Twister Hits Kellerville; Damage Heavy

KELLERVILLE — A screaming twister struck this little oil community at 8:30 p.m. yesterday causing no deaths or injuries, but heavy damage.

Utility lines were knocked out as the storm struck leaving the town and surrounding environs without communication and lights.

It appeared to form at the Warren Petroleum Gasoline Plant and began a trek straight north to uproot a number of 14-inch trees and tore roofs from houses. One room of the Red Rigdon home was blown away and trees in his yard were pulled up by their roots. Terrified when they couldn't reach their storm cellar, the family of Clifford West lay on the floor of their home while the tornado smashed window glasses of the home, but dealt no other harm.

Still streaking northward, the twister hit the Royal Oil Co. Camp where it blew over several garages. A half mile north of the Royal camp it knocked down two derricks with their engine houses and belt halls on the Texas Co. Keller lease. It also tore the roof off the Texas Co. Power building on the lease.

W. W. Hughes, News correspondent, traveled 20 miles to Lefors to call in the report.

Hughes reported, that other than a few cases of mild shock, brought on by fright, there were no injuries. Kellerville proper boasts a population of between 50 and 60.

Hughes also estimated the tornado was between 150 to 200 yards wide and three miles long. It disappeared after it crossed the Red River.

Gray County Lacks $800 Cancer Goal

Gray County lacks about $800 fulfilling its quota in the 1949 American Cancer Society drive, J. Ray Martin, county chairman, said today.

"Many industries in the county have refused to contribute to this worthy cause," he added.

"The campaign will be extended until our state quota is reached and we hope these industries will cooperate in the near future."

Cancer was a word not mentioned in polite circles when the American Cancer Society began to expand its activities 14 years ago. It suffered from a foolish stigma of shame and disfigurement. Today cancer is not only discussed freely, but its dangers are recognized by an increasingly large percentage of the general population, he said.

"Our medical men were pessimistic or indifferent about cancer 14 years ago. At that time diphtheria, influenza and small pox were looming menaces and cancer was relegated to the totally unknown. Today every doctor will tell you that cancer can be cured if caught in time," he added.

Thirty-five years ago cancer was the seventh cause of death in the U. S. Today it is the number two killer.

"Realization of the cancer control hopes of a previous generation today are almost within our grasp. We must not slacken the pace," Martin concluded.

Borgan Fined Here on DWI

A fine of $100 and costs was imposed this morning by Judge Bruce Parker in County Court on James E. Borgan, 1423 Clayton, Borgan for driving while intoxicated.

Jackson pleaded guilty to the charge brought through a complaint by City Police who picked him up on S. Cuyler last night.

The mandatory six-month suspension of drivers license went along with the sentence.

At the same time Don W. Tate, 109 N. Wynne, entered a plea of not guilty to a similar charge, and was released on $500 bond.

Tate was apprehended last night by City Police and transferred to County Court this morning.

10th Flood Victim Found at Ft. Worth

By The Associated Press

A tenth flood victim was found at Fort Worth today as high waters of the Trinity River, receding there and at Dallas, spread over rich farmlands downstream from Dallas.

The body of a 36-year-old Negro, Quilla Robinson, was found on a road this morning at Fort Worth.

Mobilized national guardsmen joined police, Air Force, Army and American Legion personnel in wrapping tight patrol lines around flooded areas at Fort Worth. Five persons were arrested for looting. A pass system was instituted to keep sightseers and potential looters out of the stricken area.

City Manager W. O. Jones has estimated Fort Worth's property loss at "well over $6,000,000."

Massive 60-foot levees protected most of Dallas as the swollen river threatened its way through the city, but downstream the

River Levees May Collapse

ENNIS, Tex. (AP)—The flooding Trinity River rose four feet in this area today and Weather Bureau men predicted levees won't hold if the expected steady rise continues.

Fourteen miles east of ENNIS the Trinity stood at 30.16 feet. This is 32 arduous miles below Dallas but 100 winding river miles.

A crest of 44 feet is predicted. Should it develop weathermen said they expected levees on both sides of the river in Ellis and Kaufman Counties to collapse, inundating 40,000 to 50,000 acres of rich farmlands.

Although lowlands all along the river below Dallas have been touched by water.

Farmers toiled throughout the night in this area, moving livestock and their plows, trucks and equipment to the safety of high ground.

There was considerable anxiety all eyes were on the levees.

The East Fork of the Trinity, which joins the main stem near Rosser, has fallen two inches since midnight.

The farmlands of Ellis and Kaufman counties are considered among the most productive in Texas. Crops include cotton, wheat, corn, hays, small grains and onions.

Tulia Woman Plays Good Samaritan, Feeds Passengers on Stranded Train

By CARL ZYBACH

Pampa News Correspondent

LUBBOCK — (Special) — Mrs. Tomi Davis, wife of the Santa Fe section foreman at Tulia, played the Good Samaritan to passengers aboard a stranded train Tuesday afternoon.

The train bound for Lubbock, was delayed about five hours on the outskirts of Tulia while a derailment was cleared from the tracks ahead.

Since the train was due to arrive in Lubbock by 1 p. m., no one expected to need food before the train could get into Tulia, however, because of a heavy rain that was falling all the while.

About 3 p. m. Mrs. Davis donned rubber boots and slicker and waded the knee-deep torrent between her house and the train to see if any children aboard needed food.

While on the train she counted noses and in an incredibly short time returned with enough egg sandwiches to serve every passenger aboard. She also brought milk for the children. Returning to her home, Mrs. Davis recruited Hazel Jones and Beulah Jordan, two jolly colored girls, to help her bring out pots of steaming coffee and a huge chocolate cake she had baked for a picnic that had been rained out.

Carl Zybach of Canadian, on his way to a fire chief's conference at Lubbock, was one of the stranded passengers who especially enjoyed the kindness of Mrs. Davis. Being stranded by weather was no new experience for him, as he and his family were stranded on the highway near Panhandle in the blizzard of last Nov. 27, but he knows that he and the other passengers on that train will long remember the kindness of those Tulia women.

U.N. Ends Spring Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—United Nations delegates ended the General Assembly's spring session last night by rejecting a surprise Polish move to debate the case of Gerhart Eisler, Communist fugitive.

Poland unsuccessfully raised the Eisler controversy at the end of the six-week spring session marked by two positive achievements—admission of Israel as the 59th U. N. member and approval of the first world treaty intended to safeguard unhampered international transmission of news.

Sharp disagreements blocked action on disposal of Italy's pre-war colonies and on a Latin American move to lift the U. N. ban on top-level diplomatic representation in Spain. The colonies question was put over until the Assembly's fall session here.

Polish Delegate Juliusz Katz-Suchy delayed the scheduled adjournment when he suddenly brought up the case of Eisler, now held in England after jumping bail in the United States and staying away aboard the Polish liner Batary.

Katz-Suchy said his government wanted the Eisler case discussed in the U. N. immediately. He charged Eisler's detention in England at American request was a "violation of fundamental rights and freedoms, traditional practices and principles of international law."

The Pole argued bitterly when Assembly President Herbert V. Evatt of Australia ruled Poland had not given sufficient notice before presenting the Eisler case and that adjournment plans would not be changed.

In an appeal to the 59-nation assembly, his proposal to overrule Evatt was voted down, 42 to 2.

Rains Delay Start of Texas Wheat Harvest

Starting dates for the Texas wheat harvest have been further delayed by additional rains and continued cool weather. It was announced from the wheat harvest control office in Amarillo.

Present indications are that cutting will begin in Wilbarger, Wichita, Clay, Foard, Knox, Baylor, Archer, Cooke and Denton Counties about May 25, with other surrounding counties beginning about June 1.

Additional rainfall throughout the wheat producing area during the past weeks, accompanied by spotty hail, high winds and tornadoes have slowed down the wheat. Communication lines are down and it is impossible at this time to secure complete and accurate reports of damage to the wheat crops.

What Punishment Can You Give Speaker Whose Remarks Work Up Mob Violence?

By PAUL M. YOST
WASHINGTON (AP)—How far may your city go in punishing a public speaker whose remarks tend to work up mob violence?

Five Supreme Court Justices—enough for majority of the tribunal—say you can't convict him of disorderly conduct simply because his speech stirs people to anger, invites public dispute or brings about public unrest.

Such a conviction, the five said Monday in a brief opinion written by Justice Douglas, violates the Constitution's free speech guarantee. Justice Jackson took the fight on behalf of the city with a 7,500-word dissenting opinion. Jackson said a "drive by totalitarian groups to undermine the prestige and the effectiveness of local democratic governments is advanced whenever either of them can win from this court a ruling which paralyzes the power of the officials. This is such a case."

Justice Burton agreed with Justice Jackson. The two also agreed with Vinson also wrote a dissent.

Douglas, in speaking for himself and for Justices Reed, Black, Murphy and Rutledge said that the function of free speech is to invite dispute.

"It may indeed best serve its high purpose," Douglas asserted, "when it induces a condition of unrest, creates dissatisfaction with conditions as they are, or even stirs people to anger."

