Gray County Voters Prove 'Aginner's'

By HENRY S. GORDON
Pampa News Staff

Less than 25 percent of Gray County's 4,100 eligible voters went to the polls yesterday to vote against all but one of the ten amendments, and name John H. Harnly their favorite for State Board of Education over Dick Bivins, Amarillo.

Harnly carried Gray County 428 to 245 on the basis of unofficial returns from 17 of the county's 18 voting precincts. Box 18, Webb School, with a voting potential of about 20, was still unreported by 11 a. m.

Incidentally, Box 18 can swing the proposed amendment that would permit district courts to hold proceedings in places other than county seats since the amendment carried by a margin of four votes — 481 for to 477 against.

Poll Tax Repeal, Women Jurors Fall

By the Associated Press

Texans summarily rejected a proposal that state legislators be given a pay raise and meet annually instead of every other year.

They also voted to keep the poll tax as a voting requirement and voted down a proposal that women be permitted to serve on juries.

Seven of the ten Constitutional amendments voted on yesterday lost out, returns to the Texas Election Bureau showed today.

Two were apparently adopted, the unofficial vote-counting agency reported. One — a proposal for trials without jury to determine insanity — hung in the balance today.

In general, Texans voted against proposals likely to result in higher taxes. The two approved would provide for rural fire prevention districts. The other would give the Legislature more leeway in passing laws regulating district court terms and sessions.

The vote was very light. The amendments had not aroused much interest, except the two relating to legislators.

The apparently beaten amendments would have set up city-county health units, provided statewide retirement and disability pensions for county officials and employees, allowed the Legislature to provide civil service in counties on a vote of the residents, and set up hospital districts.

Texans also elected 21 members to the State Board of Education for the first time.

Complete unofficial returns today showed that George Nokes

Democrats Crowding Over NY Victories

By the Associated Press

Smashing Democratic victories in New York's U. S. Senate race and in widespread city elections set President Truman and the party chortling today over the outlook for 1950.

Republicans didn't find much to crow about. They held on to the New Jersey governorship and tossed out a Democratic mayor here and there.

But they took a mauling in New York state. Democrat Herbert H. Lehman easily knocked Republican John Foster Dulles out of the U. S. Senate seat Dulles had held since July.

There was one clear-cut issue: Lehman campaigned hard for the Truman home-front program; Dulles campaigned hard against it.

The President interpreted the (See DEMOCRATS, Page 12)

Active Oil Lease Play Underway In Four Texas Panhandle Counties

By BUD ANDERSON
News Oil Editor

Active lease play is underway now in the north central portion of the Panhandle.

Brewing for several days, the play has gained momentum gradually with some four counties now being worked by the oil companies for drilling leases.

Generally, the trend of the play follows the northeast-southwest lines of the old Panhandle field.

Expiring leases in Hutchinson County and a surprise oil well set off the play.

Several leases on the northern line of Hutchinson County prompted some interest. Then, a well being drilled for gas showed good oil production.

Phillips Wilco in Sec. 15, Blk. 3 in Sherman County, just two miles south of the Phillips Catheryn gas well, surprised operators when good oil production was found around 6,000 feet.

Since that time no information has been released on the well and the lease play has got underway.

The leasing begins with the Wilco in Southeastern Sherman County near the junction of Moore, Hutchinson, Sherman and Hanford Counties.

It continues east southeast through Hutchinson County almost parallel to the north boundary of the county.

The play ends at about the point where the Canadian River crosses the line dividing Hutchinson and Roberts Counties.

This makes the play run just north of Stinnett with Pringle being located about the center of the strip.

Extensive holdings in Roberts County stop the play at the junction of the two counties.

General opinion expressed by several oilmen in Pampa is that the companies are playing a trend that, when extended, would run from the southeastern corner of Sherman County, continue through Hutchinson County and (See ACTIVE, Page 12)

U.S. Steel Will Join in Peace Parley

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — The giant United States Steel Corporation is going to join the peace meetings with striking CIO United Steelworkers.

A spokesman disclosed today a meeting probably will be arranged with the union tomorrow. He said there could be no elaboration on the statement.

Other sources confirmed such a meeting will be held.

A peace offer has been reported under preparation by the industry leader which spearheaded the fight against steelworker demands for free insurance and pensions.

U. S. Steel is the only major producer which has held out against strike demands. Bethlehem, Jones and Laughlin and Republic signed.

The parade of company officials into union headquarters moved on today with Youngstown Sheet and Tube officials conferring with the union president, Philip Murray. (See PARLEY, Page 12)

MILITARY AIR CONTROL GOES TO CIVILIANS

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A civilian government agency to look over air control of military planes as a safety measure today, on the heels of an airline pilot's report that he had almost collided with a B-25 bomber over National Airport here.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) announced the new safety move last night, a short time after disclosure of the near-collision between an Eastern Airlines Constellation and an instrument-flying Air Force plane. The airliner was carrying 54 persons on a flight to Miami.

The CAA said the new regulation resulted from a series of safety discussions with Air Force officials which started several weeks ago.

In the past 14 months, all fatalities suffered by passengers on U. S. airlines have resulted from aerial collisions.

National Airport was the scene of a disastrous crash last Tuesday, involving an Eastern Airlines DC-4 and a Soviet P-38 fighter, in which 55 persons lost their lives.

In its statement, the CAA said the move, effective today, applies (See MILITARY, Page 12)

Court Will Study Bids

The County Commissioners' Court will meet tomorrow to open bids on miscellaneous items of hospital equipment and to accept a bid tabled from the last meeting.

Bids on 11 items of hospital furnishing, including pharmacy supplies and mattresses, will be opened, beginning at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

These items will complete the furnishing of Highland General Hospital so that it will be ready for business on its opening day, scheduled for Jan. 1, 1950.

Bids on an office bookkeeping machine were tabled at the court's last meeting, Nov. 2, for further examination.

The commissioners felt then that there was too great a discrepancy between the low bid of $85 and the high bid of nearly twice that amount.

During this past week, C. C. Lander, hospital superintendent, and Ray Wilson, county auditor, have examined each of the three machines represented in the bids to see if they fully met specifications and to present their recommendations to the court tomorrow.

Gold Strike Is Strong on Brass

CASTAIC, Calif. — (AP) — California's latest gold strike was a little too strong on brass.

A rash of gold fever spread through this little community when Charley Allen discovered shiny metal in a well behind his cafe. Prospectors converged on the town, only 10 miles from the site of California's first gold discovery in 1842.

They thought Allen had the real thing. Claims were filed and samples of the golden stuff were sent to the assayers.

The assayer's report quickly cured the fever. It said there was a little gold all right, but that the shiny stuff was brass.

Commissioner In County for 22 Years Dies

McLEAN — Funeral services were held here this afternoon for a former Gray County commissioner who died yesterday.

Moody Milas Newman, a resident of McLean for 43 years, died yesterday at the Groom hospital just three days before his 80th birthday.

He was married Nov. 12, 1903 to the former Mary Lizzy Fulbright, Texas, to McLean in 1906.

He was county commissioner for Precinct 4 from 1918 to 1940.

The 78-year-old senator from today from the Church of Christ in McLean with W. B. Andrews, minister of Oak Cliff Church in Dallas, officiating, assisted by Tom McDonald of Borger. Burial was in Hillcrest Cemetery in McLean.

In addition to his wife, Newman is survived by one son, Kelly Newman, of Plainview; by seven daughters, Mrs. W. S. Etchison of Phillips, Mrs. T. C. D'Spain of Alameda, Mrs. W. B. Andrews (See NEWMAN, Page 12)

Gown to Be Styled by Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Vice President Alben Barkley's bride-to-be will have a Hollywood-designed tulle gown, although apparently she doesn't know it.

Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley in St. Louis denied reports that her wedding gown and going-away things were being created by Marusia, famed Hollywood designer.

At the same time, Marusia was busy designing and making the ensembles Mrs. Hadley apparently ordered her clothes from Montaldo's, fashionable St. Louis department store. Montaldo gave the order to the Hollywood designer.

Marusia described the wedding gown as having a natural rounded line, tiny waist and a gently flaring skirt with invisible pockets. The "marusia blue" has much pearl gray in it.

The going-away dress, the designer said, is a two-piece affair of imported jersey wool, the same shade of blue as the wedding gown. The jacket is a casual hip length loose coat carrying out the mauve effect in a shadow stitch plaid.

Tickets for Show on Sale

Reserve seat tickets for the Parade of Quartets, which will be held Saturday at the Junior High School Auditorium, went on sale this morning at Berry's Pharmacy.

Bunny Shultz, president of the local chapter of S.P.E.S.Q.S.A., advised Pampans to get their tickets early since the supply is limited.

The Barbershoppers' show will be held only one night this year rather than the customary two nights, he said. Many of the quartets do not stay over more than one night.

Three types of tickets will be sold for the show — reserve seats in front of the balcony — reserve seats under the balcony — general admission tickets in the balcony. General admission seats may be obtained at the Court House Cafe.

A few "after-glow" tickets are left, Shultz said. They may be purchased by phoning Bob Jorgenson at 393.

Third World War Is Unnecessary Says Russian-Born Author-Lecturer

A third world war is not only unnecessary, but it would be criminal, George J. Rony, author-lecturer, told members of the Top o' Texas Knife and Fork Club last night at a banquet at the High School.

Rony, who has been an American citizen for the past nine years, was born in Russia and has lived 35 years in various European countries.

"Since my return from Europe after a trip there in 1947, I don't think we are heading toward a third world war," he said. "First, because the economic and political situation there has improved incredibly, mostly thanks to our economic assistance. In a third world war, I don't believe one European nation would fight on our side because they know the strength of the Russian Army and that resistance would be fatal.

