Nationalists Battle Back

SHANGHAI — (AP) — Communists marched into Shanghai today, and a roaring battle far worse than the siege developed.

Retreating Nationalists, trying to fight their way back to Woosung and escape, were blowing up everything they could. At 9 p. m. the whole horizon to the north seemed to explode.

Apparently the government soldiers, pulling back before the advancing Communists, blew up the fuel dumps, bombs and ammunition installations at Kiang-wang Airfield.

All the while cannonading shook the city as the Reds smashed with everything available at Woosung fortress. The Communists were determined to make the Nationalist escape corridor a blood avenue if they can not close it.

The Reds, overrunning the world's most populous city, gave communism its largest city by occupying almost all of Shanghai.

Towering Broadway Mansions, an apartment building where several Americans and British are trapped behind the Nationalist lines, was shaken up.

Even in the old international settlement in the downtown area small arms fire crackled as the Reds moved down small groups of Nationalists still held up in buildings.

RITA WILL BE TOLD FLATLY—ALY IS BOSS

CANNES, France — (AP) — When Rita Hayworth marries Prince Aly Khan she won't be asked if she agrees to obey him. She'll be told flatly he's the boss.

The French civil wedding ceremony, which the couple will have, says the husband is the head of the family.

The marriage of the American movie actress and the heir to the spiritual leadership of the small religious sect is set for Friday.

It will be in the newlywhite-washed marriage room of the tiny City Hall in Vallauris.

The couple, to avoid crowds, had wanted the ceremony in the prince's sumptuous Chateau de Horizon. The French government, however, refused to grant the necessary special permission.

Under French law all marriages must be in the City Hall except in cases of grave emergency.

There will be no bowing and scraping just because a movie queen and a spiritual prince are being married. The mayor will refer to them simply as "monsieur" and "madame."

Everyone at the Chateau de L'Horizon has been silent about any Islamic religious ceremony.

Aly Khan said in a curbside interview in Cannes, "Certainly there will be a religious ceremony," but he did not say the religious ceremony would be the same day as the civil ceremony.

Nor would he say where the religious ceremony would be held. Les Eclairages, Rita's business manager, was asked about the religious ceremony and two imams (priests) reportedly enroute.

He said "I don't know anything about it. I don't know anything about imams. There's a guy camping out on the lawn. Maybe that's one of them."

THE WEATHER

U. S. Weather Bureau

PARIS — (AP) — The three Western powers stood firm today against a Soviet move to replace it with four-power control over Germany.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Foreign Ministers Robert Schuman of France and Ernest Bevin of Britain, in turn, declared the clock must not be turned back to what they termed "disastrous paralysis."

They were referring to the five-point proposal of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky to reestablish four-power control of Germany through the old Allied Control Council for Germany and the Berlin Kommandatura.

The Russian representative walked out of the Allied Control Council in March, 1948.

The Kommandatura has not been functioning since.

WILLINGHAM, Eng. — This Suffolk village is being bothered by an old owl that isn't as wise as old owls are supposed to be.

City Passes Resolution Asking Decontrol of Rents

The City Commission yesterday afternoon passed a resolution approving decontrol of rents in Pampa.

This, however, is only one of several steps to be taken before rent control is fully lifted.

One copy of yesterday's resolution will be sent to Gov. Beauford H. Jester, and another to Tighe Woods, federal housing expediter in Washington.

After the Governor makes his recommendations, the housing expediter will notify the City Commission whether rents will or will not be decontrolled.

In a public hearing May 17, held to discuss the question of decontrol, only one person appeared to speak for maintaining controls. All the other nearly 50 persons present spoke in favor of decontrol.

Yesterday's resolution said that, after the public hearing, and after further investigation and deliberation, the commission found that there no longer exists such a shortage of rental housing in Pampa that rent control need be maintained.

A letter of resignation from Vernon L. Hobbs, city commissioner from Ward 2, was read at yesterday's meeting, but no action was taken.

The text of Hobbs' letter, addressed to Mayor C. A. Huff, reads:

It is with deep regret that I will be unable to serve further on the City Commission of Pampa. My physician has recommended that I suspend all outside activities for an indefinite period. It has certainly been a pleasure to work with such a fine group of men and I would appreciate your expressing my appreciation to the other commissioners and city officials for the most pleasant association in this work.

Hobbs was stricken by a heart attack May 5 and has been kept on a strict rest schedule since. His condition during the past week has been reported as considerably improved, however.

The commission did not accept Hobbs' resignation yesterday, pending further study by City Attorney Robert Gordon to determine how soon a special election must be held to fill the vacancy.

Refugio Is Hit by Wind, Hail Storm

REFUGIO, Tex. — (AP) — A freak wind struck the northwest section of this South Texas town last night, causing considerable property damage. No one was injured.

"It sure was some blow," Deputy Sheriff A. W. Walzel said today, "but I don't think it was a tornado. I figure the winds blew out four or five houses, some garages were knocked off their blocks and a lot of trees were blown down."

The wind struck about 7:30 p. m. and lasted for about 15 minutes, he said.

"It rained an inch and a half in about 10 or 15 minutes," said the deputy. "It flooded the streets. A lot of gardens in town were wiped out, but it didn't reach the ranch country around here."

Some water and gas mains were broken by the storm and power was off temporarily.

"But everything is under control," Walzel said.

There was no official estimate of damage. One unofficial report estimated damage at between $50,000 and $75,000.

Walzel, however, said: "The damage won't run anywhere near that high."

Streets were littered with uprooted trees.

Field Day Is Slated

A Wheat Improvement Field Day will be jointly sponsored by the Amarillo Experiment Station and Tex-O-Kan Flour Mills Agricultural Department farm, beginning at 9:30 a. m. Friday.

The program will start at the experiment station and a tour about 60 miles per hour.

