

Bubble boy celebrates 10th birthday

HOUSTON (AP) — For the first time since his birth 10 years ago today, David is spending most of his time at home in a plastic, sterile "bubble" that shields him from disease-causing bacteria.

David, whose last name has never been released at his parents' request, was born without immunity to disease. His body lacks the crucial cells that ward off infection and others that produce antibodies that fight off invading bacteria.

Until this summer, David had spent two weeks at the Texas Children's Hospital and four weeks at home with his parents as part of his annual six-week sojourn away from Baylor University Medical Center.

But Dr. William T. Shearer, David's physician and a professor of immunology at Baylor, has altered the routine to allow the boy to spend more time at home. Shearer said David now spends two weeks at the hospital each year undergoing a battery of tests while his protective "bubble" is being cleaned.

"We feel family life is very important to David's growth and development. At home, David can experience the roles of son, brother and schoolboy, not just a patient in a hospital," Shearer said.

The dark-haired, brown-eyed youngster has lived longer than any of the other 69 known victims of this rare disease that afflicts males.

The notoriety attached to his case has caused him to be anxious, so much so that he refuses to be photographed.

Today — David's 10th birthday — will be different from those that preceded it. Although he must remain confined to the three-compartment "bubble" where he has been since his birth, he'll celebrate the occasion at home with his favorite chocolate cake and the latest Star Wars toys from his parents, his 13-year-old sister Katherine and other relatives and close family friends.

But the festivities will be tempered by the fact that there is no guaranteed cure that can free David from his bubble.

"There are bone marrow transplants, fetal thymus and fetal liver transplants, but all of those are considered to have somewhat of a high risk. So David's parents have decided that since none of these treatments are risk-free, they will wait and hope that a cure can be found," said Kaylen Fry of the Baylor College of Medicine. The Baylor institution is responsible for David's care.

Before his birth, doctors determined there was a 50 percent chance that David would be born with severe combined immune deficiency. At the time, he was one of two infants in the United States to be delivered into a totally sterile environment and placed immediately in an isolator, or bubble.

David's mother also said she wanted her son at home in order to provide him with religious training. David was baptized after he was placed in his bubble and will take his first Holy Communion this week.

"One of the reasons we wanted David at home with us was to give him religious training, to share our faith with him. He is our son and this is where he belongs," his mother said.

Like all the toys, clothes, food and other items that enter the bubble, the communion wafer will be irradiated at the hospital and placed in a sterile cylinder before it is consecrated.

Despite his handicap, doctors said, David is growing up like any other boy his age. He soon will be using a telephone hook-up with his fourth grade class that will allow him to participate in spelling bees, read aloud and ask questions. He also will be visited each week by his classmates and receives instruction from a private tutor twice a week.

David has told doctors his favorite subject is math, and he has shown interest in space, having assembled a miniature solar system fashioned out of string and marbles.

He has displayed a talent for art, drawing the characters featured in the "Flinstone" cartoon series to perfection, and is a whiz at the video game "Odyssey," a hospital spokeswoman said.

"He was even in love with Wonder Woman once, but I think he's finally outgrown that," said Hazel Hovey, a spokeswoman at St. Luke's Hospital, part of the Texas Children's Hospital complex, where David was born.

Date firm receptionist bilked by fast talker

DALLAS (AP) — A smooth-talking con artist charmed his way into Barbara Ann Rafalik's life by pretending to sell her a part of his business. But all he gave her was the business — bilking her of $37,800 belonging to her and her mother — according to a lawsuit filed in U.S. District Court.

Miss Rafalik said John Constantine Golfis, a wiry Greek man, introduced himself as the president of Telesis Technology, Inc., of Chicago. He claimed to be an engineer and former millionaire who had invented the cordless telephone, and said he was an accomplished pilot.

When he arrived in Dallas this summer, he was a convicted felon charged with conning a Fort Lauderdale, Fla., woman out of $20,000.

Miss Rafalik was a single, 31-year-old Michigan transplant who had just been hired as a receptionist at Video Dates Unlimited.

"The very first day I worked there was when John Golfis came into the office," she said. "He didn't see anyone he liked. He said I was the only girl he'd seen that he was interested in."

The next night, they went out to dinner and "he was very charming," Miss Rafalik said.

"He told me that he had thought about starting a dating service," she said. "This is when he came up with the idea that I should start my dating service."

