DALLAS —(AP)— William Schuman and Walter Piston, both American composers, will join Walter Hendel, new Dallas Symphony orchestra conductor, as judges in the third annual Abrams Memorial Award for a symphonic composition by a Texan. The award is $250 in cash, given by Mrs. Robert M. Hall in memory of the late Harold J. Abrams, organizer, president, and later vice president of the Dallas Symphony Society. The award is open to man or woman older than eighteen, who has lived in Texas since Jan. 1, 1949. Compositions must be submitted by Jan. 1, 1950. Composers must deliver score and parts, which, in the case of the winning entry, becomes the property of the Dallas Symphony Society. The first human being to go up in a balloon was Jean Francis Piatre de Rozier, who made his ascent in 1783, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Monkey Parade Ends; Liquor Tax Increases

TOKYO —(AP)— When a 60 percent tax on zoo tickets was proposed opponents fought it by parading a monkey and other zoo animals down the street. The monkey's antics so amused legislators they now have abandoned the move. Instead, they decided to boost the tax on liquor.

John Hodiak Is Getting Action

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— After a lull in his film career, John Hodiak is getting action — all over the globe. Now fighting the Battle of the Bulge in "Battleground," the Pittsburgh, Pa., actor goes immediately to New Mexico for a Western "Ambush." Then he goes to Cuba for "Man Hunt," which is yet another film about a government agency. Hodiak's travels will continue this fall when he is scheduled to go to England for the "Mrs. Miniver" sequel with Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon. Errol Flynn gets top billing over Garson in "Foray's Saga." It's the first time that's happened to G.G. in years. "I'm very happy... and a wee bit sad," said Al Jolson as he recorded his last air show. The Thursday night Music Hall, once presided over by Paul Whiteman, then Bing Crosby, is going off the air, marking the end of one of radio's oldest shows. Jolson will do guest appearances — which is what he is better at, anyway. He is still talking about a minstrel show on television. Jack Carson is going all-out to top Red Skelton's "Fuller Brush Man." Jack has been fitted for a pair of neon ears for "Good Humor Man."

'Hopper Plague May Menace U. S. Crops This Year

Great grasshopper outbreaks—hoppers by the billions—are expected to menace crops and grasslands in wide areas from Michigan to California and Texas to Canada this year. Black areas on this map are regions where Department of Agriculture entomologists say infestation may be especially severe. Hatching periods start early in May in southern states and continue through the middle of June throughout most of the midwest.

More Suicides Take Place In Cold Wars Than Hot Ones

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — More people take their own lives in a cold war than a hot war. This truth of history is emphasized by the death of the nation's first secretary of defense — James Forrestal.

He is the third major statesman in the post-war world to kill himself. The others were John G. Winant, former ambassador to Britain, and Jan Masaryk of Czechoslovakia.

Forrestal, Winant, Masaryk... why did they do it? It is always a ripple on the commonplace when men in high places destroy themselves.

Why did they kill themselves? All were well-to-do, respected, and seemingly had much to live for. They were three men with three different philosophies of life. They all traveled different roads, but the roads ended up at the same blank wall.

Forrestal was an investment banker and a realist. Masaryk was a cultured and cosmopolitan sophisticate. Winant was an idealist.

But the realist, the sophisticate and the idealist all turned to suicide as the only way out of their problems.

In the cases of Winant and Forrestal their deaths were officially blamed on overwork. Masaryk is thought to have killed himself when he realized he and his country were prisoners of a foreign power. And some believe, of course, that Masaryk didn't go out his castle window under his own power. They think he was pushed.

Traditionally, statesmen and generals commit suicide for only one reason — to avoid disgrace or to escape punishment.

But Forrestal, Masaryk and Winant chose suicide in peacetime, after surviving the strains of war. None was in disgrace. None was hungry.

Then why?

The probable answer is unbearable personal tension, a feeling that life was no longer worth the struggle.

And it is an odd fact that the tension of everyday living is greater in peace than it is in war. Danger excites, tension destroys.

In a world at peace no one is trying to take your life. The wartime enemy is. And the more you want to keep it — only through pure stubbornness. The mere fact he is after it makes you put a higher value on it.

General Motors Has Price Cut

DETROIT — (AP) — General Motors Corporation Monday announced a $10 to $40 reduction in the prices of all its passenger cars and trucks, effective immediately.

The price reductions were GM's second in all lines of passenger cars in the last three months. On Feb. 25 the company reduced passenger car prices $10 to $40 and trimmed truck prices downward by as much as $50 in some lines.

Monday's announcement came from C. E. Wilson, General Motors president, who said the price reduction coincided with a down-

Even Child Actors Must Attend School

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — How would you like to conduct a school where the students earn more than you do?

That's the unusual occupation of Mary MacDonald, who has been head of the MGM studio school since 1932. Among her student body of eight are such names as Margaret O'Brien, Dean Stockwell, Claude Jarman, Jr., and the girl we'd most like to stay after school with — Elizabeth Taylor.

Miss MacDonald's is no little red schoolhouse. It's a cream-colored of sturdy stucco, located but a yo-yo's throw from the stages where the students toil in their non-studying hours.

The film star-students are required to attend school from nine to 12 in the morning. High school pupils, like Miss Taylor, have to do homework as well.

Miss MacDonald looks young for having instructed child actors for 17 years. She has seen such students as Lana Turner, Judy Garland, Mickey Rooney, Freddie Bartholomew, Jackie Cooper and Jane Powell come and go. I asked her which were the brightest.

Does she have any unusual disciplinary problems?

"No, the students are generally cooperative. Sometimes there are those who get some bad advice, from people who might say, 'why do you mind her? — you're making more money than she is.' But most of our problems can be worked out. I have never had to use force yet."

Miss MacDonald tries to keep the school like a normal one. Generally a graduation class consists of one, but there is a class will and prophecy and a special party. Graduates then receive the diploma at the closest city high school, University High.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — The poor man's philosopher says: Man-kind's best friend isn't the dog. It's the mirror.

A mirror is the only thing in life that will give you back something for nothing besides an argument.

What does it give you? It gives you back yourself—great big wonderful you, the finest thing you've ever known. What greater gift can the world bestow? You can judge a civilization by the number and quality of the mirrors it uses, and there never was a civilization that didn't have them—and love them.

The ancient Greeks had the legend of Narcissus, the beautiful boy who saw his reflection in a pool and became enamored of it. He pined away and the gods in pity turned him into a lovely flower, a flower that through all these centuries still likes to look at itself in the water.

Today the average man, yawning at his unshaven face on arising, sees in the bathroom mirror something that looks more like a thorn bush than a flower. Oh, but he loves it just the same.

