WILBUR DISGORGES BIG BOOK ON WHOLE PROBLEM

By DON J. KIRKLEY
WASHINGTON, Jan. 2. (P)—Friend and foe of an oil tariff arose alike today to air their views just before congress reconvenes after the holidays.

Meanwhile, there grow in the offing plans for the campaign for protective petroleum levies, with a new slant interjected by Senator Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma.

From the American Oil Burner association in a formal statement there came vigorous opposition to "a prohibitive tariff or an embargo on importation of petroleum and petroleum products."

Such legislation, the association asserted, would cost consumers more than half a billion dollars additional a year.

"This huge sum," the statement said, "would go to a small coterie of petroleum producers and royalty owners from the pockets of millions of automobile owners and fuel oil users in every part of the country."

Letter Submitted
Oklahoma and Kansas house delegations, however, pushed ahead with their plans for a tariff drive.

A letter signed by all members of each was sent to the policy committee urging that petroleum levies be given early consideration.

"Pete" Post Now Kiwanians' Chief, Succeeding Hill

A. G. "Pete" Post is the new president of the Kiwanis club, and Paul D. Hill is wearing the past-president's badge following installation ceremonies on Friday.

Judge Newton P. Willis presided at the ceremony in his usual polished manner. M. P. Downs was installed as vice president, with Sam Clayman, Dan McGrew, Lee Waggoner, and Joe Lutz as directors. J. H. Hulme is district trustee.

Although the club's membership had a 50 per cent turnover during the year on account of men leaving the city in oil field work, their successors or others were admitted to keep the roll stationary at 35 members. Edwin Vicars has the distinction of having never missed a meeting.

The club was active in civic activities. Its safety week program was the best known project, and was very successful. Members served in many drives and during the Christmas period assisted materially in the relief work and distribution of baskets of food.

TRAGEDY ENACTED

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 2. (P)—First Sergeant Charles W. Long of the Eighth infantry, revived sufficiently late today to say "I must have been crazy" when he fatally injured his 11-year-old daughter and his 8-year-old son with a hatchet, critically injured his wife and then attempted suicide at Fort Moultrie shortly after day break today.

THE WEATHER

WEST TEXAS—Probably rain, somewhat warmer in the southeast portion Sunday. Monday partly cloudy, occasional rains in southeast portion.

Peace in India Now Remote

Arrest of Gandhi Will Be Soon—He Smiles and Urges Pacifism.

BOMBAY, India, (Sunday) Jan. 3. (P)—Negotiations for peace in India broke down today and the arrest of Mahatma Gandhi was momentarily expected.

Victory Lore Willingdon rejected the Mahatma's terms for settlement and informed the nationalist leader that he and the all-India national congress would be held responsible for any action they might take.

The government will be ready, the victory said in a telegram to Mr. Gandhi, to meet any activity on the part of the nationalists.

The mahatma smiled as he read the message. He expected, he remarked, to be arrested under a law of 1931 which empowered the government to arrest or deport any agitator without trial.

"The nation must respond to the government's challenge," Gandhi said.

"It is to be hoped, however, that while people of all classes and all creeds will courageously and in a humility go through the fiery ordeal, considering no price too dear and no suffering too great, they will observe the strictest non-violence in thought, word, and deed."

Old Murder Is in Limelight With Suspects Jailed

HOUSTON, Jan. 2. (P)—An investigation into the murder of Preston Austin, wealthy Victoria, Texas, cattleman, slain in a Hot Springs, Ark., hotel more than two years ago, brought the arrest of three men here today.

W. S. (Shilo) Scrivener, already under two local indictments in connection with a double killing; A. M. (Buddy) Jenkins and W. F. Martin were held for Hot Springs authorities. Advices from that city said the case would be placed before a grand jury next week in the hope of obtaining indictments.

The three and a fourth man not named by officers, stand charged by complaint in Hot Springs with the murder.

Austin was strangled to death in his Hot Springs hotel room in September of 1929. Investigating officers believed he had been robbed of money and valuable jewelry.

An attempt to find finger prints at the time, made by a local identification expert, W. R. Ellis, were futile.

Counsel for Martin filed a habeas corpus proceeding, a hearing being announced they would take a like action in his behalf.

HOPKINS GIRL BURIED FRIDAY

Funeral services for Miss Beatrice Johnson, popular 15-year-old Hopkins girl, were conducted in the Stephenson Mortuary chapel at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, by the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Music was furnished by the Stephenson quartet composed of L. C. Walters, J. D. Zimmerman, Horace McBe, and Ernest Fletcher. The chapel was filled with friends of the deceased.

Miss Johnson was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Johnson, living at Phillips camp, Bowers City. Mr. Johnson has been in this section for the past five years. Death was caused by pneumonia.

Besides her parents, Miss Johnson is survived by two brothers, Claude and Clyde.

The body was sent to White Plains, Mo., last night for burial tomorrow. Miss Johnson was born at White Plains and lived there until her family moved to Gray county. She was a student at Hopkins school.

SPEEDS OF ABOVE 150 MILES PER HOUR NEAR

CHICAGO, Jan. 2. (P)—Speeds of well above 150 miles per hour for passenger transport planes were predicted for the near future today by L. B. Manning, vice president of the Cord corporation. He said the forecast was based upon secret development of a new plane by the Shinson Aircraft corporation at Wayne, Mich., a Cord subsidiary, which will be in production next spring.

Air-Minded Bank Bandit Loses His Freedom Quickly

FORT SMITH, Ark., Jan. 2. (P)—An air-minded young robber, Orville Burch, held up the president of the First National bank at McCloud, Okla., at noon today, drove to Shawnee, about 12 miles east, boarded an airplane he had chartered an hour previously and was arrested by officers who awaited the ship's arrival at the Fort Smith airport.

About $500 loot was recovered when the youth was apprehended.

The superior judge who probably will hear charges, Leroy Coe, unwittingly boarded the airplane with the robber, while a second ship, carrying two deputy sheriffs from Shawnee took to the skyway in futile pursuit. Telegraph wires worked fast and the chase proved unnecessary.

MRS. WARNER ENTERS RACE

Claude Woman Will Stress Agricultural Needs in Congressional Drive.

AMARILLO, Jan. 2. (P)—Mrs. Ebebe K. Warner of Claude, rural club worker, writer and lecturer, today announced her candidacy for congressman-at-large, subject to the democratic primaries.

Mrs. Warner said she would especially seek the farm vote and that she hoped to be the first member of the national congress to represent the viewpoint of farm women.

"Our international relations are not in as grave danger as our national relations," Mrs. Warner said. "The soil is the source of our property. The factory transforms products of the soil into usable commodities. The farm and factory comprise the cycle of industry and commerce. When they are lobbied of their just profits, half the buying power of the nation is cut off."

"When the farmers receive their just share of our national income they will buy more. When they can buy more, our industries will produce more. And when our industries are enabled to increase production, our armies of unemployed men and women will be restored to positions where they can make an honest living."

THE NEWS WILL MAKE MANUAL FOR VETERANS, DEPENDENTS AVAILABLE TO PAMPA CITIZENS

Believing that Gray county war veterans will be interested in the contents of a manual written particularly for their use, the Pampa Daily News will place on sale tomorrow several hundred copies of the volume written by John Herron White, Berger attorney.

The manuals, just off the press, are priced at one dollar. In the foreword, Mr. White writes that he prepared the manual after articles he wrote for newspapers and magazines showed the need for such a volume. He received hundreds of inquiries asking advice.

"Because of the vast amount of information existing on the subject, Mr. White's explicit directions as to procedure in filing and pressing veterans' claims should be especially timely. The attorney has done much legal-claim work for veterans and their dependents. Included in the contents are chapters on compensation, disability allowance, war risk claims and government insurance; homes for soldiers, evidence in support of claims and similar subjects to total 27 chapters.

Members of the Pampa football squad who will be eligible to receive sweaters will be given them at the first chapel program after the starting of the next semester. The boys must pass the final examinations during the next two weeks to be eligible for sweaters.

The volume of the earth is 260,000,000,000 cubic miles.

SHORTAGE OF BOATS CAUSES MUCH MISERY

HUNGER AND SICKNESS SOON WILL TAKE USUAL TOLL

HUGE AREA IS FLOODED

GLENDORA, Miss., Jan. 2. (P)—An inland sea of muddy water that surged over weakening levees crept higher around homes on the Tallahatchie river valley tonight wherein are marooned thousands of people who are beginning to feel the pinch of hunger and illness.

All available boats are hurrying hither and there on rescue missions but their number is sorely inadequate to promise immediate help for all.

Calls went out in the stricken valley today for more boats but relief workers are wondering where they will secure a sufficient number to rescue all of those stranded in time to prevent greater suffering.

Late today, a levee protecting the Jones Federic plantation near here broke and all man power in the vicinity was rushed there. Twenty-five thousand acres were threatened with immediate inundation unless the break can be remedied.

The full force of the flood is now being felt in Tallahatchie county, the whole Tallahatchie levee system in the Cassidys bayou bend which stretches from Glendora around Webb, Sumner and Swan Lake.

Man Buried by Sand Slide Has Survived Mishap

Buried alive beneath four feet of sand for 15 minutes yesterday afternoon, E. A. Conley miraculously escaped death when a small beard fell against his nose, enabling him to breathe at intervals.

The almost fatal accident occurred about 10 miles northwest of McLean where Maddux Brothers, contractors, were laying a pipe line across the proposed route of the new railroad. Conley was in a ditch about four feet deep when an avalanche of sand piled in on the helpless victim.

Traylor Boom Is Well Organized

FORT WORTH, Jan. 2. (P)—A central executive committee was appointed today to head the movement in Texas for the nomination of Mevin A. Traylor, Chicago banker and national financial leader, as the democratic presidential candidate.

The committee, announced by B. B. Stone, chairman of the movement in this state, is composed of Walter Collins of Jonesboro, John Erhard of Dallas, W. R. Walker of Cleburne, John Lee of San Angelo, Turlion Morrow of Wichita Falls, E. L. Ashcroft of Sulphur Springs, and Lloyd Wheelock of Corsicana.

Pampa Schools To Start Tomorrow

Pampa schools will "open for duty" tomorrow morning after a Christmas vacation of two weeks. Teachers began returning to the city yesterday after spending vacations at their homes, with friends, or touring the country. Pampa schools were among the few which took two weeks' vacation at Christmas.

The end of the first semester will arrive in two weeks. Several students will be graduated at that time.

