

Texans Pass Two Amendments

Gray County Still Without State Official

By HENRY S. GORDON Pampa News Staff Results of the special election Tuesday when nine of the ten proposed Constitutional amendments were defeated locally and John H. Harnly, Gray County, lost to Dick Bivins, Amarillo, for the 18th Congressional District State Board of Education brought comments from the voting public.

One point was brought into focus by Harnly's defeat. Gray County is without representation in any of the districts which is tied to sparsely populated Wheeler County on the other hand, has all of the important representation. They are:

Eugene Worley, attorney, representative of the 18th U. S. Congressional District in Washington, resides at Shamrock. Granger McIlhenny, attorney and manager of a dry goods store, representing the 12nd Legislative District in Austin, resides at Wheeler. Lewis M. Goodrich, attorney and owner of an automobile agency, presiding judge of the 31st Judicial District, resides at Shamrock. Potter County has two residents representing an area that takes in Gray County. They are: Gray Hazlewood, attorney, state senator from the 34th Senatorial District, resides at Amarillo. Dick Bivins, ranch and farmland dealer, representing the 18th Congressional District on the State Board of Education, resides at Amarillo.

Although Tom Braly, district attorney for the 31st District Court, resides at Pampa he is in no position to cast a legislative vote.

While there has been some expression of dissatisfaction with these facts, only a little over 3,000 of the county's 4,100 qualify. (See GRAY, Page 6)

Arguments in Texas City Case Ended

HOUSTON — (AP) — The arguments are over in the long drawn-out Texas City disaster damage suits, but the lawyers and the judge still have a lot of writing and reading to do. Attorney for the plaintiffs, some 3,000 people are seeking damages from the government in the combined suits — must submit their final briefs by Dec. 1. The government has until Dec. 15 to reply with its final brief. The trial began April 24. Its record includes an estimated 25,000 pages of court reporter transcripts. There are more than 40 volumes of exhibits.

The lawyers wound up their arguments yesterday. The disaster occurred April 16, 1947, when the French Freighter Grandcamp blew up, setting off a chain of explosions and fires that killed more than 600 people.

The plaintiffs claim the Grandcamp explosion was a blast of ammonium nitrate fertilizer in the ship's cargo. They claim the government didn't put out proper instructions on handling the compound, which was made on its government ordnance plants.

Bids Opened on More Equipment

The County Commissioners' Court began opening bids at 1 p. m. today on several items of hospital equipment. The hearing, originally set for 10 a. m., was postponed to the later time to permit some bids known to be in the mails to be received. Bids submitted covered 11 items of hospital furnishings, including laboratory and pharmacy supplies, linens, and mattresses, that will complete equipping Highland General Hospital so that it will be ready for business on its opening day, scheduled for Jan. 1, 1950.

A bid on a bookkeeping machine was to have been accepted today after Ray Wilson county auditor, and C. C. Lander, hospital superintendent, had examined three machines bid in last week.

Three bids were tabled from the court's last meeting, Nov. 2, and Wilson and Lander were to examine the three machines represented to see if they all met specifications.

(By The Associated Press) Labor organizations joined Democrats today in praising Tuesday's election results as a major victory for President Truman's program.

But Republicans, who lost important campaigns in New York state and elsewhere, disagreed on the significance of their setback. Both the CIO Political Action Committee and the AFL's political organization issued statements calling the Tuesday balloting a clear sign that the nation's voters haven't changed their minds about Mr. Truman's proposals since electing him President in 1948.

A top Republican, Harold E. Stassen, also recalled last year. The results of this week's elections, he said, "re-emphasize the very serious nature of our defeat in 1948."

But New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Mr. Truman's GOP opponent in 1948, saw things in a different light. Dewey backed a losing candidate in the New York Senate election which saw former Democratic Gov. Herbert H. Lehman defeat Senator John Foster Dulles.

"The result of the senatorial election," said Dewey, "is a setback and not a gain for the Democrats."

Life-Termer Fails to Win NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (AP) — Life-termer Frank Grandstaff's music — which won him six days of freedom — couldn't get him out of prison for good. The Tennessee Board of Pardons and Paroles turned down yesterday the 47-year-old convict's plea that it recommend a pardon for him.

Grandstaff put in his request after receiving a furlough last month to go to Big Spring. There he heard a performance of "Big Spring," a cantata he composed in prison.

Grandstaff told the board last week a Big Spring taxicab company had offered him a job if the Governor would pardon him. The board can only recommend pardons.

But Priestley Miller, secretary of the board, said it had denied Grandstaff's request. The board can't consider any more clemency pleas for Grandstaff for six months.

Santa Claus Says He'll Pay An Early Visit Here Dec. 8

Here comes Santa Claus and almost a month early at that. He called Paul Beisenherz, chairman of the Christmas Parade Committee, this morning by phone from the North Pole, saying he will be here for the annual Christmas parade, Dec. 8.

By the Associated Press Votes were still being counted today on a proposed Texas Constitutional amendment to permit lunacy trials without jury, but there appeared little chance it could come from far behind and pass.

Colombia Is Declared in State of Siege

BOGOTA, Colombia — (AP) — Colombia's conservative government has decreed a state of siege and suspended all sessions of the liberal-dominated Congress in a move climaxing weeks of pre-election clashes in which hundreds reportedly have died.

Censorship of press and radio also was ordered by President Mariano Ospina Perez. (News of the state of siege was filed last night by the Associated Press correspondent in Bogota and was not received in New York until this morning.)

The state of siege was proclaimed last night after troops cordoned off Colombia's Capitol Building and stood guard throughout the country to suppress any further outbreaks of the bitter fighting which has raged for the past month between Liberals and Conservatives.

The amendment to let the Legislature provide for lunacy trials without a jury was 7,167 votes behind when the election bureau quit counting for the night at 7 p. m. The bureau planned to resume counting on that amendment today.

Quirino in Philippine Vote Lead MANILA — (AP) — President Elpidio Quirino's lead over two opponents mounted slowly today as tally returns filtered in from Tuesday's Presidential election.

Unofficial returns at dusk gave Quirino 1,123,940 votes. Trailing him was Jose Laurel, favored by leftists and critics of United States and Philippines policy with 901,833. Jose Avelino, third party candidate, had 249,813.

The official count from the Commission on Elections lagged. The Nationalista Party had an edge in the official returns stood at Quirino 878,383; Laurel 263,479. Avelino 105,364.

Forty-eight hours after the election Quirino was not inclined to issue a victory statement. Not was Nationalista Candidate Laurel in a mood to concede defeat.

Oldtimers who have watched the slow pace of election returns in these islands since 1935, when it became a commonwealth, had one answer. The trend in established government poll officials who are on a daily pay system like to stretch out their jobs at five to 15 pesos ($2.50 to $7.50) a day as long as possible.

City to Get More Light Pampa is slowly brightening up at night, fifty watts at a time. The Southwestern Public Service Co. was told by the City Commission this week to replace all burned out 150 watt bulbs with 200 watt globes. The bulbs are not to be replaced, however, until they burn out.

At the same time the commission approved a trade-in on one of the Police Department's three-wheel motorcycles on a new two-wheel cycle for traffic work.

LEWIS FAILS TO SHOW FOR PEACE CONFERENCE

DECLARES TRUCE—Following a unanimous resolution by a 200-man Policy Committee in Chicago, United Mine Workers Chief John L. Lewis broadcast an order for all striking miners to return to work. Lewis set a new contract deadline for Nov. 30.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—John L. Lewis failed to show up today for a coal peace conference called by the government. Instead, he sent a terse wire saying he would see the federal mediators Monday.

It amounted to sharp slap in the face to Cyrus Ching, federal mediator chief. It left him, too, pretty much in the position of the parson when the bride-to-be doesn't show up for the wedding.

Ching was there, fuming. The soft coal operators were there, fuming. But no Lewis. Ching was plainly burned up.

First, he fired a telegram to United Mine Workers headquarters asking Lewis for "clarification." But he didn't even know whether Lewis would see it.

Then Ching delivered a report to the White House that Lewis had coolly turned down a bid to a peace conference.

Ching called for his car and sped to the White House himself to make the report.

While he was traveling there, President Truman was holding his regular Thursday news conference.

The Lewis-Ching situation had not come to light and the questions to Mr. Truman did not deal with it.

The President was asked what might be the administration's next move in the coal situation. He wouldn't say about that.

Nor would the President comment on Lewis' order of yesterday sending the coal miners back to work for three weeks.

Instead of a comment, the President said Lewis' picture is there on the front page of The Washington Post. Take a look at it.

The Post picture was an AP wirephoto of a glowering Lewis in Chicago.

When Ching headed for the White House, he indicated to reporters that he was ready to wash his hands of Lewis, leaving the coal situation on the White House doorstep.

Ching had outlined to the newsmen the whole series of events since he asked Lewis and the operators to the peace meeting.

Ching told reporters he had read (See LEWIS, Page 6)

Air Crash Probers to Hear Pilot

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Officials investigating the air crash which killed 85 here last week weighed the possibility today that a frantic radio effort to prevent the disaster might have been transmitted to the wrong plane.

Glenn Tigner, 21, a National Airport traffic controller, conceded yesterday that his shouted warnings to the Bolivian pilot of a P-38 fighter plane might have gone out on the wrong channel — to be heard, instead, in the Eastern Airlines transport which the fighter rammed moments later.

An inquiry panel set up by the Civil Aeronautics Board expected today to hear the views of Erick Rios Brixoux, director of Bolivian aviation, who was at the controls of the ill-fated P-38.

Rios Brixoux offered a detailed statement to investigators Monday at the Alexandria, Va., hospital where he is being treated. (See CRASH, Page 6)

Lucky Boys Find Grenades

HOUSTON — (AP) — Five boys found 16 hand grenades in a muddy bayou. They played with them for two days. Some found real hand grenades.

Yeah, said an ammunition expert Sol Cohen, and some luck that the boys didn't get blown to bits.

The grenades appeared old. But Cohen, chief ammunition inspector at the San Jacinto Ordnance Depot, said some explosives can stay under water for years without losing their power.

Theodore Buselmeier, 15, Joe Oubre, 13, Lee Wilson, 11, David McWilliams, 12, and Dan Davidson, 11, found the grenades Monday.

One boy said he dropped a grenade on a sidewalk — just to scare a girl. Oh, boy! Two said they intended to take some to school yesterday, but their parents wouldn't let them.

One parent called Army and Air Force experts. They found 37 more grenades and a bazooka rocket in the bayou. Nobody knew how the stuff got there.

The experts said the shells were too dangerous to be unloaded, even at the depot. They ordered the lot destroyed.

The experts just about dropped their teeth when they found out that young Buselmeier had already unloaded one of the grenades with a screwdriver.

Better Hang on to Your Hat Brother WICHITA FALLS — (AP) — You'd better hang on to your hat around here, and not because of the wind.

L. B. Smith, city carpenter, told Sheriff Hammett Vance a man grabbed his hat off his head and fled yesterday. Smith said the hat had $15 in the flap.

O. H. Lofin of Electric reported Monday that a grab-and-run thief made off with his hat and the $35 in the band as he stood on an Electric street corner.

Court Decides in Favor of Newspaper

GUTHRIE, Texas — (AP) — A 50th District Court jury decided yesterday that an account of a race meet in the San Angelo Standard-Times of San Angelo, Texas, did not damage Fred Albright.

The account appeared in the issue of May 7, 1947. The case went to trial Monday before Judge Lewis Williams. The jury was out about two hours.

SOVEREIGNTY TRANSFER CAIRO, Egypt — (AP) — Indonesian Republican Premier Mohamed Hatta said today the transfer of sovereignty over the East Indies from Holland to the new United States of Indonesia will take place Dec. 27 or 28.

PANHANDLE PEACE OFFICERS ENTERTAINED AT BARBECUE

It was play period for a group of 48 assorted peace officers from various parts of the Panhandle yesterday at Recreation Park where they gathered for a goat barbecue.

The barbecue was put on and prepared by John V. Andrews and Bill Graham.

For most of the peace officers it was their first time to taste goat. At least four of them asked Andrews and Graham where they got "that tender beef."