"In the Europeans' hearts they would like to be on our side, but think they can't because they believe they are expendables," he added.

Something has happened in Europe, he said. Americans are the most hated people there, even after sending 30 billion dollars for rehabilitation.

Rony said he had sent half of what he earned for packages for his friends in Europe, and he found when he visited them that they were indignant because he hadn't sent more. "Because," he said, "we can get such good prices for them on the black market."

"We are losing the 'black war' every day," he added. "This is the war of propaganda, and full of distortion, which is being waged by the Communists."

He said he invented the art of publicity and selling, yet when it comes to advertising our intentions and foreign policy we become speechless and paralyzed.

Instead of being innocent until proved guilty, Europeans adopt just the opposite philosophy. Thus, when America refuses to explain its motives for rehabilitation in the European's eyes, we are guilty by implication of Russian charges of ulterior motives, he added.

"We have spent 15 billion dollars on rearmament and only 15 million dollars on propaganda. On the other hand Russia's money for propaganda purposes seems to be unlimited," Rony said.

Americans are losing the black war by default and apathy. The true motives and intentions must be told, and told right away if we are to prevent another war, the spokesman said.

Another gayer danger to us is American habit of oversimplification. Instead of thinking out an issue for ourselves, we find out what Russia is to do and then adopt the exact opposite view, he said.

In citing another example of our failure to think, he said during the war when he was lecturing in the U. S., he had more than 50 speeches on his tour. Today he has only 10 because of the commutation to his being a "Russian-born" having changed.

Another reason for Rony's disbelief that another world war is necessary is based on his theory about Western and Eastern civilizations.

"Western civilization is built around law, order and religion and places the individual first in importance in society. The result is an age of magnificent achievement in the field of endeavor," he said.

As he sees it Russian communism has perpetrated the biggest fraud on mankind, for they sold the idea of communism to the Russian people. However, he said, their political party is communism in name only.

Rony added that only in Eastern civilization, composed of uneducated Asiatic people who don't have any conception of democracy, could such a situation where the individual doesn't exist be created.

Western civilization is organization of the individual while Eastern civilization is the organization of the masses, he said. The two systems are diametrically opposed, but need not clash, he believes.

"I believe that if we have patience, we will see a change in the Eastern civilization. When the physical man becomes satisfied, he will begin to want the spiritual side and thus begin to develop the Eastern civilization after the Western," he added.

He continued, "Although we are headed down a path that leads to this third world war, we are not beyond the point of no return."

He believes if we change our atmosphere of bias and hatred and assume the attitude of patience, we will see the Eastern civilization change. He thinks we can facilitate this change by breaking through the iron curtain and showing these people our civilization, and by explaining ourselves more efficiently to the Europeans.

He concluded by saying we are cornered and have no way out — "It is all or nothing. Either we will create or we will stay as we are and then perish."

The guest speaker was introduced by Sherman White, Roy Bourland, president of the Knife and Fork Club, presided, had charge of the question and answer period and announced the next speaker will be Mrs. Paul J. Whitney, who will talk Dec. 15 on delinquency.

Soft Coal Miners Ordered Back to Pits Until Nov. 30

CHICAGO — (AP) — John L. Lewis told his 380,000 striking soft coal diggers today to go back to work until Nov. 30, pending further efforts to reach a contract agreement in the industry.

The order came immediately after a meeting of the United Mine Workers' 200-man Policy Committee.

It was termed by Lewis "an act of good faith designed to contribute to public convenience."

He hinted at resumption of the strike after Nov. 30 if a settlement with operators is not reached.

But, Lewis said, in suspending the 51-day strike "the United Mine Workers will again make another contribution of a major magnitude to enhance the remote possibility of agreement being reached."

The miners will work, he said, under the UMW's contract which expired July 1, this year.

The back to work order was the most sweeping reversal of the union's traditional "no contract no work" policy to date. The first step was taken last summer when miners were permitted to work three days a week after expiration of their contract.

Lewis told reporters the 380,000 bituminous workers east of the Mississippi River who have been idle 51 days were ordered back into the pits immediately.

Lewis said that between now and Nov. 30 officers and representatives of the union "will participate in such wage conferences as may eventuate in conformity with recognized policy."

He urged that private householders and public institutions "provide themselves with coal supplies to tide them over a further suspension period in the event that the contemptuous arrangement of the coal operators remains undiminished.

This announcement was made by Lewis in a prepared statement. (See MINERS, Page 12)

Gallup Will Eat Pheasant For Awhile

NEW YORK — (AP) — Dr. George Gallup of the Gallup Poll said he was eating pheasant today — a welcome change from his year-long diet of crow.

His poll forecast the U. S. Senate victory of former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman in yesterday's New York state election.

Gallup's figures were not as close as they have been in the past, but he picked the right man. Gallup gave Lehman 57 percent of the vote, and his Republican opponent, Sen. John Foster Dulles 43 percent.

Almost complete returns from the actual balloting showed Lehman winning with 52 percent over Dulles with 48 percent.

Just a year ago, Gallup forecast the election of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey over President Truman, and has spent the time since then improving and refining his polling system.

Gallup was badly off on the size of Lehman's Democratic-liberal majority, however.

Gallup gave him more than the 385,000 claimed by Democratic chieftains, while the actual figures, with only a few election (See GALLUP, Page 12)

Soldiers Take to Southland Dish

EL PASO — (AP) — Black-eyed peas, a traditional Southland dish, have proved a hit with one of the world's most cosmopolitan groups — soldiers.

They gave the peas an experimental "test run" at Fort Bliss here the other day. Reporting on it to Rep. Beckworth (D-Tex.), Maj. Gen. J. L. Homer, commanding officer, said:

"Of 19,667 enlisted men served, 16,553 or 84.2 percent ate the black-eyed peas. Percentage of edible waste left by the foot-sloggers was only .0122.

"The overall average of 84.2 appears to me to be a very good indication of general acceptance," said the general.

Highway 70 Progress Discussed at Chuck Wagon Feed on Creek Bank

Progress of the road to the Canadian River was discussed yesterday by Fred Thompson, Chamber of Commerce president, at a chuck wagon feed on the banks of Chicken Creek, about 25 miles from Pampa.

The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce gave the feed honoring persons who have helped with Highway 70. Sixty-five men attended, and the barbecue was held in lieu of the monthly board meeting.

The dinner was held at the point where the fencing on Highway 70 has been completed.

Thompson said residents in this road for the past 20 years. He added that for the past three years someone has been working area has been talking about on the idea almost daily.

The Chamber of Commerce president thanked and owners who have cooperated in the undertaking. Money has been appropriated by the State Highway Department to build the road to the river, he continued.

Roberts County Judge Woodie Parker introduced Frank Russell, commissioner of Precinct 3; Woods King, commissioner of Precinct 2; and Paul Caylor, commissioner of Precinct 4.

Gray County officials were introduced by County Judge Bruce Parker. They were Bill Graham, commissioner of Precinct 1; Ed Beck, commissioner of Precinct 2; Joe Clark, commissioner of Precinct 3; and John Studer, county attorney.

Mayor C. A. Huff presented City Manager Dick Pepin and the City Commission. Commissioners attending were Fred Ballard, Fred Parrott and Crawford Atkinson. Also, Bob Gordon, city attorney, and R. E. Anderson, city secretary, were there.

Highway Department personnel at the picnic were Guy Lott, resident engineer, Amarillo; G. K. Reading, resident engineer, Pampa; Charles W. Smith, Lawrence Ortomani, Austin.

Sherman White, general chairman of the Highway Committee, and Frank Culbertson, chairman of the special Highway 70 Committee, made brief talks.

Other persons who have shown an interest in Highway 70 were Mrs. J. D. Lard and son, Henry Lee, who now reside at Big Spring, N. M.; Jake Osborne and J. E. Williams, Pampa. Williams, a pioneer of this part of the state, told of the advantages of the new highway.

Whenever you hold two kings and your partner has opened the auction with a two-bid in a suit, immediately jump to three no trump. Opener will then know exactly what you have (not just a "trick plus" or "two tricks"), and he can easily determine the hand shall play. On the above hand, when the three no trump response was made, opener knew that his only loser would be the ace of spades. He promptly contracted for a small slam in no trump. (Responder's bid of three no trump denied the ace of spades. Had he held this card his first duty would have been to show the ace.)

Had this hand been bid in orthodox fashion, responder undoubtedly would have bid his diamond suit, and the small slam would probably have not been reached. The opener would have been afraid that he would lose the first two tricks.

When you hold three kings opposite partner's two-bid, bid four no trump on your rebid.

More than half the men questioned in a recent poll claimed they wanted wives more intelligent than themselves.

That poll, I hasten to add, was taken in France.

American men NEVER marry women more intelligent than they are — not if they know it. And they never know it, due to a little game American women play.

In America there is an unwritten law that the man has to be the more intelligent.

If he actually is — it's simple. But when he's not, the girl who wants to make him fall in love with her has to keep him from suspecting the awful truth.

She has to pretend to be less bright than he is. And she has to make him look brighter than he is.

This may wear on her at times, like when she has to listen to him explain something to her she could better explain to him.

NEED SOME ACTING

But it isn't a difficult feat at all. The girl asks questions instead of answering them. She asks advice she doesn't need. She says "What do you think?" instead of parading her own opinions. She manages with wide-eyed admiration to make him think she is only bright enough to appreciate his superior wisdom.

They not only don't prefer wives who are smarter than they are; they wouldn't have one on a bet.

Big Name Tossing New Pastime in United States

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

America is using up its supply of Big Name Anecdotes much faster than it can manufacture new ones.

This careless consumption of the anecdote is caused by the current writing formula. The formula, in case you hadn't noticed, involves making points by telling apt stories. When you can drop a big name into the story, so much the better.