Arthur Terminiello, a Roman Catholic priest from Birmingham, was in defer a speech he made in a Chicago auditorium Feb. 7, 1946. The charge was disorderly conduct. He appealed to the high tribunal after Illinois' court upheld the conviction.

At the time of the speech Terminiello was under suspension from his duties as a chaplain for political activity. His speech was under the auspices of the "Christian Veterans of America" and the meeting was called by Gerald L. K. Smith, who formerly teamed with the late Huey P. Long of Louisiana.

Terminiello's speech blasted the New Deal and Jews, called Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt a Communist and applied such terms as "slimy scum" and "hoedogs" to his leaders.

Today Terminiello is assistant pastor of a Catholic parish at Pensacola, Fla. He was reinstated by his bishop in 1947. He said the Supreme Court majority decision vindicated himself and the right of free speech. He said Communists caused the disturbance that led to his arrest.

Known to millions of Russians as Kyra Petrovskaya of the Moscow Theater, Russian war bride Mrs. Elliot Shirk, of New York, volunteered to broadcast over the Voice of America. She wants to "tell the people of Russia the truth about America." Married in 1946 and in this country about two years, Mrs. Shirk added, "This is paradise." State Department officials are considering her offer.

Food Price Index Is on Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—The Dun & Bradstreet Wholesale Food Price Index this week declined to 35.66, duplicating the low for the year previously touched on Feb. 28. This was the lowest posted by the index since Oct. 8, 1946. It compared with 35.68 a week ago and was 18.1 percent below the year-ago figure of 56.91.

Election in Red Zone Has Hurt Kremlin

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The Kremlin must have been set rocking by the election in the Soviet Zone of Eastern Germany, where more than a third of the voters balloted against hand-picked, Communist-approved candidates for the new "People's Congress."

The Red command had anticipated the usual favorable vote of virtually 100 percent in such elections. This was to be a triumph for presentation at the forthcoming meeting of the Big Four Foreign Ministers' Council in Paris.

Moscow's strategy was to lay before the council this "People's Congress" of 2,600 delegates that would match the federal republic of Western Germany.

In short, the "People's Congress" was to have been put forward by the Russians to represent all Germany.

What line of strategy the Muscovites will pursue after their upset is a matter of keen speculation in Western diplomatic circles. Certainly the so-called "People's Congress" has lost any magic which it might have held for Western Germany had the election been practically "unanimous" as planned.

This revolt of the German voter in the Soviet Zone is in itself a momentous development, but it seems to me to fit into a picture of much broader significance.

What development could alter the European picture? Well, it would be the failure of communism to hold the peoples of the various countries which have been absorbed into the Soviet bloc. That is, the rejection of communism by these peoples.

Now comes this rebuff to the Russians in Eastern Germany was supposed to have been thoroughly communized. We see that there is a powerful anti-Communist element in that zone, and that it dares raise its head.

Patrol Boat Uses Radar to Hunt Fishers Violating Law

A RADAR gear atop mast of California fishing patrol boat, Albarcore, helps patrolmen of the California Fish and Game Commission catch fishermen operating in illegal waters.

SAN FRANCISCO —(NEA)—Radar, which helped win the battle of freedom, is now hard at work in the battle of fish.

The Albarcore, newest patrol boat of the California Fish and Game Commission, is using a radar set to detect violators of the state's fishing laws.

Specifically, the new equipment will aid the fight against commercial boats fishing inside the three-mile limit and those using a drag net in illegal waters.

Already, the presence of mysterious radar on the Albarcore has thrown a scare into California fishermen. They seem to think it possesses powers even more potent than it actually does.

"There's a great deal of speculation going on among commercial fishermen in Northern California," says the patrol boat's skipper, Captain Ralph W. Dale, "over just what we can see on the Albarcore's radar screen."

"There's talk along the wharves that we know just how many fish are aboard, or whether the legal limit of 500 pounds of crabs per boat has been exceeded. Some of the men are sure that the very kinds of fish and size of catch can be seen as they are brought aboard, although we may be many miles away with fog and darkness making visibility zero."

Even though the Albarcore's radar set can't do those things, it has proven a big help in the conservation fight. It enables the 83-foot boat to be out in any kind of weather, night and day. Previously, patrol boats sometimes stayed in port a month or more in bad weather.

The viewing screen is calibrated so that the radar operator and every member of the crew except the cook is an operator — can take dead reckoning. The little "blob" of light on the screen tells him whether a boat is a fisher or a coastwise tanker or an ocean-going vessel.

"Our boats are now much more effective," says Chief LeRue Chappell of the Commission's Bureau of Patrol and Law Enforcement, "especially in determining whether or not a boat is using a drag net within illegal waters. We can see whether the boats are moving or whether they are clustered within a certain area, which usually means the drag nets are out."

Poor enforcement of conservation laws has resulted in a depletion of fish along the Northern California shelf. Where once a catch was spoken of in tons and could be made within an hour, now it takes perhaps four hours to bring in a few hundred pounds.

Captain Dale thinks that the radar equipment will prevent violations, as well as result in the capture of violators. He adds that he would much rather prevent a violation of fishing regulations than catch an offender.

With radar, he says, the Albarcore will be able to move more quickly and surely.

The commission, too, with an eye to the fall of fishing to fifth place in the state's industries, is

Deputy Claims He Was Fired For Honesty

FRANKFURT, Germany —(AP)—Charles H. Collison said today he was fired from the authority to smash German monopolies because it is known that I favor carrying out decartelization honestly.

Collison, who was deputy chief of the American-British Decartelization Authority, said he testified before the Army Department's Cartel Investigation Commission last year that "the decartelization program in Germany was being sabotaged and obstructed."

"I have been fired in anticipation of the arrival of the U. S. high commissioner for Germany, John J. McCloy, because it is known that I favor carrying out decartelization honestly," he told a reporter, without elaborating this statement further.

McCloy has just been appointed to the top German post, heading the American civilian control which takes over with the retirement of the military governor, Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

Richardson Bronson, head of decartelization in the U. S. military zone, said "there is no connection" between Collison's release and the Army Department commission's report.

The commission, which had been headed by Garland Ferguson of the Federal Trade Commission, reported recently that the program of breaking up the once great German industrial cartels was being evaded. It reported that as a result the same threat to international trade conditions existed as that which helped bring on World War II. A typical German cartel was the I. G. Farben chemical industry, a combine that exerted powerful controls in many countries.

Oklahoma Hit by Floods, Tornadoes

OKLAHOMA CITY —(AP)—Oklahomans who dodged tornadoes two nights in a row woke to a serious flood danger today. Creeks and rivers, spilled their water over the western flatlands.

The Washita River, 50 miles southwest of Oklahoma City, had a flood four feet higher than the record of 1933. It swamped Fort Cobb and Anadarko window deep.

Property damage already is estimated at a million dollars. The flood crept around-dikes and poured, five feet of water into the power house. This not only knocked out electricity, but brought system to a halt.

The Carnegie-Fort Cobb area just a few miles upriver from Anadarko got a total of nine inches of rain—six inches in less than three hours. Carnegie, Mountain View and Gracemont were all partly under water from the Washita.

Residents at Whitefield, 70 miles southeast of Tulsa, were told to evacuate the river areas and remove their cattle.

Four twisters gave three towns near misses last night in Southwest Oklahoma. The worst tore up a hangar at the Hobart Municipal airport. The tornado missed Hobart itself by about four miles.

Police at Altus, south of Hobart, said they heard a man was missing after another tornado at Gould, population 400. There was no confirmation. Five buildings were smashed and crops damaged to the tune of $300,000. Altus both sides but destroyed only an empty rural school house at Victory, six miles west of Altus.

We must prove, beyond any shadow of doubt, that our form of government offers the individual greater opportunities than any other system of government in the world today.

Gains Net Program Set Up

The Southwestern Public Service Company today announced plans for the inauguration on June 5 of a station radio network to broadcast the company's new program, "Hymns of the World." The stations are located in the Texas Panhandle; New Mexico and Oklahoma, and the broadcast will be heard each Sunday at 12:45 p. m. "Hymns of the World" is an entirely new radio program featuring John Charles Thomas and the King's Men. The program has never been heard in this region, and it will be an exclusive presentation of the Southwestern Public Service Company.

The program will be originated in Amarillo and fed to the other stations on the network over lines provided by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. It is believed that this is the first time that a network of this type has been used by an advertiser in this area. Stations which will carry the new program are KPND, Pampa; and stations in Borger, Dalhart, Dalhart, Amarillo, Plainview, Littlefield, Clovis, Roswell, Artesia, Carlsbad, Guymon and Lubbock.

Senate Removes Ceiling on Old Age Pensions, Adds New Strings

AUSTIN — (AP) — Removal of the state ceiling on old age pensions financial responsibility for death, was approved yesterday by the Senate, but new strings were attached.

Amended to require that pensioners give the state a property lien as security for the welfare grants, the proposed Constitutional amendment was passed, 24-3.

