about land-making a bed I had seen at district 4-H camp. In our recreational period we went on an imaginary trip around the world. Our ticket was an envelope containing songs that the different nationalities sing.

"At one of the meetings one girl told us about her trip to Washington, D. C., told the 4-H Congress. Another told of a 4-H encampment on Lake Michigan north of Chicago. One boy told about his trip to The Netherlands. When we had spare time we took in the campus sights.

"The dresses at the dress revue were divided into three groups. The first 12 dresses shown compared with 86 last year. They showed school dresses first. They came from the back of the stage on what appeared to be a walk to the school building. As each finished showing her dress she went into what appeared to be a school house. After all had finished they could be heard singing "Far Away Places." These dresses were of every kind imaginable.

"There were only four shown in the tailored class. They were all very much alike in style, being two piece suits. These girls turned and went on along the path back of a house.

"The best dress division showed all girls coming to a party. They sat or stood at the table on the lawn in front of the house. The first prize was a trip to the national 4-H Congress. Second and third prizes were electric sewing machines. The fourth girl wore a white lamb with a $100 savings bond tied around its neck. This prize was appropriate because the winners were the women's auxiliary of the Texas Sheep and Goat Growers Association. Nine other girls received electric irons. These dresses were all beautiful. There was one dress that I noticed in particular. It was one made by the same pattern and the same material as my sister Ellen's dress. There were a great number of other dresses made by the same pattern.

"One other thing and one I especially enjoyed was the talent show. This was put on by some of the 4-H members. There was singing, instrument playing, some comedy acts, and tap dancing.

"We left College Station Thursday morning. We had a very nice time with friends we had made on the trip down. Mr. Bud Hawkins of near Lipscomb met us at Childress. We came to Mrs. Born's home about 10 p. m., and Kay and I spent the night there.

"The biggest thrill was just being one of the big bunch of 4-H members that had such an opportunity. I had a very pleasant trip but I returned home still believing we live in the best part of the country.

"I have Mrs. Fred Born and the members of the Home Demonstration Club Council to thank for another wonderful trip.

Oldest Airline Operated 30 Years Without Subsidy

By ROBERT L. BEARD
 THE HAGUE (NEA)—The world's oldest air line hopes to cut a big 30th birthday cake, with sweet frosting, this summer or fall.
 Now that the Netherlands government and the Republic of Indonesia have got together, KLM, (the Royal Dutch Air Lines) hopes that before the end of the year it can reopen its 8500-mile Amsterdam to Batavia run, and link up Europe and the Americas with its 15,000-mile inter-island network.
 That would add greatly to the present 75,000 miles of routes that sprawl over most of the civilized world. On the basis of past experience, it would add something like 50 percent to KLM's income.
 Both of these prospects are very pleasing to Dr. Albert Plesman. As a young Netherlands air force lieutenant, he founded KLM in 1919 with one De-Havilland open plane that bore two leather-clad passengers on a chilly three-hour trip between Amsterdam and London.
 In spite of what the war did to the Netherlands and to its Far Eastern possessions—and in spite of the Indonesian service suspension forced by the Republic's rebellion—Dr. Plesman has kept his world-wide air lines operating in the black, without any of the subsidies which most governments give to their competing systems.
 The Dutch government owns a big chunk of KLM stock, but its relationship is only that of a heavy stockholder. Dr. Plesman and his associates have built the little one-plane line into one of the Big Four in the international field. Experts rate it with Pan American, British Overseas and Air France in route mileage and business done.
 The first of this year, KLM started a thrice-a-week service to Batavia by way of Khartoum and Maritius Island that involves the longest over-water hop any air line ever scheduled—a 15-hour flight of almost 3500 miles over the Indian Ocean. This is only a stop gap, to be replaced by regular service through Cairo, Karachi, Calcutta and Singapore.
 Nobody in the Royal Dutch offices here is willing to offer a formula for running an air line with black ink in these days. When they discuss the method, it is a story of a bit here, a bit there—an application to air travel of the prudence

Statue of Liberty, Dr. Urdang said. "It gave quinine to the world through Pelletier and Caventou. We helped her regain her national liberty and we could, in restoring one obvious evidence of what she did for mankind and for the United States, manifest our awareness of our deep debt and obligation."

Statue to Chemists That Nazis Melted to Be Rebuilt

MADISON, Wis. (NEA)—An international movement has been started to replace a bronze statue to the discoverers of quinine which was melted down by Nazis during the war for its metal.
 Quinine was isolated by two youthful French pharmacists, Joseph Pelletier and Joseph Caventou, in 1820, just at a time when malaria threatened to stop American expansion along the Mississippi River. The disease was so bad that in one summer four out of every five settlers in Pike County, Ill., died from it. In many instances whole communities pulled up stakes and started back east.
 Through the heroic efforts of a few doctors, the use of quinine was spread rapidly, malaria was conquered, and the new nation pushed on westward.
 With this in mind, Americans contributed in 1900 to the funds with which a statue to Pelletier and Caventou was erected in Paris. In 1941 the occupying Germans, hard-pressed for metal for armaments, scrapped it.
 Since the war, representatives of the French government, learned societies, and the medical, pharmaceutical and chemical professions and industries have approved a design for a new statue. Dr. George Urdang, professor at the School of Pharmacy at the University of Wisconsin and director of the American Institute of the History of Pharmacy, has agreed to head the drive in this country for the $20,000 that the new statue will cost.
 "France gave to America the

250 Plan to Attend Lodge Dedication

About 250 reservations have been made to attend the dining lodge dedication ceremony and barbecue Saturday at Camp Ki-O-Wah, the Rev. E. Douglas Carver, president of the Adobe Walls Area Boy Scout Council, said.
 The ceremony will take place from 2 to 3:30 Saturday at the camp. A Western-style barbecue, under the supervision of Darrell Wiggins, member of the executive board from Canadian, will be served at 5:30 p.m.
 Scouts, Cub leaders, parents of Scouts and friends of Scouting have been invited to attend the ceremony. Many of the 150 Scouts and leaders attending camp this week plan to remain for the dedication.
 Rev. Carver will serve as master of ceremonies, and Harold W. Lawman, Scout executive of Region 9, will deliver the dedicatory address.
 Those attending have been advised to go by way of Glasier on Highway 60 since the road past Lake Marvin is practically impassable.
 Signs will be posted at the Canadian turnout and along the route to camp.
 The new dining lodge is the largest single improvement at the camp. Other installations that have been added during the past year are: flag pole, 10 developed campsites, water distribution system, well and reservoir sanitation system, tables, benches, dishes, silverware, butane and skill that for generations made the tiny Netherlands a maritime power, and built up a far-flung colonial empire. Some observers say the KLM approach resembles that by which Eddie Rickenbacker has built up Eastern Airlines in the U. S.—field.

