Grading and Structures Are Planned

By JIM McCLUSKEY
News Staff Writer

Much enthusiasm was expressed yesterday among local officials when it was learned the State Highway Commission, during an executive session at Austin Friday, gave its approval and made the appropriation for the grading and structures on State Highway 70 from 10 miles north of the Gray County line north 15 miles.

The estimated cost of the project is $136,500. The action of the commission followed a hearing Thursday at which time County Judge Bruce Parker, Joe Clark, Ernest Beck and Fred Vanderburg, members of the County Commissioners Court, appeared before the commission asking the completion of the project.

The County Commissioners Court, city officials and Chamber of Commerce officials have been working toward the realization of this project for the past 10 years. The final approval comes at an appropriate time, since city officials are now trying to do everything possible to lend assistance to the new oil discovery in Roberts County.

When the contract has been let and the project completed, a road including grade, drainage and structure will go to the Canadian River. It does not include paving. It is hoped the contract can be let.

RUTLEDGE CONVICTED OF 2ND DEGREE MURDER

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia. — (AP) — Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, Jr., last night was convicted of second degree murder in the slaying of Byron C. Hattman, alleged seducer of Rutledge's wife.

The verdict was returned in the courtroom at 8:11 p. m. (CST).

The jury had deliberated 3 hours and 41 minutes with a hour out for dinner.

Second degree murder carries a sentence of 10 years to life imprisonment. The determination of sentence will be up to District Judge J. E. Heiserman.

Two extreme choices were before the jurors who have been isolated from family, friends, newspapers and newscasts since May 9.

The defense demanded complete and immediate freedom for Rutledge, but the jury refused. The prosecutor said he would leave it to the jurors to decide between death by hanging and life imprisonment.

Two alternative verdicts — second degree murder (10 years to life) and manslaughter (5 years in prison) — also were submitted by District Judge J. E. Heiserman for the jury's consideration.

The judge advised the jury it was in their province to determine whether the death penalty should be required if they convict the young doctor of first degree murder.

He said the jury could use either direct or circumstantial (See RUTLEDGE, Page 2)

WEST TAKES BOLD STAND ON GERMANY

WASHINGTON — (AP) — American officials said Saturday that major cold war developments of the past week probably would have a vital bearing on the balance of East-West forces in the months immediately ahead.

Four events earlier in the week were topped off by the Western proposal at the Paris Foreign Ministers' Meeting that Russia accept the West German Bonn Constitution as a basis for unifying all of Germany.

This was by far the boldest stand that the West had yet taken in big four negotiations on Germany, since it appeared to sacrifice much of its ground for important compromise.

Particular interest was shown here in the Russian handling of the railway strike in Berlin.

The West's developments made it appear that the Soviets had sacrificed much of the good will they won through lifting of the Berlin blockade. There had been hope the blockade lifting might mean that a basic change in Russian diplomacy would unfold at the Paris conference.

The developments are:

1. The new Berlin crisis — at the moment when many people, including highest officials here, had hoped East-West relations in Germany would be returning to something like normal, Berlin is again being supplied by air; the trains once more are halted.
2. Whatever the reasons for the rail strike and the merits of the Russian case, the Soviets are at the Paris conference.

This Time It's Ella vs. George

HOUSTON — (AP) — The bill of divorcement read: Ella vs. George Friddle.

And this time it's Ella vs. George Friddle.

In six other divorce actions, it was always: George vs. Ella Friddle.

The couple married for the first time in 1944 after a lonely heart club correspondence, said Ella.

George is 59 years old and Ella 60.

Each had married four times before they started marrying each other.

Teen-Agers Picked Up in Park Theft

Four teen-age youths, one a city employe, were picked up Friday by Juvenile Officer H. A. Doggett when evidence pointed toward them in the burglary of Oiler Park Thursday night when 12 baseballs and four baseball gloves were stolen.

The boys climbed the fence and proceeded to cut every screen in the locker room until they found an open window. Once inside, they helped themselves to four gloves and 12 baseballs. Eight of them were an unusual size.

The boys played with every one of the balls, ruining and soiling most of them. Finished with the gloves and balls for the time, they secreted them in postholes around Oiler Park. The younger brother of one of the boys learned of the job and told police what he knew.

Two of the boys were 17, one 16 and the other 15. The youth that worked for the city was fired Friday, after he admitted his part in the break-in, city officials revealed.

A hearing has been set in Juvenile Court on June 3. No official charges were lodged against the two 17-year-olds, who could be sent to the penitentiary for the offense.

Chief of Police Louis Allen said all of the balls and gloves were returned and the boys agreed to pay for the ruined balls — a bill that will come to $31.20.

DOUGLASS AND STATES' RIGHTERS AGAINST TIDELAND COMPROMISE

Atty. Curtis Douglas, State Executive Committee chairman of the Texas States' Rights Party, yesterday fired back at Lt. Governor Allen Shivers and lined up with Atty. General Price Daniel against the tideland compromise proposal that Shivers backed earlier in the week in Washington.

At that time Shivers claimed in part that the state would stand to gain by agreeing to split the revenue received from the 10 1/2 mile strip with the federal government in exchange for a similar 60-60 split with the revenue derived by the government from oil production beyond that area that the state is not claiming.

At the same time Daniel differed sharply with Shivers and declared there could be no compromise.

Declared Douglas yesterday in a prepared statement:

"The boundary of Texas extends 10 1/2 miles from the Gulf Coast because that was the Gulf Republic and when Texas was annexed to the union, Texas retained title to those lands. The school children of Texas own that 10 1/2 mile strip whether it is covered by water or not and whether it has oil under it or not. They own it just the same as they own the undisposed of public school lands in the state.

"There is no compromise as to principle. There are some things that cannot be compromised. I am not willing to admit that the Supreme Court of the United States will hold against Texas, but if such should be the case I still believe Congress will support our rights to these properties.

"The case as against California is not in point as against Texas. I commend Attorney General Daniel's stand that there should be no compromise and I believe that every red-blooded Texan is against any character of compromise such as would contemplate that part of the area of Texas which belongs to the Texas school children."

Meanwhile an Associated Press dispatch disclosed Rep. Rayburn had invited Atty. General Daniel to a conference in Washington to see "whether a tideland plan acceptable to the administration and the states could be worked out."

According to the AP, Daniel was quoted as the source of the invitation extended him by Rayburn. The Dallas News was also quoted by the AP as revealing Rayburn had included Louisiana and California officials to the meeting.

Dani's was quoted further by the Dallas News as reaffirming his all-out stand against the compromise — that originated with Shivers.

"I will not support any act of Congress that does not recognize the validity of Texas' annexation agreement," said Daniel.

At stake in the tideland squabble are millions in royalties from oil rich offshore lands.

The U.S. government contends it owns the off shore property. It won a U.S. Supreme Court decision that it holds "paramount rights" in California tidelands.

The Supreme Court recently ruled the government could sue Texas and Louisiana for their oil rich tidelands. The two states argued they couldn't be sued unless they consented to the suits.

One-Fourth Bond Drive Quota Raised

Gray County has achieved 25.5 percent of its quota in the Opportunity Drive for the sale of Series E Savings Bonds, Sherman White, county chairman, said yesterday.

The drive, which started May 16, showed the first week's total of $35,444.25, according to a sales report received from state Savings Bonds Headquarters in Dallas.

Gray County's quota is $120,000 of the $36,950,000 quota for Texas. The report from Dallas showed the first week of Texas sales amounted to $19,460,300 or 52 percent of the state quota.

Several counties reached and exceeded their quotas during the first week of the drive and others showed sales of 50 percent or more of quotas, the report said.

Nathan Adams, Dallas state Savings Bonds chairman, has predicted that Texas will far exceed its quota "in the most successful Savings Bonds campaign since the war." The drive will close June 30.

Counties already having reached or exceeded their quotas are Andrews, Bailey, Blanco, Cass, Coke, Dawson, Ector, Goliad, Hall, Irion, Kimble, Lampasas, Mills, Montgomery, Newton, Scurry and Stephens.

"I again urge the people of Gray County to participate in this Opportunity Drive to the full of their ability," Judge White said.

Texas, 74, Gets Degree

AUSTIN — (AP) — Seventy-four-year-old Wiley Junius Carnathan of Abilene will be awarded his Doctor of Philosophy Degree in history from the University of Texas Monday.