The proposition was also amended to keep off the pension list any old age person who disposed of his or her property within two years before applying for aid.

Additionally, the Senate limited state payments to dependent children to an annual total of $3,000,000 the amount of the current appropriation. The ceiling on aid to needy blind was removed.

The measure was returned to the House for action on the Senate changes.

The House was scheduled to renew debate on a driver financial responsibility bill today. The proposal underwent strong attack yesterday afternoon from a minority of the members, who branded it as being insurance company-inspired.

Sponsoring the Senate-approved bill, Rep. J. K. Aynesworth told questioners that premiums on the $11,000 insurance which drivers could buy to show financial responsibility would be about $20 to $25 a year.

"Now you know that makes at least fifty million dollars the insurance companies will get a year on premiums alone," said Rep. John Crossin of Dallas. "How can you say that this isn't insurance company-inspired?"

Aynesworth insisted the bill was a safety measure which would

Atomic Energy Commission Is Seeking U-235

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission was looking for a missing quarter-ounce of uranium-235 today after reporting recovery of a larger amount from waste material at one of its laboratories.

In an announcement Tuesday night the commission took note of reports that a much greater quantity of the atomic-bomber material had disappeared.

It said all told about 1.05 ounces of the stuff — 22 grams — could not be accounted for.

lost February after a similar inventory at the Argonne National Laboratory in Chicago. The FBI was notified and an analysis of all laboratory waste was started.

"To date," the announcement said, "25 grams of the U-235 have been accounted for at Oak Ridge (Tenn.) through analysis of contents of containers of salvage material, machine turnings, chemical solutions and so forth sent there from Argonne Laboratory for recovery treatment."

"The remaining seven grams — less than 1-4 ounce — is not believed to have been stolen or lost as analysis of the waste is still continuing."

The earlier reports set the amount of missing U-235 as high as three quarters of a pound. That created quite a flurry, especially after the FBI confirmed that it had investigated a report of missing fissionable material from the Chicago laboratory.

'T was a Lulu of a Club Program When the City's Docs Performed

By HENRY S. GORDON
Pampa News Staff

Memo to the Ed.: Say, boss, this Rotary Club you have me assigned to comes up every once in a while, with a lulu of a program. Yesterday's was a honey.

"They had three doctors, one of 'em was an obster — obster — obster — oh well. He's one of them guys that brings babies. You know the kind."

Well, anyway, ol' Doc E. S. Williams is a pretty good guy and his talk was what you could call a "down memory lane" for most of them, but some good advice as to what you younger guys have to look forward to. He called his speech "What the Expectant Father Can Expect." And, huhlieve me — it seems he can't expect too much either, from what Doc says.

Doc warned us younger boys, and reminded the older ones, that the expectant father becomes the "forgotten man" and has no special privilege from the doctors because of his "condition" and then bears the brunt of a lot of jokes on what he will have to put up with. Doc said he knew there were lots of handbooks for the expectant mamas, but the only handbooks for future papas that he knew of were Joe Miller's joke books. "Paternity pains," the stork-helper said, are caused by papa's being left out in the corridor during delivery and not being able to help wife, baby, and many times himself. Doc reviewed some interesting customs practiced by the Chinese in the 13th Century. He said that after a woman had her baby, she would get up, and go back to the house, work while pop would crawl in bed with the baby and be waited on for forty days — to honor him. The Indians, in some British possessions have the custom of making pop go down to the creek and take a bath. Then when he comes out the other guys wrap him and slam his noggin with sticks. When he gets back to the shanty, he is then honored by the pals, who beat him half to death, and is waited on for the next ten days.

Oh, Doc had it down pat too. He told all about the stock questions pop asks when the baby is born and how he looks at his namesake for the first time, and his best advice to pop was to cooperate, during the waiting period, with mama.

Then Doc D. F. Bonner got up to speak. He is a specialist and is called a urologist. I didn't ask too many questions of him, chief, because I wasn't quite sure what that kind of "ology" is, although I have a good idea. I got a little smarter though when Doc Bonner started talking about the prostate gland. That is one thing us men got what the women ain't got, he said, and I guess we can complain about it when the women start complainin' about their "ailments."

"Doc said that trouble can start anytime in a man's life, but that it occurs mostly in men between 50 and 70. He gave a lot of the Rotarian guys a boost when he said that medicine knew lots more about the prostate gland trouble today than they did 20 to 25 years ago. He sure made me feel good about that one, boss."

Everybody liked both of the docs, chief, cause they spoke so we knew what they were talking about.

Dr. Bonner told us that 20 years ago at least 30 percent of the men who were operated on for prostate gland and kidney troubles died from the operations or disease. He said then that only three percent die of it today since the doctors know more about the disease and what is known as Bright's disease.

Prostate trouble can be brewing in a man's system for two or three years before he knows something isn't tiking the way it should.

Both the baby-fetcher and the urologist was introduced by Doc Bellamy who is a Rotarian. Doc Bellamy is a sharp himself, boss, and he made rather timely remarks on the subjects as he introduced both of them. Doc, you see, had charge of the program. When Doc got up to say his little piece it reminded all of us about the time Doc made a report on a meetin' that never happened.

I was sitting pretty far back and neither of them talked too awful loud, boss, so I didn't get too much of their speeches and so I told you all I heard of them. To make matters worse I was sitting beside Louie Allen — he's chief copper here — you know — and every time one of the speakers would use a big word Louie would ask me what it meant.

Well, boss I guess that's all of this week's Rotary meeting. Kin I go home now, huh?

Building Permits Below Year Ago

NEW YORK (AP)—Building permits in 215 cities in April made a seasonal rise in dollar volume but continued below the level of a year ago, Dun & Bradstreet reported.

The April total of $347,997,506 was a gain of 6.8 percent over March and fell 4.5 percent short of equalling the $364,428,311 for April, 1948.

Egg Surplus Is Threatening Farmers

CHICAGO (AP)—An egg surplus threatens farmers next year, the Department of Agriculture said.

Charles Hawks, Midwest representative of the department's poultry branch, urged farmers and hatcherymen to stop flock replacement by mid-June.

"There is every indication," he said, "that chick output, aside from that used in broiler production, will be sufficient by mid-June to supply the goal of 700,000,000 chickens to be raised on farms this year."

Pampan Speaks At Waco Banquet

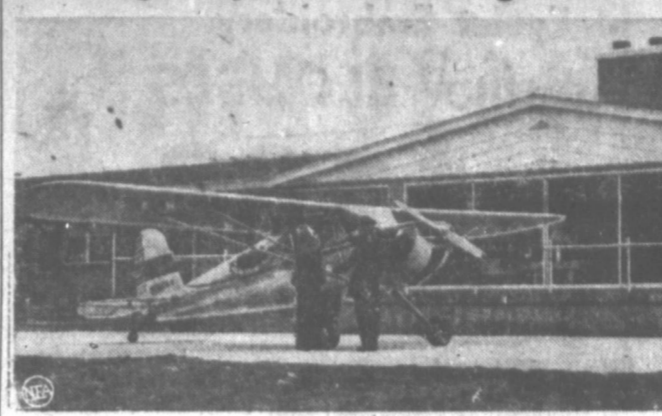

H. N. (Buddy) Anderson, student at Baylor University and son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Anderson, 1228 Garland, addressed the Waco High School Journalism Department last night at an annual banquet meeting.

A Senior in the Baylor College of Journalism, Anderson will graduate in June. He will spend this weekend visiting his parents and his wife and two-year-old son, James Craig, before he returns to Baylor University to receive his diploma.

Anderson will serve as master of ceremonies today at the Baylor men's annual picnic.

Air-Age Motel Has Everything But Sky-Hops for Touring Planes

CONCORDIA, Kans. —(NEA) — When Charles Blosser says to drop in at his new motel, he isn't fooling.

"You can come in from any direction — north, south, east and west, or even up. In the latter case, however, be sure your wheels are down. You're expected to taxi the last few hundred yards."

The motel is next door to the airport that serves this town of 6,000, and is probably one of the first ever built to cater to the air age as well as the more conventional travelers who roar along U. S. Highway 81 in automobiles.

"We built it," says Blosser, who's the manager, "with the idea of catering to air travelers and motorists. That's why it's an easy 200-yard taxi distance from the airport to the concrete parking slab."

After taxiing that short distance, a pilot can tie down his plane next to a land-bound sedan, have dinner, or spend the night without having to go into town. The $200,000 motel has 34 units joined together like a ranch-style building between the airfield and the highway. It provides nearly everything but curb service for touring plane owners.

The air age, apparently, will have to wait a while for "sky-hops" to go along with its new drive-in.

We have one weapon more powerful than all the atomic bombs, the guided missiles, the battleships, the airplanes and the tanks. It is the spirit of freedom. —Secretary of Defense Louis A. Johnson.

Newspaperman Writes of His Own Impending Death

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — (AP) — A veteran newspaperman today awaited death from cancer after writing of his impending death in his daily column with the hope that it "brings a measure of comfort to others who are hopelessly ill."