The station is located 15 miles west of Amarillo on U. S. Highway 66 while Tex-O-Kan farm is three miles south of Bushland.

The Bushland Community Ladies Club will prepare and serve a free lunch at the station. Tex-O-Kan Flour Mills Company will furnish the lunch.

I. M. Atkins, agronomist in charge of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station small grain research project, and George Sacker, director of the Texas-Oklahoma Wheat Improvement program will be the featured speakers at the afternoon session. A general discussion of wheat varieties and problems will follow with the program being concluded at 3 p. m.

Charles J. Whitfield is project supervisor of the experiment station and Frederic T. Dines is agricultural agent of the flour mills.

Pampans Now in Bad With Army

FRANKFURT, Germany — (AP) — Recruits Clarence Hill, Pampa, Owensboro, Ky., arrested in prison, but in trouble with the U. S. Army.

They were pardoned by the Czech president from long prison terms as "spies" last Sunday. However, the Army announced yesterday they face charges of being absent without leave, breach of arrest and possibly illegal border crossing.

The men were absent without leave 18 days in November, returned to their company Nov. 30, and then disappeared again Dec. 1, the Army said. They were arrested by Czech police Dec. 9.

Robbery Victim Wants Book Back

DALLAS — (AP) — If only George Soffar of Houston would find his book, maybe he could stop worrying—even though someone stole his luggage, clothing, French perfume and personal papers from his car.

But the book he was reading was taken too. Soffar told police. It was Dale Carnegie's "How to Stop Worrying."

Markers Are Installed at City Streets

The city Street Department began yesterday installing four-way street markers on 429 intersections in town. The City Commission was notified at its regular weekly meeting yesterday afternoon.

The markers include the names of both the intersecting streets and the block numbers.

A traffic engineer from Course Sign Company, Dallas, specialists in electrical traffic engineering, will be in Pampa in two weeks to make a traffic survey.

The survey will determine the intersections in town where electric traffic signals are most needed. And provisions for the most necessary ones will most probably be made in next year's city budget.

Meanwhile, the N. Ballard - W. Francis intersection is being made a four-way stop corner to help control the rush of traffic during the morning and evening busy hours.

Various stop signs over town that were damaged or knocked over during the winter are being replaced.

As soon as weather permits, the city's public parking lot on W. Atchison on the west side of the Santa Fe underpass will be graded and oiled to provide all-weather parking.

After the lot is marked off in parking lanes, it will accommodate 71 cars. A west side entrance (See MARKERS, Page 12)

Whistle Stop War May End

DALLAS — (AP) — A pact ending Electra's "whistle stop war" with the Fort Worth & Denver City Railroad may be worked out today.

Mayor T. Leo Moore and railroad lawyers planned to try to do it in a meeting here today.

Mayor Moore and other citizens of the little North Texas town got steamed up when the FW & DC put its streamlined Zephyr on a fast, new schedule about two weeks ago. The train now stops at Electra and seven other small towns only to pick up or let off long-haul passengers.

The railroad says these are "conditional stops." Electra claims that's just an elegant way of saying "whistle stop."

But Electra already has canceled an emergency ordinance it passed to make the train stop at the station.

The City Council wiped the ordinance off the books Monday night.

It wasn't working, anyway. Federal Judge W. H. Atwell had enjoined the city from enforcing the ordinance until the case could be tried on its merits.

Victor Reuther, Union Man, Shot by Unknown Assailant

DETROIT — (AP) — A stealthy gunman, firing through a window, shot and wounded Victor Reuther of the CIO United Auto Workers Union at his home last night.

Badly hurt, the 37-year-old unionist faces the possible loss of his right eye, pierced by a shotgun pellet.

Thus, for a second time within 13 months, police today sought a man, or men, apparently bent on murder in the UAW-CIO's Reuther family.

The union's President Walter Reuther escaped death at the hands of a mysterious assailant the night of April 20 last year.

That attack remains unsolved despite one of the most painstaking investigations in Detroit's police records.

Walter called his brother's shooting "another dastardly and un-American trick."

Later Walter charged that the attacks on himself and Victor were carried out by men who were "paid" to do it in a "campaign of terrorism."

He said this was directed against "pro-American and pro-democratic trade unionists."

In a formal statement the UAW's top man said:

"I believe the same people who paid to have my brother, Victor, shot for the same reason.

"They are people who are opposed to decent, clean American trade unionism. They could be hard-hearted elements among employers, or Communists or Fascist agents."

"This is a campaign of terrorism intended to stop pro-American and pro-democratic trade unionists in their effort to build a better America and a free world."

"These terrorist and un-American elements will not succeed. No campaign of terrorism will lessen our determination. It will only make us more determined."

Most of HST Program May Be Shelved

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congress seemed about ready today to shelve until 1950 most of the political hot potatoes of President Truman's program.

Marked for delay until next year are measures involving civil rights, farm subsidies, health insurance, tax increases and social security expansion.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, indicated the administration will consider it a job well done if Senate action can be finished by July 31 on three major items: House-approved reciprocal trade legislation, a substitute for the Taft-Hartley Labor Law and the North Atlantic Treaty.

But he made it clear that he won't be disappointed personally if the Democrats have something fresh to talk to the voters about next year.

"We had a program that couldn't possibly be enacted by any Congress in seven months," he said. "We have to leave a few good things until next year."

Indications that the House may move soon to try its hand again with a Taft-Hartley repealer brought a comment from Lucas that the Senate will not debate a similar bill at the same time.

Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich.) said the House Labor Committee will have another repealer ready for floor action in two or three weeks.

Rep. Powell (D-N.Y.) said a subcommittee will send to the full committee within 10 days a bill to set up a fair employment practice commission — one of the key points in the President's civil rights program.

But Lucas said he doubts that the Senate — which always bumps into a Southern filibuster on such measures — will find any time to take up civil rights bills in this session.