For instance, if you want to write a little essay about how honesty is the best policy, the last thing in the world you want to say is: "Honesty is the best policy." What you do is string together a yard of stories, most of which sound plucky, with the central characters having such names as Andrew Carnegie, John D. Rockefeller, Sr., George Washington or Arthur Godfrey. It's best, if you are not too sure of your facts, to have someone who is dead. Laying people are apt to deny they ever said or did it.

Of course, the Big Name Anecdote is merely one phase. It's been some months since I've read a non-fiction article which did not start out something like this: "Mrs. K, a well-to-do suburban matron, was very upset. Her husband had not come home for three years."

Even a West Point graduate, has visited my office once a month for the past 10 years.

The former is the concealed-identity anecdote, which gives a feeling of authenticity to the story. It wouldn't be so good if you just came out and called her Mrs. Jones. The latter is the "teaser" anecdote. You sort of run over the generals you know to see if you can find out just what one it was.

The fact remains that we are living in an age of anecdote, and people who can turn out these little stories can whip up a nice business. Personally, I could turn out an unending stream of the concealed-identity and teaser types. I think, however, that I would occasionally change from the straight initial to something more stimulating like "Mrs. O.B."

What I'm worrying about is the future of the Big Name Anecdote. There are already signs that tellers of some are getting toward the bottom of the barrel.

It isn't particularly that the anecdotes are getting weaker that bothers, it's when I see the same set of facts used with several different names attached to it. Just who is it, anyway, that finds these little nuggets of morality tossed off in a casual moment by a man later to be Very Famous? I spend a lot of time doing research on people, and never once have I turned up an anecdote worth repeating.

Lots of people are anxious in this type of anecdote. The amateurs are usually pure and simple name-droppers, trying to impress you with the fact they know somebody or other. But there are

Here's How To Improve The Movies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — The many admirers of the famed post-ariat will enjoy reading the newly published "Autobiography of Will Rogers," edited by Donald Day. I most enjoyed Will's suggestions on how to improve the movie industry. They were written in 1920, but might apply today. Some of them: Use your audience for a press agent instead of hiring one. Don't tell your audience what your picture cost, they know what they were stung by the price of admission. There is only one thing that can kill the movies, and that is education.

If the movies want to advance, all they have to do is not get new stories but do the old ones as they were written. The average life of a movie is till it reaches the radio. The average life of a movie here is till he is found out. Som say, what is the salvation of the movies? I say run 'em backwards. It can't hurt 'em and it's worth a trial. What the entire industry needs is a sense of humor. Producers say pictures have improved, but they haven't. It's only audiences have got used to them. Some cynics ask, is movies really an art yet? Yes, selling them is. Will the industry live? Not unless a midwife comes. We can't tell yet, it's like a newly born cat, we've got to wait nine days to see if it will open its eyes. ## Annual Picture of Stalin and Lieutenants Shows a Change

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Suppose, in celebration of the American Revolution, Washington was full of pictures of President Truman and his Cabinet every year on the Fourth of July. And suppose you knew that Mr. Truman was going to stay President so long as he lived, and that you couldn't do anything about it — and that when he died one of the Cabinet was going to take over. You'd say to yourself: "Who's it going to be?" But the best you could do would be to guess because — The lives of the President and the Cabinet were pretty secret. Nothing ever got into the newspapers about them, except what they told the newspapers to print. Since you didn't know, and could only guess, every year you'd look at the Fourth of July picture to see who was standing closest to Mr. Truman, and who was moved around.

EN ROUTE TO U.S. — Kinuyo Tanaka, Japanese movie star, arrives at Tokyo Airport to start her tour of Honolulu and U.S. by permission of SCAP, U.S. occupying authorities.

That's just about what's happening in Moscow, where the Russians are celebrating the 32nd anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution in 1917. Official pictures of Prime Minister Stalin and his Politburo — the 12 men who, with Stalin, run Russia — have been made public. There, standing at his right hand is his old-time pal, V. M. Molotov, former foreign minister. They've been friends for years. But — on the left is Georgi M. Malenkov. This created a stir in Moscow because, in an official Politburo picture last May, L. P. Beria was at Stalin's left-hand. Beria is still in the picture, of course, but not where he was last May; at Stalin's left-hand. Because Malenkov has that spot, it's caused speculation that now Malenkov is closer to Stalin than Beria — but not so close as Molotov who's on the right hand.

The Game

By Virginia Teale Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Martin Falter, a resident of the Dolores art colony, has somehow come into possession of a valuable collection of paintings. He visits a local collector, Edgar Blair, a gift shop proprietor, and offers it for $12,000. Blair cannot pay this, but suggests that Falter, a resident, is very anxious that Blair should be satisfied. Later Falter calls an Arnold Puffer, a weaver, and shows him the cameo.

ARNOLD PUFFER whistled. He turned the brooch over, fingering it gently. "What do you want me to do with it?" he asked Martin Falter. "I want you to take it to a prospective buyer I have in San Francisco. Ask him for $12,000, but, if you have to, take ten. I'll get a power of attorney notarized tonight and bring it over. Now, let's see, I have his card somewhere." Arnold, his lips pursed worriedly, watched Martin's search through his pockets. He gave a little cough: "You know, Marty, you're asking me to take a lot of responsibility. I wish you'd take it up yourself."

"I can't leave town right now. And, anyway, I'd rather not deal with this man in person." "Why not?" "Oh, top with the questions. Arnold— you fuss like an old woman. Now, here," he extended a card, "here's the man's name, address and phone number. I know I can depend on you to get me the best possible price." Arnold frowned, eyeing Martin's eyes. He spoke hesitantly: "Where— where did you get this pin, Marty?" "Where d'you think I got it? I suppose you think I stole it? It's mine and I'm going to sell it. I hate people who try to pry."

Arnold compressed his mouth into a firm line. "I'm not going to take it up to San Francisco. I just don't like the idea, that's all!" Martin leaned back lazily. "That's tough, because you're going to. You'll do anything I ask, I think— this time or any other time." Arnold stared at him: "What did you say, Martin?" "You heard me. You owe me something of a debt, Arnold. Fortunately for your little bank balance, I've decided not to ask payment in money."

"I owe you a debt?" Arnold laughed nervously. "I'd say that statement was slightly car-borne-the-horse." "WERE talking at cross-purposes," Martin tilted his chair and teetered back and forth. The coldness of his eyes belied his indolent attitude and drawing voice: "I feel that I've proved myself quite a friend of yours, quite a good friend, Arnold, by keeping certain things to myself." Arnold's body went rigid. "Go on," he said. "I will. Now the way I see it— you like it here in Dolores. You like the reputation you've built for yourself out West as a master weaver. You like the money it brings in, you like the pilgrimages to your door by artists and sight-seers. You'd hate to give it up and move away and begin again, wouldn't you?"

Arnold's face was white. Martin laughed. "Oh, don't look so petrified. It all boils down to this— you take the cameo to San Francisco for me, and we'll forget all about Benoit. Color shot back into Arnold's face, turning it a deep, purple-red. He jumped to his feet and sprang at Martin, raining futile blows on the bigger man's arms and chest. Martin struggled out

"Let me in, Arnold!" she rattled the knob rudely. "Hurry up!" of his chair, grabbed Arnold's shoulders and held him at arm's length: "Now, now, Arnold," he panted. "Temper, temper!" Arnold kicked at him, sobbing, then turned and sank into a chair and buried his face in his hands. "You're despicable, Martin Falter!" he spat. Martin shrugged. "But interesting," he amended. "At least no one could call me a milkop. Now, if you're over the little tantrum, I'll give you the cameo. Put it away somewhere while I go out and see about getting that power of attorney. I probably won't get back here until around 9 or 10 this evening." He paused in the doorway. "Try a little lavender salts, Arnold; they'll give your vapors no end of a lift." He laughed and was gone. Arnold, his head buzzing, pushed back his chair and walked to the windows. HIS thoughts centered on Martin, reviewing their friendship from its beginning on Dolores's sun-baked beach one summer afternoon about two years ago. Martin had been one of his first acquaintances. He had met him informally on the beach only because Martin's cigaret lighter hadn't worked. Arnold had given him a match. They had gotten on well, and presently, Arnold had told Martin all about his work— his art, his weaving. Arnold had become almost glibly friendly. But he'd been careful not to discuss his past life, careful not to mention anything that might lead to questions about Baltimore.

All of that Martin had somehow stumbled upon by himself. Arnold cringed as he stood at the window, Baltimore! That dreadful scandal! He turned from the window and paced the room. He stopped once and fitted a cigaret into his holder. What Martin Falter had just said to him amounted to blackmail! Blackmail from a man he'd thought of as a friend! Arnold suddenly despised himself for a fool. A naive fool, for coming in to Martin, making an intimate of him, occasionally lending him money. And asking nothing, nothing whatsoever in return. They had spent a good deal of time together until Martin had got mixed up with that O'Neill woman. Blowy, obvious creature! Nell O'Neill had money, of course, and that would appeal to Marty. And he didn't even care that Nell's purse was filled by Tom, her good-natured husband.

He got up restlessly and walked over to the steel cabinet where he had locked up the cameo. He unlocked a drawer, took out the silver box and opened it. He stared for a long while at the small, twinkling diamonds, the smooth, pale luster of the pearls and the exquisitely carved weeping woman on the carnelian. HE gave a nervous start as the knocker on his front door clacked a staccato summons. He hastily closed the cameo box, put it back in the drawer and locked the cabinet. It might be Martin returning— maybe to tell him he needn't take the cameo to San Francisco after all! He made for the hall, paused, then tiptoed swiftly down to the front door. Stealthily, he opened the Judas window a crack and peered out. Staring on his doorstep, big and brash as ever, was Neil O'Neill!

