

Air Force Superforts Can Be Healed

Four of 22 Men Aboard Are Saved

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Two Air Force Superforts collided 26,000 feet above Stockton at midnight. One fell in flames. The tail of the other fell off and it crashed in the mud.

Four of the 22 men aboard were saved. Seven were found dead in the wreckage.

Eleven are missing. Detailed checking eliminated one survivor reported by Lodi, Calif., police. The four survivors—all at the Navy annex of the Stockton Supply Depot after treatment for minor injuries—are:

Lt. Warren F. Sharrock, whose home, ironically, is only 26 miles east of Stockton in the Sierra foothills.

Pvt. Keith R. Burns, 19, Boise, Idaho, apparently the only survivor of the burning plane.

T-Sgt. Frank D. Schmidt, Negley, Ohio, engineer on plane.

Sgt. Robert S. Kluge, 26, Spokane.

The sheriff's office said party members of three bodies had been taken from the plane that burned on a McDonald Island levee on

Air Rescue Search on for Missing B-29

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—The biggest peacetime air rescue search in history was underway today for a lost B-29 bomber which ran out of fuel and crashed in the sea somewhere near Bermuda yesterday; 20 U. S. air-masters were aboard.

Nearly 100 Air Force Navy and Coast Guard planes from bases all along the Atlantic seaboard criss-crossed a 600-mile Bermuda surrounding waters hoping for a sight of the stricken bomber or bobbing life rafts.

First search patrols yesterday afternoon were fruitless. The last word from the Superforts, whose navigation instruments failed on a flight to England, was a radio message: going to ditch in five minutes.

After that message yesterday morning a U. S. Coast Guard vessel heard weak SOS signals—spurring hopes that the crewmen had taken to rubber life rafts (See RESCUE, Page 9)

Death Probed By Coroner

SOUTHLAND, Texas (AP)—Coroner J. D. King was investigating today the death of a woman whose body was found on the concrete floor of her bedroom, with a large gas heating stove turned over her face and burning.

A pair of men's socks were stuffed in her mouth, and her arms were behind her back under a rope twisted around her waist. She was identified as Mrs. Marvin Truelock, about 41.

Sheriff E. M. Bass said her son, Calvin, 13, found the body yesterday afternoon when he went home from school.

Calvin rushed out of the house, located on the southern edge of this farming community, and ran two doors north for help.

Three students in a GI training school went to the house and found the woman dead.

Investigating officers and doctors from Post said she died either of suffocation or asphyxiation. Her face had been burned almost beyond recognition. Texas Rangers were called into the case.

The woman's husband was in Lubbock when notified of her death.

Bass said that two notes were found in the room on a sewing machine. One was on a penny postcard to the family and husband, the other on a tablet paper to the woman's parents.

Near the notes was a knife, a hatchet and a screwdriver which had been sharpened to razor edge, Bass said.

Shah of Iran Ready to Ask For More U.S. Military Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Shah of Iran said today he "certainly" will propose to President Truman an increase in American military aid to his country.

"Iran is important to the peace of the world and especially to the security of the Middle East," the Shah said to a news conference.

The youthful Shah, who arrived yesterday for a month's good will visit, said also:

1. Iran's relations with its big neighbor, Soviet Russia, "have improved a little lately." The Iranians "are always willing to be friendly with our neighbors, but always on a basis of mutual respect and independence."

2. Iran is interested in the future creation of a Middle Eastern defense pact, like the North Atlantic Treaty, but the time is "a little too early." The country's economy should be strengthened first.
3. What has impressed him about the United States thus far is "the well being of your people." He said "they have happy faces, are well attired, and look friendly."

4. Iran's attitude toward the new state of Israel will be determined after discussions with other Moslem countries.
5. He is not looking for a bride during his stay here. The Shah is 30 and matrimonially eligible since divorcing the former Queen Fawzia, a sister of the King of Egypt.

The Shah was wearing a blue naval uniform with six gold stripes on the sleeves. He met with reporters just before leaving for a visit to the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Alger Hiss Returns to Court For Second Perjury Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—Alger Hiss returns to federal court today for his second perjury trial.

This trial, like the first one, is expected to revolve around the conflicting claims of two men—himself and ex-Communist Agent Whittaker Chambers.

The central question, which produced a deadlocked jury in the previous trial, is this: Which man is lying?

Choosing of a new jury to try to find the answer to this question is expected to get underway today, in as much as a series of pre-trial defense motions already have been disposed of.

The setting of the trial is the same room at the Federal Courthouse on Foley Square where a jury last July 8 reported itself unable to agree on Hiss' guilt or innocence.

Hiss, now 45, was indicted by an espionage-probing federal grand jury nearly a year ago, on Dec. 15, 1948. He was accused of lying before the jury, in two instances:

1. When he swore he did not pass confidential government information to Chambers.
2. When he swore he had not seen Chambers from Jan. 1, 1927, until the espionage probe began.

Each of the two counts carries a possible penalty of five years imprisonment on conviction.

The grand jury probe and indictment followed a series of hearings by Congressional investigators who listened to testimony from both Hiss and Chambers.

It was the accusations of Chambers, 48, a stocky, former $20,000-a-year senior editor of Time Magazine, that first drew Hiss into the inquiry.

Chambers claimed Hiss belonged to a pre-war Communist cell in Washington that supplied him with information for transmission to Russia.

Hiss denied the charges throughout the investigation and his first trial.

At the end of the trial, the jury was split eight for conviction, four for acquittal.

Police Heard At Petersen Sanity Trial

DALLAS (AP)—Two members of the Dallas Police Department testified today they believe Keith Petersen, 31, was sane when he killed his girl friend here last Sept. 2.

They were L. G. Delt, city detective, and P. B. Leach of the Homicide and Robbery Squad. They testified for the state at a sanity hearing for Petersen.

Petersen, former Southern Methodist University student, fatally shot Carolyn Schofield, 20, in a downtown office building. The slaying occurred in the office of a geologist for whom Miss Schofield worked. Petersen said later he killed the girl because he was in love with her and had learned she intended to marry another man.

Leach said he reached the scene of the crime a few minutes after the victim had been shot. A pistol was on a table, he said. The body was on the floor near the table. Young Petersen was sitting on a couch in the room and uninterested to answer any questions.

"In my opinion," said Leach, "he was sane."

Delt took a statement from Petersen following the slaying.

"Do you think he (Petersen) knew it was wrong to kill that girl?" District Attorney Will Wilson asked.

"Yes," Delt replied.

"In my opinion he was sane," he added.

Young Dems In Meeting

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—The National Democratic Club of Georgia was here to welcome the delegates with Assistant Secretary of the Interior C. Girard Davidson, who was a principal speaker at opening ceremonies.

Democratic leaders, five governors, a handful of congressmen and senators, and several top government officials are on hand for speeches.

Several issues already have arisen which could bring heated discussion on the convention floor.

President Truman's civil rights program is one of these. It was understood the Resolutions Committee, meeting in executive session last night in a pre-convention conference, tabled a resolution which would have proposed that the convention endorse the civil rights program and urge its enactment.

Roy G. Baker of Sherman, Texas, attorney for national president of the YDC, who was reported favoring adoption of the resolution, declined comment on the committee action.

The National Constitution Committee has voted to present two amendments to the convention. One would limit the power of the president by making regional directors elective, rather than appointive. The other would lower the age limit for YDC membership from 40 to 35. Both would become effective in 1951 if approved by the convention.

Combat-Type Ships Banned At National

WASHINGTON (AP)—Orders banning combat-type planes at Washington National Airport—scene of a disastrous air collision this month—may be followed by steps toward closing of two famous military airfields located nearby.

This move to virtually clear the immediate Washington area of military air traffic was reported under discussion by officials of the armed forces and civil aviation agencies.

A series of reports on near-crashes between military and commercial aircraft in the Washington area has built up strong pressure for such action.

The first step in that direction was taken yesterday, when the Civil Aeronautics Administration ordered all combat-type aircraft—whether military or civilian-owned—to stay away from the crowded commercial field. National is the only civil field in the area available to large planes.

That move may be followed by another step, suggested by several members of Congress, under which Anacostia Naval Air Station and Bolling Air Force Base in southeast Washington would be converted to building sites and parking lots.

Once among the most famous military air fields in the nation, Anacostia and Bolling Field lie end-to-end along the eastern shore of the Potomac River directly across from National Airport.

The CAA crackdown on the operation of combat-type airplanes at National will be felt most by corporations which use converted bombers as speedy executive transport. The military also uses converted bombers to carry high ranking officers.

Concern about crowded air lanes over the capital reached a peak after the collision between a civil-owned F-56 fighter and an Eastern Airlines DC-4 by which 55 persons died Nov. 1. Public hearings by a board of inquiry ended Monday.

Since then, Eastern Airlines has filed three complaints of close flying by military planes. Military pilots in turn have filed two complaints against Eastern, one involving a low turn-over Bolling and one concerning flight over a restricted area while a bombing practice was in progress.

An Air Force converted bomber also reported a near miss with an advertising blimp this week (See COMBAT, Page 9)

U.S. at Odds With Both Sides in China Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced today that American diplomats in Eastern Asia will hold a regional conference at Bangkok in January. President Truman is sending Philip C. Jessup, the administration's top diplomatic trouble shooter, to it.

Washington (AP)—The United States found itself at odds today with both sides in the conflict in China. Secretary of State Acheson was trying to figure out what to do about the situation.

On the one hand he had the problem of taking new and if possible more forceful steps to get Council General Angus Ward released from a Communist jail at Mukden.

On the other hand he was confronted with a need for decision on what position this government should take regarding the shelling of the American merchant ship, The Flying Cloud, by a Chinese Nationalist warship. The warship was seeking to enforce a blockade of Communist held ports which the United States does not recognize as a legal blockade.

Acheson told a news conference yesterday the State Department is doing everything it can and considering all possible steps to obtain Ward's release. What steps may be actually under study he did not say. Diplomats were trying to puzzle out whether there really was any effective action this government could take beyond trying to persuade the Communist authorities to change their tough attitude toward the whole case.

In one instance involving the detention of two ECA staff members by Communist authorities in Northern Korea, the United States asked the Russian government to release them in return. Acheson disclosed yesterday that the Russians had promised to intervene with the Korean Red regime. This raised the speculation that a similar appeal might be made in the Ward case but there was no evidence that the State Department was seriously considering such a move.

The Flying Cloud incident had already produced an American protest to the Chinese Nationalist government. This was on the grounds that American lives were endangered when the Nationalist warship shelled the vessel which was outbound from Shanghai Tuesday.

In announcing this protest, Acheson carefully pointed out that it was solely concerned with the danger to the Americans on the vessel. It did not go into questions, involving legal issues, arising out of the blockade itself.

Railroad Rates In East Hiked

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Another raise in basic railroad passenger fares in the East now has government sanction. Coach tickets will move above the price of prewar pullmans.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, splitting 6 to 4, issued the increase authority to 61 Eastern lines late Monday. It may be made effective on five days' notice to the public.

The upward revision will go to 3.75 cents per mile in coaches and 4.5 cents per mile in pullman cars.

This compares with 2-cent coach and 3-cent pullman rates in 1941. Four increases since advanced Eastern rates more than 50 percent.

Southern and Western railroads in the same period have made advances of about 20 percent.

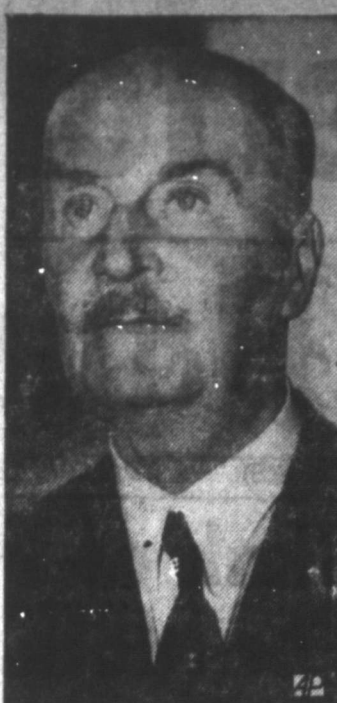

Truman to Take Rest at Key West

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman plans to fly to Key West, Fla., Nov. 28 for a three week stay.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross gave out this word officially, confirming reports that have circulated for several weeks.