He is one of the oldest graduates in the University's history. Carnathan wrote his thesis on the slavery question. University officials did not know whether he would be on hand to receive his degree in person. He returned home last week.

He received his Bachelor's Degree from Birmingham Southern College in Alabama in 1911 and his Master's Degree from Vanderbilt University in 1918. He taught at Southwestern University, Georgetown, in 1919, but most of his teaching career was spent at Brooklyn College, N.Y., where he was associated from 1926 to 1948. He is now retired.

Rodeo Directors' Meeting Called

Members of the Board of Directors of the Top O' Texas Rodeo and Horse Show have been requested to meet at 3 p. m. Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce to perfect plans for the 1949 show.

The annual rodeo and horse show will be held Aug. 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 at Recreation Park. The meeting was called by W. D. Price, president, and asked that all members attend Tuesday's meeting.

Census Gives Increase in Gray Schools

Ninety-eight more students will attend Gray County schools during the 1949-50 school year than last year, Euelyn Laycock, county superintendent of schools, said yesterday.

The school census, just completed, shows Pampa schools will have 113 more students during the forthcoming year than the past year. There are now 4,207 students enrolled in Pampa schools as compared with 4,094 for the past school year.

The total number of students registered in the county schools now is 5,487 as compared with 5,389 for the last session.

Most of the schools' enrollments for the forthcoming year show decreases. They are: Lefors, 419 students, a loss of three students; Col. Only two days before he entered the hospital, Ripley appeared on his television program over the National Broadcasting Company network.

The subject of his last program was the story behind the writing of "Taps," the bugle call of the dead—and as Ripley would have put it—believe it or not.

Bob Ripley Dies at 55

NEW YORK — (AP) — Robert L. Ripley, world famous creator of "Believe It or Not" cartoons, is dead.

The 55-year-old Ripley, who made a career of gathering strange and exotic facts around the earth, died of a heart attack Friday at Columbia - Presbyterian Medical Center.

Besides turning out his daily cartoon feature for use in some 300 publications, Ripley had expanded his work into books, radio, the movies and recently, television.

Col. Robert Hyland, his business manager and attorney, said Ripley had directed that "Believe It or Not" enterprises and collections, incorporated in a holding company, be carried on after his death as "an American Institution."

Mrs. Robinson Dies at Groom

Mrs. Mildred J. Robinson, 328 N. Hobart, died at 1:30 a. m. yesterday at the Groom Hospital following a two-week illness.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the First Presbyterian Church, with Dr. Douglas Nelson officiating.

Mrs. Robinson, born in Russell, Kans., March 22, 1900, had been a resident of Pampa since 1928. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and the wife of A. D. Robinson, local trucking contractor.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Roland Klein, and a daughter, Alice Jean, both of Pampa; four brothers and eight sisters.

Burial will be under direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home and will take place at Fairview Cemetery.

Three Held For Forgery

W. E. Thurston, 30, Shamrock, a "four-time loser" and a possible fifth trip to the penitentiary yesterday when Texas Rangers brought him to Pampa from Wheeler County on forgery charges here.

Thurston and two other men, Leonard Earl Bonner, 27, and Santa Fe, N. M., and Billy Gaither, 19, are being held in connection with several forgeries in McLean, Sweetwater, Sayre, Okla., Wheeler and Arkansas. Gaither and Bonner, both of Shamrock, are being held in the Wheeler County Jail.

Sheriff Jess Swink, Wheeler, said the hunt for the three men started sometime ago after several forged checks turned up in the above places with the name of John Van Hus, Collinsworth County, Mo., signed to them. Van Hus' car, along with several other cars around Wellington were ransacked over a month ago and Van Hus' cancelled checks found. The forged checks had passable copies of his name to them. The checks, Swink said, averaged around $40 each.

Swink, along with deputy Sheriff Lynn Frank, Shamrock, and Texas Rangers Carl Probst and Kelly Rogers, traced Bonner to Childress where he was picked up several days ago. Gaither was traced to Batesville, Ark., where he was nabbed and signed papers of extradition. Thurston was picked up at Tulsa last week.

Some confusion yesterday among motorists at the intersection of Ballard and Browning, where four-way stops have been set up this past week. Heretofore, motorists had to stop entering Ballard from Browning, but now all motorists have to stop at that intersection.

SMARTY PANTS IS STILL SMARTING—"This is where I got it," says 6-year-old Perry Ward, of Cleveland, O., as he shows his battle marks to his wandering companions, Ferdinand Weiler, 5, and Joseph Sweeney, 7. The trio of first-graders was missing five hours after Perry talked his buddies into hitting the road to visit an aunt's dog several miles away. But Perry got his pint-sized expedition lost. They appealed to a stranger who took them all back to their homes. Only Perry's outraged parents followed through with a spanking. And Perry was deeply "touched."

MEMORIAL DAY RITES TOMORROW AT 3 P. M.

Most Top o' Texas Cities To Honor Their War Dead

Most cities and towns in the Top o' Texas area are holding memorial services for their war dead today or tomorrow and many by all business places in the Pampa area will be closed Monday for the long holiday weekend.

McLean will hold its third annual memorial service at 3 a. m. today in the High School Auditorium under the direction of the sponsoring McLean Lions Club.

John R. Fulmer, minister of the McLean Church of Christ, will deliver the principal address. Lester Campbell, president of the Lions Club, will preside, and Lester Dymart will be in charge of the decorations.

In Miami, a memorial service will be held at 11:30 a. m. today in the school auditorium.

The Rev. Dwight L. Baker, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Miami, will deliver the main address. The Rev. Barrett Moore, pastor of the First Christian Church, will give the invocation, and Judge J. K. McKenzie will ask the benediction.

At 2 p. m. today all veterans are asked to meet in the Miami Cemetery to decorate the graves of Roberts County's war dead.

All the Miami churches have agreed to dismiss at 11 a. m. so the members of their congregations can attend the special service.

No special services, aside from the regular Sunday church programs, are planned in Canadian. A few of the drug stores, service stations, and restaurants will stay open in the public interest Monday, but the remainder of Canadian's business houses will be closed.

Lee E. Rawlings, minister of the Perryton Church of Christ, will deliver a Memorial Day address at special services in the Ochiltree Cemetery tomorrow afternoon.

Members of the Legion Auxiliary will place flags on the graves of the veteran dead prior to the program.

The Perryton services are being sponsored by the Pierce Johnson Post, American Legion.

In Shamrock, memorial services will be held at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow in the newly-dedicated Legion Hall.

Mayor Jack Montgomery, commander of the DeShazo-George Post, American Legion, will give the opening address, which will be followed by a prayer by the Rev. Edward C. Orr, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Members of the Legion Auxiliary will have charge of arranging flowers and decorating graves of war dead in the Shamrock Cemetery.

A Memorial Day dance will be held at 9 p. m. in the Legion Hall.

The public has been invited to attend Memorial Day program at the Alvin school gymnasium at 11 a. m. tomorrow after which the whole town will turn out to clean the cemetery.

An organization recently was formed to perpetuate the cemetery. Residents have been asked to bring their lunches and bring weed hooks to assist in the general cemetery clean-up, which is expected to get underway at 1 p. m.

Clean-Up to Start Again

Bogged down by intermittent rains, the city's "clean-up" campaign will be resumed again Tuesday morning if it doesn't rain.

Plans now, according to Fire Chief Ernest Winborn, call for starting in Ward 3, working it over thoroughly, and then finishing the incompleting part of Ward 2.

At the same time, Tuesday, the DDT fog machinery will start its first spraying over the city. This year, both streets and alleys will be given the anti-bug treatment instead of only alleys as was done last year.

On Wednesday — still, if it doesn't rain — the city's graders and maintainers will begin their summer "trot" through alleys ironing out ruts and knocking down high spots.

In the meantime, the Street Department was bringing street marking to completion with 250 signs now in place, making the marking complete for the south side and the Talley Addition.

The double-plated steel signs with the direction and block number beside the street's name are being put together in the city barn. Painted white, with black letters and borders, the signs are perched atop steel pipes approximately 12 feet high.