All of them went back in the "chow line" at least twice. The meeting was held for nothing more than a lunch and play period for the officers. No speeches were made by any of them.

Graham and Andrews, who have received little publicity over the Panhandle, have been given a reputation that is gaining momentum each time they step up and turn in a matted spit for some organization in the county.

Eight sheriffs, one Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, one liquor control board agent, a number of chief deputies and deputies, at least four men from Col. Homer Garrison's Highway Patrol and License and Weight Division, two Pampa Police Department officials and members of the local Sheriff's Department were there.

Included on the visiting list were: Sheriff H. Anderson, Berger, Paul Gaither, Amarillo; Cy Carr, Miami, Clyde Risley, Canadian; Everett Tarbox, Lipscomb; Guy Wright, Clarendon; and J. C. Reese, Hereford.

Chief deputies and deputies Murphy Hurd, Amarillo; Red Saitz, Miami; Tom Newton, Amarillo; Leonard Fox, Lipscomb; and J. C. Reese, Hereford.

Others who will take part in the ceremony include: Jack Lennox, public relations and training manager; W. B. Weathered, local postmaster; Roy Webb, Jr., local airport manager; Fred Thompson, president of the Chamber of Commerce; R. E. Harding, Jr., vice president in charge of operation; and Bill Berry, assistant regional administrator of the Civil Aeronautics Administration. Berry will be the honored passenger, Captain Turner will pilot the inaugural ship.

Thompson will preside in the absence of Hugh Burdette, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee.

The Harvestor Band will be on hand to furnish background music under the direction of Orland Butler.

The entire population of Pampa has been extended an invitation to take part in the ceremony which will mark a milestone in the development of Pampa.

Members of the Aviation Committee have pointed out that the success of the operation through Pampa will depend on how the public accepts it.

Beecher Bonanzas will be used by the airlines until business necessitates the use of DC-3s. Chamber of Commerce officials believe it will not be long until business demands larger planes.

Airline to Open Nov. 14

A caravan of planes will arrive at the airport at 2:10 p. m. Monday to take part in the inaugural ceremony. Mayor C. A. Huff will extend greetings from Pampa and Keith Kahle, president and general manager of the airlines, will deliver the response.

Others who will take part in the ceremony include: Jack Lennox, public relations and training manager; W. B. Weathered, local postmaster; Roy Webb, Jr., local airport manager; Fred Thompson, president of the Chamber of Commerce; R. E. Oil & Gas News

Texas, Louisiana Continue Fight for Gulf Tidelands

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Louisiana and Texas held to their contention yesterday that they and not the government hold title to the oil-rich offshore tidelands in the Gulf of Mexico.

They answered the Justice Department's request that the Supreme Court followed up the California tidelands decision and rule that the government now is the owner in fee simple of the offshore lands or its possessors of paramount rights in and full power over them.

In the California case the court ruled that the federal government "has paramount rights in, and full dominion and power over, the lands, minerals and other things underlying offshore lands."

Louisiana in its brief prepared for filing, admits that the government has paramount rights in and full dominion and power over the lands and minerals in the Gulf of Mexico but it denies that the government holds title to the lands.

F. Trowbridge von Bauer, of Washington, one of the attorneys for Louisiana, said the state's position is that the California decision simply gives the government the same regulatory rights over the offshore lands as it has over all other land in the country.

These powers, he told a reporter, do not include the right to lease out this land for oil drilling. That, he said, is a right of the title holder — namely the state.

Louisiana has leased out large amounts of the Gulf of Mexico lands to oil companies and obtains millions annually in royalties.

The federal government, under the California decision, claims a share of this royalty.

Texas' answer to the government's suit reiterates the state's contention that the federal government has no claim to the offshore lands whatsoever because of the terms of the Texas Annexation Act.

This act, Texas argues, transferred to it just about any other kind of tree which will improve the Camp Ki-O-Wah campsite.

Scouts will spend Friday night and Saturday of next week at the camp doing their good turns.

Markham Is Named Head Of Institute

CHICAGO — (AP) — Gen. Baird H. Markham, 63-year-old former commander of the Oklahoma National Guard, was named yesterday as acting president of the American Petroleum Institute until March 1 of next year.

Markham was selected on a temporary basis by the board of directors of the institute to succeed William R. Boyd, Jr., of Teague, Texas, who retired.

Markham, who will be paid on the basis of $75,000 a year, is director of the American Petroleum Industries Committee, New York. He was born in Decatur, Texas, but gained much of his oil experience in Oklahoma.

Commission Sets Hearings

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Railroad Commission yesterday announced the following schedule for public hearings:

Nov. 29 — Reconsideration of B. G. von Roeder, Trustee, and Pierce Withers and others' application for exemption from shut-down days to apply from month to month to wells in the Pickett Ridge field, Wharton County. Application was denied after first hearing. Should commission again refuse to grant it, the applicants request as an alternative that exemption from shut-down days apply from month to month to wells on the Pierce Withers and others T. & N.O. lease and to the B. G. Roeder, Trustee, Wilbeck No. 2, Pickett Ridge field.

Dec. 16 — Application of A. G. Hill and Walter Duncan for discovery oil allowable rights, new field designation and special field rules for the reservoir of their W. P. Bomar No. 1, T. H. Cosby Survey, Section 215, Block 20, Fisher County.

Oberlin's Chinese Puzzle; What to Do With Temple

MODEL—This is a scale replica of Oberlin College's Chinese problem—the gift temple it can't afford. The temple, in 30,900 pieces, is stored in 173 crates.

OBERLIN, Ohio — (NEA) — Oberlin College is worried about the Chinese problem, but it hasn't anything to do with the Nationalists and the Communists. Oberlin's problem is what to do with a Chinese Lama Temple.

Four years ago, the Archaeological Trust of Chicago donated the temple to the college. The structure is a painstaking replica of the summer Jehol palace of ancient Manchu emperors in Inner Mongolia. It had been built for the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago in 1932, and later shown at the World's Fair in New York.

When the temple became Oberlin property, the college received a $75,000 donation from Dr. M. H. Kung, former vice-premier of China and an Oberlin alumnus. The sum was for construction purposes.

But the temple arrived in 29 freight cars, and about 30,900 pieces. It was a construction job that far exceeded the available funds. So the temple was put in a warehouse—in 173 crates covering two floors. There it has reposed, getting dusty and expensive to maintain.

Plans are underway again to raise the funds necessary to erect the exotic structure, and the college faculty is divided into two opposing factions on the question of whether the ultimate end justifies the expense.

Those on the faculty who favor erecting the temple feel it will serve as a center for Chinese studies. But the opposition wants no part of the building, feeling that it would be just a waste of money to put it up.

"The temple represents a debased form of Chinese Buddhism and I seriously doubt that it would be a good influence on students," said Prof. Frederick Artz, head of the history department. "In addition, you can't heat it, you can't see in it, and it's filled with tinkling bells."

Supporters of the temple feel that the bells are Prof. Artz' big worry, since the proposed temple site adjoins his property.

But Prof. Artz has further objections, feeling that the temple would not make a decent museum. "There's no wall space to hang a picture or accommodate pieces of art," he said. "The entire structure is fancy lacework. It would cost $100,000 to erect it and the maintenance would be immense. Everything on it is hand-painted."

Another of the anti-temple faction feels that construction costs could be put to better advantage for other projects. "The college is strapped for finances and salary increases," this professor said. "It would start a campus revolution if the board approved construction of such a curiosity. Far better to establish a chair at the college for Chinese studies."

More than 28,000 pieces of the temple were made in China—hand-carved and hand-decorated. Another 2900 pieces were added by American craftsmen. The temple is roofed with 25,000 shingles of 23.12 carat gold leaf.

"There was gold all over our clothes and the floor when we stored the shingles," said Robert Barber, warehouse manager. "It was some job!"

Americans Are Eating Less Candy

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Americans are eating less candy this year than in 1948.

The Commerce Department said today in a department survey that consumption will drop to 16.7 pounds per person from last year's average of 18.2 pounds.

Ten-cent candy bars "have become a major fixture in the industry," a department survey shows. Five-cent bars still ring up a greater number of sales, but candy makers cut production of these nickel numbers by 14 percent in 1948 while increasing output of dime bars by 53 percent.

Amarillo Man Will Head Technologists

DALLAS — (AP) — Lee R. First of Amarillo was elected president of the American Medical Technologists of Texas at a founders' meeting here, it was announced.

Jack Voltaire of Dallas was named vice president; Mrs. Valentine Melvin of Midland, treasurer; and Miss Eleanor T. Carr of Dallas, secretary.

Five regional directors appointed are Miss Ruth Denton of Dallas; Gregg Dearmin of San Angelo; Cleo Massey Tilley of Jacksonville, L. A. Lloyd of Marshall; and Betty Standard of Pecos.

Business Failures in Week Decline

NEW YORK — (AP) — Business failures declined to 196 in the week ended Nov. 3 from 221 the previous week, and compared with 104 in the comparable week of last year, Dun & Bradstreet reported.

The only industry group posting an increase in business casualties from the previous week was manufacturing, which reported 82 failures against 33, the credit reporting agency said. Retail casualties were down to 86 from 97, construction to 21 from 30, wholesale to 26 from 41 and commercial service to 11 from 20.

Lake Charles Will Triple Its Size

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — Lake Charles won the right to triple its size when the Supreme Court upheld a lower court verdict in favor of the expansion.

In a 5 to 2 opinion, the Supreme Court praised the "well-written and well-reasoned opinion" of trial Judge John T. Hood, Jr.

The case went to the Supreme Court on appeal by Paul J. Barbe, and others, representing a group of property owners in certain districts of the proposed expansion area to the south and west.

Mild Fall Gives Fuel Oil Men in East the Shivers

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — (AP) — A mild fall — and the pipeline that attaches the Eastern's furnace to a Texas natural gas well — give the fuel oil men the shivers.

Fuel oil producers started raising prices as the summer ended. Now in the East, they are granting price concessions to wholesale purchasers.

Oil storage tanks are well filled — at the producer's level. But mild weather induces the homeowners to put off buying. And jobbers have resisted oilmen's pleas to stock up.

As the tentacles of natural gas pipelines push steadily northeastward into the oilman's richest market, he is losing some of that elation he has felt since the war when mounting coal mining costs sent that fuel up into oil price bracket.

At the University of Illinois they recently figured out that, according to the amount of heat fuel gives off, you can heat your house at the same total cost

One of Two Boys Trapped in Ditch Caved-In Saved

LANCASTER, Ohio — (AP) — An eight-foot-deep open sewer ditch caved in on a group of five boys at play. Two were trapped. One was saved by the heroic efforts of a playmate.

The other died — crushed under the weight of more than a cubic yard of heavy sub-soil.

Two pairs of brothers and another boy were playing Sunday in the trench behind a house under construction. They were David Spung, 13, and his 12-year-old brother, Gary; Dick Smith, 12, and his 6-year-old brother, Jimmy. The fifth boy was Edward Crook, 13.

When one wall of the trench fell, David Spung and Jimmy Smith were trapped.

Only one of David's shoulders and part of one leg were visible. Jimmy's legs were buried.

As Eddie Crook recalls it: "There was a great big clod hanging over Jimmy's head and I was afraid it would fall on him. So I got down in there with a pick and worked as fast as I could and pretty soon he was able to pull his feet out."

After a few minutes, the other boys gave up their frantic clawing at the dirt covering David. They called firemen. But David was dead, firemen found when they uncovered his body.

Dr. Joseph A. Geer, coroner, said David's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Spung, were in Harmony, R. I. Spung is a traveling blacksmith. Dr. Geer said. He said the eldest son, Roy, Jr., a high school student, was in charge of the family of seven children.

imposed a 9 a. m. to dawn curfew in Bogota and in Cali, Colombia's fourth largest city, to keep everyone off the streets at night.

Troops were dispatched to strategic points throughout the country. Government buildings were put under heavier guard. Congress members and newspaper reporters were barred from the Capitol Building.

Speculation grew that the army might take over power from the civilian government to curb the bloody outbreaks between Conservative and Liberal Party supporters.

Such action might postpone the balloting scheduled Nov. 27 to name a successor to Conservative President Perez.

Four Tasks Ready for Legislature

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Legislature will have four specific subjects including taxation to act on when it is called into special session during the latter half of January.