He said Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, probably will be in Key West for at least part of the three weeks.

As Ross described the plans, it will be a "working vacation" for Mr. Truman.

Weekly Pay Is Getting Complicated

By RADER WINGET

NEW YORK — (AP) — Things are getting so complicated that it's almost necessary to have a statistician figure out how much money you really make in a week.

For instance, the average factory worker is making more money than he did even during the wartime boom — but his real earnings are less. That is, his week's work buys less goods.

Total personal income so far this year tops all previous years except the average for 1948, which was the all-time peak. But even in that year nearly one-third of the nation's individuals and families made less than $2,000 a year in cash.

And the whole picture is being complicated further for the average man by hidden wages in the form of pensions and insurance paid for by the employer. He never sees this money until he is 65 years old, or until he breaks a leg and gets laid up. Death benefits, of course, help the family.

The National Industrial Conference Board, a non-profit research organization, finds that the average weekly earnings of production workers in manufacturing amounted to $54.60 in August, the most recent figure.

That is 129 percent higher than the average 10 years ago. Even the peak year of 1944 when everyone was working overtime and getting premium pay, the average was only 93 percent above 1939. Top pay, incidentally, was earned last December — an average of $56.14 a week. All of 1948 averaged $54.14 a week.

The question is: "How much of that income is spendable, and how much will it buy?" In other words, when you bring home your pay envelope minus income tax and social security payments, what can you and your wife buy with it?

The conference board says you can buy 33.5 percent more as of last August than you could 10 years ago, even though you'd only gross pay is 129 percent higher today than it was then.

Back in 1944 during the war when there was price fixing and rationing, your pay got you 48 percent more goods than in 1939, even though you were grossing only 68 percent more than you did in 1939.

That shows higher prices cut back the enlarged earnings since the war.

But it also shows that the average factory worker is well

Five-Percenters Must Be Listed

NEW YORK — Businessmen bringing five-percenters to help them secure government orders soon will have to list them in their contracts, according to Business Week.

The magazine says the following clause is being inserted in all contract forms of the General Services Administration: "Did you retain anyone to help you get this business? If so, who, and how much did you pay?" These questions also will be asked on future military contracts.

In the case of unusually high fees, it is expected the money will be deducted from the price paid by government. There will be no penalty for normal payments for normal go-between services.

ahead of the game so far as the comparison with prewar years is concerned.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Barcenate, you buy a prevention for taking of weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barcenate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction. Just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcenate. Pour this into a glass and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two table-spoonsfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 56 pounds
Here is what Mrs. L. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 55, Whiteside, Texas, wrote me: "I want to tell you what Barcenate has done for me. I weighed 285 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 129. I have taken my dress size down from size 50 to 44 and never felt better in my life and everybody tells me how much slimmer I look than I did. I am still taking Barcenate as I want to get my weight down to 145 or 150 pounds."

You likely see a recognition of his position in the fact that while the public likes to refer to him as "Bonnie Prince Charlie," he always as called "Charles" in his royal home. He has no nickname, like most little fellows.

By the way, one of my acunts tells me that when the irrepressible Princess Margaret Rose was informed of his birth she asked what he would be called. When told that his name would be Charles she wise-cracked: "Then I suppose I shall be known as 'Charlie's Aunt.'"

Workers Set New Safety Record

CHICAGO — Workers in American industry were safer in 1948 than in any year in history, the National Safety Council reported. Reports to the council, as shown in the 1949 edition of its statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts," indicates that disabling injuries per 1,000,000 man-hours averaged 11.49 for all reporting industries in 1948. This is a 13 percent reduction from the 13.28 rate the year before, and a new record. An average of 1.12 days were lost per 1,000 man-hours worked in all industries last year, a reduction of 9 percent from 1947 — also the best on record. In both years lumbering had the highest accident frequency rate, but it was reduced 15 percent in 1948 — from 59.74 to 49.04. Coal mining, with the greatest accident severity rate both years, went down from 7.96 to 7.61, a 4 percent reduction. Communications again ranked as the safest among reporting industries in 1948. It had the lowest frequency and severity rates last year, as well as the year before. A fence made out of shrubbery of any sort is known as a "living fence." Court Rules On Service

DALLAS — (AP) — The Texas & Pacific Motor Transport Co. can go on giving truck service to towns not on the Texas & Pacific Railroad. A special three-judge federal court ruled yesterday that the Interstate Commerce Commission has no right to enforce its order that the company must stop that kind of service. Federal District Judge Benjamin C. Dawkins of Monroe, La., dissented, but he did not file a minority opinion. Federal Judges William H. Atwell of Dallas and Edwin R. Holmes of New Orleans said enforcement of the order would be "confiscation... destruction." The transport company is owned by the T&P Railroad. The truck line has been operating in Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico under ICC permits which allowed it to provide service that was "auxiliary to and supplemental of" rail service furnished by the T&P. In January, 1948, the ICC ruled that the trucking company could not serve a point not on the rail line, that it must charge regular rail freight rates, and that it could not interchange freight with other truck lines. The special ruling was to have gone into effect last Aug. 4, but it was held up until after the hearing. The transport company attorneys claimed the firm had almost $400,000 invested in equipment and ICC permits. "After permitting acquisition of these certificates, could ICC issue orders which destroy their value?" Judges Atwell and Holmes asked in the decision. "No one learned in the law could permit an affirmative answer to that question."

Golden MARMALADE CAKE
Quick-mixed recipe
Mix together in a large bowl:
2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
2 tsp. double-action baking powder (4 tsp. single-action)
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. salt
Add:
1/2 cup Snowdrift (Emulsified, egg-binding)
1/2 cup milk
Mix enough to dampen flour. Beat 2 minutes. If by hand, count beating time only. With electric mixer, use "low speed." Scrape bowl often; scrape beaters after 2 minutes.
Add:
2 eggs
1 tsp. lemon juice
1/2 cup orange marmalade
Beat 1 minute for Snowdrift-smooth batter. Pour into 2 greased 8" layer pans lined with plain paper. Bake in moderate oven (325° F.) about 25 minutes. Cool. Fill and top with—
MARMALADE FILLING: Cream 2 tbsp. Snowdrift and 2 tbsp. butter together. Add 3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar and 1/2 cup lemon juice alternately; beat until of spreading consistency. Frost cake. Decorate top with 1/2 cup orange marmalade. (If marmalade is too stiff, add a few drops of water.)

Quarter Horse Associations To Be Unified

OMAHA — (AP) — Fanciers of the quarter horse, the "all purpose Western saddle horse," have voted to merge three rival associations into a single big association.

In Omaha Monday officers of the National Quarter Horse Breeders Association canvassed votes from its membership and announced the group would join with the American Quarter Horse Association and the American Quarter Horse Racing Association in forming one big unit of 15,000 members, known as the American Quarter Horse Association.

Hereafter one registry or "stud book" will include all the 25,000 horses previously covered in the books of the three groups. National offices will be maintained at Amarillo, Texas.

The quarter horse is defined by ranchers of the West and South as an "all purpose Western saddle horse that can be used as a cutting horse, calf-roping horse, cow pony or a short distance race horse."

The final action in the consolidation will be taken next March when the American Quarter Horse Association meets at Amarillo to vote to absorb the two retiring associations.

Aggravated Assault Charges Against Man

DALLAS — (AP) — A 65-year-old man was brought into county criminal court on a charge of aggravated assault. The complaining witness, a 15-year-old girl, said he "put his arms around me and asked me to be his sweetie pie." Both are employes of a pie-making concern.

Airliners May Start Carrying Bassinets

PRESTWICK, Scotland — (AP) — If this keeps up, transAtlantic airliners are going to have to start carrying bassinets as regular equipment.

A baby girl was born—halfway across the Atlantic between Prestwick and Gardner, Newfoundland—to a Polish woman aboard a Scandinavian air line plane carrying 60 displaced persons to New York.

She was the second transAtlantic "air-born" baby in less than a month.

Mother of the girl was Mrs. Leokadia Holbiecki, already a mother of three.

Stream Flow Thousand Percent of Normal

AUSTIN — (AP) — Texas stream flow last month ranged from 17 percent of normal in the West to 1,250 percent of normal in the East.

The United States Department of the Interior reporting Tuesday credited the Eastern runoff as the highest ever recorded there during October.

Normal runoff for the month was reported along a line bisecting the state from the northwest corner of the Panhandle to Port Lavaca.

The excessive runoff for almost the entire eastern quarter of the state came principally during the intense local floods in and around Houston.

Christmas cards were first used in the U.S. in 1874.

General Pick to Make Texas Tour

DALLAS — (AP) — Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of engineers, department of the Army, will arrive here for a Texas tour Nov. 18.

General Pick will be honored at a Chamber of Commerce dinner in Dallas on the 18th and the next day will inspect several dam sites in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. He will be honored at a luncheon in Fort Worth the 19th.

On the 20th, the general will fly to Brownsville to attend the 44th annual meeting of the Intra-Coastal Canal Association.

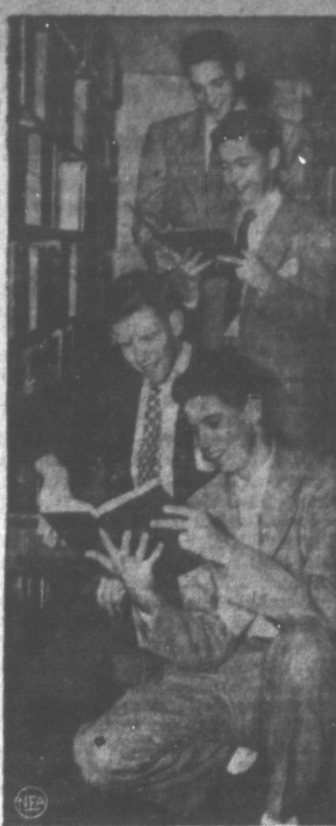

SMU Trustees to Perform Ceremony

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Two trustees of Southern Methodist University will officiate at the wedding Friday of Vice President Alben Barkley and Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley.

Methodist Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of St. Louis will perform the ceremony. He will be assisted by the Rev. Alben Odobold, pastor of St. John's Methodist Church in St. Louis.

Bishop Holt formerly was bishop of the Dallas area.

Power Officials On National Tour

ATLANTA — (AP) — Three power company officials are planning a coast-to-coast tour to interest security dealers in the Southern Company.

C. B. McManus, president of the Georgia Power Company, J. F. Crist, vice president of the Southern Company, and L. M. Smith, vice president and general manager of the Alabama Power Company, will make the trip.

They met first with security dealers in San Francisco today. Later meetings have been arranged for Los Angeles, Nov. 17; Dallas, Nov. 18; Chicago, Nov. 21; New York, Nov. 22; Atlanta, Nov. 23 and Boston, Nov. 28.

Texans Warned Not To Aim Too Low

PLAINVIEW — (AP) — Rep. George Mahon of Texas has warned West Texans not to aim too low in any community programs for water resources.

Mahon spoke to 250 city water and sewer superintendents and their employes gathered here for a regional session.

Speaking of the proposed Canadian River dam, Mahon said that every gallon of water from the Canadian would mean a gallon of water for irrigation in this area.

Five water and sewer associations covering 65 counties were represented.

Permission Sought For Gas Pipeline

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. asked the Power Commission Tuesday for authority to build 500 miles of line to pipe 200,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas daily into New England.

The estimated cost of the project is $68,684,100.

The commission also has before it an application from North-easters Gas Transmission Co. to serve New England with natural gas purchased from Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. and Transcontinental Gas Pipeline Co.

Railroad Seeks to Cut Down Train Run

FORT WORTH — (AP) — The Fort Worth & Denver City Railroad wants to stop off its Houston-Dallas local run at Waxahachie.

Dallas R. Wright, vice president said yesterday the company asked the Railroad Commission for permission to do this because no stops are made between Waxahachie and Dallas. Passengers who want to go on to Dallas from Waxahachie could transfer to other trains, he said.

Business Failures

NEW YORK — (AP) — Business failures increased to 222 in the week ended Nov. 10 — the highest figure since 239 in the first week in April — Dun and Bradstreet reported.