Forrest Warren, 71, started his column Tuesday in the San Diego Daily Journal with these words: "I have cancer and I am going to die of it — but I am not afraid."

"I am glad he (the doctor) told me," Warren wrote. "I think all cancer sufferers should be told. It is not pleasant news —

Louisiana Bonds, Captured In 1865, Still in Red Tape

BONDS—Maj. Stephen J. Nesbitt examines one of the packages of Louisiana bonds which have been an Army headache for 84 years. While they stay in the vault, he wishes he'd stayed in Korea.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — In a telegram dated July 13, 1865, Gen. U.S. Grant promised Gen. P. H. Sheridan that a "future decision" would be made on what to do with $4,500,000 worth of bonds which Sheridan had captured in Louisiana the day before. Grant ordered Sheridan to send them to Washington.

It now appears up to the new Secretary of Defense, Louis Johnson, to make the "future decision" for Gen. Grant. The Army has been working diligently on the decision for 84 years.

A study of the records in the National Archives reveals that the matter got fairly expeditious handling through 1912. On Nov. 9, 1865, the War Department officially turned the nine boxes which contained the securities over to the Treasury for safe keeping.

On April 17, 1866, U. S. Attorney General James Speed gave Secretary of the Treasury Hugh McCulloch a formal opinion saying that it was perfectly legal to give the bonds back to Louisiana. In accordance with that, on May 15, 1866, about $2,500,000 worth were returned. June 21, 1866, about $1,500,000 more were returned. Aug. 30, 1864, $21,000 were given back, leaving $545,480 worth which are still in the U. S. Treasury.

That chronology only hits the high spots of the decisive steps. It took innumerable memos, writs, appeals, nasty letters, conferences and telegrams among several Presidents of the United States, Louisiana governors, congressmen, Secretaries of War, Secretaries of Treasury and Attorneys General to get that much done.

Nowhere do the records give a full explanation as to why the bonds were returned piecemeal. It is hinted in several places that the whole matter was comlicated by the fact that the securities were in nine boxes instead of one.

After the last delivery in 1884, Louisiana state officials fought valiantly, but in vain, to get the last batch handed over to them. On May 10, 1912, they got a bill introduced in Congress which would have forced the War Department to return them, but the measure never came up for a vote.

Then, for many years, they contented themselves with periodic form letters to the effect that the State's audits showed a $545,480 shortage and would the War Department please do something about it. And the War Department would reply that the matter was under study.

But lately the problem erupted again on two fronts. The Treasury Department sent a curt note to the Secretary of the Army on Oct. 27, 1948, reminding him that the captured Louisiana bonds were taking up valuable space in the crowded Treasury vaults and would he please look into the matter. And on Jan. 27, 1949, Laonel G. Ott, Commissioner of Public Finance, New Orleans, wrote to the Treasury Department serving notice that he was going all-out to get permission of the bonds and demanding to know just how he should go about the job.

At this point, Maj. Stephen J. Nesbitt, just returned from Korea and assigned to the Army's finance office for duty, was thrust into the matter and told to try to settle it. He is now in the process of carrying on an extensive exchange of letters with Ott and the Treasury Department, with no significant step yet accomplished.

In his last letter to Ott, April 6, 1949, he hopefully suggested that the matter might be one for Congress to decide.

At the moment, the case is

Brannan Estimates Cost of Wheat Plan at 84 Millions

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Brannan told senators today the first-year cost of the international wheat agreement will run about 84 million dollars.

This would be the price for helping American farmers find a steady foreign market for surplus wheat, he explained, adding: "With or without a wheat agreement the United States must either export sizeable quantities of wheat or cut its wheat acreage far below the level of any period in recent years."

Brannan testified before a Senate foreign relations subcommittee studying the proposed plan of 41 nations to buy and sell wheat during the next four years within a fixed price range.

But Brannan said the 84 million dollars subsidies — which would be paid American farmers above the agreement price — would be less than the cost of not having the program.

"The reason is," he said, "that without the foreign market, which this agreement helps us maintain, the cost of an acreage allotment program necessary to cut U. S. production would be greater than the subsidies expected under this wheat agreement."

The reason for the subsidies, he explained, is that the government's price support system will keep domestic wheat prices above the world market price.

"Thus, if a farmer should sell his wheat abroad, the government would pay the difference between the price fixed by the agreement and the domestic support price."

Under this compact, 41 nations would agree to buy and sell among themselves 456,282,389 bushels of wheat each crop year. The maximum price would be $1.50 a bushel. The minimum would slide from $1.50 the first year to $1.20 the fourth year. The United States would agree to sell 163,969,635 bushels each crop year until 1957. The agreement must be approved by July 1 to be effective.

Even before Brannan began testifying, the plan met opposition from Senator Jenner (R-Ind.). Jenner told a reporter that the wheat agreement may cost the United States 225 million dollars if it is approved.

Jenner said the compact contains an "escape clause" by which buyer nations could refuse all deliveries if they do not have the dollars with which to pay. "As I see it," he added, "the importing countries would take American wheat only so long as muchrooming to its pre-1912 status. Sen. Allen Ellender from Louisiana is preparing to take action on it. The treasury has reaffirmed its stand to get the two packages containing the bonds out of its vaults for good and all-time. The Department of National Defense promises a full investigation of the whole thing. Ott is more than ever determined to get the bonds. And Maj. Nesbitt wishes he'd stayed in Korea.

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. — (NEA) — Detective William Fox of the 34th Precinct, New York City Police Department, is here to help solve a mystery.

He expects to work for one year on the case. But, at the end, he will take no prisoner back. Instead, he hopes to turn over to the U. S. Department of Interior's Bureau of Mines the solution of a problem that is of tremendous importance to the nation in its production of crude oil.

Detective William Fox is also Dr. William Fox, the only Doctor of Philosophy among New York's 18,000 police. He earned the Ph.D. degree in surface chemistry from Columbia University in 1944.

Now, at the request of the Bureau of Mines, Detective (or Dr.) Fox has been granted a year's leave of absence to conduct research which, it is hoped, will result in production of from 25 to 50 percent more of the crude oil now in the earth.

A science teacher in a New Haven, Conn., high school first stirred Fox's interest in chemistry. After his family moved to New York, he entered City College. To help pay expenses he worked nights in a bakery.

Science continued to be his chief interest. At 21, he was graduated from City College with a Bachelor of Science degree, in 1935. Then he went to work as a chemist and began graduate work in chemistry at Columbia. There he came to the attention of Prof. Arthur W. Thomas, head of the Chemistry Department. Thomas saw in him a potential scientist of importance. At his suggestion, Fox set his sights on a master's degree in chemistry. But expenses had to be paid. In 1935, Bill Fox earned a place in the spectacular swimming cast of Billy Rose's Aquacade at the New York World's Fair.

After the fair closed, he taught science in two New York City high schools. Then, in 1940, Fox joined the police force as a patrolman.

He covered a beat from midnight to 8 a.m. During the day he went to Columbia for his graduate courses in chemistry. In 1942, he received his A.M. degree and, in 1944, his Ph.D.

He was promoted to detective in 1945 and assigned to the police chemical research laboratory. Later, because he wanted a more rounded experience in police work, he was transferred to the 34th Precinct in New York's busy Washington Heights.

He continued his close association with Prof. Thomas at Columbia, and with his studies in surface chemistry which have made him one of the authorities in that field. His doctoral dissertation was entitled: "Equilibrium Relationships Between Fluid Interfaces; the System of Methylene Iodide-Water-Air." He has taken an occasional day off to deliver reports before scientific societies in various eastern cities.

He came here at the request of the Petroleum Experiment Station. They are trying to learn more about the forces operative in petroleum reservoirs that prevent from 25 to 50 percent of the crude oil in the earth from being produced, even by the most modern engineering methods.

But he's still one of New York's Finest, and he expects to be back.

"Because," he explains, "the work of being a policeman today is a great job, too. Today's policeman recognizes the social implications of his work and the fact that he has a social responsibility to the community. He is there to help and to protect, not just to punish."

"He studies people and he learns a great deal about them. It is true, perhaps, that you find something of a curiosity on the force, with my Ph.D. in chemistry. But I believe that every policeman of five years' experience has learned enough about people their habits, their thinking, the working of their minds, to qualify for a Ph.D. in psychology."

If Congress and the President are now unable to put through an honest, widespread and effective reorganization, they and the taxpayer might as well surrender unconditionally. If the bureaucrats win again we might as well concede that we are through.

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts

CLAUDIA didn't have to waste much breath telling me how she and Mickey—he was a pilot in a bomber group—had been transferred here and could find only an unheated tourist cabin to live in, without modern plumbing.

I gallumphed upstairs top speed to show her the guest room which still contained my double bed but which I was now glad—nay, eager—to give up to her and Mickey. Breathless, I promised them all the clean linen they wanted, the use of the whole house, my white satin, lace monogrammed blanket cover, a bedside radio, $5000, and the drugstore—if they'd just move in and stay.