Good Citizenship Awards Will Go to Carver Students

Three good citizenship awards will be presented by the Twentieth Century Club at 8:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Carver School graduation exercises when four students are graduated.

T. W. Pratt, Dallas, will be the principal commencement speaker, using as his topic, "Education." James Randall, principal, said.

The Twentieth Century Club has presented good citizenship awards for the past three years to outstanding Carver School students. One award will go to a lower division student, one to an intermediate division student and one to a High School graduate.

The awards, based on both students' work, will be presented on the basis of character—truthfulness, honesty, high ideals, dependability; service—loyalty, cooperation; courtesy and willingness to help others; and scholarship—creditable grades in all subjects.

Carver School teachers select students who will win the awards. Graduating Seniors are Henry Alton Bonner, Virgil Coleman, Jr., Wanda Lou Dunn and Herbert Hodge, Jr.

Seven intermediate division students were awarded their Junior High School diplomas Friday night. They were Norma Jean Hodge, Wardell Bonner, Joe Francis Oliver, Benny Lee Oliver, Henry Louis Woods, Charles Roland, Jr., and Alfred Carter Parker.

Sixth 'Hex' Victim Dies

WALLA WALLA, Wash. — (AP) — Jake Bird claimed his sixth "hex" victim Thursday night. In an interview with Pierce County Prosecutor Patrick Steele, the condemned slayer, who earlier in the day received a 30-day stay of execution, said he had put his famous hex on a former Washington state penitentiary guard, Arthur A. Stowdard. Stowdard retired shortly after the time Bird claims to have applied the hex and returned to his home in Worcester, Mass. He died in Cushing Veterans Hospital, Framingham, Mass., April 27. Bird said he told Stowdard: "You'll die before I will." He added: "Oh, I put the hex on him all right, but it was just in fun." When Bird was condemned to death a year and a half ago in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Bertha Kludt Oct. 31, 1947, in Tacoma, he said those connected with the case would die before he would. Since then, five of them have died.

Canadian Bonds Carry

CANADIAN (Special) — By 8:30 p. m. yesterday a definite trend was established here in the special election on two county bond issues with both carrying by wide margins.

Extremely light voting was registered as only 178 voters out of a possible 1,500 were counted by 9:30 p. m.

The $30,000 hospital bond issue was leading by a vote of 159 to 18 while the $25,000 road bond issue was ahead 181 to 21.

In Canadian's two boxes the hospital bond issue carried 111 to nine and the road bond issue won by a count of 104 to 14.

The five outstanding boxes do not have enough strength to swing the election and defeat either, or both, of the issues.

Road bonds of $25,000 are for the purchase of rights-of-way for designated state highways, including farm-to-market roads in the county.

The road bond issue is for setting up an operating fund for the purchase of rights-of-way for roads to be built in the county under the farm-to-market and rural roads plans. Thirteen miles of paving under the farm-to-market program are already set up for construction in the county.

Hospital bonds totaling $30,000 will go for equipping and maintaining the new Hemphill Memorial Hospital, now under construction, which is expected to be completed by July.

by early fall, as soon as final specifications have been made. County and Chamber of Commerce officials at present are working out plans for a temporary crossing over the river to suffice until the bridge has been contracted for and completed. Officials also will continue efforts toward the road's completion on the north side of the river.

Work on fencing of all rights-of-way in Roberts County on either side of the river is going forward. City, county and Chamber of Commerce officials, now that the project is turning into a reality, wish to acknowledge their appreciation for the help they are receiving from Roberts and Ochiltree Counties, as well as local, state and District officials of the Highway Commission. It was said.

Though the completion of the grading and structures on Highway 70 from 10 miles north of the Gray County line north 15 miles will not finish the road, it is an important step toward the completion of the entire road.

2. Deadlock at Paris — Secretary of State Acheson and other Western foreign ministers went to the Paris foreign ministers conference last week very puzzled as to why the Russians wanted such a meeting held. They supposed it was probably a cover for the lifting of the blockade. A full week of exchanges has produced no evidence that Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky intends to budge an inch on basic German issues.

No important Western concessions were in sight either.

3. Fall of Shanghai — another Communist victory put the Red flag over one of the world's largest cities.

But it also raised several major questions:

How well would the Communists be able to feed Shanghai's millions? How would they govern; when would they seek trade with Japan and the West? What would Russia do to help them solve their problems?

4. The East-West conflict centered Friday on a single man, Gerhart Eisler, who won in a London court his fight to prevent extradition to New York on a passport fraud conviction.

In the propaganda phase, which will now begin in earnest, diplomatic authorities here believe the U.S. and Communists would come off about even. Eisler won official sanction for his claim to escape America and could cry theft he was a victim of political persecution. The U.S. and Britain, on the other hand, showed a willingness to accept decisions of an independent court, contrasting sharply with the controlled courts of the Communist countries.

Oil Imports Blamed for Layoffs

DALLAS — (AP) — Imports of foreign oil were blamed for layoffs in the domestic petroleum industry.

The union official who expressed this belief predicted further unemployment.

E. E. Phelps of Denver, director of research and education for the Oil Workers International Union (OIU), told a House Small Business Committee:

"From July, 1948, to February and Mrs. Robert C. Rutledge, Sr., of Houston, Tex., parents of the defendant, and Dr. Howard Goodrich of Hannibal, Mo., father of Sydney (Mrs. Rutledge).

of this year, 7,000 persons lost their jobs in crude and natural gas production. "Considering all present trends, further layoffs can be expected unless the industry is allowed to expand."

The House committee ended two days of inquiry here into the impact of imports on the United States' domestic oil business and national security.

Wallace E. Pratt, Carlsbad, N. M., told the committee a domestic industry, with capacity and equipment to supply present-time demand, is the best assurance of adequate supplies of petroleum products in war.

Angus G. Wynne, Longview, Tex., said bluntly that independent oil operators, "can't stand the impact of imported oil."

Senate Passes on Forrestral Plan

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Some of the plans of the late James V. Forrestral for more teamwork among the Army, Navy and Air Force have taken one big step toward coming true.

The Senate approved a bill for tighter unification but it faces an uncertain future in the House.

Forrestral, the first secretary of defense, recommended the changes before he resigned and became ill after 18 months of trying to get the three services together. He killed himself Sunday.

In broad terms, the Senate-approved bill would clarify and expand the direction and control of secretaries of defense over the spending and policies of the three military departments.

evidence but cautioned that "the links in the chain must be conclusive and related."

The instructions by Judge Heiserman marked the last step in the trial proper. The case had its beginnings May 2.

Throughout the long trial Mrs. Rutledge, usually clad in a white blouse and a black ballerina skirt, has been at her husband's side. The only exceptions were when he gave his own testimony, when she was on the stand, and two short intervals when she was ill.

The judge said he would receive the verdict at any time it was ready — day or night.

Present in courtroom when the jury took the case were Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hattman of Coraopolis, Pa., parents of Byron; Mr.

Mexico Not Set To Send Workers

EL PASO — (AP) — The President of Mexico said negotiations to send Mexican contract labor to the United States will continue. But Miguel Aleman said to Juarez that Mexico is not yet ready to send braceros (contract workers) to the United States. Aleman laid the cornerstone on a new bridge at Cordova Island across the Rio Grande and visited a new juvenile home. The President and his party flew here from Chihuahua City.

Hearing on Injunction Is Postponed

A hearing in 31st District Court before Judge Lewis M. Goodrich Friday on an application for a temporary injunction, seeking to restrain a chicken slaughtering business here from operation, was postponed until this Friday due to incomplete service on several witnesses.

The application was filed by Alvin D. Henry against W. T. Hammi, L. A. Morrison, and Bob Watson.

Friday one woman was granted a divorce and an annulment at the same time. The annulment was granted to Ernestine Gainsou from Archie Lee Gainsou when the defendant learned her final divorce decree from Clifton R. Butler had not been handed down by the Court. According to testimony in the annulment proceedings, the plaintiff had filed a divorce suit against Butler shortly after he was sent to the penitentiary. The suit was filed in 1947 by Atty. John D. Stennis, deceased. A hearing was held in 31st District Court, but the judgment not handed down. There was no record on the hearing. The plaintiff, believing she was divorced, married Gainsou. The error turned up several weeks ago. Friday she was granted the annulment and the divorce by Judge Goodrich and the judgments handed down.