She was interested, and quit her job.

Miss Rafalik said she gave him the first $6,800, which her mother had sent her for a car, to purchase video equipment. He made a telephone call to a client who seemed unwilling to part with some demonstration models unless the couple could pay cash right away.

She said she later gave Golfis $18,000 that the lawsuit specifies as part of $25,000 Miss Rafalik's mother wired to Dallas from Detroit. Golfis told her he would use the money to establish franchises and pay for advertising, the suit claims. The other $7,000 went into a checking account for the company.

Miss Rafalik said he then offered to cut her in on another business deal. He said the board of directors of Telesis was raising money among its members. With some of her mother's money market certificates, "he would get a promissory note, with a personal guarantee from him, that I could get 28 percent interest for my mother."

She gave Golfis $12,000 more, she said, and he persuaded her to pay another $1,000 for a camera that he kept.

Couple dies in plane crash

GRAPEVINE, Texas (AP) — A Lansing, Mich. couple were buried under recognition when their light plane burst into flames after crashing to the ground near the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport Saturday, officials said.

The victims were identified by a Tarrant County medical examiner's office spokesman as William and Wanda Coles.

Airport officials said the plane smashed into a tree in a wooded area a mile north of a runway.

A Federal Aviation Administration spokesman in Fort Worth said the control tower was not monitoring the flight of the Piper Saratoga.

"This close to the airport, they should have been talking to somebody," he said. "It was clear, calm weather and the weather probably wasn't a factor."

State crime victim's fund is $712,000 in the hole

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Victims of violent crimes in Texas need more money along with the sympathy of concerned citizens.

Right now the state's two-year-old effort to pay crime victims for at least some of their personal losses is $712,000 in the hole.

"This means there are approved claims for about 260 persons but there is no money to pay them," said Jerry Belcher, head of the Crime Victims Division of the Industrial Accident Board, which administers the law.

However, the Crime Victims Compensation Act enacted by the 1979 Legislature has allocated more than $1 million from those convicted of crimes and given it to their victims.

A total of $900,000 was paid out during the state's 1980 business year ending Aug. 31 and another $61,000 has been distributed during September.

Almost all of the money has gone to repay victims for lost wages due to a crime. Most of them were shot, knifed or otherwise injured. Many of those on the waiting list are due money for doctor's bills, funeral expenses and attorney fees.

A person must be in financial straits before filing a claim.

The Texas law says the Industrial Accident Board may give persons injured in a crime up to $50,000 for medical costs, loss of income not to exceed $150 per week, care of minor children so a victim can return to work and funeral expenses. Victims cannot receive compensation for pain and suffering or loss of property.

The program is financed by a $15 fee charged each person convicted of a felony and $10 for conviction of serious

Billy the Kid shares are sold

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — More than a third of the common stock of Billy The Kid, Inc., clothing manufacturers, has changed hands in what was described as one of the largest industrial transactions in the history of this border city.

Raizada Investments Inc., owned by El Pasoan Peter Dhawan and his family, purchased 33.5 percent of the outstanding shares of the Billy The Kid. The stock was valued at $5.8 million at Friday's close of the American Stock Exchange. A total of 672,877 shares changed hands in the sale.

"I prefer not to say how much money passed in the transaction but I think that it is probably one of the largest industrial transactions in the history of El Paso," said Robert W. Hirsch, who has been named president and chief operating officer of Billy The Kid.

Hirsch, formerly executive vice president, also was elected president of the company.

Before the sale, Raizada Investments of El Paso owned 75,100 shares or about 3.7 percent of common stock in Billy The Kid, which has its headquarters in El Paso.

The stock was bought from Tom Prendergast — who has resigned as chairman of the board, president, chief executive officer and a director of Billy The Kid — and his family.

Dhawan and Prendergast also declined to reveal the sales price.

Billy The Kid manufactures boys' wear and is taking steps to expand into men's, women's and girls' wear markets.

The company sells its products under several labels, the most prominent being "Billy The Kid," "Bill Blass," "Calamity Jane," "Mann," "Muppets" and "Hot Dogs."

The company employs about 2,744 people, owns six locations in El Paso and leases six more facilities. Billy The Kid also maintains regional or sales offices on leased premises in 13 cities. It has six retail outlets in El Paso, one in Douglas, Ariz., one in Nogales, Ariz., one in Yuma, Ariz., and one in San Ysidro, Calif.