The business reporting service said last week's figure compared with 196 in the preceding week, and 96 a year ago.

New Law Firm Formed Here

A new law firm for Pampa was officially formed late yesterday afternoon when Atty. J. S. Maguire became the junior partner of Douglass and Maguire.

Formation of the partnership between Maguire and Atty. Curtis Douglass has been in the making for several months but the consolidation went into effect only yesterday.

The firm will be located in the offices of Douglass with Maguire giving up his fourth floor office in the Combs-Worley Bldg.

This was the second new law firm to be organized here in the past four weeks. The first was the Rogers-Thompson firm when James Thompson, formerly of Amarillo, became the junior partner of Atty. Walter E. Rogers.

The Rogers-Thompson offices are next door to the office formerly used by Maguire.

Maguire entered law practice in Gray County with the late S. D. Stennis and then went on his own when Mr. Stennis died 18 months ago.

On the social side, Maguire currently is serving as governor of Pampa Lodge 1385, Loyal Order of Moose.

Maguire came to Pampa in De-

20-30 Club Seeks Charter

Members of the new Pampa 20-30 Club met Tuesday night at the Court House Cafe to discuss plans to obtain a charter from the International about Dec. 16.

The organizational meeting was held the first week in November and Bill Nellis, Jr., was named temporary chairman. Committees were set up Tuesday to make arrangements for a chartering party.

The 20-30 is a young man's civic club with particular interest stressed for young men who are not already connected with other civic organizations.

"Youth to be served must serve" is the motto for the international club boasting of approximately 8,000 members. Anyone desiring further information on the club and its activities is urged to contact Nellis, James Hart, Bill Waggoner, John Mosley or Bob Quick.

Next meeting of the organization will be at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Court House Cafe.

Fraternity Group In Convention

DALLAS — (AP) — The national convention of Sigma Delta Chi began with a proposed code of ethics for newspapermen up for discussion.

Such a code was assigned for study by a committee, said Neal Van Sooy, California editor and publisher and president of the national professional journalism fraternity.

But the committee split on the proposal, Sooy said.

The code will be submitted to a forum on press-ethics sometime during the convention, which runs through Saturday. Convention speakers will include E. M. (Ted) Dealey, president of The Dallas News; Mason R. Smith of The Gouverneur, N. Y., Tribune-Press; Miguel Lanz Duret, publisher of El Universal of Mexico City; and Grove Patterson, editor-in-chief of The Toledo Blade.

Camp Lake Is Being Filled

Water has been turned into the new lake at Camp Ki-O-Wah, Paul Beisenberg, Scout executive, said this morning.

The lake, constructed by the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, is expected to be full in from 30 to 60 days, he continued.

Meanwhile representatives from nearly every Scout troop in the Santa Fe District will go to the lake tomorrow and Saturday morning to plant trees around the new dining lodge.

Land around the lodge has been graded and landscaped. Winter oats will be planted around the building.

Scouts and Scoutmasters from the following troops plan to make the good turn camp: 4, R. M. Barrett, Scoutmaster; 14, John McClellan, Scoutmaster; 18, Jim McClellan, Scoutmaster; 22, Russell Cartwright, Scoutmaster; 80, Flaudie Gallman, Scoutmaster; Explorer Crew 80, Lester Hart, leader; Explorer Post 80, Steve Oates, leader.

The cooking experts say that cider can be used in making the finest kind of apple pie. It also is a help in apple pies.

Short courses in agriculture are conducted by many universities and colleges annually.

Team Guest of Miami Legion

MIAMI — (Special) — Seventy-six Legionnaires and their guests attended a chicken chowder in the Legion hall Tuesday evening.

Besides the members and their guests the members of the Warrior squad were invited with their dates.

Commander Jim Reeves presided at the introduction of guests.

When Mayor and Mrs. R. J. Bean were presented, the mayor responded by thanking the Legion for its cooperation in civic improvements.

Judge Woody Pond who had charge of arrangements for the food introduced those who assisted him — J. S. Fuqua, who prepared the chowder and Noah Reed, his assistant.

Eleven new members were added, bringing the Legion's 1950 membership to 40.

Germany Is Taking Part In Europe

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Defeated Germany is moving closer, within limits, to taking its part in European affairs again.

This week the three big foreign ministers met in Paris: Acheson for the U. S., Bevin for Britain, Schuman for France.

Thursday night they issued a report saying vaguely that they want Germany back in the swim, gradually. Details will come later.

They are reported to have agreed — although not saying so specifically — that the Western German Republic and the Saar should be admitted to an "associate" membership in the Council of Europe.

(The U. S., Britain and France had set up the Western German Republic. This is not the government in Eastern Germany created by the Russians.)

Here is an explanation of the Council of Europe and what an "associate" membership in it means.

In 1948 Winston Churchill gave a big push to the idea that there should be unity among the nations of Europe. So a Council of Europe has been set up. There is still no real unity. The council is only a first step in that direction.

There are 13 member nations in the council: Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Ireland, Iceland, Luxembourg, Greece, Turkey.

This council is a kind of congress, or parliament, of nations, the first of its kind in Europe. It can't enforce anything. It can only recommend what should be done. For example:

While the 13 nations take part in the council, no one of them or any group of them can tell any other in the council what they must do.

The council is divided into two bodies: a committee of ministers and a consultative assembly.

Since the assembly won't meet again until next year, Germany and the Saar will have to stay out until then. Why? Because "associate" membership means:

It can be a member, by having delegates in the assembly. But it can't be represented in the committee of ministers, the controlling force in the council.

Registered Nurses Plan Social Meeting

Pampa's Registered Nurses Club recently met at the Chamber of Commerce office to plan a social meeting featuring Dr. D. P. Bonner as guest speaker.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Floyd Ward, 719 N. Frost.

The club was organized last month for all former and active registered nurses in Pampa.

Safest Person in U.S. Has Moved

CHICAGO — The safest person in the United States has moved. It used to be that little girl in Connecticut — remember? The National Safety Council's nominee for the mythical safety title is still a little girl, but she now lives in New Jersey.

The Council figures it this way: The 1948 edition of "Accident Facts," the Council's statistical yearbook, shows that New Jersey had the lowest accident fatality rate of any state last year.

The safest age group in the country was the 5-14 bracket. And for some reason, little girls seem to be safer than little boys.

THE STORY: Hagar Blair and Audrey Yaker both want to buy a valuable cameo. Both Nell O'Neil and Tom Falter claim to own it. All five in a western art colony. Hagar, setting out to see Falter about the cameo. Ends the cameo box in her car, and the cameo is gone. Meanwhile, Nell and Yaker have gone to Nell's place, where Tom O'Neil, Nell's husband, is in his cups. Learning that Falter might be at his home, Yaker slips out. Later Nell goes, leaving Tom alone with Bob Kline, the grocer.

UPON recovery from her first minutes of stupefaction after finding the empty cameo box on the seat of her car, Hagar Blair had driven up Hillside Road to think out what her discovery might indicate, and what to do about it.

Opening the box, she ran her fingers across the purple velvet lining—idly she picked with her fingernail at the edge of the cushion. The cushion tilted. Hagar attempted to push it back into place, but it had become wedged. Using a hair pin as a lever, she dug carefully at the side of the velvet cushion to put it straight. It finally popped out. Hagar brushed the loose glue out of the box, blowing into it to remove the small particles. She held it close to the light to appraise its condition, and it was then that she noticed the numbers. There were two sets of figures, engraved one beneath the other, and a single figure at the bottom. Probably some jeweler's code number, she decided. Arranged in a peculiar way, though, for that sort of thing: 10-4; and below that, 8-2; and below that, 6.

She pressed the cushion back in place and closed the box. She started the motor. Pulling the wheel hard over, she whirled the little car around and pointed its nose downhill.

SHE brought the car to a bouncing stop in front of Falter's mail box. As she climbed out and slammed the door, she was jeering at herself.

"So far, old lady, you've behaved like a stupid cat worrying at the tail the lizard has left behind." She climbed the steps to Martin's porch. "Well, here's hoping it's not too late to catch the lizard!"

Hagar saw a light inside and pounded on the door.

"Falter? Hey, it's me! Hagar. I've come to talk business."

She leaned against the door. It creaked open about two feet and stopped.

She stepped inside and looked around. What a pigsty! There was a bottle of red wine overturned on the floor and a murky pool had spread out, around and under it.

Probably lying drunk on his bed, Hagar decided, and made up her mind to prove it. She approached the half-open door of what she judged would be the bedroom and peeked inside.

She froze for a few seconds, then her body perked up into boardlike stiffness and she tottered backward into the studio.

Though she could not now see through the bedroom doorway, the picture on the other side was photographed on her brain.

Martin Falter, in blue and white striped pajama trousers, sprawled across the bed, the hair on his naked chest matted with glistening dark red, his head lolling on the edge of a round pillow-bolster, and the whole dreadful tableau startlingly illuminated by the light of a fluorescent reading lamp.

Here eyes lost their look of vacant horror and became only astonished and curious as they darted over the disordered studio.

Except for the spilled wine, Hagar thought, there was no sign of a fight. She noticed, then, that the front door was wide open and went over to close it. She reached for the knob, paused a moment and pushed the door closed with her foot.

Cinching up her nerves, she decided to look for the cameo in the bedroom.

Taking a pair of gloves from her pocket, she slipped them on and walked through the bedroom door on tiptoe and closed it behind her. She kept her eyes off the bed as much as possible.

ON the floor, near the closet door, she saw an open suitcase; a number of clean shirts and socks were strewn around it. Hagar concluded the bag had been already searched and turned her attention to a wardrobe chest opposite the bed. She examined the contents of the drawers and found but a few odds and ends of clothing.

Slowly, then, her eyes averted, she advanced toward the bed. She crouched beside it and, feeling as though she were about to touch a dead snake, slid her hand under the pillow bolster. There was nothing tucked away there, and she was about to withdraw her hand when she realized that the area under the pillow was hard and smooth rather than resilient.

She pressed her fingers down on what seemed to be a wood panel about 10 inches wide which extended from her edge of the bed to a point almost halfway across.

She sat back on her heels and considered: There seemed to be a rectangular piece cut out of the mattress, and in the hole there seemed to be some sort of compartment or box resting on top of the springs. Hagar realized that there was no way of exploring this further without moving Falter's body. She shivered. Then, warily, she untucked the sheet from the side of the bed and peered underneath. Fitted in snugly between the mattress and bedstead was a gray wooden box of a type used by carpenters to carry tools. Hagar slid her hands in on each side of it and pulled—it slid forward quite easily.

Hagar glanced up at the bed and her stomach churned! The pillow bolster was settling as she moved the box from beneath it and Falter's head and shoulders had begun to slant toward her!

Animal Psychologist Made Things Worse Than Before

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Down the street came a horse — trotting sideways.

In the saddle rode Gilbert Warb, looking very uncomfortable. "Giddyap, Pegasus!" said Gilbert to his doleful steed.

Pegasus side-stepped up and halted at a building that bore the sign: "Dr. Ambrose Withers, animal psychologist."

"What can I do for you?" said Dr. Withers. He was a big, raw-boned man with a long face, hair like a mane and huge buck teeth.

"Well, I feel a little silly about this," said Gilbert. He flashed out a newspaper clipping and showed it to the doctor. The clipping said: "London veterinarian says neurotic animals need psychological treatment just like humans."

Dr. Withers nodded. "Just what are your horse's neurotic symptoms?"

"Well," said Gilbert. "The darn fool won't run like any other horse — he will only run sideways."

"H-mm, refusal to face life," murmured the doctor. "Come into my office."

They led Pegasus inside. Withers finally got the horse to lie down on a couch in a private room.

Half an hour later the animal psychologist emerged.

"Is anything serious?" asked Gilbert.

"A strange case indeed, missed the doctor. To begin with your horse doesn't want to be called Pegasus."

"What does he want to be called?"

"Gladys."

"But it isn't that simple," said Dr. Withers. "Gladys is disturbed about her family. She loves her mother, who was a retired thoroughbred. But she hates her father because he was nothing but a common plowhorse in the next pasture."

"But what can I do to cure her?" demanded Gilbert.

