Anniversary Speech Slated By President

Aboard Truman Train, Enroute to St. Paul - (AP) -President Truman, making his first rear platform talk since the election, told a crowd at Savanna, Ill., today he is trying his best to carry out Democratic Campaign pledges. A crown of several hundred turned out in the cold at 7:40 a.m. (CST) to greet the President aboard his old campaign train on anniversary of his greatest political victory.

He carried with him what he jokingly described as a "non-political, bi-partisan" speech for delivery at St. Paul, Minn., at 9:30 (CST) tonight.

His aides said it was a renewal of his blasts at "reactionaries" and of his championship of the "fair deal" program for which he campaigned in 1948 and which he resented to the 81st Congress last

And they emphasized he will send the program back to Congress again in January and back the voters in next year's Congressional elections.

Actually the efforts to communize India stretch back as far as the revolution of 1917 which brought bolshevism to power in reasoning is just one sure way of Russia. I spent several months in never having any up-to-date India at that time and encountered communism myself, although the British Secret Service—which covered the country like a net was keeping close tabs on all such movements.

Despite this generation - long crusade, communism never has made great headway in Pakistan or India. In Burma, on the other hand, the Reds have made consierable progress, though just how substantial that progress may be is questionable.

Six Months Lost In Steel Making

NEW YORK — (A) — Steel production can be lifted to the pre-strike level of around 85 percent of rated capacity within a month after the walkout ends, The Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly,

But it will take the industry five to six months to make up the loss of steel output caused by the strike, the publication added. This loss was estimated by The Iron Age at 8.5 to 9 million tons. Its prediction on the time required to make up the lost production is based on assumption of normal steel demand at about 75 percent of rated capacity of the industry.

Eight Fields Exempt From Flare Orders

AUSTIN — (A) — Wells in eight Texas fields have been exempted from the Railroad Com-mission's earlier prohibition against flaring of gas.

The commission in special or-ders Monday said the nature of the wells, by remoteness from conservation facilities and by limited volume, rendered expendi-tures necessary to conserve the gas unjustifiable and uneconomical. The commission exempted wells in the following fields: South Ceasar field, Bee County, one well; Magnet Withers and Goldsmith fields, Ector County. 10 wells; Seminole field, Gaines County, one well; Fullerton field, Andrew's County, one well. The commission also exempted even wells in the Levelland field in Cochran and Hockley counties; 18 wells in the Slaughter field of Cochran, Hockley and Terry counties and 37 wells in the Wasson field of Gaines and Badger Harriers Yoakum counties.

TF you want to know what's "the newest thing" in automobile engines, look at the Buick engine pictured here, and you'll see the words "valve-inhead."

But it happens that this isn't new with Buick. As a matter of fact, the valve-inhead engine was invented back in 1902 -U. S. Patent No. 771095 - and immediately, Buick adopted the principle, which became the first in a long string of "Buick firsts."

Not everyone went for the idea-then. In spite of the fact that this engine "breathes" more freely-gets fuel in and exhaust gases out more easilyothers hung onto their pet ideas.

Then came the airplane, with its need for maximum power from every drop of fuel-and every maker of internal combustion airplane engines adopted the valve-in-head principle.

And more recently—with the hope that higher-octane fuels will become available for motor cars—a lot of automotive engine designers are taking a new look at the valve-in-head idea.

But just for the record, we'd like to point out that Buick got there first.

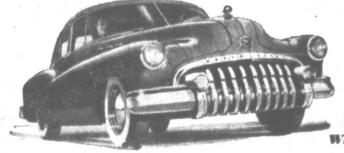

And ever since, Buick has gone steadily ahead, building up a name as "valve-inheadquarters." Buick engineers reshaped pistons to put Fireball wallop in these engines. They stepped up compression ratios as fast as better fuels came along.

So perhaps you'll want to remember. when you hear the term "valve-inhead," that this is the type of power that made Buick famous.

If others want to climb on the bandwagon, we say "more power to them" -and no pun is intended.

But Buick has been doing more with valve-in-head right from the start.

And-we might add-it stands to reason that Buick is not through making this type of engine better and better.

By JERRY SHERRIDAN Amarillo Times Sports Writer
AMARILLO —(Special)— Getting set for the traditional clash with the Harvesters Saturday the Amarillo Sandies saw prospects that some of their cripples would be back in the lineup, but several spots still showed the weaknesses caused by injuries.

The Sandies worked by injuries. The Sandies worked chiefly on their passing game Wednesday afternoon, lining up both the de-fensive plays against Pampa and their own offensive ones. Stanley Bull, drafted from the Yannigans this week to supplement the defense after Roy Byrd's fractured ankle put him out for the season, shows a lot of talent but lacks game experience. Jimmy Famrer, out earlier this week, was back in work clothes and played agressive defensive ball throughout the practice.