Prendergast said he will remain a consultant for a year "because I have four or five projects I would like to see through." He said he has several other substantial business investments to attend to.

In addition to Prendergast's resignation, Michael Shearn has resigned as a director of the company. They were replaced on the board by Dhawan, who was elected chairman and chief executive officer, and William J. Armstrong, executive vice president of Raizada Investments.

Two new members were added to the board: Don Henderson, an insurance executive and former El Paso

DIET CENTER

Diet facts & fallacies

These nutritional tips brought to you by Sherry Conklin Diet Center 412 W. Kingsmill Hughes Bldg.

It is a proven fact that every time an alcoholic drink is taken, thousands of cells in the brain are destroyed. Our bodies have tremendous powers to regenerate and restore cells. But did you know that once the cells of the brain are destroyed, they are destroyed FOREVER? I repeat... every time a person takes a few drinks—beer, cocktails, etc., he or she is permanently destroying thousands of brain cells.

Alcoholism has a direct bearing on the following: brain damage, hypertension, diabetes, heart disease, coronary problems.

Stomach ulcers, mental illness, and even death.

If you are a "drinker," remember that all alcoholics were once just "social drinkers."

About 70 percent of chronic alcoholics begin drinking as teenagers. We do not understand what makes some people become so susceptible to addiction (some become addicted within a month—some never become addicted at all).

Diet Center would like to remind you that if the mind fails to function properly, so does the body!

Neighbors marching to protest Diablo Canyon nuclear plant

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP) — With a decision to start up the Diablo Canyon nuclear power plant looming, 5,000 protesters from nearby communities marched on the plant while anti-nuclear forces hinted at a change of strategy.

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission was expected to give Pacific Gas & Electric Co. interim approval today for low-power testing at the plant, a move that could spark a new push by the Abalone Alliance, a coalition of anti-nuclear groups.

But on Sunday, for the first time since the protest began last Tuesday, there were no arrests, according to Lt. Jerry Dooley of the San Luis Obispo Sheriff's Department. In all, there have been 1,108 arrests, with 400 protesters still in jail, Dooley said.

"The Abalones have said it's the all-out push tomorrow," Dooley said Sunday night. But, he added, "we don't know what's coming."

He estimated there were 1,000 protesters in the group's campground.

A spokesman for the group, which has been concentrating its forces in an unsuccessful attempt to block the main gates of the $2.3-billion PG&E facility 12 miles south of San Luis Obispo, said it may spread demonstrators all around the 735-acre site if testing is approved.

That posed the possibility of demonstrators breaching the plant's outer fence at several locations and blocking other gates. That could force police to spread their forces.

The spokesman, Dennis Collins, said masses of protesters may be sent by back roads onto the site, on the rugged central California coastline midway between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

"We're going to do the best we can to take that plant by non-violent means and hold it," he said.

The alliance objects to nuclear power as unsafe and says the Diablo Canyon plant is particularly dangerous because it is built near an earthquake fault line. The alliance says the blockade is an attempt to prevent fuel loading for the start up of the reactor, but company officials have said the protest will not affect their plans.

A Sunday demonstration at the main gate of the plant was not organized by the alliance, and most of those in the singing, sign-waving crowd were not members of the group.

The march began in the sleepy fishing town of Avila Beach about a mile from the gate and attracted both local residents and supporters from other California cities.

One killed, seven injured in blaze

TYLER, Texas (AP) — A Los Angeles man died and six other people were injured when fire raced through a dormitory at the Methodist-Episcopal Texas College, officials said.

Tom N. Davis, 19, was pronounced dead at the scene. He had been a student at the college only 10 days, officials said.

All the victims were inside the dormitory when the blaze broke out at 2:44 a.m. Sunday, said Fire Lt. John Langston.

Six of the injured were treated and released from local hospitals, Langston said.

Post writer denounced by China

PEKING (AP) — The Chinese Foreign Ministry called in the Washington Post correspondent in Peking today and denounced his story about an imprisoned Chinese dissident, calling it "sheer fabrication."

Correspondent Michael Weisskopf was warned that if he ever writes a similar story, he "will be held responsible for all the consequences arising therefrom," the Foreign Ministry said in a statement that was relayed by telephone to all major news agencies in Peking, including The Associated Press, and some newspapers.

