PANAMA, Panama—(AP)—Arnulfo Arias, a fiery 49-year-old surgeon, early today became Panama's third president in six days by proclamation of Congress.

The Congressional approval apparently put the stamp of legality on the latest coup by Panama's president-making police chief, Col. Jose Remon.

Remon, who forced the ouster of President Daniel Chanas, Jr., on Sunday, late last night defied a ruling of the Supreme Court and announced that Arias was the new president. A few minutes before, the court had ruled Chanas was still the Constitutional president of this central American country.

French Strike Fails to Halt Business Life

PARIS—(AP)—France's two biggest labor unions called a 24-hour general strike today but the demonstration for higher wages failed to shut down French economic life.

Transportation was disrupted. Mines and most big industries were closed.

But reports from throughout the country showed that large groups of workers insisted on staying on the job. Hundreds of thousands of Frenchmen walked or rode bicycles in a determined effort to get to work.

Effects of the strike on normal life were not very noticeable.

Socialist Cabinet Minister Eugene Thomas, who heads the post office, called the strike a "fiasco."

France's two biggest labor unions—one anti-Communist, the other Red dominated—got together to call the one-day demonstration strike. They want to pressure the government to give any (See FRENCH, Page 3)

Agreement On Controls Is Approved

BONN, Germany—(AP)—West Germany's Parliament today approved the new Allied-German agreement relaxing occupation controls.

But opposition during the tumultuous, all-night session was so bitter that Socialist Leader Kurt Schumacher was barred from the assembly's next 20 sessions for insulting Chancellor (Premier) Konrad Adenauer.

"Chancellor of the allies" was the taunt hurled by Schumacher at Adenauer that brought the opposition leader's suspension. It came after the Socialist bitterly objected to West Germany's promise to participate in the international control authority for Germany's rich industrial Ruhr, which the Germans previously have restricted.

In the agreement signed by Adenauer and the High Commissioners of the United States, Britain and France, West Germany agreed also to maintain demilitarization, to continue to eradicate nazism, and to support controls against German cartels and monopolies.

In return the allies ended dismantling in at least 18 German steel, rubber and chemical plants. They also agreed to German consular and commercial relations abroad, rebuilding of a limited German merchant marine for foreign trade and allied sponsorship of German membership in international organizations.

Potter County Jailer Quits

AMARILLO—(AP)—Jack Burgess, jailer on duty Wednesday when four men escaped from the Potter County Jail, resigned yesterday, effective Dec. 1.

Three of the four men are still free. Yesterday, three men tentatively identified as the escaped prisoners fled after a fruitless attempt to rob a filling station at El Paso.

The three are Leo Earl and Edward Leo Rader, 25-year-old twins held on armed robbery charges, and James Farris, Jr., 21, whose burglary conviction was on appeal. A fourth man was recaptured shortly after the break.

Potter County Sheriff Paul Gaither said Burgess resigned of his own free will.

Oklahoma's Ex-Governor Walton Dies

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—Former Oklahoma Governor J. C. (Jack) Walton died here shortly after midnight today.

He had been in failing health in recent years after a long-term political career which saw him ousted from his gubernatorial post during a bitter Ku Klux Klan fight.

Walton, 68, was impeached and ousted in 1928 but the next year entered the senatorial campaign and won the Democratic nomination. However he was beaten in the general election.

His name was mentioned in an (See WALTON, Page 3)

Hitchhiker and Holdup Man Sought by Shamrock Police

SHAMROCK—(Special)—No trace has yet been found of a man who attempted a filling station holdup in Shamrock and of a hitchhiker who stole $10 and a car key from his benefactor.

Both crimes were committed Monday morning.

Jerry Anderson, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Anderson of Lela, is recovering at his home from injuries received in the attempted holdup.

His assailant, Anderson told county officers, came to the Woodridge Service Station, where he is an attendant, about 2:30 a.m. Monday and asked for a gallon of gasoline for his stalled car.

Men Classified by Draft Board

AUSTIN—A total of 10,658 men of draft age were classified and 8,420 15-year-olds were registered by the state's 137 Selective Service boards during October.

This was revealed in the monthly reports of the 137 local boards to the state director of Selective Service—consolidation of which was completed at state headquarters here today.

Col. Paul Wakefield, state director, said that 1,357 men could be inducted after 10-day notice.

The state director said that reports showed that Texas has a pool of nearly 42,000 men who could be sent for armed forces physical examinations prior to the legal induction process.

"This group of men could be sent for armed forces mental and physical examinations as fast as the armed forces could handle them," Col. Wakefield said.

Local boards' reports showed that Texas had registered 514,594 men under the provisions of the Selective Service Act of 1948 by the end of October. At the same time the local board members had classified 358,161 of these men.

Dallas 'Love Burglar' Caught

DALLAS—(AP)—A handsome, 25-year-old office worker has definitely identified himself as Dallas' notorious "love burglar"—a man who for many months raped and molested women while looting homes, City Detective E. L. Munday said today.

Munday gave the man's name as Fred Felix Adair, Jr.

Adair has signed written statements, witnessed by newspapermen, involving two rapes and one case in which a woman was choked during a burglary, the detective stated.

C. V. Sanders, another city detective, said four women victims identified Adair as the hoodlum bandit.

No charge had been filed against Adair.

Adair signed one statement in which he said he raped a 31-year-old Dallas mother in her home, while two children stood by, screaming, Munday said.

Adair was arrested yesterday in the office of a cement company which employed him as a payroll clerk. He is married and is the father of an 18-month-old daughter.

"There isn't anything to talk about," Adair told reporters. "I signed the statements that means they are true, doesn't it? There are extenuating circumstances in all this. There's a lot about me that you don't know. It would take two hours to tell you about it."

Attacks on more than a dozen women and, in all, almost a hundred burglaries had been attributed by police to Dallas' "love burglar" during a 12-month period.

Adair's second statement, signed by the 17-year-old girl, Detective Munday said, and in a third statement he admitted several burglaries—one in which a woman was choked.

Adair's wife said she was astonished to learn of the accusations made against her husband.

Detective Sanders said the four women who had identified Adair as their attacker included a 17-year-old girl, a 20-year-old woman, and an airline hostess.

The felony career of Dallas' love burglar reached its height last summer. Generally homes were entered during the early-morning hours. The man usually removed a window screen and stole money and merchandise. On numerous occasions he surprised women while they slept and attacked them. The burglar's forays became less frequent during the early fall and picked up in the past several weeks.

The arrest came after several days of intensive work on the part of Detectives Munday and O. A. Jones. Adair began telling his story to officers after they raided his home yesterday afternoon and found a cigarette lighter, an automatic rifle, a camera and other merchandise they said they believed had been stolen in Dallas burglaries.

Two breaks narrowed the search for the love burglar. A woman whose home had been burglarized this month told police she saw a match on the shirt of the midnight intruder that bore the name of the cement firm for which Adair worked. During another burglary, the intruder dropped a small penknife that (See DALLAS, Page 3)

Thanksgiving Day Tornadoes Bring Death to 14 in Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(AP)—Thanksgiving day tornadoes roared down at four points in east Alabama yesterday and killed 14 persons. Forty-four persons were injured.

The vicious, out-of-season storms left several other persons missing and destroyed more than a score of buildings as they leapt-frogged in three counties about dusk.

An entire family of 10 Negroes was wiped out near Hackneyville in Tallapoosa County, 80 miles southeast of Birmingham. The mammoth wind picked up their weather-beaten little home and hurled it 300 yards across the road into another house.

The second house was occupied by another large family of Negroes, but none was reported hurt.

Near Oneonta, in Blount County, two members of a white family were killed at the Easley Community. The same twister hopped a small mountain and struck gain on the northern outskirts of Oneonta, where 34 persons were hurt. Property damage was heavy.

Another person was killed and five injured by the tornado's fury on Sand Mountain, near Valley Head in DeKalb County.

Sheriff W. F. Maynor of Blount County reported that an unidentified body was taken from the ruins of a burned home near Oneonta.

A Red Cross disaster crew was dispatched to the Hackneyville storm area.

Gov. James E. Folsom called on national guardsmen at Oneonta to aid in the search for the missing. Blood plasma, hospitals supplies and nurses were sent to the Oneonta area by highway patrolmen.

Tornadoes are uncommon in Alabama at this time of year. Most of them are spawned in the spring and fall. The Weather Bureau at Birmingham gave this explanation:

Strong southwesterly winds were blowing at all levels over the state. Aloft, the winds shifted to a trough, or "equal line," in which the death-dealing tornadoes were born.

Coal Peace Talks Slated For Monday

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Government officials and mine owners looked today for new coal peace talks to be announced by Monday.

They said they were expecting swift action by United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis, who appears threatened with a possible Taft-Hartley Act injunction if his 350,000 soft coal miners east of the Mississippi walk out the job Dec. 1.

The miners, after a 82-day strike, are at work now during a three-week truce called by Lewis Nov. 9. The truce ends November 30, and there have been reports that President Truman is prepared to halt a new walkout by using his Taft-Hartley injunction power.

Officials predicted Lewis would try to forestall that by making a new bid for a contract with the operators.

The miners are working under an indefinite extension of the old contract which expired last June 30.

The mine owners were due to decide today or tomorrow whether to meet Lewis in New York or elsewhere by early next week.

Lewis has called his 300-man Policy Committee to New York on Monday. The committee met early this month in Chicago, when it appeared Lewis might be able to induce some leading Illinois and Indiana operators to break the solid line of mine owners and make a separate contract.

But the line held, and Lewis was forced to send his men back to the pits, temporarily at least, under a new contract.

Death Toll In Holiday Period High

(By The Associated Press)

The nation's death toll in violent accidents over the Thanksgiving day holiday was one of the highest in several years.