Gov. Allan Shivers yesterday announced the appropriate date of the call, and listed these as the topics he would submit:

1. Administrative funds for state hospitals and special schools in a specific amount based on recommendations of the board studying their needs.

2. "Some start" on a building program for these institutions, based on the board's recommendations of what is most urgent and what can be accomplished immediately.

3. Buildings for the dental schools and cancer research project at Houston; buildings for the medical school at Dallas "if the program is ready"; buildings for the Texas State University for Negroes at Houston "possibly if the need is great."

4. Taxation, assuming additional revenue will be needed, on a broad base along lines of the existing omnibus tax law. Shivers said it was apparent more money would be needed, but it was too early to say how much, or to get a bill ready.

Shivers answered most questions about results of Tuesday's elections with "no comment."

"I am never surprised at what happens in an election," he said. Asked if he still favored the idea of annual sessions and annual pay for legislators, as expressed in his inaugural address as lieutenant governor, Shivers said:

"I always bow to the will of the people."

"Would you take the vote as a sign of conservatism?"

"The vote was no indication of anything but what they were voting on," Shivers replied.

The special session call will come for a specific date depending on when the State Hospital Board finishes its study and makes its recommendations.

The extraordinary session — the first in recent years — will be called because Texas voters rejected the idea of annual sessions of the Legislature. If it had been approved, the matters to be submitted by Shivers would have come up with the regular session.

Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Iceland comprise the Scandinavian countries.

Kaiser Talks Of Plant For Texas

DALLAS — (AP) — Henry J. Kaiser today said he is considering building an aluminum plant in Texas.

He called for an expanded national economy with more liberal depreciation provisions for capital.

"What this country needs is a $300,000,000 economy and an accelerated depreciation law. Then this nation's industries will really go places," Kaiser said in an interview.

The industrialist stopped in Dallas enroute to Oakland, Calif. Kaiser said Texas had three essential requirements for an aluminum plant. He listed raw materials, power and demand. If business conditions turn out as bright as he believes, the Kaiser Co. "will have to build a plant here," he said.

Kaiser said his company and others would be helped immeasurably if Congress would enact an "accelerated depreciation law."

He said a 20-year period for depreciation is now required. A flexible depreciation period similar to the wartime 5-year period, he said, would tend to increase risk capital and permit industrial expansion.

Kaiser commented that eventually Texas will not only produce Kaiser automobiles for its own market, but would also produce in quantity for shipment to other parts of the country.

Tiny Wrecker Does Big Damage

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — A wrecking crew got loose in Mrs. Glenn J. Keiser's second floor apartment yesterday.

The damage: an opened refrigerator, its milk, eggs, cheese, bacon, etc., scattered and trampled upon; a ransacked chest of drawers, its shirts, socks, ties, etc., hurled helter-skelter about the apartment.

The culprit: Mrs. Keiser's 15-month-old son, Glenn, Jr.

The opportunity: Mrs. Keiser had gone upstairs to talk with a neighbor, left the door ajar. Baby Glenn had slammed it shut and gone to work.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pain, leg pain, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smearing and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

LEWIS

(Continued from Page 1) Lewis said he had asked Lewis for a "clarification" because he said Lewis' message "appears not to be responsive" to the federal invitation.

The Conciliation Service said that the Lewis telegram, although signed Chicago, had been sent from the Washington office of the United Mine Workers.

Lewis and his 200-man Policy Committee had been in Chicago all week. It was there that he suddenly called off the 52-day coal strike yesterday, ordering his miners back to work until Nov. 30.

The Conciliation Service disclosed that Ching received the Lewis telegram late yesterday. The service attempted then, and again this morning, to get in touch with Lewis or a Lewis associate, who could clarify and confirm — that the wire was genuine and meant what it seemed to say.

Finally, Ching sent a telegram to the mine workers headquarters here saying the mine owners were standing by for a conference and that he wanted to hear more from Lewis.

Referring to the Lewis telegram, Ching said: "This message appears not to be responsive to my wire and requires clarification inasmuch as no meeting has been called for Monday. Apparently there is some misunderstanding which may have resulted from the delayed transmission of my wire to you."

"I should appreciate your clarification as soon as possible. I have requested the representatives of the operators to extend me the courtesy of standing by in Washington until I hear from you."

"This wire is being sent to your Washington offices because I do not know where otherwise to address you."

The barbecue was held in the Merchants' Building of Recreation Park and lasted a little less than two hours since most of the officers had to get back to their own posts.

GRAY

Defeat of the amendments brought sharp comment and criticism of the Legislature from those who voted. The verdict was unanimous among those who voted against all proposed amendments. "I didn't understand most of them, so voted against all of them to be on the safe side," was their general statement.

Even though the amendments were brought down into the simplest language possible by the wire services and writers for newspapers, wording on them was still broad, indefinite and vague. Passage of them would have left the Legislature free to do what it pleased, especially on the enabling acts, most of which had no limitations, definitions, or concrete stipulations. This made the people suspicious and they turned thumbs down.

Box 18, Webb School, and the county's smallest box, was still unreported by 11 a. m. It holds the decisive vote on whether Gray County carried or defeated the amendment providing for district court sessions and proceedings to be held in places other than county seats in which a case is pending. The amendment carried in 17 boxes, 481 to 477, a difference of four votes.

County Clerk Charlie Teut said this morning he wasn't even sure whether the box held an election. Several times in the past scheduled elections were not held in the precinct.

Phone Call Halts Suicide Attempt

HOUSTON — (AP) — A long distance telephone call from Louisville, Ky., today was credited with preventing a 33-year-old divorcee from committing suicide.

Homicide Detective S. O. Farris said a man called him at 3:40 a. m. from Louisville and said his divorced wife had phoned and said: "I'm just calling to say goodbye."

Police had trouble locating the woman but finally did so by telephone. As Farris talked to her, other police sped to her apartment.

The apartment was filled with gas. They found four gas burners open.

The woman was taken to police headquarters where she was released to her attorney.

CRASH

Maj. German Pol, another Bolivian aviation official, was one of the witnesses at yesterday's opening hearing.

Pol, who witnessed the collision from his parked automobile at the airport, said it appeared to him that the Eastern Airline DC-4 had swerved into the fighter.

As for the P-38, Pol testified that his government had turned down the plane three times prior to the fatal test flight — on one occasion because the radio was not working properly.

The Bolivian official said Rios Eridoux had indicated before the takeoff that the radio was working. But he added that Rios passed on a request to the control tower to instruct him by lights if his radio failed.

Tigner said he had not received such instructions. What's more, he said, lights might have confused both pilots, since they were coming in from the same direction.

It sold for the value of its chemical elements, the human body would be worth about 98 cents.

They Have Number Things in Common

SALT LAKE CITY — (AP) — Mrs. David E. Fullmer, Salt Lake City, and Mrs. Arnold Fullmer, Woods Cross, are sharing Room 501 at the Latter-Day Saints Hospital.

It's more than a coincident of names.

Late Sunday and early Monday both Mrs. Fullmers gave birth to seven and a half pound daughters.

Both have husbands in the furniture business.

Both women already have one child.

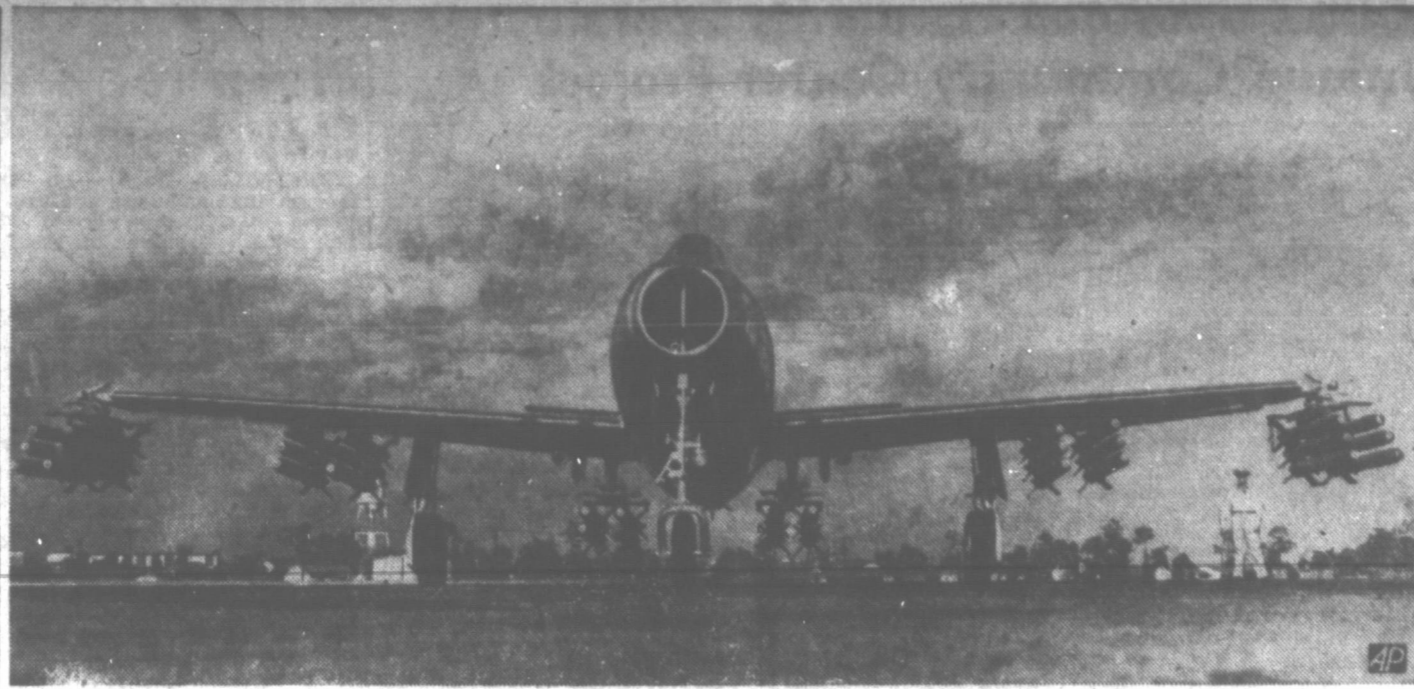

Both are 29 years old.

Both expect to check out of the hospital on Saturday.

Hospital attendants said the two tiny girls look like identical twins.

Old friends, the Fullmers? No. Mrs. David and Mrs. Arnold, who are no relation, met for the first time when they checked into Room 501.

Commercially speaking, the Douglas fir is more valuable than any other tree.

Pancakes and Sausage To Rebuild College

DEFIANCE, Ohio — (AP) — If Defiance College students eat enough pancakes and sausage tonight, they may have enough money to "rebuild Findlay College."

The fund-raising pancake enterprise is the last of several aimed at raising $212, that's the amount for which Findlay College billed the Defiance Student Council.

Seems there was some paint smeared around on various exposed objects on the Findlay campus the night before the Oct. 25 football game between the schools. Findlay's bill was for cleanup expenses.

More than $100 has been raised so far on the Defiance campus through the sale of tags labeled: "I am helping rebuild Findlay College."

The Greek letter council hopes tonight's supper raises the rest of $212.

Incidentally, Findlay won the game, 13 to 6.

"Strap" System Brings District Champions

ORANGE — (AP) — Coach W. R. Smith's famed "strap system" is paying off again.

The coach of Wallace High School of Orange, who will employ a strap when one of his boys doesn't follow the proper assignment, has just piloted his team to its fourth straight district championship and the position as favorite in the playoffs for the Class A championship of the Texas Negro Interscholastic League.

Some Canned Goods Cheaper Than the Fresh

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Commerce Department reported canned fruits and vegetables in some instances are cheaper for city dwellers than the fresh products, even when the latter are bountiful.

The canned goods also under-sell frozen fruits and vegetables by wide margins, the department said in a new "industry report" on canned fruits and vegetables.

"Retail prices of canned fruits and vegetables average generally between 60 and 80 percent of the prices on equivalent quantities of the corresponding frozen products," they study said.

"Usually, the maximum price among the different brands of the canned item is lower than the minimum price in the range for the comparable frozen fruit or vegetable."