Mickey came that evening to look us over. He was as freckled as Claudia was fair, as gangling as she was svelte, as faded and wiry haired as she was silky and glowing, and as quiet and unresponsive as she was ebullient.

"Not a bad go-down," he said to Claudia. Directing her attention to me with a loss of his unruly hair, he added, "Fix it up."

As I set the dining-room table for dinner the next evening, I heard hands squeaking on the banister as Bill's used to do when he gripped it hard on an unwilling ascent to bed. Looking out, I saw Mickey moving slowly down and toward the front door on his way out with Claudia to have dinner. "That boy didn't want to go out to eat," I told Roger and Rob as I served them.

"That's his tough luck," Roger said.

Roger or no Roger, next morning I told Claudia that we were not going to be home for dinner that night and that she could get in lamb chops, new potatoes, and frozen peas—or whatever she liked, for that matter—and prepare dinner for Mickey in my kitchen if she wished. She wished. And to my astonishment, she invited Robbie and me to have dinner with her and Mickey in our house the following night: they had a gift of a frozen roast of venison and they'd like to share it with us.

Leaning on my elbows, full of good food, I remarked, "You children like home life, don't you?"

"Oh, yes," Claudia gurgled. "We love it."

"It's too bad we're so much older or we might run a community kitchen," I said.

"You're not much older," Mickey hed stoutly. "Anyone'd take you for my sister."

"And we wish you would let us live here with you," Claudia added beseechingly.

ROGER was out; we could talk freely. We arranged to take turns doing the housekeeping: Claudia had got dinner that night; tomorrow I would. We'd halve the bills at the end of the month, and either side could have company on its night to cook. We worked this arrangement for the 18 months the children lived with us, and though Claudia was a better cook than I, she continually flattered me by taking down notes on my recipes. Of course, we dropped our soiled clothes down the same chute, washed them in the same tubs and ironed them up on the same mangle. Claudia belonged to our denomination and we attended church together.

Roger was the livid one. For a few days after our new arrangement went into effect, he came hopefully home in time for dinner just as usual; but gradually, unable to fit into the family circle, and possibly a little in awe of Mickey—it was difficult for a captain in Headquarters Company to tellingly lord it over a man who had flown the shuttle in Europe and was now headed for the South Pacific—he stopped coming to the table.

ROGER grumbled that it seemed damn queer to him that first we had Betty and Dick and their baby (still had) in the basement; then the Capners and the two boys upstairs. What was the matter with his family? Mary and the boys were so homeless as wandering Jews, just visiting one parent and then the other, and Mary was getting pretty darn tired of it. I almost had to pinch myself to remind myself I wasn't cheating him.

Eventually Colonel Hartwicks solved the problem for us. Thinking so many GI's attached to bases in this country didn't appreciate what war was about or like, he ordered all men under his command at Gore Field to move into barracks and observe front-line discipline.

Claudia and Mickey had been living with us for some months when a Big Event occurred. It wasn't the little girl they expected, but a little boy and her name was Mike.

It has never failed to impress me that the toughest-looking men so often have the tenderest hearts. Mickey took his turn getting up nights with Mike, just the same as Claudia did. "You have to wait on him all day," he explained. One evening when they wheeled him out in his carriage, Claudia told me they agreed Mickey should push going and she returning, but when it came round to her turn, he wouldn't get to wheel him.

"I almost never get to wheel him," Mickey complained, and clung tightly to the carriage handle. Holding Mike like a monkey cuddling its young, the red whiskers of his bare chest looking apple-beyond the smooth white skin of the baby, Mickey would tuck the child's head under his chin and rub gently to and fro over it. "Isn't hair," he would say, referring to the fuzz appearing on Mike's scalp. "It's silk." Hugging the baby to him, he would wink at whoever was looking and say, "Awful loose and no more personality than an oyster, but I like him."

ed for most of the state through tomorrow.

Fort Worth citizens were moving back into their water-ravaged homes after a flash flood held the city in a paralyzing grip for 24 hours.

The raging Trinity left a toll of nine lives and damage estimated at $5,000,000 at Fort Worth. But it lost its punch when it roared toward Dallas. The river reached a 48-foot crest then subsided rapidly last night.

Yesterday a tornado struck the little Texas Panhandle town of Kelleville, damaging homes, oil field equipment and utility lines and ripping up trees. It was the only damaging twister in a series that flitted around the Panhandle during the afternoon.

No one was killed and there were no injuries in the village of 80 population.

Rain and hail hit the North Plains towns of Panhandle, Borger, Gruver, Claude, Sismet, Miami, Conway and the rail siding of St. Francis, while in West Texas' ranch and cattle country Crane was in the path of a storm that blew down shacks and damaged roofs.

While there was no major damage from flood waters in Dallas proper with its 60-foot levees, the area downstream where there are farmlands and some residences expected serious flooding for a couple of days. This area has only private levees.

Three more bodies were discovered at Fort Worth yesterday to bring the flood toll to nine. Thirty were counted injured and 13,000 homeless.

Meanwhile Amarillo's death toll in a tornado that hit the Panhandle city over the weekend rose to six as Mrs. A. R. Fango of Paris, Tex., died in a hospital.

The death toll for Southwestern storms in the last four days now rests at 18 with more than 180 injured. More than half of those were hurt at Amarillo. Oklahoma had one dead and 38 injured in twisters.

The three additional bodies found at Fort Worth were those of John D. Fawks, 84; Mrs. Frances Moore, 39, and Frank Willis Guy, negro, 28.

The city asked drug stores and food stores in the flooded areas recently passed Senate Bill No. 75 authorizing the State Highway Department to issue a non-resident owner a 60-day temporary registration for any truck, tractor, trailer or semi-trailer to be used in harvesting and marketing wheat produced in Texas.

The bill provides that a temporary registration may be issued for the movements of such grains from the place of production to market, storage or rail head.

The temporary registration licenses are issued by county tax collectors and the fee will be one-sixth of the annual registration fee for the vehicle. No application with this type registration.

These licenses are issued only to non-residents of Texas and only when the vehicle is legally registered in the non-resident owner's home state.

RED LEAVES RUSSIA

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — (AP) — Stockholm newspapers said today a Russian Army pilot crash-landed his fighter plane onto Swedish soil last night, and said that he had fled his country because he was "tired of the Soviet Union."

Rescue Crew to Divide $44,000

SAN MARINO, Calif. — (AP) — The men who dug for little Kathy Fiscus will get from $200 to $1,500 for their heroism. And the money will be theirs to do with what they wish.

Those points stood out today after a meeting of some 40 of these rescuers to air a few gripes and discuss publicly-subscribed funds of nearly $44,000 which is awaiting distribution.

The fund committee announced yesterday that 11 men had been named to share the pennies and dollars sent in by a grateful nation. The world waited through two agonizing days and nights last month before three-year-old Kathy was brought up dead from a 120 foot abandoned well into which she had fallen while at

Boulevard Fine Says Air Pilot

DALLAS — (AP) — "Fine project, Central Boulevard," said Clyde Peabody, casting a loving glance at Dallas' unfinished super-roadway.

That was just after the burly, 25-year-old flier last night became the first man to land a plane on the boulevard.

"And may he be the last!" said C. K. Housewright, one of the police who hustled out to question Peabody on his choice of landing fields.

Peabody and a passenger, Mrs. Joyce Peabody, had taken off from White Rock Airport in a rented plane. Then ran out of gas quickly.

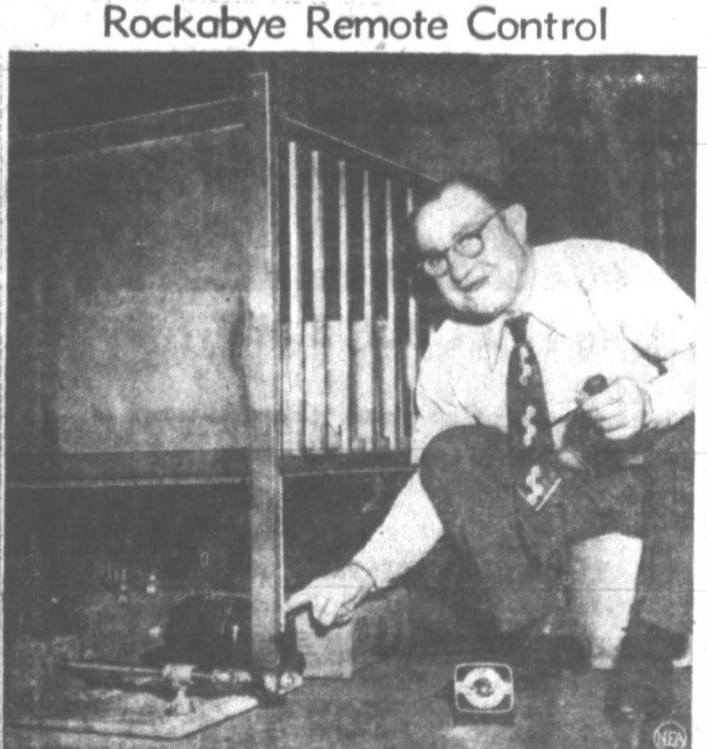

"The gauge indicated the gas tank was full," Peabody said. "That gauge must have been stuck."