There were at least 161 violent deaths from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Thursday. These included 103 traffic fatalities. Fifty-eight persons died in miscellaneous accidents, including fires, plane crashes, shootings, falls and hunting. Also included were 14 persons killed in Alabama tornadoes.

This year's Thanksgiving violent deaths compared to 134 over the same period last year; 128 in 1947, and 93 in 1946. The totals on Thanksgiving day holidays (See DEATH, Page 3)

Man Dies Just Short of Goal

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(AP)—Ferry Coplon, who started what he said would be a 100-day fast on Aug. 25, died early today.

Percy, a jocular five-five-five who weighed 387 pounds at the start, had gone 92 days without food. His weight had dropped to 246 pounds.

He was 53.

Coplon spent most of the fast in a small house atop a 30-foot pole at his home. Last Sunday he came down because of dizziness and said he would finish his 100-day fast in his home.

His dizziness diminished and Percy was in good spirits yesterday. He lapsed into unconsciousness just before midnight, however, falling to the floor in his bathroom.

Two physicians worked over him but he died during the night.

Percy told reporters at the start of his fast that he hoped to prove that the human body can heal itself without medicine if it is given the chance. He said he was not undertaking the long fast to gain publicity.

As his waistline receded, Percy joked with reporters. He had announced he would begin taking food next week, starting with a spoon of orange juice.

Teachers in State Meet

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Increased salaries means teachers should try to do better work, the president of George Peabody College told delegates to the 72nd meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association.

"We teachers are getting more money today and we have to work less," Dr. Henry Hill said last night. "But as our teaching load becomes easier we should do better work."

Gov. Allan Shivers told the first general meeting that the "little red schoolhouse" is fading from the Texas scene, but education remains a local function.

"To the very limit of practicality, we should keep our schools close to the people," he said. "State controls should not be substituted for local controls unless there is a clear and conclusive reason for the act—and the only valid reason should be that the state is doing something beneficial for the schools that the local district cannot do."

The three-day teachers meeting opened with a mid-day Thanksgiving day service. Dr. W. R. White, Baylor University president, spoke.

Firemen, Skelly Employes Fight Fire

Firemen, assisted by 15 Skelly Oil Company employes, battled a fast-spreading fire for more than two and one-half hours late Wednesday afternoon.

The fire, on Wade Thompson's ranch and the adjoining ranch, burned fence posts for about a mile. Before it was extinguished it threatened "magazine," a nitroglycerin storage.

The fire started about a mile north of the Columbian Carbon Company.

State Department Comes Under Sharp GOP Fire for Handling of Ward Case

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The State Department's handling of the Angus Ward case was under severe Republican attack today, with five lawmakers demanding the immediate firing of responsible officials "both high and low."

The congressmen, all members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, issued a joint statement yesterday blasting the department for its "spineless performance" in trying to get the U. S. consul general freed from a Chinese Communist jail in Mukden.

The angry lawmakers called it "one of the most humiliating chapters in American diplomatic history" and declared that "the loss of face by the United States is beyond calculation."

One of the House members, Rep. Judd of Minnesota, told a reporter the United States should have tried "military action" in the Ward case instead of "ignominiously sneaking off the battlefield."

Besides Judd, the statement was signed by Reps. Chipfield of Illinois, Vordy of Ohio, Lawrence H. Smith of Wisconsin, and Jackson of California.

The statement reserved particular criticism for Secretary of State Acheson's appeal to 30 nations including Russia for assistance in the Ward case.

"It is to be assumed that it will require the assistance of 30 nations to protect the lives of our diplomatic officials under similar circumstances in the future? The five Republicans asked.

Ward and four consulate employes were released from jail this week after being given suspended sentences by a Communist court on charges of beating a Chinese employe during a disagreement about wages. They had

Truman Still Seeking Man For Position

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman, reportedly still seeking a successor to David E. Lillenthal as the nation's atomic chief, was urged by lawmakers today to choose no one but a top-notch scientist.

A high official of the Atomic Energy Commission said he understood that Mr. Truman had not yet picked a new AEC chairman to replace Lillenthal, whose resignation was announced yesterday.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) and Rep. Kilday (D-Tex)—both members of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee—called on the President to exercise careful judgment in making the choice for one of the most important jobs in the world.

Johnson has been highly critical of many of Lillenthal's policies in the past; Kilday has been a strong defender of the controversial atomic official.

In accepting Lillenthal's resignation with "reluctance and the utmost regret," Mr. Truman expressed confidence that his atomic lieutenant would stay on if really needed beyond the Dec. 31 date on which he now plans to quit.

There was speculation that Mr. Truman may act swiftly in order to give the new man plenty of time to familiarize himself with the complex and secrecy-cloaked (See TRUMAN, Page 3)

Lion Thought Lurking Near Canadian

CANADIAN—(Special)—The finding of huge tracks, thought to be those of a mountain lion, in the brushy river bottoms a few miles northwest of Canadian led to what was probably Hemlock County's first lion hunt Wednesday morning.

A few days earlier a party of peramim hunters sighted a big animal at a distance of about 180 yards. The animal was said to be dark brown in color with a long body and a long tail. Several bob cats have been killed in that area in the last few months, but the long tail would indicate a mountain lion has strayed into this area.

The 13 men who participated in Wednesday's hunt included Resident Game Supervisor P. D. Moseley, wardens C. E. Breezeley and Clarence Large; Sheriff Clyde Risley and Deputy Sheriff Tom Newton.

The party entered the brushy bottom above the site of the former state park, and worked through to the Canadian River bridge. No signs of the lion were found, but it was conceded that the tangled swampy terrain was too much for the 13 hunters to heat out thoroughly.

Ranchers are on the lookout for signs of a fresh kill, either of deer or turkey or perhaps a calf or colt. To date no such kills have been found.

7 Churches Hold Special Service

CANADIAN—(Special)—Pastors and members of seven local churches participated in a union Thanksgiving service at the First Presbyterian Church Wednesday night.

The service was arranged by the Canadian Ministerial Council. The Rev. Taft Holloway, pastor of the First Baptist Church, delivered the sermon, and special music was provided by the united choirs of the participating churches.

Mrs. Rachel Bird of the First Presbyterian Church was at the organ.

Following the organ, prelude the Rev. Harvey Parker, host pastor, sounded the bells to worship. The Rev. J. A. Campbell of the Pentecostal Church read the Scripture, and the Rev. A. A. Kendall of the Methodist Church gave the opening prayer.

Following the sermon, the benediction was delivered by the Rev. Gordon Miller of the First Christian Church.

Council Nips Attempt to Oust Director

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Youth Development Council rejected a three-woman attempt to oust its director of community service, S. L. Bellamy.

The council, created by the state legislature to solve the state's juvenile delinquency problems, in effect discredited charges that Bellamy allegedly had the best boys at the Gatesville State School and condoned corporal punishment.

The council also:

Johnson coupled his call for a top executive for the $17,500-a-year job with a barbed, indirect charge that Lillenthal—a public advocate of less secrecy in the atomic operation.

"I hope the President fills this long anticipated vacancy with a hard driving executive who will be more interested in pushing the development of atomic energy than in propaganda," Johnson told a reporter.

Kilday sounded a vastly different note in a separate interview.

"I do hope that the President will find a qualified, competent man to accept the position," he said.

Mr. Lillenthal's resignation came as quite a surprise to many in view of the total support which he received from the Atomic Energy Commission and the administration. I thought he would continue on.

"Above all his successor should be an able administrative executive."

Kilday also noted that a majority of the Congressional atomic group had cleared Lillenthal of "incredible mismanagement" charges made by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) last May 22.

AGREEMENT

(Continued from Page One) out of the chamber in caucus, the rest of the assembly overwhelmingly rejected Schumacher's proposal on which the opposition made its fight against the agreement. It was a motion challenging Adenauer's Constitutional right to negotiate and sign the agreement with the allies without parliamentary approval.

In the hot debate, Schumacher criticized the chancellor for agreeing to recognize the international authority to control the industrial Ruhr. To his "chancellor of the allies" taunt conservative deputies replied with shouts of "insolence," cat-calls and boos.

The opposition leader told a news conference later his exclusion "strongly endangers further collaboration in this house."

Though the agreement became binding upon the West German republic upon being signed by Adenauer, and without parliamentary approval, the Socialists had demanded the legislative test.

FRENCH

(Continued from Page One) pay bonuses and end wage freezes. Practically all domestic trains halted, as did the Paris subways and most bus lines. Mines were deserted, many ports were idle and thousands of factories were empty.

Labor did not appear to be carrying on any agitation now that the strike was on. There were no reports of clashes between strikers and non-strikers.

Spot interviews with Parisians on the streets revealed almost unanimous opposition to the strike and determination not to lose a day's pay. Liberal and conservative newspapers had denounced the work stoppage, expected to cost France 10,700,000,000 francs (about $30,000,000).

Outside Paris, the strike also met with spotty response.

French observers said today's strike was a pale imitation of pre-war general strikes. Like those in 1919 and 1936.

WALTON

Walton's impeachment produced much fire in Oklahoma politics. The Assembly met on Oct. 23, 1923, and figuratively "threw the book" at the Klan-fighting chief executive, returning 22 impeachment charges. The next month Walton was ousted on half the charges by the Senate Court of Impeachment.

The fiery politician brought the wrath of the Legislature on him by declaring martial law over most of Oklahoma because of the Klan disturbances.

Walton went to Houston, Texas, after his impeachment and engaged in the oil business for several years. He returned to Oklahoma City in 1929 to run for mayor but was defeated.

In 1932, Walton ran for corporation commissioner on a "vindication" campaign and was elected. Two years later, Walton was a Democratic candidate for governor but was defeated by E. W. Marland.