"In some instances, canned prices are also well below the cost to urban consumers of fresh products, even when the latter are in flush supply."

The conclusions were "based upon a survey and analysis made in the Washington, D. C., area" especially for the study, the report said, adding that "representative chain store prices were used."

Brad Rowland Is Tops in Nation

ABILENE — (AP) — Mighty Brad Rowland of McMurry has run his total yardage for the season to 1452 in eight games — an average of 179. It is one of the greatest one-man offensive shows in college football.

Rowland leads the Texas Conference in rushing, punting and scoring also.

He has carried the ball 131 times for 1133 yards and passed 25 times, gaining 299 yards that way. He has averaged 33.0 yards on his punting in 29 kicks. And he is the nation's leading scorer with 108 points.

Floyd Sampson, McMurry full-back, is second in rushing with 622 yards on 108 carries. Al Langford of Howard Payne is second in total offense with 1217 yards on 181 plays. Billy Jay of Howard Payne is second in punting with 37.3 on 35 kicks. Langford is the passing leader with 1048 yards on 73 completions in 107 throws. Dan Harmon of Austin College is second in passing with 466 yards on 32 connections in 67 throws.

Mack Thompson of Austin College tops in pass-receiving with 22 catches for 394 yards. Frank Barnett of Howard Payne is second with 19 for 330.

In team offense, McMurry leads with 3465 yards in eight games. Howard Payne is second with 2936 in nine.

Rock Agrees to Bout

LONDON — (AP) — Rocky Graziano, former middleweight champion from New York, has agreed to fight the winner of Tuesday's fight here between Randolph Turpin, of England, and Pete Mead, of Grand Rapids, Mich., promoter Jack Solomons said today.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Barcetrane, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation.

Barcetrane is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction. Just go to your drugstore and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcetrane. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two table-spoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 54 pounds
Here is what Mrs. L. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 24, Whitworth, Texas, wrote us: "I want to tell you what Barcetrane has done for me. I weighed 260 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 212."

"I have taken my dress size down from size 50 to 44 and never felt better in my life and everybody tells me how much slimmer I look than I did. "I am still taking Barcetrane as I want to get my weight down to 205 or 175 pounds."

The CAMEO

By Virginia Teale Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Martin Falter, after failing to sell a valuable cameo which he had obtained through undisclosed channels, has asked Martin Pfeiffer, a friend, to sell it to a San Francisco dealer. When Martin refuses, Arnold threatens to expose the dealer to the police. Previously Arnold had offered the cameo to Hagar Blair, a local collector, at a price Hagar could not afford, but Stephanie Smith, who works in Hagar's gift shop, apparently wants the cameo badly. After Martin leaves Arnold Pfeiffer's place, Nell O'Neill, wife of a wealthy resident of the Dolores art colony, calls on Pfeiffer, asking for Martin.

"You bore me today, Tom O'Neill," she drawled.

ARNOLD PFEIFFER tossed an unopened pack of cigars into Nell O'Neill's lap. She picked them up, giving him a mocking smile.

"Genuine Old World courtesy always rampant at the Pfeiffer weaving studio," she remarked in her hoarse, unpleasing voice.

Arnold bowed elaborately. "Did Martin say anything to you about going away? About taking a trip or anything like that?"

"Trip? Him, or me?" Arnold kept his eyes on the cigar he was fitting into his holder.

"Don't be funny, Arnold," she rasped. "Did he say anything about going away himself?"

Arnold lit his cigar. "Not that I remember."

She tapped her long nails on the arm of the chair. Arnold stared at her hand as he would at a beached jellyfish. It was long, with narrow palm and slender fingers oddly squared off at the ends.

Nell stood up abruptly. She turned him from her almost-six-foot height, her flat blue eyes meeting his contemptuously. She meeting his contemptuously.

"If you see Martin before I do, tell him I want to see him immediately. Immediately, got that?"

Arnold turned his back on her. He heard her go down the hall and slam the front door. He whistled and spat out a word that was not in his everyday vocabulary.

When his temper had simmered down, he went again to the cabinet and took out the cameo. Was the pin actually Martin's property? What if he had stolen it? And who was this prospective buyer in San Francisco? An honest man or a fence? Arnold bit his lips—he could ill afford to bring himself to the attention of the police!

The best thing to do right now was to take this wretched bauble up to Hagar Blair, the old scarecrow who ran the Three Wishes Gift Shop. She owned quite a famous cameo collection—there had even been an illustrated story about it in a recent Sunday supplement of a Los Angeles newspaper. She certainly would know whether such a cameo had been reported stolen.

He ripped off his smock and plunged into a flannel jacket. He dug around in a drawer, pulled out a sample square of tapestry, wrapped the silver box and thrust it into his pocket.

Locking his front door behind him, Arnold stood for a moment, then struck out toward Ocean

Highway. As he neared the studio of the O'Neills, he saw Nell and her husband, Tom, emerge in the company of a short, dark man who wore a turtle-neck sweater and baggy pants. They climbed into a car at the curb—Arnold noticed that it wasn't the O'Neill car.

Arnold lit his cigar. "Not that I remember."

She tapped her long nails on the arm of the chair. Arnold stared at her hand as he would at a beached jellyfish. It was long, with narrow palm and slender fingers oddly squared off at the ends.

Nell stood up abruptly. She turned him from her almost-six-foot height, her flat blue eyes meeting his contemptuously. She meeting his contemptuously.

Locking his front door behind him, Arnold stood for a moment, then struck out toward Ocean enunciation, "to take our new and valued friend, Mr. Yakov, a fine artist like he is, up to Marun Falter's so-called studio. I can think of a thousand better ways of entertaining a stranger in our midst than to take him to see a lot of clap-trap junk that masquerades as art."

Andrey gave Nell a secret, understanding smile. "The studio of our artist friend," he asked cheerily, "which house?"

Leaning forward, Nell pointed to a small house with a redwood shingle exterior.

Yakov turned off the ignition and set the handbrake against the incline of the hill.

Yakov climbed out on the other side, and waited for Nell and Tom. He looked up at the drawn blinds and fingered his mustache.

Nell led them up the splintery, gray steps, across the narrow porch to the door. Grasping the handle of a brass knocker, she struck it chatteringly against its base. She impatiently tried the knob and the door swung open.

"Martin?" she called. "Martin, are you in there?" She turned to the two men with a disappointed gesture. "Well, he's not here, but he must be coming right back or he wouldn't have left the door open. Let's wait."

TOM shuffled in and Yakov followed. The Russian's eyes darted interestedly over the interior of Falter's cluttered studio. The paint-spattered but vacant easel, the table nearby—its top piled with brushes, paint rags and tubes of color. A pullman-type table was unfolded from the wall and propped on its one leg—on it was a raffia-wrapped bottle of wine, a half loaf of French bread, a block of cheese on which a fly had settled, and an empty sardine can.

Tom came to stand beside Andrey. "Frops," he said. "He thinks this is the way artists are supposed to live. How long we sit in this den of iniquity and wait for the iniquitous?"

Nell tilted her chin and looked down at Tom through narrowed eyes. She opened her mouth to speak, then gazing at Yakov, she closed it. She walked to a curtained corner cupboard, parted the fabric and drew out a box of book matches. She helped herself to two books, carelessly tossing one to Tom.

His face glowed dull red as he bearded down at the initials on the cover. On a background of gold, the initials N O'N were inscribed in clear satiny black. His upper lip twisted back against his teeth.

"So? You even supply him with matches?"

Nell exhaled cigarette smoke slowly so that it partially obscured her face with a moving gray veil: "You bore me today, Tom O'Neill," she drawled.

"I bore you today," Tom mimicked. "That's funny. I can't understand that at all. How could you be bored, even by me, here in these familiar and beloved surroundings?"

"Finding 'enough to do here' is the job of the center's director,"

3000 Teen-Aged Landlords Operate Unique Community Center Project

THE EIGHT YARD is the backdrop of Evansville's Community Center, but the 3,000 teen-aged landlords have erased the railroad at moshere from their unique project. Although the youngsters themselves set their own rules, there are no restrictive signs around anywhere.

EVANSVILLE, Ind. — (NEA) — The Evansville Community Center, Inc., has 3000 "landlords." It entertains 20,000 teen-agers a month. It is open from nine in the morning until 10 at night, six days a week. It is the scene of dances, parties and just plain fun. There's not one set of initials scrawled on the walls.

The center is unique in many ways. Physically, it may not be as attractive as some; it is converted from a 50-year-old railway station that had later served as an automobile salesroom and a wartime USO. Its location, too, is not physically attractive—it is on a busy downtown corner next to busy railroad tracks—but that location makes it more convenient.

Another factor that makes this center unusual is the complete lack of any restrictive signs. The youngsters decided on their own to ban smoking, for example, but no signs were tacked up.

When asked why smoking was outlawed, one girl said: "There is enough to do here without it. Besides, it is another way to get in more solid with the adults."

"Finding 'enough to do here' is the job of the center's director,

Arthur J. Grady, and his wife, Margaret, who serves as program supervisor. Grady emphasizes one point. "The kids are free to do what they want."

They function in small groups, rather than in masses. This, Grady feels, allows them to engage in the activities in which they are interested and encourages them to make their own friends. There is dancing indoors and out with a 12-piece orchestra two nights a week, volleyball, pool, shuffleboard, basketball court, ample places to lounge, shops, snack bar, table tennis, badminton, pi-anos and a complete kitchen.

"Landlords" of the center are 3000 teen-agers and young adults who hold $1 memberships. Seventy-five adult groups, including Alcoholics Anonymous, hold their regular sessions in the meeting room of the former depot. For this privilege there is no charge, but in return they give leadership and some financial aid to the youngsters.

An important source of income is the city's tax revenues, $33,000 of which was turned over to the center last year.

The fact that the taxpayers help support the center, plus the interest shown by the adult groups, makes Evansville's project truly a community center. Both political parties support it, and no political patronage is allowed to creep in.

The city owns the building and the corporation holds the lease. Two representatives from each of 75 organizations make up a council that elects an 18-man board to supervise the center. Only four persons comprise the staff—the Gradys plus a boys' worker and an athletic supervisor.

The only qualification for membership is acceptable conduct. The Gradys sometimes need a good deal of tact and patience to keep some of the youngsters in line.

Once, for example, a girl was caught stealing change from her friend's purse. Grady got her a part-time waitress job. Now, with honest money to spend at the snack bar, she is no longer tempted.

Another boy who was arrested for stealing a car, was put on probation by the judge, who named Grady as sponsor and told the boy to spend more time at the center. He did, met a girl there, got married, got a respectable job. He still visits the center.

Prisoners Prefer to Stay Around

HUNTSVILLE, Texas — (AP) — Escapes and mutilations in Texas prisons have dropped by more than half since 1947, and the State Prison Board says better living conditions and discipline are the reason.

Prison board member T. R. Havins of Brownwood released these figures Monday at a board meeting:

On Oct. 31, compared to 4,806 the same date in 1947, 4,806 escapes this year have totaled 38, compared to 117 in 1947.

Mutilations in the 10-month period totaled 28, compared to 75 in the same 1947 period.

Warren S. Bellows, Houston, chairman of the board's Construction Program Committee, said the first unit of a $200,000 shop building here will be in operation within 60 days if steel sash material continues available.

He said the first 200 units of a 600-cell, $1,000,000 cell block here should be ready by late spring.

French Robertson, Abilene, and H. H. Coffield, Rockdale, co-chairmen of the board's Prison Rodeo Committee, said the 18th annual rodeo last month took in a gross income of $127,770 about $2,000 above last year.

Expenses were placed at $56,330, about the same as last year.

Board Chairman W. C. Windsor, Tyler, said inmates again will be allowed to receive Christmas packages this year.

The packages may contain cooked foods, cakes and meats but no processed foods or candies. Gifts also may include house slippers, socks, gloves or white T shirts.

Prison General Manager O. B. Ellis said bad weather this year has cost the system nearly $1,000,000 in crop losses, mostly to cotton.

QUICK AND TASTY For a quickly assembled supper dish, split frankfurters lengthwise but not entirely through, and broil. Fill with hot potato salad sprinkled with finely minced parsley or with paprika. Tomato halves, broiled with the frankfurters, are a good accompaniment to this dish. For dessert, serve sponge cake squares with green apple sauce and custard sauce.