The Associated Press, Time Magazine and other agencies and newspapers also carried the account of dissident editor Liu Qing's life in jail and a labor camp.

Weisskopf, who wrote the story that appeared on the front page of the Washington Post Sept. 15, said he would have no comment on the government's action until he consulted with his editors.

Joe Ritchie, an assistant foreign editor of the Post, said in Washington: "We stand by our correspondent Mike Weisskopf and the story in question."

Early this month, the Foreign Ministry warned journalists not to report on activities of Chinese dissidents, saying they did not represent the views of the Chinese government.

Today's Foreign Ministry statement claimed the Washington Post dispatched "sensational news... which is full of vicious attacks on us." It said the manuscript upon which the story was based "is of unknown origin and its content is sheer fabrication."

The Liu manuscript reportedly was smuggled out of a labor reform camp. Correspondents who obtained it said it came from reliable sources, and the calligraphy matched that of the dissident.

Weisskopf said a Foreign Ministry spokesman read the statement to him, and told him he "lacked a responsible attitude as a correspondent" and had defied the provisional regulations for resident correspondents in Peking.

"I hereby give you a warning," Weisskopf quoted the spokesman as saying. "If things of a similar nature happen again in the future, you will be held responsible for all the consequences arising therefrom."

Book says Johnson a ruthless president

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new biography by a Pulitzer Prize-winning author says that Lyndon Johnson "did not hesitate to use the powers of the presidency... with utter ruthlessness" to further his own business interests and earlier had accepted envelopes of cash while he was vice president.

"For years, men came into Lyndon Johnson's office and handed him envelopes stuffed with cash," author Robert A. Caro writes in "The Years of Lyndon Johnson."

Caro won a Pulitzer Prize in 1975 for his biography of Robert Moses, a former New York city and state official who died earlier this year. The first of three volumes in the new biography of Johnson is to be published next year. Excerpts appear as an article in the October issue of The Atlantic Monthly.

Johnson, who died in 1973, was raised to power first in the House of Representatives and then as a U.S. senator from Texas by the emerging oil, gas, sulfur, defense and space industries of the Southwest, Caro says.

"They didn't stop coming even when the office in which he sat was the office of the vice president of the United States," the article says. "Fifty thousand dollars, in hundred-dollar bills in sealed envelopes, was what one oil lobbyist for one oil company testified that he brought to Johnson's office during his term as vice president."

There was no answer Sunday at a telephone listed in Caro's name. The Washington Post, however, said Caro told the newspaper "the $50,000 incident referred to lobbyist Claude C. Wild Jr., who had testified in a case brought by the Securities and Exchange Commission against Gulf Oil in the mid-1970s about a Gulf Oil slush fund. Caro said he thought the transaction occurred in 1963."

In 1975, former Gulf attorney Thomas D. Wright testified in a deposition that Wild told him he delivered $50,000 to Johnson in either 1960 or 1961, shortly after Johnson was elected vice president.

The Post said its files report that Wild said he gave $50,000 to a Johnson aide while Johnson was still a senator. Johnson was elected vice president in November, 1960.

Though Johnson announced he was putting all his business affairs in a blind trust while he was president, he had private phone lines installed in the Oval Office to confer with Texas attorneys who administered the trust, the excerpts say.

Harry C. McPherson, a Washington lawyer who was a special assistant and White House counsel to Johnson, said Sunday he had no knowledge of the private telephone setup or Johnson's business dealings while he was president.

Dolphins whip Oilers to remain unbeaten

HOUSTON (AP) — From Miami coach Don Shula's view on the sidelines, his Dolphins were having some "real" problems with the Houston Oilers.

"The noise in the Astrodome was a real problem, the Houston defense was a real problem and our injuries were a real problem," Shula said.

At least Shula didn't have to worry about his own defensive unit, which was only "unreal." It sacked beleaguered Oiler quarterback Ken Stabler eight times and held Earl Campbell to 78 yards rushing Sunday as Miami decked the Oilers 16-10 to remain unbeaten with a 3-0 record.

"We've never seen so many different stunts," Oiler guard

John Schuhmacher said. "That's why we couldn't pick anything up. It seemed like they did something different every play."

The Dolphins swarmed Stabler from all directions, led by tackle Bob Baumhower, who flattened Stabler four times, and defensive end Doug Betters, who infiltrated twice.