Members of the Pampa football squad who will be eligible to receive sweaters will be given them at the first chapel program after the starting of the next semester. The boys must pass the final examinations during the next two weeks to be eligible for sweaters.

The volume of the earth is 260,000,000,000 cubic miles.

HUNDRED DOLLARS IN GOLD OFFERED AS EXTRA PRIZE

Interest in Huge Circulation Drive at Fever Pitch as Workers Get Busy.

Candidates are working hard with excitement, reaching the highest point it has yet attained in the great sensational Daily NEWS circulation prize campaign. The big extra vote offer in The NEWS contest came to a close promptly at 9 o'clock last night, though it was long after that hour before the campaign staff could close the desks and call it a day.

As a result of the offer just closed, many of the candidates have made rapid gains in the way of votes, thus bringing them a step closer to the two automobiles, the trip to California, and happiness on Feb. 10.

$100 To Be Awarded
The candidate, regardless of district, who turns in the most money in subscription payments during this offer, Jan. 3rd, to Jan. 22 inclusive, will be awarded $100 in gold. This is an extra prize over and above the regular prizes, and is the largest prize to be awarded in the campaign. It will not be repeated, and for that reason it means that candidates must do big work these next few days. The News promises a sensational campaign in the beginning and from day to day new sensations have been created, however, this is the greatest extra prize offer of the entire campaign.

Bonds for the three men have been set at $5,000 each. A bond presented by Culwell today was rejected.

W. J. Potoroff, Ochiltree county deputy sheriff, said charges of burglary had been filed against Mrs. Betty.

MONOPOLY IN MARKET FOR GAS CITED IN APPLICATION FOR CARBON BLACK PERMIT

Need for Ratable Taking Is Again Brought Forward in Panhandle Field.

AUSTIN, Jan. 2. (P)—Asking permission to take gas from their wells for the purpose of extracting the gasoline and using the residue in the manufacture of carbon black, three owners of wells in the West Panhandle field today told the Texas Railroad Commission that five companies operating in the area had obtained a monopoly on the available market.

The application, filed by L. R. Hagy, D. D. Harrington and Stanley Marsh, will be set down for a hearing probably within the next 20 days, R. D. Parker, chief supervisor of the oil and gas division of the commission, said.

The applicants said they owned leases in Carson and Moore counties. They claimed that the Texas Natural Gas company, Cities Service Gas Pipeline company, Panhandle Eastern Pipeline company, North American Development company, and Southwest Development company own about 90 per cent of the gas reserve of the field and have constructed and are now operating pipelines from the field to points outside of Texas, the gas being eventually delivered to consumers in many different cities in the middle west.

HARRY YOUNG RESISTS WHEN MEN FIND HIM

FUGITIVE IS AIDED BY UNKNOWN PALS IN MISSOURI

GUARDSMEN ARE SENT

FARM HOUSE IS FOUND EMPTY IN RAID

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 2. (P)—Six officers were killed late today when they cornered Harry Young, murder suspect, and an unknown number of confederates at the Young farm house several miles west of here on highway 9C.

Harry Young and his pals escaped early tonight from the house, after a two-hour battle with more than 75 officers and citizens, and at 7 o'clock were believed to be in a corn field nearby.

Killed by the desperadoes, who are believed to have been armed with a machine gun, were Sheriff Marcell Hendrix, of Green county; Detective Chief Tony Oliver, of Springfield; City Detective Ollie Crosswhite, of Springfield; City Detective J. Disney Meadows, of Springfield; Patrol Driver Charles Houser of Springfield; Deputy Sheriff Wiley Mashburn.

The bodies were found when the posse of officers and citizens rumbled the house after firing from it ceased shortly before 7 o'clock.

Deputy Sheriff Wiley Mashburn, who was at Sheriff Hendrix's side when they opened the door into the farm house about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, was found unconscious. His face was riddled, apparently by machine gun fire. He was brought to Springfield Baptist hospital, where he died.

Two Escape
News of the afternoon slaughter was sent back to police headquarters and the sheriff's office, not long after it occurred, by Police Officers Frank Pike and Virgil Johnson, who were wounded but escaped. Police, deputy sheriffs, and constables' deputies were sent immediately to the scene.

They were greeted by a hail of lead from across an open field surrounding the house.

The force was strengthened by Battery F, 203rd field artillery, Missouri National Guard, ordered out early tonight by Gov. Henry S. Caulfield.

The battle went on as darkness descended. Ambulances arrived from Springfield and were held in readiness, a few hundred yards from the house, until the bodies of the dead could be reached. A few officers (See SLAYING, Page 6)

2. The same was in the beginning with God.

3. All things were made through him; and without him was not anything made that hath been made.

4. In him was life; and the life was the light; and the light shined in the darkness; and the darkness apprehended it not.

5. There came a man, sent from God, whose name was John.

6. The same came for witness that he might bear witness of the light, that all might believe through him.

7. He was not the light, but came that he might bear witness of the light.

8. There was the true light, even the light which lighteth every man, coming into the world.

9. He was in the world, and the world was made through him, and the world knew him not.

10. He came unto his own, and they that were his own received him not.

12. Who were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

19. Time:—John the Baptist preached from the summer of A. D., 26 to March A. D. 28.

20. Place:—John preached in the wilderness of Judaea and baptized at the fords of the Jordan, north of the Dead Sea.

21. Introduction.

The purpose of the Gospel of John, as stated by the writer himself, is "that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye may have life through his name." While this is held as the keynote of our study, the quarter's lessons also offer an outline of the entire Gospel in its historical aspects, and it is hoped that the Book will be read at home and summarized in the teaching.

The aim of this course of lessons is to bring the pupils to a deeper appreciation of Jesus as the Christ, the Son of God, and to win them to acceptance of him as their personal Saviour; also to strengthen the faith of those who already trust him and to quicken their zeal in winning others to Christ and in accomplishing his purpose in the world.

The Gospel of John.

Dr. Philip Schaff declared: "The Gospel according to John is the most original, the most important, the most influential book in all literature. It is simple as a child and sublime as a seraph, gentle as a lamb and bold as an eagle, deep as the sea and high as the heavens."

This Gospel, written much later than the other three, in John's old age, omits much that is found in them, as being already recorded, and adds a wealth of truth which they do not give us. It has been estimated that 92 per cent of the Fourth Gospel is peculiar to it. It omits Christ's birth, baptism, temptation, transfiguration, and ascension; it leaves out all mention of lepers, demons, children, scribes, Sadducees, publicans; it does not give us the Sermon on the Mount or the parables. Instead, it is rich in Christ's private conversations (14 in all) and his most precious discourses about himself.

The Apostle John.

The Writer of the Fourth Gospel was a humble fisherman of Galilee. How impossible that such a man, if uninspired, should have added to literature a work far surpassing the greatest works of genius, those of Shakespeare, Goethe, Milton, and Dante! In his humility John does not name himself in his Book, nor any of his relatives. When he must refer to himself it is with the beautiful designation of "the disciple whom Jesus loved" (John 19:26; 20:2; 21:7, 20). Tradition says that John was the youngest of the 12. He long outlived the other disciples, dying about A. D. 100, at the age of more than 90 years.

John's father was named Zebedee, and appears to have been a man of substance.

His mother was Salome, a sister of Mary the mother of Jesus so that John and Jesus were cousins. James and John, with Peter, constituted the inner circle of the 12, they alone being admitted by Jesus to such sacred scenes as the transfiguration, the raising from the dead of the daughter of Jairus, and the agony of Gethsemane.

The Diary of Jesus Christ, v. 1. "The Word was with God, and the Word was God." Here we enter at once the mystery of the Holy Trinity; Christ was one with the Father through all eternity. As he said, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father" (John 14:9).

"All things were made through him." "The universe was created by the Father through the agency of the Son"—Cambridge Bible. "By him" not as a subordinate instrument, but as a coordinate Agent, God made the world, not as the workman cuts by his age, but as the body sees by the eye.—Matthew Henry. "The famous question put by Bonaparte to his atheistic generals in Egypt, 'Furs, who made all that?' as he pointed to the starry splendour of the midnight sky over the pyramids, has been a question always weighing heavily upon the heart of man."—Rev. W. J. Dawson, D.D. The answer to that question is Christ, the Creator brought near and disclosed to men.

John the Baptist, v. 6. "There came a man, sent from God, whose name was John." John the Baptist was the herald of the Light of the world. He was sent from God to point men to the Son of God. He thus turned John the apostle from following him, and sent him to the divine Teacher. John the Baptist was sent ahead of the Christ to prepare his way, and every Christian is to be a path-maker for the Saviour.

"Children of God," v. 12. "But as many as received him, to them gave he the right to become children of God, even to them that believe on his name." "The Christian life is not merely a receiving and being done with once for all. It is a state of the blessedness of which corresponds to the nearness of the fellowship. The Christian life is ever a becoming. Christ enables his brethren to bear the sons of God."—Prof. Hugh Black. "Years ago, this whole nation was stirred to admiration and homage by the visit of a mere boy, not remarkable in himself, but the son of the Queen of Great Britain. How many thousands envied his lot! Yet such so-called insignificance as compared with being the son of the King of Kings and Lord of Lords."—Prof. Marvin R. Vincent. "His name is always, Jesus, Saviour. As soon as the soul believes this, regarding him as a Saviour given by God for himself, the sinner receives him."—Andrew Murray.

"The Word Became Flesh" v. 14. "And the Word became flesh, and dwelt among us." "This coming of the flesh is the Advent-fact. It is the regeneration of our race. There is a new creation. There is a second Adam."—Bishop F. D. Huntington. "That such a personality as Jesus Christ should have appeared at all is a wonder until you learn what God is like."—Bishop William F. McDowell. "The incarnation is the link which binds humanity to its eternal destiny; it is the pledge of his good will of God concerning us."—Rev. Donald Macleod, D. D. "Christ is a man—therefore we can get to him. He is God—therefore when we are in him the shield of his omnipotence is our defense."—William M. Taylor.

"Grace Upon Grace" v. 16, 17. "Grace upon grace." "His fulness, an inexhaustible reservoir. Our filling, an illimitable endowment. Beloved, the river of God, which is full of water, can well supply the little canals that are fed from such a fountain with grace for grace."—C. H. Spurgeon. "And grace for grace" (margin, "Grace upon grace"). "One grace after another, a glorious succession of graces all flowing from Christ."