Forestry Employee Gets Merit Award

PIERRE, S. D. — (AP) — Steven J. Hoy, 39-year-old Forestry Service foreman at Custer, has been awarded the Red Cross Certificate of Merit for saving his own life.

Don Cornish, state relations officer for the Red Cross, said Hoy suffered two deep gashes on the right side of his head when a cable snapped while he was pulling down a snag near Hot Springs last Aug. 24.

A Hot Springs physician said Hoy would have bled to death if he had not used his Red Cross first aid training to apply pressure on the severed facial artery. Certificates of merit usually are given only to persons who use their Red Cross training in attempts to save the lives of others.

Shetlands to Be Featured at 1950 Fat Stock Show

1950 Seen as Big Year for Tourist Trade

AUSTIN — Texas can have a tourist business amounting to half a billion dollars in 1950.

The figure is estimated by General Ike Ashburn, publisher of Texas Parade magazine, in the November issue. The total was revised upward from a previous one.

Here is how the publisher arrived at his estimate:

According to inquiries made by Texas Highway Department information stations, tourists coming here by automobile from other states left $114,528,000 in Texas last year.

If interstate automobiles equalled that amount, the total would be more than $229,000,000.

Money spent by those who used means of travel other than the automobile certainly brought the 1948 total over $300,000,000.

"Concentrated effort on the part of Texas and the investment of some money in exploiting the recreational resources of Texas can bring half a billion dollars in tourist trade here next year," General Ashburn said, adding, "It's a return worth shooting for."

He pointed out that Texas has a coast line more than 500 miles long, a score of great inland lakes, the hills of Central West Texas, the Davis Mountains, Palo Duro Canyon, and many other attractions.

"No commonwealth has more to lure the traveler than Texas," he declared.

In addition to the various attractions, tourists can reach them easily, General Ashburn said, because "no state has a finer network of highways or better rail, air, and water travel accommodations."

The publisher referred to a report of the Brookings Institution which reported that, according to present trends, travel and recreation are destined to become the nation's biggest industry.

Here is the ranking of industries today (in billions of dollars) according to the institution's fact-finders:

1. Manufacturing 61
 2. Wholesale and retail trade 37
 3. Travel and recreation 24
 4. Agriculture 19

It was also shown that greatest increases are being made by travel and recreation which, if present trends continue, will sooner or later account for the expenditure of more money than shelter and home maintenance, attire and personal care, food and nutrition, health and education.

"Indirectly, of course, every citizen of a town benefits from each tourist dollar spent there," General Ashburn said in his article. "Texans cannot afford to ignore the significance of travel and recreation as factors in the economic development of this state."

will be on the grounds from Jan. 30 through Feb. 5. If an exhibitor shows due cause, however, his entries will be released Feb. 3.

Dummy Returns to Own Hook

By JAMES O'NEILL, JR.
ALEXANDRIA, Va. — (NEA)—High in the wind-swept cupola of an Alexandria apartment building a shabby figure hangs from a piece of rusty wire, staring unspoolingly across the city.

DUMMY—Alexandria's famous 44-year-old dummy has been hanged from bridges, shot at by a jealous husband, and thrown from speeding automobiles, but he always comes back to his hook.

Hand lies on the littered floor, with various other disintegrating parts of its ancient anatomy.

Don't get excited. He's a dummy. In fact, he's a great pal of the police and probably the most famous dummy in the history of this city and nearby Washington.

He's been thrown from a racing car, hanged by his neck twice from Washington bridges, shot by a jealous husband, belabored by a fireman who thought he was a drunken arsonist, and scared more people than you could count.

His permanent address is atop the Belle Haven apartments, where he has lived—except for minor interruptions caused by local jokers and newspapermen—since 1907.

He was put together as a fisherman in an exhibit in the Jamestown, Va., Fair that year and after the exposition the government stored him in the building.

The dummy was discovered by employes of a spark plug factory, then occupying the building, in 1914. Wisesacre set him up in a third floor window to act as night watchman. In the summer the dummy sported a straw hat; in winter, a derby.

His latest, and last piece of haberdashery, according to John Loughran, owner of the building, was presented to him by the local police. It's a cop's blouse, complete with buttons and traffic insignia.

Seems the police had an objectionable citizen in one of their cells one night and scared the daylights out of him by placing the dummy, dressed as a policeman, in the cell. The citizen, it is said, has been an exemplary one since.

People fainted along Washington's main street when a pair of fortified newspaper reporters tossed the dummy into the gutter and sped away screaming at the top of their lungs.

Police were called to cut down (guess who) from under Taft Bridge. Again the dummy was pronounced a suicide when he was found dangling by the neck from a girder beneath Memorial Bridge.

Once a wag placed the dummy at the table of a lovely Washington lady who was waiting for her ever-loving, and jealous, husband on the terrace of a fashionable hotel.

Hubby saw the pair and promptly shot the dummy through the heart. No one was arrested.

By now the police are used to the dummy's habit of turning up in unusual places. But they've grown quite fond of him and promptly return him to his hook when they find he has strayed.

Burglars Active in Navarro County
CORSIKANA — (P) — Burglars were active in Navarro County Sunday.

An undetermined amount of cash was taken from the post-office at Purdon, 12 miles west of here.

Burglars also entered the A. E. Bitter store and a railroad depot in the same community. Between $50 and $60 was taken from the store but the depot safe withstood the attack and nothing was taken from that place.

Burglars attempted to enter the W. B. Turner store at Richland but were frightened away before they gained entrance.

Ossie Jacoby Won Fame by Holding Hands

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (P) — Oswald Jacoby is a big, bear-like man who has won fame by holding hands.

Not lady hands — card hands. Right now Ossie is looking for somebody to give $5,000 to. Anybody. That is, anybody who can beat him at the new pastebord epidemic — canasta. Some nine months ago he spent a dozen hours playing this pastime and decided he knew enough about it to write a book. He did. And his "How to Win at Canasta" has sold over 300,000 copies.

But a number of other people also wrote books on canasta. After reading their books — and re-reading his book — Jacoby decided he was the best canasta player in the world.

"I'm willing to pay $5,000 to anyone who can beat me," he announced. "There may be a couple of unknown guys in Oshkosh who can do it, but I doubt it. And I'm sure there is no other canasta author able to — not if they play the way they write."

He has reason for self-confidence. This 44-year-old, grizzled, gray, 6-foot-two-inch Texan is a fine mathematician. He began playing bridge at the age of 7. Since 1930 he has won the Vanderbilt Cup, the Kentucky Derby of tournament bridge, six times.

Precoity runs in his tribe. "My father entered college at 14, I entered at 15 and my son at 16," he said, smiling. "I guess the family is petering out."

Jacoby says there is no card game that can be played perfectly, and that if someone invented a machine that could — "a good player could beat it because he could predict what the machine would do."

His tip to amateurs: To play any card game well you have to

Why is he so good? "There are card players with better memories than mine, but none is as good a mathematician. I also have a fast mind, I'm unreadable — so far at least — and I can outguess other people."

Jacoby feels that canasta isn't a brief craze like mah-jongg but will stay popular a long time.

"It has already hit the sale of bridge supplies," he said. "It is much easier to play than bridge, but harder to play well. It has more psychology, fewer rules and more common sense."

What is the best of all card games. "Poker!" said Ossie positively. "There is no doubt of it — poker."

Mrs. Heskeiw Tells Jaycee - Ettes Home Decoration Possible on Small Budget; Advises Using Own Ideas

Hostesses in charge of a recent meeting of the Jaycee-Ettes, held in the City Club Rooms, were Mrs. Joe Fischer, Mrs. Jack Nimmo and Mrs. Rusty Ward. As the scheduled program was "Home and Interior Decoration," the hostesses presented Mrs. W. L. Heskeiw, local interior decorator, as guest speaker. Mrs. Heskeiw gave an educational talk and demonstration on how the average housewife can make interior decoration a hobby on the smallest budget. For demonstration purposes the speaker used wall paper, materials and pictures of rooms. The following ideas were stressed:

"Colors for covering furniture, walls and drapes may be taken from a picture in the room."

"Let your conscience be your guide when shopping for materials."

"Shop alone — you will like your own ideas better than suggestions from friends."

"Your friends will like the results of your efforts if you display them proudly and not apologetically."

"Decorate your home to fit your own personality — quiet, simple, bold, startling, dramatic or old-fashioned."

"Don't be afraid of bright colors."

"Make your own tastes first choice."

Following the guest speaker, the following business was taken care of: Mrs. E. A. Johnson, president, in charge; members were reminded to donate articles to Mrs. Rusty Ward for the Salvation Army Youth Center.

Tentative plans were laid for the annual Christmas formal and buffet supper. A committee was appointed with Mrs. Zello Osborn, chairman, and Mrs. Jim Arndt, Mrs. Don Foster, Mrs. Jack Nimmo, Mrs. Bob Quick, Mrs. Jack Lively, Jr., and Mrs. Paul Appleton, to assist.

A Christmas party for all members will be held Dec. 13 at 421 Hill.

A nominating committee to select new officers for the approaching year was appointed. On it are Mrs. William Ballard, chairman; Mrs. H. C. Grady, Mrs. Elmer Francis, Mrs. Tr. A. Lively, Jr., and Mrs. Paul Appleton.

A letter from the Board of City Development was read, asking the club to enter a float in the Christmas parade on Dec. 8, and stating that floats may be general or may depict a Biblical scene. The club voted to enter a float, and Mrs. Rusty Ward was appointed chairman of the float

HD Agent Talks On 'Vitamins'

Mrs. Mary Ann Duke, county home demonstration agent, spoke on "Vitamins" at a meeting of the Bell HD Club in the home of Mrs. Joe M. Keel.

Mrs. Duke discussed the history and meaning of the Texas Food Standard, and said that the best way to take vitamins is in the foods eaten. She also explained that vitamins A and D are soluble in fat and vitamins B and C are soluble in water.

Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. Charles Warminski, club president. Mrs. Tom Anderwald reported on the organization of the Bell 4-H Club in the community.

Plans were made for a community Thanksgiving supper, to be at the Bell school on Nov. 19.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT

VEA Staff Writer

Marks of a good hostess! She takes the time to make each new arrival feel that now he has arrived the party can get underway.

Without seeming to flutter she is aware of her guests' comfort, noticing immediately when a glass should be refilled, a light softened, an ash tray provided, etc.

Sometimes during the evening she gets in a little personal conversation with each guest. She manages this by not allowing herself to be caught in any group for any length of time.

She gives the impression of enjoying her own party — and taking her duties easily and calmly.

She doesn't regale her guests with all the last-minute things that went wrong, or let them know how hard she worked preparing for them.

She isn't the noisiest one at her party — but hits a happy medium so that the gayer guests can feel she is going along with them and the more quiet guests can feel she hasn't deserted them, either.

DOESN'T PUSH HER GUESTS She doesn't over-sell anything so that guests have to eat too much or drink too much or play games they don't want to play just to satisfy her hostess.

Her own aim is obviously to give her guests a good time. Guests never have the feeling that she is trying to impress them, rather than entertain them.

She doesn't give orders, but uses more subtle means to get her guests to do as she wants them to.

She puts some feeling into her "Do you have to go so soon?" instead of just saying the words in Polly Parrot fashion.

She waits until the last guest is out of sight before starting in to "straighten up" — unlike the hostess who barely lets her last guests get to the front door before she starts gathering up glasses, straightening chairs, etc.

She gives out as much warmth when she tells the last guest good-bye as when she greeted the first guest to arrive.

Girl Scout Troop Celebrates With Trip to Miami

Girl Scout Troop 22 celebrated "Out-of-Door Day" of Scout Week Saturday. The troop went to Miami by train early in the morning. It was the first train ride for many of the girls. They were taken through the train on an inspection tour and were given balloons by the concession man.

After arriving in Miami the troop visited the Miami Chief newspaper office and R. B. Haynes, publisher, explained the various machines in the office. The girls then went to the Court House to see the exhibit of Indian relics, arrowheads, pottery, guns, rocks and other exhibits.