Yes, he loves what he sees in the glass though he makes a wry face at it. For he knows that by a morning miracle he and the mirror can play their daily game of Jekyll-and-Hyde. He knows that in a few magical moments he will no longer see a face that looks like a shredded football. He will see a freshly shaven and shining countenance humorous with sincerity and character.

All men see this face when they are alone with a mirror. And almost every woman, no matter how homely, sees therein another face, a face of desperate, ruinous beauty, that has escaped the attention of her friends.

That is the nice thing about mirrors. They are such subtle critics. You can see in them anything you see in yourself. And that makes the possibilities endless.

If anyone ever invented a mirror that said, "Oh, yeah?"—well, nobody would buy it. Look at the trouble caused by the famous mirror on the wall that answered the question: "Who's the fairest one of all?" Give mirrors voices, and the world would go down in chaos. For the mirror is the "yes man" that every human being needs.

Wheat Crop May Be Held Down, Says Farm Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—A farm leader said Monday that next year's wheat crop may have to be held down by acreage allotments if a foreign market isn't found for surplus American wheat.

This leader, Charles Marshall, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau, told a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee the Agriculture Department is "seriously considering" acreage allotments and marketing quotas.

Marshall urged approval of the international wheat agreement. He was speaking for the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"I understand the Department of Agriculture is considering seriously the establishment of acreage allotments and possibly marketing quotas, to limit wheat production next year," Marshall said.

"While it appears obvious wheat producers will be forced to reduce their acreage somewhat in the next few years, the American Farm Bureau Federation believes every effort should be made to minimize the required adjustment by maintaining present, and developing new, markets for our surplus wheat."

James G. Patton, president of the National Farmers Union, said the surplus wheat carryover this year may run as high as 400,000,000 bushels. He estimated 1,500,000 acres of wheat will be planted in the United States.

Patton said whatever the cost of the international wheat agreement, it will be cheaper in the long run than accumulating huge surplus stocks.

He urged a similar international marketing plan for such commodities as tobacco, cotton and rice.

The National Grange also urged the agreement as an "essential part of a sound world peace structure."

J. T. Sanders, grange legislative counsel, said the pact would help dispose of the predicted bumper crop of over a million bushels of U.S. wheat this year.

Sanders said in testimony prepared for a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee the agreement would also help hold down unprecedented added funds for support prices and eliminate some of the possibility of wheat acreage controls.

"But we must act quickly," Sanders said, "if we are to derive benefits from the agreement covering the 1949-50 marketing season."

Under the agreement, the United States, Canada and 39 other nations agree among themselves to buy and sell more than 450,000,000 bushels of wheat each crop year for the next four years at a fixed price.

The top price would be $1.80 a bushel, the minimum from $1.50 the first year to $1.20 the fourth year.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan urged the Senate last week to approve the agreement which must be ratified by July 1 to be effective in this crop year.

He said the United States would be able to sell 168,000,000 bushels of wheat each year to consumer nations.

The subsidy cost will run about $84,000,000 a year, Brannan said. But he added this would be cheaper than the cost of a cut-back in U.S. wheat production.

BECOMING EXTINCT

Conservationists are working hard to save the sandhill crane from extinction. The bird stands almost as high as a man and presents an excellent target for the hunter. Its flesh is very palatable and often has been bootlegged as turkey.

Chemists Promise More Mileage From Synthetic Tires

NEW YORK (AP)—You may get up to a third more mileage from your synthetic rubber tires next year. That's the promise of a couple of rubber chemists.

It brings up the question why you are still getting synthetic rubber in tires now that production of natural rubber is greater even than it was before the war.

First, of course, is that your government forces the rubber companies to use a certain amount of synthetic. It wants these plants kept running so as to be ready if needed in a national emergency. They keep turning out synthetic rubber in spite of the protests of the British and Dutch, who would like to have the American market take more of their natural rubber output.

Second, American producers of synthetic say it is now competitive with natural, both in per-

... The promise of longer wearing tires was given at the Boston meeting of the Rubber Division of the American Chemical Society by I. D. Sjolund and O. D. Cole of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio.

Junior Rotarians Take Over Weekly Club Meeting

The Junior Rotarians, for the first time, were told to take over the program yesterday at the meeting of the Pampa Rotary Club.

The entire meeting from beginning to end, showing Pres Douglas Carver into the room.

Eight Junior Rotarians (each had served one month capacity with the club) took various members parts at the meeting. Donald Thut took over the president's gavel and held away from there in.

The melodious voice of Derral Davis led the club singing in place of Virgil Mott, followed by the pious voice of Gordon Fraser, leading the invocation, instead of the Rev. Henry Tyler.

Here the boys were interrupted while Joe Parkinson introduced the club members who are celebrating birthdays this month.

After the birthday chime was over, Thut again took the floor. He presented Jackie Williams and Ralph Hutsell in a guitar and harmonica duet after which Hutsell played both instruments at the same time an encore.

Instead of putting on a skit each of the boys gave short talks, telling of their college plans and where they hoped to go from there.

First was Gene "Gabby" Garrison who plans to attend the Oklahoma University Experimental School that combines journalism, radio and advertising. Gene intends to follow the dissemination of news through either the radio or newspaper media, he told the club.

Bill Bond told the club he will attend TCU at Fort Worth and major in physical education hoping to become a coach. He also intends to minor in agriculture so "I'll have something to fall back on."

Gordon Fraser said he planned to attend Abilene Christian College and major in agriculture following it up by teaching it and farming on the side—or vice versa.

Don Thut revealed he will attend the same college with a major in business administration that he hopes will wind up in his own hardware business.

Malcolm Douglass said he had come "coaching at home" and will attend pre-law at Texas A&M and go from there to the University of Texas for his law degree.

Derral Davis disclosed his Baylor University plans and major in physical education.

Jackie Williams plans to attend Oklahoma City University as a major in business administration and a minor in psychology to fit him for work in industrial relations.

Ralph Hutsell was the only one of the eight who had oil on his mind. He plans to attend Oklahoma University with a major in engineering and then associate himself with "some oil company."

At the close of their talks, the boys saluted the club with complimentary remarks about their experiences as Junior Rotarians.

When President Carver was permitted to retake his place—he had him out at a floor table—he presented each of the boys with an automatic pencil engraved with his name and the Rotary seal.

While on the floor, the boys showed they, too, could do as good as their elders and won many a laugh and ovation from the group.

Reds Misuse

This foreign ministers conference was called on Russia's promise to end the travel and trade restrictions in Germany on May 12, and the Allied counter-blockade of Eastern Germany was lifted on those terms.