The Court also granted a decree to Dee Patterson from James Henry Patterson on charges of cruelty. Plaintiff's petition stated they were married in August, 1943 and separated in November, 1946.

49 Boys Are Show Guests

Forty-nine boys from Pampa and Borger attended a free picture show given Saturday at the La Nora by the local theater manager, Paul West.

Most of the boys had already signed up for the July 24 running of the Soap Box Derby here. The show was held in that connection.

The winner of the Derby will be entered in the international finals at Akron, Ohio, in August. The trip will be financed by The News, co-sponsor of the local race, with Chevrolet Division of General Motors, Culberson Chevrolet, and the Pampa Lions Club.

Competition Not Allowed

THENTON, N. J. — (AP) — The State of New Jersey has ordered Sheffield Farms to withdraw a three-cent a quart cut in milk prices or face the loss of its license to sell.

Attorney General Theodore D. Parsons was quoted as declaring the state has authority to revoke licenses of dealers engaged in practices harmful to the dairy industry.

Sheffield was the first company to slash prices. Other dealers in North Jersey then lowered their prices and the movement quickly spread to other sections of the state.

The name "Thule" was applied at different times in antiquity to Norway and to Iceland.

START WHEAT HARVEST—Daily thundershowers over the Texas wheat belts have delayed cutting of this year's bumper grain crop. During a respite from the rain, these workers begin the cutting of wheat on the Pennington spread at Guyer, Texas. They are using combines belonging to the Fry Brothers of Wichita, Kans. The yield averages from 50 to 35 bushels per acre.

Baptist Bible Class Starts

SHAMROCK — (Special) — The annual vacation Bible school at the Baptist Church will open Monday from 9 to 11:30 a. m., Rev. Edward C. Derr, pastor announced this morning.

There will be four departments: beginner, primary, junior and intermediate. All children four through 14 years old are eligible to attend.

Ben F. Brannon, vice consul, has been promoted to visa examining officer and has been sent from Haifa, Israel, to Hamburg, Germany.

Brannon, who is a brother of Cabot Brannon of Shamrock, was at Beirut, Lebanon, one and a half years prior to his post in Haifa. He was also stationed in New Delhi, India, and while in the Army was with the O. S. S. in China.

Bob Douglas, newly appointed secretary-manager of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce, announced this week that his office in the Community Building will be used as a clearing house for producers and laborers during the approaching wheat harvest.

Douglas stated that he would keep a record of the needs of farmers who contact him as well as harvest hands who will be available. Farmers and laborers are urged to contact the Chamber of Commerce Office as soon as possible.

Rhuel Wilson, manager of the Union Bus Station, announced the inauguration of an express service from Shamrock to Amarillo and from Shamrock to Oklahoma City.

There will be no stops between here and Amarillo and only one at Clinton, between here and Oklahoma City.

The west bound bus leaves at 1:36 a. m. and 1:56 p. m.; and the east bound leaves at 3:42 a. m. and 6:45 p. m.

Court Order Halts Katy

HILLSBORO, Tex. — (AP) — A court order has stopped the MKT Railroad from changing service on its Waco-Stamford branch without State Railroad Commission approval.

District Judge Frank G. MacDonald Friday granted an injunction asked by the City of Whitney. The railroad said it would appeal.

Effective May 21 the Katy had planned to substitute combined freight and passenger trains for the twice-daily passenger trains run on the 128-mile line.

A restraining order held that up. Then MacDonald, ruling after two days of argument, enjoined the railroad pending an order from the commission.

Attorneys for Whitney, De Leon and Dublin joined in arguing that their sole aim in the suit was to get the case before the commission.

Katy lawyers said MacDonald had no jurisdiction. They said that since the towns had protested by letter to the Railroad Commission, the matter was before that body.

They argued that the commission had full knowledge of the proposed change; had taken no action, and that it amounted to admission by the commission that the railroad was not violating any rules.

33,000 Mexicans Employed in U.S.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — An estimated 33,000 Mexican seasonal laborers employed in the U. S. last year earned probably $19,720,000.

The United States Employment Service said the workers came to the United States on three- to six-month seasonal jobs and earned an approximate average of $1090 each.

A USES spokesman said no arrangements have been made as yet for the importation of Mexican workers this year. No agreement has been reached between the U. S. State Department and the Mexican Foreign Office on the situation. Negotiations have been going on for 90 days.

California used the most Mexican workers last year, around 10,710. Arkansas, Mississippi and Arizona were others employing a great number of workers.

If the Mexican workers come to the U. S. again this year, the USES said, the workers will once again be insured against accident as they were last year. Employers, they said, will also take care of burial expenses in case of death.

It would take about 3,000,000 earthen to equal the bulk of the sun.

One-Week Revival Begins Tonight

Mrs. E. F. Denny, Fort Worth, will conduct a one-week revival at the Salvation Army Hall, 413 E. Albert, beginning tonight. The services will start at 7:30 p. m.

Maj. Bernice Lyons, in charge of local post, said original plans were for a two-week revival, but that they had to be changed because of Fort Worth floods, which required more Salvation Army work there.

Arctic waters have relatively small salt content because of lack of evaporation and the inflow of many rivers.

MEMORIAL DAY TRIBUTE
To America's Valiant Dead

On this Memorial Day the nation turns once more in solemn remembrance to the quiet places of the earth, where those who gave their lives for America lie at rest. There the fallen soldiers of democracy sleep in peace. We honor them in our ceremonies and in our hearts . . . knowing full well that nothing we can do, nothing we can say will give complete expression to our gratitude and our love. Only as we match their faith and their sacrifice in our striving to preserve the freedom for which they laid down their lives, can we truly honor them. To us, the living, it means work and great devotion. God grant that it be enough!

Canton Boy Wins National Spelling Bee

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Kim Calvin, 13, Canton, Ohio, Friday won the 22nd annual National Spelling Bee. Runner-up was James Shea, 13, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Calvin, 13, from Avondale School, correctly spelled "dulcimer" after Shea spelled it "dolcimer."

Shea, also 13, is from St. Saviour School.

Calvin correctly spelled "onerous" to clinch the championship.

It took some 50 rounds to spell down the rest of the 49 contestants, all state and regional champions.

First prize is $500 and a New York trip. Second prize is $300.

Fred Shoup, 12, of David Starr Jordan, Jr., School, Palo Alto, Calif., won third prize and $100.

His downfall came after more than 50 rounds on "encyclical."

After he had waded through some of the toughest words in the book, he started his last word with an "a."

Shea fainted shortly after the windup of the bee. He was prevented from falling from the platform by someone standing near and he was revived in a short time.

Among those who went out in round three was Janelle Carter, 13, from East Chambers School, in Winnie, Texas. She missed "liaison."

The meet is sponsored by Scripps-Howard and other newspapers.

The words got tougher in the fifth and sixth rounds. The fifth knocked out five contestants.

Rebecca Smith, 13, of the Estelina School, in Memphis, Texas, missed "trousseau."

Harriet Smith, 12, of De Zavala School, Fort Worth, Texas, came to grief on "expatriate," and Lynn Owens, 13, of Jackson Junior High, Houston, Texas, went down on "barricade."

Oil Concerns Plan Merger

DALLAS—(AP)—C. H. Zachry, president of Southern Union Gas Company, says stockholders of his company and of Texas Public Service Company will vote on a merger July 12.

Texas Public Service would be merged into Southern Union, he told stockholders.

Texas Public Service Company owns and operates natural gas distribution systems presently serving 65,000 consumers in Austin, Galveston and Port Arthur.

Southern Union, operating for 21 years primarily in West Texas and New Mexico, will become a better balanced company if the merger is completed Zachary said.

At the same meeting the directors declared the regular quarterly dividend on the four and one-fourth percent preferred stock and increased the dividend from 17 1/2 cents to 20 cents on the common stock.

13 Lions Given Attendance Awards

McLEAN—(Special)—Thirteen of the 30 members of the McLean Lions Club received awards this week for perfect attendance for the period from Sept. 5 to April 21.

Awards were presented by Jess Colman, chairman of the Attendance Committee, to: W. C. Meharg, Bob Shedrick, John W. Cooper, Boyd Meador, Johnny Back, M. W. Standish of Alameda, John Fulmer, Lester Campbell, D. A. Davis, Emory Crockett, Logan Cummings, J. M.