Nor can he find room on the schedule, he added, for legislation to carry out Mr. Truman's (See HST, Page 13)

Pampa Stores Will Close Monday at 2

Members of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Retail Trade & Commerce Foreign Wars will present a graveide ceremony at 2 p. m. Monday at Fairview Cemetery.

The Retail Trade Committee went on record as favoring the idea of concentrating patriotic feelings on Memorial Day. Members expressed the opinion that in the future stores should close all day on Memorial Day rather than acknowledging half-hour observances at other patriotic days during the year.

Further, the Retail Trade Committee voted to revert to summer store hours beginning June 1 and running through Sept. 1. Summer store hours are 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on weekdays and 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. on Saturdays.

The committee has asked the cooperation of all stores in acknowledging summer hours.

Davis Named As Minister

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman today nominated Nathaniel P. Davis as minister to Hungary, where this country has had no representation since the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty.

The action set at rest reports that this government might not restore its legation in Hungary.

Davis, now ambassador to Costa Rica, will succeed Selden Chaplin, who returned to Washington for "consultations" following the Mindszenty case.

In a letter to Chaplin, released with today's announcement, Mr. Truman said he expects to assign Chaplin soon to "an important diplomatic" post.

Three other new ambassadors were nominated at the same time, as follows:

Joseph Flack, now ambassador to Bolivia, to be ambassador to Costa Rica, succeeding Davis.

George P. Shaw of Texas, to be ambassador to El Salvador, succeeding Albert Nuffer, resigned.

Pete Jarman of Alabama, a former member of the House, to be ambassador to Australia. The post is now vacant.

ISLAND OF ESCAPE

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

COPYRIGHT BY HUGH LAWRENCE NELSON DISTRIBUTED BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Four lonely women on the island of Spenre. One of them, Bea Cosgrove, is told by Henry Gough Harding, a shipper of the boat, not to go. He gives her a nickel-plated pistol to draw attention from the automatic which his twisted eyes are concealed under her clothing. On the island, Bea, along with Agnes Firth, Mabel Jones and Lily Warren, are greeted by Henry Gough Harding, owner of the island. Each of the women carries a letter from the "Loselybeard" Matrimonial and Correspondence Club as credentials.

Bea watched his long fingers stir through the contents of the four bags. He fished out the tinny revolver.

HENRY GOUGH HARDING'S close-cropped hair, either gray or blond, fitted his massive skull like a cap. His deeply tanned skin, his bushy black eyebrows emphasized the blue of his eyes.

Bea watched his long fingers stir through the contents of the four bags. He stopped poking fished out the tinny revolver.

"Which of you felt the need for this?"

"It's mine," Bea said. She felt a rush of color to her face as he stood there studying her, making no attempt to hide his amusement.

"And you are?"

"Miss Cosgrove."

He picked up her letter. "So Miss Bea Cosgrove. Spinster. Schoolteacher for 20 years. Hair dark. Eyes hazel. I would have said green. Weight 125. Height five feet five. Age 40. Excellent character, moral, trustworthy and dependable. Hmmm." He looked at the gun again, tossed it in a short arc out into the water. "So."

He picked up another letter.

"Mrs. Lily Warren."

"Here, Lily said."

"So I see, Mrs. Warren, widow. Private secretary. Hair natural red. Eyes black. That's interesting. Weight 115. Height five feet four. Age 41. Well spoken of by last employer. Vivacious and gay."

He picked up another letter.

"Mrs. Jones, also a widow. Housewife. Hair brown to gray. Eyes brown. Weight 110. Height five feet five. Age 44. Recommended as a quiet, devout, hard-working woman by pastor of local church."

Red spotted Agnes Firth's cheeks as she waited for Harding to begin on the last letter. "Miss Agnes Firth, spinster. Social service worker. Hair blond. Eyes blue. Weight 118. Height five feet three. Age 45. Excellent record at social work until her resignation over two years ago."

Harding tore the four letters into small scraps, scattered them into the water. "On Spenre Island we have the present and the future. When I look up those letters, I ceased the past and any hoidovers of the necessity of lying and scheming in the world you've left. It is a new beginning, a new chance for you all."

THE house's stone foundation and the veranda on the west and south sides blended with the hill to the north and overhung the sheer drop of cliff to the east. Broad stone steps on the west led up to the veranda and the wide front doors. On the south, the twin narrow-gauge tracks appeared abruptly on the steep slope leading to the cove and disappeared in an opening in the foundation.

The glittering white of the two-story structure was saved from the appearance of an overgrown box by the square tower at the southwest corner.

Inside the house the mutton-smelling candles on the large dining table flickered when Henry Harding stood up to end the meal.

"I know you're all tired, and I'll not keep you long. There are some things to be said, and a decision to be made. One of you may become my wife. I intend to be blunt now to save future misunderstandings."

"First, something about myself. Some years ago I was a small town real estate dealer. Oil was discovered on some property I acquired. I sold part of my holdings for millions.

"I acquired this island. Some of you may remember the newspaper headlines: 'Eccentric Millionaire to Found New Eden.' People laughed at me, but I poured a portion of my money into Spenre Island. The boat you came on has been under my charter. For over a year now I have had crews of men working. Putting up buildings, starting the gardens, the flocks of sheep, bringing in supplies and storing them away safely. These candles we use were made here, represent a first step in my desire to make Spenre Island independent of outside help. You saw the last of the crews leave. We are far from the path of planes and steamers. Everything now is up to us." He paused, frowned.

"Now, a word about my money. Even if a marriage is consummated, my wife cannot hope to get any of my money by leaving or outliving me. The money stays with Spenre Island. It is tied up legally with the island's future. Is that understood?"

THERE were nods and murmurs from the women.

"Good. We shall not mention it again. For you four, the next three months can be looked upon as a period of trial and adjustment. You must prove to me you can shed your old ways of life. True, that may be easy since you were neither happy nor successful. Here, each will have certain tasks. At first we will rotate these tasks each week. By trial we will determine where talents lie.