"For the law was given through Moses." The Old Testament law was given by Jehovah through his servant Moses. "The chief significance of the world's religious experience was concentrated, for some sixteen hundred years, in Judea and human progress ran on through the channel of Hebrew nationality."—Bishop F. D. Huntington. "Grace and truth came through Jesus Christ." God's revelation through Moses was of law and penalty, through Christ is a revelation of love and forgiveness. Both were true, but Christ was an infinitely higher truth, it and completing it. "No man hath seen God," v. 18. "No man hath seen God at any time." "No man hath seen gravitation at any time. Who knows what gravitation looks like? No man has seen heat at any time, nor electricity, nor magnetism. No force is visible to the naked eye. God is the supreme force of the universe; why

LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 2. (AP)—Cattle trade during the week under review was featured by a fairly liberal movement of short fed steers while other killing classes and stockers and feeders were marketed sparingly. Packers were unable to enforce price declines the forepart of the week on fed steers but a reaction on late session left values at most centers 25 or more higher than last week's close. Trade on fed steers was marked by a slipping of the demand from strong weight kinds to the lighter weights. Short fed light yearlings and fed heifers are 25-75 higher for the week and substantial upturns were also recorded on fat cows. Stockers and feeders are quoted firm to 25 higher but the supply was too small to make a fair test of market conditions. Aggregate receipts at eleven markets totaled around 133,800, an increase of 61,000 over last week and 10,000 short of the corresponding period a year ago.

NEGRO SURMISES THAT PRISON LOOMS BUT ATTEMPT TO SLIDE DOWN ROPE FRIDAY IS FAILURE

SEVERAL PRISONERS IN JOURNEY TO PEN YESTERDAY

A negro prisoner's hunch that "at air chain is goin' tuh drag some uv these days soon," and expressed Friday night in a futile attempt to escape from the county jail, was justified yesterday when a penitentiary agent took five Gray county prisoners to the Huntsville penitentiary. They were escorted to Amarillo by Sheriff Lon L. Blanscet.

Those taken to the penitentiary were Carl Hefner, under a 99-year sentence for murder in connection with the slaying of Homer Crabtree; Oscar Lindsay, negro, theft; R. L. Mitchell, possession of intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale; Johnnie Lewis, theft; A. D. Oder, theft.

Hefner had been in the county jail here over a year. Emmett Thompson, jointly indicted with Hefner for the slaying of Crabtree, was given a five-year sentence last January, and was immediately transported to the penitentiary.

The first attempt made in several months to escape from the county jail was frustrated Friday night by County Attorney Sherman White and Sheriff Lon L. Blanscet. Mr. White saw the prisoner, Oscar Lindsay, a negro, preparing to slide from the fourth floor of the courthouse to the ground. He notified Sheriff Blanscet and the negro was surprised as he swung in mid-air. It was no trouble at all for the negro to climb the blanket rope back into jail.

Before his attempt to escape he told other prisoners that he had a feeling the "chain wuz goin' to drag pretty soon," and that he was "goin' to git while de gittin' is good."

Contrary to the usual custom, "Uncle" Bud Russell, discriminating penitentiary agent, did not come for the prisoners. His substitute was J. M. Crane.

Repair Work at Chevrolet Agency Sets New Mark

"We have just closed one of the best months in our history in our repair department," says F. M. Culbertson, "and we are now in a better position than ever to care for the repair work of Chevrolet owners."

The repair work in the shop of Culbertson-Smalling Chevrolet company is done by factory trained men who are required to know thoroughly Chevrolet mechanics. The company stands back of every job and none is allowed to leave the shop without a thorough inspection.

Joe Persky, who was with Greenleaf-Moore Chevrolet company in Oklahoma City for several years and was previously with Culbertson-Smalling, is now shop foreman. He has just returned from a short training course in a factory branch school with new ideas and better methods of service.

Mr. Persky says "We have better equipment and better mechanics than ever before and are able to do better work at the lowest prices in the history of the company."

The recent addition of Mr. L. J. McCarty to the shop personnel has caused an increase in the top, body and paint work. Mr. McCarty has had 9 years with the Fisher Body Corporation and is thoroughly trained in the work. His work is not confined to Chevrolet, but all kinds of cars are painted and top and body repair work done by him.

"We believe our best advertising is done by Chevrolet owners and we have, therefore, spared no expense in securing the best Chevrolet mechanics possible. We have had many people tell us how pleased they are with new paint jobs or with body and top repairing, said Mr. Culbertson.

Is Your Home Merely "Lighted?"

During the winter months more time is spent under artificial light. Because of this, careful attention should be given to the matter of lighting.

Many people expect only one thing of electric lighting—illumination. That is not enough. Lighting may be good or bad.

The basic rule of proper lighting in the home is to light the object—not the eye. There should be an adequate supply of light; there should be no glare; the illumination should be well distributed.

Improper lighting causes eyestrain, fatigue, headaches. Proper lighting not only saves the eyes, but its soft, diffused light makes the home more attractive.

Look through your home! Is the light good in some places, poor in others? An added lamp would mean convenience—even safety.

Good lighting costs no more than poor lighting

HARVESTER MACHINE WALLOPS PHILLIPS FIVE, 21 TO 16

Finland Developing Greater Runner Than Old Nurmi

LOE STAGES GOING SPREE FRIDAY NIGHT

VISITORS SPEEDY BUT EYES FOR GOALS UNCERTAIN

Showing an offensive that bodes for several Panhandle basketball bids, the Harvester basketball machine functioned perfectly Friday night to defeat the fast Phillips Flyers of Woodward, Okla., 21 to 16. The Flyers failed to find their shooting eyes until late in the third quarter, when they started making runs interesting for the green and gold.

A large crowd saw the game. Fans on their feet the entire fourth quarter, and it was not until the last few minutes of play that the Harvester forced to the front. Morris Loe was the hero of the game. His shooting was uncanopy and he counted for 14 of the Harvesters' points.

Smart Passing
Every man on the Harvester start-line-up played heads-up ball. Loe was particularly effective at passing, and Captain Dinty Moore's oblique and passing was so effective that he handed Enloe the ball repeatedly for nice shots. Margh usually took the tipoff, but passing and shooting were erratic. W. Kelly and Paton played good games at guard positions. Lingtm was the pick of the substitutes.

Rhughes, Phillips center, was about the handiest man on the floor. His handling of the ball bordered on the miraculous. He made it do what he pleased while looking in the opposite position. He was weak scoring but had considerable high luck. F. Hudson was about the fastest player on the floor. He did shoot from any angle and his team of working the ball under the basket was particularly effective. The guards ruined his crisp shots. Hudson guarded strongly and was the pick of the Phillips defense.

The Harvesters opened the game in Enloe flashing down the floor drop two feet and Paton analyzed the first two minutes of play. The Flyers defense tightened and the game was nip and tuck for the first few minutes. Then Moore took a loose and worked the ball to the court and passed to Enloe for another two points. As the game ended, Margh flipped over his head and it dropped enough to leave the score at the quarter, Pampa 8, Phillips 0. The Flyers came to life in the second quarter, scoring six points before the Harvesters went into action. Enloe made a basket and the Flyers got the same number when he took a quick pass out from Kelly. He beat the entire Phillips team in length of the floor. Moore dropped a free throw. The half ended in the Harvesters still in front, 16 to 0.

The green and gold made only two points in the third stanza when plain Moore dropped two free throws. The Flyers opened up after a Harvester second string had an inserted and ran the score up 12 points. Quick and F. Hudson were the stars of the offensive.

Furious Playing
The last quarter saw the game almost get away from Referee Cretney. Both sides went into action in their big guns and play was so hot that it was almost impossible to follow the ball. The Flyers went to the line down to a glorious 16, then Enloe came through. Hudson dropped one through for Phillips and they went into defense. Loe broke through and squirmed through the defense to drop another basket.

Phillips tried everything on the Harvester defense of Flynn and Paton proved too strong. Loe broke through twice more to tie in the last two minutes and the Harvesters out of danger. Scoring was made possible by using of Moore and Paton.

BASKETBALL'S REIGN STARTS ON JANUARY 8

Horned Frogs Are Favored To Repeat This Year in Southwestern Loop.

By BILL PARKER
Associate Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Jan. 2 (AP)—The 18th annual southwest conference basketball campaign, carrying a schedule of 42 games that promises to be more than ordinarily eventful, will begin Friday night, Jan. 8.

First to compete in the goal shooting marathon will be the University of Texas at Fayetteville against the University of Arkansas, which until last season, had won five consecutive conference case titles. The best former Arkansas champions could do last season was the Baylor for third place with 7 victories and 5 defeats.

Frogs Steady
The steady, fast, hard playing Texas Christian Frogs, defending champions, will meet their first 1932 conference competition Saturday night in the Baylor Bears at Waco. Other Saturday night combats will be the second game between Texas and Arkansas at Fayetteville and the Texas A. and M. and Rice institute contest at Houston.

As the seven conference quintets prepare for the opening whistle, the Texas Christian Frogs, who stacked themselves to last year's championship with 9 victories and 3 defeats, are favorites to repeat.

A few critics have even dared to predict that the Frogs will jump the conference case pond without suffering the loss of a game. In preliminary combats the last two weeks, Coach Francis Schmidt's Texas Christian basketball team revealed the same scoring power that swept them to the pinnacle last season.

The Frogs are back to defend their title with Adolph "Too Tall" Dietzel at center, Captain "Doc" Sumner, Albert Walker at forwards, with Harold Green and Buster Brannon at Guards. All but Walker and Green were regulars in 1931.

Many Contenders
Where Southern Methodist university carried last season's championship fight down the final game the Baylor Bears, Texas A. and M., Aggie, Rice, and probably the University of Arkansas are favored contenders for Texas Christian's basketball scalp. University of Texas and Southern Methodist are not expected to furnish enough competition to worry the more powerful teams.

The Baylor Bears, who this week defeated the East Texas Teachers of Commerce 42 to 24 and 47 to 33 loom as one of the better bets for the championship. The Bruins have Alford and Strickland as outstanding stars. Strickland made the all-conference team as guard in 1931. Alford has been a scoring ace in all preliminary combats.

Arkansas' material has yet to prove its worth, but one thing is favor of the Razorbacks is the schedule which gives them their only two games against Texas Christian on the Arkansas court.

ARMY TO SIGN WITH NAVY IN NEW CONTRACT

ANNOUNCEMENT TO BE MADE IN SHORT TIME

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—Announcement is expected within the next 10 days that the military and naval academies have signed an agreement to resume athletic relations beginning with an Army-Navy football game next Dec. 3.

Negotiations have been going on for some time and although a report today that an agreement had been reached was denied at Annapolis and termed premature at West Point, it is believed official confirmation will be forthcoming soon.