The boulevard was the most open spot he could see. He cleared a viaduct by a few feet, slipped over a series of roadblocks by inches. The plane settled down for a smooth landing.

There's No Place Like Home—In a Jail

This, in case you don't recognize it, is a cell in the county jail, Cleveland, O. Its occupant is George Stewart, 39, doing a year as an habitual offender on disorderly conduct charges. The sheriff allowed Stewart, an artist, to decorate his cell as he pleased. So Stewart obtained materials from friends, draped the bars and bed, constructed knock-knock shelves, plastered the walls with photos—and this is the result. In the picture, deputy Joe Uccello grins as he examines a cardboard telephone which Stewart made.

Dr. Sydney Norton Baruch, inventor of a depth bomb used successfully against submarines in both World Wars, displays his newest creation in his New York laboratory. His "night nurse" mechanical crib, powered by a one-tenth of a horsepower motor, swings the cradle like a mother rocking her child in her arms, while playing a lullaby recording of the mother's own voice. An Air Force consultant engineer, Baruch says his gadget will sell for about $50 when it goes into production.

Inebriated Boat Driver Arrested

DALLAS — (AP) — An inebriated motorboat driver taunted Patrolman J. N. Hansen.

The man was running the boat up and down a flooded street. Once the wake of the speeding craft sloshed into a grocery store and knocked some merchandise off the shelves.

Hansen yelled at the driver to pull over to the bank.

"Ha! Ha! Why don't you come and get me?" the man taunted. Then he churned his boat up the street and back again. But just as he came back opposite the policeman his motor conked out. Hansen waded out to the man.

"He didn't come out of there high and dry, either," said the policeman. "I made him get out of the boat and wade out just like I came in."

The motorboat speedster was jailed for disturbing the peace.

Hughes Controls KVAI Ownership

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Control of Radio Station KVAI, Amarillo passed into the hands of R. G. "Dick" Hughes, Pampa building contractor and owner of Radio Station KHUZ, Borger, records of the Federal Communications Commission revealed yesterday.

The FCC approved transfer of 55.4 percent of the station's stock for a consideration of $30,000. The record showed the transfer was made from Lonnie J. Preston, Alice Howenstine, and V. M. Preston to Hughes. The company is known as the Plains Empire Broadcasting Co., Amarillo.

Hank Behrman's poor start with the Giants is reminiscent of his 1947 failure with the Pirates. As a result, Pittsburgh returned him to Brooklyn.

FRUIT SHIPMENTS

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Holmes (R-Wash.) asked a House Deficiency Appropriations Subcommittee today to include fresh fruit from the Pacific Northwest in the economic recovery shipments to Europe.

The Eastern Intercollegiate League Golf championship will be held at Annapolis, Md., on May 14.

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Twenty-three of the 34 synods of the Evangelical and Reformed Church have approved union with the Congregational Christian Church, Secretary William E. Lampe announced today.

Approval of two-thirds of the synods was necessary to merge the two church bodies.

East and West Prepare for New Struggle

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Analyst

Under cover of the "peace" brought about by the lifting of the Berlin blockades, the Western Allies and Russia are preparing intensively for resumption of the biggest battle of the cold war — the struggle for control of Germany.

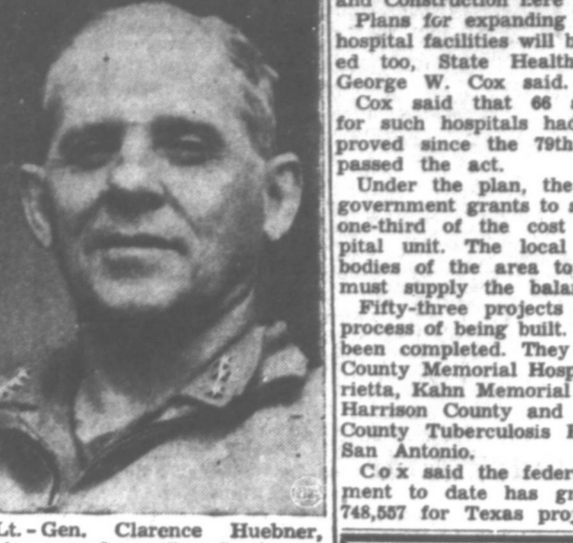

The conflict will be joined again next Monday in Paris with resumption of the big four Foreign Ministers' Council.

Fugitives Give Police Chase

ABILENE (AP) — Two youthful fugitives evaded Abilene police in a spectacular car chase early Wednesday, then abandoned a stolen car and escaped on foot.

A statewide search was instituted for the pair, believed to be the same youths who escaped from an eastbound Texas and Pacific Railway train at the Sweetwater station about midnight.

The automobile the pair abandoned here was stolen from Melvin C. Hickey of Sweetwater early that morning. Another car was discovered stolen here near where the Hickey machine was abandoned.

Some Would Shelve Labor Legislation

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Some House members are waging a campaign — against bitter administration opposition — to put all labor legislation on a shelf and perhaps leave it there for the rest of this year.

Chairman Lesinski (D - Mich) disclosed that several members of the House Labor Committee want at least until after the Senate to drop the troublesome subject acts, and possible for the rest of the current session of Congress.

But Lesinski and other committee Democrats declared they have flatly opposed to postponing a new attempt to repeal the Taft-Hartley Law any longer than they have to.

Earthworms drag leaves deep into their burrows, thus enriching the soil.

On the Job

Mixing some more paint for his job on the Summer White House in Independence, Mo., John Moler, 67-year-old non-union painter, is undisturbed by a letter sent President Truman by the AFL Painters Council in Kansas City, Mo. The painters want Moler taken off the job and a union man hired.

Automatic Transmission Hot Subject

DETROIT — (AP) — Automatic or semi-automatic transmissions still are among the hottest subjects in the auto industry.

A compilation by Automotive News show more than 2,000,000 cars now are equipped with these devices. That isn't a very high percentage out of a total of around 34,000,000 vehicles now in use, but more are coming — and fast.

There is better than an even chance, too, that by this year's end several more companies will adapt General Motors' Hydra-Matic transmission to their cars. It already has been disclosed that Ford's Lincoln-Mercury Division plans to offer Hydra-Matic as optional equipment.

Rumor has it, also, that at least two other auto makers may announce its availability this year. Undoubtedly they can obtain it more reasonably than they could tool up for its production on their own account.

There isn't anything unusual about General Motors' offering its Hydra-Matic transmission to other automobile companies that do not buy some equipment from GM.

Generally the motorcar makers do not want to talk, too far in advance, of their plans for introducing automatic transmissions or other mechanical advances. The fear it might affect present sales. Right now retail sales are booming for just about every car builder.

However, any motorist waiting for an automatic transmission before buying a new car isn't going to save money. The device is available only at extra cost.

Krug Planning Tidelands Survey

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Interior Secretary Krug is planning an aerial survey of tidelands drilling operations in the Gulf of Mexico.

One of Krug's aids said yesterday Krug will look over the tidelands oil operations while in Southeast Texas for an address at Houston, on May 28. Krug will address a soil conservation dinner at Houston.

Krug is a leader in the federal government's fight to take over the oil-rich tideland from Texas and other states.

Saucier Trial Opening Today

WICHITA FALLS — (AP) — Testimony was to begin here today in the trial of T. C. Saucier, former attendant at the Wichita Falls state hospital. The trial is being held in the 30th District Court.

Saucier is under indictment for murder with malice. He is charged with "stomping, beating and kicking" to death Thomas Houston Gibbons of Sulphur Springs. The state asks the death penalty.

Gibbons, 47, was pronounced dead shortly after he was taken to the hospital by Sheriff Ebb Wheeler of Hopkins County last March 4.

The defense gained separate trials for Saucier, 33, and David Beck, 40, another former attend-

Black Serpent Is Brought to Earth

PALESTINE — (AP) — A "flying black serpent" was brought to earth here Wednesday.

It was a 30-foot-long piece of tarpaper roofing. Jagged holes indicated it had been jerked loose by one of Texas' recent tornadoes.

Some thought it was a flying black serpent as it flapped thousands of feet in the air. Omer Hazel, who brought it into Palestine, said he thought it was a falling airplane.

Hazel said it made a strange "rustling sound" as it landed.

Housewife Wins Prize on Radio

GLENDALE, Calif. — (AP) — For just blurting out "cash on delivery," a Glendale housewife won $26,000 worth of radio prizes.

Mrs. Marie Spangler, 25, won the jackpot Tuesday night on a national radio show by correctly identifying a secret saying.

"I must have changed my mind a dozen times about what the winning secret saying would be," she said. "But when the master of ceremonies called from New York, I just blurted it out."