"I'll have to psychoanalyze her. I'll give her three consultations a week — at $15 each — and try to convince her she should forget her father and face life on her own four feet."

Six months later he handed Warb a bill for $1,170 and announced — "She's cured."

Gilbert saddled the smiling horse, and she galloped confidently home — straight forward.

Exactly a week later he rode Gladys back.

"A fine thing you did to my horse," he said sternly.

"What's the matter, is she going sideways again?" asked the surprised doctor.

"No, Gladys runs all right," said Gilbert, but every morning at 10 o'clock she insists on coming into the living room plopping down on the sofa and telling her troubles to my wife for an hour."

RFC Raps Plan For Bank Lending

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation rapped a proposal that the Federal Reserve Banks take over part of RFC's lending powers.

RFC Chairman Harley Hise, disagreeing flatly with Federal Reserve Board Chairman Thomas B. McCabe, told a Senate-House Economic Committee studying the government's money and credit policies.

"One source of federal assistance in a particular loan field appears sufficient in the interest of consistent policies and procedure."

McCabe, asking that Congress authorize the reserve banks to lend business up to $500,000,000, recommended that RFC business loans be confined to cases "not suitable" for private or Federal Reserve Bank loans.

Union Head Denounces Red Party Influence

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Emphasis on the increasing strength of labor organizations was coupled with a vicious denunciation of Communist Party influence in labor circles in a speech by Jack Livingston, Detroit, vice president of the United Automobile Workers.

He told more than 500 delegates to the third annual convention of the Southwestern Division of the Communications Workers of America Monday that "Communist-dominated unions are not free unions."

Communications workers are at the bottom of the ladder, Livingston told them, when compared with other industries. Comparative wage scales as of June, 1949, were $1.34 per hour for communications workers; $1.44 for transportation and utilities workers; $1.41 in manufacturing; $1.53 in aircraft work; and $1.63 in steel. The Bureau of Labor statistics said the average communications workers income in June 1949 was $2,787 a year.

The communications workers meeting in San Antonio represent the telephone region of Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma and a part of Illinois.

Boyle Takes Up Problem Of Snakes

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — When I woke up this morning, I reached under my bed for my secret news ticker from Moscow.
Its page was blank. The Russians had had a quiet weekend. They hadn't used atomic energy to move a single mountain or change the course of a single river.
Yawning, I reached under the other side of the bed and pulled out my secret news ticker from Washington. It was completely blank, too. Nobody had resigned from the Cabinet, and even the admirals were silent. What a dull world!
"Quit brushing your teeth and get me my crystal ball — I'll have to look into the future," I called to my wife. She obediently trotted to the closet, opened a hatbox and dragged out my old crystal ball — the $3.98 model that department stores keep in stock for gypsies, happy mediums and unhappy columnists.
Deep inside the ball a message formed: "Notre Dame will go through season undefeated."

Frances laughed: "Ha, ha, that's no news. The sports writers have been saying that for years."
I shook the crystal ball harder and looked again. It read: "It's Truman against Eisenhower in 1952."
"Ha, ha, ha!" chortled my merry helpmate. "I read that already in 27 other newspaper columns last week, Rover Boy."
I threw the ball away in disgust. Then I began to perspire. For I realized that I had reached the dilemma that comes sometime to every columnist — I had nothing to say. No news, no views, no nothing.
Suddenly in this despair I recalled what a columnist of 40 years' experience had told me once when I asked him if he ever ran out of ideas.
"Son," this pulp paper Plato had observed, "as long as sin and poison snakes are alive in this world a man of character and feeling will always have something to write about."
And so today, we will take up the problem of poison snakes — and leave sin for another rainy day topic.
Well, there are 800 different varieties of poisonous snakes creeping and crawling around the earth underfoot. And I, for one, don't intend to let another day pass without pointing out that neither the Republicans nor the Democrats are doing a thing to reform them.

Japanese Girl Learns Ways of Western World

AUSTIN—From bamboo shoots to banana splits is the record of the University of Texas' only student from Japan.
Reiko Okada is a tiny, attractive 22-year-old graduate student in the English Department. She is called "Ray" by the Delta Delta Delta Sorority members who are providing her a home at the university. The Rev. John Barclay and members of Austin's Central Christian Church supplied the Japanese girl's transportation to the U.S.

Reiko is more than just a foreign student, and she is not a "DP" for she has a country and a home to return to. What the 19th Amendment and bobbed hair meant to American women crusading for their rights, Reiko symbolizes for Japanese women. "I had rather study American and English literature than flower arranging and tea pouring as Japanese girls used to do," Reiko said.

Before the American occupation, Japanese women were almost slaves with few privileges and no opportunity for advanced education. Now they are forging ahead in every field; several are members of the Japanese parliament, explains J. W. Riddiesperger, university government teacher who was instrumental in arranging Reiko's trip to Texas.

As background for the University of Texas Graduate School, Reiko had five and a half years of college work in Japan, most of it as a result of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's equality proclamation for Japanese women. At Kobe College she was student body president and valedictorian. "During the war, instead of going to school, all of us had to make airplane parts. Our school buildings were turned into factories," she explained.

"The Americans' habit of saying what they think surprises me," says Reiko. "In Japan we hide our feelings and try to be the same whatever happens. Here the students shout and almost cry at football games and they seem to have a good time all ways."

But the Japanese girl is looking forward to returning home to Mishinomiya to be helpful to her people. She hopes to teach English to factory and business girls at YWCA's and summer camps in Japan, as she did before coming to the U.S.

Gandhi's Killers Hang Together

AMBALA, India — (AP) — The young editor who assassinated Mohandas K. Gandhi and the man who told him to do it were sprung simultaneously through a gallows trap at the Ambala Central Jail Tuesday morning. Their bodies were cremated immediately afterward.

Narayan V. Godse and Narayan B. Apte, two Hindu journalists, walked to their death with smiles on their faces. Their foreheads were painted with sacred marks. Each man carried a small package, presumably of Hindu scriptures, which they were allowed to hold as their hands were tied behind them.

A moment before the trap was sprung the two young fanatics shouted in unison "may the united India be immortal. We salute the holy motherland."

These were the nationalist slogans that had inflamed them to take the life of the sainted Hindu spiritual leader who hated violence so much he tried to end Moslem-Hindu strife.

A witness to the execution, which ended a two-year legal battle following Gandhi's assassination in a New Delhi garden Jan. 30, 1948, said the two men thanked their jailors for their kindness and asked that they "finish the business quickly."

Godse, the 26-year-old editor of the Poona Daily, had fired the shot that killed Gandhi as he walked to prayer in front of hundreds of his followers. Apte, the publisher of the newspaper, was executed for leading the plot. Four other men received sentences of life imprisonment for participation in the plot while a fifth was acquitted.

As the two condemned men stood on the gallows they looked skyward and recited from the Hindu scriptures in the last worship of the sun, which is considered the visible god by the Hindus. They were still smiling as the black hoods were placed over their heads.

An eyewitness said four Brahmin priests attended the cremation, reciting the scriptures and pouring rice and "ghee" (clarified butter) on the burning pyres.

The bones and ashes will be immersed in the holy river Indus at some later date, in compliance with the requests of the youths' relatives.

Although the people of Ambala still did not know whether the two had been hanged or not, the government announced the execution in New Delhi. It took place at 8 a.m. Tuesday.

RECORD CORN CROP—Albert Haley of Midland, Mich., stands beside a crib holding some of the record corn crop his farm yielded. The harvest averaged 163 bushels per acre, compared to an average yield of 46 bushels per acre in the state. Yields like this are helping put the skids under the price of pork chops.

30,000 to Be Separated From Military Service

AUSTIN — The Army plans to offer discharges to 30,000 men who entered the military service under provisions of the Selective Service Act.

Upon completion of 12 months service, these men will be offered immediate discharge beginning Dec. 1. It is anticipated that most of these men will take advantage of the offer. The Texas Military District announced here.

Several thousand trained young soldiers will be phased back to civilian life during the next several months with an obligation to serve in one of the civilian components for three to five years depending on the type of organization they join.

The program will affect some 24,000 inductees and 6,000 21-month Army enlistees, who are expected to request separation. However, all 30,000 of the men affected will be offered these options:

1. Immediate separation from the Army, following the completion of 12 months service, with the Organized Reserve component obligations provided by the law.
2. Completion of 21 months of service, with the same reserve component obligation.
3. Completion of a four of 33 months of service, which would wipe out all obligations to enter

30-Day Special Session Seen

AUSTIN — (AP) — Gov. Allan Shivers said he sees no reason why the special session of the Legislature in January should last more than 30 days.

He said he had not decided a reserve component after separation.

Enlistment in the Regular Army for a period of three or more years, which would, of course, remove any reserve component obligation.

Also eligible for release after completion of 12 months of service are some 400 officers—ROTC graduates who were ordered to 21 months of service under Section Seven of the Selective Service Act.

on the date but imagined it would be "along the last part of January."

"I think it ought to finish in 30 days. I see no reason why it shouldn't," he said.

The problem is to provide for needs of the state's eleemosynary institutions and find a source of revenue to cover the costs.

The Governor gave his views on the session at a press conference.

Stars May Be Coached on Visits to NY

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Movie stars may soon be able to consult a handbook called "How to visit New York without being maimed or defamed."

The need for such a tome is great, says Frank Sinatra, who is willing to be the author.

"It's murder for any celebrity to visit New York," said Frankie, who bravely returns to the town in a few days. "I know many movie stars who say they'll never go there any more. Cary Grant for one."

The escapades of Humphrey Bogart and Errol Flynn are examples of how a star can get in trouble there, the crooner said.

"A lot of people are gunning for you," he said, "and you can't always brush them off."

He named one night spot he always avoids.

"They hate movie stars there. The first time I walked into the joint I could just feel the unfriendliness. It was during the last Roosevelt campaign and some society girl started heckling me because I was wearing an FDR button. Finally I got so mad I told her off and almost got in a fight with her boy friend."

He told of another time at the spot when a character kept glaring at Frankie all evening. The crooner knew it meant trouble and started to leave. The guy followed and got quarrelsome outside, so Frankie slugged him. No, it didn't make the papers.

And then there are the "fans." Not the real fan-clubbers, who are bread-and-butter to Frankie and other stars. There is another kind.

"There's a bunch of girls that call themselves the 'little monsters,'" he told me. "And believe me, they are."

Garner Goes on Annual Deer Hunt
UVALDE — (AP) — Eighty-year-old John Nance Garner and an old crony packed a pick-up with camping equipment, tied a canoe on top and set off Tuesday on a deer hunt.

The former vice president said they were going to sleep out in the open and were "gonna stay until we get our limit." That's two deer apiece for the Texas season.

With Garner was Uvalde Garagamon Ross Brumfield. This is the 30th year that the two have gone on an annual deer hunt. Last year they went on Garner's 80th birthday — Nov. 22.

ICE CREAM WITH NO SCREAMS—Your ice cream man may soon be equipped with an ultra-modern tricycle delivery wagon, such as this plastic-top model exhibited recently at a dairy show in London. The vehicle was designed to eliminate customer complaints about dirty ice cream sold in London streets.

Lodge Initiates 18 New Members

Eighteen candidates were taken through the short form obligation last night by Pampa Lodge 1385, Loyal Order of Moose, in lodge's new home at 403 E. Brown, formerly the Terrace Grill.

A general discussion on plans for renovations of the building, at a later date, took up most of the business period.

The lodge voted unanimous approval to permit the Stanolind Oil Co. to use the auditorium Friday night for a private affair. The company had reserved the room some time ago and had no other place to use due to the short notice arising out of the ownership change of the building.

Gov. J. B. Maguire announced the first Saturday night dance would be held this weekend with Gene Lively's band from Amarillo and that dances would be held every Saturday night through the winter season. Bernie Howell will furnish the music for the lodge's Christmas dance and party on Dec. 15, Maguire said.

The Navy promptly retorted that the airliner was off course, flying through a danger area where high altitude bombing practice was going on. The Navy plane, it said, flew close enough to the DC-3 to get its number.

But from this the Spokane Air Base was able to determine it was one of 13 which started out at 3 p. m. yesterday on a round-robin flight (no landings and return to home base) over Sacramento, San Francisco, Stockton and Salt Lake City. They were at 28,000 feet most of the time.