Major Philip B. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics at West Point, Lieut. Commander James Hall, who holds the corresponding post at the naval academy, and Captain John W. Wilcox, athletic director at Annapolis, held several conferences in New York this week during the meeting of the football coaches and the National Collegiate Athletic association.

It is understood they reached a tentative agreement, which has not yet been ratified by navy officials. Relations between the two schools were severed in December, 1927, when the naval academy returned unsigned the contract for the 1928 season, announcing it would schedule no teams which did not abide by the three-year eligibility rule. Army's position was that so long as a cadet at the Point was in good standing he should not be barred from its athletic teams and inter-collegiate competition.

The terms of the tentative agreement now reached were not learned but it is believed Navy has reversed its former stand and athletic relations will be resumed with no strings attached.

B. C. D. Directors to Meet Tomorrow

Directors of the Pampa Board of City Development will meet at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night. C. H. Walker, newly elected president, will preside. Mr. Walker may name some of his committee chairman at the meeting. Others will be selected soon.

Much important business will be transacted at the opening meeting in 1932, Mr. Walker declares. Five new members will be welcomed to the board. Frank Foster and Paul Hill are new men and first and second vice-presidents, respectively.

An activities committee will work with a similar committee from the junior chamber of commerce in outlining a program for the year.

ARMOUR GETS BACK IN LEAD AT GOLF MEET

MEHLHORN ALONE CAN GET NEAR TOMMY'S SCORE

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 2 (AP)—Tommy Armour, Detroit, recovered from a bad start today to increase his lead in the $2,500 Miami open golf tournament with a stellar 68-71-139 for the 36 holes halfway distance.

Wild Bill Mehlhorn, New York, who captured first money in the 1930 $15,000 La Gorce open tournament, was the only man who could come near the British open champion as today's play ended. He scored a 73 for the day, repeating an earlier score to count 146, seven strokes behind Armour.

Four players were tied in next place with 147s. They were Arnold Bob Gray, Yorkers, N. Y., John Kinder, Caldwell, N. J., Eddie Williams, Cleveland, and Henri Cluci, Mill River, Conn.

Lee Chase, Buffalo, retained his lead of the Simon-Pures in the tournament, with 150 for his two days' play.

Joe Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., defending champion was well back of Armour with a 149.

By virtue of his lead tightening victory today, Tommy established himself still further as a favorite to win the opening event of the Florida winter golf season.

Billiard Champs Seen in Pampa

Pampa billiard fans had the opportunity of seeing two of the best billiard players in the country in action at the Casino club Friday and yesterday.

James Thompson, southern pocket billiard champion, proved his right to the crown by defeating Miguel Malacera, champion of Old Mexico in three out of four games. Thompson won two Friday and one out of two yesterday.

Thompson's most spectacular game was at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon when he defeated the Mexican champion 100 to 35 in five innings. Thompson's high runs were 42, 35, and 22. The other games were closer.

Friday night Malacera defeated Johnnie Ward of Borger, 50 to 6, in three innings.

After each performance Thompson entertained the large crowds with some spectacular fancy and trick shots.

The two men will meet in Amarillo this week.

Thompson Bowls Highest Score of Current Year

T. Thompson opened the year with the highest game at the Pampa Bowling alley. Mr. Thompson rolled a 236-pin game New Year's afternoon but was only a few points ahead of Bill Holmes, Mel B. Davis, Gordon Moore, and a few others.

Last year the high score hung up was 288. It was rolled by V. D. Pruitt last March. Previous to that time the 276 game of Joe Kahl was high. Minor Martwether, manager of the Pampa alley, equalled the score made by Kahl.

Pruitt was on his way to a perfect game but blew up in the last frame. He had rolled five strikes in the last five frames of the game before he made high score to make 14 straight strikes.

CLEAN SWEEP OF DISTANCE IN GAMES FEARED

SPLENDID MATERIAL IS AVAILABLE FOR FINNS

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—For the 1932 Olympic games, Finland, our greatest rival for scoring honors since the war, has developed in 29-year-old Lauri Lehtinen an even greater runner than Paavo Nurmi.

A few years ago this appeared impossible. We all regarded Nurmi as a superman and did not expect to see his equal, at least not in this generation. Now Finland comes along and develops one they claim will wipe from the record books all of Nurmi's marks. Although a comparative newcomer, he has run 1,500 meters, 3,000 meters, 2 miles, 5,000 meters and 3 miles during the last year in times only a fraction of a second behind the world's records held by Nurmi.

During the past season he has scored several victories over the former invincible Paavo. The Finns expect Lehtinen to perform just as sensationally at Los Angeles as did Nurmi eight years ago in the Olympic games at Paris where he won four Olympic championships.

Hope to Sweep
With such a splendid material available as represented by Lehtinen, Nurmi, Virtanen, Iso-Holm, Iavva, Purje, Lukkio and Rotta the latter now in Florida training for the Olympic marathon race, Finland's hopes of making a clean sweep of all the distance running events the Olympic program from 1,500 meters to the marathon may be realized.

Despite these Finnish threats, it again expect the United States to score a decisive victory on both the Olympic track and field competition.

America will send to the meet three potential point winners in practically every event on the program. If one of our representatives fails to perform up to his standard, we may reasonably expect one of the other two to fill the gap. No other country is yet in that position. All of the foreign nations, however, are gradually creeping up on the United States and America's margin of victory grows less each year.

Several nations which heretofore have not caused us much concern will be represented at Los Angeles by one or more potential winners. They include Italy, Hungary, Japan, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Tariff Plans of Democrats Will Include Speed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2. (AP)—Definite plans to expedite house action on troublesome tariff and tax raising legislation were made today by democratic congressional leaders.

The program calls for such speed that the party's tariff bill is expected to flash through the house and to the door of the senate by the end of next week. Revenue increasing legislation will be rushed with a view to passage by February 1.

With the return today of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the senior democratic leader, Speaker Garner summoned the joint policy committee to meet with him Monday morning to give its approval to the tariff bill drafted during the Christmas holidays.

Chairman Collier announced today hearings on the tariff measure would begin before the house ways and means committee today afternoon. He expects it to be reported favorably Wednesday so that it may be submitted to the house for consideration Thursday.

Secretary Mellon and Undersecretary Mills of the treasury are to open hearings before the ways and means committee on the tax bill Thursday, Collier said.

Speaker Garner said the tariff bill would be introduced by Collier immediately after its approval by the policy committee. He expressed the opinion that extensive hearings were unnecessary since the rates would not be revised.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2. (AP)—The chairman of the house expenditures committee today showed toward the pigeon-hole bills to reduce salaries of government employees.

With his announcement the authors of three such house bills would be heard next Thursday, Representative Cochran, democrat, Missouri, coupled the assertion that "it would be a most serious mistake for the government to take the lead and reduce the salaries."

"What congress should do, and I propose to introduce such a bill, is to provide for a five-day week for government employees and set the example for the business men of the country to follow," Cochran said.

Five-Day Week Will Be Urged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2. (AP)—The inquiry was proposed today by Representative Fish, New York republican, as federal agents and local police in a dozen eastern and middle western cities redoubled efforts to find the source of at least 12 dynamite packages directed by mail or express to Italian consuls or persons of Fascist sympathies.

At Easton, Pa., two of the three dead were buried. Investigators admitted themselves still without clues leading directly to the perpetrators. Finger prints and photographs of suspects were exchanged between authorities in Easton, New York, Philadelphia, and Washington.

The Italian embassy continued under special police protection, while 14 places in Chicago, including the Italian consulate, were under guard. New precautions were taken in other localities where bombings or attempted bombings occurred.

Fascist Activity May Be Probed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2. (AP)—The bomb menace that has taken three lives, threatened many more and put authorities on the alert all over the country may be solved by a congressional investigation of Fascist and Anti-Fascist activities in America.

The inquiry was proposed today by Representative Fish, New York republican, as federal agents and local police in a dozen eastern and middle western cities redoubled efforts to find the source of at least 12 dynamite packages directed by mail or express to Italian consuls or persons of Fascist sympathies.

At Easton, Pa., two of the three dead were buried. Investigators admitted themselves still without clues leading directly to the perpetrators. Finger prints and photographs of suspects were exchanged between authorities in Easton, New York, Philadelphia, and Washington.

Oil Tariff—

egation, which was prepared by Representative Disney, democrat, asserted a tariff or restriction on oil imports is the only weapon we have against the monopoly which is destroying us.

"We subordinate our individual views on a tariff, due to the conditions in which the monopoly has driven us," the letter continued. It said Oklahoma had lost $7,000,000 yearly in taxes and farmers had suffered heavily from loss of royalties and lease payments.

Asks Recommendation

Senator Thomas announced he would ask the tariff commission to submit to him recommendations for duty schedules based upon the facts brought out in the commission's recent report, which showed foreign oil cost about 10¢ a barrel less than domestic oil at Atlantic seaports.

If he obtains this, Thomas said, he would introduce immediately a resolution which would direct President Hoover to put into effect any tariff schedules recommended. This way, he said, scientific revisions would be had, without opening up the tariff schedules.

Oil was dealt with in detail also today in a book covering all phases of government conservation activities, written by Secretary Wilbur and William A. Du Puy, executive assistant to Wilbur. Too rapid and too wasteful production heretofore was set forth in the publication as the cause of oil ills. Petroleum was pictured as one of the government's vital problems in conservation, and the book urged interstate regulatory compacts.

excite enthusiasm never before experienced in Pampa. Think of it; somebody will make about $50 per week for these next few days. A new contestant can enter the contest and win the gold, and at the same time build up her vote standing to the position of rendering her able to win the automobile also.

This last week, the new contestants have been showing more activity than old contestants, so now with this "Free for all" $100 in gold, it will mean much to new contestants because one will be practically starting new now. The $100 in gold covers work during the second period only.

Club Vote Offer

In addition to the $100 in gold, 100,000 extra votes will be given for each $30 club of subscription payments turned in between now and Friday night, Jan. 22. There is no limit to the number of clubs a candidate can turn in. Each club means 100,000 extra votes in addition to the regular votes allowed on subscriptions. This is your chance for success.

Tragedy hovered over this scene. Judge Withholds Jury's Comment On Bankers' No-Bills

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 2. (AP)—Special Judge W. S. Anthony in district court today refused to file a part of a grand jury report in which nine officers and directors of the closed City-Central Bank and Trust company and James Shaw, state banking commissioner, were notified.