"I have outlined roughly what is ahead. Do you still wish to stay? I have arranged with the master of the Simpatco to lie offshore tonight. If I light the beacon on the water tower he will return tomorrow. Anyone who wishes can leave then."

Henry Gough Harding smiled, left the table for a moment and returned with materials of varied colors over his arm. He spread them out, showed they were purple, one black, one orange, one blue, and one green.

"Roughly speaking your duties will be separated into those of the house, the flock, the garden, and the sea—which covers supplies."

He picked up the black. "Miss Cosgrove, since you volunteered to get the meal tonight, may I ask you to take charge of the house for the first week? This is your badge of office. Please wear it tomorrow."

The black was lustrous. The

Subsidies Average 940 Million Yearly

WASHINGTON (AP)—Direct government subsidies to farmers and business in the last 16 years averaged $940,210,000 a year. Under present laws, $628,098,000 more will be paid out in the 12 months beginning July 1.

A $15,571,000,000 cost tag was set on the whole 17 years by the Budget Bureau in revision of figures given the Senate-House Expenditures Reduction Committee.

"Direct" subsidies cover only a part of the government's outlays to business, farmers, individuals and state and local governments. These were defined as meaning:

"Direct financial assistance paid to business or farmers in order to bridge the gap between cost of production and the existing or desired market price, or to stimulate business and farmers to accomplish some desired public objective."

In that class fall such items as payments covering "part of the cost of soil conservation practices," wartime payments to food producers and distributors to hold prices down, shipping subsidies and wartime payments to metals producers.

On the other hand, the bureau said, the definition excludes some business and farm aid items which often are popularly called "subsidies," among them: payments for transporting air mail, maintenance of air navigation facilities, certain soil conservation technical services, weather information and Commerce Department trade promotion activities.

Also uncounted were federal grants and local government grants, social security payments to assist needy individuals, loans and loan guarantees, and "payments to foreign governments and individuals."

The report said farmers got some two-thirds of the 17-year total. Of the approximately $10,880,000,000 paid out by the Agriculture Department, roughly half was listed as payments to farmers for soil conservation practices.

The net cost to the government of supporting air mail, farm commodities was listed at 280 million dollars.

Subsidies paid by the Maritime Commission to help cover the cost of building ships and operating losses sustained by shipping concerns were listed at nearly 400 million dollars.

Economic Dangers Are Emphasized

WASHINGTON — Reduction or postponement of expenditures during the coming fiscal year was urged upon the federal government by a statement on national policy issued by the Research and Policy Committee of the Committee for Economic Development.

The statement, "Tax and Expenditure Policy for 1949," was released by W. Walter Williams, CED chairman and president of Continental, Inc., Seattle, Wash., and Philip D. Reed, chairman of CED Research and Policy Committee and chairman of the board of the General Electric Company. It was drafted by a subcommittee and chairman of the board of the General Electric Company. It was drafted by a subcommittee headed by J. Cameron Thomson, president of Northwest Bancorporation, Minneapolis, Minn., and is one of a series of national policy studies conducted by CED, a non-partisan, non-profit organization of business leaders.

Honesty Has Its Reward—Just About

MONROE, Wis. — (AP) — Seven-year-old Sharon Broge has found that honesty is its own reward. Or just about.

Sharon found what she thought was a pencil case on the sidewalk. When she and several other youngsters opened it, they found $53,000 in cash and negotiable securities, dropped by a cheese company clerk.

The company's reward to Sharon: $5.

'POPPY GIRL' — Miss Annie Robineau (above), daughter of a French veteran, will be flown from Paris with Flanders poppies for the American Legion's poppy campaign.

"The expenditure proposals now before Congress," the committee said, "confront the country with the necessity for choosing among three courses of action:

"1. To hold expenditures down—so that a moderate cash surplus would be yielded by existing tax rates under conditions of high employment.

"2. To allow expenditures to rise and to increase tax rates—so that tax revenue would cover the increased expenditures plus a moderate cash surplus at high employment.

"3. To allow expenditures to rise and not to increase tax rates—so that there would be at most a very small cash surplus and possibly a deficit even at high employment."

"In the present situation the only acceptable course to follow is to reduce expenditures," the committee said, adding that if this effort fails, however, "Congress must assume responsibility for raising taxes as the least dangerous of the other alternatives."

"To increase taxes would be especially risky now in view of the present business uncertainty," the committee added. "To allow expenditures to rise so far that existing taxes would not yield a surplus at high employment would add to the existing uncertainty. It would suggest an inability to manage our fiscal affairs."

"The committee's conclusion is: The costs of not curtailing expenditures are too high to pay, in terms of their effects upon the stability and efficiency of the American economy. Congress and the President have the responsibility for weighing these costs. They cannot safely accept the position that because expenditure reduction is difficult the only choice lies between raising taxes and foregoing debt reduction. The course of least resistance may be to approve expenditure increases and not to raise taxes. However, if the effort to reduce expenditures finally fails, it is the committee's judgment that Congress must assume responsibility for raising taxes, as the least dangerous of the other alternatives.

"In our judgment, however, a tax increase is not necessary because, barring unforeseen international developments, expenditures for the coming fiscal year can be reduced."

The committee declared:

1. There is "urgent need to control expenditures more effectively and to search for saving more vigorously, both through greater economy and through postponement or curtailment of low-priority programs."

2. "Congress is not now adequately organized to do its part of the job. Its machinery is not deemed necessary, to consolidate and reorganize the executive arm of government would be a hopeful start" toward eliminating the waste of "hundreds of millions—perhaps even billions—of dollars" revealed by the Hoover Commission's reports.

3. "Giving the President appropriate powers, with safeguards by 9.8 billion dollars over the 1948 level, the committee warned that "the commitments we are asked to undertake now would involve steadily-rising outlays for many years."