DALLAS

A check of all employees at the company led officers to Adair. Officials of the cement firm said they had begun to be suspicious of Adair because of his luxurious manner of living. He recently bought a new automobile, they said, and he wore expensive clothing.

The rape of the 31-year-old woman while two children watched occurred last February, officers said. A man followed her to her home, peered into a window and then entered the home and made the criminal assault.

Munday quoted Adair as saying he operated "all hours of the night."

"When he struck in the early part of the night, he just told his wife he was out on a drinking spree," the detectives said. "And when he struck during the early morning hours he told his wife he 'had to go to work early.'"

Harvesters Aim for Coyotes After 14-7 Win at Borger

Mental Lapse Paves Way For Winning Pampa Score

A sluggish band of Pampa Harvesters took full advantage of a short mental lapse by Kenneth Clapp, fine Junior halfback of the Borger Bulldogs, to push across a tie-breaking touchdown yesterday afternoon as the Green and Gold overcame a spirited Borger team to gain a 14-7 Turkey Day victory.

The win gave the Harvesters the undisputed and unchallenged championship of District 1-AA with a record of three wins and no defeats in conference play. It is the first season in the history of the school that a Pampa football team has gone through the conference season without a loss.

The winning break came near the end of the third period with the game tied at 7-7. Jimmy Parker dropped back to punt from his own 15, fourth down. He got off a terrific boot that sailed down to the Borger 15 and landed on past Clapp, who was playing stoutly and headed into the end zone. Clapp, rather than letting the ball stay in the end zone for an extra point, decided to run it out. He was greeted on his own 15-yard line by a host of Green and Gold. Hall immediately punted the ball to the 27, and Pampa started the scoring drive there. Ken Cooper, who also scored the first Pampa touchdown, smashed over from the 1-yard line for the score. Dewey Cudney converted and the Harvesters led 14-7, the final score.

The Harvesters weren't playing their usual brand of ball. The blocking was poor and the tackling sloppy. The team appeared overconfident despite the efforts of the backs to impress them with the power of the Borgans by their workouts the past two weeks. And also the fact that the district title was already sewed up probably had something to do with the shabby play of the Pampans.

For almost the entire first half of the ball game the Harvesters were unable to gain control of the pigskin out of the shadow of their own goal posts. They were not to do so until the end of the second period. Carl Kennedy running the ball back to the Pampa 38. After moving up to the 16 Parker punted to the Borger 16. After making one first down Kenneth Hall punted to the Pampa 20. On the first play a Smith pass was intercepted by Bob Kimball and Borger took over on the Pampa 42.

With Jerry Chitwood passing, the Bulldogs moved down to the Pampa 10-yard stripe. There Chitwood again attempted to pass, but Jimmy Hayes intercepted on the goal line and carried out to the 4, from where the Harvesters punted out of danger.

After several punt exchanges the Harvesters took over on the Borger 47 midway through the second period. With fourth down and 7 to go on the Borger 44, the Harvesters gambled. Smith connected with Hayes near the sideline on a fine pass good for 30 yards and a first down on the Pack's 84.

Kennedy and Hayes moved it down to the 22 in two plays. Then Smith refired back and fired one to little Elmer Wilson on the Borger 8. Hayes carried to the 3, and then Cooper powered his way over left guard into the end zone. Cudney converted and the Harvesters led 7-0 at halftime, threatening on the Borger 27 as the period ended.

Borger took the second half kickoff and scored almost immediately. After being forced to punt, Kenny Clapp intercepted a Smith pass on his own 16-yard line. Two plays had moved the ball to the 22. Then Clapp hit Chitwood with a short pass on the 30, and the little halfback started a bit of beautiful broken field running, picked up some excellent blocking and romped 78 yards to score. Earl Lunningham calmly booted the extra point and the game was tied 7-7 early in the second half.

Pampa took the kickoff, after which Parker punted over the goal and Clapp made a mental error which cost the ballgame. The final period was played mostly in midfield with the Harvesters down on the Borger 30 as the game ended.

The officials came in for some criticism from the Pampa side of the field midway through the final period when Pete Cooper made a beautiful interception of a Borger aerial on the Pampa 48 but it was ruled as a simultaneous catch by Cooper and the Borger receiver and the ball was awarded to the Bulldogs. It was at first ruled an interception, but the field judge, C. M. Brown, overruled and declared it a simultaneous catch. He was on the far side of the field, and due to the fighting for the ball to him it appeared that both men had caught it.

About 8,000 fans attended the final 1-AA football game of the season for both schools. The loss left the Bulldogs mired in the league cellar with no wins and three losses.

The combined bands of the two schools put on a fine halftime ceremony in which they spelled the school letters of both schools and followed that up with the formation of both a cross and a church while playing hymns. The Harvesters now have a week in which to prepare themselves for the bi-district encounter with the powerful Wichita Falls Coyotes, winners of district 2-AA, the game to be played at Harvester Park a week from today.

Army-Navy, Baylor-Rice Games Highlight Encounters on Tomorrow's Schedules

By FRANK ECK NEW YORK — (AP) — The college football season reaches a climax tomorrow with bowl bids and the violent Army-Navy struggle sharing top billing.

Some of the excitement died down yesterday after Cornell nipped Pennsylvania, 29-21, for a second straight Ivy League title. Maryland, College of Pacific and Texas boosted their chances of post-season invitations with convincing holiday victories.

Tonight's schedule calls for an important Kentucky-Miami game which might determine Santa Clara's opponent in Miami's Orange Bowl Jan. 2.

Notre Dame is the big one for the phone company. Telephones will buzz in athletic offices across the land as anxious promoters page the available few who still remain acceptable and willing.

Oklahoma probably is the prize bowl catch — the only member of the "big four" atop the football rankings which still can be had. California, No. 2 behind Notre Dame in the latest Associated Press poll, already is signed for a Rose Bowl date with Ohio State.

Notre Dame, which seeks to stretch its unbeaten string to 37 games against Southern California tomorrow, is not interested in bowl games. The Irish still must play Southern Methodist Dec. 3.

Army, of course, will not let its unbeaten string to 37 games against Southern California tomorrow, is not interested in bowl games. The Irish still must play Southern Methodist Dec. 3.

Rice and Baylor will fight it out for the right to be Southwest Conference champs and Cotton Bowl host. Rice is No. 7 and Baylor No. 9 in the AP poll.

Tulane, eager for a New Year's assignment in the Sugar Bowl, may make the grade if it gets past Louisiana State in a rugged contest.

Virginia can make itself most attractive to bowl promoters by defeating North Carolina. As Charlie Justice will be playing his last game for the Tar Heels, that may take a lot of doing.

Georgia and Georgia Tech renew their ancient struggle. So do Mississippi and Mississippi State, Tennessee and Vanderbilt, Southern Methodist and Texas Christian and North Carolina State and William and Mary.

First Half Is Slugfest Between Two Big Rivals

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — The Texas Aggies swabbed their wounds — and that is speaking literally — from a 42-14 licking at the hands of Texas today and wondered, as did 41,300 other souls, how the Longhorns ever lost four games.

Texas would like to know, too, it dropped those games by a combined margin of 10 points. Coach Blair Cherry called it a "snafu" season.

But the Longhorns closed out with awesome power yesterday, administering one of the worst dubbings in 56 years of football rivalry. It was a roughhouse battle — mostly on the Texas side. Arms and fists flew in the first half as the Aggies drew 75 yards in penalties and Ray Stone, Texas wingman, was banished from the game after Aggie fullback Bob Smith was knocked cold.

The second half was just the reverse and the boys ended ways showing they didn't really mean it like the greatest crowd ever to see a football game here thought.

The Longhorns stormed and passed for 428 yards and a couple of roughing penalties against Texas aided the Aggies in getting their two touchdowns.

Sophomore Byron Townsend had his greatest day, gouging the Aggie line for 138 yards and three touchdowns. Smith, the Southwest Conference's leading ball-carrier, spent too much time recuperating on the sidelines to aid his cause materially. He netted only 23 yards, making his season total 694 — 107 yards better than Gordon Wyatt of Rice, who gets his last chance tomorrow against Baylor at Houston.

The Aggies managed for just 136 yards rushing and passing and the only bright spot was Yale Lacy's 48 kicking average.

Power runners Ray Ebertsman, Randy Clay and Lew Levine each got a touchdown for Texas with the great pass-receiving of Ben Proctor contributing strongly to the scoring. Proctor took four passes for 83 yards.

Navy Seems Doomed in 50th Battle

By FRANK ECK NEW YORK — Every year around this time people go around asking the same old football question: "How badly will Army beat Navy?"

This season is no exception because the Cadets from West Point figure at least three touchdowns better than the Middies from Annapolis. However, a few of the previous games have proved that records go out the port hole when these rivals clash. This is a game which usually finds the Middies at their best.

The teams meet in the golden anniversary game at Municipal Stadium in Philadelphia, Saturday, Nov. 26, in the previous 49 games. Army has won 29, Navy 19. Four ended in ties.

Last year's coach Earl Blaik points out, resulted in a 21-21 tie despite the fact that heavily favored Army was unbeaten.

In 1948 Navy scored what amounted to a moral victory when it rallied in the closing moments only to lose, 21-18. Three missed points after touchdowns set the Middies a tie.

Army is unbeaten again this season, having humiliated all eight opponents including Michigan, Fordham and Penn. Meanwhile, Navy has won only three of its eight games. About the best thing that can be said about the Middies is that they beat Princeton, Duke and Columbia and surprised by playing Tulane even at 21-11.

Navy has only one strong weapon to toss at Army. That's Bob Zastrow, the sophomore quarterback from Algona, Wis. He is a big improvement over some of Navy's previous forward passers. One would have to go back to little Hal Hamber to find as clever a passer.