"Let me in, Arnold!" she rattled the knob rudely. "Hurry up!" Arnold slammed the window— he'd opened it too far, Nell had seen him! If he didn't let her in, would she bang on the door or cause some other kind of disturbance? Undoubtedly, she would. He released the lock. Nell brushed past him and swept down the hall and into the studio. Arnold trotted after her. "She took a brisk look around. "Who's he?" "Who?" "Don't be stupid! Martin Falter. I saw him come in here!" "You should have kept your eye to the knot-hole— you'd have seen him leave." "Did he say where he was going?" "I didn't ask him. It was none of my business." Nell gave him a scathing look. "Got a cigaret, little man?" She sank into one of the maple chairs. (To Be Continued)

Fanny Brice Will Be Back As 'Snooks'

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — This week a 58-year-old grandmother resumes her impersonation of a seven-year-old brat.
 This sort of thing has been going on since 1912, when Fanny Brice first dreamed up Baby Snooks. It is likely to continue as long as there is breath in the famed comedienne.
 Miss Brice seems resigned to a life with "Snooks," as she calls the radio moppet. "I mentioned that her fans would also like to hear some of her wonderful routines of yore."
 "How about another show? I hear they're dragging out the Ziegfeld Follies again."
 "They would have to drag me back there to do it," she replied. "I would never leave California willingly."
 "Television?"
 "Maybe yes. But I wouldn't do it the way it's done now. No one can put a different show on every week and keep it good. If I did it, I'd rehearse a show carefully, then put it on three or four weeks—the same show every week. That way everybody would see it."
 That leaves her with Baby Snooks, who was born in vaudeville in 1912. It started as a parody on the pampered movie child. One night she was forced into entertaining at a party. She did her whole routine in the baby talk she used in the movie baby number and it was a howl. She did the character off and on for years and in 1937 put it on the radio. She was also doing a "Mrs. Cohen" role, but the Jewish housewife was pushed in the background in favor of Snooks. She has been a standard figure on the air ever since.
 Miss Brice was off the airwaves during last year's radio upheaval. She used the time to give birth to an autobiography.

Two Hindus Scheduled To Hang

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
 Next Tuesday the law of India is scheduled to exact the death penalty on the gallows from two Hindus for the assassination on Jan. 0, 1948, of Mahatma Gandhi, one of the greatest spiritual leaders of all time.
 If any one ought to be hanged, surely that fate should befall Narayan V. Godse, whose hand held the pistol which fired the fatal shots, and his fellow conspirator, Narayan B. Apte. Still, as one who knew the saintly little Mahatma, I believe if he could make his wishes known he would ask that the sentences of death be commuted.
 Indeed Gandhi rendered his personal verdict even as he died. He was walking across the lawn of his followers, when the assassin struck.
 As the 78-year-old Mahatma sank under the impact of two or more bullets he raised his hand to Godse in the Hindu sign of forgiveness.
 That is what would be expected from the man who once told me that his greatest inspiration had been Christ's Sermon on the Mount. This being the attitude of a life-long exponent of non-violence, one wonders whether the Indian government may yet intervene to prevent the hangings, and commute the sentences to imprisonment.
 Should any move of this sort be made it would have to be initiated officially by Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, who finished his lengthy visit in America and flew back to India Monday. Nehru was Gandhi's devoted disciple and held the Mahatma in deepest reverence and love. Nehru once characterized Gandhi thus: "He has changed the face of India, given pride and character to a cringing and demoralized people, built up strength and consciousness in the masses and made the Indian problem a world problem."

State Hospital Survey Begun

AUSTIN — (AP) — Two teams of experts started Tuesday on state hospitals and special school problems.
 A team headed by Dr. M. D.

Miller from the U. S. Public Health Service began its survey of tuberculosis hospitals, starting with the hospital at Sanatorium, Texas.
 Another team headed by Dr. Riley H. Guthrie started another survey at the Austin State Hospital and the Austin State School for the Mentally Deficient. Guthrie is mental hospital adviser for the National Institute of Mental Health.

 The board for hospitals and special schools announced that it has retained George E. Quick of St. Louis, a consultant on hospitals and institutions, to coordinate the surveys.
 Surveys will cover buildings and equipment, relief of overcrowded conditions, facilities for treatment to raise the percentage of cures, and both medical and non-medical staff needs.

 Results and recommendations from the surveys will go to the board and then to Gov. Allan Shivers in December, prior to a

Hart Named AP Lineman of Week

NEW YORK — (AP) — Big Leon Hart, Notre Dame's husky 240-pound end, is this week's lineman of the week.

State game earned him the award in the weekly Associated Press poll.

Frank Leahy, Notre Dame coach, thinks so highly of his six-foot-four end, he would like to try him at fullback, carrying the ball. However, Hart is too good a blocker at end.

Hart's performance surpassed that of Jimmy Kynes, Florida center, who sparked his team to an upset triumph over Georgia. Playing on both offense and defense Kynes turned in one of the best games of his career. He was always in the right spot at the right time.

Two tackles, Dick Johnson of Virginia, and Jack Jennings, of Ohio State, played major roles in their teams' victories over Pennsylvania and Pitt.

Johnson's tackles caused Penn's fumbles that led to Virginia's first touchdown, then in the third period he stopped Penn's fullback Ray Dooney in brilliant goal-line stand. Jennings kept Pitt from gaining a bigger lead than 10-0 before his Buckeye teammates rallied to win, 11-10.

Once again, James "Froggie" Williams, Rice end, and Rudy Bauman, Texas wingman, turned in sterling performances in the Southwest.

This week's nominations included: Tackle: Wesley Roberts, Baylor.

Guard: Dick Scott, Texas A&M. Bud McFadin, Texas. Center: Joe Watson, Rice.

"Doodlebeak" is a colloquial name for bagpipes.

Maine is bordered by only one other state.

Repenting of this, Aronson turned to the mechanical lighter. His biggest contribution was a push button invention that brought the light to life with the pressure of a finger. It made him so much money he could pal around with kings. He even bought a 70-foot yacht so he could sail to see them.

"He had lighters from one end of the yacht to the other," said Nathan. "Even had one in his bathroom."

One of Nathan's present vice presidential duties is the assembling of a museum of mechanical lighters.

"In the early years they put lighters in everything from sword canes to baby shoes cast in bronze," he said.

This roccoco period is dying out. The Ronson company, for example, has cut down its number of models from 1,000 to about 100, he industry hasn't yet caught up with postwar demand.

"We have barely scratched the surface," said Nathan. The industry goal is to get a pencil lighter — it lights at one end, writes at the other — in every man's vest, a combination cigar case and lighter in every woman's purse, and a table lighter in every room.

How about a lifetime lighter that will never need refueling? Nathan looked cautious.

"Maybe one will come along that will last a year without refueling," he said. "but not a lifetime — in our lifetime."

In World of Free Matches Americans Turn to Lighters

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — In a world of free matches Americans are forking out $50,000,000 annually for gadgets to light their cigarettes.

The first world war popularized the wrist watch. And what that war did for the wrist watch the second world war has done for the cigarette lighter.

"Now the flint business alone is bigger than the entire lighter industry 15 years ago," said Alfred R. Nathan, vice president of the Ronson Art Metal Works, Inc.

It was founded 86 years ago by the late Louis V. Aronson, a metallurgical engineer who put the voice in the mama doll. Aronson, who died in 1940, was a pink-cheeked man with a passion for maroon — he even wore maroon shirts.

"Oddly, as a young man he once won a $5,000 prize from the Belgian government for developing a safety match," Nathan recalled.

Odessa-Lubbock Battle Feature Game on Weekend Texas Schoolboy Football Slate

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

One district championship will be determined and several others may be this weekend in Texas schoolboy football. Paris plays at Gainesville in District 7 of Class AA and the winner will take the title. The feature battle of the week, however, will be at Odessa where Lubbock, the state No. 1 rated team, plays Odessa in District 3. Regardless of which wins, the championship will not be mathematically decided but for all purposes it will. No other team in the district appears capable of handling either Lubbock or Odessa.

In the City Conference two district crowns may be determined in District 1 if Sunset (Dallas) beats Crozier Tech (Dallas) and Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) loses to Adamson (Dallas), it will all be over and Sunset will be champion. If both Sunset and Woodrow Wilson win it will require their meeting to decide it.

In the San Antonio District, San Antonio Tech can win the title by beating Thomas Jefferson. Otherwise it will require the Jefferson-Brackenridge game to determine it.

Down in District 8 of Class AA Highland Park (Dallas) can sew up the crown if it licks McKinney.

In District 9 Marshall can win the title by beating Longview.

The state's four undefeated, untied teams all have games but only Lubbock appears in any danger. Wichita Falls meets Childress, Port Arthur plays Port Neches and Corsicana takes on Ennis.

Dodgers Rehire Shotton; Seeking Reliable Moulder

By JOE REICHLER

BURT SHOTTON
—Signs for '50 season.

BROOKLYN — (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers are going all out for the catcher man they believe will help them win not only the 1950 National League pennant but the World Series as well. The man is southpaw pitcher Ken Raffensberger of the Cincinnati Reds.

The hint that the Dodgers are hot after a "good, reliable" veteran pitcher, with no names mentioned, was dropped at an official press conference conducted by President Branch Rickey yesterday.

The conference was called to announce that 65-year-old Burt Shotton would be back as manager of the Dodgers next year. Neither Rickey nor Shotton would come right out and say so but it was learned that Raffensberger is the pitcher both are eyeing.