Fayne, and Lester Dysart. Davis, past secretary, was also presented a pin for a five-year perfect attendance record.

Annual Dedicated To Retiring Teacher

McLEAN—(Special)—"The Tumbleweed," the McLean High School annual, has been distributed to the students.

Jimmy Williams was editor this year, assisted by Billie James Rainwater, Earl Trimble, B. F. Goughly, Johnny Griffith, Kenneth Carter, Jessie Seay, LaVetta Gunn, LaWanda Shadd, and Sue Young.

The book, sponsored annually by the school's Press Club, is dedicated to the principal, Frank P. Wilson, who is retiring this year after a 40-year teaching service in the Pampa area.

The book has 68 picture pages, in contrast to the first publication in 1943 that had only 15 mimeographed picture pages.

Generous Friends Build Home for Evicted Family

HOBBS, N. M.—Shorty Sullivan and his family have a new ultra-modern home.

A week ago, they weren't so sure. Their old one had been sold for $14 (taxes Shorty didn't know were due). They were to have been evicted last Monday—Shorty, Mrs. Sullivan, son Jimmy and daughter, Selma Lee.

It all started with an order to evict Thomas Sullivan. The sheriff refused. The Hobbs Daily News-Sun gave it a big push.

The property wasn't very valuable and the sentiment was to let the delinquent tax line buyer have it.

Business men, civic clubs and individuals joined in to build a new home for Shorty. He has been able to do only light work since his back was broken in an oil field accident several years ago.

A Shorty's Home Fund was informally organized. Last weekend the job's workers pitched in to build it with donated materials on a lot that also was given.

Swarming like busy ants over the 16 by 30-foot structure, carpenters, plumbers, painters and electricians erected the four room house in 24 hours.

At 7 a. m. last Saturday, only a concrete foundation marked the site of the new home. By 7 p. m. the roof was up, the doors and windows hung, sheetrock walls nailed on and a flip of the switch turned on the lights.

"Better not go in there," a plumber warned. "You'll get nailed up in the walls." He was waiting for carpenters to finish laying hardwood floors so he could begin installation of fixtures.

Griming happily, Shorty tramped around the house late in the afternoon. Amazed, he said, "we sure do appreciate this."

"I'm glad I live in a place where people are generous enough to do a thing like this," Sheriff Owens said. "It makes a man feel good."

Aphrodite, goddess of love, is believed to have been adopted by Greece from a Semitic cult.

TODAY, I suppose, should be called Memorial Eve, since tomorrow is Memorial Day, that one day set aside when the graves of fallen warriors are decorated. . . . Actually, today is the real day of this year, since it is Sunday, and most people will visit the graves of their soldier dead some time today. . . . This is indeed a beautiful season, what with the rain and such bringing out the real brilliance of nature. . . . All of us who were not tornado-struck can really have something to be thankful for—and that is, being here. . . . Perhaps the bard is right who said nature never sends threatening skies and ominous winds and rains, but that there is something good to come from it. . . . We have not liked all the rain, which brought with it wind and even twisters, but it is making nature's carpet much, much greener than it would have been.

SORRY—Mrs. Frank Shotwell, sending a message to my Mail Bag, address Pampa Daily News, asked me to say something about a move to gather American pennies and dollars to help salvage a tuberculosis preventorium at St. Dies, France. Writing for the American Legion and the P-T-A organizations here, she wanted me to say school children could help by bringing pennies to school. But I didn't get the message in time for last Sunday, and now it is too late—school is out! Anyhow, it is a good idea—for it was the people of St. Dies who in the 18th Century suggested a fund which ultimately bought the Statue of Liberty for us.

GLIFFIC GLIMPSES—Delea Vicars industriously trimming his hedge. . . . Mrs. J. G. Doggett stepping out of a car in a beautiful lavender satin formal. . . . Miss Harrah immaculately groomed in white. . . . Mrs. Ed Weiss, even more attractive in her upsway hair-do. . . . Eva McGee, shining like the new diamond she was wearing. . . . Dorothy Meers, making quite a sensation at the graduation exercises when she played the violin. . . . Tom Rose, Jr., chaperoning the Seniors at a dance at the CC. . . . Mrs. Lieb Langston and Mrs. John Nutting reminiscing on their giving parties to the Seniors. . . . Roy Lee, sending Frank Terhune exchanging sales technique with the gals of ESA and Jayco-Ettes, who were sponsoring recent rummage sales. . . . Mrs. F. W. Shotwell delighted over her corsage of roses which she had gathered from a friend's garden. . . . Margaret Taylor wearing William James' diamond. . . . (don't know when the date is, but rumor says they will live in Utah after the knot is tied). . . . Miss Inez Clubb, history teacher at Junior High, will visit the New England states and Canada this summer. . . . wouldn't it be a pleasant surprise if she ran into Jessy and Joan Stroup who will complete their tour of 48 states this summer and head toward Alaska! . . . The Z. R. Osborns will spend the weekend holidays with Herman and Betty Dees at Ruidoso, N. M. . . . Miss Ruby Johnson and Mrs. Mary Call will attend school at Canyon during the summer. . . . Ethel Anderson is off for El Paso and College Station where she will meet her son, Kelly, who will accompany her home.

PANORAMA—The Ray Gibbons left Friday for California. . . . Rumor says that Ann Hobgood will travel through Old Mexico during the summer holidays. . . . Louie Hoopers will leave next weekend for California. . . . The D. E. Camberns off for New Mexico. . . . The congregation of the Episcopal Church is anticipating the installation of their new organ which will be installed very soon. . . . Drs. Johnnie looked especially pretty in a new black straw trimmed in pink taffeta. . . . oh, by the way, back to the Beaux Arts affair (Willingham, as noted above): Art Aftergut, Tom Capps and Paul Schneider were seen delighting in the antics of their children. . . . Lillian Mullinax, with her constant friendliness, has long been one of my favorite people. . . . The Greeley Warners and Charles Duenkel entertained at the CC Thursday night with an informal dinner. . . . whole bunch were there; must have been around 80. . . . saw the Eddie Duvans, Dr. M. C. Overtons, Dr. Johnsons from Amarillo, Ray Evanses, Frank Carters, Gene Greens, Roy McKernans, Clinton Henrys, Dr. Frank Kelleys, and Walter Rogerses among those eating turkey. . . . Jenn and Janet, the hostesses, looked pretty in cottons. . . . the opening of the Cabot Lodge, the Bar-N-I, was Friday when the heads of departments had an officers' meeting (stag party) at the lodge. . . . some drove up Thursday and others flew in Friday. . . . this is an affair when the women stay-to-home. . . . Mrs. J. F. Curtis is visiting in Little Rock in the home of her daughter, Betty Jane. . . . Betty is a local girl who married and moved away. . . . but when she comes in for a visit, it's a treat. . . . don't say I said it, but understand the Rev. Clyde Smith (who, by the way, is one of the city's favorite wits) never misses a chapter of the "Jungle Man." (To those who don't know, it's a serial at the Rex) . . . and don't ask me how I know. . . . constant caravan of cars: Hubert Finkelstein driving a Town and Country convertible Chrysler. . . . also in the convertible line, Vertye Rose in a green dyna-flow, setting her off in a brown and white polka dot silk. . . . blessed-evening: the Irv Aksts.

WELL, I feel fine—simply fine!—that I have gotten through today's piece, for, as the saying goes, "right now I'm disinclined to work—and this is work, to me. . . . oftentimes I write something and then tear it up and start over, and that makes the finished product more sweet (provided I haven't made too many mistakes). I'm like the poet who said:

This life's preponderance of defeat
That makes each small success so sweet.

Annual President's Reception Held By Council of Clubs Friday Night

The Council of Clubs held its annual President's Reception Friday night at the Club Rooms.

Mrs. Ed Weiss, Jr., out-going president of the Council, headed the receiving line which was composed of all the club presidents.

The register was very unique. It was made of hundreds of paper "flower" petals. In the very center, a real flower was placed and the guests signed a petal for registration. Mrs. Floyd Imel presided at the register.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Jake Garman and Mrs. J. G. Doggett. The table was centered with roses flanked by tall white tapers.