The troop also climbed Mt. Moria, then went in cars to the F. W. Osborne ranch, where they looked for arrow heads, climbed hills and played in the creek sand.

After lunch the troop met the troop mothers at the Court House and returned in cars. They brought back souvenirs of flint, partial arrow heads, gourds, devil's claws and colored leaves and rocks.

Scouts making the trip were Barbara Arney, Phyllis Burns, Celia Fowler, Gaynell Grundy, Barbara Hoover, Sherry Hyatt, Rose Langford, Eileen Moore, Judy Neslage, Vicky Osborne, Ann Price, Jeneane Price, Sandra Sullins, Frances Wade and Sandra Williams.

Brownies who went as guests were Sharon Osborne and Carol Arney. Leaders were Mrs. Harold Osborne and Mrs. Waldron Moore, and troop mothers were Mrs. Walter Hyatt and Mrs. Fred Neslage.

Twentieth Century Forum Discusses 'Pursuit of Happiness' in U. S.

Mrs. J. B. Holloway discussed the question, "How Much Does the Standard of Living Contribute to the Happiness of the American People?" at a meeting of the Twentieth Century Forum Tuesday in the home of Mrs. John Keller.

Mrs. Dick Hughes talked on the "Creative Use of Leisure Time," mentioning that Americans tend to use their leisure time to escape from themselves. She went on to say that when this is carried too far it means that one is refusing to face oneself, but that some escape is both legitimate and beneficial.

Mrs. Arthur Teed led the group in a panel discussion on "The Pursuit of Happiness." She stated that in the Declaration of Independence men are endowed with three "inalienable rights — life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." She went on to say that since the pursuit of happiness has received relatively little attention from political theorists, the question arises, "What does the third right mean?" In an effort to shed some light on these questions the panel discussed the meaning of the term "pursuit of happiness" and some of the ways in which this right is used and misused in modern society.

Those attending were Mmes. Roy Bourland, E. J. Dunigan, Jr., Gene Gatherer, William T. Fraser, Frank Kelley, Thomas E. Manning, M. C. Overton, Bruce Pratt, Walter Rogers, Aubrey L. Steele, Eben D. Warner, Jr., Ed Weiss, Jr., members of the panel and the hostess.

Refreshments were served.

FRIED SCALLOPS
Scallops are delicious when coated with seasoned flour and fried in shallow fat in a large iron skillet. To coat a pound of scallops put four tablespoons of flour, a teaspoon of salt, a little freshly-ground pepper, and a dash of paprika into a mixing bowl and stir together well; put the scallops into the seasoned flour a few at a time and coat well on all sides.

I know that a great many of my readers do not like to see just two hands, but if I did give all four hands, but if I did that today I would spoil the whole story in connection with today's hand.

While at the Cavendish Club in New York, the other night, I saw Nate Spingold. He was telling me about today's hand. He wrote it out just as you see it. He then said to me, "What should West lead? That is the question I want to ask you. What should West lead?"

There are two different conventions with regard to what should be led against a slam bid that has been doubled, namely, the Four Aces Convention and the Lightner Convention. In the middle of the discussion Howard Schenken came in. Several of us, in the meantime, had expressed our opinion as to what should be led. Schenken said, under the Four Aces Convention there was only one lead—a heart. In other words, when East doubled, he asked his partner to lead the first side suit bid by dummy, but dummy in today's hand had bid four no trump. The only side suit that had been bid was hearts, by South, and that was in response

Gordon Rutledge Crowned King of FHA at Colorful Ceremony in Lefors

LEFORS — (Special) — The Lefors Chapter of Future Homemakers of America crowned its king for 1949 recently. As Geraldine Dunn, chapter pianist, played the processional, Gordon Rutledge, this year's selection for the throne, escorted by the club president, Barbara Chastain, and vice president, Mary Nell Guthrie, was presented to the assembly.

His attendants were Ray Horn, escorted by Lou Dean Cotten, club parliamentarian; Billy Jack Butler, escorted by Joy Browning, treasurer; Jimmy Doom, escorted by Sheila Ross, secretary; and Billy Watson, escorted by Rebecca Breining, reporter.

Wanda Vaughn was the announcer for the program. Court jesters were Melba Hill and Mead-rith Turner, who did a stunt for the king's amusement. A sextette, composed of Carolyn Hughes, Betty Lu Williams, Bernice Priest, Jo Ann Staley, Barbara Ross and Shirley Perkins sang the FHA prayer. The entire club sang the theme song of the to a Blackwood bid. Schenken, nevertheless, felt that East was asking for a heart lead. Schenken then pointed out that, according to the Lightner Convention, against a seven bid, undoubled, you should make an unusual lead. He further pointed out that if two side suits have been bid there are times when you may have to guess which suit to lead. But, in today's hand, using the Lightner Convention the unusual lead would be the heart suit which had been bid by the declarer. The reason I could not give you the rest of the cards is that East is void in hearts.

In discussing the hand with Nate, he said this was the actual bidding. I then asked him what lead did they make against him. Nate said, "I wish I could be a hero and tell you they led something else, but they did lead a heart and my contract was defeated." You know, it is not very often that you can get a player to give you an interesting hand in which he got the worst of it.

TU Longhorns Slowed Down By Injuries for TCU Game

It's a rare thing for Southwest Conference coaches to admit their stars are ready for action — but that's what three of them did yesterday.

Hart was class president as a sophomore, attends Mass and Communion daily.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Mason—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: Who is head football coach of the undefeated Lefors Pirates?

THIS WEEKEND THE PAMPA HARVESTERS CAN take their second major step toward the District 1-AA football championship, or they can be knocked down among the also-rans. A victory tomorrow afternoon would virtually assure the Harvesters of their first district title since 1943; a defeat would make the Thanksgiving Day games the important battles.

Contrary to the thinking of most people, tomorrow's game is not going to be any pushover affair. Plainview has been pointing for this game all season long. Coach W. C. O. Harris of the Bulldogs promised the Pampa coaching staff as early as last summer at the Coaches School at Beaumont that he was going to defeat them this season. To help carry out this threat he has had scouts at every game the Harvesters have played this season. The upset showing made by the Bulldogs last weekend at Borger indicates that his team is rapidly reaching its peak performance, which all brews no good for the Pampans tomorrow.

Plainview has never been a soft touch for the Harvesters. Back in 1946, a Pampa team with Carl Mayes, Jim Wilson, Charley Lafont and many other Harvester stars, ran into a Bulldog eleven that passed the Harvesters dizzy to take a 14-7 victory. Standout for the Bulldogs on that team was an end named Bill Howton. Tomorrow his younger brother, Jackie, will be the Howton in the Harvesters' hair. Only he will be performing from the quarterback position, and probably passing the Harvesters dizzy again.

No fans who witnessed the 1947 meeting between the two teams at Plainview will ever forget that game. The Harvesters went into the final period protecting a 19-0 lead. When the game ended the scoreboard read Plainview 20, Pampa 19. But up until there was only 7 minutes left to play the score was still 19-0. Then this same Howton got into the act, making passes all over the field. He also added the finishing touch by grabbing a pass for the game-winning extra point.

Last season, at Harvester Park, the Pampans had to fight all of the way to escape with a 15-0 victory. So you can see how hard fought have been the battles between Pampa and Plainview. And this year promises to be no exception. The Harvesters, though they will be back at full strength, might be "down" for this game. They have played eight games to date, and have been keyed up for all of them. They are due for a bad game, but they can't afford to have it Friday. After the thorough scouting job done on the Green and Gold by Plainview, the Bulldogs probably know the Pampa plays as well as the Harvesters do. The Red and Blue can also be expected to be at their highest pitch, after their upset over Borger which gave the team's morale a big boost.

The largest crowd of the year at Plainview, plus a big day of parades, will all add to the interest of the ball club. Let's get as many Pampa fans as possible down there for that game to back the Harvesters and help them in their march toward the District 1-AA title.

FOR THE BENEFIT of the many fans who have been asking a premature question, IF, and I say IF meaning IF, the Harvesters should win the district title, and if Wichita Falls is the winner of district 2-AA, the location of the bi-district game will be decided upon the flip of a coin. Interscholastic League rules state that the two teams meeting in the bi-district playoff shall meet on the opposite field to the one last played on in a district or playoff game within the last ten years. Since the two clubs, Pampa and Wichita Falls, have not met in the last ten years, the flip of a coin will decide the location. But the fans who have been looking that far ahead have been a bit presumptuous. The Harvesters first must meet two tenacious Bulldog teams in Plainview and Borger. Let's all worry about those first. Don't sell your tickets for the SMU-Notre Dame game, which will be played on the same date as the bi-district game, until after Thanksgiving when the district title will be definitely decided.

Redlegs Reject Brooklyn Bid

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Brooklyn's bid for one of the Cincinnati Reds' pitchers — presumably southpaw Kenny Raffensberger — has been rejected, General Manager Warren C. Giles, announced Wednesday.

Giles said Branch Rickey, head of the National League champions, had offered a fancy price for one of the club's hurlers. "We put the 'not for sale' sign up," Giles said in a statement. From Brooklyn earlier yesterday had come word that the Dodgers were going "all out" for the one pitcher they believe will help them win the pennant and World Series in 1950.

Raffensberger was named as being that man. The veteran southpaw, pitching for the seventh place Reds last season, won 18 games and lost 17. Managers and other officials of the Reds' farm system met here today to plan for next season. Gabe Paul, assistant to President Giles, said there is no truth to the report that a change is anticipated in Vincent's position in the organization. "He already has a top position in the organization," Paul stated. "He is signed to manage Tulsa for the next two years. He's a

Schoolboy Weekend Opens Tonight in City Conference

(By The Associated Press) Sunset plays Crozier Tech tonight in a game that may set up the Dallas District championship of the Texas Schoolboy football City Conference.

It is one of four games for the night in a crucial weekend. If Sunset wins and Adamson upsets Woodrow Wilson Saturday night, the former will clinch the title.

Other games tonight have Fort Worth Tech playing Amos Carter-Riverside in the Fort Worth District, Sam Houston meeting Stephen F. Austin in the Houston District and Brackenridge playing Burbank in the San Antonio District. The only important one is the Brackenridge-Burbank tilt. Brackenridge could lose a chance at the district title if defeated.

Tomorrow night Lubbock will be at Odessa in the feature game of the state for the week. While it will not mathematically clinch the District 3 title in Class AA for the winner it will establish an overwhelming favorite for it. Lubbock is regarded as the top team of the state. Paria plays at Gainesville in another headliner. The championship of District 7 Class AA is on the line.

There will be 62 games in the state tomorrow and tomorrow night with six Saturday.

Neely Doesn't Know of Cotton Bowl Game

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Sports Editor. CHICAGO — (NEA) — It took the Western Conference 26 years to make up its mind, but now that it has the Rose Bowl pact the Big Ten intends to collect that sugar no matter how painful.

To put it baldly, the Big Ten is going to send one of its teams to Pasadena, Jan. 1, even though it is stripped of everything but playing equipment. And they'll even tell you the Owl's opponent possibly will come from among such teams as Oklahoma, Kentucky, Virginia, Tulane, and Louisiana State.

But Neely, who does not like speculation anyhow, doesn't know anything about it. "I didn't know we had a game scheduled for January 1," was the way he put it today. After meeting Texas A&M here Saturday, Rice plays Texas Christian at Fort Worth and Baylor here.

Rice holds a record of three victories and no defeats at the half way mark in Southwest Conference play. The two "big boys" — Southern Methodist and Texas — have been hurled successful.

The conference winner is automatic host in the Cotton Bowl, and victories in any two of the three remaining games would give Rice the championship.

Trap Shoot at Miami Saturday

The Senior Class of Miami High School will hold a trap shoot all day Saturday at the range about 1 1/2 miles east of Miami. Prizes of hams, turkeys and bacon will be awarded to winners.

Nearly all of the gun clubs in the Panhandle have been invited to attend the shoot.

PIRATES MEET TIGERS IN TOP CLASS A GRID GAME

LEFORS — (Special) — The Lefors Pirates play hosts to the McLean Tigers in an important district tilt in Lefors Friday night.