During his recent tour of National League cities Rickey is said to have cornered Warren Giles, head man of the Reds, and talked to him about prospects of landing the 32-year-old mound vet.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Lou Little, who can explain almost everything, has his own explanation of the high scoring in football this season. . . . It's simply that a coach, in picking his two captains, picks the fastest and best co-ordinated men on the offensive team.

"If you make one little mistake against players like that, they're gone for a touchdown," Lou explains. . . . Little has watched the best offensive efforts of a lot of good teams while they were running over his Columbia team this fall. . . . From that viewpoint, his analysis of two of this week's top Eastern games is this: Dartmouth vs. Dartmouth — should be pretty even; Army is stronger and has a better team than Penn, but that doesn't necessarily mean Army will win.

OUT OF PLATTUNE

When Washington and Lee was playing George Washington recently the generals (that's W&L) drove 80 yards downfield, only to lose the ball on a fumble near the goal line. . . . Immediately Coach George Barclay sent his defensive unit racing onto the field while the offending offensive players trudged off. . . . An uninitiated spectator behind the W&L bench then sang out: "That seems dawg-dogged unfair of the coach. The team marches all the way up the field with the ball and just because they make one little mistake, he takes them all out of the ball game."

FIGSKIN PICKINGS

Columbia vs. Navy
If victory is part of Columbia's fate, it will come to little much to late.

Oklahoma vs. Missouri
Oklahoma
And Darrell Royal
Will cause Missouri's Blood to boil.

Minnesota vs. Pittsburgh

California vs. Oregon

Wyoming vs. Baylor

LESSON WELL LEARNED—It didn't take Billy Tidwell long to get next to himself. In the first quarter of the game with Bay or at College Station, Stanley Williams got behind Tidwell, slip to take a touchdown pass from Adrian Burk. But in the second period, when Burk passed similarly to J. D. Ison, the Texas A. and M. half-back kept between the end and the goal line, intercepted neatly, bottom. The Bears won, 21-0.

Blocker for Willie Heston

EGAD! Some of the gentler among my millions of gentle readers beseech me to put a stop to the fistfights being displayed all too frequently nowadays on the gridiron.

It seems there are more good 10-round bouts on the football field than there are in the ring—huh-eh?

Well, in the days when I was blocking for Willie Heston, Jim Thorpe and Walter Eckersall—not to mention tossing forward passes to Snake Ames — we were too numb to notice an occasional friendly uppercut.

But the gladiators' tempers seem to be a bit shorter in these modern times than was true among the giants of that distant era. Today if a ball-carrier is slugged on the back, it frequently follows that he pursues the offender right out into the open and thwacks him back. One or the other player is continually

Homecomings In Texas Conf.

(By The Associated Press)

It's strictly a family affair in Texas Conference football this week.

All six members will be playing conference games and all three will be homecomings.

McMurry, seeking its third flag, and Howard Payne, the conference's most frequent titlist, tangled at McMurry's homecoming Friday night. McMurry, with a perfect record in three starts, can assure itself of at least a tie for the championship through a victory. Payne still has a mathematical chance at the title, having lost one of its three games.

Dewey Mayhew is one Southwestern alumnus who will hope for an unhappy Pirate homecoming in Georgetown Saturday afternoon. A Southwestern graduate of 1922, he is coaching the Texas A&I Javelinas, who meet the last-place pirates. A&I is tied for second with Howard Payne.

Fair Park Stadium in Abilene will hardly be cleared before another game, between Abilene Christian and Austin College, will be played there. In a Saturday afternoon contest, the ACC Wildcats hope to halt the upsurging Kangaroos, who left the cellar last weekend with a win over Southwestern, their first conference victory since 1947.

Notre Dame Is 27-Point Favorite

NEW YORK — (AP) — Even if Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice is ready to roll under a full head of steam, North Carolina is conceded little chance of halting Notre Dame's football juggernaut Saturday.

New York odds manipulators have made the fabulous fighting Irish a 27-point favorite.

Harvesters Looking Bad in Workouts for Plainview Tilt

The Pampa Harvesters, looking sloppy and tired, moved through a hard workout yesterday afternoon as they prepared for the Friday afternoon battle against the Plainview Bulldogs at Plainview. Game time Friday is 2:30.

The Harvesters' blocking yesterday was insecure; the tackling spirit was still there, giving indications that the cause for Friday isn't completely lost. The Pampans will need all of their best play to down the surprising Bulldogs.

Plainview, no matter how poor its record has never been a pushover for the Harvesters. The Bulldogs came from three touchdowns behind to overcome the Green and Gold and take a 20-19 victory. Last season the Harvesters needed all they had to escape with a 13-0 win.

Plainview has a poor record, boasting only two victories. One of those was an early season win over the hapless Brownfield. The other was last weekend's upset of the Borgans. They have been playing most of the season with an eye on the Harvesters, scouting every game Pampa plays, promising to defeat them this season.

The move that apparently lit the fuse under the Bulldogs was the switching of Jackie Howton, star backfielder, from the full-back to the quarterback position, where his passing and running talents are used to a full capacity. In addition, the Bulldogs will outguess the Harvesters all the way through.

At full strength for the first weekend in a long time. Barring injuries, all of the Harvesters will be suited up for the contest and ready for action. Tommy Allison, who suffered a torn ankle and a charley horse in the Amarillo contest, appears to have shaken both and is back at work. Gerald Matthews was in uniform again yesterday and can play if needed.

An announcement was made yesterday that the Senior High School will be dismissed Friday to permit the students to make the trip to Plainview and back the team that hopes to bring the first district title to Pampa since 1943. Reserved seat tickets for the game went on sale this morning in the School Business Office of the City Hall.

Ramsey Hottest In SWJCC

(By The Associated Press)

Warren Ramsey, Kilgore quarterback, sets a blistering pace in Southwestern Junior College Conference ball-carrying.

Ramsey has romped 136 times for 42 yards this season — more than 100 yards ahead of Jim McNeil, Lamar College fullback, who has gained 719 in 128 carries.

The College Statistical Bureau also said that Ken Bahnsen of Tyler had the best average with 6.3 yards per carry. He has rolled up 563 yards on 89 runs.

Dan Page of Tyler leads in passing with 48 completions for 1045 yards. Richard Harvey of San Angelo is second with 339 yards on 22 connections. Billy Burklow of Arlington State has completed the most passes — 50 for 407 yards.

Dan McGinty of Tyler leads the receivers with 14 catches for 344 yards. Richard Miers of San Angelo is second with 12 for 199.

In punting Rad Mitchell of Tarleton State tops the list with 37.4 average on 54 boots. Billy Porter of Tyler has the top average with 41.0 but has kicked only 38 times.

Guerillas Meet Yannigans At Amarillo on Thursday

The Guerillas will be in Amarillo tomorrow afternoon to fight the powerful Yannigans, the Amarillo "B" squad. The Guerillas had a fine season's record marred last weekend at Borger when injuries slowed their attack and they fell to the Bullpups, 19-13. It was only the second defeat of the year for the Bees.

The Guerillas were strengthened Monday by the return of center and linebacker Tolle Hutchens, who returned after spending the week before working with the Harvesters, replacing the injured Gerald Matthews. Also injured for the Borger game were Derral Wilson, Bill McPherson and Jimmy Cook. Charles Ely has been out for a month with a broken bone in his foot.

The Yannigans have had a good season. Last weekend they ran in a buzzsaw, though, when they fell victim to Price College, a team the Guerillas broke even with in two encounters. But a scout report of the game said that the Yannigans ran Price College over the field, but still lost the game on some bad breaks.

Co-captain Bill McPherson and co-captain Derral Wilson both appear to be sidelined for this final game of the season. Neither has sufficiently recovered from injuries to see action tomorrow.

The probable starting lineup for the Guerillas will have Roy Pool and Jimmy Cook at the ends; Jesse Dykes and Gene Elyum at the tackles; Ed Langford and Stanley Ryan at guards and Tolle Hutchens at center. The backfield will have Harold Smith at quarterback, Billy Davis and Howard Musgrave at halfbacks, and Dick Murray at fullback.

Game time is 4 o'clock and the game will be played at Butler Field. For the fans who can't make it to Amarillo, radio station KPDM will carry the broadcast, direct from the field, starting at 3:55. Coy Palmer will do the play by play.

Reapers Battle Sam Houston JH There Tomorrow

Thursday afternoon the Junior High School Reapers travel to Amarillo to battle Sam Houston Junior High. The Reapers will be seeking their first conference victory of the year, having tied three and lost three to date. At present they are in last place in the Panhandle Junior High School Football League. Horace Mann is on top of the standings with Sam Houston second.

The Reapers have one more game scheduled after this weekend. They will go to Borger next week for the season's finale. The Reapers have already lost to both of these two clubs remaining on their schedule. Game time in Amarillo tomorrow is expected to be 3 o'clock, though it may be moved up, if possible, so the team can see the Guerillas play later in the day.

Spearheading the Pampa attack tomorrow will be David Enloe, a little hard-running scabback. Last week the passing of Jimmy Bond and Enloe's running sparked a last period drive that nearly pulled the Reapers from a two-touchdown deficit to the victory column, but time ran out on them.

Aggies High on Sophomore Ace

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — As far as Texas A&M College is concerned, the all-Southwest Conference football can be found at Kyle Field each afternoon.

This name is Bob Smith and he's the power runner the Conference has produced in many seasons.

All of the other leading ball-carriers in the Conference perform for teams that have won more games and scored more touchdowns than Smith's Aggies, yet none of them have come close to matching his record.

The Cadet crusher has amassed 645 yards in 120 carries. That's an average of 5.2 yards every time he's taken the football. He's scored as many touchdowns (seven) as any other player in the Conference despite the fact his team has been blanked in three games and held to six points in two others.