 At the end of 1945, KLM had only 1800 employees. The Indies, from which a third of income should come, were wholly disorganized after Japanese occupation and by the independence movement. Holland was in bad shape. Home, Schiphol Airport, in 1939 one of the Continent's finest, had been utterly destroyed by the Germans.
 Today, the line has some 12,000 employees. It is operating 75,000 miles of routes among Europe, North and South America, Africa and the Far East. Last year it carried about 400,000 passengers, its planes flew 22 million miles, and its cargo business was more than tripled since the war.
 Schiphol Airport again is among Europe's finest, handling more than 100 flights a day for KLM and a dozen foreign lines. Dr. Plesman's pre-war aircraft have been replaced to a considerable extent with the best products of American factories. He was among the first to get Constellations. As soon as Douglas' new DC-6 was available he took seven of them for the South American and South African services.

The building was placed on city property for which the city charged no rental. To complete the job the city installed water and sewer lines — free.

Something else the general doesn't know is that the city has been favorably considering for some time, to donate, give free, make no charge, turn over gratis, and hand out at no cost to the Texas National Guard, ten acres of land on which to construct an armory in the near future.

City Manager Dick Peplin waxed warm over the letter too.

In an informal conference with Mayor Huff and City Attorney Bob Gordon, Peplin was directed to answer the letter, and he indicated he would remind General Berry of the city's part in the present armory building and their consideration of the ten-acre plot. The letter will also include the city's resentment of the general's accusations and the sarcastic tone of his letter.

How the general will react is purely conjecture. The letter from the city to the general will be written sometime this afternoon or tomorrow.

ANALYST

(Continued from Page 1) trysts with Justice Department Lawyer N. P. Shapiro in Baltimore and Philadelphia hotels and in his Washington apartment involved no improper conduct. She has testified that these meetings occurred at a time when she thought she loved Gutchev.

Kelley brought Shapiro's name into the trial Tuesday after having the defendant repeat the story of her romance with Gutchev. Shapiro has not been available for comment.

When his name came up again yesterday, Miss Coplon said Shapiro, too, had told her that he loved her and wanted her to marry him, but that her relations with him were platonic.

"I did not want to marry him because I did not love him," she snapped at Kelley.

When Kelley referred to the night of Jan. 7 — a night which Miss Coplon spent in a Baltimore hotel room with Shapiro — she fumed:

"Nothing ever happened that you intimated happened."

As for the following night in a Philadelphia hotel, she testified:

"He didn't make any improper advances. I was fully clothed, Mr. Kelley."

Kelley at this point handed Miss Coplon a paper and said: "Read this and see if it will refresh your memory."

She read, calmly, and said: "This is very interesting."

"Does it refresh your recollection?" Kelley asked.

"It does not refresh my recollection as to the things you want me to say went on."

Kelley took back the paper. It was not introduced in evidence. To reporters who asked him about it afterward, he said: "No comment."

The petite 28-year-old former Justice Department analyst insisted that when she remained overnight in Shapiro's apartment a few times it was "not for immoral purposes."

Miss Coplon is accused of copying and removing Justice Department secrets with the intent of aiding a foreign power, Russia. In addition, she and Gutchev face espionage conspiracy charges in New York.

JESTER

"The weighing the action of the Legislature and the legal opinion of the attorney general and against the reasons submitted to me in support of a veto, the weight of the law and the force of the action of the Legislature in expressing the attitude of Texas against federal regulations and controls in time of peace preponderate in favor of my signing the bill, if possible."

Paragraphs noted in the preceding paragraphs, it is my considered belief that Texans generally do not want or need a continuation of rent controls.

"As I sign this bill, I appeal to the fairness of Texas landlords, by charging inordinate rents, cause or contribute to housing emergency, House Bill 808 stresses the existence of a housing emergency authorizes the governing body of a city or town to enact local rent controls."

Jester requested the opinion from Daniel after Federal Housing Expediter Tigue Woods flew here to ask that the bill be vetoed. Woods questioned legality of a provision of the bill authorizing cities to reestablish their own rent controls if they find it necessary to deal with a housing emergency.

Daniel told the Governor by letter that the bill "will legally and Constitutionally and federal rent control in Texas."

ISLAND OF ESCAPE

THE STORY: Ben Cosgrove, an uneducated but hardy man, has been taken to the island of escape. He is a prisoner of the islanders and must work for his food. He is surrounded by a hostile population and must find a way to escape. The story is a thrilling tale of survival and adventure.

BEA looked at the remainder of her first sandwich with distaste. Mabel-Jones might be kind to plants, but her sandwiches were soggy. Miss Cosgrove wrapped up the lunch, filled a stone and put the package in the hole beneath "Buried treasure?"

"You were in the services?" "Oh sure. And I left my 20-20 vision on the beach of a beautiful blue lagoon. Do you want the message? Bring in the sheep. Batten down the hatches for a storm. His time it's your boss who orders. Henry Harding."

"How about a drink?" he suggested. "Miss Firth, I believe you're a doctor." Agnes looked at Harding. He nodded. "I'll go with you," Bascombe said. "We'll need a flashlight, it's dark as the inside of a goat."

HENRY HARDING walked purposefully to the tower room. The others in the main room could hear the sound of his low voice. Mollie frowned out, tossing her head angrily. From inside the tower came the sound of the slam of the second story door.

ONCE again Speare Island was prepared for a siege, an attack by the elements. Henry Gough Harding lent a physical presence to the doing of the chores. His mind was elsewhere, on some problem over and above the actualities of Speare Island life.

Sidewalk Flirtation Judged No Crime

TAMPA, Fla. — (AP) — Is it a crime to flirt with a pretty girl on the sidewalk? City Judge R. J. Potter thinks not. Thursday he dismissed two men accused of molesting a 18-year-old theater cashier. She accused the pair of following her late at night. Said the judge: "It is a general tendency of men who see a pretty girl walking along the street to try to get acquainted. I am sure they had no intention of harming her."