The British informant said that unless the Russian administration in Berlin gives a "satisfactory" assurance that "continuing difficulties" will end, the Western foreign ministers call on Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky to intervene.

The Briton called the present situation in Berlin "continuation of a modified blockade."

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain was expected to speak today on questions relating to German political and economic unity and to four-power control in Germany. Diplomatic informants say the West will demand that Russia relax her grip on East German industries as a condition for economic unity in Germany.

Dean Acheson, United States secretary of state, told the Conference of Foreign Ministers yesterday about a third of the industries in the Soviet Zone of Germany are owned by a Russian trust. Ninety percent of some key industries, he said, are under Soviet control.

Informants said the Western decision to attempt to loosen this grip was reached in American, British and French exchanges here immediately before the meetings with the Russians now underway.

It is one of the most important issues before the foreign ministers in this effort to get together on a plan for German economic and political unity.

The conferees still have a long way to go.

He said atomic development was once bogged down but is now "really rolling" and that present research is directed at developing new atomic weapons of greater reliability.

Lilienthal asked that the inquiry embrace the accomplishments as well as the errors of the commission, and proposed a list of 30 scientists and others who should be called as witnesses. One was Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Chairman McMahon (D-Conn) told him the witnesses would be called.

Senator Connally (D-Tex) commented that such an inquiry might "tend to obscure" specific investigation of Hickenlooper's charges.

Hickenlooper objected that Lilienthal was attempting to emphasize "the emotional end of bomb making." What he is interested in, he said, is the policies of the commission.

"From the standpoint of actual production of the atomic energy program has gone forward due to the zeal and loyalty of the scientific and technical personnel in charge of the various projects," Hickenlooper conceded.

"The point of my objection," he added, "is not to the activities of these people but to the administrative policies which the commission under Mr. Lilienthal's guidance and influence, has followed and continues to follow."

"These I believe to be harmful and not in the best interests of the continuing development of the basic programs outlined by Congress."

The hearings had gotten little further than that when a recess was taken. McMahon announced there would be no further public hearings until some time next week, but that the committee would meet in a closed session tomorrow.

Hickenlooper said he was particularly concerned by (1) the handling of AEC scholarships—most of which, at least, went to a Communist—and (2) the facts surrounding the disappearance of a bottle of uranium-235 from an atomic laboratory.

Cardinal Mindszenty. Chapin was accused of working against that government and violating Hungarian laws.

In February Hungary demanded his recall. He was promptly brought home "for consultation" and the United States formally reserved all its rights in connection with the issue of whether Hungary, as a former enemy state operating under a peace treaty, actually had any right to force him out.

The United States might have sought to force Hungary's acceptance of Chapin. However, that would not have offered a practical solution to the problem of maintaining a strong, observant legation staff in the Russian satellite country; because the American government had to face the fact that Chapin's usefulness in Hungary was ended.

President Truman therefore appointed yesterday the appointment of Nathaniel P. Davis, a veteran career diplomat, to be minister to Hungary. At the same time he made public a highly laudatory letter to Chapin, expressing his confidence in the retiring minister, and in effect denouncing the charges which the Hungarian government had made against him.

farm to an Iowa Park elevator at 1:55 p.m.

Wet weather has hampered combining since.

Wheat Coordinator Wayne C. Grant of Amarillo said the harvest had been scheduled to get well underway this week in the Wichita Falls-Seymour area. He gave this picture:

Wichita County fields soaking wet. Wilbarger, Baylor, Young, Ford and other counties reported rains Monday and Tuesday nights. If there are no more rains, fields will be dry enough Friday for combines to enter them.

Amarillo elevator men said the embargo would help. But some of them were disappointed it didn't cover all points. They saw a definite improvement in local shipping conditions because of a better and continuous flow of box cars.

At Abilene, Tex., some grain brokers said they already were hesitant about buying wheat not already sold. They thought the embargo might result in much wheat being left on farmers' hands for the time being.

The picture appeared better at Lubbock. S. E. Cone, Grand Seed Company spokesman, said sooner or later "it will be an automatic embargo," since storage space in most sections is already at a premium. But the Lubbock spokesman for another firm said he believed things would be work-

Union Contract Signed at Borger

BORGER—(AP)—Phillips Petroleum Company and its AFL operating engineers have signed new contracts for all employees except the gasoline office workers group, the union said yesterday.

The union said that under the Taft-Hartley Act, it cannot sign a contract for that department because one employee circulated a petition for decertification of the union.

No wage dispute was involved. The union sought better union security and says better recognition of the union was achieved by the negotiations.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Baronsate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not need any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify your system while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Baronsate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of liquid Baronsate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablets a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 56 pounds
Here is what Mrs. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 66, Whiteville, Texas, wrote us: "I want to tell you what Baronsate has done for me. I weighed 288 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 232."
"I have taken my dose six times down from size 56 to 44 and never felt better in my life and everybody tells me how much slimmer I look than I did."
"I am still taking Baronsate as I was to get my weight down to 165 or 170 pounds."

Police Sift Clues In Rafter Shooting

DETROIT—(AP)—Police sifted scant clues today in the ambush attempt on the life of CIO Unions' Victor Reuther, blinded in one eye by an unknown attacker's gunfire.

At the same time the FBI was considering whether to enter the investigation after a stream of requests from a number of quarters, including Congress, the CIO and the state of Michigan. So far only local authorities, with the help of state police, were pushing the search for the mysterious assailant.

Reuther, education director for the CIO's big United Auto Workers Union, was shot through a living room window of his home Tuesday night.

Death Valley Ranger Writes 'Ghost Riders'

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — A young cowpoke went ridin' to Hollywood one day.
The first line of Stan Jones' sensational song hit, "Ghost Riders in the Sky," almost fits his own story.
The haunting song, spawned by the music business last week by tapping to the top of the hit parade without a previous showing in the top tunes list, observers believe is the first of this kind that has happened. The event makes a Death Valley ranger the current king of Tin Pan Alley.
The story of the song goes back to Jones' boyhood on the range near Douglas, Ariz. An old cowboy hand filled him with stories about a ghost herd in the sky pursued by a band of bedeviled wranglers. The oldtimer was said to have seen the ghost riders just before he died.
Jones' range career was interrupted by a hitch in the Navy before the war. After serving as a Red Cross worker during the war, he became park ranger in Washington state, then at Death Valley National Monument.
At night Jones would strum a guitar and sing his songs for the tourists. Last year when a film company was shooting in Death Valley, Randolph Scott heard him

Car Industry Ahead of Last Year in Output

DETROIT — (AP) — Despite recurring assembly line interruptions the car industry still is well ahead of last year in passenger car output.
Not so good is the showing in truck production.
So far this year the passenger car lines have turned out nearly 1,800,000 vehicles. At this date a year ago 1948 production of cars stood at 1,425,000.
Truck assemblies so far this year number slightly more than 202,000. In the comparable period of 1948 the factories built 273,000 units.
The figures pretty well reflect what is happening to the motorcar industry's business outlook. Passenger car output, especially in the lower priced brackets, still doesn't match demand. The backlog in truck orders has been pretty well wiped out excepting in the lower weight classes.
Last year 1,363,856 trucks were built. This was the highest total the industry ever has reached in truck production. This year most industry sources are predicting the total commercial vehicle output may not exceed 1,000,000 units. Aside from the fact domestic demand has levelled off, they attribute a sizable part of the decline to export difficulties.
The vehicle makers say there still is a tremendous need abroad for American-made commercial units, but a shortage of dollars with which to pay for them.
It requires approximately 25 minutes to take a roll call of the U. S. House of Representatives.