Smith has gained another 102 yards on kickoff returns and pass receptions. He also ran 39 yards to another touchdown that was called back. The enemy has been able to toss him for a loss only five times this season.

Smith's best days were against Southern Methodist and Texas Tech with three touchdowns each and grand total of 389 yards against these two teams. He's also one of the few Sophomore backs in the country who hold the distinction of having scored a touchdown against Oklahoma's slick-ribbed first team line.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Howe—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What was the final score of last season's Pampa-Plainview football game?

SPORTS SIDELIGHTS: Manager Frankie Frisch of the Chicago Cubs, stalemated in any attempted deals so far this winter, has decided to string along with the youngsters. Listed for a starting mound job is Warren Hacker, former Oiler, who moved up to the big time late last season. Frisch adds that his regular third sacker to start the season will be Bill Serena, also a former West Texas-New Mexico League star, who did his bullet throwing and power hitting for the Lubbock Hubbers.

DON MILLER, one of the famed Four Horsemen of Notre Dame, is in line for a federal judge's job. If he gets it, it will be the first time that a player that good was ever put on the bench for life. Bob Feller claims "Lou Boudreau did a better job of managing the Cleveland Indians this past season than he did in 1948 when they won the pennant." Feller added that he thought the Boston Red Sox had the best team in the majors and that he couldn't figure out how they lost.

Neither can many others. When asked if he thought the Indians would cut his salary next season, Feller smiled and said he couldn't answer, but added, "I can tell you this much—I don't expect a raise." Hollywood now is planning a movie on the life of Satchel Paige.

BYRON "WHIZZER" WHITE, the Rhodes scholar who was a star halfback with the Detroit Lions, now practices law in Denver. Closely pressing Michigan's Al Wistert for the title of college football's Grand Old Man (actively playing), is Ezekiel (Tex) Young, 30-year-old tackle with St. Louis U. Tex, now weighing 285 pounds, was too small to play high school football but picked up weight after graduation when he worked as a cowpuncher. He has attended college at McMurry, New Mexico State Teachers and UCLA as well as St. Louis, and once managed the Crosby's band. On yes, he played Navy football during the war. A headline on a Midwest newspaper said "Notre Dame Going Ahead With Atomic Research." That's no news to Tulane or Navy or Michigan State or many others.

BILL VEECK, Cleveland Indians owner, set the sports scribes in a dither when he announced, "I'm getting a new manager." The answer was immediate. "Mac, I'll take it," he answered. "That" says Terry, "was our first conversation in a year and a half—his offering me his job."

ANSWER: In 1948 the Harvesters defeated Plainview 13-0.

Joe McCarthy, who has been named out of two pennants in successive years as manager of the Red Sox, will be back for more. He'd like 1950 to be a banner year—and by banner, he means pennant.

Marse Joe undoubtedly insisted on a clause in his new contract reading: "If the party of the second part (McCarthy) again fails to win the pennant by a narrow margin, he will be permitted to go stark, raving mad."

Nicknames sported by members of the Detroit pro football team are Spider, Bugge, Gum, Noss, Needle, Peets and Wrinkle. If they look like they sound, the Lions are cooking up a new offensive strategy—very offensive.

Galiffa to Collect 11 Varsity A's, Handles Other Sports as Hobby, Aiming for Career in Air Force

By JIM O'LEARY
NEA Staff Correspondent

WEST POINT, N. Y. — (NEA)—Movies and dancing are pleasing forms of recreation for quarterback, forward and first baseman Arnold Galiffa, but Army's signal-caller not only spends his precious afternoons in the interest of West Point athletics but considers sports his hobby.

Informal boxing, wrestling, swimming, squash and tennis are high on the Galiffa agenda; rank being varsity athletics and a future as a professional soldier. The six-foot-two, 190-pound Cadet Sergeant is bent on making the grade in the Air Force, had a taste of the practical side of Army life while winning the American Theater Ribbon as a Pfc. prior to entering the Academy.

Only Col. Lighthorse Harry Wilson has been awarded more varsity A's than those which Galiffa has collected. Galiffa has garnered by commencement in June. Three in football, four each in basketball and baseball, give the calm, dark-haired cadet a total of 11 varsity monograms earned at the Academy. He accumulated an equal number, in the three sports plus track, while at Donora, Pa. Senior High, where his proud dad, Nazareno Galiffa, father of seven, is the school janitor.

Continuing last year's pass completion average at a 500 gait, Galiffa demonstrated the astuteness of a future field general by passing and running the Cadets to a 21-7 victory over Michigan, for which Coach Earl Blaik and staff had been pointing since last spring.

Galiffa's passing and threat of passing set off quick-breaking plays off right tackle which constantly hampered the Wolverines. Effective ball-tossing by Galiffa in circling tightly, hitting off tackle, was another knotty problem for the Michigan defenders to cope with.

His running average is now five yards per try. No further evidence of superior workmanship was needed than November of 1948 when he mixed running and passing to perfection in bringing the Future

Neely High on Ability of Joe Watson, Star Center

HOUSTON — (AP) — Jess Neely, is a talkative person when the subject is big Joe Watson. The Rice Institute coach, a man not given to undue praise, believes Watson, a 232-pound center and linebacker, is the man responsible for the Owls' holding a stranglehold on first place in Southwest Conference standings.

Without Watson, Neely says, Rice would have lost to both Southern Methodist and Texas. Watson's play is not as spectacular as that of the great Owl end, James (Froggie) Williams. Froggie gets most of the headlines.

But conservative Jess puts it this way: "Watson is the backbone of the team." Rice entered the SMU and Texas games as underdog. The Owls trailed SMU at one time by 1 to 0, Texas by 15 to 0.

Neely credits Watson with turning the tide both times. Watson played 54 minutes against the Mustangs, a full 60 minutes against Texas.

Rice trailed Southern Methodist 6 to 14 at the half, but cut the deficit to one point by turning the third period opening kickoff into a touchdown march.

Neely says credit for this strategy belongs entirely to Joe. The ball stuck in an SMU player's hands. The Owls scored and did not trail again while winning 41 to 27.

Said Mustang Coach Matty Bell: "That short kick and recovery by Watson was the turning point." The next week Texas threatened time and again but could score only a safety and one touchdown in the first half. An early third period score sent the Longhorns into a 15 to 0 lead.

On three occasions during that first half Texas had first downs inside the Rice 12-yard line. Texas ran 12 plays and Mr. Joe Watson personally stopped nine of them. He also intercepted a third period pass which Texas Coach Blair Cherry called the turning point for Rice went on to win, 17 to 15.

Watson is 19 and was all-Southwest Conference team center the past two years. In 1947 he won the Associated Press lineman-of-the-week rating with his fine play against Texas A&M.

Bear Hurts Slow Drills

WACO — The Baylor Bears' "November Nightmares" which began last week as the strong Texas Longhorns dropped the Bruins out of the undefeated, untied class, will be at its worst Saturday when the Bears face the offensive minded University of Wyoming Cowpokes in Waco.

The Bears, coached by Bowden Wyatt, former teammate to Bruin mentor Bob Woodruff at the University of Tennessee, ran up a 103-0 victory over Colorado Saturday, and have yet to be scored on in conference play.

To add to the worries for Woodruff, the Wyoming team was the nation's best in pass defense, which is not good for the aerial minded Bruins.

Trainer Delmar Brown said that several members of the Baylor team received injuries against the Longhorns Saturday and would be in bad physical condition for the fray this week. This number are sensational sophomore end Stanley Williams, center Gene Huebner and Buddy Attaway, safety Mitford Johnson, James (Buddy) Parker and his brother Dudley; Capt. Don Mouser, guard; and halfback Ebbey Griffin. This is the poorest physical condition in which the Bruins have been all year.

After the Wyoming game the Bears face SMU in Dallas and will close out the season against the Rice Owls in Houston.

Three Staggs in Coaching Act

SELINGROVE, Pa. — (AP) — Coaching the Susquehanna University football team is strictly a Staggs family affair.

Amos Alonzo Staggs, 87, who is in his 60th season as a college grid coach, joined with his son, Amos, Jr., two years ago to form what is believed to be the only father-son combination in coaching ranks.

But there's a third member of this team — Mrs. A. A. Staggs, 85. She takes an active hand in the running of the grid team at this small Lutheran college in the hills of central Pennsylvania. In fact, the men both feel she's essential.

"Mother points out the mistakes and charts all the plays—both our's and the opponent's," Amos, Jr., says. "I'd say at least a four of Dad's greatness is due to her."

The elder Staggs met when he was the head coach at the University of Chicago and she was a coed. One night the coach gave a talk on football at the girls' dormitory. An 18-year old senior came up to ask a question after the talk and a romance started.

A year later they were married and for 55 years they've been working out football plays.

"But be sure to point out that I courted her," the Grand Old Man of football says with a chuckle.

Mrs. Staggs turns out a complete set of charts and full report on each game the team plays. At one time she went off and scouted opponents when her husband was knocking off West Coast grid giants with his College of the Pacific eleven. Another time she made charts for the Chicago Tribune.

"If charts and reports are just as good as movies," Staggs boasts.

While her son and husband are down on the field, she sits in the press box diagramming plays, noting mistakes and making suggestions which are sent to the locker room during half-time.

Only Amos Alonzo, Jr., has a full-time job of coaching. He's head mentor of football, basketball and tennis at Susquehanna as well as doubling as athletic director. His father is listed only as advisory coach on an honorarium.

"But I take a backseat when Dad and Mother come East," he says.