80-Year-Old Lawmaker Finds Right Note in Tidelands Case

Our World Certainly Is Changing

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
This amazing world of ours is changing so rapidly in its way of life that it's difficult for some of our old-timers to keep up. The horse-and-buggy elders don't so easily readjust themselves to the ideological, social and political upheaval of the atomic age.
What inspired this outburst was the marriage extraordinary of the German Princess Cecile, of Hohenzollern to Clyde Harris, a good-looking former American Army officer from Amarillo, Tex. The princess is the grand-daughter of the late Kaiser Wilhelm and is a direct descendant of England's Queen Victoria. The wedding took place amidst the splendor of one of the Hohenzollern castles, with many notable guests, including royalty, present.
Imagine the Kaiser's grand-daughter marrying a commoner! When I was a young fellow in the hey-day of Wilhelm, such a marriage would have been unthinkable, at least to the emperor and his court.
Royalty was royalty and the Kaiser ruled by divine right. It was the Kaiser's exalted view of himself which inspired the poem "Me und Gott" by an American Naval officer, a composition which infuriated his majesty. It was that same ambitious spirit which had much to do with hastening the present politico-social global upheaval, for it was he who gave the signal which precipitated World War I.
Finally came the German collapse, the revolution and the forced abdication of the Kaiser, who went into exile. Thus disappeared one of the greatest thrones of history, to be followed by the rolling of crowns in many other countries.
The rest of the German royal family, including little Willie, the crown prince, retired to private life and since then have lived quietly with ample means amidst their wonderful estates. Gradually they have been adapting themselves to the new world which has followed the Kaiser's war. Tuesday's wedding indicated how well they have succeeded.
The blonde Princess Cecile is a charming woman of 31 who has married for love with the smiling approval of her royal relatives. The best man for the wedding was her brother, Prince Louis Ferdinand, who is married to the grand Duchess Kira of Russia.
Louis said of his new brother-in-law:
"We love Clyde. He is such a sincere, likeable and genuine chap. I can tell you, we are happy about this match."
And will the newlyweds live in a castle in Germany? Not on your life. Harris is going to take his bride back to Amarillo where

Valley Business Man Is Missing

McALLEN — (P) — The McAllen Monitor yesterday reported Sam L. Miller 47, head of nine valley corporations, has been reported absent from his office for several days, his whereabouts unknown. The newspaper quoted an associate of Miller as saying he left a note at his residence saying he was going "south of the border" for a rest, that he had overworked.
Miss Virginia Russell, office manager of the Hidalgo Packing Co., where Miller had his offices, said he had not been feeling well recently.
"The doctor advised him several weeks ago to rest, but he wouldn't," she said.
Activities of the dressmaking industry in France were drastically curtailed by the decline of tourist trade in 1934.
he is an interior decorator. There they will build themselves a home, even as you and I.
Yes, our world certainly is changing. Are we in step?

He received a standing ovation. Speaking on personal privilege, the 80-year-old lawmaker from El Paso solemnly declared that the treaty by which Texas entered the union "is comparable in every respect with a contract between two individuals."
If the treaty were broken by the United States, Texas would have to become a republic once more, he insisted.
He said the United States of America had full knowledge of what the Republic of Texas claimed as its boundaries including its public domain, and the United States agreed that Texas should retain its unappropriated domain. The boundaries specifically extended three leagues into the Gulf of Mexico.
The federal government now claims title to the oil-rich tidelands.
Isaacks said it would follow that if the United States can now take part of the Republic of Texas public domain, then the United States would be entitled to recover all of the public domain owned by the Republic of Texas at the time of the consummation of the treaty and all of the fabulously wealthy public school and university lands now worth billions of dollars would be lost to the state of Texas.
The House unanimously voted to send copies of Isaack's speech to each member of Congress, to President Truman and to members of the cabinet.

YANK HATS ON RED HEADS—Hey, doughboy, recognize those helmets? Yep, they're the same ones you wore from Guadalcanal to Tokyo. Here, they're worn by Communist troops in Shanghai. They got them from captured Nationalist soldiers, who got them from Uncle Sam's war surplus. (Radio-Telephoto by NEA-Acme staff correspondent Warren Lee.)

Department of Welfare Is Sought by President

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of several stories on President Truman's plans for reorganizing the government.)

WASHINGTON — (P) — President Truman wants to create a brand new government department called the department of welfare.

This was one of the seven plans he laid before Congress this week as part of a program to reorganize the government.

To understand why he did this, and the background of it, imagine you're looking at a chart of the government's make-up. You start with:

1. The nine big departments whose heads are members of the president's cabinet: State, Justice, Labor, Commerce, Agriculture, Interior, Post Office, Treasury, and the Military Establishment (Army, Navy, Air Force).
2. Then you see the big independent agencies and commissions which stand alone, not connected with any department, such as:

The Federal Security Agency; Civil Service Commission; and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

3. Then you see swarms of smaller agencies and bureaus tucked away inside of (because they're part of) the departments and the big independent agencies, such as:

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) in the Justice Department; the U.S. Office of Education; the U.S. Public Health Service; Social Security Administration; U.S. Office of Education; Food and Drug Administration; and the Bureau of Employees' Compensation (it handles injured government workers).

Other agencies, now part of FSA, but which Mr. Truman thinks belong outside a welfare department, would be transferred elsewhere.

Showdown on Bus Strike Postponed

BEAUMONT — (P) — A showdown meeting on the Beaumont city bus strike was postponed until tomorrow morning.
"The City Council has reluctantly agreed to postpone taking action in the matter until 8:30 a.m. Friday at the urgent request of both parties," Mayor Otho Plummer said.
The council had scheduled an 8:30 a.m. meeting on the strike situation today.
Plummer had threatened drastic action at the meeting if the strike had not been settled.
The walkout of bus employees has tied up public transportation for a month.

Business Failures Rise During Week

NEW YORK — (P) — Business failures rose sharply in the week ended June 11, Dun & Bradstreet reported.
It reported that 194 commercial and industrial enterprises failed during the latest week. This compared with 174 in the previous week and was substantially above the 100 failures in the like week of 1948 and the 66 listed for the same week in 1947.

Parker's Homer Wins 7-7 Deadlock

Roy Parker notched his seventh win of the year last night, but he used his bat as well as his arm to do it. The score was tied, 7-7, going into the last of the tenth. Parker, the leadoff man, took the first pitch from Ellis Rossion. Then he calmly spanked the next one out of the park for his eighth homer of the year, his seventh pitching victory of the year against seven losses, and a 7-8 victory for the Oilers.

Parker went to the mound in the third inning to replace Merlin Hubbard who ran into a streak of wildness in the second frame, allowing the Lobos to overcome an early Pampa lead. Parker batted the rest of the game, giving up three runs in the third, but shutting the Lobos out the rest of the way. He was in rare form as he moved down the visitors without issuing a single base on balls.

The big bat of Stan Surma put the Oilers off to a three-run lead in the first inning. With two on and two out, Surma drove a double into centerfield scoring both runners, and he came in behind them on a single by Roy Engle.