New Extension Director Named

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — George G. Gibson has been named director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
The appointment was announced by Chancellor Gibb Gilchrist of the Texas A&M College System, with approval of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.
Gibson will assume his new duties June 1. A native Texan, born at Trinity in 1907, Gibson graduated from the A&M College of Texas in 1929 with his B. S. in agriculture. He took his master's degree at Iowa State College in 1930.
In 1933-35 he attended the University of Texas Law School, where he took no degree, but he was admitted and licensed as an attorney and counselor at law by the Texas Supreme Court.
He came to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in 1936 as an assistant dairyman. In 1934 and 1944 he worked as manager of a private dairy farm near Waco, returning to the Texas extension organization as dairy husbandman in 1944.
Gibson succeeds Dr. Ide F. Trotter, who last March left the post of director of the Extension Service to become dean of the Graduate School of A&M College.

Truman Renews Platform Pledges

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman has pledged himself anew to fight for fulfillment of the Democratic Platform promises on civil rights.
He made the pledge after receiving the annual Robert S. Abbott Award as the individual who has done most in the past year to advance the ideals of full citizenship without regard to race, creed or color.
The silver plaque was presented by John H. Sengstacke, editor and publisher of The Chicago Defender, Negro weekly.
Mr. Truman said in response that he is only trying to carry out the bill of rights which he is sworn to do.

Fred Astaire Story Will Not Be Screened

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Fred Astaire's biography will never reach the screen. M-G-M may be thinking about the idea, but Fred isn't. What's more, he has even taken legal steps to prevent it after his death.
He asked me to deny, emphatically, that "The Fred Astaire Story" is on M-G-M's fall production schedule, then said: "I don't want my life on the screen — now or ever. There's a clause in my will prohibiting it after my death. I'm just not a 'Look-what-I-did' type of fellow."
"What has been important to me in my life wouldn't be box office. A film biography hits a few highlights and the rest is fiction. I don't want it."
Fred and Betty Hutton are rehearsing their dance routines for "Little Boy Blue" at Paramount and then Fred goes back to M-G-M for three more pictures, including another with Ginger Rogers.
Reunion of Fred and Ginger in "The Barkleys of Broadway" is doing better business in New York than "Easter Parade." Producer Arthur Freed is a happy man.

People still kid Astaire about his "retirement."
"But really," he said, "I needed a mental retirement. Those two years were good for me. Then I got so busy with race horses and my dancing schools that I came back to pictures for a rest. But next time when I retire I won't tell anyone."
GRATITUDE ON WAX
Bing Crosby is going to thank the people — by transcription. The Groaner has been criticized plenty this year for not showing up to accept the many awards he was voted as the screen's top box office star.
Now he'll make amends. He'll thank everybody for all the honors in the last few seconds of his last airshow of the season.

The television boys are telling this one:
A man took his dog to a psychiatrist because the dog insisted on looking at television all day and had become a nervous wreck. The doctor recommended that his video viewing be limited to 15 minutes a day. A few weeks later the man was back with his dog.
"What's wrong now?" asked the psychiatrist.
"Well," said the man, "I've limited him to 15 minutes a day in front of my TV set, just like you said, but now he sits around and pouts all day."

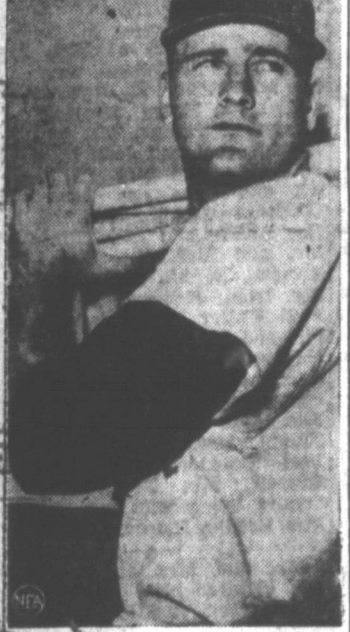

Rudy Vallee is objecting to an L. A. television show titled "Valley Video Times." Same sound, different spelling.
Big feud going on at M-G-M over the screen credits for "The Forsyte Saga." Thirteen writers have turned in 17 complete scripts of the story over a period of 12 years. Only three, according to the Screen Writers' Guild, can receive film credit.

Ann Miller joins Cyd Charisse in a saring for "Tahiti." M-G-M's musical remake of "The Pagan Love Song." Modern art will take a terrific ribbing in Ed Gardner's first independent film, "Figsheet in Paris." Recommended: Anita Martell, the British comedienne, at the Billmore Bowl. Maureen O'Hara and Will Price will remodel a 100-year-old mansion in Pike County, Miss. It's been in the Price family for years.

Yoo-hoo, Goldwyn: At a charity drive banquet, Jack Warner stuffed: "And so I hope we will be able to bring this year's campaign to a successful conclusion."
NO COAL IN NEWCASTLE
The city of Palm Springs, recently issued a bond issue for the planting of palm trees on Palm Canyon Drive. The bids closed without a single comer. When asked why there had been no bids, Mayor Charles Farrell replied: "The tree men tell me there just aren't any palm trees available in Palm Springs."

Night club business in Hollywood is so bad, says Martin Ragaway, that one club has cut expenses by putting in a floor show with a midget bubble dancer. She comes out shyly holding a grape.

Free Speech Is Still Upheld
The Supreme Court has handed down a decision on free speech that goes to the roots of a dilemma in our democracy.

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
James V. Forrestal, a loyal, brave and self-sacrificing servant of this republic, certainly was, as President Truman said on hearing of his sudden death, a casualty of the Second World War.

has been a professional specialty of Drew Pearson. Pearson has become a man of great power and special privilege because other decent men like Forrestal go in fear of fantastic lies to be spread over the nation by radio, all stimulated by the sale of a brand of radio or magazine.