Mrs. Weiss thanked the program over to the program chairman, Mrs. Fred Thompson, who introduced the entertainment.

Dorothy Meers, accompanied by Helen Kay Wilson, presented two violin selections, "Minuet" and "Smiling Through."

Janis Foster, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Foster, gave her piano renditions of "Rhondo" and "Etude."

Margaret Humphreys, a cello accompanied by Mrs. Virgil Mott, sang "Gypsy Love Song" and "Without A Song."

Two piano numbers, "Butterfly" by LaVale and "Rushing Rivers" by Adlers, were presented by Wynell Weathered, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Weathered.

Completing the program, Hilda Jo Larned tapped "Putting On The Ritz" accompanied by Miss June Guill at the piano.

The installation followed the program with Mrs. Weiss in charge.

Each out-going officer made a wish for his successor. Mrs. C. E. High, parliamentary, made (See ANNUAL, Page 12)

Grad Breakfast Honors Senior

Miss Joan Clay was honored with a graduation breakfast Thursday morning by her mother, Mrs. Jess Clay of 517 N. West.

Three tables covered with blue linens were used to seat the Senior guests. Favours of charm bracelets were used as place cards.

Centering the main table was a doll with cap and gown on a mirror reflector. Projecting from the doll were strips of green and gold ribbon which extended to smaller dolls tagged with various occupations for later life.

Pivoting bridge provided entertainment for the group, followed by the taking of moving pictures to be shown one year from that date.

Prizes for high scorer and second high were awarded Patty Bolin and Sharon Chapman.

Those attending were: Misses Barbara Coonrod, June Ann Fahle, Patty Bolin, Sharon Chapman, Lela Ward, Donna Nestiel, Johnny Sue Hart, Bobby Tucker, Arvilla Patterson, Betty Joyce Scott, Naneen Campbell, the honoree, and the honoree's mother.

Mr. James Honored At Family Reunion

SHAMROCK —(Special)— Mr. A. J. James of Shamrock was honored last Sunday at a family reunion at Luger Lake near Mangum, Okla.

It was the first time in nine years that the James family had been together.

Relatives present were: Messrs. and Meses. H. J. Clark and W. E. Merchant, all of Dozier; Dennis James, Shamrock; J. T. James, Los Angeles, Calif.; Curt Kidwell, Wheeler, Vernie James, Tyrone, Okla.; Glenn Payne, Santa Monica, Calif.; and Mrs. Velma Cannon, Shamrock, and their respective families.

Friends attending were: Messrs. and Meses. Carl Henry, Shamrock; W. W. Henry, Bethel; and T. A. Hendricks, Tyrone, Okla.

Lemon Frosting

To make a lemon frosting for the top of an 8-inch sponge cake, cream two tablespoons butter or margarine, beat in a cup of confectioners' sugar. (Be sure to sieve the sugar if it is at all lumpy.) Now add a tablespoon of lemon juice (the juice of half a small lemon is usually enough) and thin with a little cream. Sprinkle with finely chopped nuts after spreading over the top of the cake if desired; this amount of icing will not frost sides.

ISLAND OF ESCAPE

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

THE STORY. Henry Gough Harding, executive manager of the "New Eden" on Spears Island, has invited, through a matrimonial club, three women to his island. One, after a three-month period of acquaintance, will become his bride, but his bride need not expect to share his money. Bea Cosgrove, Mabel Jones, Agnes Firth and Lily Warren are given each a different colored dress—the basic of the household duties. Bea, who is to cook, shares a room with Lily. The morning after their arrival, Lily says that during the night Miss Cosgrove talked in her sleep about "some guy named Jim."

Harding twisted one hand in the shirtfront of the man. There was a dull, meaty sound.

THERE was a huge pot of coffee on the back of the stove. Bea had a cup while she stirred up hot cakes and sliced bacon from a side with a razor sharp knife.

Mabel Jones came in the back door to the kitchen. "About time," she said.

Bea stared. The green of Mabel's dress was kind. Obviously Lily's description of the woman's body was true, but the soft color made her mallow cheeks take on a more lifelike coloring. It gave new depth to her eyes and a sheen to her gray-brown hair.

"Why how nice you look!" Mrs. Jones's face relaxed. She chuckled. "Surprised you too, did it?" She sobered instantly, went on. "His upset because you're so late."

Bea bit her lips. "Where is he?" "Out showing Miss Firth where to take the sheep. She only wanted coffee." Mabel shrugged at that nonsense. "But he'll be back soon now."

"All right. Go in and sit down. I'll have things ready right away." When Mabel obeyed, she muttered to herself. "Mustn't let him get upset. No indeed!"

There were large quantities of bacon and hot cakes consumed at the first breakfast, but even Lily Warren gave up trying to make it a pleasant meal.

Henry Harding was pleased for a moment at the way the dresses fitted, but he sank back at once into gloomy silence broken only when he pushed back his emptied plate. "I realize," he said, "this morning is an exception. I make allowances for that. However we must set up a schedule at once."

He was silent again and Mabel Jones took the opportunity to slip away, back to the garden.

"Miss Cosgrove, which bed did you choose in your room?" She told him.

"Good. Every morning when I awaken I will pound on the wall from my side of the lower room. So you'll know it is time to get up."

"Oh fine," Bea said. She rattled a plate to cover the words.

"Then next week," she went on, "you can change beds with Mrs. Warren and she can take over the house duties. And now, Mrs. Warren, if you'll come with me, I'll show you what to do."

Lily smiled and got up. "I'm ready," she said.

MABEL JONES moved swiftly into the room, panting. "People coming. Men!" She pointed back over her shoulder.

Henry Harding hurried out on the veranda. The three women made a bright-colored background for him when he stopped.

Five men walked slowly toward them, bunched together. Swartzy men, in tattered jeans and shirts with loud, once-clashing patterns run together in a new pattern of cheap dye. They all carried knives in their belts, yet they stopped a short distance from where Harding stood and moved even closer together.

"Our water, senior. It did not come." The man who spoke moved a half step in front of the others. "It was forgotten. It will come."

"Why should it be forgotten? Are you the good God to take away our water?" The man scowled. He looked at the four behind him and advanced another step. "We are thirsty. We are tired of this foolishness."

"Are you making a demand?" Harding asked.

Bea shivered at the tone although Harding's voice was not raised. The fisherman felt it too but he stood his ground. Bea thought him a fool.

One of the four men behind him stuck a short pipe in his mouth and struck a match.

Harding made a low, wordless sound deep in his throat. He moved swiftly, neither walking nor running yet with a sinuous fluid method of erasing space. The spokesman had only time to raise one hand halfway, the palm out, before he tumbled back on his haunches.

Harding twisted one hand in the shirtfront of the man who had struck the match. His own white shirt split across the shoulders as he struck. There was a dull meaty sound.

THE fisherman turned a half somersault, landed on his shoulder blades, arms and legs flying. He settled quietly and flatly to the ground. Harding dropped the portion of the man's shirt he still held.

A little puff of smoke spiraled up from dry grass.

Harding tore at it with his bare hands. He stamped on it. He fought it into oblivion.

He stood erect and faced the men. They stepped back quickly. One crossed himself. The spokesman knelt beside his unconscious companion. "You have broken his jaw."

"Fortunate for him it was not his neck," Harding said calmly. "You know the rules about fire. Carry him up to the porch and I'll fix him up." He turned his back on the men, walked slowly toward the women.

Bea stifled a warning. She saw a fisherman come to a crouch. She saw his hand dart toward the knife in his belt. She saw that hand stop, watched the fisherman stare at it, shake his head in disbelief. He muttered under his breath and helped the others carry the man as Harding had ordered.

Bea Cosgrove read the hatred in their eyes. Their hatred for Henry Harding and their hatred for themselves because they were afraid.

Harding's face was set, calm. He went inside and reappeared with a metal first-aid case. He worked quickly, skillfully with the fractured jaw, bound it up.

The patient groaned, opened his eyes. One hand went to his jaw. Harding helped him to his feet and the man trembled at the touch. He lurched away, arms outstretched until his companions caught him.

The spokesman said, "The water, senior?"

"Will be turned on," Harding promised. "It will not be late again."

The fisherman nodded, joined the others. They went away slowly, half carrying the injured man. No one of them looked back.