Hamber engineered Navy's last victory over an Army team. That was in 1943 at West Point by 13-0. But Zastrow will have his work cut out for him against Army's crack defensive setup.

To offset the pitching of Zastrow, Army has a three-year man in Arnold Galiffa, the Donora, Pa., athlete whose pitching arm has turned most of Army's victories into one-sided skirmishes.

This is Galiffa's last game for the Black Knights of the Hudson and he hopes to make amends for the 1948 deadlock.

However, unlike Navy, where Zastrow's pitching is the big gun, Army is two deep in offensive and defensive standouts.

Army men to watch include the trio can't lose on quick opening line plays. Behind this crack quartet is Bob Blaik, a sophomore quarterback who is the coach's son and looks like a fine field general; Jack Martin Pollock from Linfield, Ore., and Karl Kuckhan of Loganville, Wis.

Schaeff, Canadian; ends, Corky Phillips, Panhandle, Dale Imel, White Deer; backs, J. T. Johnson, Wheeler, Joe Lackey, Spearman, Bobby Hernandez, Canadian, Dick Murphy and Harold Dillhay, Vega, Kenneth Hall, Groom and Roy Mitchell, Panhandle.

Austin Favored in Texoma Bowl

DENISON — (AP) — Ray Morrison's famed aerial circus, introduced to Austin College this year for the first time, is expected to be the difference here tonight when Morrison's Kangaroos tangle with East Central of Ada, Okla., in the second annual Texoma Bowl.

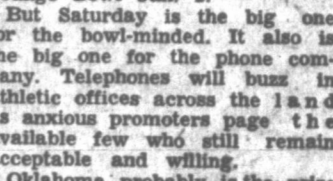

The game is sponsored by the Denison Kiwanis Club and the first bowl appearance ever for Coach Morrison is expected to be the magnet that will lure from 5,000 to 6,000 into Munson Stadium.

With Ben Hamon, sensational sophomore shot-maker who has fired 89 successful aerials out of 160 attempts for 1,026 yards, setting the pace, Coach Morrison's first bowl venture is expected to be highly successful.

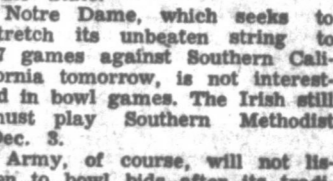

East Central, tutored by Frank Grider, has a slightly better season's mark with five wins and four losses as compared to four wins and five losses for the Kangaroos, but both teams are expected to be at the 500 mark after tonight's contest.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hesse—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What school has the National Intercollegiate boxing champion team?

THE PAMPA HARVESTERS CLOSED OUT THEIR DISTRICT 1-AA football season with a not too-brilliant performance against the Berger Bulldogs. The type of play displayed by the Green and Gold yesterday will never gain them a bi-district victory over the Coyotes of Wichita Falls next weekend. But overconfidence was probably responsible for yesterday's calibre of play. They won't be that way next Friday.

The victory was gained through a break, a bit of bad judgment by Kenny Clapp on a Pampa punt. The Harvesters were quick to take advantage of the opportunity and marched on to a touchdown. And the funny thing about it was that the Bulldogs were an all-letterman team, full of experience, against the unseasoned Harvesters.

The game also closed out a very profitable district campaign for the Harvesters. From here on out they are wearing the crown of the Panhandle and will be showing the football ability of the Top of Texas to the rest of the state. The first test comes next week against the Wichita Falls eleven, winners of 2-AA. The Harvesters will have an opportunity for revenge in that game, and will also be defending a record of no defeats on the home field this year.

The Harvesters again won the coin toss yesterday, the tenth one correctly nine times in games and once at Wichita Falls in order to gain the playing site at Pampa.

Another record the Harvesters have hung up in the past three seasons, since Coach Tipps and Noncaster have taken over at Harvest High, is that they have not had a punt blocked by the opposition. Which should prove that they do do some mighty fine blocking.

Tomorrow afternoon there will be some more fine football on tap for the local football fans. Over at Blackhawk Stadium in Phillips the Lefors Pirates, winners of District 1-A, will tangle with the Phillips Blackhawks, winners of District 2-A. The two teams met last season in a similar situation, for the bi-district title, and Phillips walked off with a 14-0 victory in a terrific blizzard. Tomorrow the weather promises to be good, which should mean a hot battle.

Both clubs have high scoring power with lightning strikes. The Pirates backfield is loaded with speedy runners, led by Joel Combs, one of the highest scoring schoolboys in the state. As running mates he has Friday Todd and James McEntire, two more boys who possess speed and power. Phillips will be led by Melvin Eldridge, the Hawks' scoring ace. He will be aided by Tommy Moore, who scored three touchdowns in the Hawks' last game. This should definitely be a good game, and I advise a 11 Pampa football fans who like to see good ball to see this one. If you can't get over to the game, radio station KPDM will handle a broadcast of the battle direct from Blackhawk Stadium starting at 2:15.

Coach Aubra Noncaster, who's bit of poetry won him a prize in a contest sponsored by the Poetry Association, says that he would gladly let me print his prize-winning lines but that the verse is copyrighted by the Association for publication in the annual book published by the Association. He further informs me that he has had several other prize-winning poems in past years.

This boy's versatile!! Not only that but he can do a variety of things. Last summer he built a house. But I know one thing he has trouble with. He can't tie a tie without a lot of trouble! You know what they say: simple things for simple people; difficult tasks for the brilliant.

SOMETHING NEW will be added to the Cotton Bowl Game this year. Fans may purchase programs of the game ahead of time and use them at home while listening to the broadcast of the game or while watching the telecast of the classic on Jan. 2. Get yourself a blanket, some peanuts and popcorn, have your program and then let somebody keep walking in front of you and you can make believe you are sitting on the 50-yard line Jan. 2.

DID YOU KNOW that Wichita Falls has furnished the University of Texas a football co-captain for three straight years? This season it's Billy Pyle; in 1948 it was Dick Harris, who's younger brother will be facing the Harvesters next Friday; and in 1947 it was Max Bumgardner. Joe Parker, an all-American end and tri-captain in 1943, also was from Wichita Falls.

ANSWER: Syracuse University presently holds the National Intercollegiate team boxing championship.

791 Despite 65 Years, Aching Back
DETROIT—(AP)—Ed East-er, just turned 65, bowled a 791 series, the highest three-game total for an individual in the nation this year. The previous week-end this amazing endurance star outscored a field of 12 top Michigan kiegiers in the state singles eliminations, with a 222 average for 18 games. All this despite an ailing back.

Contenders Meet at Phillips Saturday Afternoon at 2:30

The Lefors Pirates and the Phillips Blackhawks will resume a battle that began last season, in a blinding snowstorm, under more favorable conditions tomorrow afternoon if the weatherman's long range prediction is correct.

The game will be played at Blackhawk Stadium in Phillips, and the bi-district title will be on the line. Lefors gained the right to represent District 2-A earlier this season and Phillips backed into the 1-A title last weekend when Canyon upset the powerful Dumas aggregation.

Came time tomorrow is 2:30. The battle will be broadcast by radio station KPDM, starting at 2:15 with Dennis Sullivan and Ken Palmer at the microphones. Last season the two clubs also met in the bi-district game. But the weatherman was apparently a basketball fan because he showered Harvest Park and the entire Panhandle with a freezing blizzard that made football a near impossibility and caused the teams to become stranded in their efforts to get home after the Hawks had taken a 14-0 victory.

The Pirates go into the game sporting an undefeated record through 9 games. They have defeated White Deer, 33-7; Canadian, 12-0; McPherson, 45-0; Dumas, 40-8; Shamrock, 20-0; Tulsa, 20-12; Clarendon, 33-12; Wellington, 33-18; and McLean, 41-20. The Blackhawks slipped into the 1-A leadership last weekend through a combination of districts g a n e s. The Hawks defeated Panhandle in the first game of the season 46-6; downed Wellington, 33-14; tipped McLean, 47-0; won over Shamrock, 41-18; sneaked by Childress, 26-20; lost to Dalhart, 28-20; edged Canyon, 14-7; defeated Dumas, 12-6; grubbed Hereford, 28-6 and slaughtered Perryton, 45-13 last weekend, the win that gave them the title.

Phillips was struck by a serious injury in that game last week, losing the services of their team captain and center, Jim Riley. Riley received a dislocated elbow, and probably will see no action the rest of the season. Riley has been the strongest linchpin on the club all season, and his absence will greatly weaken a team that needs all the defensive strength available to cope with the speedy backs of the Pirates. Coach Chesley Walker of the Blackhawks and Coach James Love of the Pirates are both wary of each other, but both have clubs that can strike with lightning-like force. The game is a sellout, with all of Lefors and all of Phillips due to see the fray.

Grid "Man of Year" Speaks at IL Meet

AUSTIN — (AP)—Football's "man of the year" will speak at the 27th annual Interscholastic League breakfast at Fort Worth Nov. 25. He is Dr. Kral E. Leib, president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and member of the faculty of the University of Iowa. His subject will be "The Relation of Education and Amateur Athletics."

Dr. Leib, elected head of the NCAA in 1946 and re-elected in 1949, won the highest accolade in national football circles in January when the Football Writers Association of America chose him man of the year. Leib's key work in formulating the "Sanity Code" of the NCAA won him this recognition. Other men whose services to football have won this honor include Fritz Crisler of Michigan; Alonzo Stagg of The College of the Pacific; and Bo McMillin of Indiana.