The American Broadcasting Company, which leans to this kind of radio material, most of it motivated propaganda, thinly disguised as news, once tried to disown responsibility and frankly advised a citizen who was the victim of a fictitious incident not to demand a retraction or an apology.

In the case of Forrestal, Pearson made a false charge of disloyal cowardice. Forrestal, in the role of undersecretary of the Navy, a civilian job, made four landings with the Marines, behind the assault waves, on Pacific islands held by the Japanese.

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON - President Truman's order to drop the atom bomb over Hiroshima and Nagasaki required greater courage and decisiveness than was realized then in view of the fact that Admiral William D. Leahy, wartime chief of staff to the President, had no faith in its lethal effectiveness.

Admiral Leahy has been seriously ill since quitting his post as top military and Naval advisor to the White House. But that was not the first draft of his memoirs, which will not be published until next spring.

SACRIFICE - President Truman might have obtained confirmation of Mon C. Wallgren as head of the National Security Resources with Senate Republicans for deploring Michael W. Straus and Richard L. Boke, Reclamation's regional director for California.

HARDHOOD - Admiral Leahy, obviously, voiced the Navy's attitude toward a weapon which has been hailed as sealing the doom of the fleet. In fact, Naval spokesmen still maintain that this cosmic force does not necessitate any radical change in the pattern of sea warfare.

A woman drove into a service station to complain that her car was using up too much gas. The attendant pointed to the choice lever which protruded from the dashboard. "Do you know what this is for?" he asked.

"Oh, that," said the woman. "I never use it, so I keep it pulled out to hang my handbag on."

Reds Mop Up Small Knots Of Defense

By FRED HAMPSON

SHANGHAI — (AP) — Nationalist troops today ran up a white flag atop the Shanghai Post Office, and it appeared the dogged defense of the lower Soochow Creek was collapsing.

The Communists crossed the Wzechuan Bridge and began rounding up prisoners. The Garden Bridge was evacuated by the Nationalists but still was under fire from the nearby Broadway Mansion, 17-floor apartment, where a number of Americans are trapped. The Communists had not tried to cross the creek there.

The battle area embraced some of Shanghai's finest modern buildings north and south of Soochow Creek. These include the 17-story Broadway Mansions, the seven-story Embankment Building, the Post Office, the British and Soviet Consulates.

Trapped in these buildings were hundreds of foreigners — Americans, British, Portuguese, Netherlands, French — and many Chinese.

Rifle and machine gun fire splattered against some of the structures. A few bullets punctured them. Two bullets landed in U. S. Consul General John Cabot's bedroom.

Inside and outside of Shanghai, it was a night of fighting and blasting like none during the three-week siege of the city.

While the fighting went on, the Communists hastened their organization of Shanghai's Western and Southern section, which they occupied yesterday without a struggle.

Red soldiers supplemented municipal police who carried over from old jobs under the Nationalists.

The whole city breathed a sigh of relief for the thousands of Chinese civilians on the Bund and north of Soochow Creek who had been trapped since early yesterday. They had endured all sorts of fire.

The United States and British consulates were trying to intercede with both sides for a cease-fire order.

For almost 24 hours small Nationalist forces had kept the Reds away from the bridges.

Peking Road was a no-man's land near the Bund. So was the lower part of the Bund where it runs into Garden Bridge.

Governor Jester Considers Long List of Fire Hazards

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester has taken under consideration a long list of fire hazards found at the Galveston Medical School.

The report, submitted by Fire Insurance Commissioner Paul H. Brown, shows six buildings—three and four-story structures—without fire escapes. One was the crippled children's hospital, another the Negro hospital, and another the nurse's home.

Jester asked Brown for the report on April 15 shortly after a disastrous midnight fire at St. Anthony's Hospital in Effingham, Ill.

The report recommended the installation of fire escapes for bed-ridden and mental patients.

The building-by-building inspection was made by Galveston Fire Marshal J. C. Kelso and Fire Chief W. J. Henderson under the supervision of State Fire Prevention Chief Eugene Sanders.

Some of the "glaring deficiencies" noted were: Nurse's home, four-story — no fire escapes, open stair wells, light fixtures need repair. Women's building, four-story — two outside fire escapes with no guide signs or lights. John Sealy Hospital, three-story — three outside escapes, "insufficient number of escapes to comply with the fire escape law."

Dormitory building — "wiring condition very bad." Psychopathic building, four-story — one outside escape, "window to fire escape kept locked because of mental patients. Negro hospital, four-story — no fire escapes. Crippled children's hospital, three-story — no fire escapes. State Psychopathic Hospital, four-story — no fire escapes. Out-patient building, four-story — no fire escapes.

Here's Some Facts About Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Let's see if I can tell you something you don't know about Hollywood. I am going to give you some odd and — who knows? — interesting facts about Hollywood. Don't stop me if you've heard them before; to me this is a living.

Did you know that Sazu Pitts pronounces it Zay-Zoo, not zaz . . . that Greer Garson, though famed as Mrs. Miniver, is Irish, not English. . . that Jane Russell is an avid student of the Bible — honest! . . . that Clifton Webb was famed as a dancer long before he started baby-sitting. . . that John Lund was a successful radio writer before he switched to ham (yes, an actor who came, went!). . .

That Betty Hutton's real name is Betty Jane Thornburg. . . that Elizabeth Scott's is Emma Motzars. . . that Clark Gable's first name is William. . . that Maureen O'Hara's last handle is really Fitzsimmons. . . that my real name is Bob Thomas. . . that James Stewart is the only top male star who has never married (too shy to ask?). . . that only three stars have died of the 40 who have won academy awards — George Arliss, Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery.

That there is no stage 13 at the studios (it's called 12A. . . that Bing Crosby and Bob Hope aren't buddies in private life. . . okay, so you've known these things all along.

★ IN HOLLYWOOD ★

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — I give you today television's most popular star — Hopalong Cassidy. And I have a mighty good suspicion that I should be saying that Bill Boyd, who plays Hoppy, is Hollywood's most popular star, too. If you own a TV set, you know what I mean. Seven million kids and their parents (The figure is growing every month) follow Hoppy's adventures every week in their homes. In the 30 weeks he has been riding the television tubes, they have seen him in as many pictures as they'd normally see him in more than five years at their favorite theaters. Look what's happening: Boyd was mobbed every time he made a public appearance on a recent New York visit. Even taxi cab drivers asked for his autograph.

There are Hopalong Cassidy cocktail parties in high society. In La Canada, Calif., a 5-year-old insists on a place being set at the dinner table every night for "Uncle Hoppy." Because she sees him in the living room of her home she's convinced he's a member of the family and eventually will show up for dinner. "I lost my own identity," he told me. "Most actors would be bitter about that. I'm not. I'm grateful."