After County Attorney D. F. Davis and Arthur V. Wright and Grover C. Morris, assistant county attorney, had objected to that part of the report in which it was declared the grand jurors referred to "agitation calculated to injure business," Judge Anthony ruled that it was not one of the duties of the grand jurors to express opinions but to investigate crime and return indictments or take such other action in regard to crime as might be necessary.

The bank officials who were notified were: Carl D. Newton, director; Russell C. Hill, vice president; W. A. Williams, cashier; Allan F. Barnes, vice president; F. L. Thompson, vice president; Wallace Rogers, vice president; Harry H. Rogers of Tulsa, Okla., director; B. R. Webb, director; and R. F. Spencer, director.

Each of the bank officials was charged with three cases charging receiving deposits knowing the bank to be insolvent and in a failing condition. Shaw was charged as an accomplice.

Insurance Plot in Death Is Probed

EDINBURG, Jan. 2. (AP)—The theory that Higinio Mendiola, 46, railroad employe, was strangled to death in a plot to collect his life insurance was considered by officers tonight.

From one of seven persons under arrest officers said they had obtained a confession Mendiola was strangled with a towel and hanged to a tree to give an appearance of suicide.

The body was found hanging by a small rope near Mendiola's home Wednesday morning. Officers said the rope was so small it could not have withstood the strain of a jump.

In the man's pockets were notes which purportedly had been written and signed by Mendiola and which indicated intention to commit suicide. Investigators asserted Mendiola could neither read nor write.

Judge Will Bar Paper Reporters

MOUNT STERLING, Ky., Jan. 2. (AP)—Judge Henry R. Prewitt, 36-year-old son of the blue grass, ruled today in a vigorous denunciation of editorial attacks on courts that neither John T. Moutoux nor any other reporter from the Knoxville, Tenn., NEWS-SENTINEL could ever sit in Montgomery circuit court as long as he is judge.

The newspaper, commenting editorially on the recent trial of W. B. Jones, Harlan county mine union secretary, said in part:

"So long as our courts permit themselves to be the stage for tirades of political and social prejudice, they will not obtain full confidence of those who believe in even handed justice."

When Moutoux arrived Thursday to report the trial of William Hightower, president of the Evans local union, of which Jones was secretary, Judge Prewitt ruled he could sit in court as a representative of the United Press but could not send special dispatches to the NEWS-SENTINEL.

Then special prosecutor J. B. Snyder of Harlan, said Moutoux's presence was "odious" to the commonwealth's conduct of the Hightower trial.

The court displayed Wednesday's issue of the NEWS-SENTINEL. An editorial on the front page said it had no apology to make to Judge Prewitt and does not intend to surrender its rights to report and comment upon judicial procedure in Judge Prewitt's court or any other court.

Three men were arrested in Washington, D. C., for wrecking and stealing the building materials in six brick houses. Eight other houses were gutted of all interior furnishings and lumber, leaving only the walls.

Booth Burial Is Told By Detective

PONCA CITY, Okla., Jan. 2. (AP)—The story of the burial of John Wilkes Booth in a watery grave in the Potomac river was added today to the debate over the disposition of the body of President Lincoln's assassin.

The account, quoting Allan Pinkerton, the detective, as saying he personally supervised sinking of the body in the river, came from Col. William H. Hornaday, former Oklahoma newspaperman.

Corb Sarchet, Ponca City newspaperman, said Hornaday had obtained the story from Pinkerton in Chicago about 1925 under a pledge he would not reveal it until after Pinkerton and his son, William, were dead.

COMMONWEALTH TAKES FRIENDLY RECEIVERSHIP

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—A friendly receivership was resorted to today by the American Commonwealth Power corporation when it was unable to meet a short-term note just maturing.

Unsettled conditions in the securities market were said to force the move, although earnings of the company have held up well during the depression. The corporation has gas and electric holdings in more than 10 states and two Canadian provinces.

Daugherty Says Soviet Plot Was Behind His Fall

NEW YORK, Jan. 2. (AP)—The WORLD-TELEGRAM quotes Thomas Dixon's saying Harry M. Daugherty, former United States attorney general, will charge in his book, "The Inside Story of the Harding Tragedy," that both Daugherty's impeachment in 1922 and the senate investigation in 1924 were attempts to "discredit the United States form of government in favor of the Soviet union."

Mr. Dixon is collaborator with Daugherty in the book, soon to be published.

The book, Mr. Dixon says, refers to Senators Burton K. Wheeler, Smith W. Brookhart, and Henry F. Ashurst as the "Red triumvirate" all were members of the committee investigating Daugherty.

"Senators Brookhart and Wheeler spent the summer in Russia, just before the senate committee was organized. They conferred there with the supreme Soviet authorities," the WORLD-TELEGRAM quotes Dixon.

"Mr. Daugherty had them watched in Moscow by secret service men. These detectives made reports on their activities to Daugherty. During the investigation, Senators Brookhart and Wheeler made their great effort to get the files of the department of justice in order to get the specific secret service reports on their own activities in Russia."

Mexican Catholics Starting Fight on Church Measures

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 2. (AP)—Catholics began today a legal effort to block application of the new Mexican law limiting priests to one for every 50,000 inhabitants in the federal district (Mexico City).

Five petitions for "amparos" or restraining orders, against enforcement of the law were presented in as many district courts by five priests. It was explained in the courts the petitions did not constitute a formal filing of actions, but were presented for the judges to study.

Archbishop Pascual Diaz instructed the clergy and lay members of the church in a pastoral letter how to proceed legally against application of the law, telling them to resist immediately for restraining orders. "With this multitude of amparos," he said, "we shall be able to prove in the courts that the legislators did not take into account the local needs of the people and that the cleric law violates the constitution, and thus will regain full possession of our individual rights under the law."

Congress Will Consider Great Finance Plans

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2. (AP)—Congress today prepared for prompt consideration of America's most important peace time economic legislation upon the resumption of sessions Monday.

The $500,000,000 reconstruction finance corporation asked by President Hoover gets the call in the senate next week while the democratic house gets started on the vital tariff and tax increase measures.

Almost every congressional committee will go to work during the next six days with the whole gamut of federal legislative possibilities up for discussion.

Hearings will be begun in the senate on the controversial naval program and prohibition. Studies of foreign bond flotations will be resumed. House committees will take up agriculture relief and rivers and harbors plans.

The all important democratic policies on the tariff and taxes will be formulated at meetings of the party leaders beginning Monday. The democratic controlled house is prepared to drive through the party's tariff proposal before the end of the week. It will then get to taxes.

Smith to Hold His Silence Now

NEW YORK, Jan. 2. (AP)—The indications are Alfred E. Smith will wait several months before announcing whether he will seek the democratic presidential nomination, or whom he favors if he is not an aspirant.

The 1928 standard bearer himself persistently refuses to discuss for publication his own political future, although it is known repeated efforts are being made to have him become a candidate, or at least to say he is willing to accept the honor.

From a source close to him, however, it was learned tonight he intends to pursue this policy of silence until just before his party's national convention.

In the meantime, he has established just as iron-clad a rule about discussing the political bonds under way for other democratic leaders, as about saying whether he will be a candidate himself.

Boy Faces Trial on Murder Charge

FORT WORTH, Jan. 2. (AP)—Benjamin Hurst, 11, will go to trial in district court here January 15 on a delinquency complaint charging murder. It was filed today after the boy had confessed killing Mack Sanchez, about 60, at a farm home near Birdville late Friday afternoon.

The boy is on bond of $500, made by his attorney and his parents. At the trial, he will put on testimony calculated to prove that the Mexican, Sanchez, choked him about a month ago and since had threatened to do him serious injury.

Garner Lauded by William R. Hurst

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 2. (AP)—Speaker John N. Garner of the house of representatives was lauded as "another Champ Clark" tonight by William Randolph Hearst in an address in which the publisher asked "who will be the next president?"

Termining Clark's defeat for the democratic presidential nomination by Woodrow Wilson in 1912 America's great misfortune, Mr. Hearst called on the nation to "think carefully and act firmly regarding the political situations of this eventful year."

The publisher's address, delivered by radio, also advanced an explanation of President Hoover's "unprecedented unpopularity" in the assertion that "he has always been a Wilsonite."

He said Champ Clark was the natural candidate of the democratic party in 1912 and continued:

"Great influences, which were in no sense democratic, and which had no place in democratic councils, because they had no interest in democratic success, stepped into the situation."

Kidnapers Seen In Police Showup

CHICAGO, Jan. 2. (AP)—In a dramatic denouement tonight, Pat Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney, marched a group of alleged extortionists across an improvised "showup" stage at the criminal courts building and branded them as members of "the worst gang of extortionists ever organized."

Identity of members of the group accused of wholesale kidnaping, that netted thousands of dollars who were apprehended after months of effort by Roche and his aides, were announced as follows:

John Pingree, 43, alias John Portes, Chicago.
Alice Bay Pingree, his wife, formerly of Peoria, Ill.
William Thomas, 50, Chicago.
Gus Sanger, 42, alias Franc Sherman, owner of a bungalow at Palos Park near Chicago where most of the alleged victims were held.
Al Russell, 33, alias Frank Montague, Chicago.
Eddie Finman, 28, address unknown.
Ward Swallow, 32, a Chicago attorney, and alleged go-between for the kidnapers.

ers tried to worm their way across the field toward the house, but a fresh shower of bullets would drive them back. It was long after dark before the posse penetrated the house and the man and found them empty.

Received Tip
Police officials said they were calling a broadcasting station at Kansas City to radio descriptions of the killers.

Harry Young, the ring leader, was wanted for the slaying of Marshal Mark Noe of Republic June 29, 1926. Police this afternoon received a tip

Search for Young has been going on two and a half years since the slaying of Noe, 40-year-old marshal at Republic, 16 miles southwest of here and not far from the scene of today's shooting.

Noe was killed the night of June 2, 1929, but his body was not found until the next morning, by the side of a little used road. He had been shot three times, twice in the head and once in the right arm near the elbow. Discovery of Noe's body was made by a brother of Sheriff Hendrix, who was killed today.

Officers telephoned here at 10 o'clock tonight they feared Young and his companions had escaped from the corn field in which they believed they had him surrounded. Poses were extending the scope of their hunt for the slayers of the six peace officers.

he had returned to Greene county after two years in hiding, and they summoned Sheriff Hendrix to assist them in raiding the Young home.

Detective Chief Oliver was known for his daring. Three years ago he was slightly wounded when he broke into a house from which "Dobbs" Adams, known as a desperate character, was firing upon a force of officers, and captured him. One policeman was killed while attempting to capture Adams. After his conviction and sentence to death by hanging, Adams committed suicide in his cell.