Searchers were led by a C-54 from the Fairfield-Suisun Air Force Base which is located near the delta country. It flew through the fog with a scant 200 feet visibility — just enough to scan the ground.

Capt. K. D. McFarland, information officer of the Spokane Air Force Base, said the other touring planes would not all complete the round robin as planned.

They encountered bad weather. Three put down at Hill Field near Ogden, Utah, another landed at McClellan Air Force Base near Sacramento. The rest, McFarland said, were still in the air early today without reaching a decision on landing.

Fanciful Cognomens Picked In Farm-Naming Contest

PARIS, Texas — (AP) — "I have named my farm 'Lumbago' because it has a creek (creek) in it." That's one among scores of entries received in the "Name-Your-Farm-and-Ranch" contest sponsored by the Paris News. The News still has its feet planted firmly in the soil, its agricultural-minded publisher, A. G. (Pat) Mayse says.

The contest offers $500 in cash prizes for the most appropriately named farms and ranches in Northeast Texas and Southeast Oklahoma. The top prize is $150. Others are $100, $75, $50 and there are five prizes of $25 each.

The contest is aimed at promoting greater pride in farm and ranch ownership. Most of the entries reflect sincerity and serious thought.

"Some are sentimental. 'Paradise Hill' is the name chosen by one couple who have worked long and hard to become sole owners of a small piece of land. 'It's just a little place,' they wrote, 'and may not be regarded as a good farm. But it is what we have dreamed about for years and to us the little house and hillside acres mean Paradise.'"

The names also advertise the variety of farm crops and products. There is a "Cotton Bowl Farm," a "Hilltop Dairy," a "Hereford Ranch," and others of that order. There is also a "Combination Farm," as well as "Diversified Acres."

Trees are a popular tie-in for names. Oak, walnut, pine, willow, cedar and pleasant groves are all used. Even the general topography is not overlooked.

news conference (3 p. m., CST). Officials indicated that he may propose the special fact board first, and if Lewis rejects that idea, invoke the Hart-Whitely emergency provisions by Monday.

The six-month-old coal dispute was put in the President's hands yesterday. Cyrus S. Ching, Federal Mediation Service chief, reported to the White House there seemed to be little use in trying further to get Lewis and the operators to agree on a compromise.

Lewis has asked for more wages and shorter hours for miners. He also wants a boost in the present 20-cents-a-ton royalty on coal production which goes to finance his union's welfare fund. The fund pays for miners' pensions and insurance benefits.

Coal operators have refused to boost their labor costs. They have sought to renew their old miners' contract. It expired last July. But the operators are demanding some contract pledge against frequent strikes and, also, safeguards on welfare fund spending.

Lewis called off a 52-day strike last week. But his truce expires Dec. 1 and he has broadly hinted the walkout will be renewed then if his demands aren't granted.

In turning the stalemate over to Mr. Truman, Ching reported that the disputants seemed even further apart from a settlement than they were last July. He said that for him to try getting Lewis and the operators negotiating again might "retard, rather than accelerate" a settlement.

"It is our considered judgment that further mediation at this time would be fruitless," Ching told reporters.

who identified himself as "K. L. Petersen" a pistol the day of the crime; and Ben Burch, Negro porter at the Southland Life Building where the slaying occurred.

Burch said he saw Petersen go towards a rest room in the building ten minutes before Miss Schofield was shot. (Petersen told reporters after the slaying that he loaded the pistol in a rest room of the office building.)

Dr. F. T. Harrington, Dallas psychiatrist, said yesterday Petersen is insane. Neighbors, a friend of the slain girl, and a college teacher pictured Keith as a moody, self-styled intellectual who hated his mother and worshipped the girl he shot.

Lewis Petersen, father of the handsome blond youth, cried as he read into the record a morose note he said Keith had written. Dr. Harrington said Keith is a paranoid-schizophrenic who thinks the world is against him and whose thinking, emotions and actions fail to run parallel to reality.

Young Petersen broke silence three times yesterday. He had not spoken the first two days of the trial. When Assistant District Attorney Henry Wade asked a witness if she knew Carolyn dated other boys, Keith blurted, "It's a goddamn lie."

The psychiatrist said, "I don't think he knew it (the killing) was wrong. His only basis for judging right and wrong is how it affects him."

"He believes he did her a favor," the doctor said. "The girl was his possession. When she started seeing other men he felt his possession was slipping away."

Keith said after his arrest that he killed Carolyn because she told him she would marry another man.

"I saw her three times in jail, she is with me always," Doctor Harrington said. Keith told him, Keith, dressed in a blue double-breasted suit, sat apart from the lawyers. Each time he spoke the court ignored him.

Keith's father told of his son's violent moods about ten days before the killing. He said he wanted his son put in an institution but Mrs. Petersen did not.

Under cross-examination the elder Petersen said he had never spanked his son. The father admitted that no doctor was called during the week prior to the killing when, he said, Keith refused to eat or leave the house.

Akron Won't Run Race on Derby Downs

DETROIT—Derby Downs, the world's most unusual race course, in Akron, Ohio, henceforth will be used exclusively for the national finals, as far as the All-American Soap Box Derby is concerned.

The Akron local race, sponsored by the Akron Beacon Journal, will be run on another course which is yet to be selected or constructed.

This announcement was made jointly by C. J. French, executive director of the Derby and advertising manager of the Chevrolet Motor Division, sponsors of the Derby, with 150 leading newspapers, and Ben MacCubbin, executive editor of the Akron Beacon Journal. The Pampa News is one of the sponsoring newspapers.

"We appreciate the voluntary action of the Akron Beacon Journal in moving its local race from Derby Downs," said French. "This removes any psychological feeling among contestants or spectators that the Akron champion, through repeated trips down the course during the Beacon Journal race, may be favored with an advantage through knowing the course better than his fellow competitors in the national championship field."

Three of the ten national champions, who have been crowned at Derby Downs since the course was opened in 1926, have represented Akron and the Beacon Journal. No other city has produced more than two champions. The only city that has produced two champions is White Plains, N. Y., while other champions have come from St. Louis, Omaha, Detroit, San Diego, and Charleston, W. Va.

Despite the fact that the Akron local race has always been held on Derby Downs, it was not until 1941 that a hometown boy was crowned national champion for the first time.

The famed Derby course not only has produced champions from many parts of the country but it has also produced champions in all three of its racing lanes.

The actual race course is 475.4 feet from the starting line to the control bridge at the finish line. Permanent grandstands, pedestrian tunnel under the track, press box, ultra-modern top-side facilities, telegraphic, radio, and television, and many other unique features make Derby Downs a most modern racing plant, as well as the most unusual in the world.

Henceforth, this famous racing strip, so far as the Soap Box Derby is concerned, will be in operation only on All-American Day, when the champions from 150 American cities, plus those from foreign countries, will seek national and international honors.

The thirteenth All-American and International Soap Box Derby will be held Sunday, Aug. 13, 1950.

Pampa city champions who have raced on the track at Derby Downs are: Hugh Blevens (1939), Mark Bratton (1940), Bobbie Desmond (1941), Carl Jennings (1942), Lee McKinney (1947), Walter Colwell (1948), and Jerry Doggett (1949).

Texas Board Rules On Sale of Liquor

HOBART, Okla.—(AP)—Klowna County Sheriff Leon Jennings has been notified by the Texas Liquor Control Board he cannot legally sell confiscated liquor to licensed dealers in Texas.

Oklahoma is Constitutionally dry. Under a law passed by the last Oklahoma Legislature sheriffs are permitted to sell confiscated liquor instead of destroying it. The law is now being tested in Carter County.

A letter from Bohm Hilliard, member of the board, said in part: "You are advised that under the provisions of the Texas Liquor Control Act it is impossible to permit liquor to be sold to the holders of permits in the state of Texas, by sheriffs or other officers in the state of Oklahoma."

FDIC Against Raising Limit

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) came out against raising the $5,000 top-limit of insurance it provides for any one's bank account.

"There would be no benefit to be gained" from the standpoint of general economic and financial stability, FDIC Chairman Maple T. Hari told a Senate-House Economic Committee studying government money and credit policies.

YELLOW

and in 1/4 lb. prints, your favorite... NUCOA!

1. Such Flavor!
As sweet and fresh as an herb-scented butter. And Nuccoa margarine is as rich in food energy and as fine a year-round source of Vitamin A as any other churned spread.

2. So Smooth!
Nuccoa spreads so smoothly and easily—even when cold. Found after pound, it's as uniformly rich and smooth as the most expensive spreads.

3. All this and Thrifty Too!
Wonderful, wonderful Nuccoa costs little more than half as much as expensive spreads.

YES, YOU CAN STILL BUY REGULAR NUCOA

At times—for extra economy—you may prefer to buy regular Nuccoa. It colors so evenly you'll be delighted. Incidentally, two pounds color almost as quickly as one. One "bowl-mix" gives you two pounds of smooth, delicious Nuccoa all ready to use.

YELLOW OR REGULAR
Save NUCOA proudly at your table...

It's America's most popular margarine

Eddie Waits For Death Or Miracle

WACO — (AP) — Eddie Wayne Franks could smile yesterday. Some folks might feel he didn't have much to smile about. But Eddie learned he was about to leave his Waco hospital room and fly in a big airplane to his grandmother's home in New Castle, Pa. And Eddie has graduated from life under an oxygen tent.

Eddie is 18 months old. He has abdominal cancer. When surgeons discovered the malignancy during an operation, they simply closed the wound.

That operation was a month ago last Sunday. Eddie has had 12 X-ray treatments during the month.

He sits in a big wheel chair now, with pillows propping him straight. He plays a little with a toy doll and a toy dog. He watches gold fish swim in a bowl by the side of his bed.

Constantly, he begs someone to push him from his confining room into the bright Texas sun.

shine he sees through the window.

Eddie's daddy, Wayne Franks, athlete and former Marine, will graduate from Baylor University next weekend. After that the little family will board an airliner for New Castle.

The Pennsylvania city is home to Eddie's mother, the former Anna Ruth Mann. She too was a Marine. She met her future husband in the Marine Base at Quantico, Va., during the war.

Grandma Mann (Mrs. Russell) Lee Mann of New Castle) rushed to Waco as soon as surgeons discovered Eddie's malignancy. She's still here and will make the trip to Pennsylvania with him.

Wayne and Anna Ruth had a message of gratitude to thousands of unknown friends who have contributed financially to the baby's expense. A campaign started on the Baylor campus by Jack Klein, a friend of the Franks, has netted about $700.

A similar campaign started in downtown Waco by I. Ginsberg added another several hundred. Many persons reading of the baby's condition in newspapers contributed more. The Franks don't know the exact amount because it is in various funds, but something in the vicinity of $1700 has been given.

There's no way of knowing how much the expense will be before death or a miracle brings the case to a close.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly In Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass you when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little PASTETTES on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour, check "white odor" (denture breath). Get PASTETTES today at any drug store.

Promised Snow Turns to Soot

OIL CITY, Pa. — (AP) — Residents marveled when they got the snow forecasters promised for Western Pennsylvania last night.

The Weather Bureau hadn't said anything about it being black.

A torrent of soot flakes blanketed the downtown area for fifteen minutes. Police said they were unable to trace the source.

COURAGEOUS SCOUT—Scout Don Lee, 18, who has had no legs since he was nine months old, beams with pride as his foster mother pins an Eagle Scout badge on his chest. The Salt Lake City youth, who lost both legs in an accident 17 years ago, completed all the tough physical requirements for the badge, including a 14-mile hike. Don is saving his money for the trip to the next Scout jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa.

Baby Helps Mermaid's Figure

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — I am pleased to report that Esther Williams' figure is even better since she had a baby.

Yep, it's true. What effects this news will have on the national birth rate is a question. It may help push the U.S. toward the 300,000,000 population mark Mr. Truman has been talking about.

I happened to observe the movie mermaid's figure on the set of "Duchess of Idaho." Strictly from a reporter's viewpoint, you understand, it seemed to me the chassis was as classy as ever. If not classier.

I asked if there hadn't been some improvement in the topography.

"It's strange," she admitted, "but I seem to have lost an inch from my hips. None of my dresses fit anymore."