WALKER SCORES—Southern Methodist University's Deak Walker goes over for a touchdown in the first period of the game with Texas A&M Col lege at College Station, Texas. Others identified are Aggie guard Carl Melberg (67) and SMU center Dick Davis (57). SMU tied A&M, 27-27. (AP Wirephoto)

Sports Writer, Bill Corum, to Head Run For Roses at Louisville's Derby Downs

NEW YORK — (NEA) — When the directors decided to pick a sportsman of wide scope to succeed the late and lamented Matt J. Winn as president of Churchill Downs, Inc., they picked the New York sports columnist who so aptly named the Kentucky Derby the Run for the Roses.

He is, of course, Maj. Bill Corum, the Man from Missouri, Jockey Club and the Derby. He will spend from Mar. 15 to May 15 in the thick of things in Louisville.

Then, if everything works out well, Corum will sign a five-year contract at $30,000 a year, plus $20,000 for expenses.

Corum, 55, has wanted to get in racing for some years. A daily newspaper piece gets to be quite a chore as his author grows older, especially when he is traveling and up late nights broadcasting on the side.

Corum has tenaciously clung to an option to purchase acreage in Flashing Meadow, where he hoped to build the modern and model New York track for which he has campaigned so long. This he was unable to finance.

In mid-October, 1947, he was signed by Boston's Suffolk Downs as an executive vice-president, but his publisher is said to have objected, so he merely acted as an advisor, good will ambassador and procurer of better horses.

Because he has been eager to be a part of his favorite sport, Corum has given it a great deal of study, has his own ideas about it. He long has contended that the grandstand patron has not been given the attention he merits, believes it possible to give racegoers a better show day in and day out.

But Matt Winn, who died in his 89th year, saw all 75 Kentucky Derbies, and built the big number at the Downs into the central figure in the entire mural of American sports, as someone once scribbled. And when he is succeeded by such a crack and widely known sports columnist and commentator as Corum, the case merits considerably more than passing attention.

The board chose well.

Book Containing Truth Is Banned

Houston students have been exposed to a small dose of truth, which is much the school board has banned the book in which it is printed.

In an effort to guard their seniors from dream-shattering facts, the board has kicked out the textbook "American Communism" by Prof. Frank Abbott Magruder of Oregon State.

The United States is called a capitalist country, but it does not have pure capitalism. It has capitalism subject to increasing governmental control as our manner of living becomes more complex.

A school board member named Ewing Westley suggested the ban on Magruder's book. He said, "When he (the student) reads about the post office, free education and such things, he'll think they're good. And he might think socialism and communism are good too."

Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1949)

NEW YORK — I have been admonished by some practical politicians to ignore the Marxian political parasite called Americans for Democratic Action on the theory that it is a private organization.

The Communist Manifesto of Marx and Engels is the source of most of the ADA's basic proposals. In particular, it is unquestionably the source of the income tax proposal.

The proletariat will use its political power to wrest the surplus value from the bourgeoisie. Capitalism, in theory at least, equalizes the conditions of competition and lowers the general level of production and is a deterrent to human progress.

Under the circumstances, no college could entertain the idea of intellectual freedom, the professor, being a man of course in communism, and the charge that they are teaching the subject is unfounded. That they are conceding to communist theory in their courses is true, but that is a requirement put upon them by the anti-capitalism.

So They Say

This is no time for fancy. Dan's who've hit the line with all they have on every play, unless they can call all the signals.

"Let's Teach Communism" — The following is the conclusion of "Let's Teach Communism" for the past couple of weeks.

A few more topics that our course in fundamental communism should touch upon, and then we can close up shop.

Take the subject of monopoly. Communism makes much of it, although by a strange twist of logic it sees in State monopoly all the virtues lacking in private monopoly.

Under the circumstances, no college could entertain the idea of intellectual freedom, the professor, being a man of course in communism, and the charge that they are teaching the subject is unfounded.

Next Institute President Big Question With APlmen

CHICAGO—(AP)—The big question at the American Petroleum Institute's 29th annual meeting was "who will be the next API president?"

The top executive post hasn't been a matter of much concern since 1941 when William R. Boyd, Jr., took it. He has been both president and board chairman ever since. But he has announced he's positively retiring today—after the election of officers.

The question of the next presidential selection has occupied the API executive board for some time. It is reported that the $75,000-a-year job has been offered to at least one, and possibly more prominent oilmen who were unable to accept.

The group's nominating committee went into session yesterday with a list of some 10 to 15 names. It was expected to present a slate to the board of directors sometime today, but there was a possibility that temporary arrangements may have to be made for filling the top post.

The executive committee has decided to separate the two posts held by Boyd. That means two nominations for his successors. The presidency will continue to be the big pay job, with the chairmanship mainly honorary.

Separation of the two was reported to have been suggested by the retiring executive.

Boyd, from Teague, Texas, told newsmen the presidency has been getting to be a "tougher and tougher job," mainly because of expanding activities of the API.

Nominations are not to be made known until sometime today when they go to the convention floor. An institute spokesman said they won't be announced until after the board of directors has seen them.

One of the convention side-lights was a meeting of some 60 independent refiners at which the consensus was that a nationwide association of refiners should be formed.

The meeting was called by Harry Lyndecker of the Eastern States Petroleum Co., Houston. At the meeting, it was decided to take preparatory steps for a national organization. This probably will be built upon the nucleus of the Gulf Coast Refiners' Association.

The main purpose of a national group would be to seek adjustment of depressed wholesale prices for refined products, or to improve the relationship between crude and refined prices.

Unofficially, the API estimated that 4,800 members have registered at the big meeting.

One of the speakers urged support for the state fair-trade laws in order to prevent price wars. He is John Dressler, executive secretary of the New Jersey Gasoline Retailers Association and Allied Traders, Inc., who spoke at the marketing session.

U.S. Crude Production Jumps 5 Million Barrels

TULSA—(AP)—Daily average crude oil production in the United States during the week ended Nov. 8 was 3,099,875 barrels, up 84,300 barrels from the previous week, the Oil and Gas Journal reported yesterday.

The biggest gain was 102,300 barrels in Texas, where allowances were revised for November. The state's total daily average was 2,128,500 barrels.

Other sizable increases were in Illinois, up 5,200 barrels to 182,000; New Mexico, up 4,285 to 131,185; and Indiana, 1,000 to 29,500.

The Eastern Area increased 50 barrels to 60,000. Kentucky gained 100 to 24,900. Louisiana advanced 450 to 531,775. Arkansas was up 250 to 73,200 and Colorado added 200 to 65,300.

California had the biggest decline, down 11,900 barrels to 870,000.

Other major losses were Kansas, off 9,800 barrels to 266,800; Michigan, down 4,300 to 44,500; Mississippi, 1,500 to 96,200; and Wyoming, 1,100 to 127,900.

Florida dropped 35 barrels to 1,015. Oklahoma slumped 200 to 425,650. Nebraska fell 80 to 950. Montana was off 150 to 26,200 and Utah declined 500 to 2,800. Production in Alabama was unchanged at 1,300 barrels.

Completions In Kansas Rise Sharply

WICHITA—New oil production in Kansas last week increased sharply and new gas production reached its highest point in many months.

Wildcaters had a good week, with attention centered principally on Sumner, Sedgwick, Barton and Ellis Counties where strikes promised new pools.

The outstanding strike of the week was in Sumner County where a major oil pool appears to be in the making at Champlin Refining Co.'s No. 1 Slenz, two miles north of the Kansas-Oklahoma line.

At last reports the Slenz was flowing at the rate of 25 barrels of oil an hour through one-inch choke from the Simpson sand at 4,711-19 feet where a drillstem test showed gas in five minutes. The Simpson was topped at 4,709 feet. The Slenz is 4 1/2 miles southwest of the Corbin pool and four miles east of the town of Caldwell. Champlin controls all surrounding office acreage.

Forty-one tests were finished as commercial oil wells during the week for total production of 20,949 barrels daily. There were 30 completions the previous week for 9,851 barrels daily.

New gas production totaled 311,956 MCF daily from 16 new wells, as compared to 206,832 MCF daily from the previous week's 10 new wells.

Oil Concerns Await Ruling On Tidelands

AUSTIN—(AP)—Four oil companies this week awaited a court ruling on whether or not they must pay rentals on state tidelands while the tidelands are involved in federal litigation.

The Ohio Oil Co., Melben Oil Co., Humble Oil and Refining Co. and Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. asked for a declaratory judgment in 53d District Court Monday.

The oil companies contended that a state law which suspends obligations of lessees during law suits is applicable to their rental payments due annually on tidelands.

The question hinges on whether or not the rentals are "obligations" under the terms of the law. The oil companies say they are. Attorney General Price Daniel says they are not.

Pork Preferred to Snake-Eating Hen

TUCUMCARI, N. M.—(AP)—Mrs. Jack Latham was startled as she began dressing a chicken—there, poking out of its gullet, was a rattlesnake's tail.

Her husband split the fowl open. Just as they suspected, it had swallowed a 13-inch rattler, head first.

The Lathams and their four guests ate pork.

Bruton has been with the company since 1946 as draftsman and engineer.

Pipe Explosion Rocks Community

MOBILE, Ala.—(AP)—An explosion of a 16-inch natural gas pipeline rocked the small nearby community of Saraland yesterday and sent panicky motorists fleeing in all directions.

Residents of the town reported that the explosion tore a hole in the ground big enough to hold a five-room house, and showered dirt over a quarter-mile area.

There were no immediate reports of any injuries or damages to buildings.

United Gas Pipeline Co. said the explosion resulted when a five-foot section of main line "blew out" with terrific force while being tested for additional pressure.

Research Forwarded On Use of Sour Gas

Canadian Man's Works Exhibited

CANYON—Tourists and visitors from 46 states have visited the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum on the campus of West Texas State College this year. Only Vermont and Delaware are not represented among the 46 states who registered.