HENRY GOUGH HARDING sucked boyishly at a skinned knuckle on his right hand. Lily Warren put on iodine.

"That's fine. You see, I must be quite firm about the rule of no fire. Those fishermen know the rules. I used the only language they would understand."

Bea asked, "The water? What did they mean?"

"There's only one source of fresh water on Spears Island. Before I took over it made a little stream and spilled over the cliff to a basin near their camp and was wasted. The water is needed. For the sheep, for irrigation of the garden. I had a pipe installed at considerable expense and led to their camp. Each day while they are on the island I turn on the water at a specified time. Today—well the incident is unimportant in itself, but it does show the need of a schedule. Now I'll give them their water."

The women watched him stride away around the corner of the house.

"What a man!" Lily Warren said. "What a sock! And the way he faced down those five. And he wasn't afraid."

Mabel Jones said harshly, "Fear! He does not know the meaning of the word." Her thin face was flushed. Her eyes were hard brilliant.

Agnes Firth emerged from a small gully, moved toward them sideways like an orange crab. Her eyes were glassy, her hair filled with grass. An elbow was skinned and her costume torn near the knee.

"We—we'll all be dead soon," she gasped. "We're to die. I felt it before. Now—now I know. There have been other women here before us."

Bea Cosgrove snapped, "Don't be a fool! What frightened you?" "I hid until those men left. I waited until he left before I dared to come out. To tell you I know. Her body stiffened. Harding had returned.

"What is it?" he demanded. "What happened? Did something happen to the sheep?"

Agnes Firth laughed. "The sheep—the sheep? Not the sheep. The graves I found. The four fresh graves."

Col. Lockhart Rejoins Unit

CANADIAN — (Special) — Lt. Col. Vincent M. Lockhart of Canadian has rejoined the regiment in which he first served as a private 13 years ago.

According to an announcement by General K. L. Berry, adjutant general of Texas, in Austin, Lt. Col. Lockhart has been transferred from Headquarters 36th Infantry Division, where he was assigned as assistant chief of staff, G-1, to Headquarters 142nd Infantry Regiment, where he will be executive officer, second in command under newly promoted Colonel Seldon Simpson of Amarillo.

Lt. Col. Lockhart first enlisted as a private in Co. F, 142nd Infantry, at Canyon, on Feb. 25, 1931, and later served in Hdq. Co., 2nd Battalion, of the same regiment in Amarillo. In this latter assignment, he gained his commission as a second lieutenant and was mobilized with the 142nd in November, 1940.

After a year's active duty with the infantry, he was transferred to the division headquarters as assistant adjutant general, and served in that office and the office of the assistant chief of staff, 72nd, throughout the war, including two and a half years in Europe.

He returned from overseas in September of 1945 and purchased The Canadian Record, from which "civilian" job he still finds time to be active as a citizen soldier in the Texas National Guard.

When European guilds were active, a man who infringed upon another's textile brand-mark was punished by having his right hand severed.

CLYDE CARRUTH, former county agent, has been appointed general superintendent of the 1950 Junior Livestock Show and Hereford Breeders Sale. He has served in this capacity for the past three shows. The 1950 show and sale will be held Feb. 13 and 14 at Recreation Park.

WAR CONTRABAND
Cotton frequently is called contraband of war since it is the principal ingredient of smokeless powder and, when it is combined with nitric acid, produces a high explosive.

Almost two years ago when I first became associated with newspaper work the boss called me in his office and said, "Ken, you're just starting in as an ad salesman and you won't have a very heavy list of accounts to call on. How about taking over the oil news, also?" That's the way I broke into the oil business. Until that time my chief interest had been microphones and pianos but from there on I devoted my time to calling on accounts and trying to find out the difference between granits wash and the Anadarko Basin. I know that in that period of time this column has made many mistakes but I am deeply gratified in the fact that the majority of oil associates knew of my dilemma and not only understood but did everything possible to help. I can sincerely say that I have never known people who were more willing to cooperate and help than have my many friends in the oil industry. All of which leads up to another call to the boss's office. "Ken," he says, "two things have happened since you started to work here. Your advertising ac-

Rev. Hill Advises Graduates

WHITE DEER—(Special)—Addressing them to have "horizons in their hearts," Rev. Leon Hill, pastor of the San Jacinto Baptist Church, Amarillo, addressed the members of the graduating class of White Deer High School Thursday evening in the grade school auditorium.

Frances Freeman received the Venado Blanco Citizenship Award, with Miss Gertrude Golladay, president of the Venado Blanco Club, making the presentation.

Ann Scott, daughter of Mrs. Helen Little Scott, Skelton, was the valedictorian and received scholarships to most of the schools in Texas. Her average for the four years was 92.5. Frances Freeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Freeman, White Deer, was salutatorian with an average of 91.5. She was given a physical re-check by Dr. Joe Donaldson.

The new dining hall was finished just before the first week of camp. The last part of the dining hall to be completed was the large stone fireplace.

The staff will accommodate 164 Scouts, but leaders of the council hope to keep the weekly number of Scouts at 125. Besides the Scouts, a large staff will be accommodated at camp.

Boys Open Scout Camp

One-hundred twenty-four Boy Scouts of the Adobe Walls Area Council are beginning their long awaited summer activity today as they open the camping season at Camp Ki-O-Wah.

Scouts of Pampa, Berger, Spearman, Perryton, Hardesty, Texoma, Morse and Turpin arrived at camp early this morning and were given a physical re-check by Dr. Joe Donaldson.

The new dining hall was finished just before the first week of camp. The last part of the dining hall to be completed was the large stone fireplace.

The staff will accommodate 164 Scouts, but leaders of the council hope to keep the weekly number of Scouts at 125. Besides the Scouts, a large staff will be accommodated at camp.

Over 100 Girl Scouts Register For Day Camp

By press time yesterday more than 100 Brownie and Tenderfoot Scouts had registered for Day Camp, which will begin one week from tomorrow, Mrs. Howard Vineyard, Day Camp chairman, said.

Brownies will start the camping activities the first week by attending Day Camp from 4:30 to 8:30 p.m. daily. Tenderfoot Scouts will begin their activities at 4:30 p.m., June 13.

A large staff will lead the Scouts in numerous out door activities. The staff has been requested to meet at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Scout House to receive final instructions.

Scouts who failed to register for camp by Friday may still do so Tuesday morning, Mrs. Vineyard said.

Man Fined on Charge of DWI

Edward C. Burba Friday afternoon was fined $100 and costs by County Judge Bruce Parker for driving while intoxicated.

City Police apprehended Burba shortly after midnight Thursday in the 1800 block of W. Brown.

The hearing was held up until Friday afternoon because county offices were closed during the morning hours for funeral services. Burba entered a plea of guilty before the Court and was ordered to pay $100 plus costs. The mandatory driver's license suspension for six months went along with the sentence.

Application for Station is Made

The Federal Communications Commission last week announced application had been made for a 250-watt radio station here at Pampa, to operate on 1230 kilocycles, unlimited time.

The application, filed with the commission, was made in the name of Hugh DeWitt Landis and Ross B. McAllister, a partnership.

Judgments Against Rand Favor State

AUSTIN—(AP)—Anti-trust judgments of $40,000 against Remington-Rand, Inc., and the Royal Typewriter Co., were entered in 126th District Court yesterday.

The judgments of $20,000 each brought to $85,000 the total amount recovered by the state in its suits against four major typewriter manufacturers charged with violating Texas' anti-trust laws.

Attorney General Price Daniel charged the typewriter companies fixed minimum retail prices below which they would not let portable typewriter dealers sell in Texas. On May 3, judgments for $12,500 each had been entered against C. Smith and Corona Typewriters, Inc., and the Underwood Corp.

Skelton Reviews Texas Oil News

HOUSTON, Texas—(AP)—A Congressional Committee has been asked to take steps to rescue Texas independent oil men from economic dangers of foreign oil.

One East Texas operator told a House Small Business Committee hearing at Dallas Thursday increased foreign crude imports have caused domestic production allowances that have reduced producer income approximately 50 percent.

A San Antonio independent said he had planned to complete five wells this year but only one now is contemplated because of decreased profits.

An official of the Oil Workers International Union, CIO, said organized labor also is alarmed over the rate of oil imports.