Pirates in Top Shape for Game With Phillips

By DUANE HANKINS
News Sports Correspondent

LEFORS — (Special)—At 2:30 tomorrow afternoon at Blackhawk Stadium in Phillips the Lefors Pirates are expected to be in fine condition for the game. They drilled mainly on offense tactics for the first week after their rest but spent Wednesday working on defenses with which they hope to stop the high-flying Blackhawks. The touchdown twins, Joel Combs and Friday Todd, will be helped by those two brilliant Sophomores, James McEntire and Ray Dickerson, in shouldering the Pirate scoring duties. Combs and Todd are among the top scorers of the Pirates. Ray Dickerson not only can carry a ball but he can do an expert job of blocking when someone else is logging the ball. Dickerson also does a fine job on defense from the halfback slot.

The Pirates will be trying to help James McEntire, who did a good job of running in the McLean game, to continue his running in tomorrow's tilt. From the forward wall position, Billy Butler, Gordon Rutledge, Duane Hankins, Bill Clemmons, Ike Doom, Don Stokes and Joe Rice will be dealing the Blackhawks trouble. Bob Clemmons and Jimmy Doom will see action on defense. Tommy Moore and Melvin Eldridge, two of the top scorers of the Panhandle, will probably be joined by Cantrell and Beavers, sharing the running chores for the Blackhawks. Beavers is also a good passer. The outcome of the game will meet Littlefield Wildcats for the regional championship.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING
It takes brains as well as shooting ability to get a ruffed grouse in your bag. So to the few sportsmen who try to understand this wily bird, in contrast to the many who merely blunder through ruffed grouse cover and chance it, I suggest this: Since the open season is seldom more than a few weeks long, why not spend some leisure hours during the other weeks of the year studying the grouse? When, on one of your pre-season rambles, a ruffed grouse flushes from a feeding ground and speeds up the run or flashes over a hill to left or right, he is telling you he is on a covey which was raised here; that the covey has regular flyways as foxes have runways, and that the next grouse flushed will vary likely follow the same course. Now, when the open season comes, you will know enough to have your companion quietly posted there before you approach the cover with dog and gun.

Another characteristic trait of the grouse is that as long as he thinks himself unseen he will remain hidden while you pass; but the moment you stop or change your saunter to a quick-step, he thinks you have discovered him and he'll be off. Dr. William J. Long, well known naturalist, claims that from the way a grouse rises you may often judge where he will make a landing. If he merely rises high on a parabolic flight after about 100 yards straight-away he turns left or right and volplanes down to earth. But if his take-off is low, he will usually climb a tree, preferably an evergreen.

The bull-roaring take-off of the ruffed grouse has two effects on a sportsman; it startles him, and it makes him shoot too fast—and miss. The best grouse shot I ever knew would walk up to a pointing dog with his double hammer gun slanting muzzle down from a crooked arm, and he never brought it up to cock both hammers until after the grouse had flushed.

Ruffed grouse have several feeding places, and their habits are as regular as the rounds of a postman. Their food changes with the season but at any season they like variety. From one feeding ground they go to the next in order. If disturbed in the later morning, they head to one of their resting or loafing places. All grouse probably have at least two such refuge stations. There you may find them at any midday hour.

AAC Lineup Set for Pro Grid Playoff

NEW YORK — (AP)—The lineup was set today for the championship playoffs in the All-America Conference but over in the National Football League the Chicago Bears kept the situation in a state of uncertainty.

It looks like the Philadelphia Eagles and Los Angeles Rams in the National but the Bears could slip into the Western Division title by winning their next two games against Pittsburgh and the Chicago Cards while the Rams were dropping two of their last three with the New York Bulldogs, Chicago Cards and Washington.

The Bears kept their title hopes alive by rolling over the Detroit Lions yesterday, 28-7. The game shared the Turkey Day professional spotlight with two engagements in the All-America Conference that plumbed the idle Buffalo Bills squarely into the post-season scrambling.

The Champion Cleveland Browns edged out the Chicago Hornets, 14-6, while the New York Yankees took the measure of the Los Angeles Dons, 17-14. The setbacks dropped the Hornets and Dons out of reach of Buffalo's fourth place status.

The Bills will play the leading Browns in the first round of the playoffs Dec. 4 while the Yankees tackle the San Francisco Forty Niners. Winners meet Dec. 11 for the championship.

The National League playoff is scheduled Dec. 18. The Eagles have clinched the Eastern Division title. They will play the winner of the west.

The Yankees punctured Los Angeles playoff hopes in the All-America. The Rams almost tied the score in the last 30 seconds when George Talafarro lugged a Yankee punt back 52 yards for a touchdown. But two Yankee linemen, Van Davis and Jack Russell, formerly of Baylor, smashed in to block the try for extra point and prevent a tie.

GENERAL TO SPEAK
HOUSTON — (AP)—The annual meeting of the Houston Chamber of Commerce Dec. 7 will be held in the City Auditorium so more people can hear Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, the principal speaker.

This year's All-America Conference championship team is to meet an all-star squad of players from the league's other six teams in the charity game here the day after the draft meeting.

Ted Williams Named Most Valuable Player by BWA

NEW YORK — (AP)—The Boston Red Sox may have failed to win the American League pennant but they possess the circuit's most valuable player in Ted Williams.

The brilliant batting star, whose team lost the flag to the New York Yankees on the final day of the season, gained some measure of revenge when he defeated the world champions Phil Rizzuto and Joe Page for the coveted prize.

Williams' selection by a committee of 24 members of the baseball writers' Association, three from each city, was doubly significant since it marked the first time in six years that such an honor was bestowed upon a member of a non-pennant winning club.

The tall, slender flycatcher also won in 1946 and finished second in '42 and '47. He received 13 firsts, three seconds, seven thirds and one fourth to total 272 points, 98 more than Rizzuto. The Yankees' dazzling shortstop best out his teammate, Joe Page, for runner-up honors.

Mel Parnell, Red Sox south-paw pitcher finished fourth. Ellis Kinder, his righthanded pitching mate, was fifth, New York's Tommy Henrich, sixth, Junior Stephens, Boston's hard hitting shortstop, ranked seventh.

Rounding out the top ten were Detroit's George Kell, Cleveland's Bob Lemon and Vic Worsham, Tiger outfielder.

St. Michael's Daily Lightest College Back
WINOOSKI PARK, Vt. — (AP)—St. Michael's Jack Daly captured the Purple Night, in the first game of the season against Vermont and the last game against Norwich.

Halfback Rabbit Daly, a four-year veteran, is the lightest back in college football, weighing all athletes must work for what they receive. Virginia said it had no jobs available for athletes.

Here Is More on Potato Subsidy

We are all becoming employees of the federal government, and potato farmers in Maine said recently. That statement was quoted by Vance Packard in American Magazine on the disastrous federal price support program. Potato farmers in one Maine county, Aroostook, received $85,000,000 from the government last year to keep surplus potatoes off the market, the article states. The government bought these potatoes at 50 percent parity. 'Parity' is a formula used by bureaucrats to keep farmers at a 'fair' return for their labor and investment.

Any Aroostook County farmer who had 200 acres of potatoes last year was pretty sure of having a $100,000 crop; a crop that he sold to the government at about $3 per 100-pound sack, Packard's article continues. Until public indignation became aroused, the government simply dumped those surplus potatoes—bought with tax money—and let them rot. And the potatoes dumped on the ground "had to be in absolutely perfect condition," Packard quotes a farmer as saying.

After pictures of those potato dumps circulated in newspapers and on newsreels, the public became aroused at the wanton waste of good food to benefit a limited class. As a result it cost the government an additional $25,000,000 last year to dispose of surplus potatoes a little more quietly.

Now some of the potatoes are distributed to school children through government-aided hot lunch programs; some are sold to dairy and cattlemen for livestock feed; but most of Aroostook County's surplus potatoes are shipped (at government expense) to a liquor distillery in Philadelphia that pays about 10 cents a bushel for them.

This year potato farmers agreed to cut acreage by 25 percent, but Aroostook farmers merely planted potatoes closer together. As a result, they are breaking all production records with yields of 400 bushels to the acre, as compared with the national average of 181 bushels. The upshot is that this year's potato crop threatens to cost the taxpayer $100,000,000!

There are potentially more potatoes on the market than the market can absorb. But that surplus, instead of acting to reduce prices, serves only to increase the cost of living for every American citizen.

The greater the surplus the more the government will have to buy under its price support program, the heavier will be an already intolerable tax burden on the public. And, of course, the more potatoes the government buys, the less incentive there is for potato farmers to cut their production.

Thus, a vicious circle becomes malignant.

If you think it's hard to get a seat on a bus now, just wait and try to find one in 1960! Prof. Sumner H. Fair Enough - Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
(WASHINGTON) — The act which has put to rest the case of the Draper-Adler libel suit, is an unreasonable and political decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, written by Judge Learned Hand, who has a reputation for liberalism. Politically, liberalism is a prejudice against the opinions of conservatives, meaning those who would conserve the principles of the republican form of government and of the Constitution.

Judge Hand wrote that there was no important difference between saying that a man was a Communist and saying that the same man merely sympathized with the objects and methods of the Communist Party. That is an absurd holding, because it has been pernicious, because it has been a precedent for the plain fact and Hand should have laid down the law that it is no offense against our laws to be a Communist. That might mean merely that one believes in communism and Americans have a right to believe anything, however offensive to their neighbors. To say that a person "is" a Communist does not impute membership in the party. The charge of membership must be spelled out and even when it is spelled out it does not constitute a charge of misconduct, because it is lawful for citizens to join the party. Aliens who are or have been members cannot be naturalized and may be deported but citizens are not restrained. But even alien Communists, erstwhile or current, are not troubled by enforcement of this law. Two of them have enjoyed the patronage and the friendship of Roosevelt.