The vital statistics? "I'm still 36," she said, indicating the general vicinity of her bust, "28 1/2 in the waist and 26 in the hips. I used to be 28 in the hips and 26 in the waist. I should be able to take off that half-inch with no trouble."

But wait a little minute, added Esther. She doesn't want to convey the impression that her frame magically improved after motherhood.

"Other mothers will hate me," she said. "They know it's no cinch to gain back your figure after having a child."

"Every mother owes it to herself and her husband to do all she can to get her figure back to normal. Nature needs a little help in this matter, for only exercise and proper diet can tighten the muscles and tone up your general health."

"I was lucky to be able to start swimming a month after my baby arrived. I have also been conscientiously touching my toes and doing other exercises for the first time in my life. And I feel wonderful."

"It isn't easy, but it's certainly worth the effort. I'd do it even if I weren't in pictures. After all any mother likes to be able to step on the scales without shuddering."

Okay, mothers, take it from here.

Communications Workers May Vote for Strike

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Speakers at the Communications Workers of America Southwestern Division convention are urging support of a strike vote.

The proposed vote would give the union's Negotiating Committee authority to call a strike if wage and other demands are not met before the present contract with Southern Bell Telephone Company expires Dec. 31.

Joseph Beirne, CWA president, and Joe Curran, National Maritime Union president, urged the delegates yesterday to back the proposed vote.

Both Beirne and Curran are vice presidents of the CIO. They said the CIO would give the telephone workers full support if they vote to strike.

Beirne said a resolution adopted at the CWA convention in June made it mandatory for divisions to demand higher wages this year.

The union president said a government fact-finding panel reported that telephone workers were the lowest paid of all the industries considered.

French Lawyers Fight Duel

PARIS — (AP) — Two French lawyers fought a duel with swords Saturday in the suburbs of Paris.

Jean Tixier-Vignancour was the victor, wounding Roger Nordman slightly on the arm.

The duel stemmed from a bitter exchange of words between the two lawyers during a recent trial.

The duel was fought in the hamlet of Marne-la-Coquette, on private property, between Paris and Versailles.

Duelling is illegal, but French police usually wink at such affairs. There was no indication they would take action against the lawyers.

Coyote-Lion Game Expected To Be Best of the Weekend

PAMPANS LOOK GOOD IN DRILLS

The Pampa Harvesters looked good during another day of hard work yesterday afternoon preparing for the Turkey Day game with the heavy Berger Bulldogs. The majority of Tuesday's workout was devoted to specialized defensive tactics to counteract the offense employed by Tricky Ward's men. The Harvesters need that victory over Berger to turn in the first clean conference slate in many seasons for a Pampa team.

Friday will be a day of rest for the Pampans. The coaches will go to Wichita Falls to scout the Wichita Falls-Vernon game. The Harvesters will meet the winner of that game in the bi-district playoffs on December 3. The site of the playoff game will be decided shortly after the Friday night game. Knox Kinard, superintendent of schools, will accompany Coach Tipps and meet with the Harvesters at the site of the playoff game. The loss of the coin will take place after the Coyote-Lion game Friday night, after all other arrangements have been worked out.

Radio Station KPDM announced yesterday afternoon that it would carry the broadcast of the Coyote-Lion game direct from Wichita Falls Friday night. Ken Palmer and Denny Sullivan as usual will be at the microphone. Palmer, station manager, yesterday said "due to the local interest in this game we are bringing it to the local football fans."

Reports from Berger are that the Bulldogs are gunning for the Harvesters, hoping to smash their fine record. The Dogs are big, powerful and fast and could give the Harvesters a lot of trouble.

Austin College To Host Texoma Football Game

DENISON — (AP) — Austin College of Sherman Wednesday accepted a bid to be the host team in the second annual Texoma Bowl football game at Muncie Stadium here Nov. 25.

The up and coming Kangaroos will be opposed by Coach Frank Crider's East Central State Tigers of Ada, Okla., who accepted the other bid late Tuesday.

Both Austin and East Central complete their regular schedules this weekend. The Kangaroos, coached by Ray Morrison, came in second place in the Texas Conference if they defeat Texas A&I at Kingsville Saturday. The Tigers must defeat Southeastern State Friday night at Durant, Okla., to take undisputed possession of second place in the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference.

Reapers Playing Berger Poodles

The Junior High School Reapers are playing Berger this afternoon, closing out their 1949 schedule against the Poodles.

The Reapers, four times victims of the games, will be looking for their first conference victory.

First AA Bi-District Playoff Scheduled

DALLAS — (AP) — Highland Park of Dallas and the Paris Wildcats will meet in Paris Dec. 2 in their Class AA bi-district football game.

Highland Park earned its ninth straight District 8-AA playoff spot by whipping McKinney, 32-6, last week. Paris best Gainesville, 13-7, to get into the playoff as representative of District 7-AA.

(By The Associated Press)

There is no indication that undefeated, untied Wichita Falls and Corsicana have walkways in district championship battles this week that headline the Texas Schoolboy football campaign.

Wichita Falls clashes with Vernon for the title of District 2 in Class AA. Corsicana meets Temple in the big one of District 12, also Class AA.

Comparative records show Wichita Falls boasting an edge but not a big one over Vernon. Wichita Falls beat Pampa 14-6 and that team edged Vernon 8-7. Wichita crushed Quanah 59-0. Vernon licked Quanah 45-0.

Corsicana and Temple stack up almost even. Against common foes they look pretty much alike. Corsicana clubbed Hillsboro 41-0 and Temple beat the Eagles 26-0. Corsicana downed Waxahachie 47-13 and Temple beat Waxahachie 33-13. Those would indicate a margin for Corsicana, but Corsicana only defeated weak Ennis 14-0 and Temple crushed Ennis 40-14.

Other features include the clash of Austin and Corpus Christi for the District 14 championship of Class A. Austin appears a thin choice.

Shakeup Due in Class AA Ball

AUSTIN — (AP) — Three Class AA schools have applied for transfer to Class A football next year, and three others want to switch to new districts.

The Interscholastic League office said yesterday that Jacksonville, Brownfield and Cisco have indicated their desire to drop back to Class A in 1950.

Big Spring, Cleburne and Graham are the schools asking assignment to different AA districts.

Big Spring wants to leave 5-AA and join 3-AA. With Brownfield reverting to Class A, this would give 3-AA a membership of Lamesa, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa and Big Spring.

Graham and Cleburne, now in districts 2-AA and 13-AA, respectively, have requested transfer to 5-AA. Cisco proposes to drop out of this district. That would leave Breckenridge, Mineral Wells, Stephenville, Weatherford, Cleburne and Graham as members.

Jacksonville would part company with District 10-AA if it goes back to Class A competition. The Interscholastic League will release a full list of tentative shifts in conferences AA, A and E in early November.

HUGH GRACEY, Senior backfield man, has seen little action this year, but the few times he has played he has maintained an average of 9.5 yards per try. He will probably see considerable action in the Berger contest Thanksgiving Day.

Veck Takes Blame For Indians' Failure

CLEVELAND (NEA) — Despite the fact that only four times in 49 American League seasons was a Cleveland entry able to win more games in the 1949 edition, Bill Veck blames himself for the Indians' failure to repeat.

Travel Note

John Cahill, 181-pound end on the U. of Georgia Freshman football team, is an Irish-Hawaiian who played in the Honolulu Barefoot League and made the all-island team as halfback. Last season he played for Balboa High in San Francisco and made the all-city team. Wonder if John made the long trek to Gawjuh where folks don't think it strange if a guy likes to go barefoot?

Harvester Cagers Open Season Dec. 2

The Pampa Harvester basketball team will open its 1949-50 season at home on the night of December 2. Children will be the opposition for the first game. The hoopers have been working out practically since the start of school.

Returning lettermen from last year's fine squad will be James Gallemore, Jimmy Howard, Jack Sutton and Dwaine Reno. Other boys fighting for first team berths are Tony Jones, Jimmy Claunch, Ronnie Samples, Marvin Bond and Gordon Yoder. Carl Kennedy, Glenn Tarpley, Elmer Wilson and letterman Tommy Allison will report when football season ends.

The tentative schedule for the Harvesters at the present is as follows: Dec. 2, Childress, here; Dec. 8, Childress, there; Dec. 13, Dalhart, there; Dec. 17, Memphis, there; Dec. 20, Lubbock, there; Dec. 29, 30, 31, Brownwood tournament; Jan. 3, Phillips, here; Jan. 6, 7, Childress tournament; Jan. 12, Berger, here; Jan. 24, Hollis, there; Jan. 27, Berger, there; Feb. 3, Amarillo, there; Feb. 7, Hollis, here; Feb. 10, Plainview, here; Feb. 11, Dalhart, here; Feb. 17, Amarillo, there.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Story making the rounds on the fight beat is that Ben Bodie, former Tournament of Champions president, would like to buy a major league baseball club. Apparently the guy just doesn't give a hang how he loses money. Wonder if there could be any possible connection with the vague rumor that the Giants are on the market and may be sold before Jan. 17. Joe Grabowski, the Chicago Stags' 10-year-old six-foot, ten-inch, is believed to be the youngest player in the National Basketball Association.

He was a ball-retriever at the Chicago Stadium when Judge John Sbarbo, the Stags' prey, saw him trying some shots and signed him up. Toledo U. is expected to make an announcement this week about the Glass Bowl Game — nothing fishy, either.

Negro IL to Crown Orange Champions

ORANGE — (AP) — The Texas Negro Interscholastic League may have an unofficial champion of champions in football this year. The Class AA Lincoln Bumblebees are undefeated after seven games.

The Dragons have won nine games and lost one. The loss was to Central of Galveston in a contest in which the Dragon first string never got into the game.

Each is favored to win the state championship in its class. A crowd of more than 10,000, largest ever to witness a Negro High School football game in Texas, is expected.

The Bumblebees are undefeated after seven games. The Dragons have won nine games and lost one. The loss was to Central of Galveston in a contest in which the Dragon first string never got into the game.

Bowler Finds Out Pins Can Be Lazy

MANSFIELD, O. — (NEA) — Hank Heiser, president of the Mansfield Bowling Association, discovered that tempins can be lazy.

Going after the 5-9-10 split, he watched the five, hit full, barely graze the nine. The latter in turn decided the effort was too much, wound up leaning against the 10 like a laborer on his shovel.

Little Action Expected in Major Draft

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Commissioner A. E. (Happy) Chandler, who will supervise baseball's major league draft today, predicted not more than 15 players will be selected in the annual grab bag.

"I took a look at that list of draft eligibles," the boss of baseball declared, "and there must be 10,000 names on it. But probably no more than 15 will be drafted."

All major league clubs were to be represented at the draft this morning, but four of five were expected to pass up their chance to pick up bush league talent. A year ago New York, Pittsburgh and Brooklyn of the National League, and New York and Boston of the American, did not select anyone. The other clubs picked up 19 players at a cost of $182,500, as compared with $278,000 the year before.

The draft proceedings were scheduled to start at 10 a.m. (CST) but Commissioner Chandler was up late last night helping recodify and simplify the baseball rules. The session of the 12-man board, which has been working on the regulations for a year, recessed long after midnight.

League Sides in With Van Horn

AUSTIN — (AP) — The state Executive Committee of the Interscholastic League sided with Van Horn yesterday in a dispute over the school's right to finish the six-man football season.

The District 6 six-man football committee tried to have Van Horn suspended on a three-point protest. After a closed hearing, the Executive Committee said there wasn't enough evidence to back up the protest.

The District Committee made these charges:

1. False report on eligibility blank concerning Howard Russell Boyd (a Van Horn player).
2. Unsportsmanlike conduct of players on the field and especially by the fans on the sideline and the toleration of such action by the school officials.
3. That the District Committee notified Van Horn coach previous to the game on Oct. 28 of the league office's decision not to use the boy (Boyd) in a game. Van Horn disregarded the warning.

Roy J. Kidd, league director, and Dr. Rhea Williams, league athletic director, told reporters after the hearing that none of the charges was substantiated enough to warrant Van Horn's suspension.