Three hits, two walks, an error and a wild pitch gave the Lobos four runs in the second, and the lead. They added three more in the third off of Parker. Miller hit his sixteenth home run of the other.

A walk, a force play, a double by Matney and a two-base error by Selbo netted the Oilers two runs in the third and Richardson's home run added another in the fifth.

The Oilers knotted the count in the seventh on a single by Matney, on which the centerfielder erred, and a single by Harper.

And there the stage was set for Parker's blast in the tenth.

Indians Defeat A's in 14th Inning

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Dale Mitchell's triple with the bases loaded in the 14th inning last night gave the Cleveland Indians a 7 to 3 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. Bob Lemon, who was knocked from the box by the Athletics Tuesday night, came back in relief of lefty Gene Bearden to gain credit for his seventh win of the campaign.

Old Reliable Wins Another for Yankees

NEW YORK — (AP) — Tommy Henrich's 14th home run of the season, with Gene Woodling aboard in the sixth inning broke up an 8-8 deadlock and gave the New York Yankees a 10-8 victory and a split in their doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns Wednesday. The Browns won the opener, 5-1, behind the clutch pitching of Red Embree, who allowed 18 former mates to reach base, but left 17 of them stranded.

Longhorns Move Ahead in NCAA National Baseball Tournament

WICHITA, Kans. — (AP) — The Wake Forest Demon and Texas Longhorn meet in the winner's bracket game of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's championship baseball tournament at 8 (CST) tonight.

Paired in the second game of the double elimination tourney are Southern California, the 1948 national collegiate champion, and St. John's of Brooklyn. The loser in this game, scheduled for 10 o'clock, will be eliminated from championship consideration.

Wake Forest defeated Southern California, 2-1, in the top of the tenth inning in first round play last night.

Texas swarmed over St. John's, 7-1, in the opener, the Longhorns backing pitcher Murray Wailes 11 2/3 eight-inning job with a timely assist. First baseman Tom Hamilton cracked two home runs for the Texans.

The championship will be settled Saturday.

Morris Dishes Out Suspension and Fines

DALLAS — (AP) — A Cuban pitcher accused of "climbing up into the stands and knocking hell out of a fan" was suspended indefinitely Wednesday from Organized Baseball.

President J. Walter Morris of the Big State League announced the penalty against Ramon Rogers of the Sherman-Denton club. Morris also fined Rogers $50.

Sherman was playing Gainesville at Sherman Sunday night "when this fan began heckling Rogers," Morris said.

"Rogers got mad. Pretty quick he was climbing up into the stands and knocking hell out of the fan." The name of the fan is not known.

Morris also fined Manager Hank Oana of the Austin club $25 for delaying the game with Texarkana at Austin June 17 and $10 for misconduct—"he cursed out an umpire"—in a game with Waco at Waco June 18. He fined shortstop Fred Campbell of Austin $10 for misconduct—"using expletives in talking to an umpire"—in the Waco game.

As East Texas League president, Morris fined Red Throp of Bryan $10 for "talking too much to an umpire."

Unanimous Vote Goes to Newly Crowned Champ

CHICAGO — (AP) — Ezzard Charles, who wanted to be a ring champion ever since he started boxing at the age of 14, has realized his burning ambition.

Last night, after 13 years of slugging his way to the top, this little 27-year-old Cincinnati Negro won the NBA version of the world heavyweight title vacated by Joe Louis by decisively defeating Jersey Joe Walcott in a 15-round battle.

Charles won the unanimous decision of the three officials, approval of the National Boxing Association, the consent of Louis and the blessing of the newly formed International Boxing Club, promoters of the bout, which has an exclusive three-year contract with Charles.

But now Charles has to convince the New York Athletic Commission, which is on record as opposing Charles, and Massachusetts, which does not belong to the NBA. England, too, will have a champion of its own Sept. 6 when the British Board of Boxing Control recognizes the winner of the Lee Savold-Bruce Woodcock bout for the crown.

The contest was fought in Comiskey Park, home of the Chicago White Sox, where 12 years ago to the night Louis won the championship by knocking out Jimmy Braddock.

The crowd of 25,392, which paid $246,546, was not disappointed in Arthur Wirtz, James D. Norris and Louis, who formed the IBC.

Charles' victory over the 35-year-old Camden, N. J., family placed Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias, Port Arthur, against Polly Riley, the sturdy little Irish girl from Fort Worth.

They were to tie off at 1:15 p.m. (CST) in the first of four quarterfinal contests which placed professionals against a quartet of parashooting amateurs.

Sinker Best From Waist Down, Rising Fast Balls Are Popped Up

Written for NEA Service
By HAL NEWHOUSER

Pitching Leader
To help the fan understand pitching, perhaps it is best to explain what the pitcher is trying to do, and why control is so important.

Different pitches are thrown to different spots.
When they are thrown to the wrong places, base hits usually are the result.

The pitcher hides the ball in his glove at the start of the wind-up so coaches can't see any slight change he might make before delivery.

The windup is to aid timing, not increase speed.
The ball can be thrown just as hard with men on bases despite the lack of a full windup.

The pitcher always has the ball break away from the batter's line of vision.

A sinking fast ball is most effective when thrown from the waist down.

A rising fast ball is pitched from the waist up. This usually results in long flies or pop-ups.

The curve and the change-of-pace ball are thrown from the waist down.

The batter can reset himself if he gets a good look at a change of pace, and has time to adjust his swing.

A left-hand pitcher shouldn't throw a curve inside to a right-hand batter unless it is thrown hard and with a downward spin.

The pitch breaking straight down makes it difficult for the batter to adjust himself, step back and pull the ball into left field.

The change of pace is difficult to control, and is thrown with the same motion and type of delivery as the fast ball and curve.

It differs from the others only in that there is a stiffer wrist action. The pitcher sort of pushes the ball out at the last second with just a little downward snap.

A ballout should not throw sideward to a left-hand batter unless he has two strikes on him.

Otherwise the batter can afford to take it for a called strike. And getting a look at it, he won't be fooled as much the next time.

Throwing the sideward curve or fast ball, the pitcher pitches from the middle of the plate to the outside.

The pitcher tries to relax with men on bases. If he were tense, he might make a false motion when a runner moved, resulting in a balk.

HAL NEWHOUSER — Pitching is nothing but concentration, timing and rhythm.

The pitcher keeps fast runners close to the base, makes sure they come to a complete stop before he delivers the ball to the batter.

With men on base, and an attempted sacrifice likely, the pitcher tries to throw a fast ball high with plenty of stuff on it.

The batter will have a tendency to pop up while bunting, and it may turn into a double play.

