

Dr. Einstein Claims Success in Long Search for Physical Law

NEW YORK—(AP)—Dr. Albert Einstein, whose theory of relativity helped open up the whole vast field of atomic research, has put forward an even more sensational theory. He calls it "a generalized theory of gravitation."

It is a mathematical description of the mystery of gravity—the common force that keeps our feet on the floor and rules the movements of the stars.

If it can be proved, it will become a "universal law" and, in the view of other scientists, will stand as the highest scientific achievement of all time.

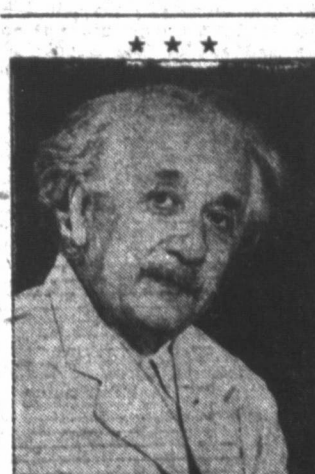

It would explain every physical motion in the universe, from the inside of an atom to the enormous galaxies of outer space.

It would crown with success the life work of Einstein, who has spent the last half of his 70 years looking for the answer to this ultimate problem, known to science as the "unified field theory."

It was revealed to the world here yesterday on 20 mimeographed pages—a mixture of typewritten words and squiggly mathematical symbols that even scientists hesitated to interpret. It was the English translation of Einstein's original German.

Einstein describes it as an extension of his relativity theory, and was quick to point out that he has "not yet found a practical way to confront the results of the theory with experimental evidence"—or in short, to prove it.

When he published the "General Theory of Relativity" in 1915, Einstein suggested several actual tests that could be made to prove his ideas—and which actually did prove them in 1921. But this new theory is apparently so abstract that Einstein could not think of a physical test for it.

Crackdown on Tax Evaders Foreseen

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congress may call for a crackdown on tax evaders and close some tax law "loopholes" before it considers any legislation to raise tax rates on individuals or corporations.

Rep. Forand (D-RI), member of the tax-framing House Ways and Means Committee, today told newsmen:

"If every tax legally owed the government were collected, I believe the budget could be balanced without resorting to any tax increases."

Treasury and Congressional tax experts now are studying the problem of tax dodging. Some estimates indicate the government is losing $5,000,000,000 a year by tax evasion and by the so-called loopholes. These permit some taxpayers to work the tax laws in a manner to trim down their tax obligations.

If that amount were collected it would just about cover what the government needs to balance the budget.

Meanwhile, Republicans on Capitol Hill are expecting considerable support from Democrats lined up for the battle against a new proposal President Truman may make for tax increases.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., the House GOP leader, issued a formal statement saying he expects the President to propose a multi-billion dollar tax-hiking program "so that the administration can proceed with its extravagant and liberal plan to socialize America."

"A tax increase at this time," he said, "would have a depressive effect on economic conditions generally and might precipitate the country into a tail-spin which would cost millions of workers their jobs."

He predicted defeat for any tax-topping bill.

Martin renewed his plea for a slash of around $600,000,000 to $700,000,000 a year in the war-imposed excise rates on such things as fur, jewelry, luggage, communications and transportation. Such legislation now is backed by a substantial number of Republicans and Democrats.

Mr. Truman has said studies are being made to see if the excises can be reduced.

Over 500 Die By Violence In Holiday

(By The Associated Press)

Black crepe replaced the green holly in the home of more than 500 persons killed in violent accidents across the nation over the extended Christmas holiday.

Nearly 400 of the deaths resulted from traffic accidents. The traffic toll—887—was under the estimated 435 made by the National Safety Council for the period from 5 p. m. last Friday to midnight Monday.

But the total soared far above 500 with other violent deaths. Sixty-five persons were killed in fires and others lost their lives in accidents of miscellaneous causes. These included shootings, falls, electrocutions, plane crashes, exposure and asphyxiation.

Tragedy came to many homes in place of Santa Claus. A mother and her six children perished in a fire which swept their small home in San Antonio, Texas. Another Texas family of five was wiped out in an automobile-gasoline truck accident.

Texas led the nation with 70 violent deaths.

Highway accidents took the heaviest toll. The safety council's records show that the toll over the three-day holiday was above the average. The council said that in the first 10 months of 1949 auto accidents killed an average of 83 persons every 24 hours. The average covers deaths occurring long after the accident in which the victims were injured. There were 396 accidental deaths over the 1948 two-day Christmas holiday, including 277 traffic fatalities.

Queen Juliana Proclaims Indonesian Independence

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands—Queen Juliana gave up most of Holland's rich colonial empire today by proclaiming independence for 77,000,000 Indonesians.

The simple, 30-minute ceremony in the royal palace climaxed four years of guerrilla fighting in the tropical East Indies islands and weeks of tough bargaining in conferences between Dutch and independence-seeking Indonesians.

With Juliana's signature, the United States of Indonesia (U. S. I.) became the world's newest independent nation. It also began an experiment in international partnership—the Dutch-Indonesian union under which the Dutch kingdom and the Indonesian republic are loosely linked by the symbol of The Netherlands.

The Queen declared that separation of the East Indies colonies from The Netherlands was "piercing . . . the very roots of our existence" and added:

"The world looks on in wonderment and perceives that, here and now, these two countries are realizing their own deepest desire, the desire for peace."

"In The Netherlands, this is viewed with solicitude," she continued, indicating mildly that a strong minority in The Netherlands had opposed the time of the transfer of the sovereignty.

"But at this moment, and in this place I would state emphatically that in The Netherlands one and all concur with the principle of the transfer of sovereignty."

On the other side of the world, dark-skinned natives celebrated the independence for which they fought four years of sporadic guerrilla warfare. U. S. I. leaders took over control of the Indonesian capital of Batavia, Java, from Dutch troops.

Amidst the solemn formality in the marble-walled "civic hall" of the palace, Premier Mohammed Hatta was present to represent his new country.

The brief program was concluded by the Queen's speech, followed by the playing of the Indonesian national anthem "Indonesia Raya" and the Dutch hymn "Wilhelmus" on the palace chimes.

At almost the same moment the two anthems were being played in Batavia, with the raising of the Indonesian red and white flag over the former governor general's palace.

Thus was culminated the agreement, signalling a major achievement for the United Nations, which a commission had paved the way for the Dutch-Indonesian agreement.

The agreement had been ratified earlier by The Netherlands government and all 16 Indonesian states—including the larger Indonesian republic and 15 smaller federated states.

Expensive Ring, Cash Are Stolen

The Tom Rose Motor Co., 121 N. Ballard, was the victim last night of a skilled professional safe cracker.

The thief, or thieves, made off with $448.16 in cash, an undetermined amount of small checks, and a man's diamond ring valued at $1,200. Tom Rose, Jr., owner and manager of the company, said this morning.

The ring is a 32nd Degree Masonic ring with a diamond weighing slightly over a carat. "The ring is a keepsake whose monetary value can't be estimated," Rose said. It had belonged to his late father, Tom Rose, Sr.

The burglary was discovered by Police Captain Dinny Roan and Officer Joe Brewer, who were cruising through downtown alleys as part of their patrol.

When Roan flashed his searchlight on the doors as they passed, he saw the bar was missing on a large double wooden door leading to the rear of the Ford agency's service department. They investigated, but the burglars had already done their work.

The knob-knockers entered by breaking a small hole in a window on the alley between Ballard and Foster and entering the service department.

They went through to the front office, robbed the safe, and tried to leave by jimmying a small door on the north side of the building. Failing there, they left through a double wooden door on the alley that is locked with a hasp and a bar across the two halves of the door.