The statement quoted the President's comment that "it must be recognized that expenditures in fiscal 1951 are likely to be larger than those for 1950." The President's proposals involve a cash outlay of about 46.3 billion dollars in fiscal 1950 (which begins July 1, 1949), according to the cash-consolidated budget uniformly used by the committee in its analysis since it shows the government's total cash income and outgo.

"If government continues to expand so fast and in so many directions at once," the committee declared, "we will suffer damaging consequences to private economic effort and individual freedom of action. The committee feels there is much evidence that we are in or near this danger zone."

YOUR CHILD TODAY Wise Parents Will Let Their Children Settle Disagreements Among Themselves

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE AP Newfeatures

"Give it to me!" "I won't; it's mine!" "It isn't; I had it first!"

Five-year-old Mary snatched the toy from her younger brother. Not to be outdone he began to pommel her with powerful little fists and she returned the blows with equal vigor. Two-and-a-half-year-old Nancy played her part by delivering none-too-gentle taps on each of her heads, alternately, with a long wooden spoon, while Baby Jim, from his cot, joined in the rumpus, by contributing repeated shrieks.

What can mothers do to prevent these distressing quarrels that many of us know so well? Let us look for the causes, advises the National Kindergarten Association.

A well-fed, rested and happy child, says the Association, can seldom be persuaded to fight. He is merry — contented with the world — but children, like adults, are not always in this happy state; it is then that quarrels arise so easily. Jealousy is another cause of friction.

Very often we find an elder child disliking a younger one. We are afraid to leave them in a room alone for fear that the elder will harm the younger child.

In such cases, says the Association, "it may be the elder child feels that you are giving more attention to the younger one, especially if the elder has been a great pet before the arrival of the latter. The fact that the younger child needs more attention is something the elder must be made to understand. Perhaps, if these were taken into a 'partnership' in bringing up the helpless newcomer she would feel better. She can be made to understand the baby's need, and then she will feel proud and important in helping mother care for him."

Where no such effort to bring about understanding is made, both children will pass a sorry childhood, continually scrapping, says the Association.

Youngsters have a wonderful sense of rightness, of fairness, and, when evenly matched in age and size, can usually settle differences without help. So, when cries get nervous tingling, resist the urge to rush in and deal punishment; first investigate fully. This truly requires the wisdom of Solomon.

Nursery quarrels cannot be wholly swept away, says the Association, human nature being what it is. But after seeing that our charges are physically well, let us discover and remove any reason for a feeling of unfairness. Teach the boys and girls respect for another's property, and always allow time for them to settle their differences themselves. Above all, concludes the Association, let us, their parents, show them a continuous example of harmonious living.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

America's Card Authority

Written for NEA Service

Today's lesson hand was given to me by Albert A. Ostrow, the director of bridge at Brooklyn College. The college now includes bridge in its adult educational program. However, they do charge for the series of eight lessons, as no taxpayers' money can be used for this program, except for the use of the building.

They run classes every evening the first four days of the week. Mr. Ostrow tells me that there are about 40 persons in each class. Two days are devoted to beginners, one day for intermediate classes, and one day for tournament bridge.

Mr. Ostrow has a little booklet that he uses in the classes called "Modern Basics of Contract." A number of these booklets were purchased and sent to the training camp of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Here's a hand that combines two points of play. The opening lead of the seven of spades was won with the ace and a spade trumped. Two rounds of trump were taken. When the jack fell from the South hand, the declarer now decided to try for an end play. He cashed the ace of clubs and led a small club, hoping that South would have to lead into the diamond ace-queen. South however, continued with the king of clubs.

Now North must make a nice defensive play, he must trump this trick with the four of hearts and now lead the nine of diamonds. If East plays low, it will hold the trick. North must continue with another diamond and this will hold the trick. North must continue with another diamond and this will defeat the contract.

Some more tips on those "made-over" trimmings of last year's millinery... pinned to a white pique ascot or to a fur scarf, the rose of last year becomes the finishing touch for any smart attire... your pearl strand will have a fresh start if velvet foliage with wire stems are wound intermittently along the strand... or even some of your newer hats may be livened up by using any of your "dated" millinery trimmings.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing. How quickly one may lose pounds of body, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's simple at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugstore and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcoztrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the "very first bottle" doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help you slim down, more graceful curves; if you doubt pounds and inches of excess fat don't just come to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, loins, abdomen, hips, thighs and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this pleasant help being back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. It's how quickly body disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

10 pounds lost in 10 days

Mrs. M. C. Britton, 206 W. Wildwood, San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I am a faithful user of Barcoztrate. I had dieted for weeks without your product and needed so badly to lose 10 pounds, so I started using Barcoztrate and my worry was over for I lost 10 pounds in 10 days. I now weigh 135 pounds. "I eat most anything I want and hold my same weight."

More Tips on "Dated Hats"

President Coolidge once invited some Vermont friends to dine at the White House. They were worried about their table manners, so decided to do everything Coolidge did. The meal passed smoothly until coffee was served and Coolidge poured his into a saucer. The guests followed suit. Then he added sugar and cream. The visitors did likewise. Then Coolidge leaned over and gave his to the cat. — Reader's Digest.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hass—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What major league baseball player once had his major league career interrupted by his own death?

DUSTERS: After witnessing Monday night's baseball game between the Pioneers and Oilers, I am of the opinion that the Pioneer hurler, Jon Wasalchuck, spent Monday afternoon reading this week's issue of The Sporting News. Within its pages is an article concerning the present problem of "duster" pitches.

It seemed that three out of every four batters who came to the plate to face Wasalchuck found that first pitch forcing them back to the platter. That has been the trend in the major leagues ever since the opening of the season, at least for the leading hitters of the big time. Wasalchuck dropped Harper, Peacock, Velasquez and Toyama to the seat of their trousers in the dirt at home plate to get away from a pitch high and inside. Nearly everyone else on the team found that first pitch brushing the dust off their buttocks, too.