When a batter is hitting away, the pitcher keeps everything low. The batter will generally hit the ball on the ground, and again a double play may result.

And, let me tell you, mister, a pitcher never gets tired of having double plays made behind him.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hass—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What was the lowest batting average to ever win the National batting championship?

SPORT SIDELIGHTS: The transfer of Bobby Lane to the New York Bulldogs from the Chicago Bears will serve two purposes. . . It will give the Bulldogs much needed backfield strength and it will relieve the financial burden on the Bear's quarterback spot, which already has Johnny Lujack and Sid Luckman. . . Did Bill Veeck break up a winning combination when he traded Eddie Robinson and Joe Tipton? . . . Many think he did. . . Even Manager Lou Boudreau is trying to build a fire under Mickey Vernon. . . "Mickey has never been with a winner and we are trying to get him to hustle more," Lou recently revealed.

STAN MUSIAL of the Cardinals says he started to hit homers when he forgot about them. . . "I was bent on beating my 39 circuit clouts of 1948 and was trying to pull every ball to rightfield," he explains. . . "Now I just hit the ball where it is pitched and they travel now and then." — Wait Masteron, Boston Red Sox right-hander, says the new uniform baseball is so live that when you squeeze it you can feel the rabbit's heart throbbing—Frankie Frisch, new Chicago Cub manager, and the man he succeeded, Charley Grimm, are nearly baseball twins. . . Frisch was born Sept. 8, 1899. Charley's birth date is August 28, 1898. No wonder Mauri Rose didn't win the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race last Memorial Day. . . A mathematical genius had figured out his slide rule and tipped that the odds against a driver winning three times in the big race are 285,600 to 1.

ED LOPAT, once with the White Sox and now with the Yankees, claims that a catcher Yogi Berra is calling pitches as cleverly as any catcher in the American League. . . "When I joined the Yanks," Lopat recalls, "I told Yogi to think up some signals that he could remember and that I would try to get them. Now he is able to cross up the hitters. Yes, Bill Dickey made a catcher of Yogi." Having a midnight snack in the Cubs' hotel in Boston, one of the party was mystified by a menu entree: "Sotch Wood Cock." . . Roy Johnson, Cub coach and a great outdoorsman, sought to clear up the situation. . . He said: "We used to shoot 'em when I was a boy in Indian territory." Yogi's pink skin when the waitress explained that in New England "Sotch Wood Cock" is an order of scrambled eggs with anchovies.

CHARLEY BODINE, Oiler right-hander, nominates the following as his major league all-star cast:

NATIONAL LEAGUE: Andy Seminick, Philadelphia, catcher; Eddie Waitkus, Philadelphia, first base; Red Schoendienst, St. Louis, second base; Pee Wee Reese, Brooklyn, shortstop; Eddie Kazak, St. Louis, third base; Stan Musial, St. Louis, Sid Gordon and Willard Marshall, New York, outfielders.

AMERICAN LEAGUE: Buddy Rosar, Philadelphia, catcher; Ferris Fain, Philadelphia, first base; Bobby Doerr, Boston, second base; Eddie Joost, Philadelphia, shortstop; George Kell, Detroit, third base; Tommy Henrich, New York and Don DiMaggio and Ted Williams, Boston, outfielders.

Send in your votes, fans, for your favorite baseball players. There is still a short while before the deadline for nominations.

ANSWER: The lowest batting average to ever win the National League championship was the .320 of Larry Doyle in 1915.

Dyer Credits Card Showing To Ballplayers

By WHITEY MARTIN

NEW YORK —(AP)— Some guys always want credit, whether it is at the corner pub or for providing the shoestring which some fellow ran into a million dollars.

It is, therefore, refreshing to know a gentleman such as Eddie Dyer, who doesn't ask credit for anything. If you mentioned that he was wearing a nice suit he would thank you, but say his tailor was responsible.

Eddie's St. Louis Cardinals have been doing a trifle better than all right recently, but he's not popping vest buttons and complaining his hats are getting too small for him.

He gives all the credit to his players, notably fellows like Stan Musial, and Enos Slaughter, and Howie Pollet, and Harry Breghen.

He knows that all the master minding in the world can't make a player slap a pitch into the rightfield stands or get the low outside corner of the plate with a sharp-breaking curve.

Last year, and early this year, when things weren't breaking quite so well for the Redbirds, Eddie didn't complain. Sure, he'd list injuries and ailments and whatnot that handicapped some of the players, but he was just stating facts.

To our knowledge he never blamed the players for defeats. He realized they were doing the best they could, and that some day the sun would shine again. It just took patience, that's all. At the time it seemed all he had was patients.

Anyway, he never lost faith in his pros, although others did, we among them. He saw father time catching up with some of them and wrapping his long beard around their legs and arms and otherwise hobbling them.

Now his faith had been rewarded, at least temporarily. We don't know just what will happen to the men when the dog days of August arrive and the wear and tear of the campaign really begins to tell, but right now the men are doing just what he said they could do all along.

NCAA Tennis Tournament Loses Its Top-Seeded Star in Heat

AUSTIN —(AP)— Minus both its top-seeded singles and doubles entries, the National Collegiate Athletic Association tennis tournament staggered — and the heat makes that word appropriate here — into the quarterfinal rounds today.

Vic Seixas of North Carolina, who had been ranked first in singles, was upset by little-known Gene Garrett of UCLA yesterday, 6-3, 6-2. The top-seeded doubles combination of Arnold Saul and Bob Ferris of Southern California was taken out by Gardner Larned and Buddy Behrens of Rollins in a match that went 48 games — 11-9, 8-7, 8-7.

The terrific Texas heat was an important factor in virtually every match of yesterday's rounds. In one instance it caused a seeded player — Dick Savitt of Cornell, ranked ninth — to fall out. Savitt suffered a sunstroke and had to go to a hospital. He defaulted to Jack Tuero of Tulane.

The heat indirectly brought a default from still another player — Clark Taylor of North Carolina. Taylor suffered a sunstroke last year and had had some trouble from it since then. He had been ill for two days here and quit his match against Behrens because of an upset stomach aggravated by the heat. Savitt also had to forfeit in doubles where he was to have played with Leonard Steiner against Seixas and Taylor.

As the tournament reached the halfway mark, UCLA, San Francisco and Rollins here locked in a tight battle for the team championship which is decided by victories in both singles and doubles from yesterday's round through the final. A point is awarded for each win.

The University of Texas is playing its 55th baseball season this spring.

NEW YORK — An old-line Connecticut Democrat surveyed the color-press view from the tenth tee — the New England white steepie beautiful against the full summer greenery, the mist and the cotton clouds.