TCU Seeking to Put Halt To Rice Owls' Title Drive

By BOB JOHNSON, JR. Associated Press Staff

Coach Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian is hunting two things: a defense that will stop mighty Rice and a mask that will let injured quarterback Lindy Berry play in comfort.

Meyer wouldn't say what he turned up in practice yesterday—just that the workout was "satisfactory," and that's practically ecstatic.

Rice's Jess Neely was feeling glum, and so were Southern Methodist's Matty Bell and Arkansas' John Barnhill. There was a note of cheer from the Southwest Conference's other two schools, Baylor and Texas A&M.

Meyer was cooking up something special for the league-leading Owls. He surprised Texas with a nine-man line last week and won, 14-13. A 10-man line might have a chance of stopping Rice.

Berry's jaw was broken in the Texas game. Against Rice Saturday, he'll be the man in the steel, plastic or aluminum mask.

Neely said the Owls' response to defensive plans was bothering him. All they have to do is get ready for the single wing, double wing, spread formation and trap plays used by TCU.

Lanky Fred Benner, who has made SMU look good in several games, made the Mustangs look bad on defense yesterday. Coach Bell moaned. Benner was doing an imitation of Baylor's passing star, Adrian Burke. Scout Red McClain told the Mustangs that Baylor is the fastest team they've faced this year.

Baylor sharpened its defense and welcomed back tackle Ken Casner, who hurt a toe in practice last week. But left end Stanley Williams was still wearing a cast on his left wrist to protect a chipped bone.

Texas, which has until Thanksgiving Day to get ready for A&M, contented itself with limbering up drills and passing the ball around a little.

Things were looking up for the Aggies, who would choose a victory over Texas if they could have their "druthers." Four injured players — Dick Callendar, Dick Gardemal, Bob Smith and William Rush — reported back to practice.

There was good news at Fayetteville, too, when Leon (Muscles) Campbell came back to work and looked ready to play against William and Mary Saturday. But the word from the Porker camp was that the reserves didn't have a bit of trouble munging William and Mary in a work against the regulars.

More People Can't Get Tickets for the Army-Navy Grid Tilt Than Couldn't Before

The Pampa Daily News SPORTS

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — (AP) — More people can't get tickets for the Army-Navy football game this year than couldn't get them ever before.

You may have the $8 asking price, but you have to know more than a friend of a friend to lay hands on a ticket.

The "demand is greater than I ever recall it," a Navy spokesman said today.

Annapolis officers said they understood West Point is gasping under the same deluge.

The game will be played Nov. 26 in Philadelphia's cavernous Municipal Stadium, which holds 102,000 fans. The "ticket capacity," after deducting concessionaires, guards, ushers, sports writers and photographers, is about 90,000.

President Truman and members of Congress are in the happiest spot of all. Every year the President has an allotment "which he purchases," the Naval Academy explained in a notice to disappointed thousands. Both West Point and Annapolis provide each senator and representative with eight pasteboards, as long as he fills out a form and encloses the money.

Requests piled in early enough to ballast a battleship. So many entreaties came from the fleet that humble Fleeties heard they were going to be slashed to a pair apiece. The Academy chose another method.

Any dues-paying member of the Athletic Association who applied for his limit "for personal use" got all four. But the benighted who marked their application for "use of others" were promptly cut to two.

"We tried to handle it in a democratic way," the spokesman said.

Autograph Hounds Get Agganis' Signature Through a Large 33, Number Baugh Made Famous

By JIM O'LEARY NEA Staff Correspondent

BOSTON (NEA) — Harry Agganis, the greatest all-round athlete since Mickey Cochrane, and the Golden Greek is obtaining a flying start in emulating both Black Mike and Sammy Baugh.

At Lynn, Mass., Classical High, young Agganis wore number 33, which was retired by that institution, and sticks with it. That is the number Slingin' Sammy Baugh made distinctive as a Texan Christian undergraduate and with the Washington Redskins.

Deluged with fan mail, Agganis, a 20-year-old, six-foot one-inch, 190-pound quarterback in Buff Donelli's winged T, sends youthful autograph seekers a postcard bearing a large printed 33, signs his name through the number.

No fewer than 61 colleges bid for the dark-complexioned, nice-looking Agganis, a lad with curly black hair and gleaming white teeth. Major league baseball scouts flocked to his widowed mother's door.

He was probably the most publicized schoolboy athlete in New England history.

A left-handed passer and kicker and a left-hand hitter in baseball, Agganis captained a mythical All-America schoolboy football team, played first base on all-star sandlot teams in Chicago and New York.

When sophomore Agganis is graduated, the Red Sox are next in line for his baseball services.

Majoring in physical education, the wonder boy hopes to enjoy a long future in professional athletics before-joining the coaching fraternity, is considered certain to make it in either football or baseball.

Oregon Stater Selected as AP Lineman of Week

CORVALLIS, Ore. — (AP) — Curly-haired Stan McGuire said, "I'm overjoyed."

Told that he had been named lineman of the week in the Associated Press poll today for his sparkling work Saturday in Oregon State's 25-20 upset football win over Michigan State, the 22-year-old right end said, "I just did what the coaches taught me."

When they taught him, apparently, was how to kick field goals (one), how to convert (two), how to block kicks (one for a safety), how to snag passes (one patted the way to a touchdown) and assorted other information to the discomfiture of Michigan State.

The week's nominations included:

- Ends — Bob Moorman, Texas Christian; Terry Downs, Baylor; Ben Procter, Texas.
- Tackle — Harold Kilman, Texas Christian.
- Guard — Danny Wolfe, Texas.
- Centers — Joe Watson, Rice; Dick Hightower, Southern Methodist.

Agganis was vice president of the freshman class in the school of education last year, belongs to Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

His mother is the only girl friend Agganis has time for, but, oddly enough, the mother of five sons and two daughters has never seen her fabulous son play football. She won't even listen for fear she'll hear that her youngest boy has been hurt.

Boston was unbeaten and untied going into the major Maryland match. In the first four games, Agganis threw only 42 passes, completed 25 for 10 touchdowns. He tossed 15 touchdown passes in six starts.

The left-footed Agganis kicks off and punts in addition to calling plays, feeding, passing, running and playing the safety man on defense. Coach Donnell rates him as the finest defensive player he has ever seen.

Harry Agganis is so good he has the veteran Buff Donelli thinking and talking left-handed.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Haas—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What is the nickname of the Texas Christian Freshman football team?

SPORTS SIDELIGHTS: The golfing season isn't over yet... Joe Houck, Berger professional, fired a neat 69 over the Pampa layout early this week... The West Texas-New Mexico League had the largest attendance of any Class C league in the state, and was only 100,000 less than the Class B Big State League... The official total attendance was 726,929, and all of them paid.

BABE DIDRICKSON ZAHARAS, shortly after being signed as the first full-time woman professional in golfdom (at Chicago's swank Skycrest Country Club) was asked what she thought of youthful Marlene Bauer's possibilities of becoming a top-flight golfer... "Well," answered the Babe, "Marlene beat me in the Hardecrable tournament and I'm getting one of the top jobs in the country!"

WHEN PENN STATE in a Syracuse recently, State's coach, Joe Bedek, thought he noticed some rough work in close quarters and, at halftime, cautioned one of the officials to watch out for the opponent's handwork...

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA'S line averages 217 pounds, one of the heaviest in college football... Unless the two professional football leagues soon call a halt to their bickering, both are headed for the rocks... Nine of the clubs in the two leagues are certain to have big financial losses this year because of the inter-league war...

Biggest loser will be the New York Bulldogs of the NFL... Rip Miller, one of the famed "Seven Mules" in the 1924 Notre Dame national championship team, is now an assistant athletic director at Navy...

Parsons man kicked from behind the goal line... The ball went almost straight up... Moxley caught it on the 1 and ran over...

BENNY FRIEDMAN, a Michigan football standout of yesterday, explains how Michigan and Purdue knocked the Minnesota Gophers out of a Rose Bowl trip... "Football has changed a lot since my time, but Minnesota teams haven't. You never could overpower Minnesota, because they grow them big up there... But you usually could out-

Griffith Gives Nats to His Son on 80th Birthday, but Old Fox Still Has the Say

Game's Second Octogenarian Won 235 Games

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — They're pitching a little party at Griffith Stadium, Nov. 20, it's Clark Griffith's 80th birthday. Griffith turns the Washington club over to his 37-year-old adopted son, Calvin, as he becomes the game's second octogenarian. The other is, of course, the ageless Connie Mack, 87 next month.

The Richardson stock is still in the estate, and Griffith says the heirs have decided not to sell it. Apparently some of the heirs wanted a divvy right away, but were persuaded to relax. Griffith says the club owns the grounds, lock, stock and barrel.

Griff is showing Calvin Griffith, a chubby, round-faced, personable chap, all he can, sends him out to get him used to trading and talking to people, but all deals have to come back to me.

Griff will make no prediction when he'll quit active work, but it's a lead pipe cinch that, like Mr. Mack, he'll remain in the thick of things as long as he is able to keep on his pins. He has never known anything else, wouldn't know what else to do. Some claim he should have retired ere this. His memory seems fuzzy about more recent events and new names. He'll start talking about some new athlete he has an eye on, then can't tell you his name.

In general Griff looks healthy and sharp for 80. His feet gave him a lot of trouble last spring. He couldn't develop circulation in them, wore rubbers even on dry, warm days and stood shaking first one foot and then the other. But other than that his only ailment seems to be an occasional cold.

Griff is known to the present generation as a drafting owner, but he has done many fine things that were not publicized, and was one of the great stars of the game.

Wearing a big, black, stubby mustache, a cap, Adrian Constantine Anson's piping ace during a phenomenal run with the famous Chicago White Stockings. The John L. Lewis eyebrows and hair that is gray to dark also were black.

Right-hander Griffith stood no more than five feet eight, weighed 175 pounds. Never having an overabundance of speed, he performed his greatest feats after losing a good share of what he had.

Griff had the sharpest-breaking curve of the period, possessed control. Doctoring the ball was legal. He employed all the tricks used years later by Russel Ford and Dave Danforth, for example, tricksters. The ball did queer tricks. There never was a smarter pitcher, or all-around baseball man.

Under Anson, Griffith won 133 games in six seasons. He pitched for 20 years, won 235 major league games while losing 138 for a percentage of .630.

That's why Clark Griffith was known as The Old Fox before he became a manager, and years before ascending to the presidency of the Nats.

Under Anson, Griffith won 133 games in six seasons. He pitched for 20 years, won 235 major league games while losing 138 for a percentage of .630.

STILLWATER — The Cowpokes of Oklahoma A & M have several nicknames for 265-pound Rube DeRoin, the Osage-Oto fullblood who plays center. THEN AND NOW—There never was a smarter pitcher than Clark Griffith, and they haven't put anything over on him since.

Lindy Berry Set to Crack Baugh, O'Brien Pass Marks

FORT WORTH — Take it from four young men who should know, the right arm of all-American candidate Lindy Berry and the aerial bombardment which he pilots as quarterback and captain of the TCU Horned Frogs are not to be counted down and out.

"Berry will be back on top as the No. 1 passer of the South-west and probably the nation before the season ends," chorus the quartet of receivers who have caught all but 14 of Berry's 77 completions this fall. Joining in the unanimous prediction are Frog Ends Morris Bailey and George Boal and Halfbacks Jack Archer and Dan Wilde.

"When Berry is right and we execute our pass patterns correctly, there is no adequate defense against his passes," agree Bailey, Boal, Archer and Wilde. As for the Baylor game — in which Berry had only two completions after averaging 12.5 per game up to that point this season — they emphatically urge, "Forget it; that was an off-day for all of us."

When it comes to describing Berry's passes, there is a unanimous agreement on one phrase — "Easy to catch."

"Lindy uses marvelous anticipation," stresses Boal, who has caught 30 Berry passes this fall. "He lofts the ball well over the heads of defenders, and the way he leads a receiver has helped my pass catching considerably. As a passer Berry has improved 100 percent over last season, and he is doing a great job at utilizing the right plays to set up our passes."

Bailey, who gained all-conference fame along with Berry last fall on the strength of their passing teamwork and who has been the Frog's and Berry's leading receiver for three seasons, comments, "A good quarterback can make a good passer — and

The San Francisco Seals are the first club from organized baseball to visit Japan since before the war.