E. E. Phelps, Research Director, said the union is concerned because of unemployment resulting from the falling financial status of independent operators.

He estimated that 7,000 crude oil and natural gas employees, involving $2,570,000 in wages, lost their jobs between July and February.

Most of the witnesses called for immediate limitation of imports through adoption of a quota system.

Ernest O. Thompson, senior member of the Texas Railroad Commission, said imports should be limited to a certain percentage of domestic production. He estimated that the domestic market currently can absorb approximately 350,000 barrels of foreign oil daily.

Committee Chairman Wright Patman (D-Texas) said additional hearings will be held in Washington before a report is made to Congress.

Texas' crude production will decline slightly next week as the state's sixth consecutive allowance cutback becomes effective. These cutbacks, approximating 840,000 barrels daily, have caused the alarm which prompted Texas Independents to ask the Congressional Committee to hold the Dallas hearing.

Meanwhile, domestic production slipped slightly for the week ending May 21, climbing 4,500 barrels to a daily average of 4,903,000 compared with 5,439,200 a year ago.

All stocks except gasoline continued to climb.

Gasoline demand is rapidly approaching its summer peak and stocks fall to 120,469,000 barrels, compared with 121,268,000 the previous week.

Two states this week set June crude production allowances. Louisiana operators will be permitted to produce 848,000 barrels daily, an increase of 10,755 barrels daily over May. The Kansas allowable continues at 275,000 barrels daily, the same as May.

Secretary of Interior Julius Krug this week said he doubts he will confirm his department will have the job of supervising tidelands oil operations.

He inspected cut ent Texas and Louisiana offshore operations Thursday and Friday and discussed the tidelands controversy freely with reporters.

The secretary said he wants to see the tidelands developed as rapidly as possible and placed into peacetime use. He figures such explorations may not be possible in event of a national emergency.

If tidelands reserves are developed now, he reminded reporters, undeveloped reserves on land could be saved for wartime use.

Meanwhile, Mexican officials have announced tidelands operations soon will begin off Mexico.

Five specially equipped ships are being fitted at Vera Cruz for exploration and drillings off Vera Cruz State, Campeche and Tabasco.

Edwin W. Pauley, American oil man, American Independent Oil Company and Signal Oil Company, have a contract with Pemex, Mexican government oil monopoly for the operations and have set $100,000,000 as next year's budget.

Camera Club Membership Open to Eight

Officers of the newly organized Pampa Camera Club announced yesterday that the club can take in eight new members during June.

The club was organized about a month ago with 12 members, and officers were elected and a constitution and by-laws were adopted.

However, under the terms of its affiliation with the National Association of Camera Clubs of America, the club must have 20 members to be a fully participating organization, Jave Tooley, sponsor, said.

Officers are: president, Byron Hilburn; first vice president, Don Forsha; second vice president, Earl McConnell; secretary-treasurer, Jim Campbell.

Specialists in still and motion pictures divide the membership into two sections under the leadership of Forsha and McConnell. After the club has reached a permanent roll of 20 members, its ranks are open to as many associate members as care to join, Tooley said.

In addition to the officers, the other members are: Robert Brown, G. G. Fry, Kenneth Peoples, Jim Elson, Leroy Barnett, Neil Johnson, Henry Reynolds, J. M. Nichols, and Tooley, sponsor.

The club meets each Monday at 8 p.m. in the old Pampa Hotel, 214 1-2 N. Cuyler.

Shamrock to Hold Boy's Ranch Benefit

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Cal Farley has announced that nine boys from Boy's Ranch will be in Shamrock June 4, to participate in the county-wide benefit program, to be held at Clark Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Under the sponsorship of the Wheeler County Home Demonstration Club a program has been planned and the admission fee will be food, clothing, baseball equipment, tennis racquets, fishing tackle, or any article which will be useful at Boy's Ranch.

'Big Babe' Is Main Feature

A carnival, the United Exposition Shows, will be here all this week under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The exposition will be located on the carnival grounds just south of Oiler Park.

"Big Babe," a 4 1/2-ton elephant, is billed as one of the leading attractions. "Folks," says the announcement, "Big Babe" knows all the Hollywood set and all major shows of the show world. The elephant was once with "the biggest show on earth," Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey.

45 Seniors Graduate At Shamrock

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Dan O'Connor, professor of English in West Texas State College, Canyon, delivered the main address at commencement exercises for the 1949 graduating class of Shamrock High School.

The program was held at Clark Auditorium Friday evening. Forty-five seniors, 25 boys and 20 girls, were presented diplomas.

O'Connor is a native of New York City, born on Third Ave. 27 years ago. He resided in rural Long Island about 50 miles from the city, received all of his public school education there and went to Hanover, N. H., to attend Dartmouth.

O'Connor left in his Senior year when the war started to take a position as radar research technician in Washington, D. C., at the U. S. Naval Research Laboratory.

In 1942, he enlisted in the maritime service.

He married a Texas girl during the war and returned with her in 1946. While with KPDA in Amarillo, he served as engineer, news editor and announcer.

In 1947, O'Connor joined the faculty at West Texas State College. He will receive his Master's Degree on June 2.

The professional Friday was led by Barbara Brickey; salutatory, Troy Pool; valedictory, Ray Lacy Zeigler; vocal number, "Seek Ye the Lord," Edwin George, Martha Ann Etter, Mary Beth D'Spain, Freda Tugwell, Glenn Reeves, Kenneth Anderson, Walter Duice and Vernon Ploch.

Address, Prof. O'Connor; recognition of honor students, Supt. Elmer J. Moore; presentation of class, Prin. Edward M. Burkhalter; presentation of diplomas, E. C. Hofmann, president of school board; benediction, Rev. Edward C. Derr.

Five Graduate From Bethel School

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Five eighth grade students were presented diplomas at commencement exercises at the Bethel School at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

Dean P. Cox, principal, presented diplomas to graduates Jimmy Yarger, Buddy Harvey, Chester Northcutt, Jordan Pike and Hazel Brown.

Singfest to Be Sunday

Community singers from four counties will be organized in their fifth Sunday singing at the CIO Union Hall, on W. Brown, at 10 a. m. Sunday. Counties to be represented are Grady, Hutchinson, Potter, and Moore.

The women of all the community churches have been asked to bring covered-dishes for lunch which will be served from 12:30 to 1:30 p. m.

From 1:30 to 4:30, the second singing session will be held at the Assembly of God Church, Brown and Cuyler. A number of quartets and visitors will be here from such communities as Dallas, Clovis, Dumas, Guyton, Surrency, Stinnett, and Borger. The Lester Stamps quartet, Dallas, will appear, following a concert at the Junior High Auditorium tomorrow night.

It was said that those ladies who wish to attend their own church service are expected to do so, and then return to the union hall at 12:30 for the luncheon. The public has been invited, it was said.

Trash Fires Keep CFD On the Run

CANADIAN — (Special) — Three fire alarms in rapid succession kept the Canadian Volunteer Fire Department on the jump Thursday night as a gusty north wind tore into trash fires that had been carelessly left smoldering.

The alarms came so close together that the firemen went directly from fire to fire without returning to the station.

The first was at Stuckey Construction Company headquarters where workmen had been burning empty paper cement bags and had left a pile of them smoldering. This gave the firemen some bad moments as the burning paper was being blown directly toward the Fraser elevator on the adjoining lot.

This was barely under control when the second alarm came. It was another trash fire on a vacant lot adjoining, and uncomfortably close to, the residence of Mrs. W. D. Fisher.

The third was another pile of construction rubble at the new Hemphill Memorial Hospital that was near some lumber piles. A heavy shower began falling about the time the firemen had this one under control. The shower was welcome as it probably took care of other trash fires left smoldering.

SOUTHERNMOST EUROPE

Ironically, Fire Chief Carl Zybach was making a talk before the Presbyterian Men's Club on "Cooperating with Your Fire Department and Your Trash Collection Men," when the first alarm sounded. The chief excused himself without finishing the talk and hopes his listeners "got the idea."

Southernmost point in Europe is a point near Gibraltar, Spain which is farther south than Italy, Greece, and even many points of the coast of northern Africa.

The brine shrimp, found all over the world, are reproduced by unfertilized eggs.