"We were breaking free in practice during the week and it just happened to work in the game, too," Baumhower said. "We prepared for Campbell and adjusted to the other things. We tried to set up for the sacks and it just worked out that I was free. It wasn't designed that way."

The Oiler offense, once again, did not work out as it was designed.

It struggled to life only once, in the first quarter when Stabler found Ken Burrough along the sideline, for a 71-yard pass-run play for Houston's only touchdown.

The Dolphins took a 9-7 halftime lead on field goals of 42, 37, and 27 yards by Uwe von Schamann. The Oilers, who made only three first downs in the opening half, rallied briefly in the third quarter on Toni Fritch's 40-yard field goal.

Veteran Miami quarterback Don Strock, who replaced starter David Woodley in the second half, hit rookie Andra Franklin with a 3-yard touchdown pass to ice the victory with 6:40 to play.

Shula said he switched, quarterbacks because the Oiler defense was confusing Woodley.

"I was a little upset at halftime because we were ahead," said Woodley, in his second season with the Dolphins. "But with only 13 starts in my career, it's not a time to get upset."

It was an expensive victory for the Dolphins, already slim at the running back position. Both starting running backs left the game with injuries. Woody Bennett with a twisted knee and Tony Nathan with a rib injury.

Campbell, held under 100 yards for the second straight week while mending a bruised right shoulder, and center Carl Mauca, assigned to block Baumhower on certain plays, were left speechless. They refused to talk after the game.

Stabler, who completed 16 of 26 passes despite the onslaught, tried to explain what happened.

"I'm not going to point fingers at anyone, but it's hard to go out and not control the line of scrimmage and move the ball consistently," he said. "We got too many sacks and too many penalties."

Oiler offensive tackle Leon Gray was as mystified as Schuhmacher.

"I wish I knew all the answers to what went wrong today," Gray said. "But the bottom line is that the defense outplayed us. Quite frankly, we got embarrassed. You can go to the well just so many times and sooner or later you come up dry."

Five NFL teams stay unbeaten after third week of season

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer

Fear can be a motivator of men, and in the case of the Pittsburgh Steelers, off to their worst start since 1970, it has been absolutely essential, quarterback Terry Bradshaw says.

The Steelers were among six teams that won their first games of the 3-week-old National Football League season Sunday. The others were Los Angeles, Cleveland, St. Louis, Chicago and Minnesota.

Five teams — Miami, San Diego, Atlanta, Philadelphia and Dallas — remained undefeated, and three others — New England, New York Jets and Washington — had yet to win their first game.

Three other teams — Cincinnati, Houston and Kansas City — were knocked from the ranks of the unbeaten.

The Patriots have a chance to get on the winning ledger tonight when they play host to the Cowboys.

"To win in this league, you've got to fear your opponent, knock him down and run with wreckless abandon, and that's what we learned today," Bradshaw said after the Steelers got untracked with a 38-10 drubbing of the Jets.

The Rams, meanwhile, broke through against Bart Starr's Green Bay Packers 35-23, and Cleveland won No. 1 against Cincinnati, 20-17.

In other games, St. Louis outlasted Washington 40-30, Chicago defeated Tampa Bay 28-17, Minnesota edged Detroit 26-24, Miami dumped Houston 16-10, San Diego defeated Kansas City 42-31, Atlanta clobbered San Francisco 34-17, Denver thrashed Baltimore 28-10, the New York Giants defeated New Orleans 20-7 and Oakland downed Seattle 20-10, Philadelphia beat Buffalo, 20-14, in Thursday night's game.

Steelers 38, Jets 10
Bradshaw ran 1 yard for one Pittsburgh touchdown and passed for 225 yards, but reserve running back Frank Pollard was the big offensive catalyst for the struggling Steelers.

Pollard, who started for the second week after Sidney Thornton had lost four fumbles in the Steelers opener, rushed for two touchdowns. Russell Davis, who scored Pittsburgh's other touchdown, led Pittsburgh with 100 yards rushing.

"The Steelers suddenly caught life," said Jets Coach Walt Michaels, whose job may be in serious jeopardy after three straight losses. "I said earlier in the week they were a sleeping tiger."