Now, unquestionably, it should be a capital crime, tantamount to a combination of both sedition and treason, to be a member of the party because the party is the political agency of another nation which President Truman, himself, at no great expenditure of wisdom, has identified as the enemy in a cold war. Even collaboration with the Communists in the furtherance of their designs should be a capital crime, too. The platform of the Communists is dedicated to the commission of innumerable capital crimes against the government, and individual agents of that criminal conspiracy therefore deserve some punishment which our Constitution and laws thus far have failed to provide. That lack could be remedied overnight if we had the determination to do it. This is our country, we alone have the right to say what punishment fits which crime and we need not stand in fear of the opinion of any other nation as to that.

An eminent criminal lawyer, now retired, arguing the criminality of the conduct of the fellow-traveler, cites for analogy the case of the stick-up man who waits in the car at the curb while his partner with the guns kills the keeper of the candy store. "It will avail the second man nothing to claim an agreement with his partner that no one was to be killed," he writes. "Even if his partner corroborate the agreement and say that he shot without the consent of his companion, it would avail the latter nothing. Once you enter a criminal partnership you are bound by the acts of your partners."

But the analogy fails because we have not provided for punishing these hostile acts to be crimes. The purposes of the Soviet Union as to the United States are hostile and, in effect, criminal. All Communists are agents of the enemy and all fellow-travelers accomplices. But Judge Hand knows, too, that we have no laws to this effect and that, week in a swimming pool, but the rest of it is very frightening. Imagine what'll happen when 175,000,000 people each start to back two cars out of the garage! And when a boy and girl park in the moonlight, which of their four cars will they sit in?

The Nature and History of the Growth of State Power — IV
I have been quoting for the last two days from a new book called "On Power, Its Nature and History of Its Growth," by Bertrand de Jouvenel, published by the Viking Press. The author explains in this book how people consent to a democratic government having more power than they would be willing to give a government directed by a king. He contends that under a democracy individuals think that they themselves will sooner or later have the power in their hands and thus they do not object to the growth of power as they would under a king. Under a king they do not expect to be king themselves, so they restrict the power of the king.

In explaining how democracies have more power than kings or dictators, he makes this observation: "We do not find anywhere in the ancient republic a directing will so armed with its own weapons as the modern state. On the contrary, I may be told, but to start with there were two of them, and it was an essential feature of the office that they could block one another's activities. On occasions when they wanted to lipose their joint will, what meant had they to hand? Only a few liars; right through their republican period Rome never knew the means of administrative control. It was for force only the people themselves, who could at need answer the summons of the leaders of society.

The Doctor Says

By Edwin P. Jordan, MD
Written for NEA
Many people who complain that they do not sleep well at night actually sleep much more than they think they do. They are often awake only for a few minutes during the night, and this period often seems longer than it is. Also, the sleeping period, usually from midnight from which many people suffer are likely to be comparatively short.

There are very few diseases which cause insomnia. These usually produce other symptoms besides insomnia and do not explain the inability to sleep which the ordinary person complains so much.

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Behind the screen: An erupting volcano was "stolen" from Ingrid Bergman and Roberto Rossellini when they were busy in Rome telling the press how they fell in love.

At least that's the claim of William Dieterle, who directed Rossellini's ex-girl friend, Anna Magnani, in "Volcano." Dieterle was making "Volcano" on another Italian island at the same time Rossellini was directing Bergman on the island of Stromboli.

Both the Magnani and Bergman films are climaxed by erupting volcanoes. Here's Dieterle's story: One day when Ingrid and Rossellini were in Rome for press interviews the volcano on Stromboli started to erupt. Dieterle immediately rushed to a camera crew to the island and photographed it for the Magnani film.

The CAMEO

By Virginia Teale Copyright 1949, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Martin Falter was murdered with a small, sharp pointed instrument which has not been found. His death seems to involve a salubrious cause which he had tried to sell. The body had been reported to police by Tom O'Connell, whose wife Nell was supposed to own the camera. But before the report to police, Hagar Blair and Stephanie "Reddy" had found the body. The police have increased this but they do not know that Hagar later found the camera placed in her collection cabinet. Hagar believes it was put there by Arnold Fletcher, who was commissioned by Falter to sell the camera. Assistant Chief of Police Peters on the case. Charlie Reddy, a young lawyer, and Lemmy Trotter, a hoodlum, are also involved. The case has sensational aspects. Trotter, and Martin Falter had previously covered a case for blackmail.

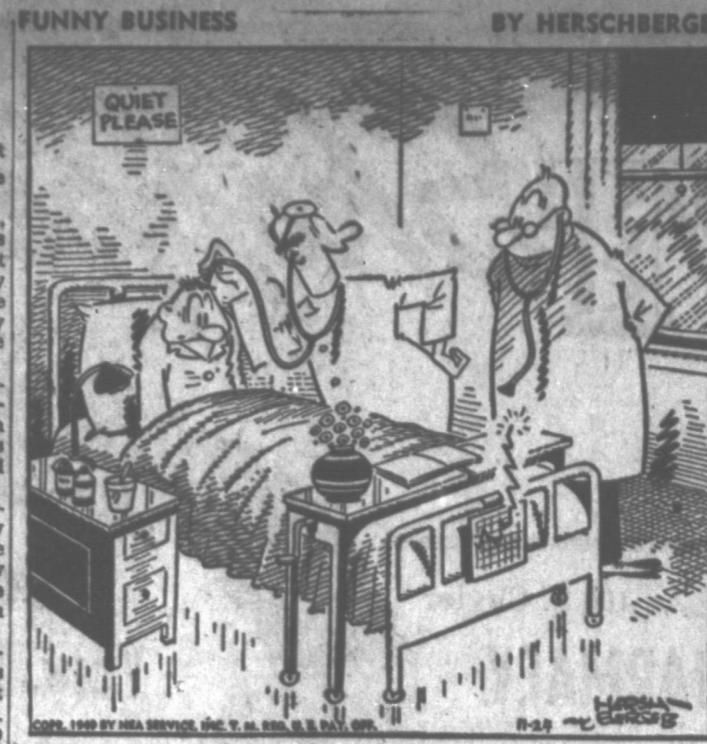

XVI
CHARLES REDDY averted the car away from a day-dreaming cocker spaniel. "Even the dog is asleep in this town," he said to Chief Peters. "Say! Did the coroner find what put Martin to sleep?"
 "The good old stand-by, sleeping pills!" came the reply. "Same kind that knock people off all the time. Ought to be a stricter law on those things. Coroner Hughes said the pills alone probably would have done for Falter. That's the one good clue we've got. The murderer must've been drinking wine with Falter—granting that the same person did the poisoning and the stabbing."
 "As the police car pulled up in front of Falter's, Reddy found a parking place after some difficulty and followed the chief through a swamp of people to the porch where Police Officer Abrams was keeping sightseers away. They entered the studio and Reddy rapped his hands in his pockets and turned toward the bedroom.
 "Think I'll take another look around in the porch."
 The chief plodded after him: "Fingerprints won't tell us anything. Probably 100 different people running in and out of here within the last week. No clues, no

Too Much Expected Of Movie Children Says Deanna Durbin

By ROBERT THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Don't expect too much of child movie stars, advises Deanna Durbin. "The trouble is," said Deanna, herself one of the screen's graces as a youngster, "that people set child stars on a pedestal. They expect them to be perfect little darlings, and to remain that way even when they grow up. No one can be that good."
 The comments arose as she discussed her problems and her future in the den of her stylish Beverly Hills home. Her opinions were as frank as any I had heard from her.
 "Many child stars are the object of adoration since before they can remember," she said. "People criticize when these stars grow up and prove themselves to be human beings with their own faults."
 Deanna is now at the crossroads of her career. She has spent the last year sitting out her contract with Universal. That's not bad at about $300,000 for the year's sitting.
 "The public hasn't been clamoring to see my pictures," she admitted, "because they know I can't play 'Three Smart Girls' any longer. The public knows that, but the studio didn't."
 As for the future she is going to Europe next spring and will consider the many stage and screen offers she has. "I might just make one more picture and quit," she said.

Fiery Vivian Fires Another Tax Lawsuit

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. — (AP) — Vivian Kellems fired a law suit at the government and more criticism at Secretary of the Treasury Snyder Monday in her battle against the income tax withholding law.
 The suit, Miss Kellems announced here, was filed in federal district court in an effort to recover $7,819.20 which, she asserted, the government took from her "in the tradition of the bold-est bank robber."
 Of Snyder, she said:
 "The only difference between Mr. John Snyder and Mr. Jesse James is Mr. James was an 'out-law' and used a gun."
 Previously, Miss Kellems had invited Snyder to have her indicted for her refusal to collect withholding taxes from her employees in her cable grip manufacturing plant. She wanted to be indicted, she explained, in order to test the Constitutionality of the withholding tax.
 Her invitation has gone ignored. The Treasury Department, instead, has seized $7,819.20 of her money through liens on her company's bank accounts.

Foreign Bank Notes Sold At Discount

By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK — (AP) — Foreign currency is moving across the bargain counters again despite devaluation.
 You can buy most foreign bank notes in New York and other American cities openly and legally, some at a substantial discount from official rates. These bank notes are the actual foreign currencies, like our dollar bill. You can do the same thing in places like Paris and Geneva.
 Consequently there is a lot of confusion in the mind of the average man. Wasn't devaluation of more than 30 foreign currencies supposed to stabilize the foreign exchange market?
 The answer is, yes. And it has done so to a certain extent. The difficulty lies in the fact that money isn't free from restrictions set up by governments.
 The American dollar is not restricted by the United States government. It is free to go anywhere. Its value is exactly what it will buy in goods or services or other money. There is no tourist dollar, or export dollar, or wheat dollar.
 But that isn't so with other money. The British pound sterling, for example, was devalued 30.5 percent on Sept. 18 to $2.80.