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 2. (AP)—At the request of Springfield officers, a squad of detectives, armed with riot guns and tear gas had ambushed themselves around a north side residence here tonight when it was learned that Harry Young, 25, Springfield farmer who escaped from his barricaded home after slaying six policemen, was en route to Tulsa.

All available reserves were given descriptions of Young and police and county detectives were ordered by Nelson J. Moore, chief of police here, to "shoot on sight."

Chicago Taxation Under New Plan

CHICAGO, Jan. 2. (AP)—Cook county's legislative delegation met the crisis in government finances today with the first step to restore the public confidence deemed essential to break the "tax payers' strike."

By a vote of 43 to 12, amid a chorus of cries against yielding "honor" to "dominate political powers," the legislators approved a revised measure to abolish the elective boards of assessors and review and set up new tax machinery.

If the general assembly adopts the plan of its Chicago members, the governor and the president of the county board will be given power to choose each one member of a board of review. Together, the same officers will name a single assessor. But the scheme formulated by Governor Emmerson and civic leaders was amended to retain the present village and township assessors in the 31 subordinate governments within Cook county.

Canada has an area of 2,000,000 square miles.

Democratic Fund Records Ready

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2. (AP)—Faced by an investigation of democratic expenditures in the 1928 Hoover-Smith campaign, James W. Gerard, treasurer of the national committee, said today all records would be filed Monday in the house of representatives.

Jacob J. Rosenbium, an assistant district attorney of New York, began the inquiry following charges by Representative Wood of Indiana chairman of the republican national congressional committee. Wood asserted the democrats concealed some of their expenditures through their New York headquarters and by so doing violated the federal corrupt practices act.

"I hate to question even Mr. Wood's motives," Gerard said in a statement through the party's national committee, "but it is extraordinary that this matter should be brought up after this long period of time. The act provides that all the bills, receipts and accounts shall be kept for a period of at least two years from the date of filing the statement."

"Maybe they thought I had taken advantage of this provision and destroyed them. Fortunately I have not, and they will be on file with the clerk (of the house) early on Monday morning."

Pampa Fives Win Over Miami Teams

Two Pampa basketball teams defeated quintets at Miami high gymnasium last evening.

The Pampa "B" squad won, 39 to 7, with Brumley shooting 18 of the local points. He played center. Forwards were C. Astain and Poe, with Sharp and Schmidt as guards. Substitutes were Woodward, Brown, and Sullins. Die shot three of his team's points for Miami.

The Pampa "A" team had a harder time of it, but won, 21 to 18. Moore and Enloe were forwards, Marbaugh played center, and Kelly and Patton were guards. Woodward and Puling also played much of the game. Enloe was high point man for Pampa with 12 points, and McCloskey of Miami was high for his five with 11 points.

Mustangs Romp Over Simmons

DALLAS, Jan. 2. (AP)—Romping into a long lead near the start, the Southern Methodist university basketball team galloped to 38-14 victory over Simmons university of Abilene tonight.

The Cowboys never had a chance. At the half the Ponies led 20-3.

Coach Jimmie St. Clair of the Mustangs started Bill Johnson, Williams, Wright, McLaughlin and ran in his sub at the half. The latter played most of the remaining time except that changes were necessitated when Riley and Mills fouled themselves out of the game. Anders played every position for the invaders.

Diamond's Girl Will Start Over

NEW YORK, Jan. 2. (AP)—Marian Roberts, who left the chorus for a precarious existence with an ill-starred young man who sought unsuccessfully to become an overlord of gangdom, came back to New York today.

She wore no flashing jewels or gorgeous clothes, but an inexpensive black coat and hat, and she appeared pale and tired.

Less than a month ago her companion, Jack Diamond, left her in the Albany rooming house where she had lived—a distance that was many miles from the glitter and gaiety of Broadway—and was shot to death as he lay sprawled in a drunken stupor on his bed in his own cheaply furnished room in the same city.

Trick Is Played on Pampa Fireman

For getting married and then refraining from telling his fellow firemen about it, Younger Cockrell spent two hours in jail last night, while he was tormented by the contents of a telegram which Police Chief J. I. Downs had in his hands when he locked the wedded fireman in a cell.

After he was released, Younger learned that the telegram had been "framed." It was purported to have been sent by the chief of police at Norman, Okla.

The marriage of Mr. Cockrell and Miss Alice Ingram last Oct. 17, was announced yesterday.

COTTON STRONGER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2. (AP)—Cotton prices have advanced about 7 points in the last week, chiefly perhaps because for the first time exports are equal to a year ago. Whereas, at the beginning of the season, shipments to foreign countries were as much as 600,000 bales below a year ago, exports today are even at 4,000,000 bales.

While the orient has been the chief buyer, some in the trade say that Europe can not go very much longer without increasing purchases of American cotton. If this should develop after the turn of the year, with increased American price fixations, a higher market should develop provided there are no further upsetting conditions in the financial situation.

Mrs. Rose Appointed District Program Chairman

DIRECTORS TO HOLD MEETING ON JANUARY 21

BETTER INTEGRATION OF WORK TO BE SOUGHT

Mrs. Tom E. Rose has been chosen program chairman of the seventh district Texas Federation of Women's clubs, and is already making her plans for the organization of the two and one-half day convention which will be held at Canadian in April. Mrs. Rose is well known to club women over the district, having served as local chairman when the annual meeting was held in Pampa in 1930.

A meeting of the board of directors of the seventh district has been called for Jan. 21, at Canyon. Mrs. J. A. Hill, district president, states that the mid-year meeting of the board will plan the work for the district for the coming two years, and outline in detail the objectives to be attained before the district meetings at Canadian in April.

Better integration of the work of all departments will be sought thru the planning of the chairmen who make up the board. The chairmen will be given a detailed report of the meeting of the state board which will take place at Austin Jan. 11.

The visitors will be entertained while at Canyon so that the board meeting may entail as little expense as possible.

Mrs. Q. S. Barrett of Childress, district vice-president, has announced that she will give a prize of $5 to the club which reports the most use of cotton materials.

The president of the district will give an oil painting of a scene in Palo Duro Canyon to the club reporting outstanding work in the field of interior or exterior decoration. Details for these contests have not yet been announced.

Other awards are to be announced soon.

The State Board of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs will hold its first meeting under the administration of Mrs. J. W. Fincher, at Austin on Jan. 11. Mrs. J. A. Hill, seventh district president, and several others from this section of the state will attend.

The special feature of the annual board meeting this year will be the laying of the cornerstone for the permanent headquarters of the state federation. After many years of planning and effort, the federation is seeing the fulfillment of its dream of a real headquarters. The building, which is colonial in design, will furnish ample space for the offices of the organization, and will also be income bearing.

Austin was chosen for the location of the headquarters because so many of the interests of the state federation are involved in the legislative and educational activities which center in the capitol city.

Mrs. J. W. Saunders of Amarillo has accepted the appointment as chairman of the fine arts department for the seventh district. Other members of her committee have not yet been announced.

Club women do not seem to be greatly discouraged by the depression, according to Mrs. Hill. She says that most of those who have been asked to carry on the work of the district during this difficult time have responded promptly and in most cases have accepted the appointments proffered them. However, a complete roster of department workers cannot be announced until answers have been received to all the letters which have been sent out.

PROGRAMS OF COMING YEAR ARE OUTLINED

FOOD SUPPLY, YARDS, WARDROBES TO BE CONSIDERED

Although yard improvement, wardrobe planning, and production and preservation of food supplies are principal features to be given the more serious attention of Gray county home demonstration club during 1932, recreation will have no small part in the club activities of the women.

Both the recreational gatherings and the home improvement programs have been carefully planned, and as Miss Ruby M. Adams begins her work as county home demonstration agent, she will find the club well organized. A highly constructive year's work for 1932 has been outlined under the direction of Miss Myrtle Miller, who has resigned in order to study at Texas State college for Women, Denton.

Year books, which are being mimeographed by Mrs. A. A. Tamplin of McLean, are to be sold to the club women for 25 cents each, the difference between the cost of making them and the charge for members to be placed in the treasury of the Gray county council of home demonstration clubs.

The clubs' yard work will be based on programs on planning, planting, and care, and will include scoring of demonstration yards next fall.

Wardrobe programs will include planning of wardrobes, laundry, and clothes closet arrangement. A county dress contest is slated for July.

Farm food supply programs will include winter gardens, planning the garden, making canning budgets, sub-arrangement, serving of a canned meal, cultivating the garden, canning, and preparations for a 4-H pantry. Annual achievement prizes will feature the pantry accomplishments.

The year books also contain facts relating to the Gray county fair.

Four Recreation Days Four recreation days will be held this year in different parts of the county. They are to be during the months of February, May, August, and October. The August event will take the form of an encampment at the Gething ranch.

On all of the recreation days, influence of the school to be held in Amarillo Jan. 5-8 under the direction of the National Recreation association probably will not be noted. Gray county is entitled to send four girls and four men and four boys to the school.

Duties in the various clubs have been distributed for the year 1932 as follows:

Alameda club officers: Mrs. W. A. Glass, president; Mrs. A. B. Word, vice-president; Mrs. L. S. Brock, secretary-treasurer; Miss Winnie Fraser, reporter. Council members: Mrs. W. A. Glass, Mrs. A. B. Washington Daybook (By Herbert Plummer) WASHINGTON—Texas' 10-term bachelor in the house—Hatton William Summers, new chairman of the judiciary committee—doesn't have a reputation among his colleagues as a maker of phrases.

Actually, it's something of an event for him to get up on the floor and speak long. He is a quiet and unassuming sort of person who prefers to get in his licks off the floor in committee and cloakroom.

But with the advent of democrats in power in this congress and Summers' elevation to the chairmanship of one of the most important house committees, he is stepping out a bit.

And it develops that the Texan has a way of expressing himself not wholly suspected by his colleagues.

It was while the moratorium was before the house for confirmation. The question of whether President Hoover acted within his constitutional rights in declaring it was being discussed.

Business By Mail Summers argued that the president had no right to declare a moratorium without the consent of congress given by congress in an orderly session.

"But enough senators and representatives gave their consent by telegraph, telephone, and mail," a republican put in.

To which Summers replied in his dry manner: "Since when has the business of this great federal government been carried on by parcel post?"

That phrase evidently struck home. It was heard repeatedly during the remainder of the moratorium debate in both house and senate.

LINDBERGH REVEALS HIS SECRET "I came to the conclusion that if I knew the difference between the right way to do a thing and the wrong way to do it, it was up to me to train myself to do the right thing at all times," writes Colonel Lindbergh, according to an exchange.