"It looks the same," he said, "but it isn't our Connecticut any more. They took us over. We ran the party machine for them and now it's theirs. They used our old Democratic Party name and the Irish names of the old leaders."

It is like when an old honored family name in business goes to seed and heirs neglect things. Strangers inch in. They use the old man's sons or grandsons for a front and they still carry the name over the door. That is what has happened in Connecticut. The Americans for Democratic Action are the hidden owners of the Democratic Party. Governor Bowles is not a Democrat at all. He is boss of the A.D.A. for Connecticut. I am just a front for the Irish-Catholic vote, waiting on trade for the real owners who are all kinds except Democrats.

The A.D.A. is a splinter in the clandestine European mode. In New York the Democratic Party is a front for the American Labor Party, the equivalent of the old Communist Party. It is also a sort of holding company for the liberal party, which is a private, household party of the farm workers union. This party's literature and its orators frankly acknowledge a paramount interest in foreign lands. The Democratic Party also is the bewildered, protesting parent of an illegitimate child called the Four Freedoms Party that was hatched a few weeks ago. I catch stray votes for Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., when the Democrats refused him their nomination for Congress.

Young Roosevelt ran against the Democratic candidate in that ominously American campaign for the seat left by the late Sol Bloom. His Democratic opponent was Judge Ben Shalleck, respected by the Jewish community and a Democrat of impeccable regularity. Roosevelt ran on two tickets, the Liberal, which is operated as a personal concern by David Dubinsky, the president of the Garment Workers, and the Four Freedoms Party that was hatched a few weeks ago. I catch stray votes for Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., when the Democrats refused him their nomination for Congress.

George Sokolsky, who lives in the district, is a scholar and philosopher, an orator and a journalist of courage and force. He is the son of a rabbi. He calls himself a reform Jew. He practices his religion faithfully while others who practice no religion at all have tried to get him fired for "anti-semitism."

"On the Jewish side," he said, "I discovered that the elements of American government were beyond the imagination, to say nothing of the knowledge, of many of these people." Dr. Sokolsky wrote, "The word 'Republican' had no meaning whatever. It had no European meaning; therefore, for them, no American meaning. The word 'Democratic' meant, really 'Social Democratic' in the continental European sense. The President of this country, as Stalin or Hitler ruled his, only the American President was a good ruler. Congress for them had no meaning."

"One candidate had been to the new state of Israel and he remarked that to his credit, Junior Roosevelt had announced that he would go after election."

Connecticut's population is mostly native-born. Yet the same fateful decline toward Europeanism is proceeding. The Democratic Party is just a title, a trademark and the old American Democrats are living on borrowed time, strangers in their own house.

The House of Representatives a few weeks ago, Majority Leader McCormack, a New England Democrat of the helpless, captive American host, arose to say that Edward Hebert, of Louisiana, was not properly entitled to the privileges of a Democratic member because he supported Governor Thurnmond, of South Carolina, for president last fall. Therefore, Hebert was allowed to sit as a Democrat "only through tolerance."

Mr. Hebert replied he was elected on the Democratic ticket whereas F.D.R., Jr., was not a Democrat in any sense. "He was elected as a member of Dubinsky's private political party, the Liberal Party, and he will have the approval of a party called the Four Freedoms," said Mr. Hebert. "I confess I never heard of that before. He was also actively supported by the so-called American Democratic Action, the left-wing faction which split the Democratic Party wide open in Philadelphia with the so-called civil rights plank. It was this wing which caused some Southern delegations to walk out. The same A.D.A. tried to ditch Truman in favor of Eisenhower or Douglas. Four years ago in its Chicago convention this A.D.A. openly declared it owed allegiance to neither the Democrats nor Republicans but would go along with the Democratic Party for the time being because, through this medium, it could accomplish some of its ends."

Yet McCormack fawned on young Roosevelt and his mother, who founded the A.D.A. McCormack and even Truman are not merely helpless, like a man in a terrible dream or a bird before a snake. Worse, they have guilt like the small Connecticut local leader, the Irish Democrat of the ancient stock, who inwardly knew that he was having traffic with an insidious enemy but couldn't bring himself to throw down party loyalty and be an American at all cost. We are far on our way toward the fate of France where splinters and parasites multiplied and spread confusion and even professional politicians groped and reeled into the pit.

The One-World Dream

Most everyone would like to see the world become so moral that they could have one world. If, however, everybody became moral, we wouldn't need a government. We would have several schemes of one world.

Merwin Hart, President of the Economic Council, in the Council's monthly letter points out that one world would not be practical because the American people would lose their liberty and independence. He cites the different organizations that are for one world. They range from the Communist to one proposal written by Chancellor Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago. Hutchins proposes that all the nations join and that every nation governs its own representative. It is easy to see how the rest of the world would outvote the United States.

Here is a quotation from this letter: "In the Hutchins 'model' constitution, for example, Section 4 provides: 'The Federal Convention shall consist of delegates elected directly by the people of all states and nations, one delegate for each million population or fraction thereof about one-half-million...'

"The idea of a political control of any area will be the 'election' of 'candidates.' And so they will boss the new world system. Here are the sizes of some delegations on the basis of the Hutchins proposal:

"China (not including USSR)....."	400
USSR....."	212
India....."	212
U.S.A. (including Alaska and Hawaii)....."	149
Pakistan....."	100
European Satellites of USSR....."	89
Japan....."	78
Germany....."	78
Indonesian Republic....."	56
United Kingdom....."	48
Brazil....."	47
Italy....."	46
France....."	38
Spain....."	38
Mexico....."	24
Argentina....."	16
Canada....."	12
Australia....."	8
Sweden....."	7
Chile....."	5
Denmark....."	4
Norway....."	4
New Zealand....."	2

"By continents the grimness of the picture emerges even more clearly:

"Asia (not including USSR)....."	1100
Europe....."	300
Behind Iron Curtain (USSR)....."	212
North America....."	176
South America....."	94
Oceania....."	77

"These considering any scheme for this connection is should be remembered that the chief complaint nearly all advocates of 'World Government' make against the UN is the veto, they say, which keeps the UN from being a 'World Government.' Yet unless they are willing to go back on their own thesis, and can get the majority of the world to consent to do so, they have no right to demand that the UN be a 'World Government' which will fall into the hands of those who can 'vote' the great population blocs."

"If anything is clear, then, it is that under any 'World Government' the continued existence of American life and culture as we know it would become entirely dependent upon the permission of the totalitarian world. When one considers that any 'World Government' would necessarily have to regulate world commerce and industry, it does not require excessive intelligence to see what would happen to the U.S.A. politically and economically."