The purpose of that inside pitch is to keep the hitters loose at the plate and keep them from digging in. If they don't get set, are always ready to jump out of the way of that wild one, they lose most of their power and also may take their eye off the ball.

There is very little that can be done to curb such practices by the hurlers. The stock answer is that "the ball got away from me" or "it didn't break." More than one player has been seriously injured by such practices, though it is doubtful if the original intentions of the pitcher were to injure the batter. Most of the time the "high, hard one" is just to keep the batsman from getting that hit at the crucial point of the game.

In the event that a player is beamed and dies, the pitcher can hardly be held responsible on a manslaughter charge. No one can be positive that his original intentions were such. Such a case has occurred and the pitcher has been vindicated.

Lou Boudreau has been the favorite target of the hurlers in the majors this summer thus far. And all because he is such a terrific hitter. His ire was raised so greatly by the other day when he was nicked that on his next appearance at the plate he laid a bunt down the first base line with the apparent intention of spiking the moundman when he came over to field the ball. That is about the only legal method that a hitter has of retaliating for a "duster." To go out and take a punch at the pitcher is just asking for a fine.

But a spiking on a close play may be termed accidental. Guess the game is getting a bit rough.

The pitchers can be blamed for trying to keep a batter from digging in at the dish because their job is to get him out. But then, why should a hitter be used for target practice? The batter must feel like milk bottles at the county fair: "You don't have to knock 'em off, just tip 'em over!"

ANSWER: Bruce Campbell, at the age of 21, established himself with the Cleveland Indians. One day he came down with spinal meningitis. His pulse stopped, no breath... Campbell had died! The doctor worked feverishly over the still body. The pulse started to throb weakly, an eyelash flickered. Campbell was brought back from the dead, and 30 days later was roaming the outfield of the major leagues once again.

Spanish Speaking Shortstop Baited Shuts Unafraid

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS—(AP)—Alfonso Carrasquel tells the umpires what he thinks without fear of being put out of the park. His teammates—the Fort Worth Cats—are learning Spanish, too. Perhaps the arbiters will need a foreign language course as a result.

Carrasquel is the first man ever to play in the Texas League without being able to speak a word of English. That is, he didn't know any a couple of weeks ago when he arrived. His progress has been amazing.

The tall, lanky young man from Caracas, Venezuela, has been catching the eyes of the fans here as Fort Worth plays Dallas a series. He is a fine fielder and a fair hitter (12 hits in 32 times at bat). His mates think he'll make the Class AA grade.

The Texas League wasn't Carrasquel's first stop. He was in spring training with the Brooklyn Dodgers and was shipped to Montreal. But he didn't get to play there. Fort Worth needed a man and Carrasquel was sent along.

At first Alfonso—his teammates call him Chico which, he explains, means pal or friend—had to get along with signs and a bat boy who spoke Spanish. Then nine days ago Cal Abrams came to the Cats. Cal is from Brooklyn but speaks Spanish. He not only communicates with teammates but Chico to know he is helping the Venezuelan learn English.

Chico knows "cut off," "squeeze play," "double play," "I got it" and other baseball terms. He also admits—through Abrams—that he knows about the first and fifteenth. Those are pay days.

His diet lacks variety since he doesn't know many food names. But his mates help him along—they order what they think he will like.

Alfonso is a nephew of Alex Carrasquel, who once played for Washington in the American League. He nodded emphatically when asked if he thought he, too, would make the big leagues.

Chico says, through his Brooklyn mouthpiece, that the players here may be a little better, generally speaking, but there's not much difference in Venezuela and Texas League baseball.

Chico explained that when the umpire called a strike he figured was a ball he quite often sold the arbiters what he thought of him—with cues, words—in Spanish. He admitted that "the bad words" were the first English words he learned. But he doesn't use the English version to the umpires.

The Cats all say they like Carrasquel very much. They're a little envious of his fan mail, however. Chico gets more mail than anybody. The reason is that he's one of ten children in the Carrasquel family and all his brothers and sisters and other relatives write him incessantly.

Freshman Managers Having Good Season

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK—(AP)—The freshmen managers seem to be doing as well as some of the major league players and some of the freshmen players have been doing very well indeed.

The freshmen managers include Jack Onslow of the White Sox, Red Rolfe of the Tigers, Bucky Walters of the Reds and Eddie Sawyer of the Phils. Walters and Sawyer reported in mid-season last year, but this is the first full year with their own clubs so they can be rated as newcomers.

Each of these pilots has his club flirting with the .500 mark, and when you are in a tug-of-war such as the major league races and are even in the won and lost columns you at least are holding your own.

Onslow and Walters are doing much better with their teams than expected. The Reds and White Sox generally were expected to get down to their accustomed places below sea level without undue delay.

Walters has been keeping the Reds up there in a respectable neighborhood without the aid of fresh blood, if you don't include Jimmy Bloodworth, a newcomer to the club but a fellow who has been around the majors before.

Bucky also has been without the services of Ewell Blackwell, except on a part-time basis in two games, so the showing of the Cincinnati club is the more remarkable and might be considered a tribute to the pilot.

Walters has been squatting on major league benches for about 15 years so he undoubtedly absorbed a lot of managerial savvy, and he has the ideal temperament for his job. He just isn't the type to blow his top in a tight spot, and we have the idea he has the understanding nature to get the most out of his players.

Onslow has had the help of a couple of hot-shot rookies, Gus Zernial was second in American League batting at a recent check, with a mark of .366. Gordon Goldsberry, another Sox addition, is hitting around .326.

Rolfe also has been aided in his debut by a classy rookie, Johnny Groth started out like a whirlwind, and although he has leveled off a little he still is a mighty valuable kid to have around.