The Pirates will be seeking to make a clean sweep of the regular season games and the Tigers will be trying to get back into the victory column after losing a close game to the shamrock Irishmen last Friday, 14 to 7. This defeat brought the Tigers' season record to 5 wins and 3 defeats.

The Pirates added the Wellington Skyrocks to their victory last week, when they downed them 23 to 12. It was the eighth straight victory of the season for the Pirates.

The Pirate touchdown twins, Joel Combs and Friday Todd, along with Ray Dickerson and James McEntire, will be working in the Pirate backfield.

L. M. Watson, McLean's powerhouse is expected to be in fine condition for the game.

Coaches Approve New Rule on Elbow Blocking

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEW YORK — (AP) — College coaches not only like the new football rule restricting elbow blocking but most of them want it more rigidly enforced.

"If there's any hollering about the increase in penalties the coaches brought it on themselves," said Lou Little of Columbia, chairman of the Coaches Rules Committee, today. "They were all for it."

"In fact, we sent letters to the various conference commissioners requesting strict enforcement. We feel it's a fine rule and will cut down rough play and injuries." The rule stipulates that when an offensive player uses a hand or forearm in blocking the hand must stay in contact with the body.

Once the blocker could lock his hands and fall away, rooster fashion. The locked hands were barred last year and the regulations were changed to say the hands should stay "near" the body.

Now there must be contact all the way. If the hand slips and it is detected, it's a 15-yard penalty. Penalties are on the rise and the emphasis on horn-tooting has brought beefs from some of the members. The stricter blocking rule is blamed.

Justice May Not Play Against ND

ASHEVILLE, N. C. — (AP) — Asheville Citizen quoted Coach Carl Snavely as saying tonight "It is very doubtful" whether Charlie Justice, University of North Carolina all-America tailback, "gets into the ball game" against Notre Dame in New York Saturday.

Justice, an Asheville native, has been under constant treatment for a badly sprained right ankle received in the football game against William and Mary last Saturday.

Hearing on Van Horn Suspension Scheduled

AUSTIN — (AP) — A hearing on whether Van Horn should be suspended from Interscholastic League six-man football will be held by the League's Executive Committee next week.

The committee yesterday scheduled the hearing for 2:15 p.m. next Wednesday.

By DICK KLEINER

NEA Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK — (NEA) — The player had lost his shirt when it came up rain. He plunked down his last two bucks on a nag that loved the slop, and the hide came in at juicy odds.

"Just what I always said," the guy remarked. "A boy's best friend is his mudder."

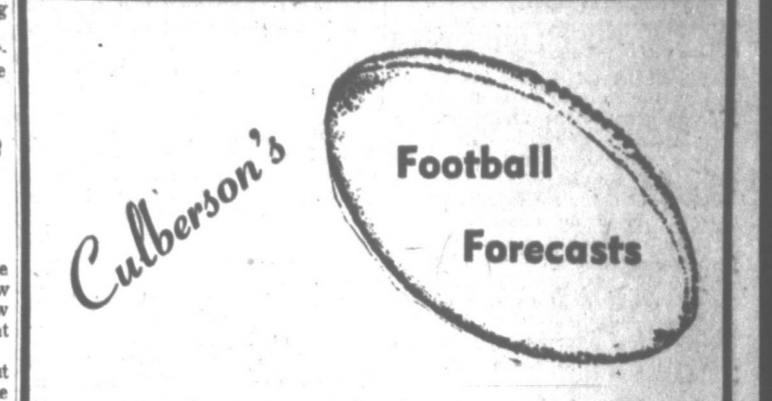

Overlooked in the weight of superior numbers was the unique Stone Bowl football game between teams of inmates at the Washington State Penitentiary.

Here's how a play-by-play might have sounded: "It's the Braves' ball, first down and 10 yards — er, 10 yards — to go.

"The teams are lined up. They look natural in the line-up. "The ball's on the 15-yard stripe; plenty of stripes all over today.

This is the first season in many years that the major conference races have reached the second week in November in such doubtful shape. And what's more, if they don't stop kicking each other around, pretty soon we'll have trouble holding a respectable average. The record now reads 422 Winners, 107 Losers and 19 ties for 80%.

CORN GAMES: NOTRE DAME, crushing North Carolina, CORNELL over Dartmouth and BOSTON U. struggling past Maryland, . . . MINNESOTA'S revamped Gophers over Pittsburgh, WISCONSIN over Iowa and OHIO STATE racking up another conference win against Illinois, . . . CALIFORNIA on its merry way with Oregon, UCLA over Washington and SANTA CLARA taking the "Big Little Game" from St. Mary's . . . BAYLOR ending Wyoming's all winning season, TULANE over Vandy and OKLAHOMA tucking away Big Seven laurels by steam-rolling Missouri.

WEEKLY ROUNDUP: Coach JESS NEELY'S Rice Owls sittin' in the king bee seat out Texas-way . . . Coach BUD WILKINSON and his powerful Oklahoma Sooners could be aheadin' for some more sugar . . . Coach PEAHEAD WALKER'S Wake Forest Deacons fouling-up everything in the Carolinas . . . Coach AYNELL TINSLEY'S LSU Tigers will decide who wins the Southeastern crown.

Big Business People's Business

ANOTHER of those "fact-finding" inquiries is to be launched by a committee of the Congress. The committee is going to figure out whether big business should be cut back as such.

David Cushman Coyle, a well-known writer on economic matters and probably an able man, is to direct the finding and serve as counsel. Mr. Coyle has already had a great deal to say on the subject of "bigness" in business, giving us a clue of how this inquiry is likely to come out. Said he:

"The effect of big business, big labor and big agriculture is only to reduce our production. The big can fairly be restricted by the law just for being big, without first being convicted of criminal or moral turpitude."

"HOW'S THAT?" Very interesting. . . . We wonder how it is that more people in this country have more things they need than the people of any other country have.

"In 1870, America had 327,000 independent commercial and industrial enterprises, which equaled one for each 91 persons. In 1947, America had 2,280,000 businesses, or one for each 63 people. So — despite 'big business' we have a larger number of small business today, even in proportion to our population."

THERE IS another bogey thrown around by the anti-big business propagandists. They say too few people control too much through industrial enterprises, which are actually owned by the people.

I will be proud to represent my people, my country and my great democratic government, and I am happy that I am going to another great democracy.

When we went into Germany we found that German industry had completely eliminated competition. In this country we have known since R's day that America can survive only as long as it remains competitive.

Fair Enough - Pegler

NEW YORK — Because so many of its chief characters are Marxian Socialists or fellow travelers of the Communists, I have been examining in detail the proclamation purposes and the contrasting activities of the European-type political pariahs called Americans for Democratic Action.

While Hubert Humphrey, the Minnesota senator, national chairman of ADA insists that it strives to strengthen the two old major parties, it has been proved that ADA works toward the dissolution of those parties into a chaos like that in France before the war.

Incidentally, when the New York Herald Tribune provides an occasion for a speech by Humphrey recently, it called him a "liberal." Both the event and this description are characteristic of the renegade Republican paper.

Humphrey clamored for party responsibility in government and for two strong major parties. But on analysis it comes out that he wants a party discipline so strong as to reduce Congress to the status of a rubber stamp. The senators and congressmen of the ruling party would be denied the right to vote according to their principles and the interests of their constituents.

Humphrey is so impatient of law and the rights which were reserved to the states by the Constitution that he simply decides offhand that the oil under the tidelands of Texas belongs to the master state notwithstanding written provision to the contrary.

Moreover, while he was crying for party integrity, the Connecticut cell of Humphrey's ADA turned out a pamphlet boasting that "ADA delegates to the Democratic National Convention of 1948 led the civil rights fight which forced the Dixiecrats to take a walk."

Accordingly, House Majority Leader McCormack tried to read out of the party several Southern Democrats because they "openly supported a splinter party of the Democratic Party" which repudiated Truman in 1948 and substituted Strom Thurmond at the head of the ticket.

Congressman F. Edward Hebert, of Louisiana, came right back at McCormack.

"I was elected as a Democrat by the voters of the First Congressional District of the sovereign state of Louisiana," he said. "My certificate of election, signed by the Governor and secretary of state of Louisiana, sets forth unambiguously that I was elected as a Democrat."

Humphrey holds that members of Congress have a higher duty, indeed a sole duty, to their respective parties and that decisions made in caucus should be binding. Logically there would be no reason for Congress to meet except to vote on decisions made by a few party bosses.

Dr. J. B. Matthews, the noted authority on all phases of the trend toward the master state, has the most detailed library of information on foreign and fellow travelers in private hands today. He was chief examiner for the Dies Committee for years.

Humphrey's prospectus says ADA is non-Communist and well-touted in the House Armed Services committee's report and on the floor of the House in January.

Truthful Textbooks "Burned" to Keep Students from Learning American people think it is terrible to have dictators burn books that they do not want the people to read.

You say, certainly, nothing like that has happened in the United States. But down in Houston, Texas the United Press has a story telling how the board of education there has banned the textbooks authored by Professor Magruder of Oregon State university.

"The United States is called a capitalist country, but it does not have pure capitalism. It has capitalism subject to increasing governmental control. The system of living becomes more complex. The country is capitalistic with strong socialist and even communistic trends."

"The board of education didn't seem to like the truth. They didn't seem to like the statements that public schools are an example of socialism. They certainly are socialist and communistic. In the final analysis they are nothing but the butchers of democracy."

One of the members of the board of education is quoted as saying: "I think public education is one of the bulwarks of democracy. It is possible that the effect on the mind would be bad if he read the book. When he reads about the postoffice, free education and such things, he'll think they're good. And he might think socialism and communism are good, too."

Men with the reasoning ability of this board member are the only kind of men who accept jobs on a board of education. They are men who cannot differentiate between truth and falsehood. They are men who are not interested in finding truth or educating themselves.

According to an editorial in an espionage magazine, the 1949 edition has been revised to eliminate reference to communism. It does not say who eliminated the reference. This kind of power on the part of the censor is a subdivision of the state to keep children from learning what is happening in the United States.

There is much more evidence of the design of ADA to substitute the master state under a discipline similar to Hitler's, or Stalin's.

Our conception of work and money is out of proportion. Work is being done in the world which has become a thing of scorn and distaste. Teachers are the human engineers who can develop young eagles for work, ready to pursue world citizenship and to keep peace on earth.

H. Roe Bartle, attorney and banker.

We have many relatively new elements of stability in our economy. Since the early 1930's we have carried through social and financial reforms which have strengthened the capacity for the economy to resist shock.

Wilson Compton, economic expert of U. S. delegation to United Nations.

Suffice it to say that this reprisal against Admiral Denfeld for having painted the picture as it was in the Navy will be dealt with in the House Armed Services committee's report and on the floor of the House in January.

When a husband leaves the house to grab a bus and go to work, he is likely chosen by his wife to serve as postal clerk. She will give him many letters which she orders him to mail, and she's ready with a lecture if his memory should fail.

She can call it absent-mindedness and take her man to task, but about his letter-mailing chores there's questions he would ask. He would like to know just why his wife regards him as a scamp, when not once since they've been married has she ever bought a stamp.

If he soberly reflects upon the day that they were wed, he just can't remember anything about their vows which said that he'd have to post her letters and affix the stamps thereto, in the willing way he used to mail to her a bill-dox.

So if now and then he should forget to post her letters quick, he would just as soon that she'd forget to register a kick.

news behind the news

WASHINGTON — The most disastrous heavier-than-air tragedy in the history of aviation might have been avoided if the Army's high-pressure salesman were required by Congress or the Civil Aeronautics Administration to enforce more strict regulations on the quality of planes which they sell to foreign governments.

It is now believed that the radio system or some other vital part of the Bolivian-bought P-38, which killed fifty-five people when it crashed over an Eastern Air Lines ship over Washington's airport, was defective and directly responsible for the collision.

REASON — A possible reason for the defect is that foreign nations select the least expensive instead of the more modern planes because of his lack of sufficient funds in their treasuries. Frequently, they do not overhaul the engines or make necessary repairs that run into fairly large sums.

When they come shopping here, Army salesmen, naturally, are only too happy to get rid of obsolete machines. It is a business to obtain larger appropriations from Congress for new material. It cuts down their maintenance costs.