"It is our economic primacy which gives us our political freedom and the ability to defend our freedom. To join any such world government would be to give ourselves up to the tender mercies of those who would themselves profit by destroying our freedom and standard of living. We should be ready to use every weapon to enemies who have sworn to destroy us. For in such a system the USSR through its domination of Eastern Europe and most of Asia would be the dominant power."

"To suggest that we do this is to suggest that we commit national suicide. It's as simple as that."

Plane to Spray Perryton Soon

FERRYTON — (Special) — At a meeting of the City Council on Tuesday it was decided to start work as soon as possible on spraying the town to eradicate flies, mosquitoes and other insects with the city. The weeds in the alley and vacant lots will be moved before the spraying is begun.

The city plans to do the spraying from an airplane three different times if necessary. The spray will consist of DDT with an oil base. The lake south of town will also be included in the spraying program. Each water meter connection in both the business and residential sections of town will be assessed $1.00 each month for June, July and August to carry out the spraying program.

I have just returned from an eight weeks visit to Great Britain, where I studied a first hand the results of a socialist government in action and observed its effects upon the freedom and the economy of the people.

After four years of peace, I found the people of Great Britain suffering a rationing and price control. Even so, prices of staples are relatively high and luxuries are out of the question. The diet is even worse in some respects than it was during the war. Goods in shops are scarce and quality is poor. The cost of living continues high. Taxation has reached a point where it is almost unbearable, and if continued will inevitably ruin the nation. Production in the factories per man hour is low. The cost of manufactured goods is such that they can not compete in the markets of the world on a price basis. The people, in effect, are prisoners on their own "light little life," only a limited number being permitted to travel abroad each year, and each of this number only being allowed to spend a maximum sum of $140 for the purpose.

The present predicament of that once proud nation is unquestionably the result of state control imposed upon the people by the Socialist Government, when it came into power four years ago. The wastefulness and bungling and inefficiency of the Government in operating the key industries which it has thus far nationalized have resulted in enormous wastes of money, and have at the same time resulted in less food for the people and higher costs for raw materials for their factories. The "free" market has been replaced by the Socialist Government through a policy of "soaking the rich" have cost far more than was "planned." The "free" health service, for instance, was "planned" to cost $600 million the first year; it actually cost $1,000 million. Great Britain was in no position to afford any such benefits, and they could by no means have been provided without aid from the United States. In the same way, the cost of money, and less food for the people and higher costs for raw materials for their factories. The "free" market has been replaced by the Socialist Government through a policy of "soaking the rich" have cost far more than was "planned."

The wealth of Great Britain has been redistributed all right, and with a vengeance, but the nation is no better off than when the policy was adopted. And now, after four years of such redistribution, the Socialist Government itself has had to tell the people there is no further possibility of tax income from this source. The benefits which were to be paid for by individuals who receive it, by the people themselves. What disillusionment—when the people had been led to believe there was no end to the benefits they could obtain in this manner!

Are we in the United States learning the lesson that the experience of Great Britain is teaching us? That is a serious question. The future welfare of this nation and its people. Don't tell the industrialists of Great Britain that it can't happen here! They will laugh at you. They will tell you that if anyone had told them ten years ago, or as late as five years ago, that they would now be living under the kind of government they have, they would have said he was crazy. For the same reason, don't let the Socialist Government get started in the United States of America! You are our last great hope for the preservation of freedom in the world. Don't let the Socialist Government get started in the United States of America!

We will do well to remember this warning whenever measures are presented before us for what we should be doing for ourselves. We should avoid the "planned economy" and the "welfare state" like we would avoid the plague. They may sound good on paper, but they only lead to stagnation and ruin.

Goodness, I've been expecting it, but it scares me just the same. Over in England, scientists who built a mechanical brain are all fussed because it went to work and turned out an answer to a mathematical problem completely different from the answer that human mathematicians got. How do you argue with a mechanical brain? You can't set it down and say, "Now see here, old man... What will happen to me when I install them in banks? I won't be able to fight with my big, brown eyes, when I have my usual month-end discussion about my overdrawn banking account. Brrrr!

I suppose some day they'll be having robot hands to relieve the husband shortage. Can you imagine a mechanical husband giving you a mechanical kiss and he goes to the office?... Say, come to think of it... No, I'm practically certain George is human!

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON — Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., will have a better chance for the New York governorship as a step toward a possible presidential nomination in 1956 or 1960, if Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora should be nominated and elected as the next mayor of New York. He appears to be Tammany's best bet as Mayor O'Dwyer's prospective successor.

Tammany man in City Hall might damage young Roosevelt's gubernatorial chances, for he would have to be nominated in convention, and "the hall" is naturally sore over the cent special Congressional election.

Up-state politicians have never been especially friendly to the Hyde Park or Oyster Bay Roosevelts, figuring that both of these families' most eminent representatives were slightly off the normal beam. An anti-Roosevelt combination of downstate and upstate contributors could easily block the newcomer's upward path.

The answer is that they cannot, although State may not be consciously favoring appointment of millionaires rather than career-trained diplomats to foreign posts. That is the effect which creation or purchase of old-world castles will have. The ordinary man, no matter how talented, cannot afford servants' salaries in these grandiose structures.

But during a discussion of the State Department's building program, an objecting member spoke in terms of billions instead of millions.

Senator McCarran, handling the appropriation measure, immediately corrected him. "I beg your pardon," explained the offender. "I have heard billions talked of so much since I became a member of this body that it is hard to think in terms of millions."

And it was only a few years ago that Vice President Marshall said: "What America needs most is a good five-cent cigar!"

You can't treat international agreements the way a cook treats potatoes — accepting some and rejecting others.

—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinskiy.

For all her so-called "liberalism" and role as a shining example of womanhood in national politics, Mrs. Norton was a loyal and obedient member of one of the most ruthless machines in the United States.

In the Hague-Kenny battle, which only a spendthrift would result in the defeat of the last of the old-time bosses, Mrs. Norton backed the loser. She had to, for it was Hague who let her go to Washington. But, unfortunately for her, she was rather vocal in her anti-Kenny denunciations.

Wright, the New Jersey political expert for the Passaic Herald-News, Mrs. Norton may soon be in the market for a new refrigerator, washing machine, carpet cleaner and other home improvements lacking on Capitol Hill.

The State Department's elaborate program for construction of embassy buildings abroad got rough handling from Congress, in view of Acheson's proposals to spend millions of dollars on palatial structures in countries now behind the "iron curtain" or just outside that dark drop.