Soviet Press Gives Big Play To Germ War

MOSCOW—(AP)—Testimony at the trial of Japanese war prisoners as carried by the Soviet press today gave the impression that the United States and Britain were to be targets of a germ war attack.

Newspaper accounts of the trial quoted Japanese prisoners as saying the scheme had progressed to the point where a American prisoner were sent to special bacteria plants to be experimented upon as human guinea pigs.

The trial of 12 Japanese Army officers was reported proceeding at Khabarovsk, Siberia.

By infesting their American prisoners with certain germs, the Japanese were quoted as saying they sought to determine how Anglo-Saxons would react to various diseases and plagues.

The accounts also said the Japanese experimented with their American victims to find out from what diseases they were immune.

The plan was, the newspapers said, to find out what kind of germs would be best to use in a bacteria invasion of the United States and Britain by the wholesale use of germs against the civilian populations.

The details of the trial are being given full publicity by the Soviet press and radio. The accounts give the impression to the public that the Soviet Army saved the United States and Britain from the horrors of airborne germs.

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Dr. E. M. Waits, who had served Texas Christian University as president and president emeritus for more than 30 years, died last night.

Dr. Waits, 78, had been ill for over four years. He died of a heart ailment.

Funeral services for the noted educator, one of the leaders in building the school to its present high place, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock with burial in Greenwood Cemetery here.

He was ordained in 1896 to the ministry in the Disciples of Christ, accepting the pastorate of a church at Fulton, Ky., which he filled until 1901.

May 23, 1898, he married Miss Sarah Wooten of Bowling Green, Ky., and in 1902 they moved to Texas where the young minister had accepted the pastorate of the Christian Church at Ladonia.

From Ladonia he moved to El Paso in 1908, to become pastor of the First Christian Church, but in 1907 came to Fort Worth as pastor of the Tabernacle Christian Church.

In 1915 Mrs. Waits died. A few months later Dr. Waits resigned to accept a church in San Diego, Calif., and was arranging to go there when he was elected president of TCU.

Assuming the presidency in September, 1916, Dr. Waits accepted (See DR. WAITS, Page 8)

Two Soldiers Held in Theft

MT. HOLLY, N.J.—(AP)—Two soldiers with 30 months service overseas in Trieste were to be discharged today at Fort Dix. Instead they are in jail charged with holdup, robbery and automobile theft.

Pfc. Joseph Pritchett, 27, of Port Arthur, Texas, and Pvt. Norman Smith, 26, of Louisville, Ky., were arrested in Camden, N.J., early yesterday by Delaware River Bridge police.

They were taken to the Burlington County Jail here and held without bail after arraignment before Magistrate Joseph McHugh of nearby Florence Township.

Camden Detective Sgt. John Trout gave these details of the arrest:

Pritchett and Smith hired the cab of James Richards, 31, in downtown Trenton and told Richards to drive them to Camden.

As they drove to Camden, one of the soldiers thrust a soft drink bottle against the back of the cab driver's neck and said "This is a stickup."

Thinking the bottleneck was a gun, Richards stopped the taxi. He was bound with a tow rope found in the cab and gagged with a handkerchief.

Trout said the soldiers then took $17.25 from Richards, threw him in a field, and drove off to Camden in the cab.

Richards got loose and walked to a nearby factory to report the theft to police.

Hit-and-Run Driver Who Hit Shamrock Child Surrenders

The hit-and-run driver who yesterday struck down 12-year-old Patsy Ross in Shamrock, voluntarily surrendered today at Sheriff Glenn Cantrell's office after a widespread search had been set up by highway patrolmen and police officers in the area. He is charged with aggravated assault and failure to give aid.

The child was struck down about 4:30 p. m. while walking on the sidewalk near the intersection of Fifth and Main streets in Shamrock. According to witnesses, the 1939 model Buick heading south on Highway 83, cut across to the wrong side of the road and struck the child. The child was hit by the curbing automobile and was hurled onto the hood by the force of the impact. The car then swerved back to the right side of the road and continued south.

The child, unconscious two hours, was taken to the hospital, is not believed to have been seriously injured and apparently no bones were broken. She is the daughter of Jack Ross, Shamrock mechanic.

In a statement made after his arrest, Sexton said he is a friend, Robert Sherwood, were driving to Samnorwood to the farm owned by Sherwood's father where Sexton has been working.

He was trying to pass another car when his steering mechanism failed and the car ran up on the sidewalk on the left-hand side of the highway. He recovered control and drove on to Samnorwood.

Weak Cold Front Hits

(By The Associated Press)

A weak cold front drove southward through Texas today, lowering temperatures below freezing in dozen Panhandle and West Texas areas.

The new cold wave entered the state about midnight last night and by midnight had struck southward to Waco. Fog blanketed many North and East Texas areas.

Sub freezing temperatures included 17 degrees at Salt Flats in far-west Texas; Lubbock, 18 degrees; Pampa, 21; Dalhart, 21; Marfa, 27; Midland, 28; Wink, 24; Clarendon, 22; Childress, 28; Odessa, 26; Presidio, 28; Big Spring, 27 and Amarillo, 21.

Light rain fell at Beaumont, Lufkin and Alice.

Fog was reported at Beaumont, Lufkin, Dallas, Brownsville, Houston, Galveston, Fort Worth, and Palacios.

Much of West Texas and the Panhandle reported bright, clear weather.

Cooler weather is forecast for both West and East Texas tomorrow.

New Colors Are Raised

BATAVIA, Java—(AP)—Holland's tricolor, symbol of three centuries of rule in the East Indies, fluttered down today over the palace of the high commissioner as a crowd of 20,000 cheered the holding of the revolutionary red and white banner of a new nation—the United States of Indonesia.

The flag ceremony followed the signing of the protocol of transfer of authority within the palace almost simultaneously with the proclamation in Amsterdam of the new republic's sovereignty and independence by Queen Juliana.

The solemn but congratulatory speech by Queen Juliana was heard in a three-minute broadcast during the ceremonies here.

The man of the hour was a 37-year-old Sultan Hemangku Buwono, deputy premier of the new United States of Indonesia, who accepted the turnover of authority from Netherlands High Commissioner A. H. J. Lovink.

Outside the palace and throughout the capital, 6,000 Republican troops under the sultan's command and armed with machineguns, kept law and order and watched for possible attempts by Communists and a few die-hards to heckle the ceremony.

Local Woman Chosen for Queen for a Day Contest

Mrs. K. E. Thornton, Pampa Girl Scout executive for the past two years, has been named Queen of Pampa, it was announced this morning.

The Mutual Broadcasting Company, sponsors of the Queen for a Day program, selected Mrs. Thornton as one of the 500 finalists for its special current local queens contest.

Mrs. Thornton, better known as Jean, was picked a queen out of many thousands of letters which were written by Mutual listeners throughout the country. Five women will be selected from the 500 to go to Hollywood to appear on the famous Queen for a Day program.

Many local women's clubs sent in nominations and listed their reasons why they felt their candidates should be one of the queens. Each of the 500 finalists will receive many gifts from the Mutual Broadcasting Company as well as from the sponsoring towns.

Mrs. Thornton was to be presented over radio station KPDM on Bob Pyle's show this afternoon. The program began at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Thornton will be officially crowned Queen of Pampa at 9:05 p. m. today on the stage of the new LaVista Theater.

Bus Employes Given Order

DALLAS—(AP)—A. J. Emory, president of the Dallas Union Bus Terminal, today delivered an ultimatum to striking CIO station workers. He told them they would have to return to their jobs or be replaced.