In the past 10 months 614 towns in Texas have been represented on the register and 206 out of the 284 counties have had visitors in the museum.

An art exhibit by Maurice Bernson, now of Canadian and a former student of the college, is now on display at the museum. The show is being sponsored by Alpha Rho Tau, art fraternity at WTSC.

High Navy Medal Awarded Petroleum Institute Member

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Navy's "Distinguished Public Service Award" was presented today to James E. Moss, director of the division of transportation of the American Petroleum Institute.

The award, the highest honor conferred on a civilian by the secretary of the Navy, highlighted the morning meeting of the API's 29th annual meeting. It was made at a special ceremony at the group meeting of the division of transportation.

The award was presented to Moss in recognition of his work during the war years as a port and tanker consultant for the Coast Guard and Navy. He also is manager of the API's Washington office.

Later today, J. Howard Pew, director and retired president of Sun Oil Co., Philadelphia, and one of the founders of the institute, was to receive the API's "gold medal for distinguished achievement." The medal is in recognition of his outstanding contributions to the public welfare through the petroleum industry.

"Certificates of appreciation" were awarded seven leading production men by the division of production of the API at another group session this morning.

Recipients of the awards, presented by R. L. Wheelock of Corsicana, vice president of the API division of production, were: W. G. Corey and H. N. Marsh, board members and P. C. Spenser, president of the same company, were elected to succeed him.

Eisenhower to Speak in Texas

HOUSTON—(AP)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower plans to speak Dec. 7, Pearl Harbor Day, at the annual banquet of the Houston Chamber of Commerce.

The next day Eisenhower will speak at a Galveston civic dinner, Maj. Robert L. Scholz, his aide, told The Post by telephone yesterday.

Scholz said Eisenhower's visit could hardly be called a tour, but he said the general, former Army chief of staff and now president of Columbia University, plans to visit several other places in Texas.

Scholz said Eisenhower will be in Fort Worth the middle of December and probably will speak there.

Coffee Prices Upsetting You?

HOUSTON—(AP)—Do you sit down to breakfast all upset over the leaping coffee prices? Calm yourself, friend. We're all in the same boat, or cup.

For instance, there's normally an awful lot of coffee in Brazil. That's the place from which you probably get yours.

And in Brazil the price of a cup has jumped from 30 centavos to 40. So says Claude W. Courand, first secretary of the U. S. Embassy in Rio de Janeiro. He is visiting here.

Cafe owners even went on a two-day strike to force the government to let them raise the price.

Forty centavos is two cents U. S.

SALES Training is What You Need

To Succeed in Modern Business— And a Newspaper Route Will Teach You Salesmanship, PLUS

THE young man who makes a real success of his newspaper route is most likely to have the edge over other applicants for a full-time position because he has gained a thorough knowledge of business fundamentals, especially modern methods of SELLING.

For, in the basic business-training course we offer every carrier-boy, we stress the importance of learning how to SELL—both as a means of increasing his route profits, and as a stepping stone to success in the business world. And, by the time he gives up his route, he has acquired a lot of practical experience in meeting people and in SELLING his newspaper and his route service—much of which will be extremely valuable to him in whatever life-work he may engage.

Urge YOUR Son to Get a Route

TODAY, as never before, the best-paying positions in business and industry go to men who know how to SELL things and SERVE people. Your son will learn both by operating a newspaper route—and earn good profits for spare-time work! Ask our Circulation Department about a route.

Free Ride Cost Him After All

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M.—(AP)—When told he could not ride to the police station in the patrol car along with his friends, Nash Warner, 24, used obscene language, says City Policeman Frank Avila.

Avila had arrested the friends for fighting. When he heard Warner's remarks, he arrested him too.

Warner got to ride in the patrol car, all right. But it cost him just $20—for disorderly conduct.

Manufacturer Sorry About the Delay

BELFAST, Northern Ireland—(AP)—Three days before war broke out in 1939 barber Charlie Liddy ordered six razors from a firm in Germany.

He enclosed a money order which he wrote off as a loss when the war started.

Today the razors were delivered. With them was a note from Wagner and Lange, of Solingen, the makers, saying they were sorry about the delay.

The sessions may mean another strike settlement.

The union announced that its Wage Policy Committee will meet Friday in Pittsburgh.

Youngstown is the nation's sixth largest steel producer and has 21,000 production workers. It made a pension-insurance proposal which is to be considered in Murray's office. Details were not disclosed. Bethlehem, Republic, and Jones and Laughlin—ranking two, three and four in steel-making capacity—already have signed up with Murray.

All peace pacts signed provide for company-financed pension programs with minimum monthly payments of $100, including social security, to workers aged 65 who have 25 years' service.

'Thank You' Flight Is Leaving Mexico

TAMPICO, Mex.—(AP)—A "thank you" flight of airplanes from Ecuador spent last night here enroute from the United States back home.

The flight was made to express appreciation for the food, money, clothing and medicines the American republics gave Ecuador during its recent earthquake disaster.

The planes left Brownsville yesterday at 10 a.m. (CST).

British Freighter Swept by Storm

HALIFAX—(AP)—The Weather Bureau reported early today that 70-mile-an-hour gales are sweeping the mid-Atlantic area where a storm-battered British freighter with perhaps 40 men aboard awaits rescue.

The ship, the Scottish Prince, broke down Saturday and requested assistance.

So did the Democratic national chairman, William Boyle, Jr. Boyle said Lehman's victory "was only the highlight of a national trend." Part of that "trend" was a repeat win for Democratic Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York City.

The GOP national chairman, Guy George Gabrielson, said in a statement that "the principles which Senator Dulles expounded in his campaign are those which ultimately will prevail, because they are right."

Profanity With Youngster Natural

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—If your youngster indulges in a little mild profanity, don't become alarmed and think you're rearing a problem child.

So advises Dr. Benjamin Spock, author of the best seller "Baby and Child Care," and an associate professor of psychiatry at the Mayo Foundation.

Dr. Spock said a purple passage or two is natural behavior in children over six years of age. It shows they are trying their wings in a bid for independence.

Heretofore, Air Force and Navy planes have been able to fly along civil airways in clear weather without the knowledge or approval of the civil agency, although they came under its jurisdiction when visibility was limited.

The narrow escape reported by Eastern Airlines Capt. J. R. Richardson caused the Air Force to clamp down on all simulated instrument flying in the Washington area, pending an investigation.

He told reporters beforehand that he would not enlarge on his statement.

The statement said that Lewis' Policy Committee "concurs and gives its full approval to the policies and procedures followed by its accredited representatives" during the strike.

The statement asserted "the committee regrets with all other Americans the delay in the execution of a new agreement for the industry and deplores such public inconvenience that has resulted therefrom."

Lewis charged that the coal operators "have been arrogant and brutal in the withholding of their assent," he said the committee "emphasizes the fact that the associated coal operators have continuously declined throughout all conferences, in whatever area to concede the right of the mine workers to have an honorable and adequate wage contract."

reach into Gray and Wheeler Counties.

The land in Gray County would cover the area between the outer fringes of the old Panhandle field just north of Pampa and the location of the Phillips Jenkie, an abandoned well some eight miles north of town in Sec. 35, Blk. 2, Roberts County.

This trend would be between the old Panhandle field and the field being worked along the southern boundaries of Hansford, Ochiltree and Lipscomb Counties.

Lease men in the area report leases being taken up throughout the trend are bringing landholders from $5 to $10 per acre.

Most of the leasing seems to be by Phillips Petroleum Co. with other leasing being done by Kerr-McGee, according to Duncan Bros. Lease and Royalty Co.

Phillips, in the meantime, is staking a location four miles east of their Wilcox. The new location will be in Sec. 4, Blk. 3, I&GN Survey in the southwestern corner of Hansford County.

total of 1,006 votes were cast on it.

The proposal to increase legislators' pay and authorize annual legislative sessions took the worst beating of all, going down 736 to 226.

Each of the other amendments was given a decisive beating. County civil service was turned down 630 to 336. Creation of hospital districts was defeated 690 to 273. Establishment of county health units went down 689 to 298. Pensions for county employees was beaten 731 to 244. Rural fire prevention districts was refused 593 to 371. Lunacy trials without a jury was turned down 616 to 369.

Box 1 at Lefors and Box 9 Woodrow Wilson School were the only precincts to carry repeal of the poll tax. In Lefors the amendment was approved 84 to 30 and at Woodrow Wilson 49 to 47.

Over the entire 18th Congressional District, Dick Bivins, Amarillo, was far ahead of John Harnly for the State Board of Education post by a vote of 4,222 to 1,798.

In District 19, embracing Plainview, Lubbock and other South Plains cities, E. H. Boulter, Lubbock, was defeating J. M. Rankin, Ralls, 2,951 to 2,728.

In District 15, the Vernon-Wichita Falls area, R. E. Anderson, Vernon, was ahead of W. J. Stone, Nocona, 5,809 to 3,215.

Surrounding counties split their choice between Harnly and Bivins, Bivins carrying Carson and Hutchinson while Harnly was ahead in Lipscomb, Hemphill, Roberts, Ochiltree and Wheeler Counties.

In Lipscomb where four of six boxes were complete, Harnly polled 47 to Bivins' 21. Ochiltree, reporting seven out of 10 boxes, gave Harnly the nod '83 to 75. Hemphill County, with a few rural boxes still lacking, was carrying Harnly 70 to 41. In Roberts County Harnly held a 50 to 40 lead over Bivins in the Miami box. The county's four other boxes were unreported by 11 a. m. Wheeler, reporting 14 of 15 boxes, was giving Harnly a 176 to 123 lead.

Carson County, complete, named Bivins as their choice by a 190 to 124 vote. Hutchinson County, complete, soundly defeated Harnly 548 to 239.