"So I drew up a list of character factors, and those which I had fulfilled satisfactorily during the day I would mark with a red cross. Those I had not been called upon to demonstrate that day would get no mark. But those character factors which I had actually violated each day I would mark with a black cross.

"I began to check myself from day to day and to compare my black and whites from month to month and year to year. I was glad to notice an improvement as I grew older."

Here is a list of his character factors, which are nearly all positive and constructive:

Altruism, ambition, brevity in speech, concentration, calmness in temper, clean body, clean speech, clean conduct, clean thought, cheerfulness, courage, decisiveness, courtesy, determination, economy, energy, enthusiasm, firmness, faith, gracefulness, honesty, helpfulness, industry, initiative, justice, judgment, love toward all, loyalty, moderateness, neat appearance, no argument, no fault-finding, no sarcasm, no talking about others, perseverance, optimism, physical exercise, pleasant voice, punctuality, patience, politeness, reverence (divine) parents, home and family, country, respect to superiors, respect to fellow men, readiness to compromise, reaction—"manful, not sinful," self-esteem, self-control, self-confidence, sense of humor, sleep and rest, sympathy, sincerity, thoroughness, unselfishness.

A list of fine virtues from a self-taught boy of whom we are justly proud. We glanced over a shoulder because we saw the caption: "Colonel Lindbergh Reveals His Secret." Teachers may cut this out, mount it, and post it in their rooms.—Philadelphia News Letter.

Yet, Hoover has appointed a woman to the Geneva conference on cutting arms. And that, somehow, is disarming.

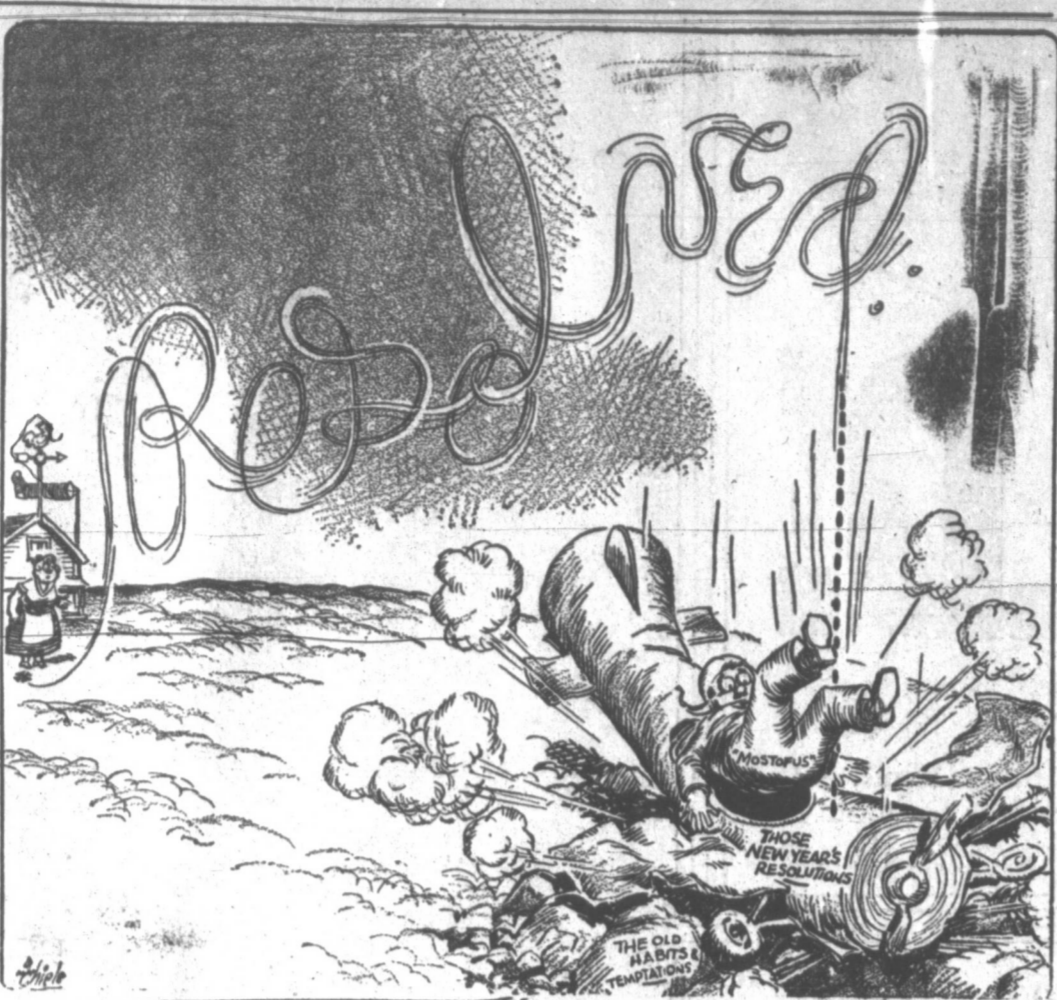

Experts say we must either adjust or revise our war debts. Probably meaning we've got to fix it up some way so we know we aren't going to get our money.

And railroad chiefs have suggested a neat pay cut. And if it goes through, it will be plain that the Christmas tree wasn't the only thing that got trimmed.

Building trades heads say the only solution to the depression is adjusting wage scales. Which, after all, may be the right weigh.

Wage cuts are the rage. In fact wage cuts are the rage wherever there are wage cuts.

END OF FIRST NON-STOP FLIGHT!

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY BY O.E.H.

Politics is boiling, fired by depression unrest. Office seekers are earlier than usual in planning their campaigns. From now on, it will be well to take what one hears with the proverbial grains of salt.

Small Is Silent In this area, the decision of Senator Clint C. Small is awaited with interest. It is practically certain that Governor Sterling, mindful of the fact that every governor (except Mrs. Ferguson) who has sought a second term has been elected, will be in the gubernatorial race. Had Sterling stayed out of the race, Small likely would have announced. He may yet.

Meanwhile, the senator has opposition should he run to succeed himself. Dave Shanks, mayor of Perryton, has announced for senator. Shanks, fundamentalist in morals and politics, is a former clerk of Ochiltree county and has issued a small personal opinion magazine from time to time.

Two Announcements Arthur C. Johnson, 124th district representative, has announced, and so has an opponent, B. L. Rogers of near Perryton. Johnson has been repairing his political fences by writing a column in the Dalhart TEXAN. Little has been heard from Deway Young of Wellington and Clyde Warwick of Canyon, both veterans.

Marvin Jones, whose long tenure as congressman from the Panhandle has been rewarded with the chairmanship of the powerful house agricultural committee, appears to be firmly entrenched for another term or two.

He's Cautious A weekly newspaper publisher about 150 miles from Pampa recently wrote THE NEWS as follows: "In my Christmas edition I only had eight pages and only 41 per cent advertising. Have run as high as 36 pages in days past and gone—but not forgotten. I am going to have to cut down to four pages the first of the year, or else have four plate pages and four home pages. You will note I am writing on both sides of the paper now. But, at that, I am not exactly like the man who wanted to go where business had gone. I know where it has gone all right, but I don't want to go THERE."

Contributed: The Straight of It It is alleged that a schoolboy in Kansas wrote the following, entitled "An Editor": "I don't know how newspapers and magazines got into the world, and I don't think God does, for He ain't got nothing to say about these in the Bible. I think the editor is the missing link we read of, and that he stayed in the business until after the flood, came out and wrote the thing up and has been kept busy ever since. If the editor makes a mistake folks say he ought to be hung; but if the doctor makes mistakes, he buries them and people don't say nothing because they can't read Latin. When the editor makes mistakes, there is a big lawsuit and swearing, and a big fuss; but if the doctor makes one, there is a funeral with flowers and perfect silence. A doctor can use a word a yard long without him or anyone else knowing what it means; but if the editor uses one, he has to spell it. If the doctor goes to see another man's wife, he charges for the visit; but if the editor goes, he gets a charge of buckshot. Any college can make doctors to order, but editors have to be born."

Miss Josephine Lewis was hostess to Misses Sylvia and Marie Husak of Borger during the last week. The visitors are formerly of Pampa. Miss Lewis visited in Borger the first part of the week and was accompanied home by the girls.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS THINK THE BELITTLERS

This generation is too quick to make footballs of other men's reputations. It has been said with a large measure of truth that a man's reputation is not worth two cents in this age of lower criticism. The pastime of smart-aleck critics is wrecking in a day reputations that have been years in building.

"He that shall rail against his absent friends, Or hears them scandalized, and not defends; Sports with their fame and speaks what'er he can, And only to be thought a witty man; Tells tales and brings his friends in dis-esteem; That man's a knave;—be sure beware of him."

This rhymed preachment of Horatius might have been written for these human vultures, so aptly does it apply. Society holds in contempt the betrayer of his friend, the gossip, the tattle-tale, the stool-pigeon and the scandal-monger.—AVALANCHE, Lubbock.

IF SMITH WERE PRESIDENT

They are sure pouring it on poor Hoover, is the comment of Mr. Average Citizen as he reads in a newspaper of the demand of a congressman of the president's own party for his impeachment, of the refusal of congress to ratify his debt moratorium or to pass any law or vote any appropriation just as Mr. Hoover wants it done.

Yes, Mr. Hoover is the object of much displeasure just now but think of some of the things that would now be said and done if in 1928 Alfred E. Smith had been elected president. Alvah Johnson has thought some of these things for us in an article on Smith in the current issue of the Forum. Johnson says that Smith has been the beneficiary of a lot of good luck in his life, but about the best piece of good luck that ever came his way was his defeat in 1928.

"Had Smith been elected in 1928," writes Johnson, "he would have gone down in history as the author of the great Smith panic. The great Smith panic would probably have branded the democratic party forever as a party unfit to rule. The belief is widespread that Smith by this time would have been impeached and flung out of the White House. His feeble excuses would have been hooted to silence. His claim that world-wide economic conditions caused the Smith crash would be jeered; the reply would be that the Smith crash caused the world-wide economic conditions. Republican Smithies would recall that Herbert Hoover had warned them in his Boston, New York, and St. Louis speeches in 1928 that republican control of economics was the cause of prosperity. They would recollect, with bitter remorse, that Herbert Hoover had told them in St. Louis that the republicans had found a "remedy" which prevented slumps. They would boot themselves for failing to understand that a vote for Hoover was a vote to abolish poverty and that a vote for Smith was a vote to abolish prosperity."