Declaring that a public transportation business must operate as a public service, he said they were being advised to return to their jobs on their regular shifts today or report for duty not later than 8 p. m., otherwise their jobs will be filled with permanent replacements.

The workers, members of the CIO Transport Workers Local 275, walked off their jobs Saturday afternoon during the peak of the Christmas Eve travel rush. The strikers include baggage and ticket agents, clerks, porters and maids.

Federal Mediator Wylie H. Roberts has not been able to get the union and company officials together for a discussion of the issues.

Company officials said buses were arriving and departing on schedule through picket lines around the terminal.

In dispute is a wage increase, hospitalization insurance and sick leave and the effective date of a contract.

Wheel Sheriff Makes Four Raids

Wheeler County Sheriff's Department was busy over the week-end. Four raids were made by the department in the county and in two of them innocents were found.

Charges were filed against Kenneth Johnson and Luther Bonner, both of Shamrock. Officers found eight pints and nine half pints of whiskey in Johnson's service station near the underpass on Highway 66, west of Shamrock. Bloodhounds and Posse of 100 Search East Texas for Seven Escaped Convicts

HUNTSVILLE—(AP)—Bloodhounds bayed the big thicket of East Texas today as a posse of 100 officers sought five of seven desperate convicts who tunneled out of the State Penitentiary here.

Two of the men—Ceil Bill Ison, serving 45 years for robbery from Harris County, and David Crockett McCullough, serving 22 years for robbery from Dallas County—were captured without a struggle some six hours after the escape.

The break occurred yesterday morning.

Ison and McCullough were recaptured in a barn 15 miles south of East by Warden T. E. Easley of Eastham Prison Farm. The men were unarmed. They said they had split with the other five near Phelps.

Three men believed to be convicts were seen near Groveton late yesterday afternoon. Sheriff Harris Johnson of Trinity County said the men attempted to hold up the unidentified driver of a car in that area.

One of the men, Sheriff Johnson said, was reported to have been armed. The hunters theorized that the armed man was Thomas W. Tucker, 38, serving 64 years for murder from Brazoria and Tarrant Counties.

Ellis identified the other convicts as Weldon Green, serving life as a habitual criminal; Walter Throp, serving 25 years from Dallas County for robbery, and a J. M. Mershon, 38, hiker from Limestone County as a habitual criminal.

The seven convicts only recently had been released from the isolation barracks, where they had been confined for breach of (See BLOODHOUNDS, Page 8)

Jackie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barnes who now reside at Albuquerque, replied she plans to finish school before starting on a career.

The 15-year-old was given an expense paid trip to Hollywood over the holidays and was given a screen and a television test. Also she was presented an entire new wardrobe.

Adopted Child 'Belongs' as Much As Other Children

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE AP Newsfeatures

The adopted child and his parents have been the subjects of considerable discussion and study. "Not only enough has been done about the problem," says Roberta Andrews, assistant director of the Spence-Chapin Adoption Service.

Frequently, she says, a child is adopted by a man and wife after unsuccessful attempts to have a child of their own or to replace a child of their own who has died.

"The fact that a child is not the real offspring of parents is no reason why the child cannot be genuinely loved," she says. As a matter of fact, adopted children, especially when adopted young, are loved with the same warmth, tenderness and pride as "own" children would be.

"In our endeavor to make sure that the parents are right for the child, we may have seemed overly long in making selections," she continued. "But our case workers and supervisors are anxious to have couples of maturity adopt children. We want men and wives with ability to think of others as well as themselves. We want them to be warm and friendly, to possess qualities of love, an ability to love the adopted child as their own and with an understanding of the crises involved. We want people who have family and neither do the offspring. Don't gloss over the facts of human birth, but emphasize the fact that the child was 'specially chosen' because he was wanted. Tell him the story of how he was adopted and how much happiness he has brought to you, as parents. This means so much to the feeling of security he needs," she says.

One argument often advanced against telling a child he is adopted, says Andrews, is when the child throws up to parents: "You're not my real mommy and daddy!" "Should you be hurt by this seemingly ungrateful retort?" "Not at all," she says. "Rather, it is one justification for our anxiety to select parents of maturity and understanding. The wise parents would realize that this is only the angry retort of a child who imagines a hurt. He does not mean it."

This whole problem of adoption is so vast, says Roberta Andrews, that the Spence-Chapin Adoption Service has scheduled a luncheon conference at the Ritz-Carlton for November 15.

Catch Sleep on Way, Arrive Fresh

By ALICIA HART NEA Staff Writer

The traveler who wants to arrive at journey's end as fresh as a daisy can use some expert tips on ways to induce sleep on a Pullman car.

If you'll allow yourself a comfortable margin of time in which to get to your train, according to

Mrs. Harlan Roberts, 1112 East Browning, hosted a party honoring Girl Scouts of Troop 19 and their mothers.

The group sang carols and Barbara Goodnight read the story of the birth of Christ from the Bible. The girls exchanged hand made gifts and each girl presented her mother with a ceramic gift that she had made. The Scouts also gave carnation pins to their leaders Mrs. Burl Lewter and Mrs. W. L. Kretzmeier.

Decorated cookies and spiced tea were served. Favors were candy cans decorated with spruce and ribbon.

The closing song was "Pray God Bless," led by Sally Bruce. Present were Mrs. Thomas Bruce, Mrs. I. T. Goodnight, Mrs. W. T. Braly, Mrs. N. S. Hegwer, Mrs. Burl Lewter, Mrs. Juanita Dobbs, Mrs. C. A. Scott, Mrs. H. B. Roberts, Mrs. A. W. Frazier, Mrs. W. L. Kretzmeier and Mrs. Murel King.

Mothers of Brownies of Troop 14 were guests at the second birthday and holiday party Monday. Cake and punch were served buffet style, and Mrs. B. B. Palmer presented Brownies with their year pins after the exchange of gifts.

Each mother was presented with a ceramic ash tray made by her daughter. Game and contest prizes were Christmas stockings.

Leaders present were Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Azelle Loftus. Guests were Mrs. W. L. Boosa, Mrs. Joe Gordon, Mrs. R. A. Hankhouse, Mrs. Robert Huffhines, Mrs. Paul Schneider, Mrs. W. H. HEAT ROLLS
If you are serving rolls for a holiday dinner be sure to heat them first. You can use a bun warmer, a double boiler, or you can put them in a brown paper bag with the top tightly closed by twisting — in a moderate oven.

James Bender, author of a new book called "How to Sleep," you won't go to bed in a nervous state of mind.

If you'll tell the porter when you want to get up, you won't be fretting during the night for fear that you'll oversleep, cautions the expert.

He reminds travelers that the little extra comforts which often insure better sleep can be had by simply ringing for the porter. Ring for the extra blanket or a glass of water. A porter will remake your bed, if you want to reverse the position in which you sleep.

Another helpful suggestion is that of relaxing before going to bed by walking back and forth from your berth to the club car. The hungry traveler will sleep better if she has a snack from the club car or dining car before she turns in for the night. A help in falling asleep, Mr. Bender also reminds you, is to listen to the singing rails.

Canned Tomatoes Spice Lima Bean Casserole

CANNED tomatoes and lima beans make the two-toned color and flavor combination in this vegetable dish. By adding diced cooked ham or luncheon meat, you have a casserole main dish.

Tomatoes and tomato products such as juice, paste, purees and soup make up the number one pack of canned vegetables. The pert color and tang this vegetable make it popular alone or in combination with bland foods. It rates for Vitamins C and A and mineral values. And when it comes to food costs, you will find that canned tomatoes are generally cheaper the year around than the fresh product.