A technical draw ended a Los Angeles fight between lightweights Maxie Docusen of New Orleans and Keith Nuttall of Brigham, Utah. They bumped heads in the first round, ending the battle.

Stubborn Young Grocery Clerk Wants to Write Nation's Songs

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — Alexander Anagnos is a stubborn young grocery clerk who wants to write the nation's songs. This is all right with Tin Pan Alley — so long as it doesn't have to share any of the responsibility. Unlike most of America's seven million amateur songwriters, Alex doesn't rebut easily. He's in the midst of a one-man guerrilla campaign against the entire music industry. "On my days off I carry a sandwich board along Broadway advertising my songs," he said. Alex is the son of a Greek who came to this country 43 years ago and opened a grocery store in Greenwich Village. It is a friendly store. If a customer has mice in his home, the store will lend him a cat to catch them. Alex had always dreamed of being a songwriter. When he got out of the Army after the war, he decided to give it a try. He went to one Tin Pan Alley publisher and told him he had written a song about the "new look."

He announced he had written a song about Bobo and Winthrop Rockefeller called "Cinderella Wears the Shoe." "Oh, you did" snapped the hard heart. "Well, keep it quiet." It was then that Alex declared war. He formed his own song publishing company and his own record firm. The major opus he is pushing at present is called "An Onion and You." It is a tuneful little ditty about a housewife phoning her husband to bring home an onion. He hired a band and a vocalist to record the song. Then he persuaded half a dozen neighborhood gimmicks to put the record in their jukeboxes. He also employed a man named Frank to carry a sandwich board plugging "An Onion and You" along Tin Pan Alley. The big trouble with his distribution system is that so far the only place people can buy his song is at his father's grocery store. He has a tie-in deal with his dad. Customers who buy a 50-cent record get a big onion free. If they buy a pound of onions, they get a sheet music copy for nothing.

Bond of $15,000 Set for Prince

DALLAS — (AP) — Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson Wednesday set appeal bond at $15,000 for Ollie Otto Prince, Corsicana car dealer and cattleman under 10-year sentence on charges of robbing the First State Bank at Rice last August. The Federal Appellate Court at New Orleans may rule on the case in the next few weeks. Prince, in the Dallas County Jail since his conviction March 2, also is charged with robberies of banks at Malone and Mount Calm. He is under a $12,500 bond in the Mount Calm case and $10,000 in the Malone case. Howard Dailey, Prince's attorney, said he believes Prince would be able to post the bonds and obtain his release within a day or two.

The Phillies expect big things of Del Ennis this season, now that he follows Eddie Waitkus and precedes Bill Nicholson in the batting order.

Blue Hose Keep Gold Sox Down

ABILENE — (AP) — The Abilene Blue Sox successfully defended third place in the West Texas-New Mexico League last night by turning back their challenger, the Amarillo Gold Sox, 9-3 in a series opener. A three-run homer by George Sturdivant in the first inning — set off the jet propulsion which saw Abilene add two more in the second on five singles. A double play broke up a possible riot of runs.

Pioneers Hand Hubbers Victory

LUBBOCK — (AP) — Clovis brought its silver platter along from New Mexico here last night and the Lubbock Hubbers were not adverse to taking advantage of nine Pioneer errors to score six unearned runs and win an 8 to 6 victory. Chris Haskins, making his first start of the year for the Hubbers, had enough to stagger the Pioneer bats, but he was touched for 11 safeties. Haskins had one bad inning, the sixth. In that frame, four hits, walk and two errors scored four runs for the visitors.

Dodgers Club Cubs

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers staged their greatest hitting show of the season yesterday, clubbing three Chicago pitchers for 20 hits to overwhelm the Cubs, 14-5. Roy Campanella and Duke Snider clouted homers for the Dodgers and Gene Mauch and Cliff Maddern hit round trippers for the Cubs. Joe Hatten went all the way to register his third victory of the season.

Dukes Clip Lobos In Tight Game

LAMESA — (AP) — Babe Fuhrman singled with two away in the eighth inning to score Cliff McClain from second base with the run that gave the Albuquerque Dukes a 3 to 2 victory over the Lamesa Lobos here last night. McClain led off the eighth with a single to center and went to second when Dan Pinto fumbled the ball. Ray Maul and Raimondi led, but Fuhrman singled to apply to end a pitcher's battle between Nino Barnise and a pair of Lobo hurlers, lefty Bill Jones and Leon Hayes.

Major League Rosters Pared Down to Limit; Keller Leaves

NEW YORK — Major league club rosters took on a permanent look today after some last minute scrambling to meet a midnight deadline on the 25-man limit. The veteran Charlie Keller of the New York Yankees topped a list of 15 players who were sent down to the minor leagues in the final hours last night. Two others were placed on inactive lists and a third was given his outright release. Eight of the 16 teams had reached the limit before the final day, which comes annually one month after the season opens. Keller, who had been a regular outfielder with the Yankees from 1933 until he suffered a spine injury in 1947, was sent to Newark. Philadelphia sent pitcher Jimmie Oulaw to Buffalo and sold outfielder Don Lund conditionally to Toledo. To help meet shortages of fats and oils, Britain is operating a huge project for growing oil-rich peanuts in East Africa.

Human Threats Don't Hurt Any

Mr. Truman is the first President since Warren G. Harding to preside over the White House. And no President since Harding has been more familiar with the operations and traditions of that legislative body. Yet sometimes seems that this familiarity breeds, if not contempt, at least a disregard for the public sensitivity of the lawmakers...

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Government subsidies paid to the states of up to $300 million a year. The new Brannan farm plan is under consideration. It will cost unknown millions of dollars. In the office is a federal health plan of uncertain specifications and size. Before any of these things goes through in final form, it is important to know what federal subsidy programs have been in the past and where they are today...

Defense Lawyers Many Times Annoy Judges

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Two federal judges are leaning over backwards to keep Communist lawyers out of court. One, Harold R. Medina, is presiding at the trial of 11 Communist leaders in New York. The other, Albert L. Reeves, has the trial of Miss Judith Coplon here.

IN HOLLYWOOD

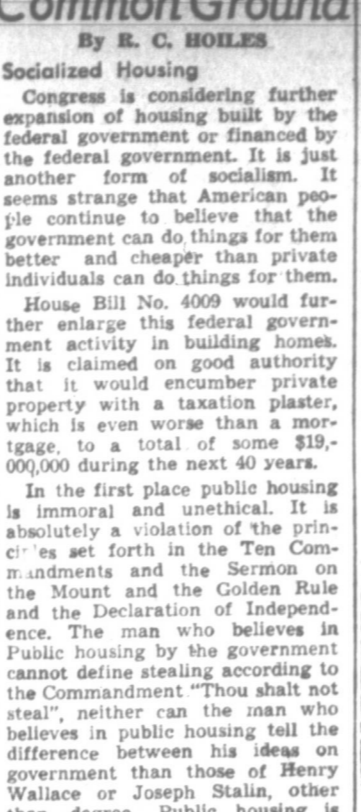

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — There are two things I almost always do in Hollywood — go to Lana Turner's weddings and interview boy millionaires who come to town to become movie producers. The former has been interesting at times. Up to now, the latter has been discouraging. The boy millionaires were all the same young fellows who inherited fortunes and invaded Hollywood between polo matches to impress a lot of dolls with an office door marked "Movie Producer"...

Common Ground

Common Ground Socialized Housing Congress is considering further expansion of housing built by the federal government or financed by the federal government. It is just another form of socialism. It seems strange that American people continue to believe that the government can do things for them better and cheaper than private individuals can do things for them. House Bill No. 4009 would further enlarge this federal government activity in building homes...

Strike Halts Bus Lines

BEAUMONT — (AP) — Bus drivers and mechanics went on strike today in Beaumont and nearby Port Arthur.

The walkout of 150 drivers and mechanics began at midnight after prolonged union-management talks became hopelessly deadlocked.

It was the second city bus strike here in four years. The last strike—in 1946—lasted ten days.

Mayor Otho Plummer, in an early-morning radio appeal, asked all citizens to share rides and re-establish the war-time car pools.

The strike left this Gulf city of 125,000, and the 60,000 people of Port Arthur 19 miles to the southeast, heavily dependent on taxicabs.

A 2 a.m. meeting of union members brought no further suggestions for settlement of the dispute over wages and working conditions. A. F. Steele, international vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees, said he anticipated no more talks with the company for at least "several days."

Negotiations between the union and National City Lines, Inc., were broken off at 6 p. m. last night. The union contract had expired April 30 but had been extended, by agreement, to May 15.

The union asked a wage increase of 25 cents an hour. Drivers

Early Curfew Arouses Fear In Shanghai

SHANGHAI — (AP) — With guns booming in the distance, Shanghai entered another night of siege with ominous indications everywhere.

Encircling Communists were pushing their attack on the Pootung sector along the lower reaches of the Whangpoo River. But it was a movement of government troops into the city from the quiet southwest defense area and a one hour earlier curfew (9 p.m.) that had everybody uneasy.