Sawyer hasn't been helped much by a sensational rookie, or rookies, although Puddenhead Jones has been doing right well. But Eddie seems to be getting the most out of his team, which has plenty of potential power. The pitching could be better.

KPDN Adds 2 Programs

Two new programs have been added to the KPDN roster of Sunday afternoon entertainment. They are "The Smiths of Hollywood," to be heard at 2 p. m., and "Diary of Fate," on the air at 4 p. m.

"The Smiths of Hollywood" is a situation comedy starring Harry Von Zell as Mr. Smith, Brenda Marshall as Mrs. Smith, Jan Ford as their 10-year-old daughter, and Arthur Treacher, who portrays the Smith's English uncle, Sir Cecil Smythe.

In addition to the regular stars of the program, there are guest appearances by Ann Sheridan, Lucille Ball, Marsha Hunt, William Holden, and a host of other Hollywood stars.

"The Smiths of Hollywood" has been acclaimed from coast-to-coast as an outstanding radio comedy. The program has also been heard in Canada, where it received the highest listener rating program on the air, out-ranking many other popular American network programs.

Larry Finley, producer of "Diary of Fate" and "The Smiths of Hollywood" visited Pampa for two days last week, completing arrangements necessary for presentation of the two programs.

Private auditions of the programs were held for a group of Pampans, and both were acclaimed as outstanding in their respective fields.

Another Finley production, "Flight With Music," will be heard over KPDN at 7:15 p. m. each Friday, beginning May 27.

Meeting Called to Discuss Proposed Community Center

A joint meeting of representatives of all civic clubs in Pampa has been called to discuss the proposed community center, Jack L. Nimmo, chairman of the joint group, announced yesterday.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. next Monday in the Chamber of Commerce offices, he said.

A letter from the Pampa Kiwanis Club, endorsing the proposed community center, was read to the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce at its regular weekly luncheon meeting yesterday.

The letter, read by President Floyd Watson, said that the Kiwanis Club went on record at its May 6 meeting endorsing a civic center project and that a Kiwanis representative had been appointed to meet with members of the other civic clubs to discuss the project further.

Monday's meeting will be to organize the joint civic committee, Nimmo said. Plans for a community center were begun two years ago by the Jaycees, but it was recognized early that such a project was too big for one club to handle, and, besides, it was felt that all civic organizations should be given the opportunity to aid a community project.

Watson also asked all Jaycees yesterday to look around for an empty building that the Roundup Club could use as a gymnasium and meeting place. The boy's club, now numbering about 250 members, is badly in need of a recreation hall that can also be used as a gym, he said.

Jack Morgan, Ken Reeves, and Joe Fischer were appointed to a special projects committee to serve with Travis Lively, chairman. The committee will plan various club projects to be undertaken during the summer and fall months.

Child Not 'Average'? No Need for Worry, Declares School Physician

Adolescents vary tremendously in the rate and manner of their development, and parents shouldn't worry if their son is larger or smaller than the supposed "average" for his age, or seems slow to mature.

"There is no average boy," declares Dr. J. Roswell Gallagher, school physician at Phillips Anderson Academy, in The Reader's Digest.

"There is no correct average weight, height, or grade level in school for any age; nor is there an average age at which boys should take responsibility, drive cars, stay out late or shave."

Dr. Gallagher assures parents that their son "can be well and happy and turn out to be a fine adult even though he is smaller or than his classmates or has grown six inches in the last year. Real abnormalities in growth are rare.

It is sensible to be interested in your boy's growth and degree of maturity, Dr. Gallagher says, but neither the rate of his growth nor his conformity to "average" is of any significance. A boy's sense of his parents' confidence in him may be destroyed by parents' "oversolicitude, constant critical appraisal and too frequent comparison with a chart or a neighbor's son."

The average weight of one group of schoolboys was found to be 127 pounds, but the range in weight was 80 to 199, the author reports. Equally wide variations are noted in intellectual interests, control of emotions, quality of judgment. The parent or teacher who complains, "I wish he'd grow up," is unknowingly criticizing the boy for being his real age.

It is the rare boy who doesn't want to grow up and behave in an adult fashion, Dr. Gallagher contends, and the maturing process is often rapid. "A rowdy this month may next month be viewing with disgust his classmates' uproarious behavior."

Each Texan: Only 7 Cents

DALLAS —(Special)—A folded bill dropped from the letter which a secretary of the Dallas County unit of the American Cancer Society opened.

"I am enclosing a small contribution for your great work for little children," the letter read. It was from a woman whose small son died of cancer.

The secretary opened another: "My mother and sister died of cancer. I wish I could make it a million dollars."

Hundreds of letters like this come into the Dallas cancer unit office, 2022 Ross Avenue, and to American Cancer Society offices in other parts of Texas. Memorial contributions are a large proportion of the funds donated to aid the cancer control work of the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society. They are heart-warming contributions to the society's three-fold program of education, service and research against cancer.

The American Cancer Society is presently conducting its annual membership and fund-raising drive in Texas. With a state quota of $450,000, it has been estimated that it costs each Texan only seven cents a year to fight cancer in Texas.

Railway May End Strike

BERLIN—(AP)—The Russian-controlled German railway system today proposed a settlement of the bloody, five-day Berlin railway strike with an offer to pay the strikers in west marks. This would meet the main demand of the striking West Berlin railway workers.

The offer was contained in an interview with Reichsbahn President Willy Krekemyer by the Soviet-controlled Berlin radio. The union called an immediate conference to consider the terms. Krekemyer said it plain that the plan called for charging west marks, four times as much as Russian-zone east marks, for train fares in the Western sectors.

The railway head said the strikers would be taken back, except for those the company considers guilty of damaging property.

The 12,000 Western sector employees left their jobs Saturday, causing a complete halt in rail transportation within the city.