The canned tomato and lima bean casserole is an interesting variation on the vegetable dish schedule. Accompanying dishes on this menu also call on the bountiful and varied can shelf. The soup pictured is cream of celery, and the salad is cottage cheese.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY American Card Authority Written for NEA Service
Today's hand is the last of a series of six hands which were taken from letters sent to me by my readers. Dr. J. A. Boyd, of Stratford, Ontario, said I had many years ago published one of his hands, therefore, he was sending me another one which he hoped I could use in my column. Here it is.

Dr. Boyd's comment on the play was as follows: "The opening lead of the jack of diamonds was won by South with the queen. The seven of diamonds returned and won in dummy with the king. The ace of diamonds cashed, South discarding the king of clubs. The jack of spades was led and when East showed out, South played low. West also played low."

At this point Dr. Boyd pointed out that the lead of another trump would have lost the contract, as a declarer could never get back in the dummy to set up the club suit for valuable discards.

Dr. Boyd continued, "The queen of clubs was led. It was immaterial what East did. If he refused to cover South would discard a heart. The jack of clubs would be led and another heart refused to cover. However, if East does cover the first club South will ruff and lead a small spade to dummy, which West must win with the king.

"Now he is helpless. All West can do is cash the ace of hearts and return a small heart. South will win with the king. He will then lead a small spade to dummy, picking up the last trump in West's hand. On the jack of clubs, the losing heart from declarer's hand will be discarded.

"Thus, five odd was made on a hand which would have been defeated had the declarer drawn trumps before setting up the club suit in dummy."

"Of course," Dr. Boyd said,

Care, Plenty of 'Exercise' Keeps Black Bard in Shape

BLACK BARD—Called one of the "three or four greatest bulls of our time," Black Bardier III of White Gates (and he's big enough to carry all that name) is the result of generations of careful breeding.

By RICHARD KLEINER
FLANDERS, N. J. — (NEA)

Let any cattleman get within 100 miles of Flanders and he can't rest until he gets a look inside White Gates Farm. The object of his curiosity is 1800 pounds of Aberdeen Angus bull that goes by the name of Black Bardier III of White Gates.

"Bard," says his owner, wealthy Eugene K. Denton, "is one of the three or four greatest bulls of our time."

Naturally, Bard is treated as best fits his reputation. He lives what might be called the life of Riley, bovine divinity. He doesn't have to lift a hoof if he doesn't feel like it.

When he does lift a hoof, though, he's liable to find somebody waiting there to manure it. And, meanwhile, other people are around the other side, curing his beautiful raven coat. Or spraying him. Or oiling him. All this in his private stall.

Every morning, Bard gets up and eats a light breakfast. Breakfast, like his other meals, is a special blend of grain and hay. During a day, he'll put away about 30 pounds of grain and "a lot of hay." It costs "a couple of thousand" a year to feed him.

After breakfast comes what Denton politely refers to as his "exercise." To put it bluntly, Bard is simply exposed to the charms of some beautiful cows. More "exercise" follows after lunch. With all that "exercise," the kid goes to sleep early.

To raise such an idyllic existence, Bard had to be good. He is. He's never been beaten in a show, and has more ribbons than a five-and-ten counter. According to Denton, "he is the closest thing to perfection in an Aberdeen Angus bull that's ever been bred."

"What we breeders are after," says Denton, who heads an exclusive women's shop in New York in his non-farming hours, "is more meat on beef animals. We try to lay the most meat on those quarters that produce the choicest cuts—like sirloin, for example."

"Well, if we have a bull that is a little skippy in one part but full in another, we breed him to a cow that is full in that first part. Bard is the result of generations of careful breeding like that."

Denton's bull represents what has become known as the Bardier strain of Aberdeen Angus. The strain stems from generations of breeding work, some of which is still going on. Bard himself was born on Denton's farm, in 1946, after Denton purchased his mother from a Webberville, Mich., breeder. The cow was carrying Bard at the time.

His fame has spread so completely throughout the Aberdeen Angus fanciers' world that, at the American Aberdeen-Angus Breeders' Association banquet during the International Live-stock Show in Chicago, Bard's picture was on the banquet menu cover. Underneath were the words: "The Symbol of Perfection in Beef Production."

Denton has reportedly had offers up to $200,000 for the bull, but will only say, "We wouldn't sell him at any price."

"Once," Denton recalls, "a wealthy gentleman handed me an open checkbook and said 'Fill it out for whatever you want.' I told him he didn't have enough money to buy him."

TEXAS' TOP STORIES OF 1949

Death of Jester, State Legislature Figure in Leading News of Past Year

(By The Associated Press)
Gov. Beauford Jester died in the state Legislature met longer than any of its predecessors. The Trinity River drove mightily to wreck sturdy Fort Worth. The Southern Methodist, fourth ranking team in the Southwest conference, came within eight points of beating Notre Dame, hailed as the greatest college football team of all time. Texas reaped a bumper cotton crop.

These were some of the great stories of 1949 that caught the readers' fancies and produced big, black headlines.

There were many, many such headlines; some of them still reverberating, but the most talked about top ten probably were these:

1. The death of Gov. Jester.
2. The state Legislature.
3. The Fort Worth flood.
4. The B-50 non-stop flight around the world.
5. The death of 28 in an American Airlines plane crash.
6. Bumper cotton crop and attempt to reduce next year's acreage.
7. The Dr. John Lord murder.
8. The SMU-Notre Dame football game.
9. The Bill Mason slaying.
10. Laredo's double slaying and subsequent hunt for George Ochoa.

Ranking right up with these were many others, including the Tex Thornton murder at Amarillo; Clyde Harris' marriage to German Princess Cecilia; the dramatic last-minute reprieve for Fred Jones; the end of rent control; the death of eleven members of a cotton picking family near Rotan; the Keith Peterson murder case in Dallas; the hurricane with a powder puff punch and the Amarillo tornado.

The state was saddened July 11 by a flash from Houston announcing the death of Gov. Jester. He died in a pullman berth enroute from Austin to Houston. Lieut. Gov. Allan Shivers was sworn in to finish out Gov. Jester's second term.

The 1949 Legislative session was the longest in Texas history—from January to July. One of the main reasons for the length was long debate on the Gilmer-Alkin school bill reorganizing the entire state public school system. They finally passed. A long filibuster in the Senate delayed but did not stop final passage of the basic session bill requiring all practitioners of the healing arts to take exams in basic sciences.

Early this year Trinity River waters spilled over levees and into Fort Worth—flooding great areas of the city. It was a spectacular display of nature, with thankfully few human casualties.

In April a B-50 bomber caused

Molasses of Wood Helps Steers Gain

Molasses made from wood compared favorably with regular cane molasses as a carbohydrate feed for sheep and steers in tests at the Montana Experiment Station.

The January issue of Country Gentleman reports that feeding trials carried on with lambs show that one lot of lambs fed a concentrate in which wood molasses made up 17 percent of the mixture, gained an average of .29 pounds per day. A similar lot of lambs getting ordinary molasses gained an average of .22 pounds. Steers on a ration in which wood molasses made up 11 percent of the concentrate mixture made average daily gains of 1.19 pounds. Another lot fed the same ration, except that cane molasses made up 10 percent of the concentrate, made average daily gains of 1.16 pounds.

The studies are being made to find uses for thousands of tons of wood waste that are by-products of Montana's lumbering industry.

B-12 Makes Pigs Gain Weight Fast

Startling results in making pigs gain faster and on less feed per pound have been achieved with a vitamin B-12 concentrate.

The January issue of Country Gentleman reports that Michigan State College researchers found in a test that dry-lot pigs put on weight 45 percent faster when fed the B-12 vitamin. Only slightly less favorable results were obtained with pigs on pasture. In both cases the B-12 finished pigs for market up to 20 days earlier than usual.