Rams 35, Packers 23
Jeff Rutledge, replacing the injured Pat Haden, tossed a third-quarter touchdown pass of 30 yards to Drew Hill, putting the Rams on top for good at 21-16. Haden sustained bruised ribs when he was sacked by Green Bay defensive end Mike Butler early in the second quarter. Cullen Bryant and Wendell Tyler added short touchdown runs in the fourth quarter as Los Angeles finally got on the winning side of the ledger. The loss dropped the Packers to 1-2.

Browns 20, Bengals 17
Fullback Mike Pruitt, seeing spot duty because of a pulled hamstring, made the most of his playing time with 69 yards rushing and a 12-yard touchdown run that earned Cleveland its first 1981 victory and dropped Cincinnati to 2-1.

Cards 40, Redskins 30
Jim Hart threw for 226 yards and three touchdowns, and rookie Stump Mitchell scored on a 50-yard punt return as St. Louis downed Washington in a meeting of previously winless teams.

Bears 28, Bucs 17
Rookie Jeff Fisher returned a punt 88 yards for a touchdown, and quarterback Vince Evans accounted for two touchdowns — one running, one passing — as Chicago thumped Tampa Bay, now 1-2.

Vikings 26, Lions 24
Rick Danmeier's 20-yard field goal with four seconds left boosted Minnesota over the Lions, who dropped to 1-2. Vikings quarterback Tommy Kramer, since injuring his knee in an Aug. 27 preseason game, guided Minnesota on an 81-yard drive in the final two minutes to set up the kick.

Broncos 28, Colts 10
Craig Morton passed for 291 yards and four touchdowns to lead Denver as he became only the 15th player in NFL history to reach the 25,000-yard career passing plateau. His effort Sunday gave him 25,166 career passing yards.

Dolphin swim club seeks new members

The Pampa Dolphin Swim Club will be holding new membership registration this week from 6-6:30 p.m. at the Pampa Youth and Community Center.

A parent member of the club will be on hand to answer any questions. Coach Jackie Stephens will meet with the swimmers in the pool area. New swimmers should bring a swimsuit.

The swim team is open to any boy or girl who has completed advanced beginner swim lessons and has a good basic knowledge of freestyle and backstroke.

More information can be obtained by calling Mrs. Robert Chambers (665-2067) or coach Stephens (669-6242) in the evenings.

Pampa ousted by Caprock

LUBBOCK—Pampa was eliminated by Amarillo Caprock, 4-15, 15-6 and 13-15, Saturday in the second round of the Lubbock Volleyball Tournament.

"I thought we had a better team than Caprock, but I think we were looking too far ahead to the next game," Pampa coach Lynn Wolfe said. "That hurt us."

Pampa won its opening match against Lubbock High, 15-6 and 15-7.

Pampa, 11-3 for the season, plays Portales, New Mexico there Tuesday, starting at 4 p.m. Portales recently took second in the Hobbs Tournament.

The Harvesters meet Dunbar at 3 p.m. Friday in the first round of the Abilene Tournament.

Gas heating saves $226 per year!

Compared to the heat pump, gas heating can save you $226 per year on your utility bills. So if you hear that a heat pump is "more economical", remember, that is comparing it to other electric heating... not to gas! No other heating system even comes close to gas for economy. At Energas, we are committed to help you get the most for your heating dollar. Gas heating, combined with good conservation practices, saves energy, too.

September 22, 1981

This coming year some exceptional and unusual opportunities will be afforded you. Thus, for the first time in a few years, you should begin to experience a peace of mind from the added security they'll bring.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Your day could begin with the feeling you've been taken advantage of, but a chance encounter with an individual who knows more about the situation will prove you wrong. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph, Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Trying to bulldoze people into agreeing with you today will avail you little. When the more-diplomatic you takes over, you'll be able to turn things about.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
Not until you snap yourself out of your doldrums will you have a successful day. The quicker you get hold of yourself, the faster good things can happen.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
An unpleasant involvement might bother you today, but only for a short time. Your philosophical nature won't allow you to dwell on the negative.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
There are always those who try to run the show, so don't let it annoy you. Maintain your own course. The interloper will soon be out of your sight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
There is a chance you could get blamed today for a mishap or mistake at work that may not have been your fault. One you'd least expect to do so will come to your defense.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
You're able to laugh it off today when that gamble you took doesn't pay off. In the back of your mind, you know there's another way to get what you want. Work for it.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
When the situation at home gets hairy, bend a little to placate the guilty party. You'll discover that making a few minor concessions pays off.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
If you place an important project in another's hands, it's best to look over his or her shoulder. It isn't likely the person will get your instructions right the first time.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
From out of the blue an opportunity could arise to help you make up recent losses you've suffered. A bleak day could turn into a happy one.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Don't take offense and retaliate against those who are trying to offer you constructive criticism today. Keep an open mind. It's to your advantage.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
If something's bothering you, it's far better to bring it out into the open than to let it seethe beneath the surface. Only then can it be resolved.