"Until 1935 I was a dual personality. I had a bad side and a good side. I fought the bad side, but I couldn't win. Then I became Hoppy and the good side won. That's why I've made the character so believable. I'm not acting. I AM Hopalong Cassidy." Boyd has starred in 66 Hopalong films. Forty-eight are available for television. With TV in its infancy — new stations opening every month — the series can go on for years. That's a story, too. Back in 1935, when author Clarence E. Mulford of Fryeburg, Maine, sold Hoppy's film rights, he kept the television rights to the character and the pictures. Hollywood chuckled about that. Television? It was only a word, and a new one at that, in '35, Mulford had vision.

WAS FORESIGHTED A year ago Boyd and Mulford got together and agreed on a percentage deal — whereby Bill would have all film, television, radio and commercial rights to Hopalong. Now Bob Hope is a partner in the deal. He'll finance all future Hopalong films. Bill Boyd had vision, too. From the very beginning of his career as Hopalong, he insisted that the series should be intelligent and above the usual Western standards. "Kids aren't stupid," he says. "They can understand things. I treat all kids like grownups and all grownups like kids." That's the reason Hopalong, now reaching adults, is as popular with them as with children. But there are other reasons for the popularity of his pictures,

House Turns Down Senate Figures on Money Bills

AUSTIN — (AP) — The House yesterday turned down Senate figures in the bills providing money for state departments, higher education, and courts, and called for conference committees. Thus the 51st Legislature moves a little closer to the time when it can finally adjourn.

Failure of the Senate to act on the fourth big money bill, that to eleemosynary institutions, apparently was the last major barrier to bringing the session to an end — unless legislators decide a new tax is needed.

The big hitch on the eleemosynary bill reportedly has been indecision on the part of Senate leaders with respect to the proposed state hospital building program. The indecision may be caused by the belief that a 21-million-dollar program would run the state into debt unless state revenue is increased. That is where the new-tax possibility enters the picture.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester has insisted that the Legislature provide 21 million dollars for new state hospitals. He said he would call a special session if the matter were not taken care of now.

The Senate did not meet yesterday afternoon, but the House continued working hard to clear its calendar of legislation.

It quit after long debate of the driver financial responsibility bill. No direct vote on the measure was taken.

One amendment was approved, 68-60, in the face of argument by the bill's backers that the measure would be crippled seriously. The change would exempt all farm-licensed vehicles from the bill's provisions if the vehicles were not traveling between two incorporated towns.

The measure would require drivers of cars involved in accidents causing at least $200 damage, injury, or death to prove financial responsibility up to $11,000.

The House approved creation of two more committees.

One bill provides for appointment of a Texas legislative council to work between sessions in an effort to find ways for more efficient operation of the state government. Ten representatives and five senators would serve. The measure, passed by 117-8 vote was sent to the Governor.

Production Drops Fifth Month in Row

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board reported today that industrial production dropped in April for the fifth straight month and was continuing down in early May.

The board's index of production reached the lowest level since July, 1947, with a five-point fall in April. This tied the drop in March for the biggest decline since the war.

April output, measured on the seasonally adjusted index, skidded to 179 percent of the 1935-39 average, compared with 184 in March and an all-time high of 195 last October and November.

At that level, April production was nearly five percent below the same month in 1948 and a bare three index points above the spot passed in July, 1947.

on the long postwar climb. "Present indications are that it trended downward and that there in May manufacturing has not also been some decline in output of minerals (coal, oil, etc.), which had increased in April," the board said.

The background to the production drop was sketched briefly by the board in a national summary of business conditions: "Prices of industrial commodities were reduced further, while prices of farm and food products continued to show little change. Construction awards showed a marked seasonal expansion. Value of department store sales increased to close to the advanced level prevailing a year ago. About the April and early May a strong influence in bringing drop in overall production was a decline in steel output from the recent record pace. Open hearth steel production was off 6.5 percent from the March level.

Garden Hose Information

The amount of water your garden hose will deliver is useful information to know when planning a water system or when water supplies are short. The U. S. Department of Agriculture gives these figures: A one-half-inch hose with a nozzle will deliver 200 gallons of water an hour; a three-quarter-inch hose with nozzle will deliver 27,500 gallons per hour, and a lawn with nozzle will deliver 275,000 gallons per hour.

Miss Patsy D. Butler Weds Former Pampan at WTSC

The Tenth Street Methodist Church in Amarillo was the scene for the informal marriage of Miss Patsy Dolores Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Butler, Jr., of 516 W. 16th Street, Amarillo to Mr. Frank M. Daugherty, son of Mrs. Twila M. Daugherty of Hoover.

The Rev. E. Lee Stanford read the double-ring ceremony at seven p. m., May 13, before an altar of fan-shaped floral arrangements of pink gladioli, white stock, and fern flanked by candelabra bearing long tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, approached the altar on a white aisle runner marked with single candelabra of softly burning tapers. She chose for her wedding a white suit with a pink nylon blouse trimmed in white venetian lace. Her shoulder-length veil was of faint pink mist. For jewelry she wore a single strand of white pearls and carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and streamers of white ribbon tied with gardenia petals.

Mrs. George Esposito, sister of the groom attended the bride as matron of honor. She was attired in a grey suit with white accessories and a corsage of yellow iris.

Leon W. Daugherty, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Jerry Wright and Dare Lock, both of Canyon.

As a nuptial prelude, Vera Lock played "Clair de Lune" by Debussy. Lynn Allen sang "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs-Bond, and "Always" by Irvin Berlin. Mrs. Locke played the traditional marches as a musical background during the ceremony.

Mrs. Butler, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Daugherty, the groom's mother, both chose navy blue afternoon dresses with white accessories. Their corsages were of white gardenia.

Laura Ruth Thurman, wearing an afternoon dress of navy taffeta and a corsage of pink and white carnations, registered the guests.

Mrs. Daugherty attended Amarillo High School and is now attending Amarillo College. She was chosen queen of the American Legion Auxiliary poppy sale this past year.

Mr. Daugherty was a Pampa High School student and a member of the Harvester football squad. He will graduate from West Texas State College, Canyon, this spring where he will hold a Bachelor of Business Administration degree. He is a member of the Epsilon Beta Social Club and the National Honor Society chapter, Alpha Chi.

For a wedding trip to Eagle Nest, N. M., the bride chose for traveling a blue suit with white accessories.

Until June 4, the couple will make their home in Canyon. Mr. Daugherty is associated with his brother in the farming and ranching business northeast of Pampa.