In the dry-lot tests, two lots of six weanling pigs were used. Both lots were fed a 16 percent protein basal ration of 77 percent corn, 20 percent soybean-oil meal, and 3 percent complex mineral mixture. The complex B vitamins, thiamine, riboflavin, calcium pantothenate, niacin and pyridoxine, and vitamins A and D were in the rations of both lots. In addition, one set of pigs received 5 percent of a vitamin B-12 concentrate, while the controls received none. No animal protein, such as meat scraps or tankage, was fed any of the pigs.

At the end of 11 weeks the lot getting B-12 reached an average weight of 142 pounds, an unusually rapid gain. Those without B-12 were only 98 pounds. The B-12 pigs required only a little more than 2-1/2 pounds of feed for each pound of gain, while the others consumed nearly three pounds of feed per pound of gain.

If further experiments confirm the findings, researchers expect the whole pattern of swine feeding to change. Hog raisers may be able to use only the cheaper vegetable proteins. Soy-bean meal sells from 35 and 45 percent cheaper than meat scraps and tankage, and fortified with B-12, promises to do the same work. The new vitamin may help cut down the excessive death losses which add so much to pork-production costs. Tests so far indicate that pigs are far healthier when fed the B vitamins. As B-12 is a by-product of the manufacture of streptomycin and other antibiotic drugs, feed manufacturers should have little difficulty in obtaining supplies.

SX 47, 48 May Aid Southern Dairy Industry

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Two heifer calves, known simply as SX-47 and SX-48, are getting a lot of attention at the government's Beltsville, Md., farm these days.

The calves are one-quarter Jersey and three-quarters Red Sindhi—the latter being a milking strain of Brahman cattle of India.

An announcement of the Department of Agriculture Monday said that SX-47 and SX-48 are the first crossbred calves born in the United States that carry a predominance of Red Sindhi blood. Their arrival a few days ago marked the beginning of a long-time breeding experiment to develop the dairy cattle for the South.

Both calves have a slight hump over the shoulder and the large ears of the Red Sindhi, but resemble the Jersey breed in color.

SX-47 and SX-48 will be shipped eventually to Jeanette, La., where the Bureau of Dairy Industry is trying to develop breeding methods that will combine the heat-resistant characteristics of the Red Sindhi and the milking qualities of the Jersey and other native strains.

Area Cotton Ginnings Now Higher Than Last Year's Mark

SHAMROCK — (Special) — There were 15,477 bales of cotton ginned in Wheeler County from the 1949 crop prior to Dec. 1, compared with 12,603 bales ginned to Dec. 1, 1948.

This increase of 2,874 bales so far this season over the 1948, was reported by the Department of Commerce.

A check made Wednesday morning showed that up to that time, 13,952 bales of cotton had been ginned at the three Shamrock plants, one at Twitty and one at Kellon.

There are five other gins in the county, which would indicate that the ginning to date total approximately 20,000 bales.

Most ginneries estimate that the 1949 crop is at least 90 percent harvested.

The Shamrock Bonded Warehouse is now qualified to receive and store cotton under government loan. The Commodity Credit Corporation announced last week, and the warehouse is already in operation.

Approval of the local plant to handle cotton under loan will enable producers to receive their money earlier. In the past, the necessary transactions took from a few days to several weeks.

All of the cotton being ginned now is being placed on government loan because the loan price is higher than the market value, the Shamrock Texan reported. The market price is 23 to 24 cents per pound, while the loan value is 25 to 29 cents.

The warehouse will be able to handle an unlimited amount of the current crop, Manager E. R. Franks said.

Season of High Winds Nearing

Winds can destroy as much of the nation's soil resource as water. Soil blowing in the High Plains country is often a serious problem from December through May when the soil is bare and the winds are high. Roberts County Wind Erosion District officials state.

Wind erosion is more destructive to fields free of vegetation, crop residue and clods or other obstructive materials. The whole art of preventing and controlling soil blowing consists of keeping nonblowing materials on the surface. When these are absent, the next best thing is the use of implements that lift clods to the surface.

Mother of Local Woman Succumbs

Mexican Labor Conditions Considered Good in Texas

EL PASO — (AP) — Not counting 230 bracero cowboys in the Big Bend area, 42,078 Mexican nationals are working under contracts in West Texas and New Mexico.

Fred C. Wendt, director of the Texas Employment Commission for the El Paso District, said the El Paso labor contracting office at Fort Bliss processed a total of 25,877 Mexican nationals before it closed recently.

Of this number, 16,211 were for New Mexico cotton growers.

Besides these, the Chihuahua, Mexico labor center, processed 17,000; 800 of these going to sugar beet fields in Colorado, Wyoming and Montana.

Texas got 7,600 and New Mexico the balance.

Generally speaking, conditions under which braceros in this section are working are favorable.

Cotton pickers were contracted for three months, the minimum. That has been and is the only farm work underway. The average pay for the first picking was $1.75 per 100 pounds. Thereafter, it was $2. The poundage for the average picker was 210 pounds. Good pickers made it 400.

In the South Plains country of Texas where cotton is pulled—a stripping process—braceros can and do make $9 a day—some more. Pulling 600 pounds a day is the average and the minimum price is $1.50 per 100 pounds.

Bracero cowboys for ranchers in the Big Bend, Presidio, Brewster and Terrell counties, work under a six-month contract.

The pay ranges from $45 to $60

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hassel—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What major leaguer hit 40 or more home runs 11 times in his major league career?

THE CURRENT ISSUE OF COLLIER'S MAGAZINE has an interesting and lengthy article by President William S. Carlson of the University of Delaware in which he asks the abolition of all the football bowls. Carlson, in his argument, charges that they are not college controlled, are sometimes of dubious nature, and unduly prolong the annual fall hysteria built up around football.

On New Year's Day in 1947, Carlson's University of Delaware, played in the Sugar Bowl at Tampa, Fla., defeating Rollins College. Since that time the university adopted a policy becoming quite common among colleges, that of not participating in any post-season games.

In building his arguments for the abolition of bowl games, Carlson referred to records of the Bowl Games Committee which, according to Carlson, included these reports:

1. Among the 80 bowls, only three bowls "apparently... actually operated by intercollegiate conferences or competing institutions—these were the Rose, Cotton and Glass Bowls."

2. Only five bowls were played on college or even junior college athletic fields. These were the Sugar, Raisin, Gold Dust, Glass and Sun Bowls.

3. Of the 80 bowls, the persons in charge could not be reached by mail in eight cases— the Post Office returned mail as undeliverable.

4. Money distributed among the participating colleges themselves varied from 33 percent of the gross receipts in the case of the Junior Rose Bowl to 87 percent of the gross which went to the teams playing in the Sugar Bowl.

5. In some cases, proceeds from the sale of programs or radio rights were not shared with the colleges.

Those are five of the main arguments set forth by Carlson. Personally, I think he is off the beam on his ideas of abolishing all the bowls. But I do think that a more strict supervision of them by the NCAA is in order.

As far as prolonging the football season, the bowl games certainly do that. But apparently the fans are in favor because it is almost impossible to buy a ticket to any of the major bowl games year after year. And if the smaller bowl games weren't making money they would shortly drop out of the picture.

The participating schools aren't forced into going to the bowls. In each case a poll is taken of the team as to whether or not it desires to accept the invitation to the bowl; no one is forcing them.

A bowl bid also gives a team something special to look forward to each year. The better record that can be compiled, the better bowl bid the team can expect. It gives the kids on the little school an opportunity to make a long trip that would otherwise be impossible for the school to permit because of the high expenses. A fine example is the Sul Ross squad of 1948 that went to Florida to play in the Tangerine Bowl.