Mr. Truman has rediscovered the Taft-Hartley law, but he still can't see any national emergency in the coal and steel strikes. He is justifying his invoking the law. He stated at a press conference that if an emergency does develop he will not hesitate to employ the appropriate provisions of the law, which would give the country at least 80 days of coal mining against the winter and an equal volume of steel production.

The President's contention that a national emergency is lacking is disputed from many sides. The Chicago Coal Merchants association has told the President that he is "grossly misinformed" if he thinks no emergency exists.

Everything is happening just as could be expected.

REPUTATION — The Truman Boyle-Edwards strategy for pursuing the feminine vote amounts to a complete repudiation of the policy pursued for the Roosevelt administration under the inspiration of Eleanor Roosevelt, the most active presidential wife in history.

WOMEN — When the Roosevelt board of strategy met at Albany — Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt, James A. Farley, the late Louis Howe and other insiders — to make plans for the coming battle, the male members decided to adopt orthodox techniques of campaigning and organizing divisions for labor, farmers, veterans, the foreign-born, etc. — and for women.

Mr. Roosevelt demurred violently. She took the position that it would be an "insult" to womanhood to set them apart as a separate class of people. She would not appeal based on FDR's love of children, his plans for improvement of the kitchen, his supposed domesticity or his schemes to make easier the lot of the housewife.

The Doctor Says

By Edwin P. Jordan, MD

During recent years, doctors have come to recognize a peculiar disease of the lungs which is called virus pneumonia.

The disease usually starts with a cough and running eyes and nose. Later the lungs become affected in a patchy sort of way. This is quite different from the usual type of pneumonia caused by a well-known germ called the pneumococcus, often called pneumonia.

Virus pneumonia apparently takes about two to three weeks to develop after exposure. It begins rather gradually, however, with the typical chilly feeling of other kinds of pneumonia. The temperature rises more or less slowly and the cough becomes more and more annoying. Unlike lobar pneumonia, the cough generally does not raise much mucus.

Effects may last from one to two weeks, but the changes in the lungs as shown by X-ray pictures may stay for 10 or 11 weeks. At present most patients with this peculiar disease eventually recover.

Herb Stein reported: When Alfred Hitchcock was shooting "Lifeboat," he insisted there should be no background music. The studio musical director thought he was wrong.

During the war a movie filmed in less than 90 days was just a quickie. Now M-G-M will experiment with 21-day shooting schedules. Joseph Schenck will fly to South America for a vacation in Howard Hughes' private plane.

Washington.....by Doug Larsen

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It's so cold outside the women have to wear several layers of woolen undies. But these undies don't look good under the latest style dresses. So at their destination they change back when they leave.

Problem for the architects is to provide dressing rooms for this new custom. The conventional powder rooms aren't large enough, Underwood reports. He's glad Washington has a warmer climate, what with the new styles becoming popular here.

LAWYER'S DELIGHT An editorial in the United Mine Workers' Journal takes a dim view of the new 75-cents-an-hour minimum wage law. It says: "At first reading it appears that it should be labeled the 1949 lawyers' employment act."

SPREADING TURIST TRADE Uncle Sam is conducting a big drive to encourage American farmers to go to Europe for their vacations. One such tour by U.S. farmers was arranged last year in connection with the Marshall Plan. He reports that Norwegian public building designers are faced with a brand-new problem caused by the new Paris dress styles. It has become the fashion for Norwegians to carry their dresses to parties, the theater, or restaurants, and put them on after they

It's expected that some time in 1952 the Air Force will give up all of its primary pilot training and turn it over to private schools under contract. During the war private schools gave young pilots their first flight training for about $9 an hour. Cost when the Air Force does it is between $25 and $50 an hour. Several possibilities are being discussed. One plan would leave deactivated Air Force fields for this purpose to the private schools. Another plan would let private schools use their own facilities and expand them if necessary with the help of government funds. Still another possibility would be to sell deactivated fields outright to private schools for the training program.

Economy is the goal. Whichever plan figures out to be the cheapest will be adopted. Private schools have made their reports on how this could be handled and are carefully refraining from lobbying the issue, in spite of the fact that the extra business would be a great boon to them.

RED TAPE STAYS ON At a recent meeting of the government's Interdepartmental Committee on Foreign Travel a proposal to let foreign tourists and visitors come into the U.S. without the red tape of getting a visa was flatly turned down on the insistence of the State Department. This is in spite of the fact that most European countries now let U.S. citizens in for visits, without visas. The only concession the State Department would agree to was to stop charging a fee for U. S. visas.

Tiniest Republic Stakes Future on Gaming Tables

Police have established control points to check documents of travelers with an eye to tax returns. Each bus or car passing into the tiny republic is examined at a leisurely pace, because casino operators claim, the Italians want to delay arrival at the gambling tables. All this, they charge, is an effort by rival casinos in Italy to kill their operation.

SAN MARINO — (NEA) — The world's oldest and tiniest republic is gambling on its future by taking its problems of dwindling revenues and rising costs to the gambling table.

Surrounded by non-Red Italy, the little Communist-controlled nation of San Marino has started a gambling casino in the hope of making up the loss of customs duties which Italy normally collected and paid to the republic.

Over the protests of the Catholic party minority in this country of 12,000, a syndicate was authorized to convert the Titano theatre, named after the mountain on which sits the capital of San Marino. With roulette wheels and other games in full cry on the main floor and erstwhile stage, San Marino hopes its 80 percent cut of the take will make up its customs losses.

ONE STANDS OUT Among Motor Oils It's HI-V-I

Mr. Gobbler isn't fooled... he knows he has been chosen as the main course for Thanksgiving dinner. Motorists aren't fooled either, when it comes to motor oil! They want HI-V-I, the instant-starting oil that cleans as it lubricates... and they like the extra miles per change they get with HI-V-I!

REMEMBER THE "WOLF-GAL"??

"SHE WAS STOLEN AS A BABY AND BROUGHT UP BY WOLVES IS SHE LONESOME?—OF COURSE NOT!—LIKE ANY OTHER YOUNG LADY, SHE HAS GIRL FRIENDS—THE "DIG-GIRL" AND THE "HAWK GIRL."

TO UNDERSTAND HOW THEY GOT THAT WAY, YOU MUST UNDERSTAND THAT DOGPATCH IS A TRUE DEMOCRACY, NOT ONLY DO DOGPATCHERS MAKE PETS OUT OF LITTLE ANIMALS—BUT ANIMALS MAKE PETS OUT OF LIL DOGPATCHERS.

THE "DIG-GIRL" WAS STOLEN AS A BABY BY A BAND OF LAWLESS DIGS, AND RAISED AS IF SHE WERE ONE OF THEIR OWN.

THE "HAWK-GIRL" IS JUST THE SAME AS ANYBODY, EXCEPT THAT SHE CAN FLY—

THEY'RE ALL NATIVES OF DOGPATCH—AND THEY ALL ARE ELIGIBLE FOR THE SAGE HAWKING DAY RACE.

1-Card of Thanks

In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto myself - John 14:2-3.

THE MIRACLE

The pain has ceased! Oh heart, somewhere we met the Master on the way. It may be that we marked Him not Amid the multitude today. But it was Jesus, for behold, The old, old pain is gone, and lo, A miracle, no less than that, Upon the road to Jericho! No less, my heart, we leapt to meet The joy his healing fingers hold. Then he who caught the glad sweet breath Across Judea's hills of old.

We take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation to all our neighbors and friends who in any way helped us at the time of our loss of our loved one, Joe Thompson, who passed to his reward last Oct. 21. To the Doctors and Nurses at Wesley Hospital whose untiring efforts helped his last hours to be easier. For those kind friends who planned meals for us at that time, and for the beautiful floral offerings we are indeed grateful.

We also wish to acknowledge the services of Rev. B. P. Harrison and Rev. Saly, and the music furnished for the last rites. Mrs. Maggie Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Thompson and boys.

Cost of Accidents Continues to Rise

CHICAGO — Still going up! The cost of accidents continues to rise each year, according to the 1949 edition of "Accident Facts," statistical yearbook of the National Safety Council. The total costs of accidents in America in 1948 were about $7,400,000,000—more than the year before and one billion dollars more than 1946.

Included in the 1948 accident costs are wage losses of about $2,800,000,000; medical expenses of $450,000,000; $1,250,000,000 in overhead costs of insurance; property damage in motor vehicle accidents amounting to $1,100,000,000; fire losses of $715,000,000, and a total of $1,300,000,000 in miscellaneous costs of occupational accidents.

CYCLING IN CIRCLES — British actress Gracie Fields looks amazed as she tries out tricycle at London cycle show.

The average cost per injury in the United States last year was $71. This is $50 more than the average injury cost the year before and $100 more than 1946.

The touchdown that Billy Tidwell made against SMU to bring the Aggies their 27-27 tie was the first score the sophomore halfback from Hearne has made in a college game.

February Is Safest Month

CHICAGO — "Thirty days hath September, April, June and May," February has another claim to fame beside being the shortest month of the year. It is also the safest month.

There were 7,500 accidental deaths during February, 1948, according to the 1949 edition of "Accident Facts," statistical yearbook of the National Safety Council. This was 850 fewer deaths than the monthly average of 8,150 last year.

August was the peak month for accidents, in 1948. There were 9,200 accidental deaths in that single month — 1,050 more than the average.

Diplomats Fond of Riddles

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Russian diplomacy often adopts the Sphinx-like characteristic of speaking in riddles, and so it is with Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky's intriguing pronouncement about sleeping Russian-American friendship.

What Vishinsky actually said to reporters in Washington on the anniversary of the Red revolution was that the common feeling of friendship between Russia and the United States had fallen asleep but that someday it would awaken.

That's really a beautiful poetic expression — and it's mighty interesting. The trouble is that, after the cryptic language of the Sphinx, the foreign minister doesn't give us the all-important information as to what he believes it is that will awaken friendship. That leaves it up to us to supply the answer, and so your columnist will undertake to fill in the missing link:

The sleeping friendship will be awakened when we reach that happy day in which neither country is interfering in the private affairs of the other. That is to say, in a bit of language, the awakening is dependent on each side minding its own doggone business.

Itso facto this would mean an end to Moscow's world revolution for the spread of communism, and the cold war which has grown out of the revolution.

Almost a year ago (Dec. 27, 1948) President Truman made the statement in an extemporaneous speech at Kansas City that "certain leaders" in Russia were "exceedingly eager" to reach an agreement with the United States to end the "cold war." At the same time he accused the Soviets of violating "sacred" agreements and said the Moscow government "has a system of morals that are no morals."

The Chief Executive didn't say who the "certain leaders" in Moscow were. Diplomatic authorities in Washington thought he might have had Premier Stalin in mind. Another Russian regarded in Washington as possibly desiring an agreement with the United States was Joseph Stalin's brother, Maxim Litvinoff. He was known to be more friendly to the West than many of his associates, but long had been living in obscurity.

River Survey Two Years Away

ORANGE, Texas — (AP) — Prospects for Army engineer development of the Sabine River appears about two years away.

It will be 1952 before a new survey of the river can be completed, District Army Engineer Ellsworth Davis reported to Louisiana and Texas officials. He met here Tuesday with the officials. Wednesday the representatives of the two states were touring the lower parts of the stream.

Colonel Davis said that a 1939 survey of the Sabine was out of date. This report was not approved. Changed conditions, the engineer said, may make development worth the cost now.

Coffee Sends Price Index Up

NEW YORK — (AP) — Higher wholesale prices of coffee were chiefly responsible for pushing the Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index to $5.74 this week from $5.69 last week.

But the index, representing the total wholesale cost of a pound each of 31 foods in general use, was still 10.2 percent below the year-ago level of $6.39.

Also higher at wholesale, besides coffee, were flour, corn, oats, hams, cottonseed oil, copos, eggs, potatoes, rice and lamb.

Lower were wheat, rye, barley, beef, lard, butter, steers and hogs.

EAST LANSING, Mich. — (AP) — A pair of recent Michigan State football stars are helping coach the Spartans. Warren Huey, a letterman for four straight years at left end (1945-48) is an instructor in physical education and assistant football coach, and Bob McCurry, center and three-time captain of the team (1946-48) is a special part-time assistant.