Cheese Should be Grated
Cheese will become tough and stringy if cooked too long or with too high a heat. Cheese will melt more quickly and blend more evenly with other ingredients if it is grated, flaked or broken up into small pieces before adding to a sauce.

Englishmen drink an average of six cups of tea every day, according to official figures.

Frozen Food Is Topic of Speech

"Preparing Foods for Frozen Food Lockers" was the subject Miss Charlotte Tompkins, Carson County home demonstration agent, spoke on at the Skellytown Home Demonstration Club meeting in the home of Mrs. R. P. Boyd.

The meeting was an all-day one with a covered dish luncheon. Those present were: Mmes. Lydia Burba, Dona Crawford, L. Z. Rhodes, W. H. Harris, R. P. Boyd, J. T. Crawford, and Miss Tompkins.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. L. Z. Rhodes and the 4-H girls, June 3.

Beaumont Planning for Neches River Festival

BEAUMONT — (AP) — History and romance of the old Neches River will be relived in pageantry and boat racing here Saturday and Sunday, May 28 and 29.

T. T. Hunt, general chairman of the first annual Neches River Festival, has predicted that more than 50,000 pleasure seekers will throng the city for the event.

Activities will center around a glittering pageant and a speedboat regatta sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association.

The racing, the first large scale event here in more than 15 years, will be conducted by the Neches Boat Club, of which J. A. Roddy is commodore.

The festival, sponsored by the Beaumont Chamber of Commerce and conceived by its general manager, Clarence DeBuse, is being incorporated as a permanent, non-profit organization.

Mrs. W.P.H. McFaddin is leader of activities centering around the pageant, the coronation, and the queen's ball for which Ted Weems Band will play.

The festival moves to the Beaumont city auditorium where a pageant and coronation ceremony will begin at 7 p.m.

Ben D. Jackson, a leading citizen, has been named "King of the Neches." His queen's identity will remain secret until the coronation.

Following the pageant a frontier street dance will be held alongside the City Hall on Forsythe Street. Simultaneously, a fancy dress ball for the "Queen of the Neches" will be held in the South Texas State Fairgrounds Harvest Club.

Sunday at 1 p.m. in the Beaumont turning basin, over a mile-long course, several hundred boats from all over the Southland will engage in speedboat racing. Races will be held every 15 minutes. Prize money will total about $3,000.

Several neighboring communities are sponsoring duchesses for the festival, and yachtsmen from surrounding cities will be on hand with their vessels.

Interest in the festival has been shown by inquiries having been received from several Central and South American countries.

Bogart Has Own Ideas For Babies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — "Diapers," snarled Humphrey Bogart, "they're outmoded."

The tough mug spoke like a veteran of the nursery.

"What's the use of all those pins?" he complained. "You're always sticking the baby."

"I think they ought to throw away all those diapers and let the kids wear real pants. You know — like those 'soaker' things."

"Say — maybe I ought to go into the pants business!"

Bogart was expounding about the father racket on the "Chain Lightning" set. Lately the parent of Stephen Humphrey Bogart (with an assist from Lauren Bacall), he has his own notions about rearing a child. Such as:

"Just let the kids grow—like Topsy."

Asked if he had boned up on child care books, he replied, "read 'em all!" (He may have been kidding). About new-fangled theories, he commented:

"You can't teach an old dog new tricks. We grew up without all that stuff and turned out all right."

"All that parents can do is tell their kids what's right. Teach them the facts of life early and then leave them alone. They shouldn't have religion pushed on them, either. Send them to Sunday School and then let them decide for themselves."

"One thing in particular a father shouldn't do: plan a career for his son. I remember a story in the papers about a young doctor who killed himself. He had never wanted to be a doctor, but his father shoved him into it."

"He didn't care enough about medicine to study much in school. Later he made blunders that caused the deaths of some of his patients."

So Stephen Humphrey won't be an actor unless he wants to.

Reflecting on infants, Bogart had one final comment: "They sure need changing often!"

I could have told you that months ago, Bogie.

Home Burns for Second Time

HILLSBORO — (AP) — Three weeks ago, fire swept a house belonging to Louis Smith, Hillsboro cotton mill owner.

Tuesday two insurance men, W. H. Hodge of Dallas and W. B. Sumner of Hillsboro, went to the residence to inspect the damage.

Entering the empty dwelling, they found it on fire.

They called firemen who ex-

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Two Heads Are Better Than One (Or None)

I got a kick out of buying stuff down at the hardware store. And I always ask for a little advice from one of the two brothers who run it, because I know beforehand exactly what the answer will be.

Like when I needed a new garden hose. "Henry," I says, "how about this new plastic hose—it is really as good as rubber?" "Well," he says, "I'm inclined to think it is—but you'd better ask Tom."

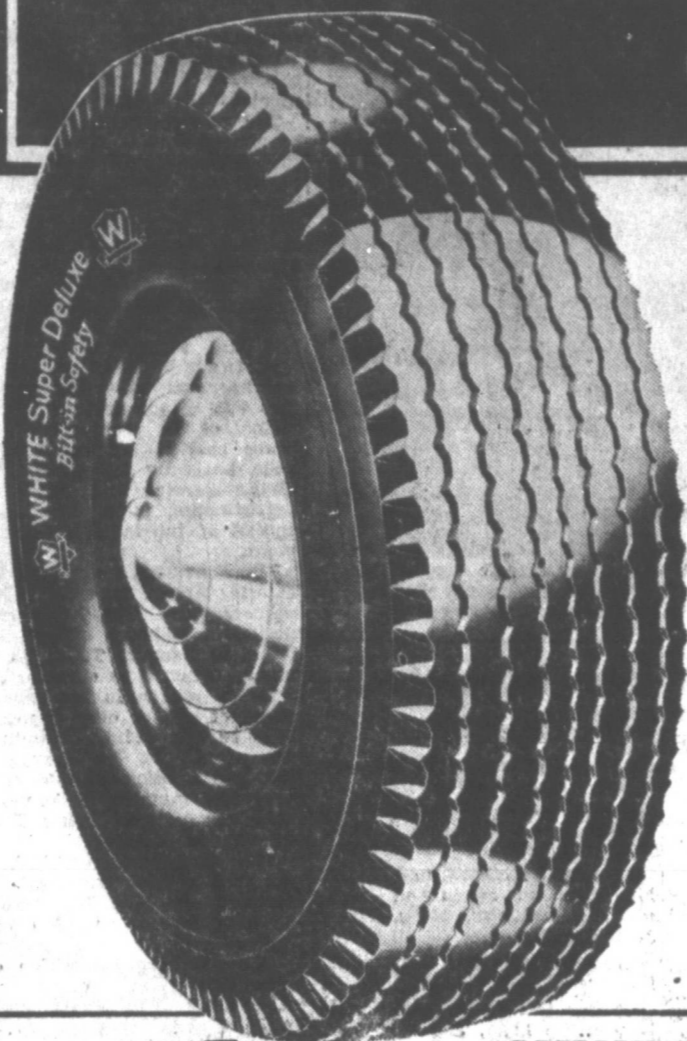

I found Tom in back and asks him the same question. "Well," says Tom, "is my opinion it is—but you'd better ask Henry." "I already have," I says, "and when you two cautious old codgers agree I'd bet my life on the decision."