The rest of their schedule kept them inside of Texas and New Mexico. But the bowl game rewarded the boys with a fine trip and the school with a bit of extra change to help pay the bills.

As far as the bowl games being played on college fields, that doesn't appear to be necessary. The games during the season aren't played on the college campuses in many cases. Either a larger stadium is available to make it possible for more fans to see the game, and good weather is footing the bill if they are willing to go off the campus to see the game and put money into the school's coffers, who's going to complain?

His charges about being unable to reach the sponsors and about the distribution of the receipts is something that could be handled, and should be handled, by an NCAA committee. They should be able to see that each bowl is legitimate, and not just a stunt to fill the pockets of some individual.

In most cases the city should be glad to get the game for the promotion it will give. It is bound to stir up more business and it will certainly get the name of the town splashed across the newspapers. The cities should be willing to back these bowl games for just their expenses, without demanding a cut of the gate. In so doing they would assure themselves of more and better teams because the take of each competing team would be increased.

The NCAA will decide on the bowl situation in its annual meeting next month, and chances are pretty good that they will reduce the number of bowl games, sanctioning only certain ones. But the facts that the fans want them, the colleges aren't forced to participate, and the amount of money and fame each bowl team gets should indicate that the bowl-mania is okay.

The only disgusting point I can see is that most all of them are played on the same day, and it drives you crazy trying to listen to five games at the same time.

ANSWER: Babe Ruth, who else, hit 40 or more home runs 11 times during his career.

Harvesters Ready to Put Crown on Line

The Pampa Harvesters went through their final workout at home yesterday before boarding a bus for the Howard Payne Invitational Basketball Tournament at Brownwood this weekend.

The first game for the Green and Gold is scheduled for 9:30 Thursday night. As defending champions they get the feature spot on the opening day's schedule. Their opposition will be Kerrville of District 14-AA, and of whom little is known.

If the Harvesters capture their opening game Thursday they will return to action at 4:20 the following afternoon. If they should lose to Kerrville they will be back in uniform at 10:10 Friday morning. Opposition in their second round of play will be furnished by the winner or loser of the Burkett-Olney game, depending upon whether the Harvesters win or lose.

Pampa is the defending champion in the tournament. Last season they won four straight games defeating Gatesville, 47-21; Laredo, 48-39; Brownwood 47-37; and Lubbock, 30-29.

Boys who will make the trip tomorrow morning are James Gallemore, Jimmy Howard, Dwan Reno, Tommy Allison, Jack Sutton, James Claunch, Tony Jones, Marvin Bond, Elmer Wilson, Glenn Tarpley, and Coach McNeely and David Crossman.

Littlefield Cats Hand Mexia First Loss To Win State Class A Championship

High-Powered Backs Headed Plains' Team

ABILENE — Littlefield Wildcats were back on the high plains of West Texas today with the Class A Schoolboy football championship to add to their trophy case.

The burly Wildcats blanked Mexia, 13-0, yesterday before the largest crowd ever to see a Class A high school game—more than 11,000 paying customers.

Two smashing backs—Tommy Bailes and Frank Gage—led a devastating Wildcat ground game. They gained the majority of the 285 yards Littlefield netted on the ground and each scored a touchdown.

Gage climaxed a 93-yard march early in the second period, driving over from the one-yard line. Less than three minutes later, Bailes scored on a 25-yard run. A pass interception set up the final tally.

Gage finished the game with a point after his touchdown. Gage failed in his attempt.

Mexia netted only 17 yards on the ground, picked up just 93 in the air, and was not matched for the hard-charging Littlefield line. Pass interceptions stopped a couple of Mexia drives and a penalty rubbed out a Blackcat touchdown in the fourth quarter.

The tally that didn't count came on a 37-yard pass from Garland Cain to Lawrence Davis.

Until Littlefield rolled to its comparatively easy decision, Mexia had been undefeated and untied through 14 games. Littlefield had been beaten once and tied once for a like number.

Bailes and Gage carried on all but two of the 21 plays in the Wildcats' first touchdown drive. Bailes picked up 60 yards and Gage 42. A 15-yard penalty against Littlefield only set back momentarily the relentless touchdown trip.

John Fowler snagged Cain's pass on Mexia's first offensive play after the initial Littlefield touchdown. Bailes gained two yards; Gage got two and then Charles Askew got two, putting the ball on Mexia's 25-yard line. Here, Bailes broke through tackle and went all the way.

Mexia reached Littlefield's 22-yard line once, drove inside the Wildcats' 30 several times. But a pass interception or the Wildcat line stopped each of these threats.

Littlefield tried only one pass and then stuck to its winged T ground attack.

Little Bruce Outlaw and John Duke, Mexia's top two backs, were well shackled by the high plains eleven.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — (AP) — Maryland and Missouri football teams are on Florida training grounds today for their Gator Bowl meeting here next Monday.

Maryland arrived yesterday and went to nearby Ponce de Leon Beach for the last day of drills. Missouri's team had a day's jump on its New Year's foe, Coach Don Faurot and his squad arrived at Fort Lauderdale Sunday and went right into a 90-minute drill yesterday.

Fans Should Stay in Cotton Bowl Until Last Gun; Both Teams Are Strong Finishers

DALLAS — (AP) — The largest crowd ever to see the Cotton Bowl Football Game will be in the cavernous stadium next Monday. About all of the 747 fans are advised to wait until the last gun fires before moving for the exits.

Lois of things happen in the final periods of the competing teams in this bowl game Rice and North Carolina. Especially North Carolina. They call the Tar Heels the "Minute Men of football."

They don't always win them in the last minutes but they probably win more at that stage of the game than any other team. Rice is a last-half outfit, too, only the Owls have had more success with it this season than the Tar Heels. The most notable garrison finish by Rice was against Texas. They were behind 15-0 until late in the game yet won 17-15 as Froggy Williams kicked a field goal with 10 seconds to go.

North Carolina beat North Carolina State in the last few minutes, licked Georgia 21-14 with 10 minutes to go, scored in the game than any other team to beat South Carolina, stopped Virginia on the seven-yard line with a minute to play and the score 14-7, edged Duke 21-20 as Art Weiner blocked a field goal try by the State. Incidentally, the State Fair realized $160,000 from the Cotton Bowl last football season. (Southern Methodist played eight games in it and there also was the Texas-Oklahoma game.)

The Cotton Bowl pays its expenses with revenue from radio and television, the concessions and the program. What's left from that goes to the Southwest Conference. There now is a fund of about $800,000 built up; it eventually will go to the Southwest Conference.

There just isn't any way a guy can hurl charges of "commercialization" at the Cotton Bowl. It certainly falls into the category of civic enterprise 100 percent.

Speaking of football, Fort Worth is doing a jam-up job of entertaining the state high school championship game. For two years a big money it has been the center of the Class-AA playoffs (the City Conference folks won't like this but most everybody looks upon this game as the only state title game of the year).

The way Fort Worth's Chamber of Commerce and other civic interests put on this game they're likely to get it every time in the future when the competing teams want to play on a neutral field.

But the Fort Worth is doing a good job of staging the game, the competing schools are doing a good job of alienating the press.

There was a clear understanding last week with Wichita Falls and Austin officials—or at least the sports writers thought there was—regarding tickets to the press for the state title game. But for the second year in a row the "no tickets to newspapers" sign was out. Fort Worth people handling the game said they had no instructions from Wichita Falls or Austin to issue tickets to the press except in the press box.