"Thousands of citizens would see the whole thing as a Romish conspiracy. Could anybody persuade Bishop Cannon that his bucket shop losses were not due to the machinations of His Holiness? If the Vatican were not suspected of being back of some of those thousands of bank runs, then there are no good suspects left in the Protestant community. Where was the Papal Legate when wheat died to 48? It would be clear enough to many that the whole series of disasters was plotted and contrived by the cocotte of Babylon."

"If there were not abundant matter for the impeachment of Smith in all this, what about the Wickersham report? The deplorable conditions which that document reveals could be easily traced to the treasonable laxity of Smith. The rivers of whiskey and seas of beer that flood the country would plainly be the result of placing a wet Roman Catholic in the White House. The infamous racketeer situation would be ample ground for Smith's removal. It is easy to imagine that if Smith had won in 1928, the country's most popular columnist would be Herbert Hoover and everybody would be quoting his trenchant paragraphs on what might have been, if ———. THREE KINDS OF LOVE BY KAY CLEAVER STRAHAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY Anne Cecily and Mary Frances Fenwick live with their grandparents, once wealthy, now so impoverished that Anne's and Cecily's earnings support the household. The sisters have been orphaned since childhood. The grandparents are known respectively as "Rosalie" and "Grand" and they insist on keeping up pretenses of their former wealth. Anne, 28, and Cecily, 22, do secretarial work, and Mary Frances, 15, is still in school. All the girls are attractive. When the story opens Anne has been engaged to Philip Eroyod, young lawyer, for eight years. They can not marry because Anne knows her sisters and grandparents depend upon her to manage their home.

Cecily brings Barry McKee home to dinner without telephoning. She has known him only a short time but is falling in love with him. Anne, 28, and Cecily, 22, do secretarial work, and Mary Frances, 15, is still in school. All the girls are attractive. When the story opens Anne has been engaged to Philip Eroyod, young lawyer, for eight years. They can not marry because Anne knows her sisters and grandparents depend upon her to manage their home.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VII In the hall, where Ann could see his frown, he went on. "No. It seems to me that you and I are pushed about, constantly and carelessly, our own inclinations, to the tune of other people's whims."

"Not—not whims," said Ann. Philip shrugged. She hated to see him shrug that way, pretending or, perhaps, actually signifying that nothing was of importance any longer. She began to talk rapidly. "Dear, dearest," she said, "I don't know, but I think most people's troubles are their own faults, unless we switch to the determinists and say that nothing is anyone's fault. I mean—if there is fault it must belong to each person's own self. I was thinking tonight, as I peeled the carrots, you are like the sun to my moon. And when you shine I can shine—reflected light you know. And when things are all wrong, as they have been lately, and you are sort of hidden from me in the clouds, then I can't shine either. Only—it is more than my shining. Then I'm just not I at all. Not anything—much. I'm gone."

"Which, resolved," said Philip Eroyod, dignified young lawyer, "puts all the blame at my door, all the time for not—how is it?—shining."

"No," said Ann desperately. "No Phil dear, you are so clever and so wise and—I'm not. I shouldn't arrive. But, dear, if you'd try you could understand."

"For once compliments failed to mollify him. 'I do try,' he said. 'But nothing ever works out for either of us, does it? I never arrive.' He sighed and added, 'I love you, Ann, but to Ann it sounded absent-minded, like 'I beg your pardon' and its ilk. She avoided saying, 'Quite all right, I assure you,' by saying nothing. 'Well,' he reached for her hands. 'I'll be running along, then. Good night, dear.' 'Good night?' she echoed, without the 'dear.' 'But why in the world are you going so early? Cecily will think it's queer if you don't come in and meet her friend.' 'What did he mean? The shrugging shoulders to imply? Patience? (Cecily, in a teasing humor, had said that Phil was as patient as a thimble). Indifference? She had asked him last week what he meant when he shrugged and he had answered, 'It was merely a mannerism, he supposed, and that he was sorry it annoyed her—hinting however, that Ann was easily annoyed.'

He hung up his hat again, and took off his raincoat again, and kicked his overalls again—Phil never hurried. 'I'm afraid,' he said, as he slipped down his hair again, 'that I'm in no mood for a family party nor for Cecily's friends.' The music room was lighted only by the piano lamp, and off in a shadowy corner Grand mercifully was dozing. Rosalie, with her back to the light, tossed Philip and Ann a contralto parenthesis and went right on being the alluring blond belle of South Carolina.

Ann glanced at Cecily and saw that Rosalie and her allure did not matter—that nothing much mattered. Cecily was glowing with a blurred radiance that Ann understood. It came along with love, at first, and it came because all outside things were blurred and softened and made beautiful—for the time being. Cecily now could not see that Phil with his six feet and two inches towered above her like Mr. McKee. She could not see that Phil, with his smooth hair and his deep, dark-browed blue eyes, and his maturity and manliness, made Barry McKee look boyish and fragile and inadequate. In time, of course, things necessarily emerged from the haze and crystallized into clearly outlined duties, apt practicalities, habits, and certainties. Marriage, Ann believed, made this emergency easy; totaling, as it went, long certainties, duties, habits, instead of confusing them into problems petty and quarrelsome. Why this should be true, Ann did not know. Like many other practical persons she held hard to a few large reasonable faiths, and one of hers was that marriage in itself was the eternal panacea. For a moment, as she looked at Cecily, pity and fear thumped together in Ann's mind. It was an intolerable fusion, and she rejected it, and tried to listen to Rosalie, who was telling the old May-day story, with Cecily substituted for the heroine in place of Ann.

"Our dear son John was working toward his doctor's degree, and he had accepted an assistant professorship—something of the sort, in Harvard that year. Cecily was not quite five years old, but she wrote me a letter. I treasure it yet. It said: 'Dear Rosalie: They made me Queen of the May at my school today. They did not make Father Queen of the May at his school. Your loving Ann.' Cecily, I mean, fancy my saying Ann!"

Everyone laughed but Phil, who could not be expected to laugh, since he had heard the story many times before. Barry exclaimed pleasantly about little girls who went to school at four years old and wrote letters, and Rosalie began her interminable round of anecdotes concerning the three prodigies, the sisters Fenwick, and Phil sat, and was handsome, and looked bored, bored, bored.

For Phil's sake, and for Cecily's, too, Ann snatched the opportunity offered at the end of Rosalie's story about 6-year-old Mary-Frances and her first view of the Pacific ocean ("I had understood," lisped Mary-Frances, as she turned away, "that it was much bigger than that") to tell about the funny man who had gone with them for the Labor day party to Agate beach. "He was a 'teenth cousin of somebody's, and we none of us understood how he got into our group at all. But there he was, and he liked us less than we liked him, and he complained about the coffee and wouldn't help with any of the work. On Sunday evening I happened to be alone on the porch, and there was a glorious sunset doing marvelous purple things to the ocean. I called the others, 'Come and see the ocean!' and they all came except this Mr. Whatever-his-name-was. I thought he hadn't heard me, he was in the dining room, so I ran in there and said again, mad with enthusiasm, 'Oh, Mr. So-and-so, come and see the ocean!' He sat stolid in his chair and put back his chin and said, 'I have saw the ocean.' Barry's laugh leaped out satisfactorily. But Phil looked bored, bored, bored.

"Did anyone ask him?" Barry said, "about York Cathedral?" Ann did not understand, but Phil opened his eyes wider and leaned forward. "Ah! You care for the Brontes?" "Do! Emily in particular. I've just been rereading..." Ann soon stopped listening. She sat with a small smile fixed on her lips, and was glad that Phil was no longer bored, and that Cecily seemed to have read all the Bronte books, and that Rosalie had been lulled and was nodding in her heliotrope perfume. She had put on a lot of it tonight. Phil said that Rosalie was always ruthlessly perfumy. Poor Rosalie—she wore those heavy underarm dress shields, and they got sort of smelly, and that, probably, was why she used the perfume. It couldn't be told like the advertisements. Poor Mr. Redfern—if he could afford to advertise... Business was so slack right now. Rosalie, with a tomorrow that he write again to that man in Seattle. Phil's voice was going on and on. Was Phil, perhaps, doing more than his share of the talking? She listened.

"Rot! This stream of consciousness stuff—simpering at sin, whimsical and coy about wickedness! These young moderns, these worshippers of egotistic sophistabations, equipping their words about wallowing in sexual discussions and portrayals—rot! You say they'll live? I say that they have never been alive. They've never yelled. Then the doctor spanked them. They're stillborn, they—"

"But see here," Barry interrupted. "My brief was for the stylists—" modern, if you like, though Shakespeare— "Shakespeare," Phil seized it, as if Barry had stolen it, and shook it at him, "Shakespeare..." Underneath Phil's low rolling voice Cecily murmured to Ann, "Can't you stop him?" "That was too silly of Cecily. If she wanted anything stopped, why didn't she stop it? Stop her Barry, whose face was red and who looked almost angry. Phil was not angry at all—Phil was merely intense. He always grew intense when the subjects of sin and wickedness and sex came up. Phil, thanks to his mother's excellent training, was something of a Puritan, he said. Ann was glad of it. It made him clean minded, made him honor and respect women—except that—well, that other sort. And he pitied them sincerely. He said that idly. (To Be Continued)

ABOUT NEW YORK

(By William Gaines) NEW YORK—Philip Barry, the playwright, prefers to sleep all day and work or play all night. He has had his fling with the movies, of course, but his nocturnal habits once caused him to shun a Hollywood offer.

Barry was offered a contract for 24 weeks at $1,500 a week (before he became so famous, this was). The terms were agreeable, but, upon reading the contract, he noticed that he was called upon to be in the studio every morning not later than 9:30. The playwright protested, but the contract agent insisted the requirements must stand. Barry asked what difference it made with the producer, so long as he got his scripts in at a specified date.

"Mr. ——— wants his writers right where he can put his hands on them," said the agent. "Well, I don't want Mr. ———'s hands on me," Barry exclaimed and walked out.

Itinerant Items The French Institute in the United States maintains a 20,000 volume French reference library here, and makes available most of the important French publications. It is said that more lectures are delivered in New York in a month than in any other three world capitals. Probably because all the foreigners are over here lecturing. The St. Andrews golf course really was founded by Scotchmen. All of the island of Manhattan is visible from the roof of a hotel in Brooklyn. The fish hatchery at the aquarium is said to turn out a million fish a year. They are sent over the state to replenish lakes and streams. Brooklyn's foreign population is in excess of a half-million. All Brooklynites are foreigners to some of Manhattan's wisecrackers.