'Cooperation' Topic of Talk to Parish Council

The Parish Council of Holy Souls Church held a regular meeting in the parish hall. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. J. F. Schwind and Mrs. George Bunick.

The Rev. Francis Kunz, C. M., spoke to the group on the subject, "The Christopher Movement." He explained the origin and purpose of the movement and said that such action would be beneficial in today's troubled world. To emphasize his point, the Rev. Kunz related an incident that took place following VJ Day. He said that approximately 100,000 persons were gathered in the Los Angeles Coliseum, and that the master of ceremonies asked that all lights be turned off until the huge building was in total darkness. He then struck a match, and the glow of the match could be clearly seen by all present.

He then asked everyone present to light a match, and the combined glow was great enough to light the large building. One of the highlights of the talk was the summary in which he stated "We as individuals must all do our part in overcoming the darkness that the Communists are trying to bring about." The dominant theme of the talk was the importance of individual action, no matter how small, and the magnitude gained by the combined efforts of individuals. In the business session following the program, plans for a float in the Christmas parade were discussed. The council voted to donate Red Cross nursing books to the Negro nursing class being conducted by Mrs. Forrest N. Hills under the auspices of the Parish Council, as approved by the American Red Cross.

Delayed Effects of Steel Strike to Hit Auto Industry

By DAVID WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT — (AP) — Delayed effects of the steel strike will hit the nation's automobile industry hard next week.

With but few exceptions the factories that closed Wednesday night for Thanksgiving Day holiday will remain idle until perhaps Dec. 12 or later.

Ford, Hudson and Studebaker and a few branch assembly plants of other companies around the country will furnish all the motor vehicle output next week. Even Ford will cut down to four days' operation and Studebaker has announced it will close on Nov. 30.

Thus weekly production will tumble sharply to probably not more than 50,000 vehicles. And the plant closings added to those already down will bring temporary idleness to an estimated quarter million automotive workers.

In several instances unemployment will be relieved by the continuance of parts fabricating work in many plants. A number of car makers about to swing over to new model production also have kept a substantial number of their employees at work on plant rearrangement, inventory, parts, service and sales operations.

Excepting for Pontiac all the General Motors shutdowns coincide with the completion of 1949 model production. Pontiac swung over to 1950 model output two weeks ago and carried on until it exhausted its steel stocks.

The same is true also of the various Chrysler divisions, of which all but Plymouth already have closed down for new model operations. Plymouth, benefitting by the diversion of steel from the other divisions, has continued a fairly high output rate. It will close its assembly lines next week.

Already closed are Ford's Lincoln division, the Nash plants at Kenosha and Milwaukee and Willys-Overland at Toledo. Packard attributes its shutdown next week to a suspension of operations by Briggs Manufacturing Co., its body supplier.

Kaiser-Frazer, which has been closed down since Oct. 24, has given no indication when its assembly lines will reopen. However, the management has said the shutdown was not due to steel shortages but rather to the necessity for reducing factory inventories of finished vehicles.

More Money Available for New Hospitals

AUSTIN — More money is now available for building hospitals and health centers in Texas, State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox has announced.

Federal money channeled to the states for hospital construction has been increased from $75 million to $180 million, and the program of federal assistance has been extended through the fiscal year ending June 30, 1955. The increase is contained in an amendment to the Hospital Survey and Construction Act.

Under provisions of the act, the various states make the money available to local areas for hospital or public health center construction.

As of October, when the amendment became effective, the states will put up half the money for new construction, and the local area must provide the other half.

Prior to October, the states put up one-third, and the local area was held responsible for raising two-thirds. On projects approved prior to October, the local area must still put up two-thirds of the entire cost.

As Good Parents You Should:

- 1--Give the love and companionship so necessary to your child's welfare;
- 2--Attend church with your children;
- 3--Support personally the many fine organizations that provide recreation for boys and girls;
- 4--Devote some of your time to personal service in the activities that minister to the young;
- 5--Help spread good cheer and human understanding to families not as fortunate as your own.

Wise parents know that duty to their children is more than food, clothing and shelter.

They know that the home life needs to be more attractive to childhood; that wholesome recreation for their own boys and girls and their neighbor's children is the best way to prevent trouble and sorrow when the critical years are upon them.

1,600 County Children Ride School Buses

There are now 1,600 GRAY County school children riding in the 40 bus routes, which makes 878,000 student passengers in a school year, Huelyn Laycock, county superintendent of schools, said.

At a recent meeting of county school bus drivers it was found that the Highway Patrol has inspected all of the buses except six. Patrolman Preston Wynne addressed the meeting and commented favorably on the condition of the buses.

Wynne said drivers persist in violating one school safety rule which causes accident after accident. He said, "Cars meeting or passing a school bus that is loading or unloading school children should come to a complete stop and then proceed at a rate of not more than 10 miles per hour."

Twenty-eight of the 38 bus drivers who attended the meeting said they have first aid certificates.

Gray County bus routes are set up by the county school board.

Lady Astor Takes Crack At Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Lady Nancy Astor, who recently described film actresses as "wretched glamor girls," is the motion picture industry council's first candidate for its new "Flagpole of the Month" award.

The U. S.-born noblewoman, in an appeal in London for funds to help pay for study in Britain by university women of other countries, accused the tre of the film capital by declaring:

"I feel the world is being swept off its feet by Hollywood. We hear nothing but tales of these wretched glamor girls."

As individuals, movie folk were quick to reply. British-born Charles Laughton was probably the most outspoken.

"Who in hell cares what Lady Astor thinks about women in Hollywood so long as men in this country (the United States) are satisfied with them," he declared.

Sunday night the council, representing 35,000 people in the film industry, announced its award. A spokesman stated that by virtue of their public reply to her, the "wretched glamor girls" have nominated Lady Astor.

"We are awfully tired of people who see attacks on Hollywood as a convenient device for getting their names in the paper," the spokesman explained. "Flagpole sitting has been the most obvious resort of the space hunter and we can think of no better reward for pure publicity seekers like Nancy Astor than to give them their own flagpole to go sit on."

The council said Lady Astor would receive a folding flagpole.

National Guard Finishes Campaign

The addition brought the guard's total strength to 16,260.

City Blames Politics for Smear Attack

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — This king-size community is battling to defend its fair name of the City of the Angels. The Chamber of Commerce and City Council have daubed on their sun-tanned, smog-tinged warpaint and fired a salvo of statements. Their target is a postcard smear campaign which has been telling chambers of commerce throughout the nation that Los Angeles is crime-infested and a good place to stay away from. Mailed from San Diego about Nov. 12, the printed, hand-addressed cards claim that "law and order no longer exist in Los Angeles," that "innocent citizens and helpless tourists are held up, searched, robbed and thrown into filthy, overcrowded jails." The cards recommend that tourists keep away from Los Angeles.

The cards were mailed in the name of the "Public Relations Committee of the Los Angeles Citizens Safety Council in cooperation with the National Tourists and Travelers Association." Harold W. Wright, general manager of the Los Angeles chamber, labeled the cards "utter balderdash" and said neither organization is known as a bona fide one here. The City Council, in a resolution, blamed politics. That irate body said it is reasonable to assume that the same groups which failed to defeat Mayor Fletcher Bowron at the polls "are at work to destroy the present administration, regardless of the shame and economic loss they bring to citizens and taxpayers."

The resolution asked the Federal Bureau of Investigation and postal authorities to look into the matter. TRIAL IN RECESS CHICAGO — (AP) — The mail fraud and conspiracy trial of Preston Tucker and seven associates of the Tucker Corporation, moving slowly after five weeks, was in recess today until next Monday. Hat's worn by the King's guard in England are called Bushies.

CHURCH OF CHRIST
★ WE, THE WOMEN
BY RUTH MILLETT
WPA Staff Writer

A Chicago wife recently got a divorce from her husband of four years because he wouldn't dance with her.

Her main complaint seemed to be that they married each other because they shared the same interests. But after a few years of marriage his interests had changed.

Evidently she didn't understand that what happened to her husband happens to most men.

If the average wife wrote down her husband's main interests and ideas of relaxation at the time they married and then made out another list four or five years later she would have two lists with few duplications.

But that shouldn't make a woman feel grieved or cheated. As a wife it is her job to keep up with his changing interests, not to sit and sulk because they've changed.

Husbands and wives don't remain companionship through the years because they cling to the same set of interests they had when they fell in love.

SHARE NEW INTERESTS
They stay companionship because they are both willing to share each other's new interests and activities as they develop through the years.

So they've lost that "common interest" they once shared. What of it?
Another interest can take its place. All that a wife who wants to remain a companion to her husband has to do is see to it that a "common interest" that no longer is common to them both is replaced by a new interest they both share.

One set of common interests can't be counted on to last a lifetime. Lasting companionship is always the result of making new interests "common" ones.

Can a Prophet Speak for God?

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D. Jeremiah, and other Hebrew prophets, prefaced their prophetic utterances with, "Thus saith the Lord."

How could these prophets know that they were speaking for God? Was it presumption on their part to speak? What does it mean to speak for God today?

These and similar questions stand out strongly as we consider the ancient prophecies, and the difference between true prophets of God and false prophets appears very clear, as we shall see in considering Jeremiah's denunciation of false prophets.

The sense of drama is marked in the Old Testament scriptures. One sees it in the great drama of the Book of Job, where God speaks as one of the characters. It is strongly emphasized in the Psalms, as in the concluding verses of Psalm 46, "Be still and know that I am God; I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth."

But it is one thing to profess to speak for God, to make Him a voice in a dramatic writing, and quite another thing actually and truly to express the words and will of God. What assurance had the Hebrew prophets that they were really speaking for God? How can men be sure that they are so speaking? And how can we who listen be sure that it may be the voice of God that we are hearing in the words of men?