Halas Blends Seasoned Men With Youth So Bears Won't Fall Apart

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The Bears are a typical George Halas team. That means they have balance any way you view them.

The Chicago club of the National Football League has balance on the field, a variety of striking weapons, a sound defense, and a nice layout in age, with the blending of seasoned men with youth at every position. Halas often speaks of his "young" team. It is hardly that. There are younger outfits in the league. The Giants, for instance, would run below the Bear average, with 11 first-year men, and 15 of the 32 players 25 years or under.

Halas has Ken Kavanaugh and Sid Luckman at 32, and Chuck Drulis, George McAfee, Ray Bray, Stu Clarkson, Bulldog Turner, Paul Stenn, Fred Davis and Alf Bauman in the 29-31 class. Only 11 of his terrors are 25 or under.

But the important point is the distribution of the squad according to experience. That is ideal. The bulk is in the two-three-four-year groups, who have cut their second teeth as pros and still have the legs to travel.

Halas shows only three rookies, but he has six second-year men, seven three-year men and five four-year men. The rest go three at six years, one at seven, two at eight, one at nine and one at 11, Sidney himself, who has recovered from a thyroid operation.

It is Halas' postwar creation backed by five of the previous land Browns are of an age, have played together four years, and when they go they are likely to collapse.

The planning encompasses every position. Let's take a look at the personnel, with the figure after each man indicating the number of years he's played pro: Quarterback: Luckman 11, Johnny Lujack 2, George Blanda 1.

Halfbacks: Danie Magnani 5, McAfee 6, Bob Perina 4, George Gulyanics and Julie Rykovich 3.

Bridal Shower Compliments Mrs. W. D. Powers

Mrs. W. D. Powers was honored with a bridal shower Monday evening. Hostess was Mrs. Joe Hunter, assisted by Mrs. Helen Warren and Mrs. Paul Chambers. The honoree, before her recent marriage, was Miss Lillian Stark.

The table decorations were in the bride's chosen colors of red and white. A white cloth with red border covered the table and the white cake was lettered in red "Lillian and Will".

The honoree was presented a corsage of white and yellow chrysanthemums, and bouquets of vari-colored mums were used on the mantel and on tables in the living room.

Games furnished entertainment and Mrs. Powers opened her many gifts. Cake, coffee, nuts and mints were served.

Guests were Mrs. H. Guy Kerbow, Mrs. Bernard Smith, Mrs. Paul Chambers, Miss Lillian Taylor, Mrs. W. O. Stark, Mrs. Selma Marek, Miss Clarice Marek, Mrs. Andrew Stark, Mrs. O. L. Cheuning, Mrs. W. L. Stark and Mrs. H. L. Powers. Mildred Fulfer, Mrs. J. W. Myatt, Mrs. Jack Stewart, Miss Carol Hunter, Mrs. Elvan Gillespie of Amarillo, Mrs. A. F. Stark, Mrs. Helen Warren and Mrs. Joe Hunter.

Gifts were also sent by many who could not be present.

Meeting Held for Sewing Club Members

The Northern Natural Sewing Club met Friday, Nov. 11, at the home of Margaret Hand, with vice president, Betty Dahlgren, presiding.

During the business session plans were made for a pot luck supper for members of the club and their families to be held at the Northern Natural New Warehouse on Dec. 2.

Pie and coffee were served to Pauline Lilly, Ida Shubring, Addie Fern Lick, Jo Beighle, Bessie Waters, Allean Moran, Helens Johnson, Pearl Franklin, Margaret Hand, Betty Dahlgren, Elsie Wyrick and one visitor, Barbara Sue Hand.

Mrs. Langham Shower Honoree

McLEAN — (Special) — Mrs. Leroy Wesley Langham, the former Miss Melba Miller, was honored with a bridal shower in the parlor of the First Baptist Church.

Chrysanthemums in varying shades were used as decorations. The table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a bouquet of chrysanthemums surrounded by small gold flowers and flanked by lighted tapers.

Hot tea, coffee and cookies were served from a silver tray. Miss Jeanne Pharis and Miss Marnelle Ledgerwood sang "Serenade of the Bell" and Miss Darlene Shadd, Miss Barbara Nell Williams and Miss Norma Watson played piano selections before the shower.

Hostesses were Miss Oma Bell McPherson, Miss Marnelle Ledgerwood, Miss LaVetta Gunn and Mrs. R. L. McDonald.

There were 19 guests present.

Birthday Party Honors Teacher

Mrs. J. L. Spencer, First Grade Teacher at B. M. Baker School, was honored with a surprise birthday party, Monday, in the school classroom. The half hour of fun was planned by the room mothers and the surprise made possible with the aid of other teachers.

Mrs. Spencer was called from her room and in her absence the cake, on a musical revolving plate, was placed in the center of the room with the candles lighted and the room darkened. As Mrs. Spencer returned to the room, her pupils and 190 m mothers sang "Happy Birthday" with the musical cake plate as accompaniment. Cake and Lemonade were served, after which time class was dismissed.

Smelling Salts Aid Modern Girl

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The little bottle of smelling salts which a Victorian lady dy whiffed at ever before she felt faint is back in circulation.

Modern women who have no intention of swooning are finding smelling salts as good a brace for staving off a tired feeling, for giving a needed pick-me-up. It is the men, however, who, according to one report, were the first to tuck bottles of smelling salts into the glove compartments of their automobiles. Fumes from smelling salts are a help in preventing drowsiness, or drivers' fatigue, the autoists claim.

Another reason this old-fashioned aid hews back to a modern encore is its usefulness in relieving a stuffy nose induced by a head cold.

For reasons such as these, today's women are apt to be seen doing what their great-grandmothers did 80 years ago, taking a couple of whiffs now and then from a bottle of smelling salts. The only difference is the modern gal carries hers in her handbag when she boards a plane or pulls her bottle out of the pocket of her car.

'Writing Will' Topic of Discussion At HD Meeting

Mrs. C. A. Jones discussed "Writing a Will" at the Tuesday meeting of the Merten Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. C. L. Cudney. Roll call was answered by each member giving a new recipe which she had tried.

A talk on Christmas card etiquette was given and the group discussed the County Chorus.

A ten minute demonstration on "Gifts from the yard" was given by Mrs. A. M. Nash on the subject of giving bulbs for Christmas gifts. Mrs. Nash also gave a year-book report and read the list of programs for the coming year.

Mrs. C. L. Cudney, president, was in charge of the business session.

Present were Mrs. Frank Bailey, Mrs. H. H. Threatt, Mrs. Nash, Mrs. V. S. Day, Mrs. V. Smith, Mrs. D. A. Rife, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. L. F. Keelan and Mrs. Cudney.

Well, Doggone!

NEW YORK — (AP) — The Swank Hotel Pierre opened its doors to a dog show today — about the doggiest dog show, in fact, that anybody ever dreamed up.

Among those present: A Welsh Terrier wearing a coat from Paris, with a little white handkerchief peering from the pocket.

A Boxer wearing a red raincoat with a hood, and waterproof leather boots to match.

An Afghan (name of "Jitterbug") wearing a green peaked hat with a bird—yes, a complete bird on it, to say nothing of an emerald green coat with a deep fringe.

Some 250 women, mostly from the social register, plunked down $3.25 each for a bite of lunch.

and a close-up view of these and assorted other canine specimens. Mrs. Olga Home Rogers, president of Dogs, Inc., and chief-rounder-up of four-legged fashion models for the occasion, said their money was well spent.

FIRST COURSE

This is a main course treat that comes under the penny-pinching heading. To make an excellent first course, says the Woman's Home Companion, add 1 cup frankfurters, chopped fine, to a standard biscuit recipe; when done, top with creamed cabbage and a smidgen of grated cheese.

Colored Slides of European Scenes, Commentary Entertain AAUW

Colored slides taken during a six-week tour of Europe were shown to members of the American Association of University Women by Miss Helene Huff at a meeting Tuesday evening in the City Club Room.

Miss Ruth Huff assisted her sister with the commentary on the pictures. They showed pictures of cathedrals, famous buildings and other typical scenes taken on their tour through England, Holland, France, Germany, Austria, Switzerland and Italy.

Miss Huff observed that the English people seem to be much more hard hit by the after-effects of the war than any of the other people they saw on their trip. She said they seemed very tired and that their clothing was extremely worn and the food scarce.

Miss Lick Hosts Stanley Party

Miss Addie Fern Lick entertained a group of her friends with a Stanley party at her home in the Northern Natural Camp Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Cake and coffee were served to Ann Kuvan, Dorothea Barenthin, Leona Smith, Ida Shubring, Maxine Forrest, Pauline Carper, Matilda Horton, Helen Clark, Helena Johnson, Mrs. J. W. Preston, Mrs. Ben Lick, Mrs. Julia Weitzner and the hostess.

Inez Clubb, program chairman for the meeting, Mrs. Quentin Williams and Miss Alma Williams, hostesses, served refreshments to the group.

40s Called Best Years Of Life

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — The politics out of the way in another year, let us return to a quaint, old-fashioned subject that enthralled us all.

I refer to love — I'm serious, I'm serious.

The news from this crowded field is pleasant indeed to those dwelling in the shady years of life. For with no government subsidies of any kind, there has been wrought a "fair deal" for the middle-aged man in the politics of love. He has turned out to be the Romeo of our times.

No longer do maidens sigh for the young man with an apple in his hand. They turn to the older gent with a hundred acres of land. But he doesn't win them with his real estate. It's his sex appeal. For it isn't life that begins at 40 for the American man. It's love — you know, I'm serious, I'm serious.

The public awoke to this fact with the discovery that 57-year-old Ezio Pinza, star of "South Pacific," was affecting the weaker sex in a way no other matinee idol has since Rudolph Valentino. This grandpa still has 'em gasping with his bass-bellowed enchanted evening.

And it isn't just a one-man matter. The current issue of Cosmopolitan has found the same thing to be true in the movies: the real romantics — the eight top-drawing men film stars — are all over 40. Among the stand-outs are Bing Crosby, 45, Gary Cooper and Clark Gable, 48, and Humphrey Bogart, the dean of Panda-huggers at 50, one year older than the century he lives in.

But this recognition of the amatory leadership of the time-melting male didn't become official — at least not in my mind — until it was confirmed by Dorothy Dix.

Well, "tother day, Mrs. Dix said yes, it was true that men over 40 are most attractive to women. She said girl bobby soxers mightn't agree, but they didn't know anymore about men than they did about food.

And Dorothy gave reasons. She said the mature fellow knew more about life, had more to talk about — and understood women better than reckless youths. A bald head and a pot tummy didn't offset the intellectual charm that only years bring, in her opinion.

Dorothy summed it up: "It is because the man of 40 knows women and can play upon them as upon a harp of a thousand strings that makes him more dangerous to women at that age than any other."

Ladies, I'm giving you fair warning. I'm 35, getting bald, and I'm 15 pounds overweight. But in two more years I'll be a swashbuckling, fascinating devil looking for his fair share of harp playing.

Connally Says War Unlikely

MARLIN — (AP) — Texas' senior senator says there's "no danger of war in which the United States will be involved in the foreseen future."

Senator Tom Connally, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, made the statement yesterday upon returning to his hometown. He based it on Secretary of State Dean Acheson's recent trip to Europe for conferences with the ministers of France and Great Britain.

"It is gratifying to know that these conferences made distinct progress," Connally told newsmen.

"Our supreme effort in the foreign field is to establish security for the free nations and to prevent their being submerged by totalitarianism and tyranny," Connally said. "Peace is our primary objective."

The Senator and Mrs. Connally plan to remain in Texas for several weeks, getting some rest before the next session. She was flown to San Antonio yesterday. Then the plane brought her to Vicksburg.

Truman Officially Names Thanksgiving
WASHINGTON — (AP) — With a boost from two Plymouth High School students attired in Pilgrim costume, presented Mr. Truman with a piece of the Plymouth Rock at a White House ceremony. Then he signed his annual Thanksgiving Day proclamation. The proclamation calls upon the American people to observe the day by going to their accustomed places of worship and giving thanks to Almighty God for the blessings which have signalled our lot as a nation."