Dear Abby

Railroad widows awarded benefits

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1981 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Effective Oct. 1, 1981, remarried widows and divorced wives, mothers and widows of railroad workers will become eligible for railroad annuities in the same dollar amount and under the same rules as Social Security, and I can't think of a better way of reaching the approximately 74,000 eligible women than through your column!

Social Security annuities continue to widows who remarry after age 60, and can be reinstated for widows who remarry before that age but whose second marriages end. Social Security benefits are also payable to women divorced after at least 10 years of marriage if their former spouses are retired or deceased. Prior to the new Railroad Retirement Act amendments, railroad workers' widows who remarried permanently forfeited annuity rights. Women divorced from railroad workers, regardless of the length of marriage, lost all benefits. Many women also lost Medicare since it is contingent on benefit entitlement.

Women who will be affected should immediately contact the Railroad Retirement Board at 844 Rush Street, Chicago, Ill. 60611. The railroad worker's full name and Social Security or Railroad Retirement Account Number should be included.

REP. JAMES L. OBERSTAR,
8TH DISTRICT, MINNESOTA

DEAR CONGRESSMAN OBERSTAR: Thank you for this wonderful news! I'm glad to know that the rules have been changed, and I'm sure the 74,000 women who are now eligible to collect benefits will be jubilant.

DEAR ABBY: "The Tattooed Man" asked whether the removing of a tattoo would leave scars, and you said: "It depends on the skill of the doctor who removes it." Not so! Removal of tattoos always leaves scars. How noticeable these scars are depends not only on the doctor's skill, but also:

- 1) Location of the tattoos.
- 2) Area the tattoos cover.
- 3) Depth of tattoos.

Abby, two of the myths of plastic surgery are that plastic surgeons do not leave scars and that they remove scars. I am sorry to see your column perpetuate such myths. All we can do is to try to make the surgical scars as inconspicuous as possible.

J.T.J., M.D.,
LETTERMAN ARMY MEDICAL CENTER

DEAR DR. J.: Thanks for needling me. I get the picture.

DEAR ABBY: Last week we celebrated our golden wedding anniversary. Our children had a beautiful surprise party for us and they invited many, many friends. "No gifts" was printed on the invitations, but many people brought gifts anyway. Some of the relatives gave us money. Abby, we are well-off financially and there is nothing we need or want. The ones who gave us money need it more than we. I don't want to insult them, but I would like to return the money.

Is there some way to do it without hurting people? I thought I knew all the rules, but apparently not this one. Please help.

D. IN LONG ISLAND

DEAR D.: There is no way to return a gift without offending the giver. On the next gift-giving occasion (their anniversary or Christmas), give them an exceptionally nice gift.

PEAR HAM SLAW. Fresh fruit helps to vary an old-time salad.

Add pears, ham to slaw

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

DEAR CECILY: Should cabbage salad be called coldslaw, coleslaw or slaw? An interesting new recipe for this old familiar would be appreciated. — BE CORRECT.

DEAR BE CORRECT: According to Webster, cabbage salad may be called coldslaw, coleslaw or slaw.

PEAR HAM SLAW
6 to 8 ounces sliced ham, cut in thin strips
1 cup thinly shredded green cabbage
1 small cucumber, pared and thinly sliced
¼ cup thinly sliced celery

Vinaigrette, recipe follows:
1 fresh Bartlett pear, cored and sliced

Toss the ham, cabbage, cucumber and celery with enough of the Vinaigrette to suit your own taste. Arrange in a shallow bowl. Surround with the pear slices. Spoon the remaining Vinaigrette over the pears.

VINAIGRETTE
3 tablespoons vegetable oil
¼ cup cider vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon celery seed
¼ teaspoon pepper
Beat or shake together the oil, vinegar, salt, sugar, celery seed and pepper. Makes about ½ cup.