The answer is fairly easy. "By their fruits ye shall know them." And back of the fruits are the ground, the roots, and the tree—the life and character from which the fruits appear.

The prophets knew the voice of God because they lived near to Him. They were men whose lives were completely devoted to truth and righteousness, and they had the courage of their convictions. They stated everything on the truth of the words they spoke. They accepted supreme sacrifices. They were ready to endure suffering and persecution in testimony of their faith and integrity.

It is only as men live near to God that he can presume to speak for Him. But men can, and do, speak for God, when their words are in accordance with the high character and His revealed will.

It requires no assumption that men are speaking for God when they denounce sinfulness, and assert the way of right and truth. Especially, with all that Jesus revealed of God's loving Fatherhood, men can be sure that they speak for God when in their words and deeds they express the Gospel of God's love and grace.

In the great matters of religion men can undoubtedly speak for God. It is only when we presume to exalt our own small beliefs and opinions on a level with the sublime truths of Scripture concerning God and righteousness, and would make God speak for ourselves, instead of speaking for Him, that we are in danger of becoming misrepresentatives, rather than representatives, of God.

But Paul said that Christians could be "ambassadors of God."

Group Two of the First Baptist Church Fidellis Class recently entertained with a breakfast in the home of Mrs. Jim Arndt at 1124 Starkweather.

A meeting followed the breakfast, with Mrs. Owen Johnson giving the opening prayer. Mrs. E. R. Haskins gave the devotional on "The Family Altar," in which she said that parents should give their children the right foundation for a wholesome future.

A business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. D. A. Brown, followed with the secretary and group captains giving reports. The secretary also read a pamphlet of rules, telling how to attain the standard of excellence.

A Thanksgiving basket of canned food, to be given to a needy family, was decorated during the morning.

In addition to the hostesses, Mrs. Jim Arndt, Mrs. Tom Tipps, and Mrs. Charles Marler, the following members were present: Mrs. A. B. McPherson, Mrs. Cecil Holmes, Mrs. C. M. Dunivan, Mrs. Roy Lewis, Mrs. Everett Butler, Mrs. D. A. Brown, Mrs. E. R. Haskins, Mrs. S. O. Dunham, Mrs. Marvin Webster and the teacher, Mrs. J. A. Meek.

Special guests were Mrs. Owen Johnson, Mrs. E. A. Johnson and Mrs. R. E. Aray.

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alms Memoriam and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject of "The Lesson-Sermon" which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 27.

The Golden Text is: "The eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to show himself strong in the behalf of them whose heart is perfect toward him" (II Corinthians 16:9).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of the forest" (Micah 3:12).

The Lesson Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mankind must learn that evil is not power. Its so-called despotism is but a phase of nothingness" (page 102).

It was also announced that the Rev. Herbert Land, recently of Harlingen, has accepted the pastorate of the local church, and is now assuming his duties. He succeeds the Rev. Elbert Labensky, who has accepted a post at Uleta, Fla.

Teachers Get No More Yule Gifts

BETHLEHEM, Pa. — (AP) — The Bethlehem School Board has turned thumbs down on Christmas gifts for the teacher — too much competition between little Johnny and his classmates.

Joseph W. Hedge, superintendent of schools, said board members decided the competitive nature of the gift giving among school children had become too expensive for smaller income families to bear.

"Complete Nonsense" Reports Aly Khan
LAUBANNE, Switzerland — (AP) — Prince Aly Khan laughingly dismissed as "complete nonsense" a French press report that his father, the Aga Khan, had promised him his expected baby's weight in diamonds.

A baby is due to be born here to the prince's wife, movie actress Rita Hayworth, in the near future.

"I only wish the story was true," the prince said with a broad smile. "I wish somebody would give me the baby's weight in diamonds — or just a single diamond."

Texan Repays Kindness by Bringing Serb Family to U.S.

By WALTER A. GUILD
JACKSONVILLE, Texas (AP)—A Serb who befriended a fellow captive, an American, in a German prison camp found that friendship really pays off.

Because the Serb, Rato Pavlovic, helped a desperately ill Texan in the German prison in 1945, the East Texan helped make it possible for Pavlovic and his wife to come to America. They stepped from a train at Jacksonville just the other day, after a long journey.

And the Pavlovics have moved to Frankston, in northwest Anderson County. It's also the home of the Texan who was befriended. His name is James Bloom.

Bloom was a gunner on a bomber in the 50th Squadron of the 98th Bombardment Group. On July 26, 1945, his bomber made a run over Hanover, Germany. "We were flying at 20,000 feet when we got hit," Bloom recalls.

"The hit the stick" all came and I didn't waste any time doing just that. When I jumped, I felt a terrific jolt. My back was broken. I landed near a house. Although I tried to move to make my escape, I was paralyzed. A man and a woman came from the house and when they discovered that I was an American, they didn't treat me as a good.

"It wasn't long until I was thrown (and I mean thrown) on a truck with the rest of the gang. They had been rounded up with the exception of one who was killed aloft. I was carried to a hospital at an air field, kept there a couple of days and then was taken to Stalag 30-B near Bremersdorf, Germany.

"I was in a cell and was at the mercy of my captors. No soft hospital bed for me. I was kept in the floor of the barracks in which the Americans and British were kept.

"I met Rato. He and the Serbs and Russians in the camp had heard about me. Rato, a Serb, was spokesman for that group and he had charge of bringing that group of prisoners their chow.

"When he heard of my plight, he smuggled me extra potatoes. For him to have been caught would have meant death for him — and possibly me.

"He even managed to get my name to the Polish underground, who, with a secret radio transmitter station, advised Washington in turn advised by mother, Mrs. Ruby Bloom of Frankston. This was the first news she had had of me in ten months.

"I vowed that I would do something to repay Rato when and if I were ever liberated. But I had a long wait and many more prison camps to visit. I lost track of him in the moving around but I was determined that I would never forget him.

"Then July of last year, I had a letter from him. I answered him by telling him that I was going to try to get him to America.

"U. S. Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine helped me and it wasn't long until Rato and his wife (he had married after the war) were on the way to the U. S.

"They love it here. And they just can't get over the way my neighbors have treated them. The other night Frankston folks had a housewarming for them and the house was filled to overflowing with gifts of all descriptions.

"They can't speak English very good but it was easy to see in their eyes that they were most grateful.

"I kept my word and I am which the Americans and British very thankful for everything."

HE'S THE "HEAVY"—Wee Willie Davis, a 285-pound, six-foot-six wrestler and movie actor, has little trouble holding aloft two pint-size people, Jerry Mares, left, and Billy Curtis. Wee Willie has the role of a "heavy"—Hollywood term for villain—in the picture "Samson and Delilah."

The journal suggested that they might even have to be enthroned as co-queens upon the death of their father, King George VI.

"It seems to be commonly considered that on the death of His Majesty the King without male issue the crown would unquestionably descend to the Princess Elizabeth," said a provocative article in the journal.

"However, a survey of English Constitutional history reveals that there is no precedent to cover such a situation, and that what commentary exists is of doubtful value.

Nonsense, a Buckingham Palace spokesman told reporters.

The spokesman said the issue was settled in 1937, when Elizabeth was ten and Margaret seven. The law offices of the crown looked into the matter, he told newsmen, and gave a formal opinion that Elizabeth will have sole claim to be queen.

USO Fund Drive Short of Quota

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Wheeler County residents contributed less than 25 percent of the county's quota in the USO fund drive which closed Monday, E. K. Caperton, campaign chairman, announced.

The fund received was $200 compared with a quota of $840. Due to the size of the peace-time armed services and due, also, to the fact that there are many teen-agers and young single men in service, the President recently reactivated the war time United Service Organization.

PONDEROUS PORKER—There's 500 pounds of sausage—nearly a third of a mile of links—wrapped up in this high hog brought to the Chicago market by Robert Hawley of Argyle, Wis. The four-year-old Duroc boar is four feet high, six feet long and weighs 1080 pounds. Packers paid Hawley $124.20 for the hog and sharpened up their sausage grinders. The normal-size Hampshire hog in foreground points up the monster's size.

Pastor Displays War Mementoes

MIAMI — (Special) — A large crowd attended the friendship supper held in Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church Monday evening.

The Rev. Hugh Blylock displayed his souvenirs from his three year service as chaplain with the U. S. Army on the Philippines, New Guinea, and the Morati Islands. These included nipa fiber picture frames, wooden shoes and many other mementoes.

A surprise of the evening was a shower given the pastor and family. The gifts were presented by J. K. McKenzie.

Audit Favorable to Wheeler Tax Records

SHAMROCK — (Special) — The tax records of Wheeler County are in excellent shape, Tax Assessor-Collector T. J. Daughrey has been advised.

An audit of the county's books was recently completed by representatives of the comptroller of public accounts at Austin.

Solon Sees No Chance of Atom Bomb Attack

WASHINGTON — (AP) — What are the chances of a surprise atomic bomb attack upon the United States?

If this is worrying you, then Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) has some comforting "personal opinions."

"I think the odds are about one million to one against any enemy dropping one atomic bomb on any part of the United States," Johnson told a reporter. "Of course I refer to the foreseeable future — say the next 20 years."

Johnson is in a position to give an estimate. He is a member of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee and this group probably knows more atomic secrets than any other, except the Atomic Energy Commission and its scientists.

Cotton Industry Works Over Capacity

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Census Bureau reported the cotton spinning industry operated during October at 123.3 percent of capacity on a two-shift, 60-hour week basis.

This compared with 115.3 percent during September this year, and 120 percent during October last year.

18 Teen-Agers Race In Auto Warehouse