I wouldn't go so far as to say such misunderstandings might affect publicity on schoolboy football but for the school officials' benefit there are strong indications along that line.

There will only be a shift or shifting of opponents when a man has positively been freed for a scoring opportunity.

Northern College All-Stars Overpower South, 20 to 14

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — A squad of hand-picked Northern college football players overpowered a select group of Southern collegians in the second annual Shrine Charity Game in the Orange Bowl last night, 20-14.

The Yankees evened the score for last year's 24-14 Southern triumph and did it convincingly before 37,378 rain-soaked fans.

Yale Coach Herman Hickman's hefties came charging back to erase a 0-7 halftime deficit with two quick touchdowns in the third quarter and another in the fourth.

The Rebels, under Coaches Andy Gustafson of Miami and Bob Woodruff of Baylor, grabbed a lead in the second quarter on a lead in the second quarter on a 80-yard touchdown run by Van.

The speedy halfback took a handoff from Miami's Whitey Campbell and, behind perfect blocking, raced down the sidelines to put the South ahead. Forrest Griffith of Kansas added the extra point, his first of two for the evening.

With the third period only five minutes old, the Yankees struck for their first touchdown with Notre Dame's Walter Grothaus recovering a South fumble on the South's 24.

Two plays later Villanova's Wettlaufer of Pennsylvania to the Steve Romanik passed to Harry eight. Larry Coure of Notre Dame rammed through to the four and then squirmed to the one foot line.

Romanik sneaked over for the touchdown. Ralph Pasquerello of Villanova missed the extra point. It was a rather funny story — what Rogers told about trying to deal with Virginia. "I called up the president of the university the night before the day we had to make the selection," Rogers recounted. "I figured anything from Virginia regarding the invitation to come to the Cotton Bowl if it defeated North Carolina. The president told me he was packing it up to go to India and wasn't interested. I told him there was $20,000 in it and he still wasn't interested. I asked him if there wasn't somebody else who could deal with it. He said he was the only one who could do it. He finally said he would talk to some of the folks the following week. I told him we couldn't wait that long and hung up."

The Cotton and Rose Bowls are the only post-season classics that pay all their net gate receipts to the competing teams. The Cotton Bowl actually does better than that. The schools that play in the net here get 85 percent of the net gate (after taxes). The other fifteen percent goes for rental on the bowl, which is owned by the State Fair of Texas. Incidentally, the State Fair realized $160,000 from the Cotton Bowl last football season. (Southern Methodist played eight games in it and there also was the Texas-Oklahoma game.)

NEW YORK — (AP) — The U. of Southern California expects to have the successor to Michigan's Al Wistert as the nation's oldest college football player next fall.

He is Paul McMurry, a guard, who will be 31 in mid-season. . . . Paul, who served six years in the Navy, entered USC because he wants to coach in Southern California. . . . For the third year in a row, the U. of Mississippi has persuaded the outstanding footballer in the high-powered "Night Eight" High School League to stay in his home state. Harold Lofton of Brookhaven will follow Harold Maxwell of Laurel and Teddy Millette of Greenville to Ole Miss.

SOMETHING FISHY

Sam Sneed, the gofer of the year, was driving to Miami with some friends, reports golf world. . . . When the car reached Juno Beach, Sam insisted on stopping to do a little fishing. . . . He rolled up his pants, waded into the surf with a rod in his hand and soon emerged with five fish, which were converted into a tasty meal at a nearby restaurant. . . . Later, the story goes, Sneed complained: "They charged me three bucks, and I furnished my own breakfast."

THE STORY: After our election, John and I searched long and fruitlessly until we found a suitable apartment. We moved on a house and office. We found one at last and the superintendent was long. Took a liking to us and let us have it at a reasonable price. The first night John and I were remaining to help me redecorate it.

SPOKEKEEPERS, the small, personal, friendly kind, are my favorite people. For the price of a brush, or a few nails, or any other implement, one can receive a scholarly dissertation on anything from outhouses to portrait painting and roast pig.

Mr. Schmitt, in the general hardware store, was no exception. He welcomed me as a comrade, and offered invaluable aid.

"Ach, no, me vit dose clumsy brushes," he said, as instinctively I chose the less likely ones, "but dese is vot you need. Half the price and twice as good."

He produced two good-looking brushes, with the air of a fellow conspirator turning over secret documents.

"Paint" he considered my next problem for a moment. "You want already colored or mix your own?"

"Just a minute," I said, and looked up the article in point in my magazine. "Anyone Can Paint a Room the Easy Way."

"I'll mix my own," I announced. "It says here that you save money if you buy a lot of white paint and just add pigment."

"Shure, shure," Mr. Schmitt agreed, looking quite curiously at my literary consultant. "Und from dat you will do it?"

"Of course," I said, showing him the article. "And I can pay too from on page 36 of this magazine."

"Well," said Mr. Schmitt judiciously scratching his shaggy gray head, "maybe, in my day, for something like this we used common sense, a couple of directions and experience showed vot else dere vas. Und now, it's like a

Legion Gives Program for Vet Patients

SHAMROCK (Special)—The American Legion Auxiliary, aided by members of the Legion, presented a musical program in the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Boddy arranged the program.

The program was presented in the theatre of the Veterans Hospital to veterans who were physically unable to be present. It was also broadcast to the other hospital rooms.

Auxiliary members and Legionnaires served refreshments.

Mrs. Rhea Smith, Amarillo, district hospital representative of the Auxiliary, introduced Mayor Jack Montgomery, who in turn introduced Boddy, who served as master of ceremonies.

It was the second such annual program.

Savings, Loan Business Up

WASHINGTON—Savings and loan associations have completed the greatest savings year in their history of over a century and predictions throughout the country are that 1950 will be about as good, it was stated here by John L. Conner, of Atlanta, Ga., president of the National Savings and Loan League. Conner said savings in savings and loan associations throughout the country increased about 32 percent in 1949, and he expected savings in 1950 to reach another 25 to 30 percent in these institutions in 1950.

He said: "Home financing is almost equal with the record volume of mortgage lending in 1949, being down less than five percent early in December. Final figures should show the volume to be almost neck and neck with 1948, which was three and one-half billion dollars.

"Resources of all savings and loans in 1949 will have increased about one and one-third billion, we estimate. This should put the total resources close to 15 billion when the final 1949 figures are tabulated sometime in early spring. Savings and loans have been growing at the rate of over a billion dollars a year for the past five years since the upsurge at the close of World War II."

Two Die in Plane Crash

SLIDELL — (AP) — Heavy fog that has smothered this area of Texas for several days was blamed today for the crash of a private plane that killed two West Texas chiropractors and severely injured two other persons.

The crash occurred Sunday night but it was yesterday before it became known to anyone except the surviving occupants of the plane.

Major George Grupe, 47, of San Angelo, a member of the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners, and his former associate, Dr. William McLaughlin of Big Spring, died from injuries received in the crash. James Thomas Livingston, 18, of San Angelo, was pinned in the wreckage and was suffering from shock and exposure when found.

George J. Grupe, 18, son of Dr. Grupe, was stunned. He was unable to free Livingston and staggered away. He wandered all night and after dawn yesterday he was found by a resident of this area and brought to Slidell. Major Grupe was group commander of the West Texas Civil Air Patrol and a pilot. He had flown from San Angelo toward Fort Worth to take his son and Livingston to catch a bus for Des Moines where they were to attend a religious meeting.

Plans Made for Girl Scout Meet

Plans have been perfected for the Pampa Girl Scout Association's annual banquet meeting, Jan. 10, Mrs. Glenn Radcliff, Program Committee chairman, said. Tickets went on sale this morning at the Girl Scout Office.