State has a five-year, $239,000 building program for housing of our diplomats abroad. It got $47,000,000 in 1948, and it asked $25,000,000 for the 1949 fiscal year. The House reduced the figure to $20,000,000, but the Senate pruned it to $9,500,000. Principal anti-argument was that these fancy buildings might eventually fall into the hands of the Soviet.

Secretary Acheson, in the senators' opinion, also showed a poor sense of values. His program provided for a $35,000,000 embassy in China, for instance, but for Germany, a far more important country from every standpoint, he asked only $5,000,000. Here are the amounts the State wants to pay for embassies either overruled by Reds or directly in their path of possible world conquest:

Austria, $2,000,000; Bulgaria, $50,000; China, $35,000,000; Czechoslovakia, $2,500,000; Finland, $5,000,000; Germany, $5,000,000; Greece, $5,000,000; Hungary, $2,500,000; Korea, $6,000,000; Poland, $2,000,000; Yugoslavia, $1,500,000.

Quality of Milk Very Important

AUSTIN — In view of the fact that June has been proclaimed National Dairy Month, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, urges that with the more extensive use of milk, both producer and consumer be concerned as to its quality. The use of clean safe milk is a health measure.

Local interest in improved methods of producing wholesome milk has increased greatly in the past two decades and the striking advance in milk control has been responsible for the enormous saving in infant mortality.

Milk is perishable and especially during hot weather. To insure milk of good quality requires cleanliness, sterile utensils, protection against flies, careful bottling and maintenance at low temperature. The presence in fresh milk of large numbers of bacteria, due to insanitary methods, is a health hazard.

Dr. Cox added, "Among the diseases which may be transmitted through milk are tuberculosis, typhoid fever, diphtheria, septic sore throat, infantile fever, diarrhea and enteritis. Numerous milk-borne outbreaks of disease occur every year in this country from the use of milk that might have been safe with proper care."

"We should firmly insist that the milk we drink be carefully produced, so that we will have the maximum practicable protection along the line from the cow to the consumer."

Navy Ships, Planes Watch for Submarine
MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — Navy ships and planes continued Wednesday to maintain watch for an unidentified submarine reported sighted off the Florida coast although an intensive 24-hour search produced negative results.

The search covered 6,000 square miles of ocean and extended from Miami to Jacksonville, including the vicinity of the guided missile testing range at Banana River.

Washington by Peter Edson
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The design of a device known as the atom bomb is what sold the British on agreeing to let the U. S. fire guided missiles over the Bahamas as from the Florida Coast.

When the U. S. first approached British authorities on the matter, they quickly asked the first questions: "What happens if one of these missiles happens to go astray? It won't crash into the sea and kill a lot of people and destroy a lot of property? And this is a constant threat to us?"

U. S. experts then explained each guided missile fired is equipped with a button which never failed. The motor is a device which starts a missile when it starts off the plotted course. It is controlled from the ground and is fired by a radio beam. It is a press of a button, and at least one person always is ready to set off the motor at a firing. He watches the missile itself in the first few seconds of flight, and when it is eight follows it with radar, ready at any instant to blow it out of the sky if it should get astray.

After British experts saw the motor used successfully at White Sands, N. M., they were convinced that it would be safe to fire missiles over the Bahamas.

BRIEFCASE CAMOUFLAGE
Ted Dougherty, an employe of the Department of Agriculture, got curious about the increasing number of government workers who carried briefcases and a from work every day and decided to make a private investigation of the matter. An honest doubt existed in his mind as to whether all of them were doing their evening hours to do some interesting work at home. His spot check turned up some interesting findings. Many government workers actually were taking home work in their briefcases. But the great percentage of them were carrying lunch.

Scouts Receive Thanks of Girl

Girl Scouts of Troop 19 received a letter this morning from a 13-year-old Austrian girl, who was one of the recipients of clothing sent overseas by the troop.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Burl Lewter and Mrs. W. L. Kretzmeier, the Scouts mailed several bundles of clothing to the American Friends Service Committee at Philadelphia during the latter part of last year to be distributed to needy children in Europe.

The girl, Eva Schlamadinger, said her school, composed of 400 girls, received the clothing from Pampa Scouts the day before Christmas.

National Girl Scout Association planned last year to send 100,000 kits to European children. However, troops throughout the country sent more than one-half a million pounds of clothing, or 1,530,000 articles of clothing. It has been estimated that the Girl Scout Association clothed more than 150,000 European children.

Scouts of the Troop 19 sent a large box of soap to the Philadelphia committee during the latter part of last week.

Ten Combines Reported Idle In Pampa Area

Ten combines were idle this morning, and L. P. Fort, Texas Employment Commission office manager here, said it was necessary that farmers contact his office if they need machines.

He said he feared they would move on to other wheat areas if they are not engaged soon.

The wheat is only about 10 percent harvested in this county, he explained. There is still a lot of moisture in it, and dry patches are being quickly harvested.

Combines are not moving into the area from the South Plains as fast as was expected, he said, and a shortage of machines could become serious here.

He said those farmers who have wheat ready should contact his office at once, if they need combines.

Meanwhile, many of the other wheat counties currently are having an acute shortage of combines. A total shortage of 223 combines was reported by the Wheat Harvest Control Office at Amarillo in nine Panhandle and Plains area counties.

There were no unfilled orders for combines on hand at the Texas Employment Commission in Potter County at noon yesterday. The wheat in some of the areas in the county is still green and probably will not be ready to cut before Saturday, it was said.

Armstrong and Carson Counties both reported a shortage of combines and trucks. In Carson County about six combines are needed for the wheat is ready to be harvested throughout the county.

Harvest is progressing rapidly in both Hemphill and Wheeler Counties, the report said. No shortage of laborers or equipment has been reported as yet, but heavy demand for combines probably will become evident today, it was reported.

Cutting is limited to early varieties of wheat in Hutchinson County at the present time. However, it is expected the harvest will be in full swing before the end of the week.

A one and one-half inch rain in Hansford County Tuesday night has delayed cutting in almost every section of the county. About 40 combines are reported needed there.

Harvest is progressing nicely in Ochiltree County, the report added. The combine situation has eased considerably, though a shortage of about 20 combine operators and 20 experienced tractor drivers still exists.

Fruit Jar Bait Trap
AUSTIN — (AP) — It's okay now to use a fruit jar minnow trap for bait.
A bill legalizing this method of catching bait was signed yesterday by acting Gov. Allan Shivers. The fruit jar traps are fixed with funnel mouths—the minnows get in but can't find a way out. It hasn't been legal to use them in Texas.

ARTIST—Mrs. Raymond Elkins, Denver artist and wife of former Pampa, recently held an exhibit of her water colors and pencil sketches at a Denver art gallery. She is a daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Elkins, 1228 Duncan.