At the time the Nationalists seemed to be holding their own against the compressing Red arc. But the vacating of defense areas, notably Hung Jao Road, was baffling.

It could mean the Nationalists, holding the advantage of interior lines, merely were shifting their strength to more vulnerable spots. But the earlier curfew and sundry other reports, including one that the Bund may be closed to traffic, put an aspect to the picture that did not jibe with reported Nationalist victories lately.

Langhwa airfield, sure to be one of the first targets of any determined Communist drive, could hear the noise of battle at twilight. The control tower said it sounded like mortar fire about five miles away.

The airplanes of battle at twilight. The control tower said it sounded like mortar fire about five miles away.

The airplanes of Chinese big-wings were said to be warmed up.

The latest garrison communique described Nationalist successes in beating off Red attacks on the Pootung back door front six to eight miles down the river from midtown.

The Reds were reported trying to collect themselves around Lushang and Yangshang for another jab at the Woosung fortress.

The Chinese naval commander, Adm. Kwei Yung-chin, from his flagship off Woosung reiterated his determination to defend greater Shanghai in conjunction with the airforce and infantry to the last.

Lucas Seeks Rule Change

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Democratic Lucas of Illinois said today he will ask the Senate to change its rules "so that no important presidential nomination can be bottled up by a committee."

"I don't think that was intended by the Constitution when it gave the Senate the duty and right to advise and consent on presidential appointments," Lucas told a reporter.

The Senate was the scene of a blistering exchange late yesterday between Lucas and Senator Byrd over the treatment given President Truman's nomination of Mon C. Wallgren, former senator and Governor of the state of Washington, to a key defense post.

Byrd voted with six Republicans to table the Wallgren nomination in the Senate Armed Services Committee. The President finally withdrew the nomination Tuesday.

It was an attempt by Byrd to explain his personal reasons for his committee vote that touched off the exchange.

Referring to Wallgren's lengthy testimony before the armed services group, Byrd shouted "I have never seen such a poor witness, such an incompetent witness" and one who was "in such complete ignorance of his duties in the position for which he was appointed."

Lucas shouted back that regardless of what the committee thought of a presidential appointment it should at least report the nomination adversely, to give the Senate a chance to vote.

By TED KESTING

A human weasel is a shifty, slinking, chinless weaking who takes by unlawful craftiness what he cannot gain by intelligence, pluck, hard work and personal integrity. All of this describes not the real weasel, but his complete antithesis.

There is nothing shifty about the weasel. He is as direct as a bullet. Yet you never hear anyone speak a kind word in his behalf. This small carnivore is always pictured as a vile satanic killer, sly, sneaky, without morals, scruples or self respect.

But to Byron Dahyrmple, once a trapper, the weasel has many characteristics of which humankind should be proud, if they had known to any rough-and-tumble fighter. Artery holds. And, knowing these, he never gambles on using less effective ones.

The weasel must dart in and sink his razor-sharp dental scalps in the fatal place with one lightning thrust. And he must know the physiology and anatomy of dozens of different species.

So do not malign the weasel, even though his purpose and the human purpose are at odds. Consider well the perfection of his dynamic character. And if, in measuring your own wits against his, you can honestly say you can match him, then put aside all your personal worries. Your future is assured.

Because of Egypt's dry climate, more of the objects used by its ancient citizens have been preserved than those of the ancient citizens of Greece and Rome.

THANK YOU FOR CALLING, MISS PRIMROSE! SHE'LL CERTAINLY HEAR ABOUT THIS!

IT'S BAD ENOUGH THAT YOU WERE TARDY TO SCHOOL THIS MORNING...

IT'S GOING TO BE "THE PHIL FINE FOUNDATION"—YOU'RE SWELL! NO MATTER WHAT HAPPENS, PHIL—AND I'M SURE NOTHING WILL HAPPEN IF YOU'LL ONLY FIGHT BACK!

GEE, RUDY! YOU'RE SWELL! BUT I WAS AWAY TOO LONG AND KRUNCH KNOWS IT AND...

THERE HAD BEEN NO ROBBERIES WHEN YOU LEFT, PHIL—AND YOU HAD AN EFFICIENT ORGANIZATION TO CARRY ON IN YOUR ABSENCE—AN ORGANIZATION THAT HAS MADE A SPLENDID RECORD! SO HERE'S WHAT I THINK YOU SHOULD DO—AND AT ONCE!

THAT RADIO STATION HAS TO GIVE YOU THE SAME AMOUNT OF TIME THAT THEY GAVE TO KRUNCH! THAT'S WHY I SENT FOR YOU TO TELL YOU THAT I'LL GLADLY PAY FOR THE TIME!

I'VE KNOWN KRUNCH FOR YEARS—AND I KNOW HE'S I CAN TELL ONLY DOING THIS TO GET REVENGE FOR SOMETHING I—BUT I CAN'T TELL THE PUBLIC! WHAT THAT SOMETHING IS, I FEEL SURE...

Soviet Spy?

Mrs. Josef Winiewicz, above, wife of the Polish ambassador to the U. S., was named a possible spy by Lt. Gen. Izidor Modelski, former Polish military attaché, in testimony before a Senate Judiciary Sub-committee. Modelski said he had been informed Mrs. Winiewicz is a member of the Soviet secret police. He quit his post after charging the Polish embassy was a hotbed of Russian espionage.

Wister Hops Over McLean

McLEAN — (Special) — McLean's fire siren sounded about 11 a. m. Sunday to warn of approaching tornado, but the siren was reported, passed it over town.

The woman said she could almost reach up and touch it. It did harmlessly to the south.

It ignited at an oil well and a half mile north of McLean Saturday, but damage comparatively slight.

McLean Fire Department called and quickly extinguished the blaze.

The lease is operated by Berry & McLean.

A school bus loaded with about 15 seventh grade students went down the road Friday where the student was killed.

FORT WORTH — (AP) — A dream of pork chops cost a 25-year-old Negro a shoe Tuesday.

Several hundred enthused on-lookers were rooting while a fat red hog swam around under the W. Lancaster Viaduct, when the fully-clad Negro dived into the swirling flood after it.

The padding porker ignored his would-be rescuer, and snouted out into the swift current to disappear toward the west bank. The Negro reached an accumulation of debris a few dozen yards from the bridge and promptly went under when he tried to hang on. A rescue boat some distance upstream got to him just in time, in answer to the crowd's yells.

He limped away down the river bank, minus one shoe.

A mother who waded waist-deep in flood waters to safety Tuesday entered city-county hospital that night and gave birth to a baby boy. Both are doing fine.

The mother, Mrs. Violet Hare, and her husband, Earl, carried their 17-month-old baby, Shirley Jean, to safety from their flooded home.

They lost everything but the clothes they were wearing, the mother said.

The helping hand of a friend, neighbor and total stranger was extended to Fort Worth's flood-stricken thousands through organized community and individual efforts.

Immediate relief, in the form of food, clothing, shelter and medical attention, was the order of the day with general rehabilitation to come later.

Red Cross disaster relief activities were humming from the emergency nerve-center at Pioneer Palace where an attempt was going forward to centralize all efforts during the day.

Garswell Air Base, Camp Hood and other military personnel was functioning there along with city, state and federal helpers. Ex-servicemen, who turned out 500 strong in response to an appeal, were functioning on a 24-hour basis.

The Red Cross estimated 2,000 homeless were cared for at Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum, southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show exhibit barns and at sub-stations spotted in churches and schools in various sections.

Carwell mobile field kitchen units were in complete charge of preparing and serving food from the Pioneer Palace center. All Carwell MP's were on patrol duty.

One expectant mother was evacuated during Tuesday night to the air base infirmary and several others were to be removed to Fort Worth hospitals.

Jim Wright of Weatherford reported early Tuesday night with about 30 members of the Weatherford Legion Post and they worked all night. Legionnaires housed 67 families in victory apartment units and 147 other families were placed in temporary quarters in private homes.

Forty-five persons slept at the Trinity Baptist Church, mostly River Oak refugees, whose homes were still under about five feet of water Wednesday morning although the flood had receded an estimated 75 percent.

Negroes took their misfortune with a grim good-humor. They were catching floating pigs, chickens and dogs and salvaging all good lumber that floated within reach.

"Come see me. I've moved," one shouted to another. "Where?" "Oh, down the Trinity."

Students visited the West Texas State College museum.

The Junior High Athletic Association sponsored a supper honoring the seventh grade pupils who will go on to high school next year and all grade school pupils who have participated in school activities.

About 60 persons attended the supper, held recently in the American Legion Hall.

Principal C. M. Herrington was master of ceremonies and Barbara Nell Williams, Al Duncan, June Stubblefield, Don Leach, Shirley Allison and Archie Dwyer presented the program.

Mrs. Wayne Brister was chairman of the Food Committee, and Mrs. June Woods supervised the decorations. Mrs. Clifford Allison is chairman of the association.