The meeting will be held at 7 p. m., Jan. 10, in the Palm Room of the City Hall. At that time the Nominating Committee will make its report and officers will be elected and installed.

Every registered adult Scout is eligible to attend the meeting, and bring husband or wife.

Miss Ivalee Hodden, Dallas, Scout leader from the regional office, will install the officers. A. C. Troop, out-going president, will preside, and Jimmy McCune, Nominating-Membership Committee chairman, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Scouts of Troop 19 will serve the meal and present a flag pageant.

Eight Injured In Car Crash

RISEING FAWN, Ga. — (AP) — Eight persons, including two ministers, were injured in a traffic accident which disrupted a funeral procession near here yesterday.

Seven persons were in an automobile driven by the Rev. Thomas A. Chastain, 62, when it collided with a car driven by Charles E. Crompton of Telephone, Texas.

Rev. Chastain, pastor of the United Church of God at Chattanooga, and Mrs. Ella Fairbanks, 48, of Chattanooga, were injured seriously. Both were reported in fair condition at a Chattanooga hospital today.

The other four persons in the Chastain car, including the Rev. Ello Glass, 46, of Trenton, Ga., received lesser injuries, as did Mrs. Crompton.

Georgia State Patrol officials said the Chastain car was near the end of the funeral procession when the accident occurred. They added that no charges were filed pending an investigation.

The knob was knocked off the office safe, presumably with a chisel, and the combination removed.

"It was an expert," Police Chief John Wilkinson said this morning, "who knew exactly what he was doing." He said Sheriff G. H. Kyle concurred this morning in the opinion that there were only a few known criminals in the Panhandle with enough skill to open such a safe. There is the possibility, however, that someone was brought in for the job.

Several fingerprints were found this morning, but it is not known yet how clear they are, or whether they have any significance.

Most of Rose's loss is covered by insurance, but the monetary value of the ring he lost is only a small part of its value as a keepsake.

Ordinarily, Rose said he keeps the ring in a bank vault in the winter because "it is too large to wear with gloves." He had taken it and another ring to a jeweler to be sized and intended to return them to the safe-deposit box Saturday. He did not have his box key with him at the time, he said, and when he thought of it next, the bank was closed, so he put one ring in the office safe.

Only the safe was touched, Wilkinson said. Several other quite expensive articles of office furniture, such as desk sets, pens and clocks were within easy reach but they were not bothered.

Texas Businessman Throws Big Christmas Dinner for Newsboys

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

"Every year they get bigger and better," said Joe Simon. "This was the best one ever."

We had caught Simon on the telephone just as his annual Christmas day dinner was breaking up. Every Christmas since 1925 Joe has given a banquet for the newsboys of Corpus Christi.

There was a lot of yelling and cheering in the background as Joe's big voice boomed out of the receiver. "This was the best one I ever threw," said he. "Hear those kids yelling, don't you? Two hundred and sixty of 'em had a fine time, and brother, I'm here to tell you they deserved it."

Joe ought to know — he was a newsboy once — for eight years.

"They had turkey and all the trimmings — stuff like cranberries and peas and dressing and sweet potatoes and apple pie — just name it and they ate it. They watched a lot of entertainment and then we handed out presents — every boy got a present, things like ties and belts and hats."

This year's dinner was at the Dragon Grill, a plushy, dinner club, operated by L. K. (Doc) Mason. "Doc had the place hung with Christmas candles and draping all over," said Joe. "It looked swell. You remember old Doc don't you? — Well Doc don't run any joint."

We remember Joe Simon, too, a genial, big-hearted 200-pounder, former boxer, Navy vet in the first war, 50 years old now and owner of a furniture store.

Joe sold newspapers on the streets of St. Joseph, Mo. He remembers the snow, the rain, the fights he had "to keep my corner."

Once a St. Joseph cafe owner gave a Christmas party for newsboys. Joe, just a kid, sat in the bright, warm cafe and felt mighty good. "I said to myself, then, 'Joe if ever you're able to do it, you're gonna throw dinners for newsboys.'"

He has kept the vow — kept it now for 24 years.

The oldest newsboy this year was 45 — the youngest just big enough to carry papers. It was the 17th consecutive dinner for one. And there were 15 or 20 present who were not newsboys at all. "Just hungry kids," said Joe, explaining these other guests. "Every year a bunch of hungry kids hang around outside the door. I make 'em come right on in. I've been hungry."

Every Christmas now, Joe gets letters and telegrams from former newsboys. One telegram yesterday came from Japan.

"Gives me a warm feeling," said Joe. "Gives me a big kick, inside."

Tito Signs Pact With Britain

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia — (AP) — Marshal Tito has a new five-year trade pact with Britain and a tidy budget surplus to bolster Yugoslavia against economic pressure by the Russian-led Cominform.

Yugoslav officials said the trade deal would involve sales totaling $560,000 between the two countries. (Britain's Board of Trade estimated two-way trade under the pact would total $616,200,000 in the next five years.)

The news was made public last night at a meeting of Parliament in which the government announced that the national budget not only balanced its budget this year but had a surplus of $20,000,000 in the treasury as well.

A Wichita Falls motorist said he pursued the car after the accident but was unable to catch it.

According to Jess Swink, Wheeler County sheriff, no change would be made in the amount of bond.

Old Residents to Be on Exhibit

AUSTIN — (AP) — Some real old time Texas and New Mexico residents will be put on exhibit here soon.

Prehistoric elephant and buffalo fossils are being prepared for showing in the Texas Memorial Museum at the University of Texas.

Museum Director E. H. Sellards and four paleontologist members made the collection in the Panhandle and New Mexico High Plains region.

Remains of a bison hunt by prehistoric men were first discovered at Plainview in 1945. The University of Texas geologists reopened the site for a visit by Geological Society of America members before making the new collection.

Christmas Trees More Dangerous

Christmas trees are becoming increasingly more dangerous to have around the house, P. I. C. Chief Ernest Winborne said this morning.

"Most of the trees in Pampa are beginning to dry out," he continued. "It is important that even more fire safety precautions be taken with them now."

The fire chief said no serious tree fires have been reported this year in Pampa. However, many other types of minor fires have occurred here during the holiday season.

Firemen were called to the alley behind 1138 S. Wilcox at 5:10 p.m. yesterday when a leaking gas line ignited and set a trash barrel on fire. No damage resulted, Winborne said.

TA FREE ELECTION

TV "EYE" FOR ROBOTS

NEW YORK — (AP) — Television experts foresee many things ahead for electronic vision in industry. Social Security Withholding Rate Increases Jan. 1

The Federal Insurance Contributions Act provides for an increase in the tax rate under that act to one and one-half percent on both employees and employers, based on all taxable wages paid on and after Jan. 1. John B. Dunlap, collector of internal revenue, reminded readers today.

These taxes are a part of the social security program, and these rates have been one percent on employers and employees since the inception of the program.

The change does not affect the rates of income tax withholding from wages. However, employers were also reminded that the new regulations will be effective Jan. 1 regarding the depositing and reporting of both the FICA taxes and income taxes withheld from wages.

Employers who are liable for more than $100 of these taxes in one month are required to deposit them in either a Federal Reserve Bank or a commercial bank authorized to receive such deposits for transmittal to the Federal Reserve Bank.

Deposits are required for taxes resulting from wages paid in after the first and second month of each quarter. The deposits should be made by Jan. 15, but may be made earlier.

Employers will be furnished with blank copies of Treasury Department Receipt Form 450 to use in making deposits. After the form and remittance are received and checked by the Federal Reserve Bank, the deposit receipt will be validated and mailed back to the employer for attachment to his quarterly return.