The Russians threw a new discordant note in the rail situation by demanding custody of locomotives in American sector railyards. Forty Soviet soldiers entered the Anhalter Station shortly after noon and insisted on permission to take Communist workmen with them so they could remove locomotives which had been tied up by the strike.

Western German police stood firm in their new job of guarding the rail property, which technical is under Soviet control.

Second Man Is Found Guilty in Farnsworth Death

GUAM—(AP)—A sentence of death was pronounced today on Pvt. Calvin Dennis, Negro airman of Seguin, Texas, and Frederick, Md., in the rape-murder of Miss Ruth Farnsworth.

A 2nd Air Force court martial found Dennis guilty and assessed his punishment the same as that of his half-brother, Pvt. Herman Dennis, of Calvert and Seguin, Texas, who was sentenced to die last week.

Calvin denied participation in the crime. But he admitted being present when Miss Farnsworth was slugged and carried into the jungle Dec. 11. After the girl was raped she was left to die.

A third Negro, Sgt. Robert Burns, 32, of Spokane, Wash., will go to trial Friday in the case.

Plans for Fair Made

Board of Directors of the Top o' Texas Fair Association, at a meeting last night in the Chamber of Commerce office, further perfected plans for the second annual, Top o' Texas Fair.

The board voted that there will be no admission charge to this year's enlarged fair. However, a 25 cent parking charge will be necessitated within the midway and exhibit area. Ample free parking is available outside the midway and exhibit area.

Officers and directors of the fair are now at work planning for outstanding special attractions, including a free act at the midway.

Negotiations have been started to bring rides and concessions to the show to add to its glamour.

Mrs. Charles Warminski, special representative, reported on the recent Association of Fairs meeting at Dallas, which she attended.

Upon Mrs. Warminski's recommendation, the Top o' Texas Fair Association became affiliated with the Texas Association of Fairs and Expositions.

A meeting of the Catalog Committee will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Chamber of Com-

Girl Scouts Plan Activities

Girl Scouts of Troop 9 have many summer activities in mind, Mrs. Archie Bullard and Mrs. Bill Ludeke, leaders, said.

The Scouts will present a party for small children at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Lions Scout House. They are completing their child care proficiency badges.

The same Scouts will hold a skating party from 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday at the skating rink. Later in the summer they will organize a baseball team and will challenge other Girl Scout troops.

Scouts of Troop 17, under the leadership of Mrs. Clyde Batson, will spend all day tomorrow at Camp Sullivan.

JURY

Hughes' acts led them to believe he was of age and denied that he had ever told them he was only 19 at the time of the sale.

Taking the stand yesterday were Hughes' father, and Joe Mitchell of the Southwest Investment Co., through which the deal was financed; Haskell Dill, Rutherford Enterprises partner; Rutherford; Downs, who acted as agent in the sale; Mrs. Downs; and young Hughes.

The charge to the jury was expected to be delivered sometime this morning.

and an east side exit will also be started off.

After several complaints had been received from residents in the west part of town about water coming in on W. Wilks after a heavy rain, the city engineer's office made a survey to determine what, if anything, the city could do.

There are several hollow spots along the Amarillo highway that fill up after a heavy rain and the overflow drains into town along W. Wilks and S. Hobart.

The problem is one for the state Highway Department, since it is out of the city's jurisdiction, but, at any rate, it would take a major ditching and draining job to carry the overflow away from town, city engineers said.

The state Highway Department has been notified, the City Commission was told.

NATIONALISTS

guard was buying time in last stand fight. They want a truce talk of their comrades to deploy on the outer edges of the city for another fight or reach Shanghai in the Yangtze to take them south.

The green clad Reds came into the city from the West. It was peaceful there for most of the city was still asleep. What few Nationalists the Reds encountered there, threw down their arms or took to their heels.

Slighting for the billion-dollar Bund built along the Whangpoo banks they headed there they ran into trouble. The bridges were blocked by machine guns. Snipers opened up from buildings.

Nationalist soldiers barricaded at the Garden Bridge, Chapoo Bridge and the Shechwan Bridge held up other Red bands.

The Communists deployed into abandoned Nationalist fortifications on the Bund. They were forced from their advance positions by rifle, grenades and machinegun fire from the Garden Bridge Park.

When it became apparent the Communists could not take the exposed targets without considerable loss of life, they set up a harassing fire. Bullets crackled up and down the famous Bund, in front of the Glen Line Building housing the American Consulate, in front of the British Consulate and across from the Russian Consulate.

Negotiations at Ford Reopened

DETROIT—(AP)—Negotiators in the Ford strike headed back into peace talks today on the 21st day of the "speed-up" walkout by the CIO's United Auto Workers.

Management and the union arranged to meet to discuss the UAW's arbitration offer as related to one phase of the dispute idling 106,000 Ford workers.

An agreement, the union said, could lead to an early end of the strike with settlement on "minor issues."

Last night's gunman attack on Victor Reuther, a union official, will not stand in the way of the resumed negotiations, according to the union.

took precautions to protect a third Reuther brother, Roy, a UAW international representative.

Both Walter and Victor have been avowed foes of communism. Several years ago the brothers made a tour of Soviet Russia.

The gunman's blast struck Reuther almost full in the face. One pellet hit him in the neck.

He and his wife, Sophie, were sitting in the living room. They had just changed light bulbs in the living room lamps. She sat across the room from him.

"All of a sudden I heard a shot," Mrs. Reuther said. I saw Victor falling to the floor. His head and face were bleeding badly."

Mrs. Reuther, uninjured, called police.

Dr. C. R. Lam described Reuther's condition as "serious."

Man Admits Killing Boy for 'World Peace'

FRANKFURT, Germany.—(AP)—A Frankfurt man confessed he forced an eight-year-old boy to pray for "eternal world peace" and then killed him with an axe in the belief a dying child's last wish would be granted, German police said today.

Police said they are holding Walter Huegel, 30, as the slayer of the boy, Signar Schuster.