From where I sit, your own opinion is worth a lot—but so's the other fellow's. That's why I keep saying, over and over, let's be tolerant of the other person's point of view—whether it's on politics or farming—or whether you like milk shakes and he prefers a temperate glass of beer.

Banks Deposits Go up in Ochiltree County, More People Are Moving in PERRYTON—If there was no other indication of a growing city, it was well proven April 11, when the two banks here reported total deposits of $11,972,684.85.

It was an increase of more than a million dollars. And it was the second year in which a new record was established.

Things are looking up at Perryton, what with another bumper wheat crop apparently in the offing—that is, barring unforeseen "acts of God," such as the recent drought. That will be some crop for the county that proudly calls itself the "all-time-high wheat county in the U. S."

Perryton has another reason for growing. Around 35 new families have moved here in the past few weeks with oil-drilling crews on three Gulf Oil Corporation well sites. There are a number of indications that good oil pay will be found in this part of the North-eastern Panhandle. The Sinclair-Lips well, 25 miles south of here in Roberts County, while not a real producer in the normal meaning of the word, has proven the existence of deep pay, in the Andarko Basin, in this part of Texas.

It is believed that many more wells will be sunk in this area within the next year or so; and that will bring more families to Perryton.

PERRYTON—This aerial view, furnished by courtesy of the Ochiltree Herald, shows Perryton, high on the plains and the center of new "growing pains." Inset at right bottom of picture shows the beginning of a new section of the city that will see 25 houses added to the growing community.

Whooping Crane Is More Nearly Extinct

NEW YORK—Another hope for preservation of the nearly extinct whooping crane has just been dashed.

The National Audubon Society received word from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, with which it has been cooperating in attempts to preserve the species, that two eggs laid by a pair of captive birds in the Arkansas National Wildlife refuge in Texas have been destroyed.

The eggs were broken up by the parent birds.

Big Government Jobs Need Understanding Workers

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—When a man is offered a big government job, he'd better have extra thick skin and the understanding, before he starts, that nobody ever pleases everybody.

He'd better be able to withstand criticism, fair and unfair, in trying to do the job he thinks needs doing. What he probably needs most is the long view, the realization that:

Performing a public service is one of the greatest contributions a man can make to his fellow-citizens, but it is not without danger.

While some men emerge from the hurly-burly of public life shining and with a feeling of success, some creep away hurt and broken-spirited, even to the point of death.

James V. Forrestal was one of the broken-spirited ones. Monday Rep. Hale Boggs, Louisiana Democrat, told the House: "Mr. Forrestal was subjected to a campaign of abuse and vilification the like of which I have never heard."

Forrestal didn't need the government job or the money that went with it. He was a wealthy man who was head of a banking firm when he quit to come here.

Perhaps no one has taken a more constant drubbing than David E. Lilienthal, who for nine years was with TVA and for the past two has been boss of the Atomic Energy Commission.

He has received much praise and the harshest kind of criticism. His particular and long-time critic has been Sen. a-t-o-r McKellar, Democrat from Tennessee, where TVA has its headquarters.

And now Lilienthal is in for more scrutiny. For yesterday a Senate-House investigation was ordered into his handling of the atomic bomb and the atomic energy program.

But Lilienthal has done a lot of thinking about the role of a man in public service and no one has said more about it, in writing and speeches. Here are some of his views:

"Public employment has become, in a very real sense, a hazardous occupation. The possibility of public pillory, so often unjustified and beyond immediate redress, does indeed cast a shadow of fear over public service. . . . "The best procedures in the world cannot possibly provide an absolute assurance against unfair criticism or attack. Indeed, whether the criticism be fair or unfair, whether it be justified or unjustified, the right to criticize those entrusted with public responsibility lies at the very root of our conception of democracy. The real assurance of fairness rests upon the basic good judgment and the conscience of the American people."

Boyle Gives Advice to Girl Grads

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—The sweet young thing had a stormy look in her eyes as she marched up to my desk.

"May I be of any assistance to you, ma'am?" I inquired cautiously.

You have to be cautious in a newspaper office these days when pretty girls come up to you. You never know whether they want you to be the last man in their Pyramid Club, or to tell you they just shot down their dear old grandmother for reading too many comic books.

"Yes, you can help me," she said. "You wrote a piece telling college men graduates how to get ahead in life. But how about the girl graduates? Haven't you anything to tell me?"

"Have I?" I asked, looking to see which ear she wanted filled first.

"I don't think there is anything I can tell you," I said.

"Why?"

"Because you just showed you have already learned woman's most important art—how to get men to do what you want."

"Oh, men!" she said. "I sometimes wish all the men in the world were dead—not that they probably aren't."

"Why are you mad at men?"

"Because they take up so much space. Whence has a woman who wants a career? Men hold the big jobs. If there's a soft touch in life, it's theirs."

"Look," I said. "You've got life backwards. Men lost out in the struggle to rule the world long ago. It's a woman's world today. The prime aim left to men now is to make women happy. Men work, women spend. This isn't just a feminine age we're living in—it's a feminine rampage."

"Well," she said. "I can see why they call you the poor man's philosopher. You certainly aren't the poor woman's Socrates—or Galilei either, for that matter. What about equal rights?"

"What about equal wrongs—do you want those, too?" I asked.

"Einstein couldn't figure a formula to give women equal rights. And it wouldn't be fair to them if he did."

"How can I have a successful career?"

"Work hard, use your brains, be friendly—just like I told the college boys. And don't try to capitalize on sex in business."

Elephant Boy Is Charged in Suit

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—An English ballet dancer charges that Sabu, elephant boy of the movies, is the father of her eight-month-old daughter.

A paternity suit was filed here in behalf of Miss Brenda Marian.

"Is there any way I can avoid it?" she dimpled.

"No, I guess not," I sighed. "Not for another 30 years. Then it won't make any difference."

Julier, who is in London. Miss Julier seeks at least $500 monthly support for the child, Michaela, plus $1,000 she claims she has spent on the infant's care since birth in Dublin, Ireland, Sept. 12, 1948.