Johnny Isaacs, reserve end, was labbing passes in fine style. Jerry Raines, working with the "Pamp team as the Sandies studied de fense, snagged passes for what would have been long gains. It appeared probable that the Sandies would have a full list of talent at the ends and few injuries among the linemen encouraged

But backfield problems still flag the Sandstorm. Tom Curtiss, Clyde Isreal and Farmer, ends, were all playing in pads. Bill Carter and Farmer stood out on defensive play and with Harold Swindell back at center after a few days illness the Sandies were nearing top strength. Greatest weakness seemed to be in the tackling department.

Discussion around Amarillo shows Pampa to be slightly favored over the Sandies, discoutning hardened fan support.

Pampa has had three teams that sewed the Sandies up. In 1943 they blanked Amarillo, 7-0 and back in 1931 they budged the Sandies with a 13-6 victory. In 1941, the Harvesters won, 16-12.

Injury Keeps Clay From Work

(By The Associated Press) Southwest Conference football eams started tapering off today for Saturday's games.

Texas yesterday worked on a defense to stop Baylor's potent passing attack. Three Longhorn backs — Randall Clay, Byron Townsend and Billy Pyle—missed the practice because of injuries. Southern Methodist University also stressed pass defense, while Texas Christian players started a daily tackling practice.

Baylor trainer, Delmar Brown said center Gene Huebner may not be able to play against Texas. He has a back injury. Several other Bear players are ailing.

Notwith standing, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast an book, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and

Some people might construe that this statement was sanctioning the state having the right to force a man to pay taxes. Jesus implied by his question about whether the children were free, that forcing a person to pay taxes interfered with freedom. It of course does not sanction how taxes are to be used. Here is a statement accredited to Jesus that have caused a lot of controversy: "Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword. For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her moth-That seems to justify any sort of force or any sort of coercion. Most students of the Bible, however, interpret that to mean that the ideologies of Jesus were in disagreement with the common practices of the day, and that there would be many objections to His ideologies. That this would set one person against another.

In a book called "The Spirit of Voltaire" an imaginary conversa-tion in the regions of the dead takes place between Voltaire and Jesus. In this imaginary conversation Voltaire is supposed to ask Jesus: came to bring, not peace, out tae sword?" Jesus answers: "'That is a copyist's error; I told them that brought peace and not the sword. I never wrote anything; what I said could have been changed without evil intent' When finally Voltaire learns that Jesus did not imstitute fast days or pilgrimages or 'Well, if it be education.

Now, let's take the New Commandment: " A new command-ment I give unto you, that ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ve also love one another. Love does not use initiating force to make other people do good. Jesus never initiated force to make people follow him. He did use force to drive the money cangers out of the temple, but not to tax levied by the board of education. The money changers were er cloth. the ones that were initiating force. Now let's analyze the Golden Rule and see if that justifies the majority initiating force to make the minority support their ideas of

"Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets." If any man contends that those who want to pay taxes to support schools have a right to force amother man who does not want to pay taxes to support schools, he is simply talking nonsense. He is simply saying in effect, that he has no will of his own. That he wants to be subservient to the will of man-made laws and not to his own conscience, and that there isn't any law superior to the will of the majority. It is fionsense to contend that a man wants to pay for something that he does not want. So the Golden Rule does not justify tax supported schools. If there is anybody who can find any statement ever made by Jesus that more nearly sanctions compulsory support of schools, I would

If Jesus never advocated anything that would be in agreement with tax supported schools' miseducation, there must be something terribly wrong with majority rule "education". On the other hand, there are hundreds of places where. he advocated the exact opposite of initiating force to get part of other people's wealth. So if there are any statements that oppose initiating force, it is folly to contend that Jesus ever advocated anything that justified tax supported schools supported by initiating force.

CENTRAL TIRE WORKS

407 W. Foster

NEW YORK - (A) - The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week declined to $5.69 from $5.72 a week ago, and was 10.5 percent below the year-ago level of $6.36.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of a pound each of 31 foods in general use. Only six foods covered by the index were higher in wholesale price this week. Led by coffee, they included oats, barley, cocoa, eggs and potatoes.

Fourteen items were lower, with the biggest drops in hams, jellies, lard, steers, hogs and lambs. Others down: flour, wheat, corn, rye, butter, sugar, cotton-seed oil and beans. ENVOY RETURNS MOSCOW — (P) — U.S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk arrived icans, who are mostly Catholics, would be admitted, and that the school would promote the supremacy of white Christians. I approved this declaration of policy but it was not a suggested charter ly Jewish schools, and the Negroes likewise. Why should not the white Christians have at least one for themselves alone? "The reported statements by Rev. Dr. W. Harrison Baker, pastor of Oak Cliff Methodist Church of Dallas, a trustee of Southern Methodist University, are not true. I did not offer SMU any sum of money; I did not demand that the trustees discharge Dr. Humphries Lee and the Jewish students. I simply protested against SMU sponsorship of a lecture course that is subject to the approval of the Dallas Jewish Synagogue.
